Kauai Has Record Flood

LIHUE AND NAWILIWILI PROBABLY WORST HURT

Debris Blocks Swollen Stream Near Landing And A Long Stretch Of Road Is Cut Away--Japanese Seizes Live Wire And Is Killed--Two Boys Drowned

After four days of heavy, intermittent showers, a unusually severe rainstorm broke over the entire eastern and southern sides of Kauai early Saturday morning, tapering off, with more or less volume toward Waimea; and concluded in the evening with a flood, the like of which has seldom been experienced on this island. From about 7 o'clock in the evening to nearly 11 the water literally poured down flooding the entire country, making rivers of small streams and turning low places into lakes. Travel everywhere was an impossibility and people were forced to remain at home or wherever they happened to be during the four hours of the deluge.

VICTIMS OF FLOOD

There were three human victims of the flood. The first, a Japanese, was killed by a live wire which had fallen into the street at Nawiliwili. The other two were Chinese boys, aged 4 and 13, who were caught in the flood at Anahola and drowned.

THE STORM'S BEGINNING

It is hard to say when the storm had its beginning. Rain had been falling every day for a week or more, but on Wednesday its severity greatly increased.

Saturday morning at the regular reading hour the rain gauge of the Lihue plantation showed only .60 of an inch which was lighter than on several previous days and looked hopeful. Then the real rain began. At 4:30 that afternoon the gauge showed 4.10 inches. Immediately after that there was a let-up in the downpour and signs of clearing appeared. But this was not for long. About 7 o'clock, as stated above, the flood started. At the regular reading hour Sunday morning the Lihue gauge showed 10.45 inches, making almost 15 inches for the twenty-four hours, and making a total of 19 inches since the preceding Wednesday.

It will be several days before the actual losses to Lihue plantation will be known. The reservoir above Wailua, holding from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 gallons, was washed out and will have to be rebuilt. Flumes in numerous places were broken and washed out.

Probably the heaviest (or, at any rate, the most disappointing) happening was in the sweeping out of about 130 acres (an entire field) of young cane on the hillside makai of the hospital. This field had been prepared with great care and was thought to be protected from just what happened by a system of ditches. The flood swept it clean of its soil taking the young cane, of course, with it. From the look of things it is doubtful that the field can be placed in condition again, unless it be at very great expense. The destroyed field runs for about two miles along the slopes of the hills, and is three to four hundred yards wide.

Manager Weber states that the rainfall was the heaviest in the history of the plantation. All of the flumes and other schemes of the estate had been planned and constructed to stand much heavier strain than the highest previous rain record, explained Mr. Weber, but the flood of Saturday night was something far beyond any calculations.

AN UNFRILLED FLOOD

The flood around Lihue and Nawiliwili had no such thrilling frills as thunder and lightning and wind. Save for occasional gusts, there was no wind to speak of, and the only noise in the air was the thunder of the deluge. At Kilauea however, there was quite a bit of lightning and some heavy thunder.

MILL GETS IT FIRST

The neighborhood of the Lihue Mill was the first to feel the effects of the downpour. In an hour after the start the stream at that point was filled to capacity, and later on the valley was flooded, the mill itself standing in a lake of water. From there the torrent swept on down through Lihue, increasing in size and force constantly, until Nawiliwili was reached.

AT NAWILIWILI

Near the bank of the stream at Nawiliwili stood the carriage house of C. W. Spitz and the barn of A. Fukushima, the liveryman. Both of these structures were washed away at about the same time, the smashed houses banking up against the Nawiliwili bridge, close to the bay. These houses and an enormous lot of other debris which had also come down blocked the channel under the bridge so that the flood could not get through. A short time later the water literally cut a path for itself one hundred feet wide and twenty feet deep in a straight line (the bridge being a little to the left of a straight line, causing a bend in the normal course of the stream) to the sea, carrying away a section of hard macadam road at least a hundred feet wide. This occurred between 10.30 and 11 p. m.

THE IMMEDIATE LOSSES

The heaviest loss probably fell upon C. W. Spitz, whose carriage house was swept out. Three horses went out with the flood and it was thought for a long time that they were surely drowned, but all of them succeeded, sometime later in making the beach farther down. Three wagons, harness, feedstuff, stable equipment, etc., were a total loss, the wagons being smashed against the bridge.

Fukushima lost his livery stables, a wagon and a buggy, besides a lot of equipment, feedstuff, etc.

The Hamano Store, the largest general merchandise establishment in the town, suffered a loss of about $1,000, in the way of damaged rice, horse feed and other goods, the store being flooded.

The store of Mr. Spitz was flooded all of two feet, and considerable damage done to office equipment, loose merchandise on the floor, fixtures, etc.

RIVER OVERFLOWS AND FLOODS TOWN OF WAIMEA

Swell From The Sea, Aided By Sandbank In River Red, Backs Mountain Flood Waters Over Most Of Lower Section Of The Town

A considerable section of the town of Waimea was under water all of last Thursday morning and a part of the afternoon as a result of overflow from the Waimea river. The water in some residence premises was two feet deep, while in lower localities it ran as much as three feet. In the roadway in front of Hofgaard & Company's store, in the center of the town, which is higher than the region toward the river, water was from one to one and a half feet deep.

There was more alarm over the situation in neighboring towns than in Waimea itself, however, as evidenced by telephone calls from everywhere in to Waimea for information. The people of the flooded town had had such experience before--although on a much smaller scale--and did not appear to grow unusually excited about it.

The flood had three causes. First, was a cloud-burst on the mountains several miles above the town, occurring the night before, the river beginning to rise in the early hours of the morning.

Second, an embankment of sand which had been formed at the mouth of the river by the action of incoming waves from the sea and the outgoing waters of the river.

Third, an unusually heavy swell coming in from the sea just at the time the flood waters from the land were rushing down.

Water rose to the top of the banks by 7 o'clock in the forenoon and it was seen that an overflow was threatened. All the roadmen of the district were called out and set to work at the perilous task of clearing the sand from the mouth of the river. They were successful at first, but the increasing force of the waters from both sides piled sand back again faster than they could remove it.

The Gotenda hotel, near the river, was the first premises flooded; and from there the water moved on and engulfed the district back of the ice works, the telephone exchange, the Waimea Auto Works and Bishop & Co's. bank. Another flood stream started up the road to the right from the bridge toward the valley.

The water in the district around the telephone exchange finally reached such a height that it broke over the road and flooded the premises of J. McClellan and proceeded on down to Hofgaard & Company's store, the square in front and to the court house. The residence premises of George Bertram and Deputy Sheriff W. O. Crowell, across the road, were invaded by the water, despite the fact that they are considerably higher than the surrounding country.

It was about 1 o'clock in the afternoon that the water was at its highest and Waimea people seemed to really manifest alarm. At that time all the rice patches on the outskirts and other low places were filled and there was practically a continuous lake from the bridge around to the highlands and to the sea near the steamer landing. After 1 o'clock, however, it was noted that the flood was receding and in a couple of hours more little water remained except in the rice patches and low regions.

A gratifying feature of the occurrence was that not an accident was reported, the casualty list showing only a few chickens and the like.

