MRS. DE FRIES ASKED SOME PLAIN QUESTIONS

Mrs. Emma De Fries: In the Pacific Commercial Advertiser of the 17th instant you make an extreme effort, but vague and evasive reply to the articles referred to by you, which appeared in the Evening Bulletin of the 12th and 13th instants, contradicting an article that appeared in the P. C. A. of the 8th instant, of which you were suspected and accused of being the author.

As to the articles mentioned of the 12th and 13th instants, I am only responsible for the one of the 12th, which I claim to be the truth, and shall endeavor to convince you and the public by certain facts in as few words as possible, and leave the matter to the public as sole judge in the premises, letting the controversy here end, as far as I am concerned, as I do not believe that the subject is of much interest to the English-reading public. A subject of this kind should have been published in the Hawaiian papers to be read by the people whom it most interests. At the same time this exposure may be the means of saving some foreigners who did not know the difference, and also the traveling public—tourists, historians and the like—from being gulled and victimized by such bogus and fraudulent literature as has been published in the columns of some of our local papers of late and furnished by an irresponsible pretender.

My statement relative to Mrs. Kaunama Kapoli Widemann's genealogy has been borne out and corroborated by A. K. Palekaihi, in an article over his name, in the P. C. A. of the 10th instant. He is a well-known, recognized authority in the genealogy of the aliis and chiefs of the Islands of Kauai and Niihau, the home of Mrs. Widemann, he being a very high chief himself of the Islands of Kauai. I am also supported by others in the article which appeared in the Bulletin of the 13th and over the names of responsible people who are well known to all informed Hawaiians as high chiefs.

As to your being charged as the author of the genealogy in question, it was so inferred by me in the last paragraph of the said article, with which you take issue, and you only attempt to deny the inference by stating it "is not true." You take umbrage at this paragraph and quote from it a clause which may seem severe, but is nevertheless true, and I am very sorry that it is too true. For the better information of the readers I will reproduce the paragraph: "I have learned of late with authority that Mrs. De Fries was the author of the published Widemann genealogy in the Advertiser of the 5th instant. In this instance the Widemanns at least ought to have more common sense, being educated, than to have listened to such rubbish, the product of the brains of a scheming woman who, as a means of extorting money from those who can be so weak in mind as to forget all powers of reasoning, become a victim to vanity and an object of ridicule by all those of the Hawaiian race who know."

To substantiate the above I am compelled to state things and matters concerning it, which would be better perhaps left unsaid, but under the circumstances must be said, if it will put a stop to the work of such fraudulent schemers. First, is it not a fact that during the month of October, 1900, you brought to the Widemann home the original copy of that noted genealogy as was published in the Advertiser of the 5th instant, which I recognized to be the same with the exception of only two slight changes in the names of Punapapaeka to Punamanookalani, and Kahuahana to Kahuahana; otherwise it was the same. And in comparing your copy with the one prepared by the Widemann family, during the discussion you persisted in stating to them (the Widemanns) that the copy prepared and furnished by you was the correct one. I had complete access to them and took part in the discussions, having been called in by members of the family to assist them in the comparing of these lengthy documents, as they had doubts as to their correctness, as you well know, but by your being so persistent in your contention, the Widemanns weakened and believed you, notwithstanding the protests made by relatives of theirs that the genealogy prepared and furnished by you was fraudulent, and you knew it was at the time. It was on a very stormy day when the discussion took place, raining heavily, with thunder and lightning nearly all day, which you claimed and remarked was the act of those of their ancestors who had gone before, looking down upon them and giving them signs as approving the doings of their descendants on that day (by accepting your fraudulent copy). You also induced them to have it recorded at the registration office, to which place you went with one member of the family and two native Hawaiians to witness the act a few days afterwards, as this document had to be typewritten before it was ready to be sent to the recorder's office. Kallima, as you know, was the name of one witness. I cannot recall his name, but the name of the other; perhaps you can.

