ROOSEVELT ROUTS SHERMAN

DR. RAYMOND FORSAKES DEMOCRATS

ROOSEVELT VICTORIOUS, GRILLS DISHONEST POLITICIANS

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Colonel Roosevelt won his contest for the temporary chairmanship of the New York Republican convention that opened here today, after one of the most bitterly fought struggles that has ever taken place in a political convention of this State.

Colonel Roosevelt had the solid support of the progressive wing, and Vice-President Sherman was backed with equal loyalty by the members of the "Old Guard."

The vote was 567 for Roosevelt to 445 for Sherman. After the result of the ballot was announced, Mr. Sherman was named a committee of one to escort Colonel Roosevelt to the chair. This was done amid the tumultuous cheering of the delegates, and Mr. Sherman shook hands most cordially with Roosevelt as he handed him the gavel.

On assuming the chairmanship, Roosevelt made a speech of characteristic vigor, in which he eulogized the achievements of the Taft administration. He then launched off into a grilling denunciation of dishonesty in public office, and urged the purification of politics by the progressive Republican party.

The selection of Roosevelt was opposed at every possible point by Barnes, Woodruff and their following. All the forenoon was taken up with the contest that was fought in the open, on the floor of the convention. Every possible advantage was taken of parliamentary technicalities and every art for gaining time. The Roosevelt forces held together with a determination that made the result certain after the first test votes were taken.

CAN PLANT TO BE BUILT HERE

Company Plans Permanent Structure at Cost of $40,000.

NEW YORK EXPERT IS HERE TO SUPERINTEND

New Factory Will Have Capacity of 25,000,000 Per Year, Increased Demand Warrants Installation.

A prospering business and a bright outlook for the future have decided the American Can Company to construct a big permanent plant here, and consequently work will be begun at once on a reinforced concrete structure on Iwilei road. The site of the new plant will not be changed from that of the old.

The American Can Company already employs in the neighborhood of 150 men, and has a capacity of approximately 25,000,000 cans a year. The new plant will have the same capacity but will be equipped with the latest sanitary and labor-saving machinery, and will, when completed, be one of the most complete plants of its kind in the country.

Manager R. M. Morton stated this morning that work will be begun some time next week. An Eastern expert, William Nepper, has come on from New York to look after the construction of the plant and the installation of the machinery with Manager Morton. The new factory will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000 and will be completed in four months.

When the contract for the building will be sublet or construction work be done by the company's

Democratic Split Steadily Widens

Dr. J. H. Raymond, Disgusted At Events, Quits County Committee

A good deal of oil was poured on the troubled Democratic waters at the meeting of the county committee last night, but so far from calming the said waters, the oil had no effect other than to disgust some of the Democrats.

As a result, Dr. J. H. Raymond, a member of the committee, will today send a letter to Chairman W. M. McClellan tendering his resignation as a member of the committee. Dr. Raymond stated this morning that in view of recent events within his party, he can not consistently remain

DEMOCRATS AT LAST SECURE CAMPAIGN MANAGER AND GET READY FOR SOME REAL WORK

After a week of indecision, the Democrats of Oahu county—some of them got together long enough last night to lay out preliminary plans for the county campaign. They succeeded in forming a permanent organization of the county campaign committee, named a campaign manager, and will begin the detailed campaign work immediately, according to announcements today.

Dr. J. H. Raymond, secretary to the Democrats to run the county campaign, Rivenburgh is a candidate on the Democratic ticket for

W. R. Farrington, Esq.,
Manager Bulletin Publishing Co., City.

Dear Sir:
It is with very great pleasure that we acknowledge our high appreciation of your efforts to comply with our wishes in advertising in the Bulletin, The Big Sale we are now conducting.

During the past 12 years the writer has managed many important sales in this City all of which have been extensively advertised. This is the first sale in which quoting of prices have been confined to the Bulletin and the results have been more than two to one greater than anything before for the first week.

We are being continually asked for lines advertised in your paper. The mail opened today and on Saturday brought us nice orders from the other Islands. The rush of business has prevented us giving you as much time as we would have liked for setting up our ads but that did not interfere with our getting what we wanted. The efforts of your staff to please is very gratifying.

We shall continue to advertise liberally lines as they are brought forward during this Sale.

We remain,
Yours very truly,

STOCK MARKET RATHER QUEER

Some Peculiar Deals Crop Up During Period of General Weakness.

Some peculiar trading of stocks is going on these days on the Honolulu exchange, according to some of the insiders who watch business and politics. The other day five shares of Waiatua, it is said, changed hands at 124, and the seller almost immediately bought it back at 125. Yesterday 100 shares of Honolulu were sold at 14, and the same block was bought back by the seller at the same figure. This morning five shares of Waiatua were sold at 117 1/2, and the same broker who sold them bought them back at 117. In each case the final buyer, it is reported, was the original seller.

