DISTURBANCE

KAKAAKO.

In our last issue we published the statement of Mr. Van Geisen relative to the attack made upon him by ten of the leper patients at the Branch Hospital. The statement of the Superintendent, in many points, speaks for itself; we regret exceedingly that we were, in the interests of justice and humanity, unable to obtain the other side of the story, but we hope that, before many days have elapsed, it will be made public. There are always two sides to a story and the fact that seven lepers were hurried off to Molokai, without the authority of the Government medical officer, because they had been implicated in an attack upon the Superintendent is, of itself, calculated to arouse suspicion. Seven men are sent to their living tomb at the will of the Superintendent who stated himself that he only had charge of the "furnishing department."

There were twelve policemen in the Branch Hospital at the time of the assault, eight of whom were supposed to be on duty. Yet the ten patients were able, at half past three o'clock in the morning, to leave their rooms, which ought to have been locked, and pass through the grounds, until they reached the house of the Superintendent, without attracting observation. How peacefully must the eight policemen have slumbered in the bracing morning air, while supposed to be vigilant! These ten men were able to enter the house and go upstairs, to the bedroom door of the Superintendent, without being heard. The atmosphere at Kakaako must be unusually bracing to cause so deep a slumber on the part of the occupants of the house.

Three of the ten assailants were to be sent, on that very day, to Molokai; the other seven were not to be sent, but were to remain and receive further medical treatment. The medical officer was out of town. The Secretary of the Board of Health, himself a physician, had not been to the Branch Hospital within twelve hours of the assault, and the Superintendent had decided to send the seven men, who had offended the Board of Health? Has the Board nothing to say as to the disposition of the patients directly under its charge? Are the members of the Board in the hands of the Superintendent? Can it be that this official, who has no power beyond "furnishing," is allowed to retain his appointment without an inquiry being held into the circumstance which was known to the President of the Board of Health?

The men were "placed in the cells." Ten men in two unventilated, suffocating holes. Five men in a space that was not six feet long and four feet wide, where they only had room to sit on the floor and stretch out their legs. There they remained for fifteen hours, by order of the Superintendent, an ordinary policeman. This is an example of the manner in which, as Mr. Gibson says, "no one should be dragged like a criminal or an animal, but they should be treated with every loving care." This is a Christian land and this is a Christian community; yet ten unfortunate men, suffering from an incurable disease, who should be treated with every possible consideration and kindness, are treated worse than dogs. This treatment was by the order of a Government official. We sincerely hope that it was done without the knowledge of any member of the Board of Health or of any member of the Ministry. The assault was reported at the Police Station, yet an attack of ten men upon one did not appear to the officials there to be of sufficient importance to warrant an inquiry.

"The motive for the attack was revenge." Revenge for what? There must have been a cause for revenge. The Policeman Superintendent said that the cause for revenge was because the patients thought that he ordered them to be sent to Molokai, and that he had power to keep them at the Branch Hospital. Only three of the ten assailants had been ordered to Molokai. What was the motive of the other seven, some of whom were mere boys? The Policeman Superintendent "values his own life at more than that of all the lepers." A nice man to hold such a position! We say unhesitatingly that any man, who can be called a man, who holds such a position, should be prepared to risk his life for the sake of any single one of the poor unfortunate people placed under his charge and care. Not his care, for the present officer of this Government, of whom we are speaking, has no care for these unfortunate Hawaiians. He has no human feeling. He carries a six-shooter openly in his pocket to intimidate a few harmless, unfortunate people who are placed in such a wretched position under his care. A close cell was "good enough for them."

