Railroads Will See That Hawaii Nel Is Properly Promoted

E. M. Boyd, secretary of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, was among the arrivals from San Francisco in the Alameda this morning, he having spent three weeks on the Coast in the work of getting out attractive advertising material that will serve to place Hawaii before the people of the mainland in a light that will make them long to come to these shores to spend their winters.

Mr. Boyd was seen by a Bulletin reporter this morning and in answer to questions regarding his recent trip, spoke as follows:

"I had a good lot of hard work from the time I landed in San Francisco until I left here in the Alameda. Upon my arrival I found the city in the midst of politics and all the big printing and picture-making factories busy with campaign matter. The best any of them could do was to give me the cuts I wanted two weeks after they should be ordered. This would take the press work into the middle of the present month.

"On the day of my departure from San Francisco, I received press copies of the big folder, of which 250,000 have been ordered for free distribution throughout the mainland. The letter press and cuts are in black; the initial letters, cut captions and descriptive side-notes, in Persian red. There are in all twenty-four pages and a four-page cover. The outside cover is an exact reproduction of a piece of tapa now in the collection of Prince and Princess Kawananakoa. The inside cover is a composite drawing of mountain peaks and sunny shores with the prose poem of Mark Twain. There are seventy-five different pictures, over one-half of which have never been published before.

"The presses started work on the 17th inst. and if the labor troubles have not interfered, distribution has probably begun by this time. There is a very great demand for these folders and I do not hesitate to state that if the work is pressed, another edition of the same magnitude as the present edition, will have to be issued.

"The distribution of the folders has been placed in the hands of J. Walter Scott, who acts in the capacity of advertising agent for the Southern Pacific Railway. As soon as the matter comes off the presses he will send copies to all the great trunk line railroads.

"It is certainly very gratifying to the committee to know that in every instance the officials of the American lines signified their utmost willingness to assist in the work and in almost

SCH. JULIA E. WHALEN TOTAL WRECK AND CABLE SUPPLIES LOST

The schooner Julia E. Whalen, which gained world-wide fame from her much-talked-of trip to Marcus Island under Captain Rosehill's aegis, is now resting her bones on the reef outside of Midway Island.

Last night a cablegram was received at the local cable office stating that the schooner had been wrecked on the reef in the morning but that all hands had been saved.

The Julia E. Whalen left this port for Midway Island October 7 with Captain Kinney in command. The schooner was chartered by the cable company. She took a load of provisions, supplies and mails with her. She carried only one passenger, Mr. McMichael, an employee of the cable company, who was employed as an operator in the local cable station for some time.

The Whalen arrived off Midway Island on the night of Wednesday, October 21. At that time it was blowing a gale and Captain Kinney decided to stand out to sea. He did so and kept off and on near the island, waiting for daylight to appear.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning the unfortunate vessel was carried upon the reef by the strong current, which prevails in the vicinity of Midway Island, and the Whalen must have been caught by it so suddenly that nothing could save her from her fate.

The island is surrounded almost completely by coral reefs. The entrance into the little pocket in which the vessels lie is a very tortuous and dangerous one, full of hidden rocks and other perils to the navigator.

It is a difficult piece of work to take a vessel in safely even during the day-time. It would have been nothing short of madness to attempt it on a dark night. The strong current was responsible for the disaster, as it took the vessel ashore when she was simply standing off the shore.

At noon today the following cablegram was received from Midway, giving the full details of the wreck.

"The Whalen got opposite the entrance while it was dark. The captain decided to dodge off and on until daylight. The current must have taken him further to the eastward than he thought. She struck on the north-northwest corner of the reef at about 2 a. m. yesterday.

"The men on board got into a boat without saving anything but their clothes, and reached here at 6 a. m. The boat was leaking badly and they had only one oar and a piece of anchor. This was the reason for the length of time it took to come three miles.

"The captain reported that she was steady on the reef and he had every hope of saving her cargo and possibly the vessel. He borrowed our boat and returned to the vessel, but was unable to board her, as the surf was too strong. On his arrival back he still expressed hopes of being able to save the cargo, but this morning showed that the vessel was breaking up.

"The captain tried to board her again but she is practically in pieces. The masts have gone overboard and all the cargo has been washed out. Nothing was saved; not even the mails.

"The Whalen had a very rough passage and pumps had to be kept going to keep her free from water. She leaked all the time."

The Whalen was owned by the City Mill Company of this city. After her return from the famous Marcus Island expedition, Mr. Peacock, who was then her owner, sold her at public auction at the Fishmarket wharf, where she was then lying. She brought something like $2,000. The vessel was not insured, while the cargo on her was. The loss of the vessel will fall on her owners.

The cable people state that although the wreck of the Whalen will work a hardship on the people living on Midway Island, especially as all their mail from the outside world was lost, to which the Robinson-Crusoe-like inhabitants had naturally looked forward with much expectation still, there will be no danger caused by the loss of the Whalen's provisions, as there are sufficient provisions on the island to last the inhabitants for some time.

No arrangements have so far been made for sending another vessel to the island. Nothing will be done in this matter before the local office receives instructions from New York.

has developed in the matter, but this morning a new and important bit of evidence was added to that already gathered by the police.

