OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Tariff and Cuba Monopolizing Public Attention—Speaker Reed's Life Threatened—Her Majesty at Arlington—Japan's Credit Better than that of Hawaii.

At the very season when Washington puts on its most beautiful aspect, many of the residents, especially those in the higher circles of social or political life leave for other localities. Besides the usual calls which draw away from other cities, such as the tour to Europe, the country farm or seaside cottage, the close of the Congressional session is, in this city, the signal for flight elsewhere. By reason of the extra session, the inauguration of a new administration, and the consequent throng of office-seekers, the national capital has this year maintained much of its winter activity.

The two matters of public interest most discussed are the situation in Cuba and the revision of the tariff. With the former, Hawaiians and Californians have little to do, that is unless the attitude of the two powers, Spain and America, should precipitate war, in which case the advocates of the extension of the territory of the United States might make the island our own, and then there would be an increasing production of American grown sugar. But this is far in the future.

The question more immediately interesting is the attitude of Congress towards the Reciprocity Treaty, and this is quite undecided; while there are many who wish it absolutely abrogated, and as far as known, none who advocate its formal extension, it seems probable at this writing that an effort will be made for its modification by agreement between the parties, Hawaii and the United States; the sugar-planter's government abating the excessive profit which an increased schedule might give to them, and our concession to be the advantage we might gain from absolute abrogation.

But questions are so often made the mere battle-field for contest for supremacy between the political leaders that it is almost impossible to make any prediction.

This is especially true in the present Congress, because as it was called with reference to the tariff, and the lower branch acted upon that, the Republican leaders in the House, of whom Speaker Reed is the champion, refuse to consider other matters, nor will the speaker appoint any of the usual committees. So there is a condition of open and declared warfare between the speaker and the minority in the House; the latter are smothered by every ruling of the chair, and on appeal to the floor, these rulings are universally sustained. This morning's paper contains a long article announcing that the friends of the speaker consider his life in danger, that he has received several intimations that he would be assassinated, and was yesterday attended by detectives as guards. This is mentioned here, not for the purpose of expressing any opinion, but simply to call attention to the similarity of the report with that sent to you some months ago when Her Majesty, being an obstacle to the aims of the army of annexationists moving on Washington from Honolulu, received warnings almost identical in nature. No attention to these will be paid by Mr. Reed; no solicitude whatever was felt by Hawaii's Queen; yet the fate of Lincoln, of Garfield, or of Mayor Harrison of Chicago, shows that this is one of the penalties of public life, especially where any historical individual is an obstacle to the combined will of an opposition. INTERCEPTED TELEGRAMS.

HATCH TO DOLE.—Hastings is dead. Who is to go next? The Press annexation dispatches are costly. If they are to be continued send more money. People here can see no sense in them. Gus Spreckels' who's treaty or abrogation talk is hurting our chances. Treaty is our only hope. The other thing will not work. We must make up our mind to paddle our own canoe. The Queen is engaging counsel. What does it mean? Shall put Armstrong in Hastings' place. Do not bank too largely on newspaper reports on Treaty—not out of the woods by any means. Japanese Minister with Sherman frequently—will try to find out what it means. Shall miss Hastings in this kind of work.

A BIT OF HISTORY.

All of us who were in Honolulu in 1892 and 1893 will recall the preliminary moves of the would-be patriots, otherwise and more properly known as conspirators, who to secure the two cents a pound bounty paid on American grown sugar determined to make Hawaii's sugars American by the short cut of annexation. The bounty assumed magnified proportions by reason of the fact that the McKinley tariff made sugar entering the United States ports free of duty, thus placing Hawaiian sugar on an even footing with the sugars of the whole world. Our planters lost forty dollars a ton on sugar at one fell swoop, and to recover this loss in the bounty seemed to justify the deposition of the Queen and the overthrow of the monarchy. Hawaii dangled in the air as a "ripe pear" to the lively imagination of United States Minister Stevens and Captain Wiltse, of the U. S. ship of war Boston. The recreant American officials and our conspirators struck hands and decided to down the monarchy and offer Hawaii to the United States.

