ENGLAND AROUSED OVER RUSSIAN INSULT

(By Wireless to THE TRIBUNE.)

PREMIER BALFOUR REGARDS INCIDENT AS NATIONAL INSULT

BRITAIN'S DEMANDS UNKNOWN.

London, Eng., Oct. 25.—The British demands on Russia have not been published. Ambassador Benckendorff has expressed the regret of his country for the incident.

THE CZAR APOLOGIZES.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Oct. 26.—Emperor Nicholas has telegraphed King Edward expressing regret for the action of the Baltic fleet in firing upon English fishing boats off Spurn Head.

ENGLISH RESENTMENT ALLAYED.

London, Eng., Oct. 26.—The assurances on the part of the Czar that complete reparation will be made allays in a measure the resentment over the firing upon British fishermen.

SITUATION EMBARRASSING TO RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Oct. 27.—The failure of Admiral Rojestevsky's report to arrive, explaining the action of the Baltic fleet in firing upon English fishing boats, is embarrassing. It is expected today.

SAW JAPANESE TORPEDO BOATS.

Vigo, Spain, Oct. 27.—Admiral Rojestevsky explains regarding the attack on the British trawlers, which he claims was accidental. Two torpedo boats appeared, which he thought were Japanese. They were fired upon and the fishermen beyond were not seen. He was unable at the time to discover that any damage had been done. However, he believed the Czar would satisfy England.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL WAS ATTACKED.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Oct. 27.—Admiral Rojestevsky's report declares that his fleet was attacked by two torpedo boats. He thinks he sunk one, the other escaping. The fleet ceased firing when the officers saw the fishermen.

A QUESTION FOR HAGUE TRIBUNAL.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Oct. 28.—Admiral Rojestevsky's report is received here with sympathy and confidence of amicable settlement. As the mystery is not cleared, however, the outcome will probably be a reference of the report to the arbitration tribunal at the Hague to ascertain the truth. It is believed England will accept the explanation with the suggestion that Rojestevsky be deposed, which will not be acceded to.

CABINET TO DECIDE ENGLAND'S POLICY.

London, Eng., Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding the diplomatic correspondence caused by Rojestevsky's report, England is preparing for hostile possibilities. Great naval activity continues. The Mediterranean fleet is hastening to Gibraltar. The report by Russia of the incident is received with incredulity and the Cabinet meets at noon.

BRITISH FEELING AROUSED.

Southampton, Eng., Oct. 29.—Balfour, in addressing a public meeting, declared that the Russian Admiral was romancing when he said the Baltic fleet had been attacked by torpedo boats off the coast of England. According to his version, the action of the Russian fleet is an attack on the national honor and an insult to the British people. The Premier said two inquiries had come from the coroner's inquest and from the Hull Board of Trade regarding the propriety of examining Russian officers.

Russians Are Driven Back.

Tokio, Japan, Oct. 29.—The Japanese have captured the fortified Russian position at Waiashan Hill by a desperate attack. The Russians have retreated to Shakhe. The Russian loss was 200 and that of the Japanese 100.

Viceroy Alexieff Recalled.

Chefoo, China, Oct. 29.—It is reported that Alexieff has been recalled and has departed for St. Petersburg.

To Protect British Shipping.

Gibraltar, Spain, Oct. 27.—The Channel Fleet has been ordered to sail tomorrow.

[Great Britain's Channel Fleet, in command of Vice-Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, consists of the battleships Hannibal, Jupiter, Magnificent, Majestic, Mars and Prince George, and cruisers Doris, Hermes, Hogue, Pactolus, Prometheus and Sutlej. It is one of the best equipped squadrons of the Royal Navy.]

Steamer Wrecked by Mine.

Chefoo, China, Oct. 26.—The steamer Kashing struck a floating mine near Altuste Islands. Two Chinese passengers were killed and three injured by the explosion. The Kashing reached Wei Hai Wei badly damaged.

Japan's Casualties at Shakhe, 15,879.

Tokio, Japan, Oct. 25.—General Oyama reports the Japanese casualties at Shakhe river at 15,789.

Kuropatkin at Head of Army.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Oct. 25.—General Kuropatkin has been made Commander-in-Chief of the Russian army.

To Reinforce Baltic Fleet.

Cronstadt, Russia, Oct. 25.—The Russian cruisers Oleg and Izumud have sailed to join the Baltic fleet.

