HOME INDUSTRY.

President Oxnard Denies Emphatically that the Domestic Producers and the Refiners Have Any Intests in Common—He Explains Wherein the Hawaiian Reciprocity Treaty Fails of Its Purpose, and Argues in Favor of Its Abrogation.

Of the statements recently made and reiterated by representatives here of the Hawaiian sugar planters in behalf of a continuance of the reciprocity treaty with the Sandwich Islands, Mr. Henry T. Oxnard, the President of the American Beet Sugar Association, has the following to say:

"While I have made it a rule to keep out of the newspapers, the insistence of those who represent the Hawaiian sugar oligarchy and their methods impels me, in behalf of my own interests and those which I represent, to defend the domestic sugar industry to the best of my ability. I am asked what, if any, connection between the 'sugar trust' and those who are producing domestic sugar. There is none whatever. In fact our interests are naturally antagonistic. That was made as plain as was possible before the Ways and Means Committee of the House, and I cannot do better than to repeat substantially what I then said:

"The producers of domestic sugar desire it to be clearly understood that the reasons which should give them encouragement and protection beyond that in the act of 1894, do not apply with the same force to sugar refiners who simply buy and refine a foreign product. Their work does not consist in the advancement of a great agricultural industry. They employ no army of laborers in the field. But for the great national objects which we have in advancing domestic sugar production, and but for the principle involved that calls for fair protection for domestic as against foreign capital and cheap labor, the United States might as well obtain its refined sugar from abroad. The natural interest of the refiners would seem to be to either control or else crush out our domestic industry, because many of our producers refine their own product. It should be borne in mind that in just the ratio that our domestic sugar producers advance the home industry and refine their own product, will the demand for foreign raw and the refined therefrom decline. The interest, therefore, of the domestic producer and of the refiners is naturally antagonistic."

"And since that question has been asked, and especially since the recent assertion of Hawaiian lobbyists to the contrary, allow me to further say that not a particle of proof has ever been or can be adduced to overcome the natural antagonism existing between our producers and the 'trust.' And yet this stale and flat statement is persisted in—and solely to attach to us the prejudice which it is assumed exists against the 'trust.' That sort of tactics will not capture an American Congress. It probably proceeds upon the old theory that a lie insisted upon is as good as the truth.

RESULT OF HAWAIIAN COMPETITION.

"The 'sugar trust' desires to control all the raw sugar it can, whether produced in Hawaii, Cuba, the East Indies, or in Europe, and at as low a price as possible. Now to duty Hawaiian sugar, as all other foreign sugars are dutied, would contain no element whatever of advantage to the 'trust'; it would operate to its disadvantage. Why, then, should the 'trust' seek to abrogate this treaty and duty Hawaiian sugar? On the other hand, the American producers of domestic sugar, in California, Utah, New Mexico, Nebraska and Wisconsin, have seen the exports of Hawaiian 'free' sugar develop from 40,000,000 pounds in 1877 to 400,000,000 pounds in 1896—from fertility of soil, unsurpassed climatic conditions, the present treaty, and 'contract' or coolie labor. We have felt the force of the competition of Hawaiian 'free' sugar in our local markets as far East from the Pacific coast as the Mississippi River, which is the territory on which we rely mostly as against 'trust' sugars. And who should know better than we what the threat and danger is of this 'free' sugar from Hawaii? We are acting aggressively in one sense; in defense of a home industry, our farmers, domestic capital, and industrial prosperity, as against foreign capital advantageously invested in a competitive occupation, which capital has deserted our shores and escapes our taxation and other burdens!

"This treaty has run since September 9, 1876, or over twenty years. It was extended November 9, 1887, under protest of the House of Representatives, for seven years, which expired November 9, 1894. And yet we hear the Hawaiian agents talk of the abrogation of a treaty. Technically, by the terms of the treaty, twelve months' notice is required of our desire to terminate it, but morally that twelve months expired November 9, 1894. The sole question involved is, shall notice be now given? And we say yes. The argument of our domestic sugar producers in favor of giving that notice at once, are all in a nutshell. On behalf of the Treasury and our taxpayers, we say we have remitted over $62,000,000 of duty on Hawaiian sugar, enough to buy the entire Sandwich Islands. We say that sum has been imposed on our taxpayers, because the remission of duty created a vacuum which had to be filled from the pockets of our own people and that vacuum has now increased so as to present $6,000,000 per annum. And we say that after having exhibited over $60,000,000 worth of generosity or liberality to a few foreign sugar planters, it is effrontery on their part to attempt—by any means or methods—to buldoze Congress or the American people into a continuance of that kind of succor. And we say that when the nation is struggling for revenue, even to the point of imposing a tax on tea, and an increase of obnoxious internal revenue taxes, as well as increasing others all along the line, the time has come when American taxpayers will no longer consent to this increasing bounty to foreign sugar planters—without serious protest.

