HE WILL SUE STACKABLE

INTERESTING POINT RAISED BY CRAWFORD.

Wants Damages for Being Treated as a Chinaman Because He Looks Like One.

Suit against collector of customs Stackable is about to be brought by W. H. Crawford, for damages on account of the collector's refusal to allow Crawford to visit China steamers while they are in port here. The action is a result of the recent trouble on the Pacific Mail wharf, when Crawford was ejected, on the ground that he was a Chinaman, by one of the customs inspectors. Crawford has no Chinese blood in his veins, though he dresses like a Chinaman, talks the language and wears a queue. The suit will raise an interesting question regarding the collector's powers.

The collector, however, sustained his inspector in the case in which Crawford was ejected, and went further, it is claimed, making an order that Crawford must always be kept off the steamers and off the wharves when steamers are in port. This is the course taken with all Chinese, as it is deemed necessary for the enforcement of the immigration laws. The Chinese on steamers should be prevented from talking with Chinese on shore until the immigration bureau allows the former to land, as new arrivals might learn from Chinese here how to answer the questions put to them by the collector. The Chinese, it is said, are returning Chinese, with the right to land.

Crawford is an American citizen, part native, and he claims the right to board vessels like other citizens. His knowledge of the Chinese language, however, resulted in the collector refusing to permit him to do so. There was a stormy interview between the Chinese interpreter and the collector, in which the latter declared that Crawford wanted to go on board to help Chinese to land, while Crawford declared his business to be in behalf of the Hawaiian Chinese News, a newspaper of which he is the representative. Crawford declares that since he had the customs officer who ordered him off the wharf arrested for profanity, the collector has been down on him, has refused to assist him in any way or allow him any privileges. For this treatment and for being denied his alleged right to go on the wharves or aboard the steamers, he says he will demand heavy damages.

The Chinese interpreter says there are only two other white men in Honolulu who talk Chinese, F. W. Damon, and the Rev. Thwing, and that both of them are allowed on the wharves and steamers. Crawford's habit of wearing Chinese clothes and a queue has got him into entanglements before. Now he says the collector says he is just the same as a Chinaman, and must therefore keep off the wharves.

"Any American citizen has a right to learn to talk Chinese and to wear a queue and Chinese clothes if he wants," said Crawford, "without being deprived of some of his rights as a citizen."

LECTURED THE DEFENDANT. Judge Wilcox After Ignorant Drivers of Hacks.

Ah Cheong received a severe lecture in court this morning. Judge Wilcox thought that it was a proper time to warn hack drivers that they must not violate the ordinances. It appears that Ah Cheong hitched his hack too long on Nuuanu street and when the officer went to arrest him, wasted about forty minutes arguing with the policeman. The court found the defendant guilty. "You have no right to be a hack driver," declared Judge Wilcox. "You don't know enough to read up the rules governing your business. You don't know as much about driving a hack as that big monkey up on Nuuanu street. The law gives the court the right to revoke the license of hack drivers when they are convicted. Your license ought to be revoked. Licenses ought not to be issued in the first case to people like you. However as this is your first offense I will merely warn you this time. If you come up another time and I think you are guilty I will have to revoke your license." Ah Cheong was fined $5 and costs.

MRS. TEVIS ON DORIC

BRINGING HOME HUSBAND'S ASHES.

Hugh Tevis Died in Yokohama June 6 After an Operation for Appendicitis—Dr. Weir Mitchell Attended.

On board the steamship Doric bound for San Francisco is Mrs. Hugh Tevis returning a widow from her brief honeymoon. Mrs. Tevis is taking home the ashes of her husband who died in Yokohama, June 6th from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. Tevis passed through here the early part of May bound for the Orient on their wedding tour. They were on the Doric on that trip. He seemed to be in perfect health. Yokohama was reached May 14th. Shortly after arriving there Mr. Tevis complained of feeling ill and he consulted with Dr. Eldridge of that place. Dr. Eldridge diagnosed the case as appendicitis and recommended that Mr. Tevis be operated upon before taking a trip into the interior of Japan. Mr. Tevis did not relish the idea of curtailing his honeymoon by becoming bedridden so he decided to postpone the operation.

He and Mrs. Tevis took quite an extended trip into the interior of Japan visiting the various places of interest. The excitement of the trip together with the probable rough traveling which was incidental to such a journey brought on a second attack of appendicitis and Mr. Tevis returned to the Grand Hotel in Yokohama, a sick man. It was about June 1st, that he and Mrs. Tevis returned to Yokohama. He gradually became worse until finally the physicians decided that an operation was the only chance there remained of saving his life.

On June 5th, Mr. Tevis was operated upon for appendicitis by Dr. Eldridge and Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, the author. The shock of the operation proved too great for Mr. Tevis died on the following day.

His widow had the remains cremated and is bringing them home on the Doric. The ashes are enclosed in a strong box rest in the treasure vault of the vessel. Mr. Mitchell passed through here June 15th on the China but said nothing about the operation on Mr. Tevis.

LIVE WIRE ON NUUANU STREET. Mounted Patrolman Cook prevented serious injury to people from a live wire at the corner of Nuuanu and Kuakini streets last night. One of the electric light wires got crossed in some way and threatened to burn out and fall to the ground. Cook saw the danger and stood there and warned people passing not to go under the wire. He telephoned to the police station and had the clerk notify the electric company to repair the damage which several linemen did as soon as possible.

