WILL ANSWER FOR MURDER

FIVE JAPANESE TAKEN TO MAUI FOR TRIAL.

Three of them accused of killing the Japanese Interpreter at Spreckelsville—Honolulu Attorneys Leave.

Attorney General Smith and his deputy, E. P. Dole, have both gone to Maui to be present at the opening of the December term of Judge John Kalana's court at Lahaina. Mr. Smith will return to the capital on Sunday, leaving Mr. Dole behind to represent the people in the cases that come up during the term.

A number of attorneys also departed for Lahaina, among them being Alex. G. M. Robertson, Charles Creighton, Paul Neumann, Enoch Johnson and J. M. Kaunakea.

Five alleged murderers and five other prisoners in charge of three officers were taken to Maui on the Mauna Loa.

The present term of the Maui court is one of the most important in years.
Sagata will be tried for stabbing his wife and child to death at Waikapu this summer. Yoshida, who cut his sweetheart's throat at Lahaina a few weeks ago, and Oyama Sinzo, Shakuma and Araki Toyotaro, who are accused of murdering the Japanese Interpreter on Spreckelsville plantation, must all answer for their crimes.

Among the other prisoners taken to Maui were J. Johnston, held for importing opium; Tong Ann, arson, and J. Williams, gross cheat.

There are only four criminal cases to be tried by Hawaiian jury, while the list of foreign criminal cases number thirteen. Among the latter are W. Higby, who is held for assault with a weapon; D. L. Myers, for selling opium, and D. L. Freeman, for selling spirituous liquors without a license.

the postoffice.

PORTUGUESE CELEBRATE

ALL PUNCHBOWL SLOPE MAKES
FESTIVE HOLIDAY.

Serenade to the Portuguese Commissioner—Services at the R. C. Cathedral—Meeting at Lusitana Hall.

This has been a busy day for the Portuguese colony of Honolulu. At daybreak they began to celebrate their country's independence, and at 2 o'clock they were in the height of their festivities.

All the Portuguese business establishments were closed for the day and all Portuguese who could be spared from the business channels were given a day off. The Portuguese flag was floating to the breeze in many parts of the city, from Lusitana, San Antonio and Concordia halls and from the Portuguese Consulate, on Beretania street.

The festivities began at daybreak this morning, when the Concordia band marched to the residence of the Portuguese Consulate and serenaded Commissioner Canavaro. From the Consulate the band went to Lusitana hall and later to the Concordia hall, playing a brief serenade at each place.

During the morning the religious services were held in the Roman Catholic cathedral, the Bishop of Panopolis officiating. The Cathedral chancel was brilliantly illuminated with burning candles. The music under the direction of Father Valentin was a feature of the service.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the literary and musical exercises began in Lusitana hall. There will be several addresses by prominent Portuguese citizens. The band is in attendance.
These exercises will last until 4 o'clock.

At 8 o'clock this evening the grand ball will take place in Lusitana hall.
The ball room has been handsomely decorated for the occasion.

There will be some fireworks displayed on Punchbowl this evening.

The day has been a success in every particular and reflects great credit upon J. P. Rodrigues, C. Brede and M.
A. Gonsalves, who had general charge of the festivities.

WHO THE SPEAKERS ARE.

The secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has announced the schedule for the Young Men's Gospel meetings in December.
On the 5th inst. Rev. B. P. Bridge will talk on "The Supreme Choice; December 12th, From the Committees, A. B.
Wood; December 19th, a Stranger at the Door, Rev. John M. Lewis; December 26th, Praise and Song Service, Prof. Theo. Richards.

WANTS BULL FROGS.

Attorney Wise of Hilo, who has been importing black bass to Hilo with considerable success, has written to the California Fish Commission for information concerning bull frogs. Mr. Wise thinks they would be a success in Hawaii.

WILL TALK ON ART.