OUR TRADE WITH THE ISLANDS.

"There are other considerations, too," continued Mr. Oxnard, "that weigh against continuing this treaty. Congress turned its attention in 1890 to the question of stimulating or encouraging domestic sugar production, and the McKinley law gave it a great impetus, overcome partly by the Wilson law, but we are again promised moderate protection by the pending bill, and we submit that it is unfair to dole out protection with one hand and paralyze its effect with the other by maintaining this objectionable treaty that menaces our struggling beet sugar industry on the coast and in Western States. Whatever reason, if any, existed in 1875 for this sugar treaty, the conditions have changed, and twenty years of dead sea fruit ought to be quite enough to pay for such a 'reciprocity' agreement as this has proved to be."

"What about our trade with Hawaii? Would we not probably lose it if notice were given?"

"Why, sir, the total amount of purchases by Hawaii from the United States is less than $4,000,000

CALLED DOWN.

It is a pleasure to every intelligent Hawaiian to see the Advertiser man tumbling over his editorial feet and telling the world that the writer over the signature of "Kamehameha," whose letters to the Washington Star have gained certain notoriety, is a malicious falsifier.

The Advertiser man has left Washington recently, and he ought to know what he is talking about. He is mad, probably, because Sereno has made a few dollars by writing over the signature of a King, whose etc. he at one time used to kiss, and consequently the "barber" of Kalakaua gives the bootblack of Kamehameha away. We are glad to see the rogues falling out. It saves us lots of writing. All we need to do to show the true calibre of the lying "Kamehameha" is to ask anyone conversant with Hawaiian affairs to read the following extract of Sereno Kamehameha's letter, published in the Washington Star on the 9th of June:

The Royalist "Independent," which is in thorough sympathy with the Japanese invasion because promising restoration of the queen, says: "Do not forget that the friendship of Japan is of more value and importance to the United States than forty Hawaiian Islands. Remember the Corinto incident. In spite of the Monroe doctrine and the jingo howl, the United States 'allowed' Great Britain to collect moneys claimed as damages due British subjects from the rulers of Central America. The Dole government will eventually pay the indemnity claimed by the Japanese."

It should here be said that strong as have been the feelings of royalists against the "American usurpation" of government, a majority of them are wholly opposed to be overrun and taken possession of by the Japanese. The present developments are bringing to their comprehension the fact so plainly seen by Americans here, that continued independence is a dream—that of necessity this group must fall into the possession of some strong power. These royalist natives are learning that they have to choose, and that speedily, whether to belong to Christian or Asiatic civilization. Most Hawaiians will not choose the Asiatic. They would, indeed, of their own accord have cordially accepted the American rule, had not such an outcry been made by anti-American Britishers.

The "native royalists" and the "anti-American Britishers" are anxious to meet "Kamehameha," the fraudulent fakir and false son of Hawaii.

NIGGERS OR INDIANS.

It is very well for our white annexationists to tell the Hawaiians that in case of annexation to the United States they will be treated like Americans and that nobody will dare to compare them with Indians or niggers.

A short while ago Mr. Turpie of the United States Congress argued that in case of annexation the natives of Hawaii should receive the same rights and privileges as Americans.

Another "honorable" gentleman answered Mr. Turpie by stating that "kanakas should be placed on the same plane with the inhabitants of Louisiana territory and of the Mexican residents of the western country ceded to the United States by Mexico."

This argument was approved by another "honorable" gentlemen who held that "the kanakas are no more entitled to special recognition than Digger Indians."

If you are not "Digger Indians" in the eyes of all good Americans there is nevertheless evidently something wrong with you somewhere. Richard Harding Davis in his account of the inauguration of President McKinley, in Harper's Magazine speaks of Queen Liliuokalani, as follows: "Back of her," (the wife of the Chinese Minister) "accompanied by her secretary, was the exiled Queen of Hawaii, a handsome dark skinned negress, quietly but richly dressed and carrying herself with great dignity." Taking the term "negress," in connection with the letter of Bishop Turner, which we published yesterday, we may say without fear of contradiction, that the terms applied to the Queen should lead Hawaiians to do some thinking about their status in the remote contingency of annexation.

