About a week ago we received some exceedingly handsome Shoes and Slippers from the East, not from S. Francisco, but direct from the East. This enables us to sell them cheaper than any other store on Maui. Ask for a pair of Men's soft, elegant Romeos. They will fit you like a glove. And our snug, comfortable Men's Embroidered Slippers are nice to slip on when you come home in the evening.
Let us show you our Ladies',
Girls', Boys' and Babies' Shoes.
Also our Barefoot Sandals, Rubbers, Tennis Shoes, White Canvas

WILL SELECT FORTIFICATION SITES

Lieutenant-Colonel Roessler of U. S. Army Engineers Corps to Assist in Selecting Fortification Sites.

SPANIARDS ARRIVE ON MAUI.

Noeau Brings Shipment of Laborers for H. C. & S. Co.
and Maui Agricultural Co.—Baseball Sunday
a Frost.—Evil Results Expected.

SITES FOR GREAT FORTIFICA- TIONS TO BE DECIDED UP- ON WITHIN A FEW DAYS.

Within a week the locations of the first two big batteries in the great system of fortifications contemplated for the protection of the Territory, will have been made.
One of these, as has been stated, will be at Pearl Harbor, and the other on Diamond Head.

Li-Col. S. W. Roessler, of the U.
S. Army Engineer Corps, who arrived here from the Coast on the Korea, is here for the express purpose of consulting with Capt. C.
W. Otwell with reference to the matter of fortifications, and before he leaves on the Mongolia next Tuesday, the sites of the two first works will have been determined.
This of course is but the first step in the big project, and it will be months—possibly upwards of a year—before the actual construction work will begin. The locations as determined by Col.
Roessler and Capt. Otwell will first have to be submitted to the War Department at Washington and approved; after which the preparation of the plans and specifications will require some time, and then the slow work of getting machinery, cement in vast quantities, and other material, most of which will probably have to come from the Atlantic coast, will commence.

But the important point is that the work of fortifying Hawaii has actually begun, and however slow will progress steadily until the completion of fortification works which at the present time contemplates the expenditure of $1,500,- 000. Appropriations made by the last Congress are only to the amount of $610,000, but this will be sufficient to practically complete the Pearl Harbor and Diamond Head projects, which will be the chief protection for Honolulu.
Of the appropriation at present available, $150,000 is for the purchase of the sites for the works and the remaining $460,000 is for construction purposes.

Details of the construction and armament of the fortifications are, according to the policy of the Department in such matters, not given out for publication, but it is stated on authority that the armament of both the Pearl Harbor and the Diamond Head fortifications will be two powerful batteries of the latest pattern of mortars and guns.

As soon as the locations have been approved, steps will at once be taken to secure the property and prove the titles, and at the same time plans will be prepared for the work by Captain Otwell, who will have direct charge of the construction. As this class of work is not done by contract, it will mean that the entire responsibility for the planning and executing of the work will rest on this officer's shoulders.
The materials for the work will be of the very highest quality, especially the cement, of which immense quantities will be used. All this material, as well as the machinery needed must be purchased and brought here by the Government, through the officer in charge.

Before the appropriations for the first fortifications are expended it is expected that more money will be forthcoming for other work of similar character, for the Territory, and the work will be able to proceed without break.

With the construction of the lighthouse at Makapu Point, the one on Molokai, and other lesser lights planned, and harbor work, which will be in progress within the next year, the local U. S. Engineer department will be exceedingly busy, and the amount of money to be expended by the Federal Government will be of much importance to Honolulu.

Col. Roessler, who with Capt.
Otwell is looking over the ground for the new fortifications, is stationed at Portland, Oregon, where he has charge of Government river and harbor work in Oregon, and of fortification at the mouth of the Columbia river.

SPANIARDS ARRIVE

The shipment of Spaniards who arrived in Honolulu last Friday afternoon to work on the plantations have been assigned to the different plantations and are looked upon with great favor by those who have seen them. They appear to be a healthy, quiet and industrious lot and it is hoped will prove all that was expected of them.

The Noeau arrived in Kahului Tuesday morning at 6 A. M. and at 8 A. M. all of them had been sent by train to the different plantations to which they desired to go.
Of the number arriving twenty-eight men, twenty women and sixty-nine children went to Puunene and nine men, eight women and nine children went to Paia to work on the plantation of the Maui Agricultural Company.

They are spoken of at Kahului
as the best behaved lot of emigrants ever landed there.

The plantations to which they were sent have always provided well for their labor and it is safe to say that if they are at all suitable labor they will remain for years with their present employers.

KAHULUIS 14 WAIKAPUS 2.

Such was the result of last Sunday's game of baseball between the Kahuluis and Waikapus at Well's Park. Quite a number of people were present but as a letter addressed to the association asking that all noise be stopped, it was a very quiet audience. Some one in the audience several times asked whether it was a game of the great American game they were attending or a funeral.

The game in itself, although very much one sided, was a pretty fast one. The Kahuluis were in excellent form and showed that they have had some practice since they were defeated by the Stars.
Their batting was certainly a decided improvement and when they again meet the Stars it will have effect.

In the eighth inning pitcher Hattie of the Kahuluis hurt himself while running to first. After recovering he went into the box and tried to pitch but as every throw would affect his injured leg he was substituted by Hampton. The Waikapus immediately protested, claiming that Mr. Hampton had been barred from pitching by the league. Umpire Keohokaloale paid no attention to the verbal protest and ordered the game continued.

