

WHO OWNED THE MISSING CASH?

Court Holds That Territory Had No Reason to Kick About

Henry N. Clark.

Holding that the money which Henry N. Clark is alleged to have embezzled from the territorial court of Honolulu was a territorial fund, Judge Cooper of the district court yesterday sustained the demand made by the attorneys for the defendant and dismissed Clark. No cause was the defendant free than he had secured upon the local warrants issued on two more indictments returned against him yesterday morning. These two indictments are copies of those which the district of Judge Cooper quashed except that they make the money which is alleged to have been embezzled that of the territory and not the Territory.

The attorney for Clark in the demurrer held that the indictments were irregular in charging the defendant under a section of the penal code providing against embezzlement by territorial officers. They argued to the effect that Henry Clark did take the money if it was not the Territory's money but belonged to Judge Andrews whom the law made the custodian of the cash of the district court.

The other two indictments are made out under other sections whereby Clark is accused as just a plain embezzler without any fancy territorial title. It is extremely likely that similar indictments will be filed against those individuals also as they refer to the money as that of the city of Honolulu and the legal talent fighting Clark's case for him have already contended that it was Andrews' money at the time it was embezzled.

A warrant was also returned against Ben P. Zablan by the grand jury yesterday charging him with a similar offense. He is accused of embezzling $1200. Clark was released on $2000 bonds and Zablan on one of $1500.

HAWAII TO BENEFIT FROM EXPOSITION

C. C. von Hamm Worked Hard in Favor of San Francisco.

C. C. von Hamm of the firm of Von Hamm Young Company, arrived by the S. S. San Francisco yesterday from San Francisco, bringing with him an extensive list of the exhibitors.

He visited among other cities Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

While away Mr. von Hamm made arrangements for his firm to represent some new and important machinery houses, including the Mills Chambers Company of Milwaukee, one of the largest manufacturers of electric machinery, power plants, rock crushers and general power machinery in the United States; the Power Specialty Company of New York, and the C. H. Wheeler Condenser Company of Philadelphia.

He also made several new and important automobile connections.

In New York city Mr. von Hamm met a number of Honolulu men including Mr. and Mrs. George R. Carter, who were stopping at the Belmont Hotel; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sewery, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carter, and Miss Bernice Hartwell.

Both Mr. Sewery and Macfarlane were going to Porto Rico on business.

Von Hamm expressed several thrilling aerial flights and states that San Francisco is building an airship garage in preparation for the coming big air race meeting.

He noted prosperous business and great expansion and improvements all over the country, particularly in the large cities. He quite him:

"I have seen some of the best stores in the country, some that start in forty store of them."

While in the East Mr. von Hamm made several of his connections with the 1915 exposition in San Francisco. He distributed a great deal of literature and pamphlets of various kind and also made a number of new connections with the exposition.

Mr. von Hamm is accompanied by all the family, including his wife and three children, and will stay in Honolulu for some time before returning to San Francisco.

TEACHERS COMING FROM OREGON

Excursion to Come Here Next Summer in a Chartered Steamer.

Another Puget Sound excursion is being projected with Hawaii as the destination for next summer. Secretary Wood of the promotion committee received a letter from Mrs. Headlee, the committee's representative in the Northwest, in which she stated that the parties who are handling the Puget and excursion next February also expect to charter a steamer for a special trip in July for Oregon teachers. The excursion people are advertising their excursion with interest and through the committee with the Pugetland tour. The excursion will be a two-week cruise to the Pacific coast and will include a stop at Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, Astoria, and other points. The steamer will be chartered by the committee and will be used for the purpose of bringing a party of Oregon teachers to Hawaii.

Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, advises Mr. Wood that the chamber still has the hope of chartering an excursion for next February, but the only steamer available for the purpose is the "The Albatross," which is a small steamer. He states that two or three steamers are on the way from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific coast, and it may be possible to secure one of them. The Albatross and the Hawaiian will depart for Honolulu in about ten days from San Francisco and the other two will be chartered.

Four Excursions Coming.

So far there are two excursions from the Northwest and one from southern California planned for next February, in addition to which is the special charter of the Madison steamship which will leave for the February trip. Seattle is having one of the Northwest excursions to come here on the British steamship Prince Rupert; the other leaving by Portland to come here from Seattle on the steamship Queen.

Mrs. Headlee is now confining her work in the Portland section. She finds Portland receptive to the promotion committee's work and she has but the slightest doubt but that in a few weeks results will be tangible. She finds there is keen rivalry between the excursion agents of Seattle and Portland over their respective excursion plans and she is trying to help both along.