Secondly, is it not a fact that in November, 1900, the final act of this farce was carried out at your instigation and under your direction, and during the ceremonies you were the chief performer, in which a small pig and a bottle of brandy figured as the custom in such ceremonies? The viands had to be consumed in some secluded spot in the homestead of the Widemann family, a table to be set when the family and servants could be seen together at the one time, and not to leave it, while there was a vestige of the pig or a drop of the brandy left. The table-cloth used on this occasion had to be brand new, one that was never used before, and the ti leaf was to be the only evergreen for the decoration of the place and table, as the use of any other would pollute that which was to be expected as a result from the ceremony to be carried out. You could not have selected a more secluded place than the one you did. A room in the hay loft of the stable building of the Widemann homestead in the back of the premises, was a secluded place indeed—out of the gaze and sight of the inquisitive and the fun-making hoolo.

The table set, the porker well cooked and in place with the brandy, all ready, mistresses and servants, the high and low are all seated together on this most solemn occasion. You as the chief performer exercised the rites of the Hawaiian aliis. As is the custom in ceremonies of this kind the spleen (ake niau) the tail and the tip of the nose of piggy are first to be served and eaten by one of the party who is a distinguished personage or who may be your assistant. In the excitement of your performance of the operations, lo and behold, you neglected to serve the spleen with the tail and nose. The spleen was entirely forgotten at the time and, according to the ancients, the neglect of this part was a bad omen, and a damaging effect to the cause would surely follow, hence the exposure of this fraudulent genealogy. The tail and nose were first eaten, brandy was sprayed to the gods with the fingers poured into a glass and tossed into the air, and the excitement by a chant; prayers were said—and work on the pig was begun and over with, as intended.

You selected the ti leaf as the only evergreen to be used on this occasion, for the reason, as believed by the ancients, that it had virtues which would protect the user of it from the "devil" and ill-influences of the evil spirits of the dead of those families having descendants now living in this world and opposed to you personally, or to your doing, and schemes, and you in this civilized age of our country believe, as our ancestors did, that this leaf had charms and powers to aid you in the bringing to a successful issue of schemes, as in this instance, with effects and results like those expected by Papa Ite in his barooteo performance of walking over red-hot stones.

Thirdly, is it not a fact that you have been in the practice of taking aged Hawaiians to the Widemann home unsolicited by the family, for the purpose of reciting and chanting the ancient mele (songs) of our sacred aliis and chiefs before them; the members of the family so arranged, under your direction, as to represent a royal court of our ancestors, aliis, with the hookups, etc.? As the different mele were chanted you would explain who was entitled to the use of them, and when "Kalanima-nuia's" mele was being recited you stated to members of the Widemann family that they were the only family entitled to use this particular mele and that no other had any right to it whatever? You on these occasions personally collected the hookups in cash from members of the family and paid the chanters their share; on more than one occasion I have been an eye-witness to these performances, especially on the departure of members of the family for the Mainland, and also upon their arrival at home from abroad.

May I ask why these things were done? Was it for the benefit of your health and amusement, or was it for the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, as it has been said, paid you by members of the Widemann family?

Fourthly, is it not a fact that you called on a Hawaiian gentleman in high office and asked him if you could furnish him with his genealogy for the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars; to which he sensibly replied that he placed more value on the $150 as money in his pocket than he did on any such pedigree as you could furnish him? Why did you fail to fill the bill in this instance? Was it because the genealogies of which you have published several were genuine and reliable or was it because they were unreliable? Or was it for a huge joke? I leave it for you to answer and the readers to judge.

As to your criticism, you mention "their very ungrammatical English, etc." I would say that I do not pose as being ready with language which is not my mother tongue, and it is through no fault of mine that I am a Hawaiian pure, but the article referred to by you must have been sufficiently intelligible to have caused you to squirm. Your reference to the intelligence of the Widemanns, no one dare gainsay. Nevertheless, facts are more stubborn than words.

