POST OFFICE SHORTAGE

Proposal to Take Out of Pay of Postmasters and Carriers.

Excess of Military Pay for February—Payments and Expenditures Authorized—Japanese Consul and Prohibited Merchandise.

The Minister of Finance this morning presented his annual report for 1899 to the President. Mr. Damon, addressing the Executive Council, said: "The question of what is to be done toward meeting the payment of clerks, mail carriers and postmasters for the coming period, necessitated by the increased work of the Department and the insufficiency of the appropriations to meet these expenditures, has again come up and upon consultation with the P. M. G. he recommended that the shortage to carry on the work, as outlined in the meeting of the 14th, should be deducted from the pay of each postmaster and mail carrier, in the former case 10 per cent, trusting to the next Legislature to recoup them for the proportion which they have not been able to draw. It would mean the closing up of 25 postoffices if we should dismiss the postmasters, and this is the one way in which we can carry on the service."

It was decided by the Council to leave the course to be pursued to the judgment of the Minister of Finance.

Minister Mott-Smith read a communication from the British consul, dated February 16, relative to the claim of J. Cranston for damages arising out of the insurrection of 1895. The Minister of Finance was authorized to make payments as follows:

Support of military for January, further excess over the pro rata, $72. Excess of pro rata for the same for February, $2955.18.

The Minister of the Interior was authorized to make the following expenditures:

Harbor Improvements, Honolulu, $61,130.

Sewerage of Honolulu, the balance of the appropriation.

The Cabinet approved of the President's appointment of J. A. as second district magistrate for North Kona, Hawaii.

A letter from the Japanese consul, relating to the Board of Health's resolution prohibiting goods from infected countries landing here, was referred to the Board of Health.

Australia Passengers.

Dr. Carmichael of the U. S. Hospital Marine service was seen this morning and asked about the effect of the new outbreak of plague on the people who intend to leave in the Australia tomorrow.

"The intending passengers have been under observation for fifteen days," said Dr. Carmichael, "and this new outbreak will have absolutely nothing to do with them. They will go as already planned. So far as freight is concerned, we have taken none but clean stuff so we are all right."

RATS!

Editor Evening Bulletin:—At a special meeting of the Honolulu Rodent Mutual Protective Association held last evening in sewer alley, it was unanimously carried that all burials or decorations and special services over deceased brethren be attended to at 11:30 p. m. this evening, and furthermore, that tomorrow, Tuesday, the 20th inst., be entirely set aside as a day of special thanksgiving by all surviving rats, members or otherwise of the R. M. P. A. A suggestion by a new member that a vote of thanks be accorded the Citizens' Committee for its leniency in minimizing the potency of the exterminator and the gentlemanly manner in which the chief had served up the same in wooden platters was severely negatived.

The secretary reported that under the circumstances the number of fatalities during the present crisis had been remarkably and satisfactorily small.

HER ASHES ENTOMBED

Impressive Memorial Services and Funeral of Mrs. Boardman.

First Christian Sepulture of Anyone Cremated in Honolulu—Sympathetic Address of Rev. J. C. Hay at Christian Church.

The memorial services over the remains of the late Mrs. Boardman yesterday afternoon were singularly impressive. They really constituted the first funeral ceremony for a subject of cremation ever held in Honolulu. A small parlor stand was placed at the front of the Christian church auditorium for the reception of the urn containing the ashes. This was draped in purple and surrounded with many floral emblems and bouquets.

A large concourse of friends of the lamented lady and her bereaved family assembled at the church. Many representative members of the community were present. The chief mourners occupied the front seats, being accompanied on going forward by the following Masonic escort, exhibiting fraternal sympathy for Mr. Boardman, their bereaved brother of Hawaiian lodge: John A. Hassinger, carrying the urn, P. M. of Hawaiian lodge; J. Mort Oat, W. M. of the same lodge; Clarence M. White, W. M. of Lodge le Progres de l'Oceanie, and Judge W. Auetia Whiting, W. M. of Pacific lodge.

As the funeral party advanced up the aisle, Professor Cook, the church organist, softly played a dirge. When the urn had been placed in position, the choir sang, "When the mists have cleared away," a favorite hymn of the late Mrs. Boardman.

