COLUMBIA WINS THREE RACES STRAIGHT, RETAINING THE CUP

Beat Shamrock Nearly Three Minutes in Second Race—Handicap Prevents Defeat in Third.

Victory Won By Windward Work—Remarkable Finish in Final Race of Series—Challenger First Over the Line By a Narrow Margin—Lipton Remains Game.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The white flyer Columbia won the third and decisive race with the Shamrock today on time allowance. It was an unsatisfactory victory, but victory it was, and the cup stays here. The Shamrock made a most valiant effort, and the race throughout was close and exciting, but, mightily as the challenger strove to retrieve her fortunes, she could not do it, although the "golden lady," as Sir Thomas affectionately describes the bronze racer, did manage to make so close a finish that time allowance alone saved the defender from defeat. As it was, the Shamrock crossed the finish line a scant half length ahead of the Columbia, but counting her time allowance, the Columbia won by 41 seconds.

This last race of the series was over a thirty-mile leeward and windward course, the first fifteen miles being a straight tilt down the wind, and the second fifteen miles a beat to windward. The wind held steady from north-north-west, but varied a bit in force, sometimes blowing in petulant gusts and then weakening to a gentle breeze, which was the usual maneuvering for position at the start, the Columbia getting a bit the worst of the game crossing the line thirteen seconds ahead of the Shamrock, and, therefore, giving her rival the coveted opportunity of blanketing the leader, and which the Shamrock was not slow in using. Both went over with every bit of canvas showing that it was possible to put on them, balloon jibs, rounded and full, and spritakers swelling to port. Then ensued a luffing match, the Shamrock endeavoring to keep her place dead astern of the Columbia, and that vessel striving to get clear of the blanket of the Shamrock. The challenger's greater sail area soon began to tell, and, gradually, she lessened the distance between herself and the flying leader.

With varying fortunes the two fought it out to the outer mark, first one and then the other forging ahead to the freshening of the leeward wind. Nearing the mark the Shamrock drew considerably in the lead, and taking in her balloon jib and spritaker as she swung around the point, found, as the Columbia followed her, that she had gained one minute and four seconds in the run down the wind.

The struggle then was mainly a battle of skippers, and a tight grand struggle it was. As the two racers, after numerous tacks, finally drew near the Sandy Hook lightship, which marked the finish of the race, the Columbia backers saw, with their hearts in their mouths, that the Shamrock was nearly on even terms with the Yankee boat, the two being scarcely a length apart. Lengths counted then, but the defender, though sailed with all the skill of her expert master, could not overcome the Shamrock's lead, and in the bitter struggle that followed the challenger finally staggered over the line with a lead of less than her own length and two seconds' time. This, subtracted from the forty-one seconds, counted the Shamrock allows the Columbia, gave the victory to the defender by the close margin of forty-two seconds.

THE SECOND OF THE GREAT CHAMPIONSHIP YACHT RACES

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—In the most superb contest ever sailed by single stickers for the America's cup the unapproachable white Yankee schooner Columbia vanquished in a piping breeze today, over a triangular course off Sandy Hook, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock II. The wind, from the northwest, held true from start to finish, and at times had a force of about eighteen knots. The Shamrock was beaten over the thirty-mile course by two minutes and fifty-two seconds, actual time, and three minutes and thirty-five seconds, corrected time. It was the swiftest sailing on record by sloops or cutters in a cup race. On the first ten-mile leg of the tussle, with the wind a few points abaft the port beam, or when the yachts were sailing free and readily able to lay their course, the Columbia beat the Shamrock by twenty-two seconds.

The second leg of ten miles, with the wind a few points abaft the starboard beam, in a quickening breeze, the Columbia did better than the flying Briton by thirty seconds.

In the dead-to-windward stretch of ten miles the Columbia added two minutes to her glorious victory over the finest craft carrying sail that ever crossed the seas.

The cup, indisputably, will not be "lifted" this season. The Shamrock probably never will be able, under any condition of wind or sea, to score one in a duel with the wonderful Herreshoff model.

Sir Thomas Lipton accepted his defeat with characteristic cheerfulness and candor. He will try tomorrow to find if there is any sort of weather lurking in the neighborhood of Sandy Hook that may give him a chance to view the Columbia from the quarter-deck at the finish line. The popular and expert impression is that Sir Thomas' quest is hopeless and that the Columbia will have "three straight" to her credit.

A finer day for a yacht race never dawned. About 8 o'clock the heavy clouds cleared away, leaving the sky beautifully blue. The air was that of early October—cool, crisp and bracing; and a fifteen-knot breeze just swept up the white caps over the course. The excursion fleet was larger and more picturesque than any that had gone out to see the preceding races.

It was quick business, the run over the first leg of the triangle. It was less than fifty-one minutes from the start when there was a cry: "Hello! The Shamrock is coming about." And then gracefully around the mark she sailed, and even the American steam whistles were impartial enough to give her rousing toots. But the Columbia was around after her almost before you could say "Tommy Lipton" and had gained twenty-two seconds.

The second leg was simply another branch reach, and the yachts whirled along it as if each of them was fitted into a groove in the sea and had only to slide through it. Fifty-five minutes more and the second turn was reached. The Shamrock passed the buoy and kept far on, till the people wondered if her captain was not going to turn at all. The Columbia came up almost on her heels, less than a minute behind, turned short around and sped off in the other direction. Then at last the Shamrock came about and was after her. The Columbia had gained thirty seconds more.

It was while they were sailing this last leg that the most exciting incident of the day occurred. Ever since the very start the Columbia had been creeping up and up on the challenger, and now she approached closer and closer, till her white spread of canvas began to hide the English boat from the spectators on the fleet. On and on she stole, till the two yachts seemed, from the distance, to be going side by side, like a span of horses. The Columbia gained their final stretch at the finishing line. The race was over and it was only a question of taking the official time. Nothing but a serious accident could change the result and the accident did not happen. All the great fleet was gathered around the lightship, a beautiful sight, and down into the midst of it the two yachts were rushed. They seemed fairly to spring out of the distance, so far off had they gone on their long tack, and so swiftly did they rush home. Almost before anyone realized that she was coming the Columbia was over the line, with another din of whistles, loudest and longest of all, and her stern was scarcely across before her sails were coming down. The Shamrock was only a little behind, but she had started ahead, and the Columbia had beaten her 2 minutes and 52 seconds, and won the race without time allowance.

LIPTON TAKES HIS DEFEAT IN SPORTSMANLIKE SPIRIT

NEW YORK, October 4.—Taking his defeat calmly, Sir Thomas Lipton yet made no attempt to conceal the keenness of disappointment when he talked about the races tonight on the Erin.

"I thought within fifteen minutes of the finish that we had won. I was as sure as my life we had won. When I looked around the situation had changed and we had lost. It was a hard blow to me so near winning and then to lose. I should like to have got one race just by way of consolation. It is a very hard thing to be beaten by a breath-by-a-few-feet of the pulse. It has been a severe strain on me. I have worked so hard for many months now and I am glad it is over."

