CUPID ON TRIAL.

Witnesses Who Saw Him in Two Gaily Places on the Sunday.

Mr. Neumann is Over-ruled in the Usual Objections.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

Court convened shortly after 10 o'clock. After reading of minutes the appointment of A. G. M. Robertson to the position of Judge Advocate succeeding W. A. Kinney was read.

Captain J. W. Pratt was absent through indisposition. The members of the Commission were then sworn.

The charge and specifications against Jonah Kalanianoale (Prince Cupid) were then read. He is charged with misprision of treason.

Mr. Neumann entered his former objection to the jurisdiction of the Commission. It was over-ruled.

To the charge and specifications the accused declined to plead by advice of his counsel, Paul Neumann.

On the first witness being called, Mr. Neumann objected on the ground that a list of witnesses had not been furnished to him as required by law.

Judge Advocate Robertson thought it was unnecessary, as he had not been asked for the list.

The Court retired for deliberation.

The objection was over-ruled and the trial was ordered to proceed.

Walter Blacker, sworn, states: Work for Cecil Brown handling horses at Waikiki; was in the Park on Sunday, Jan. 6; saw the accused on that day in the lane leading to Bertelmann's house; saw him first coming out of the lane and going towards the Park; the next time I saw him was when he was coming back towards Bertelmann's place; said, "Good evening" to him; did not see anything of him after that; the first time was between half-past three and four o'clock, and the second time was about twenty minutes later; the accused was riding a dirty black colored horse; he rode at an easy canter and almost stopped before me.

Samuel Nowlein, sworn, states: Was engaged in conspiring to overthrow the government three months prior to my arrest; remember despatching the steamer Waimanalo to land arms; these were landed at Diamond Head on Jan. 3; know the accused; never had any conversation with him regarding the affair.

Cross-examination—Don't know of my own knowledge whether the steamer Waimanalo was sent out or not; saw the guns and had one of them.

Mr. Neumann moved that Nowlein's evidence be stricken out because it was hearsay.

The objection was over-ruled.

Charles Bartow, sworn, states: Was at Kahala and Kaalawai on Sunday, Jan. 6; there were over 230 guns there; men there were engaged in cleaning guns; saw the accused at Kaalawai on Sunday noon, Jan. 6; he was on horseback; he jumped off and went into the house where the arms and ammunition were; armed men were about the place; the men were discussing the object of their assembling there; the house referred to was Antone Rosa's house.

Cross-examination—Don't know whether the accused went into the house; there were over ninety men there; Lot Lane and George Townsend talked about the restoration of the Queen on the premises; the accused tied his horse on the right side of the house.

Sam Kanahale, sworn, states: Was at Kaalawai on Sunday, Jan. 6, and saw men engaged in carrying guns into Rosa's house; the men were cleaning the guns and taking out cartridges from the magazine; know defendant; he was at Kaalawai on that Sunday; he came to Antone Rosa's house between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening; don't know where he come from; saw him enter the house but did not see him leave.

Charles Warren, sworn, states: Know the accused; he was outside the veranda of the house at Kahala late in the afternoon; he was with Carl Widemann; didn't see him going into the house; he remained there about half an hour; he came there on horseback; witness recounts his going on the foreign schooner and later of landing of arms at Kahala.

A. M. Brown, sworn, states: On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 6, was at Waikiki and saw the accused in front of Bertelmann's house at 5:30 o'clock in the evening; he was on horseback and so was I; he passed a few feet of me.

Cross-examination: Was at that point watching Bertelmann's premises under orders from the Marshal; had heard that arms were secreted on Bertelmann's premises; two others passed me coming from the same direction as the accused; one of them was John Wise.

W. O. Smith, sworn, states: Am Attorney-General; know the accused; the government first knew of the landing of arms on the evening of Sunday, Jan. 6; actual hostilities began at 7 p. m.

Recess was taken till 1:30 p. m.

An Objection.

The following objection was entered by Mr. Neumann before recess, and disallowed:

The undersigned, attorney for Mrs. Liliuokalani Dominis, a prisoner arraigned and tried before this Commission on a charge of misprision of treason, respectfully objects to the minutes of the proceedings of the nineteenth day, viz.: Feb. 10, 1895, as read, on the ground that they contain no true records of the proceedings and also do not set forth the action of the Commission in respect of the written statement of the accused.

PAUL NEUMANN.

Afternoon Session.

Court re-convened at 1:30 o'clock. There were only two spectators present.

At the opening, the prosecution having closed, Mr. Neumann made a brief argument and was similarly followed by Judge Advocate Robertson.

The Court retired for a few minutes recess.

Mate Knudsen of the steamer Waimanalo was then brought on for trial.

Wise and Otherwise.

"I suppose Newrie's new house is sumptuously fitted up?" "Yes, indeed. He has everything you can think of that is costly. Why, his fire extinguisher is kept full of champagne all the time."—Harper's Bazar.

Susie: "Oh, dear! I want to work something lovely in embroidery for Jack, and I can't think of a subject. He's a football crank, you know." Katie: "I'll tell you what to indicate in the design. Put in a big chrysanthemum, floating in a sea of mud. And in the background you might work a case of surgical instruments."—Pittsburg Bulletin.