TO BUY CHILEAN NAVY.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Oct. 25.—It is reported that Russia has purchased the Chilean navy and these ships will join the Baltic squadron at the Azores.

COAL FOR THE FLEET.

Vigo, Spain, Oct. 25.—Nine colliers are at this port awaiting the arrival of the Russian squadron. The Spanish warships will protect the neutrality of the port.

(By Wireless to THE TRIBUNE.)

HIGH SHERIFF'S SUBORDINATES CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

Honolulu, Oct. 26.—Police Clerks Dow and Mossman have been arrested for embezzlement.

[Herbert M. Dow has been confidential clerk to High Sheriff Brown and a trusted employe of the Department for fourteen years. Harry C. Mossman has been Deputy Sheriff Chillingsworth's chief clerk, who, when his accounts were found to be short by Auditor Fisher, produced the money from a back room, amounting to over $200. Altogether Mossman found $610 of police funds not in the safe.]

Speedy Justice to Damon's Slayer.

Honolulu, Oct. 26.—Jose Miranda was executed today, the trap being sprung at 10:53 o'clock this morning. Life was extinct sixteen and one-half minutes later. The prisoner exhibited a wonderful nerve and was composed to the last.

[Jose Miranda, a Porto Rican, stabbed and killed S. Edward Damon, son of S. M. Damon, and a member of Bishop & Co., bankers, on the night of September 27th, on the Moanalua road, near Honolulu. Driving home about 7 o'clock on the evening in question Damon overtook Miranda and two companions, a Porto Rican woman and boy. Miranda was carrying a lantern, which it was customary to have placed on the roadside by Mr. Damon's servants, and which the Porto Rican refused to deliver up when so directed by Damon. The latter jumped out of the buggy to take the lantern away from the Porto Rican, and during the scuffle Miranda drove a long knife into Damon's side, causing death within a few hours. The assassin was apprehended, promptly indicted for murder, tried and convicted. The execution occurred twenty-eight days after the commission of the crime.]

FOR YOUNG MEN.

Young men should join a party that espouses good principles and policies at the beginning and not a party that opposes everything that is advantageous to the community and then tags along with tardy approval of what it has stubbornly opposed. A stream cannot rise higher than its source and a party's candidates cannot rise above its principles. The Democratic party stands as the party of opposition to progress, prosperity and good government. Young men casting their first votes or seeking to align themselves with a political party, can make no mistake in espousing Republican principles, and voting the straight Republican ticket.

INCOMPETENTS RETAINED.

Escapes from prison guards and the Hilo police are becoming so frequent these days as hardly to attract attention. When after six weeks diligent search for a chicken thief, one of the midnight marauders was overtaken in Olaa, he was arrested only to escape from the policeman when being brought to town. Again does the public witness the farcical spectacle of a criminal escaping from under the very eyes of two prison guards after serving less than a week of his year's sentence. Little wonder is it that crime continues to be a lucrative employment, when criminals by reason of incompetency of the Sheriff's office, either escape detection by the police or slip through their hands after arrest and conviction.

The Department must be sadly mismanaged to permit such negligence on the part of subordinates. There is little encouragement for efficient men on the police force to endeavor to make arrests, when prisoners are put into the charge of incompetents only to escape later. Inquiry at the police station discloses the fact that Policeman Philip Kumalae who permitted the chicken thief to get away, and Prison Guards John Moore and Antonio Silva, who are responsible for the escape of the convicted prisoner from the chain gang last Thursday, continue on the government payroll. After a formal investigation of the facts Sheriff Andrews retains these men and permits the Department to be a harbor for incompetents.

DON'T BE A KICKER.

Fearful of a wholesale investigation of police methods and possible exposure of a weak and purile administration, Sheriff Andrews through his blatant mouthpiece and political organ, rails at Governor Carter's reckless policy of weeding out of office dishonest and incompetent officials.

While claiming to be Republican and to be friendly to Governor Carter's administration, Andrews' Chronic Kicker attempts to create dissension in Republican ranks by knocking Carter's policy that a public office should be regarded as a public trust. Looking for a break or error of judgement by the Territorial executive, the treacherous Mouthpiece no longer strives to hold behind the claim of party loyalty, but comes now out in the open and predicts Republican defeat as the result of Governor Carter's action.