"Columbia's win today was fair and square and honorable. There is nothing to protest if I wanted to protest. In fact I have a feeling in my mind that if there had been any error in judgment at all it would have been in my favor. If there had been any possibility of choice in the matter, I believe the yacht club would have given me the race. Sometimes a man has a better boat, but even having it I am very grateful indeed, very grateful," he added. "I should like to have won one race."

Hardly had the Erin's anchor touched bottom when a launch from the yacht club came alongside bearing the message committee of the New York Yacht Club. Sir Thomas met them at the head of the gangway, and as he shook hands with them individually, he said: "Gentlemen, it was a fair beat. I want to say again that you have treated me with the utmost fairness and courtesy. I am sure every wish of mine and from my heart I thank you."

Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard, chairman of the New York Yacht Club, said: "Sir Thomas' guests on board the Erin crowded around to express their sympathy at his defeat and assured him of the high place he had won in the hearts of all Americans. 'When a man wins a heart he has won more than the cup,' said one of them. 'There were tears in the Irish Baronet's eyes when he thanked them for their kind words. Said he: 'The words you have spoken touch me more than my defeat today. I tried to win the cup and I lost it. But better than that, I have the good wishes of this country.'"

When asked about his plans for the future, Sir Thomas said: "It is too early to talk about my plans. About the Shamrock, I cannot decide yet what I shall do as to challenging again; it is too soon to think about it."

A TEACHER TEACHES TEACHERS TO TEACH

Then Another Teacher Goes Around to Preach.

AGRICULTURE IS TAUGHT BY EACH VAN DINE OF NORMAL SCHOOL INSTRUCTS TEACHERS IN FARMING.

The Teachers Go Forth to Teach the Children and Then Higgins Re-Teaches the Teachers and Teaches Children Too.

The night schools will have to be re-established in Honolulu, or the sugar plantations in these islands will be forced out of business," said a local philosopher last evening, while undergoing a shave in a well-known tonsorial artist's studio.

"I fall to catch the drift of your remark," answered the man with the razor. "I suppose it's a 'gag'; what am I supposed to say?"

"No 'gag' about it; it's straight goods. You see, I understand there are a couple of special agricultural instructors employed by the Board of Education for the purpose of inculcating into the minds of the children of Hawaii the rudiments of the fine art of raising oyster plants and spuds and other kinds of fruit. Now, children are awfully quick at learning and any one with half an eye can see that in a very little while these islands will be overrun with amateur farmers and farmesses, who will gradually absorb all the Territory for the purpose of raising strawberries and onions and other popular but useful articles of food."

"How will the opening of the night schools prevent the threatened failure of the sugar plantations?"

"Why, the Board of Education only has just so much money, you know, and the night schools have been closed. If the Board should see its mistake, as it is gradually coming to do, thanks to public opinion, and shut off on a few of the luxuries of education until more money is forthcoming and re-establish the night schools, then, of course, with the dropping of the special agricultural experts, there will be no immediate danger of the rising generation, male and female, forming any undue fondness for the propagation of carrots and pineapples and other vegetables, and so ruining the prospects of Kibei and McBryde and other big sugar ranches."

Then the barber called out: "Next!" and the philosopher paid his twenty-five cents and departed.

It is perhaps not generally known that there are two special experts on agriculture and "nature study" employed by the Board of Education. Particulars were published the other day in regard to the mission of Special Agricultural Instructor Higgins, whose business it is to visit all the schools in the district of Honolulu, as well as to instruct the children of the rising generation in the art of planting potatoes and legislate against potato bugs and horse-dies.

The Republican suggested at the time that agriculture was a splendid study for children in the public schools, but that it would be a good scheme and an economical one, if the teachers of the various classes should themselves instruct the little ones, and the big ones how to train the festive oyster plant and the flirtatious endive, and so save the salary of the special agriculture teacher, that his salary might go toward the re-establishing of the night schools which were so popular and so well-attended by hundreds of the future citizens of Hawaii.

There are so many particulars in regard to the work of the Board of Education which are not contained in that department's last published report, however, that a perusal of that carefully prepared booklet did not reveal the existence of still another special agricultural expert, besides Higgins. Higgins is not the only one, oh, dear, no!

There is Special Agricultural Instructor Van Dine of the Normal School. Van Dine receives the same financial remuneration as his fellow expert Higgins, $100 per month. Van Dine holds forth at the Normal School and instructs the embryo teachers how to farm and dig in the truck garden that they in turn may go out into the islands and teach the children of their schools how to do likewise. Van Dine trains the teachers to be farmers. It is not enough, however, that the teachers should be prepared to instruct the pupils in the arts of farming and gardening, but Special Agricultural Instructor Higgins must needs be employed at an additional expense to go around to the schools in Honolulu and oversee the teachers in their work, work in which it is presumed they have already been instructed.

Just why Higgins should oversee the work of the teachers who have been taught by Van Dine is hard to say. Higgins gets no more money than Van Dine.

The embryo teacher at the Normal School is taught by Van Dine the various rudimentary principles in the matter of soils, insects, fruits, flowers and vegetables. She is appointed to a school and instructs the children in what she has learned from Van Dine. Then comes Higgins, if the teacher happens to be in a school in Honolulu, and passes on the work that has been done by the children and the teacher. In other words, Higgins goes around in Honolulu to see that Van Dine's teachings are being carried out. Special Teacher Van Dine teaches the teachers, then the teachers teach the children what they have learned from Van Dine. Just where the economy comes in is hard to see. Meanwhile, what about the night schools?

Van Dine teaches agriculture and "nature study" in the Normal School and Higgins teaches the same in the common schools in Honolulu. Higgins does not have anything to do with the schools on the other islands, so that the children of the other islands have to depend for their knowledge of farming on what they are taught by the teachers from the Normal School who have been taught by Van Dine.

Now, if the children of the other islands can get along without Higgins, why cannot the children in Honolulu get along without him? And, if the Normal School teachers on the other islands can be depended upon to teach the children of Honolulu in the same useful art, especially when they have been instructed by Van Dine? Either Van Dine or Higgins are superfluous; or they both are.

WAR IN SOUTH AMERICA.

VENUEZUELA AND COLOMBIA TROOPS HAVE FIRED FIGHT.

WILLENSTADT (Curaçao), Oct. 4.—The correspondent here of the Associated Press has received the following message from a correspondent in the field:

"On the road between Sinamoa, Venezuela, and La Hacha, Colombia, Guajiya peninsula, September 29th, General Davila's first fight at Curaçoa was an absolute rout. Five Venezuelan battalions of 400 men each were engaged and the Colombians are estimated at the same number. General Echeverria was killed, General Davila, Clodoviro Castillo and Emilio Castro, a brother of President Castro, fell from the field. Another battalion then broke. The three remaining battalions kept on the fighting until routed. About 600 were killed, the Venezuelan side, including thirty minor officers.

The Indians ambushed General Davila's retreating vanguard, composed of 200 men, and annihilated it.