The line up of the two teams
was as follows:

Kahuluis. Hampton, 2b.; Hattie, p.; Lloyd, 3b.; Morris, cf.; Rosecrans, ss.; Smith, 1b.; Smythe,
rf.; Hussey, lf.; Simpson, c.
Waikapus. F. Sylva, cf.; Ceder-lof, 2b.; Jackson, 3b.; Kaleo, c.; Kauiia, lf.; W. Enos, 1b.; Jim Enos, ss.; Viella, p.; Kona, rf.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Kahuluis.....1 2 1 5 0 0 2 3 0—14
Waikapus.....0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0—2

Tomorrow's game will be between the Morning Stars and Lahainas. This should prove an interesting game as the Lahainas will make a double effort to win their first game. Both teams have practised hard, and a large audience is expected.

A Surprise Party.

A most pleasant surprise party was given J. W. Wren, manager of the Kahului Store this week on the anniversary of his birth.

The whole affair was kept an entire secret and not until he came in from his work for the day did he know that a number of his friends were at his residence in waiting for him.

Those present were J. N. S. Wil-lams, superintendent of the Kahului Rail Road, F. E. Baldwin, manager of Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar
Co., H. B. Weller of the Union Oil
Co., Clarence G. White of Haku, E.
O. Born and Mr. Onderdonk of the Kahului store, Claude Kinney of the Kahului R. B. Co. and J. B. Thomson, assistant manager of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co.

After a delicious dinner music was heard on the lanai and Mr. Wren, thinking some persons were serenading him went out to see who it was when a large number of ladies and gentlemen entered the room and before the ladies could remove their wraps the gentlemen had removed the rugs and set aside the furniture and were dancing which was kept up until late that evening.

It was one of the pleasantest evenings of the season and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Daily Wireless Press Messages. A number of public spirited persons have made arrangements with the Inter-Island Telegraph Company to furnish daily cable news to the island of Maui and this week the system has been inaugurated.

The MAUI NEWS is printing these dispatches daily and forwarding them to certain persons here and to the Kahului Railroad Company who in turn post them in conspicuous places at their stations. This system will be found of great interest to the public and will enable them to keep in close touch with the outside world.

Many persons are taking great interest in the new system and it will soon be found to be indispensable.

Was it a Pipe Dream. Of the many silly articles published in the yellow journals of the coast, probably nothing has been seen that quite equals the following taken from the San Francisco Examiner of April 17.

Honolulu T. H., April 10. -The announcement from the mainland that Hilo people were considering the advisability of trying to tap the live volcano of Kilauea and run the molten lava down to Hilo bay and construct a breakwater, has caused a great deal of comment here. An important feature of the contract would be the ability of the labor to work about the hot fluid. It would be impossible to construct metal boots or other covering for the feet of the laborers to enable them to go about the flowing stream. Wood of the Iron Wood tree alone has withstood the heat of a lava flow and it is suggested that it will be necessary to tram a force of men to walk on ironwood stilts of varying height so that they can wade through the hot stream of pahoehoe lava.

The Legislature makes a Good Record. The Legislature of 1907 has finished its labors and by this time most of its members have returned to their respective homes. With the satisfaction that their labors have the approval of the intelligent element of the Territory.

This has been the only session of the Legislature of the Territory that accomplished the passage of needed bills within the time limit of sixty days since the inauguration of the Territorial form of Government.

The expenses of the Legislature has been far below that of any legislature while the general tone of the present body has been much better and much more free from childishness than was the Legislatures of the past.

That all of the bills passed were good is not claimed nor was it to be expected that they would be. That fake bills still incumber our statute books was to be expected but the steady advancement made by the legislatures of the past shows the tendency of the members elected to profit by the experiences of their predecessors and in time to equal the work accomplished by similar bodies on the mainland.

Probably no member of the House has as great a claim on the Territory for the excellent work done as Representative Charles A. Rice of Kauai while in the Senate Kalama and Hayselden have equalled the work of Rice for their constant efforts in the cause of the people.

MESSINA, April 30. -There is great apprehension over the volcano Stromboli. There is a panic in Calabria and the people are fleeing.

PARIS, April 30. -King Leopold, of Belgium, has had a lengthy conference with President Fallieres and M. Clemenceau.

SALT LAKE, April 30. -The strike of the carmen has been settled by granting the demands of the strikers.

MEXICO CITY, April 29. -Much indignation is expressed here over the stoning of the American and Mexican legations in Guatemala City by a mob.

CALABRIA, Italy, April 29. -Earthquakes in Catania and Stromboli are damaging vineyards.

GUAYAQUIL, April 29. -Daily collisions are occurring between Government partisans and Liberals on the eve of the election. Several have been killed.

NEW YORK, April 29. -It is reported that President Castro of Venezuela will retire on May 23 and be succeeded by General Gomez.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 29. -Scoury is increasing in the famine districts. There have been 1065 cases for the week.

HAVANA, April 29. -Nine thousand operatives have been locked out of the independent cigar factories.

ODESSA, April 29. -Sixteen bombs have been discovered in the summer residence of General Kaulbars.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 29. -A strike of the carmen has taken place here, accompanied with disorders.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27. -Blinger Herimann, for Land Commissioner and ex-Congressman, has been acquitted of the charge of destroying public records.