Lee Jim, the star actor of the combination, was positively identified by Ode Minaturo, a Japanese, who was one of the many victims of highway robbers on the Moanala road.

Minaturo was brought to Honolulu by Manager J. A. Low of Honolulu plantation, he having heard of the fact that the Japanese was one of the victims. Realizing the importance of this evidence, he persuaded the man to come with him to Honolulu.

Minaturo was taken down into the corridor which runs between the two rows of cells in which the four Chinese suspects are locked. The Japanese was shown all four men. He passed by three of them, but the luckless Lee Jim he identified positively as being the man who held him up at the point of a revolver, robbed him of his money and finally fired two shots at him.

Ode Minaturo this morning, through an interpreter, told The Bulletin police reporter the following story of the hold-up at which he and Lee Jim were the principal actors:

"On the first of this month I was going on foot from Honolulu to Aiea. At about 5 o'clock in the afternoon when I was near Pukaki Hill, I noticed a bicycle lying on top of the bicycle. I passed the wheel. The road makes a sharp turn near this place. Just as I rounded the turn I was suddenly confronted by a Chinaman. He said: 'I want money.' I answered: 'I have no money.' I also held my arms out from my side.

"The Chinese produced a revolver and said he would shoot me if I did not give him my money. He had the gun pointed at me with his finger on the trigger. If he had not had his finger on the trigger, I would have jumped him. As it was, I was afraid of being shot.

"I gave the Chinaman all I had in my pocket—437.25 in cash and a stamping device. I asked him to let me keep the gun and he gave it back to me. He kept the money and told me to pass on. 'When a little distance from me he fired two shots but they did not hit me. Then I ran.'

Minaturo showed the reporter the stamp which the robber had given back to him. It is a little wooden affair bearing Japanese characters. It is carried in a small box which also contains an ink pad used in stamping.

The affair is of no intrinsic value, which is probably the reason why the robber returned it to its owner.

The reporter asked Minaturo if he was absolutely positive that the man he identified was the one who held him up. The reply was in the affirmative.

SECRETARY CARTER CALLED BY U. S. GRAND JURY

Secretary of the Territory George R. Carter, as well as all the members of the House of Representatives and Clerk Knevels will appear before the Federal grand jury on November 9, presumably in the matter of the alleged missing House vouchers.

U. S. Marshal E. R. Hendry has served subpoenas on all members of the House residing on Kauai and this island. He left as a passenger in the steamer Mauna Loa today to subpoena House members on the islands of Hawaii and Maui.

Early this morning a subpoena for Secretary George R. Carter was left in the Secretary's office in the Capitol. Mr. Carter will return to Honolulu from the mainland to be present before the Federal grand jury on November 9.

In the matter of the investigation into the Japanese association for the prevention of proceedings against violators of Federal law, relative to the importation of women from Japan for purposes of prostitution and illegal acts, consequent to such importation, the Federal grand jury yesterday afternoon called High Sheriff Brown to give evidence in the matter of local criminal conditions.

Attorney General Andrews and Deputy High Sheriff Charles Chillingworth, who were before the grand jury yesterday morning, were recalled in the afternoon to give further testimony.

The grand jury adjourned until Monday morning when this matter will be further investigated.

VOLCANIC ACTIVITY CONTINUES TO INCREASE STEADILY

The time is ripe for those who wish to see the glories of a volcano in activity to proceed to Mauna Loa and make the trip to Mokuawewe. All the news received by steamers and wireless messages during the past week have been to the effect that the activity in the crater is steadily on the increase. The following was received from Mr. Berg, agent for the Wilder Steamship Co., at Hilo, by C. L. Wight, president of the same company, at 9 o'clock this morning:

"Another volcano party returned yesterday. Reports increased activity."

A wireless from Manager Julian Monsarrat, of Kapapala ranch, the starting point of all the parties to the summit of Mauna Loa, was received this morning at about 10 o'clock. It runs as follows:

"October 21, 4 p. m., party returned from volcano. Guide reports greater activity than on the 17th. No sign of any lava flows yet."

The steamer Helene arrived from Hawaii ports this morning at 5:30 o'clock with 59 head cattle and 34 packages hides. Purser O'Brien reports that the activity of the volcano is still at its full height. At night especially the fire, red reflection and smoke present a most magnificent sight. The Helene left Kawaihae yesterday at noon. The activity was then still unabated.

THREE SOLDIERS INDICTED AGAIN

Burglary Charge Failed Now Larceny Is Alleged.

MURDER, SEDUCTION, ASSAULT, PERJURY AND PROFANITY

YANAGI SENTENCE SUSPENDED. HE AND HIS WIFE ASSISTED APPREHENSION OF FALSE TESTIFIERS.

Murder, seduction, abduction, perjury, assault, larceny, selling liquor without a license and profanity are charged in indictments returned by the Territorial grand jury.

Osumi must answer to the charge of murder in the first degree. He is accused of killing Sumi, a woman, on September 29.

The tragedy took place on the other side of the island.

Simao Souza Camara is the alleged seducer of one Maria Soares, under promise of marriage.

Kapaki Paatua is charged with abducting Ane Liliakalani, with immoral intent.

