AMERICA.

By the Planter we have received dates to the 5th of January, two days later than previously received. Following is a summary:—

The smallpox does not show any signs of letting go its hold in San Francisco. Seven new cases were reported to the Health Office on Jan. 4th.

Santa Rosa, Jan. 4th—The Board of Health to-night passed a resolution asking the Board of Education to only admit pupils to the public school who furnish certificates of vaccination.

Marysville, Jan. 4th—The Common Council have taken steps to prevent the appearance of smallpox in this city, and have ordered free vaccination for those unable to pay physicians. None has appeared in the mountain region of this country adjoining Sierra county.

Los Angeles, Jan. 4th—At a meeting of the Board of Health this evening a resolution was adopted requesting the State Board to station quarantine officers at Tulare and San Pedro. The Board of Supervisors this afternoon appointed two health officers for duty at San Pedro, to prevent the advent of smallpox at that port.

The Consuelo made the passage over to San Francisco in ten and half days.

A revolt occurred at Jefferson barracks, St. Louis, between white and colored U. S. troops, that resulted in the injury of many men and probably will cost the lives of at least three.

Four inches of snow fell at Portland, Oregon, on the 3rd Jan., and some apprehension was felt of a general freeze-up.

Very few of the vessels arriving from northern ports fail to bring reports of rough voyages, of thrilling experiences and narrow escapes from drowning. The storm has been continuous on the northern coast and has raged with the greatest violence on land as well as sea. The reports of disasters already received are certain to be followed by others as soon as the vessels which are detained arrive in port and telegraph communications which have been interrupted by the late storm are restored. In addition to the total loss of the Heywood, Hancock and California, the barkentine Amelia was compelled to put into port on account of great damage to her rigging.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Certain Republican Senators have been busily at work to secure a caucus in which the line of party policy could be agreed upon respecting the confirmation of Secretary Lamar to be Justice of the Supreme Court. Thus far the attempt to get a caucus has failed. Lamar's opponents among the Republicans are in a majority, but Stanford, Stewart, Jones, Sawyer and others will not go into caucus, nor be bound by the caucus action on this nomination. Lamar will be confirmed.

The "Toronto Globe" highly approves Chamberlain's speech before the Board of Trade, it says, the Canadians are delighted when Chamberlain speaks without compromising the interests of Canada and the success of his mission. The same paper also thinks that Chamberlain's fortunes must seriously suffer if he fails to bring an amicable and satisfactory settlement out of the Washington Conference.

The Tillamook light on the coast of Oregon, 190 feet above the sea, was badly damaged by the late storm; the sea broke into the lantern smashing the glass and extinguishing the light.

Watsonville, January 4th.—The establishment of the beet sugary at this place has caused quite a boom in real estate. There is a sharp demand for all kinds of real estate, especially in the vicinity of the site of the sugar works. Prices are becoming steeper, especially for good farming land. Already substantial advance has been made on the factory. The railroad company is putting in a switch.

San Diego, January 4th.—John D. Spreckels has arrived from San Francisco. He still speaks favorably of the plan to run the Oceanic steamers hence to Auckland, without calling at Honolulu, but intimates that no change is apt to be made until the mail contract expires in November next.

Washington, January 4th.—Sherman began his speech on the President's message at 1 o'clock. The President of the United States, he said, departing from the practice of his illustrious predecessors, dropped from his recent annual message all reference to the foreign relations of the country, and the interesting questions regarding national affairs, even omitting the usual recognition of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, postponing all things—celestial and terrestrial—until the surplus revenue shall be got rid of. The existence of the surplus revenue has been a constant occurrence before and since the close of the war. Instead of its being a danger it is an indication of the continuous increase of the domestic productions of the country and its foreign and domestic commerce, and of the steady improvement in financial conditions. Larger surpluses had frequently been dealt with wisely by Republican administrations, by a reduction or repeal of taxes. These simple remedies had been applied on mainly such articles as could not be produced here and did not come into competition with domestic industry. With that kind of free-trade he was in sympathy.

