KING EDWARD IS ILL

SUFFERS FROM A CHILL AND LUMBAGO.

Was Obligated to Absent Himself From The Church Parade of The Aldershot Garrison—Not Serious.

LONDON, June 15.—King Edward is suffering from a chill, which prevented him from attending today's church parade of the Aldershot garrison. The chill came as a result of the King's prolonged stay outdoors last night on the occasion of the torchlight tattoo at Aldershot. The chill is a slight one, accompanied by symptoms of lumbago. The weather last night was extremely cold, and it rained at intervals before their majesties left the brigade recreation ground. King Edward returned to his apartments chilled from the unwanted exposure. Sir Francis Laking, physician in ordinary to his majesty, was summoned to Aldershot early this morning. He prescribed for the King and recommended that today be spent in perfect quiet. Queen Alexandra and the other members of the royal party attended the service at church, but remained in the royal apartments for the rest of the day. It has been learned that the King arose this afternoon. This is considered a good reason for hoping that his indisposition is only temporary. The Court Circular tonight publishes the following announcement: "King Edward was unable to leave his room today, owing to an attack of lumbago, caused by a chill."

LONDON, June 16.—King Edward's indisposition was announced too late to become generally known in London yesterday, but considering the near approach of the coronation it is bound to cause extreme anxiety. It is announced that his majesty is "run down" to some extent as a result of his constant attention, during the past few weeks, to numerous state duties and obligations, and in spite of the hope expressed at Aldershot last night that he would be able to attend the review of troops to be held there in a few days, it is now likely that Sir Francis Laking will forbid his majesty to run any further risks, especially as the weather continues to be cold and rainy. Sir Francis will probably enjoin the King to rest for another day.

SENTENCE CUT DOWN

REJOICINGS AMONG THE PORTUGUESE.

Manuel Castanha's Sentence Commuted To Thirty Days by President Roosevelt—Estee Joined Petition.

News of a commutation of sentence for Manuel Castanha, who is serving time for making and selling okolehoo, arrived from Washington this morning on the steamer Peking, and a telegram setting forth the fact was introduced in court by United States Attorney Breckons. It was dated at Washington on June 12 and is as follows: "Breckons, U. S. Attorney, Honolulu: The President has commuted sentence of Castanha to 30 days in jail. You may order his release at termination of period. Formal warrant of commutation to you by mail. "KNOX, Attorney General."

The petition for a pardon for Castanha was joined in by Judge Estee, who passed the sentence of 7 months, and by the federal officials here who engaged in the prosecution. Castanha was given the lowest sentence the law allowed, but it was felt that under the circumstances and on account of his age he was being harshly dealt with. In his letter to the attorney general of the United States, Breckons stated that it was not a very flagrant case, and that he thought the verdict of guilty promptly rendered by the jury in the case, and followed by sentence was sufficient to give notice to all that the federal laws were going to be carried out.

There was great rejoicing among the Portuguese friends of the oil prisoner when the news of his commutation of sentence was made known among them. Attorney Vivas, who was his counsel, gave hearty thanks for the aid of the federal officials, and said that the leniency of the government would do much to create loyal feelings towards the federal government here.

BROKOW'S NEW TUG

MAY HAVE AN OIL BURNER HERE SOON.

Reported on City of Peking that Former Master of Fearless Was to Come To Honolulu.

According to a report brought this morning by the City of Peking, Captain Gilbert Brokow, formerly master of the Spreckels tug Fearless is to return here shortly in command of an oil burning tug. No details of the arrival of the vessel or the identity of the owners of the new craft were given. It is not thought likely that the Spreckels interests will be at the back of Brokow in his venture, so it is surmised by people in Honolulu that he has left the service of that company. When Brokow left Honolulu for San Francisco, he made the announcement that he would soon be back in the Hawaiian Islands. He did not state how long he expected to leave the islands. No particular stock is therefore held by him to think that he would. So far as is now known, nothing positive on that subject has been learned and the report of his possibly having left that company, is merely a matter of conjecture. Just who would send an oil burning tug down to Honolulu is not clear. There is scarcely enough business here at the present time to keep one tug boat busy, and the result be so cut up that both would probably be run at a loss. No particular stock is therefore taken in the rumor and not until more definite reports shall have been received, will the matter receive serious consideration in Honolulu.

STATEHOOD FOR CUBA

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED BY SENATOR ELKINS.

Provides For the Admission of Cuba as a State of The Union With Cuba's Consent.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Senator Elkins today introduced a joint resolution in the Senate providing for the annexation of Cuba and its admission as a state of the Union. The resolution grants the consent of Congress to the action of the Republic of Cuba as a state of the Union, "to be called the State of Cuba, with a republican form of government, a constitution to be adopted by the people of said republic by deputies in convention assembled with the consent of the existing government." A condition is specified that the constitution of the proposed state shall be submitted to Congress not later than January 1, 1904. There is also a provision that the debts of Cuba shall not become a charge upon the general government. There is also an alternative provision giving the President, if he prefers, power to proceed in a more direct way for Cuba's admission as a state. This provision permits the administration under the terms of the resolution itself, "instead of proceeding to submit the resolution to Cuba as an overture on the part of the United States." If this latter course is pursued a state is to be formed "out of the present Republic of Cuba, with a republican form of government, and with representatives in Congress, and be admitted into the Union by this act, on an equal footing with the existing states as soon as the terms and conditions of such admission shall be agreed upon by the governments of the Republic of Cuba and the United States."

The resolution provides for the appropriation of $100,000 to carry its provisions into effect. Senator Elkins, speaking of the resolution introduced today for the annexation of Cuba, said that Texas was admitted under precisely the same terms as this resolution provided for Cuba. He said he preferred the admission of Cuba in preference to granting $6,000,000 a year on her account out of the revenues without knowing where it would go. By providing for the admission of Cuba there would be no difference in the Republican party on the subject of tariff relations with the island.

LILUOKALANI.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Former Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii and party are preparing to return to their former home in the islands of the Pacific. The date of departure has not been set, but it will probably be before July 1st. The former Queen has participated in the gayeties of the social season but lightly, but has spent a delightful winter in the national capital. Nothing but the intense heat of the past few days and the fear that it will be worse later drives her away.

APPEAL FOR THE CUBANS

ROOSEVELT URGES RECIPROCITY MEASURE AT ONCE.

SAYS THE CUBAN QUESTION STANDS ALONE.