Yuki, Kuada and Anataki are indicted for perjury. Yuki's alleged perjury was committed in the case of the Territory against Yoshikawa, before Judge George A. Davis, on August 10.

Kuada's false evidence is said to have been given in Territory vs. Yanagi, liquor selling case before Judge Gear. Anataki's crooked oath, alleged, is also connected with the Yanagi case.

Yanagi came up for sentence before Judge Gear this morning, having been found guilty as charged. It appeared that it had been through the assistance of Yanagi and Yanagi's wife that Kuada and Suataki were indicted for perjury.

Judge Gear suspended sentence until April, 1904, ordering Yanagi discharged on his own recognizance, remarking that the Court was morally bound not to impose sentence under the circumstances.

Louis Dumas is charged with assault with a weapon on Manuel Vasconcelles on October 11.

Yong Ping is said to have sold liquor without a license.

Kapea must answer to the charge of calling Eugene Duvauchelle a bad name on a public street on July 18th.

F. Fisher, Robert Nurney and T. Buckley are indicted for larceny in the second degree.

These are the three Camp McKinley soldiers who were previously indicted for burglary, and who were discharged under a defective law. While indicted for burglary the case was one involving only the alleged theft of a few bottles of beer.

Burglary being something beyond the annexation of drinks below the value of $50 and the Legislature having failed to couple the possibility of such cheap goods sought to be stolen with the offense of breaking into a place, defendants could be made to suffer under the faulty law and therefore faulty indictment.

The soldiers were rearrested by the police, incidentally, while they were under arrest by the military authorities. This action caused an exchange of energetic correspondence between the military people and the Territorial officers, the last of which has probably not yet been heard.

Other Territorial grand jury indictments are still on the secret file.

The three soldiers are supposed to have broken into a Waikiki saloon and helped themselves to beer in the bottle. Indicted under the wrong charge last time, the prosecution brings the lesser charge to convict, if possible.

The military authorities hold that this is a hard proceeding, that it is in fact interfering with the soldiers' rights under the Constitution; that they have once been in jeopardy.

Col. Jones received a letter today to the effect that $4180.44 worth of blankets, ponchos, tents, etc., had been sent out for the First Regiment by the Quartermaster's Department.

TELLS TALE OF HOLD-UP ON PUKAKI HILL AND SUBSEQUENT SHOOTING BY CHINAMAN.

Matters are beginning to look blacker and blacker for Lee Jim, the Chinese, who, together with three of his friends, is locked up at the police station under a very strong suspicion of highway robbery, burglary and possibly murder.

The four alleged highwaymen have been in jail for several weeks awaiting investigation of their cases by the grand jury.

MERCHANT ASSOCIATION DIRECTORS REVIEW WORK DONE AND POINT TO NEEDS AND PLANS OF FUTURE

The Merchants' Association held its regular quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Association rooms in the Judd building. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Secretary Helm read the following report, which was the principal feature of the meeting:

Honolulu, Oct. 8, 1936.
To the Members of the Merchants' Association:

Gentlemen:—Article 5 of the by-laws calls for regular quarterly meetings of the Association during the first week of January, April, July, and October, and in accordance therewith this meeting is held.

Your board of directors submit the following report of the more important work performed during the nine months of the past year. We have felt that in this way we could best acquaint the members with the work accomplished and under way. It is impossible to give more than a brief statement, as a great deal of the work of the board consists of small matters which have been acted on in regular routine—matters too small to mention in detail, but we believe, in the aggregate, of value to our city and requiring much time and attention.

Twenty-six regular and special meetings have been held besides numerous meetings of special committees.

Taxation Matters.
In January a special committee was appointed to look into the matter of tax schedules, particularly Schedule "I", and with authority to secure legal opinions and aid if necessary. The committee called at the office of the Assessor and ascertained, to use the exact wording, "that in cases where real and personal property or several classes or kinds or parcels of real and personal property respectively are combined and made the basis of an enterprise for profit," that the taxpayer is required to fill out a statement incorporated in what is designated as Schedule "I", the following items of which interest and affect mercantile establishments:

"Amount of gross receipts for the year."
"Total actual running expenses for the year."
"Amount net profits for the year."

It was found that the Government had this to apply to all mercantile establishments, corporations, co-partnerships, or individuals, and that the assessments returns will not be accepted unless Schedule "I" is filled out or a promise to fill it out at a later date, or a positive refusal to fill out the schedule is made; but were unable to find out whether the right of appeal would be barred by a refusal to fill out the schedule. The object of this information is for the purpose of levying the taxes on the basis of what is called an enterprise for profit. We are taxed upon our stock on hand, are taxed upon our income, and will have to pay a mercantile tax, and the committee felt that a tax upon our goodwill and business ability to be not only unjust but double taxation. They secured legal opinions but at a meeting of the Association it was decided to, as an Association, take no action, leaving it to the individual wishes of each member.