The rain, which began early in the week, proved unusual for this time of the year all over Kauai; the heavy and almost continuous showers extending all the way from Hanalei around to the mountains above Kekaha.

Friday night what was probably the most general down-pour to date of the month started in and Saturday there were very heavy showers all over. In Lihue, at times, during the forenoon the water came down in "sheets" and roadmen had to be sent all around to clear the ditches and other waterways in order that the surplus might move off handsly.

Cane is undoubtedly being injured by the excessive rainfall at most points on Kauai, young cane being retarded several weeks or months in its growth, while the juice of December cane will undoubtedly be much impaired. Of course something has been saved in the matter of irrigation, but that will be more than offset in juice depreciation.

Big Pine Shipment

The freighter Missouriian, which will clear from the islands in a few days, will take one of the largest shipments of pineapples ever contained in a single cargo. She will go through the Panama canal and land her pineapples in New York, from where they will be distributed along the Atlantic coast. Messrs. Alexander & Baldwin's New York office has opened a market for Hawaiian pines from Maine clear down the coast into Florida.

Missourian Calls

The freighter Missouriian arrived at Port Allen last Thursday morning from Kahului, Maui, whither she had gone from Honolulu. She brought 100 tons of freight and took away 700 tons of sugar and 1,000 cases of pineapples. From Port Allen the Missouriian got away the same afternoon and doubled back to Hilo, where she will complete her cargo. She will go through the Panama canal to Delaware Breakwater.

A BRAVE RESCUE BY A SMALL BOY

An act of bravery on the part of a small boy which occurred at the bridge near Lihue Mill about 2:30 last Thursday afternoon deserves special note.

The lad Willie Ahtaka was in a guava tree by the side of the swollen stream. A small Japanese boy was crossing the bridge, when his hat suddenly blew off into the water. The boy, in the excitement, jumped into the tide after his hat.

Noting that the Japanese boy could not take care of himself, Ahtaka plunged in after him, and after considerable struggling with the rushing waters landed him on shore, wet and very much frightened but otherwise unhurt.

A DAINY PIERCE OF LINGERIE.

Here is a pretty night gown, the trimming of which combines double-edged insertion with dainty hand embroidery. The gown is of fine lingerie batiste while the waist is composed of insertion and hand embroidery, the latter consisting of large daisies in satin stitch. The batiste is tucked into the deep yoke or waist in clusters of five tiny tufts each. The insertion and hand embroidery form the short sleeve. Rosettes consisting of many loops of inch-wide ribbon add a dainty touch. There is no opening at the square neck is sufficiently large to permit of the gown being slipped on over the head.

Proclamation

The following proclamation has been issued by the President of the United States:

By the President of the United States of America a proclamation.

Whereas, Great nations of the world have taken up arms against one another and war now draws millions of men into battle whom the counsel of statesmen have not been able to save from the terrible sacrifice, and,

Whereas, In this, as in all things, it is our privilege and duty to seek council and succor of Almighty God, humbling ourselves before him, confessing our weakness and our lack of any wisdom equal to these things, and,

Whereas, it is the special wish and longing of the people of the United States, in prayer and council and all friendliness, to serve the cause of peace.

Therefore I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do designate Sunday, the fourth day of October, next, a day of prayer and supplication and do request all God-fearing persons to repair on that day to their places of worship, there to unite their petitions to Almighty God, that, overruling the counsel of men, setting straight the things they cannot govern or alter, taking pity on the nations now in the throes of conflict, in his mercy and goodness showing a way where men can see none, he vouchsafe his children healing peace again and restore once more that concord among men and nations without which there can be neither happiness nor true friendship nor any wholesome fruit of toil or thought in the world, praying also to this end that he forgive us our sins, our ignorance of his holy will, our willfulness and many errors, and lead us into the paths of obedience to places of vision and to thoughts and counsels that purge and make wise."

James H. Fiddes, accountant of the B. F. Dillingham Co., and secretary of Young Bros. Co., Honolulu, and wife, toured Kauai at the week-end.

BEET ESTATES SHOW SHORTAGE

The beet crop in the United States will be eighteen per cent below what it was last year, as far as the area is concerned. It is estimated that there are 520,000 acres of beets this year, while last year the government reports 631,949 acre. Six factories are reported as getting ready to grind. It is estimated that the sugar tonnage will be 551,556, while last year the sugar output was 696,958 tons. Nebraska will have 104 per cent more of last year's crop. Colorado shows up with 81 per cent of last year's. California, 79 per cent; Michigan about 91 per cent, Ohio only 54 per cent, the government estimating it at 61 per cent, and Idaho 112 per cent. Colorado expects to roll in 1,511,000 tons of beets, which will produce 202,140 tons of sugar. The total decrease of tonnage will run to 1,145,000 if ten tons per acre is allowed for the decrease. This will mean that the growers will receive $7,000,000 less than last year, and, if there was ever a time that sugar is needed it is now, for with the whole world market influenced by the untoward conditions in Europe, every sugar manufacturer can be proud to meet the emergency.—Louisiana Planter.

Nurseryman Here

David Haughs, chief nurseryman for the Territorial government, was here last week to look into the matter of new forests. He spent the first day at the forests near Anahola, but then the rains came on so heavy that further work was impossible. Even a tour near Lihue on Saturday, in company with Mr. George N. Wilcox, had to be given over on account of the heavy showers. Mr. Haughs returned to the city Saturday night and will come over again later on to complete the objects of his mission.

CALIFORNIA AND WAR IN EUROPE

San Francisco—The American National bank of this city in its monthly circular points out from the B. O. B. and B. O. B. reports of California's produce.

The temporary stoppage of all facilities for foreign shipment has wrought some confusion in the local markets. Thousands of tons of grapes are in warehouses or on docks or being loaded into steamers for shipment to the British Isles. A few cargoes have gone forward, mostly to Spanish or Norwegian vessels, and several British steamers are expected to depart soon, the war risk having been guaranteed by the British government. What is true of berries and what is also true of canned fruits and vegetables. Cannons had blocked the largest volume of export sales in the history of the industry in California, mostly to British purchasers. These goods are highly desired and it will be but a short time before the way is open for resumption of shipments.

In dried fruits, except raisins, the situation is less satisfactory. Dried apricots and prunes are sold largely in Germany, and it is not expected that large shipments will be wanted in this quarter, even if means of transportation were at hand. This will necessitate finding other markets. Owing to this condition, and the inability to ship abroad, packers are not anxious to bid on the maturing crop and prices have declined somewhat since the commencement of warfare.

Raisins are in excellent position owing to the light carryover from last year, and the probable cessation of imports from the Mediterranean countries. Lemons have advanced sharply, and fire nuts and other minor products have risen in price. Sugar, which is an important item in California manufactures, has been marked up to such a high figure that the government is investigating.

EXCURSION TO THE MAUI CONVENTION

Delegates from Kauai to the Civic Convention at Waikiki, Maui, will sail from Honolulu on the steamer Likiep at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Provision for the round trip ($14) should be made to the governor of the Likiep, who will arrange for proper bookings at the Manoa Hotel at Honolulu and in a motor car back to Lihue in the Kinohiwa next week.

