MANY WANT THE JOB AS CLERK TO THE NEW SHERIFF

The democratic politicians are having a beautiful time in deciding a division of the spoils which came as the natural result of the recent county election. The office of clerk to the Sheriff, now held by Harry Murray, seems to be the one which is most desired by the various workers, who did good service during the campaign. Among those out for this position are Shanks Mosman, Charlie Rose, John D. Holt, Jr., and Fred Turrill. Of these the first named seems to have the best chance of the four and he spent so much time on the campaign that from this view of matters he is entitled to it. John D. Holt is also strong. The rumor has gone the rounds and is generally believed, that Senator Capt. Parker has seen nearly the end of his position. It is said that Harry Juen is slated for the position and that Parker must step down gracefully and take the office of captain of the first watch. This seems pretty hard to Parker as he was the only one of the officers in the police department who fought Brown to a standstill and he probably had as much of a hand in turning the native votes to Lanken as any one Democrat. But the hat has been tossed. It is said, and after the first outbreak, which took place Sunday, it is hardly likely that there will be any further remonstrance on his part, but he is thrown over altogether. This is the affair for which President Roosevelt dismissed two companies of negro soldiers from the army. Much of the criticism following this arbitrary act was based on the fact that the President did not punish the officers.

GEAR GIVES FACTS OF SARGENT AFFAIR

Hotel Men, Not Planters, Did Not Please Him

DIRECTING JAPANESE IMMIGRANTS STOPPED

FOUND THAT HOTEL KEEPERS SHIPPED LABORERS TO MAINLAND AS JIM HILL'S AGENTS

The true inwardness of the episode in which Commissioner Sargent figured at the Immigration Station, when a bunch of Japanese arrived in the Nippon Maru a few days ago, was related today by Judge Gear, who was with Sargent at the time. Gear states that while Sargent did make the statement that he did not think that there would be much more Japanese immigration to the Islands, this was the consequence of the activity on the part of local Japanese hotel keepers in directing laborers from Hawaii to the mainland. This had absolutely nothing to do with the Planters' Association. The Judge gave his account of the matter about as follows: "When the Maru came in Sargent asked me to go with him to the Immigration Station as he wished to see how they handled a shipment of Japanese. I knew nothing about this shipment previously, I did not even know that they were coming. "While we were at the Immigration Station, Sargent saw two men talking to the Japanese who had passed the immigration officials and were coming (Continued on Page 2)

NEW TREATY RUMORED; WILL STOP JAP LABOR

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—Having excoriated California in his message, and having listened to the roar resulting, there is ground for the belief that the President is preparing to administer a soothing lotion to the hurts he has caused. A rumor today, possibly inspired, has it that the President is on the point of announcing that he has reached an understanding whereby Japan recedes from its demand on the school question, and promises to enter into a reciprocal agreement with the United States to exclude laborers of each country from the territory of the other. This, it is stated, will apply to the admission of Japanese laborers not only to the United States, but to the Philippines, Hawaii and all of the possessions of this country. This, it is rumored, is the "solution" of the question which the President told the California members of Congress that he had in view for the vexed Japanese question. The Californians today when asked about this rumor looked wise but pleaded that they could not talk about any understanding they had with the President. It is significant, however, that they have not had an much to say today about the indignity complained of in being threatened in the message with force of arms to compel the admission of Japanese pupils into the public schools. Such an agreement as the President is said to have reached with the Japanese would mean a new treaty with Japan, and as the President is the treaty-making power, dependent on the Senate's approval, he may submit a draft of a treaty to that body at an early date. A general knowledge by the Senators that something of the kind was in the wind would help to account for the indifference of that body at the introduction of the resolution by Flint asking for the official correspondence on the Japanese school question. The matter has been the one engrossing topic here, and through it has been brought up again the whole question of State rights, not only among the Southern members, but among those from the North as well. The California delegation in Congress today received what they consider a satisfactory assurance that the President did not desire to be understood as saying in the Japanese section of his message that he would use the military forces of the United States in forcing the Japanese into the California schools in which the white children are taught. It is said to have been his purpose to convey the idea that he would use the military to protect the Japanese against mob violence. Californians take no offense at this interpretation of the measure.

TRAIN HELD UP AT KAENA POINT $1500 Worth Of Damage Done At Nuuanu Dam

The town-bound train from Kahuku was held up this morning on Kaena Point. A rail which had been twisted out of shape was the cause. It was, however, no bad hold highway man who was responsible. It was merely one of the vagaries of the storm which for the past few days has been sweeping over Oahu. The train had passed Kawaihapai, the last station on the Waialua side of Kaena Point, and was steaming along the road at the base of the cliff when it was discovered that a rail ahead was out of shape. It had been knocked completely out of shape, and (Continued on Page 2)

Is Yee Yaw Wife Or Daughter

An arrest was made this afternoon by the United States authorities which is certain to create a sensation among local Chinese, and especially among the Chinese Four Hundred. Yee Yaw, otherwise known as Yee Lau, was taken into custody by United States Marshal Hendry, on the charge of being a laborer unlawfully in the country. If Yee Yaw is a laborer, she certainly doesn't look it. She is about as dainty a bit of China as one may see in a life time. Dressed in the richest silks, she toddled into the Marshal's office, looking more like a piece of decorative statuary than an offender against the law of the Nation. Her eyebrows looked like sharp pencil marks above her eyes, and her hands were as much fitted for labor as those of a year old baby. Yee Yaw is either the daughter or the wife of Lee Chin, manager of Wo Sing & Co., one of the principal importing firms of Honolulu. Which is it is for the law to determine, and upon the decision rests her fate so far as residence in this country is concerned. If she is the daughter of Lee Chin, well and good; she may remain. If she is his wife, as the Government claims, she will have to go. Lee Chin has, or had, another wife living here with him some time ago. Not long since, he went to China, taking the wife with him. When he returned, the wife was not with him, but in place of her he brought back a pretty little Chinese girl about 18 years old, who, he claimed, was his daughter. As such she was admitted, the immigration laws permitting a Chinese merchant to bring his children into the country with him. But now comes the United States, through its Commissioner, and claims that Yee Yaw is not daughter but one of Lee Chin's wives, and as such, she is liable to deportation. The case will undoubtedly be an interesting one and fought with all the energy which the Chinese always display in such cases. PARIS, France, Dec. 14.—The Cabinet is considering legislation making separation of Church and State more effective.

