NOTICE TO MARINERS.

During the process of Deepening the Channel at the entrance to Honolulu harbor the Dredger will be in operation night and day.

At night there will be a Danger Signal placed on the forward derrick of Dredger, about 30 feet above sea level, which can be seen by all vessels approaching the harbor.

The Signal consists of 3 Red lights and a White light—as in the diagram—the red lights being about 3 feet apart, with the white light in the center.

All steamers crossing the Bar will stop at a safe distance from the Dredger and give one blast of their whistle, which will be answered by a single blast from the Dredger, to be followed by three blasts from the Dredger when the passage is clear and they can proceed.

The Tag will be on hand when not otherwise engaged to assist sailing craft in passing the Dredger when necessary.

The Redemption of Louisiana.

Some of the Southern States have had hard and trying times since the close of the great war that settled the questions of secession and human slavery. None of them, however, has passed through so many grievous
and trying experiences as Louisiana.
While an ignorant and debauched Legislature had charge of the law-making branch of the State government, a charter was given to one of the most corrupt and corrupting companies that ever existed in America. This was the Louisiana Lottery, the charter of which is about to expire. Millions of money have been made by the managers of this lottery, and very naturally they wished to get a renewed lease of corporate life. In despite of State law against lotteries, and Federal laws and decisions framed and pronounced against this particular lottery, it has continued to flourish and prosper. When the time for the expiration of the charter approached, the lottery company endeavored to get possession of the State Legislature and Executive, so that in that State, at least, it might have a legal existence. An annual sum was offered to the State
almost sufficient to make State taxes unnecessary. This was a colossal bribe, but the offer has been rejected by a majority of the voters.

First the lottery managers attempted to get charge of the Democratic party. In this they came so near succeeding that the good Democrats of Louisiana appealed to the country at large to help them in the fight against their corrupt and formidable opponents. The Convention to nominate a candidate for Governor was not satisfactory, so it was decided that the Democrats in the State should cast a popular vote, and thus declare their choice as between the lottery and anti-lottery candidates for Governor. It was arranged that these votes should be counted and canvassed by a commission consisting of three members from each faction and a seventh member chosen by these six. The election was held, and the vote was close. On the face of the returns the lottery candidate had been nominated, but in canvassing the votes the commission threw out several parishes in New Orleans where there had been manifest frauds. The vote of the commission stood four to three, the neutral mem-

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But Established for the Benefit of All.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 20, 1892.

The "lobby" is forbid by law (or decree) to grow on Hawaiian ground. This notice, in gorgeously illuminated engrossment, appears at the entrance to the Legislature, under the sign-manual of "F. J. Testa, Sergeant-at-Arms."

The extension of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel Co.'s enterprise to embrace an elegant health and pleasure resort in the charming Waikiki suburb is worthy of all commendation. It adds to the attractions for beguiling tourists to our shores, and prolonging their presence in this Pacific paradise, besides providing a pleasant social meeting place for our own people.

Hon. A. Horner is entitled to the full force of his disclaimer of improper language used to the President of the Legislature. One of three members to whom the Bulletin has been privately referred—the only one found when sought—could only say that the language he heard was not so bad as that reported. The President, on being interrogated, laughed and said he had not caught all the words used, but a member had reported language from Mr. Horner which would hardly bear repetition.

Honorable (?) members of the House, aware of the provisions of the Constitution which protect them from the consequences of any speech made in the Legislature, often are cowardly and devilish enough to use their place in the House as a means of spreading slanders, insinuating lies, uttering untruths and generally staining the reputations of those whom they hate or wish to be revenged on.

PERSONAL JOURNALISM.

The Japan Weekly Gazette of August 6th has an article on "Personal Journalism," from which the following remarks are selected. They have some application in Hawaii where people are seen without a blush reading papers that "at home" (in different countries) are outlawed in the mails and never allowed in any home or respectable place of business.

"The more liberal education of the present day, the increase of refinement and the exigencies of an ultra-civilization have produced a mental palate which is happily fastidious, and requires to be nicely catered for. This is at least true of the principal centres of the world. Robbed of his ultra-civilized surroundings, however, man quickly lapses into a certain rough, Bohemian condition of body and mind, and the exact degree of his decline may be accurately measured by the style of 'press' which he patronizes.