She (complainingly): "Before we were married you used to bring me flowers almost every day, but now you never think of buying me even a bunch of violets." He (gallantly): "The pretty flower girls don't attract my attention as much as they used to." She: "Oh, you darling! Never mind; I don't really care for flowers, anyway."—New York Weekly.

In a recent editorial the Salem, Oregon, Independent says: "Time and again have we seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy tried and never without the most satisfactory results. Whenever we see a person afflicted with hoarseness, with a cough or cold, we invariably advise them to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; and when they do, they never regret it. It always does the work, and does it well." For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

OWNERSHIP OF ALASKA.

Prediction that it Will Create an International Dispute.

The Alaskan News, published at Juneau City, makes the sensational prediction that Takou inlet and the head of Lynn canal will become famous the world over as affording grounds for a fierce international dispute, and a cause for arbitration by the European powers to determine which country shall hold possession of it, according to the provisions of the Russian treaty and the subsequent purchase of Alaska by the United States.

"Each nation," says the Alaska News, "holds fast to a different construction of the Russian treaty, England maintaining that the boundary line does not follow up and around the deep inlets and bays, as held by the United States, but follows the general coast line ten marine leagues in the interior from salt water. Great Britain sees a flaw in the treaty, and, with her usual aggressiveness, will endeavor to wrest from the government at Washington City the harbors and inlets about Juneau, so that a British seaport will hold the portal to the Yukon country and the undeveloped Northwest territory.

"The good results following to the commerce of English provinces by reason of a seaport is too important to be overlooked by England's aggressive foreign policy.

"Will Uncle Sam, under Gresham's weak-kneed foreign policy, lose valuable possessions in Southeastern Alaska? Judging from his past bungling efforts it would not be surprising if he did lose his American birthright to curry favor with the London free traders. Since Japan is coming to the fore as a commercial power, England has her tentacles upon Alaska, to snatch a seaport for her navy and commerce-laden ships. Will Uncle Sam make her let go?"

That Assault on the Wharf.

Count von Platen, a visiting artist, complains of the report in Friday's paper of an assault committed upon him by a through passenger by the steamer Mariposa. He had not accused his assailant of stealing pictures, but that person—a rude, officious fellow—had been annoying him persistently on the passage. Upon arrival here the man gave information to the customs officials that the Count had improper photographs in possession. This the officials found to be not true, as the pictures were only intended for studies in art. Though happily this cowardly assault did not have so serious consequences as was reported, still it was of quite a brutal character in both the intention and the attempt. The port surveyor did not come to the Count's assistance, and Count von Platen, contrary to the report, did complain at the Swedish Consulate, but it was not feasible to have the offender taken off a foreign steamer for punishment.

Taken the Oath.

The following persons took the oath to the Constitution of the Republic to-day: H. B. Schroder, German; Harry Pierce, American; David Kanuha, Hawaiian; James J. Leach, Geo. Overbeck and Ed. Sanstrom, American.

The exposure to all sorts and conditions of weather that a lumberman is called upon to endure in the camps often produces severe colds which if not promptly checked, result in congestion or pneumonia. Mr. J. O. Davenport, ex-manager of the Fort Bragg Redwood Co., an immense institution at Fort Bragg, Cal., says they sell large quantities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the company's store and that he has himself used this remedy for a severe cold and obtained immediate relief. This medicine prevents any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia and insures a prompt recovery. For sale by Benson, Smith Co., Agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

THE BROOKLYN STRIKE.

Judge Gaynor has rendered a decision, of which he will grant a mandamus form to be determined on argument, on the stopping of street cars. It is in effect to compel the Brooklyn Heights Railroad to operate its cars in sufficient numbers to accommodate the public. The decision says the company owes a duty to its stockholders, and if it cannot get men to operate the cars for the wages offered it must pay more.

Thomas Carney, a young roofer shot Wednesday afternoon by a member of the advance guard of the Thirteenth Regiment, died early Thursday morning. Eyewitnesses of the shooting aver that it was utterly unprovoked. Up to the time it took place the resistance offered to the soldiers consisted in the throwing of one bottle. This was the second man killed by the soldiers since the strike began in Brooklyn.

More trouble occurred yesterday in the attempt to run cars. A man was shot through the hand by a policeman. While a woman was washing the front windows of her flat, the soldiers told her to go inside. She did not understand the order and failed to obey it, when a shot was fired in her direction which broke an adjoining window, and the woman leaped into the room and closed the window.

There was a riot at Twenty-fifth street and Third avenue. A crowd collected and jeered the soldiers who were there under arms. The mob continued increasing until noon, when a stone was hurled by one of the crowd, striking a policeman. This was followed by several others and then the police and militia charged. The mob rushed along the avenue and into the side streets. Many of them received bayonet thrusts from the militiamen, while the clubs of the police were used with telling effect on the heads of the rioters.

The police arrested John Tigh, Charles Burke and Stephen Gannon. When conveying them to the station the crowd attacked the officers and tried to rescue the prisoners. After a desperate conflict, during which more stones were thrown and blows struck on both sides, the three stone throwers were locked up.

The most serious attempt to prevent the running of cars over the Third-avenue line was made at Sixty-fifth street and Third-avenue, where a plot to burn out the dynamos in the depot was nearly successful. It was evidently the work of skilled electricians. The wires were cut and guy ropes were attached to them, by which they were drawn down and grounded on the posts of the elevated road. The scheme, however, was discovered in time to frustrate the plan.