The scheme seemed easy of execution; but the sons of missionaries and of sires of the revolution of 1776 were faint hearted. Conscience made cowards of them all. They did not want to take chances. In fact they intended that Uncle Sam's boys in blue should steal the "ripe pear" and then they, the conspirators, would eat it. To show the timidity of the "patriots" we quote from Mr. Damon's communication to Mr. Blount: "While we were in the Government building and during the reading of the proclamation and while we were all extremely nervous as to our personal safety, I asked one of the men with me there: 'Will not the American troops support us?' Finally I asked one of the men to go over and ask Lieut. Swinburne if he was not going to send someone over to protect us." The forces of the Boston had been landed upon the previous day and were less than seventy yards distant all the time that the conspirators were upon the "anxious seat."

Then the Annexation Commissioners went on to Washington with a document that was a tissue of falsehoods and presented it to Mr. John W. Foster, who was then President Harrison's Secretary of State. Deceived by that infamous document Mr. Foster wrote to President Harrison, as follows: "At the time the Provisional Government took possession of the Government building no troops or officers of the United States were present or took any part whatever in the proceedings. No public recognition was accorded to the Provisional Government by the United States Minister until after the Queen's abdication and when they were in effective possession of the Government building, the archives, the treasury, the barracks, the police station, and all the potential machinery of the Government."

To give the lie to Mr. Foster's letter to President Harrison, based upon the Commissioners document, let us hear what Sanford B. Dole's testimony was, the italics being ours:

GOVERNMENT BUILDING,
HONOLULU, January 17, 1893.

Sir:—I acknowledge receipt of your valued communication of this day, recognizing the Hawaiian Provisional Government and express deep appreciation of the same. We have conferred with the Ministers of the late Government, and have made demand upon the Marshal to surrender the Station House. We are not actually yet in possession of the Station House, but as night is approaching and our forces may be insufficient to maintain order, we request the immediate support of the United States forces, and would request that the commander of the United States forces take command of our military forces, so that they may act together for the protection of the city.

Respectfully yours,
SANFORD B. DOLE,
Chairman Executive Council.
His Excellency
JOHN L. STEVENS,
United States Minister Resident.

As a matter of course it was never intended that this tell-tale document should fall into the hands of any person but Minister Stevens; but with that fatuity that overcomes the trickiest of men at times Mr. Stevens endorsed upon Mr. Dole's letter "The above request not complied with" and filed it in the archives of the Legation, where it fell into the hands of Mr. Blount.

With Mr. Blount's report before him containing the statements of Mr. Damon, and other reliable persons and the little joker letter from Mr. Dole, President Cleveland determined to withdraw the annexation treaty from the Senate, and gave his reasons for so doing from which we quote the following: * * "As I apprehend the situation, we are brought face to face with the following conditions: The lawful government of Hawaii was overthrown without the drawing of a sword or the firing of a shot by a process every step of which, it may safely be asserted, is directly traceable to and dependent for its success upon the agency of the United States acting through its diplomatic and naval representatives. But for the notorious predilections of the United States Minister for annexation, the Committee of Safety, which should be called the Committee of Annexation, would never have existed. But for the landing of the United States forces upon false pretenses respecting the danger to life and property the committee would never have exposed themselves to the pains and penalties of treason by undertaking the subversion of the Queen's Government. But for the presence of the United States forces in the immediate vicinity and in position to afford all needed protection and support the committee would not have proclaimed the provisional government from the steps of the Government building." * *

It is the history contained in Mr. Blount's report that makes annexation impossible. It is other matter contained in the same report, supplemented by other United States official reports, that will reduce our advantages under the treaty.

A CHEAP HEAD.