Governor Carter has met the situation fearlessly and with the moral courage which few men would have displayed in such a crisis. In dealing with the police corruption coming as it does on the very eve of the Territorial election, Governor Carter has shown that he is a man above ordinary man and worthy of the confidence and support of the voters of the Territory. We hope the Governor will not stop in his investigations, for there are outside departments of the police as rotten and corrupt as Honolulu police force ever dared to be. The Hilo police department has too long been run as a printing graft and in the fast disappearing prospect of future favoritism, the Mouthpiece finds solace and comfort in becoming a kicker.

SHERIFF ANDREWS' organ facetiously remarks that the policeman who allowed the chicken thief to escape was not punished by the Court. We are constrained to suggest that it's up to the Sheriff and that the District Magistrate will impose the full penalty of the law upon incompetent employees of the Police Department, if the Sheriff only had the courage to prosecute his own appointees.

AS THE DAY of election approaches it is becoming more and more apparent that the Home Rule party is broken up and disintegrated, and those followers of the lost faith, if they are wise will lose no time in casting their lot with the Republican cause.

MEETS BOARD OF TRADE.

Hilo Board of Trade Present Their Views to Delegate Kuhio.

Owing to the departure of Delegate Kuhio and his private secretary, Mr. Geo. B. McClellan, early Friday morning, the Executive Council of the Board of Trade met at 10:30 Thursday morning to discuss informally with them the matters of federal legislation demanding immediate attention. It was finally mutually agreed to concentrate effort on the Hilo breakwater and Federal building, although the necessity for the revision of the land laws and the establishment of a quarantine station at Hilo were brought to the Delegate's attention.

At his request, the Board of Trade at its regular monthly meeting Friday night passed resolutions, memorializing Congress for appropriations for a breakwater and Federal building, copies of which are to be transmitted to the Delegate and members of Congress. Among other matters, was a verbal report of Mr. Mason stating that the contract for Hilo's sewerage system had been signed and that the Governor had declared his intention to accede to the Board of Trade's wishes regarding the Kaunama site for Hilo jail.

The two resolutions passed at the Board of Trade meeting are as follows:

HILO BREAKWATER.

Whereas, Hilo is the only port of entry on the east coast of Hawaii, the largest island in the Territory, having next to Honolulu the largest imports and exports, and

Resolved, By the Board of Trade of Hilo, assembled at Fireman's Hall, Hilo, Friday, October 28th, 1904, that we do hereby respectfully represent to Congress the necessity for the speedy enactment of legislation for the protection of Hilo harbor and shipping by the construction of a breakwater, and to that end do hereby respectfully request that Secretary of War be authorized and directed to cause a survey and estimate of cost of such breakwater without delay.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Delegate Kuhio Kalani'anaole, asking his aid and support of such proposed legislation.

HILO FEDERAL BUILDING.

Whereas, Hilo is the principal city on Hawaii and the largest seaport on the largest island of the group, having next to Honolulu, the largest imports and exports and postal business within the Territory, and

Resolved, By the Board of Trade of Hilo, assembled at Fireman's Hall, Hilo, Friday, October 28th, 1904, that we do hereby respectfully represent to Congress the necessity for the enactment of legislation providing for a United States Federal building, in order to accommodate the U. S. Court, U. S. Custom House, U. S. Post Office, U. S. Land Office and other offices of the government conveniently and with out danger of loss by fire or otherwise to the government.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Delegate Kuhio Kalani'anaole, soliciting his best endeavors to secure the passage of needed legislation to secure such Federal building.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given to all creditors of H. L. WILLIAMS & COMPANY to present their claims, duly authenticated and with proper vouchers if any exist, to the undersigned, or at the offices of Ridgway & Ridgway or Homer L. RUCABADO, PORTELA & CO'S

GENUINE PUERTO RICAN CIGARS

PORTO RICO for obvious reasons produces tobacco of varying degrees of excellence. The bad impression caused originally by careless cultivation and manufacture of the tobacco, due to inexperience, has now been dispelled, and those smokers who desire a cigar with more aroma than the flat-tasting domestic cigar unmixed with Havana, and still lacking the overpowering heaviness of the latter, at a reasonable price, find their choice in the Porto Rican cigars. For this reason it is smoked in offices during business hours with every sense of satisfaction by many in whose estimation Cuban cigars hold first place for quality, and that portion of the general public which is frugal on this item of expenditure finds it a good substitute for high-priced Havanas.—Albert A. HAWAII'S COFFEE CHAMPION.