"At home the line between the press proper, and that nondescript medley of 'popular paragraph,' 'gossip,' coarse jest, and real humor which characterizes the conglomeration of publications which hang on its outskirts, is fairly distinctly drawn, and a man is judged, as he should be, by the paper he reads. Abroad, it is different, and one and the same man will be seen to patronize two papers as opposite as the poles in their distinctive styles. Why should this be? A man may be driven by circumstances to cultivate the company of those with whom he has no tastes and sympathies in common; but with a paper a man makes a deliberate choice, and if he chooses an inferior article, or allows his taste to be satisfied by both vulgar and refined publications, it shows that there is something seriously out of gear with his intellectual appreciation.

"We have already said that once away from the social restrictions, refinements and intellectual friction of our great centres of civilization, a man quickly falls into a slovenly state, both mentally and physically, but more especially the former. He allows himself to first tolerate, and finally to like a style of humor which would at home have filled him with disgust, and he perforce of habit, perhaps, admits into his house journals which at home would have hardly been allowed to enter the kitchen. At home he was apt to think the street arab who hailed him with, 'Hi! Gov'nor, who's your hatter?' as a vulgar and wholly depraved little urchin; but away from the social environment of home and an intellectual atmosphere, he finds it possible to read with a relish column after column of personalities in vilest English not one whit superior to the above remark, and redolent of the public-house bar and East-end music-hall 'wit.'

It may be said to the credit of Hawaii that every attempt to establish personal journalism here has been an egregious failure. Whenever a new bantling of that feather appears, with a great big "I" representing one of a very small fry, people have become habituated to feel a pitying wonder as to the dupes who shell out good money to give the fowl bird its initial flight. A small minority of the community, however, seem to think that the newcomer fills a longfelt want, and that it is only a matter of time when it will supersede the old-fashioned, even if progressive, journals of fact and opinion. This minority comprises those people who are always bothering the conductors of the legitimate press with suggestions that they should flay, roast or burn up certain other people. They are also those who are the most sensitive to having their own little breaks published, often in their anxiety being the first to acquaint the press with events they don't want published, when they come to ask to "keep it out of the paper."

Our Japan contemporary goes on to give the following account of personal journalism and its results just as we see it in Honolulu:

"It requires but very little ability indeed to be personal. We have already suggested that the accomplishment thrives naturally in the slums of our cities, and in any of the haunts of vice and ignorance. To run a paper whose raison d'etre is to be personal and as offensively personal as possible, costs little, as the man to run it can be picked up anywhere if only he is sought for in sufficiently disreputable corners. The harm which personal journals may do takes longer to enumerate than the qualifications necessary for its editor. In the first place, journals of that ilk strike a death-blow to loyalty, veneration, self-respect and ambition. They destroy the standards to which men naturally look up; they create and foster a socialism of the very worst sort; they breed a spirit of discontent, and a fever of uncharitableness; they encourage and foster all that is worst in man and smother all that is good. Such journals by speaking of the senior men of a community with disrespect, calling them by nick names, etc., almost unconsciously destroy the respect formerly felt for those men by the lads growing up around them. To personal journals nothing is sacred. Neither home nor family, petty post or important office. The harm they do is simply incalculable, and yet they are tolerated and allowed even in small communities where, cut off from all the better influences which surround us at home, there is the greatest and most urgent need for a high toned and refined press. The presence of a personal and vulgar journal is frequently complained about in the communities cursed with one, but the fact of the real—not imaginary—harm which the offensive sheet may do is over-looked. Well indeed would it be for all such communities if the matter was not over-looked and if they were a little more careful of the papers they read."

Nothing is more conspicuous in the specimens of "personal journalism" with which we are acquainted than the colossal conceit standing out in every line of columns filled with abuse of men of standing whose shoes the big "I" is not worthy to black. The latest sample of this species of journalism is now struggling for its baby breath. Its big "I" has the audacity to sneer at the capacity of journalists who made their influence felt with millions of readers scattered over a continent before his own school-ma'm let him loose on an unsuspecting world. While they have never lacked employment in the most responsible positions of journalism for a score of years, the big "I" who talks about their diminutive brain has, after beating about from pillar to post for years, begging a stray job in campaign fly-sheet journalism, come down to taking a meagre allowance from an infatuated woman, who thinks the power of the press reposes in printer's ink smeared on any way, even with a brush made from the ears of a mule.

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschce's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called on me for a cough, and I gave her a few doses of German Syrup and she was cured. I told her to take it, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief."

Tramcar Accident.

One of the horses in the spirited chestnut team of the Tramways Company narrowly escaped being run over by a long car yesterday evening. The car was coming from the Rifle Range and at the junction of Alapai and King streets the off horse slipped on the rail and rolled a few feet, the other maintaining its feet. Luckily the driver had the brake hard down, as it was on a down grade, and the car stopped just in time to avoid crushing the animal. The electric sparks that flew from the rail show like myriads of diamonds. As it was the horse was badly cut above the right eye, but was otherwise unhurt. There were two passengers in the car at the time, and it was a caution to see one of them, a woman, run excitedly from the scene.