Rev. J. C. Hay, pastor of the church, read the 23d Psalm and part of John 14th, choice passages in the habitual scripture reading of the sister mourned. Mr. Hay offered a sympathetic prayer, and the choir sang another favorite hymn of the departed, "Some time we'll understand."

Mr. Hay delivered a funeral sermon that engaged the profound attention of the congregation, for its succinct presentation of the life history of the departed member of the church, with warm tributes that touched every knowing heart for their simple truth to her habitual kindness to the distressed, unostentatious benevolence, Christian lenity to any who despitely used her and liberality of thought respecting those who differed from her in matters of expediency. While claiming Christian liberty for herself, she believed the church should have a high standard of manners. The sermon began with these biographical data:

"Mrs. Boardman was born in New York city March 4, 1854, and departed this life in Honolulu, January 16, 1900. Her maiden name was Eliza Jane Nicholls. Her childhood and youth were spent in Albany. She was married May 30, 1879, at Ithaca, N. Y., to George E. Boardman. They came to the Hawaiian Islands May 17, 1880, and resided four years at Kahului, on Maui, and in 1884 fixed their residence in Honolulu."

The entire community will recognize the aptness of the following passage:

"Hers was a richly endowed nature, blessed with health, a vigorous mind, sound judgment and genial manners, she became a superior business woman, and for some time conducted a successful mercantile establishment. Charmed by the natural beauties of Honolulu, she formed an intimate acquaintance with its plants and flowers, and with them surrounded her home. Rare taste made her an authority in floral decoration, so that on special occasions her willing services were sought for church and palace and cottage. On last Easter Day the adornment of this place of worship, through her skill and zeal, commanded the grateful appreciation of pastor and congregation."

After the sermon the choir sang a third favorite hymn of the late Mrs. Boardman, known as "The Christian's Goodnight." The pastor pronounced a benediction, and the rest of the congregation stood until the mourners and escort withdrew with the urn.

Although the funeral had been announced as private, Mr. Hay stated that any friends were at liberty to follow the remains to the tomb. Many carriages accordingly joined in the procession to Makiki cemetery. There the urn was deposited upon a bier, tastefully draped in white and purple and covered with flowers, in the private mausoleum of Mr. Hassinger. A short prayer by Mr. Hay concluded the ceremonies.

The cover of the urn is a silver plate beautifully engraved with the name and facts of the departed lady's birth, marriage and death. H. H. Williams, undertaker, had general direction of the funeral, under the arrangements made by the heads of the Masonic brotherhood.

ANOTHER CASE OF PLAGUE

Hawaiian Woman on Queen Street Succumbs to Disease.

Chinese Suspect From King Street Dies at Suspect Hospital—Outward Appearances Not Suspicious—Post This Afternoon.

2 p. m.—One sure case of plague and one suspect today. The particulars are as given below. The Chinaman from King street died late this forenoon and a post mortem is to be held this afternoon. Speaking of today's developments President Wood said this afternoon: "The case of the Hawaiian woman on Queen street is nothing more than might have been expected. It is one of those sporadic cases that are liable to crop up at any time. The Chinaman from King street had no bubos but I ordered his removal to the suspect hospital on account of his sudden illness and more sudden death."

As far as can be learned the Hawaiian woman had been ill for several days and the Chinaman a week.

The community was startled this morning by the announcement of another case of plague. People were beginning to gain confidence and the situation was considered most promising. Twelve days without a case was a record that had not been approached since the outbreak of the plague, but now no one can tell how long a period may safely elapse before Honolulu's quarantine can be raised.

This morning between 12 and 1 o'clock Dr. Peterson was summoned from the Board of Health office to a place directly opposite on Queen street. He found there a native woman, Mary Kaalhue by name, who seemed to be suffering from the plague. He immediately had guards posted and then did all he could in behalf of the woman. At 5 o'clock she suddenly collapsed and died. Her body was removed to the morgue where Dr. Hoffman held a post mortem examination. A clear case of plague was shown, both by the symptoms and the microscopical examination later. The body was removed to Mauiola and cremated.

This case came from a place in the vicinity of the South Sea Island settlement and directly back of the small houses burned a short time ago by order of the Board of Health. One of these was destroyed because it was thought that a German who died there before the declaration of the outbreak of plague in Honolulu, had really been a victim of the disease.