CLAIMANTS ARE ELATED

FIRMS PAYING DUTIES FEEL GOOD.

See in Treasury Ruling the Restitution of Their Gold—What Newlands Resolution Says About It.

The despatch from Washington, published yesterday, stating that the treasury department had held that no drawback could be allowed on merchandise shipped to the Hawaiian Islands since the passage of the Newlands resolution in 1898, has very much pleased certain dealers of Honolulu who paid duties after that time under protest. The dealers claimed that Hawaii became American territory upon the passage of the resolution referred to, and that they should not pay duties on goods arriving from other parts of the United States. The matter was brought before the Hawaiian Supreme Court, but the decision was against them. Since that time the dealers have pressed their claim at Washington, although not actually bringing the matter to the attention of the courts.

Their theory is that if Hawaii after July 7, 1898, was not such a distinct sovereignty as regards the United States, as to entitle American exporters to drawback on merchandise shipped to Hawaii, it was not such a distinct sovereignty as would authorize it to collect duties on merchandise brought here from the United States. On the other hand, those who do not see in this decision a chance to get their money back point out that the Newlands resolution says "existing customs regulations with the United States and other countries shall remain unchanged," and that the customs regulations of the two countries shall remain unchanged. That is Hawaiian Customs laws remaining unchanged, authorized the collection of the duties here. But the distinct sovereignty of Hawaii being lost there would be no authority for allowing a drawback on goods shipped from the mainland to Hawaii. That is Hawaii's regulations were unchanged, but the United States' regulations were.

"I feel, and our correspondents on the mainland feel, that the action of the treasury department in regard to drawback has an important bearing on our case," says one of the claimants for duties paid under protest. "While the effect is not open and direct, it is hardly reasonable to think that the collector's protest was made but were not followed up and it is doubtful that the persons interested in them will ever be able to recover. It is generally admitted that persons not protesting at all, but calmly handing over their money to the collector, will never be able to recover a dollar.

The money collected on American goods during the period referred to was a little over $2,100,000. It was taken in during the "transition" period, as the months between the passage of the Newlands resolution and the admission of the Territory is sometimes called. The authority for collecting the duties was contained in the following section of the Newlands resolution: "Until legislation shall be enacted extending the United States customs laws and regulations to the Hawaiian Islands, existing customs regulations of the Hawaiian Islands with the United States and other countries shall remain unchanged."

Of the matter Collector Stackable says: "If we admit that the claims of the firms for return of duties are tenable, the question arises 'Who is to pay?' Certainly the United States government is not going to pay, certainly the Territory of Hawaii is not going to pay. Neither is the responsible party.

"As a matter of fact, the Newlands resolution disposes of the whole matter. Under that we were instructed to proceed under the old Hawaiian customs laws until Congress gave us other laws. As collector of customs under the Republic of Hawaii I did that. I received no other laws until June 14, 1900, since when the new laws have been in effect."

Mr. Stackable said he had not yet received from the treasury department the instructions regarding drawback. Snapping his finger, however, he said: "I would not give that for the claims of the firms for return of duties. The thing is preposterous and impossible. I cannot see for the life of me any basis for the claims at this time. The court here ruled them out and I have heard that they failed to stick in the United States courts."

GRAND JURIES ARE ILLEGAL

SWEEPING CONTENTIONS IN THE SMITH CASE.

Judge Gear Hears Argument Attacking The Bailiff Act—Methods of Choosing Jurors.

When the bailiff act and the entire system of selecting juries since June 14, 1900 were attacked this morning in Judge Gear's court, in the case of the territory against Walter G. Smith. The contentions of the attorneys for the defense involve the legality of both grand and trial juries and it sustained will invalidate all proceedings of the grand jury, including indictments, many old cases may also be affected.

When the case was called the defense sought to have an immediate trial, without argument of the plea in abatement, in which the grand jury is attacked. Attorney Andrews stated that the attorneys for the defense and the attorney-general were ready to go ahead with the trial, and the defense would submit the plea in abatement without argument, and content to its being overruled by the court pro forma.

Judge Gear refused to allow the proceeding and insisted upon argument of the plea. "The contentions of the plea attack the legality of the grand jury and trial jury," said the court, and would quash all indictments before the court. The court will not consent to make a ruling without hearing argument in the matter. The court has stated that it would hear criminal cases where the interests of defendants demanded it, and it thinks that Mr. Smith is entitled to an immediate trial, and will give him one. But if it is to decide this question it desires to make a correct decision, and not one that will be overruled, and it is entitled to the assistance of counsel.

"The question raised is a most serious one, and the court would like to hear the reasons of counsel for attacking the legality of the grand jury."

Judge Gear stated that he would give a speedy decision and the case might then be tried. Attorneys Andrews and Bailou stated that they were ready to go ahead with the argument, and the case was taken up at once. Attorney-General Dole stated to the court that he might want some time in which to answer. "I do not know at present of any case reasons why the grand jury is illegal," said Mr. Dole, "and after counsel make their arguments I may want a reasonable time in which to answer."

Enough then took up the argument, beginning by attacking the proposition that a jury could be selected by one man, which he said probably occurred nowhere in the United States except in Hawaii.

The argument of Bailou lasted over an hour. He quoted many authorities on the methods of selecting grand jurors. He stated that his intentions attack the legality not only of the grand jury just adjourned and of the trial juries of the present term, but of all grand juries the territory has had, and of trial juries generally, ever since the old system was abandoned and the high sheriff began to select jurors. Bailou reviewed the change that took place in the manner of selecting jurors, after June 14, 1900, and declared that he attacked the entire series of acts by which the change was made.

