COUNTY SEAT WAR

MAUI PROMISED A REAL HOT TIME

Lahaina And Wailuku Getting Ready For The Fray—Talk That Judge Kalua May Resign And Run For Sheriff.

A lot of political activity is reported on Maui as a result of the rivalry of Lahaina and Wailuku for the honor of being the county seat, and also among candidates for the various offices. One report has it that Judge Kalua intends to resign from the bench and run for sheriff of Maui. The judge, it is stated, would be a formidable opponent in the campaign.

ISAAC NOAR WINS HIS SUIT

SUPREME COURT SETS ASIDE DECREE ORDERING SALE OF THE STAR BLOCK.

The Supreme Court this morning rendered a decision overruling the first circuit court in the case of Lee Chu and C. K. Al vs. Isaac Noar. The suit was in part to have the property involved with the Star block, over which Noar had a lot of trouble with the receiver, Col. Fisher. The lower court held, as claimed by the defendant, that the property was incapable of partition, and a receiver was appointed and a sale ordered.

APPROVES THE GAS FRANCHISE

HOUSE PASSES THE DIMOND MEASURE ON RECEIVING A FAVORABLE REPORT.

The House Committee on Agriculture and Forestry this morning reported favorably the W. W. Dimond gas franchise bill, Senate Bill No. 23, and the report of the committee was adopted, passing the bill on second reading. The same committee presented a report in favor of tabling the House Bill No. 87, which provides for another gas franchise, the Senate having already tabled a similar measure. In the report approving the Dimond franchise the committee says:

MANY CASES OF "PINK-EYE"

ARE DISCOVERED, TREATED AND CURED THROUGH THE AGENCY OF KINDERGARTENS.

During the month of March the teachers and hygienic agents of the Free Kindergarten Association, discovered 15 cases of "pink-eye," probably trachoma, among the children of the kindergartens, and immediately isolated the patients and secured treatment for them. Of the 15 cases, 16 have already been cured and the other two are on the way to recovery. "Pink-eye" or whatever the disease is, is a highly and readily contagious disease of the eye, which yields readily to treatment if taken in time, but if not, may be followed by serious consequences.

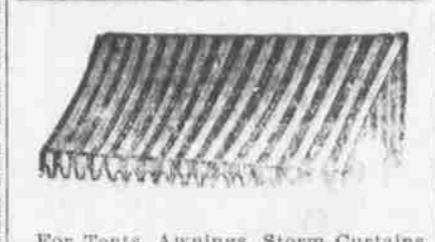

The Board of Supervisors of the Free Kindergarten Association which held its monthly meeting this forenoon at the Y. M. C. A. considers that in this one matter alone of detecting and remedying so many cases of this readily communicable disease, it has done the community a distinct and valuable service.

The financial report for the year shows that the kindergarten work maintained by the association has expended during the year $7,300. The number of pupils on the average in attendance on the schools has been 340, so that the average annual expenditure has been about $20 for each pupil. This is said to be a very moderate amount, indeed, and shows that the association has been administered carefully and economically. Yet economically as it has been administered, there will be a deficit of about $1,500 for the year, which the board of supervisors hope will be met by public spirited members of the community.

During the past month the attendance at the kindergartens has been a decrease from previous months on account of the prevalence of dengue fever but the interest and efficiency has increased. There have been made during the month under the direction of the hygienic department, 250 surgical dressings of one sort and another.

Mrs. C. M. Hyde, the president, was present after an absence of some weeks. Those present were: Mrs. C. M. Hyde, Mrs. W. F. Allen, Mrs. O. H. Gulick, Mrs. A. B. Wood, Mrs. G. P. Andrews, Mrs. Theodore Richards, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. E. M. Peterson, Mrs. C. B. Dyke, Mrs. A. V. Soares, Mrs. S. M. Damon, Miss Lawrence, Mrs. W. W. Bristol, Miss Parke and Miss Guild.

LAST STAGES OF COUNTY ACT

House Promises To Finally Pass the Bill During This Afternoon's Session.

The House promises to finally pass the county government act this afternoon, sending it back to the Senate with the various amendments reported by the House special committee on the subject. At 11 o'clock this morning the third reading of the bill was resumed, and when the House took a recess at noon, it was stated that the reading would be finished by 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Vice-Speaker Knudsen, who occupied the chair, told the members that they would be required to get excuses before leaving their seats. "If anyone wants to leave let him tip the wink," said the speaker, "and I will consider him excused for five minutes. Any one who stays longer will be sent for. It is not fair for some of the members to be having a nice time smoking in the lobby, while we work hard in here."

After being passed by the House the bill will go to the Senate and the latter body will probably refuse to concur in the amendments and ask for a conference committee.

COMMITTED FOR LARCENY.

