COUNTERFEITERS HAVE CONFESSED

United States District Attorney Breckons and Marshal Hendry this forenoon completed the work on the Camp McKinley counterfeiting case. The case has been worked up in only a few days and the officials, who did the work are certainly to be congratulated on the unequalled excellence of their performance.

Yesterday afternoon several new developments transpired. Cooper, the soldier who did the actual making of the counterfeit money, confessed what he knew. Cooper said he had learned the trick of counterfeiting in Alabama nine years ago. He used plaster of paris moulds and made the base of the coins from Babbitt metal which he bought from the Pacific Hardware Co. He tried to pass some of the coins in town, but no one would take them, so last Monday night he threw what he had, about $300 into a duck pond. He did so, he says, because he saw his attempt was a failure and also because his conscience troubled him.

Cooper passed $200 in $10 gold pieces over to a fellow soldier, Wm. R. Bolton. This man is married to a daughter of Mr. Wolters, the owner of the Occidental Hotel.

Bolton was arrested yesterday afternoon. He admitted that he had received the $200 in bogus coin from Cooper. He confessed that he had kept $100 himself and had given the rest, $100, to his wife.

Mrs. Bolton denied on examination that she had received the money. She was placed under arrest, and is kept in custody together with her 12-year-old son. After Bolton had learned that his wife denied all, he asked for permission to see her, stating that when he had spoken to her she would talk.

Yesterday afternoon two other soldiers, John Abbott and Colwell were also arrested on suspicion.

In the meantime the Federal authorities had learned considerable about the nature of the scheme. It appeared that Cooper made the coins and gave some of them to some of his fellow soldiers to pass off. The coins were made in plaster of paris moulds. A number of different moulds were used, as was shown by the fact that the coins confiscated bear the dates of 1897, 1899, 1901 and 1902. No dies were used as was at first thought. The gold plating outfit, which was used in gilding the coins, Cooper kept at the house of a respectable lady in this city.

This forenoon Breckons and Hendry were busy finishing up the details of the excellent case which they are making. All the soldiers arrested were taken to Camp McKinley in the patrol wagon in order that they could muster, which was necessary for them to do to draw their month's pay. At the same time Breckons and Hendry went to the camp in an automobile, taking with them Cooper, who had promised to show where he made the coins, and the duck pond into which he threw his

COUNTERFEITING CASE HEARD BY COMMISSIONER

Shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon Mrs. Bolton, the woman to whom Bolton said he had given $100 of bogus money, was closeted with her husband in Marshal Hendry's office, District Attorney Breckons being present at the husband's request. Mrs. Bolton then as well as previous to the conference denied having anything to do with the matter.

At 2:30 p. m. the case of Bolton was taken before Commissioner Mailing. The defendant was represented by C. W. Ashford.

Cooper, the soldier who made the counterfeit money, was the first witness. He said that last Friday he gave Bolton 25 to 30 bad $10 gold pieces. Cooper did not know if Bolton knew that the money was counterfeit. He did not think Bolton knew very much about it.

Jackson, the Russian, said last Saturday evening Bolton gave him 25 bad $10 gold pieces telling him to keep it until Monday and then try to pass it. Jackson hid the money in a tree. Bolton told him he would give him half of the money realized by changing it. Jackson was drunk when he received the money.

Bonds Of McBryde

The "street" hummed this morning with a rumor that the McBryde bonds had been floated. This rumor was taken as a fact by the brokers and some brisk buying and selling of McBryde stock resulted, two blocks of fifty shares each being transferred at $5.00. The report that the bonds were floated is at least a pretty good forecast of the near future, in the present condition of the proposed flotations. Negotiations are now in progress with the Bank of Hawaii and business men expect to see the deal consummated within the next few days.

C. M. Cooke, when asked regarding the flotation, said this morning: "The report that the bonds were actually floated is incorrect. Negotiations for the flotation with the Bank of Hawaii are now in progress."

"Whether the flotation will be accomplished within the next few days is not certain. Some of the directors on Kauai must be consulted first. The rumor got out on the Exchange this morning through some of the large stockholders, who had been consulted in the matter."

Mr. Cooke was asked if negotiations were far enough along to make the flotation of the bonds well assured. "It is a matter yet to be agreed upon," he replied; "we have hopes." So has the "street," and incidentally, the "street" has faith that the bonds are as good as floated.

County Keeps Band For July But Expects Rapid Transit To Dig

The County will provide for the band through the month of July. The Board of Supervisors has decided that $1250 shall be set aside for the band for one month. After that, according to the unanimous sentiment of the Board, expressed at a meeting held this afternoon, the Rapid Transit Co., the hotels and the Oceanic Steamship Co. should be made to dig into their treasuries for the support of the band, being the concerns most directly benefited. Attorney Douthitt drew attention to the great profits accruing to the Rapid Transit every Sunday when the band plays at Makee Island, Waikiki, and whenever or wherever the band plays. Chairman Smith emphatically agreed with Douthitt.

Everybody agreed that such a proposition was nothing more than right. Douthitt said it was done everywhere else. In San Francisco, for example, a transit company would no more dare to refuse to contribute to the support of the band than it would attempt to fly.

The Weekly Edition of the Evening Bulletin gives a complete summary of the news of the day.