President D. Howard Hitecock of the Kilohana Art League, will give an address on art at the art rooms Friday evening.

TO TAKE OVER KASSALA.

CAIRO, November 18.—Parsons Pasha starts for Suakin on Tuesday next, from which place he will embark a battalion of infantry and detachments of artillery, engineers and camel corps, altogether about 1500 men, for Massowa, from which place the force will go to Kassala, in order to take over the place from the Italonians, according to the agreement of the subject arrived at between Great Britain and Italy.

WANT ANOTHER GAME.

Punahou Not Satisfied With the Thanksgiving Game.

The Punahou College students are eager for a return game of football, and Captain Babbitt will send a challenge to the champions if he hears the it will be favorably received. It is proposed to have the game before Christmas day.

Captain Will Cornwell of the Town team has gone to Maui to remain, on his father's cattle ranch. "Brock" Whitehouse will probably temporarily captain the Townies. George Angus will supply the vacant position on the eleven.

DR. EVANS' MILLIONS.

NEW YORK, November 18.—A dispatch to the World from Paris says:
The late Dr. Thomas W. Evans had made his will at Davos Platz with the assistance of Lawyer Valois, who is now bringing other members of the Evans family from New York. All of the late doctor's papers have been sent up pending Valois' arrival. It is understood that Dr. Evans' estate is even greater than has been stated, and will probably be valued at nearly $15,000,000 than $10,000,000. The bulk of the money will go to endow educational institutions in the United States. His practice will devolve upon Theodore Evans.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good."

THE PLAY AND THE PLAYER

HELD BY THE ENEMY AND WAR PLAYS IN GENERAL.

Brilliant Scene Effects at the Theater Last Night—Powerful Acting by the Frawley Company.

The war play has always been popular. Shakespeare wrote several war plays, notably Henry V, which is susceptible of spectacular treatment, and realistic military effects, and which I remember Charles Kean giving at the Princess Theater. I will not say how many years ago, but I remember there was plenty of firing at the siege of Harfleur and the "alarums and excusions" were very realistically done, all ending with the glory of the English troops, the flight of the French, and Henry on a white horse. Up to the fifties, according to theatrical analysis, the wars of the early part of the century furnished material for plays of this sort, and even I have a remembrance of magnificent battles fought at the old Saddlers Wells, where the battle of Waterloo was given with great eclat. Later the Crimean war supplied similar material, and at the present day playwrights have taken the Soudan and Mashona land. The French stage has scores, perhaps hundreds of plays of similar character, only the English run, and the French are victorious. And so the class of entertainment will be found in every national theater, even the Chinese and the Japanese, I imagine, though I cannot say I know much about the Orient.

Once sat through an evening at the Chinese theater, but I did not get well into the story; it was only the first week of the Prologue, and the main action did not come on till a month or so later.

But the plays above alluded to are comparatively easy of construction, while the war plays of the United States are not. In the European play, you are safe of touching your audience if you abuse and belittle the enemy. In war plays such as Shenandoah, and Held by the Enemy, the susceptibilities of both sides have to be considered, and the work has to be of a very delicate character. That success follows the effort speaks very nighly for the skill of the writer.

Held by the Enemy gave good opportunity to a number of the members of the Frawley Company. As a play I regard it as superior to Shenandoah, the lines being brighter and the character drawing more clearly out.

The honors of the piece last night may be fairly divided between Frank Worthing and Wilson Enos. The former's Colonel Prescott was a good picture of a dashing soldier, whose love of country and honor, even under the strongest temptation surpasses the love of woman. Rachel (Hilghe Bates) puts the colonel to a terrible test when she promises her hand and heart if he will connive at the prisoner's escape. He loves the girl. He knows she loves him. The prisoner is the only obstacle between them; if he will only let the man escape during the hour of confusion of the bombardment, the dearest object of his life will be gained. But he is firm. The scene occurs at the end of the third act, which throughout is bustling and realistic, and the management deserves great praise for the manner in which the scenic effects were produced, especially the explosion which blew open the door of the prison house.