As to your right, you may have the right to pose as a kahuna or a chiefess of a lower degree, and the like, but never can you have the right to claim before the Hawaiian people nor, as long as there is one living that you are the lineal descendant of "Kalanikaualoaiki Kulanikaualoaia," who was the highest known tabu chiefess of the royal lines of her time, and since, and your claiming to be what you are not, that she was her ancestor was the cause of all this newspaper controversy in which you have been the most prominent figure, aimed at and called to account for your audacity. No Hawaiian of sound mind would have ever attempted to do what you did, and, believing that you are not properly balanced in mind, I regard you more as an object to be pitied than to be ridiculed by all of those of our race who know its history.

PUEA-A-MAKAKAUALII.

It is suggested that a world's congress of soldiers be held at the St. Louis exposition and that the soldiers give an exhibition of their military tactics, dress and equipment. An entire month would be devoted to military purposes, with special drills daily. The chances are that a display of that kind would be the drawing card of the exposition. All the world dearly loves to see a soldier.—Owago Times.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1901.

The Bulletin extends most cordial greetings of the season to its many patrons.

The number of runaways of the last few days would indicate that even the beasts of burden are enthused with the gaieties of the season.

The published program for Christmas day shows there will be no lack of good cheer throughout the city this year.

Harold M. Sewall's resignation as Republican National Committeeman is a distinct loss to the Territory in all its relations with the ruling party of the country.

The Hanna-Forsaker row in Ohio is as long lived as the endeavors of Hawaii to reach a standing of peace and good will.

With the chairman of the Senate Committee on Cuban Affairs opposed to Cuban reciprocity or any tariff favors the prospect for Hawaii being given time to set on its feet seems particularly bright.

The notable number of horrible railroad wrecks following so close upon the announcement that the great transcontinental routes had started in on a speed competition raises a question in the public mind whether the speed limit is not being forced far beyond the bounds of safety.

Governor Dole certainly ought to be willing to attend a meeting of citizens called to ratify the President's policy toward Hawaii as expressed in his message to Congress.

MONOPOLY OF VIRTUE. Can "his friends" of the Governor of this Territory point to a town, a county, a city, a state or a nation in which all the civic honesty, civic pride, personal integrity or official integrity, honesty of thought and action in public and private life is monopolized by one man, one collection of men or one political faction?

The newspaper organ of the Governor attempts to answer this question in the affirmative by its factious proclamation of the virtue of its few followers and its reckless condemnation of the men and their motives who presume to have an honest opinion on the methods of administration and of procuring progressive results therefrom.

There is a good sized majority of the citizens of this Territory who believe it is the duty of the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature to provide the funds, for lack of which every department of the government is hampered, incapacitated and practically at a standstill as regards any progressive work, and in many instances prevented from doing the work which the ordinary business of the Territory demands.

call of the Governor is not a collection of college professors or "professional citizens" are at the same time confident that the demands of the situation are such and the temper of the people whom the Legislature represents has been shown to such an extent that the Legislature if called in session will do the plain duty of the hour, furnish the necessary funds to place departments on a sound financial footing, which means of course the enactment of bonding and revenue measures.

This expressed conviction of citizens whom the administration must depend for votes at the next election is straightway informed by the official mouthpiece of the Governor of this Territory with the charge that they and all like them are treasury raiders, a band of political thieves, jobbers, carpetbaggers and enemies of honest government.

The conclusions drawn by the organ in its claims to a good government monopoly are impossible, and its own supporters know it. It defames that it may for the time being mislead. It plays upon the fears of moral cowards and teaches a daily lesson of distrust to the men, and they constitute a solid majority, who stand firmly and fearlessly for progressive government and the development of the Territory "on traditional American lines."

The Paradise of the Pacific has issued a Christmas number which for excellence in mechanical work, care in compilation and effective illustration far outstrips any similar effort ever made by any publication in these islands.

DISFRANCHISED REPRESENTATION. Southern representation and Southern disfranchisement of the negro citizenship will furnish a bone of contention in Congress this winter for which the various forces are already shaping.

Representatives shall be appointed among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed.

It is very clear what the framers of the constitution intended and it is by no means ambiguous that the Southern States intend to ride over this constitutional provision rough shod if allowed to do so.