John Loo, a native boy, was committed to the Circuit Court this morning by Judge Wilcox to stand trial to a charge of stealing Dr. Katsunuma's gold watch and chain. The boy claimed to have disposed of the jewelry to a Japanese named Kakuda. The latter was charged with receiving stolen goods. His hearing was continued until tomorrow by Judge Wilcox.

THE PAKES GOT OFF

NURSERY IS FULL OF BUGS

BUREAU OF AGRICULTURE A PART OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The government nursery on King street has been closed by order of Superintendent of Public Works Cooper, as a result of a discovery that it is badly infected with pests and the distribution of plants was spreading the pests all over the islands. Incidentally, since the departure of Commissioner Wray Taylor, the fact has been discovered that the agricultural bureau is a sub-bureau of the Department of Public Works. It has not been generally known that the commissioner of agriculture and forestry was not the head of an independent bureau, but an examination of the laws creating the position show, it is stated, that the superintendent of public works has control over the commissioner of agriculture and forestry.

The agricultural bureau was created by Section 423 of the civil code, and originally consisted of a board of five persons, the Minister of the Interior, ex-officio, being president. The law calls the agricultural department "a bureau in the department of the Interior" and the organic act made no change in the law except to substitute a commissioner for the board and a superintendent of public works for the Minister of the Interior.

According to Professor R. C. L. Perkins there is a bad assortment of bugs in the nursery. Pests of almost all kinds have gradually found their way into the place, and it is the intention now to have a general cleaning up. Sprays will be used and other methods employed to kill off the insect pests and then the nursery will be reopened and the distribution of plants resumed.

Professor Perkins says that the government ought to have a fumigating apparatus for plants so that every plant leaving the nursery might be cleared of insects.

WILL DEPORT LAW VIOLATORS

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS TO SEND JAPANESE WHO VIOLATED CONTRACT LABOR LAW TO JAPAN.

The Immigration Bureau will today have deported to Japan, two Japanese who violated the contract labor law. The names of the men are Tomikichi Oda and Toyokichi Sakai. They are the men who caused H. Hamano the Japanese merchant to get into trouble with the Federal authorities.

Both Japanese came to this country under a contract to work for Mr. Hamano. He was tried in the United States court recently on a charge of violating the contract labor law. In one case, he pleaded guilty and was fined $1,000 and in the other, the prosecution quashed the proceedings.

Both of the Japanese had been held by the Federal authorities as witnesses against Hamano. Inasmuch as both had admitted to the immigration officials, their guilt in the matter, Inspector Brown ordered both to be deported. This morning, they were turned over to the custody of the immigration authorities by High Sheriff Brown. The Japs were taken aboard the America Maru and locked up to be kept until the vessels leaves for Japan this afternoon.

BRIBERY TALK AND JUDGE KALUA

The Maui Judge is Very Indignant That Rumors of His Being Bribed by Chinese Gamblers Should be in Circulation.

Judge Kalua of the Third Circuit court was the subject of more bribery rumors during the term just ended, the judge himself making the matter public by mentioning it on the bench. Kalua is the judge against whom attorneys of Maui preferred grave charges before the Mitchell commission of United States Senators, and the commission's report severely criticized him.

During the trial of Chinese gambling cases last week Kalua stated that he had been informed by a prominent citizen that it was common talk that he had been bribed in the case and the judge expressed his indignation that such reports should be spread.

There were three gamblers who had been fined $400 each in the lower court having been the bankers in pakopio games and three others had been fined $100 each and costs. The three who were under fines of $400 were discharged by the judge on a motion of acquit because the complaint charged the offense on the 15th of the month and the evidence showed a different date. This is said by attorneys to be another extraordinary ruling to Kalua's credit, as in many cases crimes are proved on different dates from those given in the complaints, or indictments. Indictments in the First Circuit are drawn alleging an offense "on or about" a certain date and such indictments are sustained by the judges.

The other three Chinese defendants went to trial and were found guilty their sentences being affirmed.

CITY GOVERNMENT

The Senate city government act was received in the House this morning, having passed third reading in the Senate yesterday. It was immediately passed first reading by this. This is the act drawn by the Republican commission and is a general municipal act, providing that communities may organize themselves into corporations by so deciding at special elections.

EIGHT VOTES OF EACH PARTY

NATIVE REPUBLICANS AND HOME RULERS PASS THE PAUOA WATER BILL.

