TAFT'S VIEWS ON SUGAR--TRUST'S BIG FINE KUHIO FOR GOVERNORSHIP WON'T DOWN

COUNTY PAY MIX-UP NOW STRAIGHT

Unless unlooked for complications arise, the road department salary mix-up will soon be straightened out. The Mayor and the Board of Supervisors have practically reached an agreement concerning the liquidation of salary claims against the City and County for the fifteen days from March 1 to March 15, inclusive. The payrolls are now in the hands of the Mayor, and only await his signature. The Enabling Act only authorized the paying of the disputed salaries up to and including February 28. On March 16 everything had been straightened out so that no difficulties presented themselves there. But some one worked during the first two weeks of March and that someone--and several other "someones"--demanded pay. By the terms of the agreement between the Mayor and the Board--and the agreement is said to meet with the approval of Treasurer Trent, there will be a division of the money for the first fifteen days of March. Only one set of salaries will be paid, but everyone with any shadow of a claim will get a slice of the available money. There is not much money at stake, and only some $200 will be divided among the Mayor's appointees and the Supervisors' appointees. But the burning question has been the cause of so much discussion that those interested have come to look upon it as a matter of principle. On December 31, Mayor Fern appointed a number of department heads, and others. The Board of Supervisors also appointed a set, and took no action on the executive appointments until the Supreme Court decided that the Board had no power to appoint. On the latter date, the Supervisors refused to confirm the Mayor's appointments. The salary dispute for the period between December 31 and March 1 was settled by the passage of the Enabling Act through the Legislature. The mix-up for the following fifteen days was left for the City and County to settle as best it could. On March 16, the Board changed its mind and confirmed Wilson as Road Supervisor and Paole as Road Overseer. The Mayor appointed other department heads in the place of those whom the Board refused to confirm. On March 10 all rows over department heads had been straightened out and the right of those confirmed on that date to receive pay until the 15th is not disputed. But whether the Board's appointees, who held the keys of office, or the Mayor's appointees who were not allowed to go to work, should receive pay for the disputed period between the end of February and March 10 was another matter. By the terms of the agreement Wilson will be paid in full from March 10, and his appointees will receive like consideration. Cummins, having been in charge of the office up till the 10th will receive one-half of the pay for the first ten days. Wilson, who was appointed by the Mayor but was restrained from going to work until the 10th by Cummins, will also receive half of the pay available for the Road Overseer during that time. Paole and Cox will make the same division, as will also the appointees of the various department heads affected. This does not apply to workmen, as Wilson, when he found that he could not get hold of the office, employed none. Thus Cummins' laborers will get full pay.

POCKET VETO LOOMS LARGE

Seventeen bills and one joint resolution passed by the Legislature and sent to the Governor for his approval or disapproval were neither signed nor vetoed before the lawmakers took their final adjournment, and are either already dead by reason of the Governor's failure to sign them within ten days after their passage, or are still subject to the dreaded pocket veto. The most important of these measures is the election law bill, which includes the provision for a Great Register of all the voters in the Territory. Three of the bills yet remaining in the Governor's hands unsigned are already dead, the ten days having expired. Others are close to the danger line. Whether the Governor will hold that he should sign any bills after the Legislature has adjourned, or not, cannot be stated, as he was not in his office this morning, having gone down to Pearl City with ex-Vice President Fairbanks. Governor Carter refused to sign any measures after the House and Senate had adjourned, but Governor Dole signed one bill under such conditions. The Attorney General this morning expressed the opinion that the Governor has the right to sign any bill within ten days after the time it is

"Communication" in Advertiser Denounced By Inquisitors, Who Express Their Approval of Deputy Attorney-General Whitney

"Whereas, there appeared in the Pacific Commercial Advertiser of April 22, 1909, a certain unauthorized statement purporting to be signed by a member of this Grand Jury, and purporting to express the opinion of this Grand Jury to the effect that the Attorney General's department had been remiss in enforcing the law in relation to signs hanging above sidewalks in the City of Honolulu, and

The above resolution was adopted by the Grand Jury yesterday and submitted to Judge De Bolt by Foreman Bissell. It is self-explanatory. It refers to a purported communication in the morning paper of the date mentioned, signed Grand Juror, by some man who was evidently afraid to disclose his identity. He accused Deputy Attorney General Whitney of crawling and of not entering the law relative to signs hanging above sidewalks on the ground that the Legislature might repeal the law. That he certainly did not voice the sentiments of the other members of the Grand Jury is demonstrated by the resolution adopted by the Inquisitorial body.

Believe Kuhio Has Been Slated

There is an increasing number of people close to the intimate friends of Delegate Kuhio who believe that the Delegate to Congress will be appointed the Governor of the Territory by President Taft. The appointment of the judges whom Governor Frear had recommended did much to allay the suspicions of those opposed to a change in the Governorship, but on the other hand the news that Delegate Kuhio expects to arrive by the Mongolia is accepted by his friends as a strong indication that there is more than mere rumor to the statement that Frear may take the place of Dole and Kuhio will be the chief executive of the Territory. Yesterday the Bulletin sent a cablegram to Mr. McCrellan asking him to confirm or deny the report and his response was that he knew nothing of the proposition. Delegate Kuhio will not make any statement. The Alfonso resolution that passed the House was a part of the plan to strengthen Kuhio, and the defeat of the resolution dealing with the Organic Act was accomplished by a desire to weaken the Governor.