The Sugar War.
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Journal of Commerce says: As a result of the misunderstandings existing between the American Sugar Refining Company's interests and the beet sugar people, it is understood that the beet sugar people whose profits have been affected by the decrease of 1 1/2 cents in the price of granulated sugar in their territory, will not recognize the cut price of 3 1/2 cents per pound as the basis for their dealings with customers. The beet people will retaliate, however, by offering their sugar in competition in the Eastern markets.

Miss Long Dead.
HINGHAM, Mass., Oct. 4.—Miss Helen Long, daughter of Secretary Long, died at 9 o'clock tonight. The cause of death was pulmonary trouble which had its inception after close attention to social duties during Secretary Long's first term in the Cabinet. She went to Colorado Springs in November, 1899, and two weeks ago she started home.

Krueger is Falling.
THE HAGUE, Oct. 4.—A. D. Wolmarans, one of the Boer envoys, who has been visiting Mr. Krueger at Hilversum, found the mental condition of the former President of the Transvaal, and two weeks ago she started home.

Successor to Buffington.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Captain William Crozier, of the Ordnance Department, stationed at the Army building in New York, will be selected to succeed General Buffington as chief ordnance officer of the department of the last-named officer next month.

UNITED STATES WILL SUPPRESS INSURRECTION IN SAMAR

Determined Movement to Be Made Against the Slayers of American Military Company.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The latest advices from the Philippines indicate that the military authorities intend to take prompt and vigorous measures for the suppression of the insurrection in the island of Samar, and that attention will be directed first to the summary punishment of the treacherous natives who took part in the massacre of Company C, Ninth Infantry, at Balangiga. There is, therefore, every prospect that the island of Samar will be the theater of active hostilities for some time to come, as it is the purpose of General Chaffee to teach the rebellious inhabitants a lesson and force them to respect the power and sovereignty of the United States.

By direction of Adjutant General Corbin, a report has been prepared at the War Department, briefly describing the island and its inhabitants, the military operations that have already taken place there for the pacification of the people, and the establishment of good order and government. This report is of timely interest, in view of the aggressive military policy to be observed toward such of the natives as are disposed still to resist the authority of the United States.

Kidnapping of Miss Stone.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—American representatives have secured evidence proving the complicity of members of the Macedonian committee at Sofia in the kidnapping of the American missionary, Miss Helen Stone, and her companion, Miss Tilkka, and the assurances given by the Bulgarian Government relative to the measures to be taken against the abductors show that the gravity of the affair is appreciated at Sofia. The departure of the United States Consul-General at Constantinople, C. M. Dickinson, for the Bulgarian capital, is expected to result in increased activity.

Captain Schaefer's Enterprise.
Captain John Schaefer, Adjutant of the First Regiment, National Guard, has resigned from the office of Peacock & Company and will begin business for himself on the morning of October 14 in the former salesrooms of the Hawaiian Electric Company, on Alakoa street, between Merchant and Queen, handling Honolulu beer. His business partner will be W. M. Cunningham. The place to be occupied is quite large, and has been extensively renovated and elegantly fitted.

Cable Scheme May Fail.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—On account of a doubt in the mind of the Attorney General as to the authority of President Roosevelt to approve

SPEAKER ANNU TO THE MARTYR'S WIDOW

Praise For the Dead; Sympathy For Bereaved.

SINCERE ALoha OF HAWAII NEI MOURNS WITH MRS. MCKINLEY, "KAMEHAMEHA," THE LONELY ONE.

McKinley Made Hawaii a Part of the Grand Union and Restored Her Rights to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.

As Speaker of the House of Representatives of the first Legislature of Hawaii, and on behalf of that body, Joseph A. Akina will forward to Mrs. McKinley and Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, the following eloquent messages of deep sympathy for the lonely widow of the beloved President who was so fully assassinated; and of testimony of the high esteem and aloha in which the martyred Chief Executive was held by the people of Hawaii nei.

The messages bespeak the emotions of sympathy felt by a natural feeling race for the sorrow of her whose best beloved was also loved by them.

September 30, 1901.
Dear Madam: As Speaker of the House of Representatives of the first Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, and on behalf of the members and officers of that body, I wish to extend to you the sincere "Aloha" of the entire Hawaiian people in your tribulation and to add our gifts to the wealth of worthy tributes to our beloved President.

A naturally loving and sympathetic race, the Hawaiians had first come to respect and admire and later to love the great and good man who had, through the Organic Act, creating the Territory of Hawaii, and through his appointments to the Bench, given back to the liberty-loving Hawaiians the rights which they formerly enjoyed, and more, since as Americans, we have more rights than as Hawaiians we ever had under the laws of the governments of our chosen sovereigns.

With all the world, Hawaii mourns with you "Kamehameha," the lonely one. With all American States and Territories, Hawaii mourns the loss of the noblest and best American of his age. But, perhaps more deeply than any other part of the world over which the flag waves, Hawaii, and especially the Hawaiian race, mourns for him who made us a part of the grand Union and restored to us our rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

His high statesmanship will ever be a model for our best political thinkers. The memory of his kindness and help the more rapidly to heal the wound which Hawaii has suffered. And his noble Christian life will for time never ending be a constant inspiration to the race which from the first received the Gospel of Christ gladly.

I have the honor to remain, Most sincerely yours,
JOSEPH A. AKINA, Speaker.

September 30, 1901.
Hon. E. A. Hitchcock, Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C.:
Sir: The Legislature, in session, the sad hour of expressing the sentiments of the people of Hawaii upon the awful occasion of the assassination of our beloved Chief Magistrate falls upon me as presiding officer of the most numerous of the two bodies chosen by the people of this Territory to represent them.

I have the honor to transmit herewith a humble tribute from the Hawaiian people addressed to Mrs. McKinley, testifying our high esteem for our stricken President and our sincere sympathy for his most worthy helpmate.

I have the honor to request that you will forward the same to Mrs. McKinley, and that you will advise the Nation through the President, or Congress, or such other channel as may seem to you proper, that the people of Hawaii, with the people of her sister States and Territories, mourn for her who has raised a deed is possible in our bright land of liberty, and fervently thanking God that in this supreme hour she has raised so worthy a successor to him whose name shall stand with that of Lincoln and Washington, and perhaps in Hawaii at least, will stand before either.

With assurances of our highest esteem, I have the honor to remain,
Very respectfully,
JOSEPH A. AKINA, Speaker.

Officers' Meeting.
At a meeting of Federal officers in the office of Governor Dole at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Governor Dole, Customs Collector E. R. Stackable and Shipping Commissioner W. Porter Boyd were elected a committee of three to draft resolutions of condolence on the death of President McKinley. Present at the meeting were the Governor, Mr. Stackable, Mr. Boyd, Judge Estee, Marshal Hendry, J. K. Brown and Roy Chamberlain, Collector of Internal Revenue.

A Choral Society.
In response to many requests of musical people, Prof. Ballaseyus will organize a Choral Society for the production of oratorios and other concerted work, with a view of presenting Handel's Messiah sometime during this winter. All persons desiring to participate are invited to apply personally on Friday, Oct. 18th, at 8 p. m., in Paunahi Hall of Oahu College.

JUDGE WILCOX OFFICIATES AS MEDIATOR IN IRON WORKS FEUD.