All on Friday will be spent in Honolulu, the Mauna Kea with the Kauai launch, the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, Meritana Association, Ad. Club, Commercial Club and Honolulu Chamber of delegates sailing from here about 5:30 Thursday evening. The entire contingent will be accompanied to the steamer at Honolulu by the Hawaiian band.

Kahului, Maui, will be reached shortly after daylight Saturday morning, where the delegates will be met by the Maui committee and escorted to Waikiki.

The program of the next three days has already been published in these columns and is probably well understood.

The Honolulu and Kauai delegates will sail from Lahaina Monday evening, probably about 9 o'clock, and will reach Honolulu early Tuesday morning. Kauai delegates will have another day in the city, and will depart for home in the Kinohiwa sailing at 5 o'clock that afternoon.

There will be "something doing" the whole time, and it is reasonably certain that all going from Kauai on the trip will have a banner, good time.

Sheriff W. H. Rice, Jr., returned by the Kinohiwa on Wednesday from Honolulu. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Dr. Leo L. Sexton, who will spend some time with her parents in Lihue.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE
BY BARBARA BOYD

The Love System for Child Training

"Marriage opens up a great many avenues to unhappiness, doesn't it?" mused the Bachelor Girl.

"It opens more to happiness," responded the Bachelor.

"I am not so sure of that," objected the Bachelor Girl. "I was talking to a friend of mine today, and she said her hair was growing gray because of her three children."

"What is the matter with them?"

"They are so bad. They are disobedient and untruthful and lazy--about everything, I guess, they shouldn't be. She can't do a thing with them. She doesn't believe in correcting them, you know. She says she believes in ruling them entirely by love. And she is just worried to death at the things they do."

"I don't think her course shows love," expostulated the Bachelor. "I think it shows self-indulgence, perhaps really selfishness. She may have wanted to spare herself the effort to train them. It is no easy matter to train children, you know. But true lovers consider the other's good, and it is certainly their good to be taught to be truthful and industrious and to have the other qualities necessary to happiness and success in life, even if it is work to bring them up in this way."

"I tried to tell her something of this sort, but she said she always wanted them to think of her as expressing nothing but love, that she never wanted them to have a single memory of her that was harsh or painful."

"That shows she is thinking of herself and not of them. And besides, when they grow up and find they lack self-control, that they hate work, in fact, that they have habits that will make life hard for them, unless they themselves root these habits out and make themselves over, don't you think they will then blame her and think bitterly of her?"

"That's the reason I say marriage has so many avenues of unhappiness."

"It isn't marriage that makes the unhappiness," responded the Bachelor earnestly. "It is what may lie in the nature of those entering it. This woman has the trait within herself that has brought this trouble upon her. If she had trained these children to show the true, beautiful self that is in each she would have had a little heaven upon earth."

"But she thinks she is being actuated entirely by love," insisted the Bachelor Girl.

"She could correct them lovingly and tenderly, so that they would always remember her corrections with love, and with thanks also, that these handicaps had been taken from them. True love doesn't shut its eyes to faults, but helps cast them out; so that the one loved can grow into the perfect individuality that is rightly his or hers. Don't blame marriage for unhappiness like that. But put the blame where it lies. If her children were the sort of children they should and could be, think what wonderful avenues of happiness they would open for her."

The Bachelor Girl looked serious. "I thought myself she was in the wrong. But it certainly is no joke to train children, is it?"

"It certainly isn't. Anything that is worth while takes the best that is in one. But that is what makes life interesting--rolling up one's sleeves and going at worth while things. That is the reason I am in such dead earnest about one certain thing. I consider it decidedly worth while."

"Well you know I always did like persistent people," teased the Bachelor Girl.

Barbara Boyd.

MOTORED OUT OF HOSTILE ZONES

Here is a good story told of a party of Americans who slipped out of Austria into Italy in an automobile just as war was declared:

A motor car bearing a party of Boston people figured in one of the most exciting escapes of foreigners from the war zone in Europe.

The flight led over the summit of the Alpine Stelvo pass, the loftiest in Europe traversed by a carriage road.

Charles C. Hoyt of Brookline, accompanied by a motor party consisting of Mrs. Hoyt, Edward M. Farnsworth, Mrs. Farnsworth and their daughter, were caught in Vienna the day Austria began mobilization. The intensity of the situation warned them to lose no time in fleeing for neutral territory.

The party at once resolved to rely upon its auto. Train schedules had been abandoned and tourists were terrified. But the way over the Alps was still open and Hoyt made for it.

On the snow-draped summit of the pass two stones beside the road mark the international boundary between Austria and Italy. Halting his machine, the American paused to hand the guard the papers which had authorized him to travel by automobile in Austria. His bond was returned and the party lingered a while to observe the beauties of the place before starting the descent into Italy.

After a moment they were abruptly informed by an Austrian official that war had been declared, that no more motor cars might cross the pass, and that the party must return down the Austrian side. Hoyt, noting that his car was standing exactly across the international boundary line, its engine in Italy and its rear wheels in Austria, said in an undertone in English to his chauffeur: "Run her a little ahead." With an almost imperceptible movement, the chauffeur took his rear wheels over the line.

Hoyt, turning to the official, replied: "You see, sir, my car is no in Austria. You have signed our papers. Our business is finished. I shall descend into Italy."

POSTERS SOON TO BE DISTRIBUTED
(Special)

Honolulu--Shortly after October 15, the promotion committee will begin its distribution of the 1915 Mid-Pacific Carnival posters. The printing is being done by a San Francisco firm, and in accordance with the contract, the finished posters must be in the hands of the committee by the middle of next month.

Owing to the present war, the committee believes that it will be impossible to at once secure distribution of posters throughout those European countries from which the United States--and Hawaii--has drawn many tourists in the past. A thorough distribution is to be made, however, in case the war comes to a close within three or even four months. The Carnival is to be given wide publicity on the mainland through the distribution of the posters in all the states. They also will be well scattered throughout Canada.

Several thousand posters and mailing cards, and an even greater number of stickers, each bearing a reproduction of the poster design, will be given out free by the committee for use by local residents in sending to their friends on the mainland and elsewhere. Posters also will be given out to local persons desiring them.

Director General James D. Dougherty said today that within a short time he will have completed a list of persons who will be requested to act as chairmen of the various committees in charge of the Carnival events. These chairmen, in turn, will choose committeemen to work with them.

Service At Makaweli

Service will be held in the Hall Sunday evening, October 4th., at 7:30. Invitation is cordially extended to all to come.

Ou Club Dance

The Ou Club is giving a large dance on Saturday evening, October 10th, at 8 o'clock. The Ilima Club of Makaweli and the Maile Club of Elele will be invited. Besides this, each member of the Ou Club is entitled to invite two guests, the names of which must be handed in to the secretary by Wednesday, September 30th, accompanied by the card of the member extending the invitation. These cards will be enclosed with a printed invitation and mailed by the secretary to the desired guests. Invitations will be given precedence in the order in which they are received by the secretary.

Land Board Officers

At its first meeting in Honolulu, Dr. J. H. Raymond was elected chairman of the new land board. W. C. Wilder was made vice-chairman and Jacob F. Brown was re-elected secretary. The other members are Bruce Cartwright, Jr., W. H. C. Campbell and J. W. Waldron.