Allen Hutchinson, the sculptor, had a good attendance at his auction sale yesterday and although prices ruled low the results were fair. As a jeux d'esprit it may be said that the President, who was present, fetched only $1.75, or rather that was the response to Luce when he asked "how much for Mr. Dole?" and tendered a small medallion head in exchange. The President looked weary.

Are Japs to be Preferred?

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

Prior to placing our names on the subscription list towards the funds for the intended "Jubilee Hospital" and putting up our dollars, we would like to know whether the proposed institution is to be built and run by Asiatic labor. We ask this question owing to the fact that H. B. M.'s Commissioner is employing Japanese laborers in connection with his share of the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee.

Looks Serious.

Our reports from Hilo state that the Hakalau murder will prove a very serious affair. The luna, Hickey, it is claimed, deliberately choked the Chinaman into insensibility and left him lying in that condition in the broiling sun, until the head luna appeared and found the man a corpse. Expressions of the Attorney-General, who has investigated the matter, indicate that the Government will not, in this instance, leave a stone unturned in enforcing justice.

The Hilo Britishers.

The Victorian celebration committee of Hilo is thanked for a neatly engraved invitation to partake in the festivities on the 21st inst. A luncheon, a luau, and a ball will be given at the rainy city, and the subscriptions towards the events have been very liberal. Mr. Kennedy, we understand, has been especially generous towards providing the wherewith for the Hawaiian part of the day's feasting.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

THE INDEPENDENT's tips on Washington news are straight.

President McKinley and his Cabinet are not the kind of statesmen who give reporters hints as to their foreign policy.

So neither Mr. Pratt, of Albany, nor Mr. Severance, of Nowhere, will hold down the desk in the United States consulate for the next four years. Try again.

The treaty will not be abrogated and Hawaiian sugars will have a substantial advantage over any other foreign grown sugars in United States markets.

Events are looking blue. By the last mail it has been discovered that the projects of our Rulers (?) to transfer sovereignty to other nations has failed—both in searing the United States, and in getting a response in Europe. Now comes the settlement of the Japanese indemnity after the steamer arrives on the 18th; and there are others.

The Wailuku term of the Circuit Court has been finished. Those attending the term are complimenting the Deputy Attorney-General on success during the term. No compliments to Judge Kalua, the pet of Messrs. Dole and Smith, have yet reached this office. How long, oh! Owen-Smith, shall we yet tolerate Kalua? But, what is the use of quoting Roman classic, even in translation to Mr. Dole's Administration. Kalua is solid as long as he owes the right fellow's coin.

According to the Star, an ex-Congressman named Horace Davis has joined the ranks of the braves who are fighting for Hawaiian annexation—and a fee. Mr. Davis, according to the Star was always opposed to annexation. Not getting a certain office from the McKinley Administration, he became a sore-head and friendly to the annexation. "It means something when Horace Davis comes out strong for annexation," says the cheerful Star. What it does mean, dear Star, is that McKinley is on the other side of the fence to which Mr. Davis is, and that this new "friend" of Hawaii is anxious to incidentally advertise the Sperry Flour Company, now represented here by Mr. Hogg. And now we trust that the efforts in assisting the Sperry Flour Co., on behalf of THE INDEPENDENT, will be granted and fully acknowledged by Mr. Horace Davis, the friend of Hawaii, and by Hogg.

W. W. DIMOND'S

For several weeks our space in the daily papers was occupied with the descriptions of the Jewel Stoves and Ranges; we stopped talking only when we thought the public was tired reading about stoves. A break in the monotony is good for business, good for the readers of the papers.

In the interval, covering two or three weeks, we have dilated upon utensils, which go with the stoves, kitchen furniture, crockery and French china; but all the time we have been fairly busy selling Jewel stoves. We are willing to sell more. Our stock includes every possible variety, style or size. Some of them burn wood only, others coal or wood. We have them with reservoir or hot water coil. Oven above and oven above and below—all kinds of stoves with ovens to suit.

many of the journals in this country supporting at all hazards the provisional government, thought it a matter for levity and ridicule that the matter should be mentioned by me, it remains to be seen if they will be as ready to laugh at the friends of the Maine politician as they were at the Hawaiian people when they feared for the personal safety of their Queen.