Wife Beater Given a Mild Sentence Owing to Tearful Pleading—Man Who Cruelly Abused a Horse Gets Heavy Fine.

Judge Wilcox was called upon to preside over the second inning in the Tingstrom-Fairbanks feud which has been before the matinee audiences at Police Court for the past two days. The parties in question are employees of the Honolulu Iron Works. For some time past the men have not been in the habit of extending fond and loving alohas as they passed by. In fact there has been a lot of bad feeling existing between the heads of the house of Tingstrom and the Fairbanks families.

The matter came to a partial head in an assault which was alleged to have taken place the first part of the week. At the time the couple made their initial appearance in District Court Tingstrom was charged with having administered several hard licks upon the features of Fairbanks, who claimed that he had not been apprised of the intentions of his assailant until he found himself being pummeled by Tingstrom. The latter was arrested, and was given a fine and a smart reprimand by Judge Wilcox at Thursday's session of court.

Tingstrom who was represented by Attorney S. F. Chillingworth, did not let the grass grow under his feet while he made efforts to give Fairbanks a taste of the same kind of medicine administered at the justice dispensary. A warrant was sworn to charging Fairbanks with assault. This was issued Thursday afternoon.

Yesterday the same old straw was threshed over again. Judge Wilcox imposed a like fine of $5 and costs upon defendant Fairbanks and he too was presented with a neatly-worded reprimand by the magistrate. Honors were then declared even, and for the present at least there is some semblance of peace in the rival camps. The trouble is said to have emanated from Fairbanks having borrowed some house furnishings from Tingstrom because his had not arrived yet from the Coast. He had used a portiere out on the lanai to shut off the view of Tingstrom's house which was right next to his. Tingstrom objected and he returned all the furnishings, not forgetting to thank his friend. Words followed and defences were handed back and forth. A future meeting at the Iron Works resulted in some blows being struck. The unsmiling of the tangled knot by the court followed.

Okabayachi was found guilty of being a common nuisance and was fined $5 and costs.

When the case of Espinda was called, High Sheriff Brown called attention of the court to the fact that the defendant was considered an all-round bad egg in police circles. The man had been arrested for beating his wife. His arrest followed at the instigation of the abused wife. However, when the judge lord appeared behind the prisoner's dock the hardened heart of Mrs. Espinda considerably melted. The woman made an earnest plea for clemency for her erstwhile cruel husband. Espinda was given a fine of $5 and costs.

Edwin R. Durant and John Glen became involved in a controversy concerning the treatment of a horse Thursday which afterward led to blows. At the finish Durant appeared in court with a pair of black beauties looming forth from his countenance. It was alleged in testimony that Glen who is assistant chief of the Honolulu Fire Department saw Durant abusing a horse, and at once interposed a vigorous objection. Fists were brought into play. The court assessed a fine of $10 against the Durant bank account.

George Abbey, former purser of the Mokohi, was arrested Thursday on the charge of assault and battery on a Japanese. A charge of malicious injury was also lodged against him. In the police court yesterday defendant pleaded not guilty.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT

Noted Negro Leader Invited to a Conference Over a Southern Policy—New Men Wanted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Booker T. Washington was at the White House for several hours this evening in conference with President Roosevelt. Washington came by invitation, as the President wished to consult him in regard to his Southern policy. It was a curious circumstance that the man who had been invited to the national capital for a conference with the President of the United States thought it necessary to go to a cheap hotel in an unsavory part of the city. By experience Washington had learned that the regular hotels of this city would not make him welcome.

President Roosevelt is very much in earnest in his desire to find some satisfactory solution of what is known as the Southern political problem. He is not to let them drift along, as they have been going and a new departure is confidently expected by those who have conferred with him on this subject. This new departure in a word means cutting loose from old lines and the appointment of the best men to Federal offices throughout the South, even if they prove to be Democrats. Some months ago when Vice-President Roosevelt had a long talk with Washington in New York, Roosevelt asked Washington what in his opinion should be done to improve the outlook for the party in that section, and to get it out of the clutches of professional politicians and office hucksters who have so long ruled it. Colonel Roosevelt wanted to know what was best for the party and best for the negro.

Washington's reply was that the best policy which could be adopted by the party leaders at the national capital was to "turn down" the old gangs and to appoint highly respected white men to Federal offices—white men who held the confidence of their neighbors and of the public in general; that such appointments should be made without much regard to party lines; that if the man a community wanted for postmaster or collector happened to be a Democrat that fact should be no bar to his selection.

A Typical South African Store. O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by all druggists and dealers. MORE EXPENSIVE FADS IN THE SCHOOLS.

Since Superintendent Atkinson's friends are now claiming for him that the reason the night schools were closed was because of a shortage of funds, The Republican again points out to the Board of Education this morning where money belonging to the schools is being wasted on useless fads. Not content with having a special agricultural instructor for the primary and grammar schools of this city, the Superintendent has added an agricultural instructor to the Normal School at an expense of $1,200 per year. As every one knows the object of a Normal School is the training of teachers for the primary schools. What practical benefit is going to be derived by embryo teachers while in the Normal School by receiving instruction from a teacher in agriculture we cannot understand. Perhaps Superintendent Atkinson can demonstrate to taxpayers just what the value of this fadist instruction is, but the people who believe that instruction in the public schools should be of a useful and practical nature fail to see its value.

Every one having any knowledge of schools knows that the great mass of pupils never get beyond the grammar grades. The chief object of the public schools is to lay the groundwork for a practical and beneficial education, an education that will be of service to the man and woman in all future life. Of course higher education is desirable, but the masses cannot secure it, and they want something that will be useful as well as practical when it has been secured. The Normal School is not an agricultural college and every one knows that a smattering of theoretical teaching of agriculture to young teachers only tends to confuse them in their work. What these intending teachers want and need is practical instruction in the art of teaching and education in the useful studies above what they will be called on to teach in the schools. Lectures on social science, on physical geography, on political science and on governments, would be of far more value than all the agricultural instruction that could be crowded into a course twice the length of that of the Normal School.

Of course there is no money with which to reopen the night schools, but apparently there are ample funds to pay two instructors in agriculture, one at the Normal School and another to go about among the schools of the city of Honolulu once a month. These two agricultural instructors are paid $1,200 a year each, or a total of $2,400 per month, a sum sufficient to pay the entire running expenses of four night schools in the city which would accommodate from 160 to 200 pupils.

There is no money, according to the friends of Superintendent Atkinson, with which to pay the expenses of the night schools, but there seems to be ample funds with which to employ a teacher in physical culture, whatever that may be, at a salary of $1,000 a year. This is the newest and latest fad in the schools. Not content with having two instructors in agriculture, a singing teacher with one assistant and a drawing teacher with one assistant, the Superintendent recently added a physical culture instructor at a salary of $83.33 1-3 per month. Altogether these fads in the primary schools of this city cost the enormous sum of $518 per month, and now to this must be added another $100 per month paid to the agricultural instructor of the Normal School. How many night schools would this $618 per month maintain? Never in the most extravagant days of the night schools when such schools were maintained in several of the outlying districts where the population was not sufficient to keep them going and there was a superintendent of night schools, did the total cost equal $618 per month. One-half of this sum of $618 per month would maintain six night schools in the business and thickly settled parts of the city capable of accommodating from 250 to 300 pupils. Which do the taxpayers believe would be the best way to use the money, to continue the fads or to abolish them and re-establish the night schools?

