PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, NOV. 24, 1893.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The usual outrages in which our so-called honest and stable government apparently revels are committed day after day. The latest instance which has come to our notice is the cancelling of the commission held by Mr. J. W. Luning as Notary Public. Mr. Luning is we understand a firm supporter of constitutional government and he has undoubtedly been a thorn—and a pretty prickly one—in the eyes of the P. G.—On the 21 inst. he received the following letter signed by Mr. Hassinger the chief clerk of the Interior on behalf of that immaculate political freak who is termed a minister in the cabinet of Mr. Dole.

J. W. Luning Esq.
Honolulu.

Sir:—I am directed by His Excellency the Minister of the Interior to inform you, that your commission as a Notary Public for the Island of Oahu has been this day cancelled.

I have the honor,
To be Your obed't serv't,
J. A. HASSINGER,
Chief Clerk, Int. Dep't.

So writes the only Hassinger on behalf of Minister (Great Scott!!) King, he being presumably unable to write anything and the commission of Mr. Luning as Notary Public apparently is cancelled, although, no official announcement has been made of the fact.

Mr. Luning who by the way doesn't care a cent for the commission or its cancellation disliked the arbitrary manner in which the unjust and unwarranted action against him was committed and he instructed his attorney to write an acknowledgment of the insult to Minister King. Subsequently the following letter was sent to Mr. J. A. King on November the 22nd. Presumably, His Excellency is sufficiently educated to read the English of it.

Chas. Creighton,
Attorney-at-law.
Honolulu, H.I. Nov. 22, 1893.

Mr. J. A. King.

Sir.—Mr. J. W. Luning, my client has handed me a letter from your clerk Hassinger in which the information is conveyed that Mr. Luning's commission as Notary Public has been cancelled.

Your actions are extremely autocratic especially when no reasons are assigned for said removal. While acknowledging that the law invests the Minister of Interior with the right to cancel a Notary's commission yet I claim that this right cannot be used in such an arbitrary manner as you have seen fit to do in this instance.

Please advise me of your reasons.

Yours truly,

CHARLES CREIGHTON.

Mr. Luning or Mr. Creighton have of course so far seen no response to the above published letter and the dismissal of Mr. Luning will simply go on record, as another of the outrageous, corrupt, and indispensible actions of our immaculate and highly respectable (?) government.

As far as Mr. Luning is concerned we need only assure him that he will very shortly be a Notary while Mr. J. A. King will be—well where he belongs and ought to be.

The Star is really getting to be a hopelessly black-guarding sheet a while ago the Queen was reviled because she was sued for a debt which Holy Willie Hall claimed was due to his firm. The Queen from whom the Provisional Government under the paternal protection of J. L. Stevens, and under the management of such a specimen of humanity, as W. O. Smith has stolen and robbed everything which constitutionally was hers, raised sufficient money on her real estate with which she paid every cent owed by her. She is now being abused and black-guarded by the Star, because she acted as an honest debtor and liquidated her debts, and the whole tenor of the mortgage on which she honored the money needed, is published in full by the ex-McGrewsome sheet.

The publication of that mortgage doesn't hurt the Queen one bit. But if we should sink ourselves to the same low level as the organ of the annexation club now stands on, we might make some extracts from the books of the registrar of conveyances—there are no fees to be paid now thanks to the Star and the clever minister of the Interior—which might be of some interest to the people who yet believe in the solvency of the individual members of the P. G. How would this do for a heading:

Samuel M. Damon's debts. The P. G. Minister of Finance mortgaged to His "friends." Startling disclosures from the Registrar's book or we might spare a column to explain:

Where is W. O. Smith financially? The Attorney-General hasn't got a bean. Disclosures from Mr. Thrum's bibles or we the Advisory Council and put a price on Emmeluth's pine-apples and tin-tools—all according to the Registrar's books—but we prefer not to follow the example of the professional black-mailer whom Mr. Emmeluth and others pay whenever Saturday comes around and we shall therefore reserve our space for better purposes than for the copying off of the books in the office of records in the Hawaiian Kingdom.

LITTLE THURSTON!

Lorin A. Thurston has had an interview with Mr. Gresham, and having lost the coins of his backers on the cyclorama, and having lost the confidence even of his salary-paying supporters he is ugly and he gives lots of advice to Mr. Gresham. Let it be remembered that the courageous missionary from Makawao is not here himself, but that the valor of the well-known coward who hid himself in 1889 in a forced measure of the distance.