Her Majesty continues in excellent health, and while sympathizing with the afflictions of her people, she has made as yet no plans for her return to Hawaii or for further journeyings. Life is made very pleasant to her at Washington, and while officially this may not be, it is still a fact that wherever she goes she is welcomed personally as a representative of her nation. For the latest instance, I might mention the recent ceremonies at the great national cemetery on Decoration Day. Without prior announcement, Her Majesty visited Arlington, the grounds were closed to carriages on that day, excepting by special permit. But on a mere intimation to the cavalry officer in charge, not only was her carriage admitted, but a card given me to show to any of the guards, should our progress be hindered; a lieutenant was detailed to accompany us from one post to another, the superintendent of the grounds invited the party to rest in his apartments at Gen. Lee's mansion, and Her Majesty was several times impertuned to take a seat on the grand stand with President McKinley and the other invited guests of the Grand Army of the Republic. As the Queen persistently declined to do this, her carriage was placed by the officer of the day immediately in the rear of the platform, where she listened to the music and the speeches. There were some twenty thousand persons on the grounds, and had it not been Her Majesty's wish to avoid all public notice, she could easily have held a reception there, for her attendants were obliged repeatedly to good-naturedly ask the people to excuse her, so that unless the request came from some one of the officers or committee connected with the celebration, no one was personally presented.

Marquis Ito, who holds the same position in Japan as that held by Li Hung Chang in China has in an interview published in Canada, denied in the strongest terms that his nation has the least intention of absorbing the Hawaiian Islands, "We would not take Hawaii as a gift," was his exact language. He regards the rumors to that effect as utterly false and circulated by the present rulers themselves for the attainment of their political ends. Marquis Ito is the official Ambassador of Japan to the Queen's Jubilee at London during the present month.

The Japanese government having advertised for tenders for a public loan, more offers of British capital have been made than could possibly be accepted. Hawaii under its present rule cannot borrow a shilling in Great Britain nor a dollar in America. This contrast should carry a lesson to those who are trying to govern a country without the consent of the governed. As it is with individuals, so in a degree is it with nations; haughtiness and fraud are not even good policy in the long run. The government of Hawaii will never have any standing with its sister nations until some compromise is made by which the rights of the Hawaiian people and those of their hereditary chiefs are recognized and justice done. If the United States cannot undo the outrage of 1893, it is in the power of those who temporarily assumed the position then by the consent of Liliuokalani, which they declined to relinquish when the decision against them was communicated by Minister Willis, it is in their power, be it always remembered, to act at any time for the good of the people of Hawaii.

The sudden death of Mr. Hastings excites much sympathy; while holding an official position under commission from the present rulers, yet one who knew him well told me that he never spoke of Her Majesty except in terms of warmest praise.

It would seem that the State of Maine must still be responsible for Hawaii. Mr. Sewall having been commissioned as Minister, the latest appointment, Mr. William Haywood, Consul, is of decided Maine affiliations. Although born in the District of Columbia, Mr. Haywood was secretary both to James G. and Walker Blaine and therefore may be considered as sympathizing with the views of those gentlemen.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Tariff and Cuba Monopolizing Public Attention—Speaker Reed's Life Threatened—Her Majesty at Arlington—Japan's Credit Better than that of Hawaii.

At the very season when Washington puts on its most beautiful aspect, many of the residents, especially those in the higher circles of social or political life leave for other localities. Besides the usual calls which draw away from other cities, such as the tour to Europe, the country farm or seaside cottage, the close of the Congressional session is, in this city, the signal for flight elsewhere. By reason of the extra session, the inauguration of a new administration, and the consequent throng of office-seekers, the national capital has this year maintained much of its winter activity.