There is a good sized majority of the citizens of this Territory who believe it is the duty of the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature to provide the funds, for lack of which every department of the government is hampered, incapacitated and practically at a standstill as regards any progressive work, and in many instances prevented from doing the work which the ordinary business of the Territory demands.

The mandatory character of the situation is being forcibly dealt with by the newspapers of the North and particularly the Republican organs of New York. The New York Press says: "It should be clearly understood that the issue which will pass on this question as on all others to its own composition, is bound by no rules of court procedure as to the cause of the abridgment of the franchise above set forth."

INTER-ISLAND FREIGHTS. [Hawaii Herald.] If the Honolulu merchants had made objections to inter-island freight rates long ago more Hilo trade would have been held by Honolulu dealers.

One of Dundee's fashionable girls ventured to give her mother a few tips on etiquette the other day in the following manner: "You should have turned down the upper corners of your visiting card, ma, when you called on the bride. That means congratulation. But, instead of that, ma, you turned up the lower corners, which means condolence."

The second runaway of the morning was on King street at about 10 o'clock. A Japanese having tied his horse in front of the Wall, Nichols store, went to do a little shopping. The crash of people frightened him and he pulled away from his moorings and started out King street. He turned up Maunakea, ran into a cart containing a Chinaman, dumped the Mongolian into the mud and continued until he arrived at Beretania street. The last seen of the horse was as he was galloping past Central Union Church.

Days Grow Longer. Chicago, Dec. 11.—Sixty million years hence, according to Sir Robert Ball, a famous astronomer, the day will be about twice as long as it is now, or, in other words, it will take the earth approximately forty-eight hours to revolve on its axis, instead of twenty-four. This is based upon the theory that an equal number of years ago the day was only half as long as it is now.

Sir Robert Ball gave a lecture at the Studebaker Hall tonight under the direction of the University of Chicago Lectures Association, taking for his subject "Time and Tide." He began with a story dealing with a period earlier than history—earlier than life—telling of the changes which time and tide have wrought and the manner in which the tides were increasing the length of the day. He described the changes on the moon, presenting views of the satellite, and gave an explanation of the constancy of that planet. In conclusion, Sir Robert paid a high tribute to American astronomers, declaring they lead the world today in original work.

A writer in Science reviews the recent issue of "Who's Who in America" in the light of the distribution of celebrity through the United States. The book contains 11,551 names chosen out of the 80,000,000 inhabitants of the country. Of these 11,137 reside in the United States, the rest in forty-seven foreign countries. New York State is credited with 2,849; Massachusetts with 191; the District of Columbia with 889; Pennsylvania with 880; Illinois with 704; Ohio with 422; New Jersey with 311; California with 291; Connecticut with 266; Missouri with 222; Maryland with 205. All other States have less than 200 each. Of the 11,551 persons biographed, 814 cases give returns that can be usefully classified as to education. Of these 5775 are college men and 4810 are college graduates; 808 had a common school training only; 282 were privately educated, and 37 were self-taught. The summary is distinctly in favor of high education, and they reveal the country's unparalleled element of strength in the possibility of eminence open to those whose training was attained in the public schools alone.

Camden, N. J., Dec. 14. United States Senator W. J. Sewell is lying in a critical condition at his home tonight. Though the General's friends are endeavoring to keep up courage, there is an air of gloom among them that is a foreboding of the worst. Senator Sewell's private secretary admitted that the Senator was much worse, but further than that he declined to make any statement. A close friend of General Sewell's said the Senator was so weak last night and early this morning that he failed to recognize the members of his family, but tonight he had rallied and was more himself.

"He is a very sick man," he said, "and though, while there is life there is hope, we are prepared for the worst." Captain Joyce Sewell, his son, said to a reporter tonight that his father was very weak, but the family had no apprehension that he would not live through the night.

At 1:45 a. m. (Sunday) Senator Sewell was reported to be sinking rapidly, and his physicians said the end was near. He is unconscious the greater part of the time.