The Home Rule members of the House with eight native Republican votes, passed the Pauoa water bill yesterday afternoon, carrying an appropriation of $237,000 for the purchase of the springs. There were 16 votes in favor of the bill, or just exactly enough to carry it on third reading. The vote was as follows:
Ayes—Abercrombie, Darnley, Fernandez, Hala, Kalli, Kalama, Kantho, Keala-wa, Keilinoi, Kumalae, Kuphea, Lewis, Nakaleka, Paale, Pulaa, Purdy—16.
Nays—Andrade, Chillingworth, Gaudin, Greenwell, Harris, Jaeger, Knudsen, Long, Vida, Mr. Speaker—10.
Absent and not voting—Kou, Pali, Waihele—3.
The Republican voting for the bill are Kumalae, Hala, Kalli, Kalama, Keilinoi, Lewis, Nakaleka and Pulaa. The only Home Ruler voting against it was Speaker Beckley. Among the absentees Kou is a Home Ruler.
Before the vote Harris and Andrade asked a number of questions of the committee which favorably reported the bill, but the answers were not very definite. Harris wanted details about the flow of water and the terms of the leases which cover it, and Andrade asked how the committee knew that the titles were all right. Kumalae replied that the committee had the assurances of the owners that their titles were proper, and that the members of the committee valued the springs at half a million dollars and would not sell for less if they owned the supply.
The third reading of the county bill was taken up and continued up to the time of adjournment, to be resumed this morning.

AMERICA HAS CIRCUS ABOARD

REAL HINDOO AFFAIR ON LINER, EN ROUTE HOME—WILL NOT GIVE PERFORMANCE HERE.

The America Maru, Captain Goings, arrived last evening about 7 o'clock from San Francisco with six days later mail and news files. The vessel encountered rough weather, and most of the passengers were sick.
She has only an average sized list of passengers but what is short in numbers is made up in point of interest. There are twenty-five performers, in addition to the magicians. The latter feature of the show is by far the most interesting. There are two small elephants, about sixteen performing horses, two lions, a panther and a Bengal tiger. The wild animals are quartered in cages on the after deck of the vessel. They are dangerous, and warn passengers not to get too close or to feed the animals.
The elephants and horses are quartered between decks forward, right by the forward hatch. The presence of the animals in port caused great interest in the city, and last evening and today, numbers of people have gone to the vessel for the purpose of seeing the animals.
All of the members of the troupe except the manager, are Hindoos. Most of them are men. In the party are two dwarfs. They are not three feet tall. One is 35 years of age and the other is about 57 years old. The manager of the show is M. Chatre. He has been here before. He was at one time on the transport Sumner. The circus has been playing through the United States with varying success and is now en route to India. There are some very fine jugglers in the crowd and good performances are given. Some of the wild animals are trained, as are the horses and elephants.
Manager Chatre was anxious to stop over with his show and give several performances in Honolulu. The local agents cabled to the agents in San Francisco to see if permission could be secured. An answer was received this morning, stating that the circus would have to continue on the America Maru. It appears that the three steamship companies operating to the Orient, made quite a cheap rate to the circus outfit and, as the America Maru was able to handle the crowd of performers and animals, it was thought best not to bother with them on another vessel.

LANTANA'S ENEMIES.

A great deal has been written and said about the various insects forwarded by Professor Koebele, and bred by Professor Perkins, but much of the information fell, like the seed in the parable, upon stony ground. The practical advantage of these enemies of the lantana has at last been realized, and it looks as if systematic entomological war was going to be waged upon the shrub, which starting from a slip brought to these shores in a flower pot, has spread over and rendered useless, acres upon acres of pasturage, costing the owners thousands upon thousands of dollars to keep in some check.

It was a fortunate thing that when Professor Koebele went away to Mexico there happened to be a highly trained and experienced entomologist on the Islands. But for the presence of such a man, the consignments of larvae and full-formed insects might have been lost, and, more serious still, parasites of the lantana destroyers might have been bred, and let loose, neutralizing the work of the destroyers and perhaps adding several new species to the deleterious insects which have been introduced into the Islands. All these parasites had to be killed, and on that account the lantana destroyers had to be bred in captivity.

An inexperienced or ignorant person in charge of this section of the work would have been unable to do this delicate task, and more harm than good would have accrued. As it stands now the lantana destroyers are free from parasites, and are free to go about their work. They have already commenced operations upon the lantana along Nuuanu avenue, and will spread rapidly, stunting the growth of the plant and rendering it non-reproductive.

What is now needed is a proper nursery where the enemies of the lantana can be grown upon an extensive scale. When this is done it will be possible to forward insects to the various districts of the other Islands. It must not be thought that the work of the insect is instantaneous. Their progress is slow but it is sure. The value of one of the destroyers is not in its destruction of the plant itself, but in preventing reproduction by burrowing into the fruit. There has seldom been a more satisfactory piece of work than this lantana fight, but as far as public interest is concerned it might have languished. The importations were saved through the fact of having a scientific man on the spot, who stayed here for the love of science, but who otherwise would have long ago been in England doing scientific work at one of the universities.

THE BASIS OF PROSPERITY.