Early in July a committee consisting of the entire board of directors with their attorney, Mr. A. Lewis, held a meeting in the office of the Tax Assessor, according to a previous arrangement. There were present on the part of the Government, Assessor J. W. Pratt, Treasurer A. N. Kepoikal and their attorney, Mr. A. A. Wilder. This meeting was held to discuss the interpretation of the law as to the proper valuation of goods, wares, and merchandise for assessable purposes. It was contended by the committee that the method now in vogue of assessing at full inventory value is not in accordance with the law and the general usage in other places where the reading of the law is the same, but where a deduction from the full inventory value is made for the purpose of an assessment, it being acknowledged that the cash value of a mercantile stock is less than inventory value. The Government considers that in the eyes of the law the inventory is, or should be, the cash value and on that basis assessments are levied. Under the authority given the directors at a regular meeting of the Association, two suits have been brought before the Tax Appeal Board and if necessary will be taken to the Supreme Court for the purpose of securing a ruling as to what constitutes "full cash value for assessable purposes." A ruling upon this point will, we believe, be of great value to the business community.

Legislation.
At a meeting early in February proposed legislation was discussed, particularly the County Bill. It was decided to turn all matters of legislation over to the regular committee on public affairs, by whose vigorous work a number of measures important to the mercantile community were passed. Space will not permit an extended explanation but the more important measures were as follows:

Act 53. To facilitate the collection of debts from Government beneficiaries. This is a law for the garnishment of salaries of Government employees.

Act 52. Relating to the exemption of wages of persons working for wages. This repeals an Act passed by the Legislature of 1931, which practically exempted the average wage-earner from any suit whatever.

Act 46. Authorizing District Magistrates to issue commissions, etc. This is an Act to facilitate the collection of debts from persons resident on the other islands. Under this Act suits against delinquents may be brought in the court where the creditor lives without the necessity of a business man leaving his affairs and taking his proofs to the court where the delinquent resides. When better understood, this Act will be appreciated by the business community.

Strenuous efforts were made to prevent the passage of the Mercantile License Law, but without avail. Through the efforts of the committee, the County Bill as passed leaves a residue of the least objectionable nature, as follows:

On sales of less than $10,000, a fee of $50.
On sales exceeding $10,000 but not more than $100,000, a fee of $100.
On sales exceeding $100,000 but not more than $500,000, a fee of $250.
On sales exceeding $500,000, a fee of $500.

Act 88. Relating to foreign corporations doing business in this Territory. Under this law no foreign corporation excepting insurance companies, unless they invest and use their capital in this Territory, can have an office for the use of officers, agents, or employees unless they shall first have obtained from the Treasurer an annual license, for which they shall pay into the Treasury one-fourth of a mill on each dollar of capital stock.

Transports.
Early in the year a movement was inaugurated to bring about the making of Honolulu a regular port of call for the transports passing between the mainland and the Philippines. Shortly afterwards while in San Francisco the Secretary had several conferences with Major C. A. Devoil, general superintendent, U. S. A., and General Humphrey, quartermaster general, U. S. A. Upon the suggestion of these officials a letter was submitted reciting the various reasons why Honolulu should be made a port of call, enumerating our many advantages and facilities for coaling, provisioning and handling any required repairs, and offering the services of our organization to bring about any required change in port conditions that might be in our power. We have submitted memorials to the Secretary of War. Like action has been taken by the Chamber of Commerce and the Builders' and Traders' Exchange of this city. The cooperation of the commercial organizations of San Francisco has been asked. The Merchants' Association of San Francisco have forwarded a strong memorial favoring the making of this a port of call. The Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco held several interviews with the superintendent of the transport service. It was early found that the price of coal in Honolulu was a serious obstacle to the making of Honolulu a port of call. There being no responses to the call asking for tenders to supply the transport service, this Association called a meeting of the board of directors and the coal dealers of the city, when there was effected a joint agreement on the part of the coal dealers to, through the Association, supply the transport service with coal at a certain and reasonable figure.

Communications have been received from the Quartermaster General in Washington which would indicate that the price of coal is the only obstacle to this being made a regular port of call. Negotiations are now under way to still further reduce the price under that first arranged for by the Association. Recent newspaper cable advices from Washington are that this has been made a port of call, which we trust will be borne out. In any event, the transports are coming.

Honolulu Telephone System.
Owing to the long-continued unsatisfactory service given by our local telephone system, early in the year, a special joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and of this Association was appointed to investigate and report on the condition of the telephone system. The committee secured the services of the three leading experts in the city who made a careful examination and investigation of the system both outside and in the switch room, from whose report the conclusion was reached that the present unsatisfactory condition of the service is due to the adoption by the company of a too haphazard policy. The neglect to cable wires crowding in wires on cross-arms, too great distances between poles, the use of porcelain knobs instead of glass insulators, insufficient outside fence to do repairing and renovating, apparent ignorance as to which are live and which are dead wires, and the absolute necessity of more and better operators, with a result that 75 per cent. of the wires on the King street cable are out of use. As a result of the report of the special joint committee, the Association recommended the passage of the franchise to the Standard Telephone Co. and the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate were so notified.

Fire Claims Award.
The joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Association have just reported the result of their work. As is well known, the committee secured the services of Mr. J. G. Pratt, who was sent to Washington during part of the 57th and all of the 58th session of Congress. The result of his mission is too well known to require repetition. He secured for us an appropriation from Congress amounting to $1,226,000 in a remarkably short length of time at a cost to the community of less than $7,000, certainly a small investment for returns of such magnitude, and speaks volumes for the effective work done by Mr. Pratt and the committee.