Bailou was followed by Andrews, who gave further authorities and reasons why grand jurors should be selected by lots.

After the presentation of the case by the lawyers for the defense, court adjourned till one o'clock this afternoon, when attorney general Dole began his reply.

CONSTITUTION NOT IN IT. The constitution is a long way behind the flag in Guam according to intimations from United States Judge Estee this morning. Comanche, a native of that island, made application for citizenship papers, and the court intimated that it could not grant them to a man from Guam.

The applicant has lived in Hawaii for some years but was a native of Guam and a Spanish subject. He asked to be allowed to become a citizen of the United States. He is able to speak the English language and, it is stated, can creditably pass the examinations, but the court was doubtful about its power to admit from Guam.

Judge Estee was busy with several other matters and did not give a decision, though he expressed a partial opinion. "I am inclined to think that I looked the matter up before," he said, "and found that the court could not admit any other Polynesian people than the natives of Hawaii to citizenship. The Hawaiian people made a native of act of Congress, but I am of the opinion that I can not admit any other Polynesians to citizenship."

The application was postponed for a future decision.

GETS THREE MONTHS. First mate Johnson of the ship Balchall, who was accused of striking a sailor at sea, pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Estee, and was sentenced to three months in jail. Ten witnesses against him had been kept in confinement to await the trial and were released.

MR. COOPER VISITS IWILEI

ACTING GOVERNOR GOES SLUMMING.

Is to Have a Conference With the Honolulu Protective League on Monday Afternoon.

Acting Governor Cooper went to Iwilei last night to see what he could see. Cooper has invited the Honolulu Protective League to visit him on Monday afternoon and discuss the conditions in the enclosure, and he went to ascertain for himself what the place was like, so that he might be able to talk intelligently.

It is said that the acting governor is getting ready to "knock" the Iwilei proposition. The meeting with the Protective League fixed for next Monday was arranged at his suggestion, and not at the suggestion of the league. The acting governor declined to say what he thought of Iwilei, until he had had his conference with the league. He was accompanied in his visit by the Rev. W. K. Axtell, president of the league. "No one knew I was going," said Mr. Cooper, "and I was not recognized. Of course the people there recognized Mr. Axtell, who has been a frequent visitor, but they knew him, and our presence did not seem to make any difference. I think I saw the place under normal conditions, so that I can form an opinion of it for myself. I was aware of the conditions in the old Pa'uahi street district, which was burned away, but last night was the first time I had seen Iwilei."

The acting governor stated that Iwilei question was one that was being much discussed from different points of view by citizens of Honolulu, and that there appeared to be much division of opinion. He had arranged for a conference with the protective league for the purpose of hearing the views of the league.

SAILORS' RATES RAISED

LEWIS AND TURK WILL SHIP AT UNION SCALE.

Shipping Masters Announce That They Will Pay The Rates Asked By The Sailors' Union.

Hereafter if the Sailor's Union wants an argument against Shipping Master Lewis and Turk some thing different than the charge of cutting wage will have to be found.

Lewis and Turk have decided to meet the Union on its own grounds and they propose now to ship sailors at an increased scale. Heretofore the sailor's union has held out for $40 a month while Lewis and Turk shipped crews to the Coast for $35 a month. Naturally the cry was raised against the shipping masters that they were cutting wages and fighting the union. Now no such charge can be brought. The raise of wages was announced yesterday.

Lewis and Turk say that they have the support of the masters. The pair have been doing well with this increase to $40. They have shipped the Curtis to San Francisco and will put crews on the Reaper and the W. H. Smith. Both of these vessels go to the Sound next week.

Every thing seems to be quiet along the front now as the severe sentence that Judge Wilcox gave Christianson for attacking Lewis together with the warning served on the other defendants in that affair has apparently served its purpose and it was only the other night that sentinels were posted along the front looking for Lewis and Turk. What effect the raise in the scale of the shipping masters will have remains to be seen.

ITO THE GREAT COMMONER

HE IS ABOUT TO RENOUNCE THE PEERAGE.

A Rival of Our Own William Jennings Bryan—Now Drawing up a Memorial On the Subject.

YOKOHAMA, June 11.—An extraordinary rumor appears in the vernacular press to the effect that Marquis Ito is engaged in drawing up a memorial to the Throne, praying to be relieved of his peerage and official rank, so that he may be better able to apply himself to the task of constitutional government. This is not the first time that the Marquis has been credited with such an intention; and it would seem to be becoming a practice to attribute to him aims such as stern-Ionian-patriot yearning whenever the Marquis gets into difficulties, and his followers wish to raise his value in the public estimation. Whether the Marquis himself has ever entertained such an intention we should hardly like to say, but mingled with his great practical sagacity is a certain alloy of Quixotism, which might prompt him to all kinds of unexpected things. Besides, even the most level-headed Japanese often do things that could be anticipated of no European. The Marquis, too, may possibly have some idea that an ostentatious renunciation of all empty honors and dignities may be a gain for him in the public esteem. If he is doing this he may gain it. He may become as the Great Commoner, a darling of the public, like elder Pitt was until he was ill-advised enough to accept his earldom. If this is the idea we are certain that it is a very wrong one. In the first place it is not in the least degree probable that the Marquis would be allowed to abdicate his throne. Indeed, even to request the Sovereign to take back what he has been pleased to bestow savours, to a European, of insult. The memorial, if unsuccessful, would simply make the Marquis a peer in stock, and, if successful, would be casting a slur on the whole peerage. It would be tantamount to announcing that the position of a commoner is more dignified and useful than that of a Peer, and we can imagine what the feeling of the whole peerage would be towards the distinguished renegade from their order. Besides, while much is sure to be lost by such a step, what is to be gained? We see no way in which Marquis Ito can better serve the country as a commoner than as a peer. In England there is some excuse for a Prime Minister wishing to remain in the House of Commons, since it is important for him to be in close touch with the feeling of the most important estate of the realm. But in Japan a Peer Premier is if anything, in a more favorable position than a commoner. We cannot think that the Marquis seriously contemplates such a ridiculous step.—Japan Gazette.