The two matters of public interest most discussed are the situation in Cuba and the revision of the tariff. With the former, Hawaiians and Californians have little to do, that is unless the attitude of the two powers, Spain and America, should precipitate war, in which case the advocates of the extension of the territory of the United States might make the island our own, and then there would be an increasing production of American grown sugar. But this is far in the future.

The question more immediately interesting is the attitude of Congress towards the Reciprocity Treaty, and this is quite undecided; while there are many who wish it absolutely abrogated, and as far as known, none who advocate its formal extension, it seems probable at this writing that an effort will be made for its modification by agreement between the parties, Hawaii and the United States; the sugar-planter's government abating the excessive profit which an increased schedule might give to them, and our concession to be the advantage we might gain from absolute abrogation.

But questions are so often made the mere battle-field for contest for supremacy between the political leaders that it is almost impossible to make any prediction.

This is especially true in the present Congress, because as it was called with reference to the tariff, and the lower branch acted upon that, the Republican leaders in the House, of whom Speaker Reed is the champion, refuse to consider other matters, nor will the speaker appoint any of the usual committees. So there is a condition of open and declared warfare between the speaker and the minority in the House; the latter are smothered by every ruling of the chair, and on appeal to the floor, these rulings are universally sustained. This morning's paper contains a long article announcing that the friends of the speaker consider his life in danger, that he has received several intimations that he would be assassinated, and was yesterday attended by detectives as guards. This is mentioned here, not for the purpose of expressing any opinion, but simply to call attention to the similarity of the report with that sent to you some months ago when Her Majesty, being an obstacle to the aims of the army of annexationists moving on Washington from Honolulu, received warnings almost identical in nature. No attention to these will be paid by Mr. Reed; no solicitude whatever was felt by Hawaii's Queen; yet the fate of Lincoln, of Garfield, or of Mayor Harrison of Chicago, shows that this is one of the penalties of public life, especially where any historical individual is an obstacle to the combined will of an opposition. HATCH TO DOLE.—Hastings is dead. Who is to go next? The Press annexation dispatches are costly. If they are to be continued send more money. People here can see no sense in them. Gus Spreckels' who's treaty or abrogation talk is hurting our chances. Treaty is our only hope. The other thing will not work. We must make up our mind to paddle our own canoe. The Queen is engaging counsel. What does it mean? Shall put Armstrong in Hastings' place. Do not bank too largely on newspaper reports on Treaty—not out of the woods by any means. Japanese Minister with Sherman frequently—will try to find out what it means. Shall miss Hastings in this kind of work.

A BIT OF HISTORY.

All of us who were in Honolulu in 1892 and 1893 will recall the preliminary moves of the would-be patriots, otherwise and more properly known as conspirators, who to secure the two cents a pound bounty paid on American grown sugar determined to make Hawaii's sugars American by the short cut of annexation. The bounty assumed magnified proportions by reason of the fact that the McKinley tariff made sugar entering the United States ports free of duty, thus placing Hawaiian sugar on an even footing with the sugars of the whole world. Our planters lost forty dollars a ton on sugar at one fell swoop, and to recover this loss in the bounty seemed to justify the deposition of the Queen and the overthrow of the monarchy. Hawaii dangled in the air as a "ripe pear" to the lively imagination of United States Minister Stevens and Captain Wiltse, of the U. S. ship of war Boston. The recreant American officials and our conspirators struck hands and decided to down the monarchy and offer Hawaii to the United States.

The scheme seemed easy of execution; but the sons of missionaries and of sires of the revolution of 1776 were faint hearted. Conscience made cowards of them all. They did not want to take chances. In fact they intended that Uncle Sam's boys in blue should steal the "ripe pear" and then they, the conspirators, would eat it. To show the timidity of the "patriots" we quote from Mr. Damon's communication to Mr. Blount: "While we were in the Government building and during the reading of the proclamation and while we were all extremely nervous as to our personal safety, I asked one of the men with me there: 'Will not the American troops support us?' Finally I asked one of the men to go over and ask Lieut. Swinburne if he was not going to send someone over to protect us." The forces of the Boston had been landed upon the previous day and were less than seventy yards distant all the time that the conspirators were upon the "anxious seat."