THE LEGISLATURE.

NINETY-SECOND DAY.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 20, 1892.
Morning Session.

Assembly convened at 10 o'clock for prayer by Chaplain Waimau, President Walker in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Clerk McCarthy and Interpreter Wilcox and after a slight correction were approved.

Noble Williams from the Committee on Printing reported a report of Opium Committee No. 2 ready and printed. Ordered to be distributed.

Rep. Bush stated that the report of Opium Committee No. 2 now ready and printed had in connection with it considerable prima facie evidence (the speaker here placed on his desk a package containing fifty, more or less, tins of opium) which had been captured by him without any great expense and at a time when both the customs and police were supposed to be on the watch.

If the schooner which had lately been reported as wrecked, had not gone ashore at Lanai, we would probably have been enabled to present 5000 more tins. Some of the opium here presented is Californian and was landed at Waianae. A report relative to the Ewa affair is nearly ready and will be presented shortly.

The opium was forwarded to and placed in charge of the Clerk of the Assembly, but he quickly turned it over to the Finance Department.

President Walker announced as the special committee to investigate the alleged "spiriting away" of Noble Kana on the 15th inst. the following members, viz: Reps. Kaneali and Edmonds, and Nobles Williams, Walbridge and Anderson.

Noble W. Y. Horner and Reps. A. Horner and Kaluna asked for and obtained leave of absence.

The President announced changes in the Standing Committees as follows: Noble Walbridge on Finance vice Macfarlane made Minister, and Noble J. M. Horner Chairman Foreign Affairs vice Macfarlane made Minister.

Noble Baldwin under suspension of the rules presented a report from the Finance Committee on Section 12 of Bill No. 115, entitled "an Act relating to Internal Taxes," and to the effect that the committee are not in favor of taxing life insurance premiums. Tabled for consideration with bill.

Rep. Kapahu under suspension of the rules presented a petition from residents of Kona, Oahu, the prayers therein being untranslatable by the interpreter, and petition was referred to Committee on Miscellaneous Petitions.

Rep. Nawahi read a petition from one Ahlo that he be paid for labor and material used in the construction of a reservoir in Nuanuu Valley. To Water Works Committee.

Noble Williams presented and read a petition from St. Andrew's Church Association containing a resolution of that society to the effect that they "make respectful petition to the Legislative Assembly that it will decline to pass any bill which would legalize the establishment or maintenance of lotteries in this Kingdom we believing that the existence here of a lottery system would be terribly injurious to the welfare moral, social, and economic, of the peoples of various races who constitute this Hawaiian community." Tabled for consideration with the Lottery Bill.

Rep. Aki, a petition from residents of Honolulu that the House pass the Lottery Bill.

Unfinished business being moved the Assembly took up the consideration of Bill 121, being an Act to amend Article 55 of the Constitution and to the effect that the Nobles and Representatives shall receive for their services a compensation to be determined by law and paid out of the Public Treasury provided that such compensation shall not exceed the sum of eight dollars per diem nor be drawn for more than sixty days in any biennial period.

Discussion was entered into for and against the measure and lasted until 11:58 at which hour, pending action on the bill recess was had until 1:30 p. m.

Mr. Lander's Recommendation.

Mr. J. A. Lander, a prominent citizen of Clarksburg, Mo., and widely known in that State, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy: "I have seen its good results and can recommend it." For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.

THE BAR REMOVED.

Soundings to Determine Results of Dredging the Channel.

Mr. H. W. McIntosh, Superintendent of Public Works, inspected the newly dredged entrance to Honolulu harbor to-day. For this purpose he employed the Government tug Eleu. The tug was fitted with the apparatus previously described in the BULLETIN, the essential feature of which is a lateral bar, depending thirty feet beneath the steamer athwart the line of the keel. This device detects any protuberance on the bottom less than thirty feet below the surface. Superintendent McIntosh was assisted in his investigation by a leadsman of the U. S. S. Boston under the direction of Navigating Lieutenant Moore. Captain Wiltse of the Boston offered every assistance in the operation, and a cutter from that ship was placed at the service of the surveying party.