De Bolt Quotes Montesquieu. A decision was given Monday by Judge De Bolt whereby the executors of the estate of the late George Galbreith are refused authority to charge $530 to the estate for payment of premium on their bonds. They contended that such payment out of their own funds would be unjust and contrary to natural justice.

In his opinion Judge De Bolt says of this claim. "It is a well recognized fact that hard cases make bad law. I take it that a judge or court is not called upon, nor permitted, to decide a matter as he thinks it should be, regard less of law or precedent. No judge or court should place himself above the law, and, as it were, become a law unto himself. Nearly two hundred years ago Montesquieu, in viewing the tyrannies about him, wrote this: 'In despotic governments there are no laws, the judge himself is his own rule.' In republics, the very nature of the constitution requires the judges to follow the letter of the law. Other wise the law might be explained to the prejudice of every citizen in cases where their honor, property or life is concerned."

NOTICE. All Kamehameha School boys on Maui, Preparatory or Manual, whether graduates or not, are hereby requested to communicate by phone or mail with S. Kellinal Wailuku, Maui, HI.

PUUNENE LINES.

Dr. Sawyer who has been visiting Honolulu for the past few days is expected to return on Saturday. Dr. Bert has been the acting physician during his absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford left per "Claudine" for Honolulu. Mr. Crawford has been working as machinist in the Puunene Mill for several months and leaves to remain permanently in Honolulu. Their house will now be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Murasky.

Mrs. Grimaldi who arrived on the last Alameda from the States came up last Saturday to make an extended visit with her niece, Mrs. Geo. Keeney.

The new Spanish arrivals as laborers are thus far making a favorable impression and expressing a desire to go to work without any delay, and some of the children are already attending school.

UP COUNTRY NOTES.

The monthly meeting of the M. Ka-wao Literary Society took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nicoll of Hanakuaopoko, Friday evening, April 26th.

The following entertainment was much appreciated.

- 1. Selection on the Angelus. 2. Solo-"Good by Sweet Day" Rev. Bazata. 3. Trio-"Over the Water"-Mrs. Hair, Mrs. Nicoll, and Miss Steel. 4. Lecture-"Cochology"-Mr. D. D. Baldwin. 5. Solo-"The Flower Girl"-Mrs. Foster. Farce-"Her Neighbor's Creed."

The characters in the little play were excellently portrayed by Miss Williams and Mr. Reid.

The weather being propitious, there was a large attendance of Hanakuaopoko people as well as of those from the adjoining villages.

Honolulu's Actor Wins High Praise.

In a critique of the play, "The Lion and the Mouse," in the New National theater, Washington, the Washington Star has the following eulogy of Honolulu's actor, Will Lewers, whose career began in comic opera by local amateurs in his native city:

"Mr. Edmund Breese gives a portrait of the inflexible king of finance, which is photographic in its fidelity. It is drawn with broad, powerful strokes, yet free from the vulgarity of caricature. It is a picture of a big, strong, human being. The revelation of the gentler side of a coldly ambitious man's character is deftly made without undue sacrifice of his naturally dominating spirit. The affection between father and son is utilized to great advantage by the author, both in the development of the plot and in character portrayal. The son, as played by Mr. William Lewers, proved a most engaging young man, strong in youthful appeal, yet virile and convincing. Some of the scenes in which Mr. Lewers appears displayed him to more than ordinarily noteworthy advantage. He deserves recognition as one of the very best juvenile actors on the American stage."

Senate Overrides Election Bill Veto.

The Governor vetoed the Senate Bill No. 13 on Monday. It is known as the election bill.

His message vetoing the bill is as follows: Herewith I return Senate Bill No. 13, which I am unable to approve.

The chief change made in the law is the provision for one blanket ballot which shall be arranged so that the candidates' names are printed in party columns, under a party title, instead of being arranged alphabetically and without the party designation, as is now done. Other changes are made to bring the remainder of the election law into conformity with this main change.

Unless straight party voting, irrespective of the qualifications of the candidates, is to be adopted as the most intelligent method of using the ballot, this bill will mean a backward step, for it will make it far easier for the careless or ignorant voter to properly mark his ballot.

After quoting from remarks by Governor Hughes of New York, the Governor says: "There is no valid reason for the adoption of a plan which is obsolete and of which other communities, where it has been tried, are endeavoring to rid themselves."

The veto was overridden by a vote of 12 to 2, Makekani and Bishop being the ones who wanted to sustain it.

Kahului Railroad Company AGENTS FOR ALEXANDER & BALDWIN, LTD. - ALEXANDER & BALDWIN, Line of Sailing Vessels Between San Francisco and the Hawaiian Islands; - AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN STEAMSHIP CO.;

Will Flock to United States.

St. Petersburg, April 19.—The Director of the Emigration Department says: "This year, owing to political and economic crises, 300,000 Russian subjects will emigrate to America. Hitherto the yearly exodus has been about 250,000, of whom two-thirds were Jews and only 3 per cent orthodox Russians, 1 per cent being farm hands. Now the percentage of Russians and farm hands has increased.

"Most of the emigrants will go west to Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska and the Dakotas. They come from the Volga, Dnieper and Don districts and are hardy and industrious. Though illiterate, they are intelligent and unbogoted. The Government is endeavoring to direct the stream of emigration to Siberia, but only the poorest go there, the wealthier preferring America. The steamship lines from Libau, Odessa and Helsinki make the passage across the Atlantic cheaper, easier and surer than to Siberia, while clever steamship agents canvass villages and hamlets, securing desirable emigrants."