During the forenoon it was reported that a case had been found in the Chinese fruit store on King street near the Walkiki turn. Dr. Peterson was sent out to investigate and found a Chinaman, Ah Chow by name, aged 30, in a very serious plight. His temperature was 103 and his pulse had collapsed. The appearance of things led him to recommend that the house be placed in quarantine. In accordance with this several men were sent out to do guard duty and the patient was taken to the suspect hospital.

Freed From Kalih.

There was an exodus of people from the Kalih detention camp yesterday forenoon. Hawaiians, Japanese and Chinese, numbering 1,850 in all were examined by Dr. Howard and then allowed to pass out. By night time 669 had returned stating, that they could find no dwelling places. These were immediately assigned to different houses. It was thought at first that only about 600 people would find accommodations outside but it turned out otherwise.

Semi-Daily Inspection Resumed.

L. A. Thurston, chairman of the Citizens' Sanitary Committee, said at noon that in consequence of the fresh appearance of the plague the house to...ouse inspection twice a day would be resumed forthwith. The extension of the hours of business resolved on Saturday, to take place in the event of there being no more plague cases, would also by the terms of the resolution be considered deferred until further notice.

Ah Hee Out.

Ah Hee, the proprietor of the carpenter shop on Nuuanu street from which several cases of plague are known to have had their origin, was freed from quarantine at the Kalih detention camp yesterday afternoon. Ah Hee was considered the biggest kicker among the Chinese at Kalih.

AN ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY

Professionals at Work in Union Feed Co.'s Office.

Safe Drilled and Charge of Dynamite Inserted—Middlings Used to Deaden Sound—Burglars Were Unsuccessful.

The appearance of the safe in the office of the Union Feed Co. on King street this morning goes to show that Honolulu has recently received into its midst some professional burglars from the States and it might be well for those who have been a little careless in the past to be more careful in the future as to how they leave money in their places of business without sufficient guarantee of safety from people such as those who made the attempt on the Union Feed Co.'s office last night or early this morning.

When the warehouse and office were opened this morning, it was found that some of the grain in the former place was so oultering. Near by was a can of engine oil. Evidently somebody had attempted to set fire to the place and a serious conflagration had been stopped by the continuous falling of bags of grain directly on the fire, thus quenching the flames but not entirely putting out the fire.

When the office people arrived, they found that a determined attempt had been made to rob the office and then set fire to the building.

The keyhole of the safe had been drilled by a good sized instrument and a charge of dynamite had been placed in this aperture in the manner of skilled burglars. After this twenty or thirty bags of middlings from the storehouse had been brought in and piled about the safe to deaden the explosion. The dynamite had then been set off but the safe refused to yield although much of the front part was blown to pieces and the bags of middlings were broken open by the concussion. The $250 in gold and $1,000 in drafts were found intact.

Falling in this attempt, the robbers evidently went to Frank Vida's private drawer and used an auger to get this open. Luckily no money had been left there.

The next place visited was probably the small storeroom directly to the rear of the office. An attempt had been made to pry open the door but, falling in this, the robbers smashed in one of the large panes and got through. Nothing could be found there.

Evidently exasperated at not being able to secure any money and wishing to conceal evidences of the attempt at robbery, the burglars set the grain afire in the large warehouse. Had they used kerosene oil their attempt might have been more successful.

The identity of the burglars has not yet been learned but it is thought that one or two days will be sufficient to locate certain persons.

Evidently there was more than one person concerned in the job for the removal of the bags of middlings from the storehouse to the office must have taken two at least. The entrance was effected by means of one of the back windows in the storehouse.

The Chinaman in charge of the Union Feed Co.'s stables tells the following story: "At about 10 o'clock Sunday morning two white men boosted another up on the corrugated iron fence near the Hawaiian Electric Co.'s works. I could only see half the face of the latter. I asked him what he wanted and, replying that nothing was wanted, he and the other two men scampered away. I think that this circumstance is in some way connected with the attempt at robbery."

Upon the arrival of the office men this morning, the safe was broken open and the money and books taken out.

Detective Kaapa is working on the case today. He has one or two clues that may prove of value.

Rat Killing Record.

So far the rat poison distributed generally throughout the city has proved ineffective. The inspectors and sub-inspectors report that it is a failure. One of the members of the Citizens' Sanitary Committee said this morning: "The poison has not been given a show yet. It should be left in place for two or three days until the rats become used to it. People know very well that whenever various places where rats have been disturbed, the rodents are rather shy of the place for a little while."