County Takes Hold Of Departments As Midnight Passes

Acting Governor A. L. C. Atkinson today extends a hearty invitation to all the officers of the County of Oahu to meet him in the Executive Chamber in the Capitol at 11:30 o'clock tonight. The Territorial band, for it will be the band of the Territory up till midnight, will be stationed in the grounds and will play in honor of the inauguration of the County. Territorial officers will be present to meet the officers of the County and to turn over to the County these departments for which the Territory will have no further use. Members of the Commission which drafted the County Act are also invited to be on hand and the Press is not forgotten in the arrangements.

Acting Governor Atkinson is anxious that the initial steps of the County be under the most favorable conditions, and it is expected that Oahu will start on its career of self-government as a County with the good feeling of all. The fight for local government is over and has been gloriously won. The election is now a matter of history; County government is here to stay.

It is not improbable that tonight's reception by the Acting Governor to the County officers will be marked by an eloquent word or two, a toast to the success of the County and general good feeling and well-wishing all round.

The first official meeting of the Oahu County Board of Supervisors will be held at its headquarters in the McIntyre block, King and Fort streets, at 12:01 o'clock tomorrow morning, July 1st, when the oaths and bonds of County officers will be passed upon, resolutions will be adopted in relation to the taking over of the various departments and the County of Oahu will be launched.

This was settled at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors at 10 o'clock this morning, a meeting at which practically nothing else was settled, and which endured until the stroke of 12 without preliminary work being finished, so that it will be necessary for the Board to reconvene at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

This afternoon the Board expects to clean up everything in the way of work preparatory to the official organization at midnight, or rather, at the meeting to begin one minute after midnight tonight, the first thing on July 1st, the day the inauguration of local self-government occurs.

Four rooms having been secured in the McIntyre block, second floor, a suitable table and chairs were installed and the Supervisors, not failing to observe that the door of the room in which they held their meeting today bore the legend: "Headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League," took possession and proceeded to business. All the Supervisors were present. At the beginning of the meeting Auditor Bicknell and Clerk Kalauokalani were also present. Later Sheriff Brown and Attorney Douthitt entered.

Chairman Smith asked Supervisor Adams to bring out ideas in regard to the program for the first official meeting to be held tomorrow. First of all, it was decided to meet at 12:01 tomorrow; then the following program was settled: Showing of certificates and taking of oaths; passing on the bonds of County officers; election of permanent officers, chairman and vice chairman, and passing of resolutions taking over the various departments. It was settled that Treasurer Trent will carry on the work of Treasurer in his private office on Fort street, thus saving the expense of another room. He will not require a safe. He asked that he be allowed an assistant, a clerk at $100 per month. This was voted on and carried. Trent does not want a deputy at present. He has in mind, he said, a young man who will go in as clerk at the salary stated. After he is broken in, Trent may consider asking for a deputy. Trent will require the clerk to furnish a bond to himself in the sum of $5,000. There was some little discussion as to whether this clerk should be bonded to the Board, but as Trent is under bonds and is therefore responsible, it was not considered necessary; besides, as Trent stated in answer to questions put by members, there will be practically no cash to handle, everything in the way of County funds will be handled by check.

Most of the morning was taken up with a discussion over the form of resolution to be adopted in the taking over of the police department. Attorney Douthitt had prepared a resolution for the taking over of each department. That concerning the Police Department was first taken up. None of the others were reached. The police resolution provided, after a preamble stating the authority of the Act, etc., that the Board of Supervisors authorized the County Sheriff to take hold of the police and make such changes as he saw fit; to have complete and absolute control and to employ what assistants he wished, subject to such changes as might hereafter be made by the Board of Supervisors.

The first objection was to the reference to "complete and absolute control." (Continued on Page 8.)

LENDERS OF MONEY SAYS PINKHAM HAMPER EMPLOYEES

At the meeting of the Board of Health this afternoon the following message from President Pinkham was read:

"I have called you together for the purpose of requesting you to pass upon the condition of certain buildings at Waipahu, Oahu, located on the road from the railroad station toward the mill of the Oahu Sugar Co.

"These buildings are situated on such low ground that proper drainage is out of the question, except at very considerable expense. These buildings and their surroundings have been inspected time and again by Dr. Pratt, Mr. Keen and Messrs. Charlock, Lawrence and myself.

"The little stores and livelihood of so many are involved that we have hesitated to take radical measures, but are forced to.

"I desire to bring before you the item of the salary of the Superintendent of the Leper Settlement, a part of which he voluntarily surrendered over a year ago. This is no ordinary case. The Superintendent is the only person in the Settlement who is presumed to have an income sufficient to meet charitable demands. He is surrounded by over one thousand people, and hundreds of them unable to earn money. Mr. McVeigh's kindness of heart is an open secret to all and he does himself financial injustice in trying to fill his peculiar position toward the little wants of his people, otherwise unprovided for.

"I therefore believe it the duty of this Board to at least partially restore the Superintendent's salary to its former amount. It ought to be restored to $300.00 per month, or, if that is deemed impossible to $285.00.

"There can be no question as to the usefulness during the past fourteen months of the Free Dispensary. It is impossible to longer carry on this institution by public subscriptions and the free services of physicians. "In applying for appropriations I had in mind the continuance of the dispensary. I also had in mind our public school examinations and vaccinations. Last year these absolutely imperative services were rendered free of charge.

"I believe our appropriation will allow us to expend for the dispensary, medicines, outside poor, and schools the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars per month.