HILONIAN MAY NOT RUN TO PORTLAND

Matson Liner May Quit Triangular Route After Next Trip

LOCAL AGENTS HAVE NOT BEEN NOTIFIED

The news has reached this city through private sources that the steamship Hilonian of the Matson Navigation Company, which has been on the triangular run between this city, San Francisco and Portland for the past six months, will make one more trip and then give up the run to the Northwestern city. W. G. Irwin & Co., the agents for Matson in this city, have heard the rumor on the street but have received no advices from San Francisco. In regard to it Fred Whitney said: "While I have heard, as you have, rumors that the Hilonian will no longer make the triangular run after her next trip, I have not heard from the San Francisco office on the subject, and so am unable to give out any information. There may not be any truth in the rumor whatever, and then again it may be completely true. As soon as I have received advices from Captain Matson I shall be glad to make public all that I can." There is one reason for believing that there is a great deal of truth in the rumor in regard to the Hilonian. That is that the ship will probably be (Continued on Page 2)

LOGAN'S PETITION IN ELECTION CASE DISMISSED TODAY

The petition of S. W. Logan, Republican candidate for Supervisor in the district of Koolapoko, who was contesting the election of the Home Rule candidate, J. M. Keoluha, was dismissed today by the Supreme Court. Keoluha filed a demurrer to Logan's petition, claiming lack of jurisdiction, and that there were not sufficient grounds cited by Logan to warrant a contest. The Court upholds this demurrer and at the same time dismisses Logan's petition.

HILONIAN MAY NOT RUN

(Continued from Page 1.) needed by the Navigation Company in its sugar business, which will be ready as soon as the next trip has been completed. Captain Matson is very largely interested in the Honolulu plantation and in other plantations on Hawaii, and his two boats, the Enterprise and the Hilonian, will be kept busy handling the product of this kind and would have little time to spare for the extra trip to the Northwest which consumes at least ten days of valuable time and does not bring the result which was expected.

The freight from Portland on the Hilonian has never been very heavy with the possible exception of the last trip, and even then the larger part of the cargo was consigned to the Honolulu plantation and would have been carried by the Matson boats, no matter where it was purchased. It is doubtful if the Portland run has done much more than pay a small rate of interest on the money invested.

McLAIN SUCCEEDS JAMES GIRVIN

TRAIN HELD UP

(Continued from Page 1) was loosened by some terrific force. It is believed that a gigantic boulder on the top of the cliff had been loosened from its bed by the rain and tumbled down, striking the track. No rock was found on the track, but it is believed that it bounced off and ended its mad career in the sea.

The section gang, which is constantly patrolling the track, was called. It brought with it an extra rail, which was put in the place of the damaged one. The job was done with such despatch that the train was held up no more than about half an hour. The railroad men report that outside of this no damage whatever has been done along the road, though it has been raining heavily both at Kahuku and Waialua. It is reported that over three inches of rain fell at Waialua last night.

Manager Fred Meyer of the Waialua plantation arrived in town this morning. He reports that the rain started at about 2 a. m. yesterday, since which time 3.52 inches have fallen. It rained heavily, but no damage whatever was done because of the steadiness of the downpour.

County Engineer Gebr states that he visited the Makiki flume, which was yesterday reported to have been washed away, and finds it only nominally damaged. Only the battens which cover the seams on the inside were missing, and as a consequence the flume is leaking. It is, however, quite possible that the battens had been removed by zealous firewood gatherers before the storm started. The flume is now being repaired. No damage to the County roads and bridges has been reported, but some fear is entertained that the work which has been carried on at the big gulch on the road to Waialua may have been damaged.

The damage done to the Nuuanu dam by the storm, Superintendent of Public Works Holloway states, will amount to about $1500. There was nothing carried away, but it will cost about that much for labor to clear out the dirt and debris carried down by the heavy rain.

There will be no court held between Christmas and New Years by any of the judges. This was agreed upon this morning, and is in accordance with the usual custom. The court officers of the various courts will be allowed time to rest up and fill themselves with turkey and other things during the week.

HONOLULU BOY RETURNS A NAVY YEOMAN

Among the passengers who returned on the steamship Siberia this morning was W. H. Abbey, who has been on the mainland for the last four years. He was, before he left his native land, connected with the Boys' Reform School as one of the teachers and left his position in search of a better opportunity on the mainland. While away, he worked his way from the foot of the ladder and succeeded in securing a position as yeoman in Uncle Sam's Navy Department, and was assigned to duty at Norfolk, Virginia, from which place he was transferred to the Mare Island Naval Station. He attended to his duty so remarkably well that he was once more ordered by the Navy Department transferred, fortunately at this time to the Honolulu Naval Station. His position is now that of chief yeoman under Captain Carter, to whom he reported for duty immediately upon his arrival. Mr. Abbey is an island boy and was educated and graduated at the Kamehameha School, class of '97. He was on the battleship Texas, where he first had the experience of a typhoon, while at Havana. He is a very creditable example of what some of the island boys can do when strictly attending to their duties.

LAHAINAUNA CASE AT WASHINGTON

D. L. Withington will leave on the Alameda on the 26th, en route to Washington, where he goes to argue before the Supreme Court of the United States the case of F. J. Lowrey, G. P. Castle and W. O. Smith, trustees versus the Territory of Hawaii. The case was decided in favor of the Territory by the Supreme Court here some time ago, and the plaintiffs have taken an appeal to the United States Court. The suit is for the sum of $15,000, which the trustees claim for the Hawaiian Board of Missions on alleged violation of contract. When the American Board of Missions turned over to the Territory the Lahainauna school, it was with the understanding that there should be taught in it nothing in the way of religion at variance with the faith of the missionary fathers. The Territory was bound by the terms of contract to pay over to the Board the sum of $15,000 in case of violation of this agreement.

The Hawaiian Board, successor to the American Board, claims that the agreement has been violated in that no form of religion has been taught. The Territory, on the other hand claims that inasmuch as no religion has been taught, the agreement could not be violated, as it stipulated that no other form should be taught except that specified. While it has taught that form, it has taught no other.

The Supreme Court took this view of the matter and found in favor of the defendant.

Assistant Attorney General Prosser is preparing the brief in the case, which will be sent to the Department of Justice at Washington in order that the Department may familiarize itself with the case. No one will go from here for the prosecution, the case being handled by the Washington attorneys.

The coroner's jury this afternoon returned a verdict of accidental drowning in the case of Jas. W. Girvin.

THREE DECISIONS HANDLED DOWN BY SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court this morning handed down a decision which reverses the decree of the circuit judge, Second District, in the case of Talula Lucy Vestesen. The opinion, which was written by Justice Wilder, recites that in 1904 the plaintiff was granted an absolute divorce from the defendant on the grounds of non-support and was awarded the custody of the children. A year later the plaintiff married a Hawaiian named William Miller. Last September the first decree in regard to the care and custody of the children was altered and revised on application of the father, the latter being given the custody of the children. The mother appealed from the decision of the lower court, which is reversed by the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court today handed down a decision in the case of D. L. Peterson versus the Waihua Agricultural Company and Cecil Brown, the decision being in favor of the company. The opinion was written by Justice Hartwell. The question at issue was as to whom the rents of certain lands were due to, the said rents being held by Cecil Brown, who held them under the agreement to abide by the decision of the court. The judgment of the court is that the rents are payable to the Waihua Agricultural Company.

The Supreme Court this morning dismissed the appeal of the defendants in the case of the Western National Bank versus W. C. Peacock & Co. This was an action by the payee against the acceptor of a bill of exchange for $1748.56. The bill was drawn by the Hilbert Mercantile Co. at San Francisco, November 4, 1905, and indorsed accepted by Peacock & Co. December 23, 1905. Default was made in payment and the action was begun last July. The circuit judge found by default in favor of the plaintiff, and the defendant appealed. This appeal is dismissed.