Labor Poorly Recompensed in Russia.

According to Consul Alexander Heingartner of Riga, the conditions governing the politico-economic life of Russia during the last two or three years have influenced manufacturing industries unfavorably; the output of several branches has been materially reduced, and that of others has ceased entirely. The Consul continues:

The same fate has overtaken the cottage industry, a type that plays a prominent role in the economic life of many districts of the empire. This is confirmed by the reports of those zemstvos in whose governments this form predominates. Thus in the government of Moscow, the unemployed tailors of the districts of Vereisk and Bogorodsk have taken to lumbering and the goldleaf beaters of Dmitrovsk to picking stones off village fields.

The following crafts have suffered most from the hard times: The manufacturers of brushes, the workers in brass fittings for harness, joiners, carriage makers, makers of adding machines, the weaving industry, tailoring, the gold-leaf beaters, etc. For instance, the price before the war of the tarantass (country cart) was 7 to 9 rubles, the present price not above 4 rubles; a sledges that formerly sold for 7 rubles now sells for 4 rubles. As an example of the fall in wages, a monthly wage for weavers of 30 rubles was not uncommon; now 15 rubles is the most that can be earned, the average monthly wage ranging from 4 to 8 rubles, with a working day of sixteen hours. (Ruble 41 cents.)

As a type of one of these industrial villages, that of Pavlovo can be taken, a description of which is given. This village is situated on the left bank of the river Oka, in the government of Nijni Novgorod, and has a population of 12,000. The chief employment of the village is the production of articles of metal, the manufacture of locks alone giving employment to 1400 cottages, with 1500 male artificers. The form most produced is that of padlocks, ranging in price from 3 copecks to 6 rubles. Latterly the manufacture of box and door locks has been taken in hand since the opening in the village of an industrial school with model workshops. Besides locks, the following steel wares are manufactured: Knives, forks, scissors of all kinds, razors, surgical instruments, beams for scales, corkscrews, shovels, etc., and small castings of tin and lead. In the manufacture of padlocks the prevailing type of industry is that of the family, for with the exception of the bows and springs, all the parts are made by the artificer and the members of his family of 10 years old and upward, the employment of outside help being the exception. According to kind and size of lock, a family is able to manufacture weekly ten to 150 locks. The earnings of a family engaged in the manufacture of locks varies from 21 to 4 rubles a week, the daily wage from 35 to 57 copecks for eighteen hours' work. The yearly earnings are from 93 to 149 rubles.

Judicial Usurpation.

The body of our judiciary is honest, patriotic and permeated with deep respect for the law and an earnest desire to do exact justice between man and man. The Judges, however, do not seem to hold the balance of justice evenly as between the public and its criminals. A great many of them arrogate to themselves legislative powers which they have no right to assume, and whose assumption is a positive danger to the Republic. If Judges are to legislate they will soon come to be nominated and elected with reference to their opinions on questions which may come before them and that will be the end of public confidence in the judiciary.

A rank case of judicial legislation as has ever been known in this State was the decision of the Supreme Court about a year ago, declaring unconstitutional an act prescribing fixed weights for butter put up in squares or rolls for sale at retail, according to the custom in this State. Now, by custom, a "square" in this State has come to be a common measure of butter. If it is unconstitutional to make it a fixed measure by law, it is evidently unconstitutional to prescribe the number of ounces in a pound. At the demand of retail dealers who wish to commit fraud the weight of the squares, which was originally exactly two pounds, has been reduced in various degrees until nobody, in buying a square, has any idea how much butter he is getting. It is evident that it is quite within the discretion of the Legislature to fix the weight of a "square" just as it fixes the weight of a pound. Our Legislature, however, did not do so. It merely required that squares offered for sale should be marked with their true weight in ounces or pounds. This act was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court as "an unwarranted restriction on the citizen's constitutional right to his property and to his privilege of following a legitimate business, and not required by any public necessity." The Court also declares that the requirement is "most onerous" and that "an approximate compliance with it would be exceedingly burdensome and expensive." Both those statements are absolutely untrue. It is not onerous, not burdensome, not expensive. It means merely adding the weight to the printed label used by most creameries, or using a mold which impresses the weight on the butter itself. That it is not burdensome is proved by the fact that the law was earnestly desired by all producers of butter and the wholesale trade. Its only opposition is from retail grocers, whose only motive for opposition is a desire to cheat. It is a very grievous injury to the industry owing to the frequent impossibility of gathering a carload of honest squares for shipment, the fraudulent squares being tolerated nowhere on earth except in California north of Tehachapi. When the Court held that selling fraudulent squares was "a legitimate business" it held that fraud was legitimate.

Now, in the exercise of its discretion the Legislature had said that the requirement was both "reasonable" and "necessary." The Court, having the power to do so, substituted its discretion for that of the Legislature. Now, if it is unreasonable here it is unreasonable in Oregon, where such a law exists and is enforced. It was enacted, we believe, for the purpose of shutting out the fraudulent California product. But there is good authority—not only common sense and legislative action, but judicial—in this State for holding the law reasonable. In this very case three Justices of the Supreme Court declare in express terms that the requirement is not "onerous," is not "expensive," is not "unreasonable," and that it was valid legislation. Four Justices, however, held otherwise, and four was against three.

