WHO WILL IT BE?

Possible Successors to Patti, the Queen of Song.

SWEET VOICED YOUNG AMERICANS

There Are Many of Them Whose Present Successes Promise Great Things for the Future—Father Palliser, Mary Howe and Others with Bright Prospects.

It has been many years that the world has done homage to Adeline Patti as the queen of song, and her oft repeated threat to retire from the stage and leave her subjects queenless and forlorn must of necessity before long be carried out. For

ESTHER PALLISER.

more than thirty years Patti has been recognized as a great singer. For fifteen or twenty she has been looked upon as the greatest singer. Surely she should be satisfied.

But with the retirement of this woman "with a silver throat and a heart of gold" there will be presented to the public a perplexing problem—that of choosing her successor. For the dear public insists on doing particular homage to some one person in each of the great arts. There may be others just as good—that doesn't matter.
Humanity loves to be led, and after it has chosen the leader that leader will be followed blindly. How are we bamboozled sometimes by our leaders!

To select a fitting occupant for Patti's throne will be a difficult matter because of the very plenitude of possibilities. There are fully a dozen remarkably fine singers in the list of those possibilities—probably more than there ever were before at one time. And a peculiar thing is that most of them were born in America. The eagle has another and worthy cause for soaring high. A lot of young American women with voices that lead us to make their names well known would be almost endless. A list of those whose voices give them warrant to be ranked among the present or probable great singers includes fully a dozen. But in guessing at Miss Patti's successor, the names of many of our best known singers must be omitted.
Lillian Russell, for instance, is likely to be an opera singer, and a really great one, as long as she lives. She intends to step from comic to grand opera before long, but to expect her to do more than that would probably be too much. And the cases of many other American opera singers are similar.

Among our grand opera and concert singers Minnie Hauk, who was born in New York, probably stands pre-eminent, but as she has been singing for fully twenty-five years she made her debut in London in 1868, and had appeared in America before that year it would be hardly safe to consider her.

If the coming queen of song is chosen from the ranks of American singers she will doubtless be one of the eight or nine young artists whose names are comparatively new to the public. There are two whose prospects are particularly bright—Katherine Palliser and Mary Howe.

Miss Palliser (whose real name is Walters) was born in Philadelphia in 1871.
She made her debut in grand opera in "Faust," at Rome, being then known as Mlle. Sylvania. Last season she sang Gisetta in D'Oyly Carte's American "Gondoliers" company, and this season she has created a veritable sensation in the London production of "Ivanhoe." Her voice is singularly pure and sweet.

MARY HOWE.

Miss Howe's, it is said, the distinction of being able to sing one note higher than any living vocalist. She is a Vermont girl, and when she was 19 years old Herr Engel, late musical director of Kroll's garden in Berlin, said she gave more promise of filling Patti's place than any woman in the world.

There are seven other young American women whom it would be unsafe to fail to mention.
Emma Kames, a Boston girl, made her debut in Paris, and besides being a magnificent singer is an actress of great ability.
Her voice is flexible, pure and of great range.

Emma Nevada, whose real name is Wilson, was the Virginia City, Nev., in 1882, and made her London debut twenty years later. She has sung in America and in all the European capitals with great success.
Marie Decca's name is Mary Johnston, and she is the granddaughter of Gen.

Thomas L. Hunter, of Ohio, in which state she was born. Her childhood was passed in Kentucky. She is said to be able to reach A in all with ease.

Sybil Sanderson is the San Francisco girl who caused such a furor in May, 1889, when she sang the title role in "Eclairmonde," and held High G without apparent effort.

Marie Van Zandt, another American singer of great note, has been either very fortunate or very unwise. Probably the former. She displeased her audience, was hissed off the stage in Paris in 1884 and her appearance at the Opera Comique on subsequent nights nearly caused a riot. Lately she has gone through a somewhat similar experience at St. Petersburg. If these distressing events do not affect her career her prospects are very bright.

Agnes Huntington, whom Michigan claims as a daughter, is a wonderfully brilliant singer, known principally in connec-
Laura Moore gained her reputation as soprano in the McCaull Opera company.
She was born in Terre Haute, Ind., and has a voice designated as "birdlike." She is said to be eccentric and to belong to the great army of professional women who devote much time and energy to pets.
DAVIS DEACONS.