In spite of all the disadvantages three more lines were opened, and there was a slight increase in the number of cars run. But the service on all the opened lines is extremely irregular and only a few passengers were carried. After 8 o'clock p. m. the Fifth-avenue line alone had cars in motion. The last car was at 10:30 o'clock.

The strike is still on, and the two most easily calculated items of expense have reached these figures: For militia, $75,000; for losses to the companies in passenger traffic, $250,000. The trolley companies will sue the city for this loss.

A feature worthy of note is the continued and most generous inflow of money and provisions to the strikers, the willingness of the butcher and grocer to trust them and the forbearance of the landlord.

Several accidents have happened through the employment of inefficient motormen.

Eugene V. Debs, who led the great railroad strike at Chicago a year ago, and whose trial for conspiracy in that affair has been begun there, was questioned by a correspondent concerning the Brooklyn strike. Debs declared he had received a number of letters of individuals in that city asking his immediate presence.

"I cautioned them before the strike began not to commence it," said Mr. Debs. "I believe the men are right in everything for which they ask, but if I, in the dark, ran up against fixed bayonets I will not knowingly do so again. I knew that bayonets would be used at Brooklyn, and that just so soon as any damage was done the people would rise up and exclaim: 'We've got to stop this thing.' These are the reasons why I advised the people down there not to strike."

REFORM MOVEMENT IN CALIFORNIA.

This is apt to be a session of startling exposures in the matter of expenditures on public institutions, says the latest despatch from Sacramento. Led by Governor Budd and Attorney-General Fitzgerald, the committees on retrenchment and the State Board of Examiners are beginning to probe everywhere, and they have already uncovered enough to make them suspect a great deal more.

"It has been a case of 'grab' everywhere," said the Governor this afternoon. "It is astonishing the way the money has been wasted. Any of the other State officials who has looked into the matter at all will tell you the same thing."

One of the measures which the Governor and the other reformers hope to have passed is the bill giving the State Board of Examiners power to investigate all public institutions, and providing for the expenses of the investigation. Under this it is expected to cut off the barnacles and bring the institutions down to a business basis. Another measure provides that all the contingent funds of the institutions shall go into the State Treasury.

State aid to indigents is to be stopped. The law providing for this State aid was passed years ago. The counties paid little attention to it for a time. Then schemers went about working up the matter in the various counties and getting back pay from the State for a contingent fee. Millions of dollars have thus been taken from the State Treasury. The Assembly has a splendid Committee on Retrenchment, with Phelps at the head of it. Phelps was permitted to select his own committee, and he picked the known reformers.

In the Senate Seymour is chairman of the committees, and he declares that he is now the "king of the reformers." So far both committees seem to be in entire harmony with Budd and Fitzgerald, and something notable should come from their work.

NICARAGUA CANAL BILL.

The vote on the Nicaragua bill will be taken up in the Senate at 5 o'clock this afternoon unless some unexpected parliamentary obstruction is interposed. In view of the speedy culmination of the long debate, there was added interest yesterday in the speeches, and much speculation on the outcome of the long struggle. Mr. White spoke in advocacy of the bill. Mr. Morgan, in charge of the measure, will close the debate to-day.

Mr. Morgan is confident he has a majority in favor of the bill. There has been no test vote, however, to indicate with any certainty what the result will be. There has been vigorous and bitter opposition to the bill and Mr. Turpie, who has led the opposition, is not yet ready to concede that the bill will pass.

Pritchard was sworn in during the day. The session closed with the rapid passage of twenty-one pension bills.

SUGAR TRUST WINS.

The United States Supreme Court on January 21 affirmed the decision of the Circuit Court in the case of the United States vs. the E. C. Knight Company. The Government sought to compel a return of the stock of the Knight Company sold to the American Sugar Refining Company. The Court said that the contract of sale was not a restriction of interstate commerce and did not come within the terms of the Sherman anti-trust law. The judgment was against the United States.

Justice Harlan dissented. President Henry Havemeyer and Secretary John W. Searles of the American Sugar Refining Company and Brokers Allen W. Seymour of New York and John W. McCartney of this city were arraigned, through their counsel, in the District Court. Counsel entered pleas of not guilty.

THE NEWEST FINANCIAL PLAN.

The details of the amended financial plan which Springer and Cox and others of the Banking Committee are discussing with Secretary Carlisle have been disclosed. The most radical feature of the new proposition is that for the coinage of silver. It contemplates the cancellation of the Sherman notes when received at the Treasury and the issue of silver certificates in denominations of $1, $2 and $3 or of silver dollars if the receivers prefer. To back these silver certificates it is proposed to coin all the bullion in the Treasury, which, including $54,000,000 seigniorage, amounts to $181,000,000. It is calculated not more than $40,000,000 can be coined in a year.

CHEAP FARES TO ALASKA.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company has cut rates from the Sound to Alaskan points, first-class fare being reduced from $52 to $20, and second class $30 to $10. This was caused by the prospective establishment of a new steamship line to Alaska, March 1, in connection with the Northern Pacific.