Southern Californians Here.

Chas. S. Brown, manager of the steamship department of the German American Savings Bank, writes The Advertiser that several prominent people in California recently were being in his department to come here on the Steamer which arrived yesterday. The party consists of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Schiff, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Straley, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Cook, Mrs. James H. A. Morris, Mrs. V. M. Maxwell, Mrs. M. Reynolds. They arrived. The party will remain in the Islands a week and will then return to the mainland.

sugar at two and a half cents a pound. Full Fledged Board.

The President has had a number of conferences of late with men who are interested in establishing a full fledged sugar plantation in the Hawaiian Islands. It is reported that the President has been to see the President of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, Mr. Henry K. Young, of New York, head of an organization working for the same object. When he has returned from Panama the President will hold further conferences with prominent groups of the sugar commission and will make an address before a large gathering of business men who are coming to Washington in January to hold a meeting.

The Big Topic.

With the election over, land is the big topic to be discussed at the meeting of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association. The President of the association will be present and will discuss the question of the sugar plantation in the Hawaiian Islands. ### NAVAL STATION WORK BEGINS

The reservation is now being graded and prepared for the construction work on the buildings. The reservation has been plotted and mapped and the proposed buildings have been located on the maps. The steel extensions will first be made to connect the entrance to the first section and then gradually extended to other parts of the reservation where the next buildings are to be erected. A railway line is to be built through the station to carry in the materials and expedite the movement of materials.

No definite information has been received from Washington relative to the changing of the plans of the proposed marine barracks at Pearl Harbor. Bids are to be asked for again on these structures. Local contractors are of the opinion that the new specifications will be out shortly and that by early spring actual work or construction on the same will be under way.

Dredger Operators Arrive.

Superintendent Cummings of the Standard American Dredging Company, of San Francisco, arrived yesterday and will be in charge of the dredging work on the new harbor. A party of experienced operators has also arrived to work on the dredger, and other operators have arrived to work on other machines of the Hawaiian Dredging Company. The dredging work will be ready until the latter part of the year.

Meanwhile four dredgers are at work on the harbor at the entrance to the Pearl Harbor channel and another will be put on the job today. The Reclamation is still engaged in scooping out the dredging site. This machine will probably be at work until the first part of the year when the excavation will be in readiness for the first section of false crib work.

False Crib Work.

By the latter part of January the water will be pumped out from this first-class section and the concrete walkways will then begin their part of the work. There is an unusual amount of activity at Westtown, in the stand and harbor, at the dredging and the entire reservation will be a busy activity with hundreds of thousands of dollars available for development work and a host to come along after that to complete the great artificial harbor under the Hawaiian flag.

YALE AND HARVARD ALUMNI AS ROOTERS

University Club Members Will Wave Victorious Colors of Big Eastern Battle Today.

Either the crimson or the blue will win in the great struggle over Alexander Field this afternoon, for the thirty graduates of the two leading universities who attended the Yale-Harvard encounter and smoker at the University Club last night resolved, as soon as the noise of the result of the big gridiron battle is over, to mingle to enjoy and sorrow, according to their individual emotions, by cheering on the struggling local college teams with the colors of the victors of the big gridiron battle of the East.

There were thirty college veterans having each other over the spread in the spacious banquet hall at the University Club, and although the atmosphere was piled up blue, the sentiment bore a crimson hue as the Yale and Harvard alumni discussed the relative chances of the two in the scrimmage today which decides the championship for the year.

Although in Hawaii there are a few more Yale graduates than Harvard men, the blues were in the majority at the University Club last night, eighteen to twelve. Judge Sidney M. Ballou bore the title of toastmaster modestly and every one of the thirty over whom he presided were called upon for brief utterances. Nearly all of them related stories of their college days, with "Football as we used to play it," the general theme.

Today's Local Game.

More disabilities were reported in the ranks of the College of Hawaii eleven yesterday. Barnhardt, who was scheduled to play right guard, is sick, and Paulini, who is new at the game, will tackle the job in his stead. Anson, who played center last Saturday, told Merrill yesterday that he could not play today, and Meinicke, who is complaining of a sprained shoulder and did not calculate to participate in the scrimmage, said that he would probably have to figure in the lineup. It was stated that either Nat Boert or Maruchi will go to center, and that Fook On would fall into right or left half to fill other vacancies, and Moakelle said he was the likely candidate for right end in place of Fook On.