Says Every Consideration of Honor and Expediency Urge the Relief that Reciprocity will Give—The Message.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The President today sent the following message to the Congress: "The Senate and the House: I deem it important, before the adjournment of the present session of Congress, to call attention to the following expressions in the message which, in the discharge of the duty imposed upon me by the Constitution, I sent to Congress last Tuesday, December last: 'Elsewhere I have discussed the question of reciprocity. In the case of Cuba, however, there are weighty reasons of morality and of national interest why the policy should be held to have a peculiar application, and I most earnestly ask your attention to the wisdom of the course which I have followed for a substantial reduction in the tariff duties on Cuban imports into the United States. Cuba has in her constitution affirmed what we desired, that she should stand, in international matters, in closer and more friendly relations with us than with any other nation. We are bound by every consideration of honor and expediency to pass commercial measures in the interest of her well-being.' This recommendation was merely giving practical effect to President McKinley's words when, in his message of December 5, 1898, and December 5, 1899, he wrote: 'It is important that our relations with this people (of Cuba) shall be of the most friendly character and our commercial relations close and reciprocal. We have accepted a trust, the fulfillment of which calls for the sternest integrity of purpose and exercise of the highest wisdom. The new Cuba yet to rise from the ashes of its past must needs be bound to us by ties of singular intimacy and strength if its enduring welfare is to be assured. The greatest blessing that can come to Cuba is the restoration of her agricultural and industrial prosperity.' 'Yesterday, June 12th, I received by cable from the American Minister in Cuba, a most earnest appeal from President Castro, in which he said: 'The time is too late, and the cause is already ruined.' The granting of reciprocity with Cuba is a proposition which stands entirely alone. The reasons for it far outweigh those for granting reciprocity with any other nation, and are entirely consistent with preserving intact the protective system under which this country has thriven so marvelously. The present tariff law was designed to promote the adoption of such a reciprocity treaty, and expressly provided for a reduction not to exceed 50 per cent upon goods coming from a particular country, saying that the tariff rates on the same articles, unchanged as regards all other countries. Objection has been made to the granting of the reduction on the ground that the substantial benefit would not go to the agricultural producer of sugar, but would inure to the benefit of sugar refiners. In my judgment provision can and should be made which will guarantee us against this possibility, without having recourse to doubtful policy, such as a bounty in the form of a refund."

The question as to which, if any, of the different schedules of tariff ought most properly to be revised does not enter into the matter in any way or shape. We are concerned with getting a friendly reciprocal agreement with Cuba. This arrangement applies to all the articles that Cuba grows or produces. It is not in our power to determine what these articles shall be, and any discussion of the tariff as it affects special schedules, or countries other than Cuba, is wholly aside from the subject matter to which I now call your attention."

Some of our citizens oppose the lowering of the tariff on Cuban products, just as three years ago they opposed the admission of the Hawaiian Islands, lest free trade with them might ruin certain of our interests here. In the actual event their fears proved baseless as regards Hawaii, and their apprehensions as to the danger to our interests here, own because of the proposed measure of reciprocity with Cuba seem to me equally baseless. In my judgment no American industry will be hurt, and many industries will be benefited by the proposed action. It is to our advantage in return, that economic conditions in Cuba be improved, and that the Cuban market should be controlled by American producers. The events following the war with Spain and the prospective building of the Isthmian canal render it certain that we must take in the future a far greater interest than hitherto in what happens throughout the West Indies, Central America and the adjacent coasts and waters. We expect Cuba to put us on an exceptional footing politically, and we should put her in the same exceptional position economically. The proposed action is in line with the course we have pursued as regards all the islands with which we have been brought into relations of varying intimacy by the Spanish war. Porto Rico and Hawaii have been admitted within our tariff lines, to their great benefit, as well as our, and without any of the feared relations in our own industries. The Hawaiian Islands, which stand in a different relation, have been granted substantial tariff exemptions. Cuba is an independent republic which has assumed no special obligations as regards her international position in compliance with our request. I ask for your certain special economic considerations in return, that economic conditions in Cuba be improved, and that the Cuban market should be controlled by American producers. There are few brighter pages in American history than the page which tells of our

APPEALS TO MAINLAND COURTS SAID TO BE THE ONLY RECOURSE NOW.

WAY APPARENTLY FREE FOR RAPID TRANSIT WORK.

Latest Injunction To Stop Work Already Completed Is Postponed A Week By Consent.

The Hawaiian Tramways Company, it is stated, has given up efforts to secure any decisions in its favor from the courts of this Territory, and hereafter relies upon its appeals to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals and to the Supreme Court of the United States. "The company has been advised by its lawyers," said Attorney Breckons this morning, when questioned as to future proceedings, "to submit if the courts here go against it, and to rely for its rights on the appeals." This does not mean in any way an abandonment of the legal warfare, but it does mean that there can be no developments, unless there are new injunctions. The application for an injunction to restrain the work on King street came up before Judge Estee this morning, and on motion of attorneys for the Hawaiian Tramways Company, it was continued for a week. The case is now of little importance, except as a straightening out of legal records, for the purpose of perfecting appeals. It is claimed by the attorneys for the Rapid Transit Company that the petition for an injunction only applies to the road that was completed last Saturday, and in the Rapid Transit Company's showing of cause why an injunction should not be granted, filed this morning by McClanahan, it was set forth among other things that the work asked to be stopped was already finished. The previous decisions, of all the courts here, on the same points as were involved in this latest application, were also set forth by the defendants. When the case was called Dunne, for the Tramways Company, asked that it go over for a week. He had only just been served with the defendant's showing of cause and hadn't had time to look it over. McClanahan consented and the postponement was ordered. The motion for a continuance amounted to an abandonment of the action as far as any effect, except an appeal can be had. "The tearing up of Pains' grades; rails on King street had been anticipated as a necessary preliminary to laying the Rapid Transit tracks, and it is said that the Tramways lawyers had a petition for an injunction ready in case work was begun. The work was finished by the time court opened this morning, however, and it was too late for injunction proceedings. According to the present view of the lawyers there is now nothing to prevent the Rapid Transit from going ahead with the construction of lines as planned. Some day there will come a final decision from Washington, and if Pains wins there will have to be a re-opening. It is likely to take years, however, to carry the various appeals along in the Circuit Court and get the matter before the highest court in the land, and in the meantime Pains may get a new franchise and put in electric cars also.

In the Rapid Transit Company's showing of cause, the submission on agreed facts to the Supreme Court of Hawaii, is first set forth, and it is claimed that the issue between the two companies was adjudicated then. After this decision, it is alleged, the matter was brought before the United States District Court and another decision was obtained. The respondent also sets forth that the matter is now before the Circuit Court of Appeals. Having submitted the matter to the Hawaiian Supreme Court by mutual agreement for the purpose of obtaining a decision, the petitioners are estopped from further questioning the matter, says the respondent. The showing says also: "As a further showing of cause this respondent avers that it is abundantly able to repair any damages to any temporary obstruction or interference with the operation on said King street of said car line of said petitioner which may be caused through the construction of this respondent's said car line, and that the issuance of a temporary injunction in this cause, if this Honorable court is vested with jurisdiction in the premises, would work to your respondent a loss and injury far in excess of any possible loss or injury which might or could result to petitioner through a refusal to issue said injunction.

"As a further and final showing of cause why the temporary injunction prayed for should not issue, this respondent alleges and shows unto this Honorable court that the construction of said railway on King street complained of by said petitioner in its said complaint is at this time fully finished and completed and ready for the running of cars thereon, and cars are now being regularly operated thereon.

ROYAL MAUSOLEUM

LILUOKALANI TO BE CONSULTED ABOUT REPAIRS.

The Executive Council Votes Down a Proposition To Extend the Honolulu Saloon Limits.

