IN THE LINE OF ADVANCEMENT.

A bill to amend the law compelling the choice of the members of the various Boards from Privy Councillors, which we understand bill before the House by Mr. Thurston do, is in the line of advancement. There may have been some good reason for enacting the law or laws which render any man who is not a Privy Councillor ineligible for membership of a Board, but we fail to see any why they should be retained. Good and unanswerable reasons present themselves to every reflective mind why such restriction should be abolished. There certainly must be a far stronger probability of being able to make up an intelligent and capable Board from the entire body of citizens than from the small body of Privy Councillors. Our veneration for the latter honorable body is not so great as to induce the belief that it contains all the wisdom in the land. Indeed, we believe it has its full share of antiquated fossils, and are of opinion that the proposition to give a wider range of choice in constituting the Boards than it affords, is worthy of general support.

THAT ENGLISH LOAN AGAIN.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The reply of the Minister of Finance to certain questions propounded in the Legislature, regarding the floating of a portion of the two million loan in London, which was printed to-day in the morning papers, is somewhat disappointing. It certainly is less vigorous in its defense of the interests of the taxpayers of this Kingdom against what appears, upon its face, to be an attempt to defraud them of a large sum of money, than was the Intermediate Report of the same Minister. Indeed, Mr. Green declares that it is the settled policy of the Cabinet to issue bonds in sterling money for the full amount of £200,000, although the Financial Agents or the London Syndicate—for they appear to be interchangeable terms according to the necessities of the transaction or the explanation involved—wrongfully withhold £15,000 of that amount. In other words, the Cabinet is prepared to condone the wrongful acts of the Financial Agents of the Government, on the specious but untenable plea that "this Government have no one to look to for the reimbursement of this money but its financial agents;" adding, by way of non sequitur, "it would be unjust, and I may add futile, to make the bondholders suffer by delaying the execution of the full amount of the bonds."

lislature, which will be invited by the Government to pass a white-washing bill, for the purgation of the Financial Agents, in open disregard of the public interests which it is the prime duty of Ministers to conserve. The facts may be gathered from antecedent publications, from suggestions or admissions in the reply of the Finance Minister, and from the report of one of the Financial Agents of the Government read to the Legislature yesterday, but not as yet published.

It appears that a Mr. H. R. Armstrong arrived at Honolulu during 1886, as the representative of a London syndicate, with an offer to float a loan for the Hawaiian Government, in that city. About that time a strong local feeling had been worked up against the financial arrangements of the Government of the day for advances in Honolulu, and there is no difficulty in connecting Mr. Armstrong's mission and subsequent transactions with this local agitation. Everything was done to facilitate Mr. H. R. Armstrong's mission, and the Loan Act, as subsequently passed, was framed to meet the requirements of the London syndicate. It was passed by a large majority, the votes of the Opposition of that day, now substantially represented by the Reform Ministry, being cast in its favor.

Having secured their own Act and an Administration of their own choice to facilitate operations, the Agent of the Syndicate, Mr. Armstrong, was appointed Financial Agent of the Government to negotiate the Loan with his London employers, the syndicate aforesaid. A man with a delicate sense of honor would have shrunk from such a position, but Mr. Armstrong saw no difficulty in his way, although Mr. Green, with a veridical perhaps natural to him, sympathizes with this gentleman in the difficult position in which he was placed. In truth, it was in the straight line of his business. He reached London and to meet the requirements of the Syndicate he forgot his duty to the Government and set aside the requirements of the Loan Act. This Act authorizes the issue of a loan for two million dollars, payable principal and interest in United States gold coin, but the Financial Agent agreed that the loan should issue in sterling money.

Mr. Geo. W. Macfarlane had been appointed Financial Agent of the Government the same day as Mr. Armstrong, but he spent his time fitting to and fro between here and San Francisco on the loan business until after the Syndicate announced the sale of the bonds, the loan having been underwritten by themselves at 98, by which they earned 5 per cent, the maximum commission allowed by law, and then placed them on the market at a premium, it is stated, of 8 per cent. Not content with this handsome realization, charges in excess of law, amounting to £15,000, were made by and through the Financial Agents or Syndicate which is the same thing, as Colonel Macfarlane was an assisting party to it throughout, and now turns up at Honolulu at the last moment as the representative of the Syndicate—not of the Government—with an elaborate and rather ingenious defence of a transaction which will not bear the light from inception to finish.