BURIAL PLACES OF THE PRESIDENTS.

Not a single President is buried at Washington. An Englishman can visit the tombs of almost every English sovereign within a few hours. They lie at Winchester, at Westminster and at Windsor. But only two cemeteries in the United States contain the bodies of more than one President. The Adamses both lie in the yard of the First Congregational church at Quincy, Mass., and Monroe and Tyler are buried in Hollywood cemetery, Richmond, Va. The Presidential burial places are scattered from New Hampshire on the north to Virginia on the south, and from Illinois to the Atlantic coast. Five are buried in Virginia, four in New York, four in Ohio, three in Tennessee, two in Massachusetts, and one in New Hampshire, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois.

Of the five Presidents who died in office—Harrison, Taylor, Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley—only the first two met death in the White House. The elder Harrison was first buried in the capital, but his body was removed later to North Bend, O. Washington lies at his old home at Mount Vernon, where he died. Thomas Jefferson was buried at his home estate, Monticello, Va. A cemetery at Montpelier, Va., contains the ashes of Madison, and Hollywood cemetery, Richmond, Va., those of Monroe. The death of Andrew Jackson took place at the Hermitage, his home in Tennessee. When he was dying those about the bed began to weep. Raising himself, he exclaimed: "What is the matter with my dear children? Oh, do not cry. Be good children and we will all meet in heaven." These were his last words. He was buried near his home.

After the expiration of his term, James K. Polk went to Nashville, Tenn., but lived only a few months. The burial was at Nashville. Van Buren died at his country home at Kinderhook, N. Y., and was buried from the old Dutch church there. Pneumonia caused the death of William Henry Harrison a month after his inauguration. His last words were spoken to a doctor, whom he evidently mistook for Vice President Tyler. "Sir," he said, "I wish you to understand the true principles of this government. I wish them carried out. I ask nothing more." He was buried in the Congregational cemetery, but a few years later the body was removed to North Bend, O., to a tomb overlooking the Ohio river. The grave was neglected until the State of Ohio erected a monument above it. His successor, Tyler, died at the Exchange hotel, Richmond, a member of the Confederate Congress. "Doctor, I am going," he said, as the end approached. "I hope not, sir," was the answer. "Perhaps it is best," the dying man replied, and did not speak again. Taylor died during his term of office at the White House. His last words were: "I am about to die. I expect the summons soon. I have endeavored to discharge all my official duties faithfully. I regret nothing, but I am sorry that I am about to leave my friends." His body was put in a vault at Washington, from which it was removed to Springfield, five miles from Louisville, Ky. Millard Fillmore was buried in Buffalo, where he died. The body of Franklin Pierce lies at Concord, N. H., and that of James Buchanan at Lancaster, Pa. His last words, whispered to himself, were: "Oh, Lord God Almighty, as Thou wilt."

Lincoln died without speaking after he was shot. His body lies in Oak Ridge cemetery, at Springfield, Ill. Andrew Johnson died at Carter's Depot, Tenn. One of his last requests was that his body be wrapped in the flag. He was buried at Greenville, Tenn. General Grant died in New York city, and his body lies in the fine tomb at Riverside Park. Mr. Hayes was buried at Fremont, O., where he died. Garfield's body lies at the base of the monument in Lake View cemetery, Cleveland, within sight of Lake Erie, and only a few miles from his home at Mentor. Chester A. Arthur died in New York city only a year after the end of his term. A few days before his death he said to Commissioner Fish: "After all, life is not worth fighting for, and I might as well give up the struggle for it now as any other time and submit to the inevitable." He is buried at Albany, N. Y., where a finely sculptured figure guards his tomb. Benjamin Harrison died at his home in Indianapolis in March and is buried in that city.

It is significant that none of these men lies at the place of his greatest political triumph. With the approach of death earthly greatness fades and there comes a longing for home. So Washington lies at Mount Vernon, Jefferson at Monticello and McKinley at Canton.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the friends of temperance in the city will not allow the Francis Murphy Temperance Union to diehand for want of funds. The Union will properly account for every cent received and expended and it can do so much good work that it should be encouraged. Because one man nearly ruined the Murphy temperance work in Honolulu, that fact should not cause people to hold aloof now from encouraging earnest and sincere workers in the cause.

The news brought by the Peru at 2 o'clock this morning to the effect that the Columbia had completely bested Shamrock II in the cup race of this year was hardly a surprise and is gratifying. At the same time there must be a feeling of admiration for Sir Thomas Lipton, who, in this and in the last competitive event, proved himself a true sportsman. All over the mainland, and in Hawaii as well, the feeling is general that if there is to be a race next year Sir Thomas will again be the promoter of the challenger.

A morning contemporary published a picture of President McKinley Thursday morning under which was the caption "The President at Buffalo." As a matter of fact the picture was a reproduction of a photograph taken in San Francisco showing the President talking to Chief of Police Sullivan of that city just after alighting from a carriage. Giving it the caption "The President at Buffalo," is in line with the publishing of that fake bulletin Sept. 18th.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

Drafted by the Special Committee— Will Be Forwarded to the Widow of the Late President.

Resolutions adopted by the United States District Court of the District of Hawaii in respect to the memory of Honorable William McKinley, late President of the United States.

Whereas, Our recent national calamity, the untimely death of our beloved President, William McKinley, by the hand of an assassin from the ranks of anarchy, has filled our hearts, with mourning for the loss of a foremost citizen, a pure, patriotic and illustrious Chief Magistrate, and a high-minded American gentleman, the beauty of whose home life has become a household word throughout our country;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, That we denounce the treasonable and base influences which tend to subvert our constitutional liberties to infamous purposes as to become the undoing of so great and good a man as our late President. And that we call upon our National Legislature to speedily enact such laws as will be fully adequate to completely stamp out the propagation of treason, whether it appears in the unbridled license of a sensational press or under the red flag of the enemies of an organized society.

Be it hereby further resolved, That we deeply deplore the death of one so honored both in his public and private career as William McKinley, one whose single ambition was the good of the country, one who so bravely and victoriously guided the ship of state through times of stress, both in peace and war, and who, now, with Lincoln and Garfield, is the third of our martyrs and heroes. Be it hereby resolved, That we, here in distant Hawaii, share with our fellow citizens in all parts of the Union the distress and sorrow which have fallen upon us; and that the thoughtful care and unselfish friendship entertained for these islands by our martyred President touches us deeply and teaches us that not only has one passed away who was illustrious in the councils of the great world but also one to whom the people of this Territory might at all times appeal to with that unquestioning confidence inspired by sincere well-wishing; and

Be it hereby further resolved, That, in this, our hour of bitterest affliction, we tender to the bereaved companions of his joys and sorrows, our most heartfelt sympathy and condolence, and our sincere trust that Almighty God, in his profound wisdom, will sustain sooth and guide her through the shadows of her bereavement until she rejoins him where, beyond these voices, there is peace; and

Be it hereby further resolved, That while William McKinley's true monument is already built in the love of the Nation, yet we deem it proper that these resolutions should be spread upon the minutes of this court, and that a duly attested copy thereof, suitably engrossed, be forwarded to the widow of our deceased President.

