MONDAY, MAY 3, 1886.

An erroneous impression, as to the ownership and editorial management of the Press, is evidently entertained by some people in spite of the repeated announcements to the contrary made in our columns from time to time, and made daily, since the first of March, at the head of the editorial column. To set the matter at rest for all time, we call attention to a card, signed by Mr. T. G. Thurum and published in another column, disclaiming any connection whatever either as to the proprietorship or management of this paper. We wish further to announce that both the management and policy of the Press is directed solely by the present editor and proprietor. As it is our intention to wage a bitter and unrelenting war upon all the shams which society is heir to, we wish the public to clearly understand that we do not intend to commence the battle under cover of a sham and misrepresentation. We are aware that our course since we have assumed entire control of the paper, has been commented upon and will doubtless be criticised in the future; but we are prepared to hold our stand as a fearless, independent journal in spite of political cliques and local cavils, until the good result is felt both at home and abroad where it will do us the most good. The Press has formed no party ties, nor will it form any in the future.

HAWAIIAN LEGISLATURE.

SECOND DAY, Saturday, May 1

The Legislature met pursuant to adjournment at 10 o'clock with Hon. Godfrey Rhodes, temporary chairman, in the chair. No chaplain having been elected Rev. Waiwaiole was requested to offer prayer, which he did in native. Mr. Edward Pierce acting as secretary pro tem, then read the minutes of yesterday's session, which were approved.

Mr. Kalua moved that a committee of three on credentials of members elect be appointed, before proceeding to other business. Mr. Kaulukou, of Hilo, assented to the remarks of the gentleman from Lahaina, but moved an amendment to the motion that the roll should be first called. The amendment was carried. The roll call by Mr. Pierce showed that there were:

Present—Nobles: Their Excellencies W. M. Gibson, Chas. T. Gulick, Paul Neumann; Honorables C. R. Bishop, J. O. Dominis, G. Rhodes, C. H. Judd, S. G. Wilder, H. Kuhlmann, Junius Kahe, John E. Bush, J. S. Walker, P. P. Kanoa, J. L. Dowsett, G. W. Macfarlane, Samuel Parker, A. S. Cleghorn; Representatives—The Honorable Fred. H. Hayselden, J. Keau, E. K. Likialani and J. T. Baker, Honolulu; A. Kaubi, Ewa and Waianae; Jesse Amara, Wailua; Cecil Brown, Koolauloa; Asa Kaulia, Koolaula; J. L. Kaulukou, Hilo; J. K. Kannamano, Hamakua; J. K. Nahale, N. Kona; D. H. Nahinu, S. Kona; J. W. Kalua, Lahaina; J. A. Kaukau, Kaunapali; Geo. E. Richardson and W. R. Castle, Wailuku; C. H. Dickey, Makawao; S. W. Kaai, Hana; L. A. Thurston and A. P. Paehaole, Molekai and Lanai; S. B. Dole, Lihue; E. L. Kauai, Waiamea; G. B. Palohau, Hanalei.

Absent—Honorables J. M. Kapena, P. Isenberg, J. P. Parker, H. A. Widemann, J. Mott Smith, J. H. S. Martin, Frank Fahia, Hilo; Dr. Wright, Kohala; J. Kauhane, Kau; E. Kekoa, Puna; and L. Aholo, Lahaina.

The motion on the appointment of a committee on credentials was then put and carried. The chair appointed, J. K. Kaunamano, F. H. Hayselden and W. R. Castle.

Mr. Dole moved an adjournment for a half hour, but at the suggestion of Mr. Kaulukou the motion was withdrawn. Kaai from Hana, referring to the death of Hon. Paul P. Kanoa and the appointment of Hon. Samuel Parker as a noble moved that the Chief Justice be requested to administer the oath to the latter.

Mr. Bush raised a point of order, that as the members elect are not sworn in, there is no house to vote on the motion. The chair sustained the point of order saying that the matter was premature as the Chief Justice would be called to administer the oath to the members elect and Mr. Parker could be sworn in at the same time.

Mr. Kaai dissented from the decision saying that the House was organized and therefore bound by no rules.

The chair, however, remained firm. Noisy silence prevailed in the absence of the committee.

At length Mr. Cecil Brown rose to a point of order. He cited the House to Rule 61 which assigns the duty of determining the credentials of members elect to the Judiciary Committee. He therefore moved that the House proceed to the election of President and it would then be in position to act upon credentials and proceed with other business.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Kaulukou.