Now, it is clear that in the matter of bonds, the Government has to deal with the Syndicate who bought the loan and subsequently peddled out the bonds, and no tender sentimentality need be expended on these shyllocks of finance. The men composing the London Syndicate are well able to take care of themselves, so are the twin-financial agents, but Ministers do not appear to be so capable of taking care of the taxpayers. They appear to have been "caved down the bank"—to quote a famous phrase of the late General Colton regarding a memorable compact which recently engaged the attention of the Courts of California—by the Financial Agents or some "power behind the Throne greater than the Throne itself." It is the duty of the Legislature to do justice to the country as well as to the Syndicate, which, knowing the law—for it was their own law—deliberately violates it, and attempts to gouge the Hawaiian Treasury on a threat of impairing the national credit. The apology of the Minister of Finance for these doings, and for the participants in them, is not becoming in the Prime Minister of the Hawaiian Kingdom.

Honolulu, Nov. 9, 1887.

"POOR MR. ARMSTRONG."

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The Finance Minister's statement which appears in this morning's "Gazette," appears to me to be an attempt to smooth over and make light of what seems to have been, to say the least of it, very questionable transactions. The Minister in his statement endeavors to apologize for Mr. Armstrong's actions when he says that "this gentleman came here as the representative of a London Syndicate, and the Cabinet then in power invested him with full powers to negotiate the loan, but gave him no 'written instructions,' as to the terms and other important details. In justice to Mr. Armstrong it must be admitted that this course placed him in a somewhat difficult position." Poor Mr. Armstrong!! He ought to be sent a sucking bottle and baby's bib by next steamer.

Now, I think Mr. Armstrong's actions show that he didn't need to be told anything about floating loans, as the attempt made by him or his friends to foist a loan in sterling at forty-eight pence to the dollar on the innocent Hawaiian public clearly shows.

Mr. Armstrong's attempt to make a haul of £15,000 over and above the commissions allowed by the Loan Act, also seems to me to extract an apology from the same source, as the Minister says that this gentleman sent him a copy of a letter that he had written to Mr. Gibson, in which he informed him that the expense of floating the Loan would be 65 per cent., besides the 5 per cent. commission. The Minister in his statement further volunteers the information that as the Government does not recognize any part of this £15,000 as a legitimate charge it is necessary to discuss with what proportion of the loan it is chargeable. The Minister again makes a lame attempt at an apology when he says that Armstrong had power to negotiate the loan in conformity with the Acts, but being without instructions and Mr. Macfarlane's presence he went a little astray. Yours truly, TRUTH.

A PROTEST.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—It is reported on good authority that the erection of a leper receiving station will shortly be commenced in close proximity to the Myrtle Boat House. Now, I, one of many, protest most strongly against this, for the following reasons: 1st—It will debar all bathing and boating in that vicinity, the only convenient place to be had for our young people. 2nd—It will be a most unsightly and disagreeable thing to our community, also not calculated to benefit our tourist travel, if the first thing on entering the harbor a Leper Hospital is presented to their view.

Now I think an intelligent Board of Health can surely find a more suitable site than this, and it is a crying shame if they are permitted to place such a nuisance in the harbor close to our business centre and obnoxious to all the community. DECKENY.

SWEAT THEM.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—It is very gratifying to learn by Minister Green's answer on the Loan, true particulars in the matter, how the tax-payers have been wronged, and I can see only one way of them obtaining redress, which in justice for them should be done, viz.: as you are troubled with "Cannot help it," go for Gibson's financial agents to make up the loss, and sweat them to the letter. JOHN THOMAS WATERHOUSE.

SWEEPING AND CLEANING.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Please allow me a little space in your valuable paper to join the complaint of "Citizen" about the unhealthy and filthy condition of the streets. I cannot blame the watering carts. I think it is the duty of the Board of Health to direct the Road Supervisor to have the streets in the heart of the city cleaned and swept every Wednesday and Saturday, like in all European cities. Please take a look at Fort street between King and Merchant street.

The Hawaiian Legislature.

FIFTH DAY.

TUESDAY, NOV. 8th.