Returning steamboatmen say that there is no work in Alaska, and that workmen should not go there unless they have money enough to push on to the gold fields up the Yukon river or pay their fare home. The weather is too severe to allow of the gold fields being reached before late in April or May.

VERY OLD WOMAN DEAD.

Vietrita, a squaw, died at her hut on the Bailhache farm, near Healdsburg, Cal., on the 23d inst., at the age of 115 years. Vietrita was born in the Sotoyome valley, and the oldest settler can remember seeing the then decrepit old woman forty years or more ago. In the same cabin with Vietrita dwelt her descendants of five generations, her great-grandchild being thirteen years of age. When they laid the old lady under the sod there was great rejoicing among the Indians, as for the past ten or fifteen years she has been so feeble that she could not leave her abode.

AN OPPRESSIVE ORDER.

An order of Judge Sanborn made in December has been enforced for the first time at Omaha, which decrees that judgments against employees of the receivers of the Union Pacific Railway are to be paid in monthly instalments of ten percent of the debtors' wages, and if the debtor fail to pay this proportion monthly, then he may be cited to show cause why his entire wages for the succeeding month shall not be paid to the clerk of the court for punishment. The enforcement of the order is creating great indignation among the labor unions.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

Another chapter to the Hawaiian question was added yesterday, Allen presenting a resolution for annexation, and George making a speech supporting the Administration's policy.

EUROPE.

A man fired several shots from a revolver in a train running out of Paris. A nun was killed and three other passengers were wounded. The shooter was arrested. He is supposed to be insane.

The Volksblatt, an anti-Semitic journal circulating in Mannheim, Heidelberg and Frankfurt, has been confiscated by the authorities, owing to its having published an article entitled, "Ode to Agam," which was regarded as a parody on Emperor William's song, "To Agier."

Cardinal Desprez, Archbishop of Toulouse, is dead, aged 88 years.

The Rev. Dr. Emery, Rector Emeritus of the Irish College, is dead.

Messina, Italy, has had shocks of earthquake.

Empress Frederick of Germany has received news from Athens which is far from reassuring. The report that King George intends to abdicate continues to circulate.

Count Schouvaloff, before his departure from Berlin, informed the Emperor that Count Herbert Bismarck would be persona grata as German Ambassador to St. Petersburg.

The German Government intends to construct four large ironclads, a cruiser and a dispatch boat, the cost of which is estimated at over 80,000,000 marks.

OTHER LANDS.

WARNING TO SEALERS.

The Customs Collector at Vancouver has received notice from the Department of Marine and Fisheries of the renewal of the provisional agreement with Russia providing a protective zone of thirty miles around the Commander islands, in the North Pacific ocean, and Tulenev island and Ribbon reef, in the Okhotsk sea, as well as a protective zone of ten miles along the shores of the Russian mainland. The Collector is ordered to warn sealers accordingly.

Pure Milk.

The business of the country is settling into its former groove. Our gentlemanly driver has returned from his vacation, the cows in the pasture switch flies instead of bullets with their tails and the cream is richer in consequence. We believe we have satisfied every one of our customers who have taken milk from us and we are in a position to supply a great many more. The people who from choice or necessity visited Waialae during the past two weeks have had an opportunity to see just what sort of diet our stock feeds upon, and no longer wonder at the richness of the milk from our dairy. Our facilities for delivery are the best. With the exception of a day or two early in the late unpleasantness our drivers have always been on time at our customers' residences. We take this opportunity to thank those who have been patient with us and to solicit a continuance of their patronage. We will be pleased to fill all orders telephoned to us and guarantee all milk to be pure and free from adulteration.

ANOTHER WAR IMMINENT.

Expected Declaration of War by Guatemala Against Mexico.

A despatch of January 24 from the City of Mexico announces the receipt of Guatemala's reply to the demand of Mexico. Although the contents are not known outside of official circles, it is generally understood they are to the effect that the territory disputed belongs to Guatemala, and if any indemnity is to be paid Mexico owes it to Guatemala. War was expected to be declared that day or the next.

Mexico's reply would be an ultimatum to be carried by the corvette Zaragoza, with instructions to Mexican Minister Godoy to ask for his passport if the ultimatum was disobeyed. In that case the minister would be landed on Mexican soil, and the Zaragoza would be immediately employed in carrying troops and munitions of war for use against Guatemala.

There is an intensely patriotic spirit manifested in Mexico, war meetings being held in different places. It is said 25,000 volunteers could be enrolled in the capital if the Government needed their services. There are 18,000 Mexican troops on the Guatemalan border, and more are being concentrated at strategic points. If war be declared the Mexican forces will march for the Guatemalan capital, and the Guatemalan troops if repulsed will fall back upon the capital for its defense.

There was a demonstration of students in the City of Mexico, when 10,000 young men invaded the National Palace to offer themselves as volunteers to fight. Crowds stand in the street waiting for news from Government headquarters. Every warlike rumor is received with enthusiasm. The taunt of the Guatemalan press that Mexico has never won a victory has aroused the Mexicans, and they are aching for a chance to chastise their insulters. The Guatemalan troops are apparently as anxious to fight as the Mexicans. They hotly deny that any of their number have deserted to the Mexican side, as was reported from the City of Mexico.

