OAHU TO BE IMPREGNABLE

BRIGADIER GENERAL MURRAY MUCH PLEASED WITH FORTIFICATION WORK DONE BY WINSLOW AND OTWELL—SITES FOR MORE MORTAR BATTERIES ARE LOCATED—ARMY OFFICER TELLS OF PLANS FOR BARRACKS OF ARTILLERY THAT IS COMING.

When the defenses which are being worked on now by the U. S. Army men are completed, the Island of Oahu will be practically impregnable, according to a statement made by Brigadier General Murray this morning, as he was leaving for San Francisco in the S. S. Hilonian.

The General stated that he was very much pleased with the work which had been done here on the fortifications by Major Winslow and by Captain Otwell, Winslow's predecessor. In speaking of his visit, he said:

"There have been a good many matters to go over during my visit and besides a general inspection of the work which has already been done, there were a number of locations to be picked out. This work has been attended to, and I have also been able to take up a number of matters personally with Major Winslow which would have been hard to handle properly through correspondence.

"We selected the location for temporary barracks for the artillery companies which will reach here about the fifteen of next month. They will be of the same general character as the cantonment at what is known as Schofield barracks at Leijehna, but with some improvements. In addition to this the site was selected for the mortar battery at the harbor entrance, and for another mortar battery to protect the entrance to Pearl Harbor. The big rifles will be located at the Waikiki battery.

"The work has been going along very well indeed and I can state that I am very much pleased with what has been done. Yes, when the work here is completed we hope that the island will be impregnable to attack. Of course there will be further appropriations needed for this, but I believe that Congress will give us the money when it is necessary.

"The camp which will be built near Diamond Head will be simply a temporary affair to be used till the barracks at Waikiki have been built. That will be the main camp for the artillery, though when more funds are available I hope that we can construct permanent barracks at the different forts.

"I have enjoyed my stay here very much and can say the same for my family. We are all sorry that we cannot remain longer and hope to be able to return for a longer visit. The climate is delightful and we have been so well treated by the people here that we could not but enjoy it."

ROUNDTOP ROAD WILL BE BUILT

GREAT SCENIC HIGHWAY TO CONNECT WITH TANTALUS ROAD AT SUMMIT ABOUT TO BE CONSTRUCTED—WILL BE SIX PER CENT GRADE—CONSUMMATION OF ALEXANDER SCHEME IS TO BE BUILT WITH PRISON LABOR.

Governor Frear gave out today that the Government expected to go ahead with the building of the Roundtop scenic road. This is the proposition that the late Samuel T. Alexander was going to finance, but which he abandoned on seeing the "elegant" estimates of cost. As figured by the Government of that time, about ten years ago, the road would have been too expensive even for the generously disposed millionaires.

There have been considerable changes from the original route made on the map. It will go around to the right from the head of Makiki street, connecting with the Tantalus road back of Sugarloaf. Lately the Government constructed a road leading to the left and connecting with Tantalus road away down. As probably a six per cent grade will be made, there will be many turns and twists in the road. In consequence it will be fifty to 100 per cent longer than the route the bird flies.

It is intended, in connection with the building of the Roundtop road, to sell lots on the ridge back of J. P. Cooke's place above the Howard demesne.

There is no appropriation for the road but it is believed that it can be built with prison labor.

WAIMANALO JAPS QUIT RIOTING TO RETURN TO WORK

JARRETT ANTICIPATES FURTHER TROUBLE TONIGHT AND WILL RETURN OVER THE PALI—RESISTANCE TO ARREST OF RINGLEADERS OF ASSAULT ON LUNA DEVELOPED SERIOUS SITUATION IN WHICH LIVES OF OFFICERS WERE THREATENED.

Sheriff Jarrett this morning returned from Waimanalo, leaving everything quiet, following the riot of yesterday, the Japanese having returned to their labors in the field.

This evening, however, the Sheriff will return to the scene of the recent excitement, for he is of the opinion that the difficulty is not yet settled and anticipates some unlawful demonstration on the part of the laborers tonight.

He left ten men armed with rifles to protect the plantation property. Last night the Sheriff and fourteen armed men divided into two watches and patrolled the plantation headquarters.

A unique incident of yesterday's suppression of the trouble and the rescue of Sheriff Jarrett by reinforcements from town, was the snapping of photographs of the mob surrounding the office in which Jarrett was held prisoner with the interpreter, Townsend, a county officer, and the five ringleaders they had taken from the camp.

These photographs will be used by the Attorney-General's department in the prosecution of the rioters.

It was for this evidence that Jarrett delayed ordering the mob to disperse after his reinforcements had arrived, so that when the photographer, Williams, arrived with Deputy High Sheriff Doyle, some effective photographs might be taken.

In perspective, in years to come, the Waimanalo riot of yesterday will rank as a matter of greater seriousness than some of Hawaii's bloodless revolutions.

The attack on a luna by Japanese plantation laborers; Sheriff Jarrett's dash to the scene over the Pali in an auto; his capture of the ringleaders; his imprisonment with his prisoners in the plantation office where he was surrounded by three-hundred fanatics ready to go the limit of desperation if he attempted to take away the chief rioters; the call for reinforcements from town and the ride of mounted men and the swift rush of guards with bayoneted carbines in automobiles; and finally the arrival on the scene of excitement of Deputy High Sheriff Chester Doyle with representatives of the press who were called upon by the authorities to assist in suppressing the outbreak when the scene was reached; with Doyle's effective interpretation at the psychological moment, after his machine had charged the crowd and a dozen leaders had been literally snatched from the mob surrounding the Sheriff and made prisoners; all this make a thrilling story of a few hours of the most serious incident since the first trouble with Japanese plantation laborers a couple of months ago.

LUNA ASSAULTED.

On Sunday the Waimanalo laborers demanded the dismissal of a Japanese luna. Manager Chalmers refused. Yesterday the luna was assaulted and the plantation management phoned to town for police assistance. The Japanese laborers, as they have done before in defiance of all law, were constituting themselves court, judges jury and executioners in regard to any of their number who offended them. Sheriff Jarrett went in an auto to the scene, leaving the city at 10 a. m. accompanied by Interpreter Townsend, who is also an officer. Jarrett entered the camp and demanded the leaders of the assault on the luna.

MOB RESISTS.

The cry of the leaders was that if any prisoners were taken the whole mob must be taken. Jarrett, Townsend and Officer Jones of that district got five Japanese to the plantation office and tried to enter them in an auto to be taken to town. The mob jumped the auto, captured the prisoners and refused to allow them to be taken to town. The three police retreated with their prisoners in crowd through Townsend that he would pump lead into any Japanese who dared to try to enter the building.

SEHRIF SURROUNDED.

The three hundred and more laborers, muttering and threatening, surrounded the office and Jarrett was held a prisoner with his prisoners. He phoned for reinforcements and three mounted patrolmen and ten specials, most of them armed with carbines and revolvers, hastened over the sixteen miles of mountainous road to where the Sheriff was in peril of his life. Even upon their arrival the crowd still had sort of a command of the situation. The police fixed bayonets and threw guard about the plantation office.