WRITER ARRIVES FROM COLONIES IN SONOMA

Miss Mary E. Krout, well known to many Honolulu people, arrived on the Sonoma yesterday from the Colonies, and is visiting the family of Col. J. W. Jones. Mrs. Jones and Miss Krout are friends of long standing.

Miss Krout has been traveling through Australia and New Zealand to collect materials for a number of brochures concerning those countries for the Oceanic Steamship Co. and the Southern Pacific Company. She is also connected as special correspondent with several of the large news papers of the mainland.

This is not Miss Krout's first visit to Honolulu. She has been here several times before, the last time in 1905.

Miss Krout has written a number of well-known books of travel which have given her an enviable reputation as a writer.

During her recent visit to Australia and New Zealand Miss Krout was, she states, accorded every courtesy by all the officials with whom she came in contact, and she speaks warmly of both the country and the people.

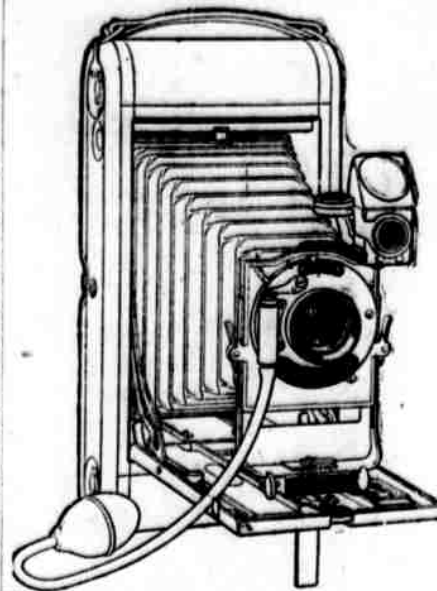

LUMBER TRUST CASES FOR FEBRUARY TERM

The trial of the Lumber Trust cases will be commenced in the United States Court on the first day of the special February term. The attorneys for the defense and prosecution appeared before Judge Dole this morning and agreed that the cases should be brought to trial at that time. The prosecution favored an earlier date, but the several attorneys for the defense stated that they could not be ready during the present term of court. Among the attorneys present representing the various firms involved were Mott-Smith, Hemenway, Withington and Stanley.

BOUGHT GAS PLANT

A. N. Campbell returned today by the Siberia from the Coast, where he went on business connected with the Waterhouse Trust Co. While away he purchased additions to the plant of the Honolulu Gas Co., which, when they have been put up, will triple its present capacity. It will arrive during the early part of next year. Only the parts of the plants which are covered by patents will be brought from the mainland. The rest of the work will be done by the Honolulu Iron Works.

Ray C. Brown, recently made inspector in charge at the Immigration Station, is being prominently mentioned as the man who is most liable to succeed E. R. Stackable as Collector of the Port of Honolulu. In case of the resignation of Stackable after his return from Europe, Brown has made a good record in his present position and is regarded as a man who could handle the custom-house work efficiently.

A Kodak Makes A Merry Christmas

Pictures telling of past good times are treasures now. Present pleasures will soon belong to the past. Are you collecting pictures of the good times you are having now?

You enjoy pictures. So does your friend. Then get him a Kodak. It means the beginning of an enjoyment that grows greater with time and is shared equally by old and young.

Kodaks, $5 up; Premo Cameras, $3 up;
Brownie Cameras, only $1 up.

Has your friend a Kodak already? Then get him a protecting sole-leather carrying case for it, having both hand and shoulder straps.

Has he both these things? Then give him a tank developing machine, by which he can develop his own films in an ordinary room.

Among the other suggestions we can give are: Fine genuine seal-grain leather-covered albums in which to preserve and display his pictures; or an album to preserve and register his film negatives; or a portrait attachment enabling him to take large portraits with his Kodak.

Also an album made specially for displaying souvenir post-cards is the proper thing these days, and who among your friends has not a number of cards to start the album with?

DROWNED AT FOOT OF FORT STREET

Unknown Man Falls Into Water At Night
And Sinks

A tragedy occurred last night at the wharf at the foot of Fort street, where the coal steamer Kirklee is lying. A man, evidently drunk, came down Fort street about 10:15 and, staggering as he walked, stumbled against the edge of the wharf and fell overboard. The splash was heard by a number of men on the Kirklee and also the cries for help, which immediately followed, by the crew of the W. B. Flint, which is lying at the Oceanic dock.

What seems to be strange about the matter is that the man called for help and then refused it when it was offered him. The men on the Kirklee threw over a plank, which landed with in three feet of the man as he was paddling around in the water, but he refused to even reach out and grasp it. A rope thrown at him landed within a couple of feet, but he would not grasp it.

The fellow kept paddling around for five minutes and then sank, while the crew of the Kirklee stood alongside and watched him. He is said to have been a man about five feet seven in height and of medium build. The different people who were present are not certain whether he was a native or a white man. He wore a fireman's cap and the men on the Kirklee say that they believe that he was a fireman from one of the two transports in the harbor.

J. T. CRAWLEY

J. T. Crawley, well known in this city, writes that he has been appointed by the American Provisional Government to be director of the Cuban Experimental Station, his official title being Director de la Estacion Central Agronomica de Santiago de las Vegas. The position is a very important one, including as it does, the management of all of the departments of experimental work. The salary is a large one.

The meeting of the Honolulu Branch of the Theosophical Society which will be held tonight in the Kapiolani building will be open to the public.

A. N. CAMPBELL IS BACK FROM COAST

A. N. Campbell, of the Waterhouse Trust Company, arrived this morning on the Siberia from a business trip to San Francisco. When seen by a Bulletin reporter he said:

"I have not accomplished very much in San Francisco on the present trip, as it was almost impossible to get any results. About half the people in the city are out of town. I was unable to do anything with the Automatic Telephone Company matter, as I could not get hold of the people. One of the men whom I wished to see was in Europe and another in New York. I had a good deal of conversation with one of the men whom we expect will have a great deal to do with the company, however, and everything is going on very well.

"San Francisco is being built up very rapidly and it is surprising the progress that is being made there. New buildings appear to seem in a few days. The city will be back in its old position before long.

CHIUSA MARU CASE IS SET FOR TRIAL

The libel against the Japanese steamship Chiusa Maru was set for trial January 2 by Judge Dole this morning. Some difficulty was experienced in setting a date for the trial of the case that would be satisfactory to both sides. The Chiusa is due to arrive from Japan on the 28th with another load of immigrants, but it is not known how long she will remain in port. The attorneys for both sides consented, however, after some discussion, that the date mentioned would be satisfactory.

The Chiusa Maru is the steamship that went aground at the entrance to the harbor some weeks ago. She was pulled off by one of the Inter-Island steamers, and was libeled by the company for the sum of $10,000.

DEMOCRATIC HOPE

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 5.—A political upheaval which may result in the election of William J. Bryan as President of the United States was discussed by leading Chicago Democrats today as a likely result of the recommendations of President Roosevelt in his message regarding the naturalization of Japanese and their admission to the public schools of San Francisco.