The United States will use its good offices to prevent war between Mexico and Guatemala, according to the New York Herald's correspondent. For some time past, especially since it became apparent that Mexico had begun active military preparations, the Administration officials have been seriously considering the propriety of endeavoring to mediate the difficulty between the two countries. As a result, I understand, it has been practically decided to instruct our Minister to Mexico to make efforts to avoid a conflict between the two republics. The United States gunboats Alert and Ranger have left San Francisco for a cruise southward along the coast, and will look after United States interests if war breaks out between the two southern republics.

FOR HAWAIIAN REGISTRY.

New Vessel to Trade Between San Francisco and Honolulu.

A 3-masted schooner called the Queen City, 300 tons register, was launched at Vancouver lately. She is the largest vessel ever built in British Columbia, but is to be followed on the stocks by a barkentine of 600 tons. The Queen City will fly the Hawaiian flag and engage in the sugar trade between Honolulu and San Francisco. She has already been chartered to load lumber at the Hastings mills for Kobe, Japan, and then bring sugar to the refinery at Vancouver. She will then go to San Francisco. She is commanded by Captain Bjerro, a well-known sealing captain.

JOB PRINTING of every description done by the BULLETIN PUBLISHING CO., L'D. First-class Commercial Work a Specialty. Estimates given. Orders promptly executed.

The Daily Bulletin.

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But Established for the Benefit of All.

MONDAY, FEB. 11, 1895.

There is no daily paper in Honolulu that gives more value for the money than the BULLETIN.

There is good authority for denouncing the insinuations of the Washington Star against the British authorities at Honolulu as a base falsehood.

It is officially stated in London that the British Minister at Honolulu is maintaining an absolutely neutral attitude and that there is no foundation for the report that the Royalists were assured of British support in the event of temporary success. If Minister Wodehouse were subjected to a rigid cross-examination regarding his almost daily visits to the ex-Queen Liliuokalani, his official statements might assume a different appearance.—San Francisco Chronicle.

If the editor of the Chronicle knew what he was talking about he would not make his paper so ridiculous as is done in the paragraph quoted. Minister Wodehouse, having completed the term of service entitling him to retire on a pension, was relieved many months ago by Mr. Hawes as Commissioner and Consul-General. Mr. Hawes arrived about the same time as his Government recognized the Republic of Hawaii, and from the first observed the strictest neutrality in Hawaiian politics.

HAWAII IN WASHINGTON.

Interesting Debate in the Senate on the New Situation.

The promise of exciting scenes to-day over the debate on the Hawaiian question was not verified, nevertheless there was considerable excitement, says a Washington despatch of January 21. The galleries were all filled in anticipation of the debate. Prominent in a front seat in the diplomatic gallery was Minister Thurston, who took in every word that was said from the beginning to the end. He nervously drummed with his fingers on the railing in front of him whenever anything was said reflecting unfavorably upon his friends in the new Government.

Senator Frye did not do the talking to-day, as was expected, the floor being occupied during the whole of the debate by Gray of Delaware in defense of the Administration, although he was several times interrupted by Republican Senators. He claimed that the Administration policy of non-intervention had been the policy of this Government from its foundation, but Senator Frye almost took Gray's breath away when he said to the latter that it was not a question of non-intervention in the affairs of another country, but it was a question whether or not the Administration had done right in withdrawing all its warships from Hawaii when the lives of so many Americans and so much property owned by them were in danger.

Senators Lodge, Frye and Chandler plied Gray with questions since he assumed to speak for the Administration, and they pressed him so hard now and then that he suggested that it would be necessary for them to call at the White House to get the information they desired. Gray controlled his temper very well, throughout the debate, and there were no angry remarks made by anyone.

The hour of 2, which closed the debate, arrived before Gray had hardly concluded his remarks, and Senator Frye asked unanimous consent that the debate might be continued, but Senator Morgan was anxious to get up the Nicaragua Canal bill and objected to the proposed arrangement. Senator Frye then said that he was in a dilemma. He wanted to vote for the Nicaragua bill, and he wanted a vote to be taken as early as possible, but he also wanted a resolution of sympathy to the Hawaiian Government voted upon without delay.

Finding that he could not continue the debate, Frye gave notice that to-morrow he would try to call up the resolution. Senator Chandler suggested that by unanimous consent the resolution should not lose its place upon the calendar, but should come up on its own accord at to-morrow's session, to which Senator Frye replied that such a course was not necessary. Said he: "We will be strong enough to take it up. Never fear anything the contrary." The Nicaraguan bill was then taken up, only to be displaced by the urgent deficiency bill, and the galleries thinned out very rapidly.

The resolution brought forward by Lodge was as follows:

Resolved, That the Senate heartily approves the despatch of a war ship to the Sandwich Islands on Saturday last and is of the opinion that an American man-of-war should be kept at Honolulu.

Resolved, That prompt measures should be taken to construct or cause the construction of a submarine cable from San Francisco to Honolulu and that no part of the rights and privileges secured to the United States and the Hawaiian Government should be abandoned or waived in order to enable any other Government to secure a foothold or lease upon any part of the Hawaiian Islands.

Resolved, That, in the judgment of the Senate, immediate steps should be taken to secure possession of the Sandwich Islands by their annexation to the United States.