With Sport Pratt, Dexter Unser and Benschert leading the college team in a solid way, the veterans say they will take the field today with only one wish, so that practically the entire team will have to stay through the game, while the Pons have an hour to draw it.

The Oahu College squad has the whole second team in medical bills, as well as their half a dozen regulars.

Following are the names of the two teams which will meet at Alexander Field at half past three in the afternoon:

SUGAR AND THE TARIFF BOARD.

Although the latest Washington advice to the Advertiser announces that Claus A. Spreckels will attempt to bring the question of the abolition of the duty on sugar before the tariff board as soon as possible...

The work of the tariff board, from this time on, will, naturally, be a matter of interesting speculation, whatever the President's attitude on the subject may be.

For it is a matter of fact that the tariff board will be called by congress this winter. That would carry its operations up to July 1, 1911.

It is also probable that an appropriation for the work of the board will be made by congress this winter.

After all is said, protectionists, who do not want the tariff disturbed, feel there is no immediate danger of a favorable recommendation from the board.

The Canadian reciprocity negotiations, just now under way between the state department and officials of the government at Ottawa, will in all probability be much longer drawn out than the current press dispatches have indicated.

As a matter of fact Canadian reciprocity is almost as much of an issue in some sections of the country as tariff revision.

If any sort of a treaty can be negotiated, it will immediately become something of a problem whether it can be ratified by congress.

Canada will certainly yield any tariff advantages gradually. While there is now quite a sentiment on the other side of the line for freer trade, there is also a growing high protection sentiment there.

Any law, Washington is bound, by the very exigencies of the situation, to be full of tariff talk from now on.

THE FENCES OF HONOLULU.

There used to be a song entitled "The Sidewalks of New York." A ribald parody might be written on this self-same song, called "The Fences of Honolulu."

Honolulu has many beautiful gardens, gardens where rare exotics blossom in the year round, where graceful trees cast grateful shadows, and where lilacs are "star scattered on the grass."

These beauties, however, are concealed wholly, or in part, by stiff, prim and altogether unattractive fences.

In nine cases out of ten, however, the citizen has builded a wall round his premises, or rather a fence, and when that fence is not paintfully newly painted, it is dilapidated by age and neglect.

Every man's home is his castle, is an adage as true as it is old, and an adage which had its birth in feudal times.

Wherefore let us band together to tear down our unsightly fences in order that our neighbors may enjoy the fruits of our planting and that the stranger within our gates may go home and call us blessed.

Let us have a Home Fencesless Gardens Club and if necessary wear a button to proclaim to the world at large that we belong to the progressive organization.

Waikuku has already started a crusade against the fences and a large number have, in consequence, been removed.

The promotion committee and two or three prominent citizens have taken the matter up locally.

The delegates to the Pacific Steam Congress have compiled their resolutions urging assistance to the American merchant marine and the establishment of a strong line of steamers on the Pacific with another urging relief from the onerous restrictions of the coastwise shipping law.

There appears to be quite a difference between legislation in California when they please a man and irregularities when the same reform becomes the law of the land.

CORONATION OF KING GEORGE ON JUNE 22

London, Nov. 18.—The coronation of King George V and Queen Mary will take place on June 22, 1911, at Westminster Abbey.

HILO WILL NEVER BE FORTIFIED

Major Winslow States That Oahu Alone Will Ever Have Big Guns.

"It is not for the defense of Honolulu that the fortifications are being put in at Waianaka, Diamond Head and Pearl Harbor. Even if the city did not exist, the big guns would be pointed in position to defend the naval base at Pearl Harbor."

About fifty members and friends of the Hi-lo Question Club gathered at the hall, and the major delivered a very interesting talk about forts and big guns.

After entering briefly on ancient times and the methods of creating wall ed forts, the major came down to more modern days, and spoke of the fortifications that are being erected in different parts of the world.

May Never Use Forts.

One point that the major brought out was that the forts on Oahu may possibly be never used, but that the main purpose for their being built, and that is to keep the enemy's warships away from the big naval base where the United States fleet will be bottled in case of war.

"You may all be sure that Pearl Harbor will be the only place fortified and garrisoned by big guns," he added. "Hilo may grow to twice the size of Honolulu, but that would make no difference. It is only the base that needs to be fortified, and that is done at Pearl Harbor and along the shoreline from Barber's Point to Kala Head."