CHARGED THE CROWD.

Then arrived Deputy High Sheriff Chester Doyle, two newspaper men and a photographer in Joe Clark's automobile and the machine, at Doyle's orders, charged the mob, Doyle and representatives of The Star and Advertiser, elbowing through the mass of excited Japanese to where Jarrett, backed by bayoneted carbines and revolvers, stood on the little veranda of the plantation office.

JARRETT HEMMED IN.

"What's the matter?" asked Doyle. "They've got me hemmed in," said Jarrett.

"Where are your prisoners?"

"I have five of the ringleaders of the attack on the luna inside the office."

"Can you pick from this mob some of the men who were foremost in resisting your trying to get away with your prisoners?"

"There's one, and another. This fellow with the face, he's one, too. There's one of the chaps that helped pull my prisoners out of the auto. He, too! And another!"

ELEVEN ARRESTS.

This was action. This was getting to business, for as fast as Jarrett identified the leaders of the attack on the automobiles, Doyle and the specials snatched the indicated Japanese from the crowd and rushed them into the office. In less than five minutes there were eleven prisoners taken, making sixteen in all, including the complaining witness who was held so he could not be tampered with.

DOYLE INVESTIGATES.

The new prisoners were lined up. One of the newspaper men took down the quick preliminary investigation in shorthand and another assisted with the guard.

Doyle went at the investigation in a manner that awoke the Japanese to a sense of awe.

"Take off your hat! Stand up straight! Now what were you doing in this crowd? Oh, you were, were you? You were just looking on. Very interesting! Well, you come to town with us." And so on, for they all lied palpably. One said he was a barber and wanted to be sure that none of his customers got hurt in the scrimmage; another thought he had a right to make sure his friends were guilty before he and the rest "permitted" them to be taken to town. Still another declared that he had followed along to see who was going to town; and another said they all wanted to go to town. Nobody had laid a hand on the luna; nobody had resisted the police; nobody had interfered with the prisoners, or attempted to do so, according to their perjured testimony. Chaurseur Lutz who drove Jarrett, and Jarrett himself, however, positively identified the gang of rioters and they were held prisoners.

ORDERED TO DISPERSE.

"I would advise," said Doyle, consulting with Jarrett, "that we now order the crowd to disperse. If they refuse, well, I guess you understand."

Big Bill Jarrett grinned, the door of the plantation office was opened, the three automobiles backed up to

WORK ON HILO HOTEL

FRED HARRISON LEAVES BY THE MAUNA KEA TO START WORK ON HAWAII'S HOSTELRY.

The work of renovating the Hilo hotel, which has been taken over by George Lyeurgus, will be started very quickly. Fred Harrison, the local contractor, left for Hilo this noon on the Mauna Kea and this will be one of the matters which he will take up at once. Plans are being drawn present for improvements to the building, the installation of a modern kitchen, and all other things which will bring the former hostelry up-to-date.

In addition to the work on the hotel, Harrison will look after the completion of the Masonic building in Hilo and the erection of the new building for Hackfeld and Company. He has all three jobs under his charge and will spend considerable time on Hawaii from now on till the work is completed.

SHORT HONEYMOON TAKEN IN PRISON

Livia Malahana and Malla Pipilani, the couple for whom a bench warrant was issued yesterday on their failure to appear for sentence for violating the Edmunds Act, were produced in the Federal court this morning. Harold Spencer, their attorney, informed the court that they had been married. Judge Dole took the fact as partial expiration of the offense and sentenced them to but one hour's imprisonment.

It would appear that, although the couple defiantly in appearance yesterday, under a promise of marriage when they pleaded guilty previously, they were not in fact married until this morning just before the court—not their court—opened. The ceremony took place in Marshal Hendry's office, where they were in custody, Rev. Motikawa being conveniently at hand to officiate.

A couple of Koreans have been landed in the tanks by Chief of Detectives Joe Leal on a charge of highway robbery, they having last night held up and robbed of his money another Korean whom they beat and who is now in a critical condition in the hospital.

Special Officers Reeves and Mederos who have since the beginning of the strike been stationed at Kahuku to prevent trouble, are in the city today, to return to their posts this evening.

An aged Hawaiian woman arrested in Kakaako on Sunday for conducting a blind-pig had her case nolle prosequed in police court this morning and is instead detained at the Kalhi receiving station.

THE LOG-BOOK

The next mail for the Coast should leave here by the Korea, which is due to sail either Monday night or Tuesday morning.

The sailing of the Hilonian this morning was attended by a large gathering of local people, the Hawaiian band being in attendance and the customary leis being greatly in evidence. The Matson vessel carried a full list of passengers and a large cargo of freight for the Coast as usual. Among those on board were Brigadier-General Murray and family, who have been here for the past eight days, having stopped over on their way from the Orient, the general to inspect the fortification work being done here.

The steamer Ocean Queen, with a cargo of phosphate from Ocean Island, is expected here at any time now. She was due here, according to cable advices, about July 15, but since it is hard to calculate just when she would be able to get away, it is thought that she might arrive a day or two ahead of time.

Captain Christiansen, of the Irrgard, is naturally rather displeased over the statement made in one of the local papers to the effect that the drunks on the German steamer Flensburg got their liquor from his vessel. That the trouble was caused by beer from the Flensburg is an assured fact, according to all who know anything in regard to the case. No one thinks for a moment that Captain Suhr or his first officer had anything to do with the sale of liquor on board the steamer, but it is just as certain that some one there did. The Irrgard has not the reputation of being a boozing vessel and not a single member of her crew has been under the influence of liquor since reaching port, so it rubs things in rather hard to have such insinuations made.

HE WILL BE THERE.

A tall thin man and a short, pudgy man were standing on the rear platform of a trolley car, and there had been no conversation between them, when the tall, thin man suddenly turned and said:
"Sir, I recognize you!"
"Well, what of it?" asked the other.
"Last summer, on the open cars, you always hogged the end seat."
"You bet I did."
"And dozens and dozens of times I had to climb over you."
"Yes, you did."
"And, sometimes, when I had an end seat, you would jump on to the running-board and yell to me to hitch along and give me a brutal shove."
"I remember."
"You were my terror all last summer, sir. I thought of you by day and dreamed of you by night. Sometimes I thought you had me by the throat, and I awoke with a scream."
"Good! Good!" chuckled the fat man.
"And are you going to be here this summer?"
"Right on the spot, sir."
"And after an end seat?"
"Harder than ever."
"Then I'll trade my house for a farm and leave town. I can't and won't stand it. Yes, sir, I'll leave the city on your account, and when I see it in the papers that you are dead, and your picture is there to prove it, then, sir, I may come back, but not until—no, sir—not until!"

