PARKER RANCH CONTESTANTS GET A SEVERE JOLT FROM JUDGE LINDSAY THIS AFTERNOON—ATTORNEY LIGHTFOOT HAS AN OUTBURST OF INDIGNATION AND ATTORNEY KINNEY SAYS FIDDLESTICKS—KINNEY DEMANDS THAT MAGOON WITHDRAW FROM CASE.

Judge Lindsay this afternoon gave attorney taking Magoon's place, but a hard jolt to the starters of the Parker Ranch case by a decision refusing to allow any funds either for expenses or attorney fees at the present stage of the case. Magoon who appears for Low in the effort to remove A. W. Carter as guardian of Annie T. K. Parker, stated that the contest could not go on good faith the next friend would be on if the court refused an allowance, but fiddled with expenses and counsel fee while Judge Lindsay said that a next friend there was nothing in the suit or not, but on "butting in" or "meddling" in such it was palpable at the end of the estate should be prepared to go to trial that there was nothing in the ahead and to lose costs if he lost his charges, it was only right that the case. The motion under hearing was next friend who began it should lose for an attorneys' fee of $2,000 and ex-what it had cost him. "That is one penses of $575. In the discussion which of the things all next friends should followed the decision there was a live-consider before meddling," said the ly encounter between W. A. Kinney and J. O. Lightfoot, who flared up in Magoon agreed to the proposition of dramatic style when Kinney referred allowing some other attorney to take to the attack on Carter as vicious and the matter up, or some business man, and said he would assist. During the motion for a fee and expenses discussion Kinney referred to the was argued all this morning and a part method of pressing the charges as vi- yesterday. At the conclusion of the and malignant, and Lightfoot Magoon's argument this afternoon, sprang to his feet with a loud protest, Judge Lindsay said that he thought in the midst of which Kinney might that the motion, like the one to re-have been heard to say "Fiddlesticks," move Low as an unfit person to be "Fiddlesticks nothing," was the reply "next friend" should be heard together in still angrier tones, and Lightfoot de- with the whole case. The judge said that if the court did not protect he would decline to order any payments him he was ready to do his best per- expenses, but would bear the mat-sonally, but that he wouldn't stand bet- ter in mind when the entire case was spoken of as vicious and malignant, heard on its merits. "Magoon can stand it if he wants, but Magoon said it would be impossible to I won't," he declared. The row seem- pressed with the case but the court re- to be spreading, until Lindsay told marked that the matter would probably Lightfoot to be silent. Magoon ahead somehow Magoon, however Kinney continued to insist that Ma- go insisted that as far as he was con- court should step aside and allow the cerned preparation would be impossi- case to be investigated by others, Ma- ble and witnesses could not be sent- court being attorney for Sam Parker, for. Judge Lindsay finally left his decision. Kinney said that the respondents stand and postponed the hearing were willing to have the matter taken till next Monday, "for such action as up with any reputable business man or may then be deemed proper."

WELL KNOWN CHARACTER DEAD

PALL, AN OLD HAWAIIAN FREQUENTER OF WATER FRONT, FOUND DEAD THIS MORNING.

Pall, a well known old Hawaiian, was found dead this morning in Kau- luwela Lane. The cause of death is not known, and the Board of Health officials will inquire into the case. Pall was a well known character about the water front. He was short of stature and much stooped. He had a white beard, wore an old shirt and a pair of trousers, and went barefooted. He was continually muttering to himself and was known to be not in his right mind. He was generally about the Oceanic wharf and was looked after by the native stevedores. Pall was at one time the owner of property at Lahaina, but is said to have been swindled out of his land. He became insane brooding over the misfor- tune.

Lord Roberts Says The British Army Is Unfit

(Associated Press Cable to The Star). LONDON, July 11.—Lord Roberts caused a sensation here today by an address in the House of Lords upon the needs of army reform. He declared that the British army in its present state, was utterly unfit to wage a suc- cessful conflict with any strong nation. Immediate and sweeping reforms were necessary.

Another Navy For Russia

ST. PETERSBURG, July 11.—Charles M. Schwab the American steel magnate has been instructed by the government to have his American syndicate with whom arrangements have already been made for the con- struction of a new navy, immediately start to build wharves to be used in the construction of a new navy for Russia.

MANOA GOLF CLUB'S BOGEY TOURNAMENT

WILL BE PLAYED NEXT SUNDAY —"COLONEL BOGEY" AGAINST CLUB—HOLE TOURNAMENT.

At the Manoa Golf Club on Sunday, the 16th, there will be a "Bogey Tour- nament." This form of match is one of the most interesting possible in golf. Each player has for his opponent the redoubtable "Colonel Bogey," unbeatable golf champion of the world. In other words each player tries to equal or beat the bogey score of the course. According as the player wins or loses each successive hole from the mythical Colonel so he will stand at the close of the eighteen-hole round. As many of the players have large handicaps Colonel Bogey will have a difficult task to defeat them. It is expected that there will be at least thirty-five competitors in the coming match.

A hole tournament will begin the last week of this month at the Manoa links which will last through August and September. Nearly every member of the club will participate in the tournament, for each member will be able to arrange his match with his oppo- nent in the first round to suit his own convenience. As the winner of a hole- tournament must meet and defeat all of the best players in the club, this form of tournament is the truest test of a man's golfing ability. The last hole tournament at the Manoa course was played in November and December of last year and was won by Dr. C. B. High, the present captain of the club.

SIERRA WAS PUT INTO QUARANTINE

MARINE EXCHANGE NOTIFIED BY CABLE LAST NIGHT THAT OCEANIC LINER WAS HELD UP.

The S. S. Sierra was put into quaran- tine at San Francisco. The Marine Exchange received a cable report of the arrival of the Korea and Sierra at San Francisco yesterday afternoon, the Korea evidently having arrived ahead of the other boat. A report last night announced that the Sierra had been put into quarantine. No reference as to the cause of the vessel being quar- antined was given.