A well-known broker this morning offered in explanation of the transactions the explanation that they are due to the weak market and the general slump. He stated that one of the bids put in by a broker who had sold the same stock he afterward bought was really put

SAYS HE FOUND OPIUM FORTUNE

Chinese Held to Answer Before the Federal Grand Jury.

Yong Chin, the Chinese in whose room was found opium valued at about $8,000, was held to await the action of Federal Grand Jury this morning with his bond fixed at $2,000 on a charge of concealing the contraband drug.

The opium was rather carelessly handled if the improbable story of the Chinese was to be believed. He stated under oath that he found the small fortune in opium in a lumber yard at Iwilei and that he had no idea of its original owner beyond the assertion that it rightfully belonged to himself because he had found it.

Chin Chan Yee, an elderly Chinese in whose house on Kukui street Yong Chin roomed, became very seriously involved in attempting to explain the evidence that appeared against him. He admitted going to Waipahu at once when he discovered that the opium had been seized by Breckons but stated that he made the journey

POLITICIANS AT THE DOCK

Miniature Convention When Kuliho and Party Get Away for Big Island.

It looked like a small political convention at the dock this morning when the Mauna Kea got away for the big island. Prince Kuliho and Colonel Sam Parker were passengers, and it was the fact that the Delegate and the Republican county chairman were going away to start the Territorial campaign that caused the politicians to gather at the wharf.

The party also included G. B. McClellan, Kuliho's secretary, and W. C. Achi, Achi is to spread his Ciceronian oratory on the other islands and to apply his political knowledge to the varying situations.

Up on Hawaii, Carl Smith has charge of the visiting Republican literary, and where and when they will speak or appear at meetings is not definitely known at local Republican headquarters. It is assumed, however, that Kuliho will follow in a general way the trail that Link McClellan has taken, thus getting the last whack at the voter.

Territorial Chairman Atkinson was on hand with a few words of advice and a large bundle of campaign literature as the boat pulled out, and then the group of politicians and others dispersed.

Choy Sung, the Korean who tried to guillotine a fellow countryman a couple of weeks ago, has absconded, and his bondsmen are now on the lookout for him.

INSPECTORS OF NEXT ELECTION

Governor Frear Names More Men to Serve in November.

Governor Frear this morning announced the appointment of a number of election inspectors throughout the Territory who will serve at the general elections to be held in November. The appointments were as follows:

First District—Sixth Precinct, Samuel K. Pili, Second District—Third Precinct: William Kaauiauna (member and chairman); Thomas Pili, D. W. Kawai, Fourth Precinct: Joseph Kaha, Fifth Precinct: D. G. Haleman, Sixth Precinct: D. K. Kelihihi, Seventh Precinct: W. H. Lainahele, Eighth Precinct: Sam Kamaupulekane (member and chairman); Joseph E. Laau, J. W. Puaheka, Ninth Precinct: S. Fuller (member).

SHIP'S CAPTAIN IS ARRESTED

Captain F. T. Saunders has been arrested and charged at the police station with having used a deadly weapon, to wit, a pair of handcuffs, on a sailor named Allen Pasquor. The handcuffs were used as a club, it is alleged, and the assault took place on board the David Evans at Pearl Harbor.

DEMOCRATIC SPLIT WIDENS

can not bring himself into line with the McCandless wing as it is now campaigning in Oahu county.

The meeting of the committee at which the threatened break occurred was attended by a motley crowd of Democrats, the majority being McCandless workers in an expectant mood. A few of the oldline Democrats were there, and there was a good deal of talk about changing the Senatorial ticket, but it was stated this morning that the county committee has decided to let it stand. This means that Jack Kalakela and Eddie Hanapi, the two men who are particularly obnoxious to certain influential Democrats, will not be asked by the committee to resign. It means also, according to the "conservatives"—as opposed to the McCandless "radicals"—that the county committee has taken no steps to close the breach that exists.

Attorney C. W. Ashford, who had declared himself unalterably opposed to the presence of Kalakela and Hanapi on the ticket, was present at the committee meeting. He made a speech protesting against the making of a change he made, after retiring before the committee had decided against any change. Mr. Ashford stated this morning that, while he has not changed his mind regarding the ticket, he will not press the matter further, but hopes for a Democratic victory. Like many another good Democrat this morning, however, Ashford is anything but enthusiastic over the idea of campaigning for McCandless and the ticket.

Reports of Harmony Are Funny.
After the committee meeting, some of the members became very active in spreading reports that harmony was flourishing like a green bay tree and that from now on the Bourbons will present a united front. It sounds well, but it isn't the case. The split is still there, and there is a good deal more than a suspicion that unless Campaign Manager Rivenburgh pulls some political wires smoothly, the scrap will be carried right through the campaign.