Then the Annexation Commissioners went on to Washington with a document that was a tissue of falsehoods and presented it to Mr. John W. Foster, who was then President Harrison's Secretary of State. Deceived by that infamous document Mr. Foster wrote to President Harrison, as follows: "At the time the Provisional Government took possession of the Government building no troops or officers of the United States were present or took any part whatever in the proceedings. No public recognition was accorded to the Provisional Government by the United States Minister until after the Queen's abdication and when they were in effective possession of the Government building, the archives, the treasury, the barracks, the police station, and all the potential machinery of the Government."

To give the lie to Mr. Foster's letter to President Harrison, based upon the Commissioners document, let us hear what Sanford B. Dole's testimony was, the italics being ours:

GOVERNMENT BUILDING, }
HONOLULU, January 17, 1893. }

Sir:—I acknowledge receipt of your valued communication of this day, recognizing the Hawaiian Provisional Government and express deep appreciation of the same. We have conferred with the Ministers of the late Government, and have made demand upon the Marshal to surrender the Station House. We are not actually yet in possession of the Station House, but as night is approaching and our forces may be insufficient to maintain order, we request the immediate support of the United States forces, and would request that the commander of the United States forces take command of our military forces, so that they may act together for the protection of the city.

Respectfully yours,

SANFORD B. DOLE,

Chairman Executive Council.

JOHN L. STEVENS,

United States Minister Resident.

As a matter of course it was never intended that this tell-tale document should fall into the hands of any person but Minister Stevens; but with that fatuity that overcomes the trickiest of men at times Mr. Stevens endorsed upon Mr. Dole's letter "The above request not complied with" and filed it in the archives of the Legation, where it fell into the hands of Mr. Blount.

With Mr. Blount's report before him containing the statements of Mr. Damon, and other reliable persons and the little joker letter from Mr. Dole, President Cleveland determined to withdraw the annexation treaty from the Senate, and gave his reasons for so doing from which we quote the following: * * "As I apprehend the situation, we are brought face to face with the following conditions: The lawful government of Hawaii was overthrown without the drawing of a sword or the firing of a shot by a process every step of which, it may safely be asserted, is directly traceable to and dependent for its success upon the agency of the United States acting through its diplomatic and naval representatives. But for the notorious predilections of the United States Minister for annexation, the Committee of Safety, which should be called the Committee of Annexation, would never have existed. But for the landing of the United States forces upon false pretenses respecting the danger to life and property the committee would never have exposed themselves to the pains and penalties of treason by undertaking the subversion of the Queen's Government. But for the presence of the United States forces in the immediate vicinity and in position to afford all needed protection and support the committee would not have proclaimed the provisional government from the steps of the Government building." * * *

It is the history contained in Mr. Blount's report that makes annexation impossible. It is other matter contained in the same report, supplemented by other United States official reports, that will reduce our advantages under the treaty.

A CHEAP HEAD.

Allen Hutchinson, the sculptor, had a good attendance at his auction sale yesterday and although prices ruled low the results were fair. As a jeux d'esprit it may be said that the President, who was present, fetched only $1.75, or rather that was the response to Luce when he asked "how much for Mr. Dole?" and tendered a small medallion head in exchange. The President looked weary.

Are Japs to be Preferred?

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

Prior to placing our names on the subscription list towards the funds for the intended "Jubilee Hospital" and putting up our dollars, we would like to know whether the proposed institution is to be built and run by Asiatic labor. We ask this question owing to the fact that H. B. M.'s Commissioner is employing Japanese laborers in connection with his share of the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION

We have brought the good times to you at last in Sherwood's Novel Steel Harness. We have reduced plowing to correct scientific principles and made it a pleasure to yourself and animals. You may use your old bridles, lines and collars, but you may throw away your traces and single and double trees, for only a simple chain is all the coupling necessary for team, plow or wagon. No more injuring the horses legs with cumbersome harness for the arrangements are as simple as they are economical. The cost $25 brings them within the reach of all. Our plantation Managers praise them very highly as being the cheapest and most useful harness they have ever used.