PLAYED GOODBYE TO THE GUNNERS

HAWAIIAN BAND BIDS FARE- WELL TO ARTILLERYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN HERE TWO YEARS.

A graceful compliment was paid by Bandmaster Berger of the Hawaiian Band to the 28th and 92nd Companies of Coast Artillery this afternoon. The two companies of gunners, who have been stationed here for a little over a year, go back to the mainland on the transport Sherman. They came into the city from Camp McKinley in special street cars and were met at the Capitol grounds by the band which played them down to the transport. The men were of course in marching order and they created a good impression on this their last parade in Hono- lulu. The artillerymen have earned a good reputation during their stay here for their gentlemanly behavior, few of them having got into any serious trou- ble until the last few weeks when the remarkable counterfeiting operations came to light, though for this of course only one or two were to blame.

KAUAI SENDS FOR BUCKLAND

SUBPOENA IN THE KANEALIH CASE FOR THE ACTING SECRETARY OF THE TERRITORY.

A subpoena from Kauai, for C. E. Buckland, is causing considerable concern in the governor's office. It is from the prosecution in the case of the Ter- ritory against Kanealii, the candidate whose nomination papers are alleged to have contained forged signatures, and who is consequently being prosecuted for uttering a forged instrument. Buckland is practically acting secre- tary of the Territory at present, and his presence in the office is needed all the time, especially this week, in view of the coming of the Taft party, which will take all of the acting governor's time next Friday.

A wireless was sent to County At- torney Willard yesterday, asking if Buckland's testimony could not be dis- pensed with for the time, at least, owing to the difficulty of sparing him. This morning a reply came to the ef- fect that Buckland was needed and must obey the subpoena. The Kauai prosecuting attorney appears to have taken very prompt steps in the Kane- alii case, and the trial is on already.

A wireless was sent to Kauai from Acting Governor Atkinson asking that a postponement be secured if possible. If a favorable answer is not received today Buckland will have to take a steamer this evening for Kauai.

BIGAMIST COLLIN'S HAS SKIPPED OUT

(Associated Press Cable to The Star). ONE OF THE LEADING CHARACTERS IN ONE OF THE MOST RE- MARKABLE REVELATIONS OF DOMESTIC ARRANGEMENT EVER DESCRIBED OUTSIDE OF A NOVEL, AFTER FIGHTING FOR DE- LAY IN THE COURTS, HAS GONE, IT IS BELIEVED, TO CANADA.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Attorney Collins under indictment on a charge of bigamy, has fled the city, in company with his second wife. It is supposed they have gone to Canada.

George D. Collins is a lawyer who for twenty years has enjoyed a good practice in San Francisco, and been looked on as a sound lawyer and a re- spectable citizen. The charge of bigamy against him has revealed one of the most remarkable stories ever told outside of a novel. According to the story of his first wife whose maiden name was Newman, they were married a great many years ago. She bore him children and lived faithfully with him. But during a large part of the time her sister was an inmate of the household, and sustaining illicit relations with her husband with her knowl- edge, though not approval. It is even stated that this sister bore one or two children to her husband, though these were always known as the wife's children. In explanation of her seemingly unaccountable conduct in sub- mitting to such a state of affairs, Mrs. Collins claims that her sister was of a masterful disposition and completely dominated her.

A year or two ago, the sister died, and in the probate of her estate it was represented that she was the wife of Collins, the real wife submitting to the falsification. A few months ago Collins married a Miss McCurdy of Chicago and brought her to San Francisco. It was then that the alleged first wife broke the silence of a lifetime and for the sake of her children, revealed the dishonor to which she had long submitted. Collins was indicted but maintained that the deceased sister was his wife. He has been seeking continuances in the courts from time to time, and now it seems he has sought flight.

BRILLIANT DISPLAY AT KILAUEA FRIDAY

COULD BE PLAINLY SEEN FROM PUNALUU AND HONUAAPO—MAU- NA LOA ARRIVED TODAY.

There was a brilliant display at Kilauea last Friday night. The out- break was plainly visible from Punaluu and Honouap. The report of the in- crease of activity at the Volcano, was brought this morning by Purser Lloyd Conkling of the steamer Mauna Loa. The Mauna Loa arrived today from her run to Maui and Hawaii ports. She brought a large crowd of passen- gers and had an unusually heavy load of freight. She had, as the largest consignment, 9,000 bags of sugar. A large assortment of various products from the Kona and Kau districts of Hawaii was also landed. Purser Conkling reports that the weather was very pleasant on the out- ward trip until Kau was reached, when the sea became quite heavy. At Puna- luu the sea was the heaviest that had been known in years. An absence of wind enabled the boat crews to work slowly. There have been daily showers in Kona since July 1.

ONLY TWO MORE BIG STEAMERS

ARE COMING TO THIS PORT TO LOAD SUGAR FOR DELAWARE BREAKWATER.

THIN PEOPLE NEED ROYAL MALT EXTRACT - THE KING OF TONICS

We have never sold a tonic that has given such universal satisfaction as Royal Malt Extract. Made from selected barley and hops, by an improved malting process, Royal Malt Extract possesses all the strength giving properties of this valuable combination.

It is very palatable. If your appetite is poor this extract will at once give you a zest for your food. It makes thin people fleshy and restores them to health. It will give you a vim and snap that will make you feel like a new being. A half starved man or woman cannot expect to be energetic. Eating alone won't do it. You've got to properly assimilate your food. Royal Malt Extract gives tone to the logy digestive organs and you will then be able to assimilate every atom of food. You will gain in weight. Soft, flabby muscles will be properly nourished and your whole system will feel that bounding joyous health and sweet sleep that nature intended you to enjoy.

If you need a tonic try a few glasses of Royal Malt Extract with your meals. You will find it does all we claim and you will be delighted with the results as hundreds of others in this city. It is not expensive—only $2.50 the dozen delivered at your door. Try a bottle today. You will find it the best health investment you ever made.