Few rats have been reported killed by the poison. A. B. Wood says that certain rats on his place at the poison but did not die."

Disreputable Houses.

It is understood on good authority that the French and Japanese women of the demi monde who have finished their quarantine, are soon to open rooms on Richards street in the long frame building just below Queen street and opposite the planing mill.

The bark Seminole, 72 days from Newcastle, is anchored outside.

The hearing on the petition for the appointment of Cecil Brown as administrator of the late D. B. Smith's estate was due this morning. Judge Stanley continued it one month on motion of Kinney, Bailou & McClanahan, attorneys for Amoy M. Anin, whose affidavit was presented alleging that the late D. B. Smith had lived at her home for the eight years preceding his death, that he left Honolulu for San Francisco on December 8, 1899, carrying with him a number of papers, and that he had informed her, a short time before his departure, that he had made a will in which the affiant was mentioned among the beneficiaries. E. B. McClanahan, one of the woman's attorneys, made affidavit of his request for a search for the will in San Francisco, and of insufficient time having elapsed for obtaining any answer to such request.

The Chief Justice Contest. Interviewed this morning on the governorship question George D. Gear said: "What is troubling me the most just now is the position of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Of course you understand that my appointment as governor is assured. I've got the title and that is all that is necessary in Hawaii. Soon after being interviewed by the Advertiser, I promised J. W. Luning the office of Chief Justice. Now understand that Mr. Dole wants the place. I am actually losing weight trying to decide between the two contestants."

Japanese Items. It is reported in a late Japanese paper that about 35,544 tons of coal were shipped out of Hokkaido last year. A parcels post service is soon to be established between Japan and Korea. At the end of 1898 it was found by the Educational Department that 4,061,334 children were in attendance at various schools throughout the Empire. There were 83,539 school teachers.

LIGHT WISDOM - - -

Let us tell you something about Electric Incandescent Lamps. Perhaps you have noticed that your bill for electric lighting has varied peculiarly from month to month. When it is large you say bad words about your meter and you think that the Light Company is cheating you. The Company is not cheating you—YOU ARE CHEATING YOURSELF. A lamp which has lived its normal number of amperes hours, though it may not be dead, consumes nearly twice as much current as when it is first used. If when your lamps show signs of having burned too long you would take them out and purchase new lamps you would find that the saving in your monthly bill would more than compensate for the price of the new lamps.

Tract Building Loss.

New York, Feb. 7.—The American Tract Society is in trouble. Its twenty-three story office building at Nassau and Spruce streets has not so far proved to be a financial success. The building is valued at $2,000,000. It is mortgaged for $1,250,000, and the rent has not been sufficient to pay the interest on the amount. Many of the offices have not been rented since the building was put up, although all sorts of inducements have been offered to prospective tenants.

For the purpose of raising funds to save the building from going under the auctioneer's hammer, the society has sent out an appeal to the public asking for subscriptions. The appeal refers to the good work done by the society and adds that this work is still going on.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE
 Editor Evening Bulletin:—In severing my connection (by reason of impaired health) with the Kailhi Detention Camp Hospital I desire, through the columns of your valuable journal, to bear witness to the courteous consideration shown by Superintendent McVeigh, and his efficient staff of assistants, to the employees of the Medical Department on duty at that place. The promptitude with which every article required for the comfort of the patients—Asiatic, native and white—under Dr. Howard's care was supplied, was only equalled by the generosity of the Board of Health in honoring the demands. Having served in the Medical Department of the U. S. Army, I have no hesitation in asserting, from personal knowledge, that the comforts, medical attendance and treatment accorded the inmates of the Kailhi detention camp hospital, by the Board of Health authorities was immeasurably superior to that received by the gallant sons of the first families of the richest country in the world in Cuba and Manila. Notwithstanding the pressing duties of Dr. Howard in this vast camp, the hospital was visited by him three and four times daily. The efficient work of Mrs. Polecki in the maternity ward and Mr. Orb Welch, male nurse, in the typhoid and pneumonia wards deserves the highest praise. To use the words of one of the guards, who had been an old soldier, "I'd a darned site rather be a sick Jap under Jack McVeigh and Dr. Howard than a white American on board one of them damned transports!"
 FRANCIS REDMOND,
 Late Hospital Steward, Kailhi Camp Hospital.
 Honolulu, H. I., Feb. 16, 1900.