Lodge wanted immediate consideration for the resolution, but Blackburn spoiled the necessary unanimous consent by saying, "Let it go over till to-morrow."

The Hawaiian subject was again brought to the front by Frye, who called up his resolution presented Saturday, expressing the profound regret of the Senate at the latest effort to restore the Queen.

Gray urged that the United States Senate was not a missionary meeting to express sentimental feeling on the aspirations of well-intentioned people. He regarded the reports of the last resolution as long-winded. He regarded the event as far less important than the Brooklyn car strike. He commented on the unwarranted course of Admiral Walker in reporting at length on political phases in Hawaii. "It is a serious thing for a Senator to make a statement implying that the President of the United States is a sort of 'Nero fiddling while Rome burns,'" said the speaker.

In answer to Frye, as to whether the United States Minister at Hawaii had not requested the presence of a warship at Honolulu, Gray quoted Minister Willis as saying that President Dole had expressed satisfaction that no foreign warship was present during the recent revolution.

Frye interposed the statement that President Dole's remarks were evidently designed to express his satisfaction at being able to maintain the present government without any foreign forces being in the islands.

Gray replied that Admiral Walker had himself reported that the present Government could sustain itself without outside help. He criticized the raising of an alarm about the presence of the Japanese cruiser Esmeralda in Honolulu, saying that Lodge had evidently lost great opportunities to twist the tail of the British lion, and was now compelled to turn to Japan.

Among other interruptions to Gray was a remark by Hawley about the President's action last August in dealing with a delegation of royalists. Gray denied that the President had conferred with the royalist delegation.

Frye wanted immediate action, so that a message could be sent to the Hawaiian Government by that day's steamer. Mills objected to such speedy action, and Frye said the resolution would then be advanced, thenceforward, by every possible means. Mills said that was what they wanted, they wanted the resolution fully debated.

Three sets of resolutions on the Hawaiian question were to-day introduced in the House and referred. The first one was by Breckinridge (D.) of Kentucky favoring annexation. The second, by Storer, calls on the President for information relative to the report that the rebellion in Honolulu was incited by British subjects, and that the British Minister intervened to prevent the application of martial law. The third, by Breckinridge (D.) of Kentucky, calls attention to the crisis successfully passed through during the past week by the republics of France and Hawaii, and offering congratulations on their ability to maintain order and preserve peace.

The Washington Star charges that the President's policy regarding Hawaii was formed by Spreckels before Cleveland took office. It also says:

"Not alone are the natives in the conspiracy, but the British authorities seem to be in sympathy with the ex-Queen, and it is reported here that they went so far as to assure the Royalists that they would recognize the revolution if the conspirators could seize and hold the Government house for three hours. President Cleveland's action in the matter led the Royalists to believe that the United States was in sympathy with them, and that he would probably recognize the Queen if they succeeded in restoring her, and because of this belief the overthrow was attempted."

Timely Topics

February 5, 1895.

The occasional heavy rains we are having appears, to the uninitiated, like a balm to the injured roses and tropical foliage for which Honolulu was once famous. You've noticed, perhaps, the absence of the rose bug for several weeks past; they seem to have disappeared as effectually as the cargoes of some of the mysterious crafts that enter the port. But they are simply taking a vacation; if you will dig down into the soft earth you will find hundreds of little white worms which, if these heavy rains do not kill them, will in a short time develop into full fledged rose bugs. Without knowing positively that the rain will kill the larvae we would imagine it would do what nothing else has done.

WHAT OTHERS SAY:

SAN JOSE, Jan. 27, 1898.—Certificate of Blood Spavin.—In justice to the proprietor of "The Celebrated H. H. H. Horse Medicine—D. D. T., 1868," I will say that I have used it to good satisfaction, and can recommend it to those keeping horses as an invaluable medicine, and I believe it to be equal to what it is recommended; and I have not known its equal as an external remedy, for I have also used it to good effect for rheumatism upon myself.
J. C. PHIPPS.

This is to certify that I saw the above case, and it was one of the worst spavins I ever saw. I did not believe that the blood spavin could be cured, but I would acknowledge that I was mistaken, and am willing to recommend "The Celebrated H. H. H. Horse Medicine—D. D. T., 1868," superior to anything I ever had any knowledge of as a horse medicine.
T. ANDREWS.

MR. D. DODGE TOMLINSON—Dear Sir: For the information of the public and in justice to your valuable horse medicine, "The Celebrated H. H. H. Horse Medicine—D. D. T., 1868," I would state that I have used it to full satisfaction on a mare of mine that had an enlargement of the fetlock joint, which was at least one-third larger than before it got hurt; and of a hard callous lump, and her leg also much larger. The above medicine removed the enlargement, and otherwise performed a perfect cure.

I also know of its curing blood spavin in different cases among my neighbors' horses, which were very bad and incurable by all who saw them; and I have full confidence in the above preparation, and hear it spoken of by others as equal to what it has been recommended, and can recommend it to others with full confidence of its great worth, and that it performs all cures without injury to the growth of the hair, does not change the color of the hair, and leaves the limb smooth and clean.

Yours respectfully,

OPIUM FIND.

Fifty Pound Case of the Drug Found Floating in the Harbor.