The Executive Council this morning received a report from Superintendent of Public Works J. H. Boyd to the effect that the Royal Mausoleum was in need of repairs. An appropriation was made by the last legislature for the repairing of the mausoleum, but it was decided that ex-Queen Liliuokalani should be consulted about the work, and the matter was postponed to await her return. Two applications for saloon licenses in Honolulu, outside of the saloon limits, were received. They were quickly disposed of, the council voting not to extend the limits. The Waianae Wine Company was granted a renewal of its license and an application received from A. F. Francis and Shimoto Gotaru, of Waianae, was laid over, as the council will give the Anti-Saloon League a chance to be heard on the matter before issuing a license. An application by Rear Admiral Mery for permission to use the government steam roller was approved, and the Oahu Railway's application for permission to change its tracks near its oil houses in Waikele was also approved.

REMARKABLE SIGHT.

A remarkable and extremely unusual sight is reported by the passengers on the Kinaiu last Saturday when off Kaunakakai, Molokai. Clearly visible from the deck of the steamer were all the islands of the group except Nihoa. The view embraced Hawaii, Maui, Lanai, Kahoolawe, Molokai, Oahu and, it is stated by L. A. Thurston, "the whole of the island of Kauai." The extreme clearness of the atmosphere is given as the explanation of the phenomenon, which, Purser Beckley says in all his experience, he had never seen before, and the nearest known approach to which is the reported experience of the late Captain Crane many years ago who saw Kauai from a point at sea near the port of Lahaina.

While the remarkable clearness of the atmosphere undoubtedly had much to do with the phenomenon, there are those who think that an element of surprise must have entered into the case to enable "the whole of Kauai" to be seen either by the Kinaiu passengers or by Captain Crane, as from the points from which the two phenomena are said to have been witnessed, "the whole of Kauai," or even any part of it could only be seen over Oahu, as a map of the group clearly shows. But an element of mirage while apparently a necessary element of the phenomenon does not in the slightest discredit the fact alleged by these fortunate observers. Prof. Lyons says, however, that the passengers were mistaken in thinking they saw Kauai. The highest mountain peak of Kauai is Waialeale, something less than 6000 feet high, about a mile in height. The farthest point at which this could be seen from the deck of a vessel is 96 statute miles or 82 marine miles, on account of the curvature of the earth, except by the aid of refraction or mirage which is extremely unlikely in this latitude. Prof. Lyons explains the phenomenon by saying that they probably saw the Kaunakakai and Waianae ranges of the mountains of Oahu with a strip of the horizon between and mistook the Waianae mountains for Kauai.

VERDICT ACCEPTED

ANOTHER PEARL HARBOR CASE SETTLED.

The Bishop Estate Withdraws Its Appeal and Agrees to Accept $52,737.50 For Its Land.

The defendants have decided to abandon the appeal in the case of the United States vs. the Bishop estate, involving Pearl harbor lands. The verdict of the jury, awarding $52,737.50 for the land of the Bishop estate, will be accepted, and the appeal now on the calendar of the Ninth Circuit court of appeals at San Francisco, will be withdrawn. In this case the government did not appeal, so that it is obliged to accept the Bishop estate's proposition to abide by its verdict. The land involved in this case, now settled, is the same as that in the case of the Honolulu Plantation company, on which an appeal is now being taken by the government. The Bishop estate had the title in fee, while the plantation company has a long lease. It is thought that the settlement of the Bishop Estate case may have some effect on the other case, which is now the only one of the Pearl Harbor cases unsettled. The plantation company's verdict was for $12,000. The Bishop Estate has notified United States Attorney Breckons of its abandonment of the appeal and papers are being prepared in final settlement of the case.

THE BIG FULLERTON

TO PLY BETWEEN VENTURA AND HONOLULU.

Highest Wooden vessel that was ever Built on the Pacific Coast—It a Four Masted Barkentine.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—"I name thee Fullerton!" said Miss Josephine Roller, as she dashed a beribboned bottle of wine against the bow of the largest wooden vessel ever built on the Pacific Coast. The launching, which was most successful, took place from the shipyard of Hay & Wright, Oakland, at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The whistles of all nearby ships and factories blew and several hundred spectators cheered as the great boat took her first dip into the water. Miss Roller, who cracked the bottle, is a daughter of F. R. Roller of the Union Oil Company, for which corporation the big craft was built.

The Fullerton is a four-masted barkentine and will ply between Ventura and Honolulu. Her measurements are: Length 275 feet; beam, 42.5 feet; depth, 21 feet; displacement, 1,900 tons. The interior of the hull is divided into sixteen large wooden tanks, each of which has capacity for 1,000 barrels. She was named after the district in which her owners obtain their oil. It was late in December of last year when the vessel's keel was laid. More than 1,200,000 feet of lumber has been used, and the total cost will reach $140,000.

The Fullerton will be finished in the steam yard within a month she will sail for Ventura to take in her first cargo of oil.

I have never had but one wife and she is with me at the present time. The story may be a political fake but it is scurrilous on the face of it." United States Judge Morris M. Estee was disagreeably surprised this morning on receiving the coast files to see in the Examiner of June 16 a dispatch alleging that his divorced wife of ten years ago had just died alone in a little room in Brooklyn, and made the foregoing statement in emphatic style. The following refutation had already been prepared by his secretary and the judge, who was considerably worked up over the affair, added to it vigorously. "I have seen the article referred to in the Examiner of the 16th inst. It is wholly untrue and absurd on its face. I lived in California since I was 18 years old. In fact until I came to the Islands. I was married there in 1862 to my present wife, who was the daughter of Judge Divine of San Jose, and who is now with me in the Islands. There are people living in California who were present at my wedding. My daughter Mrs. Charles J. Deering, the only child living, is at present in San Francisco. "I think this must be either a practical joke, or if so it is in very poor taste, or some mistake. The name is an unusual one, and I know of no other Judge Estee. "There are plenty of people in the Islands who know that the entire thing is false. Judge A. L. Rhodes of California, who is known here with me at my wedding in 1862 when I married my present wife, George McKenzie of Hilo was sheriff of my county at the time and there are many others who can corroborate my statement if such a thing is necessary. My wife and I have been married nearly forty years and she is living with me today, while my daughter who returned to San Francisco a short while ago, is thirty. And yet the Examiner's article claims that I was divorced from a woman who is now dead, only ten years ago. "I cannot understand the reason for the attack. No such charges were made against me during my political campaign. I should be obliged if you will refute the matter in your columns, publishing my statement, every word of which is true. Of course the story is libellous but I am not dealing in libel suits just now. "The attack upon the judge brought many callers to his office this morning to offer their regrets and express their entire disbelief in the Examiner's story which is headed "Special by leased wire" and reads as follows: NEW YORK, June 15.—Mrs. Sarah Estee, divorced wife of Morris M. Estee twice a candidate for Governor of California and defeated both times, was found dead this morning in her room in a Brooklyn house, No. 100 Nassau street kept by Mrs. Seymour. Ten years ago Mrs. Estee divorced her husband, who was for years one of California's leading Republican politicians and a wine grower. His wife's charges figured against him when he ran for Governor in 1894, and the Democratic candidate was elected. Estee was also defeated in 1882 for the same office. Mrs. Estee was one of the belles of Memphis when, as Sally Phillips, she married the Californian. Her mother still lives there. The wife got a substantial alimony, but crushed in spirit, she resolved never to return to Tennessee, where at one time she held undisputed sway as the prettiest and most dashing girl in the State. Heartbroken she came to Brooklyn, where one or two friends of bygone years were living. They died, and finally she lived a life wholly secluded, seeing no one and taking no interest in the world outside her tiny hall room. Her mother was notified by telegraph, and the body will be shipped to Memphis tomorrow. Estee is now United States Judge in Hawaii.