SUGGESTER SUGGESTS.
 Editor Evening Bulletin:—Is it not time that we should have a little more freedom with the outside world.
 For instance, if a doctor, nurses and others (through proper care) can visit my house and go to other districts and islands why cannot I under the same restrictions be able to do likewise? If one of the above can go in an hour, why must I have to be under treatment for fourteen days?
 If I can buy goods and take them to my private house, why cannot I under similar care send goods to other districts and islands?
 I think from the article in the Star which has not been contradicted, that rats or fleas from them have not caused a single death amongst those working on the wharves and elsewhere, therefore I think that whilst the destruction of rats is a good one, that we must look further than rats for cause of infection.
 I would say, quarantine Chinese, Japanese and their goods, from traveling as long as possible, as these appear to have the most to do with the introduction of the plague, but I would allow other goods to go forward and people to travel, if they will undergo the same treatment a doctor does; this should apply to all hands connected with ships and railway.
 For persons other than Japanese and Chinese I would allow them to go by road; within a certain time of their being fumigated, they showing by card at what hour they were treated, if the time had expired they should be refused a pass by the guards.
 A small room (on wheels if necessary) to go from wharf to wharf also at the railroad station, with an attendant is all that is required.
 Why should business be suspended one day or one hour beyond what is required, every day means weeks of loss in recovery of business and commercial standing with the commercial world.
 Yours truly,
 SUGGESTER.
 Honolulu, H. I., Feb. 16, 1900.

OPPOSED TO POISON.
 Editor Evening Bulletin:—The sanitary condition of this city is improving lately so satisfactorily let us not have it destroyed by a system of general poisoning of rats, all at once, without any experiment pointing to success, but according to reason partly explained by Anti-Rat in the Bulletin of the 12th inst. This should be sufficient to detain us from such a formidable danger. The greater it would be if such a destruction of rats is executed, to have everywhere at inaccessible places poisoned rats rotting away, sufficient to poison the air, and create a pestilence in otherwise the healthiest of places. Moreover, who can estimate the number of accidental poisoning cases caused by the rash, indiscreet action of distributing poison in every home. Had rat traps been set everywhere since the crusade against them began, we would at this time have exterminated them.
 Many are the devices from ingenious to very simple ones, and who could not find something out to catch rats. If nothing better is at hand, a simple box with a short stick on one end to hold it up, and a string on the stick to tear it off when rats are underneath attempting to eat from meat set for them will do it.

W. R. FARRINGTON Editor
DANIEL LOGAN City Editor

MONDAY.....FEBRUARY 19, 1900.

Returns from the rat campaign indicate that the defensive tactics of the rodent family are of the best.

Another death and suspicious plague case this morning makes it a question whether the Sunday hoodoo has yet been raised.

It is now in order for the Advertiser to interview Mr. Luning to find out what his prospects are for the position of Chief Justice.

The lesson of the past twelve days is, that by keeping "constantly at it" is the one way and only way in which the plague can be brought to an end.

You never know till you try, and something has been gained if the rat campaign resulted in no more than a dozen casualties in the ranks of the enemy.

From the local political standpoint Special Agent Hartwell's presence in Washington is of no little value to the people of these islands. The mission and the man are shining examples of how the Dole government runs things and the political character of the men selected to do its bidding. Congressional opinion as regards the Unofficial Delegate may be put down as quite satisfactory.

New Honolulu is of more vital importance than the governorship to Hawaii at present. President McKinley can be depended upon to give Hawaii a thoroughly American governor, but the future of New Honolulu depends on the forceful, thoughtful activity of the people. We would suggest that the government officials devote more attention to the public work of immediate necessity and less time to scheming ways and means for holding jobs under the territory.

Prince David, Col. Parker and George Gear, having had considerable business on hand while in Washington, are now enjoying a vacation by having considerable fun with the local government. Having made a diligent search to learn the opinions of these gentlemen on the governorship question, the government organ gives up in disgust and says, "Pay your money and take your choice." It would indeed be interesting if the jolly trio, who are jollying the Dole aggregation, would speak seriously of the governorship.