Boys in a boat near the P. M. S. S. wharf yesterday showed George Wilson, customs guard, a tin of opium they had found in the water. Mr. Wilson noticed a large package floating and sent the boys after it. It proved to be a tin case containing 100 half-pound tins of opium. The case was corroded through and covered with barnacles. The tins were mostly leaking. It is likely that the leaks caused vacuums in some of the tins, which made the package buoyant enough to float. Mr. Wilson wheeled the package to the port surveyor's office, and the trail being scented by a lot of Chinese they followed him and tried hard to buy the stuff.

What Shall We Drink?

When the rays of Old Sol are boiling down at a ninety degree rate, the air like the breath of a furnace and everything hot, dry and dusty, the natural desire of the average human is to drink. But, what to drink? There's the question.

The serious effect of an over-indulgence in ice water is well known. The thousand and one cheap gassy beverages are known to be more or less injurious to the health, while the mineral waters of known purity and healthfulness are a luxury beyond the reach of but few. What shall we drink?

A beverage to meet the requirements, must, first of all, be absolutely pure and non-alcoholic. It should possess a medicinal element to counteract the effects of the heat and keep the blood pure and the stomach healthful. In order to be palatable and refreshing, it should be sparkling and effervescent. Last but not least, it must be economical and within the reach of all. A beverage that fully meets all of the above requirements and one that is entitled to more than passing mention is HIRES' ROOT BEER, manufactured by the CHAS. E. HIRES & Co., of Philadelphia, U. S. A. This preparation has been analyzed by the highest authorities and pronounced by them to be free from any deleterious substance and absolutely non-alcoholic; while all physicians acknowledge its health giving qualities. It has a delicious, appetizing flavor, is full of snap, sparkle and effervescence, and is without a peer as a refreshment.

A package from your storekeeper will make five gallons of this great temperance drink. Truly it answers the question—What shall we drink? There are many substitutes and imitations of HIRES' ROOT BEER offered for sale which should be carefully avoided.

Testimonials:

"We have used your Root Beer for over a year and find it delicious and healthful. We would not like to be without it a single day. We find it is helping all of us.—MRS. F. H. CLARK, 735 Chester St., Oakland, Cal., U. S. A."

"We have used over one hundred bottles of your Root Beer, drinking it winter and summer. My brother and myself are total abstainers, drinking nothing but Hires' Root Beer.—MICHAEL KELLY, 16 Water St., Waltham, Mass., U. S. A."

ARMS OF THE REBELS.

The Notorious South Bend Gang Carried Them to the Islands.

A gentleman whose business has brought him into contact with the customs officials has just returned from Victoria, and he tells a rather startling story regarding the shipment of forty cases of arms on the notorious smuggling schooner South Bend to the Hawaiian Islands.

He says: "During my residence in Victoria and the surrounding towns last October I saw a great deal of the band of smugglers who have their headquarters along the Sound. It was there I met Billy Stewart, who is known in Honolulu as 'Opium Brown,' and Jack Forbes, alias Jack Regan. These men are well-known opium and Chinese smugglers, and are the owners of the South Bend. It was they, you remember, who brought down from Victoria twenty Chinese two years ago to be landed in this city. It was alleged that when the schooner reached the heads the captain found out in some mysterious manner that the authorities were watching for him, and as he did not care to return with the Chinese he ordered them all thrown overboard. That was the current story.

"At the time there was a good deal of talk over the mysterious disappearance of the Mongols, and since then the Chinese of Victoria refused to hire either Stewart or Forbes to transport coolies.

"About the 22d of October, I was walking under the Esquimalt bridge, near the terminus of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railroad. In the recesses of an arch I noticed a pile of cases carefully covered with canvas. Each case was about four feet in length and a foot square, and I have since learned, containing rifles and carbines. I made the find about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

"At that time the South Bend was at anchor in a small inlet known as Seihle's cove, just outside of the main harbor. Late in the afternoon about 500 pounds of opium packed in clothes baskets was transferred from the store of Fook On Song & Co., the most prominent dealers in opium of the Northwest.

"The baskets were all placed under the bridge near the arms, and that night the drug and the cases of rifles were transferred to the South Bend in a small row boat. She left Seihle's cove about midnight, and for the first time in the history of her smuggling cruises the owners, Stewart and Forbes, went aboard the schooner and took charge of the trip all the way to the islands, where they landed off the west coast of the island of Lanai.

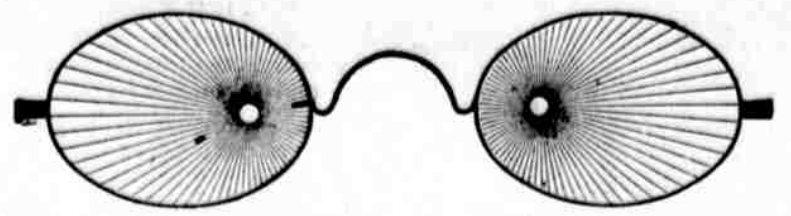

"The arms and opium were smuggled ashore and stored on a Chinese plantation directly opposite where the schooner anchored. Stewart and Forbes are still in Honolulu.

"Both men are notorious smugglers and swindlers, and are wanted by the authorities of Seattle and other Northwestern towns. For a number of years they have been openly engaged in opium and Chinese smuggling and have succeeded in accumulating considerable money."—S. F. Chronicle.

