WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become constive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. Seigel's Curative Syrup acts like a charm in this class of complaints, giving almost immediate relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation the article is held.

John Archer, Hartill, near Sheffield:—I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of my customers, who have derived great benefit from the Syrup and Pills. The sale is increasing wonderfully.

Geo. A. Webb, 141, York Street, Belfast:—I have sold a large quantity, and the parties have testified to its being what you represent it.

J. S. Metcalfe, 55, Highgate, Kendal:—I have always great pleasure in recommending the Curative Syrup, for I have never known a case in which it has not relieved or cured, and I have sold many gross.

Robt. G. Gould, 27, High Street, Andover:—I have always take a great interest in your medicines and I have recommended them, as I have found numerous cases of cure from their use. Thomas Chapman, West Auckland:—I find that the trade steadily increases. I sell more of your medicines than any other kind.

N. Darroll, Clun, Salop:—All who buy it are pleased, and recommend it. Jos. Balkwill, A. P. S., Kingsbridge:—The public seem to appreciate their great value.

A. Armstead, Market Street, Dalton-in-Furness:—It is needless for me to say that your valuable medicines have great sale in this district—greater than any other I know of, giving great satisfaction.

Robt. Laine, Melksham:—I can well recommend the Curative Syrup from having proved its efficacy for indigestion myself.

Frickheim, Arbroath, Forfarshire, Sept. 23, 1882. Dear Sir,—Last year I sent you a letter recommending Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have very much pleasure in still bearing testimony to the very satisfactory results of the famed Syrup and Pills. Most patent medicines die out with me, but Mother Seigel has had a steady sale ever since I commenced, and is still in as great demand as when I first began to sell the medicine. The cures which have come under my notice are chiefly those of liver complaint and general debility.

A certain minister in my neighbourhood says it is the only thing which has benefited him and restored him to his normal condition of health after being unable to preach for a considerable length of time. I could mention also a great many other cases, but space would not allow. A near friend of mine, who is very much addicted to costiveness, or constipation, finds that Mother Seigel's Pills are the only pills which suit his complaint. All other pills cause a reaction which is very annoying. Mother Seigel's Pills do not leave a bad after-effect. I have much pleasure in commending again to suffering humanity Mother Seigel's medicines, which are no sham. If this letter is of any service you can publish it.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) William S. Glass, Chemist.
A. J. White, Esq.

15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesbury, Wilts, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly,
(Signed) N. Webb,
Chemist, Calne.

AN AMERICAN SCANDAL.

A majority report of the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice, United States, has been prepared for submission to the House of Representatives upon the reassembling of Congress. The report expresses hopelessness for any great improvement in the character of appointed officials, so long as public offices are regarded only as rewards to be bestowed upon the most unscrupulous political allies of those having the appointing power. Introducing the result of investigations, the report says:

"The testimony before the committee clearly shows that utter inefficiency and criminal practices have prevailed in many parts of this branch of the public service for many years past, and that the Government has been a heavy loser thereby. There is a sameness, as also a variety, in the testimony. The investigation reveals the wonderful unanimity with which these officers of almost every grade and in the several portions of the country have plundered the public treasury by false, fraudulent and fictitious charges, and yet the variety in the ways and means by which they have worked their schemes is equally curious, and shows that they have taxed their ingenuity to the utmost to find modes of accomplishing the one unhallowed purpose of getting money they were not entitled to. They have charged for arrests that were not made, for travel that was not performed, for expenses that were not incurred, for guards that were not employed. They knowingly rendered false accounts against the Government, misappropriated public funds, became defaulters to the Government and the Courts, increased accounts after they were made up, made up accounts in the name of fictitious persons, arrested persons upon false charges, worked up by themselves, extorted money from private citizens, and in ways without number have swindled the Government and oppressed the people."

Instances are then given in large number of the official vagaries of judicial officers, only one or two of which need here be reproduced as fair samples of the whole. The late Marshal of South Carolina is charged with nine illegal acts during an incumbency of twelve or fifteen months, with making returns to the Government of only about one-fifth of the fees and commissions earned by him in civil cases, and presenting for payment accounts of Deputy Marshals when he knew they contained false, fraudulent and fictitious items. When frivolous and vexatious prosecutions had led to the issuance of an order that no United States Commissioner should issue a warrant of arrest in internal revenue cases without an affidavit from an internal revenue officer who had examined the case, the Deputy Marshals secured appointments as revenue officers, and were then in a position to work up a case as Deputy Marshal, sign the required affidavit as Deputy Collector, and then serve the warrant as Deputy Marshal. They kept a large supply of warrants signed in blank, armed with which they were prepared to arrest any person they might see fit upon any charge imaginable, in violation of the revenue laws. Of seventy deputies employed in South Carolina, the accounts of fully one-half had been examined, and there was not one without a flaw, and in the majority of cases there was absolute dishonesty. In about a year and a half