JAPANESE PLAN DIRECT SERVICE

there will be one more in commission in the freight and passenger service of the Pacific.

It is stated along with this information of the service from New York to Hongkong that both San Francisco and Honolulu will be cut out of this company's schedule. That the former port will be cut out is probable but is hardly probable that even the largest ships of the line will cut out Honolulu as this port would be but a few miles out of the course on a great circle from Panama to Yokohama.

This service from New York to the Far East by the T. K. K. would probably be followed by other lines, and the Pacific Mail might follow the same plan as well as the North German Lloyd, and other foreign lines which would send their freighters on this route and might do the same with their passenger steamers.

The North German Lloyd could easily run its steamers around the world instead of having an Atlantic service from Bremen to New York and an Asiatic service from Bremen to Yokohama as at present.

DEMS SECURE A MANAGER

tion as Link McCandless' man in Oahu county, and considering the squabble that has arisen in the Bourbons' ranks recently, few of the politicians, Democratic or Republican, envy him the managership.

The county committee was called together in Democratic headquarters at Waverly Hall, and Supervisor W. H. McClellan, who has been on a honeymoon trip for a week, was presented with the permanent chairmanship of the committee in place of any rice, old shoes or bouquets that the members thereof might have flung at the benedict. William Kael was named vice-chairman, Moses Akawa secretary, James Olds assistant secretary, and John Eminger treasurer. The committee indulged in some characteristic Democratic rag-chewing and adjourned to meet on call.

And we once heard of a man who wrote a book on "How to Get Rich" who had actually done it himself.

DO NOT SCOLD NERVOUS CHILDREN

Instead Give Them a Safe Tonic Which Will Strengthen the Weak Nerves and Prevent an Attack of St. Vitus' Dance.

Many a child has been called awkward, has been punished in school for not keeping still or for dropping things, when the trouble was really chorea, or St. Vitus' dance, as it is popularly called. So common is this nervous disease in childhood that in some schools one-fifth of all the pupils have been found suffering from it in one form or another.

Before the presence of the disease is betrayed there is usually a disturbance of the general health. The child shows listlessness and inattention. Then it becomes restless, and twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body follow.

Often the patient loses flesh and becomes pale and bloodless. A remedy that cures St. Vitus' dance, and cures it so thoroughly that no trace of the disease remains, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

A typical case of St. Vitus' dance is described by Mrs. Fred Martin, of Yates Center, Kansas. Her cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills makes her statement particularly valuable to parents, whose children are suffering with this common disease of children.

"When I was nine years old," she says, "I was afflicted with St. Vitus' dance. It was brought on by too close attention to my studies. There was a constant twitching of the muscles of my entire body. My limbs were affected at first and later my head began to jerk. My tongue seemed thick and for a long time I could not speak distinctly. I was confined to the bed for most of the time during the two years I was sick and became so weak that I could hardly move. I was treated by several doctors, who pronounced my case St. Vitus' dance in its worst form. They were unable to help me and each one gave up my case. Then my parents gave Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I had taken the pills only a short time when there was a change for the better in my condition. I gave the pills a good trial and was entirely cured. I returned to school a well girl and have been in the best of health since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

NO MONEY FOR SCHOOL REPAIRS

Outstanding bills and the funds all gone is the condition that faces City Engineer Gear in regard to the repairs to and maintenance of schools throughout the county.

During vacation time repairs were carried on as far as the money on hand would go and even a little beyond and a large number of schoolhouses were put into fair shape for the coming term.

There is still lots of work to be done to the schoolhouses throughout the county to put them in any kind of shape as regards sanitation, but as there is no money there will be no more repairs until there is some.

What did Boss McCandless do for the bigmesters of Kapaa, to whom he made the same promises two years ago that he is now making on the island of Hawaii?

When the people on "this side of Nuanuu street" begin to talk of splitting the legislative and municipal ticket, they are adding their influence to the efforts of workers for McCandless on "the other side of Nuanuu street."

There are two very serious features about the condition of the stock market. The charge that the quotations are being manipulated and the possibility that the slump is intensely legitimate. Whatever of truth there may be in the first charge, no one will ever assume that McCandless and his policy promote the progress of the Territory.

Elections may come and elections may go, but the policy of making the island of Oahu a great military and naval post moves right along regardless. But we have to remember that if the people prove themselves incapable of judging rightly on what is for the best interests of the nation as well as themselves, the Federal government may deem it necessary to take a stronger hand in local affairs.

Boss McCandless has never been able to prove that Delegate Kuhio has not secured more for the Territory of Hawaii than any mainland Congressman gained for his home district. And there is no possibility of McCandless doing as well. If elected this year he would be absolutely out of touch with the Federal administration, whose officers would place no confidence in a demagogue.