Heavy washouts and several train wrecks have occurred in the southern part of California, resulting in the death of one man and injury to several others. The washouts are on the California Central, Southern Pacific, and Santa Fe roads, the Santa Fe suffering the most.

EUROPE.

London, Jan. 4.—A violent hurricane is raging in the Irish Channel. Great damage has been done to shipping. The steamship Ohio arrived at Queenstown this evening owing to bad weather, and will be obliged to postpone her departure until to-morrow. A portion of Fastness Rock has tumbled into the sea. The light keepers are terrified, fearing the sea will undermine the rock. It is impossible for boats to approach the rock.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 4.—The newspapers of this city publish a Russian translation of the forged documents sent to the Czar. The tone of the press toward Germany has completely changed.

The Czar in a congratulatory telegram to the Pope, said he was desirous of insuring the interest of his Catholic subjects, and concluded as follows:

I doubt not that the high wisdom of which your Holiness gives so many proofs will enable me to harmonize the needs of the Roman Church in Russia with the fundamental principles of my Empire.

Cork, Jan. 4.—An 1800-ton bark, believed to be an American vessel, has been wrecked at the entrance of Waterford Harbor. Her crew, consisting of twenty-five persons, were all drowned. The vessel is supposed to be the ship Eureka, Captain Southard, which sailed from San Francisco August 16th for Queenstown with a cargo of wheat.

London, Jan. 4.—Two express trains on the Dutch State Railroad collided near Meppel to-day. Twenty-six persons were killed and many others injured.

Vienna, Jan. 3.—The "Fredenblatt" denies, on authentic information, that the movement of Russian troops and war material to the frontier continues. The latest news shows that the reports concerning Russian movements referred mainly to displacements effected with the frontier provinces.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—The "National Zeitung" states that Emperor William, during the reception yesterday of the officers of the Guard, briefly said: "I would point out that with this year your chief attention will be claimed to maneuvers which the Guards and the Third Army Corps have been ordered to execute.' The Emperor afterward bestowed the Order of the Black Eagle upon the Court Chamberlain, Count Stolberg Weiningeroder.

London, Jan. 3.—Lord Clanicarde is making preparations for a wholesale eviction campaign in revenge for the castigation he got at the recent libel suit. To-day he is to apply for 150 writs of eviction. His new agent is swaggering about, saying there is to be war to the knife this time. The millionaire is determined to put his purse against the purse of his tenants and their friends, and has begun by lodging $20,000 in cash to his agent's credit at the bank. It is to be a war of purses as well as house-levelling and house-defending, for if the tenants be cast out of their homes it will become a question whether their resources or Clanricarde's will hold out longer. If the Government lend Clanricarde their troops to pursue this resolve, there is much fear that there will be bad work.

The Privy Council at a meeting yesterday resolved to suppress the league in Dublin and thus cripple the Central Executive.

Jan. 3.—The Iron Clad H. M. S. Hercules touched the reef off Ferrol, Spain, yesterday and knocked a hole in her side. All efforts to stop the leak failed, and the ship with difficulty reached the harbor of Ferrol, where she is gradually sinking.

Dublin, Jan. 3.—Cullimore, the Plan of Campaign leader on the Kengstone estate, has been arrested on the charge of inciting the tenants to illegal acts.

The tenants of the Kengstone estates held a meeting at Mitchellstown yesterday, Condon presiding, and adopted resolutions declaring the Land Commissioner's reductions of judicial rents inadequate; that there would continue to be a Plan of Campaign until evicted tenants were reinstated and that they would appeal for greater reductions.

Limerick, Jan. 3.—The municipal authorities have conferred the freedom of the city upon Sullivan, ex-Lord Mayor of Dublin.

London, Dec. 24.—Two Irish bills will be introduced by the Cabinet—one to conciliate the Catholic Bishops in reference to higher education and the other to provide for a compromise between the landlords and tenants by advances to landlords from the Treasury at 3½ per cent, the loans to be repayable in installments, the term extending over thirty-six years.

SELLING ONE'S OWN SKELETON.