$5,240 advanced the Marshal of that State could not be accounted for, and the excessive and illegal fees charged amounted to $6,524, making a total deficiency of $11,764. The illegal acquisitions of the Marshal of Georgia amounted to $23,000; of Alabama, $7,190. In three years the Marshal of Western Texas rolled up an amount of $40,000 of Government funds for which he could not account and is now serving out a term in the Southern Illinois penitentiary for his malfeasances of office. The report concludes with a recommendation that the fee system of remunerating officials should be abolished, and suggestions of other reforms. It is signed by all the Democratic members of committee, and the Republican members are going to submit a minority report. The revelations made are a strong indictment of the system of bestowing public offices as political rewards, and the American Government is only saved from obloquy in the matter to the extent that it can be shown to have put forth efforts to make its dishonest servants disgorge their ill-gotten gains, and answer at the bar of justice for the crimes and misdemeanors they committed in the name of justice. "Little Hawaii" will, we fear, have to rely upon first principles for good government, if her big sister cannot show her a better example in official purity than is displayed in the legislative report referred to above.

THE BRITISH SCIENTISTS—NO. 8.

After the address of Sir F. J. Bramwell, F. R. S., on "The Triumphs of Engineering," in the mechanical science section, summarized in our last number, Mr. Benjamin Baker presented a paper on the great bridge to be built across the Firth of Forth, Scotland. We quote:—

He mentioned that five tenders were submitted for the work, the amounts varying from £1,487,000 sterling to £2,301,760, and that the contract was finally let to Messrs. Tansel, Arrol & Co., on the 21st of December, 1882, for £1,600,000, which was within £5,000 of the estimated cost of the work as prepared by Mr. Fowler and Mr. Baker himself for Parliamentary purposes. The total length of viaduct included in this contract is about one and a half miles, and there are two spans of 1,700 feet each, two of 675, 15 of 168, and five of 25 feet each. Including piers there is thus almost one mile of main spans and half a mile of viaduct approach. The clear headway under the centre of the bridge is 150 feet above high water, and the highest part of the bridge is 361 feet above the same. Each of these main piers consists of a group of four cylindrical masonry and concrete piers, forty-nine feet in diameter at the top and from sixty feet to seventy feet at the bottom. The deepest pier is about seventy feet below low water, and the rise of tide is eighteen feet at ordinary springs. In the piers there are about 120,000 cubic yards of masonry, and in the superstructure about 45,000 tons of steel. Operations were begun in January, 1883, so the works have now been some twenty months in progress, and about £170,000 have been expended in plant and temporary works and £200,000 in the permanent works of the bridge. At South Queensferry an area of about twenty acres of ground has been laid out in shops and yards for the manufacture of the 1,700 foot span, four cylindrical iron caissons constitute the lower portions of the main piers of the bridge. At Inchgarvie stores and offices have been built, and as this is an exposed island in the middle of the Firth the staying for the pier work is of iron, pinned to the rock. Mr. Baker also stated the present condition of the work, and described in detail, with illustrations, the whole structure. In conclusion, he spoke of the interest taken in this bridge by Continental and American engineers, and of the anxiety felt by those concerned.

This was followed by a paper from Mr. J. Clarke Henshaw, on the Severn Tunnel Railway, which is reported as follows:—

In former days, he said, one of the coach roads between England and South Wales crossed the Severn near the place where a railway tunnel is now being made. Later on, when railways were introduced, passengers had to leave the train and cross the river by steam ferry-boat. The inconvenience of this journey is increased by the great rise of tide, amounting at times to over 40 feet; to do away with this break in the railway communication between the two parts of the country a tunnel is now being constructed. The work was begun in March, 1873, and no great difficulty was encountered until the driftway under the river was nearly completed. Only 130 yards remained to be driven in order to effect a junction, when a large spring burst into the driftway driven landward from Sudbrook and drowned the works under the river. This happened on October 16th, 1879; Sir John Hawkshaw, who had previously acted as consulting engineer, was appointed engineer-in-chief in conjunction with Mr. Richardson, and a contract was made with Mr. T. A. Walker for the completion of the work; considerable progress has been made during the last 4½ years. The Severn is there 2½ miles wide and is a tidal estuary rather than a river. Owing to the great rise of tide the current is very rapid, reaching from ten to eleven knots an hour, in certain states of the tide.