Some days ago the Star pointed out that in view of many capable men and close observers the continuance of America's phenomenal prosperity was gauged by the margin between the demand and supply of the home market; or at least that when the home supply fully met the home demand, and foreign markets had to be looked to take a part of regular production, a readjustment would be necessary, which to such concerns as were not prepared for it would come with severe force.

On this point Mr. C. Seymour Bell, the British commercial agent in the United States, says, in a report printed in September last, that as long as this country continues in its present prosperous condition, absorbing all that it can produce in the way of iron and steel, British manufacturers need not fear serious competition in those articles in the world's markets. "It may be pointed out, however," continues Mr. Bell, "that on the strength of the considerable imports, much capital is being employed in extending existing and building new works in order to bring the supply up to the demand. The home market, is, of course, the most profitable for the manufacturer, and as long as the demand continues, little thought will be paid to other and less profitable markets, except in the way of keeping them in view, so as to be able to export on a large scale when the time arrives." Mr. Bell then gives from an American technical journal statistics of the provision being made for increased production, and adds that this prosperity can not last; there must be "an overproduction exceeding anything hitherto experienced" from the increasing output and a falling demand at home. To meet this contingency, preparations are being made by the railway, shipping, and other interests to carry the surplus cheaply to foreign countries. "The last of the great combines—the Atlantic shipping—is doubtless part of this great scheme." Meanwhile, adds Mr. Bell, those British manufacturers who have not already done so will have an opportunity of remodeling their works and placing them in a condition to be able to meet the inevitable and severe competition.

A very striking illustration of the growing importance of foreign trade as the balance wheel of our industrial mechanism, even in times of great domestic prosperity, is seen in the effect, on two occasions, of the stoppage of the Chinese demand for cotton goods. During the Boxer troubles the Southern cotton mills, which manufacture especially for the Chinese market, were reduced to such serious straits by the suspension of orders from China that they were forced to undertake the production of a class of goods which competed with the output of the New England factories. Fortunately, the Chinese market was reopened to them just in time to prevent a crisis in the trade which would probably have proved disastrous. In October last, for some reason as yet unexplained, the Chinese demand for cotton goods again fell off, and it was not until the middle of December that the orders expected in October began to come in. In the meantime the Southern cotton mills once more were confronted with the alternative of competing with the New England industry or of remaining idle. In either case a heavy loss would have been inflicted upon an important interest. When we reflect that our exports of cotton goods to China represent but a part, though the greater part, of our sales of such goods abroad, it may be seen that very serious results might follow the withdrawal of even part of the foreign demand for the product of a particular industry.

The result of Mr. Emory's argument is that the prosperity at present enjoyed may receive a check and that it is not wise to reckon on continued prosperity. Those who can meet a time of leanness will sail on with redoubled strength, but there will be many who will go under when the times comes.

The President has started upon his tour and there is but little doubt that it will prove a glorious success. The weak spot is the South, but Roosevelt is so forceful and convincing when he talks that he may turn even some of his bitter political opponents

King Edward is taking a holiday but is combining diplomacy with pleasure. Even the visit to Portugal, though that is in part to a close personal friend, has a motive, while the visits to the President of the French Republic and the Pope are strictly diplomatic. As Prince of Wales, King Edward was very popular in Paris, and he is not likely to have lost his popularity by coming to the throne.

LIFE IN WASHINGTON.

Representative McAndrews of Chicago is thinking of introducing a bill providing for a congressional uniform. The idea was suggested to the Chicago democrat after he had been refused admittance at the treasury department one afternoon. All the government departments are closed to visitors after 2 o'clock and the watchmen at the doors refuse admittance to every one who cannot satisfy them that he has come on official business.

"I am Representative McAndrews of Illinois," he said to the hesitating door guard.

"Sorry, sir," said the watchman "but you are the third Mr. McAndrews from Illinois who has tried to get past me in the last fifteen minutes. I happen to know that the entire Illinois delegation is not made up of McAndrewses."

The Chicago member allowed himself to be turned down and he made his way from the treasury building thinking hard how he could get ahead of the next watchman. He finally decided that the easiest way would be to have a law enacted for a congressional uniform.