MRS. TABOR'S FORTUNE. Denver, Col., Dec. 12.—Mrs. H. A. W. Tabor, widow of the former Senator, has been rescued from most distressing poverty by the sale of her last mining possession, a property apparently so worthless that creditors made her a present of the title. Today in Boulder county deeds were placed on file showing the payment of $15,000 for a little shaft and appurtenances in Eclipse gulch.

SABATE IS COMMITTED. DETAINING MAIL MATTER THE OFFENSE CHARGED. Though Only Technically Guilty the Letter Carrier Should be Made an Example to Others. Jean Sabate was held to abide two action of the Federal Grand Jury by United States Commissioner Robinson yesterday evening, on a charge of detaining mail matter. His bond is fixed at $500, and Sabate will be released today, to appear before the Grand Jury which does not meet until next April. There was no evidence introduced by the defense, and at the conclusion of the government case the motion to discharge the defendant was denied. Commissioner Robinson held that, though the charge was merely a technical one, an example should be made of Sabate, for the benefit of letter carriers generally.

George T. Walker, the prosecuting witness, was the first to take the stand for the government. He testified that on October 22, he was running the Makiki store of the Mercantile Company, and that Sabate came frequently to the store, and on several occasions had been given letters to mail. On the date mentioned Walker requested Sabate to go to his room and get a package to mail on the steamer due to sail in the afternoon. Twenty-five cents was given Sabate to pay the postage. The package was addressed to Miss Dale Hartley, of Auburn, Cal., and contained a Samson tapa cloth.

About a week after this event Sabate was asked by Walker if the package had been mailed, and he replied that it had been, and the postage, nineteen cents, paid. On cross-examination by Mr. Gill, witness said he made the request of Sabate just as he would of any other friend; that his house was not in Sabate's district, and he didn't know whether the defendant had been on duty or not at the time. He considered the matter more as a personal favor than anything else. The package was not ready for mailing at that time, was not tied up nor was it stamped.

Louis T. Kenake, cashier at the postoffice, testified that he saw the package in question for the first time about the middle of November, when he discovered it in Sabate's desk. Upon return of the carrier from his route he was called up before Kenake and asked about the package. Sabate then said that the parcel was to be mailed, and promised to do it at once. On December 2d Kenake again found the package in the desk of Carrier No. 5, and it had not been mailed.

In the cross-examination of Kenake Mr. Gill raised some interesting questions. "Are not all carriers of the United States supposed to be citizens of the United States?" asked Mr. Gill. "I suppose so; my duty is not to inquire into his citizenship. The carrier is certified to by the Board of Examiners."

"Was this package mailable?" "Anything in the line of merchandise is mail matter unless it is barred from the mails." "Not before it is mailable, but before it can be dispatched." "This package does not indicate whether it was to be mailed or expressed, does it?" "Anything that comes within the postoffice is considered as mail matter."

"Is not the postmaster responsible for the acts of the carriers?" "For the proper conduct of the office and carriers, yes." Mr. Kenake also testified that the package was not concealed when found; and also that Sabate resigned some time between November 27 and 29.

W. S. Marchant, postoffice inspector, testified simply to being present when the package was found, December 3, and that when opened he saw that it contained tapa cloth. Marchant was the last witness for the government and Mr. Gill thereupon moved for the discharge of the defendant on the ground that the package had not been properly mailed; that Sabate had been given the package to mail simply as a personal favor, and if guilty of anything it was a breach of trust. He contended that no violation of the law had been shown, and that the government failed to prove that the matter was mailable. He quoted the case of U. S. vs. Taylor, wherein a man was discharged who had received a letter and $18 to register, because the letter had not been properly stamped. In this case it was held that the postmaster was simply acting as an agent.

TERRIBLE DEATH RATE.

London, Dec. 14.—The delay in the publication of the October and November returns from the concentration camps, which were issued today, was apparently due to the Government's desire to accompany the announcement of the pitifully high death rate with some official explanation. The blue book issued today shows 3156 deaths of whites in October, of which number 2633 were children, and 2807 deaths of whites in November, of which 2271 were children. This makes the total number of deaths for the last six months 13,941, or a death rate approximating 253 per year per thousand. Among the colored population there were 1398 deaths in two months.