THE BEST CARD TRICK.

It Is Founded on Mathematics and Is Worth Learning.

Card tricks which require a confederate or depend uponlegerdemain are entirely useless for ordinary purposes, but here is a trick which is worth learning, because it shows how the power of numbers can be applied to cards. It is by no means a new trick, yet there are but few who are acquainted with it. The cards should be arranged in suits, and then each suit should be arranged in the following order: 6, 4, 1, 3, 5, king, 8, 10, 2, 7, queen. Arranged thus, face upmost, the 6 should be the top card and the queen the bottom card of each suit. Place the suits one on top of the other—hearts on top, then spades, diamonds, clubs—and then the pack can be cut by any one of the company as many times as is desired, but the cut must be even.

Then, beginning with the top of the pack, place the cards face down in thirteen piles. When the first, or thirteen cards have been placed in a row begin over and place the fourteenth card on top of the first, the fifteenth on the second and so on. But before doing this be sure and get a look at the bottom card of the pack. This can be done with a glance of the eye. Then, after the cards have been distributed in the thirteen piles, remember in which of these heaps is the card which was at the bottom. You will find upon examination that there are four cards in each heap, and that each heap contains the same cards—four kings, four tens, etc. Now the arrangements of the heaps will be in the order of the arrangement of cards as already given, but backward, and the position of each card in the heap will be in the same order.

For instance, arrange the cards in the order given, and to help the memory the following sentence may be learned: The Sixty-fourth (6, 4) regiment (4) beats the Seventy-fifth (7, 5) up starts the King (king) with eight (8) thousand (10) and three (3) men (queen) and ninety-two (9, 2) women (queen). When each suit has been arranged place them in the order of hearts, spades, diamonds, clubs, so that the hearts will be on top and the clubs at the bottom.
Now, after they have been cut, suppose the eight of spades is the bottom card, you deal them out in thirteen heaps, and the last heap will be all eight's, the top card of which will be the eight of spades. Following in the order the next will be the eight of hearts, the next the eight of clubs, the next the eight of diamonds. Now, the first heap will contain all the kings, the second all the fives, etc.

After the heaps have been thus distributed you have only to ask any one in the company what card he wants, and you can at once pick it out for him.
TOM MASSON.

Ben Ali Haggis, the noted horseman and drayman, who lives at New York, was the son of J. B. Haggis, the millionaire mine owner and racing man. In 1881 the Haggis, father and son, organized their since famous stables, the Rancho del Paso, and two of the best horses that were first run under their colors were Hidalgo and Tyrant. In 1885 the great mare Frenzi added to their laurels and finances, and won the title of "Queen of the Turf." In the following year young Haggis's namesake, Ben Ali, captured the Kentucky Derby and a pot of money. Then came the sprinter Fitzjames, and last, but greatest of all, Salvador, Prince Charles's great son. Salvador's great contests with Tony, resulting in the little swayback's defeat, are still fresh in the public mind. Salvador now holds the record for a running mile on a straightway course—1:35.74.

BEN ALI HAGGIS.

BASEBALL BREVITIES.

The well known outfielder, Tom Brown, has signed with the Boston Association team.

There is much anxiety among the "cranks" concerning the fate of baseball.
It has survived in a somewhat battered condition one season's war, but fears are entertained that if the new fight between the National league and Association continues the game will get a most lamentable black eye.

The New York and Pennsylvania Baseball league has been organized at Erie, Pa.
John Depinet is the League's president.
The league had a very successful season last year, and as good players are being signed the coming season looks bright.

The new International league has taken in Buffalo. Pat Powers will manage the "Bisons."

L. C. Krauthoff, president of the Western association, and a member of the national board, denounces the expulsion of Allen W. Thurman from the presidency of the American association as a very unwise move. He warmly supports Mr. Thurman.

The departure for Europe of Shortstop John M. Ward has given rise to a number of rumors, one of which is that he has taken the trip for the purpose of winning back his estranged wife, Helen Davray, the actress, who is now in London.

President Soben, of the Boston (N. L.) club says that the war between the association and the League will be one of termination, and that no money will be shown to players who enter a second movement for the League's destruction.

DEATH OF DR. LOWELL SMITH.