YACHT RACE JULY 4. T. W. Hobron and other yachtsmen are arranging to have a yacht race from Pearl Harbor to this city July 4th. The plan is for the yachts to go to Pearl Harbor the afternoon of the 3rd and lay over through the boat races. After the races the yachts will then start back for Honolulu. The idea is to have the smaller yachts start first on the proper time allowance, the purpose being to handicap them as closely as possible. The races occur in the morning so the yachts ought to get back in time to permit their passengers to witness the sports at the Heaiani Club in the afternoon.

BASEBALL TODAY. There will be two baseball games this afternoon. One at Punahou will be between the Stars and the Oahu College teams. The game will be called at 3 o'clock on the campus at Punahou. At Makiki at 2:30 o'clock the Maile Hima club and the Honolulu Athletic club will begin a game.

OFFICERS ELECTED. The following officers were elected last night by Polynesian Encampment, Odd Fellows, last evening: C. Martin, Chief Patriarch; C. Charlock, High Priest; P. C. P. M. McKee, Senior Warden; A. F. Clark, Junior Warden; E. L. Cutting, Scribe; E. W. Wood, Treasurer, P. C. P.

DID MAIDA STEAL CHICKENS? Maida a Japanese was held to answer to the Circuit Court yesterday by Judge Wilcox to the charge of larceny in the second degree. George H. Holt, the dairyman and horseman claimed that the Jap had stolen seven chickens from him. About a dozen chickens were in court from which Holt was to pick the alleged stolen fowls. The court held in favor of the defendant that he could not tell the age of chickens by their teeth. The case was fought quite bitterly by J. T. Long the attorney for the defence but the court held the defendant.

WILL SOON MOVE. The Porter Furniture Company has begun the erection of a building at the corner of King and South streets, next to the Honolulu Stockyards stables to which the concern will shortly remove its stock of furniture. The lease of the company in the Waverly block will be up at the end of this month, but a short extension will be allowed in order that their building may be completed. Col. C. J. McCarthy will occupy the corner at Bethel and Hotel to be vacated by the furniture house.

PLAY AT ST. LOUIS. Pupils of St. Louis college will tonight put on the play "The Bell in the Forest." The entertainment promises to be up to the usual high standard and a large audience will doubtless enjoy it.

A SALT'S BAD MEMORY. Alleged Assaulter on Captain Brokrow On Trial.

Bert Wheeler was before Judge Wilcox yesterday to answer to charges of profanity and assault with a deadly weapon. Captain Brokrow was the complaining witness. The examination was quite startling at times but it was neither Wheeler nor Brokrow who caused the amusement. Captain Halerow of the bark Louisiana was the star witness. The witness was not well acquainted with usages of cross examination and his experience with Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth was not very pleasant to the captain.

According to the testimony of Captain Brokrow Mr. Holt of the stevedore company was crossing the street at the corner of Fort and Queen streets when a bicycle ridden by Wheeler came along and collided with him. Brokrow had yelled to Holt to look out but the wheel ran into Holt. Brokrow says that he asked Wheeler why he had run into Holt and Wheeler raised a bar of iron back as if to strike and said that it was none of Brokrow's business. The men separated without further trouble.

Captain Halerow was walking with Brokrow at the time but in his examination the skipper developed a very poor memory. He and Mr. Chillingworth had several lively tilts but in the end nothing of material interest was elicited. Wheeler was discharged.

NOT THE USUAL DESTINATION. An amusing story is told which bears upon a case of mistaken identity. A man went up to an acquaintance and began to talk to him. In the course of conversation he said: "I heard your father make such an excellent speech in the house of lords." "I am so glad," was the reply. "We lost him about ten years ago, and I am highly gratified to hear that he has gone to so respectable a place."—London Globe.

Many men have been known to lose the vital turn in life's tide because, forsooth, "their stomachs went back on them." Will you go to that far off northern clime, tempting danger at every step, to lose probably at the eleventh hour on account of "cheap goods?"

Don't do it. Be advised. Get your money's worth. Come and see us at Fort Street.

Another Large Shipment of Angle Lamps "THE ANGLE LAMP" The Light that Never Fails

It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the Islands people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with this lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (cost is no object to some people) but besides being infinitely cheaper it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a revelation to every one who uses it, and simply demonstrates that the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance. THE ANGLE LAMP never smokes, smells or gives any trouble, is lighted and extinguished as easily as gas, and is the ideal light from every standpoint. We carry these lamps from $1.50 up.

MAIL WAS HEAVY.
Cashier L. T. Kanaka, of the postoffice, reports a remarkable business in mail for the month of May. He says that more than a million pieces were handled at the office during the thirty days of the month. A most of it comes near the time of the arrival and sailing of steamers, the work on the office force at such periods is exceedingly heavy.