Advertising and Exploiting Hawaii.
After months, we might say years, of discussion and the appointment of various committees to outline plans of procedure, etc., a joint committee has been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association to exploit and make known the advantages of Hawaii both from a commercial and tourist standpoint. We have succeeded in securing legislative aid augmented by private subscriptions. Additional funds, however, are required and it is to be hoped that our business community will more generally and generously respond. Headquarters have been established in the Young building. Advertising has been placed in a large number of the Eastern magazines, folders and descriptive circulars are being gotten out; transportation companies are being gotten in touch with, and arrangements are effected whereby they will handle and distribute our literature, and on their part, in many cases, are incorporating our matter in their own. It is expected that arrangements will be effected for special excursions if not for special excursion rates to Hawaii during certain months.

Proposed Annual Dinner.
We believe we can do no better in many instances than to adopt methods which have proven so successful when inaugurated by our parent body, the San Francisco Merchants' Association and we suggest to our members the inauguration of an annual dinner. This feature of the San Francisco organization was started largely by accident and through bringing together competitors in trade showed them that the other fellow is not so bad as painted, resulting in bringing the members closer together in the consideration of public measures for the improvement and advantage of their city. We therefore suggest the appointment of

DR. WINSLOW DEAD

The Denver Republican of Oct. 9 publishes the following regarding Dr. H. E. Winslow, well known in Hawaii:

Dr. H. E. Winslow, who has been an army surgeon in the Philippines, is reported dead of heart failure. The news came to his wife yesterday in a telegram from the war department signed by Col. C. E. Edwards, chief of the insular department. Dr. Winslow was about 25 years of age. His wife is with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Robbins, No. 1764 Gilpin street, and intended to leave in a few days to join her husband.

BLUEFIELDS BANANAS.

Director Jared G. Smith, of the United States Experiment Station, was notified yesterday of the shipment from Costa Rica of 500 Bluefields banana cuttings. They were obtained through the United States Department of Agriculture. The last advices were to the effect that it would be well nigh impossible to get any cuttings because of the opposition of the fruit trust.

Not long ago the Territorial Board of Agriculture authorized the expenditure of $500 by Director Smith for Bluefields cuttings, as it was desired to encourage the growing of that variety in the islands, the price in San Francisco being much higher than that of the ordinary Chilean banana exported from here.

PARKER DISQUALIFIED.

The Territorial grand jury returned fifteen indictments yesterday afternoon. Judge Gear ordered the true bills placed on the docket file until defendants were in custody.

Colonel Samuel Parker, disqualified in the next case to be presented to the grand jury, was excused for the rest of the day and P. J. Church was appointed temporary foreman.

MORE ACTIVITY REPORTED.

The following wireless was received by H. H. Trent last evening:

"A party of six, including two ladies, Mrs. Q. H. Berrey and W. L. Howard, have just returned from the crater. All well. They report more activity than ever at the volcano. Weather is clear."

HOW ISLANDERS WERE SENT HOME

To the Newspapers of Honolulu:

Will you please give me space in your papers for the following report:

So far as could be ascertained, there were in the Territory of Hawaii, last week, nearly 200 Gilbert Islanders who were earnestly desirous of returning to their own people in the Gilbert group.

As the S. S. Isolator was bound in Lahaia on Ocean Island, (distant from here some 2500 miles and one hundred and fifty miles west of the Gilbert Islands) and would pass through the Gilbert group, Mr. John T. Arundel offered to take the company to Tarawa for $1000 in case they would provide themselves with food for the ten days' passage. The Gilbert Islanders being so informed by me put into my hands $708.70. Their kind benefactors in this city gave me $291.20 more, making the needed $1000. In addition to this sum the Gilbert Islanders from Lahaia paid $21 toward the expense of the removal of their colony at Lahaia to Honolulu. Their benefactors gave $191 in cash to help them and Wilder & Co., very generously remitted one-half of the bill, which was $250 for passengers and their effects.

I hereby desire to thank sincerely all the friends of the Gilbert Islanders for what they have done to make it possible for these home-sick and disheartened ones to return to their native lands after having waited for an opportunity for half a generation. I thank the press for what they did to interest the public. I thank the British Consul, Mr. W. R. Hoare, the Rev.

TO CAMPAIGN'S END

The County Committee has made arrangements for all the meetings of the Republican party up to the very last day of the campaign.

Monday, Oct. 26—Corner Kaimali and Nuuanu streets. Tuesday, Oct. 27—Pearl City. These will be a great big turnout at the pavilion at which all the candidates of the Republican party will speak.

Wednesday, Oct. 28—Orpheum theater. This will be an opportunity for those of the Republican voters who cannot very well go out into the damp night air to hear Republican eloquence.

Thursday, Oct. 29—Japanese. A second meeting will be held at the Vineyard street camp. The speakers who go over the Fall to Kaneohe, will proceed first to Waimanalo, where they will address the few voters who are to be found there.

Friday, Oct. 30—Kakaako, Maunaloa, Koolinau, Koolanaka, Laie. The candidates and speakers will be divided up and sent out to these different places.