In the court martial scene in the second act came Wilson Enos' opportunity. His by-play as he sits listening to the evidence against him was excellent, and when to save Colonel Prescott from an unjust charge made by Rachel, the Confederate lieutenant rises and confesses that the incriminating papers are his, that he has fought and will glory in death for his cause, Mr. Enos rose to real tragic power, and won a deserved double recall. The comic element was furnished by scenes between Bean (H. D.
Blakemore), a special correspondent, and Susan McCreary (Eleanor Robson). In this Mr. Blakemore did capital work, and proved himself a good light comedian. As for Miss Robson she was charming, and as cute and lively as such a part calls for. There can be no doubt now about the young lady's talent, it is the most important part that she has played and she proved herself quite equal to the task. I like her young fresh voice, her pretty actions and her air of youthfulness.

Phosa McAllister's Euphemia Mc-Creary was a thoroughly satisfactory presentation of a self assertive, determined lady of the old secession school.
With all her crotchets she never lost her dignity. In such parts Miss Mc-Allister does excellent work, and she shows herself a very able actress.
Work of this kind adds wonderfully to the success of a play. Frederick Perry showed himself a good actor in the double parts of Judge Advocate and Brigade Surgeon. The fourth act in which he suspects that the prisoner is not dead, but going to be passed through the lines, depended largely upon his acting for its success. The minor parts were all well filled. Herbert Carr was a handsome general, Harry Corson Clarke a good Uncle Rufus.

I am looking forward with much interest to the Social Highwayman. It is the best of the Frawley repertoire, and is full of brilliant and witty dialogue, depending upon that, and not scenic display. It will be a pleasant evening for

READY FOR NEW TERM.

At the Board of Education office it is learned that the lumber for the new school house in the Honokaa district will reach that place this week.
It is expected this building will be ready for use at the opening of the new term in January.

'T WAS A GOOD CONCERT.

The benefit concert at St. Andrew's cathedral last evening was a pleasant affair. There was a fair attendance, although the receipts were much larger than the audience represented, for many purchased tickets who did not attend. The money will be used to purchase new Hawaiian hymn books for use in the cathedral.

RESISTING TEMPTATION.

WHAT SAILOR MEN TALK OF

STEAMER WAIALEALE MEETS AN ACCIDENT.

Propeller Tangled in R. M. S. Warrimoo's Line—Repairs on the Mikahala—Water Front Notes.

The Kinau did not bring the sugar expected by the Bryant yesterday.

The James Makee is expected tomorrow, with a full cargo of sugar for the Bryant.

The S. N. Castle now has in about 6000 bags of sugar but as Captain Hubbard wants a full load he does not expect to get away before Wednesday of next week.

The Babcock is overdue from Baltimore, with United States coal—overdue because she has been making the trip uniformly in 120 days, and she is now out about 125 days.

The little schooner Norma completed her first trip for her new owners yesterday, having made an excellent passage to and from Kona. She will have another full cargo when she sails tomorrow.

The steamer Helene arrived this morning from Hawaii ports with 50 head of cattle. There is no sugar on the Hamakua coast as yet. The Helene will sail again tomorrow afternoon. Captain Freeman reports very moderate weather.

The Mikahala is laid up at the coal wharf undergoing much needed repairs. For some time she has been leaking, not dangerously, but enough to hurt the sugar.

The copper is being put on the port side, above the high water line. She will be ready for sea again some time next week. It will not be necessary for her to go on the railway.

Captain Curtis of the Tillie E. Starbuck returned yesterday from a ten days visit to Hawaii and the Volcano. Much of his time was spent in the Puna coffee fields, and he has returned thoroughly convinced that the coffee planting industry is the finest and most lucrative business on earth.

