GOOD BLOOD

Your heart beats over one hundred thousand times each day. One hundred thousand supplies of good or bad blood to your brain. Which is it? If bad, impure blood, then your brain aches. You are troubled with drowsiness yet cannot sleep; you are as tired in the morning as at night; you have no nerve power; your food does not seem to do you much good. Stimulants, tonics, headache powders, cannot cure you: but will. It makes the liver, kidneys, skin and bowels perform their proper work. It removes all impurities from the blood. And it makes the blood rich in its life-giving properties.

For biliousness take AYER'S PILLS. They promptly relieve and surely cure. Take them with Ayer's Sarsaparilla: one aids the other.

MARINE PARK AT KAKA'AOKO

Government Introduces a Bill in the Senate for the Purpose.

Also a Bill Regulating the Opening of Streets on Private Lands—Audit Act Passed by the Senate.

In the Senate this morning a communication was read from the House relating to the passage of House Bill 70, public cemeteries, and House Bill 85, appeals from decisions of District Magistrates, and Senate Bill 35, relating to the National Guard. Also notifying the Senate of the passage of Joint Resolution 1, appointing a commission to draft an Income Tax bill for the next session.

Minister Cooper presented Senate Bill 43, an Act to establish a marine park on the east side of Honolulu harbor, which passed first reading and was ordered printed. The bill authorizes the Minister of the Interior to reserve that portion of the reef lying southeasterly from the entrance channel of the harbor of the port of Honolulu, consisting of an area of 11.54 acres, as a free public marine park, and to add to such reservation from time to time such other adjoining reef land as may be conveyed to the Government for such purpose by the trustees of the Estate of Bernice Pauahi Bishop, or others. The Minister of Interior is further authorized to enter into an agreement with the trustees of the Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum, whereby they shall be authorized to establish and maintain within the said marine park a free public marine aquarium and a marine zoological laboratory, with the privilege of erecting and maintaining the necessary structures, appliances and apparatus therefor, including a wharf for water-craft to be used in connection with such aquarium and laboratory.

Minister Cooper also introduced Senate Bill 44, an Act to regulate the opening of streets on private lands in the District of Honolulu, which passed first reading and went to the Printing Committee. The bill provides that in case the owner of private land situate in the District of Honolulu, shall desire to open a street or streets for the use of the public on such land connecting with the street system of said district, it shall be incumbent on him first to submit to the Minister of Interior a chart and description of such proposed street, giving accurately the location, extension, width, nature of construction and finish. The Minister of Interior shall upon receiving such application examine the proposed location of such street or streets and shall thereafter deliver to the applicant his written decision approving or disapproving the plans or recommending a modification thereof. No such street shall be accepted by the Government unless the same is laid out, constructed and finished in accordance with plans approved by the Minister of the Interior, and a deed of conveyance thereof executed and delivered in favor of the government and accepted by it.

Minister Cooper announced that the President had signed the bills relating to the duty on spirituous liquors, alcohol for the use of the Queen's Hospital and the appropriation for the expenses of the Legislature.

Senate Bill 39, licenses to manufacture wine from Hawaiian grapes, was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

House Bill 64, amending the Railway Act, was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

House Bill 85, appeals from District Magistrates, passed first reading and went to the Judiciary Committee.

The Joint Resolution authorizing the appointment of an Income Tax Commission and appropriating $5000 therefor was adopted unanimously.

At 11 a. m. the Senate adjourned.

CAUTION TO DRIVERS.

Number of Them at the Ringbolt for Neglect of Rules.

Officer Sam Macy, with his drag net, has been at work bringing into the toils drivers who leave their horses untied in the public thoroughfares. There was quite a batch of the luckless ones before the magistrate this morning who were fined and lectured. It is a good move on the part of the carriage inspector, and will in all probability put an end to the runaway accidents of frequent happening lately.

Uchida and Fujiama, two diminutive subjects of the Mikado, were fined $2 apiece for drunkenness. A too liberal indulgence in sake caused their "pilikia."