HONOLULU PEOPLE BACK FOR HOLIDAY

Siberia Brings Many Passengers For This City

The Pacific Mail Steamship Siberia arrived this morning from the Coast, bringing one of the largest passenger lists for this city that she has ever carried. The majority of those on board bound for Honolulu were kamaeana, who are returning from the mainland to spend Christmas here. An important part of the cargo is 122 sacks of mail for this city.

A complete passenger list shows 150 in the first cabin, 14 in the second cabin and 382 in the Asiatic stowage. The cargo consists of 3900 tons of freight for the Orient, of which 5000 bales of cotton is the most important shipment.

The Siberia's officers report a pleasant trip, with the exception of the first day, which was spent in San Francisco harbor, the pilots refusing to take the ship out on account of the dense fog which rendered navigation dangerous.

DEVOL'S PROMOTION

The rumor from Washington, D. C., that Major Carrol A. Devol will probably become quartermaster general of the United States army early in the coming year has caused much comment in army circles here. It is reported that his detail to that position has been assured by the President, and it is understood that this action has been taken on the recommendation of Secretary Taft.

In order to elevate Major Devol to this position it will be necessary for Brigadier General Charles F. Humphrey to voluntarily retire. It is said that this action has already been arranged with the head of the nation—S. F. Call, Dec. 4.

In connection with the above article it is interesting to note that Col. William S. Patten left the transport Sherman yesterday and proceeded to the Coast in the Sonoma for the purpose, it is said, of trying for the position mentioned. He was accompanied by Capt. Amos M. Kimball.

Football came into England with the Romans, and is older than the English national game of cricket. It is played in many parts of the world, having been one of the most popular games with the Greeks.

The position of honor is for those making Hawaii's good name more widely known.

Let the immigrants from Spain come. Every little helps in filling the gap on the 100,000 needed.

Wouldn't King Theodore raise the Old Harry if he had the same authority for dealing with his legislators that King William enjoys?

Governor Carter is beginning early to surround the legislators with a patriotic atmosphere. May the effort be crowned with the reward deserved.

The Promotion Committee may soon be able to figure out how many courts headed the other way when they read of the two Japanese regiments take.

From what Hawaii has seen of them, average Japanese would do as good a job in American citizenship as average Porto Ricans now petitioning Congress.

Chas Spreckels, when backing one of those small new railway lines of California, is far-sighted enough to see the link that some transcontinental line will need to reach the Coast.

It turns out that Sargent was indeed on the watch for Japanese immigrants coming to the country in violation of the law. Hawaii is, of course, interested, but in this matter, not involved.

Speaking of Consular Conferences and Pan-Pacific Expositions, anything that has the advancement of Hawaii included in the program should be enthusiastically backed up by big and little interests.

Alumni of the Honolulu High School ought to be able to muster one of the most powerful forces in the Territory, which, properly exerted, will mean much for the progress of educational opportunity.

One of the city dailies plumes itself with the honor of having spread abroad a story aimed to discredit Hawaii's capacity for self-government. No competitors may be expected for such doubtful glory.

Communities can often foster war by continuously harping on what the other fellow is supposed to be doing. It is certainly very much to Hawaii's advantage at this time to be observant but reasonably silent.

California has sense enough to no bridle its speech, that the country shall not become more seriously involved. All of which sets a good example for Hawaii which has all to lose and nothing to gain from trouble.

Uncle Joe Cannon is said to still be opposed to Hawaii's refunding bill. Uncle Joe ought to recall once in a while that it was his watch-dog-of-the-treasury-tactics which left the country wholly unprepared to meet an emergency.

An understanding that will keep American laborers from Japan and Japanese laborers from America is in line with what Hawaii has long believed Japan ready to accept. And Hawaii has consequently been much benefited.

Judge De Bolt is to be congratulated. He has been on the Bench four years and not taken part in a good-sized row resulting in a campaign to defeat his reappointment. Either De Bolt is an artist or Hawaii is improving. Let us hope there is a little of both involved.

No less noted Counsel than Alton B. Parker, once candidate for President, and Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to England, appeared in behalf of the Sugar Trust, held to answer for violation of the rebate law. The conviction of the Trust is a gratifying reminder that real American courts can not be over-awed by the importance of the defendant or the high mightiness of its counsel.

ROOSEVELT AND JAPANESE.

Hawaii can choose the President's message in its reference to the Japanese school question because Hawaii has taken the position which the President upholds ever since the Japanese have been coming to the Islands.

The Bulletin looks upon the school issue of San Francisco as a detail of the Pacific Coast opposition to labor from the Orient rather than a deep-set sentiment against Japanese children. The foundation of the whole matter is the fact that the Japanese workman can and will work for lower wages than the American. Consequently there is bitter opposition to the acceptance of the Japanese on an equality in any particular.

If this be not the case then San Francisco has blundered grievously in its school administration, and is not now beyond the point of correction. For Hawaii has proved that there is no necessity for the public schools which English-speaking children attend, becoming overrun with Japanese children or children of any other nationality who have not yet mastered the English language.

San Francisco could follow Hawaii's example and accomplish practically the same division which it now seeks by harsh and bolsterous methods. But San Francisco has thus far very clearly indicated that it does not want to compromise. Its purpose is to shut out the Japanese all along the line. It puts the Japanese laborer on the same economic plane with the Chinese and therefore aims to duplicate the treatment given him and all his kind.

President Roosevelt is fully justified in taking the attitude he does because the Nation has already accepted the Japanese on terms of international equality and there is no good reason for shutting them out while continuing to admit immigrants from Europe who have quite the same influence on the labor market, and whose children are certainly not more desirable.

The proposal of a law for the naturalization of the Japanese is the natural sequel of the stand the President has taken regarding public schools. If Japanese are to make their home in any portion of the United States it is far better for them to become citizens—if they will—than to remain as leeches, benefitting from our nation's progress and prosperity and returning the increase to Japan.

The Bulletin is ready to subscribe to the sentiment that the Japanese or the Chinese for that matter, can become just as good an American as the Russian Jew or the Armenian or a hundred and one of the "most favored" now being added to our population.

Thus far the nation has not given the intelligent Japanese or Chinese a chance to prove himself on this score. On the mainland the person of Oriental birth is barred out from "civilization" and the consequence is that he becomes hardened, and embittered.

In Hawaii the situation has been sufficiently different to show that the people of Oriental birth can under pleasant surroundings turn out citizens of ability and worth who will line up well with those of any other nation.

It is an open question as to how many of the Japanese would accept the privileges of naturalization. As regards the justice of giving the privilege, however, there can be no question, after having admitted the Japanese to the general circle of favored nations. We doubt very much that the people of the present day and generation view with more alarm the prospect of having the sons of Japanese at the head of affairs than citizens of the early part of the century would have contemplated the thought of a relative of Napoleon rising to one of the highest positions in the American government. The comparison is not exactly on all fours, but our country has shown itself able to absorb and equalize most everything the earth produces in the form of humanity; then why should it be so fearfully fearful of the foreigners on this side of the globe?