Abe Louisson, Gives Reasons for Protective Duty on Coffee.

The following article which appears over the signature of A. L. Louisson in Harper's Weekly, under date of September 24th, advances many forceful reasons for a protective duty on coffee.

The tropical possessions of the United States, namely, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Philippines, have immense possibilities in coffee production, but owing to a severe competition and overproduction in the markets of the world, this industry cannot make growth and headway without tariff protection. Inasmuch as the tariff has been the builder of a great industrial factor for mainland industries, the same would apply to her tropical domains. At the present day no tariff on coffee exists, the same having been removed in the year 1872.

All European countries, without exception, have import duties on coffee, whilst we admit this product duty free to our markets, Brazil and other coffee-growing countries levy export duties on coffee, which tax goes into the treasuries of these countries, or, in other words, the people of the United States are contributing to their coffer without getting ample compensation in return.

The growth and the welfare of the American territories ought to be of some concern and importance to the nation we are linked to. This great development should be made possible under the American flag, giving the opportunities in this line of agriculture to American citizens and American enterprise.

Under a protective policy, the territories aforesaid mentioned can in years to come supply the mainland with this product. By so doing we shall be benefited in many ways. Firstly, we will add by a tariff many millions to our own Treasury that is now flowing into foreign treasuries. Secondly, we shall be creating a new and vigorous development under our own flag, a development that cannot harm or conflict with any similar interest on the mainland, where the product does not grow. Thirdly, with increased industrial growth follows increased trade and shipping under our own flag. Increased over-sea trade means a better and stronger navy to safeguard our interests, and the extra millions we are deriving from a coffee revenue will furnish funds to equip and add to our navy.

Only beneficent and good results can come from it. This tariff is of such momentous importance to our future growth and needs in many ways that both political parties should support it unhesitatingly, as it should be the broad policy of the United States to make her tropical possessions valuable and prosperous adjuncts of the great American commonwealth, for as such they will be a growing and potent factor in her commerce.

It is one of the great industries we can have for the matter of tariff protection, and may we plead that an altruistic regard for their future be forthcoming at the next session of Congress, irragard to party politics. I am, sir,
ABRAHAM L. LOUISSON.

LABOR DEMAND IN CUBA.

Sugar Planters Cannot Gather Crop Without More Laborers.

According to the New York Commercial, the sugar planters in the island of Cuba are met with the same labor difficulties as Hawaiian planters have to contend with, namely, the scarcity of field laborers. A recent dispatch from Havana is as follows:

At the request of President Palma, a committee of the Agrarian League visited him today to express the league's opinion on the need of obtaining immigrants to Cuba, in view of a probable large sugar crop. The committee stated that the past crop amounted to 7,628,144 sacks or 1,089,735 tons. About 100,000 tons of sugar cane was left uncut owing to a lack of workers.

It is estimated that the coming crop will be 8,000,000 sacks, and it will require 35,000 additional men to reap the increased 5,000 caballerias (166,667 acres). It is estimated that seven men are required to each caballeria.

The Senate is discussing a bill appropriating $600,000 to be expended in bringing in immigrants from Europe and the Canary Islands, the details to be left to President Palma. The Radicals favor the immigration of families in order to increase the population. There is some opposition to bringing in an alien working class, it being claimed that they will lower wages.

SAW HISTORY MADE.

Parker's Running Mate an Octogenarian.

Henry G. Davis, Democratic nominee for Vice President, is eighty-one years old and has lived through more historical events than comes to the ordinary span of man's life. A statistician has prepared for campaign purposes a few of the important occurrences that have transpired during his life time:

In 1852—Alton Brooks Parker and Charles W. Fairbanks were born; Henry G. Davis was twenty-nine years old.

In 1858—Theodore Roosevelt was born; Henry G. Davis was thirty-five years of age.

In 1871—Chicago was burnt; the German empire established; Henry G. Davis became United States senator.

In 1876—Alton B. Parker and Charles W. Fairbanks cast their first votes; Henry G. Davis was fifty-three years of age.

In 1880—Theodore Roosevelt cast his first vote; Henry G. Davis, was fifty-seven years old.

Kuropatkin's "Excelsior."

The shades of night were falling fast
When through Manchuria there passed
A General with flashing eye,
Who bore this banner proudly high—
"Eatempuski."