MISSION INDIANS. LOS ANGELES, June 6.—The commission recently appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate the needs of the Warner's Ranch Indians and select a new reservation for the last remaining tribes of Southern California, has commenced its labors and is now on the way to Warner's ranch. The party, which consists of Charles F. Lumsden, R. Allen of San Diego, and Richard C. Cogan of California, accompanied by William Collier of Riverside, special attorney for the Mission Indians, and Miss Haskins, official stenographer, is making the trip in an old-style prairie schooner, equipped for a trip of several weeks. A conference will first be held with the Indians at Warner's ranch, after which the commission will inspect the different tracts of land offered for the new home of the tribes.

MRS. BOTKIN MAY GO FREE. DOVER, Del., June 9.—It was reported here today that the authorities of the San Francisco criminal courts are not willing to grant remuneration to the Delaware witnesses needed to retry Mrs. Cordella Botkin, accused of the murder of Mrs. John P. Dunning of Dover by means of poisoned candy, except a reasonable per diem and actual expenses. This it is contended, the witnesses are unwilling to accept for the enforced stay of seven weeks or more from their homes and the perils of a transcontinental trip, and unless an agreement can be reached, it is feared Mrs. Botkin may go free.

NO PROFITS. TACOMA (Wash.), June 6.—Statements made public by the Minister of Public Works at Dawson contain the information that the total cost of the Yukon telegraph line, built by the Dominion Government from Ashcroft to Klondike, was $768,224. This includes the cost of stations. Seventy offices are maintained along the line. The revenue from the line has been from $600 to $900 per month, and much of the time wires were down. It is proposed to put in land cables this summer in the most troublesome places, and little difficulty is expected next winter. Up to this time the revenue has been scarcely sufficient to cover the expenses of operation, and the line has made no profit. During the year beginning June 1st it is expected to earn $125,000 and probably more.

ATHLETICS.

Interest is beginning to center very strongly about the young men who have gone down to the Peninsula to get into proper training for the coming boat races. The city has its devotees in various sports, and the young men show up well in what they undertake. Considering that this is a tropical country it is wonderful the amount of energy shown in athletics. As long as they are carried on in a clean sportsman-like manner, there is no fear that either the energy or the interest will die out. But as soon as any sport degenerates into professionalism, it begins to lose ground and falls into the hands of the gambling fraternity who look to making money by "fixing" up deals, and the sport becomes uncleanly. Many a fine sport, which it carried on in a sportsman-like manner would be high in popular favor, has fallen back on this account.

Baseball suffered from professionalism, but the line between professional baseball and amateur baseball is now sharply drawn. Football suffered from a like cause, and in many other lines of sport professionalism spread its baleful wings, but through the efforts of high-minded amateurs, the fight of the true athlete has been won, and the proper field left open for both the amateur and the professional.

There is nothing that is better for young men and we are beginning to find out, for young women also, than healthy out-of-door sport. All universities and colleges encourage such sports. Of course like any other good thing athletics may be overdone. Too much time may be devoted to them, they may occupy too high an estimation among the rising generation, but such things can be regulated. There is nothing good upon this earth that cannot be abused. Food is good, but people can over-eat themselves; wealth is a good thing in moderation, but the seeker after wealth often abuses it. Social life is an excellent thing, but the giddy whirl of a society, which is ever seeking to amuse itself and is careless and frivolous, is only an abuse of a good thing. But because a thing can be abused, it is not necessarily to be abandoned.

If athletics have been found to be of benefit to the students at universities, still more are they of benefit to the young men who are engaged in sedentary occupation in business offices and stores. It is to the greatest advantage of the employer that his young men should strengthen their muscles and clear their brains by exercising in the open air. As a rule the employers of Honolulu see this, and encourage in various ways their young men to undertake field sports. They give them time, they subscribe to their clubs, they offer prizes for competition, and they take a personal interest in their success. No money is better spent than this.

But there are employers who do not care for their young men's welfare. Who regard them as mere machines to work or run so many hours a day. Who would rather that they should not interest themselves in athletics. It is such men who drive youths for their recreation to gambling, drinking and other reprehensible habits. These men too, have their reward in dishonored and silted work, and in the early breakdown of their employes. Fortunately such cases are rare on our Islands.

Some years ago one of the great drawbacks to our athletics was that they were very apt to be run into the ground. Our climate is so equable, that sports, which in the temperate zone, are ruled by the duration of the seasons, might here be continued indefinitely the year through, the result being that those taking part would lose their interest. When we first began to take a definite interest in athletic sport this was a danger, but it is one which in yachting parlance we have weathered.

If we have no very "great" climatic changes, we have enough to enable us to talk of summer and winter and to lay down "seasons" arbitrarily. There is no reason, for instance, why polo should not be played the year round. Yet it would be a very bad thing for the interest taken in the game that it should be carried on the year through, and the same is true of all sports. Thus we have our polo season, our football season, our baseball season, our boating season, and our yachting season. We lay these seasons down upon the seasons of the temperate zone, and we find that we obtain good results.

We have our boating and yachting seasons on now, and the harbor, Pearl reefs, and the bordering sea, will be alive with small craft during the coming months of July, August and September. The two great rowing races of the year take place, one in July and one in September, and both call attention upon themselves while there are many minor events which are of great interest. There can be nothing better for recreation than this healthy sport and emulation. The young men should be urged to strive to excel those whose day is past, should show their interest both by being present at the races, and by ample donations towards the necessary expenses. It is money well spent.

A WRECKED PROPERTY.

The days of Pain Noah's arks are numbered. Rapid transit is cutting in to his business enormously. The line from town to the Kamehameha schools has been running at a serious loss for some time past. King street from town to the Waikiki turn has now fallen into the hands of the Rapid Transit, and by the quashing of the injunction against crossing the McCully tract, the Rapid Transit cars will soon be running to Waikiki. When that source of income is gone Pain's arks will have been driven to a stand still, and the weary and boney mule, the spavined horse, and the impudent driver will alike take a rest together.

The evidence which came out at the trial for staying the injunction showed Pain's hand to no very great advantage to Pain. He played a game which certainly very few would have stooped to, and when the clear searchlight of the law was turned upon it, the nigger in the fence became plainly visible. Methods such as Pain has used are not those which will win him friends or sympathizers, while they are very apt to disgust those who have, up to the present, sided with him.