TAFT "PAT" ON SUGAR

Congressman Fordney of Michigan, and coming from the beet sugar section of the State, made a very interesting statement on the floor of the House during the debate on the tariff bill. It is of the utmost importance to these islands on account of its forecast of stability in the sugar market and conditions of the country. The agreement referred to was known to the leaders of the country for some time, but Fordney was the first to bring it out in open session of Congress. Mr. Fordney said: "Now, one word and I will close. We are trying to do something for the Philippine Islands. Let me tell you what the Philippine Islands are doing for us. I will stand by the bill and the compromise on sugar, the free importation of 300,000 tons per year from the Philippine Islands into the United States. I am willing to stand by that, and the sugar men of the country whom I have consulted are also satisfied. For the last ten years there has been turmoil in this House over the duty on sugar. There never has been a session of Congress in the ten years that I have had the honor to be a member of this House that the question of the reduction of the duty on sugar has not been advocated in some manner or other, and our PRESENT GOOD PRESIDENT, MR. TAFT, HAS AGREED IN MY PRESENCE THAT DURING HIS ADMINISTRATION HE WILL NOT PERMIT, AS FAR AS HE CAN AVOID IT BY HIS ACTION, ANY FURTHER REDUCTION IN THE SUGAR SCHEDULE. IF WE WILL ACCEPT THIS AGREEMENT AND LET THE 300,000 TONS COME IN FREE FROM THE PHILIPPINES."

'PHONE COMPANY IS GETTING BUSY

The new telephone company plans to improve the service in several important particulars in the immediate future. All the lines are to be put underground and in this way it is hoped to obviate the trouble that arises from induction. An extension of sixty days has been granted as regards the automatic system, and during that period a representative will be sent to the Coast to investigate the manner in which the automatic telephone works in mainland cities. G. R. Carter said this morning: "We aim to give the City of Honolulu the best possible telephone service, and we intend starting in at once on the work of putting the wires underground. Money will not count for anything as long as we get good results. The old company has been handicapped right along by the lack of sufficient funds to make the necessary improvements. Mr. Lehig, the manager, has told us of his difficulties in the past, and we quite understand the situation. Our representative, who will be sent to the mainland in the near future, will investigate the automatic systems in Los Angeles, Kansas City, Omaha, and other places. The work of putting the wires underground will proceed at once, and this will improve the present system a great deal, besides doing away with a lot of unsightly poles. The greatest drawback in the past has been the trouble caused by induction; the placing of the wires underground will do away with that, and the service will be wonderfully improved thereby. J. L. Hjorth, who was the assistant manager of Lihue store last year, and is now manager of the Kokaha store, will retire from that position on the first of June, and expects to leave Kauai--Garden Island.

TRUST PAYS $900,000

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 29.--The American Refining Company today paid into the United States Treasury nine hundred thousand dollars, thus completing the two million of dollars in fines to satisfy the claims of the Government for fraudulent weighing of sugars by the Sugar Trust. Being found guilty as charged, the Trust paid the two-million-dollar fine imposed, the Government agreeing to drop further prosecution against other refineries. APPROVES SETTLEMENT WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29. The Government has approved the final settlement of the case against the Sugar Trust.

Treasurer Job Went Begging

When the Legislature adjourned last night, the matter of the Treasurer's job was left in the air, and who is to be Campbell's successor is still a matter of guesswork, with nobody getting warm. The real reason no name was sent down to the Senate last night for confirmation is said to be because Governor Frear could not find any man suitable to him who would accept it. Willard Brown was asked to take the job, it is said, but declined with thanks. Mark Robinson would have none of it. Two other men, it was stated in the corridors last night, were asked by the Governor to allow him to nominate them, but they side-stepped gracefully. Land Commissioner Pratt was confident that the Governor would send his name to the Senate for confirmation as Treasurer, and was greatly surprised when he was passed over with-

Disciplining Is It Pratt Or Who? Mott-Smith

CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, April 29.--Nadir Pasha, Second Eunuch of the Palace, has been executed for inciting a revolt. The gossip on the subject of appointments today was varied. One report had it that Mark Robinson will be the Treasurer. This would satisfy the Senators. Another that J. W. Pratt is surely the man, although still another rumor was that Pratt's name was informally presented to the Senate and he was shown to be impossible of confirmation. In connection with the Board of Health there is a growing impression that Dr. Cofer will be coming back to the Territory and take practical charge of affairs in the Board. Mott-Smith's combined salaries as President of the Board of Health and Secretary of the Territory amount to $625. per month. He was appointed Superintendent of Immigration on account of the fact that the Governor thought he needed the salary, but while Mott-Smith can draw a Federal and a Territorial salary, he cannot draw two full Territorial salaries.