At the Hotel.

The Government band will play at the hotel this evening, with the following selections:

BLOW AT FOREIGN CAPITAL

Bill Passes House to Exclude Foreign Corporations from Hawaii.

The Bill to Regulate Horse Doctoring is Carried—Hurrying the Committee Investigating Accounts.

Upon motion of Representative Pogue the report of the Public Lands Committee in reference to the harbor work was made the special order of day for tomorrow, at which time the members of the Cabinet have been asked to be present.

Representative Richards' motion to the effect that the Finance Committee be asked to report to the House progress of their work of investigating the books and accounts of the various public offices, including the Postoffice, Postal Savings Bank, Board of Health, Water Works office, etc., as far as they had proceeded, was carried and the Committee asked to report at once.

House Bill 79, to regulate the practice of veterinary surgery, medicine and dentistry, passed third reading by a vote of nine to three. The bill provides for the appointment of a Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners whose duty it shall be to examine all applicants for a license to practice as veterinarians, as to their qualifications for the profession. Any person who shall practice as a veterinarian without first obtaining a license is subject to a fine of not to exceed $200.

House Bill 55, known as the Rapid Transit Bill, was set for third reading tomorrow.

Senate Bill 17, relating to registry of vessels, was postponed until tomorrow for third reading.

Senate Bill 30, relating to Appeals and Bills of Exceptions, passed third reading unanimously.

House Bill 57, relating to corporations and incorporated companies organized under the laws of foreign countries and carrying on business in this Republic, came up for third reading.

Rep. Robertson moved to strike out that portion of the bill which prohibits foreign railroad and banking corporations from exercising the powers conferred by law upon railroad or banking corporations.

After considerable discussion the motion was lost.

Rep. Gear stated that he was strongly opposed to legislation against any special classes of foreign corporations, and as the motion to strike out the objectionable portion of the bill had been lost he would have to vote against the bill.

The bill passed third reading by the following vote:

Ayes—Richards, Achi, Paris, Pogue, Kahaulelio, McCandless, Wilder, Iseberg and Kaeo—9.

Noes—Loebenstein, Robertson, Gear and Speaker Kaulukou—4. Recess until 1:30.

WOULD NOT BE A MONOPOLY

Shorter Route Than Via Hawaii for Cable to Japan.

Exclusive Franchises Have Been the Rule All Over—Have Been Offered by Both America and Japan.

The BULLETIN has had access to a document from official channels at Washington in the Pacific cable matter, the substance of which it is permitted to use while for the present withholding the names of author and recipient. From the writing in question the following list is given of countries that have given exclusive franchises for submarine telegraph cables:

ENGLAND.—Exclusive rights have been granted or approved for the establishment of cables between Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Spain and Portugal.

NEWFOUNDLAND.—An exclusive right for landing English cables was granted by Newfoundland and ratified by the British Government.

FRANCE.—An exclusive right for the establishment of an Atlantic cable connecting with the Island of St. Pierre, off the coast of Nova Scotia. Preferential guarantees and subsidies for French telegraphic traffic to the French cables connecting with the United States, Hayti and French West India Islands.

SPAIN.—Exclusive rights for the establishment of cables to the Canary Islands, Africa and Brazil, also connecting Cuba with the United States, and Cuba with West India Islands.

PORTUGAL.—Exclusive rights for the cables connecting with Great Britain, also Brazil and the Azores.

BRAZIL.—Exclusive rights for connecting Brazil with the United States, also with Africa, Spain and Portugal. Exclusive rights covering the whole coast of Brazil.

P-ru.—Exclusive rights for cables northward from P-ru.

ECUADOR.—Exclusive rights covering the whole shore of Ecuador.

UNITED STATES OF COLOMBIA.—Exclusive rights for the establishment of cables southward from the Isthmus of Panama.

MEXICO.—Exclusive rights for the establishment of cables on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, and Pacific Coast of Mexico.

JAPAN.—Exclusive rights for cables connecting Japan with China and Russia.