While that decision is unusually rank, it exemplifies a growing tendency of the judiciary to usurp the functions of a Legislature by setting up their individual judgment of necessity or propriety against that of the officials elected for the purpose of exercising discretion. It is not good for the judiciary. It is not good for the public. If ever done it should be only by a unanimous court in an exceedingly plain case. Possibly it should never be done.—S. F. Chronicle.

The Future of Africa.

Samuel P. Verner, writing in the World's Work on "Africa Fifty Years Hence," declares that the most important of the favorable influences for future great developments in Africa is the latent wealth of the continent. This undeveloped wealth may be thus summarized: First, 5,000,000 square miles of wealth producing land, in excess of what is or may be required for the natives, and exclusive of all desert or otherwise unproductive areas. Second, known gold bearing reef, vein and placer deposits that will probably produce, for scores of years after opening, a total annual value of $300,000,000. Third, diamonds and precious stones to the value of $100,000,000 annually. Fourth, coal beds, covering 800,000 square miles. Fifth, copper deposits equal to those of North America and Europe combined. Sixth, beds of iron ore aggregating a probable quantity five times in excess of those known in North America. Seventh, a visible supply of hardwood and other lumber of the total quantity of at least 2,000,000,000,000 cubic feet, solid dimensions. Eighth, water powers totaling a horsepower equal to ninety times that of Niagara falls, neglecting all power less than 10,000 horses power. Ninth, an available labor force, not yet in use, of 15,000,000 able bodied men. Tenth, forty thousand miles of river and lake navigation. Eleventh, climatic, topographic and meteorological conditions so varied as to present an environment, somewhere within the bounds of the continent, suitable to every race. Then Mr. Verner shows the opposing influences, chief of which is the unhealthfulness of the larger part of Africa, the inaccessibility of the interior of the continent—but which will all be changed by the railroad—and the difficulties presented by the social and political relations between the races. Within fifty years Africa will see the completion of two great transcontinental north and south trunk lines and five east-and-west trunk lines. There will also be a number of subsidiary lines feeding these great trunk systems. The termini of these railway lines will be the great African ports. Cape Town should then have a population of over 1,000,000 whites and half as many blacks. Kimberley will be as large as Birmingham, Johannesburg as large as Sheffield, Bulawayo as large as Leeds. At Victoria falls there will be another Buffalo; near the southern end of the Tazanyika will be a city as large as Detroit. Stanlaville, the present metropolis of the center of the Congo, will be a black St. Louis. On the shores of Lake Albert there will be an African Cleveland. Khartoum will rival Memphis, and Cairo and Alexandria together will have the present population of New York. Somewhere in the highlands of Abyssinia, on the blue Nile, there will have arisen the African Pittsburg; a black New Orleans, somewhere about the lower Niger, will be shipping palm oil to its prototype across the Atlantic.

Sharp Rebuke For Swettenham.

LONDON, April 19.—A white paper issued this evening gives verbatim the letters of Admiral Davis and Governor Swettenham concerning the embarrassing Kingston incident, and also the cabled comment of the Colonial Secretary, Lord Elgin. The latter notified the Governor, January 22d, that "if such a letter is correct ly attributed to you, I must observe that both in tone and exception it is highly improper, and especially unbecoming to his majesty's representative in addressing an officer of a friendly power. I must further require you to withdraw forthwith and unreservedly any such letter, and to express your regret for having written it. Your withdrawal should be telegraphed to me at once, when it will be transmitted to the Government of the United States through the proper channels." On January 24th the Governor cabled the Colonial Secretary asking that the following be transmitted to Admiral Davis: "At the instance of the Secretary of State for the Colonies I desire to fully and unreservedly withdraw my letter of January 8th and to express my regret that I wrote it." On the same day the Governor cabled Lord Elgin as follows: "I respectfully apply for permission to retire on account of age forthwith and to be relieved."

HIS NEEDS. The records in the War Department in Washington are, as a rule, very dry; but occasionally an entry is found that is humorous.

An office of engineers, in charge of the construction of a road that was to be built through a swamp, being energetic himself and used to surmounting mere obstacles, was surprised when one of his young lieutenants whom he had ordered to take twenty men and enter the swamp, said that he "could not do it—the mud was too deep." The colonel ordered him to try. He did so, and returned with his men covered with mud, and said: "Colonel, the mud is over my men's heads. I can't do it."

The colonel insisted and told him to make a requisition for anything that was necessary for the safe passage. The lieutenant made his requisition in writing and on the spot. It was follows: "I want twenty men eighteen feet long to cross a swamp fifteen feet deep."—Harper's Weekly.

A SURPRISE TO HER. "So glad you've finally managed to visit us," said Mrs. Furze-Famley of Virginia. "Come right into the picture gallery; I want to show you my old masters."

"Gracious!" exclaimed Mrs. New-Rich of Chicago. "I didn't know you was ever a slave."—Philadelphia Press.

What Golf Costs The Briton.

According to Fry's Magazine, "there are now about 2000 golf clubs in Great Britain, and it is generally estimated that there are about 300,000 players. Probably more new courses were made in 1906 than in 1905, and money has been sunk in them by thousands of pounds at a time. While expenditure has been on the grand scale, so have receipts. In the summer a leading club with a famous south coast links took in 200 new members, getting 3000 guineas from them in entrance fees and making them liable to it for 600 guineas in annual subscriptions. Another club took £60 in green fees from visitors in three days, and another drew £600 in the same way in August alone. So far as can be estimated, it is believed that 20,000 people who were previously non-golfers were converted to the game in 1906. What with entrance fees and subscriptions and outlay on materials, the average new convert finds his initiation costs him £10. As on the average each of these new players will spend £15 a year on the game—how happy many of us would be to get off with four times that amount!—we have secured a permanent increase in income of at least £300,000. On an average, making the very fullest allowance for a preponderance of comparatively small provincial organizations, a golf club cannot represent less than £1000 worth of sunk capital, which means £2,000,000 for the whole country.