"The bill should provide," said Mr. McAndrews, "that all congressmen wear their uniforms when engaged in official business. The senators might be distinguished by having eight rows of gold braid on their sleeves while the representatives have but two. The law should also provide a penalty for any one caught wearing a uniform save a bona-fide member of congress. If congress takes this means to protect the dignity of its members there will be a lot of sore watchmen, because I believe they take more delight in turning down a member than in anything they do in the line of duty."

was due him. When he was 50 he began working for his money, and one body would pass his bill only to have the other body reject it. During the last session the bill was passed in the House and, one of the senators having become interested in the old man, the bill was at last reported favorably in the Senate, and Rose was assured that he would at last get his money. Knew a Good Thing

From a speech delivered by the "Silver-Tongued" orator before the International Congress:

"And furthermore, do not lose sight of the examples held up before us, worked out by our predecessors. We have seen immortal Rome rise, fall and decay; Carthage is now but a living memory of the gorgeous splendor of Cleopatra's reign; glorious Athens of the past now rests silent and sad among the Grecian ruins, monuments of architectural beauty laid low by the ravages of time; and the Egypt of the Pharaohs has passed under the rule of the 'barbarian.' Thus time levels all, but the works of man shall proclaim his worth and shall measure the scope of his attainments. In our own day we behold the handiwork of man, in a markedly rising grade, advancing toward the pinnacle of perfection. Witness man's bequests to posterity: the countless applications of electricity, the greyhound of the waves, the searching eye of the heavens, the steam engine, the cotton gin, the printing press, and finally that greatest of all inventions, the DOUGLAS PATENT CLOSET."

LILUOKALANI STILL HOPES

IS ON HER WAY BACK TO THE ISLANDS BUT BELIEVES CONGRESS WILL YET ACT.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—The Chronicle this morning says:

Lilukalani, former Queen of Hawaii, arrived from the East on the belated overland limited last night and is a guest at the California Hotel. The former monarch is attended by a modest suite of three attendants, who have ministered to her personal wants and helped her to while away the hours as she sat in her hotel at Washington watching the deliberations of Congress throughout the session recently brought to a close. Nearly every year since the overturning of the monarchy Lilukalani has journeyed over the sea and across the continent on the eve of the assembling of Congress to urge the Administration and the legislators at Washington to consider her claims against the Government. At the close of each session she has found that Congress preferred to regard the affairs of the republic as more pressing than the needs of royalty, and she has returned somewhat crestfallen to her island home, only to take up the fight with renewed hopes upon the assembling of another Congress. Her experience at Washington during the Congressional session just closed has been very much the same as in previous years, and she is now on her way back to Hawaii, still hopeful, however, that Congress at its next session will enact some acceptable measure for her benefit and relief.

During the recent session a Senate committee recommended the appropriation of $300,000 as a settlement of Lilukalani's claims for damages on account of the loss of her throne, the valuable crown lands of Hawaii and all of the revenues thereof. The bill did not get through Congress, on account of the crush of other business, but Lilukalani expressed the hope and belief last night that it would pass at the next session. She said the settlement would be acceptable to her.

Lilukalani has aged greatly, in years and appearance, since she first became a familiar figure at the national capital, but she insisted last evening that she was still in excellent health, and barring the effects of her long trip across the continent, in the enjoyment of excellent spirits. She expects to sail for Honolulu on the steamer Ventura on Thursday of next week, but will turn to Washington before Congress convenes in December.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE ORPHEUM.

Following the successful performance of "The Lady of Lyons" last evening, a great attraction will be put up at the Orpheum Theatre this evening in the famous barbaic play "Ingomar." It was in this drama that Mrs. Low—Mrs. Low—the lady who is directing the performance of the Janet Waldorf Company—first introduced Julia Marlowe to America audiences a few years ago. The production tonight will therefore be in first-class hands particularly as Mrs. Currier has in Miss Waldorf a fine Parthenia and in Mr. McGregor a tried and successful "Ingomar." The remaining attractions of the "Waldorf" will be a children's matinee of "Turned Up" tomorrow at reduced rates of admission, and a big farewell performance on Monday next. On this occasion the farcical comedy "The Three Hats" will be played, and a musical programme performed. Hugo Herzer, the well known vocalist, has consented to give his valued services.

MRS. DOYLE WILL REMAIN.

Mrs. M. E. Doyle mother of Chester Doyle the Japanese interpreter, and Walter Doyle the freight clerk, arrived on the America Maru yesterday from San Francisco. She is en route to Shanghai to attend to some business. Mrs. Doyle will stop over until the Hong Kong Maru, visiting her sons.

In addition to the hack inspector, the deceased left two sons, who reside in South Kona.

A DESERT LABORATORY.

TUCSON (A. T.), March 26.—The trustees of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, D. C., have just decided to locate a desert botanical laboratory in the Tucson mountains, just west of this city. A complete laboratory building will be erected and Dr. W. A. Cannon, a botanist of New York city, will have charge of the laboratory, which is established for the purpose of conducting scientific research of desert plants. A large annual appropriation has been set aside for the use of the laboratory.

ARRIVES AT SAN DIEGO.

SAN DIEGO, March 26.—The American steamer Hawaiian of the Hawaiian line arrived this evening and anchored inside the bar, and will come up the bay in the morning and dock at the railroad wharf to discharge the cargo which she has for Southern California. The steamer is fifty-three days out from New York and nineteen days from Coronel. She has 28,195 packages of general merchandise for distribution all over Southern California, the most of it being for Los Angeles. The steamer will be in port about two and a half days, continuing her trip to San Francisco.