The blue book contains the Government's plans for breaking up the camps, as recently outlined in the speeches of the War Secretary.

The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, and the representatives of medical officers, have the death rate on the filthy habits of the Boers, the concealment of diseases, the feeding of babies on meat, heavy dough bread and stewed black coffee and the admission to the camps of half-starved refugees, riddled with disease. In one instance a batch of refugees brought in eight moribund cases and three bodies.

NATURE'S WAY.

Mineral concoctions are dangerous. Nature never designed them for healing man. From time immemorial, man's healer was purely vegetable; and from that time to this, nature's unfailing remedy for rheumatism, and kindred diseases, was the same as that found in Kiekapoo Indian Oil. It is nature's remedy, and acts as kindly as nature. It drives away pain, kills the dread rheumatism and restores the weakened tissue. It is made the same as the Indians made it centuries ago, out of roots, barks, herbs, gums, leaves, gathered from nature's unerring laboratory. Its record for cures is unparalleled. Before civilized man had heard of it, it kept the natives in perfect health. And since civilized man has known it, the category of cures has become voluminous. No other medicine has made such cures, because Kiekapoo Indian Oil is nature's remedy, and nature stands back of it. Your druggist has it, or can get it. Insist on getting the genuine Kiekapoo Indian Oil. Hobron Drug Co., Agents for the Kiekapoo Indian Remedies.

Obstructing the Rails. Two Portuguese boys were arrested at Kalihi last night for obstructing the Rapid Transit track. They were members of a gang that has found amusement ever since the line was opened there, in putting stones and old junk on the rails to stop the cars. One of those caught had laid down across the track, compelling the motorman to brake up. Officer Akau, who had been sent out in plain clothes to watch for the hoodlums, caught this one and another.

BISHOP ESTATE APPEAL

The decree in the Bishop Estate case was signed by Judge Estee yesterday afternoon, upon presentation by Mr. Dunne. Mr. Kinney, appearing for the Bishop Estate, took exceptions to the decree and to the form of it. He objected to the paragraph assessing the costs of each party to itself, claiming that the United States should pay the costs. The Court overruled the objection, stating that each party must pay its own costs, basing the ruling on a recent decision of Judge Morrow of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mr. Kinney also objected to the paragraph stating that the taking of the land did not affect the value of the remaining portion, claiming that if the United States decided to take more of the land this decree would be used against defendant, as showing that the value of the remaining portion was not increased from the benefits accruing from the establishment of the naval station, Judge Estee overruled this objection also, by stating that it was a well settled principle of law where the United States was a party, no previous judgment could be introduced in evidence upon condemnation of other lands.

The decree is a summary of the findings of the jury, and embodies within it, the verdict, the pleadings, etc. In the first paragraph the decree conveys to the United States all interest in the property of the Bishop Estate, which was condemned for use as a naval station. Paragraph 2 places the value of the improvements at $2000, and the succeeding paragraph fixes the value of the land at $50,737.50. Paragraphs 4 and 5 fix the accruing benefits or dam-

Washington, Dec. 12.—The Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, at its initial meeting today, authorized Chairman Ray to appoint a special sub-committee to consider the many bills offered to punish attacks on the President and Vice President, and to deal with anarchy and anarchy. The special committee when named, will make a thorough investigation of the powers of Congress to deal with this subject, and will report a measure providing adequate punishment and restrictions.

Do you want to be strong? Do you want to feel the vim, the snap and fire of manly vigor? Do you want courage, energy and ambition to support you in your career and troubles? I have devoted my life to the development of manly and womanly vigor. I've made a great success. My methods are approved by the greatest doctors and copied.

I've proved that electricity is the basis of all animal life and that "weak men," dyspeptics, rheumatics, sufferers from lost energy, weak kidneys, pains in the back, head, chest and shoulders from varicose and its allied weaknesses, etc., are weak in electricity. My Electric Belt restores this life in a few weeks and cures every time.