During Captain Curtis' absence the ship has been put into fine trim, painted inside and out and the hold scalded. The deck is so clean and white that it would make a tempting dining table. The Starbuck will probably commence taking sugar about the middle of the month. She is first on the berth for New York.

The steamer Waialeale met with an accident while leaving port yesterday that forced her to put back and remain over until this morning.

As she was steaming out of the harbor she ran aground of one of the R. M. S. Warrimoo's lines, which became entangled in her propeller, and held fast. The Waialeale only got as far as the light house, when she had to turn back, and was warped alongside the wharf.

Native divers were employed, but were unable to cut out the rope before dark put an end to their work. This morning, however, work was resumed and at an early hour the propeller was freed and the steamer put to sea.

Fuller particulars of the wreck of the sugar ship Commodore on Malden Island were received in the last Australian mail. Captain and Mrs. Davidson arrived in Melbourne on the 1st inst. From the ship's log, which was saved, it appears that she went on the reef shortly after midnight on September 3rd, in fine, clear weather.

Observations taken at noon on that day showed her to be 108 miles from Malden Island, and it was the captain's intention to about ship at midnight. At 11:50 p. m. the patent log showed the ship had run 76 miles since noon, and the mate who was in charge of the deck, was preparing to about ship when the lookout sighted land. Before the vessel's course could be altered, she had struck bow on in four fathoms with twenty-five fathom under her stern. Before daylight she was full of water and had heeled over until her rail was under water.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

The Belgian trade schools are worthy of consideration here. There are in all eighty-two such schools in Belgium, and thirty-two apprentice shops. The cost of them is $450,000 per annum, and about 7000 pupils attend. This is a very little over $20 a head. According to United States Consul Morris' report, each school affords the instruction appropriate to its locality. Thus at Soignies, stone cutting; at Ostend, fishing; at Ghent, weaving, and at Busage, straw plaiting is taught. There is an element of practicability in this style of education which must commend it to the educator who has views somewhat broader than the experimenting with educational fads.

A correspondent of The Star the other day suggested that the children should plant trees, and in this way improve their lots and add to the beauty of the country. In Kona, he suggested coffee might be planted and a return made to the school community. But the matter should really be considered more deeply. The question before all educators is whether the whole plan of education which we now have is not all wrong—or in very great part wrong.

The world has such a very great reverence for book learning that it has come to consider hand learning as of very little account, and yet the training and practice of the hand is far more important to the body politic than the mere book knowledge. Why should the child's whole energy be turned in purely one direction, as it is now. No one knows better than the writer how hard it is to meet the difficulty, but because the matter is difficult there is no reason why some effort should not be made to meet it.

Take the case of the college bred man. In how many cases do we find that the university education proves a rank failure. If misfortune comes upon him, what can he do? In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred he can do nothing, and he goes to swell the army of incompetents who teach others to be as incompetent as themselves. There are lines where the university education is indispensable, and in any line it may prove an advantage, and properly used is an immense advantage, but it is after all only a good tool and requires a good man to use it.

Looking at the population of our country it has always seemed to the writer that too much was attempted. There was one great aim that the common school educators should have kept before them; that was to teach the medium of speech, and this had to be English. This was and is necessary to give the rising generation a chance. Beyond that, and the work was difficult enough, there were the powers of writing and simple arithmetic. Equipped with these, if there is anything in a boy or girl, the superstructure can be built long after the school is left.

In villages such as Milohi, or Wai-mea or Papa, and dozens of others, it would be very much better to cut the pure school book hours short, and put the pupils to work upon practical things that might be of use to them to earn their living when they grew up. Milohi is essentially a fishing community. There is no reason why some of the educational funds should not be spent in instructing the children in their life work, and at least giving them some means by which they can earn their livelihood. At Papa the people are cultivators and some of the school time might be employed in agricultural work. When we want to train a soldier, a lawyer, or a doctor, we give the lad a special training. Should we not devote some of our school time to the training of our children to the ordinary avocations of life?

