Mrs. Nakuina, water commissioner, wants to scalp the Advertiser. She said so herself, from the bench, this afternoon during the hearing of the Palolo Valley water case.

CARE OF MONEY IN COURTS

CIRCUIT JUDGES ASK FOR MONTHLY REPORTS OF THE CONDITION OF FINANCES.

The three circuit judges this morning promulgated a new order, prepared by Judge De Bolt, for the better keeping of the court funds and accounts.

"Henry Smith, Esq., Clerk Judiciary Department.

"Sir—With regard to the money paid into court and deposited in the First National Bank of Hawaii pursuant to a ruling of this court entitled, 'Order Relating to Money Paid Into Court,' promulgated April 29, 1906, we, the undersigned, as the judges of said court, would respectfully request that you report to us in writing on the first day of each and every month, commencing with June 1, 1906, the exact status of each and every cause and matter pending in this court, relative to such money so paid in and deposited, showing the balance, if any, payable in each instance.

We also deem it business-like and indispensable to accuracy that you have the bank book written up and balanced each month; that you keep a detailed record upon the stub of each check drawn relative to such check; that all checks drawn by you and paid by the bank be promptly obtained from the bank and carefully preserved; and

FEDERAL ARRESTS REVEAL THE WORKINGS OF INFAMOUS GANGS FROM COAST.

A federal arrest made this morning for a violation of the Edmunds Act is declared to reveal the workings of a Japanese gang of pimps who are soliciting women into slavery at San Francisco. It is an old and oft repeated story, the oriental scheme here of enticing women to the coast to sell them there, but the arrest made today reveals more of the details of its working than is usually revealed.

NEW VARIETY OF BLACKBERRY PLANTS

ALLAN HERBERT SUCCEEDS IN GRAFTING A CULTIVATED VARIETY ONTO THE NATIVE PLANT

Allan Herbert has at last succeeded in grafting onto the native blackberry plants a variety of the cultivated plant. The native plant is a very hardy variety of the blackberry family, but its fruit is not of much value as an edible. The variety that Mr. Herbert has succeeded in grafting onto it is the plant of the most value as a fruit. The blackberry from the new plant is said to be very fine. Mr. Herbert says that if the government would spend a few hundred dollars in planting the new kind of berry on the hills that it would soon spread and become thick like the lantana and besides yield a very luscious crop.

JUST ANOTHER SURVEY

A. B. Loebenstein who has just returned from Washington, apparently did good work in impressing on the necessity of improvements in Hilo's harbor. He is to make a complete survey of the place, under the direction of Lieut. Slattery of the U. S. Engineer Corps. The survey is for the purpose of getting data on which to figure for the construction of the much talked of breakwater. Other surveys have been made but they have always been incomplete and the new one will take in every section of the bay that is at all available for shipping.—Hawaii Herald.

RELIEF FUND GROWS

The contributions to the San Francisco relief fund from the other islands were large and generous. Carl Smith writes to Secretary Wood that he has raised about $1000 for the fund from Hilo. From the employees of the mill at Lahaina, Maui, a draft was sent amounting to $248.50. Kohala sent $73.50 with the statement that more will follow on the next boat.

GOLF IN CACTUS CENTER

We were propped against the 'dobe' of that joint o' Poker Bill's. When a tenderfoot was spotted actin' queerlike in the hills; He'd a ball of gutta percha and was puttin' in his liels. Jest a-knockin' it to glory with a bunch o' crooked sticks. Well, we went up there quite cur'us and we watched him paste the ball till a tchlin' fer to try it seemed to get a-holt of it. And at last Packsaddle Stevens asked to give the thing a swat, And we gathered round to see him show the stranger what was what. Well, the golfer stuck the spheroid on a little pile o' dirt. And Packsaddle swiped and swatted, but he didn't do no hurt. He barked his shins terrible and he broke his littl' stick. And when he heard a snicker his guns came out too quick. We dropped behind the cactus, with some holes clipped in our clothes. While the golfer for the sky line wagged his checker-boarded hose; And when we took Joe Stevens and three others that was hurt. The golf ball still was settin' on its little pile o' dirt. So we ain' no new St. Andrews and we hope no golfer thinks He can cut loose here in Cactus with a set of oatmeal links; We go in fer games that's quiet and stir up no blood and fuss, And down in Cactus Center poker's good enough for us. —Denver Republican.