Saturday, Oct. 31—Corner Bethel and Hotel streets, Senator W. C. Aehl's home in Kapalama and one other place, where there is sure to be a very large crowd to listen to the candidates and other speakers.

Monday, Nov. 2—Big torchlight procession and rally. There will be thousands of Republicans in line and plenty of fireworks. The procession will start from the drill-shed grounds, will move through the principal streets of the city and will wind up on Palace Square, where the speakers of the evening will address the great throngs from a specially constructed platform.

Tuesday, Nov. 3, at 12 midnight—Big jubilation inside and outside the Republican headquarters on Fort street in honor of the splendid victory of the Republican party.

The meeting this evening will be down the road at Waianae. It was not deemed necessary to take a special train down the road, as it was thought accommodations for those who might go could be obtained. However, a message was received from Chris Holt this morning stating that there were no accommodations and that a special train would probably have to be chartered to take the people down and bring them back the same night.

Two new suits were filed in admiralty in the Federal court this morning. John M. Donovan and Alfred Richter libel the American schooner Willis A. Holden, Captain Lowell, master.

Richter sues for wages; Donovan sues for damages for personal injuries. The Holden is now lying at Kaanapali, Maui. Seattle, Washington, is her home port.

Donovan says that on July 31, 1903, at Newcastle, N. S. W., Australia, he was hired.

On August 4, 1903, the Holden left Newcastle.

On September 24, through the alleged negligence of the schooner Donovan, suffered injury, serious injury.

Donovan was hung head downward with his foot fouled in the peak down haul. The gaff was moving violently, Donovan was swung about. Fish was torn from the right foot and Donovan was dropped to the deck, his arm, hip, knee and ankle being severely injured, said injuries being caused, it is alleged, by the careless manner in which the gaff was handled—by the schooner and her master and owners, particularly by the carelessness in which the down-haul attached to the peak of the gaff was operated.

Donovan is unable to walk. He sues for $10,000.

Marshal Hendry, now aboard the Mauna Loa, will attach the Holden, having the papers in his possession.

Consul Raas has not as yet taken any steps in regard to the sailing of the bark Connetable de Richmond. The owners of the vessel cabled to Consul Raas yesterday giving him full charge of the matter. Consul Raas has cabled to the French Minister of Marine for instructions. He will take no steps before he receives an answer.

SEVEN ACRES OF CARRARA

The roof of the GREAT FIELD MUSEUM, CHICAGO, covering 7 acres of ground, is painted with Carrara Paint.

It seems hardly necessary at this day to advertise CARRARA in Honolulu, where it has so thoroughly advertised itself; but we have not said much about it as a Roof Paint, and it is proper to call attention to its endorsement by the Field Museum for that purpose.

MERCHANT ASSOCIATION DIRECTORS REVIEW

a special committee to have in charge and get up our first annual dinner, very largely on the lines adopted by the Association in San Francisco.

Future Work.
Under this head are so many matters demanding attention that we scarcely know which to first recommend, but we will suggest:

The beautifying of our city.
The systematic and thorough cleaning of our city streets.

The installing of underground conduits and the removal of the unsightly and often dangerous electric poles throughout the business section of the city.

The revision of our taxation laws, including the repeal of the mercantile license tax.

The securing and enforcement of regulations governing awnings, signs, and curtains which will do away with the unsightly and often dangerous swinging signs and the disgraceful sheets and curtains hung in front of the stores in the Oriental quarter.

The early and thorough reformation of the Honolulu telephone system.

To assist in the formation of an Annual Territorial Fair to aid the development and settlement of the Territory and foster a better feeling between the islands.

The securing of the building of coal bunkers with the latest and most economical methods of handling coal. In our work to secure the making of this a part of call for the United States transports the most serious difficulty we encountered was the antiquated and very expensive methods of handling coal in this city. It has been impressed upon us that if this is to become an important seaport, which our strategic position in the mid-Pacific, together with the building of the canal, should make us, that our harbor charges must be reduced. Otherwise not only will we fail to hold the Government transports, but on the completion of the canal, if not before, vessels will coal at cheaper ports on the Coast and in the Orient, taking the great circle route and leaving us out. This is a matter which we believe needs our early attention and action else we will become so thoroughly reputed to be an expensive port that it will be difficult to rectify.

The adjustment of inter-island transportation rates which will enable the shipment between the islands of the produce of the islands, keeping in the country funds which are constantly flowing to the Coast. This we believe would materially add to the receipts of the inter-island transportation companies. If possible to effect an arrangement whereby the inter-island shipping will not be crowded so largely into one day of the week, making that day almost a superhuman rush and the others the natural reaction.

The through steamers have recently inaugurated a policy of remaining in our port the shortest possible time, allowing passengers no opportunity to see our city and often leaving before schedule, working a hardship on the business community. In view of the vast sums being spent by this community to exploit the attractions of these islands, the first and greatest returns from which will be received by the steamship companies, we feel it is but right and just that a longer stop be made in this port and believe that the Promotion Committee and the commercial organizations should take steps at once to bring this about.