The committee of the whole took up the reports of the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Castle moved that the original bill pass to engrossment. Mr. Kinney favored the repeal of the law of 1886, on the ground of economy.

Mr. Smith also thought it best to repeal said law. It was objectionable to have 4 Judges, because matters might come before them where a decision could not be rendered on account of a tie.

Minister Ashford supported the majority report, simply as a matter of economy, and urged the house to adopt it.

Mr. Widemann said the Justices of the Supreme Court hold office for life, and he wanted to know how they were going to get out of paying this one.

Mr. Smith referred Mr. Widemann to article 65 of the new Constitution.

Mr. C. Frown supported the minority report, as radical changes were contemplated in the Judiciary at the session of 1888. In the meantime he thought it better to let the Supreme Court remain as it is. The committee adopted the majority report.

SIXTH DAY. WEDNESDAY, NOV. 9th. MORNING SESSION.

The House opened at 10 A. M., the President S. G. Wilder in the chair.

Mr. Gay read a petition from Women's Board of Mission to repeal the law relating to the sale of opium and liquor; referred to special committee.

Mr. Paeleole read a petition that a mail carrier be appointed for referred to Minister of Interior.

Also one for Pelekunu to Kalaupapa. Referred to Minister of Interior.

Mr. Frank Brown stated that the Military Bill had been printed and was ready for distribution.

Minister Brown read a report on the resolution of Mr. W. H. Daniels, in which he stated that the King's Own had cost.....$ 5,036 13 Queen's Own..... 1,454 20 Leleishok Guards..... 1,114 65 Prince's Own..... 1,125 97 Mamaloa Guards..... 790 54 Honolulu Rifles..... 4,294 25

Total.....$11,842 80

Outstanding against the Honolulu Rifles $9,486.76.

On motion the report was laid on the table.

Minister Thurston read a report in answer to the resolution asking about the opium license, to the effect that the license was granted to Chung Lung on January 10th, 1887, for a period of 4 years, and $30,000 have been paid in advance for one year.

On motion the report was accepted and referred to the committee on opium and liquor.

On motion of Mr. Castle the report of Minister Brown on Military affairs was taken from the table and referred to Military Committee.

Mr. Baldwin gave notice of a bill prohibiting the sale of liquors at retail outside of Honolulu.

Minister Green reported the dates of the appointments of the different governors and governesses.

On motion the report was laid on the table to come up when the bill relating to governors comes up.

Mr. C. Brown read a resolution to the effect that the Minister of Interior be asked to inform this Assembly why the physician to the Insane Asylum was removed.

Minister Thurston stated that he had no objection to state to the House the reason for his removal. He had told Dr. Webb, however, that he would not do so, but if the Assembly insisted upon it he would. He also said that it was for the first two causes stated in the resolution.

Mr. Kalaupapa read a resolution to the effect that the Attorney-General inform this Assembly how many permits have been granted for the use of opium and how much money has been received from the Marshal for such permits. Resolution passed.

Mr. Rice read a bill to amend chap. 44 Session Laws of 1886. Enacted to second reading.

Mr. Dole gave notice of a bill to repeal chap. 32 Session Laws of 1886, and sections 13 and 15, chap. 43 Session Laws of 1882, approved on the 8th day of October, 1886, and to re-enact said sections 13 and 15 of chap. 43 Session Laws of 1882.

Minister Thurston read a bill providing for the appointment of Notaries Public. Passed to second reading.

Minister Thurston laid before the house a claim from Z. K. Meyers for back pay while clerk for Water Works.

On motion the claim was referred to Finance Committee.

Mr. F. Brown gave notice of a bill to repeal chap. 4 session laws 1882; also a bill to repeal sec. 55 of the Constitution.

Mr. Paeleole gave notice of a bill to amend sec. 42 of the Constitution.

Mr. Kamaupapa read for the first time a bill to amend sec. 1448 chap. 32 Civil Code, and chap. 1 session laws 1887, relating to heirs of property. Passed to second reading.

Mr. Castle gave notice of a bill to amend sec. 3 session laws 1886, and the law relating to water rights and privileges.

Mr. Kamaupapa read a bill to amend article 58 of the Constitution. Passed to second reading.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the committee to draft a reply to the King's speech were instructed to present an engrossed copy to His Majesty, and also to inform the King that Hon. S. G. Wilder has been elected president of the Assembly.