UNITED STATES.—The exclusive right for connecting the United States (Coast of Florida) with Cuba and other West India islands by Act of Congress approved May 5, 1866.

Referring to the application of the Pacific Cable Co. pending before Congress, the author of the paper referred to says:

"Such an exclusive privilege would not create a monopoly, because the whole Pacific ocean, by other routes, is open and a cable could be laid—say from Seattle via Alaska—to Japan which would be about half the length of a cable from this country to Japan via Hawaii."

The writer says that another fact of importance is the great cost of a cable across the Pacific, and adds: "Japan and the United States have heretofore granted exclusive franchises, and I see no reason why this one should not be granted."

British Keeping Ready.

A Hongkong dispatch of April 30 says:

The British warships and torpedo-boats at Hongkong have been forbidden to commence fresh repairs, which would seem to indicate the possibility of a movement in the near future upon the part of the British fleet.

DENOUNCE THE EX-QUEEN

Adherents of Queen Emma Resent Slurs on Her Memory.

Publication of Liliuokalani's Book in the Native Language is Opening the Eyes of Native Hawaiians.

The publication of ex-Queen Liliuokalani's book in the Hawaiian language in one of the native newspapers is creating a very great deal of talk among the native Hawaiians everywhere. The book is discussed everywhere, in their homes, at luaus and at society meetings, and it is very generally denounced. That portion of the book which finds most condemnation in native eyes is that relating to Queen Emma. In speaking of that royal lady Liliuokalani said among other things that she was low born. This seems to be the last straw that has broken the camel's back of the natives' faith in their ex-Queen. The adherents and admirers of Queen Emma, and they comprise a very large majority of the Hawaiian race, are bitterly denouncing the statements concerning Queen Emma made in Liliuokalani's book, and say that she herself is the lowborn one. Officers and members of the prominent native societies are saying openly that they are done with Liliuokalani forever, and that while they oppose annexation they do not want the ex-Queen back again.

Another statement made in Liliuokalani's book that she has received no financial assistance from anyone in her troubles is also strenuously denied, and even the names and amounts of donations sent to her are freely mentioned.

A gentleman who is in a position to know whereof he speaks said to the writer yesterday: "The publication of Liliuokalani's book in the native language has removed the last trace of aloha for her in the native heart. Her deliberate and wanton onslaughts on the memory of the dead Queen Emma has alienated even those who have stayed with her and believed in her to this time. Ex-Queen Liliuokalani, and I say it advisedly, has not a friend left in Hawaii today among the natives, and they don't care what happens to her or whether they ever see her again or not."

THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1898.

It is learned that one of the chief sticking points presented by the Executive to the Legislature, regarding the pending Pacific cable bill is that, if Hawaii give a charter to the Scrymser company and the United States do not, there will ensue a hangup of cable prospects indefinitely. To the argument in reply that the effect of the Hawaiian charter might be conditioned upon the granting of an American charter, it is pointed out that the bill would even then be giving a sort of whip handle to the Scrymser company over its reputed rival at Washington. Suppose it does? If Scrymser was first come with the most acceptable offer ever made to this country, why should he not by the good old blacksmith's rule be first served? There was not such superfluous delicacy toward competitors—and bona fide ones at that—when this Government gave its snap judgment in favor of the Spalding franchise—the most preposterous piece of projected robbery by speculators ever attempted upon this country in cable matters. That only plunder was in the eyes of the promoters appears in a well defined report from the United States that, with that weapon in their hands, they bled English capitalists to the tune of $65,000 under cover of "preliminaries." Perhaps it will fully serve the only object for which the BULLETIN is contending—that of getting a cable as soon as possible—to make the Hawaiian franchise an open one to the first company that may receive a franchise from the United States. In our humble opinion, however, this course would be like throwing a bone midway between two hungry dogs on the brink of a precipice. There would be a fierce struggle to mutual death and the bone would go to waste.