Committee: J. J. DENNE, Assistant United States Attorney and Chairman of Committee.

CLINTON A. GALBRAITH, Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii.

GILBERT F. LITTLE, Judge of the Circuit Court, Third Circuit of the Territory of Hawaii.

F. M. HATCH, Member of the Bar of the Territory of Hawaii, representing the Bar at Large.

Honolulu, Hawaii, October 14th, A. D. 1901.

SEATTLE STEAMERS.

New Line to Compete With San Francisco Already Started. The Globe Navigation Company proposes to establish a regular line of steamers between this port and Seattle, and the three steamers have been brought from Seattle for the purpose. The Meteor, which left Seattle on October 3, and is expected here on October 15, will bring a load of hay, flour, feed and general supplies, and will be followed at regular intervals by the other two steamers.

The undertaking is a Seattle enterprise, Seattle owning the principle share of stock, the remainder being owned by New York stockholders. The object is to compete with San Francisco, which at present has the monopoly of trade and transportation for this port.

Tree Stealers.

Recently people have been stealing from the Nimitz forest, young trees, and transplanting them in their own grounds and dooryards. A clue to the identity of one white lady was discovered a few days ago, and was successfully followed up. There will be no prosecution in this instance, but Commissioner of Agriculture Wray Taylor has given orders to Forester David Haighs to have notices put up immediately warning persons against stealing the trees and shrubs.

THE REAL PRESENCE, BY FATHER BOARMAN

Lecture of the Eminent Catholic Missionary Last Evening.

IMMENSE AUDIENCE HEARS ADDRESS

MEANING OF THE SACRAMENT AS UNDERSTOOD BY THE CATHOLICS.

They Enter Into It With a Live Spirit Which Was the Plan Outlined by Christ—Protestants Made More of a Form of It.

Father Boorman's lecture at the Catholic Cathedral last night was on the subject "The Real Presence," being an argument on the Catholic sacrament. The Cathedral, auditorium and balcony were crowded, the audience being Catholic and non-Catholic about equally divided.

The text taken by the lecturer was "For My Flesh is Meat indeed, and My Blood is Drink." This passage from the scriptures, he said, was that upon which the Catholic sacrament was based, and scriptural evidence that the real, as well as the spiritual presence of Christ was embodied in the bread and wine partaken of in the sacrament. The sacrament, he said, was the greatest consolation to Catholics, and that it was eminently proper during the mission to give some time to the study of the few words contained in the text.

Numerous passages of scripture were quoted to show the authorization of Christ for the sacrament. The life of Christ was reviewed and instances given where he had expressed his especial desire that the sacrament, which was instituted by him at the Lord's supper, should be continued by his disciples and those who should be his priests and ministers. It was on the occasion of the miracle of the multiplication of the loaves and fishes for the hungry multitude on the desert, that Christ first revealed himself as the son of God, therefore having appeared as a son of man only. It was on the next day after this miracle that, while preaching in the synagogue, he beheld some in the audience, whom he had fed the day before, and he said that some were there because he had fed them, and he told them that he would give them bread that cometh from heaven, therefore not ordinary bread, but the bread he would give would be his flesh for the life of the world. Many of them did not believe his words, and one of the said: "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" but Jesus did not retreat, and reaffirmed his declaration, saying: "Amen, amen, I say unto you, unless you eat the flesh of the son of man and drink his blood, you shall not have life in you. They left the synagogue and walked out of the temple, for they understood him literally. Christ said: "Accept my divinity without question, and as a consequence, accept all statements I make." Again, Peter said to him: "You have words of divine life, therefore you are God, and if these things are not true, where shall we go for truth?"

An explanation, from the Catholic standpoint, was here given by the lecturer, concluding with the quotation "the bread I give you is such a bread that he who shall eat it shall live eternally." Responses from the Catholic ritual were also read. The lecturer said that the Protestant believed the sacrament to be a mere memorial. He believes in the divinity of God, but does not believe in the presence of the spirit in the sacrament, although God said of the bread: "This is my body which shall be delivered for you, take it all and eat it." In like manner he took the cup of wine and said: "This is my blood which shall be shed for the remission of sins." The Catholic who accepts the statements of Christ, while he is confronted with a mystery, still believes, accepting the truth, even though he cannot understand it. The testimony of divine revelations are accepted against all else, and therefore the flesh of the sacrament is the body of Christ and the wine is his blood. It is the will of Christ that the sacrament be observed, for at his last supper he said, as he broke bread and drank wine with the disciples: "Do this, that you have seen me doing, change bread into my body in commemoration of me, and everytime you shall do this you shall recall this night."

Father Boorman continued, saying that heresies, secessions and many troubles had arisen since the beginning of the Catholic church. The Protestants had seceded from the church because they denied the authority of the Pope, and the Greeks had also drawn away from the Catholic church, but the Catholic church had remained faithful to the admonition of Christ. Father Beranger, long ago, had denied the church the confessional and the sacrament, but three years before he died he had become reconciled to the church, and had asked for the sacrament. Martin Luther, when writing a friend, said that he would give much to be able to deny the principles of the Catholic church, for it would make the Pope angry if he could, but he was unable to make the denial.

Father Boorman will lecture Sunday evening on "The Catholic Church in Relation to the Bible."

Two Games To Be Played During This Afternoon.

The ball teams will cross bats and play hard for scores this afternoon at the Makiki baseball grounds. First the Customs and Halls will entertain the regular Saturday afternoon gathering of spectators, beginning at 1:30 p. m., and the Captains and Police will follow with a warm contest, probably beginning about 3:30.

The two games are expected to be unusually good, and much interest is manifested in the outcome.

Nerves of Weak Men

I have demonstrated the fact that weakness of the nerves, the result of early or later indiscretions, such as Drains, Impotency, Lame-Back, Yarrow, etc., will not yield to a stimulating treatment. This accounts for the fact that drugs never cure. The medicine given for these troubles, essentially poisonous, are intended only to stimulate. Over-stimulation must result in harm. Thousands of patients have said to me: "Doctor, when I took this or that medicine I felt better in an hour, but after a month my weakness returned, and I was worse off than ever." "Better in an hour" means a powerful stimulant—means a wrecked constitution.

Electricity Is Strength!

That's what you want, strength, not stimulation. Electricity will never cure in a day; it does not cure in a week. It takes two months, it may take three, but the results are there to stay. I am the inventor and introducer of the famous Dr. Sanden Electric Belt, with attachment for men. It embodies the best efforts of my 30 years as a specialist. Worn at night, it strengthens you when you sleep. Currents act upon the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Bladder, Prostate Gland and all weakened parts. It weighs but five ounces. Currents instantly felt.