Extra Dividends

Haiku and Paia sugar companies will increase their dividends from 50 cents to $1 per share, beginning October 1.

Louisiana Sugar

New York--A crop of 200,000 tons is now estimated for the Louisiana sugar cane districts. August rains improved the prospects materially. Scarcity of sugar bags on account of the failure of the East India jute supply, has led to the proposal of marketing sugar in bulk.

Mr. Dougherty will visit Kauai during October or November and will take pleasure in showing to their patrons many rare and exclusive articles in jewelry, gold and silver ware, and glass that have been critically selected with the view of pleasing the most painstaking holiday giver.

DESHA PLAYED BIG BALL AT HONOLULU

While in Honolulu last week, Alex Desha, of the county auditor's office and one of the Kauai league's umpires, was put in the box for the all Hawaiis, in the big league, against the Twenty-fifth Infantry team, with big Waterhouse in the box. Desha made a fine showing, as the following extracts from the Advertiser's account will indicate, although the game was lost, 5 to 4:

"The few hundred local fans who braved the drizzle this afternoon saw a game that deserved a better day. With a game apiece to their credit, the Twenty-fifth Infantry and the Hawaii team played off the rubber and in spite of Alex. Desha's clever pitching exhibition and heavy hitting by the visitors, the Twenty-fifth took the game by a score of 5 to 4. The game was theirs in the fifth when they overcame a lead of one run and chalked up four tallies. Two disastrous errors were partly responsible, but three hits in a row and heady handling of the situation really gave the local team the right to say that they won the game.

"The Hawaii's made a desperate fight to tie the score and in two innings had Waterhouse in bad holes, but the lanky twirler was in fine form and fanned the opposing batters in each instance.

"Desha on the mound for the visitors, made his first appearance here as a pitcher, and held the Twenty-fifth to fewer hits than any pitcher whom they have faced this year. This average for the season, that is, with the teams of the Army League, and recent games with the Oahu League teams, has

Office of Inspector, 19th Lighthouse District, Honolulu, T. H. September 22, 1914.

Local Notice To Marines

Hawaiian Islands--Oahu Island--Southern Coast--Three target range buoys were established off entrance to Honolulu Harbor September 21, 1914, in the vicinity of the six yellow barrel buoys recently established, and now reported as missing.

FIRST BUOY. [Nearest entrance to Honolulu Harbor.] Quarantine Island Flagstaff. 21 true [N 15-16 E mag.] about 2825 yds.

SECOND BUOY. From First Buoy, 282 true [W 1/8 N mag.]

THIRD BUOY. From First Buoy, 282 true [W 1/8 N mag.] about 3000 yards.

These buoys are spars, painted yellow and marked with small red and white flags, moored in about 22 fathoms. They will be subject to changes in locations, in this vicinity, as may be deemed necessary, without further notice to marines.

Wires Go Underground

There will be no wires of any kind trailing around the new county building. Last week the telephone wires into the building, beginning at the roadway in front, were laid in a conduit, or pipe, and these have been followed by the electric wires, the latter being laid underground across the corner of the baseball park.

Censorship Rigid

The father of County Treasurer Harold Morgau, who is now in England, writes that the mail censorship in that country is extremely rigid. Not only are letters to be sent away opened and read by the censors, but letters sent into England from America as well as other countries are opened and carefully scanned by the censors before delivery is permitted. The latter restriction is regarded as unusual.

Waimea Foreign Church

Services during the coming year will begin next Sunday, October 4th.

A generous attendance is especially asked for this opening day, mindful of the fact that the President of the United States has issued a general proclamation appointing October the 4th, a day of prayer throughout the country, asking all to repair to their places of worship, to unite in petitions for the restoration of peace.

CHAS. D. MILLIKEN.

been a trifle over ten hits per game, but yesterday they had to content themselves with six.

"His puzzling delivery forced the Twenty-fifth stickmen into a series of harmless fly ball hitting and he made a name for himself by striking out the local heavy hitter, Cullens, which is no mean achievement in itself.

Monday Afternoon.

Sugar, no change.
Washington—The comptroller of currency accepts Hawaiian bonds as security for additional circulation under terms of Aldrich-Vreel-and act.

Philadelphia—The Athletics won the pennant today, putting them in the contest for the World's series championship.

London—The two lines at the battle of the Aisne are within two hundred yards of each other. Frenzied hand to hand fighting is taking place which indicates that the Allies have won ground inside the range of artillery fire.

Paris—Official despatches from the front say that during the past three days, the Prussian guard which is the flower of the Kaiser's army has been cut to pieces. The strength of the companies has been reduced from two hundred and fifty to one hundred men, by the ravages of shot and shell in their midst; virtually all of the original officers have been killed or wounded; whole batteries having been annihilated.

Berlin—Subscriptions to the war loan continue to pour in. The war is costing Germany twenty million dollars daily.

Peking—The Japanese land forces are moving west to invest Tsing Tau. German outposts have been driven back to their first line defense.

Paris—Violent German attacks between the Aisne and Argonne have been repulsed. The war zone is relatively quiet otherwise.

Washington—Bechy looped the loop four times over the Capitol today; while the President watched from the White House. It is believed that Congress will adjourn soon.

Honolulu—George Allen pleaded guilty of forgery this morning.

September 28.

London—The Russians are driving the Austrians before them at every point and have cleared Galicia north of the Carpathian mountains as far west as the San river. Petrograd reports Austrian column now in full retreat from Przemysl towards Sanok, thirty miles southwest after having been shelled by the Russian artillery on the heights. The Austrians were routed. Transport trains and a number of motor cars in battle near Uszuk Pass.

The Russians report the defeat of the last remnant of Austrian forces in the eastern half of Galicia, with loss of part of their artillery and many prisoners. Russians now pursuing the Austrians through the Uszuk Pass on the South into Hungary.

The latest reports from Petrograd indicate that the Russian invasion into Germany is on a far greater scale than was first reported.
The Russian front now extends from the Baltic Sea to the southern boundary of Silvia.

Nishi—The Serbs have been beaten by the Austrians in a fight that has been progressing for past two weeks.

GERMAN BOMBS IN PARIS

Paris—A German dirigible dropped four bombs into Paris yesterday, killing one and wounding another. One of the bombs fell within a block of the American Embassy.

Cardiff—Welsh miners have consented to work Sundays and holidays in order to keep the British admiralty supplied with coal for the warships.

SITUATION IN FRANCE.

London—Last night the situation in France was unchanged, according to official announcements at the war office. For three days and nights the German have hurled their armies against the Allies along the entire front with unrelenting violence. Attempts to force opening have been met and repulsed at every point and Allies have been concentrating their efforts to recapture the ground they have lost. The attacks upon the British army resulted in heavy loss of men.

Germany's official statement is that since the war began slightly more than 104,000 men have been killed and 10,000 wounded.

KAISER REPORTED ILL.

The Kaiser is reported to be ill with inflammation of the lungs contracted after falling into a ditch at the front.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

London—Conflicting reports have been received here regarding the Kaiser despatches to The Times. A report from Petrograd states that he is East Prussia, and this has been confirmed from Antwerp.
Reports spread of cholera among Austrian troops and typhus raging among the Germans around Brussels and Termonde.