Preparations are being made for a home for the fallen Japanese women who seek to lead better lives. This is a most commendable work. But what is being done to care for the pimps and thugs who have lived off the earnings of these women? If the good people of this town want to save the Japanese women, they will serve notice on the Japanese blackmailers who are not only responsible for bringing the women here, as practical slaves, but also threaten intelligent people of the Japanese colony for interfering with the traffic.

What the Hawaii Herald says of the island of Hawaii's representation before Congress is true of the whole country. There is not a man in the whole lobby now in Washington who would stand a ghost of a show for endorsement by the people at an election. Hartwell and Smith, outside their special duties are advocates of minority rule and thereby opposed to the first principles of American government. The personal character of the work that is being done by all the lobbyists makes their work for general interests practically useless.

Now that the question of authority in Hilo is properly settled, the next thing is to give the people of Hilo sufficient money to carry on the much needed work for improved sanitation. The suggestions made at the Board of Health meeting Saturday morning will not only be endorsed by the people of Honolulu, but measures for more extensive work will be advocated. Honolulu's past furnishes a horrible example to all growing towns of these islands. Whether Hilo is to be the most important port is neither here nor there. It is bound to be a good sized city with a large amount of traffic coming to its harbor. Hilo's improvements can be started now and thus prevent the possibility of going through the place with a fire brand in days to come.

CONTINUE THE INSPECTION.

Honolulu is again reminded that a fight against bubonic plague calls for the continuation of a strict guard all along the line for weeks if not months. It is a long road that has no turn, but the greatest danger is that the people will be misled into carelessness by the mirage created by a temporary rift in the clouds. As was stated in the instructions of the Citizens' Sanitary Committee, one case of plague will lock the city up as securely as one hundred.

We seriously question the advisability of withdrawing any of the regulations made by the Citizens' Committee at its inception. At the end of twelve days we find the city in practically the same position as regards freedom of business traffic as it was on the 12th of December. It seems the epidemic has been stopped, but the case at Waikiki shows that the disease has found its way to a new district by some underground route. Business men and the people generally fret under the restrictions which the house to house inspection entails. It is to be hoped they will not be too quick to respond to an apparent advantage.

The object to which every effort should be centered is to open the port of Honolulu. The losses and inconvenience resulting from short business hours are as nothing when compared with the losses which one case of plague will occasion through continuation of the quarantine. The Asiatics cannot be trusted. They must be watched carefully until the last vestige of danger is passed. To let up on the inspection means that Chinese and Japanese will become more indifferent than ever. From a business standpoint alone Honolulu cannot afford to allow the withdrawal of a single inspector or make the regulations of the Citizens' Committee less strict.

HAWAII NEEDS A DELEGATE.

(Hawaii Herald.)

The Government and the Planters' Association have three known representatives lobbying in Washington for their interests. The Oloa settlers sent an attorney from here and have a firm of Washington lawyers engaged prosecuting their claims, but the Island of Hawaii as a whole has no one. There are other matters than Oloa lots which interest the people of Hawaii, and it needs someone in Washington to inform Congress. Some months ago it was stated that Representative Loebenstein would go and that he would go without remuneration. For several weeks the matter has remained dormant, but the time for legislation on the Hawaiian bill draws recklessly near. A short time ago Mr. Loebenstein expressed himself as being willing to sacrifice his personal interests to the future good of Hawaii by leaving his business and proceeding to Washington where he has many friends in Congress. The public has so far done nothing toward organizing to send him, preferring, evidently, to wait and let matters settle themselves. When the bill is passed and Hawaii finds that it is no nearer self-government than it was during the monarchy or is at present, when the people find that one community has the chicken and Hilo has the bone it will be too late. The action of the Board of Health in Honolulu during the recent quarantine troubles is a strong argument in favor of a bill which will provide for towns to have local self-government. It is not enough for the bill to provide that the Legislature may enact such laws as will tend toward giving communities local government; the clause should be made mandatory, for if the island of Hawaii with its minority representation goes before the Legislature and asks for such privileges as will lead to a better government, the man who introduces the bill will be promptly turned down. The law regarding so trifling a matter as a sidewalk in Hilo reads so that the matter rests entirely with the Minister of the Interior, and the Hilo sidewalkers are sufficient evidence that he does not give the matter much thought. It is generally believed that Honolulu objects to Hilo or the Island of Hawaii generally from being elsewhere than under its thumb, and with the pull which the moneyed interests of that locality can develop the public can rest assured that under the Cullom bill local government would be as far distant as at present. The people here do not believe that the situation is clearly understood in Washington, except by the commissioners, and they favor the bill. It is not probable that a member of either House of Congress, who delights in proclaiming the beauties of free American institutions, would lend voice to the passage of a bill that puts the power of government in the hands of a few, and those few in one locality. Mr. Loebenstein is a forceful speaker and his efforts in righting what is, to Hawaii, manifestly wrong, would be crowned with success. No one is more familiar with lands than Mr. Loebenstein and his presence in Washington would be of value to men interested in the bill as well as people here, but it is not probable that he will go unless it is the wish of the people to get something nearer right than the Cullom bill provides.