DUMP CART HARNESS, We can supply you with in two qualities at $20 and $25 a set, strong, well made and durable. They cannot be excelled anywhere, and the large number we have sold is a sufficient guarantee of their economical value.

BUCK WHIP LASHES.

These you have tried of old and know well their merit. We received a large stock of them by the last steamer, they are of all lengths and suitable for 2, 4, 6 or 8 horse teams, and to the early applicants will go very cheap.

Looks Serious.

Our reports from Hilo state that the Hakalau murder will prove a very serious affair. The luna, Hickey, it is claimed, deliberately choked the Chinaman into insensibility and left him lying in that condition in the broiling sun, until the head luna appeared and found the man a corpse. Expressions of the Attorney-General, who has investigated the matter, indicate that the Government will not, in this instance, leave a stone unturned in enforcing justice.

The Hilo Britishers.

The Victorian celebration committee of Hilo is thanked for a neatly engraved invitation to partake in the festivities on the 21st inst. A luncheon, a luau, and a ball will be given at the rainy city, and the subscriptions towards the events have been very liberal. Mr. Kennedy, we understand, has been especially generous towards providing the wherewiths for the Hawaiian part of the day's feasting.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

THE INDEPENDENT'S tips on Washington news are straight.

President McKinley and his Cabinet are not the kind of statesmen who give reporters hints as to their foreign policy.

So neither Mr. Pratt, of Albany, nor Mr. Severance, of Nowhere, will hold down the desk in the United States consulate for the next four years. Try again.

The treaty will not be abrogated and Hawaiian sugars will have a substantial advantage over any other foreign grown sugars in United States markets.

Ev-ats are looking blue. By the last mail it has been discovered that the projects of our Rulers (?) to transfer sovereignty to other nations has failed—both in securing the United States, and in getting a response in Europe. Now comes the settlement of the Japanese indemnity after the steamer arrives on the 18th; and there are others.

The Wailuku term of the Circuit Court has been finished. Those attending the term are complimenting the Deputy Attorney-General on success during the term. No compliments to Judge Kalua, the pet of Messrs. Dole and Smith, have yet reached this office. How long, oh! Owen-Smith, shall we yet tolerate Kalua? But, what is the use of quoting Roman classic, even in translation to Mr. Dole's Administration. Kalua is solid as long as he owes the right fellow's coin.

According to the Star, an ex-Congressman named Horace Davis has joined the ranks of the braves who are fighting for Hawaiian annexation—and a fee. Mr. Davis, according to the Star was always opposed to annexation. Not getting a certain office from the McKinley Administration, he became a sore-head and friendly to the annexation. "It means something when Horace Davis comes out strong for annexation," says the cheerful Star. What it does mean, dear Star, is that McKinley is on the other side of the fence to which Mr. Davis is, and that this new "friend" of Hawaii is anxious to incidentally advertise the Sperry Flour Company, now represented here by Mr. Hogg. And now we trust that the efforts in assisting the Sperry Flour Co., on behalf of THE INDEPENDENT, will be granted and fully acknowledged by Mr. Horace Davis, the friend of Hawaii, and by HOGG.

Rawlins, J. W. Winter, T. J. Higgins, and R. Wallace. As freight the steamer carried 13,055 bags of sugar besides potatoes, corn, and sundries.

W. W. DIMOND'S

For several weeks our space in the daily papers was occupied with the descriptions of the Jewel Stoves and Ranges; we stopped talking only when we thought the public was tired reading about stoves. A break in the monotony is good for business, good for the readers of the papers.