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

FOR THE WEEK ENDED JUNE 26, 1909.
Honolulu, June 28, 1909.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The week was slightly warmer than the preceding one on Molokai; Oahu, excepting in the Koolaupoko district; Kauai, excepting in the Kawaihau district; Maui, excepting in the Lahaina district, and in the N. Kohala, Hamakua, N. Hilo and Kau districts of Hawaii.
The total rainfall for the week was above the average of ten or more years at all stations having such records on Kauai, Oahu, generally; in the Makawao district of Maui, and in the N. Kohala and portions of the Hamakua districts of Hawaii.
The following are the departures from the average, in inches, in the several districts: Hawaii—N. Kohala +0.14 to +0.30, Hamakua -0.58 to +0.08, N. Hilo -0.07 to 0.83, Puna -0.08, Kau -0.19, and N. Kona -0.04; Maui—Makawao +1.03, and Lahaina -0.02; Oahu—Koolauloa +0.28, Koolaupoko +0.14 to +1.27, Honolulu 0.00 to +1.52 and Ewa +0.10; and Kauai—Hanalei +0.33, Koloa +0.92, and Waimea +0.18.

OVER THIRTY-FIVE YEARS.

In 1873 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery, and infantile cholera. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. Nine chemists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. For sale by all dealers. ## NEW BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

Yesterday the first meeting of the reorganized Board of Education, representing for the first time in history, all the four larger islands, was held at the Education office. Little business was done, members occupying the time largely in denouncing the Legislature for placing the school-houses in charge of the counties.

Superintendent Babbitt said the functions of the Board were now merely advisory excepting in the control of teachers. He regretted the abolition of normal inspectors and promised to submit a scheme whereby a supervising principal will take their place to the January meeting. It was voted that teachers be directed to prepare lists of material and supplies needed in their schools.

All the commissioners were present, namely: A. F. Judd and Mrs. May Wilcox, of Oahu; John J. Moir and Miss Ella H. Paris, of Hawaii; W. H. Rice, of Kauai, and W. O. Aiken, of Maui.

THE BASEBALL SEASON.

Why does the office boy appear with features drawn with pain, declaring that he feels so bad he must go home again?

Why does the sudden, awful ache the clerk's poor head invade, requiring him to quit his work and seek the doctor's aid?

Why does the cashier come around with tale of some dear friend Or relative whose funeral he must perforce attend?

And why should writer's cramp just now the stout bookkeeper seize, so that he needs must quit his pen and elsewhere go for ease?

Why should the whole force all at once become of illa the prey? Just let me whisper in your ear: "There is a game today."

The cricket teams of Davies & Company and Bishop & Company will meet on the Makiki field next Saturday afternoon. A week later the Scotchmen and Honolulu will again try conclusions.

No Man Is a Hero to His Landlord

Even though he pays dividends on the landlord's capital. The unhappy experience of laboring for one's landlord without an interest in where one lives, makes even a rented paradise unsatisfying.

To plan and arrange a home, so that it expresses your individuality, your personality, and the possession of its seclusion, scenery and companionship, is a pleasure unknown to the renter.

To the homeward bound man, fatigued from the day's work in the heat of town, the cool dry climate and seclusion of Kaimuki are all that could be wished for and yet this seclusion is so accessible.

Macadamized streets, the purest artesian water, electric lights, telephones, etc., and the most congenial neighbors in a select district, where the residential climax has not been reached make it an ideal investment.

$50 down and $10 a month will still secure a choice location and on a nominal payment down we can build you a modern bungalow with your ideas incorporated and your rent pays for it. Lots are but $400 each. Let us talk it over and show you the tract.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE, LTD.

BACK TO THE WOODS.

He was only a salesman in a music store at $15 per day, and she the daughter of a millionaire, but they loved and were tacitly engaged. All they needed to clinch things and make them happy was the old man's consent. He was not a hard-hearted old man, and he had once sold sheet-music and pianos himself.

"Tomorrow evening you will ask him," murmured the fair girl as she rolled her eyes heavenwards.

"I will," replied Harry, as a slight shiver passed over him.

"At sharp 7:30, because he is going out."

"I won't be a minute late."

But on the next evening 7:30 came and no Harry. Then 7:40 and 7:50 and 8 o'clock. It was 8:15 when he came cantering up the front steps and yanked the bell.

"Father left at 8 o'clock, sir!" said the girl as she drew herself up.

"I'm sorry, dear."

"But it is too late. Never again!"

"But, you see—"

"Never again!"

"I had 20 cents up on the White Sox and I had to wait until the score came in to see who won. I'll see your father tomorrow eve and—"

Her face became Scotch granite and she pointed to the door. He had won 20 cents and lost an heiress. A month later she married a Count, and he had his per reduced to $11.

HELD RESPONSIBLE.

"Sir," said the old kicker in the street car to the man beside him with a newspaper, "you have got a morning paper in your hand."

"Just so," was the reply.

"It has, perhaps, got some Panama news in?"

"Yes, it has."

"Perhaps it's about the canal?"

"You are correct."

"Perhaps it's about that Gatun dam?"

"It surely is."

"Perhaps it reiterates that President Taft is perfectly satisfied about that dam, no matter what that French engineer has said?"

"I must give you the credit for being a wonderful guesser," replied the man with the paper. "Yes, Taft is perfectly satisfied. Aren't you?"

"No, sir—no, sir. I'm not a bit satisfied. I don't like it at all, sir—not at all."

"But what can you do about it?"

"What can I do, sir—what can I do? I tell you what I can do, and what I propose to do. As soon as the canal is completed I shall go down there and ride back and forth on the passing vessels. I shall be right there when that Gatun Dam gives way. I shall be left high and dry in the mud."

"And then?" queried the other as the old kicker paused.

"And then, sir, I shall hold William H. Taft financially responsible and sue him for fifty thousand dollars damages. Yes, sir, by gad, I will, sir—yes, sir, I will!"

Be Not Deceived

There is only one cleanable Refrigerator and therefore GERM PROOF, and that is the Gurney Refrigerator handled by us. No other make has ever stood the test and by means of the removable ice chamber as well as removable shelves, drain pipes, traps, etc., we have solved the problem.

Assail us where you will you cannot help but admit our claim. All other makes fall when it comes to keeping the ice chamber pure, sweet, clean and germ proof, but

THE GURNEY

Listen to idle talk and arguments put forth in favor of cleanable provision compartment. All refrigerators have this feature. You cannot deny that unless ALL COMPARTMENTS can be kept absolutely pure and wholesome that a refrigerator is germ-proof. Go from the provision chamber to the receptacle for the ice and it is here where all other makes fail. There's the weakness that cannot be overcome by them.

The Gurney with its removal Ice Chamber feature has supplied the great want and therefore.

You Want the News First?

You want Your Ads Read?

Here is some advice---

Honolulu more than any other city in the World, is a place where the EVENING PAPER gets the news first. The clock here is over two hours behind the clock at San Francisco, five hours behind New York and ten to eleven hours behind the clocks in the European capitals.