A few days passed, again he strode
With fierce demeanor up the road;
Another banner now he bore,
Changed somewhat from the one before—
"Waitabitski."

The weeks rolled on, again he came
And bore a banner, much the same,
On which was written this design,
Before his awesome battle line—
"Notyetski."

More weeks elapsed, and on the track
He rode, now forward and now back;
A waiting world watched eagerly,
But this was all that they could see—
"Afterawhilski."

More months elapsed, but still no sign
Of battle from that dreadful line;
And now before his army vast
This banner he mailed proudly fast—
"To-morrowski."

A year had gone, no battle yet,
The world came almost to forget
The doughty General, but he Changed signs with regularity—
"Nextweekski."

But every day before his line
And awe-inspiring battle line
He rode, with sabre in his hand,
And valiantly gave this command—
"Buckupski."

At last this grim and dreadful man
Grew busy, and a message ran
To the home folks, who freely shed
Their bitter tears, the while they read—
"Gonebumpski."

The Blazed Trail

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Copyright, 1902, by Stewart Edward White

All night long in the chill of a spring rain and wind storm the Fighting Forty and certain of the mill crew gave themselves to the labor of connecting the slanting stone ribs so strongly by means of heavy timbers chained end to end that the pressure of a break in the jam might not sweep aside the defenses. Wallace Carpenter, Shorty, the chore boy, and Anderson, the barn boss, picked a dangerous passage back and forth carrying piles of red hot coffee which Mrs. Hathaway constantly prepared. The cold water numbed the men's hands. With difficulty could they manipulate the heavy chains through the auger holes; with rain they wrestled knots, bored holes. They did not complain. Behind them the jam quivered perilously near the bursting point. From it shrieked aloud the demons of pressure. Steadily the river rose an inch an hour. The key might snap at any given moment; they could not tell, and with the rush they knew very well that themselves, the tug and the disabled pile-dock would be swept from existence. The worst of it was that the blackness shrouded their experience into uselessness. They were utterly unable to tell by the ordinary visual symptoms how near the jam might be to collapse.

However, they persisted, as the old time river man always does, so that when dawn appeared the barrier was continuous and assured. Although the pressure of the river had already forced the logs against the defenses, the latter held the strain well. The storm had settled into its gait. Overhead the sky was filled with gray, beneath which darker seeds flew across the zenith before a howling southwesterly wind. Out in the clear river one could hardly stand upright against the gusts. In the fan of many directions furious squalls swept over the open water below the booms, and an eager boiling current rushed to the lake.

Thorpe now gave orders that the tug and driver should take shelter. A few moments later he expressed himself as satisfied. The dripping crew, their hats faces gray in the half light, picked their way to the shore. In the darkness of that long night's work no man knew his neighbor. Men from the river, men from the mill, men from the yard, all worked side by side. Thus no one noticed especially a tall, slender, but well knit individual dressed in a faded mackinaw and a limp slouch hat which he wore pulled over his eyes. This young fellow occupied himself with the chains. Against the racing current the crew held the ends of the heavy booms while he fastened them together. He worked well, but seemed slow. Three times Shorty arrested him on after the others had finished, examining closely the work that had been done. On the third occasion he shrugged his shoulder somewhat impatiently.

The men struggled to shore, the young fellow just described bringing up the rear. He walked as though tired out, hanging his head and dragging his feet. When, however, the boarding house door had closed on the last of those who preceded him and the town lay deserted in the dawn he suddenly became transformed. Casting a keen glance right and left to be sure of his opportunity he turned and hurried recklessly back over the logs to the center booms. There he knelt and busied himself with the chains.

In his zigzag progression over the jam he so blended with the morning shadows as to seem one of them, and he would have escaped quite unnoticed had not a sudden shifting of the logs under his feet compelled him to rise for a moment to his full height. So Wallace Carpenter, passing from his back-room along the porch to the dining room, became aware of the man on the logs.

His first thought was that something demanding instant attention had happened to the boom. He therefore ran at once to the man's assistance, ready to help him personally or to call other aid as the emergency demanded. Owing to the precarious nature of the passage he could not see beyond his feet until very close to the workman. Then he looked up to find the man, squatted on the boom, contemplating him sardonically.

"Dyer!" he exclaimed.

"Right, my son," said the other coolly.

"What are you doing?"

"If you want to know, I am fixing this chain."

Wallace made one step forward and so became aware that at last firearms were taking a part in this desperate game.