SOLDIER DUTY SERVED
ESTEE MAKES A PORTUGUESE A CITIZEN.
Domingos Mattos Passes on the Strength of His Record in the Hawaiian National Guard.
Domingos J. L. Mattos was made an American citizen by United States Judge Estee yesterday, after an interesting with the Judge which was quite exciting for Domingos. He is about to return to his home in Portugal and wanted to become a subject of Uncle Sam before leaving and entering again the land ruled by Carlos.
Domingos knew who was president of the United States and he had read the constitution. Judge Estee questioned him about considerable length about American institutions, and impressed upon him the idea that it was the policy of the court to make American citizens only of those who appeared likely to make good citizens. Domingos appeared to be doing well until the judge struck the jury system, and then the applicant nearly lost his ground. He didn't know what jury was. The court wanted to know if he was aware of the fact that he might be called to sit with eleven other good men and true, to try some cause, but Domingos was completely mystified and said he had never been in court before and didn't know what a jury was.
The judge next asked about military duty and was ready to shoulder arms for the United States. Louis Kenaka, who was one of Domingos's witnesses, came to the rescue with a remark that settled the case. He informed the court that the applicant had been in the Hawaiian National Guard for eight years. "Swear him in," said his honor, without further question. The fact that Domingos had served in the military here and marched under the Stars and Stripes, was regarded as enough, and Domingos got his papers without further delay.

THE PLUMBERS.
The journeymen plumbers union wish it stated that the strike of the journeymen for $6 a day has not been settled. One or two shops have yielded to the demand but others have not. The journeymen plumbers themselves, however, stand ready to do plumbing work for householders and others, and will make connections to the new sewer system.

"THE CREATION."
Hydn's oratorio "The Creation" was given last night in the opera house by Oahu college students and instructors, assisted by local musical people. The chorus was a large one, including many well known Honoluluans, and the attendance was good. The production was under the direction of Professor Bellows, who was wisely assisted by the excellent rendition of the oratorio. Captain Berger's orchestra furnished instrumental music. The production was very successful and was greatly enjoyed by those who attended.

BAND STAYS AT HOME.
House Votes Down Appropriations for Trips.
The House met at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, after the members had spent all the morning in committee work. The current expenses bill was taken up in committee of the whole and most of the time was occupied by discussion of a motion by Aylett, to appropriate $5,000 for the expenses of tours of the islands by the government band. Aylett thought that Berger and his men ought to play on all the islands. Hoogs suggested that the band travel on the new steamer for which an appropriation passed the day before.

SAVE THE ERRING.

The need of an industrial school for girls has been set forth in these columns time and again. Indeed it may have become almost a trite subject. But a subject so important as this can never become trite. What this community needs is an industrial school for boys and another for girls. It is said that the country cannot afford it, which amounts to a statement that it can afford to let its wayward girls continue on the downward path, or to state that its Legislature does not care whether they go or not.

It is true that we have a Reform School for boys but the location is unsuitable and there is no land for agricultural purposes. A reform, or rather an industrial school should, in a great measure, be self supporting. The present school cannot be self supporting. In former years it raised its own taro, and the boys cooked the roots and then prepared the poi. But with remarkable wisdom some fourteen or fifteen years ago the taro land belonging to the institution was sold, and the school was thus terribly crippled.

What was proposed to the Legislature in the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction was to primarily locate an Industrial School for boys on the land of Walaalee, Koolauloa, Oahu, and, for the present, use the old Reform School buildings for an Industrial School for girls, with the intention of eventually moving the girls also out to Walaalee.

The Walaalee tract is government land and contains 733 acres the lease of which expires this year. It is about three-quarters of a mile wide and extends from the sea beach to the top of the hills. The Oahu railroad passes through the tract. With a little expenditure plenty of water can be obtained both for domestic use and for cultivation. A small dairy farm could be established. There are two patches, a large fish pond and the land at the foothills can be cultivated in fruits and vegetables. This is certainly worth making an effort to put to the best use it can be put to, but no one seems disposed to take up the Legislative battle for reform in the lower House.

In speaking of the industrial schools, the educational report, handed to the Legislature at the commencement of the session, says:

"There is nothing more needed in the community than a place to which unruly or absolutely destitute girls can be sent. To call such a place a Reformatory School for Girls would be to brand every inmate for her after life. To call it an Industrial School is to take off the brand, and to allow the destitute to enter would be taking all sting or stigma away. An Industrial School for Girls will relieve our police courts and our charitable institutions of many unpleasant and practically insoluble problems.

"Upon a matter of this kind there is, practically, no argument necessary. We have no efficient institutions of the kind required. The Press, the Magistracy, the heads of the police, the Executive of the Territory and his officers, the general public, all loudly demand it. It remains for the Legislature to supply the proper funds for initiating these reforms. If the funds are granted they will be well administered. If the funds are not granted the projects fall to the ground. The whole matter is pivotal on the Committee of Ways and Means primarily, and on the whole Legislature in fine. It is no effort to be made for saving the waifs and strays, male and female, of this community, everyone will know where the blame lies. The present system has outgrown its usefulness for years. Now, under the Territory, under the new flag, a departure should be made which would do honor to ourselves as a people, and honor to our Legislative Representatives as being enlightened and progressive men."