We said that this Superintendent had no human feeling. It may seem a strong term to use, but when we mention two instances of his inhuman character that occurred in our presence, we think the public will endorse our opinion. A letter was handed to this Superintendent by the driver of an express. It was from the mother of a child who had been sent to the Branch Hospital a short time previously. She heard that some of the lepers were to be sent to Molokai and she wrote a tender, affectionate and loving letter to ask if her child would be among the number. This Superintendent read the letter aloud in the presence of several gentlemen, he laughed at and ridiculed it aloud. He said, "oh the same old story, her beloved child. Tell her no, he's not going." The bearer of the letter said that the mother wanted a written answer. The Superintendent replied, "tell her no, I haven't got any time to write an answer, I'm too busy." This was the answer sent by a human being to a mother separated, possibly forever, from her child.

Let us give another instance. A gentleman came to the hospital and was at once admitted, without any hesitation on the part of the guardian at the gate, although the "old man" (presumably Mr. Gibson) sometimes gave strict orders to admit nobody. This gentleman asked to see a patient. The patient was sent for but the answer was that he was ill and could not come. A second message and an extra messenger were sent with instructions to bring him. The boy came wrapped up, and with the apparent impress on his face of sickness, other than leprosy. When the boy left, the Superintendent was asked what was the complaint of the lad. He replied, "I don't know, I've got nothing to do with that, the Sisters attend to that. Since they've been here they attend to all the doctoring and medicine." The Superintendent was reminded that, in his position, it was possibly "his duty to inquire into the ailments of the leper patients." He replied, "I used to, but since the Sisters came they've taken all that in hand, and I don't bother myself." Here is an example of kindness and humanity, and here is an evident instance of jealousy or spite, on the part of the Superintendent, against the Sisters who give their services gratuitously to alleviate the sufferings of their fellow creatures, while this bravado walks around with a revolver to intimidate.

In concluding this subject we can only express our sincere hope that the President and Members of the Board of Health are ignorant, though they should not be, of the modus operandi of their officer, Mr. Van Geisen. This officer is placed in a position which involves care, kindness and every possible tender emotion of the heart. The present Superintendent of the Branch Hospital is practically, though he calls himself only the "furnisher," in charge of about two hundred unfortunate Hawaiians who are afflicted with an incurable disease. He had no sympathy for them and no feeling. According to his theory if there be disturbance in the institution under his charge, the disturbers must be shipped to Molokai. "The motive for the attack was revenge." What was the cause for the revenge? We ask the President of the Board of Health to suspend immediately this Superintendent who is in charge of the Branch Leper Hospital, to remove him from the high and most important Government position that he occupies, to order the recall, from Molokai, of the ten men who attacked the Superintendent, and to hold a most searching public inquiry into the cause for the revenge. We further ask Mr. Gibson, who is the President of the Board of Health, to inquire into the treatment of the ten men who were confined in two close cells, for fifteen hours, which were "good enough for them." One of the men in the Branch Hospital, when asked about the assault on the Superintendent, said "he didn't like to say." None of them are likely to say when the Superintendent is still in charge of them, even as "furnisher." He should be removed at once from his position until a most thorough and searching inquiry has been held as to the assault and his subsequent conduct, which, to us, did not bear the semblance of a man who, holding such a position, requires the most kind and gentle, though firm, disposition without the intimidation caused by the open display of a loaded revolver.

they did not purchase their spoil in the open market. Next?

HONOLULU harness makers are to the front. Mr. Hammer has just turned out for Colonel Allen, as nice a set of single harness as anybody could wish to see.

The Mariposa arrived nearly six hours behind time on Saturday.
She was said to have been delayed by the weight of the gold letters on Captain Fehlbehr's new cap.

AND still they come to examine and purchase from this Fine Lot of Shoe ware in M. McInerney's window.
An early call from intending purchases will be necessary—as most of the duplicates are sold. 655 3t.

A sale of valuable furniture will be held on Thursday, by Messrs.
Lyons & Levey, at the residence of Mr. Hastie. The furniture is almost new and of a superior quality.

Dr. Parker informs us that nearly 60 lepers were sent to Molokai on Friday, but that some of those who had been ordered, by the medical officers, to be sent, were detained.