HOUSES GOING UP ON PALOLO HOMESTEADS

THOSE WHO TOOK UP GOVERNMENT LAND IN PALOLO ARE GOING ENERGETICALLY TO WORK.

The people who took up the Palolo Homesteads last April have already begun making improvements. They joined together and built a narrow road from where the government road ended, up through the entire homestead tract. No less than five houses are being built and a great deal of land is being cleared of the lantana and guava and is being planted. Other houses will soon be started.

The road which was built by the homesteaders, was necessary before building material could be got to any of the homesteads. There is an appropriation for a government road through the tract, made by the last legislature, but in order to begin building operations and the improvement of their homesteads, the homesteaders did not wait for this road to be built, but put in a temporary one at their own expense.

Work on the government road, for which the appropriation was made, is expected to begin next month.

When you feel that usual attack of Spring fever coming on, don't punish yourself with unpleasant medicines. Just order a case of Kainier Beer and be comfortable.

The Conquest Of Saghalien

The conquest of Saghalien which the dispatches now indicate as complete, restores to Japan a possession which is valuable because of its herring fisheries, and other resources, and which it is peculiarly gratifying to Japan to recover because of the way in which it lost it. In a sense and in a degree, no doubt, the feeling in Japan over the recovery of Saghalien is similar to what the feeling in France would be if Alsace and Lorraine were restored to her. Japan lost Saghalien through the encroaching and dissimulating policy of Russia combined with the internal difficulties of the Japanese Empire at the time of the civil war which restored the Emperor to his powers. As far back as 1859, after Russia had insidiously encroached upon the Japanese title to that island, having succeeded in obtaining all the northern part, or down to the 50th degree, a Japanese Envoy, Matsudaira, was despatched to Europe to negotiate as to Russian claims to the whole island. Both Japan and her Envoy Matsudaira seem to have known the character of the power with which they were dealing, as shown by the account of the negotiations as recently related.

"The Envoy was equal to the occasion. As soon as he landed in Europe, he collected, at every important city he visited, a copy of the most authentic world's atlas and also paid a visit to the observatory whenever there was one. He was greatly relieved to find that both the atlases he purchased and the globes he examined at the observatories confirmed the 50th degree delimitation theory, for, in both, the Russian and the Japanese portions of Saghalien were divided by a line drawn across that latitude. The first thing which Matsudaira did on reaching St. Petersburg was to procure a copy of the atlas printed in Russia. Matsudaira was thus prepared to meet Ignatieff. The two representatives were not unmatched in age, for the former was 30 years old and the other 28. Matsudaira's proposal to delimit the boundary line at the 50th degree of latitude was at first received with scorn by Ignatieff, who remarked that Russia was well content with the present arrangement of leaving the island as a place of common residence for the subjects of the two countries concerned. If Japan insisted, he continued, on erecting the boundary post at the 50th degree, then Russia would advance a counter-proposal and demand to have the whole island surrendered to her. To Matsudaira's argument that the 50th degree opinion was confirmed by the atlases and globes of all the countries of Europe, the Russian commissioner laconically replied that Russia had nothing to do with the geographical notions of other countries. When our commissioner quoted the Russian atlas in support of his argument, Ignatieff coolly replied that any such untrustworthy compilation got up by a private publisher was valueless, and then that he would show to the Japanese Commissioner a genuine map compiled by the Government. The next day that map was produced, but the sharp eyes of Matsudaira at once noticed that that map had been tampered with and that the two different colors by which the two sections north and south of the 50th line had been originally distinguished had been hurriedly re-colored with one pigment. It was an imposition, and a clumsy imposition at that. Straightening up his figure, Matsudaira declared in a firm tone that he could not believe in that map, and that he must be guided in the point at issue by examining the globes and other geographical works of reference kept at the Government Observatory in St. Petersburg. He requested that he be taken there at once. Ignatieff saw that he had before him a diplomatist who was at least his match in tact and acumen; he made some plausible excuse for not taking his opponent to the Observatory. At last he was obliged to acquiesce in the 50th degree proposal."

Unfortunately for Japan, Matsudaira's clever work was ultimately unavailing owing to civil war which cast foreign affairs into the background. Russia took advantage of the country's distraction and literally forced Japan to cede the island in 1875—a transaction that never was popularly ratified by the people of Japan.

According to the census taken in 1897, Saghalien had 25,000 inhabitants, comprising 6,000 convicts sentenced to hard labor, 3,000 soldiers and officials, 3,000 natives, e. g., Gilyaks, Ainzes and Tunguses, 6,000 settlers who had served their sentences as convicts, and 6,000 wives and children of "involuntary colonists."

An interesting question arises as to what Japan will do with the convicts. The dispatches say that they have already released many political prisoners.

The Makiki Watershed

The Makiki Valley watershed is too valuable to suddenly part with it under the impulse of a sentiment. "Vine-clad hills," appeal to the imagination, and sound well in description, and indeed are very desirable, if we have hills which it will pay to clothe with vines. But simply because of this pleasing sound and poetic appeal to the imagination is no reason why the government should forthwith get rid of the land, spoiling it for a watershed, spoiling it for admirable residences, and then not being sure that it will get the vine-clad hills after all.

In the first place, there has never been a year, probably, in the history of Honolulu, when there was not a smaller supply of water at some time during the year than there ought to be. It would therefore seem the part of ordinary prudence—and the most ordinary and rudimentary prudence at that—not to destroy it as a watershed, until other adequate supply is secured. There are several plans now in the hands of the Public Works Department for securing additional water supply for Honolulu, all parts of a comprehensive scheme for the control by the government of the whole natural water supply contributory to the city and its vicinity. Superintendent Holloway has steadily maintained that the control of the entire source of supply ought to be in the hands of the government. That idea has commended itself strongly to many of those who have given the subject most thought. Certainly, until it has been clearly determined that such a policy is not necessary or desirable, it would be the part of wisdom to keep control of all the watersheds and sources of supply that we have, especially as the part in question was secured at considerable cost for that particular purpose.