One of the most important matters for our early consideration is the beginning of an effective campaign to secure an appropriation for a Naval Yard at Pearl Harbor, fortifications on this island, and the establishment of a regimental army post. This work will involve the original expenditure of several millions of dollars and add several thousands of dollars to the regular monthly income of the city. The capture of this post by a foreign power would enable that power to prey upon the entire Pacific Coast, using this as a base of supplies. This is well recognized by the Army and Navy. They propose to make this impregnable, the plans for which are even now drawn, and we believe that it only requires an aggressive campaign of education on our part to bring about the desired result. The establishment of a regimental post near this city will add to the revenues of Honolulu and the circulating medium of the Territory at least forty thousand dollars per month or one-half million per year. We leave you to estimate what the establishment of a naval yard, machine shops, etc., would be worth to us.

Very respectfully submitted,
THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

By GEO. W. SMITH, Vice President.

By P. R. HELM, Secretary.

C. L. Wight made a motion that the report be adopted with a vote of thanks, and printed. The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Trent asked for information regarding how Association dinners were carried on in San Francisco. This information was given in detail by Mr. Helm. The meeting then adjourned.

Francis, he tried to shake off the hand that was on his arm, but the hand was of iron. He babbled unintelligible words.
"Poison!" cried Alden. "Who is poisoned? Come back here to the light!"
And he thrust Blair into the office, practically carrying the man at arm's length. Utterly insane with the fear of death, Blair struck at his captor and screamed like a child.
Elmendorf was struggling to his feet as they entered, and Alden uttered a cry at the sight of him.
"Did he do this?" he exclaimed, pointing at Blair, whom he had released.

Elmendorf pressed his hand upon his hair, which was wet with blood.
"Yes," he said hoarsely; "this—and the other!"
Alden paused an instant, the strength of his body gathering for effort. Then he leaped forward and seemed to pass half through, half over, the body of Blair, as if it had been a ghost in garments. Turning, he saw Blair lying upon the floor, his limbs contorted, his face bearing the unmistakable stamp of death.

Elmendorf staggered forward and knelt beside the body.
"We're going to keep her secret," he said. "Her name must not appear in this. We must see what the man has in his pockets and in the room. Some of these fellows make strange memoranda."
"Brenda has told me the story," said Alden. "It could not be concealed. In fact, I had got so much from the nurse you bribed that the remainder mattered little. And this was her husband, this cowardly wretch, this assassin of women!"

"He was also an inventor of women," said Elmendorf. "And I never knew a shrewder trick."
"Do you mean that he lied about seeing one?"
"There was no mysterious woman in the case," replied Elmendorf. "It was a pure fiction and worthy of its author. He was clever, and for a thoroughgoing scoundrel—Hello! What's this?"
He had drawn a sheet of paper from Blair's pocket, and after a glance at it he handed it to Alden, who read that Arthur Gordon Blair and Joseph Neale, captain of police, were equal partners.

CHAPTER XX

THE ONLY THING THAT MATTERS.

The document appeared to possess the power of a spell, for while Alden held it in his hands he heard one heavy blow upon the door, and then Neale strode into the room.
"What's this?" he demanded. "Elmendorf, didn't I tell you to let this man alone?"

"I'll let him alone now, captain," said Elmendorf. "You can bury him. And see that you bury everything else too. This whole case is on the quiet. I can steer things at headquarters with a little money, Mr. Alden, and Joe Neale must take care of the precinct. This is a mysterious suicide, Neale; due probably to financial trouble or ill health. It has no relation to the case of Miss Miller."

"Since when did I take orders from you?" cried Neale.
"Since I got hold of this," replied Elmendorf, showing the partnership agreement. "I know the whole game, Neale, and you can't stand it just now."

"That's off anyhow," said Neale, with deep bitterness. "Duncan MacLane was too smart. He has got the Holbein company's option himself, for the gent who was to have been his son-in-law, of course."

And he bowed grotesquely to Alden.
"MacLane smelled a rat after he had given up to Blair," he continued, "and so he stepped in ahead of us. And now, Elmendorf, I'm willing to call this thing a draw on your terms, I'll attend to matters here strictly on the quiet, and you take care of your own end of it as well as you can. Is it a go?"

"It is," replied the detective. "As soon as I get my head patched up I'll go down to headquarters and get Robinson out or start things moving that way. And you, Mr. Alden?"
"I am going back to St. Winifred's," was the reply.

When Alden reached the hospital, he went at once to Kendall's room, from which place he sent word of his arrival. Both the doctor and Brenda presently joined him.

"I think the danger is all over," said Kendall, taking Alden's hand. "This last attack of faintness was to be expected; but I do not look for any recurrence. But how is it with you? Something serious has happened?"
Alden told them simply and directly just what had occurred.
"She is free, then?" exclaimed Brenda.

"Yes, and partly by my hand," he replied. "Brenda, I am glad of it. I am glad to have been concerned in that man's death. I am more than half a savage. From the first instant, when I learned that Elsie had been struck down, I had scarcely more than one idea, one passion—the desire for vengeance. I wanted to kill with my own hands the man who had done this thing. All softer feelings were swallowed up in that desire."