Has a man a right to disposed of his dead body? The weight of authority seems to be in favor of an answer in the affirmative, but a new decision will soon be rendered by the Hungarian courts.

It appears that a man named Fabry recently died at Buda Pesth who measured seven feet three inches "in his stockings." Several years ago he sold his skeleton to the Anthropological Museum of that city for a considerable sum, and that institution naturally laid claim to his corpse on the announcement of his death.

The widow, however, would not give up the remains of her elongated spouse, and insisted that they should be burned. The question has been referred to the courts, and we shall have another legal opinion on this interesting subject.

It seems there lived at Kief a shopkeeper named Raskorovitch, who was remarkable for having an enormous head—out of proportion and unhealthy looking. This prodigious cranium surmounting a frail body had a most singular effect. Raskorovitch seemed proud of his lusus naturæ, and spent the most of his time seated in front of his shop. He was weak-minded and feeble in health.

It so happened that a Dr. Walter had occasion to pass Raskorovitch's shop daily and became so interested in his abnormal development that he finally offered the shopkeeper a considerable sum in cash if he would sign a paper leaving him his head after death. The man consented, pocketed the money and went on so long a "spree" that his enfeebled constitution could not react from the effects, and death ensued. Dr. Walter, on learning the facts appeared on the scene and claimed his head. The widow, being ignorant of the transaction protested. The courts were appealed to and decided that the contract, having been made in the interest of science, must be respected, and the bereaved one was compelled to bury her husband headless.

In the month of January, 1474, the physicians and surgeons of Paris represented to Louis XI that "several persons of quality" being afflicted with divers diseases, it would be very useful to examine that part of the body so effected. It so happened that a man who suffered from the stone had just been sentenced to death for robbery, and the surgeons obtained permission to operate on him "for scientific purposes." The operation was public and proved successful, so that the culprit was not only cured in a fortnight, but was pardoned and subscriptions taken up in his behalf.

Thus it happened that the man had to be sentenced to be hanged in order to be cured of his disease, and that, had his sentence been executed, the surgeons, who operated on him living, would not have been allowed to touch his corpse.

Not long afterward the dissection of criminals was made legal in France, and over the door of the first operating-room opened in Toulouse was placed this inscription: "This is the place where death comes to the aid of life." In Paris to-day there exists a society whose members bind themselves to allow an autopsy to be made on their bodies immediately after death. Gambetta belonged to this association, and it was Dr. Mathias Duval to whose lot it fell to examine the locality of the disease and study the brain of that eloquent Frenchman.—[Chicago Times.

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

THERE will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

SOUTHERLY winds and a rough sea, is the report from Kuau by the Canute.

KEALIA mill, Kauai, is making between 800 and 900 bags of sugar a day.

FRESH southerly winds, with heavy rains, is the report from Kauai by the steamer Jas. Makee this morning.

A DRAFT has been found, which the owner can have by proving property and paying charges. Apply at this office.

A BOSTON made express wagon, pole and shafts, with one set of double harness, is for sale at 107 King street.

DR. A. R. Rowat, veterinary surgeon, advertises that all orders left at the Hotel Stables will be received and promptly attended to.

THE steamer Jas. Makee will sail this evening for Kapaa to get about 3,000 bags of sugar, and for Nawiliwili for 35 head of cattle. She will return to Honolulu Saturday evening or Sunday morning.

JUDGE J. G. Hoapili, of North Kona, has been succeeded by J. Kalawamaka. Judge Hoapili became judge of South Kona in 1866. He was such for three or four years, when he became judge for both North and South Kona, and latterly for the former only. His commission, it is said, expired to-day.

SUPREME COURT---JANUARY TERM.

BEFORE JUDD, C. J.

THURSDAY, Jan. 19, 1888.

The Court opened at 10:04 A. M. Foreign jurors in attendance.

J. S. Antonio vs. Manuel de Gouveia; covenant. Being tried before a Foreign jury.

W. R. Castle for plaintiff; W. A. Kinney for defendant.

THE MURDER CASE.