If ever there was a lost opportunity it has been with regard to the tram car system. Everything was in its favor. When it started it was regarded as a boon. But instead of improving it has gradually gone from bad to worse. Instead of being a public benefit, it has become a public nuisance. The comfort of the public has been ostentatiously ignored. More fare has been exacted than the franchise warranted, and it required a case or two in court to settle that difficulty. The cars have been and are dirty, the services irregular, and the drivers take their cue from the manager as to their attitude towards the public.

The shareholders in England will soon begin to kick and most likely there may be a committee sent out here to investigate. It will arrive too late. When it reaches these shores it will be only to find that the attitude of the manager has wrecked the property.

IS A SWAN POULTRY?

The Board of General Appraisers has some curious questions presented to it for decision. Some one in Port Townsend imported a pair of swans, bred in captivity, and was promptly assessed three cents a pound for them as "poultry." To this was objected that swans were not "poultry," but were exempt from duty as "land and water fowls." The Appraisers discuss learnedly.

"If swans are not poultry, within the meaning of the former paragraph, they are, beyond dispute, adequately described by the latter. We need, then, only consider the sense of the term 'poultry' as used in paragraph 278, in its bearing on this case. An authoritative definition is as follows:—

Poultry. (1) Domestic fowls collectively; those birds which are ordinarily kept in a state of domestication for their flesh, eggs, or feathers; as the domestic hen, turkeys, guinea-fowls, geese and ducks. Pigeons are not ordinarily included in the term, nor are pheasants or other birds which are kept in preserves for sporting purposes. (Century Dictionary.)"

The Encyclopaedia Britannica (title "Swan") speaks of the swan as—

A large swimming bird, well known from being kept in a half-domesticated condition throughout many parts of Europe, whence it has been carried to other countries.

This authority does not discuss the swan under the caption of "Poultry," if there says—

The aquatic birds which are strictly entitled to be considered domesticated poultry are the duck and the goose.

In all probability, it relegates the swan to separate consideration upon the same ground with the peacock, which it says "is to be regarded rather as an ornamental than as a poultry bird."

It is observed in another place that the peacock "can hardly be accounted an inhabitant of the poultry-yard, but rather an ornamental denizen of the pleasure ground or shrubbery." (Ib., title "Peacock.")

In this respect there is a close analogy with the swan, which is commonly thought of as adorning the garden pool or park mere, and is not associated with ordinary barnyard fowl. It is with reference to the latter class that the term "poultry" is used in the statute. Its collocation with the word "dressed" confirms this, as indicating that the term applies more directly to poultry ordinarily used for food. It is true that the swan's flesh is edible, particularly that of the young (cygnets), and its plumage has commercial value, but it can scarcely be said that the swan is "ordinarily kept" for either purpose. (Note generally Encyc. Brit., Century Dic., caption "Swan.") Swan's down seems to be largely the product of the wild swan. (Spon's Encyc., VII, 1, p. 263.)

It has been assumed that the birds in question are tame, as distinguished from wild swans. The classification of the latter would be governed by various Board decisions holding that wild geese and wild ducks are not dutiable as poultry.

And after a grave summing up it is decided that the swan is not "poultry" within the meaning of the act. Who says there are no humor in the custom house. Now the next thing to classify should be an ornithorynchus paradoxus or duck-billed platypus. Would it be a bird or a beast? Would it be poultry or domestic animal? There would be fun at the custom house with a duck-billed platypus.

gains in the share which she furnishes of the importations of Japan. The "Annual Returns of the Foreign Trade of the Empire of Japan," show that the United States which in 1881 furnished less than 6 per cent of the imports of Japan, supplied 17 per cent of those imports in 1901; and that the United Kingdom, our chief rival in that trade, which supplied over 5 per cent of those imports in 1881, furnished but 29 per cent of Japan's importations in 1901. The total value of Japan's imports from the United States in 1881 was 1,781,108 yen, and in 1901, 42,769,429 yen. The total value of Japan's imports from the United Kingdom in 1881 was 16,864,740 yen, and in 1901 was 59,575,788. The United States now stands second in the list of non-Asiatic countries in the imports of Japan, and falls but a few thousand yen below India, the only Asiatic country which ranks with the United States in the imports of Japan.

Dr. J. H. Raymond, former president of the Board of Health, says: "I cannot speak too highly of the Self Working Rat Trap which I purchased from you a few weeks ago. This trap should be generally used in Honolulu and I unhesitatingly recommend it."

THE MAILE SALOON

PARTNERS DISAGREE OVER IT.

A Dispute Also Over the License Secured Recently By Denver Ed. Smith.

The case of Thomas Nash, charged with selling liquor without a license, as a result of a dispute over the ownership of the Maile saloon, a new place just opened, was ended by a nolle prosequi this morning before Judge Humphreys. Assistant Attorney General Douthitt appeared before the court and stated that the warrant had been secured as a means of trying to settle a row that should be taken to the civil courts, and the Attorney General's Department did not want to prosecute.

The Maile Saloon was supposed to be the property of C. H. Brown, H. F. Lewis and J. D. Holt, but the license was secured in the name of Brown. There was a disagreement among the members of the copartnership and Brown took the license away. The saloon kept on, however, under the claim that the license was the property of the company and Brown secured the arrest of the bar-keeper for selling liquor without a license.

The Attorney General holds that the other partners have a right to use the license, and they have secured a certified copy from Treasurer Wright. Licenses are always made out in the name of some one person, and it is claimed that Lewis and Holt put up the money for the license in this case. The matter will probably be settled in the civil courts.

The license secured recently by Denver Ed. Smith, is said to be involved in the same sort of a dispute. Smith got the license over six weeks ago, and though it is running along at the rate of $1,000 a year, he has not yet opened up. The Territory has the cash, and no saloon had as yet begun to use the license.

The treasurer has refused to allow any sales of licenses, holding that the documents are not transferable, and if the holders cannot come to terms, the money paid is a loss.

dealings with Cuba during the past four years. On her behalf we waged a war of which the mainspring was generous indignation against oppression, and we have kept faith absolutely. It is earnestly to be hoped that we will complete in the same spirit the record so well begun, show in our dealings with Cuba that steady continuity of policy which is essential for our Nation to establish in foreign affairs if we desire to play well our part as a world power.

We are a wealthy and powerful nation. Cuba is a young republic, still weak, because she needs it, because we have already aided her. I ask that she be given the help she needs, that she be given the help she needs, that she be given the help she needs. shifts, three hundred in all being placed on the construction. They will work day and night until the length of King street is covered with the rails when the service will be immediately started.

The start last night was a complete surprise to everyone not in the immediate vicinity. The men started from the power house at twelve fifteen in ignorance of their destination. A man was detailed from the police department to look out for possible disturbances, but none occurred. Camarinos, remarking that it was "very touching" opened up his fruitery and turned on his lights to aid the workers.

The new track runs almost over the line of Pain's displaced girders, close to the market curbing. Some of the owners of big stores on King have expressed a fear that they would have trouble with their delivery wagons which would not be able to back up with heavy loads without obstructing the rails. Some expressed the belief that eventually the rails would be removed to the center of the road where the mule carts still move. Manager Ballentyne stated this morning that the present rails were now in a double track position and that any future work which might be done would be the laying of another track, not the removing of the present one.