This means that when THE STAR is going to press The Day Is Closed In Washington, Chicago, New York and Europe and almost over in San Francisco. The news of the day is here for THE STAR.

Under modern conditions it takes practically no time to prepare and transmit news and

The Star gets every Evening the Cable Dispatches giving

The News of all the World

For the day just ended

Here are some of the features that go to make the evening paper the predominating factor in an advertising campaign:

It is delivered at the home each night when the whole family has plenty of time to read it.

It is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it stays there. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The evening paper is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all the advertisements receive their share of attention.

It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

The evening paper presents the news the day it happens. The morning paper the day after.

The evening paper presents the news first. The morning paper merely elaborates it.

A NEW KIND OF STRIKE.

It appears now that the Waimanalo affair was not a strike in the ordinary sense of the word. It was the result of some dissatisfaction of laborers with other employes, Japanese, whom the laborers were proceeding to "try." The "trial" not being over, the men did not go to work yesterday morning. This is a proceeding which should be dealt with very severely. Some years ago some Koreans held a "trial" of this sort, at the end of which they concluded that their victim must die, and they proceeded to murder him. Five were condemned to death and three hanged for this bit of work. Yesterday's vigorous handling of the Waimanalo affair will probably have a good educative effect. Perhaps if this sort of thing keeps on, it will be necessary to make much larger showings of local constituted power in normal times. In the meantime vigorous prosecution of all concerned in such lawless proceedings will also have very good educative value.

PROTECTING LOCAL WIRELESS.

Some means of preventing the interruptions which are destroying the efficiency of the wireless telegraph system of the Territory must be found. The nuisance has become worse since the closing of the schools, which has meant that the boys who have wireless apparatus have more time in which to use it and consequently prevent the local system from working in a much greater degree than when the schools are in session.

It would seem that the proper remedy would lie with the courts through injunction proceedings. The wireless company performs a public service, and in this Territory one which can hardly be over-estimated. If the experimenting of a few youngsters can prevent its business from being carried on in a proper manner, can prevent the completion of important business matters which would be settled if messages could get through to the other islands, it would seem time for the courts to step in with a remedy.

It may be argued with some truth that the air is free to all but that is by no means the end of the question. In the same manner the public highways are free to all, but that does not mean that Tom, Dick or Harry may walk his horse along the electric car track when fifty people on a car are behind, waiting for him to get out of the way. A police officer would quickly settle such a matter. In the same manner, the general public, for whose benefit the laws of the Territory are made, can call for an order from the courts which will prevent the interference of individuals with a traffic which benefits the greater number.

The air is free for use indeed, but neither air nor earth is free for abuse. The water of the harbor is free, but the Territory has the right to forbid fishing therein when it is demonstrated that it is for the benefit of the public that it is forbidden. Still some one man, who formerly did all his fishing here, may complain that his business is ruined. The time has come when the wireless should receive some protection. It is not that the company is asking for protection. The public has the right to send messages through the wireless company without the interference and annoyances to which the traffic is now subjected.

RATHER POOR BEGINNING.

It was not a brilliant exhibition of governing talent which the Board of Commissioners of Public Instruction, reconstructed to represent for the first time all of the islands, made at its first statutory session. Most of the time of the meeting appears to have been consumed in childish girding at the Legislature, with incidental sneering at county government, over the transfer of the care and maintenance of public school property from the Territory to the counties.

One solitary item of constructive action that seems to have been taken constitutes an attempt to evade the intent of the Legislature as expressed in debate when the educational measures were on passage. Reference is to the proposal to create a new office—a supervising principalship of all public schools—in place of the several normal inspectorships abolished by the Legislature. It was intended by those who enacted the abolition of the inspectorships that the functions of visitation, inspection and instruction of teachers should be performed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. These functions used to be exercised, and that efficiently, by the Inspector General of Schools prior to the creation of the office of Superintendent and that official was at the same time the executive officer of the department under the unsalaried president of the Board and its members—in fact he discharged pretty much the same duties as the Superintendent has been doing all along and did the inspection of all schools besides.

As already intimated the reconstructed Board has made a rather sorry and soreheaded beginning. It has furnished one more example of the proposition that has become proverbial here, namely—"Centralization dies hard."

In the meantime the government of the City and County of Honolulu is vigorously performing its new function of the care and maintenance of school property, and in taking hold of the work it has firmly avoided a course that would have landed the service in politics. A majority of the Board successfully resisted a plan suggested—unwittingly no doubt—by the Superintendent of Public Instruction which involved the creation of a new office and salary, instead placing the service under the direction of the City and County Engineer. The present holder of this office, by the way, is eminently qualified for the duty, as while employed in the Department of Public Works he drew the plans of many of the schoolhouses.

ONE EFFECT OF THE LAWLESSNESS.

The Waimanalo Japanese, aided by some of the same Higher Wage outfit which has made trouble elsewhere, have driven another blow at the prospects of the countrymen here. Such lawlessness as occurred on this island yesterday is as amazing as it is outrageous. In all the origin of the trouble and in the methods of seeking to carry out their plan, these Japanese showed a spirit quite intolerable. They began by an impudent demand upon the manager of the plantation that he discharge certain employes; when this demand was refused, as of course it had to be, they went on strike and some of them assaulted two of the employes in question in the manager's presence; then when those guilty of this assault were placed under arrest, the entire number rallied to the rescue, offered violence to the highest police officer of the city and held him some hours a prisoner while assistance was awaited. The men who could carry out this sort of a programme are without respect for the law and authority of the land they have chosen to live in. Probably they have fed for some time on Jiji editorials and in their ignorance are to some extent excusable, but that does not alter the fact.

When former outbreaks occurred this paper ventured to predict that Mainland comments would show the United States press drawing the conclusion that aliens who could so band together in lawlessness were showing unfitness for American soil, and we remarked that the local leaders of such disturbances were greatly boosting the cause of stronger exclusion laws. The prediction was borne out in almost all the editorial comments in Mainland papers. It is safe now to predict that yesterday's occurrence will be regarded in the same light, only more strongly. Already one influential Mainland paper, not stopping at exclusion rules, has hinted that even the Japanese now here should not be allowed to remain. If it be found that they cannot remain here and obey the law, the two friendly governments concerned are likely to seek a way to end the difficulty.

Who would have thought that the Wyoming plainsmen should have faked at the prospect of another tussle with the cowboys of Hawaii? Yet one return match would not if won by Wyoming place it in the lead. Its best riders and ropers were beaten both in Honolulu and Cheyenne by the Hawaiians. Our boys remain the American champions of saddle and lariat.

The community can only hope that the Atcherley legal farce does not lead finally to a tragedy. It will be remembered that Atcherley fired shots at a dwelling in which lived a family whose head he imagined was conspiring against him. The authorities, instead of placing a criminal charge against him, kindly charged insanity and the jury could not find him insane beyond a reasonable doubt. Now it appears that he is sitting around with a shot-gun, ready to bang away at some other imaginary enemy.