It will go down to posterity in story and song, how the American sailors would not fire on the Spanish Admiral when he was escaping from his burning flag ship. The incident almost brings the dawn of a hope for the coming of a time soon, when nations will look each other in the face along the sights of their shotted guns, simultaneously give the order "Don't shoot!" and then go home and settle their dispute by arbitration. A little later the gun part would be left out of the performance.

Wellington, N. Z., advices by the Aorangi report a rise in kerosene in New Zealand, also a rise of five shillings in flour at Sydney, owing to the war. If the war last any time there will be dearer prices for many things, and our people might do worse than accept bargains now while offered by local merchants—always preferring of course merchants who are intelligent enough to advertise in the BULLETIN.

An account of the placing of mines in San Francisco harbor reprinted elsewhere will be of much interest here, where we have so many steam and Messenger Service.

D. G. Camarinos will begin a messenger service tomorrow morning, with headquarters at his fruit store, King and Alakea streets. Messages and packages will be delivered to all parts of the city, and prompt service with reasonable charges is promised. Hours of service will be from 6 in the morning until 12 midnight. The messenger boys are in neat uniform and selected with care for their brightness and alacrity. They are equipped with bicycles. A messenger service is about the only thing, besides rapid transit and a cable to the Coast, which Honolulu needs badly just now.

MIDDLE AGED WOMEN.

What They Should and Should Not Wear to Look Well.
 Women of middle age, with grown daughters or even infant grandchildren, are often at a loss how to dress. Their teeth, their hair, their complexion, show no deterioration, their figure remains impeccable; yet they are no longer young. Old ladies' styles are quite unsuitable, young ladies' styles are not dignified enough. A certain repose and reserve are necessary, and the exact limits of these are only to be decided by good taste and clear sightedness. To dress too youthfully is simply to exaggerate, in appearance, the actual number of one's years, making evident the lack of charms which have vanished rather than the presence of charms which have been retained. In gloves, shoes and underwear there is no question of age. Whatever is pretty and comfortable, suited to the purse and person of the wearer, is correct. In more conspicuous attire, however, it is necessary to be careful and to strike the happy medium between juvenility and age, frivolity and austerity. Rich materials are always appropriate for maturity. Brocades, satins velvets, plushes and elaborate silk and wool goods are suitable fabrics for the middle aged woman, who should avoid the simple cashmeres, challises and muslins of youth as much as possible and spend her wardrobe money rather on one or two more expensive gowns made in such a way that they will not immediately go out of fashion. The princess style never declines from favor. It is dignified and increases, the slenderness of the figure and is therefore specially suitable for women who are no longer young. The picture shows a gown of green velvet, having a trained skirt with a puffed tablier, the puffs divided by jet passementerie. The coat bodice has a short basque, with a pointed yoke of velvet at the back and coquille revers in front, which open over a vest of black lace over mauve silk. The wrinkled sleeves match the tablier. The ornamental buttons are of steel, the cravat of mauve mousseline de soie. The toque of green velvet is trimmed with violets. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Fashion Echoes.

Quills are all the rage in millinery. From Paris comes the cry that white cloths are worn for ceremonious occasions and for theater box parties. The Roman sash ribbons are in vogue again, with fringe on the ends. Camel's hair material is in fashion again, and it comes in all the new shades. Short bridal veils are not half as becoming to bridesmaids as toques or pretty hats. Malmaison pink, a new English perfume, is now in high favor among smart women. The desire for rich, velvety effects has extended to the trimming department, and one sees chenille embroideries, chenille fringes and chenille nets in great profusion. Flannel petticoats are trimmed with flounces of wash silk edged with lace. There is a craze for very elegant black taffeta house gowns.

Do You Know That

The best place to buy is at the store where the largest business is done? The big business insures not only economies of buying and selling but also fresh goods, the latest and best. Millinery is not carried here as a side line.

The Styles Are Entirely

Different from last year, and also different from what you will find in the ordinary millinery store. The variety is larger than the combined stocks of the entire city could muster.

The Dressmaking Department

Is in keeping with the Millinery Department.