Mr. McIntosh was seen by a BULLETIN reporter and gave the facts herewith presented. He was agreeably surprised with the results of the survey, which was only a preliminary one. It was not supposed by him that the work was so far advanced as found to be the case. The tug steamed all over the channel where the hydraulic dredge has been excavating for the past three or four months. It was found, with one slight exception, that the bar had been completely removed to a depth of thirty feet and more. The contract called for a width of 200 feet, but the tug covered a width in places of 245 feet. In the middle of the channel the exception noted was detected, a depth of only 29 feet being found, but the next cast of the lead showed a depth of 32 feet. The soundings were 30 to 32 feet right along with the one exception.

Mr. McIntosh has men at work now, under direction of Mr. F. S. Dodge of the Government Survey, staking and buoying the deepened channel. When this work is completed a final survey will be made prior to certification of the completion of the contract. As the U. S. S. Boston intends to make a survey for report to her own Government, it is expected that her officers will act in conjunction with our Bureau of Public Works. The grand fact may in the meantime be recorded that the entrance to Honolulu harbor is now deep enough to admit vessels of the largest draught which ever visit these waters.

From Lysan Island.

The schooner Liholiho, in command of Captain H. Berry, arrived at 11 o'clock this morning from Lysan Island, having made the round trip in 193 days. The Liholiho left Lysan Island on Saturday, September 10th. The run down was accomplished in seven days. The bark Mary S. Ames had arrived at the island, took in a cargo of guano and left again the latter part of August, before the Liholiho arrived. Governor Freeth and his colony of guano-pickers were all well and hard at it. The schooner brought away from the island three Japanese, a white man and a Chinaman, leaving on the island about twenty laborers. Her cargo consists of between 95 and 100 tons of guano consigned to the Pacific Phosphate & Fertilizer Co., H. Hackfeld & Co., agents.

The Aquatic Championship.

There was a report current that the Healanis had flung another challenge at the Myrtles for a race to take place at Pearl City, three weeks from last Saturday, for a silver cup valued at $50 and the championship. Captain W. H. C. Greig of the Healanis was seen this afternoon and stated that the report was true, but that he had not received an answer as yet. There is no doubt that the race will be satisfactorily arranged to take place on October 8th, as several of the Myrtle boys have signified their assent to the date and conditions named. The race will therefore come off at 4 o'clock on that afternoon. Now show "owai ka best," the red or the blue.

A Fire Suggestion.

The combination line drill between Engines 1, 4 and 5 on last Saturday proves that salt water can be distributed to any part of the city to put out fires. It is now in order for the Chief Engineer to call his foremen together and make arrangements where engines and other apparatus are to be placed in case of fire and prevent unnecessary delay in getting to work.

Honolulu,

THE LEGISLATURE.

NINETY-FIRST DAY.

MONDAY, Sept. 19, 1892. Afternoon Session.

The Assembly re-convened at 1:45 and consideration of Section 81 of the bill to re-organize the Judiciary Department was continued. The section passed.

A new section numbered 82 relative to the drawing of jurors in Circuit Courts was presented by Minister Neumann and passed.

The bill was passed in its entirety to engrossment and for third reading Saturday next.

Bill 169, relating to Foreign Fire Insurance Companies, was read a second time, section by section, and passed to engrossment. Ordered to third reading on Tuesday week.

Rep. Smith under suspension of the rules presented in printed form a bill the production of the Labor and Judiciary Committees numbered 157A, and relating to Chinese Immigration.

Bill 151A, to determine the status of the landings of the Kingdom and the rights of the public therein, was read a second time, passed to engrossment and ordered for third reading on Tuesday week.

Bill 167 relating to pilots and pilotage at the port of Honolulu was read a second time and, after a change in the verbiage of one of the sections, was passed to engrossment and to third reading on Tuesday week.

Rep. Kamaoaha moved that the House adjourn for two weeks.

Noble Thurston desired to know if the request emanated from the Cabinet.

Minister Neumann said that as far as he knew the Cabinet had no hand in the request. He did not wish for any such lengthy adjournment.

Noble Baldwin considered that a motion of the kind should have come from the Ministry but they say that they have nothing to do with it. He considered that it would be better to settle down to business now than waste further time. He considered it funny that a member should bring in a motion of the kind especially when the Ministers say they don't want it.

Noble J. M. Horner considered that if any adjournment was had then two weeks would be the proper length. As the Cabinet did not seem inclined to favor the measure it might be better to go right along with the work. The Ways and Means Committee of which he was a member had been working right along, none of them had absented themselves from committee meetings or the work of the House, so if an adjournment was had he would like it long enough to allow him to go home.

Rep. Kamaoaha said that the motion was made by him on his own account and without consultation with any of the Ministry.

Noble Thurston amended the motion by one simply to adjourn. The amendment was put and carried and at 3:29 the Assembly adjourned.

Rep. Smith gave notice of Rice Committee meeting.