Those Waimanalo Japanese must have been fed on Jiji editorials for a long time.

It is all very well to release some Waipahu men who imprisoned another man who wanted to go to work, because they did not know about Judge Robinson's injunction. But weren't they acting under orders from persons who did know?

A war between Peru and Bolivia might be a very bloody affair. It has been a good deal the fashion to joke over the many controversies of South American countries, but some past records show that when these peoples take up arms in earnest the conflicts are most deadly. The two countries are about the same size and not far from equal in population, facts which leave room for a struggle of the hardest kind. They adjoin one another along a considerable border, and if war begins it is safe to say that the cost in life and money will not be light.

As it appears now, the extra session of Congress is going to pass a one per cent income tax applying to corporations, and submit a constitutional amendment to the states paying the way for a general income tax. Looks like taking the wind out of Democratic sails again.

Jeffries and Johnson are going to fight. It would be nice to hope that each would defeat the other so completely that neither would be heard from again.

WAIMANALO JAPS QUIT RIOTING TO RETURN TO WORK

the veranda platform, the armed police and newspaper men lined up in an avenue between the door and the machines and the sixteen protesting prisoners were bundled into the automobiles after Jarrett had given the order to the crowd to disperse and Doyle had interpreted the order with the advice that there would be somebody hurt if the order was not obeyed. The show of force made the crowd sink back. Some had been sitting on the ground, others standing, but they all, with one accord, moved reluctantly though surely back.

When the automobiles were ready to start, one with six prisoners in charge of an Advertiser reporter, one with another half-dozen prisoners in charge of a Star representative and the third with the principal offenders in charge of Chester Doyle, the crowd was preparing to make a big swing in on the machines with the evident intent of interfering with their progress.

SWINGING BLACK-SNAKES. It was then that the mounted patrolmen were given an order and in a second they were dashing their mounts up and down the line of growling laborers swinging their black-snakes in threatening manner. The police with carbines and bayonets fixed at the charge, faced the mob. When the machines started they let out with a spurt and at the same moment the mob tried to advance through the guards, but the armed men were here, there and everywhere. It seemed, along the line of excited Japanese, flourishing their bayoneted weapons so depreciously that it would have meant a nasty injury to any Japanese who got too close.

PRISONERS CHEERED. The mob had to be satisfied with yelling "Banzai," which they did with all the force they could command. After a ride of an hour or more in the machines the sixteen prisoners were landed at the city police station.

During the rioting at Waimanalo, when Jarrett was holding the fort, awaiting reinforcements, there were cries from the crowd to the effect that if some of them were killed it would make no difference, there were plenty more Japanese. "Suppose make (kill-ed), no plitkia! Plenty more Japanese!" they cried, which was taken as meaning that they were willing to die providing they rescued the prisoners. Doyle, in his brief talk to the Japanese in their own language, advised them of their very foolish attitude, declaring that if some of their number had done wrong they should not all risk punishment by doing further wrong, and suggesting that they certainly would be handled roughly and effectively unless they submitted.

Some had gone for cane-knives, but were intercepted and disarmed by the police and several revolvers were taken from individuals in the crowd.

Jarrett, for a time, was in a most serious situation, and had he attempted to force his way with his original five prisoners through the mob to the machine he would probably have been roughly dealt with in spite of the fact that he might have laid a few out with his gun.

Those brought into town and jailed were:

Yamamoto, Higashi, Kobayashi, Kimura, Nakagawa, Sukamoto, Ozaki, Inara, Ota, Nakai, Fukui, Tamura, Kamuro, Doi, Asami, Hiroaul.

SHE CHANGED HER MIND.

He had pleaded his love and stated the amount of his salary per week, and she had turned him down. She said the per wasn't enough to buy her clothes, let alone meeting other expenses.

It was a sad blow, and he stumbled down the steps with tears in his eyes. His trainer met him and took him off to his room and sang lullaby songs till he slept. When morning came he was rubbed down and prepared for the Marathon. He shut his teeth together and said he would win it to spite the one who had delivered the almost fatal blow. It got about that he was a thrown-down man, and the odds were ten to one against him. He cared not. He simply braced the more. Half-way through the race he stumbled and the odds went to twenty. Again his pumping-machine seemed to give out and they rose to forty. But when the goal came in sight at last the thrown darted forward, picked up one rival after another and came under the wire a half a nose ahead.

"Charlie," murmured a voice in his ear as they were rubbing him down with seven kinds of liniment.

"Why you here, Edith?" he replied.

"Charlie, we will be married next week if you wish."

"But you refused me only last night."

"Yes, but I was laboring under the impression that you were a bank clerk on $25 per week instead of being a young man of legs and wind. Set a day, Charlie dear. Half a nose ahead; I shall expect you at the usual hour this evening."

SOMETHING BETTER.

"How about Fourth of July in your town this year?" asked the lawyer as he met an acquaintance from a village 30 miles away.

"Oh, we shall whoop 'er up," was the reply.

"Regular celebration, eh?"

"Yes."

"I was your orator three or four years ago, if you remember."

"Yes, I remember, and you got off a pretty good speech."

"Thanks. I'm pretty busy just now, but I might have got away had they wanted me again this year. Who have they got?"

"No one."

"But they must have one."

"Well, the next year after you were there they appointed me, and I 'spose I'll take the place again this year."

"I didn't know that you were an orator."

"But I ain't. They say I'm something better. When the procession reaches the grove and is all ready to hear the Declaration of Independence read, and a speech afterwards, I advance to the front of the platform and bow and say:

"Feller-patriots: All of you that are fools enough to want to listen to a windbag speech stay right here. All of you who want cold beer instead will go up the hill, where six legs are on tap."

"That's all the speech," concluded the villager. "If there was anything more to it there would be no listeners. No, we find that a mighty little oratory and a good deal of beer is the thing to make the American Eagle scream and the patriots to remember Bunker Hill, and I guess we shall keep it up."

Why does the FRANKLIN win all the important economy contests and outclass all other automobiles in reliability trials, if it is not the most economical, most efficient and strongest automobile made?

1909 FRANKLIN RECORD CONTEST

HARRISBURG RELIABILITY AND ENDURANCE TEST.—Franklin Model D won the Governor's Trophy, the highest award of the contest. In this run the Franklin's nearest competitor had 96 points penalization.

NEW YORK AUTOMOBILE TRADE ASSOCIATION ONE-GALLON MILEAGE CONTEST.—The Franklin won its class prize, also grand prize, and established a world's economy record by carrying the greatest load the greatest distance on one gallon of gasoline.

PITTSBURG ENDURANCE RUN.—Franklin Model D was the only automobile to make the run of 450 miles without penalization for repairs or adjustments.

WORCESTER RELIABILITY TRIAL.—Franklin Model D won the only perfect score. The technical examination after the contest eliminated thirteen contestants who had clean road scores.

CLEVELAND ENDURANCE AND ECONOMY CONTEST.—Franklin Model D won the highest award. It had a perfect road score and also the lowest gasoline consumption.