Mr. Bush said the proceedings throughout had been irregular. A committee had been appointed from among members elect to sit in judgment on their own claims to seats. He contended that the credentials of members elect should be referred to a committee of Nobles as that body is legally in session, and that the representatives do not become legislators until their qualifications are passed upon.

Mr. Kaulukou, denied that the Nobles could constitute the House. "I am here," said the honorable gentleman, "to represent the district of Hilo, and no one can question my right to a seat except the Legislative Assembly, which consists of the House of Nobles and 28 representatives."

Mr. Neumann argued that members elect cannot exercise the function of legislators until the oath is administered. The election of President is of legislative function, therefore, until the qualifications of members are determined and until they are sworn in, they cannot vote for President.

Mr. Brown called for the ruling of the chair.

The chair remarked that the appointment of the committee is in conformity with former customs of the House. The committee on credentials merely considers the prima facie evidence of each member's title to a seat. The credentials must afterwards be submitted to the Judiciary Committee.

At this point the committee reported favorably upon the credentials of the members elect as above given. The report was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Kaai a committee was appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice and request his presence to administer the oath to the new Noble Mr. S. Parker and the members elect.

The committee consisting of Messrs. Kaai, Kaulukou and Brown retired and shortly reappeared accompanied by His Honor, the Chief Justice, in official robes. After administering the oath to Mr. Parker, his Honor administered it to the members elect present in the following order: Members from Hawaii, members from Maui, members from Molokai and Lanai and Kaua, and members from Oahu.

Mr. Kaai then nominated Hon. J. S. Walker for President of the Legislature, and Mr. Dole placed in nomination Hon. Godfrey Rhodes.

Mr. Rhodes in a feeling speech returned thanks for the honor of this nomination. He had filled the Chair several times and the present re-nomination showed an appreciation of his former course during his incumbency. As a tribute of approval it is highly grateful to him. But declining health would shortly compel him to crave a leave of absence to go to a colder climate. Therefore, with most grateful thanks, he must decline re-election.

Mr. Kalua, in a eulogistic speech then placed in nomination Hon. C. R. Bishop. Mr. Bishop had been a member of the Legislature as far back as he (Mr. Kalua) could remember and had filled the Chair in an acceptable manner.

Mr. Kaulukou admitted the high character of both of the candidates. As they are of equal fitness and capacity, he hoped the members would give Mr. Walker the preference. Mr. Kaulukou favored rotation, and as Mr. Bishop and Mr. Rhodes had formerly been honored, now let Mr. Walker be equally honored.

Messrs. Dickey and Baker were appointed tellers and the House proceeded to ballot. The election resulted as follows: Whole number of votes cast 39, of which Walker received 22, Bishop 16, Rhodes 1.

Mr. Rhodes then vacated the Chair and the President elect Hon. J. S. Walker assumed the Chair and addressed the Assembly as follows:

Nobles and Representatives: I am not insensible of the honor that you have been pleased to confer upon me, neither am I ungrateful of the duties and responsibilities. Looking back to the past session many of you who were here will remember that the chair has been filled by a gentleman of great ability and large parliamentary experience which I cannot claim. I am prompted to remind you that the President is simply the presiding officer to be governed by the rules, precedent and practice, and without your aid and support will not be able to carry on the business of the session in a satisfactory manner. Craving your indulgence for my many shortcomings, and promising you that I shall discharge the duties of the position to the best of my ability, let me thank you for the honor that you have been pleased to confer on me.

Mr. Kaai then nominated L. Aholo for Vice-President and moved a suspension of rules to elect him by acclamation.

Mr. Kalua objected as Mr. Aholo has not been sworn in. His objection was not a personal one but on the grounds of propriety. He should favor Mr. Aholo's election, but thought the House should wait till all the members are present. He therefore moved that the election of Vice-President be deferred until such a time as all of the members are present.

Mr. Richardson moved as an amendment that it be deferred till Monday. He thought the Legislature might possibly have to do without a Vice-President if the election were deferred to a time when all the members should be present. Rumor says the member from Puna has been fined by a Police Court. It is among the possibilities that he may now be working out his fine. (Laughter).

The amendment was accepted by Mr. Kalua and the motion prevailed.

For Secretary of the Legislature J. E. Wiseman was placed in nomination by Mr. Brown and Ed. Pierce by Gov. Dominis. The election resulted: whole number votes cast 39; Pierce, 20; Wiseman, 17; Levey, 1; Testa, 1. Mr. Pierce was declared elected.

For Sergeant-at-Arms, S. Nowlein nominated by Mr. Kaulukou was elected by acclamation.

For Messenger, Mr. Cecil Brown nominated Aillau and Mr. Kaai nominated Kalanipoo. The ballot stood 24 to 15 in favor of Kalanipoo.