In the next place, if it is decided that the Makiki watershed is not needed for water supply, it ought to be put to its highest use. Its situation is such that it is very questionable if it cannot be made to contribute very much more in every way to the public good by some other method than by giving it away, ostensibly for vineyards. For it may be depended on that though it may be taken up for vineyards, it will ultimately be used for other purposes, if it is more valuable for other purposes than for vineyards. In which case the net result would be that the government would give it away for little, while those to whom it was given would not abate one jot from the best price that could be obtained for it for other purposes. Thus the government would simply be giving away land to enable private individuals to make a profit out of it by re-sale. It would be to introduce the speculative element into it. The situation of the Makiki Valley is such that in the opinion of many, if abandoned as a watershed, it can become the finest residence portion of the city. Many of the finest residences of the city are already right where the valley debouches on to the plain. The available land up to the watershed limits has been taken up. Much of it was sold for as high as $12,000 an acre. Much of the Makiki watershed would sell for as much. Of course it is the height of folly to give away $12,000 an acre land for vineyards. It wouldn't remain vineyard any longer than would be required to get title to it under the homestead act. If the whole Makiki watershed would sell for $12,000 an acre the Territory need not worry about finances for a while. Of course such prices would not prevail throughout, but the land, if put up at auction would sell for a very large sum, a sum which will in the end be paid for it by those who ultimately occupy it.

If the Makiki watershed is to be abandoned and disposed of, let it be disposed of for what it is worth. If it is worth more for vineyards than for any other purpose it may be depended on that the vineyardists will get it. Governor Carter having been impressed with the importance of the Taft party, the Taft party in common decency must say that it was impressed with the importance of Governor Carter. The Advertiser informs a waiting world this morning that "the Kustenji has arrived (at Sebastopol) and its crew has been arrested." As Kustenji is the Roumanian seaport at which the mutinous sailors abandoned the battleship Potemkin it will be interesting to know how it reached Sebastopol. Alexander Young, through the corporations he controls, fighting the Sunday law, will be an interesting spectacle. Perhaps it is only fair not to censure Reuter's and the Associated Press too severely for the contradictory, and sometimes seemingly inexplicable dispatches sent out from the terrorized vicinity of the Black Sea. It is within the memory of some people still living that contradictory and exaggerated reports of incidents right in these islands have been widely circulated by word of mouth, and even published in the newspapers after the most careful effort on their part to ascertain the truth. To go no farther afield than yesterday, the Advertiser published that the Bennington had sailed without the flags belonging to her which had been used in the decoration of the Hawaiian Hotel. This morning it prints that they were returned. The longer experience one has in the newspaper business the more it is impressed on him, the difficulty of getting accurate statements regarding matters which are the subject of news. Reuter's and the Associated Press are no doubt doing the best they can, and considering all the difficulties a very good best at that.

Hope must spring high in the breasts of the Russian convicts on Saghalien, about this time.

We might get up a world's fair to celebrate the centennial of the landing of the missionaries in Hawaii, a little over fourteen years from now.

Count Cassini seems to have thought the American people were easily deluded.

The popularity of the Taft party seems to have increased. Two months ago it was announced that there would be eighty in the party. Later it was announced that there would not be more than fifty. The cable says that ninety-seven sailed. At the last moment a trip to the Philippines at the expense of the Philippine Government, is not to be overlooked.

RECORDS SAVED FROM THE WORMS

DOCUMENTS GIVING COMPLETE AND AUTHENTIC HISTORY OF THE BRITISH SEIZURE OF HAWAII IN 1843 UNEARTHED AMONG THE PAPERS NOW BEING CLASSIFIED AT THE CAPITOL—THEY WERE BADLY EATEN BY INSECTS.

As Archivist Lydecker delves deeper and deeper into the accumulated mass of documents so long hidden from the light of day in the garrets and cellars of the different government buildings, he is bringing to light all sorts of priceless treasures in the way of authentic records concerning the history of Hawaii.

It is a matter for congratulation that the papers have in nearly every instance been enclosed in camphor boxes which have defied the ravages of insect, but one chest brought to light the other day though seemingly secure was found to have its contents badly eaten. This box contained all the records of the proceedings of the British Commission which under the iron hand of Captain Lord George Paulet ruled the islands from February 25 to July 31, 1843.

The book of the minutes of the Commission is of absorbing interest to students of history, for badly worn eaten at it is, there is no difficulty in deciphering its contents. It contains all of the correspondence between Lord Paulet, commanding H. M. S. Carysfort, and Kamehameha III which finally led to the seizure of the islands, as well as the full reports of the Commission's meetings. Just what a jagged-headed proposition was handed to Kamehameha III by Paulet is plain. The different records of meetings are signed in the handwriting of Paulet and of John E. Freere, who was a naval lieutenant under Paulet, and nearly every one contains the additional note to the effect that "G. P. Judd refuses to sign the minutes."

G. P. Judd, as is well known, was the king's representative on the commission and his refusal to concur obviously annoyed the haughty British nobleman as the letters show.

There is his letter to Kamehameha demanding that Judd be removed and some other person appointed, and there is also the king's abrupt refusal to comply. The record runs along in the complete, though somewhat stilted language of the time, but it comes to an abrupt end on July 31 when it closes with a memorandum in the perfect handwriting of Lord George Paulet himself.

On this day, writes his lordship, the British flag was hauled down by order of Rear Admiral Richard Thomas, commander-in-chief of Her Majesty's naval forces in the Pacific ocean, and the native flag hoisted, in consequence of which the functions of the British Commission ceased.