"You stand still!" commanded Dyer from behind the revolver. "It's unfortunate for you that you happened along, because now you'll have to come with me till this little row is over. You won't leave to stay long. Your logs'll go out in an hour. I'll just trouble you to go into the brush with me for awhile."

The sceler picked his file from beside the weakened link.

"What have you against us, anyway, Dyer?" asked Wallace. His quick mind had conceived a plan. At the moment he was standing near the outermost edge of the jam, but now as he spoke he stepped quietly to the boom log.

Dyer's black eyes glowered at him sardoniously, but the movement appeared wholly natural in view of the return to shore.

"Nothing," he replied. "I didn't like your gang particularly, but that's nothing."

"Why do you take such nery chances to injure us?" queried Carpenter.

"Because there's something in it," snapped the sceler. "Now, about face, Mosey!"

Like a flash, Wallace wheeled and dropped into the river, swimming as fast as possible below water before his breath should give out. The swift current hurried him away. When at last he rose for air the spit of Dyer's pistol caused him no uneasiness. A moment later he struck out boldly for shore.

What Dyer's ultimate plan might be he could not guess. He had stated confidently that the jam would break "in an hour." He might intend to start it with dynamite. Wallace dragged himself from the water and commenced breathlessly to run toward the boarding house.

Dyer had already reached shore. Wallace raised what was left of his voice in a despairing shout. The sceler mockingly waved his hat, then turned and ran swiftly and easily toward the shelter of the woods. At their border he paused again to bow in derision. Carpenter's cry brought men to the boarding house door. From the shadows of the forest two vivid flashes cut the dusk. Dyer staggered, turned completely about, seemed partially to recover and disappeared. An instant later, across the open space where the sceler had stood, with rifle a-trail, the Indian leaped in pursuit.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

"WHAT IS IT?" "What is the matter?" "What the —'s up?" "What's happened?" burst on Wallace in a volley.

"It's Dyer," gasped the young man. "I found him on the boom! He held me up with a gun while he filed the boom chains between the center piers. They're just ready to go. I got away by diving. Hurry and put in a new chain. You haven't got much time!"

"He's a goner now," interjected Sol grimly. "Charley is on his trail—and he is hit!"

Thorpe's intelligence leaped promptly to the practical question.

"Injun Charley—where'd he come from? I sent him up to Sadler & Smith's. It's twenty miles, even through the woods."

As though by way of colossal answer the whole surface of the jam moved forward and upward, thrusting the logs bristling against the horizon.

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

LAMBERT DISPLACED.

D. E. Metzger Succeeds to Office of Superintendent of Hilo Railroad.

There have been rumors from time to time of the probable change in the head of the Hilo Railroad, and when W. H. Lambert announced Thursday that he had resigned as Superintendent, while not a surprise to many persons, the news was generally received with genuine expressions of regret. Mr. Lambert has been superintendent of the Hilo Railroad from its inception five years ago, has had entire charge of its construction and later became manager in its operation. It is claimed that the directors have not been satisfied for some time with Superintendent Lambert's policy, and have sought to curtail expenditures which they regarded as unnecessary. In July last a general retrenchment and cut in salaries was made, which did not meet with Mr. Lambert's approval, and since that time there has been continued friction, which resulted in Mr. Lambert's withdrawal on Thursday last.

The new superintendent, D. E. Metzger, who has been connected with the O. R. & L. Co. at Honolulu and for the past six months in charge of the accounts of the Hilo Railroad, was not aware of the proposed change until two hours before his appointment in Honolulu. He accepted the proffered position and comes to the office well equipped for the work. He is a native of Topeka, Kansas, and although a young man has had considerable railroad experience.

He studied law and when twenty-one years of age became city attorney of Meriden, Kansas. Later he was elected Justice of the Peace, which position he resigned to enter the newspaper business, which he followed for seven years. At one time he was business manager of the "Midland Sportsman," published at Topeka, Kansas. His career as a railroad man began ten years ago at Trinidad, Colorado, when he filled an important post in the office of the division foreman of the Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf R. R. He came to Honolulu in 1899, and was interested with L. E. Pinkham in artesian well construction on Kauai and other parts of the islands. Subsequently he became assistant cashier for the Oahu Railroad, which position he held until assigned to duty last May in the business office of the Hilo Railroad. He is a popular man in business and social circles, and his promotion is a reward for faithful and efficient service.