Mr. Young moved that the resolution of Mr. Castle's that was laid on the table yesterday, be reconsidered. Carried.

The resolution was to the effect that this Assembly only consider such matters as were outlined in the King's speech at the opening of the Legislature.

A CHINAMAN'S INTERPRETATION.

A reporter seeing the barkentine Hattie S. Bangs flying gorgeous flags in profusion this morning, thought it in celebration of some Chinese holiday, and going up to a Chinaman seated on the poop of the vessel, asked the Celestial to explain.

The Chinaman—You see ship go to-morrow. That flag (pointing to the highest one on the foremast) means plenty chow-chow, plenty Reporter—How about the other flags.

Chinaman—Ah they mean good none—Captain no get mad Chinaman gamble.

The reporter noticing then that the Margaret Heald and S. N. Castle were also decorated with flags, went up to the mate of the Bangs and made further inquiries. The mate said that the flags had been ordered up in honor of a wedding.

REPORT ON THE LOAN.

Minister Green presented the following statement, which was read to the House by Minister Brown, yesterday:

To the Hon. S. G. Wilder, President of the House of Nobles and Representatives in Legislature assembled—Sir: In accordance with a resolution that the Minister of Finance inform this Assembly in writing of the present status of the so-called English Loan, the amount of bonds sold in the English market, the charges or commissions attending such sale in detail, whether or not the bonds comply with the statute authorizing their issuance, and further that the policy of His Majesty's Government in the matter be fully explained, and whether it is the intention of the Government to introduce an Act for legislation in the premises. I have the honor to report that: The amount of bonds sold in London and agreed to be delivered to the subscribers thereto was £200,000, for which they paid at the rate of £98 for each £100 of bonds, netting the sum of £196,000 at the disposal of the Hawaiian Government or their financial agents. The said agents have paid charges out of the above proceeds as follows: 5 per cent commission on £200,000, or £10,000, to the syndicate which it was agreed and understood should float the loan; in other words, which guaranteed that all the bonds should be sold at not less than 98, as allowed by law.

They have also paid to certain London firms the sum of £15,000 as expenses of floating loan, etc., which payment has never been allowed by the late or the present Government, and to which I shall refer again.

They also authorized the payment of the first six months' interest on the bonds, amounting to £6,000, against which, however, I have now received a credit note for £704 6s. 6d., being interest allowed by Messrs. Matheson & Co. (the issuing house) on sums received by them at the Bank of England rate.
This rate, which was 3 1/4 per cent per annum, in December, gradually declined until April, May and June of this year, when it was as low as 3/4 and 1 per cent per annum.

Up to July 6th last no account of the above mentioned £15,000 had been received by this Government; indeed, no such amount as £15,000 had been mentioned in all the correspondence from Mr. H. R. Armstrong, the financial agent of this Government, although that gentleman had forwarded to the late Minister of Finance a cable message, dated London, December 6th, as follows: "Have authorized Mathesons to pay proportional expenses out of first issue in terms of bond.
Please cable confirmation.

Armstrong."
He also wrote to the same effect on December 9th, saying: "In the meantime I have paid the expense of the issue—printing, advertising, brokerage and issuing—which amount to a sum larger than I had anticipated, but well within the proportion of the expenses as provided in the Act authorizing the national loan."

No reply was given by the late Government to the cable message or to this part of Mr. Armstrong's letter. There was some ground for this, as it would have been impossible for any one holding the interpretation of the Loan Act universally held here, to know what was meant or what sum had been paid that required confirmation from this Government. On July 6th I received through Messrs. G. W. Macfarlane & Co., with the first set of bonds, an unsigned memorandum dated Honolulu, July 6th, which professed to account for the £196,000 received from the subscribers for bonds in London, and by which, for the first time, this Government became aware that they had been charged £15,000 "Expenses of floating loan —part of $100,000 authorized by Loan Act," and in addition to the £10,000, or the commission of 5 per cent to the syndicate. It would appear that this £15,000 was intended to represent three-quarters of the $100,000 which the amended Loan Act of October 15, 1886, appropriated for expenses of floating loan, etc., and which our financial agents interpreted as being an allowance for expenses, distinct from the 5 per cent commission. Mr. H. R.
Armstrong, as in confirmation of this view, sends me a copy of a letter which he wrote to Mr. Gibson on August 25, 1886, and in which he informed Mr. Gibson that the expense of floating a loan in London would be 6 1/2 per cent besides the 5 per cent commission to the syndicate, and he gives the details. A copy of this letter will be found in Mr. G. W. Macfarlane's report to me in the loan matter dated 4th instant, and which report accompanies this.