The trouble with Hawaii today is that it has too many aliens. It pretends to have Americans of the old-fashioned type, but it is better to have Americans obtained by the short route which might result from Roosevelt's proposal than such a preponderance of aliens who confessedly have no other interest in the country beyond what they can make out of it, and send away to enrich a foreign land.

HONOLULU BEGINS SINKING INTO SEA

Unusual High Tides Cause Islanders to Fear Submarine Earthquakes.

Honolulu, (T. H.), November 26.—High tides have prevailed here for some days past and it is feared that the high water is an indication of seismic disturbances in the Pacific. It is reported that the reef along the southern part of the island of Oahu, where Honolulu is located, has sunk six inches or more. No report of any change in the reef in other parts of the island coast line has been made.

The above piece of promotion literature, a clipping of which was sent to J. F. Morgan of the Promotion Committee in the Siberia's mail, appeared in the Examiner.

The Star of November 23, contained an article headed "High Tides Excite Fear of Seismic Disturbance." A comparison of the two articles will show a most evident connection. It is needless to say that those interested in promoting the attracting of tourists and trade to Hawaii are not a little vexed at the appearance of the article in the coast paper.

RESULT OF ACCIDENT

From the Coast files it is learned that Mrs. Stuart Dunbar, formerly Miss Genevieve Dowsett, died as the result of an accident. It seems that she went to make fast a boat that was going adrift and jumping, cap- sized the boat and fell into the water. She recovered the drifting boat and making her way to the house ran upstairs to change her wet clothes. The shock of the ice-cold water and the attendant excitement caused her to faint as soon as she ascended the stairs. She never regained consciousness and died after being in this condition for three days.

SHORT STORY FOR EVENING HOURS

SCIENCE OF LANDING A HUSBAND

They had gathered in Waite's room for an after-dinner cigar. And as usual the conversation turned upon women. Harding had just announced his belief in the proposition that any woman could marry any man if she made up her mind to do it. A spirited discussion had arisen at once. Some protested that they knew women who couldn't be lured into marrying for any consideration. Others insisted that the man in the case would have to be willing to be lured.

Harding waved them into silence, settled himself comfortably in the Morris chair, and said: "Just listen to me a minute. I'm going to tell you a story."

Harding had the reputation of being a cynic, but was credited with considerable knowledge of women.

"I once knew a girl," he began, "who was good looking and rather clever. All the fellows ran after her but me, and pretty soon I saw that this indifference of mine was arousing her interest. She felt piqued, and began to put herself in my path. She began to try to make me talk about myself, but I shut up like a clam, for I have been in the world long enough to know that as soon as a man finds a girl who will listen to him attentively while he talks about himself, the man gets so enthusiastic over this in-exhaustible subject that if she shows the slightest degree of sympathy the poor fool begins to think she is the only girl that ever understood him. From that time on he's as good as hooked."

"Well, I wouldn't talk about myself, so the girl began to talk about herself. She wanted counsel. She told me she wanted to get married—she was determined to get married, and that right away. She said most girls concealed that ambition even from their intimates, but she was ready to say to me quite frankly that she wanted a husband. Then she told me her life story. She was the youngest of five sisters. Their father earned a comfortable salary, but the family was wasteful and the father indulgent, and the result was that she, her sisters and her mother had always lived right up to the limit. They had always managed to dress well and to keep up a good 'front,' but there never had been a cent saved, and there was nothing to fall back on in case the family bread-winner became ill, died or some other emergency came about. And so she wanted a bread-winner of her own before the crash came. She wanted to be a nice fellow; she wanted to love him if she could; but, care for him, or not, a husband she would have."

"Then she asked me about Dr. Miller. Now Miller was a young chap with plenty of money and a good practice. He was a good fellow, but he was simply wrapped up in his profession. He hadn't a thought outside of it. Women, wine and song meant nothing to him; there was no joy outside of his work. There were matchmaking mamas who had tried to trap Miller, but it was no go. He went on with his work, leaving the mamas shedding tears of vexation. I told her all this, but it didn't affect her in the least. She coolly announced that she had decided to marry him."

"The audacity of it almost took my breath away, but I laughed and offered to bet her a box of candy against a 2-cent piece that she couldn't rope Miller. She took the bet."

"Miller seemed to be rather wary for a while, but he gradually loosened up. For a long time he had never been to a dinner, a dance, a social function of any kind, but the soft pleadings of the girl so worked upon him that he consented to go to a dance. I was there and I never saw a game more artistically played. She told Miller how fine and big he looked in his dress clothes, told him how glorious it was to glide along with him, cut out other partners to dance with him, sat out dances with him in dark nooks, and as a climax for the evening let her foot slip during a two-step so that Miller was compelled to gather her in both arms to keep her from falling."

"Well, to make a long story short, she disregarded everything for Miller. He was a bore when he got started on his profession, but she would listen to him talk about his work by the hour. She discovered that Miller liked pink, and her gowns were visions of pink from then on. In about three

NAVY BEATS ARMY

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—Contrary to expectations the Naval cadets defeated the Army team today by a score of 10 to 9.

The game was played on Franklin Field before a crowd which, in spite of the drizzling rain, filled every part of the enclosure.

For the first time since the game has been played in Philadelphia neither the Secretary of War nor the Secretary of the Navy attended the game, and President Roosevelt was also absent, although he has been a regular attendant in past years. The only members of the President's family at the game were Miss Ethel Roosevelt and her brothers, who attended accompanied by Miss Hagner.

The Army won the toss and chose the west goal, thus getting the benefit of a strong wind. There was no scoring in the first half, the Navy defending well against the attacks of the Army. A good chance to score was lost to the soldiers when a forward pass went over the Navy line for a touchback. A drop kick by Beaver from the 20-yard line went squarely between the posts but about a foot under the bar. Stearns got the ball from a quarter-back kick and had a clear field, but was overtaken and thrown by Dague before he could cross the line. At half time there was no score.

The Navy made its first score when Spencer heeled Beaver's kick on the Army's 45-yard line. Northcott took the kick and put the ball squarely over the crossbar.

Immediately after the kick-off the Navy sent Norton back apparently to kick a goal from the field. Instead Norton passed the ball forward to Ingraham, who went over for a touch-down.

There was a good deal of kicking between the teams during the balance of the game, but no further score was made and the Navy retired victors by 10 points (one goal from touch-down and one goal from the field) to 9.

Weeks Miller had lost his head and was beginning to feel the pleasure of ownership when the girl suddenly cooled. She went driving with some of the fastest men in town, and was seen in the company of fellows that she knew Miller heartily disliked, and even broke an engagement or two with him. In general, she treated him like a dog and Miller went wild.

"When she had strained him to the breaking point, she suddenly became all smiles and graciousness, and Miller was in the seventh heaven. Then, as suddenly, without giving him any warning whatever, she disappeared from the gayety in town and packed off to a mountain resort noted for its moonlight nights and long, quiet lanes."