AN AMERICAN REMEDY.

There is probably no medicine manufactured that can be found in more homes in the United States than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has been in general use for over thirty years and each successive epidemic of diarrhoea and dysentery during this time has tested the merit and proved its superiority over all similar preparations. The reliability and prompt cures of this remedy have won for it the confidence of many physicians who often prescribe it in their practice. No case has ever yet been reported where its use has failed to give relief. This remedy is for sale in this city by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

San Jose was also badly wrecked by the temblor and many prominent buildings were destroyed. In San Jose there were twenty-five persons killed. Agnew's Insane Asylum was ruined. Ninety-five patients were killed in the destruction of the building.

At Santa Clara most of the business buildings were destroyed by the earthquake. The loss to Stanford University amounts to nearly four millions of dollars.

There were two killed at Stanford. The great memorial church, the gymnasium and the library were ruined. Other buildings were damaged.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread. All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude. They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful. How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism. Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street, Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— I suffered misery for several years with female irregularities. My back ached; I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches; Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

May Day Observance

The observance of May day, which gave unalloyed pleasure to the youth of old England, has fallen into sad neglect.

Whatever their origin, the excursion to the woods and fields, the gathering of flowers and green boughs, the Maypole, the dance on the village green by moonlight, were beautiful customs which brightened prosaic lives in centuries past.

"Danced about the Maypole and in the hazel copse Till Charles Wain came out above the tall white chimney tops."

Some features of May day have been revived in Honolulu with picturesque success. For several years it has been made a children's holiday, with gatherings in the public parks where May day games are revived.

The Case of Johnson

Perhaps The Star did not make itself clear to Civis Secundus. The remark that it was satisfactory to have proof that Murderer Johnson was sane came after he had been condemned to be hanged, and as the context of the article which Civis Secundus criticizes, shows, it was intended to express satisfaction, not that the man that did the murder had been found to be sane, but that an insane man was not to be hanged.

Laying aside the fact that Johnson is to be executed as a responsible criminal it would be more satisfactory to think him insane. It would be "satisfactory" to think all criminals of whatever sort, insane—and some authorities are very near to doing so.

These and many others of our native flora are worthy of more extensive cultivation in private and public lands. The preservation of such specimens as remain in Honolulu and its vicinity also deserves attention. On the Pull road are many hala trees struggling for existence beneath the heavy weight of an imported evil smelling vine which encumbers them.

A Plea For Native Trees

"Among the many excellent efforts now being put forth to render the environs of Honolulu more attractive and picturesque, it is to be hoped that due regard will be given to the preservation of our native trees and to their extended cultivation.

shrubs, and imported palms have alike proved their fitness for extensive use. Yet none of these conforms with the beauty of our island more fitly than the delicate colored foliage of the kukui, the cool inviting shade of the kamaui, the picturesque beauty of the hala, or the fan-like leaves of the graceful loulu palm.

"Much lack of foresight is often observable in the unmethodical selection of trees for planting on small lots. Very often this was done in former years without regard to the future development or suitability of the kinds chosen, and the occupant apparently strove only to plant as many seedlings as could be accommodated in the space at his disposal.

The advent of the turbine steamer into the Pacific is a matter of great importance, in a degree making an epoch in the progress of this great ocean. That the turbine steamship should have been introduced by the Union Steamship Company, shows that our antipodean brethren are not behind the times.

The Sydney Morning Herald says: "A man whose name was given as Richard Brown was fined $10 yesterday at the Central Police Court for assuming the designation of a detective."

If that happened to every one here under the same circumstances the public revenue from this source would be something worth while.

HAVE HOPE OF LIPTON VISIT

HE MAY VISIT THE PACIFIC COAST AND WITNESS THE RACE FOR HIS CUP.

The following article appeared in the Los Angeles Times recently. It was written by Stinson Jarvis and relates to the visit of Sir Thomas Lipton to the Pacific Coast.

It will interest yachtsmen of Southern California to hear that Sir Thomas Lipton is thinking of having some yachting on this Coast.