This is the official record of the rightful act of restitution which endeared Admiral Thomas to the people of Hawaii. The Hawaiian flag, it will be remembered, was hoisted in the place now known as Thomas Square. The grateful king presented the land to Admiral Thomas, who in turn, gracefully re-conveyed it to the people to be used as a park.

These interesting records have just been saved in time for in a few years or even months they would have been utterly destroyed.

PARKER RANCH CASE.

Judge Lindsay this morning heard further argument in the matter of the application of J. A. Low for expenses and attorney fees for his suit as next friend of Annie T. K. Parker to remove A. W. Carter as her guardian. The attorneys for Carter claimed that Low's action was intended to be in the interest of Sam Parker rather than that of the minor, and the status of Low was argued at considerable length.

LAHAINA POST OFFICE.

When Postmaster Waal was in San Francisco, he purchased 185 bronze boxes for the Lahaina postoffice. These boxes are of handsome appearance, and of the latest design. They are of three different sizes. The boxes were all ready for use on Monday morning. Lahaina now has the best equipped third class office in the islands.

READY TO TAKE MAKIKI LOTS

MANY APPLICANTS FOR THE LAND ALREADY COMING TO THE FRONT.

There will apparently be a very lively demand for the Makiki land if it is finally offered to the public as government land. Already about twenty owners of Makiki residence land have taken steps to get some of the land if it is to be offered for sale. There will be a lot of them in the field after the best lots.

Acting Governor Atkinson said this morning that the action of the Makiki residents was just what the adminis-

RUSSIAN SHIPS IN BAD SHAPE

OFFICERS OF TRANSPORT WARREN HAD A CHANCE TO COMPARE THEM WITH JAPAN'S.

When the transport Warren, now in port, was at Manila she lay only a short distance from the three Russian ships which managed to escape from the Japanese during the battle of the Korean Straits, the Aurora, Oleg and Zentchug.

"The Oleg lay nearest to us," said Third Officer Dutton of the Warren this morning, "and we had ample opportunity of examining her. She was decidedly the worst treated of the three. She was shot through and through and the wonder is that her casualty list was not larger than it was reported to be. There were shot holes above and below her water line and the location of her wounds was proof positive to me that they were not the result of any chance firing by the Japanese. The hits were grouped about the most vital parts of the ship and about the guns.

"Of course we saw a number of the officers and men about, but I had no conversation with any of them. They are a scrubby looking lot and appeared very much downcast over the fortune of war which had wiped out their fleet. They had lost all heart and but little attempt had been made by them to clean up their vessels. The contrast with the Japanese was most marked. When we were in Nagasaki one of the big Japanese ship which had taken part in the battle came into port. She had been hit several times, we were informed, but she came in as neat, clean and ship shape as if she had been to a review. Her repairs had all been effected at sea and there was no sign at the first glance to show that she had just taken part in one of the greatest battles of history."

Lieut. Dutton is an Annapolis graduate and was many years in the navy.

SHERMAN TEAM WAS A WONDER

COULD PLAY CHAMPIONSHIP BALL UNTIL THEY GOT ON THE DIAMOND YESTERDAY.

They are mighty baseball players on the transport Sherman—except when they play, then their might oozes out of their finger ends. The Sherman people descended like a wolf on the Honolulu baseball field yesterday and went back home as meek as lambs.

The captain of the Sherman inquired some days ago of Bob White of the Naval Station, about the baseball teams in Honolulu. "You see," said the captain of the Sherman outfit "we have the swiftest baseball proposition that ever crossed the Pacific. We were in the league in the Philippines and though we don't win, you know how that was, we were the best team over there, well, anyhow if you have something swift here, trot it out. Tell the men not to wear any new suits either, for we will splatter the outfit with rotten goose eggs. We have a pitcher that was fished by a cyclone, dammed by a whirlwind and well, you know Bosko who used to eat them snakes alive? Well, that's what this fellow does to the men that have the nerve to hold up a bat in their mits. There won't be anything to it, say, there is no use in our playing unless you have something good, we don't want to go out there and make you dubs here look like a Russian warship."

White lost his breath for an instant as the talk was going, he had seen "orak" teams from other transports go up against the proposition here, so he mildly suggested that perhaps it would be wiser to have an opening game with some minor club. But no, this would not do, it wouldn't be a square deal to the people, declared the representative of the Sherman nine, to throw any skates against them. So White finally arranged a game with the Punahou team, the outfit that constitutes the tall enders in the league. The game was played yesterday.

But why, relate the painful? The score will eloquently tell the tale. Punahou 12 Sherman 9 and they played no more that day.

DISCHARGED AGAIN

Judge De Bolt gave a decision this morning discharging the defendant in the case of the Territory against Leong Chee. This is the Waihalu riot case. Leong Chee is alleged to have fired a pistol and wounded three of his countrymen, as a result of a row over a gambling game at Waihalu. He was given a hearing in the police court on one of the charges and was discharged. The second charge was brought before De Bolt, and ended this morning with another discharge. A. S. Humphreys appeared for the prosecution and J. W. Cathcart for the defense.

The Oahu county board of Supervisors will hold an important session this evening. The principal matter to be discussed will be the permanent rules which have been drawn up for adoption.

Immigration wanted. "It shows that there is a demand for our lands if we will open them up," he said. "Those who take these lots will build homes on them and thus furnish employment to many and extend the city. That is just the sort of prosperity we want here, and the government will do all it can to encourage the settlement of public lands and building of homes."

WARREN TO BE REPAIRED HERE

VESSEL WILL BE TIPPED AFTER DEPARTURE OF THE SHERIDAN TODAY.

The transport Warren is to be repaired at this port before she proceeds on her voyage to the coast. As soon as the transport Sherman moves out of slip No. 1, the Warren will haul out into the stream and then back into the same slip. This reversal of the vessel will be done for the purpose of securing as great a dept as possible for the bow, so that end of the craft can be depressed.