"At the beginning of the school terms it would be impossible for any appointee to attend to both the dispensary and schools. Dr. J. T. McDonald has kindly offered to care for the dispensary at such times.

"I trust you will give your directions to the President of the Board covering these objects.

"I suggest the former 'Instructions to Government Physicians' be re-enacted omitting paragraph 16.

POLICE COMMISSIONS COOKED TO-NIGHT

At 12 o'clock tonight there will cease to be Territorial law at the Police Station, and County law will become a fact. Exactly at 12, all existing commissions of police officers will become invalid, and unless Sheriff-elect Brown immediately begins to appoint "cops" Honolulu will be without a police force.

High Sheriff Henry this afternoon sent forth the order for general inspection at 8 o'clock tonight. At that time all police commissions will be turned over to him. Mr. Henry said this afternoon that the men would be allowed to keep their badges. The men will be lined up formally and their commissions revoked.

Sheriff-elect Brown will not make any appointments tonight. All will go over until tomorrow. "Under authority of a resolution that will be passed by the Board of Supervisors tonight," said Brown this afternoon, "a certain number of officers will be continued tonight after 12 o'clock until such a time tomorrow as I can appoint the members of the new force."

ELK-H. A. C. GAME WILL BE FOR BLOOD

RICHARDSON'S MEN ON TOP BE-CAUSE THEY HAVE TEAM WORK—STANDING OF LEAGUES.

Those bitter rivals, Elks and H. A. C.'s, are on for a duel next Saturday. No matter who wins the game, no matter whether the score is big or little, there will be plenty doing all the time, and plenty of excitement at that, because these two bunches never come together without a scrap from start to finish. There is more than mere baseball in it; the H. A. C.'s have several memories to get even on; and if they can down the leaders it will be enough joy to last them the season through. The Elks want to finish the series with a clean sweep of eight games; and unless they fall down most utterly, they ought to get that game. They play baseball that makes any other team look like a bunch of selling platers. Some envious and short-sighted people try to discount the Elks by putting their invariable victories partly down to luck, but an analysis of the Elks' work will show what that luck is. It consists in getting men on bases and hoisting them around by team-work at the bat; and by team-work in the field. The Elks are the most consistent players in the league, and they are always on their toes and ready to take long chances. Add to this a superb confidence—half the battle, by the way—and Richardson's men look 30 per cent better than any other team.

The Honolulu have the individual players, but sadly lack concerted effort. Man for man, the H. A. C.'s average up as well, in most positions, as the Elks, but apparently are weak on practice. They have been further handicapped by changing the men around. En Sue has twice been moved to second base, where he is as much out of his element as the Aquarium shark. Bruns cannot cover third with any degree of success. He shows up the infield, and Gleason and Al Williams cannot do themselves justice.

It's up to Barney Joy tomorrow. If he can keep the Elks from batting hard, half their effectiveness is gone. But with Hampton and Kia and White and Grady, not to mention a few others, keep up their late hitting streak, the Reds are doomed to another taste of the dregs of defeat.

The Kama ought to spank the Malles soundly and send them home. Anderson, the latest recruit from the Midwinter League, will be on the fringe-line for the Malles. He showed up well against the Elks last Saturday, but unless he pitches strike-out ball it is hard to figure how Joe Cohen's calves can take the game. That is certainly the luckiest team in the league, but luck doesn't show up consecutively. The Kama will be weakened by the loss of Deaha, a hard-working, heady player, but ought to pull out the long end anyway. Reuter is at least a match for Anderson if he is in shape, and there is a comparison in the rest of the two teams, as teams.

Now that sacrifice hitting and the hit-and-run seem to be fairly well-established, why don't we see a few double steals? Even the old trick of throwing to short with a man on third and another stealing second seems never to occur to the captains.

Somebody says that the H. A. C.'s will forfeit the Fourth of July game and go to Hilo. It is to be hoped no such deplorable thing will happen.

Young Chillingworth is improving his first-base play. He has plenty of height and reach, and should become a good man with practice.

Gleason has dropped a good many thrown balls this year. The other infielders seem to think anything that goes within ten feet of Pat is good.

Nobody has made four hits in one game yet this season. There seems to be some sort of a hoodoo, for several batters have hit three times consecutively and then fallen down on the fourth time up.

Jess Woods' steal home last Saturday was nothing more nor less than watching his opportunity and knowing it when it came along. Defries had thrown to Gleason to catch Meyer on first. Gleason dropped the ball and while he was making up his mind to pick it up, Jess was galloping down the line from third.

In the seventh inning G. Judd made a jumping catch of Al Williams' drive to right center that robbed Al of a hit.

Moore made a neat one-handed stop of Simpson's grounder in the first inning.

Bruns misjudged Cogswell's fly to left field in the third inning, and the lanky first baseman gets credit for a two-bagger.

Following is the standing of the league:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Elks	7	7	0.500
Kama	7	4	0.631

DR. NORGAAARD REPORTS

VETERINARIAN SEES DANGER TO ANIMALS

RECOMMENDS MEASURES TO PRE-VENT SPREAD OF DISEASE.
HILO RESERVE PLAN ADOPTED.

Routine work, consisting mostly of reports from division heads, occupied the Board of Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry, which met yesterday afternoon. Dr. Norgaard, head of the Division of Animal Industry, submitted a report outlining work toward preventing the spread of animal diseases, and recommending steps to be taken in inspection of animals.