"We have, as stated, 200,000 golfers, and as we have suggested that the annual expenditure of each of them on the average—such annual expenditure being almost the sole income of the game—cannot be less than £15, this means 6 shillings a week for all and sundry, and it can hardly be possible for it to be an overestimate. This gives us a total of £4,500,000. To this has to be added the special commencing expenditure of 20,000 new players at £10 each, which for some time may be regarded as a permanent source of income. These items added together give us a sum total of £4,700,000 spent on golf in the year.

"The playing of this game has given rise to a considerable industry, and many thousands of people earn a good living through its agency. The majority of clubs employ a steward, waiters and other servants, a professional and a varying number of groundmen. An average of ten would be a very reasonable allowance for this staff, which gives us 20,000 for the 2000 clubs. It is estimated that there are 80,000 caddies, giving us a total of 100,000 employes attached directly to the various clubs.

"Then there are at least 3000 persons engaged in the ball making trade, as salesmen and in various other capacities. Just see how many are needed by the great world of golf! To begin with, there are those 300,000 golfers. It has been reckoned that at the height of the summer golfing season, when the players are busy everywhere, not less than 500,000 balls are used up every week. This, indeed, seems to be a most reasonable estimate. It was semi-officially stated in June that one firm of makers, and that not by any means the biggest, was working night and day and turning out 100,000 balls a week. Taking the whole year round, if you say one ball a golfer a week, that is surely a very modest reckoning. At that rate we have a grand total of 15,000,000 balls used up every year by the British golfers on British links. Fifteen millions!"

Sea vs. Rail Transportation.

There are now two water-and-rail routes between the Pacific Coast and the East—one via the Isthmus of Tehuantepec and the other via Panama. Each is destined to be an important factor in transportation, and the Panama route is already being utilized more extensively than is generally known. California seems not to have fully grasped the opportunity afforded by breaking the monopoly that long held sway on the Isthmus of Panama. The people further north, however, are beginning to take advantage of it. A recent dispatch from Seattle states that difficulties of railway transportation have caused many merchants of that city to ship their freight by Twenty Million Russians are Starving.

London, April 19.—Writing from the Russian famine district, Dr. Kennard, sent by the Society of Friends to investigate conditions, draws an appalling picture of the suffering. He says:

"This is the worst famine Russia has known. No less than 20,000,000 people cannot live without aid to see another harvest, and I may say that this figure has been not only approved by the Zemstvo organization, but also by the Government itself. The date of the harvest will vary with the latitude, and the famine-stricken region is spread over such a wide area (five times the size of France) that more than ten degrees of latitude are involved. This means that in direct proportion from south to north the harvest will be from July 3 to July 23.

"Funds will be needed to the end of July to feed all these millions, and then the harvest will bring relief; but there are many hundreds of thousands to whom the harvest will not bring relief, for they have neither land nor cattle. The few cows in existence are in such a pitiful condition that they are useless for milking purposes. The result is that babies and young children are being forced to eat the coarse black bread and indigestible young cucumbers.

"The people have sold their all, and, in most cases, have likewise sold in advance all that the harvest might bring them. They have sold themselves and their work, and from all over the southeastern provinces reports are coming in of young women and girls forced to prostitute themselves to obtain food.

"For these suffering people relief must be afforded during the whole of the coming year. Meanwhile epidemics of disease add to the terrible conditions obtaining. The difficulties encountered in relieving these people are made ten times worse now owing to the practically impassable condition of the country roads. The winter snows are melting and projecting vast volumes of water in countless cataracts toward the Volga and travel is impossible."

Dr. Kennard appeals for tinned milk and for tinned meats and meat juices. He adds: "I have seen the Zemstvo workers and their methods, and can vouch for it that not only is the work being carried out in a businesslike and capable manner, but that the most is made out of every farthing."

water from New York, transshipping at the Isthmus of Panama, and by way of San Francisco to Seattle. By this means it is found that freight arrives days, weeks and sometimes months ahead of freight sent overland across America from New York city. It is further stated that freight of immediate value can be rushed to Seattle by means of the Isthmus of Panama. About thirty-five days is the time limit for stuff from New York to that port, when it is transhipped at the isthmus and at San Francisco. A direct line from New York to the isthmus carries the cargoes on the Atlantic ocean. After crossing the narrow neck of land between the two Americas by rail, the freight is sent to San Francisco by water and thence again by water to Seattle. Several large steamship lines and many tramp steamships are engaged in this commerce.

The car shortage appears to have caused resort to the Panama route. Merchants along the entire Pacific Coast are complaining about it. It is even asserted at Portland that Christmas goods which should have been sold during the holidays four months ago have not yet arrived in that city. They were ordered more than a year ago and paid for more than eight months ago. This is possibly an extreme case. But that large business interests have been and still are damaged by the inability of the land lines to handle freight on time is not disputed. In view of this it will not be strange if there should be more general resort to the water and rail routes. That via Tehuantepec has the advantage of being much the shorter. It promises to handle an enormous amount of freight and is preparing to increase accordingly its already large fleet of American-Hawaiian liners. With this new route and with the longer one via the isthmus, the near future should see a revelation in the carrying trade between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.—San Diego Union.