Business License.

A young business man, who has been here a few months, has made himself amenable to the strong arm of the law by violating the license law in selling foreign goods without a license. Defendant made a statement to the Marshal that for several weeks past he had solicited and taken orders for eggs, butter and cheese imported by himself from the United States. It was attempted to be shown that defendant was working in the interest of a local firm. The young man gave the court a long talk on the license law and touched upon the prohibitory drummer's license of $500. The talk did not avail, however, and sentence was postponed until next morning to allow him time to dig up a license, which he did. Judge Peterson fined him $10 and costs and the stranger departed, a poorer but a wiser young man.

That Unfortunate Woman.

Hok Yok Yeong, the Chinese woman, mother of the two children who died last week by poison, was in the Police Court this morning. She is charged with manslaughter in the first degree. The defendant is represented by W. S. Edings. By her attorney she will enter a plea of not guilty and will rely for her defense on the plea of insanity. Examination will be waived and defendant committed to the Circuit Court for trial with bail in the sum of $3000. An effort is being made to have the poor woman sent to China. She is the picture of misery and looks as if death would be most welcome to her.

COZY SUBURBAN HOME.

Design For a Comfortable and Commodious Dwelling to Cost $4,000. Copyright, 1888, by George Palliser, 22 Park place, New York.

What is worth doing at all is worth doing well. This is a very old and probably the most quoted proverb in existence. It may be used in many ways by men of all shades and all classes. But how many men follow its instructions? We can safely say not one man in a million. Our object in quoting this proverb is to apply it to the man who has built or who contemplates building. Referring to the man who has built and is perhaps living in his own home, we would like to ask a few questions. Can he realize any mistakes? Does his building come up to his expectations as regards comfort? Is he perfectly satisfied with the details and inner arrangements of his house? Many men will tell you they are not perfectly satisfied. There are some little alterations continually going on, a slight addition here and there, new wings, more closets and many other minor changes which must be made before the home can be called complete. Now, all these changes are expensive and run the cost up to something that you did not calculate on when inviting estimates, and thus from the mere fact of neither you nor your architect carefully weighing and considering these seemingly trivial matters you are led to spend more, often much more, than you originally intended to. This is particularly the case with suburban work. We have had many years' experience in this class of work and could cite many instances similar to that which we have related. We have here a cozy comfortable suburban home which we hope will commend itself to the reader—no complexity of design—and a building that will be in harmony with many localities. On the first floor are dining room and parlor, both having fireplaces, which are indispensable to country houses, providing they are built properly, with the flue constructed to draw as it should do. A large and comfortable kitchen, with rear stairs to the servants' quarters, is another important feature, giving the other occupants of the building necessary privacy. We place a veranda around the main front of the building, which commands a most magnificent view of the Hudson river for many miles north and south. On the second floor are four large chambers and a bathroom fitted up with all modern improvements. In the attic we finish up two rooms, which may be used as chambers, and a large room for storeroom. The cellar is 7 feet deep, and the whole building is heated throughout by a hot water boiler. The cost of this house will not exceed $4,000. It was erected within 20 miles of New York and has given great satisfaction.

Plastering. For three coat work there should be used about 900 pounds of plaster for each 100 yards of three coat work, and it should be mixed with about 8 buckets of clean sharp sand to 100 pounds of plaster, and plaster is to be thoroughly mixed before adding water, but not until ready to add water, as sand often contains enough water to cause plaster to set, and mortar should be mixed stiff enough to work freely from the trowel. There should be no delay in putting the plaster on the wall when mixed. The walls should not be allowed to dry too fast, and openings should be closed, especially in windy weather. Plaster should go to the under floor in all cases, behind baseboards and sheathing, and if lime mortar is used it should be run through a fine screen to prevent popping in the plaster.—Exchange.

TO DEFEND SAN FRANCISCO

The Harbor Is Being Sown Thick With Torpedoes.

At Night Vessels Will Not Be Permitted to Enter or Leave the Harbor.