Considerable interest was aroused when the rails which have been removed were discovered to have been badly corroded and oxidized. Much speculation was dealt in as to the cause and the question of protecting the rails that are now going down. Manager Ballentyne thought the salt water used for sprinkling might be responsible, but Assistant Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell said that while salt water had been used, that section of King was only sprinkled with fresh water from the well in the Public Works stables since the rails had been laid.

The girders were badly rusted, the edges having crumbled away in some instances half an inch or more. The soil and the possible salts in it or the sand were seriously thought to have caused the corrosion. It was generally accepted that the sprinkling must have done something to do with it. Manager Ballentyne was much interested and will look closely into the matter. Not only the lower portion of the girders were affected, the cross ties being badly corroded as well.

The question of removing the old Hawaiian company's rails from where they now lie by the curbing, is still in statu quo. The Public Works will undoubtedly order them removed under penalty of sale, but it is yet to be determined who will receive the command. It is not thought that Pain will take them away unless he is forced to and the Rapid Transit officials believe that they have done all that they are legally called on to do by removing them out of their road without obstructing the sidewalks. Should they cart them away it is on the cards that they would be sued for damages by Pain for illegally removing his property.

KING STREET TROLLEY

RAPID TRANSIT SERVICE IS INAUGURATED.

The "First Car" is Greeted With Cheers by the King Street People—The Service Yesterday.

Completely consummating its plans and the rapid work in track laying which has been going on for two weeks, the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company began running its electric cars over the king street line as far as the Waikiki turn yesterday morning. The finishing touches to the track laying and preparation were completed Saturday afternoon, and about 3:30 o'clock the first car ran over the line. This car was decorated with American flags, and carried Manager C. G. Ballentyne and other officials of the road together with invited guests. It started from the power house on Alapai street ran down to King and then out King and back to the power house. The residents of King street were out in force to see the long-hoped-for "first car." And from one end of the line to the other the trip was an ovation. Cheers greeted it throughout its course. The people of King street and of the territory tributary to that thoroughfare, were jubilant and in a celebrating mood.

The regular service over the line began early Sunday morning and scores of King street people rode over the line just to make sure it was not a dream. The King street cars run from the Waikiki turn to Alapai, thence switch back on Alapai to the power house where it meets the car from Punahou. Thence the two cars go on through town together as far as Liliha street, the King street car going on to Kailiha, and the Punahou cars up Liliha. Converging on the return trip at King and Liliha, the two cars go on through town together, separating again at Alapai. Track laying is proceeding rapidly out King street beyond the Waikiki turn. It will be laid to intersect with the line coming down Alexander street from Punahou, and thence through the McCully tract to the Waikiki road and thence to the park.

A VERY HARSH LAW

CONDEMNATION OF SCHOONER KAWAILANI

United States Judge Estee Explains the Reason For the Severity in Internal Revenue Statutes.

The severity of the law in the case of the schooner Kawailani, condemned on account of two gannon demijohns of opoenoa being found on board her, has occasioned no little comment, in passing on the case Judge Estee referred to in this feature of the statute, as follows:

"A consideration of the facts that influenced Congress in the passage of these laws apparently so harsh in their nature, enables us to appreciate the necessity for the same. The many opportunities afforded to evade the internal revenue laws and the numerous violations thereof doubtless induced Congress to pass these stringent measures so as to not alone punish the guilty trespasser against the law, but also to impress upon the owners of property the necessity for a vigilance in the selection of their agents or lessees, or those to whom they intrust the same, that the property may not be put to illegal purposes. In the making of these laws, Congress trusted to the strong sense of self-protection that actuates men to impress upon them by these very laws a prudence and a vigilance that would be a factor in the prevention of many of these frauds upon the government.

"Thus in the case of the United States vs. Two Horses, (Fed. Case No. 16,578) the court said: The reason why this express provision was made in respect to the forfeiture of things used in removing spirits contrary to law was to link the fate of the vehicle with that of the article conveyed in order to deter parties from putting their vehicles at the disposal of those who would be likely to use them for purposes of fraud. . . It is expected that the owner of property will see to the uses made of it at his peril.

"The courts have nothing to do with the character or policy of these laws; the single duty of the court is to enforce them. In pursuance of that duty, the court holds in this case that from all the testimony presented okoleha is distilled spirits and a most dangerous intoxicant; that this liquor is okoleha; that it was made in this Territory; that it was illicitly manufactured and has paid no internal revenue tax, and that Captain Moses knew these facts when he secreted it on board the schooner Kawailani; that the depositing, secreting and removal of this liquor on board his said vessel was done with intent to defraud the government of the United States of the tax due upon it. No testimony appearing to the contrary the court will presume that from all the circumstances surrounding the case, the liquor was distilled since the annexation of the territory by the United States, and that in any event it was liable to the tax prescribed by the laws of the United States."

The amount of the sentence is $1,250. This is amount of the bond put up and accepted, for the schooner. The court here had no option but to condemn the vessel, which amounts to a fine of $1,250. An appeal to Washington for mitigation may be made and will receive endorsements of many connected with the case, as this is the first case of the kind here.

POLITICS

The meeting of the Aloha Aina Club for the purpose of making nominations of candidates to the Legislature will be held in Hilo, July 2. The Hilo Republican Precinct Club June 13 nominated the following: President, T. C. Ridgway, first vice-president, Dr. Milton Rice; second vice-president, A. C. McKeeney; Secretary, C. N. Froudy; assistant secretary, A. Richley; treasurer, William Ebeling, Bert Schoen and N. C. Wilfrong; Judges of election, F. S. Lyman, J. T. Stacker, J. D. Marlin and Jim Morris; executive committee, G. F. Affonso, L. A. Andrews, E. E. Richards, J. T. Brown, William Todd, S. L. Desha, J. C. Smith, R. T. Guard, William Vannaita, Joe Vierra and W. H. Little.

Owing to absence of a quorum at a meeting of the officers of the Hilo Republican District Club on Monday, June 16, action was postponed until Monday night June 23. HILO POLITICIANS GLAD. All Territorial officials in Hilo have received notice this week from Governor Dole to the effect that they must not in any way mix in politics. The boys over here are feeling rather good about it as it gives them a pretty good foundation for an excuse not to contribute to the campaign fund. The purpose of the order is plain, but its purpose is difficult to fathom. If the present office holders must lay to and be quiet there are so few on the outside who are interested in the issues this fall that the outlook is better than ever for a lonesome campaign.—Hilo Tribune.

OLAA REPUBLICANS.

The Oloa Republicans have nominated the following officers: For President—S. G. Walker, G. D. Supe, W. M. McQuaid, Dr. Henry Hayes. For First Vice-President—W. S. Ward, E. A. Horan. For Second Vice-President—F. J. Williams, Harry Wicks. For Secretary—Joseph Lino, A. G. Curtiss.

UNSOLVED TRAGEDY.