Let us all join Moreno-Wilecox's Annexation Club and reap the reward of the efforts of the traitorous Hawaiians.

A NATIONAL DISHONOR

The Estate Register for August 4, states that Victoria Kaiulani has mortgaged property to raise money, probably for her support. This statement should bring the blush of shame to the cheek of Sanford Ballard Dole and his co-conspirators of 1893, including the State Department and Navy of the United States of America. The Princess Kaiulani, Hawaii's fairest daughter, by the revolutionary Constitution of 1887 in succession to the throne of the Kamehamehas, mortgaging her patrimony for bread. The shameless legislature of the Republic of Hawaii voted this innocent girl the mean sum of two thousand dollars a year in lieu of her rights as a successor to the throne of Hawaii, coupling the appropriation with still meaner conditions. This, while Mr. Dole receives one thousand dollars a month as a reward for leading the revolution that robbed the Princess of her rights. Then we have the junketing trips of ministers and favorites paid for by taxes contributed by Hawaiians. While the President and his minister enjoy their fat salaries and build sea-side residences and Roman mansions Hawaii's Princess mortgages her home for subsistence.

At The Opera House.

A good sized audience enjoyed the excellent performance of Fanchon, by the Katie Putnam company at the Irwin Opera House last evening.

Katie Putnam was as brilliant as ever and was ably supported by the other members of the company.

On Saturday night The Old Lime Kiln will be presented and there is no doubt that a full house will hail the Putnam company on that occasion.

Married.

Train Announcement.

The train leaving Honolulu at 5 p. m., Saturday, August 7th, will run as far as Ewa Mill only. There will be a theater train leaving Ewa Mill at 6:30 p. m., arriving in Honolulu at 7:30 p. m. The return train will Honolulu for Waianae 30 minutes after the close of the theater.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

THE INDEPENDENT thanks the Advertiser for the statement that the Hawaiians propose to obtain 50,000 signatures to their anti-Annexation petition. To do this will require the repetition of the tactics by which signatures were obtained to the Annexation roll, to which the Hawaiians will not stoop. Nay, nay, Mr. Advertiser.

THE INDEPENDENT declines the honor of the authorship of the editorials in this morning's Advertiser. It will admit, however, that Brother Armstrong is more truthfully independent than are his contemporary colleagues. He has had the advantage of having been in the heat of the battle and is better informed than they. Of course, in the midst of a political contest even he is compelled to resort to the diplomatic art which embraces the knowledge of suppressio veri.

THE INDEPENDENT is glad to learn from its ever welcome Friend in regard to the newly arrived German serfs from the sugar plantations that:

"Our excellent English schools will readily convert the children into good Americans, as they do in the United States. Their parents will find an ease and comfort of life here superior not only to that of their own country, but to that of any other laboring class in the world."

This is devoutly to be wished, but not to be believed in by those who know the home lives of these laborers and those to which they are destined and doomed.

What is the matter with Brother Dr. Bishop? Just read what he says in this month's Friend. Does he forget his own missionary money, land grabbing and nation stealing allies.

"John D. Rockefeller is said to possess 225 million dollars. Such possessions are not worth the evil reputation which that man has gained as a remorseless crusher of all men and corporations which stood in the way of his oil monopoly. But he will lose every dollar in a few years—when he passes off the scene. May he truly repent and find mercy for his naked and pauper soul. Poor Barney Barnato should be a warning."

The Bulletin credits United States Minister Sewall as having made use of the following language:

"Let me have any Senator or Congressman in Honolulu for just six hours and I will make an annexationist of him."

The people are naturally asking whether the Minister of Foreign Affairs will take official notice of such a breach of diplomatic principles, and whether Mr. Sewall is merely an Annexation Agent and not the impartial Representative of the United States. The true friends of Hawaii in Washington will seek an explanation of the Minister's conduct in this regard.

The schooner Aloha left San Francisco July 31st for Honolulu. The barkentine Archer would follow her 4 days later.