Mr. Gibson does not appear to have made any reply to this letter, and the only guide as to what he understood in the premises is the Loan Act itself, which his Government assisted in passing. £15,000 would represent, as I have said, three-fourths of the $100,000 appropriated, whilst only half the $2,000,000 loan has been raised in London, but the financial agents of the Government contend that virtually the whole $1,500,000 was floated, or could have been so floated without further expense than the commission to the syndicate. As this Government do not recognize any part of this £15,000 as a legitimate charge, it is necessary to discuss on what proportion of the loan it is chargeable.

With regard to the form and denomination of the bonds, it would appear that when Mr. Armstrong left this country for London in August, 1886, he was under the impression that they were to be in pounds sterling, as is usual when foreign countries raise loans in England, whilst it seems equally certain that the Premier, Mr. Gibson, and his colleagues understood that they were to be in United States gold coin in accordance with the Act. Mr.
Armstrong in his correspondence with me complains that he received no detailed instructions from the late Minister of Finance or from the premier with regard to negotiating the loan, and that all such details were left to his own judgment, and he was therefore often obliged to act on his own responsibility. It must be admitted that there is no record of any such instructions having been given to him, and when we call to mind the circumstances connected with the administration of the Government at that time, it is hardly surprising that no detailed instructions were given to its financial agent on such a matter. Everything seems to have been left in Mr.
Armstrong's hands. This gentleman came here as the representative of a London syndicate, and intimated that it was prepared to float a loan in England for this Government. The Cabinet invested him (the representative of that syndicate) with full powers to negotiate such loan, but with no written instructions as to the terms and other important details. In justice to Mr.
Armstrong it must be admitted that this course placed him in a somewhat difficult position.

The following is a copy of the power given to Mr. Armstrong by the late Minister of Finance to negotiate the loan:

"To whom it may concern. Be it known that by authority of His Majesty the King in Cabinet Council, I have given power to H. R. Armstrong, Esq., of London, England, to negotiate on the part of the Hawaiian Government, and in conformity with the Act authorizing a loan approved September 1st, A. D.
1886, and the Act amendatory thereof, approved October 15th, A. D.
1886, the sale of the coupon bonds of the Hawaiian Government, and to do and perform all acts which may be necessary in the premises, with the authority to delegate this power.

"Witness my hand and the seal of my Department, this 29th day of October, A. D. 1886.

"(Signed) PAUL P. KANOA,
"His Hawaiian Majesty's Minister of Finance."

Mr. G. W. Macfarlane received a precisely similar power, dated the same day. It will be observed that Mr. Armstrong had power to negotiate the loan in conformity with the Acts. This, in the absence of any written instructions, threw a very grave responsibility on that gentleman. Mr. G. W. Macfarlane only arrived in London after the loan was floated and the scrip issued.

When Mr. Gibson learned from Mr. Armstrong that the bonds were to be in pounds sterling, he objected, but on the latter explaining that it was customary to so make them in all cases when foreign loans were placed in England, notwithstanding that the statutes authorizing them referred only to the coinage of the country, he gave his "reluctant consent," telling him at the same time to go on and raise another £100,000. This was, however, delayed, first by the news of the change of government of July 1st, and then stopped by a cable message from this Department. Thus it will be seen that the issue of bonds in pounds sterling has been done with the concurrence of the duly authorized agent of the Government, and has been assented to by the late Premier.

The first set of forms of bonds, which arrived in July last contained an unqualified statement that £200,- 000 sterling was "the equivalent of $1,000,000 of gold coin of the United States of the present standard," which was one that no Hawaiian Minister of Finance could allow over his signature. This alone was sufficient to condemn that form of bonds, and as there appeared to be other irregularities in the wording of them, I wrote to Mr. Armstrong in the same month (July) stating that as that form of bonds could not be signed and new ones would have to be printed, I hoped he might be able to arrange for bonds in U. S. gold to the amount of that coin which this Government had received in San Francisco, with the legiti-mate charges added, leaving the £15,000 matter to be settled afterwards. He replied that this was impossible and that no change in the denomination of the bonds could be made without breaking faith with the bond-holders, or rather with the holders or certificates which engaged to furnish bonds in pounds sterling.