With twenty-seven men and eleven women in the Congressional party coming to visit Hawaii, the United States Army transport Buford sailed Tuesday morning from San Francisco for Honolulu, China and the Philippines. She is expected here on the afternoon of May 6 or the morning of May 7. The Buford carries a large quantity of relief supplies for famine sufferers in China.

The large freighter Mexican is expected soon and will relieve the warehouses of their unusually large amounts of sugar on hand. This boat has been fitted up to carry a few passengers while she has accommodations for many steerage passengers she will not carry any Japanese but will take twelve passengers to Mexico or the mainland of the United States should persons desire to make this run.

At the end of this week there will be twenty thousand tons of sugar in the different warehouses in Central Maui ready for shipment. This is the largest amount on hand at any one time held here ready for shipment. The congestion is due to the fact that the improved condition of the mills makes it possible to turn out sugar much faster than formerly while the increased capacity of the freighters does not keep pace with the growth of sugar manufacture.

The Bangalore is expected in Kahului tomorrow. She will be the first vessel to take sugar from the port.

A Plea For Boys.

EDITOR STAR: In England in France, Germany and in America as well, the boys, the youths, that are sent away from home to preparatory schools of the same grade we will say as Eton (and hundreds of them) those boys come under the tutelage of gentlemen masters, even not infrequently at a very early age, even seven years only and from that all the way along until, entering college.

We believe that in any public school (and now we speak from knowledge) in this Territory of more than one or at most, two classes, there should be the far-reaching moral and scholastic influence of the man.

A man's influence and power, a certain magnetic force, is carried by the boy to his home, on the street, in the car, at the evening gathering or where ever he may be found.

We have no doubt that some few, at least, of the boys committed even in the past year to the Reformatory not only lacked too often, moral influence at home, but not come under the certain will power of the man, in school hours. We have not spoken with anyone as yet or looked into the statistics but have formed that, possibly incorrect, conclusion from a few (or a many things) we have seen on the street, at the market place on Saturday, on the play grounds and in the street cars.

We will repeat, in conclusion that there should be gentlemen for principals wherever possible; there should be a man at the head, with a man's head and heart, a man who knows and can understand, a boy! But, we must not look for them, all, to be like the late Arnold of Rugby.

They can approximate to that splendid example however if they will. They can be the true friend and helper of the boy! (poor little boy.)

We must be ready always and alert if we would advance in any given direction it we would progress, to face an issue. We cannot shut our eyes to facts, or shut out facts, by obstinacy. The greatest good to the greatest number is today the accepted proposition of enlightened humanity.

ANNE M. PRESCOTT.

Foot Note—We shall likely make a few foes by this argument but that is neither here nor there; we shall contend for right (principles) the best we may, to this end of time (for us) and even a "aifbrick" that may hit and hurt us, will not at any time deter us in what we propose writing.

Patents Popular Device for the Ladies.

Wm. Green of M. Phillips, & Co., popularly known as "Billy Green" is on Maui this week and has with him a device he has recently invented and patented especially designed for conveniently holding spools of silk or other material on the person so that the material will be ready of access and prevent its falling as is too often the case.

The device consists of two rectangular frames, each of which is a pin by which it may be attached to the clothing of the operator or to the spool. After the work is finished for the day the spool and work can easily be pinned together and laid away.

All who have been seen the device pronounce it an excellent one and believe it will soon be in universal use.

Some years ago Mr. Green returned from a tour of the islands and being tired wished to have a quiet evening at home and lighting a cigar and taking up an interesting book began to read. In a few moments Mrs. Green dropped her spool of thread on the floor, which Billy got and handed to her. Resuming his reading he was again disturbed by the falling of the spool. The third time he had to get down on the floor and get the spool out from under a piece of furniture. This so exasperated Billy that he took a hat pin and in a moment had a holder for the thread and pinned it to his wife's clothing. It was soon noticed and becoming popular he decided to make improvements on this simple device and his patented device is the result.

The holders will be placed on the market and sold at a cost of five cents each for nickel holders while those made of more expensive material will be more expensive.

Certain ladies in Honolulu have had Wichman make, by permission of Mr. Green these holders of gold at a cost of five dollars each.

One More Passenger Steamer.

Cable advices, were received in Honolulu Tuesday morning by the local agents of the A. H. S. S. Co., H. Hackfeld & Co., to the effect that a license to carry passengers had been granted the S. S. Mexican. The Mexican sailed from San Francisco Tuesday morning for Honolulu direct. She will load sugar at island ports and go to Salina Cruz, taking passengers hence to the Mexican port.

There are accommodations aboard the Mexican for twelve first cabin passengers.

The A. H. boats will carry no Japanese steerage to Mexico, the policy of the steamship company being emphatically opposed to taking the laboring Japanese from these islands.

Had the American-Hawaiian boats seized the opportunity when it first appeared of taking Japanese to the Coast, say interested parties here, hundreds of thousands of dollars would have been made over profits which have been received.

It has been stated by the management of the company that it is not the policy of the American-Hawaiian to take away the Japanese from Hawaii, although overtures have been made by Japanese interests involving large contracts for the transportation of Japs

Punchbowl Sets the Fashion.