PROHIBITION MAINE'S ISSUE.

The successful candidate in a State election and one of the leading journalists supporting his campaign ought to be very good authority, the best indeed, for interpreting the meaning of the election result.

There has been considerable dispute, outside the State, over what the election in Maine with its tremendous reversal means. Supporters of Prohibition are very loath to accept the truth of it, and want to "lay it onto" the tariff, or anything but Prohibition.

The first opinion to which Frederick M. Plaisted, the successful candidate for Governor, gave expression, when he was assured that the returns gave him the victory, was as follows:

"I have made no promise or pledge," said Col. Plaisted, "except those made in the Democratic state platform on which I stand squarely. These include the repeal of the Sturgis law, and resubmission of the prohibitory liquor law. I shall make every effort in my power to carry out those promises. The victory is infinitely greater than a mere party triumph—it is a victory for the people of this State. Maine knew what it wanted and voted for it. It is a victory for the people of Maine, not a personal one. The people trusted in me and I shall be faithful to the trust."

Mr. Plaisted makes pointed reference to none of the pledges of his party except those relating to the repeal of the Prohibition law and the foolish Sturgis enforcement law. That shows pretty plainly on what he based his campaign and what he thinks the people expect to be his first work when he assumes his office.

For the newspaper end of it, we may safely turn to the Bangor Daily Commercial, as the leading supporter of Plaisted and his campaign. That paper says editorially of the result:

The Democratic party will, after January 1, 1911, be in practically complete control of the business of the State of Maine, and its responsibility is great. It should put its best men in office and carry out its campaign promises of economy and efficiency. One of its first tasks will be to sound the knell of the Sturgis law and to submit to the people the prohibitory constitutional amendment, which laws have been conducted for fraud and have been an injury to the prosperity of the State and an insult to its citizenship.

Nothing could be more conclusive than the evidence that the final judgment of the conservative thinking people of the State of Maine is against the Prohibition law and they intend to wipe Prohibition out of their State constitution. The absolute failure of Prohibition could not be demonstrated to better effect.

YOUNG AMERICANS AND THE McCANDLESS THREAT.

Young Americans of Hawaii have a vital interest in the campaign result this Fall. It is of the utmost importance to them that the record of the election should be one that will set this Territory before the people of the mainland as a community of progressive ideas.

STRANGE CASE OF LIFE AFTER DEATH

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—Physicians and scientists of this city are astounded at the remarkable case of Theodore P. Bailey, assistant general manager of the Philadelphia offices of the General Electric Company, who conversed with his family at first by word of mouth and then by the deaf and dumb alphabet for forty minutes after all indication of heart beats and breathing had ceased, just before he died in the private hospital of Dr. Joseph Price, at 241 North Eighteenth street, last Saturday.

According to the most careful examination made by the physicians and nurses in charge, Mr. Bailey should have been "dead" at 11:45 o'clock. At that time there was not the faintest sign of a pulsebeat, nor of breathing. The eyes were glazed, the lower limbs rigid.

And yet from the lips of the "dead" man came words of love and advice to the wife and daughter at the bedside until 12:12, and afterward, until 12:25 o'clock, he "talked" with his fingers in the sign manual of those who can not speak.

Asks for Final Kiss. Near the end, when she thought her father was really dead, little Laura Bailey, the daughter, leaned over the bed and kissed her father on the forehead. There was not the slightest change in the facial muscles. But the fingers began twitching again, and slowly worked out the message: "Kiss me on the lips, dear."

This was the last "word." Whether the mind remained active after that or not, the relatives and the doctors have no means of knowing. Certainly there was no later sign.

Two explanations of the unusual case are offered: One, which the doctors are inclined to believe, is that physical life existed until the last, but that the pulsations of the heart were too slight to be distinguished.

The other is that the mind resisted the effect of physical death until long after the life had fled, and remained acute and alive in spite of a physical dissolution.

Had Keen Mentality. Persons who believe in this theory point out that Mr. Bailey was a man of the keenest mentality, always alert and of extraordinary will power. It is probable that the case will be made the subject of several papers before medical societies in the near future, and that physicians and psychologists will make a deep study of it.

Mr. Bailey lived at 7494 Devon avenue, Chestnut Hill. He was born in Princeton, Ill., and came east when a young man. Successively he served in the capacities of stenographer, law student, practicing attorney and as a builder of the great electrical business of this country.

Always weak physically, he took good care of his health. His life was busy and his mental processes, according to his associates, were remarkably rapid and clear. There were times when thought, with him, seemed to be intuitive.