Forester Hosmer verbally reported on the Hilo forest reserve, the board adopting a resolution recommending the reserve with the following boundaries: "Beginning at a point in the lava flow of 1855 near the 1750 foot level, running in a line approximately parallel to the coast, above all homesteads, to a point on the Hilo-Hamaku boundary about the 2000 foot level, thence mauka on the Hilo-Hamaku line to a point approximately at the top of the woods, thence along top of woods to lava flow of 1855, thence down the flow to the starting point."

Mr. Hosmer also stated that owing to a rather heavy demand, the stock of Ceara Rubber seed had been exhausted.

Entomologist Crow and Mr. Hosmer submitted their regular reports.

The board passed a resolution deploring the proposed cutting of trees on the Coney estate on Mount Tantalus, the resolution reading as follows: "Resolved, That this Board regrets the announced intention of the Coney Estate to cut the wood in the Tantalus forest and that they suggest to them that if they intend to de-forest for profit there would be more money in doing it gradually and under expert advice and that the services of Forester Hosmer are hereby tendered to the owners of said forest in this connection."

Forester Hosmer will submit a report on the proposed Maui forest reserve at the next meeting of the Board.

Forester Hosmer's report was as follows: "I have the honor to submit herewith the report of the Division of Forestry for the past week. During the week the staff of this Division has been for the most part engaged in details incident to the closing of the fiscal period and the carrying on of the routine work of the division.

"On Thursday, June 22, a forest fire on the land of Honolulu was reported by Commissioner Jas. D. Dole from Wahiawa. I at once notified Mr. B. F. Dillingham who as General Manager of the Oahu Railway & Land Co. controls this land. Mr. Dillingham ordered a gang of 35 laborers to start at once for the fire. Mr. David Haugs of this division accompanied them to take charge of the work. Upon the arrival of the fire fighters at the Honolulu station it was found that the fire, which had burned over brush and grass land, had been extinguished by the local ranch-men. The laborers were accordingly brought back to Honolulu by return train.

I wish to record my appreciation of the action taken by Mr. B. F. Dillingham in this matter. His prompt response to my request for assistance and his immediate despatching of a large gang to the scene of the fire are worthy of much praise.

Had the fire proved as serious as it appeared when first reported the action of Mr. Dillingham would have helped much to prevent its spread. Unless a forest fire is checked at the start it soon becomes very difficult to control, except at great expense, and after much injury has been done.

E. W. Quinn yesterday made a beginning on the plumbing contract on the U. S. Army post at Kahauliki. The contract, with the contract to erect the buildings, was secured by the Burrell Construction Co. of California. A. S. Cantin, the company's representative here, engaging Quinn to get to work on the plumbing.

FRIDAY JUNE 30, 1905.

It is somewhat surprising to learn that Ostrom did not head off actual counterfeiting as well as moral.

While other things are cooling off the weather is taking a hand at heating up so that Hawaii can still feel natural.

Hawaii can note with pleasure that dividend days are coming around now with the same regularity as assessment days of unpleasant memory.

Hilo's Portuguese weekly says that the time is propitious for recruiting Portuguese laborers among the people of the Azores and Madeira. It should at least be given an opportunity to make good.

There couldn't be a better place for a peace conference than in the Governor's chambers when the County law goes into effect. And, being generally accepted as a peace assembly, here's hoping that it will stay put.

Sargent's plans for securing European labor for Hawaii appeal to every citizen of the Territory. The only difficulty is to determine how the Europeans after they are once recruited can be prevented from stopping off at way stations at Hawaii's expense.

Russia's revolution appears to be approaching the real thing. Since Russia has ceased to make war against foreign enemies a period of internal reconstruction will be the happiest event possible. With the liberal, element ascendant as it must be eventually, the United States would have a revived old friend in Russia that could be depended upon.

It is necessary for the organ to explain what it thinks the Civic Fed did in the County election. In a nutshell, it attempted to wreck the Republican party and failed utterly. Incidentally it was responsible for the most corrupt methods ever brought into a campaign and employed men of the most shady political character in attempting to carry out its childish purposes.

Engineer Wallace of the Panama Canal has been publicly censured by Secretary Taft for resigning his great work just as it is inaugurated. Taft is right. The action of Wallace is akin to a general who maps out his plan of campaign and just as he is about to sail into the enemy, resigns. There

ALL LOST SAVE HONOR.

(Hilo Tribune)
"All is lost save honor" apparently was the motive which prompted Geo. R. Carter, when a Republican candidate was elected Sheriff of Oahu without his approval, to resign his office of Governor.

After making a personal fight out of the election of a County ticket on Oahu upon a self-constructed platform of opposition to the regular Republican nominees and a bitter personal campaign resulting in a victory for those whom he so strenuously opposed, there was left only one decent thing for the Governor to do—and that was to resign. By his attitude of antagonism and repeated assertion that every ballot cast for A. M. Brown would be construed as a slap at the Administration, the Governor placed himself in the unenviable position of having to withdraw from the gubernatorial office in the case of the success of his opponents.

Either Carter did not place much confidence in party loyalty and party pledges, or else he overestimated his own personal popularity in attempting to throw himself into the breach and block the success of the Republican ticket.