The case of the King vs. Ah Tuck, murder, was concluded yesterday afternoon. This case occupied the Court for two days. Over twenty witnesses were examined for the prosecution, and none for the defense. Mr. Paul Neumann addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner, and Mr. V. V. Ashford for the Crown. After which the Chief Justice charged the jury, occupying about 30 minutes in doing so. The case was then submitted to the jury, who returned a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree. Sentence was deferred until a later day.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

The Postmaster-General has made to the Minister of Interior a report of the Postal Savings Bank, for the first eighteen months of its existence, ending December 31, 1887. The total amount of deposits for the period, with interest added, is $217,316.18; total withdrawals, $82,433.08; leaving on deposit at the close of the period, $134,883.10. The depositors having accounts open Dec. 31, and the amount of their deposits were: Hawaiian 421, $45,081.92; American, 142, $34,474.87; British, 99, $26,872.14; Portuguese, 23, $9,253.84; German, 34, $6,549.56; Japanese, 68, $5,989.62; Chinese, 7, $1,343.62; Gilbert Islanders, 13, $1,260.86; sundry other nationalities, 12, $4,036.67—total, 819, $134,883.10.

THE LATE JUDGE FORNANDER.

By the mail steamer Zealandia, Messrs. Kidd and Wildman, of this city, received a letter from a daughter of the Hon. Abraham Fornander, of Honolulu, announcing the death of her father on the first of last month. Mr. Fornander was well known to students of Polynesian Ethnology as being the author of a work on the "Origin and Migrations of the Polynesian Race," which is recognized as one of the most able and exhaustive contributions to the literature of this subject. This work was published in 1878, and at that time the author had been for thirty years resident in the Hawaiian group, and was then Circuit Judge of the island of Maui.

In her letter his daughter speaks of having received the first volume of Mr. John White's book on the Maori race, as a present to her father from the author. Mr. Fornander died from cancer in the mouth after a long and painful illness.—[Auckland Evening Star.

ARRIVAL OF THE PLANTER.

The barkentine Planter, Captain Perriman, arrived off port last evening at 8 o'clock, 13½ days from San Francisco, and entered port this morning. The Planter left San Francisco on the 5th inst., in company with the barkentine S. N. Castle. As both the Planter and the Castle are new vessels and clipper built, and as it was known that they would leave for this port on the same day, considerable interest was taken in, what would surely be, a race for Honolulu. On the first day out they kept company until towards evening, when the Planter bowed farewell to the Castle and left her. The Planter had fair weather nearly all the way, excepting last Sunday, when a N. W. wind sprang up, accompanied by heavy seas. Half of the passage was made in 4½ days.

ROYAL BREAKFAST.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson and Miss Mirrlees of Glasgow, were entertained by their Majesties the King and Queen at Iolani Palace, at breakfast yesterday morning. H. R. H. Princess Liliuokalani and Governor Dominis, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn and the little Princess Kaiulani, Col. Curtis Iaukea, Chamberlain, and Col. G. W. Macfarlane, Aid-de-Camp, were also of the royal party.

ELECTRIC LIGHT ILLUMINATION.

A complimentary concert by the Royal Hawaiian Band has been tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Watson and Miss Mirrlees, at the Hotel this evening, and we learn that a new and beautiful effect will be produced again on the grounds with the Incandescent Lights, some 8 or 10 additional lights having yesterday been added to the lawn in front of the Hotel. The electric current will be turned on at 8 o'clock precisely.

ARRIVAL OF THE P. M. S. S. CO.'S STMR. CITY OF NEW YORK.

At an early hour last evening, the City of New York arrived off port, from China, en route for San Francisco, with passengers and freight for this port. She was anchored outside to await the action of the Board of Health, as there were 3 cases of small pox on board. At the hour of going to press, the Steamer's agents had not decided whether she would proceed to San Francisco or remain in quarantine.

A RISE IN SUGAR.

The S. F. Examiner of the 5th inst., says:—

"The price of raw sugar took another upward leap of three-sixteenths of a cent yesterday. The advance is due to the operations of the sugar trust in New York and an expected shortage in the crop. Expecting a further advance in price, the local refineries are buying supplies elsewhere than in Hawaii.