Rev. Lowell Smith, D. D., passed gently away at 7:15 o'clock this morning, at the advanced age of 88 years and 6 months. Dr. Smith was one of the third band of American missionaries to arrive in these islands. He was the father of Kauhakapi Church, which grew great and strong under his pastorate of many years. His partner in life and mission preceded him to the grave about six years ago. Since then the venerable doctor has lived mainly with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham. Up till a few days ago, although getting frailier day by day, Dr. Smith frequently drove to the store of his son, Mr. A. L. Smith. An evidence of his great vitality was given in his remarkably quick recovery for one so old, from a carriage accident over three years ago, in which he broke an arm. Owing to the arrival of the foreign mail today, further biographical reference to the departed friend of everybody is reserved. The funeral, to take place on Sunday, is elsewhere announced. Today week was the fifty-eighth anniversary of Dr. Smith's arrival in Hawaii.

Applicants must state that they desire to purchase with intention of improving the premises. The terms and condition of sale will be cash, or at the option of the purchaser, one-fourth cash, and the remainder in equal installments payable in one, two and three years with interest payable semi-annually at the rate of seven percent per annum.

The purchaser must within one year from the date of purchase enclose the land bought by him with a good and substantial fence and lay on water from the Government pipes.

SAMOAN ITEMS.

Tamasese, who was made king by the Germans after they had exiled Malietoa, died April 17. He was 61 years old and descended from high chiefs but not a member of the king family. Tamasese left orders that his body was to be kept above ground only one night, as being a professed christian, he wished to have no heathen ceremonies over his body.

His directions were not strictly carried out, the burial not taking place till the second day after death. This was because the grave, which was constructed of cement and had been some weeks in building, was not ready. Several villages gathered to pay their respects to the chief's memory in the native fashion, and there was nearly a row between them and others who did not respect the ceremonies.

Henry Carl, a young sailor on board the brigantine Sea Wolf, was given in charge of the police under the serious charge of scuttling the ship. The ship was loaded for San Francisco with material from the wrecks of the Trenton and Vandilia, and as she was making water alarmingly fast a search for the leak was made, which resulted in finding a hole five feet below the water line bored with an inch and a half auger. A plug was sticking in a corresponding hole in the lining of the vessel, and Carl having been seen whittling a plug suspicion fell on him.

A portion of the natives are agitating the retirement of Malietoa in favor of Mataafa. They hold that on Malietoa's return from exile he abdicated in favor of Mataafa, who had held the throne against Tamasese in Malietoa's absence. The U. S. S. Charleston is expected in Samoa, to watch affairs while the king question is being settled.

SARAH BERNHARDT. The Oceanic wharf was crowded on the arrival of the Monowai, with people eager to get a glimpse of the great actress. A murmur of disappointment went through the throng as the steamer was to sail at 5 o'clock. Mile. Sarah Bernhardt could not appear in the Opera House to-night. Mile. Bernhardt came tripping lightly down the steep gangway, being one of the earliest in landing. She was dressed in a jaunty gait costume with cloak and silver girdle, and chatted gaily in French, half to the gentlemen accompanying her and half to herself. Mr. L. J. Levey escorted her to a four-in-hand wagonette, but she refused in pretty alarm to take the stylish equipage.

An ordinary one-horse hack she deemed good enough and safer than being whirled along by four spirited horses. Mile. Bernhardt is youthful-looking, and with a wealth of golden hair and a rosy complexion beneath a la Tosca hat trimmed with yellow ribbon, she created rather a sensation as she skipped jauntily through the crowd.

The BELLETIN is authorized to announce that Mile. Bernhardt will give either a matinee or an evening performance on her return twelve weeks hence. Holders of tickets will have the option of either receiving their money back or holding their seats pending Mile. Bernhardt's return.

A number of subscribers have already asked to have their seats retained.

A NEW INVOICE OF CYCLOPE WINDMILLS JUST RECEIVED.

A large number of Cyclope Windmills are in use in these islands, and have given invariable satisfaction. People who are using them will tell what they do. They are rapidly displacing cheap steel mills on the coast because the latter "will not do the work required of an ordinary mill."

The Cyclones are the strongest—perfect self-regulators—the most durable and have more wind surface and will run in a lighter breeze. They will do more work in the same wind and are the simplest, they have less friction than any other mill and require no care, except to keep them oiled. They are made of the best materials.