When the Warren was formerly in Honolulu and had to make repairs to her propeller, two blades having dropped off, the vessel was then heading mauka but the slip was filled in since that time and there is not enough water to permit the bow to be sunk at the head of the slip. The operation of repairing the vessel will be similar to that followed several years ago when the Warren was in port. The bow will be depressed and the after part of the vessel lightened for the purpose of throwing the stern high out of water. As soon as the hub of the propeller will be sufficiently out of water, the work of removing the broken end of the last blade will be begun and the new blade will be shipped.

WANTS TO OPEN LANDS.

Acting Governor Atkinson does not take any stock in the claims of the John II estate and others to rights of recovery of the Makiki lands which Pratt is having surveyed with a view to opening them. Atkinson is anxious to open all the land possible to settlement and says that it will be his policy as executive to do so.

NIBLACK AFTER PEAR SEEDS.

Captain Niblack of the Naval Station is anxious to secure alligator pear seeds for distribution to Tutuila, Guam and the Philippines. He will send for the seeds if those who will donate them will notify him at the Naval Station.

PUT SAILOR IN IRONS.

The British ship Carradale arrived this morning 48 days from Newcastle, with a cargo of 3,124 tons of coal. The vessel had good weather on her trip. One of the sailors, a negro, is accused of threatening the life of Captain Gill of the vessel. Later the sailor is said to have feigned insanity. The negro was put in irons to prevent any demonstration.

PUMPING VERSUS GRAVITY SYSTEM

A TAX PAYER DISCUSSES ARTESIAN AND SURFACE WATER SUPPLIES.

EDITOR STAR: In Saturday's Bulletin an article on the danger of the reservoir dam proposed to be built in Nuuanu valley.

I think the public need not be disturbed on account of this danger. There are thousands of reservoir dams in existence and in places where the bursting of the dam would be much more disastrous than it possibly can be in Nuuanu valley. I am sure that local engineers are competent to take care of this part of the program of the water supply for Honolulu.

In Sunday's Advertiser, Bystander takes a side step into the water question and has a dig at the pump man. Perhaps he was inspired by Saturday's freshest which flooded some of the streets of Honolulu and gave them a good cleaning.

The tax and water rate payers care very little whether the supply for domestic, irrigating or fire purposes comes from reservoirs supplied by surface water or through pumps drawing water from an artesian basin. The thing that the tax and water rate payer does care for is the assurance that he will have an abundance of portable water at all times.

It would seem to the man up a tree that the reservoir system with its surface supply (which, as Bystander observes, is God-given,—and I ask you—put in rotten vegetable matter, pollywogs and fishes) is receiving the bulk of the attention.

I would like to know which is the better thing for Honolulu, artesian or surface supply; and would like to ask the following questions and have them answered by those who should know:

1. Is there now a stream of water running in Nuuanu Valley of sufficient abundance to supply constantly that part of town for which the reservoir is to be built?
2. Is there an authentic record, say for five years, showing the amount of water passing the entrance of the proposed reservoir?
3. Have any experts (local or imported) made comparisons between the cost of the reservoir system (including the price of water rights to be condemned, building of reservoirs, etc.) against the erection and installation of additional pumping and drilling of artesian wells, interest on money invested, and running expenses?

If these investigations have been made and if they have shown which system (pumping water from the artesian basin or collecting water in reservoirs) is the better and safer investment of the taxpayer's money, then the taxpayer ought to be given to know those results, and the chances are that he will be satisfied.

I for one do object to paying for things which have not been proved to be the most advantageous. What pumps can do should be by this time well established in Honolulu. We have reliable pumps which have worked for a number of years. Beretania street pump has been in operation for 10 years and is in excellent condition today. Kahi-hump is giving satisfaction and is none the worse for wear, and there is nothing the matter with the Kaimuki pump as far as I know. And with these pumps running, the Water Works Department has paid well, as I understand.

I am sure that if a private party was to receive the franchise for supplying Honolulu with water (and they would have to guarantee a constant supply they would use pumps. And they would not make an investment of money on the chances of freshets or cloudbursts.

I have known Nuuanu valley for over 30 years, but have never seen there a constant stream of water to warrant an outlay of money as will be spent in the near future on the proposed reservoir dam.

If there is a sufficient and reliable water supply in Nuuanu valley or for that matter in any valley, that will come into the Honolulu water supply system, let the taxpayer know it. He wants to see the water and not have it calculated by perhaps the millionth part of the total watershed, as is often done by the use of rain gauges. The only data worth considering are the measurements, recorded for a number of years.

Cities depending for their whole water supply on surface streams and reservoirs have no choice in the matter. Honolulu has an artesian reservoir which excels in quantity and quality all the surface reservoirs that can be built anywhere in the vicinity of Honolulu. Why not make use of it? If the surface water faction has reliable data and figures for their system, let us have them.

Thanking you for the space consumed, I beg to remain,

Good appetite, good digestion, refreshing sleep—these are essential to good health; and the following testimonial shows how they were obtained by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Six years ago I had an attack of indigestion and liver complaint that lasted for weeks. I was unable to do any hard work, had no appetite, food distressed me and I suffered much from headache. My skin was sallow, and sleep did not refresh me. I tried several remedies without obtaining any relief. Finally, one of my customers recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. THE FRICK REPORT

The report of the Frick Committee on the management of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, is the key to an understanding of the most remarkable controversy that has ever raged within a financial institution of its character. No controversy within such an institution has ever received the widespread interest and discussion that this has. The keenest interest in it has been manifested in this community. The Star will therefore publish this report in full, in convenient instalments from day to day.