Old-time forts, said the major, were built like ships, and three or more tiers of guns were installed. As the style of warships changed, so did the forts on shore and, eventually, it was found that one or two large fourteen inch guns and a battery or two of mortars was about the best provision to make against the enemy.

Forts Scare Ships.

"There are two reasons why Pearl Harbor should be fortified," he continued. "and they are: First, we need a naval base in the Pacific. Second, we must not allow anyone else to have one here. There is not much chance of a fleet attacking a land fort, and it is only necessary to state that at St. Ago in '98, the old bronze guns of the 1755 type were sufficient to keep ships away. At Port Arthur, during the Russo-Japanese war, the real attack came from the land side. The warships could not be risked against the shore guns; the vessels were wanted to meet the Russian fleet later on. The functions of shore forts are to force the enemy to land at some place that you want them to, and where you can get them afterwards."

Concrete Forts.

The major went on to describe the type of fort that nowadays is built of concrete. On ships, armor was used, and it was the best, but very expensive, said the major. On shore there was plenty of room, and concrete was easier to handle. That style of building had been adopted all over the world, and was as good as anything for the purpose.

The guns that are being placed on Oahu are the first of their kind to be mounted on disappearing platforms. They are fourteen inch rifles and can throw a projectile of 1650 pounds. The recoil of these huge guns is overcome by special cylinders in which pistons work in oil. When the gun is fired the recoil is taken up gradually, and as the gun is forced back, the oil in the cylinder is slowly forced out and, finally, the big rifle comes to rest exactly in the position that it wanted for reload.

These big guns can be fired every fifteen seconds, and about one hundred shots is the life of a gun. They can, of course, be fired more times than that, but as the rifling has by that time all worn away, the shooting would be very erratic.

Mortar Battery.

"The question has time after time been asked 'Why not place the mortars inside the crater at Diamond Head?' Well, there are two reasons why this was not done," said the major. "The first reason is that it would have been a hard job to get the mortars inside the crater, and the second and real reason is that if the mortars were inside, then their range of activity would be limited. There is deep water within three thousand yards of the battery, and at that distance, the mortars could not get their shells in the enemy's ships. The effective range of a mortar is three thousand to five thousand yards. The mortars are fired at an angle of sixty degrees to enable the shells to drop in the three thousand yards zone. For the other reason, the crater is deep and as the mortar is fired by the shell falling onto the target, it is found to be a hard job to land from an elevated position in the three thousand yards zone."

Fire Control.

The major also spoke of the art of range finding and fire control, the fact of how guns may be trained on a ship at five thousand yards of distance, and how the gunners and crew are well equipped with instruments and a telescope to find the target.

With all the progress that has been made in the art of range finding and fire control, the fact of how guns may be trained on a ship at five thousand yards of distance, and how the gunners and crew are well equipped with instruments and a telescope to find the target.

question as to how many guns would be set up on Oahu, he stated that he did not know, but that sufficient to make Pearl Harbor impregnable would certainly be established.

SIBERIA'S PURSEE SMUGGLED.

Smuggling by employees of trans-Pacific liners, which has become very frequent during the last few years, is to be stopped by the treasury department by the withdrawal of certain courtesies heretofore extended to them by the customs authorities, says the San Francisco call of November 12.

This announcement was made yesterday in an official communication from the department at Washington received by Chief Clerk Henry E. Palmer of the San Francisco customhouse. The communication states that the secretary of the treasury approves of the plan suggested by Customs Collector Stratton, that a complete list of all articles in possession of the officers and members of the crew of every vessel arriving at this port shall be handed to the chief boarding officer when the vessel reaches the quarantine grounds.

Some time ago a quantity of pongee silk, kimonoes and other dutiable articles were found concealed in the stateroom of the steamer Peter Heerg of the Steamship Sodorin, valued at $127. Shortly afterwards Robert D. F. Bates of the Steamship Line was found in possession of $408 worth of dutiable goods hidden in his stateroom. All these articles have been confiscated.

HAWAII AN IMPORTANT MILITARY KEY

WASHINGTON, November 9.—Two matters of importance to the army await the early consideration of Secretary Dickinson.

One relates to the movement of regiments during 1911, in pursuance of the policy which requires that troops shall remain on stations beyond seas, such as in the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines, for a period of two years. It has become something of a problem to adjust the situation so as to give regiments the necessary tour of duty at home of a duration which shall be a protection to the health of the army.

The situation is complicated this year by the prospect of increasing the military force in the Hawaiian Islands, in anticipation of the completion of the Panama Canal. By that time Hawaii will become an important key to the military situation.