In the interval, covering two or three weeks, we have dilated upon utensils, which go with the stoves, kitchen furniture, crockery and French china; but all the time we have been fairly busy selling Jewel stoves. We are willing to sell more. Our stock includes every possible variety, style or size. Some of them burn wood only, others coal or wood. We have them with reservoir or hot water coil. Oven above and oven below—all kinds of stoves with ovens to suit.

Persons with stoves nearly worn out, will receive a liberal allowance for them when purchasing a Jewel stove from us—an opportunity not offered by other dealers.

Some of the best house-keepers in Honolulu have sent us testimonials on the Jewel. They may be seen at our store.

many of the journals in this country supporting at all hazards the provisional government, thought it a matter for levity and ridicule that the matter should be mentioned by me, it remains to be seen if they will be as ready to laugh at the friends of the Maine politician as they were at the Hawaiian people when they feared for the personal safety of their Queen.

Her Majesty continues in excellent health, and while sympathizing with the afflictions of her people, she has made as yet no plans for her return to Hawaii or for further journeyings. Life is made very pleasant to her at Washington, and while officially this may not be, it is still a fact that wherever she goes she is welcomed personally as a representative of her nation. For the latest instance, I might mention the recent ceremonies at the great national cemetery on Decoration Day. Without prior announcement, Her Majesty visited Arlington, the grounds were closed to carriages on that day, excepting by special permit. But on a mere intimation to the cavalry officer in charge, not only was her carriage admitted, but a card given me to show to any of the guards, should our progress be hindered; a lieutenant was detailed to accompany us from one post to another, the superintendent of the grounds invited the party to rest in his apartments at Gen. Lee's mansion, and Her Majesty was several times importuned to take a seat on the grand stand with President McKinley and the other invited guests of the Grand Army of the Republic. As the Queen persistently declined to do this, her carriage was placed by the officer of the day immediately in the rear of the platform, where she listened to the music and the speeches. There were some twenty thousand persons on the grounds, and had it not been Her Majesty's wish to avoid all public notice, she could easily have held a reception there, for her attendants were obliged repeatedly to good-naturedly ask the people to excuse her, so that unless the request came from some one of the officers or committee connected with the celebration, no one was personally presented.

Marquis Ito, who holds the same position in Japan as that held by Li Hung Chang in China has in an interview published in Canada, denied in the strongest terms that his nation has the least intention of absorbing the Hawaiian Islands, "We would not take Hawaii as a gift," was his exact language. He regards the rumors to that effect as utterly false and circulated by the present rulers themselves for the attainment of their political ends. Marquis Ito is the official Ambassador of Japan to the Queen's Jubilee at London during the present month.

The Japanese government having advertised for tenders for a public loan, more offers of British capital have been made than could possibly be accepted. Hawaii under its present rule cannot borrow a shilling in Great Britain nor a dollar in America. This contrast should carry a lesson to those who are trying to govern a country without the consent of the governed. As it is with individuals, so in a degree is it with nations; haughtiness and fraud are not even good policy in the long run. The government of Hawaii will never have any standing with its sister nations until some compromise is made by which the rights of the Hawaiian people and those of their hereditary chiefs are recognized and justice done. If the United States cannot undo the outrage of 1893, it is in the power of those who temporarily assumed the position then by the consent of Liliuokalani, which they declined to relinquish when the decision against them was communicated by Minister Willis, it is in their power, be it always remembered, to act at any time for the good of the people of Hawaii.

The sudden death of Mr. Hastings excites much sympathy; while holding an official position under commission from the present rulers, yet one who knew him well told me that he never spoke of Her Majesty except in terms of warmest praise.

It would seem that the State of Maine must still be responsible for Hawaii. Mr. Sewall having been commissioned as Minister, the latest appointment, Mr. William Haywood, Consul, is of decided Maine affiliations. Although born in the District of Columbia, Mr. Haywood was secretary both to James G. and Walker Blaine and therefore may be considered as sympathizing with the views of those gentlemen.