The society owns 44 per cent of the capital stock of the Equitable Trust Company, 64 per cent of the stock of Mercantile Trust Company and 55 per cent of the stock of the Commercial Trust Company. In this way the society indirectly contributes to the vice-president $14,155 a year, in addition to his direct salary of $100,000. The way in which the directors, through their executive committee, and that committee, through its sub-committee, have increased the salaries of the principal officers of the society quite naturally does not, in its effect, end there. An examination of the office payroll shows that the treatment received by each officer from the board is generally reflected in the treatment accorded by him to his subordinates. In those departments of which the heads have received no increase in salaries, the salaries of the working force have remained constant, or have shown such slight increases as appear to have been no more than consistent with the general tendency of salaries in all industries. On the other hand, those officers who have themselves been rapidly advanced have quite generally seen that their subordinates shared in their prosperity—at the society's expense. In the vice-president's office, four employees who received in the aggregate $5,444 in 1900, receive $13,900 in 1905, an increase of 155 per cent. In the second vice-president's office, six employees who received $10,720 in 1900, receive $24,840 in 1905, an increase of 122 per cent. The total salaries paid to employees of the president's office has increased 48 per cent since 1900; of the vice-president's office, 134 per cent, and of the second vice-president's office, 126 per cent. The total office payroll of the society increased from $720,282 in 1900 to $1,177,501 in 1904, or 63 per cent. As compared with this, the total income of the society increased but 36 per cent from 1900 to 1904. It would be futile to extend these comparisons so as to cover individual cases. There are many instances of employees who, while now occupying the same position as in 1900, are receiving salaries ranging from 100 per cent to 200 per cent (and in some cases more, higher than in 1900. Taken specifically and collectively, the impression is unavoidably created that in the general adjustment of salaries, the welfare of the individual employee has been paramount. These statements are illustrated by the following tables.

ILLUSTRATION OF SALARY INCREASES IN INDIVIDUAL CASES. Table with columns: Name and position, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, Per cent of increase since 1900. Includes names like L. V. Coffey, Wm. L. Williams, etc.

the date named, to banks or trust companies, the security, consisting of the agents' assignment of future commissions, being reassigned to the trust companies for their protection. By this arrangement, the agent does not borrow direct from the trust company, but borrows from the society. Every six months the society transfers or sells a portion of the advance accounts to the trust companies, pledging to the trust companies that the agent's renewal commissions amount to a stated sum per year; that he has assigned his renewals to the society, and that the society transfers the assignment to the trust company.

While realizing the uncertain factor in an estimate of the total value of an agent's renewal interests, it has been generally accepted that five times the amount of an agent's annual renewal interest was a safe sum to loan against the pledge of all his future interests.

To Be Continued. CARTER WAS VERY CRUEL. An inquest was held yesterday afternoon at the police station to determine the cause of the death of David Carter. His widow testified that her husband had knocked her down and choked her Sunday morning and then threatened to kill her and himself. She was afraid and ran outside to Captain Kane's house. During her absence her husband went into a rice field and shot himself in the temple. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deceased had come to his death from the effects of a pistol wound in the temple, fired with suicidal intent.

Really refreshing is Rahder Beer. In all the world you will find no better comedy for that "spring feeling."

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN

GENERAL SUMMARY.

For the Week Ending July 8, 1905.

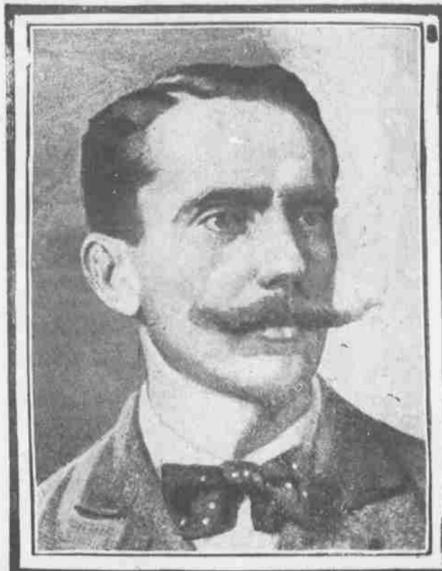

Normal temperatures for this season of the year have prevailed in nearly all sections of the Group during the past week, attended by moderate trade winds. In most portions of the Island of Hawaii, the rainfall was considerably in excess of that of the preceding week, especially in windward sections. Good rains also occurred in windward Maui and portions of windward Kauai, but elsewhere throughout the central and northern islands the weather has continued very dry.

Growing cane needs rain in the Kau and Kohala districts of Hawaii, the Kipahulu district of Maui, and portions of Kauai; but is reported as in good condition and growing well in most other sections. The grinding of mature cane continues, and all of the plantations are busily engaged in planting and other field operations. Pastures need rain in the north Kohala district and the lower levels of the Kau district of Hawaii, and in the leeward districts of all the other islands. Coffee is in good condition, but in the Kona district of Hawaii would now be benefitted by a few days without rain. The harvesting of a fine summer crop of pineapples is going on rapidly in all sections, the canneries are all in operation, and heavy shipments of fresh fruit are being made to the coast. The bulk of the rice crop is now harvested, and the preparation of land for the second crop is in progress. Sisal needs rain in leeward Oahu.

DOUGHT TO LOP OFF SOME HIGHER HEADS

VIEWS OF W. K. HUTCHINSON WHO WAS EXPELLED FROM ELEVENTH PRECINCT CLUB.

EDITOR STAR: Reference was made in the public print yesterday to the expulsion of five members of the Eleventh Precinct Republican Club, Fifth District, for alleged disloyalty to the party in the recent county election. I happened to be one of those expelled.

Honest differences of opinion do not necessarily constitute disloyalty to a party. In the recent campaign there were excellent reasons for dissensions arising in the ranks of our party. While it may not be distoyal to nominate a candidate who is unqualifiedly antagonistic to the Republican administration, such action savors very much of a lack of proper allegiance. Are men under such conditions to be led by bosses in control of a party, or by the dictates of their own conscience?