A Victoria despatch of January 23 says: The steamer Maud, from the West Coast, reports having found near Long beach considerable quantities of wreckage, among it the name-board of an apparently large vessel bearing "Aureola." This is said to be the name of a vessel by which a quantity of military supplies was sent to Honolulu. The news is regarded here with considerable interest, as the vessel may have been wrecked before loading the consignments.

THIS CUT is a fair and comprehensive example of a cheap and uncentered lens. You think you get the same amount of relief from a cheap glass, because it may have the same amount of refractive power as the more costly. See where the above lens focuses. See the scattering of rays. As much spherical aberration in such glasses as there is aberration of the mind in an insane person; yet this is the general run of glasses you buy cheap. How long will your sensitive eye stand this strain? Why, until they are ruined entirely. Can you afford to wear such glasses, simply because they cost you a little less than the perfect? No, a thousand times, No. You could not if they were given you with a bonus. We will not sell such glasses; would not be guilty of giving them away. But we guarantee to fit every manner of complicated case with the proper and correctly ground glass, and to give perfect satisfaction.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Mr. John A. Scott, Manager of the Hilo Sugar Company, gives the following wonderful record of the working of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER, which was erected by their works at the commencement of the crop just harvested:

"During the past week the Hilo Sugar Company's mill exceeded any of its former records by closing the 125 hours grinding with an output of 300 tons. This is fully 10 percent more than the best work of former years.

"The three roller mill being 26 in. by 54 in. and the two roller mill 30 in. by 60 in. The first mill doing this amount of work in an efficient manner and with great ease, compared with work on whole cane, owing to thorough preparation of the cane by the National Cane Shredder, recently erected by the Company.

"And by its use the extraction has been increased from 3 percent to 5 percent on all kinds of cane, and in some cases 80 percent has been reached; the average being 75 to 78 percent, according to quality.

"I continue to find the megass from shredded cane better fuel than from whole cane.

"The shredder has been working day and night for seven months and has given me entire satisfaction, having shredded during that time about seventy thousand tons of cane, and a large part of it being hard ratoons.

"The shredder and engine require very little care or attention."

Plans and specifications of these Shredders may be seen at the office of

TO FORTIFY PEARL HARBOR.

The Acquirement of a Naval Station in Hawaii Urged.

WASHINGTON, January 21.—Complying with a resolution of the Senate, the Acting Secretary of the Navy sent reports of a preliminary survey of Pearl Harbor, commenced last April by Rear Admiral Irwin, then commanding the Pacific Station, and completed by Rear Admiral Walker, who succeeded him. Rear Admiral Irwin submits that the acquirement of a naval station in the Hawaiian islands is necessary to give our Government the command of the Pacific. Not simply a coaling station, but a navy yard is needed, and the positions commanding the bar at Pearl Harbor should be strongly fortified and a perfect torpedo system completed.

The Rear Admiral submits a report made by Lieutenant Adams, who says that in his opinion, from the experience in sounding on Pearl Harbor, a dredge could clear a channel through the bar, giving a depth of thirty-one feet at low water, without any great difficulty.

Rear Admiral Walker says an examination showed conclusively that there is a channel through the reef at Pearl Harbor, filled with loose coral, and a suction dredge can rapidly and cheaply open a way for the largest ships. Accompanying this report is an estimate made by Colonel W. M. Wood, submitting a total of $105,000 as necessary to make a cut 250 feet wide through the bar.

THE ORIENTAL WAR.

Another Victory is Claimed by Japan — Chinese Attack Repulsed.

A Shanghai despatch says General Nodzu reports that on Jan. 17 a Chinese force 8000 strong, under General Chang, attacked Hai-Chang.

A battle ensued with the Japanese right wing, consisting of 6000 men, under General Yi, and the Chinese were defeated, leaving on the field twenty-one dead and 100 wounded.

They are now camping at Chang-Hatai, having retreated north of Wuta-Chang with a view of obtaining reinforcements from the General commanding at Shan-Hai-Kwan.

The death of Prince Arisugawa Tahuhito, President of the general staff of the Japanese army, was announced yesterday. The Prince succumbed to an attack of typhoid fever. He will have a state funeral.

Prince Arisugawa will be succeeded as chief of staff by Field Marshal Prince Komatsu, now in command of the Imperial Guard.

A despatch to the London Times from Shanghai says the Japanese have now surrounded Wei-Hai-Wei. The Chinese declare that Wei-Hai-Wei has a garrison and supplies sufficient to enable the town to withstand a prolonged attack.

Fever and a Bad Cough.

Following this a sore came on her right side between the two lower ribs. In a short time another broke on the left side. She would take spells of sore mouth and when we had succeeded in overcoming this she would suffer with attacks of high fever and expect bloody looking corruption. Her head was affected and matter oozed from her ears. After each attack she be-

RHEUMATISM AND PILES CURED BY AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

Mr. W. JENNINGS, Adelaide, S. A., formerly of Hawthorn, near Melbourne, Vic., writes: "For the past 3 or 4 years, I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism and piles, I tried all sorts of medicines, but derived no good from them. I chanced to read one of your books and thought I would give your Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and after taking one bottle I felt better, and after taking 4 bottles I was a new man. I was sorry I never took it before, for it would have saved me very much pain."