Rev. T. Waiamau on nomination of Mr. Keau was unanimously elected Chaplain.

Sam Kuula, J. W. Kapakini and Wm. Kapala were candidates for Janitor. The election resulted in victory for Kuula.

Mr. L. Wilcox was elected by acclamation as Interpreter.

Mr. Dole moved that a committee of three be appointed to draft a reply to His Majesty's address.

Mr. Kaulukou seconded the motion nominating Hon. S. Parker, the new Noble, as chairman. The motion was carried.

The Chair appointed the committee in the following order: Mr. Dole, Mr. Kaunamano and Mr. Parker.

Mr. Kaulukou contended that by the motion Mr. Parker was created chairman, and that therefore he should have been named first. The chair then named Mr. Parker as chairman of the committee.

Mr. Thurston rose to a point of order. He claimed that Mr. Dole by reason of being first named on the committee, was by parliamentary custom chairman of the committee unless the committee should otherwise determine. He argued that the President had no power to name a chairman. Let that responsibility rest with the committee.

The Chair gracefully conceded Mr. Thurston's point of order to be well taken, and reversed his decision without appeal to the House.

Motion for adjournment. Mr. Rhodes asked that the motion be waived until the Secretary and Interpreter are sworn.

Motion for adjournment put to vote and lost.

Mr. Kalua moved that the Secretary and Interpreter be sworn. Carried. The oath was accordingly administered to them by the President.

On motion of Mr. Kaai the House adjourned till Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

CONDENSED NEWS.

The railroad lobbyists are excited over a House Committee which has been appointed to enquire into the railroad doings of Congressmen.—An insane mother of Keyport, New Jersey, lately attacked her children with an ax killing two of them before she was secured after a terrible struggle.—The general industrial situation is being aggravated in the United States, there being at least 43,000 strikers reported against a previous 31,000.—The most depressing factor in the trade situation is the uncertainty attending the attitude and outcome of the existing demands of organized labor.—Refined sugar is one cent higher owing to the strike on the Brooklyn refineries.—There is an advance at New Orleans and San Francisco from 5-16 of a cent to 7/8 of a cent for refined sugar; raw sugar has felt none of the advance; the Louisiana sugar plantation reports are not wholly favorable.—The practical working of the convict contract system of Kentucky has again been exposed which shows up such neglect, cruelty and starvation as cannot be duplicated this side of Siberia.—Two men have been hanged for murder committed in Indian Territory.—Mormon women have organized a lobby of ladies to advocate the Mormon Church.—Damaging washouts have occurred along the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad.—The U. S. revenue cutter Bear has received orders to make a second search for the crew of the lost Amethyst.—A London dispatch says that Gladstone's most influential colleague in the Cabinet is Lord Spencer; his speech at New Castle will undoubtedly strengthen the position of the Government.

Mr. Kaulukou admitted the high character of both of the candidates. As they are of equal fitness and capacity, he hoped the members would give Mr. Walker the preference. Mr. Kaulukou favored rotation, and as Mr. Bishop and Mr. Rhodes had formerly been honored, now let Mr. Walker be equally honored.

Our Hilo correspondent writes: At nine o'clock on Saturday night, the 24th ult., the Morning Star steamed into Hilo harbor, bringing back two of our loved friends, Dr. C. H. Wetmore and his daughter Lucy, who sailed in November, 1885 as missionary delegates. All were delighted to have them go, and all were delighted to give them a hearty welcome home after doing so much good cheering the hearts of those who are laboring in Micronesia. A large number of friends were on the dock to receive them with open arms. All were pleased to welcome Miss Cathcart and Miss Palmer, and hope that in a short time each will regain her health. The citizens of Hilo were all glad to see Captain Bray and his good wife again as well as Mr. Garland. Long may they all live for the welfare and benefit of Micronesia.

The Campobello Concerts.

The fifth of this series of operatic concerts was given to a fair audience at the Hawaiian Opera House last Saturday evening. A Duo, for two pianos, "Danse Macabe," by Misses Lulu and Pauline Joran, was the opening piece of the evening. This was followed by a Violin Solo, "Zigeunerweisen," by Miss Pauline Joran, which was responded to by loud applause from the audience. The balance of the first part of the performance consisted of a Piano Solo, "Variations on a German Air," by Miss Elise Joran; Declamation, "The Heather Boy," with piano accompaniment, by Miss Pauline Joran; Piano Solo, "Rhapsodie No. 10," by Miss Lulu Joran; Trio, two pianos and violin, by Misses Lulu and Elise Joran. The performance closed with a selection from "Il Don Pasquale," by Signor Campobello, Signor Lencioni and Miss May Spring. His Majesty, the King, was present, being in the royal box. Numerous beautiful bouquets were sent onto the stage to the different performers during the evening. Only one more performance will be given by this excellent company before their departure.