These mills are for sale by the Pacific Hardware Co., Ltd., Honolulu.

S. S. MONOWAI.
The Union Steamship Co.'s R. M. S. S. Monowai arrived at noon today from San Francisco. She left that port on the 1st inst. at 5 p. m., and for the first two days experienced fine weather. The next three days, however, were very unfavorable, heavy westerly sea and head winds greatly retarded the ship's way. Since then the weather has been all that could be desired, smooth sea and light S. E. winds.

On this trip the Monowai takes down to Australia the celebrated M. Sarah Bernhardt and her company. Madame Bernhardt has, so far, greatly enjoyed the trip, and speaks in high terms of the comforts of the Monowai and the attention she receives on board.
Hon. J. B. Peterson, late Commissioner of Customs for the colony of Victoria, is also a passenger.

JAMES STANBURY defeated McLean on April 28th, over the Paramatta course, for the single sculling championship of the world and a purse of $400. The victor will sail for America to match himself with O'Connor, the Canadian.

THE article from a New Zealand paper elsewhere was written by a late distinguished visitor, Count Wachtmeister, whose travel therein described were shared by Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, the latter being Hon. Paul Newman's daughter, who lately left for her new home in England with her husband by way of the Colonies.

MRS. SARAH BERNHARDT put up at the Hawaiian Hotel while the steamer was in port. SAN FRANCISCO LETTER.

[BULLETIN SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.

On the 21st of April mention was made of the incorporation of a new sugar refinery company, with which street rumor connected the name of Mr. Steele. The incorporators are Edward L. G. Steele, 1500 shares, $150,000; George A. Moore, 125 shares, $12,500; Edward Polhemus, 100 shares, $10,000; Everett N. Bee, 100 shares, $10,000; M. Hall McAllister, 100 shares, $10,000; E. L. G. Steele & Co., 8075 shares, $807,500. The capital stock is $1,000,000. It will be seen, therefore, that Mr. Steele and his clerks subscribe the entire capital. The following directors have been elected: E. L. G. Steele, George A. Moore, Ed. Polhemus, Everett N. Bee and M. Hall McAllister. So they are all in it. But Mr. Steele has not made progress on the outside. Capitalists shy of his project, and it is likely to remain a "promising industry" on paper for quite a while longer. What Mr. E. L. G. Steele does not know about sugar refining would fill the vacuum pan in a first-class refinery.
The news by the Zealandia that the volcano was again showing activity has come to hand opportunely, because tourists can hardly be persuaded to take the long sea trip to the Islands and see nothing but the smoking crater of Kilauea on their arrival at the Volcano House. Should this news be confirmed you may expect an active tourist season.
Sarah Bernhardt has divided the popular honors with President Harrison during the week. Her short season here has been a continued triumph, and what is more to the point, it has been a very paying one. But as the good people of Honolulu will have an opportunity of seeing Bernhardt in "Camille," it is needless to criticise her acting. They can form their own opinion, and from Camille imagine Cleopatra, but they never could imagine, from such a representation, her pure and exalted conception of the Maid of Orleans. The truth is, Sarah Bernhardt is not to be judged by ordinary canons. She is gifted with a genius which lifts her above criticism, and enables her to make each character a new and perfect creation of its kind.
The Western Sugar Refinery Company began operations last week with headquarters at Messrs. Spreckels' office. The American refinery is closed for the present, while the California Refinery is worked up to its full capacity. There is a great deal of Hawaiian sugar at top prices to be worked off. Quotations seem to satisfy the trade, and business is active although there are no speculative purchases. Raw sugar was quoted at New York yesterday at 32c for fair refining with a downward tendency.