The Kewalo Bicycle Track

is at last a reality and "not a dream," thanks to the energy and enterprise of Mr. Desky. The track is fast approaching completion, and all will want to try issues on it. This is sure to occasion a run on bicycles, and in anticipation of such a run we have quietly laid in a good stock of TRIBUNE BICYCLES than which there is none better in the market. The TRIBUNE is now recognized in the United States as the BEST, it is the favorite with all the society people and business men of San Francisco, and our own American Minister rides one. Recent advices announce a cut in prices of lower grade wheels, but the high grade wheels still sell readily at the former list price. We have made better arrangements with the manufacturers, whereby we are enabled to sell the Tribune Bicycles at list price $100 and invite all intending purchasers of wheels to come and inspect our stock before going elsewhere. We have Ladies and Gentlemen's Road Wheels, Racers and all models manufactured by the celebrated Black Manufacturing Co. We also carry the "Columbus," "Columbus Juvenile" for boys and girls, "B and H Special" and "Zimay," which are sold exceedingly cheap.

F. J. Testa did not plead guilty to the charge of assaulting G. The reprimand was in a very mild form when the Judge told them to go and patch up their differences and be friends again.

Chinese Immigration.

The following communication received by the Chinese Consular Agents from the Minister of Foreign Affairs, presumably outlines the future conditions attaching to Chinese Immigration to Hawaii. Minister Cooper says:

"With further reference to the matter of the admission of the subjects of His Majesty the Emperor of China to this country, I have the honor to state that the regulations concerning Chinese who have been naturalized and Chinese who have been born here will be continued without change, also that all persons coming with in pervue of the Act 80 of 1892 will be admitted as heretofore with the exception of mill and agricultural laborers and those persons who have been admitted upon six months' residence permits.

No further immigration of laborers will be permitted and the issue of permits for six months residence, under bonds, will be strictly confined to the classes named in the law, namely, merchants having business interests here, and travellers, and will be issued only in cases of urgent necessity."

Tariff Bill—Passed

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The tariff bill passed its last legislative stage at 3 p. m. to-day, when the Senate by the decisive vote of 40 to 30 agreed to the conference report on the bill. The announcement was greeted with enthusiastic applause by the crowded chamber. This closed the great labor for which the fifty-fifth-Congress assembled in extraordinary session, and after stubborn resistance, at times threatening a deadlock, the Senate concurred with the House in a resolution for the final adjournment of the session at 9 o'clock to-night.

Their Good Work.

The Salvation Army and their friends are again entitled to great credit. Six children of the late Mrs. Harkston, the oldest being only 14 years old have been sent to the home of their deceased mother under the auspices of the Salvation Army. The youngest child, only 17 months old is being cared for by the wife of Adjutant Simerson. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Luning and Mrs. Cale are prominent among the friends who have helped the Army in its good work.

A REMARKABLE SHOT.

The wonderful performances of Dr. Carver have given him a world-wide reputation as a marksman. His shot always seems to strike the right spot. In this respect he resembles one of Seattle's best known products. Rainier beer always strikes the right spot. It is a sparkling, healthful beverage, particularly beneficial to persons requiring a mild tonic, for which it is highly endorsed by many physicians. Rainier beer is found on the sideboards of the leading people throughout the city. Criterion saloon. Phone 783.

Big Freights

By the Wilder for W. W. Dimond and now we are busy getting goods in position for customers to examine. Three extra clerks in the cellar this week unpacking goods. Don't look like dull times, does it? We are here for business and the Wilder brought the goods that will make things hum. We fix the prices to suit the customers and mark the goods in plain figures.

Another carload of Jewell Stoves and Ranges is not too much. We have a carload on the way all the time; its a breezy busy line with us, because everybody likes the Jewell.

In other lines by the Wilder we have enough glass, both cut or pressed, to stock any ordinary store. With us it is only a department, but we make it a good one by constantly bringing in new goods at prices which win consideration from the masses.

An innovation with us is a complete line of kitchen tables, cupboards and safes. These are made of the best seasoned material and may be kept free from ants or roaches. The ordinary "made to order in Honolulu" sort cannot be depended upon in this respect.

Our house furnishing department is complete. Every one will tell you this.

There are three brands of Jams and Jellies known to be absolutely pure. Crosse & Blackwells, Morton's and Code, Elfelt & Co. During the pure food crusade in California the goods of the latter passed every inspection and now come out of the factory specially stamped "Pure Food." We have a complete stock of these goods and offer them to the public at very low prices.

Our grocery department is full to the brim with reliable goods and our prices are low enough as to draw comment from other dealers. We buy for cash in quantities to suit the demand and consequently they are always fresh.

We handle the celebrated Albert boneless sardines and the Palace brand of sliced bacon, two articles for the table that are unexcelled.