Reply to "J. B."

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

"J. B." who seems to be the clown of the anti-lottery correspondents, says he declines to look on the lottery scheme as "high tragedy." This is rather severe on his literary friends who, judging from their letters, view the proposal from a very tragic standpoint indeed. He also insists that the lottery people are just a little poorer than the proverbial church mice. This statement is peculiarly felicitous when it is remembered that his coadjutors have presented such a powerful array of figures to prove the enormous wealth of the corporation and their consequent fears of bribery, etc. And now "J. B." with a few strokes of his mighty pen, demolishes the entire mathematical structure! It is really too bad!

"J. B." who shows an astonishing acquaintance with the colloquialisms of gambling hells, speaks disparagingly of "washerwoman's financiering." If he is the "J. B." author of the pretty little verses paraphrased from "Mother Goose Melodies" that have appeared so often in the local press lately, the contemptuous allusion will be understood when it is known that the young man owns considerable sugar stock and need not therefore descend to the vulgar, though necessary, economies of the poor.

If he is the "J. B." who is the suspected writer, he is a young man whom I once advised to employ a Portuguese woman as laundress instead of a Chinaman, stating at the time that I found the aggregate cost of my family washing to be less owing to the care the woman took of the clothes. He speaks of my "breathless anxiety to be noticed." As the modest young gentleman published three articles on the day he made the statement, one in the Advertiser and two in the BULLETIN, the attempted sarcasm loses something of force. I called on one "J. B." yesterday and asked if he was the author of certain letters over that signature, but he refused to either affirm or deny his responsibility for any statement bearing those initials. There are several residents of Honolulu whose initials are "J. B." and if the writing individual is too cowardly to make known his identity he is beneath the contempt even of RALPH TURNER. Honolulu, Sept. 20, 1892.

From Hon. A. Horner.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

In an editorial in last evening's BULLETIN commenting upon the actions of various members of the House and particularly myself, your comments seem discreditably to both you and myself. I must admit I was annoyed by what I considered a partisan action in the President, by declaring the House adjourned without calling for the negative vote, leaving his seat and coming down among the members. I hardly know what I did say, there being so much noise, confusion, and excitement. Suffice it to say, the President was convinced he had not properly adjourned, returned to his seat, rapped the House to order and, after a little discussion, adjourned it. After doing so he came to me and said: "Young man, you said I was no gentleman. I want you to take it back." I immediately made the necessary retraction and apology. Now I made no threats, used no cuss words, and as the President only demanded a retraction of the words above quoted, I believe they were the most disgraceful spoken by me, and immediately apologized for.

A. HORNER.

New Naval Orders.

The following naval orders were issued at Washington on Sept. 1st: Lieutenant J. F. Moser has been detached from the San Francisco and ordered to ordnance duty at the navy-yard at Washington, D. C. Lieutenant George M. Stoney has been detached from the Charleston and ordered to duty at the navy-yard at Mare Island. Lieutenant V. S. Nelson has been detached from the Thetis and ordered to the Charleston. Ensign G. H. Burrage has been detached from the San Francisco and granted a three months' leave. Ensign A. H. Seales has been detached from the Yorktown and granted a three months' leave. Ensign H. K. Benham has been detached from the San Francisco and ordered to the Baltimore. Chaplain A. L. Royce has been detached from the Charleston and granted a two months' leave.

Something New in Ranges.

The PACIFIC HARDWARE CO., (L'D.), have just received an invoice of the M. & D. WROUGHT STEEL RANGES which are superior to anything of the kind yet invented. They have been adopted by the United States Navy and are in use on the Charleston, San Francisco and Boston and other new vessels. Also on several of the new vessels lately built for the trade between San Francisco and this port.

An examination of these Ranges will at once show their many advantages over all competitors.

Cheap Money.

The following plan found in an exchange for making money is an improvement on Horner's bill and the lottery both:

I'll tell you a plan for gaining wealth. Better than banking, trade, or leases; Take a bank-note, and fold it up. And then you'll find your money increases. This wonderful plan without danger or loss. Keeps the cash in hand, where nothing can trouble it; And every time you fold it across, It's plain, as the light of day, that you double it.

Take Good Care of the Children.

If you have children you will be interested in the experience of Mr. John Cook, of Pilot, Vermillion Co., Ill. He says: "Two years ago two of my family, a young man and a girl, had very severe and dangerous attacks of bloody flux. The doctor here was unable, after a week's time, to check or relieve either case. I threw the doctor overboard and began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Improvement was seen very soon and my children arose in a few days from what I feared would be their deathbed. It is a grand, good medicine." For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.