There is no doubt that the question is a difficult one, but however difficult it should be met and solved. The fact is that education, as we have it now, is too one sided, too bookish, and one is apt to think that those old educators who set a girl to working on her sampler, and did not give her a smattering of the "ologies" were not so far wrong as the modern pedants would have us think.

ANNEXATION.

A correspondent of the Los Angeles Daily Times makes a strong argument for annexation. It is the more satisfactory to see this as the agents of the Oxnards' have been very busy in the City of the Angels talking against annexation, and have published much which was detrimental to the cause. The writer points out the position of the Atlantic Coast of the United States, with the Bermuda Islands ever menacing them, and says:

"The people of the West want no Bermuda off the coast of California. They should demand the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands. With Pearl Harbor as a base for an American fleet, and a cable to San Francisco, our coasts would be secure.

The Pacific Ocean, the world's future theater of activity, will be dominated by the power holding the Hawaiian Islands. Here the civilization of the West will meet the awakening activity of the East, and upon this rampart of western ideas and progress should and must fly the Stars and Stripes of the Great Republic."

This seems to hit the question fair on the head, and it is satisfactory to know that the true inwardness of annexation is so well understood across the water.

If people like to put on clothes that are lying around loose, or take such articles of wearing apparel and fit them upon their friends, they are quite welcome to all the satisfaction that they can get out of the process. The Star has been publishing a series of articles upon monarchy and its institutions, and drawing its illustrations from the home of monarchy, Europe. It has not yet got at picturing monarchy on the Islands, because it seemed best to consider monarchy from its greatest, not from its most insignificant, standpoint, but there might be some amusing work to be done in this direction if it ever proves to be worth while. Meanwhile the study of European monarchy will continue and the fitting on of old clothes can continue also.

WANTS A FAIR.

Practical Suggestion to the Agricultural Bureau.

Waimea, Hawaii, November 29.

Editor Star: Would it be amiss to suggest the formation of a society for the purpose of holding fairs, or exhibitions of agricultural products, stock, etc. There is such a drawback in this country to the marketing of products. Many articles are manufactured or raised, which, were their existence known, would meet with a ready sale, but which now cannot be sold. Some go-ahead person in Honolulu could start such an exhibition of agricultural and dairy products with hardly any expense whatever, and I am sure that the sale of the articles exhibited would pay the expense.

In a dairy competition I think that twenty dairies at least, in this country, would send a one pound roll of butter for the chance of getting first, second or third prize.

The fact of getting a prize would in a business point of view do great good to the lucky dairy.

I propose an exhibition of dairy products to be held in Honolulu some time during the New Year's holidays. Who will second the motion? WILMOT VREDEBERG.

WILL SINK SOME WELLS.

Senator McCandless, the artificial rain maker from Honolulu, was in Honolulu last week, says the Hawaii Herald. He has been moving up and down some of our gulches with a forked stick in his hands and has found several places where it turned down. Report has it that he will sink several art wells and with a pumping plant the Honokaa Sugar company will be quite independent of rainfall, so far as their lands below the government road are concerned.

LITTLE KINDERGARTENERS.

Tomorrow morning the little tots who go to the Queen Emma Hall kindergarten will have their usual monthly social gathering. The government band will play from 10 to 12 o'clock. The parents of many of the children are generally present on these occasions.

A COMPLAINT.

Complaint has been made that the sidewalk on the Ewa side of the new fire station has been so constructed as to project into the street, in such a manner that if it was continued in a straight line it would cross the street. As it is it leaves a very unsightly jog in the street line.

THIEF SENTENCED.

Kalakuhuna, one of the chicken thieves captured by Detective Kaapa, was sentenced by Police Judge Wilcox this morning to three months at hard labor. The other two men under arrest will have a hearing on next Friday.

NEWS OF THE BIG ISLAND

PORTUGUESE WILL CELEBRATE THE NATAL DAY.