LAWYER McCLANAHAN HOLDS UP VERDICT

Makes Tardy Objection to a Juror in the Hagey Case.

A SEALED VERDICT IS RETURNED

JUROR FERNANDEZ AT ONE TIME TOOK THE HAGEY GOLD DRUNK-CURE.

Is Stated That the Verdict is For Plaintiff Harrison in About the Sum of $12,000—Judge Gear Will Handle Objection Today.

Judge Gear has extended the special September term of the Circuit Court twelve days from and after the last day of the term, it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that the interests of justice require it.

It was thought that the Harrison-Magoon Hagey drunk-cure case would end yesterday morning with the verdict of the jury, one way or the other. Such was not the case, however, for the matter is still hanging in the balance as far as actual results are concerned, although the twelve good and true men have returned their verdict in a proper and regular manner.

The jury which had been shut up since 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning reached a verdict at 4 o'clock. It was not given in open court, however, and now remains sealed in the possession of Clerk Kaulukou, owing to an alleged objection to one of the jurors at a moment when the verdict was just about to be given out.

It is stated on good authority that the verdict is for the plaintiff in about the sum of $12,000.

It seems that Attorney McClanahan, one of the counsel for the defense, ascertained that one of the jurors had at one time taken the Hagey Cure.

Having failed to find this out at the proper time, when the jury was being drawn at the beginning of the case, McClanahan sought at the last moment to bring forth an objection on this ground. This morning Judge Gear will decide whether or not to receive the verdict.

After the jurors had been locked up yesterday morning Judge Gear and several of the attorneys remained in the courtroom awaiting a verdict. McClanahan was among them as a representative of the defendants. A recess had been taken and the conversation naturally drifted to various methods of drunk-cure.

Someone asked if one of the jurors, Vincent Fernandez, had not taken the drunk-cure at one time. Although McClanahan had asked no such question of Juror Fernandez at the time the jury was drawn, he immediately began to act when he heard that Fernandez had once taken the cure. He made an investigation on his own account, asking questions and getting at the facts. At 4 o'clock in the morning it was stated that the jury had reached a verdict.

When Court opened yesterday morning McClanahan had the following statement to make:

"Last evening after the case had been submitted and after the jury had retired a rumor came to the knowledge of defendants' counsel that one of the jurors is a man who has taken the Hagey Cure. Since last night, that rumor I have verified. We therefore offer to prove the fact in connection with a motion which I now have to make, that the Court decline to receive the verdict if there is one, and that the jury be discharged. Your Honor can easily see that a man who has taken the cure is disqualified to hear the case. A vital issue in the case is the bona fides of the cure. It is unfair to both plaintiff and defendant that a man who has had experience with the cure, whether pleasant or unpleasant, should sit as a juror.

"I understand that since Your Honor and counsel left this morning, the jury have agreed upon a verdict. What it is I do not know, but whatever it is, it is an unfair one, and I ask to be allowed to offer proof of my statements in support of the motion that the verdict be not received."

Attorney A. G. M. Robertson, for the plaintiff, intimated that McClanahan had received a tip as to what the verdict of the jury was and that he knew that the verdict was against him. He said that it was counsel's business to have properly examined the jurymen before accepting them. McClanahan had accepted the jury and had no legal right to make such an objection at this late date. He had not examined the jurymen on this drunk-cure point and it was now too late.

Judge Gear allowed McClanahan to offer the proof which he desired to furnish. A subpoena was issued for A. V. Gear, but it was found that he was at Kahuku. Q. H. Berry took the stand and swore that he knew of his own personal knowledge that Fernandez had taken the Hagey Cure. McClanahan said that he had had no knowledge of this fact until he heard it early yesterday morning while the jury was considering the verdict.

Robertson contended that the verdict of the jury should be received. Attorneys for defendants thought otherwise.

Ballou suggested that the jury return the verdict sealed, to be so held until the Court decided what to do in the matter.

This was agreed upon and Robertson has until 9:30 o'clock this morning to look up authorities and search the record to see whether Juror Fernandez had been questioned as to whether he had taken the Hagey Cure.

The jury wanted more instructions before returning the verdict. However, the court refused to give them. In regard to the date upon which Harrison had made his demand on the Hagey people for the 2,000 pounds due him. They had evidently been figuring interest and could not agree on the date. The information desired was furnished them. The verdict was made out and signed, simply awaiting the exact figure.

The jury retired to fix the exact amount of the damages and then returned again with the verdict which was sealed and handed to the clerk, Kalua Kapukini Estate.

Attorneys Thomas Plich and W. S. Fleming yesterday morning made formal demand on Attorney J. A. Magoon for the property of the discharged spendthrift Kalua Kapukini. Accompanying the demand was a notice that the court would be asked to summon Magoon to answer for contempt unless he obeyed the order made discharging the ward.

A trust deed was also filed by which Kalua Kapukini conveyed all her property to Attorney W. S. Fleming as trustee. Fleming will manage the estate, receiving a remuneration of one per cent.

A motion was also filed to strike out the appeals noted by Magoon, on the ground that he was no longer the guardian of Kalua Kapukini.

Kapioalani Estate Cases.

In the case of Annie Levy vs. Cecil Brown, administrator of the estate of W. H. Cummings, a decree has been filed ordering the administrator to make the deed prayed for.

Julia Kalemahu, Meil Hanu and Waha Holi have brought suit against C. Bolte, trustee, to quiet title to lands at Kailua, Oahu.

In the case of the Kapioalani Estate against E. Peck and Company, W. R. Castle and L. A. Thurston, ejectment suits, the attorneys for defendants have filed motions for the production of a certain deed from Kahoopuhalu to Kalaikua, in 1874. Castle and Weaver, De Bolt and Andrews, Peters & Andrade represent the defendants, while Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan are for plaintiffs.

The Kapioalani Estate has filed an amended complaint in foreclosure against C. S. Desky and Mrs. Desky. The action is foreclosure on a note for $55,000, secured by property at Fort and Beretania streets.

The Supreme Court Full.

Attorney George A. Davis interrupted the proceedings in Judge Gear's court yesterday morning with the announcement that the Supreme Court was "full."

There was laughter of course. The matter was soon explained, however. The Supreme bench had been filled by the calling of Acting Attorney General Cathcart to sit with Justices Galbraith and Perry. The Supreme Court had been waiting to proceed with the Kamalo case, but had been unable to begin as Attorney Robertson was busily engaged in Judge Gear's court. The Supreme Court was not detained long, however, and proceeded with the Kamalo case which continued all day.

Judge Little, who is anxious to return to Hilo, and who anticipated that the Kamalo case will last several days, asked to be excused from the bench that he might return to Hawaii on the next steamer.

Ballou, in behalf of the defendant Frank Foster made a motion that the case be remanded to the Circuit Court for trial, on the ground that evidence had not been allowed by the lower court upon amended pleadings.

Robertson made the same motion in behalf of Frank Hustace, another of the defendants. The argument was begun with many of the Kamalo stockholders on hand.