Five hundred submarine torpedoes are to be placed in San Francisco harbor almost immediately by the United States Government as a protection to this city in case a Spanish fleet should attempt to enter this port.

Manufacture of the explosive material has just been completed by the Giant Powder Company.
 It is being placed in the proper receptacles, and the final preparations are being made to locate and anchor the submarine mines and connect them with the electric detonating machinery on shore.
 It is understood that the torpedoes will extend between Alcatraz and Lime point on the Martin county shore and Alcatraz and Black point in San Francisco, and probably will also be extended to the Golden Gate and across the entrance to the harbor. Their location will be marked by buoys, and a channel for the ingress and egress of vessels will be left free, so that the pilots of the port may steer their way safely through the obstructions in the daytime, but at night vessels will not be permitted to enter or leave the harbor. Should Spanish war ships make their appearance off this coast the prohibition to pass out even during daylight will be made absolute. This is going to be an obstacle in the way of commerce, but it will effectively prevent the destruction of shipping in this port, and render an attempt to bombard San Francisco extremely hazardous to the enemy's fleets.

Both "contact" and "intent" torpedoes will be employed. The "contact" mines, as the name would indicate, are those which explode on being struck, as by a vessel, and are the most dangerous to peaceful merchantmen. The "intent" torpedoes are those which are exploded by electricity, and are, therefore, peculiarly effective as directed against hostile warships.

The torpedoes are being loaded with gun cotton and gelatine. Gun cotton is the most powerful explosive known, and gelatine is nitro-glycerine heated to the consistency of a thick jelly, in which condition it resembles soap in appearance but not in effect. The nitro glycerine is a compound of glycerine oil and sulphuric acid united with wood pulp, so as to be changed from liquid form to a plastic solid. As an explosive it ranks third; but is more commonly employed than fulminate of gold or fulminate of mercury owing to the great cost of production of the latter. The fulminate of mercury is used, however, as a detonator to explode the dynamite.

The dynamite is manufactured so as to contain as high as 90 per cent of the nitro glycerine. Its explosive power is sufficient to raise 150,000 times its own weight.
 The dynamite is composed of 63 per cent of sulphuric acid and 48 1/2 per cent of nitric acid, which are mixed and then united with glycerine oil, which is made from lye and candle drippings. The two classes of torpedoes are similar in material, save that the "contact" mines contain fulminate of mercury in order to render them sensitive to the touch, while the "intent" torpedoes are exploded through electric action on detonators of fulminate of mercury.

The responsibility of exploding the "intent" torpedoes is a great one, and has been placed by the Government with Captain W. F.
 C. Hasson, formerly of the United States Navy, an electrician of great experience and knowledge, who successfully filled the arduous position of chief electric engineer of the California Midwinter International Exposition.
 The torpedoes will be connected by metal rods, from which electric wires will run to each explosive, so arranged that any number may be exploded at a time or all of them simultaneously.

The operation of exploding the desired torpedo at the proper moment is wonderfully simple. An officer—Captain Hasson in our case—sits before a chart of the

This store is also anxious to earn a deserving title from the public; a title of merit, that carries with it the name of having meritorious goods at popular prices.

In order to do this it is necessary to be more than careful in the selections of goods—be cautious—knowing what the public tastes are we have used the precaution to import only first-class qualities in designs and materials such as are salable in the best markets of the world.
 No dead stock is wanted or bought by us, no matter what the inducements. Still goods will sometimes accumulate faster

For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

The new 35c. size contains over double the quantity of the 25c. size.

harbor, traced on ground glass, so that it may be illuminated at night by a lamp placed underneath it. At his eye is a range-finder, with which he follows the movement of the incoming hostile vessel. An automatic arrangement traces the course of the vessel on the chart below. She passes over a succession of tiny squares, each representing so much of the harbor. Within each of these squares is a heavily charged submarine mine. All that the officer has to do when the enemy's ship arrives at the proper point is to press a button, the torpedo explodes and goodbye a war ship.