SOON TO LAUNCH HILL'S SHIP.

NEW LONDON (Conn.), March 26.—It was announced today by the officials of the Eastern Shipbuilding Company that the first of the big cargo ships building for the Great Northern Railway at Groton would be launched on April 16th. The ship will be named the Minnesota. The steamer is 630 feet long and of 28,000 tons gross measurements.

CONTROLS HAWAIIAN SUGAR.

Makawell Corporation's Finances and the Okolelo Ditch.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—The Chronicle this morning says:

At the annual meeting of the Makawell Sugar Company yesterday President S. T. Alexander called particular attention to the Okolelo ditch, which would not cost over $225,000, and it had been demonstrated that it would carry 70,000,000 gallons of water a day. In relation to the authorized bond issue of $700,000, President Alexander said that bonds to the amount of $150,000 had been sold, which would completely pay for the work done on the new ditch to date.

It was stated to be the unanimous opinion of the board of directors, which was re-elected, that it was to the best interests of the Makawell Sugar Company that the payments of dividends should be deferred until there should be a considerable surplus on hand. It was reported that 2555 additional shares of the capital stock of the Hawaiian Sugar Company had been acquired by exchange for an equal number of shares of treasury stock of the Makawell Sugar Company, that the last named corporation now owned 48,435 shares of the Hawaiian and that when the purchase was completed the Makawell would hold 50,880 shares of the Hawaiian—or more than the controlling interest in that company. The financial statement showed that the disbursements of the year had amounted to $1481.63 and that $6575.63 cash remained on hand on December 31st last. The trial balance on that date was as follows:

A TELEGRAPH TRUST NOW

THE WESTERN UNION AND POSTAL COMPANIES ARE TO BE ABSORBED BY AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY—LATTER INCREASES ITS CAPITAL STOCK $250,000,000.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The consolidation of all the telegraph and telephone companies of the United States is under serious consideration. The report is that the Postal and Western Union will be absorbed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

It is a coincidence that the directors of the American Company have proposed an increase in capital stock of $250,000,000, and a special meeting of stockholders has been called for March 31st for the purpose of voting upon the proposition. The American is now a large company, but the enormous enlargement of capital cannot be accounted for except on a basis which fits current reports. Technically, before the increase can be made, authority must be obtained from the New York Legislature. The original amount of the company's capital was $12,000,000. The funded debt is $38,000,000.

Previous to 1900 the American Telephone and Telegraph Company owned only the long-distance lines of the American Bell Telephone, but at the annual meeting of the Bell Company in March of 1900 a proposition was voted on and carried to transfer the real estate and other property of the Bell Company to the American and to distribute the shares of the latter to the amount of $200 in exchange for each $100 of the outstanding American Bell stock.

The American has been a dangerous competitor to both the Western Union and Postal companies for some years in the way of private leased wires, which is the cream of the telegraph trade, for, while the line is in use at remunerative rental during exchange hours, the companies have the privilege of using the wires from, say, 4 o'clock on until the next morning.

BOHEMIANS TELL OF LIFE IN HAWAII

The San Francisco Bulletin of March 24, says: Those jolly Bohemians, J. C. Wilson and Billy Barton, are back from Honolulu. They came home this morning on the steamer Ventura, after a month of fun and frivolity in the home of the missionary and the hula-hula.

When they left here last month they confided to their friends that they intended "to do" the islands thoroughly—to visit the volcanoes and the sugar plantations, and even the leper settlement. But—tell it in a whisper—they never got beyond Honolulu.

"When we arrived at the Islands," explained Wilson this morning, "we went direct to the Hawaiian Hotel. We intended to move on after a day or two, but, believe me, they wouldn't let us. Every other man there seemed to know either Barton or me, and one and all insisted on offering us entertainment. One day it was a dinner at the hotel, the next at the Pacific Club. Between the two places we were kept in a whirlwind of fun. Now and again we got an inning, and before we left we worked off all the prize bohemian jokes, some of them very old. With these old ones, though, we did not get along as well as we expected. They got there before us. The fact is the Islands are too modern. Why, Barton couldn't even work off those "razzle-dazzle stunts" of his! The boys had heard them before—and we thought they had never got beyond the Bohemian Club.

"But we got even before we came away. We gave the bunch a genuine Bohemian dinner. The decorations were all in red, and we made it as near one of our big club affairs as we could. The only trouble we had was in getting flowers. The best they have done there do not compare with our worst. Their earnings are not as big as dimes, and their roses are not worth the name. One basket of our roses would smother the whole floral display of the Islands.