Mr. Armstrong has since arranged to have a new set of bonds printed with the most objectionable clause about the equivalent of pounds sterling in United States gold coin omitted. Mr. G. W. Macfarlane has brought this new set of bonds with him, and the bond holders expect them to be signed by the present Minister of Finance as successor to P. Kanoa and by the Registrar of Public Accounts, and to be returned so as to arrive in London by the 31st of December.

The situation in brief in this Our financial agents have sold £200, 000 worth of bonds, and have received the money therefor. They have accounted to this Government for such sum, less £15,000 which they claim to have spent for expenses.
If the sale of bonds was to bona fide purchasers, we have no right to punish them for the wrongful act of our financial agents, and the should have their bonds.

My colleagues and myself would therefore recommend that the Legislature authorize the issue of bonds in pounds sterling, and that they be signed and delivered to those who are bona fide entitled to them. This would leave only one question open, that is, where the liability to this Government rests for the repayment to it of the £15,000 which has been illegally paid by its financial agents.

The Cabinet is of opinion that this Government have no one to look to for the reimbursement of this money but its financial agents. It would be unjust, and I may add futile, to make the bond holders suffer by delaying the execution of the full amount of their bonds.

I may state here that there can be no material loss to the Treasury in having the principal and interest of the bonds payable in pounds sterling instead of in United States gold coin. A different impression may have been gathered from the statements regarding the loan in my intermediate Financial report, but these statements have no bearing on the present question and were only intended to account for the difference between the nominal $1,500,- 000, which the Government were assumed to have borrowed, and the actual sums received by the Treasury. At the recent ruling rates of exchange between San Francisco and London this Government could have repaid £200,000 sterling in London with $770,000 in U. S. gold, and the half-yearly interest of £6, 000 with $29,100 in U. S. gold.

It has not borrowed $1,000,000 U. S. gold and does not pay interest on that amount.

Respectfully submitted,

W. L. GIBSEN,
Minister of Finance.

SWANZY-JUDD.

F. M. Swanzy, Esq., of the firm of Messrs. T. H. Davies & Co., and Miss Julia Judd, daughter of Chas.
H. Judd, Esq., were united in marriage, at St. Andrew's Cathedral, this morning, Rev. Alexander Mackintosh officiating. The bridesmaids were Miss P. Judd, Miss F. Swanzy, Miss C. Mist and Miss H. Castle.
The groomsmen were, Mr. E. Muller, Mr. Harry Whitney, Jr., Mr. B.
Judd, and Mr. J. Dowsett. Shortly after 11 o'clock, the wedding march sounded forth from the organ and the bride, in an elegant cream colored costume of satin, covered with veiling, entered. She was escorted to the altar and given away by her father, Mr. C. H. Judd. The ceremony was very impressive. The Cathedral entrance was sheltered by a canopy of palm leaves. The interior of the church was becomingly ornamented with bunches of flowers and festoons of evergreens. Among those present during the ceremony were the King, Princess Kaiulani, Col.
Curtis P. Inauka, Major and Mrs.
Wodehouse, the Misses Wodehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Canavaro, Governor Dominis, Mrs. Capt. Fuller, Miss Fuller, Capt. Mist, S. M. Damon, Miss Mable Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs.

HOW PILLS ARE MADE.

The Custom of taking medicine in the form of pills dates far back in history. The object is to enable us to swallow easily in a condensed form disagreeable and nauseous, but very useful, drugs. To what vast dimensions pill-taking has grown may be imagined when we say that in England alone about 2,000,000,000 (two thousand million) pills are consumed every year. In early days pills were made slowly by hand, as the demand was comparatively small. To-day they are produced with infinitely greater rapidity by machines especially contrived for the purpose, and with greater accuracy, too, in the proportions of the various ingredients employed.