"Miller threw up his work, patients and all, and followed her to the mountains. He returned from there in a month, roped, tied and ready to be led, like a lamb, to the slaughter. And I bought a box of candy."

"The funny part of it was that Miller confided to me what a wonderful being she was, how pure and sweet and artless, and what a time he had winning out over so many fellows who were wild about her."

"And were they married?" queried Waite.

"Were they married?" repeated Harding. "Yes, very much so. Mrs. Miller now weighs a couple of hundred pounds. Her husband wears side whiskers and doesn't dare sneeze without permission."—New York Press.

PROMOTION COMMITTEE BOOSTS AUTO CLUB

The members of the Promotion Committee have been trying, for obvious reasons, to add to the membership of the local Automobile Club and with the object in view Mr. Wood suggested that a complete list of owners of autos be furnished.
President McCandless, the only member of the committee present yesterday, remarked that as the membership fee to the auto club is only six dollars he felt that the owners should respond more generally than has been the case. It is intended that the floral parade, which takes place on February 22, shall excel in every way that of last year out to do this it will be necessary to have a larger club. He hopes that by bringing the matter to the attention of the public in this way there will be a response and the result will be, not only a bigger parade but that the influence of its members for good roads will be felt.

Danderine
GREW THIS HAIR.

Mrs. Annie E. Sheehan, Wair City, Kansas.

You must remember that falling hair and dandruff are signs of decay, or a diseased condition of the scalp, and you must not delay treatment. To do so simply means more loss of hair, and a greater improvement in scalp, and finally no hair. The wise thing to do is to correct it in the start. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It will quickly regenerate the colorless tissue, and make your hair grow more beautiful than it ever was. NOW at all druggists, three sizes.

FROM SAN DIEGO
Mr. Wood of the Promotion Committee has received a letter from Secretary Jennings of the San Diego Promotion Committee which reads as follows:

"Our meeting at San Diego will not be complete without you, but I anticipate we will have a very successful meeting and the subject is one that I know will appeal to you. I would suggest, if you think well of it, to send me a cable message to reach me on the morning of the fifteenth. Address it simply 'Jennings, San Diego,' and it will reach me; a word of greeting to the meeting.
"With best wishes,
"Cordially yours,
"RUSSELL F. JENNINGS."
Mr. Wood will cable the greetings of the Honolulu Committee as requested.

PERMANENT BUILDINGS

Different from former fairs, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition includes in its plan the erection of permanent buildings. Many of the large exhibit palaces will be substantially erected and they will remain as the property of the University of the State of Washington, after the fair closes, to be used for educational purposes. Thus the Washington State appropriation will be used for a permanent good aside from the benefits that will accrue to the commonwealth from the fair. The states and nations will be invited to erect buildings of a permanent character, which will give them an opportunity to install lasting memorials of their progressiveness.

LIKE STATES PAPER

[Gilmore City (Iowa) Globe]
A copy of the Evening Bulletin, published at Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, was received at this office. This issue was edited by the Southern California editors, who had gone out to the island on an excursion. All lines of business are represented in its advertising columns, and in looks the paper is not very different from those published in the States. The population of Hawaii is rapidly increasing, and the climate such as to make life a perfect dream.

SCROGGY THE GOSS

The troubles of Messrs. Love and Scroggy, partners in the Pacific Transfer Co. are over. Yesterday afternoon Judge Antoni Perry, representing Mr. Love, made a motion in Judge Laidlaw's court, asking for a discontinuance of the suit and the immediate discharge of the receiver, P. H. Burnett. This motion was granted and Mr. Scroggy is now the sole owner of the Pacific Transfer Company.
It is the intention of Mr. Scroggy to enlarge the business to a considerable extent, and it will be his aim in the future to give the best service and courteous treatment to the patrons of the company, as it has in the past.

No other Christmas Gift
Can compare with the Pianola

In any home where there is a Piano
THIS IS SHOWN BY THE INCREASING DEMAND FOR THESE INSTRUMENTS DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

THE GIFT of a Pianola is a present to the entire family. Except from actual experience, no one can realize what a difference the Pianola makes in the use of the piano—in the pleasures of the home.

Even where a piano is in frequent use (and most pianos are NOT) its enjoyment is immeasurably increased because with the Pianola so many more persons can produce the music—themselves—a pleasure entirely different from hearing other persons play.

The Metrostyle Pianola will enable anybody not only to play but to INTERPRET the works of the great composers.

A STEVENSON DISCOVERY

(Cosmopolitan.)
The following hitherto unpublished verses were written by Robert Louis Stevenson during his stay at Waikiki Beach, near Honolulu, in 1889. He reached Hawaii early in January on his first cruise among the Eastern Pacific Islands, and remained there until summer, when he left for Samoa, his future home. His friend, Mrs. Caroline Bush, of Honolulu, came to Waikiki on the second of March, for a short visit, occupying a house adjoining Stevenson's cottage. The following day was the anniversary of her birth, and in the morning she found lying on the table in the lanai (large summer parlor) a small pamphlet tied with crimson ribbon. On the cover was the typewritten inscription, "Caroline Bush, March 2nd, 1889." Mr. Stevenson had written the poem the previous evening and coming over before the household was up, had quietly left it in the lanai.
FROM WISHING-LAND.
(By Robert Louis Stevenson.)
Dear lady, tapping at your door,
Some little verses stand,
And beg on this auspicious day
To come and kiss your hand.
Their syllables all counted right,
Their rhymes each in its place,
Like birthday children, at the door
They wait to see your face.
Rise, lady, rise and let them in:
Fresh from the rainy shore,
They bring you things you wish to have,
Each in its pinafore.
For they have been to Wishing-Land
This morning in the dew,
And all your dearest wishes bring—
All granted—home to you.

WANTS TO KNOW
Governor Carter yesterday received in his mail from the coast a letter showing that interest is already being taken on the mainland regarding the exposition proposed to be held here. The letter follows:
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24, 1906.
My Dear Sir:—Will you be kind enough to send me full particulars and photos of the Pan-Pacific Exposition to be held in Honolulu next year. If you have not the information at hand and will put me in touch with the authorities of the Exposition, I shall be glad to give the matter attention here at my earliest convenience.
Thanking you in advance for the courtesy, I remain,

WORK CUT OUT FOR CONGRESS

Washington, Dec. 1.—Congress will meet and formally organize on Monday. The House will adjourn after the calling of the roll, out of respect to the memory of General Ketchum, Robert R. Litt, Rockwell Hoar and H. C. Adams, members who have died since the summer recess.

The President's message will be read on Tuesday and referred, and on Wednesday the Payne bill, abolishing useless customs houses, comes up on the order of unfinished business.

So many things are demanding attention that the legislative machinery will be badly clogged up, and it is apparent that it will be possible to dispose of comparatively little important work aside from the appropriation measure.

No less interesting than the fight over the ship subsidy legislation will be the inheritance tax questions. The opinion is becoming stronger that a bill will be passed this session. Members of Congress reaching Washington declare themselves for an inheritance tax bill. Several such bills will be introduced.