A DOUBLE PRESENTATION.

Shortly before dinner time at Kalia camp Saturday Superintendent McVeigh called in at Dr. and Mrs. Howard's rooms in the administration building and asked that Mr. Hemenway and Dr. Pratt be called. He had some instructions to give. As soon as all had gathered there he began a speech dwelling on the valuable services rendered by Dr. Howard, Dr. Garvin, Dr. Pratt and Mr. Hemenway in connection with the camp work. In recognition of this he had the honor and pleasure of presenting to them some slight tokens of remembrance which he hoped would always be retained by them as a souvenir of their sojourn at Kalia. Mr. McVeigh then took four packages from his pocket and distributed all but the one for Dr. Garvin which will be retained until the return from Maui of that physician. Dr. Howard's package contained a handsome silver badge with a red cross in the center and the inscription in black: "Medical Superintendent, Kalia Camp." The badges of the other physicians were the same with the exception of the inscription which reads: "Physician, Kalia Camp." Mr. Hemenway's badge was in the shape of a shield with the inscription: "Superintendent Guards, Kalia Camp."

At about 10 o'clock a supper was served in the parlor of Dr. and Mrs. Howard's quarters. Toward the end of this Dr. Howard arose and in appropriate language, presented Mr. McVeigh with a most excellently made badge, the central part of which is the Hawaiian coat-of-arms taken from a Hawaiian dollar and handsomely enamelled. The badge bears the inscription: "Superintendent Kalia Camp." Mr. McVeigh was completely surprised and gave his warm thanks to Drs. Howard, Pratt and Garvin and Mr. Hemenway for their kind remembrance.

What Happened to Harry Corson Clarke

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 7.—Harry Corson Clarke tonight discharged from his "What Happened to Jones" company.

In an interview after the performance Clarke stated that the reason of Miss Plunkett's discharge was her unworldly friendliness with a gentleman member of the company.

He also stated that at Fort Smith, Ark., two weeks ago three valuable pin cushions were taken from one of the Hotel Maine's rooms and the baggage of the company was searched by officers.

As a result, he said, one pin cushion was found in Miss Plunkett's possession and she voluntarily paid for the other two.

In reference to Madeline Brugiere's discharge Clarke said that several ago a valuable book disappeared from a theater at Santa Ana, Cal.

The manager of the theater accused the members of the company, but the book was not recovered then.

Clarke was of the same opinion as the manager, and at Joplin, Mo., this week he called the entire company up and conducted an investigation, with the result that Mrs. Brugiere produced the book.

Clarke further says that for some time both Miss Plunkett and Mrs. Brugiere have been guilty of unbecoming conduct publicly.

He particularly cites an instance of both rolling cigarettes and smoking them in depot waiting rooms.

"Miss Plunkett and Mrs. Brugiere have disgraced my company by their actions," said Clarke, "and I feel they are no longer fit to associate with me theatrically."

I took both out of San Francisco society and gave them a start in the profession because I believed them worthy of assistance.

Both have ability, but members of my company must conduct themselves respectably.

Miss Plunkett at first threatened to attach the baggage of the company because she was not given the usual two weeks' notice.

Late tonight, however, she decided not to cause trouble for Clarke and will leave for New York tomorrow.

Mrs. Brugiere was given the privilege of remaining with the company for a few days in order to perfect arrangements for her departure.

A BLANCHE BATES "AD." New York, Feb. 7.—A firm of hosiery dealers at 951 Broadway, by Leon Laski, counsel, today served on Blanche Bates, the actress, an answer in the suit she brought against them for an injunction to restrain them from producing or exposing or displaying any models or articles claimed to be copies or representations of her person or limbs.