The bed consists throughout of rock or slate. The speaker also described the tunnel, the total length of which will be 7,644 yards (about 4½ miles); the minimum cover is 45 feet, the transverse section of the tunnel has a lining of brickwork two feet three inches thick, but in some parts, where the nature of the ground rendered it advisable, the thickness was increased to three feet. The bricks are all vitrified and are manufactured on the ground from material obtained in the excavation, 150,000 to 170,000 being made in a week. He spoke of the difficulties encountered, that of dealing with the water so far being the greatest. This difficulty is overcome by pumping, the methods and apparatus being fully described and illustrated by the speaker. He also mentioned the explosives used, the principal and most satisfactory being toriste, its fumes being found less noxious than those of dynamite. The speaker concluded by describing the ventilation and lighting of the tunnel.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Know all residents of the Hawaiian Kingdom, that from henceforth no one but the writer in the little dodger may mention anything whatsoever about the Great American Nation. It appears the G. A. N. at some time or other gave temporary shelter to that interesting waif on the sea of humanity. At all events, he makes such a noise when a perfidious Briton mentions that republic, no matter how respectfully, that it would be a good idea for our Resident Minister at Washington, as an evidence of Hawaiian friendship, to suggest that he should be appointed guardian to the statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World" at the entrance of New York harbor. There would then be no danger of any Canadian skipper stealing the French toy, to make a St. Lawrence lighthouse of. The other day we had the temerity to give some humorous advice to electors in the mock Presidential election, without having consulted this important patron of the aforesaid Great American Nation. Ever since he has been abusing the audacious Canadian, this morning reaching the verge of making the latter's offense an international question. Unfortunately H. B. M. S. Constance is not in port, and there is no use in a Britisher seeking protection from the German man-of-war during the continuance of Prince Bismarck's present frame of mind toward England. Our only recourse is to appeal to the American Consul for protection, upon the plea that the editor has a large family connection on his own side in the United States and married a Connecticut girl.

THE FIRE FIEND.

About half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon, a fire broke out on the premises of Mr. James McGuire, Fire Marshal, Alapai street, and in half-an-hour the whole building was burnt to the ground, so rapidly did the flames spread. It appears that Mr. McGuire was on the front verandah when the fire came and told him there was fire in the bedroom. He immediately went to that room, but in a moment saw that the place was doomed, and commenced to save all he possibly could, which was very little. He tried to get at the telephone to raise an alarm of fire, but the flames drove him back. There was somewhat of a strong wind blowing at the time, which greatly assisted the fiery fiend. The Fire Department arrived too late to be of any use, though they saved some outbuildings from destruction. The house is the property of His Honor Judge Bickerton, and is insured for $1,000 in the Fireman's Friend Insurance Co. Mr. McGuire was not insured and loses everything, except a lounge, a few chairs and other small things. A very fine-toned piano was burnt up. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Two barks were sighted from Waimanalo this morning. They prove to be the Alden Bessie, Capt. O'Brien, from Portland enroute for Hongkong, and the German bark Centaur 66 days from Hongkong.

If the news comes that Blaine and Logan are elected, there will be a $1000 torchlight procession in Honolulu, so says James White, and he ought to know.

MARY Howard, a well known courtesan, was languishing behind the bars of a cell in the Police Station this morning, having been arrested early this morning. Her case will be tried to-morrow.

Dr. Mouritz left by the Mokoli yesterday, to assume his new duties as resident physician at the Kalawao leper settlement, Molokai. We cordially wish him a successful career and a pleasant sojourn.

A LEAN young man, a counter jumper, wrote on a piece of paper, "21 years old," put it into one of his shoes, and presented himself at the polls on Tuesday for the purpose of voting. When asked his age he said, "over 21 years." But the tellers didn't have any green in their eyes, and told him that school boys were not allowed to vote. The young man left by the back door.

A NICE little story has come to our ears. Two youngsters from the Vaterland became acquainted Monday night with what they thought to be two landmen of high rank. They feted them to the extent of their bottom dollar, and the two strangers were highly gratified, and took all in that was offered. But, alas, next morning, some mean person told the youngsters that these two high personages were only the chief cook and a common sailor. Tableau!

Last evening a party of between twenty and thirty surprised Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Henson at their residence in Panoa Valley. Mr. Henson heard a slight noise, and thinking it was burglars after some more pigs, he got his pistol ready, but when he heard the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" his heart softened, and he invited the surprisers in and made the best of the situation.

BEAUTY AT A BAZAAR.

How Fashion Imbibes American Mixed Drinks in London.

The bazaar at the duke of Wellington's riding-school, Knightsbridge, in aid of the restoration and enlargement of Kew church, was opened by the prince and princess of Wales. They were accompanied by the duke of Cambridge, the grand duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, Lady Spencer, Maria, marchioness of Ailsbury, etc.

Lady Anne Sherson kept a dairy stall, wherein were tiny animals innumerable—from little Australian birds, with their scarlet bills, to a pony, that in an improvised stall stood very contentedly munching his hay.