WAILUKU, June 21.—On Tuesday evening the body of an unknown Chinaman was washed up on the beach near McGregor's Landing beyond Malaea Bay. No wounds were found on the body, and he had apparently been dead about three days when discovered. A coroner's inquest was held but no clue was discovered as to his identity or the cause of drowning. A Chinese store keeper at Kihai states that a Chinese tailor has been missing from Kihai since Saturday night, and he examined the remains which had been so disfigured by the action of the waves that he could not identify the man as the missing tailor.

COLD STORED FISH.

The Legislature of Newfoundland has provided liberally for the installation of a cold storage system for the fisheries of the colony. All the fish now caught there are cured and salted for the market, found principally in the Mediterranean ports and Brazil, and it is hoped to open up new markets for the codfish salmon and other fish and lobsters in a fresh state.

PLANT ANESTHETICS.

A German chemist has prepared a fluid that is said to have the power, when injected into the tissue of a plant, near its roots, of anesthetizing the plant. As a result of this injection the plant does not die, but stops growing, maintaining its fresh, green appearance, though its vitality is apparently suspended. Changes in temperature seem in no wise to affect the foliage, for the plant blooms in the open as well as in the most carefully constructed greenhouse.

WORK ON THE CABLE TO ABOLISH BOUNTIES

MACKAY COMPANY ASKS FOR A FRANCHISE.

Wants the Right to Lay an Underground Conduit in San Francisco Connecting Landing and Offices.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Lloyd and Wood, attorneys for the Commercial Pacific Company, have filed with the clerk of the board of Supervisors a petition for a franchise to lay down and operate an underground conduit, with conduit boxes and manholes. The route selected for the conduit is described as follows: "Beginning at the intersection of Fulton street with Forty-seventh avenue, and thence running north along said Forty-seventh avenue to Cliff avenue, thence easterly along Cliff avenue to Point Lobos avenue, thence east along Point Lobos avenue to Geary street; thence east along Geary street to Market street; thence along Market street to a point opposite the Hobart building, 534 Market street, and into the said building."

It is stated in the petition that it is intended "to lay down, maintain and operate" a submarine cable between San Francisco, Honolulu and Manila, the cable to be now in process of manufacture and that the work of laying it from a point on the ocean beach near Forty-ninth avenue and Fulton street will be begun within the next ninety days. The franchise asked covers the right to join the submarine cable with a land cable placed in underground conduits and connected with telegraphic instruments and machinery in the office of the company at 534 Market street.

The pipe to be used by the company is already here and the man who has been chosen to supervise the work is on his way. A lot for the testing machinery has been bought at the corner of Forty-seventh and Cliff avenues, and it is promised that work will begin on the creation of a building at once. The laying of conduits will begin as soon as a permit can be secured.

VICTORIA (B. C.), June 12.—C. Reynolds, chairman of the Pacific Cable Board, who has charge of the construction of the all-British cable from Bamfield Creek, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, to Australia and New Zealand, arrived here on the steamer Aorangi yesterday and proceeded to Bamfield Creek. Before leaving Suva he opened the three spurs which were laid by the steamer Anglia, connecting Suva and Norfolk Island, a distance of 100 miles; Norfolk Island and Queensland, a distance of 850 miles, and from Norfolk Island to New Zealand, a distance of 750 miles. All these lines are now being kept busy.

Reynolds says the cable will be completed by the latter part of November or early in December, a full month earlier than the contract calls for.

SOLDIER DIES

Private Neucholl of the Marine Corps died at the Army hospital at 730 Saturday morning of pulmonary tuberculosis. He was left here by the tugboat Manila. He was a native of Philadelphia and was about 26 years old. He had seen service at the battle of Tien Tsin and the siege of Peking, and had an excellent record. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from H. E. Williams' undertaking establishment. The services were conducted by a priest from the Catholic mission. Twenty men from the Legation acted as escort for the remains. Full military honors were accorded.

DICKINSON IN HILO.

Mr. Dickinson, representing the Mackay Cable Company arrived in Hilo by the Kinau to investigate the situation with reference to the advisability of connecting the Island of Hawaii with Oahu by cable. It has been practically determined that a cable between Honolulu and the mainland will be completed by the end of the year. Upon the representations made by Hilo business men and plantation he came to see for himself and report either for or against an inter-island cable. Mr. Dickinson is accompanied by E. S. Boyd and Mr. Perkins. At the Hotel yesterday morning, Mr. Perkins met and discussed the situation with a number of Hilo businessmen. He went to Puna by the eleven o'clock train and will visit all portions of the island, sounding the opinion of the business public on the cable question. Mr. Perkins will return to Honolulu by the next Kinau.—Hilo Tribune.

The band will play this evening at Emma square. The program is as follows: March—"Our Guiding Star"; Wright Overture—"Semiramis"; Rossini Selection—"A Runaway Girl"; Monckton Songs— a) "My Adeline," b) "The Gray and the Blue," Mrs. N. Alapai. (c) "Marie Louise" (d) "Cora." Miss J. Kellias.

PART II.

Selection—"Musical Review"; Riviere Waltz—"The Wandering Minstrel"; Kiesler Mazurka—"The Czarina"; Ganne Finale—"Florodora"; Stuart "Aloha Oe." "Hawaii Bonnet." "Star Spangled Banner."

OZONE.

Ozone is what chemists call an allotropic form of oxygen—that is to say, it is oxygen in a highly active and concentrated condition. In ordinary pure air (says Health) ozone exists, but in what chemists call "traces." Larger amounts are found in sea and mountain air. It instantly disappears when brought in contact with decaying matter, dissipating itself, as it were, in the act of oxidizing that matter.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 12.—The Finance Minister, Dr. de Lukacs, announced in the Hungarian Diet today that he will shortly introduce a bill providing for the abolition of sugar bounties in Hungary, and will make proposals which the Government thought would be beneficial to the sugar industry of the country.

AN ARTISTIC SUCCESS.

Mrs. Gunn's Dancing Classes Give Successful Performance.

The pupils of Mrs. Mary Gunn's dancing class gave a most interesting exhibition of their accomplishments on Saturday evening at the opera house. The entertainment was voted the best of its kind that has yet been given, a special feature being the effectively designed and varied costumes adopted by the pupils. Eight jaunty little maidens in red garrison jackets, befringed with white trimmings and wearing the regulation "Tommy" cap in swagger style made a pretty picture as did the daisies of the moment with powdered hair, patches cunningly placed near rosy dimples, and panned costumes of 150 years ago. Other specially costumed dances were "Coming thro' the Rye" and twenty graceful girls in simple Grecian gowns "receiving willowy" pines" in fashion that gave values for the teaching of the mistress of the dance. Thelma Murphy made a big hit as a Deutcher-kind being perfectly self possessed with her singing and dancing. Louise McCarthy's Highland Fling was perfect in its execution the dance being the star of the performance of the evening. All the pupils from the wee totts to those "standing with reluctant feet" on the brink of womanhood acquitted themselves in a fashion that was equally a credit to teacher and class. The Dillingham quartet sang during the evening and an effective naïveté orchestra whirled away the time between the short waits made necessary by scene shifting and arranging the children between the numbers.

HAWAII AGAIN!