AMERICAN SUGAR REFINERY.

The following is from the Alta California of the 5th instant, brought by the Planter this morning:—

"A change is about to be mad in the management of the American Sugar Refinery, and eventually a change in the manner of working that establishment will be brought about. About the 1st of February E. L. G. Steele will retire from the Presidency. Andrew Welch, of Welch & Co., will succeed him. Mr. Steele will then go to Europe on business connected with the concern, starting in six weeks and remaining six months or more. He will spend his time in France and Germany investigating the production of beet sugar. On his return, if he presents a favorable report, the company will begin to establish beet sugaries, in competition with Claus Spreckels, and will gradually abandon the use of Hawaiian sugar.

TEHUANTEPEC SHIP CANAL.

Pittsburg, January 4.—Ex-Congressman Alexander Cochran, formerly of this city, passed through last night on his way from St. Louis to Washington. Mr. Cochran is solicitor for the Tehuantepec Ship Railway Company. In speaking of the progress of the project, he said: "I expected to meet Colonel Andrews at the depot, but I see he has not come. He will shortly leave for England. The object of his visit is to get a number of capitalists in that country to invest in the Ship Railway stock. The Company will be run under the present charter, which we obtained from New York State. Fifty million dollars will be required to build a road. That is a big sum of money. We cannot raise it all in this country, so Col. Andrews is going to make an effort to do so in England."

BUSINESS ITEMS.

WE HAVE ON HAND

A Few Samples of our Boats.

Also, plans and estimates of all kinds of Boats and repairs given at short notice. We use only best material in their construction; no Monkey-pod whatever; believing that the best labor and material pays best, both buyers and builder. Having already published prices and several essential points not generally known beneficial to boats round our Islands, which intending purchasers would do well to note. Our improved facilities for building or repairing enable us not only to furnish a superior article but cheap, and where doubt exists in this we desire a comparative inspection, before sale, at the Enterprise Mill or Printer's Lane, Punchbowl street, where sampels can be seen.

A PRIEST'S REVENCE.

Mr. Trollope tells a very singular story told by Blanco White. A priest was condemned at Seville to capital punishment. That the public might be properly impressed, market day was selected for the purpose. To be degraded from his sacerdotal character he had to pass through the market place, while the powers deemed inherent in the priesthood were still in his possession. Undegraded as yet and unrepentant, he dealt a malicious blow at the people assembled to witness his degradation. "Suddenly, in the market place, he stretched out his arm, and pronounced with a loud voice the uncancellable sacramental words, Hoc est corpus. All the contents of that vast mass were instantaneously transubstantiated! All the food in Seville was forthwith unavailable for any baser than eucharistic purposes, and Seville had to observe the vindictive priest's last day on earth as a very vigorous fast day."—[Temple Bar.

POOLS ON THE VICES.

"You know," said he "that New Year's day is a great swearing off time. Probably 5,000 persons in Buffalo alone have made up their minds to give up smoking chewing, drinking, swearing, gambling and other vices, great or small, on the 1st of January. What most of these good-resolve men most need is something at stake as an incentive to keep their self-pledges. Now, I am going to turn reformer's assistant. I'm going to sell pools on the different vices at $5 each. All those fellows who swear off on smoking, on paying me $5 can enter the smoking pool. The same with those who intend to stop swearing. Likewise those who intend to turn teetotalers. Each list will be kept in a separate book, and a printed slip of the names furnished to any one who wants it. When good evidence is brought to me that a good resolution has been broken, off goes the name from the books. At the end of six months the fellows who have stuck it through shall have the money, share and share alike.—[Buffalo Courier.

VARIETIES OF THE SOCIAL BLUNDERER.

One is he who blandly inquires after the (late) husband and hopes he is well, as he has not seen him lately; or after the divorced lady, whose presence he looks around him vacantly to espy. He then remarks on her absence, and inquires with feverish energy after her health. He it is who asks after the runaway daughter, or the scapegrace son, whose name is never mentioned at home, or recalls with a visible effort the name of the person he is addressing, and then mangles or mispronounces it. He remarks on a girl's ill looks to her mother, and discovers the fact when he has done so, or else puts his foot into it too deeply for extrication or apology.