The cost of initiating these plans would not have exceeded $40,000 for the ensuing two years. The new buildings, fencing and outfitting of the establishment at Walaalee could have been set going for $20,000, because the boys would have done much of the labor outside of the actual building of the houses. Another $20,000 would have paid for the support of the schools, the purchase of farming implements, of a few cattle and domestic animals as they were required, and the salaries of superintendents, teachers and guards.

It was a modest request, when one comes to consider it, and it was a request for an institution which is of vital necessity. In the past year or so there have been constant complaints of the inefficiency of the Territory in just such institutions, and as soon as the Legislature closes, there will again be similar complaints. But no one can make bricks without straw, though the Egyptians thought they had solved that impossibility. You cannot have an industrial institution without having funds to run it.

An effort is now being made to meet the situation by private benevolence. This is most worthy, but it does not speak well for the Legislative body, which is only too happy to hear of private benevolence rather than face an issue which it ought to face. More-over private benevolence and government control are always apt to get tangled up. There are possibilities of friction in the future which any one can foresee. There always comes a time in such matters when there arises a "Pharaoh who knew not Joseph." The partnership in good deeds between the public officials and the benevolent may be perfectly understood today, but it may not be understood three or four years hence. Then will come disagreement and disadvantage to the institutions. What the present Legislature should have done was to put the institution on a firm basis and it may do this yet. The Senate has made a beginning.

ONE CABLE.

The British trans-Pacific cable seems to be getting into tangible shape, and Congress will have to hurry up cable matters if we are to get into connection with the outside world. The cable will if no unforeseen disaster occurs, be ready and working on January 1, 1903.

The landing site of this British cable has been recently located. It is at the entrance of Barclay sound and about one hundred miles from Victoria. The location is described as admirably adapted for the purpose—a good harbor, 12 fathoms water close to the shore, so that vessels of 10,000 tons can find safe anchorage. The harbor is landlocked, and has a bottom of ooze that it is said will furnish good protection for the wire.

Work has already begun in England on the cable. It is to be 5,334.5 miles in length, the longest yet constructed, and will be transported and laid in one ship, which is now being specially built for the purpose. The cable will run from Vancouver Island to Fanning Island, a distance of 3,337 miles, before a landing is effected; thence to the Fiji Islands, thence to Norfolk Island, and thence to Queensland.

The first installment of cable, including the sections from Queensland to Norfolk, Fiji, and Fanning Islands, is expected to leave England in January, 1902, come direct to Vancouver Island, and be laid from Barclay Sound to Fanning Island.

This begins to look as if the floor of the Pacific is going to be crossed and recrossed by cables at last. If Congress sees that the British are really in earnest over their trans-Pacific cable, it will not be long before Uncle Sam has his own trans-Pacific cable. Indeed the President when in California spoke most hopefully of the cable to Hawaii and the Philippines. A cable will change our conditions materially, and will undoubtedly add to local prosperity. Not only will it make a great change in business and in governmental methods, but it will enable a class of people to come to the Territory who cannot now come, because while here they are out of touch with the world. We want to be in touch with the rest of the globe. Then the Islands will be near perfection as a residence.

Another $15,000 is now asked for to carry the Legislature through, and there is talk of a special session.

The Attorney-General's opinion upon the $180,000 which was in the postal savings' bank will be of interest. When it was in the bank it was not on special deposit. The credit of the Government was behind the bank.

The Summer Normal School is of great advantage to a class of teachers who can thus obtain ideas and study methods for the work of the ensuing year. It is really more practically advantageous, at our present stage of development than Teachers' Conventions would prove to be.

Upon the Tantalus matter it seems to be agreed that the least said will be the soonest mended, but that a grave mistake has been made is very certain. Even now the land is cleared no one knows where the water is to come from to irrigate Jared Smith's crops. By the way it is said that when clearing the land, the idea was prevalent that it was a primeval forest that was being felled.

If Acting Governor Cooper's visit to Iwilei was to be of any advantage or productive of any good, those interested in altering conditions there should certainly not have published the fact that he was going. An announced visit is not half as effectual as an unannounced visit. The sincerity of people who try to thwart an official in the pursuit of his duty can very well be challenged. Acting Governor Cooper made his visit unannounced and thus showed himself more sincere than his detractors.

The President repudiates all idea of a third term. This will make the administration doubly strong and will gain many friends. Though there is no legal provision against a third term, it is intensely distasteful to a majority of Americans and President McKinley only once more proves his fitness for his exalted position by refusing to listen to the promptings of some of his followers. He will go down in history as one of the greatest, one of the most far-seeing, one of the most judicious and one of the most popular of Presidents.

Pacific Heights is growing in popular estimation both for residences and as a pleasant resort. During this hot weather it is the only place about town where one can keep reasonably cool. The electric track now reaches to Nuuanu Valley and joins the tram cars so that people no longer have to walk up Pauoa road to reach the cars. Mr. Desky is certainly to be commended for the energy he has shown in opening out this suburban property. He has shown discrimination in picking out the site and determination in road building—track laying and procuring a good water supply. He deserves whatever measure of success comes to him.

Rheumatism

Two Bottles Make a Complete Cure.

Perhaps your rheumatism is not bad enough to confine you to the bed; yet your muscles and bones ache every time a storm approaches, making you generally miserable. We can bring you positive and prompt relief.