Senator Lodge has reached Washington, determined on aggressive tactics on the Philippine tariff bill. He will use no time in trying to get his taken up.

The expressions of most of the members of Congress who are reaching here are to the effect that there will be no currency reform legislation this session. The subject will be up, and will be threshed over at length.

President Roosevelt is expected to come out strong in his message for legislation restricting immigration of the undesirable sort. This will possibly influence Congress to do something with the immigration bill now in conference.

Senator Burrows says he will bring up the question of expulsion of Senator Smead at the earliest possible date, and that he expects to get a vote this session.

In the way of labor legislation little will be done, although it is expected the bill will pass limiting the hours of labor of every government employe.

Much talk was indulged in over legislation for the control of corporations in interstate business. Nothing will be done in the short session. Various important confirmations will require the Senate's attention, as well as various treaties.

President Roosevelt may lay the Japanese question before Congress, but in the present state of things Congress can accomplish nothing.

CALIFORNIANS IN MANILA

That the California excursionists to the Orient were given a royal welcome and interesting time in Manila is shown by the pages of the Manila American. The visitors were greatly pleased with their visit and, according to statements of the American, will endeavor to interest Mainland capital in the Philippines. Speaking of the visit the paper says:

"Several members of the party have expressed a determination to return to Manila, some of them possibly before spring. There are among the excursionists a number of shrewd business men of ample capital and they made numerous inquiries while in Manila as to good places to make investments. Although the matter has not yet taken definite form, it is not improbable that a syndicate will be formed by several of these men and that an agent will be sent to Manila to make more thorough investigations of commercial conditions and possibilities. If this plan be followed, the syndicate will be backed by practically unlimited capital for its members will be men who enjoy the confidence of the leading financiers of the Pacific Coast."

THE ROYAL BESSES O' TH' BARN BAND

This wonderful band is due to arrive on the Mowea Sunday December 16th, but the best manager, W. D. Adams, will not arrange to give a concert unless the steamer arrives Saturday or Monday. It is impossible to give a concert in any theater or hall in Honolulu on Sunday and charge admission. Arrangements could be made to play in a park but the weather is too uncertain at this time of the year to warrant doing this. If the band arrives on Saturday or Monday they will play in the Opera House.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Ester, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert restoring the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many thetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ill and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ill and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

A HUNT ON SNOW-SHOES

"A Hunt on Snow-Shoes" is packed full of hair-raising episodes. Two boys, Clarence and Sidney Langdon, decide to spend the holidays with Pierre, an old French Canadian trapper, who has promised to take them on a moose hunt. At the very start, skating on the river to Pierre's cabin, they are attacked by a howling, hungry pack of wolves. In the mad race for life Sidney's skate breaks. How they escape from the wolves—climb a gigantic bear—the moose hunt that ends in a chase by the moose—how they are captured by a crazy man—how Sidney falls down a ravine with a panther and then shoots a wild Indian just before he shot his brother—how Clarence finds the den of a gang of desperadoes under a waterfall, and what comes of it—how Pierre finally rescues them from the wild man—are all adventures which no boy should miss.

The book is remarkably well illustrated and issued in elegant form, in the "Up and Doing Series." No boy who loves a good, rip-roaring story should fail to read "A Hunt on Snow-Shoes." Cloth, 12 mo., 622 pp. Price 75 cents. The John C. Winston Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Second Report of the Board of Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry of the Territory of Hawaii. Illustrated; pp. 240.

There is so much of interest and value in this report and the treatment of each subject is so full that the present reviewer would refer readers to the volume itself.

If the local pests, flies, and cattle are working hard to destroy plant life in Hawaii, the Commissioners and their agents are working equally hard to neutralize the damage done, and the result is most encouraging.

If every resident of Hawaii would do something towards helping these officers, their work would be easier and more effective than it is.

Somebody said it is better to be beautiful than to be good. But it is certainly better to be good than to be ugly. It is better to be charming. A woman cannot charm because she wants to. A man is not agreeable because he sets out to be. Quite the reverse. In effort is failure. The proper effect must, like repairs, be spontaneous and unpremeditated. It must be radiated naturally. Like light and love. Books there are that pretend to tell how it is done. They do so quite as competently as grasshoppers teach entomology. The ability to charm, to be agreeable, to entertain perfectly, and to be perfectly entertaining, is an art apprehensible only through influences generally prenatal but always prolonged. The more technique is so volatile that it must be inhaled. Like the Mayfair intonation, little by little, it must be absorbed.

Kings and thugs may abash the amateur in the art of pleasing but the artist is at home with them. He puts himself in harmony with them. In the ability to do that is the whole secret of the art of pleasing—Edgar Saltus in the Delineator.

The old Book News of Philadelphia enters upon its twenty-fifth year as "The Book News Monthly," and celebrates its "silver anniversary" by marked improvements, both in substance and make-up—including the first of a series of beautiful three-color reproductions of famous paintings. A simpler and more convenient arrangement of its many book reviews will be appreciated by its wide circle of readers. Two new departments are likely to be popular: "The Book Outlook," consisting of brief accounts of forthcoming books; and "The Old Bookshop," with short articles on things old and rare. The "Educational" department is amply illustrated. Under "Books for the Study and Library," Dr. Talcott Williams continues his scholarly reviews.

This is an "E. Hopkinson Smith Number," with appreciative illustrated articles by Hamilton Wright Maile and Charles M. Kurtz. The "Timely Topics" include a humorous article by Andrew Lang on "The Influence of Books"; "Literary Men and Politics," by Joseph M. Rogers; and "The Joy of the Commuter," by Margaret Laing. Among other illustrated literary articles are: "The first of Myrtle Reed's bright series on 'The Loves of Literary Men,' treating of Jonathan Swift; Deshaer Welch's account of Anna Katharine Green in her Buffalo home; and a snappy study of 'Raphaëlle Latta,' by Ezra Pound; besides a poem, 'The Golden Age,' by Norma Bright Carson; and a review of 'Some Contemporary Verse,' by Albert S. Henry. Taking the magazine as a whole it has been vastly improved, and evidently at a large expense, although the former low prices still hold good.

THE BISHOP OF COTTON-TOWN

A STORY OF THE SOUTH
By John Trotwood Moore. Cloth, 644 Pages. Illustrated. The John C. Winston Co. Philadelphia, $1.50.

Architecturally, Mr. Moore has patterned his story after Mr. James Lane Allen's "Reign of Law," dividing it into the "Prologue, The Cotton Blossom; Part II, The Bolt; Part III, The Gin; Part IV, The Lint; and Part V, The Loom." The similarity ends here. The story is otherwise unpretentious and well told in a simple, interesting style, and recommends itself from the start.

Those who enjoy a pretty Southern setting will be well pleased with this latest book by the author of "Old Missions" and "Songs and Stories from Tennessee."

In "The Hawaiian Forester and Agriculturist" for October is published Prof. W. T. Brigham's very valuable paper on "Fruits for the Hawaiian Islands."