Mr. Lambert has not made any definite plans for the future, but will temporarily remain in Hilo and lend what assistance he can to his successor, between whom and himself there is the friendliest relations.

A JAIL BIRD TAKES FLIGHT.

Sheriff Andrews Loses a Prisoner From Chain Gang.

Chafing under the restraint and with a year's imprisonment staring him in the face, Lau Chan convicted October 21st for larceny of a hat from Turner's store, escaped from the prison gang last Thursday afternoon after one week's confinement in Hilo jail. The escape occurred at the hospital grounds where the prisoners have been quarrying stone. The gang was in charge of the two guards John Moore and Antone Silva, both armed with guns. The absence of the Chinaman from the gang was not noticed until about three o'clock, when the fact was reported to Capt. Fetter and the Deputy Sheriff with a posse of police began a still hunt for the escaped prisoner. At present writing the man had not been apprehended.

Sad Death of Mrs. Reinhardt.

One of the saddest events which have recently occurred in Hilo, was the rapid decline and death last Friday night of one of Hawaii's brightest young women, in the person of Mrs. Mary Baker Reinhardt. Mrs. Reinhardt has been a sufferer from consumption for the past two years, and although always cheerful refused medical treatment or advice. She was a firm believer in Christian Science which sustained her spirits until climate or drugs no longer were of avail. Mrs. Reinhardt was born April 18, 1879, at Makawao, Maui. She was educated at Lahainaluna Seminary, came to Hilo about eight years ago and has since resided with her uncle Gov. John T. Baker. She married Chas. Reinhardt, on New Year's Day, January 1st, 1904. She was the daughter of the late Edward Baker of Maui, and leaves beside her husband, a sister, Mrs. Geo. Cogg and four brothers, Chas. Baker, manager Mahiki ranch, Waimea, Adam Baker, employed with the Economic Shoe Co. and Edward and John T. Baker, junior, residing in Honolulu.

The funeral which was largely attended took place from Hail church, Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

All Tired Out

Pale, Thin, Poor Blood, No Energy

These are the symptoms of impure blood, starved blood. Take out the impurities, feed the blood, and health quickly returns.

Miss George Mitchell of Yaffee St., Birmingham, Alabama, writes as her testimonial with the following story:

"I suffered severely from indigestion, I had no energy, I was tired in the morning and at night. I did not even possess the ability to do my work. I was thin and pale, and my blood was very poor. I had no appetite. I was completely exhausted. I read about

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

I immediately tried it, and began to improve at once. A few bottles completely restored me to health."

There are many imitations of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Ayer's Pills will greatly aid the action of the Sarsaparilla. They are all vegetable, mild, sugar-coated, and easy to take.

REPUBLICAN RALLY DRAWS BIG CROWD.

Torch-Light Procession—Band and Fireworks at Waiakea—Delegate Kuhio, Admiral Beckley and Other Speakers Hold Attention of an Enthusiastic Crowd Till Late Hour Thursday Night.

Despite the rain, the Republican rally Thursday night at Waiakea was the most successful meeting yet held in the district. Besides the local representative ticket, Delegate Kuhio proved a drawing card, and his remarks were closely followed and received with applause. A torch light procession headed by the band proceeded down Waiakenuenu and Front streets to the railroad warehouse, where the meeting was held. Fireworks were set off along the line of march and proved a popular feature. At the hall fully five hundred people congregated to hear the speakers. Representative Lewis presided and introduced in turn the several speakers. Admiral Beckley spoke briefly in behalf of the Delegate and the Republican cause, urging all of his friends to support the straight ticket. He was followed by D. Kalaokalani, Jr., who is a forceful speaker, and Delegate Kuhio, whose speech in part is as follows:

The houses of Congress are divided into two sides, on one side are the Democrats and on the other the Republicans. The Republicans are greatly in the majority. Home rulers and other small parties have no standing and are not known. As you can readily understand the Republicans hold the power, and without their aid and assistance it is useless to attempt to secure the passage of any legislation. The speaker and about twenty men are leaders of the House and with them I have a personal acquaintance and influence.

Owing to the President's campaign coming on this year, it was almost impossible to secure the passage of bills that might be used by the Democrats as campaign material. I succeeded however in gaining the friendship and acquaintance of nearly every Republican member of the Senate and House and while I was not able to accomplish a great deal in the way of material legislation, I am not ashamed of my record there. Few of the new members are able to secure anything during their first term in Congress or as much as I have accomplished.