The Draper's Record, a recent London dispatch says, announces that sulphur yellow will be the popular shade in 1907, both for women's dresses and house decorations. It already has a vogue in Paris, and London is following. Punchbowl has led the world's gay capital in this freak of fashion for many years.—Advertiser.

KIHEI-WAILUKU GUN CLUBS WIN.

The second contest for the cup offered by the Maui Hotel for the prize shooting between the gun clubs of Maui was contested for last Sunday morning and resulted in favor of the combined clubs of Kihei and Wailuku.

The first shoot was at Waikapu some weeks ago and resulted in favor of the Kihei-Wailuku team. The shoot of Sunday was at Punene and as the result was in favor of the same team they will now hold the cup indefinitely.

The score of Sunday was as follows:

| KIHEI-WAILUKU. | |
|-----------------|-----|
| P. J. Bell | 43 |
| M. J. Moura | 39 |
| E. M. Keeney | 38 |
| F. A. Mayfield | 33 |
| W. A. Sparks | 30 |
| Total | 183 |
| PUUNENE. | |
| W. W. Wescoatt | 40 |
| G. L. Keeney | 39 |
| Arthur Batts | 33 |
| George Mayfield | 29 |
| W. Lougher | 29 |
| Total | 170 |

Each marksman shot at fifty blue rocks thrown at unknown angles.

The score of last Sunday was on an average much better than that of the previous shoot.

The contestants were shown every courtesy by the Punene club and after the shoot a luncheon was spread for the members of the teams. It being the desire of the members to challenge Honolulu some time in the near future the All Maui Gun Club was formed with P. J. Bell as President, G. L. Keeney Vice President, W. A. Sparks Secretary, E. M. Keeney, Treasurer and F. A. Mayfield Field Captain.

The new club will consist of all of the members of all of the teams

National Home to Cure Lepers.

"Can leprosy be cured?" is a question which apparently has been answered by a refuge for lepers in Louisiana in the affirmative, and there are indications that within a few years the United States will have a national home for the treatment of the dread disease.

There is now only one place on this continent where the leper may find a refuge and a home that will afford him all the necessary comforts of life. This home is situated in the state of Louisiana, in Iberville parish, on a large tract of land bordering the Mississippi river, and in remote days was called Indian camp plantation. The same name still clings to the estate, but instead of an old-fashioned plantation house, with its barn and stable and negro quarters and its fields green with cane or white with cotton, there is the attractive administration building modeled from the ancient plantation "big house," and clustered about a number of low, roomy modern brick structures which serve as sleeping quarters and treatment rooms for the patients.

This is the leper house of the state of Louisiana, directly under state oversight and governed by a board of control. Here for the last few years Dr. Isadore Dyer, consulting leprologist and Dr. Ralph Hopkins, visiting physician, have struggled to cure the disease, and slowly but surely they have demonstrated, they declare, that if it be taken in hand before the last stages have been reached, leprosy, by means of a certain course of treatment can be cured.

Since 1884 there have been admitted to the home 101 patients. Of this number three have been discharged as cured, 40 have died, 74 have absconded—that is, run away from the home—and 41 remain at Indian Camp. Of the three cases discharged the first was that of a boy admitted in October, 1902 at the age of 13. He was discharged December 7, 1904, as cured, and has been kept under observation ever since. Reports show that there has been no return of any evidence of the disease.

The second case was that of a woman admitted August 10, 1900, at age of 59, and discharged cured Deember 19, 1905. There has been no evidence of a recurrence of the disease in her case. This patient was kept 18 months under observation after lesions had disappeared before she was discharged from the home.

The third case was that of a woman admitted June 2, 1904 at the age of 30 years, and discharged April 25, 1906, cured. She was kept at the home more than a year under observation after the lesions had disappeared.

Eight of the patients now at the home show a type of arrested disease, with no active lesions and no evidence of the disease except pigmentation. Of this number at least six are now under observation, with a view to their discharge after a reasonable period of freedom from the disease.

This is the triumph of medical science at the Louisiana state leper home, but it is only the beginning. It represents many years of toil and self-denial on the part of public spirited citizens, attending physicians, and last, but probably greatest of all, the Sisters of Charity who have devoted their lives to ministering to the lepers.

The treatment which has accomplished such wonderful results consists, it is said, in administering ichthyol, chlorate of potash, strychnine, salicylate of soda, chaulmugra oil and arsenic. The best results seem to follow the treatment with chaulmugra oil and strychnine, the three patients discharged as cured having had this course.

The method of treatment is largely one of nutrition, it being known that if a resistance can be established in the individual patient the disease will disappear. All patients, therefore, are required to take daily hot baths, eat plenty of wholesome food, without respect to its being fish, flesh, fowl or vegetable, and to spend as much time as possible in the open air and sunshine.—Ster.

A District Magistrate Under Arrest.

District Magistrate J. W. Recard of Lahaina has been arrested on a charge of accepting a bribe and will be tried on the charge before Judge A. N. Kepoikai next Tuesday.

Very serious charges and counter charges have been made in the matter and opinion seems pretty well divided. Judge Recard has many very strong friends who vouch for his honesty while others are just as much opposed to him.

Judge Kepoikai may be depended upon to give the defendant a fair and impartial trial and do justice in the matter.

The result of the trial will be watched with interest by many who are taking a deep interest in the matter.