CHICAGO 1000-MILE RELIABILITY TEST.—Franklin Model D won a perfect score. The technical examination after the contest caused the penalization of many entrants.

BRETTON WOODS RELIABILITY RUN.—Franklin Model D won a perfect score. In this run it was the only 1909 stock model that was shipped direct from the factory to the contest route. It went through the 1600-mile grind without a single adjustment.

GLIDDEN TOUR.—Franklin Model D and Model H both won perfect scores. In this contest they were acknowledged to be the easiest-riding of all motor-cars, and they had no tire trouble.

All of which proves that an automobile constructed so that it rides easily is the best automobile mechanically and the most reliable, that great weight is not necessary for strength, that Franklin non-jarring construction and light weight mean comfort, economy and safety, that the Franklin air-cooled engine is without a rival for efficient work and staying power.

THE FUNNY DRUMMER.

There was no doubt that a certain couple in the Pullman had just been married, and married for love, but the Pittsburgh drummer said the matter really ought to be investigated. He said there was so much crime going on that he felt it a duty to diminish it whenever and wherever he could. The young bridegroom was therefore beckoning into the smoking compartment, and the drummer said to him: "My dear sir, you are passing for a bridegroom here, but the question in the minds of a few of us is: Are you really married, or are you eloping with that young woman?"

"Oh, I'm married straight enough," was the reply. "To that young lady?" "For sure."

"You can show a certificate?" "I can."

"And it was no mock marriage?" "No, sir."

"And his parents consented?" "They did."

"Well, I'm glad to hear that it is all right. I have nothing more to say."

"But I have," replied the groom. "You pass for a drummer here. Are you a drummer or a swindler and horse thief?"

"Sir!" "Again, you pass for a funny man. Are you blamed funny or blasted sober? In either case let me—"

And he slapped the drummer's right cheek and left cheek and chin and bowed to the others and went back to put his arm around his little bride again.

HE WON.

It was a Marathon race with 16 contestants. One of them was a little top-shouldered, bow-legged man with a wheeze to him, and men who looked him over said to each other: "Why, the man can't run a mile! What sort of a trainer has he that he is entered in a race like this?" And the trainer, overhearing such criticism, explained: "Gentlemen, I know my business.

My man is not much to look at and under ordinary circumstances there would be no show for him, but I have a card up my sleeve. Put a few scads on my man if you want champagne to drink for the rest of the summer."

The public was mystified, but not convinced. No man would put a dollar on the little man. Even after the race was on and it was seen that he was well up with the leaders nobody would speak a good word for his chances. On the contrary, when the pace became hot and he kept dropping back there were cries of "Take him off!" There was yet two miles to go and the little man held the eleventh place and was being cat-called, when his trainer, and a woman came to the front and the woman cried out: "So, I have found you out last; Jim Norton, I will run you down!"

The little man saw and heard, and as his face went ashy pale his legs began to play. The woman was the wife from whom he had fled three years before. He sprang into tenth place—ninth—eighth—seventh. A great cheer rent the air. Like a wild deer of the woods he picked up No. 6—No. 5—No. 4. Other cheers. He passed Nos. 3 and 2, and then with a yell of fear as the woman once more called his name he shot to the front and the race was his. It's all in having a trainer who knows your family history.

TWO STORIES.

The Burglar (after giving his side of the case)—Well, that finishes my tale. Magistrate—No—it doesn't. As you are a second-story man you will hear the rest of it tomorrow morning.

HIS IDEA.

Second Lunchroom Waiter—Guess he's saving up to buy his wife an Easter bonnet.

"For over 50 years I have always kept Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. My father often told me that it saved my life when I was very young."

In thousands of homes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a household word. It has been used first by the grandparents, then by the parents, and now by the children. For colds and coughs, croup, bronchitis, la grippe, inflammation in the throat or in the bronchial tubes,

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the standard remedy the world over. It contains no narcotic or poison. Accept no substitute. Put up in large and small bottles.

THE TROUBLE WITH THE HEALANI CREW

Several apurts have been made by the crews of the Healani Boat Club of late in the vital matter of training; but as soon as a likely start was made, something always happened to take the life out of the proceeding. Various theories have been advanced as to the cause of these lapses at important stages; but, as usual, the disposition seemed always to place the blame on "the other fellow." A member of the Healani Boat Club who is in position to know, has this to say of the matter:

SPORTING EDITOR STAR:—In answer to your question "What is the matter with the racing crews of the Healani Boat Club?" I will try to give you my ideas. The trouble is not in any lack of men, for we have plenty of men and good ones at that. In fact, when it comes to material I believe we have the best of the Myrtle Boat club. And our men can be made to take an interest in rowing, too, if the matter was only put up to them in the right way.

As an oarsman, I can only speak from my own standpoint; but I think a large number of Healani men will agree with me when I say that racing is managed badly in the Healani Boat club by the men at the head of affairs. For instance, no encouragement to train is held out to new men. For years the Healani has jogged along with the same old dozen rowers, losing time after time or failing to come through altogether; when they had dead loads of the best kind of material in the club, unused, although willing and anxious to train. I speak of strong, young men; young men who have the rowing spirit left in them.

In this respect the Myrtle Boat Club manages very different, and in that very thing lies the secret of their success. As soon as they get a well built young fellow in their club, who takes an interest in rowing, they throw him right into training. If he makes good they win; if he fails, they have lost nothing. By this system the Myrtles have on hand at all times, not one or two but almost a half dozen crews able to hold their own with anybody else in the bay.

Let us in the Healani Boat Club adopt the same plan. Send the has-beens to the smoking galley, and let the new, young blood assert itself. I am certain that, with proper encouragement and assistance from the powers that be in the Club, this same young blood I speak of would very soon bring about a new state of things.

FINAL TOUCHES AT ATHLETIC PARK

Visitors to Athletic Park, in Palama, can now gain some idea of what the place will look and be like. The fence around the park is about completed, marking its outer lines. Entrances are set in the wall on the side next Beretania and Aala streets, back of the line occupied by the grandstand; and, also, on the Kukui street side, far over toward Liliha. On days of baseball or other events, the crowds may enter or depart at either side.

The back of the grandstand is toward town, so that the spectators are faced away from the sun at all times. It slopes up sharp from the front, so that everybody in it may have a clear, unobstructed view of all that may be going on. The bleachers are also set in such way as to command a close view of the entire diamond.

During the next day or two the diamond will be sanded and rolled, so that before the week end it will be in first class baseball shape. The diamond will then be marked out and all will be in readiness for the command to "play ball."

In addition to the Oahu Baseball League, the big league, being the teams that have played in the past at Kamao (Bill), is arranging with Mgr. Douthitt to play a part, at least, of its games there. The big league is made up of the St. Louis, Kamehameha, Punahou and Diamond Head teams. The plan to play every Saturday afternoon, charging 15, 25 and 50 cents admission. These are swell figures, but the old leaguers promise swell ball.