No form of medication can be better than a pill, provided only it is intelligently prepared. But right here occurs the difficulty. Easy as it may seem to make a pill, or a million of them, there are really very few pills that can be honestly commended for popular use. Most of them either underdose or overdose the mark. As every body takes pills of some kind, it may be well to mention what a good, safe and reliable pill should be. Now, when one feels dull and sleepy, and has more or less pain in the head, sides, and back, he may be sure his bowels are constipated, and his liver sluggish. To remedy this unhappy state of things there is nothing like a good cathartic pill. It will act like a charm by stimulating the liver into doing its duty, and ridding the digestive organs of the accumulated poisonous matter.

But the good pill does not gripe and pain us, neither does it make us sick and miserable for a few hours or a whole day. It acts on the entire glandular system at the same time, else the after-effects of the pill will be worse than the disease itself. The griping caused by most pills is the result of irritating drugs which they contain. Such pills are harmful, and should never be used. They sometimes even produce hemorrhoids. Without having any particular desire to praise one pill above another, we may, nevertheless, name Mother Seigel's Pills, manufactured by the well-known house of A. J. White, Limited, 35, Farringdon Road, London, and now sold by all chemists and medicine vendors, as the only one we know of that actually possesses every desirable quality. They remove the pressure upon the brain, correct the liver, and cause the bowels to act with ease and regularity. They never gripe or produce the slightest sickness of the stomach, or any other unpleasant feeling or symptom. Neither do they induce further constipation, as nearly all other pills do. As a further and crowning merit, Mother Seigel's Pills are covered with a tasteless and harmless coating, which causes them to resemble pearls, thus rendering them as pleasant to the palate as they are effective in curing disease. If you have a severe cold and are threatened with a fever, with pains in the head, back, and limbs, one or two doses will break up the cold and prevent the fever. A coated tongue, with a brackish taste in the mouth is caused by foul matter in the stomach. A dose of Seigel's Pills will effect a speedy cure. Often-times partially decayed food in the stomach and bowels produces sickness, nausea, &c. Cleanse the bowels with a dose of these pills, and good health will follow.

Unlike many kinds of pills, they do not make you feel worse before you are better. They are, without doubt, the best family physic ever discovered. They remove all obstructions to the natural functions in either sex without any unpleasant effects.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Under the above heading the Doncaster Reporter of July 6th, 1887, publishes the following in its editorial columns—

Our readers may recall the circumstance of a young clerk, named Arthur Richold, falling insensible on the Westley Lane in this town some time ago, and being picked up, as he continued perfectly helpless, and taken in a cab by two gentlemen to the office of F. W. Fisher, Esq; the solicitor who employed him. On restoring him to consciousness it was ascertained that he was afflicted with what seemed to be an incurable disease. When he was able to speak he said he had been to his dinner and was on his way back to his work, when suddenly his head was in a whirl and he fell in the street like a man who is knocked down. On coming to his senses in the solicitor's office he thought what this might mean, and feared he was going to have a fit of illness, which we all know is a very dreadful thing for a poor man with a family to care for.

With this in his mind he at once sought the best medical advice, telling the doctors how he had been attacked. They questioned him, and found that his present malady was exhaustion of the nervous system resulting from general debility, indigestion, and dyspepsia of a chronic nature. This in turn had been caused by confinement to his desk and grief at the loss of dear friends by death. The coming on of this strange disease, as described by Mr. Richold, must be of interest both to sick and well. He had noticed for several years previously, in fact, that his eyes and face began to have a yellow look; there was a sticky and unpleasant slime on the gums and teeth in the morning; the tongue coated; and the bowels so bound and costive that it induced that most painful and troublesome ailment—the piles. He says there was some pain in the sides and back and a sense of fulness on the right side, as though the liver were enlarging, which proved to be the terrible fact. The secretions from the kidneys would be scanty and high-colored, with a kind of gritty or sandy deposit after standing.

These things had troubled Mr. Richold a long time, and after his fall in the street he clearly perceived that the fit of giddiness was nothing more than a sign of the steadily and deadly advance of the complaint, which began in digestion and dyspepsia. His story of how he went from one physician to another in search of a cure that his wife and little ones might not come to want is very pathetic and touching. Finally he became too ill to keep his situation and had to give it up. This was a sad calamity. He was appalled to think how he should be able to live. But God raised up friends who helped to keep the wolf from the door. He then went to the seaside at Walton-on-the-Naze, but neither the change, nor the physicians who treated him there, did any good. All being without avail he visited London, with a sort of vague hope that some advantage might happen to him in the metropolis. This was in October, 1885.