SUPERINTENDENT BOYD'S LAST REPORT ON HAMAKUA FIRE

Still Prevailed Although Heroic Efforts Were Being Made To Stay The Flames.

Superintendent Boyd's last letter to Governor Dole in regard to the fires in Hamakua is as follows:
 "I desire to respectfully inform you that I have reached this point, having made all required inspections and investigation en route.
 "In passing through the district of Waimea and Hamakua there was brought very forcibly to my notice the distresses caused by reasons of the continued drought.
 "In Waimea district the streams are all dried up and a journey has to be made to Kukuiahae and to the valley of Waipio to obtain scant supplies required for direct consumption by people and for use in domestic purposes. It has been reported to me on the morning of my departure from Waipio that the dependant-upon supply from Pukapu to the Parker ranch had given out and that the many thousands of cattle on the Waimea plains were dying from want of water. Great distress exists in the Hamakua district from lack of water. The larger stock owners are paying heavily $12 per day, for needed supply. No present indications of relief by rain.
 "The great number of fires which have taken place in the Hamakua district and the existing dryness, I respectfully present, demand more investigation and attention from the police authorities here than it has received and is yet receiving, and I respectfully present that this matter is well worthy the immediate consideration by the Department of the Attorney General.
 "A large amount of Government forest land has been destroyed by the forest fires and the lack of rain, with continued high winds, makes further fires and greater damage both possible and very probable. Messrs. Albert Horner, W. Walker of Ooala and F. W. Carter have displayed in their work of prevention and control of forest fires, attention, judgment and labor which aside from being very praiseworthy, is well deserving personal recognition at the hands of the government.
 "The drought at this writing (noon October 4) from information received by direct telephone communication, still exists, and, as a consequence, the situation of plantation and stock owners is very distressing."

HAWAII YACHT CLUB
A LUSTY YOUNGSTER

ORGANIZATION STARTS ON ITS CAREER UNDER MOST FLAT-TERING CIRCUMSTANCES

Officers Elected at Meeting Held at Hawaiian Hotel Last Night—
Minor Changes in By-Laws Suggested—Membership Growing.

The Hawaii Yacht Club has already developed into a healthy youngster among the varied social and sporting organizations of Honolulu. A rousing meeting of the club was held yesterday evening at the Hawaiian Hotel, at which time officers were elected. A general discussion of the regulations and by-laws of the club were then taken up for discussion. That the Hawaii Yacht Club is destined to become one of the foremost institutions in the city was plainly apparent by the enthusiasm manifested by those present.

A large number of candidates were before the charter members of the various offices. When the ballots were counted the successful ones were found to be as follows: Commodore, T. W. Holron; Vice-Commodore, Prince David Kawananakoa; Secretary and Treasurer, P. L. Weaver, Jr.
Regatta Committee: A. W. Pearson,
Clarence Crabbe, I. S. Dillingham.
Directors: W. P. Dillingham, E. A.
Mott-Smith, D. L. Conkling.

Several minor amendments and changes were suggested in the by-laws. Considerable discussion resulted over the proper definition of what constituted an amateur and a professional from a yachting standpoint.

At the suggestion of Prince Cupid
a committee consisting of Commodore T. W. Holron, Prince David and Rudy Dexter were appointed to secure designs of suitable flags for the craft owned and controlled by club members.

MONEY WILL BE RAISED.
Chamber of Commerce Will Pay For the Quarantine Wharf.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning it was decided to raise the money expended by Castle & Cooke for quarantine wharf, the balance of which is about $7,900, among the members and refund it. The public will be invited to contribute to the amount.

A communication was read from the Paradise of the Pacific soliciting support to a holiday number of the paper which it is proposed to publish.
The support will be given but individually in place of as a body.

A letter asking for further support to a lecturing scheme in the East was read. It was from W. C. Weedon, and Gorman D. Gilman. The letter was simply filed.

CRUISER CLEVELAND LAUNCHED

Christened by the Daughter of Senator Hanna of Ohio.

BATH (Me.), Sept. 29.—The United States cruiser Cleveland was launched yesterday at Bath Iron Works. At a few minutes before noon the christening party, including Miss Ruth Hanna, Senators Hanna, Frye and Hale and Congressman Littlefield, mounted the platform at the bow of the cruiser, and almost at the stroke of noon Miss Hanna, with a jointly mounted silver hatchet, cut the cords, releasing the key shores, and, as the big boat began to move, broke a bottle of American champagne over the bow, christening the cruiser "Cleveland." Whistles and bells saluted the vessel as she touched the water.

The cruiser Cleveland is one of the Denver class. These vessels are protected cruisers. Their general dimensions are as follows: Extreme length, 308 feet; breadth, about 43 feet; extreme draft, fully loaded, 16 feet 8 inches; full load displacement, about 3400 tons; bunker capacity, not less than 700 tons. The armament will be:
Main battery—Ten 5-inch 50-caliber, breech-loading, rapid-firing guns.
Auxiliary battery—Eight 6-pounders, rapid-firing guns; two 1-pounders, rapid-firing guns; four Colt machine guns. The sail area will be about 8000 square feet. The coal capacity of these ships with bunkers full is sufficient to give them a radius of action at full speed of about 2600 miles.

Town Destroyed By Fire.
HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 5.—Fire which broke out at 11:30 o'clock last night at Timpson, Tex., destroyed almost the entire business section of the city, resulting in a loss of $125,000. At 3 o'clock this morning only fourteen business houses were left standing and the fire was not yet under control.

LIBRARY ESTABLISHED FOR

Special Books Received at Public Library For Mechanics—More
Are To Come.

The Labor Day Committee of 1900 had a balance of $200 left from their funds and applied the same to the purposes of a laboring man's library in the public library. Miss Burbank took the matter up with besting interest and, after much investigation and hard work, selected a number of publications of most service to mechanics. A part of these have arrived and others are shortly expected.
The following, which have been placed in the calendar of reference books, are already on the shelves of the library:

The attention of the various organizations has been directed to this special library and they are now taking an active interest in it. More of the books will shortly arrive which will greatly increase the usefulness of the institution.

QUORUM IN HONOLULU.

Republican Central Committee Wants Majority Here.

Chairman H. P. Baldwin, of the Republican Central Committee, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee for the purpose of devising means of having a quorum constantly in Honolulu, so that meetings may be held without having to draw upon the other islands for members. Following is the letter sent to Secretary
Hendry on the subject:

Honolulu, H. I., Oct. 8, 1901.
E. R. Hendry, Esq., Secretary Territorial Rep. Cent. Committee, City.

Dear Sir: Please issue a call for a meeting of the Territorial Committee, for Monday, October 28, 1901, at 4
p. m., at Republican headquarters, Elite building, for the purpose of increasing the number of the executive committee from nine to eleven members, or take other action as may be deemed necessary to provide a working quorum of the executive committee in Honolulu.

In response Mr. Hendry has drafted a call for the meeting at the time and place stated, with the purpose announced in the exact terms of the chairman's request. This will be mailed to the members of the Territorial Committee, individually, as follows:

stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side.
After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo.
R. McDonald, Man, Logan Co., W. Va.,