The five men who were expelled from our club, thought that harmony which could be best secured by working to place in office a candidate who was harmonious with the head of the party in these islands. Inasmuch as we as the rank and file of our precinct did what we believed to be right and just, and have been thrust from membership in that organization, why does not the element that put us out, show itself to be consistent and try to wreak its vengeance on those higher up in the affairs of the Republican Party? If our offense was party disloyalty let the ax fall on higher heads than ours. I am, very respectfully,

W. K. HUTCHINSON, Honolulu, July 11, 1905.

DIED.

DEAN—At the Queen Hotel, Honolulu, July 9, 1905, James Dean, a native of Dundee, Scotland, where his mother and sisters yet reside. He was forty-five years of age. He had lived at the Queen Hotel for three years. He was reputed to be worth about $40,000, mostly in sugar stocks and bonds. He was an engineer and for many years worked on Ewa plantation. He is said to have been the first to install steam pumps in the islands for sugar cane irrigation, these being put in on the Ewa estate. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the undertaking parlors of H. H. Williams. The interment will be in Nuanuu cemetery.

Dyspepsia of Women

ABSOLUTELY NEEDLESS AGONY

Caused by Uterine Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. M. Wright

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has peculiar uterine-ionic effects also.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after every other thing she had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia, which so degenerated my entire system that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous, and nothing that I ate tasted good and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in five weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement, or has such a record of cures of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WAHIAWA WANTS BETTER ROADS

BYRON O. CLARK VOICES A COMPLAINT FROM THE PINEAPPLE COLONY OF CENTRAL OAHU.

"I see that the suggestion has been made that the Oahu County bond should be sent round the whole island giving bond concerns," said Byron O. Clark of Wahiawa this morning, "and I think that with one given condition, that is an excellent idea. The only proviso is that the Supervisors and the County officers should accompany the band on its travels for by this means they would get a good idea of the immediate necessity for the expenditure of money on the roads of the island."

"The road from Wahiawa to Pearl City is in a terrible state. It needs repair in the worst way and that as once. It is a road that is much travelled and deserves attention for at present it is full of pit holes and there is dust hub-deep in some places. The worst place is at the Waiakalua gulch just this side of Wahiawa."

"We have been working for County government under the firm belief that we were to have some sort of a say in this matter of roads, a very vital one for us, but I am informed that the old plantation road board has been re-appointed. The Wahiawa colony is not represented at all. Of course the plantation people care nothing about our interests and money is spent only on roads that interest them. We need that Wahiawa-Pearl City road to be in good shape and I trust that the Supervisors will bear it in mind. Ask any automobilist what it is like, he will give a story about it."

"Another matter that interests us at the Wahiawa Colony is the fact that we are practically disfranchised by the location of our polling place at Waiakalua. We have to go away over there to register and to vote and as a natural result there are many who do neither. We ought to have a polling station at Wahiawa. It would be a great convenience to us and I think it is a reasonable demand. It would not be so bad even if we had to come to Honolulu to register and vote for our business brings us this way, but it does not take us to Waiakalua."

JACK'S HUNCH GETS STRONGER

FEELS MORE CERTAIN THAN EVER THAT CARTER WILL STAY GOVERNOR.

Secretary Jack's hunch is getting stronger. The secretary, in other words, is more than ever disposed to think that Carter will come back here as governor of the Territory. Atkinson has received several cables from Carter, all of them indicating that the executive is in good health. They have not been made public.

"The hunch is growing," remarked Atkinson this morning, as he handled one of the cables. Then he put the cable in an inside pocket. Its contents, whatever they are, added to Jack's impressions that Carter would remain governor. "Perhaps the wish is father to the hunch," he added, "but anyhow the hunch is growing."

COOK RAN AMUCK.

J. Senouse was the name of the negro cook on the ship Carradale who ran amuck on the vessel. He became violent on June 25 and knocked down a sailor named Tozer. Senouse was put into irons and brought to this city. He will be examined for his sanity.

B. & M. IS BOOMING.

Fred Harrison, who with A. Hocking Judge George Gear and G. S. Mackenzie of Hawaii is interested in the B. & M. mine at Goldfield, Nev., received a cablegram from his San Francisco agents at noon today telling him not to sell at less than 65 cents a share, this being the result of a strong upward tendency of all Goldfields and Tonopah stocks. The local men have no intention of selling, however, as they are satisfied that the B. & M. is one of the best properties in the new mining district.

VACATION DAYS ONLY A DREAM

ATTORNEY GENERAL ANDREWS' WEEKLY DEPARTMENT REPORT TO GOVERNOR. OF WORK DONE.

"These are vacation days," remarked Attorney General Andrews this morning while preparing his weekly statement for the governor, as to the work of the department, "and of course we are all greatly enjoying the vacation so kindly given us while the courts are not holding term. It is very nice to have nothing to do for a spell." Andrews then signed the report, which shows that in the period from June 26 to July 7 the department rendered twenty written opinions to heads of departments, had 51 oral consultations with department officials on legal questions, appeared in court on eight days to try cases and had hearings on fisheries cases in the office for two days.

"There is no term of court on now," Andrews continued, "and so we are able to give our time to these vacation enjoyments without any interruption."

PREPARING FOR HAWAII TERM

COUNTY ATTORNEY CHARLES WILLIAMS OF HILO HAS AN IMPORTANT CALENDAR.

Circuit Judge Mathewman has sent a request to Henry Smith, clerk of the judiciary, that he be supplied with a stenographer for the coming term of the fourth circuit court. It was turned over to the attorney general's department, but the prospect appears to be that Mathewman will have to hustle for his own stenographer, for the matter is not regarded as within the province of the attorney general.

Charles Williams, the newly elected county attorney of Hawaii, is to have his first experience as prosecuting officer in the coming term. Williams is in full charge of the calendar. There are predictions among the lawyers of Pihikia, for Williams, though elected county attorney, has had little experience in the sort of legal work he is up against, and there are some important cases on the calendar.

The term opens on July 26, but Judge Mathewman has ordered jurors to appear August 2, fixing the date so as to enable jurors from various parts of the island to travel to Hilo by steamer.