CLEVELAND CAN'T DO IT.

HE DOES IT.

We publish part of a letter which was received by a gentleman in this town from one of the leading citizens in the United States.

"MY DEAR:—

When you receive this your constitutional government has been restored and Queen Liliuokalani is again the ruler of Hawaii. I trust and with me a friendly administration at Washington that she will have learned a lesson from her recent experience and will always remember that a constitutional monarch is not a partisan politician. However I did not start this letter for the purpose of lecturing you or your friends, but simply to inform you that Cleveland has instructed Mr. Albert Willis—a very able gentleman—to restore your government as it was previous to the outrageous outbreak of Mr. Stevens. You need not worry over the abuses heaped on the President through the Republican papers. He is to-day the grandest American alive and any attempt to oppose him will prove utterly fruitless. Mr. Cleveland's policy both in regard to your little country as in regard to the affairs of our own land has the recommendation and support of all honest citizens, be they Republicans or Democrats. An independent government in Hawaii will be preserved and guaranteed by the United States administration, the present one or the one to come in the future, in spite of any measures taken by the irresponsible lot of men who call themselves Americans, and although expatriated and disowned, attempt to run your fair country.

* * * I ask you to repose the utmost confidence in the ability and integrity of the present representative of the United States to Hawaii-nee, and the amiable Hawaiian people among whom I count so many good friends. Yours—

W. Q. Gresham the man who according to Chas. L. Carter and Frank Hastings was sold for annexation has made a report to President Cleveland in regard to Hawaii and has virtually accepted the precis of Hon. Paul Neumann Her Majesty's envoy to America as his guidance for his recommendations. The actions of that double-dyed scoundrel John L. Stevens have been utterly and emphatically repudiated, and the illegality of the course of the American forces have been fully recognized and will be repudiated. The five commissioners of the P. G. who went with a great blast of triumphing trumpets to Washington have been termed liars, and the revolution here is stated to have been done through force and fraud on behalf of the representatives of the United States. The HOLOMUA needs say very little on the report of Gresham which is based upon the searching investigation of Blount. We have known and have indicated all along what the course of the United States would be—the only thing that has been a constant surprise to us is that the men who claimed that they knew American politics could not realize what the outcome of this business would be. When the "leaders" of the 1449 alleged Americans who were supposed to be members of the annexation club go to California for the purpose of impeaching Mr. Cleveland—as we are told that they will—they will probably find out that when they land in San Francisco they have lost their identity—and some of them will be d—d glad if the Police Department of that city has lost it too.

The committee of safety which made the "innocent" John L. Stevens land "troops" consisted of the following patriotic Americans residing in Hawaii and possessing lots of interests here:

- Henry E. Cooper—(now a Judge)
- Andrew Brown—(from Scotland, now Superintendent of Water Works).
- Theodore F. Lansing—(from the Vaterland, now member of the Board of Health).
- John Emmeluth—(Emperor William's meat—if he ever catches him President of the pap-fed Star).
- C. Bolte (Solid Americans im-Ed. Suhr (ported from Bremen).
- Henry Waterhouse—(a Vandemonian off-spring—from America).
- W. C. Wilder—(from Canada—one boy, Deputy Attorney-General—one boy Consul-General—one boy—well, General!)
- F. W. McChesney—(retired American.)
- W. O. Smith—(Attorney-General until yesterday—An American when he has money; a kanaka when "busted.")
- Lorin A. Thurston—(no comments needed but lots of salary).
- W. R. Castle—(Whoa, Emma!)
- J. A. McCandless—(who in h—is he).

HE WASN'T READY

Editor Smith is still gathering evidence to prove the libels which he has published against C. B. Wilson at the instigation of some of his pretended friends. Mr. Smith who was going to summon the Queen and generally raise h— waived examination and allowed his case to go over to the February Term. Will he be ready then?

EXIT THE P. G.