INQUIRER. We do not know if the six-shooter, in the possession of Mr. Van Geisen, is the same one that Mr. Ross Raymond said that Dr. Fitch proposed to make use of when he thought that he had leprosy.

The guards at the Palace have been partially aroused. One of them resumed the call at midnight on Friday, but there was no response from the other two guards. They were all awake at seven o'clock.

THE Mounted Police on Maui have caught a number of runaway laborers for whom warrants had been issued months ago. They also secured the conviction of some Chinese and a native addicted to the habit of opium smoking.

In the Police Court on Saturday the case against the nine Chinamen, accused of vagrancy, was heard. No defence was offered, and Judge Bickerton reserved his decision till Monday. A nol pros was entered in the case of Paakant who had been remanded several times on a charge of vagrancy.

THE holes in Emma Square have at last been productive of some result. On Thursday evening, at the concert, a visitor to Honolulu who is staying at the Hotel, suddenly found himself at a depth of about six feet below the regular surface of the ground. No bones were broken so that no action for damage will be brought, but the "Stranger within our gates," who was considerably bruised and shaken, says that he won't go to hear any more hand concerts at Emma Square.

CONCERNING the Planter's Monthly the Saturday Press says "Considered from the planters' standpoint, the March number is a valuable and, possibly, an interesting one." A subscriber to both papers says that, from the public's "standpoint," the last "number" of the Saturday Press is hardly "a valuable and interesting one."

A "speaking likeness" of Colonel James H. Boyd can be seen at J.
Williams & Co's on Fort street. It has been enlarged to half life size, from a cabinet photograph, and, on looking at the picture, one could almost imagine that the gallant colonel was about to give the word of command. Mr. Williams has also just secured some good photographs of the interior and exterior departments of the fish market.

MORE than a month ago Mr. W.
O. Smith brought to his office two sacks of rags for the use of the patients at the Branch Lepers Hospital.
The Superintendent was duly informed of the fact, but it was not till the President and Secretary of the Board had been notified of the fact, last week, that the rags were sent for and then with the extra inducement of a cart load of sugar cane kindly donated by Mr. Smith who received the following document on Saturday:

Dr. Parker, Telephones that there are a lot of rags and sugar legs at W. O. Smith which will be given to the lepers if they will be sent for.

Will Mrs W. O. Smith deliver the above rags to bearer for Lepers and Olg David Dayton.

HOW TO CURE FOUNDER

As soon as you find your horse is foundered bleed from one and a half to two and a half gallons from the neck vein. Then dissolve a piece of alum a little larger than a black walnut in a bucketful of water, and let the horse drink it. If he will not drink it, drench him with it, and let him have green feed or wheat bran wet up like dough. Give him no other water to drink, except with alum, as above, for three or four days, at the expiration of which time he will be well, if not permitted to drink other water to contract his muscles or cause a relapse of the disease.
Founder is only a contraction of the muscles. This course is far preferable to many of the old-time remedies, such as scalding their legs with hot water, burning their feet with turpentine, and various other remedies of a barbarous nature. This remedy is almost certain—in fact, it rarely fails in even the most severe cases.—

Men resemble the gods in nothing so much as in doing good to their fellow creatures.—Oicero.

FEARFUL HURRICANE AT RAROTONGA.

The schooner Daphne (Capt. Burr) arrived in harbor on the 22nd January from Rarotonga, and is the bearer of disastrous news from that locality. Captain Burr states that just before his departure from Rarotonga, a terrible hurricane swept over the island, inflicting a fearful amount of damage upon property, and involving the loss of many lives. Several vessels were driven ashore by the force of the gale, and in most cases were totally lost. Two Auckland schooners the Agnes Bell and the Makea Ariki were among the vessels which suffered disaster. Both were driven ashore, and were soon totally wrecked by the force of the waves. More deplorable still: Captain Munn, of the Agnes Bell, Captain Ayers, of the Makea Ariki, with Messrs Anderson, Stanley Heather, and a native, were drowned.