His business captains in Ceylon, Great Britain and the United States keep him busy deciding questions referred, and as the steam yacht Erin is supplied with the wireless telegraph apparatus, he can conduct his business while cruising in the Mediterranean almost as well as at home.

No miracle seemed to surpass the fact that when way out on the ocean twenty-five miles from Sandy Hook, business on three continents was still being directed by the one great brain that has the whole thing in charge.

Sir Thomas has been reading articles on California sailing, in the new yachting magazine called "Fore n' Aft," published at Detroit and Chicago, and he is determined to see the Catalina submarine forests through a glass-bottomed boat, this visit to be timed, if possible, so as to take in the racing for the Pacific Coast Challenge Cup which he presented for competition of clubs on the starry waters of the West.

This trophy is now in the guardianship of the South Coast Yacht Club, and in the possession of Byron Erskinebrecher, whose racer, Detroit, was last summer the winner of it for the second time in the annual contests. Sir Thomas is greatly interested in these yearly struggles, and has lately altered the deed of gift, so as to bring the racing within the competition of the 25-foot water-line class, which is the size on which practical amateurs on this Coast have preferred to build.

When it can be managed, the Erin will be sent round the Horn to San Pedro, and Sir Thomas will come across by rail to join the yacht at this harbor of Los Angeles.

After looking in at the Golden Gate and going after some salmon in British Columbia, the yacht will be headed off southwest, half west, one-quarter east, for Honolulu. Then Japan and Australia will get a call before the Erin fetches up at the old anchorage off Ceylon.

Lipton's fourth challenge for the America's Cup has been delayed by a number of causes. Designer Watson's death was like the loss of a right hand, and Fife is in some ways impracticable, being ruled by prejudices. He antagonizes the press. He hates being interviewed, and turns his back.

The high cosmopolitan atmosphere in which Lipton has made his yachting a sort of international hand-shake is outside Fife's range; yet the press of New York was kind enough to see that Lipton was able to control this lieutenant who, while very pleasant personally, has occasional memories not exactly suited for diplomatic missions.

In this way, Lipton has been left for a long time without a countryman who could provide a design promising success. As a fact he could have won long ago by building on one of Herrick Duggan's designs. The Columbia, Constitution and Reliance were all built in large copy of the small craft which Duggan produced in the defense of the Seawanhaka Cup at Montreal, with which for nineteen successive years he defeated every American designer.

If Duggan's boats were worth Nat Herreshoff's personal visit to Montreal, (after which they were reproduced at the Herreshoff yards,) they were worth Lipton's seeking.

That he did not seek them suggests that with him the exclusive honor of Great Britain and Ireland comes first. But Canada, as part of the empire, may yet be called in. Duggan does not sell his designs, but to help out Lipton, would probably give his best; and when it comes to choice of skippers it will be also remembered that the only British-born yacht sailor of the Charles Barr class is a Canadian, not Duggan, but another.

Many English designers of lesser note have been considered by Lipton because of their success in small classes, but not one of them seems to have that combination of intuition, experience and engineering skill which is necessary for the machine he wants.

If Lipton dips in, his trip to the Pacific will be postponed, and I give the status quo just as it is; but it should be mentioned that on board the Erin there is a special brand of Irish whiskey which in homeopathic doses could distribute much satisfaction on the Pacific Coast, and in picturing the allurements of California climate and yachting, I have been partly influenced by memories of a strictly private kind when suggesting to Sir Thomas that he ought to be here when his cup is sailed for next August.

His last letter, dated London, March 2, refers to other matters, but is in part, as follows:

"I have just returned from the continent, and received your kind letter.

"I have also received the articles you had sent to me, and have read them with the utmost pleasure.

"With regard to San Diego if I could possibly get out to see the contest for my cup, it would give me very great pleasure, but at the moment my movements are so uncertain, that I cannot make any definite arrangements.

"I shall still hope, however, that I shall be able to visit the Pacific Coast and have the honor of meeting the members of the San Diego Yacht Club. I trust that before long I will have the pleasure of meeting you again on board the Erin at Sandy Hook, and I am sure, when that time arrives, no one will be more welcome than you. With renewed thanks for your kindness, and trusting that this will find you and yours happy,

"Yours faithfully,
"THOMAS T. LIPTON."