Refreshments were dispensed by the Ladies Churchill and Adeline Manners, assisted by Mrs. Hughes-Hallett, who specially presided over a bar of American drinks.

Cook for the King. [The Argonaut.]

The position of head cook to an eastern king must be no sinecure, judging from the details given by Oriental travelers.

Mr. Sala's Advice. [Chicago News.]

In view of a possible outbreak of cholera in London, Mr. Sala, in his "Echoes," anticipates the advantage of the London government bill as a deterrent of disease by the following counsel: Put your trust in Providence, keep yourselves and your houses scrupulously clean; don't eat any uncooked food after midday; encourage the smoking of tobacco during the cholera outbreak of 1832 not a single London tobaccoist died of the malady; read very carefully Dr. Tanner's index of diseases; don't drink water of the providing of which you have no knowledge; have a filter at home; wear a sash round your waist; keep plenty of camphor about; do not fly in a passion with everybody, and don't "funk."

He Could Not See Why. [Boston Globe.]

Mr. Mulcahey recently took "a day off" and went down the harbor on a fishing excursion. The sea being decidedly choppy, it was not long before he paid tribute to old Neptune several times. He looked, as Mark Twain said he once felt, "as if he would disgorge his immortal soul," and between the rounds blurred out: "An' hie, begorra, an' I can't understand why I shud be so sick, when I wuz brought up within a mile of the say."

Such Is Life. [Chicago Tribune.]

"My dear, look down below," said a grandiose, as he stood on the bridge with his wife and gazed at a tug hauling a long line of barges. "Such is life—the tug is like a man, working and toiling, while the barges, like women are—" "I know," interrupted Mrs. G., acridly, "the tug does all the blowing and the barges bear all the burden."

Cholera has never penetrated the pine regions of the south.

AN ALARMING DISEASE AFFLICTING A NUMEROUS CLASS.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints; but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted.—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the morning, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there a fullness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly colored, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment, soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter agonizing disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White Limited, 17, Faringdon Road, London, E. C.

Market Place, Pocklington, York, October 2nd, 1882.

Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines, I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say I have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the result they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so.

Yours respectfully, (Signed) R. TURNER.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

St. Mary's street, Peterborough, November 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I felt quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly, Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16th, '82.

Mr. A. J. White.—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT. 15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesburg, W. Va., informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly, N. WEBB, Chemist, Calne.

September 8th, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "Godsend to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours, (Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS, Chemist-Dentist.

To Mr. A. J. White, Merthyr Tydvil.

Preston, Sept. 21st 1883.

My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible.

The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."

The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.—I am dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. BOWKER.

Stallions at Marshfield!

"BAZAAR."

(Thoroughbred.)

By Jack Malone, he by Lexington, 1st dam, Ivy Leaf, by imported Australian; 2nd dam, Bay Flower, by Lexington; 3rd dam, Bay Leaf, by imported Yorkshire; 4th dam, Imported Maria Black, by Philo de Patah, etc., etc.

Bazaar was bred at the great Woodburn Farm, near Lexington, Ky., by the late R. A. Alexander, and was sold to W. L. Pritchard, of Sacramento, Cal., for $5,000. He stands 15 1/2 hands, weighs 1,065 lbs., and is a bright chestnut color. During his racing career he won many a favorite, and won many a haul of money for his owners, and proved himself one of the greatest of horses over a distance, most of his races being two and four miles. He has already sired several colts in California that are winners, among which are Lizzie Dunbar, Young Bazaar, Sophia, and another called the Bazaar Minerva Colt, he being out of Minerva by imported Lexington, the sire of Parole and Iroquois. Lizzie Dunbar greatly distinguished herself last year in her two-year-old form by defeating one of the largest fields of two-year-olds that ever started in California, among which were the two beautiful fillies brought here last Spring by Mr. Agnew, distance 3/4 mile; time, 1:04 1/2, the fastest time on record for two-year-olds at the distance. This year she has won several important events, and has proved herself to be a crack three-year-old.

Bazaar has now been brought back to Honolulu, and will remain here the balance of this year, and breeders, horse owners and stock raisers should avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain his services while they have the chance. Terms, $10. Payable at time of service.

The imported Clydesdale Stallion Donald Dinnie, Jr., will stand at the same time and place at $30 for the season. He was bred in Canada, sired by imported Donald Dinnie, and out of an imported Clydesdale mare. He is a beautiful dapple grey, 16 hands high, and weighs 1,400 lbs.; is very active, and as fine a large horse as could be found anywhere.

Also, the fine large imported Kentucky Jack Sampson. This is one of the largest Jacks that we could find in California, and is an animal of immense bone; is a very sure breeder, and should be liberally patronized, as he is one of the very best animals of his kind. Terms, $30 for the season.

The public are cordially invited to call and inspect the above animals.