Ten days ago he became ill with appendicitis. An osteopath treated him for indigestion, and he became worse. Later he went to the hospital of Dr. Joseph Price, at 241 North Eighteenth street, and there he was operated on by Dr. J. W. Kennedy of 1409 Spruce street. The knife was used too late. Before Mr. Bailey applied to the surgeon, gangrene had set in. Saturday morning it became evident that he was dying and his wife and daughter and private secretary were sent for.

It was not until then that Mr. Bailey seemed to realize his condition. Dr. Kennedy, at 10 o'clock, seeing that the man was beyond help, left the hospital. At 11:40 o'clock the patient aroused himself from a state of coma and began to talk to his wife.

He had hardly begun when his lower limbs stiffened as though in rigor mortis. A nurse, thinking that he was dead, felt for his pulse and then for his heart. The chest had ceased to rise and fall and a glass held before the lips of the patient failed to gather moisture.

The nurse looked up. "He is—" she began, but stopped short. The "dead" man had begun to talk. It was only a whisper, and it was evident that the patient was exerting every effort to compel the muscles of his throat to move. But the words were enunciated clearly, and although the conversation was slow, it was steady, without the jerks and gasps frequently heard from dying men.

Thus the "dead" man talked for 27 minutes, and at last the voice ceased. The nurse and Mrs. Bailey thought that at last the unusually clear and strong mind of the patient had yielded to death. At that minute Laura Bailey, the 15-year-old daughter, noticed that the fingers were twitching.

Letter From Grave. A pencil and pad of paper were brought, and with infinite difficulty the hand wrote the word "paralyzed." Then it ceased.

Some years ago, when the Baileys lived near a deaf and dumb asylum in Germantown, Bailey had learned the alphabet and had become proficient in it. The wife and daughter, for amusement, had also taken it up. A minute after the hand had written the message, the daughter noticed the fingers begin to work, forming letters of the deaf and dumb alphabet.

TO VENTILATE EMPIRE THEATER

Extensive changes are being made in the roof of the Empire Theater under the directions of Manager Overend. The changes are being made in order to secure better ventilation for this popular theater and with a careful following out of the plans formed this amusement place will be as well ventilated as any building possibly can be. The roof will be slightly raised and openings made all the way round. This will admit a breeze from whatever direction it happens to be blowing and at the same time give an opening for the escape of all undesirable odors. It is claimed that the alterations will also greatly improve the acoustics.

On account of the improvements being made no matinee will be given on Wednesday although all other regular performances will be given.

STOCK MARKET RATHER QUEER

(Continued from Page 1) in to encourage the market. The Honokaa trading, he said, looked as if the broker thought he had sold too low and then proceeded to buy it back to re-sell on it. However, another broker sees some political plays dropping up on the exchange.

The feature of the stock market today was the sharp drop in Wai'alu and the steady fall of Oahu. Wai'alu ended with session sales of two blocks of five each, as reported above. Between boards two blocks of ten shares and thirty shares changed hands at 120, and this security is expected to decline still further. Oahu received some attention between boards, 155 shares altogether being reported sold at 20. Ewa experienced another small drop, selling at 22.25.

Booze Responsible for Falls
 On Gangway at China's Sailing.

Booze and coal dust were both present about sailing time of the China yesterday afternoon from the Bishop wharf, but in the laughs created by the effects of the former, both passengers and onlookers forgot the discomfort occasioned by the latter.

It was dirty and dusty all along the front, and clouds of dust, both from the road and the coal ships discharging, coated everyone who pushed along en route to the dock where the China lay.

Not a sign of street sprinkling was to be seen, and as the Norwegian steamer Torvald came into the slip next the China and began discharging coal several hours before the liner left, the decks of the usually immaculate Pacific Mail steamer were covered with coal dust, which blew about in little clouds and formed drifts the same as snow might do, only the coal was much more comfortable for an outer covering of the persons of passengers than snow would have been.

All ports and doors on the port side of the ship were closed tightly to keep out the penetrating dust from the coal ship, but even these precautions were not sufficient, and more or less still came into staterooms and other parts of the vessel.

The usual crowd was on hand to bid farewell to the little China, only Berger's band being absent from the festivities.

It might be a missionary crowd on board the China, but there were as many, if not more, through passengers on the vessel who had looked at the ruby wine or something else with an intoxicating effect, as have passed through in recent weeks.

When the China came in yesterday morning the dock gangway was used for passengers, but it came so high that everyone had to duck in going down in order to get under the side of the shed. The ship's gangway was lowered later for passengers.

It was this ship's gangway which caused all the trouble and falls, for it could not be lowered sufficiently to make the steps level, and those passing over it must walk merely on the outer edges of the steps.

During the last half hour before sailing time the inebriated ones began to arrive, and many were the attempts of the sterner sex to navigate upward. All but one of the men could not tell the difference between steps and thin air, and tried to walk on the latter, with the usual result.