The leading men of the revolutionary government are running around to-day and showing a dispatch from Mr. L. A. Thurston the Minister (very) extraordinary to the Dole administration. The gist of Mr. Thurston's cablegram is full of comfort to the men who have stolen the money of the taxpayers (and who will have to repay it) for the purpose of feeding the professional showman—caught a cold on the 17th of January and was unable to assist in the revolution of Mr. J. L. Stevens, but who, since has been enabled by the corrupt government of the alleged American filibusters to draw a handsome salary, and at the same time run a dime museum and a shop for the peddling of curiosities from the volcano. Brother Thurston telegraphs to Brother Dole: "Sandy!! old boy, our names are mud. Cleveland and his cabinet have announced their Hawaiian policy, and that is, the forced restoration of Liliuokalani. It is going to be done without bloodshed, so you tell the boys to keep quiet and submit to the forces of the United States." Telegraphing being expensive and the cyclorama not having turned out such a "bonanza as our special friend the "druggist" would perhaps make us know, Brother Thurston doesn't add what he had in his mind, but we are even able to read that although the mind of the "druggist" is beyond our interpretation. But Lorin Thurston wanted to say something to this effect as the following dispatch. Sandy! don't make a fool of yourself I am not coming back myself, but you make your peace with the "old lady" and rub the back of (here is a blur but our expert made it out as a row of letters looking like ECMJOCPC KAPPSPTHDAWGT CTG) and you better "see" that d——HOLOMUA man."

Of course we haven't got the authentic business, but we feel assured that Mr. Thurston would probably be capable of writing anything which would tend to save his scalp and the coins collected (but not distributed) for the benefit of the deluded stockholders in the Thurston's stockcompanies.

LOCAL NEWS.

The editor of the Tiser repeats his murderous threat this morning. Enough of that, old man.

It is generally understood, that the "official visit," yesterday, was made to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and not to the "President."

When a Diplomatic Representative of a foreign nation, has official audience with the Head of another friendly nation, it is customary to receive such Representative with military honors due his rank.

The Star calls the English sailors of the Champion "young boys about twenty years old." That may be true, but the Star should remember that the "kids" are Britishers everyone of them.

This morning's screecher, in its magnanimous way, announces the visit of Her Britannic Majesty's Minister Resident, and Consul-General, and Captain Eustace Rooke, to the Minister of Foreign Affairs yesterday as follows:—"British Minister Resident Wodehouse, accompanied by Capt. Rooke of the Champion, paid an official visit to President Dole yesterday morning."

Good-by Billy.

It is generally reported that Mr. W. O. Smith has resigned from his position as Attorney-General.

If there is any truth in this report we can only compliment Mr. Dole and his government, but we can hardly realize the possibility of Mr. Smith performing such a remarkable and gentlemanly act. Of course, if Billy really has gone and done it again and become a private citizen and simply a partner in the drug store of the gentleman who doesn't write rot for the Chronicle—we have no more use for him and the learned Attorney will not be known in our columns any more except he succeeds in making himself conspicuous once more.

We are informed that Mr. C. L. Carter has been appointed Attorney-General. If that appointment had been made about seven months ago, the situation would perhaps have been entirely changed.

HERE WE GO AGAIN.

The volunteers have all been called on duty. The HOLOMUA is frightfully scared. For God's sake let us see some Americans.

LEPROSY AND VACCINATION

TO THE EDITOR OF THE AUSTRALASIAN.

Sir:—My attention has been called to the brief notice in The Australasian of my recently published volume, The Recrudescence of Leprosy and its Causation, and I shall be glad of space for further explanation. It is needless to say that the question of the connection between vaccination and leprosy is one of urgent and imperial importance, and must sooner or later command the attention of everyone interested in the public health, and in well-being of our vast colonial populations.

Evidence to show that there is such a connection was laid before the Select Parliamentary Committee on Vaccination as early as 1871, by Dr. R. Hall Bakewell, then visiting physician to one of the largest leper hospitals in the West Indies, and vaccinator-general for Trinidad, but the idea was pookpooked by the chiefs of the poor law boards of that time (who had probably never seen a case of leprosy amongst them), and the evil was allowed to go on unchecked until it has reached its present alarming dimensions. Evidence of a much wider experience has been laid before the Royal Vaccination Commission now sitting in London under the presidency of the Lord Chancellor.