FURTHER PARTICULARS. The loss of three fine Auckland vessels, along with the lives of several persons, will be long remembered as one of the saddest casualties that ever happened in connection with the shipping of our port. On the morning of December 17th, the schooners Agnes Bell, Makea Ariki, and Atlantic were lying at anchor in Rarotonga harbor, when, there being every indication of an approaching storm, every precaution was taken to make each of the vessels as secure as possible. The weather, which had been moderately fine during the day, changed during the evening, and about 10 p.m. a regular gale was blowing. An hour later a terrific hurricane came on, and before midnight all of the vessels were adrift. The schooner Atlantic, in command of Captain Schultz, was beached, and the master and crew succeeded in reaching shore, although with great difficulty. The Agnes Bell and Makea Ariki were driven against the reef, and the seas washed clean over their decks. The vessels soon began to break up, and there was great danger of those on board being lost. Boats were put off from the shore, but owing to the terrible surf washing in, they were unable to reach the unfortunate vessels. At one o'clock on the morning of December 18, the Makea Ariki suddenly disappeared. Captain Ayres (master of the vessel), John Montgomery (mate), Patrick Duncan (cook and steward), Mr. Stanley Heather, brother of Mr. A. Heather of Auckland, succeeded in getting on board of the Agnes Bell, which still held together. An hour later the Agnes Bell was dismantled, and those on board gave evidence of their perilous position by constantly signalling for assistance, which unfortunately could not be rendered. Suddenly, about 2.30 a.m., the schooner broke in two amidship, and soon became a complete wreck. It was concluded that all on board had perished, but in a few moments a man was observed coming ashore on a piece of the wreck. He was rescued, and proved to be one of the two natives belonging to the vessel. He stated that he was the only survivor, all the others having succumbed to the terrible surf. The list of missing was then gone over, and found to be as follows:—William Mann, master of the schooner Agnes Bell; John Anderson, mate of the Agnes Bell; Thomas Ayres, master of the schooner Makea Ariki; John Montgomery, mate of the same vessel; Patrick Duncan, cook and steward of the same; Mr. Stanley Heather, of Auckland, and a Kanaka. The hurricane continued unabated until the morning of the 19th, when fine weather set in. The wreckage from the schooner Agnes Bell and Makea Ariki, and their cargoes, were found strewn along the shore, while the Atlantic was observed high and dry on the beach, with the tide washing clean through her. That day the wrecks were sold by auction. The remains of the Makea Ariki and Agnes Bell realised 65 dollars, while the Atlantic brought 25 dollars. On Thursday morning the body of Captain Mann was washed ashore, and was buried in the churchyard, the funeral being attended by a large number of European residents. The three schooners, which were owned by Messrs Donald and Edinborough, of Auckland, were insured as follows:—Agnes Bell, in the New Zealand, for £2,300, of which amount £300 was re-insured in the Mutual, £500 in the South British, and £500 in the Union. The cargo was also insured for £3,500 in the United. The Makea Ariki was insured in the New Zealand for £1,000, her outward cargo for £500, and an open policy of £1,200 on her return cargo also, was held by the same office. The Atlantic was also insured in the New Zealand Office for £800, of which amount £200 was re-insured in the South British. Her cargo was insured for £900 in the New Zealand, which has a re-insurance with the Colonial for one-third of the amount. This makes a total insurance on vessels and cargo of £10,200.—N. Z. Herald.

ONE OF THOUSANDS. "Miss Esmerelda Long-collinis a most beautiful young lady. I wonder why she hasn't got married long ago?" "There is nothing strange about that. She don't know how to play on the piano." "Well, there are plenty of women who can't play on the piano. That she can't play on the piano is no drawback." "Yes, but my dear sir, you don't quite understand me. Although she can't play on the piano, she is everlastingly trying to. That's what scares the men off. It's worse than listening to a man sawing wood."—Texas Siftings.