"My intention in this paper is to mention briefly some of the tropical and subtropical fruits that either have been or should be cultivated in these islands. Of those included in this list the great majority have already been cultivated here, although some, cultivated only in private gardens, have died out through improper cultivation or neglect, and of the remainder I can, with few exceptions, speak from personal acquaintance in other tropical regions. The Pomegranate or Snow apple of Canada, dark red skin, white exterior, and of delicious flavor in that cold climate, is merely commonplace when grown in Massachusetts, and the mango grown in the Philippines throws our best Hawaiian grown mangoes in the second class. We are in a many cases unfortunate here either from improper cultivation or a wrong selection of locally, and not a few of the tropical fruits grown here are inferior to the same grown in Central America or the East Indies."

Frank Verbeck's Book of Bears, by J. R. Lippincott & Co., will be the greatest thing of the year for boys and girls. It is chock full of pictures of bears, and while "some lines were written by Hannah Rion, others by Hayden Carruth, the worst ones are by Frank Verbeck, the best ones are by the Bear Himself."

ROOSEVELT AND TAXATION

President Roosevelt's proposal, in his message, of income and inheritance taxes, reads as follows:

The question of taxation is difficult in any country, but it is especially difficult in ours with its federal system of government. Some taxes should on every ground be levied in a small district for use in that district. Thus the taxation of real estate is peculiarly one for the immediate locality in which the real estate is found. Again, there is no more legitimate tax for any State than a tax on the franchises conferred by that State upon street railroads and similar corporations which operate wholly within the State boundaries. Some times in one and some times in several municipalities or other minor divisions of the State. But there are many kinds of taxes which can only be levied by the General Government so as to produce the best results, because, among other reasons, the attempt to impose them in one particular State too often results merely in driving the corporation or individual affected to some other locality or other State. The National Government has long derived its chief revenue from a tariff on imports and from an internal or excise tax.

In addition to these there is every reason why, when next our system of taxation is revised, the National Government should impose a graduated inheritance tax, and, if possible, a graduated income tax. The man of great wealth owes a peculiar obligation to the States, because he derives special advantages from the mere existence of government. Not only should he recognize this obligation in the way he leads his daily life and in the way he earns and spends his money, but it should also be recognized by the way in which he pays for the protection the State gives him. Whenever we, as a people, undertake to remodel our taxation system along the lines suggested, we must make it clear beyond peradventure that our aim is to distribute the burden of supporting the government more equitably than at present.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

SAN FRANCISCO BAR, CAL.

Notice is hereby given that on or about January 1, 1907, San Francisco Light-Vessel No. 76, stationed about 2 1/2 miles outside the bar off the entrance to San Francisco Harbor, 10 7/8 miles SW. 7-8 W., from Fort Point Light-house, and about 500 feet to the northward of the range line marked by Fort Point Light and Alcatraz Lights, will be temporarily withdrawn from her station for repairs and the station marked by Relief Light-Vessel No. 76. Relief Light-Vessel No. 76 shows two fixed white lens lantern lights, each from three lanterns encircling a masthead, but these are 46 feet above the water and visible about 12 miles in clear weather, the eye of the observer 15 feet above the water.

During thick or foggy weather Light-Vessel No. 76 sounds a 12-inch steam whistle giving blasts of 3 seconds' duration separated by silent intervals of 27 seconds, thus: Blast, 3 seconds; silent interval, 27 seconds; blast 3 seconds; silent interval, 27 seconds.

Relief Light-Vessel No. 76 is a flush-deck steam vessel, has two masts, schooner-rigged, no bowsprit, a black smokestack and a steam whistle between the masts, but differs from Light-Vessel No. 76 in having all visible parts from the bow to the middle of the foremast, and from the middle of the mainmast aft, painted red; all visible parts between the fore and main masts, including the middle third of each lantern mast, white. The daymarks at the mastheads have five vertical stripes, three red and two white, and on the springstay, midway between the two masts, there is an oval daymark with one white and two red vertical stripes. The number "76" is in white on each bow and each quarter, and in black on each side of the springstay daymark. The word "Relief" is painted in large black letters on the middle of each side.

Light-Vessel No. 76 will be returned to her station as soon as repairs have been completed, of which due notice will be given, and Relief Light-Vessel No. 76 will then be withdrawn.

By order of the Light-House Board. M. T. MAYO, Commander, U. S. N., Inspector, 12th Light-House District, OREGON.

Columbia River Entrance, page 50.—Jetty buoy, a H.S. first-class can, marked "Jetty" in white, was established, November 27, in 31 feet of water, about 1/4 mile WSW, westerly from the outer submerged end of the Jetty. Vessels should not pass to the eastward of the buoy.

North Head Light-house, NNW, westerly; Cape Disappointment Light-house, N. 1-8 W.; Point Adams unassisted light-house, E 3-4 S., easterly.

By order of the Light-House Board. P. J. WERLICK, Commander, U. S. N., Light-House Inspector.

Office of Inspector 13th Light-House District, Portland, Oregon, November 26, 1906.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR OFFICERS

Honolulu Commandery, No. 1, K. T., elected the following officers at its regular meeting last night: Eminent Commander, C. G. Bockus; Generalissimo, C. F. Murray; Captain General, E. R. Bath; Senior Warden, W. H. Goetz; Junior Warden, J. S. McCandless; Treasurer, David Dayton; Recorder, J. D. Tucker.

FRANCE'S OPINION

Paris Dec. 1.—"A veiled menace" is the expression applied by the French press to the coming visit of a Japanese squadron to San Francisco. It holds the opinion that it will be impossible for friendly relations to continue between the United States and Japan unless the San Francisco people yield. At the same time articles appear in the papers from San Francisco demonstrating the hopelessness of such a solution. The eventuality of war seems to be considered with the same cool certainty as was felt a few years ago concerning the inevitableness of a conflict between Japan and Russia.

The pacific and conciliatory utterances of M. Kurino, the Japanese Minister, are hardly referred to, while the "Matin" this morning publishes an article by Mr. Shibuya, the editor of a Japanese paper at Seattle, which attempts to show how easily Japan would be able to overcome the American fleet, and wipe the United States army off the earth.

The "Echo de Paris" prints another article from the paper "Torodzu Choho" of Tokio, declaring that "pure" Americans have always treated the Japanese properly, and that a "degraded population of Irish, Scandinavians and Slavs" are the real persecutors. France is following this foreign affair with an interest that is not disguised.

LONDON WATCHING

London, England, Dec. 1.—President Roosevelt's solution of the difficulties arising from the anti-Japanese rule of the San Francisco public schools is awaited with the greatest interest and some anxiety here. The London papers are being regaled with sensational statements made by recent arrivals on the Pacific Coast from the Far East, suggesting the possibilities of grave complications, even war.

The forthcoming Presidential message to Congress, therefore, is watched for with even greater interest than usual.

RED CROSS FUNDS

The report of the San Francisco Relief and Red Cross fund shows a balance of $2,093,255.07 on hand, deposited in banks, which have allowed the corporation interest at the rate of 2 per cent.

Against this fund there are obligations for building cottages, maintaining camps, sanitation, relief and rehabilitation.—S. F. Examiner Dec. 5.