Water is the best "tamp" known for high explosives containing nitroglycerine. To figure to the mind the force of the material, it is said that if four grains—no larger than a small pea—be placed in a solid piece of iron or steel two inches thick and exploded by electricity it will blow the iron or steel into dust and splinters.

Write the Government officers make no secret of the fact that 500 torpedoes are to be placed in the bay and that Captain Hasson has been appointed electrician, the precise location of the mines, as well as that of the electric station, is withheld from public knowledge for obvious reasons.—S. F. Chronicle.

The Only Place!

The Anchor Saloon is not the only place where Seattle beer and other liquid refreshments are served but they have a way of serving drinks that everybody else do not know of. Will Carlyle and Charlie Andrews are still on deck to make their friends and patrons welcome. Seattle beer on draught can always be had, as well as the best brands of whiskies, etc., including John D-war's Scotch whisky. A full stock of other liquors, wines, etc., is kept on hand also.

Value For Value.

When you want to get the value of your money go and examine the large stock of carriages, wagons and harness at Schuman's Carriage Repository, Club Stable Block, Fort street. He has just received ex W. G. Irwin a new line of horse millinery also a few of the celebrated Cortland jump seat buckboards with canopy tops, finished in light colors throughout. They are beauties. Come and examine them. Prices of all these goods are lower than elsewhere.

The Dangers of Spring

Which arise from impurities in the blood and a depleted condition of the vital fluid may be entirely averted by Ho-d's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine cures all spring humors, boils, eruptions and sores, and by enriching and vitalizing the blood, it overcomes that tired feeling and gives vitality and vigor.

Ho-d's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, biliousness and all liver ills. Price 25 cents.

Wanted for Old Seattle.

In anticipation of the Miowera bringing the popular Seattle Reiner Beck, the masses have waited for its arrival and the Criterion Saloon has a large shipment that will fill all demands as well as quench all thirsts. Last year this beer was the prime favorite as it will be this year.

We've Ruined the CORN CROP!

For years the corn crop of this part of the beach has been enormous. Reckless shoe sellers made it so. Everybody had to "break in" their shoes or get someone else to do it for them, and by the time they were broken in they were broken out also, and that broke pocket books.

Terrible Pains

In the Stomach—Dreadful Head-aches—Face and Neck Covered With Boils—Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla—Skin is Now Clear.

"I was covered with boils all over my face and neck. I had dreadful headaches and pains in my stomach. I took medicines, but was not much benefited, and I procured six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. After taking the first bottle I could see an improvement. When I had taken a few more bottles the boils had all gone, my skin was clear, my appetite returned, and my health was entirely restored. I am thankful I ever found such a blood purifier as Hood's Sarsaparilla. I paid out a good deal of money for useless medicines before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. F. BECKWITH, Harlock, Maryland.

If you decide to try Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Be sure to get Hood's. Price $1.50 for 60 pills.

ITEMS FROM HARBOR FRONT

The Planter with General Merchandise from San Francisco.

Cape Otway Overdue—Fish Statistics—Kaena with Sugar from Waialua—Noeau with Eleele Cargo.

The bark J C Pfluger arrived in Queenstown from Astoria May 1.

The schooner King Cyrus finished discharging coal and anchored in the stream this morning.

The United States gunboat Ben nixon struck her topmasts this morning and everything is now in readiness for action.

All the waterfront frequenters are commenting on the neat condition of the Zealandia. From her sail covers aloft to the water line below she is a marvel of cleanliness.

The Cape Otway is probably on her way from Chemainus to Sydney with lumber. Whether she will call here is a matter of conjecture until the Warrimoo arrives tomorrow.

The following vessels are loaded or on the way from Newcastle coal laden for Honolulu: Barkentine C F Crocker, schooner E A Wood, schooner Golden Shore, barkentine Katie Flickinger and bark McNeir.

The barkentine Planter arrived in port at one o'clock this afternoon with a general cargo for H Hackfeld & Co. The Planter, after discharging cargo, sails for Laysan island to get guano for the Kalih fertilizer works.