No greater mistake could be made by the Governor than to suppose that a Territorial Executive's power and influence are co-extensive with a National administration or that it could seriously be considered as a governing factor in a local County election. It was because of this feeling of resentment that the voters administered so severe a rebuke for the Governor's interference last Tuesday. The same feeling was reflected in the result of the election throughout the County of Hawaii and we saw an otherwise strong Republican local ticket go down in defeat largely because of the Governor's attitude in attempting to dominate his party.

It may be that very little can be said against Governor Carter's shrewdness and business ability, but as a diplomat or politician, even his warmest admirers cannot claim for him great distinction. If he is gifted with executive capacity, he lacks the tact and personality to hold his friends together, and that confidence in his subordinates which make willing employees and capable public servants. The theory of undated resignations and that every government employee should bend the knee, is un-American and contrary to the democratic spirit wherever liberty and freedom of speech prevails. He is accepted as eminently respectable and honest in all his actions and to be acnated solely by what he considered was for the best interests of the Territory, but his policies have been arbitrary and domineering, and his desire to rule as a supreme dictator was so strong within him that he has lost more friends than he has made during his brief tenure of office. While a man of strong personality and character, he has signally failed to exhibit an originality or force of character which would place him among the successful leaders of men and affairs. His last fiasco in attempting to individualy and personally oppose his own party, and the campaign of abuse and mud-slinging into which he allowed himself to be drawn, left open to him only one course when his efforts proved futile to disrupt the party. — the Governor resigned; and he will hereafter flock to himself.

TO EXPEDITE WAILUKU'S SUGAR HANDLING

The Wailuku Sugar Company, through its agents, C. Brewer & Co., has just entered into a five-year contract with the Kahului Railroad Co. whereby the railroad will extend its tract for a distance of about a quarter of a mile to the Wailuku mill, so that the large cars of the railroad company will be able to run into the proposed new warehouse of the sugar company. Manager George Robertson of Brewer & Co. was seen this afternoon and had the following to say: "Wailuku will soon be turning out so much sugar that the present accommodations will be altogether insufficient. A large warehouse will be built with the new mill and into this warehouse the cars of the railroad company will run and the sugar be transported direct to the Kahului wharves and run out on lighters to the ships. We have just entered into a five-year contract with the Kahului Railroad."

ALL SICK WOMEN

SHOULD READ MRS. FOX'S LETTER

In All Parts of the United States Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Effected Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham has for many years made a study of the ills of her sex; she has consulted with many physicians, thousands of suffering women, who to-day owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox, of 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa., writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I suffered for a long time with womb trouble, and finally was told by my physician that I had a tumor on the womb. I did not want to submit to an operation, so wrote you for advice. I received your letter and did as you told me, and today I am completely cured. My doctor says the tumor has disappeared, and I am once more a well woman. I believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and to thousands of women has proved to be more precious than gold.

COOPER THE MAN.

(Hilo Tribune)
Who is to be the next Governor is now the absorbing question? Had the Governor served out his term, Secretary "Jack" would have been the heir apparent and logical successor. H. P. Baldwin has neither the time nor inclination to seek political office. Judge Kepoikai, a shrewd politician and an Hawaiian scholar, is best suited for the office which he now fills. The appointment of Henry E. Cooper would come nearer to satisfying the majority of the people of this Territory than any name thus far mentioned. He is a man of sterling qualities, of high character, business ability and a polished gentleman—all the requirements to make a successful governor.

HILO CITIZENS AND GOVERNORSHIP

(Special to The Bulletin)

HILO, Hawaii, June 27.—A mass meeting of the citizens of Hilo was held at Armory Hall last evening and the names of W. O. Smith, H. E. Cooper and A. N. Kepoikai were chosen as the ones from which Hawaii would like to have President Roosevelt choose a new Governor.

The meeting was called by R. A. Lyman Jr., chairman of the executive committee of the local Republican Club. It was understood around town yesterday that the Hawaiians were going to endorse Kepoikai for Governor. Some of the haolees were for Kepoikai, while many others spoke of W. O. Smith, H. E. Cooper and Frank McStocker.

J. W. Mason was selected as chairman, Adam Lindsay secretary, and J. Lot Kaulukou interpreter of the meeting.

J. U. Smith asked if the citizens of Hilo had been asked to express their sentiments about the question as to whom the new Governor should be. Mr. Smith thought it might be better to wait and see if some other action should not be taken.

Wm. Ebeling did not agree with Smith and said that Maui had already endorsed their candidate and Hawaii should not be trailing along in their dust.

H. B. Nallimu wanted the citizens of Hilo to endorse some one for Governor at the present time, and put forward Kepoikai's name as his first choice. Nallimu's motion was seconded by Sam Kahana.

Ebeling thought Kepoikai a good man, as he holds a responsible Government position and has held a high Territorial place; yet Secretary Atkinson was better informed and was more of a diplomat. H. E. Cooper is a man of unquestioned ability and Mr. Ebeling wished to endorse him as Hawaii's man for Governor.

Sam Kahana stated that Cooper was a good man, but that he thought Kepoikai the man for the place, as he was wise enough while Treasurer of the Territory to defeat Carter when the Governor wished to oust Kepoikai from his job. Kepoikai is known by every one in the Islands and was there a man in the meeting who could say a thing against him?

Ebeling agreed that Kepoikai was all right in every way, and he would rather see Kepoikai made Governor than a poor haole.

S. L. Desha said that the Hon. H. P. Baldwin of Maui had endorsed Kepoikai's name and that alone was an honor like drawn and said he spoke as an American citizen. He asked every man present to lend his efforts to support Kepoikai for the Governorship.