To send a new man to Congress at this time means the delay of another two years before Hawaii can secure recognition, and to elect any other than a Republican Delegate means no standing whatever in the legislative halls at Washington. For this reason, do so many of the states and territories continue to send to Congress, men who have influence at Washington. These men become familiar figures in the National Capitol and because they continue to be returned to Congress show that they have the confidence and support of the districts which they represent.

The right to be heard upon the floors of Congress is a privilege accorded only to Republicans or friends of the Speaker, whose consent has been obtained in advance. Unless you have ear of the Speaker, you may arise in your seat and shout "Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker" until you are black in the face, without being recognized. And if the member happens to be a member of the opposite political faith, he has no show whatever.

A Republican Congress and a Republican President shapes the National policy, and Hawaii must be Republican if we desire recognition. You know as well as I do that the Republican party is going to win in the United States and elect their President. Parker says so himself. If you send a Democratic Delegate from Hawaii, he must begin just where I began, with less show of accomplishing any results. Send a man who has the backing at Washington and not a Democrat who has not and cannot get it.

Rev. S. L. Desha spoke in Hawaiian eloquently and made many telling hits, after which Carl S. Smith addressed the crowd in English. His remarks in part are as follows:

It is now three weeks since the Republican party opened the campaign at Waiakea. At that meeting and at the meetings which we have held since in every precinct of the District, our candidates have spoken to the voters on the leading questions that are at issue in the present campaign. We have discussed the county bill, the law and its relations to citizen labor, the homestead law, the law and its relation to the elective franchise and every question in which the people of East Hawaii are most interested.

From the free expression of opinion which we have given there is no longer a doubt as to how our candidates stand on all of these questions. About one week after we opened the campaign, the Democratic party through its chairman, W. A. Kinney, announced to the voters of the Territory what they believed to be the issue in the present campaign. The sum and substance of Mr. Kinney's address is a criticism upon our Governor and his methods. No expression of democratic policy was announced by the Democratic party in Mr. Kinney's remarks. No promises for the future were offered and if we are to accept his remarks, the democratic party has but one issue and that is criticism of everything in sight.

None of the candidates of the Democratic party in the first representative district have spoken, so far as we can learn, on any subject except that contained in Mr. Kinney's speech. And the only way in which the speeches of the Democratic candidates differ from Mr. Kinney's speech is that the former are merely weak imitations of the latter.

So far as the Democrats are concerned, they have no policy regarding a county bill. They do not believe in the employment of citizen labor upon the public works of the Territory. They have no policy regarding a revision of our antiquated statutes. They have no policy except to criticize the Governor and his administration in Honolulu and the Young Men's Republican Club in Hilo.

If the voters of this district send the Democratic candidates to the legislature, I fully believe that these candidates will be so busy continuing their abuse of Gov. Carter and the Young Men's Republican Club of Hilo that the session will close without their having passed a single bill for East Hawaii, except a bill which will forbid the Young Men's Republican Club from enforcing Chapter 37 of the laws of 1893, relative to citizen labor.

By far the most important action of the last legislature, so far as East Hawaii is concerned, will be the passage of a safe and sane county bill. We do not know how the Democratic senators will stand upon this subject. But a moment's reflection will convince every one that they have no interest in counties. You will remember that O. T. Shipman and Frank Woods have been brought up as cattle ranchers in West Hawaii. These two gentlemen can conceive of no more beautiful picture than the cutting up of the lands in 10,000 acre tracts, extending from sea to mountain, with herds of fat cattle grazing over them. They declare to their friends that a county bill hurts business. And so it will interfere with their own business. Palmer Woods and John D. Paris have spent their lives as ranchmen and probably will end their days on their ranches in West Hawaii. They are hold-over senators. Frank Woods and Ollie Shipman are also life long cattlemen. On any question where the interest of the owners of homesteads, of small kuleanas, of taro patches or sugar plantations may be adverse to the interests of cattle ranches, is there any doubt of the position of such men?

Mr. Smith then referred to the various candidates on the Republican ticket, who were business men and represented the various walks of life as well as the professions. Four of the seven candidates had seen service in the legislature and were well prepared for the duties of the office to which they sought to be elected. Mr. Smith was the last speaker and at the close of his remarks the meeting broke up.