A meeting of the Kapiolani Baseball League will be held at the office of the People's Express Company in Merchant street at 5 o'clock this afternoon at which the fate of the organization will be discussed.

A meeting of the Hawaii Yacht club will be held in the rooms of the Commercial Club this evening for the purpose of deciding the handicaps and other matters in connection with the Macfarlane cup race.

OAHU BASEBALL LEAGUE SUNDAY

Arrangements are practically completed for the opening of the Oahu Baseball League next Saturday afternoon. The teams to play are the Marines and Kallihis, at 1:30, and the C. A. C. vs. J. A. C. at 3:30.

Both of these games should be bangers from the start. As will be remembered, the Marine team played great ball in the military league and has been working steadily in different leagues since. Once united again, they will be a hard aggregation to handle. Against them will appear the Kallihis team, headed by the indomitable "Oom Paul" Burns.

The C. A. C. team is one of the strongest amateur, baseball nines in the field today, having been victors in almost everything they have tackled for several years. A good second to the C. A. C., and sometimes even stronger than that team—are the J. A. C.'s. These two teams will meet in the second game of the day.

Preceding the games on Sunday there will be a parade of the teams through King street to Aala park. This procession will start from near the corner of King and Fort streets and will proceed in the following order:

- Mayor Fern—Vice President Marcelline.
- Recording Secretary A. K. Akan—Corresponding Secretary.
- Umpire E. K. Fernandez—Scorer N. Jackson.
- Mgr.—U. S. M. C.—Capt. Mgr.—K. A. C.—Capt. Mgr.—J. A. C.—Capt. Mgr.—C. A. C.—Capt.

The seniors will be followed by the Oahu Junior League, as follows: S. Bunn, secretary. Mgr.—Muhock—Capt. Mgr.—Aaahi—Capt. Mgr.—Portuguese A. C.—Capt. Mgr.—Chinese A. C.—Capt. Marshal of the Day (Mounted.)

HONOLULU FIGHT PROGRAM IS A GO

Hon. Joel Cohen has arranged to put on a program of fistic contests at the Orpheum theater on the night of Saturday, July 24. All of the competitors will be local men, coming either from the city or the military posts; and on that account, aside from general considerations, the program will come in for general endorsement and support. Following is the program as thus far completed by Mr. Cohen:

- Wahlani vs. Soldier McCullough, 10 rounds, 142 pounds.
- Sarconi, of Camp Very, vs. Nigel Jackson, 5 rounds, 130 pounds.
- Zangari, of Fort Shafter vs. Hull, of Camp Very, 4 rounds, 140 pounds.
- Call, the great baseball player of Camp Very vs. Friedman, the fast welterweight of Leilehua, 145 pounds.

RIVERSIDE GAMES SET FOR SUNDAY

An important business meeting of the Riverside Baseball League will be held at the office of A. L. C. Atkinson at noon Thursday, at which a number of matters will come up. A full attendance is desired.

Next Sunday the Riverside League will put on some redhot ball at Aala park. It is supposed that the new Athletic Park, which will open that day, will draw away many people from Aala; but what is lacking in fans will be made up in fun.

The first game of the day will be between the Fort Shafter and Kewalos. These teams are about evenly matched and the go will doubtless prove a smart one. The batting lists, subject to correction on the field, will be as follows:

- 20th Infantry—McCall, 1b; Moran, rf; Lemm, 2b; Rowe, ss; Gongol, cf; Bird, 3b; Ellis, lf; Oakley, c; Ramsey, p.
- Kewalos—Freitas, lf; Medeiros, cf; M. R. Freitas, ss; Deponte, p; F. Joseph, 1b; Souza, 3b; M. Joseph, cf; M. Freitas, rf; A. Joseph, 2b; A. Joseph, 2b; Pimental, 2b.

The next game, beginning at 3:30, will be Palamas vs. Aala. The playing of these teams last Sunday showed that they can put up the real article, although the Aalas probably have slightly the best chances. Following will be the batting lists, subject, of course, to such alterations as may be found necessary on Sunday:

- Aalas—H. Chillingworth, ss; D. De-sha, cf; Kupa, rf; M. Hardee, p; Med-craft, 3b; Limahema, 2b; Butler, 1b; Moses, c; Rice, lf; W. K. Hoopill, cf.
- Palamas—Kama, 1b; Kaal, 2b; Aylett, ss; Flizer, rf; Paaluhl, cf; Kaopua, lf; Bolster, 3b; Dole, p; Hoopill, c.

POLO PRACTICE SURE TOMORROW

Rain or shine, the Honolulu poloists will have a practice game at Moanalua tomorrow afternoon. As the team must play the Fifth Cavalry on Saturday, this practice is absolutely necessary. Captain Dillingham requests that every member of the team and all others who can do so, appear at Moanalua field at the time indicated.

As stated yesterday, the match game on Saturday will take place at Leilehua, provided that the Fifth Cavalry team is agreeable. Manager Angus tried this morning to get in communication with the officers down there, but the country telephone was a trifle overworked at the time and he failed. He hopes to reach them during the day.

There is hardly any doubt, however, but that the Leilehua people will hear with joy of the change of plans; and in place of failing to agree with it will do all in their power to make the meet a big success. In the meanwhile the local players are getting ready to send their ponies down to the camp.

USED TO KICKS. She (at the baseball game)—That umpire doesn't seem to mind their kicking at all. He—No. He is the janitor of an apartment house during the winter.

HEALANIS CHANGE SWIMMING CREW

The Healani swimming crew will again go after the Myrtles, but will take a few days longer in which to prepare for the big, deciding match. Efforts are being made to pull the race off a week from next Saturday, and that date may be decided upon. If not, it will certainly be not later than the following Saturday.

When the Healanis do come back, it will be with a crew changed at a couple of vital points. It is claimed that the last race was lost on account of King and Kamakau swimming off the course, the latter going at least thirty yards to the bad at one time. Had Kamakau kept a straight course the team would have won hands down. In the new team Kamakau will be replaced with another man, perhaps "Ginger" Mayne; and King may also be dropped.

It is stated that there is no objection whatever to the swimming qualities of these men. They are easily in a class with the very best; but they seem wholly unable to swim a straight course, and, consequently, are risky in a pinch. With good men to make up the fifth and sixth places in the team, it is believed that the Healani would have a walkover.

SHOOTING CALLED OFF FOR PRESENT

Shooting at Kakaako traps, set for tomorrow afternoon, has been called off on two accounts: First, the fact that the marksmen are just now having their handfull shooting real birds, and, second, the failure of the new Leggett trap to arrive. There will be no more shooting at Kakaako in two or three weeks anyhow and probably not until the middle of August.

The marksmen are considerably put out on account of the failure of the new, automatic trap to arrive. It should have reached here nearly two months ago, but seems to have been lost somewhere enroute. By the last mail the manufacturers in Ohio were advised to start a tracer after it. They will probably find the device in some old warehouse in San Francisco. In the meanwhile, the Honolulu marksmen are not in the best of humor with the railroad or steamship people about the matter.