Oliver, the rat man, wanted to know where Hawaii was in this race. He thought that maybe Kaula had a candidate and said it was best to appoint a committee and canvass the matter before deciding upon any one name.

J. U. Smith asked that a committee of fifteen from each party be appointed and that these committees choose a suitable man for the Governorship.

John A. Scott would rather see Kepoikai made Governor than any native man he knew, but he thought W. O. Smith was the man who was universally respected by the natives and haolees alike. Mr. Smith was a kamaaina, having been born upon Kauai. He is well known in Washington and has a personal acquaintance with Roosevelt. The speaker thought it not necessary to bind the citizens of Hilo to any one man, as there were such men as McStocker, Hatch, Cooper and Kepoikai to draw from. Mr. Scott said that Labor Commissioner Sargent had told him lately that his opinion was that the President would not be hasty in accepting Carter's resignation and that if the resignation was accepted it would not be until Mr. Roosevelt had heard what Taft had to say about conditions in the Territory. Mr. Scott recommended that three or four names be selected by the citizens present and that these names be sent to the President via Honolulu. Scott moved that the names of W. O. Smith, H. E. Cooper and A. N. Kepoikai be the ones selected. This was seconded by R. A. Lyman Jr. and S. L. Desha.

Chairman Mason called for a vote upon the proposition and, after counting noses, decided that Mr. Scott's motion had been unanimously carried.

J. U. Smith then made a motion that the meeting be adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. Adopted.

$368,000. In Dividends

The dividends listed on the Stock Exchange today for payment the first of the month amount to the large and magnificent sum of $368,000 and the greater portion of that sum will be paid to people residing in this Territory.

This is the largest dividend day of the year thus far and in figuring up the amount of money Hawaii is getting from the better price of sugar it must be remembered that many other dividend payments come during the middle of the month. So this is only a portion though it is a large portion. It is likely that the dividends for the month of July will be all of a half million dollars.

A few months ago the San Francisco people were laughing about their unloading stocks on Honolulu people. Now Honolulu is reaping the dividends and incidentally doing a little laughing at the expense of San Francisco. It is this large amount of dividends and the shortage of bonds that has undoubtedly brought the McBryde bank situation to a point which the brokers believe is settled.

CACHE OF BAD COIN.

"I would not show you this place," said Cooper, "except for the fact that otherwise you might think that I made the coin in the place where you found the gold-plate." This was found in the house of a respectable lady in this city, whom the soldier evidently wanted to abduct.

The moulds, in which Cooper made the coin, he had, he said, broken up and thrown out of the window. A score of soldiers from the Camp, he had followed the party on its trip, searched around in the weeds about the house and found the broken moulds, some of which were wrapped in paper bags. The moulds had been destroyed but some of them still show the round impression where the coins were pressed.

All the bits were gathered and are now in the possession of Breckons. Cooper next took the officials to the duck pond into which he threw his bad coins last Monday night, after he had in vain tried to pass them. The pond is quite a large one. It is quite shallow but as the bottom is very soft it is doubtful if the coins will ever be recovered. Cooper says that he threw out $500 in bogus coin. There were four $5 pieces. The rest was in tens. Some of the coin was wrapped up in two paper packages. The rest he threw out loose.

Cooper says he is willing to take his medicine. He has many friends in town, he states, and he hopes that some of them will bail him out. He says that he confessed willingly that he made the coin, but maintains that he never passed any of it, although he tried to do so, but failed. He will probably be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Maling this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Genuine imported Pilsner and Wurzburger beer will be served at the CRITERION today. Price 15 cents per glass.

This beer is the real stuff and is good for what ails you. It doesn't always follow that beer's German because there happens to be prezels on the bar.

There's no doubt as to the lineage, credentials and authenticity of the German beer which will flow at the CRITERION.

YACHTSMEN PLAN GALA DAY AT PEARL HARBOR

The Corinthians have laid plans to make the Fourth of July a gala day at Pearl Harbor. Boat races in the morning, yacht races in the afternoon and general entertainment will give the big crowd expected a chance to enjoy itself all day, instead of coming home after the two short club races in the morning.

The three clubs, Healan's, Myrtles and the Hawaii Yacht Club, have combined to arrange the amusements of the day. First will come the Senior and Junior rowing races. Immediately following the races there will be a third class yacht race. In this are entered the Myrtle, the Princess, the Malolo, the Skip and Lyle's new boat. The Maggie, said to be a flyer.

In the afternoon about 2 o'clock there will be a race for first class yachts. The La Paloma, Spray and the Kapolei will race over the course. The course has wisely been laid out entirely within the lochs, so that the yachts will nearly always be in full view from the pavilion.

During the afternoon there will be music and dancing to "while the hours away." Refreshments will be served at a nominal cost.

The yachtsmen and clubmen are going on the idea to make it a big success. They plan on a good time for all who come down, and promise to "make good." The yacht course will be from the Club House to the mouth of Pearl Harbor tacking round the entrance buoy, thence to Ford's Island, around same keeping the island on the starboard side and finish at the Club House.

The Hawaii Yacht Club is issuing invitation to its members and friends to view the yacht and boat races from the club lanai. A light luncheon will be served to the guests.