Washington, June 13.—A resolution was offered by Mitchell of Oregon, directing the Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico to inquire into the general condition of Hawaii, the administration of affairs there, the quality, condition and value of the public lands in Hawaii; the crown lands and the title of the former Queen therein; with power to sit during the recess and by sub-committee to visit the islands if necessary and to report at the beginning of the next session. Hear proposed an amendment to the resolution, providing that the committee should inquire whether the former Queen has any claim against the United States, legal or equitable, by reason of having parted hitherto with her title. Mitchell accepted the amendment and the resolution was referred to the Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico.

CRICKET AT MAKIKI.

L. Blackman played good clean cricket on Saturday at Makiki retiring "not out" with a score of 41 "off his own." It was controlled by good clean hitting very few chances being given. Morse for the other eleven made 27 before being caught. The two eleven were captained by S. Beardmore, who was retained by a duck's egg and C. P. Morse. Despite Beardmore's hard luck his team won by five runs. Today the eleven who are to play in the coronation games will be chosen by the sports committee.

SATURDAY BASEBALL.

The Malles were defeated by the "Customs" team Saturday afternoon after a desperate attempt to tie the score in the last half of the ninth, up to which time it looked like a shut out for the green and yellow nine. Kiwa pitched better ball for the Customs than he had heretofore exhibited but the Smugglers won by a score of 10 to 0. The game was unexciting at the start but assumed interest in the third when the Smugglers scored. Anderson made a sensational catch in the outfield and Harry Wilder showed that he was still able to hold them. Kamehameha against Punahou was a miserable affair after the third innings. Babbitt pitched more balls than strikes and there were plenty of errors on both sides. The final score was 12-5 in favor of the Kams.

MUSIC FOR KAUAU.

Government Band Returns From Its Trip. Kappelmeister Berger and the government band returned yesterday morning in the steamer W. G. Hall from a tour of the island of Kauai, where the people have enjoyed a couple of weeks of concerts. This evening the band takes up work in Honolulu again, with a concert at Emma Square.

The players had plenty of hard work on Kauai, giving 18 concerts during 12 days while they were away. There were large crowds at every concert. Captain Berger and all the members of the band speak of their trip as a very happy experience and have many thanks for the treatment received from the people of Kauai, who were glad to have their turn with the band.

GROW TIRED OF ISOLATION

For the first time in its history, or since Fletcher Christian and his fellow-mutineers of the English ship Bounty ran the vessel ashore and took up their residence there, in 1790, the famous island of Pitcairn, in the South Pacific, is to have regular communication with the outside world, of which most of the pious descendants of the mutineers know so little. Ever since the Boston ship Topaz accidentally discovered the remaining castaways and their children on Pitcairn it has only been an occasional ship that has stood in from the horizon and given the islanders an idea of other men. Sometimes a year passed without a ship; but the people of Pitcairn were not dissatisfied with their isolation, and the romance that attached to the picturesque spot remained through the generations. Now word comes from Tahiti that Pitcairn has thrown off its reserve, at least so far as a willingness to rub elbows with the rest of mankind is concerned.

Philip Coffin, an old man who was shipwrecked on Pitcairn twenty or more years ago, is mainly responsible for the new order of things. Coffin came here three years ago in the brig Gallies from Pitcairn on a business trip, but later found it difficult to return to his far home. He sailed from here many months ago in the British ship Silbertown, bound for England, with the promise from the skipper that he would be landed on Pitcairn. Adverse winds made this impossible and Coffin was carried to England. He came back in the ship and finally managed to reach Tahiti a few months ago. There he met Russell McKay, Governor of Pitcairn, who had gone to Papeete from Manga Reva in the ship Pyreneas, which he had helped to save from destruction. In a letter just received from Coffin the old man says he has prevailed on McKay to buy a good-sized schooner at Papeete, in which both men, accompanied by Coffin's daughter, who had heard of his arrival at Tahiti and had gone in an island trading schooner to meet him, were about to sail for their rock-girt home. The new schooner, says Coffin, will hereafter be used by the islanders to make voyages to Manga Reva, at which traders from Tahiti regularly call. Manga Reva is 300 miles north of Pitcairn. In this manner the descendants of the Bounty mutineers will maintain intercourse with the world.

DEPEW'S HUMOR. Senator Depew spoke in the United States Senate on the oleomargarine bill. The senator as usual, punctuated his speech with some humorous remarks which provoked roars of laughter. After exclaiming in a stentorian voice that "the purpose of the bill is to protect the conscience of the waiters," he gave the following illustration: "A friend of mine went into a restaurant and ordered something to eat. Looking suspiciously at the waiter, who was served, he said to the waiter: 'How do you pronounce o-l-e-o-m-a-r-g-a-r-i-n-e?' 'I pronounce it butter,' answered the waiter. 'If I didn't I'd lose my job.'"

PACHECO'S DANDRUFF KILLER

BALDNESS is the result of a diseased scalp. Nine times out of ten it is dandruff. At first the hair falls very little, but gradually continues until one spot is bald, then follows baldness. PACHECO'S DANDRUFF KILLER applied at the beginning would have saved the hair, by cleansing the scalp, removing the dandruff, keeping the scalp in a healthy state, and the hair firm at the roots, a few days' use will prove its virtue.

Some precincts in the Hilo district report an increase of Republican strength over two years ago, from 60 to 100 per cent.—Hawaii Herald. The crossing of the stream between Olowalu and Lahaina is almost impassible on account of boulders in the bed of the stream.—Maui News. There will be a meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Clement's church at the parish house tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Ohayashi, charged with feloniously keeping F. J. Russell's stolen bicycle, was before Judge Wilcox for examination today. The hearing was continued until tomorrow. There will be a Pupil's Recital at the Y. M. C. A. hall this evening by the pupils of Mrs. Yarnley's music classes. A very entertaining program has been arranged. The annual meeting of the St. Clement's Protestant Association for the election of officers will be held in St. Clement's parish house on Tuesday evening, June 24, at 8 o'clock. Regular memorial services for the dead were held by local Odd Fellows yesterday in the hall and at Nuuanu cemetery. MADE A BIG RAID

Exactly one hundred and four Chinese faced Judge Wilcox this morning to answer to charges of having been present at a place where gambling was conducted. A. G. M. Robertson appeared for the accused and their trials were set for tomorrow. The crowd were caught in a big raid that was made last night on a gambling resort on the Waikiki side of Keolu street, just above King street. Detective David Kanaka and Captain Parker had charge of the posse. The place was barricaded in the most approved style, having the multiplicity of doors which characterizes the resorts of Chinese in San Francisco. The officers divided into several crowds, one division guarding the rear of the place, while the other made its way through the front door. The police in the rear mounted to the roof by means of ladders and guarded any chance of the gamblers escaping in that direction. The front portion of a store was opened carefully to admit a supposed gambler, but to the surprise of the gate-keeper, the officers shoved past him. Several doors had to be broken open with sledge hammers before the officers could reach the gambling rooms on the floor above. The Chinese were found huddled together, helpless to get away. Evidence of a number of gambling games which had evidently been in full blast were found. The crowd was taken to the police station and during the rest of the evening their friends and the professional bondsmen were busy hauling them out.