What took the prize in the graceful falling act was a violin in lavender with big baby-blue eyes. The lavender girl, when half-way up, thought she was walking on a level floor and gracefully dropped lengthwise the ladder. It was a pitiful look from the large eyes which brought the chivalrous Honolulu to the rescue and saw her safely on deck.

The China got away promptly at 5 o'clock, according to schedule, and is due to arrive in Yokohama on October 8.

THEIR PLATFORM WAS A SHRIEK

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
 HILO, Sept. 22.—The Democrats of Hawaii set forth to build up a platform which would be a shriek. They did.

The platform which was adopted by the Democratic county convention last Wednesday was designed to make the powers that be sit up and take notice. The administration of the land laws was roasted to a crisp, it being a well-known fact that without such a plank a Democratic platform would be deemed sorely incomplete by the unfrightened ones. The corporation income tax chestnut was taken out and polished with fresh luster; Henry Hapai got a slap for not building his famous sidewalk which is not, and, incidentally, the Governor and Marston Campbell got another whack in this connection by way of good measure. Then Link was given a pat on the back, which was worth at least a part of his ten-thousand-dollar contribution to the campaign fund, and the precious document wound up gloriously with a commendation of the work done by the Democratic members of the county administration.

Whether this meant Shipman, who has been an apostle of economy, or Kalalua, who has been the opposite, was left on open question. Anyhow, the platform pledged the candidates to continue in their footsteps, and as the two present and only Democratic members of the Board of Supervisors mark the very extremes in the matter of financial policy, the new candidates can not very well go wrong, no matter what they do.

The platform was read in its entirety.

It was noticed that when the paragraph relative to the Hapai sidewalk was read, there was applause, even by some prominent Republicans in the audience.

Heen moved to amend the platform by striking out the portion relating to the doing away with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Works in the matter of the construction of new streets, roads, etc. This portion of the county act, said Heeh, had already been cut out.

It was pointed out to Heen that his motion was out of order, as under the rules which had just been adopted, every amendment must be in writing and signed by five delegates. Heen moved, in spite of the fact that he himself had been the chairman of the committee which drafted the rules, that that portion of the rules be suspended, and this carried. This was a fair sample of the manner in which the convention conducted its business.

Kaniho wanted an amendment calling for the legislators to pledge themselves to work for a new system of division of the taxes between the Territory and the counties. He wanted the counties to have two-thirds of the money and the Territory the remaining third. Nothing came of this amendment, and the platform was adopted as amended by Heen.

FIELD ARTILLERY ORDERED HERE

Company F Will Come on December Transport—Quarters Being Erected.

According to the latest orders of the war department the transport that will leave the coast on December 5 will bring Battery F, First Field Artillery, Captain Albert U. Faulkner, commanding, to Hawaii.

The present station of the battery is at the Presidio but the command is at Atascadero, taking part in the instruction camp in connection with the National Guard. It was thought that this command would be ordered to Fort Sill but it would seem that those in the war department have a mind for other things and it is now understood that the entire battalion will be sent here and will be assigned to temporary quarters at Schofield Barracks, quarters for their accommodation will be erected at once.

PAUL DE LONGPRE IS ILL AT LOS ANGELES

Paul de Longpre, an artist of international reputation and well known to Honolulu people, is seriously ill in a hospital at Los Angeles, according to recent advices from the Coast. De Longpre underwent an operation for abscess of the ear on September 15, and according to reports he is not rallying as quickly as his physicians wish. His age is a serious handicap.

De Longpre attained fame as a painter of flowers. He had won a high reputation in Paris before coming to America in 1899. He built a beautiful villa near Los Angeles, which became the scene of many notable gatherings.

NEWS NOTES FROM KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS

The Kamehameha cadets turned out for drill Friday forenoon and went through the different close-order drills. The new recruits are learning fast and it will not be long before the cadets will be using the arms.

Order No. 3 of the cadet battalion was posted on the bulletin board Saturday. The following promotions are announced in the cadet corps:

1st Sergt. H. Brandt to the 2nd lieutenant, Sergt. H. Apo to be 1st sergeant, Corporal B. Pahlia to be sergeant, Corporal G. Hapai to be sergeant, Private E. Akiona to be corporal, Private E. Noah to be corporal, Private K. Chung to be corporal.

Order No. 2.

The following hours for drill and recitations in military science are prescribed. The musician of the guard will see that the proper calls are sounded at the time stated in this order:

Drills—Wednesday, 8 to 9 a. m.; Friday, 11 a. m. to 12 noon; Sunday, 4 to 5 p. m.

Recitations—Daily from 8 to 8:30 a. m.