The Captain Of the Janizaries

By JAMES M. LUDLOW

Copyright, 1896, by David, Mead & Co. Copyright, 1905, by James M. Ludlow

"Allah, thou wast even with me this time," he confessed back of his clenched teeth.
"But doubtless," he thought, "it was through the information I gave to the sultan that this girl has been stolen away from Amesa."
"Would that heaven rid me of her so easily!" he muttered. "Yet that is easy, thanks to our Moslem law, which says, 'Thou mayest either retain thy wife with humanity or dismiss her with kindness.' Yet I cannot dismiss her with kindness. She cannot go back to the royal harem. If I dismiss her I harm her, and Allah's curse will be fatal if I wrong this creature again, to say nothing of the padishah's if I throw away his gift. I must keep her. Well! Bacoulum! Bacoulum! It is not so bad a thing after all to have a woman like that for one's slave, for a wife without one's heart is but a slave. Well!" He raised the veil again from the now sitting woman.

The mutually stupid gaze carried them both through several years which had passed since they had parted at Amesa's castle.
Elissa was easily induced to tell her story. Assuming that it might be already known to her new lord, she gave it correctly, and therefore it differed substantially from that she had told to Morsinia. She had been but a few days in Amesa's home when he discovered that she was not the person he had presumed her to be. In an outburst of rage he would have taken her life, but was led by an old priest to adopt a more merciful method of ridding himself of her. To have returned her to her village would have filled the country with the scandal and made Amesa the laughingstock of all. She was therefore sent within the Turkish lines with the certainty of finding her way to some far distant country. Her beauty saved her from a common fate, and she was sent as a gift to the young padishah by an old general, into whose hands she had fallen.

Ballaban assured the woman of his protection and also that the time would come when he would compensate her for any grief she had endured through his fault. In the meantime she was retained in the luxurious comfort of her new abode.
CHAPTER XXXIII.
CAPTAIN BALLABAN was almost constantly engaged at the new seraglio. It was being constructed not only with an eye to its imposing appearance from without and its beauty within, such as belittled both its splendid site between the waters and the splendor of the monarch whose palace it was to be, but also with a view to its easy defense in case of assault. Upon the young officer devolved the duty of scrutinizing every line and layer that went into the various structures.

He was especially interested in the side entrances and communications between the various departments of the seraglio. He gave orders for a change to be made in the line of a partition and corridor and also for a slight variation in the position of a gateway in the walls dividing the court from the haremlik. Just why these changes were made perhaps the architects themselves could not have told. Nor were they interested enough to inquire, supposing that they were made at the royal will. Ballaban was disposed to indulge a little his own fancy. If there was to be a broad entrance for public display and then a narrow passage for the sultan only, why not have a way through which he could imagine a fair odalisck fleeing from insult and torture into the arms of himself?
In the meantime old Kala Hanoum was amazed at the number of articles of Morsinia's handiwork she was able to induce the young captain to purchase. Indeed he never refused. And quite frequently she was the bearer of gifts, generally confections, sometimes little rolls of silk suitable for embroidery, with colored threads or beads, accompanied by the name of some fellow officer of the janizaries, from whom apparently an order for work was given, the captain acting as an agent in a sort of copartnership with Kala. Of course this was only secret mail service between Ballaban and the odalisck. If Kala suspected it, her commissions were so largely remunerative that she silenced the thought of anything but legitimate business.

Ballaban devised plan for her escape which Morsinia found it impracticable to execute from her side of the harem wall, and her shrewdest suggestions were pronounced utterly unavailing by the strategist without. Ballaban had caught glimpses of Morsinia while loitering among the trees at the upper end of the Golden Horn, by the Sweet Waters, where the ladies of the harem were taken by the eunuchs on almost weekly excursions. He had proposed to have in readiness two horses, that, if she should break from the attendants, they might see together. But before this could be accomplished the excursions were discontinued, as the attention of all was turned to a new pleasure.
The grand haremlik was at length completed, and a day was set for the reception of the grand harem from Adrianople—which contained nearly a thousand of the most beautiful women in the world—into this new paradise. The kishar aga had arranged a pageant of especial magnificence, which could be witnessed by the people at a distance. Two score barges, elegantly decorated, rowed by eunuchs, their decks covered with divans, were to receive the odalisks from Adrianople at the extreme inner point of the seraglio water front on the Golden Horn. At the same time the sultan in his calque and his women of the temporary haremlik, each propelling a light skiff decorated with flags and streamers, were to move from the extreme outer point of the seraglio grounds until the two fleets should meet, when, amid salvos of artillery from the shores, the odalisks with the sultan were to turn about and the ladies of the haremlik were to give the haremlik. Orders were given forbidding the people to appear upon the water or upon the shores within distance to see distinctly the faces of the ladies of the harem.

Every evening at sundown a patrol of eunuchs made a cordon of boats a few hundred yards from the shore, within which, screened by distance from the eyes of common men, the odalisks went into training for the great regatta. The padishah, sitting in his barge, encouraged their rivalry by gifts for dexterity in managing the little boats, for picturesqueness of dress and for grace of movement, as with bared arms and streaming tresses they propelled the canoes.
Morsinia found herself one of the most dexterous in handling the oars. The free life of her childhood on the Balkans and among the peasants of upper Albania had developed muscle which this new exercise soon brought into unusual efficiency. She observed that the attendant eunuchs were deficient in this kind of strength and had no doubt that, with her own light weight, she could drive the almost impendable calque swifter than any of them.