He like-minded also who observes, for example, that her ladyship's dress is cut too low to her indignant lord, whom he mistook on entering for the butler, and then apologized on the ground that such had been his impression. Such folk are not generally popular. They mean no harm, but achieve a good deal. Sufferers are too apt to suppose some malice in their mistakes, of which they are for the most part quite innocent. They certainly repeat overheard remarks to the wrong people. They read fragments of letters aloud, and blurt out pieces of information they were bound to keep quiet; or they involve themselves deeply in explanations, and apologize to you for things they inadvertently uttered as to your character or prospects, which fill you with dismay. The society they adorn would gladly, if it could, exterminate; but they invariably presume a welcome, and disport themselves with a flattering assurance, only to plunge deeper into the slough of blundering, from which it is often impossible to extricate them. —[Saturday Queen.

A PAUPER'S DYING REQUEST.

An amusing and yet pathetic incident in what the poet Gray called "the short and simple annals of the poor," is told by Mr. John J. R. Micklejohn, one of the Inspectors of the Poor, at Sherwick, Shetland Islands. He says that some time ago an old woman, named Barbara Smith, came under the notice of the Board. She was extremely ill, and it did not look likely that she would long need care of any kind. She did not reside on the main land, but on a small island a few miles distant and there being no parochial institutions in that place, Barbara necessarily occupied the position of a pauper living out. The trouble from which she suffered dated back many years. In better and more prosperous days she had in some way laid the foundation for Chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and out of this had sprung other complaints as age and bodily infirmities crept apace upon her.

Barbara was not ignorant, albeit she had fallen into poverty. In earlier life she somehow obtained the advantage of a fair education, and this, added to native shrewdness, enabled her to use good judgment in respect to her own situation and state of health. Although she had long suffered from asthma and a bronchial affection, Barbara was wise enough to see that these ailments arose from the disordered stomach and digestion, and that if the main trouble could be cured the others would soon leave her. It is probable that her disease began as others do, with the usual symptoms: headaches, bad breath, the rising of the sour fluids in throat, oppression and faintness at the pit of the stomach, loss of sleep, coated tongue, dull eyes, bad taste in the mouth, &c., and finally became chronic and hopeless through her not being able to find any remedy. The Inspector states that she had been under medical treatment for years, but to no effect. In this strait she one day made the following touching appeal to the Inspector: "I have been swallowing medicines for months. They do me no good. I am going on from worse to worse. I can endure it no longer. I feel that in a week or two I shall be dead. There is one last request I would make of you: give me a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup; it is my only hope. If it proves a failure and does me no good I will die in peace, and make no more expense to the parish."

It seems she had got hold of one of Mother Seigel's Almanacks and read of the great cures wrought by the Syrup in cases like hers.

The Board pitied the poor lone woman and granted her petition, believing, however, the syrup would prove as useless as the other medicines she had already taken. What was their astonishment to find, in the course of a few days, that she had not only been able to get out of bed, but to move about outside the house, and had taken journeys to a considerable distance, and was actually enjoying better health than since she was first taken ill. The asthma and bronchitis, which were no more than symptoms of her true disease (indigestion and dyspepsia), rapidly abated, and it now seems that Barbara will soon be as hale and hearty as the Inspector himself, and be one of the hosts of living witnesses to the power of Mother Seigel's Syrup to save the thousands who were just ready to perish.

Mother Seigel's Curative Sryup is for sale by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 35 Farringdon Road, London, E. C.

Let me have a mild
CIGAR

THE ABOVE REQUEST IS HEARD daily in cigar stores, saloons and other places where cigars are sold, for it is an undisputed fact that most smokers prefer a mild cigar and that those who have for a long time smoked strong cigars, principally imported Manilas, will, after having thoroughly injured the stomach and impaired the nervous system, surely want a mild cigar, if they could find the right kind.