"To me the great natural resources seemed to be spiders and centipedes. The first night we were there we had a battle with a spider as big as my fist. Barton found him in his room. He called me to his aid, and after a general charge on Mr. Spider we killed him with a shoe. A few nights later I had a thrilling experience with a centipede. I was going to sleep, my mind full of the hula-hula, when I felt a crawling and a scraping along my breastbone. I shouted for Barton, 'There is a snake doing stunts over my heart; come and kill him.'

"Barton shouted back that I had 'em, but when I yelled a second time he came on the run. He turned on the lights and pulled down the coverlid, and there was a centipede fully five inches long, dragging his weary length toward my chin. Barton swept the reptile to the floor and then jumped away, only to come down on its head.

"We bottled that centipede in gin then and there, and I've got him with me now to prove to the doubters what a narrow escape I had.

"Between our dinners we covered the city of Honolulu pretty thoroughly. We saw all the sights—the hula-hulas and the saloons, the churches, and principally the hula-hulas. We went out to the Punch Bowl, for we felt that no true Bohemian could afford to miss that, and made a dozen or more trips in surf boats. Surf riding is great sport. We recommend it to all travelers. It beats shooting the chutes.

"When we left all the good fellows we had met came down to the dock to see us off. They had a brass band, and I tell you they made it lively for us. They simply loaded us with leis, which is a kind of flower, not something to drink.

"When the steamer pulled out into the stream we were really sorry to leave. We had too good a time to give it up without regret. However, we determined to satisfy ourselves by recommending Honolulu to all our friends. It's just the place to spend a vacation—just the place for a rollicking good time."

On the voyage to San Francisco Wilson and Barton spent a good part of their time entertaining their fellow travelers. They found the passengers from Australia not so modern as the people of Honolulu and succeeded in working off all the "chestnuts" that were too much for the Hawaiians. When the steamer docked, Wilson declares Barton was doing his razzle-dazzle act for the fifth time since leaving the Islands.

ALEX. MACKINTOSH DEAD.

WAIMEA, Hawaii, April 2.—Alexander St. Martin Mackintosh, son of the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh of Honolulu, was found dead in his bed at Akona's Hotel here this afternoon. A coroner's jury was impaneled and viewed the body and is now (6 p. m.) considering the matter.

A. St. M. Mackintosh was in his thirtieth year. He was born in Honolulu Nov. 15, 1873. He pursued his studies here until he was sent to England where he fitted for the Navy. He did not enter the service however though he served for a couple of years in the Britannia. He was for some time in business in Portland, Ore., and then in 1894 returned to Honolulu. He was a clerk in the Foreign Office until 1899. He then entered the office of his uncle, the Hon. Cecil Brown. He remained until the fall of 1900 when he went to the Coast and a year ago went to Hawaii since which time he has been at the Huanuua sheep station.

TROUBLE IN HAYTI.

Associated Press, Morning Service. CAPE HAYTIEN, April 2.—The situation in Santo Domingo is exceedingly critical. There has been constant fighting there since March 23rd, when the rebels took possession of the city after hard fighting. United States marines have been landed to defend the consulate and refugees and are now being held about the consulate. The government forces under President Vasquez, who was absent when the revolution broke out, are pressing them hard upon every opportunity. In a battle which took place today between the forces 150 were killed and wounded

NEW BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS MAKE THEIR APPEARANCE IN THE HOUSE.

A lot of new bills made their appearance in the House this morning and some resolutions for appropriating money. Among the latter were resolutions by Vida to appropriate $20,000 for Delegate Kuhio to use at Washington in behalf of the coffee bounty and other propositions, a resolution to appropriate $20,000 for free hospitals in North and South Kona and Kauai, to appropriate $30,000 for the band at Kalaupapa and Kalaupapa and a resolution by Kealawa to appropriate resolution by Kealawa to appropriate $15,000 for the purchase of a cemetery near Hilo and a resolution by Pulaa to appropriate $30,000 for free hospitals.

The following bills were introduced and passed first reading:

By Kumalae, an act to authorize James H. Boyd and his associates to collect and destroy garbage in the city of Honolulu, providing for a fifty-year franchise, no residence to be charged over 50 cents a month and the government to receive 2 1/2 per cent of the net receipts of the business; an act to authorize police to enter gambling places without warrants, under certain circumstances, and an act to amend Section 289 of the penal code, relating to lottery tickets, etc.

By Long, an act to regulate the sale of drugs and the licensing of pharmacists, providing a Board of Pharmacists; by Chillingworth, an act to provide for the parole of prisoners in jail and an act to provide for the issuance of licenses.

By Kuphea, an act to provide for the issuance of licenses and an act to fix the pay of members of the government band according to the instrument the various members can play, as for instance, the oboe player so much, the cornet player so much, and another sum for the man who beats the drum.