THE MEXICAN TROUBLE

Baltimore—Another factor which may hasten intervention in Mexico was voiced here today at opening of convention of American Federation of Catholic Societies. Bishop Schrembs intimated that it was time to unite in protest to Washington against the alleged brutal treatment of members of the Catholic faith in Mexico. Cardinal Gibbons gave full approval to the demand.

Mexico City—Three Commissioners have taken route to Aguas Calientes to meet a commission from Bandit Villa in an attempt to reach a peaceful solution of the present difficulties.

Chihuahua—Villa says that unless Carranza resigns the Presidency he will continue the war.

Washington—Part of the crew of the Tahomas, wrecked off Alaska, has been saved and boats have gone in search of twenty-two others who landed on one of the smaller islands.

Sunday Sept. 27.

Sugar: Raws, 4.918.
Honolulu—Efforts to find Gus Schuman in Europe have failed.
Honolulu lodges and State Department have tried everywhere. Is an American citizen but thought he may have gone to war. Last heard of in Dresden.

Captain Watkins, 25th U. S. Infantry, found dead on rifle range with bullet in brain. Circumstances mysterious. May have been suicide.

Richard Trent, of Trent Trust, among those returning from Coast in steamer of Manchuria owing to crowded conditions.

Oliver K. Stillman and Daniel Woodward, for many years connected with water department of Territory, have been asked for resignations. Politics believed to be the cause.

THE SEAT OF WAR.

Paris—All forces of Germans and Allies were engaged yesterday in the battle of the Aisne. Results according to reports are that the Allies repulsed the Germans at every point and gained ground for themselves. Battle was resumed on initiative of Germans, heavy fighting taking place in east and west wings.

Discovery and use of turpentine by the French will probably make war impossible, is the opinion of experts.

London—Reuter's reports the invasion of Cape Colony, South Africa, from Namakualand by a force of 300 Germans, who crossed from the Orange Free State and occupied the town of Peinitsa, a trading station. Another German force invaded Bechuanaland and made headquarters at Reidfontain, near Cape Colony.

The Hague—Determination of Germans to resume operations in Belgium on large scale is indicated by continuous arrival of fresh troops at this place, while several Austrian regiments are on Belgian soil ready to take part.

Antwerp—A German aeroplane flew over Duffel, 10 miles south of here, at an early hour this morning. The aviator dropped two bombs, both of which fell into the water.

SENATOR KNUDSEN'S TOUR OF AMERICA AND EUROPE

Paris has been written about so much that I will not try to add anything in that line. It was nine years since I had seen Paris, and I found that the tastic had changed to an automobiler and it is strange that the advent of the auto-taxi has completely changed the whole tenor of life in the large cities; and the beautiful boulevards have changed into a long line of madly racing machines, each trying to pass the other; and the way they flew in and out of another's path and never seemed to hit was a constant source of wonder and amusement.

One day the Aero Club of Paris announced a flight, so we drove out to the grounds at St. Cloud and saw eleven splendid balloons go up in secession and drift over Paris. The members of the Club were quite excited over one balloon as it drifted rapidly away towards the river Rhine, and we were told by an obliging member that the young man acting as pilot had not been able to obtain a certificate of good intentions from the German ambassador and without that it was not wise for a Frenchman to land on German soil.

Mr. Rumpelmeier seemingly had no fear of arrest as he was the youthful proprietor of the most fashionable tea and coffee shop in all Paris and of course the thousands of Germans who were thronging Paris knew him as well as Kempinski's in Berlin, and sure enough he had no trouble although he landed well into Germany.

The great event of our stay was the visit paid to Paris by King George and Queen Mary, and the French people gave the English a royal welcome. They had a special play at the opera house, the guests being invited by President Poincare. A few tickets got into the hands of speculators and were sold for 2,000 francs each.

One day there was special racing and of course there was a crowd and all the ladies were dressed in the very latest creations of Paquin, etc., and looked exceedingly neat.
The King and Queen sat in the President's box, and the crowd surged in front, and it was only after five races had been run that the crowd took notice of the races at all.

Easter Sunday we spent at the home of a former Honolulu boy and in riding out in his auto we managed to see some of the great fortifications of Paris. Little did we then think that in less than five months they would have the most important need for them.

One day we joined a large party and motored out to Versailles and saw that wonderful palace so full of interest to French history. We were entering the large and famous Hall of Mirrors, the joy of Louis XVI and the pride of the French people, when suddenly some Germans in the party asked where the Coronation Hall was. It was amusing to see how peeved the guide became. Of course the Germans were referring to the time when King William was crowned Emperor of Germany, and that was the very hall. The Germans couldn't have chosen a better place to stage such an important event in and of course every German tourist wants to see the room in which the great Emperor was crowned. And we saw the rooms in which the great Napoleon I had lived and worked, and the home he built for Josephine, and the little, crude, iron bed he slept on at St. Helena; and in one of the rooms we met a crowd of sight-seers going the other way, and who should we see among them but Miss Finkler, of Kekaha school fame. Of course we could only say "Hello" and "Aloha", as it is a penal offense to hold back a crowd of sightseers; but the incident showed how small the earth is after all.

One night we went to see the divine Sarah Bernhardt, in her own theater. She is a wonderful actress but I don't think she ever sat in her own theater, for the seats were the most uncomfortable
I ever met with, the benches in Waimea hall being luxurious in comparison. A lady usher showed us our seats and then tried to hold us up for a tip for finding them.
When I didn't understand her, she became quite indignant. As I noticed that others who came in gave her a small coin. I found the smallest I had—it wasn't large in any sense of the word—and gave it to her as I left, with a complimentary expression in French, and she seemed appeased.

At the Baux Art we saw the latest works of modern art. Most of the paintings were very highly colored, somehow they do not quite come up to the standard of the old Masters.

NEW TELEPHONE INSTRUCTIONS

On October 4 the Kauai Telephonic Company will change the lines of the Lihue district from the old system to the metallic services.

The recent construction and change of switchboard will make it necessary to change a great many telephone numbers. The temporary, new directory, now being issued, will go into effect on the morning of October 5.

Remember that. And on and after October 5 make calls according to the new list.

The company urges subscribers wishing to rectify errors, or make changes in names or residence to communicate with the secretary or the president at once.

After October 5 users of the telephone are requested to give Central the numbers when calling, and not the names of individual, stores, etc., as it will take Central some time to become familiar with the new numbers for different phones. Hereafter, therefore, calls given by name will not be connected, for the reason that Central will be unable to look up numbers in the directory and give prompt service to the other calls at the same time.

Following are the general calling rules to be observed:

- 1.—Before making a call, take down the receiver and see if the line is in use; if in use hang up the receiver at once, and wait for disconnect bell.
- 2.—Conversations limited to five minutes.
- 3.—To call Central, ring one short bell [DO NOT WAIT FOR CENTRAL TO ANSWER YOU BACK ON THE BELL], place the receiver firmly to the ear, when Central will ask "NUMBER PLEASE"; give the number you wish for first and your number last.
- 4.—When you have finished your conversation, hang up the receiver and ring one short bell.
- 5.—When your call is rung, always answer with one short bell.
- 6.—Never ring one bell after you are connected with a number, unless you are through with the line; please remember it is Central's signal to disconnect.
- 7.—In talking to the transmitter, stand facing it with the mouth not more than one inch from the opening.
- 8.—NON-SUBSCRIBERS ARE POSITIVELY NOT ALLOWED TO USE ANY BUT PUBLIC PAY STATION TELEPHONE. Subscribers and others are positively forbidden to tamper in any way with the Company's instruments or lines in connection therewith.
- 9.—Report all trouble on your line or instrument to No. 428L.
- 10.—We cannot too earnestly impress upon our subscribers the importance of cooperation with us for a perfect telephone system.