HANNA AND FORAKER FORGES ARE AT WAR

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 15.—Much interest is taken in the expected trip of George B. Cox and other Republican leaders to Washington this week. Owing to the contest between the friends of Senator Foraker and Senator Hanna over the organization of the Legislature, there is unusual agitation all over the State. The long distance telephone has been in use daily between Washington and Ohio cities, and especially with certain Republicans at Columbus and Cincinnati, and now it is reported that there may be another attempt at compromise by a conference to Washington before the Republican caucuses are held at Columbus two weeks from next Saturday. If no compromise is made, it is reported that both Senators Foraker and Hanna may come to Columbus to marshal their respective forces for the caucus contest.

During the campaign of the past summer it is reported the Ohio Senators cooperated in the interests of the Republican candidates for the Legislature, as Senator Foraker's successor is to be elected now (January 14th) and Senator Hanna's successor two years hence. The junior Ohio Senator was interested as well as the senior Ohio Senator, because it so happened that about 8 per cent of the members-elect are for their first term and are expected to be serving their second term when the election of Hanna's successor takes place in the next Legislature.

The Hanna men assert that the Foraker men proceeded after the election to form a plan for the organization of both branches of the Legislature, with ulterior views, notably that of the removal of Hanna two years hence. The contest about two weeks ago broke out into open conflict, and now there are opposing tickets, composed of Foraker and Hanna men respectively, for the caucuses of both the Republican State Senators and the Republican Representatives. The opposing candidates are not limited to the preceding officers, but the factional lines are carried on down the list to clerks, sergeants-at-arms and every thing.

Many leading Republicans from Ohio have visited Washington the past week, and none of them reports any prospect of peace or compromise, so that the indications are that the contest will continue for almost three weeks longer.

SHINGLE LUMBER SCARCE.

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 15.—During the past year the shingle industry of Western Washington has manufactured nearly 1,000,000 cords of red cedar shingles, making this year's output the lowest on record. The shingle demand is light just now, as building activity has ceased both on the coast and in the East. Prices have been good throughout the year and most manufacturers have made money.

The shingle manufacturers are now confronted with a serious problem resulting from the growing scarcity of accessible cedar timber. Though this State still contains immense cedar forests, shingle mill owners find it difficult to obtain a steady supply until they own their own timber. Many private speculators and syndicates have purchased large beds of timber and are holding them for rapidly increasing prices resulting from this growing scarcity. Not long ago cedar timber could be obtained at 50 cents to $1 stumpage per 1000 feet. Now the prevailing rate is $2.

The matter of obtaining a steady supply of cedar will be one of the most important questions considered at next month's meeting of the State Shingle Manufacturers' Association.

SOUTH AMERICAN WARS.

London, Dec. 13.—It is learned from an authoritative source that the Chilean reply to the representations of the Minister of the Argentine Republic to Chile was presented today. Confidence is expressed by the officials here that the basis for a settlement proposed will lead to a satisfactory arrangement between the two governments.

Buenos Ayres, Dec. 13.—The Chilean reply to the representations of the Minister of the Argentine Republic to Chile has not yet been made known. The newspapers here publish bulletins today assuring the public that all matters between the two countries will be honorably arranged.

Dispatches from Santiago de Chile say that Senator Yanez, Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs, has handed the basis of a new proposition to Senor Portel, Minister of the Argentine Republic, in Chile to effect the impartial and speedy settlement of the dispute between the two countries. If these bases are refused by the Argentine Republic, Chile will make no further proposition. The refusal of the Argentine Republic will be taken as indicating that that country desires war.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Senor Yanez, the Chilean Minister of Foreign Affairs, had an interview at Santiago this afternoon with the Argentine Minister, Senor Portel, and handed him the Chilean reply for transmission to the Argentine Government.

London, Dec. 14.—The Daily Mail has received dispatches from Valparaiso and Buenos Ayres expressing the belief that peace will be preserved and stating that Great Britain has notified both the Argentine and Chilean governments of her willingness to mediate if requested to do so.

The Chilean State Council, the dispatch adds, recommends that the strength of the navy be increased to fifteen large warships.