A young Egyptian woman was her only competitor for the honor of leading the fleet on the day of the regatta. To add to the interest of the training, Mahomet ordered that the two should race for the honor of being high admiral of the harem fleet and one evening announced that the competitive trial should take place the next afternoon. The course was fixed for a half mile just inside of the seraglio point, where the waters of the harbor are still, impeded by the rapid current which moves along the channel of the Bosphorus. The flag boat was to be anchored almost at the meeting of the inner and outer waters.
That night Morsinia wrote a note containing these words:
About dusk just below Seven Towers watch for boat. MORSINIA.

Kala Hanoum was commissioned early the following morning to deliver a pretty little sash, wrought with stars and crescents, to Captain Ballaban. Morsinia was careful to show Kala the sash and dilate upon the peculiar beauty of the work until the woman's curiosity should be fully satisfied, thus making sure that she would not be tempted to inspect it for herself. She then wrapped the note carefully within the scarf and tied it strongly with a silken cord.
Old Kala had a busy day before her, with a dozen other commissions to discharge. But fortune favored her in the early discovery of the well known shape of the captain in ordinary citizen's dress. She thrust the little roll into his hand and said:
"A part of your purchase yesterday, sire, which you have forgotten."
The contrast between Morsinia and the Egyptian as they presented themselves for the contest afforded a capital study in racial physique. The latter was rather under size, with scarcely more of womanly development than a boy; her hair jet and short. The former was tall, with femininity stamped upon the contour of bust and limb; her face pale, even beneath the mass of her light locks.
The boats, or canoes, were of thinnest wood that could be held together by the weblike cross bracing and seemed scarcely to break the surface of the water when the odalisks stepped into them. Morsinia had brought a cloak of a common sort, saying to the eunuch, whose attention it attracted, that yesterday she was quite chilled after rowing and today had taken this with her by way of precaution. She might have found something more beautiful had she thought in time, but it would be dark when they returned. Besides, it would be a capital brace for her feet, the crossbar arranged for that purpose being rather too far away from the seat. So saying she tossed it into the bottom of the calque before the officious eunuch could provide a better substitute.

HAWAIIAN REPUBLICANS

Editor Evening Bulletin:—The resolution passed by a majority of the Executive Committee of the Republican party of this Territory endorsing and approving every act of Governor Carter, including his opposing the straight Republican ticket at the last County election for the County of Oahu, thereby helping to elect two Fusion (Democrat and Home Ruler) Supervisors, one Civic Federation Supervisor and a Democratic Treasurer, with the help of Superintendent of Public Works Holloway, Road Supervisor Johnson and other Territorial Government officials, is very instructive to us Republican Hawaiian voters politically. I have been informed that Sam Johnson is to be rewarded for helping to accomplish the above straddling act with the office of County Road Supervisor, and his partner Holloway is forcing the issue on his behalf by putting on a big bluff with the Board of Supervisors. This is also politically instructive to the Hawaiian Republican voters. Some of our haole Republican friends have always accused us Hawaiians of being so crooked politically that we could not be relied upon to vote a straight Republican ticket. How has it turned out? Look at the elections previous to the last and compare them with this one, and I think every fair-minded man will say that the Hawaiians are pretty good at going it straight. If rewards are to be made by the Republican party, as shown above, to traitors to the straight Republican ticket, then don't throw any more stones to us Hawaiians when you count up the votes at future elections. You have given us a lesson, and don't blame us if we make you take your medicine. REPUBLICAN HAWAIIAN. CLAUDINE TO START OVERSEA TO-MORROW

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, sailing under the Inter-Island flag, the little steamer Claudine will head across the ocean to San Francisco. She will carry no passengers. About thirty men in all will form the crew. It is expected that the Claudine will make the passage in about nine days. Nothing but good weather is expected at this time of year, though the Claudine is able to stand a good deal of rough weather if it should come her way. All the Wilder's vessels will go under the Inter-Island flag tomorrow and the historic red band around their funnels will be painted out. From that time on the Wilder's Steamship Company will cease to be.

trol," the idea being that this took away from the power of the Supervisors. Attorney Douthitt endeavored to show that the power of the Supervisors was not affected, but finally the objectionable words were eliminated. Then a discussion as to the salary lists of the Police Department followed. The Board wanted to appropriate at the start, according to the views of some of its members, for the expenses of the department. Brown, himself, did not see anything wrong in the proposed sum could be determined upon. In view of possible incidental expenses, the fact that the Sheriff would never know just how many prisoners he would have detained in the jail and the fact that there were always little expenses that could not be reckoned with until they came up. Adams did most of the talking. He was earnest and sincere in all he said, but contained a lot of valuable time. Lucas suggested, warmly, that Brown was a man of experience and could be trusted, and the reorganization of the department could be safely left in his hands. Brown said it was his intention to drop from the police lists some ten or fifteen so-called specials, sleuths and informers that were of no earthly use; there would doubtless be other changes, but he could not very well make the changes immediately upon stepping into office; he believed that within one week he would have the department reorganized. Until this had been accomplished it would be impossible to say just how much money would be required to run the department. The form of resolution on the Police Department was finally moved on and lost, 4 to 3, and it was decided to settle on a resolution this afternoon. Adams stated that he had endeavored to secure lists from the Police Department, of the men and paraphernalia, but had as yet not been able to do so.