Mrs. Isabella Menzies, of Gisborne, New Zealand, sends this letter and her photograph:

"I took a hard cold which resulted in a severe attack of rheumatism. I tried all kinds of remedies without relief. Then I tried

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

I was not disappointed, for after taking only two bottles the rheumatism all left me and I was cured. I want to do everything I can to make known what a wonderful medicine your Sarsaparilla is for those suffering the severe pains of rheumatism.

To make a quick cure, take Ayer's Pills with the Sarsaparilla. They make the liver active, cure biliousness and constipation.

HAWAII WELL POPULATED

THE FINAL CENSUS BULLETIN ISSUED.

Our Percentage is 23.9 Which is a Little Less Than Average for the Entire United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—The Census office has just issued the final bulletin on the population of the United States by States and territories. It gives the figures for Hawaii at 151,901, and on comparison with the census taken by the Republic in 1896 shows a gain of 94,011. The density of Hawaii's population is given at 23.9 per cent. This is almost the exact average for the whole United States. The figures for the entire country show a density of 25.6 per cent, and the comparison in this respect is convincing that Hawaii is not overcrowded.

The Director of the Census says in the bulletin:

"The newly acquired territory of Hawaii shows an average density of population in 1900 of not quite 24 persons, ranking in this respect between Maine, with 23.2 persons, and Arkansas, with 24.7 persons to the square mile.

"Excluding the District of Columbia, which is in effect a municipality, Rhode Island, with 407 inhabitants to the square mile in 1900, is the most densely settled state in the Union, while Massachusetts comes next, with not quite 349 inhabitants to the square mile. New Jersey, with a little more than 250 inhabitants to the square mile in 1900, is the third state in point of density of population. Wyoming, with 11.1 inhabitants to the square mile, occupies fourth place. Four other states have more than 100 inhabitants to the square mile in 1900, namely, New York, with 152.6 inhabitants; Pennsylvania, with 140.1 inhabitants; Maryland, with 139.5 inhabitants; and Ohio, with 102 inhabitants to the square mile.

"Alaska has, on the average, but one-tenth of 1 person to the square mile in 1900, and, similarly, Nevada had only four-tenths of 1 person to the square mile. Wyoming has not quite 1 inhabitant to the square mile in 1900, while Arizona has an average to the square mile of 1.1 inhabitants; New Mexico of 1.6 inhabitants; Montana of 1.7 inhabitants; and Idaho of 1.9 inhabitants."

Hawaii on the same figures shows up with more population than either of the following states and territories: Wyoming, Nevada, Arizona and Alaska. She is next in rank below Idaho in population. The population of the United States, including that of Alaska, Hawaii, Indian Territory, and Indian reservations, taken as of June 1, 1900, is 76,303,387. The Philippines and Porto Rico are excluded, but 91,219 persons are included in this total who are at "military or naval stations abroad."

The Naval Governor of Tutuila and its dependencies has just reported to the department here the first official estimate of the population of the American Samoan possessions. He gives the number of people as 4,100, of which only 1,400 are on the main island. Two-thirds of the population are on Tutuila and the remainder on the small islands of the Manna group. It is now possible to give a very close estimate of the people in the by-and-by state of Hawaii (as sometimes discussed here) to embrace the present territory of Guam, Tutuila, Manna, Wake and all the American islets in the Pacific.

It is interesting to note the distribution of the persons at military and naval stations abroad, which is as follows:

ARE CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS.

Kaiser William and His Wife Join the Cult.

BERLIN, June 9.—Emperor William and his consort are said to have become converts to the Christian Science faith and the court chaplains have received a sharp rap over the knuckles from the Kaiser for endeavoring to check the spread of the cult among the members of the court, and especially among the entourage of their majesties, in obedience to the directions of the Lutheran Synod, which is at odds with the monarch about the matter.

William has inherited all the tendencies toward religious mysticism of his grand-uncle, King Frederick William IV, and which were in a measure shared by his father, Emperor William—a mysticism which leads him to believe that he is in closer communion with Providence than the remainder of mankind and that everything he does is accomplished with the sanction and direct approval of the Creator.

The Empress, too, is exceedingly pious and an evangelist, and is entirely responsible for the extraordinary religious revival that has found its expression in the building of a phenomenal number of churches and in the making of piety fashionable.

INJURED BY EXPLOSION.

WAILUKU, June 19.—On Wednesday last, a Japanese working in the tunnel of the H. C. & S. Co. in Iao Valley was blasting boulders. The place was very wet, and as the charge of powder of which he had lit the fuse failed to explode, and thinking that the fuse had gone out, he went to relight the fuse. Unfortunately, the fuse had not gone out, and while he was in the act of relighting it, the charge exploded. His skull was fractured in two places and his left arm was badly shattered. He was at once taken to the hospital where he still remains in a precarious condition.

Carl Waldever, superintendent of the tunnel, made a very narrow escape, as he had entered the tunnel and had approached within a few feet of the Japanese when the charge exploded. Fortunately for him he was standing immediately behind the Japanese and consequently escaped without a scratch.

THAT $180,000.

J. B. Atherton who was once president of the Board of Immigration and was a member of it at the time it was abolished, says that the government may find the legal but not the moral right to acquire the money deposited in the Postal Savings bank. The thing in such a case that I would have to figure a great deal to get just where it is at. A large number of Chinese have been going back to China without utilizing their passage money at all, and others have died. A considerable sum has accumulated in this way that may properly fall into the hands of the government, but I think the balance must be used in the way for which it was originally intended. At the same time there should be a time limit."

WANAMAKER AND MAYOR

HOT FIGHT OVER PHILADELPHIA FRANCHISES.