Tracklaying on the Oahu railway extension was finished to Waianaloa last Saturday. A switch is now being constructed to Hals lead's mill and soon the sugar from that plantation will come to Honolulu by rail. The steamer Kaena will, however, continue to run to Waialua.

Public Market's Fish Statistics.

The fish brought to the Public market last week amounted to 41,177. Of these 17,484 were ama-ama, 4897 wholehole, 2535 malolo and the remainder in small lots of about 65 varieties. Koolau furnished 8950; Waikiki 5815, Maunaloa 5675; Moana, ocean, 3278, and the rest came principally from Mokuoia, Mapunapuna, Waipio. This shows a big decrease of receipts from the week ending May 1, when we received 56,216 fish, the falling off being Waikiki, Moana and Honolulu. Waikiki furnished 17,102 fish this week, showing a difference of nearly 10,000 from this locality alone.

PASSENGERS DEPART.

NEW EVENING GOWNS.

TRAINS, DIMINUTIVE SLEEVES AND ROUND WAISTS PREVAIL.

Embroideries flourish in profusion and Sashes Are a Conspicuous Element—Net Gowns Trimmed With Sequins and Gold and Silver Ornamentation Are the Rage.

The one thing that seems positive about evening-gowns is the length of the skirt, which must have a train, a short one for the matron's gown, while the young lady's gown is cut long enough to fall two or three inches on the floor at the back. Evening sleeves in the French gowns are very diminutive, being hardly more than a strap on the shoulder. There may be two little frills of chiffon or tulle below this band, but these are not necessary if you follow the French models. The English woman's evening gown is more pretentious as to sleeves, and, although they are made of frills, they are deep enough to cover the arm partially. The New York Sun, which illustrates leading styles in gowns for evening wear, makes it also apparent that the round waist with the blouse or draped front is still the prevailing style, but the slightly pointed bodice is also worn by those who wish to look slender. The blouse with the front cut in two parts rounding down from the low cut neck at either side, near the sleeve, to the belt, where the edges meet, is one of the prettiest for evening dress. Each side is trimmed with embroidery or applique lace, and the V shaped space between is filled in with full chiffon or tulle. Champagne color is a favorite tint for evening gowns.

Embroideries flourish in profusion on evening gowns. Fur bands, too, are a very fashionable trimming, especially in sable, with two or three tails arranged in the puff of one tiny sleeve. A bunch of violets or a bow of ribbon may decorate the other. An upstanding bow of velvet in some contrasting color on one sleeve and a bunch of roses on the other is not an unusual mode of decoration—in fact, it is quite the thing to have the sleeves different. Frillings of lace chiffon or net shaped to fit the round neck and edged with a tiny band of sable are one of the novel features of trimming.

The sash is becoming a conspicuous element of evening dress. It may be made of lace, chiffon, soft silk or ribbon. Net gowns are decidedly the rage for evening wear, and embroideries of silver and steel on net and lisse seem to be the fancy of the moment. The black net gowns are in great variety, elaborately trimmed with colored and jet sequins and made over colors as well as black linings.

A white glace silk forms a gown made with a fashionable train and trimmed with bands of ivory satin, edged with ruffles of tulle, and ruffles of tulle trim the taffeta underskirt. The bodice is of rose mirror velvet, draped with lace, and the underbodice is of ivory satin, with a rosette of the same, edged with black velvet, at one side. One sleeve is composed of lace frills, while the other is simply a stiffened bow of white satin. White net over white silk, trimmed with a lattice pattern in dark red velvet, forms a very youthful dress, and still another youthful model is carried out in pink silk, with a deep accordion plaited flounce of pink mousseline de soie. Plaited mousseline forms the basque frill, the sleeves and trimming on the bodice and a belt of gold galoon studded with coral completes the costume. A gown of yellow satin is trimmed with a lace flounce arranged in points and headed with a ruche of white chiffon, which also forms the soft vest and sleeves. Applique lace trims the bodice.