None of the members of the school athletic association have made any howl about stopping certain athletes from the Oahu College from playing in the football series this year or about any player of the High School team. The statement made in the morning paper a few days ago about the Kams kicking is false. The Kams are not expected to have a football team this year, so they do not need to worry over who plays on the other teams.

The Kamehameha athletic committee, consisting of seven teachers and three students, of which Captain Winters is chairman, will hold a meeting tonight at Bishop Hall. Matters of importance will be brought up. Football or soccer will be decided upon. The boys are against football, and there is little chance of it being played this year by a Kam team.

The Kamehameha rifle club will start in practice at the shooting gallery soon. Only the members of the three upper grades are allowed to join the club. In a few months the best shooters from the club will be ready to compete with the National Guard or any teams from the High School or Oahu College.

The Kamehameha cadet battalion is still in Class A among the military schools in the States. This shows that Captain Winters has done splendid work with the battalion last year.

THE ONLY other vessel due this week from the coast after the arrival of the Lurline tomorrow is the American-Hawaiian freighter Arizonan which is due on Thursday. The Arizonan comes from Seattle with a large general cargo for island ports.

DISCUSS NEW

Structure to Be Modern—May Use Lava Rock in Construction.

There was a meeting last night of those who are most closely connected with the new library building. The meeting was held in the rooms of the University Club at which Governor Frear, Architect Kerr and several others who are engaged directly in the library business were present. Architect Whitfield, who has the construction of the plans for the new building was an interested listener to all that was said on the subject, and from the suggestions of what is needed he will draw his plans for the new building.

As now proposed, the structure will be a two-story and basement building of imposing facade, with great distributing hall, a woman's clubroom, mailing and packing room, disinfecting apartment, broad, comfortable and cool lounging lanai, broad staircases, huge book racks and shelves, newspaper room, reading-room, librarian's quarters, janitor's den, storeroom and many more conveniences and luxuries.

A specimen of Honolulu's lava brick was on exhibition as possibly the material of which the library will be constructed.

TWO EWA LADS REACH FINAL STAGE OF HALL CUP PLAY

IN SEMI-FINALS, EKLUND DEFEATED GREENFIELD, AND COLLINS BEAT LOW—CAPTAIN PUT UP GREAT FIGHT AGAINST BIG ODDS—GOOD TENNIS PLAYED.

There was unlimited joy at Ewa last night when the news went along by telephone to the effect that two of the plantation men were to fight it out in the finals of the Hall Cup tennis tournament. It was known beforehand that one sugar baron could not help getting into the finals, as he was meeting another Ewa man in the semi-finals. The other big mill man was not a certainty for the finals, as he had to first go up against Low, and it was thought that, notwithstanding the big handicap he was giving, the captain might account for Collins. It was not to be, however, and the gallant soldier went down in defeat three sets to one, and the score was 2-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

"Kid" Eklund had in the meantime beaten his "boss," Greenfield, three sets straight, with a score of 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. By the victory of Collins and Eklund, the country players came into their own in metropolitan tennis, and the two dark horses that have been working up their game on the plantation courts have shown that the Ewa men can play tennis as well as help grow record crops of cane. Greenfield, too, did well in the tournament, and he worked his way through to the semi-finals only to be beaten by Eklund, who looks all over a winner for the finals.

Eklund and Greenfield started the play yesterday, and right from the start it was apparent that Greenfield had not much chance of defeating the youngster, who plays a very good game, and who should be able to give Greenfield a great go from the same mark.

Eklund's Style.
 The "Kid" plays in a casual, don't-care-don't-worry-me style, and half the time was watching the play on the other court, where Collins and Low were battling it out. If Eklund would pay more attention to his game, and try for shots that he simply is too tired to get after now, he would probably make a lot more winning points. However, as he played yesterday, he did well enough, and it may be that when up against Collins he will extend himself more than usual.

Eklund has the makings of a fine player, and when a little older and more set he will go far in local tennis. It would be a treat to see the Ewa lad go up against Atherton Richards in a five-set match, and there would sure be some fine tennis before a winner was declared.

Low vs. Collins.
 The Low-Collins match went to four sets before it was finished, and the captain took the first, 6-2. He ran rings around Collins and would work him out of position and then slam one down that would score every time. Low won the first game and Collins took the second; then Low won four running before Collins could take another, and the score stood at 5-1. The seventh game went to Collins, but Low took the next, and the set ended in Low's favor, 6-2. The game put up by the captain was a beauty and he did splendid work by overcoming the big handicap.

The second set saw Collins improving in his game, and although at one time Low had the score at 4-2, Collins won the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth game and too the set, 6-4. In the third spasm Low led at one time 3-2, but Collins evened things up by taking the sixth game. The seventh also went to the Ewa man, and then Low made it four-all by taking the next. That was his best effort, as Collins won the next two and, with them, the set, 6-4.