The Relief Agent.

No one can entertain a doubt of the good accomplished by the Cabinet Relief Committee in its noble work for the alleviation of suffering and distress resulting from the late fire. The details and minutiae of such a scheme must of necessity be left to the discretion of the agent. The selection of Mr. F. H. Austin for this position was in every way a happy one. Of course, it is the Agent's duty to do his duty. But the performance of the duties of his office by Mr. Austin reflect such credit on his administration as to be worthy of special mention. Mr. Austin is not the churlish agent of an unsympathizing committee, which does not wish its offers of assistance to be carried out. He listens with attention to every complaint and applies such relief as his discretion allows under his instructions. Careful provision is made against fraud, however. The modus operandi is as follows: The applicant for relief presents a certificate from some well-known citizen. But as well known citizens may not in every instance be acquainted with the sufferer the application may be signed by some one else who must receive a proper endorsement, as to his reliability, on the back of the certificate. The Agent questions the one presenting the certificate, and if convinced of the pressing necessity of his case allows him a choice of three out of five articles named on a blank prepared for that purpose. A duplicate of this blank, which is in the nature of an order upon the stores is then attached to the application and placed on a book, so that a complete history of the case is kept. At the same time the orders which are numbered are entered in a book kept for that purpose. Thus far the book shows that 566 suits of clothes have been given out. At the Immigration Depot about forty-five persons are still fed. Quite a number who are homeless are housed temporarily, but earn their own food.

They Say:

That the Opposition portion of the new Legislature is without organization; that the wind blew from every conceivable direction Saturday night and yesterday; that the Hawaiian Hotel, or at least a portion of it, is doing a "big biz" again; that the politicians spent yesterday talking over their little jobs for the near future; that the display of parliamentary rules in the present Legislature will be out of the question; that an army and navy bill will be introduced before the fun is over; that the vote of 16 to 22, for President of the Legislature, has a political significance which those of liberal political views will not be long in "taking a tumble" to, as the saying says; that Colonel Spreckels ought to feel honored by such a vote coming from his declared opponents; that it has not been ascertained whether the member, mentioned by another member, is working out his fine, or politically resting, as it were; that the ability to play base ball does not suppose an ability for Legislative deliberation; that the Police force are somewhat agitated over a rumor that a sworn report of some of their doings has been placed in the hands of the Attorney General; that the Sunday law in Honolulu is becoming, practically, a dead letter; that the new treaty will be heard from officially from the United States authorities before the people of Hawaii have made up their minds what to do in the matter; that another poem on "Wealth" will be written soon with the aid of a can of Royal baking powder; that the new members of the Legislature will all be in their places by the end of this week; that the native preachers are said to be preaching in favor of the new treaty with the United States; that the eminent base ballist will endeavor to add to his sporting fame during the present session; that it will be harder to make a base-hit in the Assembly than on the Makiki diamond; that the weaker side ought to organize a political lobby in the "cloak room"; that the newspapers ought to have a telephone connection with the Assembly chamber; that some of our law makers are already in want of sleep; that the interests of the outside districts will be pushed throughout this session of the Legislature; and that there are some pet private schemes which will never reach the engrossing pen of the clerk.

CONGRESSMAN RANDALL'S HABITS.

His Public and Private Life—Fond of His Family—"Sam, Jr."

Randall's public and private life are strangely dissimilar. In the house he is aggressive, rough, and radical. In his domestic relations he is the most simple and quiet man in the world. His Pennsylvania home is a pretty house out in what is called West Philadelphia. He also keeps an office in town, and whenever he runs over he is overwhelmed with visits from friends and politicians, nearly all of them with axes to grind. In Washington Randall lives more simply than many a government clerk who has but $1,000 a year. His house, a plain, old-fashioned three-story brick with white trimmings, suggestive of Philadelphia, is on "C" street, Capitol Hill, an unfashionable and retired section of the city. It is remote from hotels, theatres and other public places. It is near the Capitol, however, and as Randall spends all his time in the big building he no doubt finds his proximity to it very convenient. His neighbors are all poor people, who live as well and better than the speaker. He has a wife and family with whom he is happy, but who are little heard of in Washington society. Mrs. Randall, of course, receives her friends on "members' day," but take little part in the season's gayeties. Randall himself spends all his time with his family when not at the Capitol. He never goes out in the evening, except, perhaps, to a dinner or meeting of gentlemen. He is so busy that he has no time to waste.