Several big matches have been on the tapis for some time but have been held over to await the arrival of the trap. If the device does not show up in the next month, these matches will go on anyway.

HANDBALL PLAYS TO BEGIN MONDAY

Practice for the handball tournament, which begins on Monday at the Y. M. C. A., has started up in great earnest. All the men who have entered for the contests are practicing regularly, and the games promise to be of the swiftest and best kind. During the tournament all first games will begin at 5 p. m. and should be over by 6. The second games will start at 7:30 and be over by 8:30. All players and their friends should make a note of this schedule.

One change in the entry list is the elimination of the name of Wm. Raseman, who leaves early in August for the east. This will be regretted by all handball players, as Raseman has been a most enthusiastic participant in past games. Dr. Hand has completed all the details of the tournament and is now engaged in instructing his pupils in the fine points of the game. He expects this series to be the most successful yet pulled off.

THE DEMOCRATS TO HOLD MEETING

The Democratic Territorial Committee has been called to meet in Waverley hall a week from Thursday evening, the call going forward to the other Islands by today's mail. Whether or not there will be more than one session will depend upon the amount of business brought up by the members themselves. This will be the first meeting of the committee in more than six months.

The most important matter in sight to come before the meeting is the consideration of reports from all the precincts of the Islands, on work past and planned. The rules require that these reports be considered once every three months, but as there was no meeting at the end of the last period a double bunch of them will have accumulated.

Six members of the committee reside in Honolulu, and two from the other islands are now here and will remain over for the meeting. This gives a majority to start with, the total number in the committee being fifteen; so that a meeting is already certain. It is anticipated that some of the others will send in proxies.

OLD STORY IS RETOLD

DEFENDANT TOKIYAMA IN THE RIOT CASE THROWS PEACEFUL GLAMOR ON EVENT.

Tokiyama, one of the defendants, occupied the stand in Judge Robinson's court nearly all this forenoon in the trial of the Waipahu riot case. Before him Fushino had been recalled for further cross-examination.

It was pretty much the same story Tokiyama told as the narratives of his fellow defendants preceding him on the stand. Cross-examined by W. A. Kinney he said that when he returned to the Higher Wage office, after he had gone away to chop wood, there were only forty or fifty people in front of and inside of the office, as compared with the 200 or 300 assembled when he was first drawn to the place by the report of Officer Schoville's pistol. In front of the office there were now but twenty or thirty, among whom he noticed Portuguese and natives but only a few Japanese—he could not say if these numbered three or four, or four or five.

He remained in the office on this occasion for an hour and a half. Asked if during that time all was quiet according to his eyes and ears, he replied that he heard Miyauchi tell the Japanese to go to the theater. Miyauchi was most of the time at the entrance, witness did not know for sure but thought.

Q.—Even when the crowd had dwindled down to twenty or thirty, mostly Portuguese and natives, Miyauchi would still tell them to go to the theater?

A.—Yes. Witness admitted he said in direct examination that he went into the Higher Wage office to smoke. He was not smoking the whole hour and a half he was there.

Q.—When you smoked all you wanted you let?

A.—I left when I was taken away. (Laughter.) After Jotaro was taken away it was twenty or thirty minutes before witness was taken away. He was then asked if, when he said Scoville was there all the time, he made a mistake.

"It is not a mistake," was the reply. "I cannot say if I stayed an hour and a half—I did not have a watch before me.

Kinney—Didn't you say all that time Scoville was in the room?

Witness—Yes. Kinney mounted the stand beside the witness and sat down to represent Scoville, when the witness placed his chair to show how he sat with relation to Scoville. It was close up to the officer, Tokiyama's head being slightly turned away.

Miyauchi, the penemarker as represented by the defense, is the brightest looking Japanese in the row of ten defendants. He is No. 2 from Jotaro Mikawa, who heads the list. Miyauchi looks intelligent and educated, and not a word or a gesture of attorney or witness does his intense scrutiny of the proceedings miss. Next to him in smart appearance is Fushino away down at the foot of the class.

BLOOMING TONIGHT

There will be a great display of the night blooming cereus this evening at the Punahou college hedge. The blossoms are coming on in great profusion, the display of the year will probably be tonight.

CHINESE LEAVES SNUG FORTUNE

Tong Yick Hin, a resident of China but at present in Honolulu, petitions that he be appointed administrator of the estate of his uncle, Tong Chong Soy, who died at the village of Toung Ka, China, leaving an estate in this Territory valued at about $19,000. To the best knowledge and belief of the petitioner the dead man left no will. The estate here consists of a 1-15 share in the firm of Sing Chong & Co., Honolulu, valued at say $12,000 and cash in the hands of that firm amounting to $7,553.99.

TO MRS' KAHEA

(Contributed.) The Angel said Come away with me, Just over there lives eternity! She faltered not but gave her hand To journey into that unknown land. A prayer from out the falling heart, Induced the angel to dull his dart. Then soul and prayer up to heaven sped. Leaving a smile on the lips, now dead, From God, this smile was a token, given That she with Him is safe in heaven.

ALMY SUED FOR DIVORCE

Mary K. Almy has brought a divorce suit against Henry N. Almy, alleging extreme cruelty. They were married in Honolulu on January 8, 1909, and have lived together until July 7 instant. They are now living separate and apart. Libellant alleges that because of her husband's conduct in holding cruel words toward her she has been and is unable to sleep, is in ill health and suffering from extreme nervousness, and is informed and believes and therefore alleges the fact to be that unless she is relieved from the strain of the conduct hereinabove set forth she will be permanently injured in mind and body. There is no prayer for alimony, the sole petition being that the bonds of matrimony between them be dissolved. Thompson & Clemons are attorneys for libellant. Libellee is the shipping commissioner for the port of Honolulu.

IT WAS THE SHOES.

When the old Long Island farmer was asked if he took summer boarders he replied: "Noap, but Green does. He's got one now, and we can't make him out for sure." "How does he puzzle you?" "Wall, I'm believing that he owns two or three banks, but my old woman shakes her head. She says he may and he mayn't." "Yes." "I'll bet he owns half a dozen of them 'ere autos, but when I say so to the old woman she says he may and he mayn't." "I see." "And when he's home he's probably got a big house and at least 16 niggers to wait on him. I've told the old woman so, but she says she's got to count the niggers before she'll believe it. She says he may have, and then agin he mayn't." "You can't always tell," was observed.

"And I'm betting that he left mighty nigh a peck of diamonds behind him when he come up here to git the country air, but when I say so to the old woman she gives a grunt and says he may and he mayn't. She hain't going to believe nothing 'till she runs her nose plump agin it." "But what about this guest at Green's? How are you judging that he is some great and rich man?" "Because, stranger," replied the old man as he dropped his voice to a pitch of confidence—"because he can afford to wear a pair of yaller shoes every day in the week!"