We carry a full line of table delicacies, English and American and promptly fill orders. Prompt delivery in all cases whether in person or by telephone and careful attention paid to the selection of goods.

annually, or the amount of business that is done in San Francisco in two days. Chicago does as much business on any working day before noon as the purchases of the Hawaiian Islands amount to in a whole year; New York does more business in an hour. It is mere assumption to say that we would lose Hawaii's trade; nations trade where they can trade to the best advantage, and where could Hawaii go, except under great disadvantages? She can get her sugar into England to-day 'free'; why doesn't she send it there? Why does she sell it to the 'sugar trust'? She could not advantageously send her sugar to Canada because of the long haul from Vancouver east by rail, or else by water round the Horn.

"Since the 'reciprocity' treaty was entered into in 1875 down to 1891, a period of fifteen years, our total domestic exports to Hawaii were only $41,000,000, and annual average of but $2,746,000. They were not as much in 1895 as in 1888. In fact, less by nearly one million in 1895, compared with 1890, and less by over a million and a quarter in 1895, compared with 1891, and not as much as they were in 1892.

"Hawaii's gratitude for favors received is nowhere in evidence in these official statistics. If 'annexation' should ever come with its 'contract labor,' in contravention of our laws, with its Portuguese, Chinese, and Japanese population, its 'free' sugar for all time, and two United States Senators and Representatives or more in our Congress, with possible foreign complications and a very considerable debt, the United States will have satisfied the appetite of a few Hawaiian sugar planters, and that is all we would have to show for it.

"In the mean time we must expect that midnight alarms will be sprung upon the American people for breakfast table gossip, concerning danger to Hawaii from Japan or some other nation, which scheme, however, seems to have been a flat failure, necessitating the adoption of other tactics.

"It is difficult to account for the interest manifested by a few in Congress in favor of a continuance of the treaty. I think some of these manifestations are sentimental, while patriotic ebullitions cover the cupidity of interested parties. The latter lies at the bottom of this whole Hawaiian scheme. Eastern ships ply between Honolulu and Boston, New York and Philadelphia with sugar. Eastern people have Hawaiian investments which they want our taxpayers to support."

"Do you apprehend that any foreign nation contemplates annexing Hawaii?"

THE ANNEXATION TALK.

"That is a manufactured theory. All nations fully understand our policy, and by obtaining Pearl Harbor the United States has taken all the precaution necessary to protect the islands and our interests. Then, so far as annexation for purposes of defense is concerned, we might as well talk of annexing Ireland, which lies quite as near us as Hawaii. We have never expressed any fear of England's possession of Bermuda, which lies at our very doors, nor of Cuba by Spain, and yet both are in the track of all our commerce with South America, Mexico, and the South.

"The London Times has well said: 'The narrow, land-locked inlet or lagoon named Pearl River Harbor is in itself small in absolute extent, but it is of inestimable value to any civilized nation possessing it. The maritime power possessing Pearl River Harbor holds the key to the North Pacific.'

"The United States will not tolerate foreign control of Hawaii, and it follows that we will not permit Hawaii herself, by voluntary act, to attach herself to any foreign power, and nations know it, so that the threat, conveyed to the press by Hawaiian representatives, is very silly. It is a sample of diplomatic effrontery which should be met with plain talk. I say nothing of the spirit of ingratitude conveyed in suggestions, that the United States continues the treaty, Hawaii will enter into reciprocal agreement with other nations, but her situation is not such as to render that feasible—except at great disadvantage. Those whose avarice has been tempted for twenty years cannot be expected to scan a matter of honor and of safety very closely, but Hawaii may ascertain that the game of bluff has never worked in the United States to be coolly told that they must forever buy friendly, commercial, and other relations with Hawaii at an expense of six to eight millions per annum, or, failing that Hawaii will seek foreign interference? It is neither honorable nor diplomatic for Hawaiian representatives to offer such an alternative to the consideration of our Congress. In the light of all the facts, present conditions, and what we have done to enrich Hawaiian planters, I must continue my confidence in my own government, that it will do justice to our taxpayers and defend and protect home industries threatened with Hawaiian competition on unequal terms.

"The present tactics of those who represent Hawaii here are as shifting as the sands. Just now their play appears to be to let 'annexation' remain in the back ground until the Hawaiian planters can put away their 'contract' labor, and in the meantime every nerve is strained to maintain the statu quo, because every year will mean the profit of from six to eight millions, and that is a high stake for the planters to play for. The idea that because we have foolishly given Hawaii over sixty millions that we should continue that policy at the expense of our own taxpayers contains about as much of assurance as of hope, but the bait which the treaty holds out is fat and juicy, and we must not expect the fish to let go without a struggle."