How many thousands of smokers who suffer from loss of appetite, headache, nervous irritability, asthma, etc., and who have tried all possible remedies without success, might be cured if they knew that their sufferings were caused by the intemperate use of strong cigars, and that they should only smoke mild and properly prepared ones.

It is a fact that all mild cigars agree well with smokers, for in most cases there is a lack of care in the selection of the tobacco, and often the necessary experience for it is wanting, yet there is one brand which suits the most fastidious smoker, and that is

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Under the above heading the Doncaster Reporter of July 6th, 1887, publishes the following in its editorial columns—

Our readers may recall the circumstance of a young clerk, named Arthur Richold, falling insensible on the Weatley Lane in this town some time ago, and being picked up, as he continued perfectly helpless, and taken in a cab by two gentlemen to the office of F. W. Fisher, Esq; the solicitor who employed him. On restoring him to consciousness it was ascertained that he was afflicted with what seemed to be an incurable disease. When he was able to speak he said he had been to his dinner and and was on his way back to his work, when suddenly his head was in a whirl and he fell in the street like a man who is knocked down. On coming to his senses in the solicitor's office he thought what this might mean, and feared he was going to have a fit of illness, which we all know is a very dreadful thing for a poor man with a family to care for.

With this in his mind he at once sought the best medical advice, telling the doctors how he had been attacked. They questioned him and found that his present malady was exhaustion of the nervous system resulting from general debility, indigestion, and dyspepsia of a chronic nature. This in turn had been caused by confinement to his desk and grief at the loss of dear friends by death. The coming on of this strange disease, as described by Mr. Richold, must be of interest both to sick and well. He had noticed for several years previously, in fact, that his eyes and face began to have a yellow look; there was a sticky and unpleasant slime on the gums and teeth in the morning; the tongue coated; and the bowels so bound and costive that it induced that most painful and troublesome ailment—the piles. He says there was some pain in the sides and back and a sense of fulness on the right side, as though the liver were enlarging, which proved to be the terrible fact. The secretions from the kidneys would be scanty and high-coloured, with a kind of gritty or sandy deposit after standing.

These things had troubled Mr. Richold a long time, and after his fall in the street he clearly perceived that the fit of giddiness was nothing more than a sign of the steadly and deadly advance of the complaint, which began in digestion and dyspepsia. His story of how he went from one physician to another in search of a cure that his wife and little ones might not come to want is very pathetic and touching. Finally he became too ill to keep his situation and had to give it up. This was a sad calamity. He was appalled to think how he should be able to live. But God raised up friends who helped to keep the wolf from the door. He then went to the seaside at Walton-on-the-Naze, but neither the change, nor the physicians who treated him there, did any good. All being without avail he visited London, with a sort of vague hope that some advantage might happen to him in the metropolis. This was in October, 1885.

How wonderful, indeed, are the ways of Providence, which dashes down our highest hopes and then helps us when we least expect it.

While in London he stated his condition to a friend, who strongly advised him to try a medicine which he called Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, saying it was genuine and honest, and often cured when everything else had failed. He bought a bottle of a chemist in Pimlico, and began using it according to the directions. He did this without faith or hope, and the public, may therefore judge of his surprise and pleasure when after taking a few doses he felt great relief. He could eat better; his food distressed him less; the symptoms we have named abated; the dark spots which had floated before his eyes like smuts of soot, gradually disappeared, and his strength increased. Before this time his knees would knock together whenever he tried to walk. So encouraged was he now that he kept on using Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup until it ended in completely curing him.

In speaking of his wonderful recovery Mr. Richold says it made him think of poor Robinson Crusoe, and his deliverance from captivity on his island in the sea; and added, "But for Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup the grass would now be growing over my grave."

Our readers can rest assured of of the strict truth of all the statements in this most remarkable case, as Mr. Richold (now residing at Swiss Cottage, Walton-on-the-Naze) belongs to one of the oldest and most respected families in the beautiful village of Long Melford, Suffolk, and his personal character is attested by so high an authority as the Rev. C. J. Martyn, rector of that parish, besides other excellent names. We have deemed the case of such importance to the public as to justify us in giving this short account of it in our columns.