Puna District is Progressing—Sea bad at Honoum—News from the Herald and Tribune.

Thieves are reported in Hilo. Numerous robberies have occurred of late. The removal of the slaughter house is still agitating Hilo.

The members of the Portuguese Union in town received by the last Kikan what is now the largest Portuguese flag in the Islands. It cost in the neighborhood of $50. This flag will be unfurled today.

Hilo has a number of weddings billed for Christmas time.

Surveyor A. B. Loebenstein is now surveying the Portuguese cane fields of Ilihouma. He will soon turn his attention to the Rainbow Fall and Reed Island properties.

An attempt will be made at the sitting of the next Legislature to modify the civil garnishee law and put it on the 25 per cent basis, same as the government beneficiary law.

The sugar season will begin in a month or so. The Santiago will probably take the first cargo of the 1898 crop.

Mrs. A. B. Loebenstein left by the Annie Johnson last Wednesday morning for an extended tour to California and the Eastern States.

Inspector General Townsend was in Hilo during the week. On Wednesday he left for as far as Hakalau. He leaves for Honolulu next week.

Manager Campbell will open Wall, Nichols Co.'s branch store this week. The Portuguese will have horse races and athletic sports at the Waiakeka track on December 1st.

Mrs. Luther Severance is now visiting friends in Denver, Colo. The Hilo schools are crowded.

Every mail to Hilo brings a large number of letters from people all over the Islands inquiring about real estate and what chances there are of acquiring residence sites in town and farming lands in the tributary country.

Owing to the various land deals of the Catholic Mission in town it won't be surprising to hear that the present church edifice may be torn down and a larger and more handsome one erected near St. Mary's school, upper Waiuanu street, in a year or so.

Gardner K. Wilder is building a warehouse on the Waiakeka road. He will display in this building a lot of vehicles suitable for farm and family service.

PAHOA NEWS NUGGETS. Pahoa not alone keeps ahead of all other settlements in Puna but is fast approaching the dignity of a town in size and importance. A Japanese has started a very decent looking hotel at this busy place, and a Chinaman a bakery and restaurant. A large new church is contemplated. There is a private school at Pahoa, but there is urgent need of a government school, as the number of children keeps increasing steadily.

William Goude is again to the fore. He is doing a rushing business with his store at Pahoa, his big coffee drier is a success and dries coffee in forty-four hours, his new clearing of fifteen acres is nearly all planted. His crop will exceed eight tons, five of which have already been picked.

PUNA SCRIBBLINGS. The orange crop was a large one this season and is now in full blast.

Harry Ryeroff is progressing fairly well with the construction of the new Puna road.

R. Ross, manager of Crane's plantation, is doing good work at Puna. He has a large nursery under hand.

George Scheible, from Riverside, Calif., has taken up a tract of land at Pahoa, and is getting things in fine shape to start erecting a house and clearing.

NORTH HILO CULLINGS. The sea has been washing fifteen feet over the Hakalau and Honohina landings during the week.

Rumor has it that Honoum plantation will soon start up a horse shoeing shop at that place.

Honoum will soon be lighted with electricity.

FROM THE KONAS. From November 1st to the 14th the district of South Kona was blessed with rain.

A two roomed house has been added to the Houloula school.

Hookena and Kau road is nearly finished to the 7 1/2 mile section.

A number of Japanese contract deserters from different parts of the Islands have been captured in the Konas and returned to their respective plantations.

The Kona Echo says that North Kona seems infested with a gang of thieves and housebreakers, cattle thieves predominating. The police are on the trail of some of them.

HAD NO LICENSE. F. W. Davis, manager of the Hilo Bicycle Renting Establishment, was arrested in Hilo last Saturday for selling bicycles without a license. The case will come up Monday for a hearing.