Close examination of your newspapers and interviews with visitors by the Zealandia fail to furnish any justification for a letter dated from Honolulu, published in the Evening Post of this city April 28th, although the opening sentences shows it was not written there. If its statements are trustworthy you are on the brink of another revolution to establish a republic. The Honolulu press must be very deficient in newsgathering and patriotism if the letter in question reveals a true state of facts, because it fails to sound a note of warning of any kind. The effect of the publication must be injurious to the Islands which are supposed to be at least prosperous, but which would really appear to be upon the brink of bankruptcy and ruin. This sensational story will no doubt be telegraphed East, where its improbability will not be so easily detected as here. To speak of "the widespread ruin among the sugar planters and the country generally," is certainly a wonderful imaginative effort in view of the opulence of the former, and the increasing values of property as reported at public sales in Honolulu, to say nothing of the rapid expansion of Hawaiian trade, for which two steel ships will soon be under contract at Glasgow, in addition to the extra steamer service by the Oceanic Company.
For a bankrupt and misgoverned country Hawaii appears to hold up its end very creditably among producing and commercial communities. Why Minister Carter's reported resignation should be selected as a peg upon which to hang this attack upon the Queen and native Hawaiians is a matter which may possibly be explained, but which is not distinctly evident on the face of the story. One thing is abundantly evident, however. The same policy of detraction which hounded Kalakaua to death is being adopted in the case of his successor, forgetful alike of the sex of the Sovereign and the chivalrous devotion men owe to a woman, and one so highly placed and so surrounded by legal limitations and restrictions as to be wholly unable to defend herself.
This morning's Examiner contains an alleged interview with the Queen on political questions, and especially the treaty relations between Hawaii and the United States. It may be genuine but it must have come up by "pigeon express" inside of six days, unless the date was changed by the wide-awake editor to give it the appearance of late news.
The Canadian Pacific Company's new steamer, Empress of India, arrived at Victoria, B. C., on the 28th, 10 days, 4 hours and 36 minutes from Yokohama. This is about two days ahead of the best previous time, and makes Yokohama as near to Victoria as Liverpool was to New York ten years ago.
The sailing of the Monowai has been delayed until today owing to the non-arrival of the English mail, which reached New York on Saturday night. Sarah Bernhardt and her company of actors are through passengers for the Colonies.
Mr. James Campbell, wife and family are at the Occidental Hotel. They are enjoying good health. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are happy, having had a daughter born to them in London. Hon. Cecil Brown is also in town and looking the picture of health.

"AERMOTOROLOGY"

The man who wants a windmill usually looks around and investigates the statements made by the dealers in the respective mills. We are pleased to recommend purchases to parties who have Aermotors on their plantations because we know what the result will be. Thus far we have not had a bad report from any of the mills we have sold here; in every instance we have received the same satisfactory expressions. When we procured the Agency of the Aermotors we did not do so blindly; we felt that if the machines were good enough for the officials of the Union Pacific Railway they were good enough for us. We saw hundreds of places on the line of that road where wooden mills were being replaced by the Aermotor. We thought it a good indication of which way the wind was blowing and arranged accordingly. There is not a windmotor in existence that will do the same amount of work, last as long, or that can be bought so cheap as the Aermotor. It is ridiculous to say they will not last! Whoever saw piece of steel that would not outlast wood in any climate?
The Aermotor has so many advantages over other windmills that it would require all the space in this paper to set forth half of them and as new features are cropping up almost every day we can hardly keep up with them even in the many changes in our "ads." We have concluded then to condense all the good features of the Aermotors and express them in four words, "They are the best," and anyone who has seen an Aermotor at work will agree with us. There are so many good uses to which the Aermotors may be put that they are becoming a necessity on every ranch and plantation. In a few months the question will not be "how many acres of cane have you," or "how many head of stock do you own" but, "Have you an Aermotor?" and the probability is that the answer will be in the affirmative. It's a pretty sure sign that the Aermotors give satisfaction when persons return to our store and buy a second one.

HAWAIIAN HARDWARE CO.

Customers who notice our shelves so well-filled with fine goods wonder at our having no old stock. The problem is simple! We are constantly selling and ever replacing the goods with others. We have two warehouses filled with goods and we draw from them as we need and so keep our stock well up. You don't often ask us for what we do not have, we keep up with the times and by so doing can supply your wants. The Aermotor is a fair illustration of the fact.
By recent arrivals we have received the finest assortment of General Hardware, Housefurnishing Goods and Silverware ever imported to this city. We wish to call your attention particularly to the Silverware because it comprises articles which you are no doubt in need of and have been unable to procure, some pieces are marvels of the silversmith's art. Competent judges think we have the best stock of goods in our line in the city, we believe their judgment is correct.