Sound Steamers

Advice received by C. P. Morse, general agent for the American Hawaiian Steamship Company at Honolulu, stated that the Puget Sound service of the line would be resumed with the departure of the steamer Virginian from Seattle, October 2, for Honolulu. The vessel is bringing a large quantity of feedstuffs and flour. She is due to arrive on October 11 and will be loaded with sugar and canned pineapples for New York via the Panama Canal.

ENGLAND AND THE SUGAR OUTLOOK

According to Willett & Gray, the American authorities, sugar prices were boosted by England, that country not only bidding for spot sugars at advanced prices but being in the market for the next crop of Cubas and crops of other war-free countries. The last report of Willett & Gray says, on this point:

Great Britain acts, in its sugar supply accumulations, as if the war will last into next summer at least. She has already secured an oversupply for the remainder of this year and is busy now in buying from the next Cuba crop, having already secured 250,000 tons of the early deliveries of January to March, paying for the same 3.80c to 4.00c f. o. b. and still bidding 4.00c f. o. b. in instances for the entire production of some estates.

From the latest and most reliable figures available we estimate that Great Britain has secured since August 1st, inclusive of stocks from the United States, Cuba, Java, Mauritius, Demarara, British West Indies and elsewhere (not including new crop Cubas), a total of 680,000 tons raws, semi-refined and refined. The present refining capacity of Great Britain is 80,000 tons per month and will need to be increased even if raw sugar goes into consumption to a considerable extent.

Placing the requirements for consumption of all sugar for six months, from August 1st, at 125,000 tons per month—say 750,000 tons for six months—supplies and demands are about equal for six months, but Great Britain is evidently intent on looking further ahead in case the war continues, and hence the interest shown already in securing a considerable amount of sugar from the next Cuba crop.

The consumption of the United Kingdom is largely increased or diminished by the range of current prices. For instance, the consumption of Great Britain for the six months, August to January inclusive, 1912-1913, was 761,797 tons under high prices; while for the same six months of 1913-14 the consumption rose to 934,148 tons under approximately 1 1/2 per lb. lower price than in 1912. The present six months consumption under high prices should compare more nearly with that of 1912-13 than 1913-14.

The British Government Regulation of prices has not been received with much favor by the British merchants, as prices are made to fluctuate too frequently. On the 7th of August the retail price limit was 4 1/2d. (9c per lb.) for Granulated and 5d. (10c) for Lump; August 11th, 3 3/4d. (7.50c) and 4 1/4d. (8.50c); Aug. 12, 4 1/2d. (9c) and 5d. (10c); Aug. 13 to 21, 3 3/4d. (7.50) and 4 1/4d. (8.50c). Wholesale limits have been reduced from 36s. 0d. (7.84c) to 26s. 0d. September 2nd (5.67c per lb.)

Kealia Realized Big

Kealia [Colonel Spalding's] plantation netted well on recent sugar shipments. Only one lot got into the market at 6.02, but several shipments came in for high figures, bringing the average for the year up to quite a nice dot. Kealia has something like 500 tons to be shipped.

Planting Peanuts

Hon. J. H. Coney is going into peanuts on quite a large scale this season, having realized satisfactorily on his last crop. He is planting both the American and Japanese varieties. The report that Mr. Coney has succeeded, by a process of grafting, in producing onions with a peanut flavor, however, is officially denied.

TURKEY'S ACTION NOT UNFRIENDLY

Washington—Turkey's closing of the Straits of Dardanelles to the United States warship North Carolina, which is taking gold for the relief of tourists now in Europe, is regarded in administration circles as a friendly action. There has been some comment to the contrary but the state department is satisfied that Turkey's note to this government explaining that the Straits had been mined and that it would be unwise for a vessel with as great a draft as the North Carolina to enter them, is made in the best of faith.

The administration believes that this attitude is further emphasized by the frank statement of the Turkish government that in addition to the hazard of the sailing of the Straits by a friendly nation's vessels, the question of precedent is also involved.

Turkey's implied contention that to admit the North Carolina at this time might later embarrass the Porte when other warships sought admission is not without its weight with the state department.

In any event no unfriendliness has been caused in official circles, and the Turkish grand vizier's proposal that the naval yacht Scorpion be used to convey the gold consigned to Americans in Turkey through the Straits, has been indorsed.

LATEST WIRELESS NEWS

London—A supreme test between the Germans on the east and the Russians is about to be made. Two huge armies are in touch, and the battle is momentarily expected. The Russians in great strength have occupied a line along the whole western frontier of Poland, extending to East Prussia and Galicia. Outposts of both armies have clashed on a front of more than 100 miles, and both sides realize that the hour has come for the main trial of strength there. The Russians have the advantage, being on ground of their own choosing. They have captured all of the important positions around Prozenysl and have completely isolated that stronghold, which is strongly entrenched. Farther west near the Silesian border troops of the Czar have reached Cracow, the extreme south end of main German line, and have commenced a siege.

Saturday Afternoon.

London—A fortnight of incessant and furious battling leaves the battle of the Aisne undecided. German detachments are superlatively good; their strength being one of the most remarkable features of the campaign.

Paris—Heavy and furious fighting is taking place between East and West wings of all armies. We have advanced slightly between Soissons and the River Aisne. The enemy crossed the Meuse to St. Michel in Woerwe region. In the south we continue to make progress; the fourteenth German corps has been forced to retire after great losses.

Bordeaux—Ministry of Marine announces that a French gunboat has surprised and occupied Coco Beach in Kameroun, German West Africa.

London—Telegrams from the Russian frontier say that the siege of Cracow has been begun by the Czar's forces.

Rome—The Mediterranean fleet of the Allies is bombarding Cattro on the Adriatic. (Austrian port.)

London—Correspondents at the front report that the French are using explosive gas in shells, something new to warfare. Men are found dead standing in an upright position, without wounds and with their fingers on their gun's trigger.

Terrible scenes are reported in the rear of the armies. They claim insufficient facilities for the care of the wounded who are without food or attention for two days, and wounds festering from lack of surgical attention.

Honolulu—The steamer Makura, of the C.-A. S. S. line, has arrived in Vancouver. She is said to have reached Hawaiian waters and then changed her course without stopping in Honolulu.

MEXICAN WAR IS ON

Douglas, Arizona—Villa opened hostilities yesterday by routing the Constitutionalists forces under General Hill near Santa Barbara Hills. The latter are under full retreat toward Santa Cruz and destroying bridges along line of flight.

Presideo—Mexican forces are clashing near Torreon, Mexico. Mexico City—President Carranza has issued a statement in which he says Villa is asking impossibilities, and adds that the Constitutionalists forces are ready for any emergency.