The three year old boy of J. A. Johnson of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of eroup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved the little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians all ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of eroup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by all druggists and dealers. Edwin Forrest, the renowned tragedian, was showing a "super" how to do a small part, and at last exclaimed, in despair: "Can't you do it as I do?" "No," said the super, "if I could, do you suppose I would be working for five dollars a week?"

This illustrates the trouble with the low prices of many articles of furniture. If they were well made do you think they would be offered at kindling wood prices?

It is our desire to offer you goods at prices that are consistent with the quality, and we take pride in scouring the Eastern markets for the Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest safest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe: nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."

This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

We have a complete stock of everything in this line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers.

A LITTLE CAKE TALK.

Cake is cake; yes, sir; just as water is water. Some is good; some very good; some past description — bad. Some cakes you buy are made in an indifferent manner, of poor material and flavored with what? You can taste the Asiatic maker and his cigar or cigarette at the first bite. Why not buy a good article from a clean, well conducted shop, where tobacco is never used and where cleanliness is practiced to an extent almost unknown in the average bakery. We will make you a layer cake from 50 cents up, tastefully ornamented, and guaranteed good to eat. Our ginger snaps and ginger bread are selling like hot cakes. Have you tried them yet? Yours,

HE IS RUSHING MATTERS

SUPERINTENDENT ROWELL AND HILO'S WHARVES.

Two Big Gangs of Men at Work — The Greater Wharf Will be Three Hundred Feet Long.

The Superintendent of Public Works announces that more men will be put to work on Hilo's greater wharf as soon as the construction has advanced far enough to require them.

It is proposed to rush the construction of the wharf through to the end, provided the end is reached before the first of January, when this period's appropriations expire. Superintendent Rowell says that he will make every effort to have the big wharf in shape for use by New Year's, but says it cannot be completed by that time. The President and his Cabinet may find a way to extend the time and to have the wharf completed.

The superintendent believes that the Executive will avert all delay on the wharf. Two gangs of men are at work at present, one on the big wharf under the superintendence of Captain Campbell and the other on the small boat landing in charge of Mr. Terry.

The boat landing, located a short distance beyond the soap works, will have a sea frontage of one hundred feet, with convenient steps from the top of the wharf to low water. This landing, it is understood, will be used on occasions when it is impossible, owing to the conditions, to land at the long wharf or at the landing in Waiakeia river. A small breakwater is being constructed, so that the sea at this point will be practically quiet, and passengers may be brought ashore without fear of getting drenched. It may also be used by the Waiakeia plantation company for landing freight by means of scows.

The long wharf now in course of construction near Kainehe will be 60 feet wide and will extend 300 feet into the bay. A natural breakwater toward the end of the island will so smooth the water that vessels like the Kinau or even those in the Mattson line may tie up to the dock with perfect safety. At the end of the long wharf soundings have been made that show 26 feet of water.

THE WAR IN INDIA.
SIMLA, November 17. — Details today from the Maidan valley show the loss to General Kempster's brigade to have been quite serious. The force consisted of the Dorsetshire regiment and regiments of Sikhs and Gurkhas. The insurgent tribesmen made the usual attack upon the rear guard, but were brilliantly repulsed by the Sikhs. The Dorsetshires lost their way in the darkness and were cut off. Lieutenants Hale and Crook and nine men were killed. The rest of the Dorsetshires worked themselves through and arrived in camp safely. Lieutenant Wylie of the Sikhs, and four men, were killed. Col. Abbott, Captain Cuffance and Lieutenant Munn were wounded and six Sikhs wounded. This shows fifty-four to have been killed.

VANCOUVER A GARRISON TOWN.
WINNIPEG, November 18. — In addition to the interchange of Canadian Regulars and Imperial troops, it is understood that a proposal to garrison Vancouver with Imperial forces will be taken under advisement. In the event of the establishment of a garrison town on the Pacific Coast, it is probable that the Leinster regiment, now stationed at Halifax will be transferred to the west.