Privileges Worth Millions Given to the Political Enemies of Wanamaker and Over His Vigorous Protest.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—A startling turn was given today by former Postmaster-General Wanamaker to the street railway franchise question which for months has absorbed public interest here. After a campaign that began last month in the Legislature with the passage of the enabling act, and has been continued in the Council, the company in which Mayor Ashbridge, Senator Quay and Penrose and nearly all the Philadelphia Congressmen are interested secured yesterday by vote of the municipal body fourteen franchises, covering practically all the street railway rights of the city and containing no provision for adequate compensation to the city.

Wanamaker today sent to Mayor Ashbridge, before whom these ordinances have been placed for his signature, a letter offering $2,500,000 for the rights granted by them. He urges the Mayor to disapprove the franchises and take steps to secure for the people lower fares and substantial returns for privileges worth millions, which under the pending measures are disposed of practically as a gift. In spite of this, however, Mayor Ashbridge late tonight signed the ordinances.

In order that the offer might reach the Mayor before he signed the ordinances, Mr. Wanamaker prepared two letters. One was sent to the Mayor's private residence and the other was personally handed to the Mayor by Mr. Wanamaker's secretary during the exercises at the new Mint building. The instant the Mayor recognized the handwriting of Mr. Wanamaker he thrust the letter into the crowd without reading it. The Mayor and Mr. Wanamaker are not on friendly terms.

NO TRUTH IN RUMOR OF PEACE.

LONDON, June 13.—A. J. Balfour, the Government leader, answering a question in the House of Commons today, said there was no foundation for the rumors about peace negotiations with the Boers. The strength of the Boers was estimated to be 16,000 men.

BOOM IN PANAMA HATS.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Those who thought Panama hats had the last year were lucky, for they are practically out of the market today. The few that are to be had are held by dealers at $35 and this price is not likely to decrease.

The South American makers are, so far as they are able, to meet the demand, said a salesman in the largest hat store on Fifth avenue yesterday afternoon, "and for two months they have suddenly become the fashion all over the world. They are as much in demand abroad as they are here, and the scarcity is the same there. This sudden demand was too much for the makers, who had laid up no reserve stock. Now our prices are $35 for a hat that cost only three-fifths of that amount last year, and they are to be had only in certain sizes. Others could not be bought here at any price. We have no idea when the new supply will come in. The demand at those prices is strong enough to sell as many as we could get hold of."

TAXING GOLD.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A cable to the World from London says: The British Government has decided to levy $250,000,000 on the Transvaal gold mines, the World correspondent learns from the best source to pay half the cost of the war. Sir David Barbour, formerly Finance Minister for India, who was commissioned to report upon the taxable capacity of these mines, advised Colonial Secretary Chamberlain to levy $175,000,000, but Chamberlain, after consultation with Lord Milner, increased the maximum to the amount stated. Barbour's report is awaited here with the keenest interest in political and financial circles.

This recommendation, when it becomes known here, is certain to cause consternation among Kaffir stockholders, who fancied that the idea of taxing the mines, which are mostly owned in England, had been abandoned. As these very gold mines were the real underlying cause of war, many have maintained that their British owners should be made to bear a large share, at least, of its heavy burden.

JUDGE WILCOX IS TIRED

OF BEING IMPOSED UPON BY ATTORNEYS.

Says That in Future He Will Not Run His Court to Suit Their Circuit Court Engagements.

In future Judge Wilcox will not run his court to suit the convenience of lawyers who have business in the circuit court. He is tired of being imposed upon and he laid down this mandate this morning. It was in the case of assault and battery against Chin Tan and Ping Chock charged with attacking Marie Kanaka.

E. M. Brooks appeared for the defendant and asked for a continuance until Tuesday. He was busy in the Circuit Court the other days and he asked that the continuance be granted.

"Well now," remarked Judge Wilcox, "this court is tired of having to run its session to suit the convenience of the circuit courts. The Circuit court is holding extra sessions and this court is asked to continue cases in order to allow attorneys who have business in the other court to attend there. You attorneys seem to think that all you have to do is to come up here and get a continuance."

"Oh your honor," said Mr. Brooks, "it was not as a matter of right that I asked for the continuance but more a matter—"

"A matter of course," interrupted the court. Mr. Brooks denied the impeachment and the court granted the continuance. "Hereafter," added the judge, "the business of this court is not to be run to suit other courts. The lawyers who have cases in both courts will have to decide in future which court they are coming to."

IN CHINA. It is well that the powers are getting their forces out of China as they are, or there would be no telling when a fight among themselves would be precipitated by such a riot among the soldiers as the day's dispatches tell of. There are infinite possibilities of trouble in a collision like this, but the fact that the armies are in process of withdrawal will be a means of preventing it from amounting to much. If the soldiers of the different nationalities were now being kept there to enforce a partition of other general freebooting plan, such an outbreak might easily be the spark to start a conflagration.—Springfield Republican.

WHITNEY & MARSH, LTD New Shirts This concerns a new lot of SHIRTS that are made in new materials in a new way. Ruining up and down the bosom is a series of vertical pleats, cleverly concealed underneath of each of which, is a strip of canvas which looks very much like a piece of mosquito netting. This allows the air to circulate freely between the body and the shirt—something that will be appreciated in the hot days that are coming. There are other good points about these shirts, too—but come in and see them. There are some in our windows. WHITNEY & MARSH, LTD