How wonderful, indeed, are the ways of Providence, which dashes down our highest hopes and then helps us when we least expect it.

While in London he stated his condition to a friend, who strongly advised him to try a medicine which he called Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, saying it was genuine and honest, and often cured when everything else had failed. He bought a bottle of a chemist in Piccadilly, and began using it according to the directions. He did this without faith or hope, and the public, may therefore judge of his surprise and pleasure when after taking a few doses he felt great relief. He could eat better; his food distressed him less; the symptoms we have named abated; the dark spots which had floated before his eyes like smuts of soot, gradually disappeared, and his strength increased. Before this time his knees would knock together whenever he tried to walk. So encouraged was he now that he kept on using Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup until it ended in completely curing him.

In speaking of his wonderful recovery Mr. Richold says it made him think of poor Robinson Crusoe, and his deliverance from captivity on his island in the sea; and added, "But for Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup the grass would now be growing over my grave."

Our readers can rest assured of the strict truth of all the statements in this most remarkable case, as Mr. Richold (now residing at Swiss Cottage, Walton-on-the-Naze) belongs to one of the oldest and most respected families in the beautiful village of Long Melford, Suffolk, and his personal character is attested by so high an authority as the Rev. C. J. Martyn, rector of that parish, besides other excellent names. We have deemed the case of such importance to the public as to justify us in giving this short account of it in our columns.

A PAUPER'S DYING REQUEST.

An amusing and yet pathetic incident in what the poet Gray called "the short and simple annals of the poor," is told by Mr. John J. R. Micklejohn, one of the Inspectors of the Poor, at Sherwick, Shetland Islands. He says that some time ago an old woman, named Barbara Smith, came under the notice of the Board. She was extremely ill, and it did not look likely that she would long need care of any kind. She did not reside on the main land, but on a small island a few miles distant, and there being no parochial institutions in that place, Barbara necessarily occupied the position of a pauper living out. The trouble from which she suffered dated back many years. In better and more prosperous days she had in some way laid the foundation for Chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and out of this had sprung other complaints as age and bodily infirmities crept apace upon her.

Barbara was not ignorant, albeit she had fallen into poverty. In earlier life she somehow obtained the advantage of a fair education, and this, added to native shrewdness, enabled her to use good judgment in respect to her own situation and state of health. Although she had long suffered from asthma and a bronchial affection, Barbara was wise enough to see that these ailments arose from the disordered stomach and digestion, and that if the main trouble could be cured the others would soon leave her. It is probable that her disease began as others do, with the usual symptoms: headaches, bad breath, the rising of sour fluids in the throat, oppression and faintness at the pit of the stomach, loss of sleep, coated tongue, dull eyes, bad taste in the mouth, &c., and finally became chronic and hopeless through her not being able to find any remedy. The Inspector states that she had been under medical treatment for years, but to no effect. In this strait she one day made the following touching appeal to the Inspector: "I have been swallowing medicines for months. They do me no good. I am going on from worse to worse. I can endure it no longer. I feel that in a week or two I shall be dead. There is one last request I would make of you: give me a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup; it is my only hope. If it proves a failure and does me no good I will die in peace, and make no more expense to the parish."

It seems she had got hold of one of Mother Seigel's Almanacs and read of the great cures wrought by the Syrup in cases like hers.

The Board pitied the poor lone woman and granted her petition, believing, however, the syrup would prove as useless as the other medicines she had already taken. What was their astonishment to find, in the course of a few days, that she had not only been able to get out of bed, but to move about outside the house, and had taken journeys to a considerable distance, and was actually enjoying better health than since she was first taken ill. The asthma and bronchitis, which were no more than symptoms of her true disease (Indigestion and dyspepsia), rapidly abated, and it now seems that Barbara will soon be as hale and hearty as the Inspector himself, and be one of the hosts of living witnesses to the power of Mother Seigel's Syrup to save the thousands who were just ready to perish.

Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup is for sale by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 35 Farringdon Road, London, E. C.