Washington—Although it was thought that the split between Villa and Carranza could be patched up, Villa remains silent, except with statement that he will guarantee safety of foreigners.

San Antonio, Texas—A committee of military chiefs has been selected by Carranza to mediate grievances.

Washington—American troops will be held at Vera Cruz on account of severed means of communication with Mexico City.

THE EUROPEAN WAR.

Paris—The Germans are falling back on the right and left wings, after having gained temporary success against The Angle of the Allies. At Novons the Germans re-inforced by three corps from the left forced back the French line, nearly cutting it. If this had been accomplished it would have left large forces at Peronne and Roisel separated from the main army. Reinforcements were hurried into the fight, however, and the French resumed the offensive, driving the Germans back and regaining much of the lost ground.

The enveloping movement continues successfully, and the enemy is falling back from the attacks of the Allies. The offensive tactics of the Allies is growing in force and the situation is now such that the Germans must either fall back towards their entrenched lines at Mauberge or have their possible retreat into Belgium prevented.

The center remains practically unchanged. A spy in the French lines caught signalling to the Germans the position of the French, enabling the enemy to secure exact information of positions and movements, was shot.

Reuter's despatch says an aeroplane dropped three bombs into the ship-building yard at Boulogne, but damage was slight.

A LONDON REPORT

London—The Admiralty issued orders yesterday that makes military and naval dispositions and interests paramount to saving life in cases of ships attacked by sub-marines. Ships so attacked must look out for themselves, and other ships must look to their own safety in the same manner as if those ships were engaged with other ships in battle.

Friday Afternoon.

Honolulu—The new Marconi Wireless Station was successfully opened yesterday at Kahuku. Rates to San Francisco as follows: Rush messages 25cts per word. Night messages one dollar for first 13 words; each additional, 8 cents. Week end lettergrams, 25 words, $1.50; each additional word, six cents. Week end lettergrams to be accepted only on Saturday—delivery on Monday morning. Land and cable connections with Western Union Telegraph Co. for delivery with all parts of the world.

Washington—Attorney General Gregory has reversed request of McReynolds for resignation of Judge Clemons. Request withdrawn this afternoon. U. S. troops are to be withdrawn from Mexico in ten days. It is believed the Carranza-Villa trouble can be fixed up.

Wilson thinks it inopportune to talk of second term now.

Berlin—Only minor engagements are now taking place. No news from Belgium and East Prussia.

London—Snow storms and inclement weather have caused a complete cessation of war operations in Alsace and Lorraine. Rains and heavy floods reported to have a similar effect in Galicia, Austria and Eastern France. Athletes have been appealed to for donations of sweaters and heavy clothing.

Rome—It is reported that Switzerland has refused request of Germany to send three army corps across Swiss territory. If neutrality is violated, Italy will join forces with the Allies. The British Admiralty reports having captured Frederick Wilhelm Harbor in German New Guinea.

Ostend—A Zeppelin has dropped three bombs in this city. Much property damaged, but no fatalities reported. Explosions caused panic.

Rome—A despatch from Basle says the Germans lost ten thousand killed and fifteen thousand wounded in the last attack on Verdun.

Paris—The Germans have sent three corps from their center and from Lorraine and the Vosges line to reinforce the right wing.

Bordeaux—The Germans again attacked Rheims Cathedral last night.

Honolulu—The following stock transactions are reported today: 15 Olaa, 47 1/2; 520 Hilo Comm., 2 1/2; 260 H. C. & S., 32; 100 Oahu, 19; 50 Ewa, 23 1/2; 5 Mut. Tel., 20. Wallua will pay two dollars a share October, November and December fifteenth. Ewa will pay extra dividends of forty cents per share in addition to regular dividend of ten cents on last days of October, November and December.

Washington—Secretary Daniels, of the Navy, closed the big Marconi wireless plant at Siasconset yesterday for receiving and delivering a message from a British cruiser to an agent of the British government in New York City.

WILL ATTACK TOMORROW

Tokio—Japan will no longer treat with Germans for the peaceful evacuation of Tsing Tau, but will begin a general attack on the fortifications at daylight tomorrow morning. The Japanese troops are restless to begin. Sixteen hundred British troops landed near Kiauchau are awaiting the opening of the battle.

PEKING CONFIRMS

Peking—The English-Japanese attack on Tsing Tau is set for tomorrow. Japanese outposts have crossed into German territory. Germans maintain their positions.

FROM THE GREAT BATTLE

London—The great battle along the Aisne, which had halted during the day, was actively resumed in the afternoon, the German right being heavily reinforced and making strong offensive movement against the Allies, whose turning movement is evidently causing the enemy uneasiness.

The Germans attacked in force and for a long time made considerable headway in the direction of Peronne, attempting to cut the line. That portion of the Allied army which had advanced to La Catalet, north of St. Quentin, fell back until reinforcements could arrive, when they in turn advanced, driving the Germans out of Peronne and definitely occupying that position. In the German attack, and the counter attack of the Allies, fighting was furious near Berry-au Bac, on the Aisne, north of Rheims. The Allies made a determined effort to dislodge a concentrated force of Germans entrenched; the Allies meeting some slight success, but it has been proven difficult to dislodge the Germans. The attack by the Germans on the Allies' right has been checked.

THE MEXICAN PILIKIA

Vera Cruz—Telegraph and telephone communication with the City of Mexico was cut yesterday, the reason being unknown. Consul General Canada has requested that General Funston and the United States forces be permitted by the United States government to remain indefinitely at Vera Cruz.

NOTORIETY MAD LADY

Washington—Colonel Roosevelt's daughter, Mrs. Derby, the wife of a doctor, will leave her six months old baby with its father and go to France to act as nurse to the wounded.

REPORT FROM BERLIN

Berlin—It is officially announced here today that the German heavy artillery is successfully bombarding the French position of Troyon, Lesparoches, Camp des Romains and Lioumoille.

The cathedral at Rheims was only slightly damaged. The German admiralty maintains that the three British cruisers were sunk by a submarine single handed.

LORD KITCHENER

London—Kitchener has been appointed rector of Edinburgh University in order to be eligible to return to the Cabinet position left by him when he became secretary of war.

Honolulu—Sugar: Raws, 5.02.

Marconi Wireless station opened today. Messages sent to coast reached their destination promptly.

London—Military experts point out that the fall of Jaroslaw into the hands of the Russians completes the first stage of the most colossal military operations ever undertaken. Germans pursuing the Russians in East Prussia have met with disaster at Subi. Germans are evacuating East Prussia to reinforce the line at Kalsz, on Polish border.

Tokio—A British expeditionary force under Bernardiston landed yesterday at Laysan Bay and are moving against Tsing Tau.

Paris—The Allies have menaced the German attempt to cut off army operations around Nancy. Germans are losing on the right advance. Now occupy Peronne. Allies are also advancing on left between the rivers Somme and Oise, toward Noye. [Noyant]

London—Sixty British naval officers were lost by the sinking of three British cruisers in the North sea. Chief gunner of the Cressy says the attack was made by five submarines and one destroyer. The Germans are making an attempt to pierce the lines of the French fronts linking Verdun with Toul across North East of Verdun. This has failed. Center and left of Allies now feel confident. Socialists in Berlin are turning on the Kaiser and have issued posters calling "Down with Kaiser; we want peace."