Collins now had two sets to the captain's one, and stood on velvet. Low went to it in the fourth set as if determined to even things up and make a fifth set necessary. The handicap was, however, too much.

KAOO-JACKSON IN TRAINING

Nigel Jackson is doing some strenuous stunts on the roads nowadays, and he is getting into condition for the fifteen-mile race with Kaoo, the "Waiatua Horse." The old champion is as gay as ever, and thinks nothing of a jog from Haleiwa to Honolulu. He made the trip twice last week on foot, and on both occasions did the journey in time that would make a lot of alleged Marathon runners cry "Enough!"

Jackson and Kaoo are to run their match race on October 16, and the event will be pulled off at either the Athletic Park on the league grounds. At present it has not been decided as to where the race will be run, but W. W. Harris is to be consulted about the matter and then some arrangement will be come to.

The idea of the fifteen-mile race is to see whether Jackson should have a chance at Soldier King when he arrives from the Coast. The soldier is coming to run Kaoo over any distance from five miles up, and it will be a sure thing that the maulander will get more than the one match "down here."

All Hawaii will be worked up over the Kaoo-King match, and an opportunity will be given to see the man who is considered an island wonder go up against King, who has performed in company with the best long-distance runners in the world.

The Jackson-Kaoo match race will wake the public up to the fact that the time for the Kaoo-King race is approaching fast and also to the thought that if Jackson defeats the "Waiatua Horse," there will be something doing in the way of other races with the man from the Coast.

DOTS AND DASHES.
 The boxing game is backing and filling a lot, and all sorts of matches are being spoken of and then dropped like a hot spud. Joe McGurn is looking for stoush, and says he will fight the winner of the Hoan-Baurocks contest, if that interesting event comes off in the near future.

Phil Danky, who is well known to all the Honolulu sports, will be back in Honolulu about the end of next month. Phil went back East to see his parents, but was unlucky enough to reach home a few days after his mother had died.

There is some talk about the St. Louis Alumni bunch getting into the rowing game, and it would be a good idea if they did so, as some races could be arranged between the different crews that are making such a splash lately.

George Freeth was in San Francisco at latest, and there is no doubt that he feels the pull Hawaiiwards and that he will soon again be in the land of leis and surfboards.

Sergeant Barry is still on the war-path as regards baseball, and he wants to put his Original Beatus up against the Punahou Alumni team next Saturday.

Mmanuel Santos wants to have a go at Nigel Jackson over any distance, and he also avers that he can beat Kaoo over a short distance.

LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS GETTING READY FOR FRAY

Race of October 16 Will Warm Rooters Up for Big Event Between Kaoo and Soldier King.

The idea of the fifteen-mile race is to see whether Jackson should have a chance at Soldier King when he arrives from the Coast. The soldier is coming to run Kaoo over any distance from five miles up, and it will be a sure thing that the maulander will get more than the one match "down here."

All Hawaii will be worked up over the Kaoo-King match, and an opportunity will be given to see the man who is considered an island wonder go up against King, who has performed in company with the best long-distance runners in the world.

The Jackson-Kaoo match race will wake the public up to the fact that the time for the Kaoo-King race is approaching fast and also to the thought that if Jackson defeats the "Waiatua Horse," there will be something doing in the way of other races with the man from the Coast.

ANNUAL MEETING OF MANOA TENNIS CLUB
 Electric Light Tournament To Be Discussed at Length.

At the meeting of the Manoa Tennis Club that will be held this evening at the clubhouse, the matter of the proposed electric light tournament will be discussed. That there is every probability of the affair going through is the opinion of those who should know. The last night tournament aroused a lot of interest, and big crowds attended on the evenings that the matches were played.

The matter of expense is rather prominent in the arguments brought forward against the scheme, but as there are many wealthy members, the individual cost would be slight.

It may be decided this evening to have the tournament next week. The weather has been unsettled lately, and rain would spoil everything.

The election of officers for the coming year will be proceeded with at the meeting, and it is probable that most of the old officials will be re-elected. The Manoa club is in a flourishing condition and showed great enterprise in starting up night tennis.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Nearly every manager of the American League picks the Philadelphia Athletics to win the world's championship series from the Chicago Cubs. Of course, league pride may have something to do with the expressions of opinion. It is significant, however, that Hugh Jennings stands out from his fellow managers as a shining exception. Jennings likes the Cubs' chances best. Probably the Tiger leader thinks no other American League team is able to accomplish what the Tigers failed to do on several occasions. The American League managers believe the Athletics are coming along at their best, while the Cubs, especially their twirlers, are on the down grade. Coombs, Morgan, Plank and Bender are a great quartet to tie to, so the American League pilots think.