The eminent bacteriologist, Dr. Edward Arning, of Hamburg, who spent three years in the Sandwich Islands studying the causes of the serious increase of this scourge, says—in a paper read before the Berlin Medical Congress in 1890, and published in January, 1891, on the transmission of leprosy—that "a very remarkable accumulation of fresh leprosy cases took place in 1871-73 at Lahaina, on the island of Maui, Hawaii, about a year after a general arm-to-arm vaccination. From 50 to 60 cases occurred suddenly in this locality, which up to that time had been comparatively free." Evidence pointing in the same direction has been given with particulars of cases of invaccinated leprosy by Professor W. T. Gairdner, M. D., F. R. S., of Glasgow; Dr. John D. Hillis, of Demerara; Professor Montgomery, of San Francisco; Dr. Rodger S. Chew, of Calcutta; Dr. S. P. Impey, of Robben Island, South Africa; and other well-known authorities. Dr. Arning, Dr. Hansen, and Professor Montgomery, discovered the leprosy bacilli in the virus of vaccinated lepers. At a meeting of the Microscopical Society of Calcutta, reported in the Englishman of Calcutta, 23rd December, 1890. Dr. W. J. Simpson read a paper on the Bacillus Lepre. Dr. Simpson said he had vaccinated three lepers with vaccine lymph, and had found the bacilli in very large numbers in the lymph obtained from the pustules formed on these patients. He had blistered a patient over a leprosy tubercle and got bacilli in the serum from the blister, but they were not nearly so numerous as in the vaccine lymph. As all bacterial diseases are inoculable these experiments show the danger of vaccination.

I am aware of the numerous attempts (in my judgement most cruel and unwarrantable) to inoculate human beings with leprosy and syphilis per se, and of the alleged negative results. The late Dr. George Hogan, who had given many years close attention to the subject, maintained that the leprosy virus is mixed with vaccine lymph as in the process of vaccination, the transmission is easily made, and this will account for the alarming increase of leprosy in countries where leprosy is endemic, and vaccination is enforced. About 120 pages of my volume, with high medical testimony and particulars of numerous cases of invaccinated leprosy, are devoted to this part of the case.

During my visit to Hawaii, in October, 1890, several members of the Honolulu Legislature, and other influential residents, begged me to make known the facts concerning this special danger, and to assist them to get rid of a medical ordinance which was neither adapted to the native race nor to their climatic conditions, and was decimating the population with the most hideous and destructive of human afflictions.

Allow me to conclude by thanking you for calling attention to the subject through your influential columns.—Yours, etc.,

WILLIAM TEBB.

THE FRENCH PACIFIC CABLE.

In response to representations from Mr. Patterson, Lord Ripon, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has addressed a circular letter to the colonial governments condemning the action of the eastern colonies respecting the New Caledonia cable. He states that Her Majesty's Government cannot but view with regret the action taken by the Governments of Queensland and New South Wales, as it implies a departure from the principles with regard to colonial cohesion and the consideration of Imperial interests, to which prominence was given in the discussions of the Colonial Conference of 1887. They share the views expressed by the Victorian Government that inconvenience, loss, and, indeed, danger, to both colonial and Imperial interests, might arise in time of war if the Pacific cable passed through New Caledonia.

In reply to this rebuke, Sir George Dibbs said that the Imperial authorities seemed to forget that the Eastern Extension service ran half over the globe, and through a tremendous lot of foreign territory. He agreed with the views of the Home Government, and held firmly that a separate line passing through English or protected territory was absolutely necessary. He had discussed with Mr. Mackenzie Bowell the need for a new cable to Canada, and he believed something would come of the matter. The New Caledonia line would wake the British Government up to the necessity of constructing a separate cable to Vancouver, via New Zealand, Fiji, Samoa, and Honolulu.

BUNDABERG, Monday.

The final splice of the cable was made yesterday, and the Francois Arago has returned to Bundaberg to land the surplus cable and renew her stores. She goes to Brisbane or Sydney to be docked prior to visiting Noumea for cargo. M. Ronillard and the principal officers of the expedition return to France by this month's mail steamer.

BRISBANE, Thursday.

A letter has been addressed by Mr. McKenzie Bowell, the Canadian Minister of Trade, the Premiers of the colonies enclosing a communication from Mr. Sandford Fleming, one of the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company on the cable question, and asking if the Australian Governments will send representatives to a conference to be held at some central position in the colonies to consider the subject before Mr. Bowell's departure.

Matter of Fact.

Mr. Faxon.—It has been figured that Jay Gould's fortune in silver dollars would require one hundred and fifty-six cars and eight locomotives to move it.

Mrs. Faxon.—Indeed! Where is it to be moved to?