Petrograd—The fall of Jaroslaw is confirmed.

Honolulu—The following stock transactions are confirmed today: 20 Olaa, 5; 40 do., 4 1/2; 110 Olaa, 4 3/4; 115 McBryde, 4 3/4; 10 Onomea, 32; 10 H. C. & S., 32; 25 H. B. & M., 17; 46 Oahu, 19; 25 Pioneer, 24 1/2; 20 Ewa, 23 1/4.

LINGERIE AT ITS LOVELIEST.

Three new and charming nightgown designs are shown in the drawing. The gown on the upper left is of linen lawn with hand-embroidered inserts outlined by narrow "Val" lace. Between these motifs on the front and back are clusters of pin tucks. "Val" lace insertion and edging outline the neck and trim the sleeves. The gown just below this is simply but daintily trimmed with butterfly motifs of fine embroidery in an encircling band of "Val" lace. On the right is a design, elaborate in effect but extremely simple in development. This consists of two lengths of shadow lace with square scallop, placed with scallops touching, the result being a hollow square showing a satin ribbon which passes beneath. The joining of the squares is hidden by a narrow shirred ribbon. This gown is made of Persian lawn.

DIVIDENDS PAID BY PLANTATIONS

The following is the dividend history of various plantations for last year and this:

Ewa Plantation Co., January 4, 1913, reduced its dividends from 12½ per cent to 9 per cent, or 15c a share monthly; last half of year reduced it to 5c a month, with an extra 10c in December making 8 per cent for the year. This year it has been paying 10c a month. Now it announces an extra dividend of 2 per cent a month for the last three months of the year. Haku Sugar Co. had been paying 50c monthly, or 6 per cent per annum, until September 22, 1914, when it declared $1, beginning October 1.

Hawaiian Agricultural Co. paid $1.50 monthly on par value $100 for the first six months of 1913, and 75c for the rest of the year. It lately declared $2 a month for four months beginning September 20, instead of 50c it had been paying since the first of this year.

Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co., par value $25, paid 35c a month for the first half of 1913 and 15c for the last half. The latter rate was continued this year, but is now increased to 15c, beginning October 5, with an extra dividend of 50c on that date.

Hawaiian Sugar Co., $20 par value, paid 30c monthly last year until December, when its dividend was cut to 20c. It has now declared 30c, beginning October 15, with an extra dividend of 80c on that date.

Honokaa Sugar Co. discontinued paying dividends on September 15, 1910, and has paid none since.

Honouliuli Sugar Co., paid $1 a month or 12 per cent per annum, up to June, 1913, dividends being discontinued in July. It paid a quarterly dividend of $2 a share for the quarter ending June 30, 1914, and now it is paying $2 a month for four months, beginning September 5.

Hutchinson Sugar Plantation Co. paid 30c a month on its $25 shares the first three months of 1913, 10c for the next seven months and nothing since, but will resume with a 15c monthly dividend on October 10.

Kahuku Plantation Co., shares $20, paid 10c a month for the first eleven months of 1913, and 5c in December. Ten cents monthly has been paid this year.

Kekaha Sugar Co. is paying 50c a share monthly, par value $100.

Koloa Sugar Co. has paid no dividends since November 30, 1912, but last asking price quoted for its shares was 140.

McBryde Sugar Co., last year paid no dividends to date.

Oahu Sugar Co. last year paid 15c a month in January and February, 10c in March and April and then passed dividends. It lately declared a resumption with 10c a share, beginning October 15. Par value $20.

Oloa Sugar Co. has paid no dividends to date.

Onomea Sugar Co., par value $20, paid 30c a month for the first four months of 1913, and 15c for the remaining eight. Dividends were discontinued at the beginning of this year, but resumed in June at 40c a quarter. Lately it declared a special monthly dividend of 75c for three months, beginning September 20, action being deferred on the December dividend.

Paanahu Sugar Plantation Co. paid 20c in January, 1913, after which dividends were discontinued. It has now resumed with 15c a month beginning October 10, the par value of its shares being $20.

Pacific Sugar Mill has paid no dividends since January 1, 1912.

Paia Plantation Co., par value $100, has increased its monthly dividend from 50c to $1, beginning Oct. 1 ensuing.

Pepeekeo Sugar Co., par value $100 paid $1 Dec. 15, 1913, reduced its dividends one half Jan. 15 this year but declared $3 a share monthly for four months beginning Sept. 15.

Pioneer Mill Co. paid 20c a month on its $20 shares for the first four months of 1913 and 10c for the rest of the year. It began this year with 20c, which was later cut in two, but will now pay 20c beginning October 1.

Representative C. C. Carlin, of Virginia, framer of the anti-trust bills in Congress, one of the trio of ranking members of the House Judiciary Committee.

Mr. J. A. R. Vieira, manager of the Vieira Jewelry Company, wishes to announce that he will gladly call at homes on Kauai with his sample lines of jewelry and watches. Telephone appointments made at the hotels. He will remain at the Fairview, Lihue, until Wednesday, the 30th. Will be in Koloa until October 2; at Mr. J. I. Silva's in Eleele, until the 7th, and in Waimea until the 9th.

Bids Wanted

Sealed tenders will be received up to the hour of 12 noon, October 15, 1914 by the Board of Commissioners for the Territory of Hawaii of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at the office of the chairman, 1065 Bishop St., Honolulu, T. H., for the sole privilege of selling postcards, curios, and Hawaiian Souvenirs in the Hawaii Building during the period of the Exposition, which is to be held at San Francisco from February to December 1915. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for 5% of the amount offered for the concession. The Board of Commissioners reserve the right to require the successful bidder to submit samples of all goods to be sold, and to refuse leave to the successful bidder to sell such goods as shall seem to them unsuitable.

"Ah!" he said to her, over their ice-cream, "it is very sweet, but not so sweet as you."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

(In this column, continuing until election day, will appear the cards of candidates for the Hawaiian Legislature. Voters are urged to read them over carefully each week, and act accordingly).

FOR THE SENATE

Kekaha, Kauai.

Sept. 15, 1914.

To The Voters Of Kauai:

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the voters of Kauai for the support given me in the primary for the Republican nomination for the Senate.

I feel that I can rely upon my past record in the Senate as a legitimate and reasonable basis of appeal to the voters of Kauai for their support at the polls in November

Very truly yours,

E. A. KNUDSEN.

HON. J. H. CONEY.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE

To the Voters of Kauai:

I beg to acknowledge, with thanks, the support given me in all the precincts in the primary for the nomination on the Republican ticket for the House.

Soliciting your individual and united support, in the campaign, and at the polls in November, I am,

Cordially yours,

J. H. CONEY,

Representative Sixth District.

Sept. 15, 1914.

FOR THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

To the Voters of Kauai:

I take this occasion to thank everyone who voted for me in the primary and gave me the nomination as a Republican candidate for the House of Representatives.

If elected, I promise the people of this island a vigorous and intelligent administration of their affairs.

I solicit your support and votes at the regular election in November.

Sincerely yours,

JAMES K. KULA