When visiting the departments Mr. Randall rides in an old-fashioned carriage, that has not been painted for several years. The horse that draws it is scraggy and slow, but well-fed, and the driver is a rickish-looking darkey, as scraggy in appearance as the horse.

Randall has a son, "Sam Jr.," who is known as a "terror." He is over at the house every day after school and drives doorkeepers and clerks nearly crazy with his antics. He is as bright and quick as his father, however, and if not spoiled by excessive petting by everyone about the house, may some day be as big a man as his father.

Anyone looking at Randall while in the house in charge of an appropriation bill or leading a party debate would hardly believe that his private life is a simple, unostentatious every-day existence. But such it is, and he or his family are never heard of outside the house.

Though so quiet, Randall is anything but lamb-like when he is stirred up, as he has been by the fight which clipped his wings in the matter of appropriation bills. He is perhaps subdued, but he is not beaten, and Carlisle and Morrison and their friends are watching with an anxious eye the movements of the Pennsylvania leader.—Cor. Detroit News.

A Good Ghost Story Spelled. "I'll tell you a funny thing," said he, as they walked up Kearny street one evening; "I could never account for it."

"Oh, I don't believe in those supernatural stories; they're all rot."

"This wasn't a supernatural, but it was curious. I was taking a walk one night, and suddenly I heard, as if it were far away, my name called. It came quite distinctly, 'Peter!' It was so sudden I stopped and looked around. The street was quiet, and only a cart or carriage about a block off was making any noise. I went on. It came again. It sounded like the voice of a friend of mine, and I got so impressed I turned around and went up to his room."

"Well, he was sick —"

"No, he was all right. I didn't say anything to him about it. But I never could account for it."

"Oh, pshaw!"

"Geet up!" cried a driver, passing, to his horse.

"That's what you heard, my boy. That fellow's 'Geet up!' sounded exactly like your name."

"I say, can't tell me that. You've knocked the stuffing out of my best ghost story."—San Francisco Chronicle "Under-tones."

Cocoon Growing in the South. Cocoon growing is attracting much attention in sections of the south, and especially on the coast above Cape Florida, where a consignment of over 100,000 of the nuts arrived lately for planting. The industry bids fair to become very prosperous in the orange state, so thinks The Key West Democrat, which thus speaks of some experience it has had in the business: "We owned about sixty trees on Biscayne bay, at Miami, and notwithstanding the damage done by hurricanes, we used to get 300 good nuts from each tree, besides what we ate and gave away. Cocoons sometimes commence bearing in four years, are always in full bearing in seven years, if they are ever going to do anything. We have seen one cocoon tree with over 300 good-sized nuts on it at one time, beside the blossoms and small nuts; one bunch had eighty-five and another ninety-five full-grown nuts upon it."—Chicago Journal.

The Career of Gen. N. P. Banks. Gen. Nathaniel Prentiss Banks, the handsome old politician with the peerless nose, was 70 years old the other day. What a world of memories are recalled as this well-preserved relic of other and great days passes the milestone! Think of what he has been and seen and figured in and the most heroic epoch in the life of the nation rises up for review. The hobbin boy; member and speaker of the state legislature; member of congress and elected speaker on the 1860 ballot, after a struggle extending over two months; governor of Massachusetts for three terms; major general in the army of the Union from 1861 until May, 1864; then four terms more in the national house of representatives, and now United States marshal at Boston, in his second term of three years.—Springfield Republican.

Man Is an Omnivorous Animal. Professor Germain See, the eminent French physiologist, declares that man is omnivorous, and is destined to live on the elements furnished by the three kingdoms of nature. He can not retain robust health on meat alone as food, nor can he live on vegetables alone. The practice of pure vegetarianism is simply impossible, and the so-called vegetarians are compelled to make up the deficiencies in their food by consuming a quantity of such animal substances as milk, eggs and butter. From the mineral kingdom must be had pure water, which can be replaced by no other fluid.—Arkansas Traveler.

Shocked by Small Circumstances. Mrs. S., who had just lost her husband, was receiving a visit from a friend who tried to console her. "Come, my dear, be reasonable. You must try and bear up under these griefs." "Don't be alarmed," groans the afflicted one, wiping her eyes. "I am resigned at heart; only you know what my nerves are. It takes very little to upset them."—Boston Beacon.

At the Base of Pompey's Pillar. Miss Clara of the Shakespeare class—We read Julius Caesar this afternoon. I think the most thrilling part of the play is where Caesar falls at the base of Pompey's statue.