THE MORNING IN THE SENATE

EX-ATTORNEY GENERAL DOLE ASKS FOR A $1,000 FEE IN THE MANKICHEI CASE.

In the Senate this morning a report was received from the committee on Miscellaneous Petitions in favor of the bill to extend the law requiring lights on bicycles to districts outside of Honolulu. The report was adopted and the bill will be read a third time on Monday.

Attorney General Andrews asked in a communication for an appropriation of $1,000 as a fee for ex-Attorney General E. P. Dole in representing the Territorial government at Washington in the Oaki Mankichei case. The matter was tabled to be considered with the appropriation bill.

For the Health Committee, Senator Wilcox reported adversely on Bill No. 147 which provided for vaccination. The same thing was provided for by Bill No. 120 which had already been passed. This report was adopted. Senate Bill No. 148 which seeks to eliminate the salary of the president of the Board of Health and making other changes was adversely reported on to the extent of the committee on Miscellaneous Petitions' recommendation. Consideration of the bill will be indefinitely postponed. The report was adopted.

Favorable report was made by the Judiciary committee on House bill No. 81 which was an act to reorganize the Judiciary. The measure will be read a third time on Wednesday.

Similar reports were made on the House bills providing for a public administration and permitting the forming of partnerships by two or more corporations. Third reading will be given both measures on Monday.

For the special committee to which was referred the item of $45,000 for the renovation of the Judiciary building, Senator McCandless made favorable report. The report will be considered with the loan bill.

Senator Dickey moved the insertion of $600 in the appropriation bill for the purpose of purchasing new musical instruments for the band at Kalaupapa. The matter was referred to the special Mankichei committee.

A motion was made by Senator Achi to direct the public expenditures committee to report a bill covering the governor's recommendations on unpaid bills.

For the committee, Senator Paris said that his committee was following the intention of the Governor to give the closest scrutiny to the various items. It was well that they were doing so, for it had been found that some of the officials auditing the bills, had not known anything about them. The committee will report tomorrow, so the resolution was withdrawn.

A communication was also received from Governor Dole presenting the petition of the Japanese against the passage of the House Hack bill. The Japanese claimed in their communication to the Governor that the Japanese had invested $24,431 in the hack business in this city. The record of a single week's carrying business showed that out of a total of 2,594 fares, the Japanese had carried 2,028. The communication was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

The Senate took up the discussion of the general liquor license bill until noon when a recess was taken.

SENATE AMENDS THE GENERAL LIQUOR LICENSE BILL—DEALERS CAN SELL QUART BOTTLES.

The latter part of the morning session of the Senate today was occupied with the discussion of the general liquor license bill. The measure was up on third reading, and was not concluded at the time of recess.

Considerable discussion arose over several of the items. Senator Crabbe wanted the dealers license reduced from $750 to $500.

This amendment was opposed by Senator McCandless. The latter said that he thought the dealers should be permitted to sell liquor in quantities of not less than a quart, instead of restricting them to a gallon, as is done under the present laws. The speaker declared that the law in this respect was being violated every day.

In this view, the speaker was supported by Senator Ienberg. The latter said that the dealers frequently sold smaller quantities than the law allowed them to sell, simply to accommodate some regular customer who did not care to go into a saloon to buy the smaller quantity. Senators Crabbe and Brown opposed the amendment. The amendment carried, however, the license being left at $750.

Some further discussion ensued regarding the item of the amount of the license. Senator Crabbe offered an amendment raising it to $1,000, and Senator Kalaupapa wanted it reduced to $500. Both withdrew their motions though.

Senator Ienberg offered an amendment providing for issuing hotel licenses to such places in smaller cities or HOAR'S NOTES. Before making his recent speech to the students of the Armour Institute at Chicago, a few days ago, Senator Hoar, in the course of a tour through the various departments, sat down and on the back of a card scratched off a number of notes constituting the skeleton on which his remarks later were based. Dr. Gunsaulus secured the card and will have it framed and hung on a wall in the institute. The Chicago Tribune printed a facsimile of the notes.

HANNA'S DINNERS. During January Senator Hanna attended 18 dinners on 17 successive nights. Like most other public men he eats very little on these occasions and drinks with corresponding abstemiousness.

THE RIGHT HOUR. Beerbohm Tree says we are all wrong in the selection of hours for theatrical entertainment. He thinks people should go to the theater fresh from a good night's rest, and that 6:30 a. m. would be the best hour of the day.

A POST OFFICE FLAG. The post-office department will soon adopt a flag emblematic of the postal service. Several designs are under consideration, including the figure of an eagle clutching an envelope and the present design of a post rider on a circular field. Other departments have a distinctive flag, and the mail transfer craft on the lakes and in New York harbor will in the immediate future have the special flag of the service flying from their mastsheads.