"It produced a singular effect," said Kendall, with a shudder.
"You mean that I seemed to be guilty of this crime?" said Alden calmly.
"Well, there was murder in my heart at the time, you see, and I cannot blame any who misjudged me. And now, Brenda," he said, drawing himself up and clenching his white and delicate hands that gave so little hint of their enormous strength, "I am glad that I can go to her and tell her that he is dead; that that dreadful nightmare of the past need not hang over her; that all these horrors—"

"My friend," said Brenda, checking him, "you will do nothing of the kind." He asked her in surprise what she might mean.
"You will utter no such violent sentiments," she said. "Elsie believes herself a sinner. She looks upon that folly as if it were a terrible offense, and what is much more important, she believes that you will so regard it. She thinks that you will look upon her as a girl disgraced by her own act and saved by chance. The whole matter has assumed a shape utterly monstrous in her eyes. Now, what will you do—thank God in her presence that the dreadful drama closed with your hands upon Blair's throat? Never, never! You will be very gentle always. You will say to her in the beginning that you love her dearly and that nothing else matters in the least. You will speak as little as possible of this tangle of crime. It is not important. Do you comprehend? Love is what matters. Throughout these first difficult days and for all your life you will go the same thing. You will keep her from forgetting that such men as Blair are in the world; that she ever met one of them. It won't be a forbidden topic. Oh, far from that; merely a matter not worth brooding over in a world full of sunshine and love."

"What's this?" he demanded.
"Design," said Alden. "I want you with me. My deal has gone through in great shape. I can put you in the way of making money."
"Nobody can do that," said Elmendorf. "I wasn't born for it."
Alden did not reply in words, but he fastened a grip on Elmendorf's arm that couldn't have been loosened without a major surgical operation and led him out of the train despite his protests on the ground of duty. They went to Alden's office, and when they left it "the force" had lost an excellent officer and really able detective.

PRETTY COATS FOR LITTLE GIRLS

As much thought is put into the garments for little people as for adults, and really they are very fascinating. The little lady on the left wears a long loose coat of wine red broadcloth, the deep cape being edged with soft white fur with long ends. The bonnet is a fluffy mass of white silk and mail. The sweet looking girl in the center wears a double-breasted coat of black moire, her black heavier hat is trimmed with black tips, and fluffy white silk underlining. The third little maid has a coat of dark blue velvet with lace trimmed cape and cuffs. Her hat is of white felt and wide soft ribbon.

FLOW OF ELOQUENCE

The Republicans of the Fourth Precinct of the Fourth District had a good meeting in Emma Square last night.

Towards the last part of the meeting showers of rain drove a large part of the crowd away. Of the speakers, Gandall of Kauai easily carried off the palm.

Attorney General Lorrin Andrews opened his speech by stating that the election now at hand was the most important ever held here as it was the only one at which the people elected their own officials.

At the last election the Republicans promised county government and gave it after the Home Rulers had failed to give.

Representative Gandall made quite a long speech in Hawaiian. His eloquent and direct phrases carried the crowd with him and his humorous way of presenting the matters on hand made the gathering feel in good humor.

Getting on to the more serious aspect of things and the importance of the coming election, he compared the qualities of the Home Rule and Republican parties and made reference to Prince Kuhio's affiliation with the latter.

Representative Andrade compared the two parties. The Home Rulers when in power spent $95,000 to pass the body dog bill. The Republicans in their turn did two magnificent pieces of work, namely, the county act and the loan bill.

Senator Charles Achi spoke in Hawaiian comparing the lists of candidates of the Republicans and Home Rulers and pointed out the advantages which would be derived by the people if the Republican ticket was elected.

BECKLEY INDEPENDENT.

Representative Fred Beckley stated that he would speak not as a Republican but as a Home Ruler, despite the fact that he had been read out of the party. The government should be conducted by the people.

E. K. Liliokalani made a few remarks in Hawaiian which were followed by a speech by Harry Murray. The Home Rule party had no principle. Every man on the Republican ticket could put their records before the people and were not afraid of being roasted.

IROQUOIS MAY GO TO MIDWAY DURING NEXT WEEK

In all probability the U. S. S. Iroquois will go to Midway Island next week. Although no definite instructions to this effect have been received at the naval station still everything seems to point to a trip to Midway very soon. There are quite a number of widely different purposes which the vessel might accomplish by going at this juncture.

First of all, there is the order to proceed to Midway with two naval officers who are to do longitudo work there for the Navy Department. This order has not yet been recalled, but as it is known that one of the officers mentioned to go has since been granted leave, it was thought this trip had been given up for the time being.

On the other hand there is no reason why the Navy Department should not assign another officer to take his place. A second purpose which might be accomplished would be the taking of Professor Morse to Midway, where he has been ordered to do longitudo work for the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey office. Prof. Morse was to have gone on the steamer Patterson, but yesterday he received a cablegram to the effect that this vessel could not call here.

McLean, President; E. F. Bishop, Vice President; N. E. Gedge, Treasurer; Geo. S. Evans, Secretary & Manager; Edward Ingham, Auditor.

Midway the Iroquois could by some deviation in her route, travel over waters in which there might be some probability of finding the missing boat. This would be the fourth bird killed with one stone and the officers at the Naval Station are expecting that in view of all these circumstances, the Iroquois will probably be sent to Midway some time next week.