Miss Bates asserted that defendants "have displayed in their shop windows models of women's legs, flesh colored and extending from toe to hip."

In their answer defendants denied that the models they exposed were made to represent Miss Bates' legs or that they had advertised them as models of them.

The answer contained this allegation: "That the models of a woman's limbs, colored to represent flesh and representing the entire limb of a woman from feet and including thigh, as alleged in complaint, are models of limbs of several well known artists' female models in this city celebrated for shapeliness and particularly for correctness of dimensions of different portions of limb from ankle to thigh, which artists' models defendants will produce upon trial of suit."

Defendants also said they would produce in court on the trial of the suit women whose legs were represented by models on exhibition in their window.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Former Secretary of State Richard Olney may be the candidate of the Eastern anti-Bryan Democrats in the Democratic National Convention for the Presidential nomination in opposition to Bryan.

With Bryan as a candidate and free silver as a leading issue Eastern Democrats can see nothing ahead except defeat.

With a new candidate and a new issue they believe they might succeed.

In the Hay-Pauncefote treaty they see an opportunity of finding a new issue. This treaty is being denounced by some Republicans as a surrender to Great Britain, and some of the Democrats who are looking for a new platform and a new candidate are ready to make opposition to England, denunciation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and the failure of the United States to take favorable action to the Boers leading campaign cries.

With this platform, Mr. Olney is looked upon as the most available candidate. His action as Secretary of State during the Venezuelan controversy, when he and President Cleveland are declared to have brought the country near to a war with Great Britain, is contrasted with the attitude of Mr. Hay.

It is admitted that he might lose some free silver supporters, but it is contended he would receive the votes of all gold Democrats and of many foreign born voters.

OLAA LABOR TROUBLE.

Hilo, Feb. 15.—There was a little difficulty among the Japanese of the Oloa Sugar Co. on Tuesday which resulted in sixteen of them being brought to Hilo and lodged in jail.

One gang quit work with the intention of calling on Manager McStocker. They marched in the direction of Mountain View carrying their hoes and cane knives and in passing other gangs at work were joined by them so that when Mountain View was reached there were several hundred in line.

Indications pointed to a riot all the lunas from the other divisions were called to headquarters. Eleven men were placed under arrest and sent to Hilo. Later in the day there was a recurrence of the trouble and Sheriff Andrews was telephoned for assistance.

He left at 4:30 p. m. with a posse including Frank Smith as a special officer, reaching Mountain View in about four hours. Five men believed to be ringleaders in the difficulty were arrested and brought to Hilo and locked up and several of the lunas came down yesterday afternoon to appear against them as witnesses.

The presence of so many armed Japanese in the vicinity of the homes of the white employes caused considerable excitement. One Japanese called on Mrs. Fuller and told her that her husband had been killed and that the laborers would come to the house and kill her.

A gentleman connected with the plantation gives it as his opinion that the trouble is the result of the conviction of a Japanese in the police court here last week of assault upon Mr. Fuller. That Japanese belonged to the camp at 20 miles where all the trouble originated; the men there are from the interior of Japan and are unaccustomed to discipline at home so that when authority is exercised here they are inclined to rebel.

Advocates Cable to Japan. San Francisco, Feb. 9.—"In my judgment," said Kahe Otani, the commercial envoy of Japan, "the United States is today the most powerful of all the countries on the face of the globe, and it is destined to go on with tremendous strides."

This opinion he expressed in an after-dinner speech made at the Pacific-Union Club on Wednesday night.

He said, further, that all Europe is in a silent ferment of commercial unrest, due to the dread of international trouble on the Continent. The United States is commercially secure and financially powerful. Europe controls America's telegraphic communication with the Orient. A war in Europe would cut this country off from such communication with Japan and China.

A Pacific cable from San Francisco to Yokohama is the logical solution, declared Otani. He said that Japan will gladly pay half the cost, and he knew that much of her commerce would follow the cable, as Japan is nearing the time when it is physically unable to produce enough foodstuffs for its population.

He asserted that in America there is business security and confidence, along with wealth. Otani and his two secretaries return to Japan today. He is president of the Chamber of Commerce of Yokohama and a merchant prince.