Secretary Dickinson's return will also afford opportunity to have action taken on the revised army personnel legislation for increasing the commissioned personnel of the army by six hundred officers, the establishment of means of raising a volunteer force and other projects.

BURNING OF THE PEPEKEO WAREHOUSE

HILA, November 17.—The lower portion and the landing at that place were completely destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. The fire started at about eleven o'clock and could be seen plainly from this city and a number of people here thought that some vessel was on fire at the time. The flames had so strong a start that nothing could be done to stay their progress, save holding them back from burning other buildings in the vicinity.

The warehouse destroyed is the one used for sugar during the grinding season, but luckily there was no damage done in this line, the only contents of the building when the flames started being about 1000 bags of bone fertilizer which were badly damaged, though part of this may turn out to be in condition for the plantation, if used up at once. It is stated that the property was fully insured.

It was at first thought in this city that the freight from the Matson Navigation company's steamer Enterprise, which was delivered at Pepeekeo on Tuesday, was in the warehouse burnt, but it has turned out that it was immediately placed in the upper warehouse and unharmed by the flames.

Manager Webster, of Pepeekeo, is at Honolulu at present attending to the meeting of the Sugar Planters' Association, but will probably return to this city Saturday morning on the special trip of the Mauna Kea, which leaves today at ten o'clock.

PEKING, November 9.—Word comes from Tokio that Capt. Frank J. Miller of the Coast Artillery, who is touring in Japan on leave of absence from the Philippines, was arrested at Mito, charged with photographing Mito Harbor. Captain Miller did not know that this is prohibited. An investigation is proceeding. Tourists in Japan are constantly having trouble of this kind, through the fact that they do not understand the limits of the various military zones in Japan.

That little "Hudson" motor car, which was introduced in 1909, is now being produced in quantities of 100,000 a year. It is the most popular car in the world, and its production is being increased to 150,000 a year. The Hudson is a very popular car, and its production is being increased to 150,000 a year. The Hudson is a very popular car, and its production is being increased to 150,000 a year.

The six cylinder thirty-six horsepower Pierce Arrow ordered by Fred Waldron, called into the Associated Garage yesterday morning. The car arrived on the steamer Sierra from the Coast. Waldron, who is president of the motorists' association, is in celebration of the arrival of his auto here. He is touring China with the delegation of commercial dignitaries from the States. H. P. Wood's chauffeur and the Pierce Arrow ordered by E. K. Howard are expected in the next shipment. Holly Moses, the Halo photographer, escaped from the bludgeoning of the Big Island this week and ordered from a Hudson roadster from the Associated Garage to beat it to the burning bush and get a snapshot as he passes by. Moses is a wise guy. Van Valenburgh, a local celebrity, has also ordered a Hudson roadster. Francis Gay has been trying out his new six-cylinder thirty-eight horsepower Pierce Arrow this week and he says it runs like a baby carriage, only it don't bear to be pushed. Mr. Hall at the Associated Garage said yesterday that he had just finished the first walking of the car and a lot of literature about the car.

The new Hudson roadster is equipped with the Stromberg carburetor and Motorfi tank which makes a total of 300 miles. The new thirty-three wheel is reported to have a 100-mile range with a 100-mile range. The car is equipped with a 100-mile range with a 100-mile range. ## BIG CIRCUS WILL BE HERE SOON

Sage, School and Foster, who own a circus and who were formerly with Ballou and Babby, will arrive in Honolulu with a couple of weeks. The advance agent, H. W. De Leon, arrived on the Sierra yesterday morning and he says something about the fact that the greatest show on earth was due to arrive soon.

The large headliners are well known to all of the world and the children, boys and girls, are the same line of business. The Sabines are wonderful trapeze artists and their flying acts are the best of the world. They have a great show.

Letters From The People

OBJECTS TO "BOOST."
Editor: I have read your issue of the 18th and I was surprised to find a "BOOST" in large type in the extreme northwest corner of the front page of The Advertiser.

The article will be headed by the Hawaiian Islands. Then will come the imperial pretensions, R. W. Boonshaus and the officers of the Temple in their Arabian robes, then the nobles, then the nobles wearing Tuxedos and red fezzes, and finally the Army Patrol. It is one of the sights of the year.

During the afternoon the novices will be introduced to the Chamber of Commerce and subjected to the ordeals which have been prepared. In the evening the novices and the shriners will attend the banquet at the Young Hotel.