"Booster" Dinner Called Out Enthusiastic Crowd The Commercial Club "booster" dinner last evening, at which former Vice President Chas. W. Fairbanks was the guest of honor, was a very successful affair.

The club-rooms were appropriately decorated for the occasion with flags and tropical greens, done under the direction of Harry Macfarlane. The guest table, flower-laden, extended across the lower end of the dining-hall and about it with Mr. Fairbanks and officers of the club were seated various local officials of the city, Territory, and business organizations.

Vice President Paris presided, introducing Geo. W. Smith as the toastmaster of the occasion. Mr. Fairbanks punctuated his address with good stories and a flow of witty references that kept his audience in perfect good-nature.

WELCOME CALM FOLLOWS STORM

The Fifth Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii is pau. At 11:30 o'clock last night, President Smith solemnly announced that the Senate had adjourned sine die, and a minute later the Senators, free from the cares of state, fled from the hall that, during the last sixty days, has been the scene of many a royally-fought parliamentary battle.

Though not until the ninth hour did the upper house of the Legislature finish its business, the last few hours were in welcome contrast to the hustle and bustle which characterized the closing days of the session, and the senators found time to pass about many little courtesies which must prove happy reminders to those who passed permanently out of public life when the President announced that the session had come to a close and "finis" had been written to the career of the Fifth Legislature.

The Real Bombshell.
But it was when the Appropriation Bill came down from the blue room that the real bombshell was dropped into the midst of the Senate. It was known that Governor Frear had determined to veto some of the items, but that he should have chosen the $24,000 appropriation for the Queen's Hospital as one of the subjects for his pruning shears came as a shock. There was a general inclination to get down to work at once, but as the House had deferred action until 1 o'clock, the Senate decided to wait until a half hour later.

There were so many delays for this reason and that, however, that it was not until the evening session that the Senate finally got ready to tackle the bill. Then the fun started.

Busy in Earnest.
The first two items, salaries for the Deputy High Sheriff and for the Deputy Insurance Commissioner, were allowed to rest in the graveyard, though several of the Senators voted to override the Governor's veto.

An item of $1440, clerk and interpreter Third Taxation Division, was passed over the Governor's veto.

When the Queen's Hospital item was reached the fun started in earnest. There was mighty little difference of opinion on that score.

President Smith was on the floor in short order, and he arraigned the Governor in sizzling style.

Sizzling Arrangement.
"Not since I first entered the Legislature in 1878," said he, "have I been so surprised, so pained, at any executive veto as this one which cuts off the Queen's Hospital without assistance. Founded by Queen Emma, that institution has stood for more than mere words can express.

"Either the Governor has listened to bad advisors, or he has been guilty of a most serious error of judgment. The bare fact that the appropriation has run a little over the estimate means nothing. Frequently it is safer to have a small deficit than to have surplus. With a deficit there is far less danger of reckless extravagance in the administration of public affairs.

"When the conference committee cut out that paltry little appropriation for the Palama dispensary I was mortified beyond words. I was ashamed of that committee, the members of which, to save a few paltry dollars, would make sick children go clear across town for relief. I was shamed more than I can tell.

"The Governor, in this matter, has been guilty of a grave error of judgment, whichever he may have been advised by (turning savagely to Senator Fairchild.)

Kauai Selfish.
"Kauai is selfish. In this, her representatives have shown that mean spirit which proves that they are unable to appreciate the conditions existing on the other islands. Squirem if you will, I hope that you will squirm now, and keep on squirming. Kauai in this, has shown that she does not care a continental cuss for the rest of the Territory."

Senator Knudsen took the floor in defense of the Kauai delegation, insisting that the rest of the Territory never had showed that it cared a continental cuss for Kauai.

It was voted to override the gubernatorial veto of the Queen's Hospital. Cosho Takes a Hand.
Mabulani Hospital was the next up. Senator Cosho made an eloquent plea for this institution, painting a picture of the self-sacrificing work of the Sisters of Charity who, without Territorial help, would, he said, have to go out onto the streets and beg for charity.

The bill hospital was the next vetoed item in line, and there again the Governor's action was "roasted" and overridden.

All For Nothing.
But, except as a matter of record, the action of the Senate on all items but the last two, totalling $9,600 for clerk hire in the courts, was useless. The House had already sustained the Governor in the other items.

But on items 6 and 7 of the veto message the Senate and House acted in accord and there will be three clerks to assist in the First Circuit Court and Land Court, and an assistant clerk, to act also as messenger and interpreter in the Fourth Circuit.

With the appropriation bill out of the way, and the last "casus belli" disposed of, the Senators settled back into their chairs with a suppressed sigh of relief, while Senator Knudsen rose to his feet with a long document and a longer face.

The Present Side.
He gravely read over a list of charges against the venerable President and then, on behalf of the Senate, ordered him to accept a square box, as sentence for his misdemeanors. Knudsen, escorted by three other Senators, then advanced to the rostrum and delivered the parcel.

President Smith made a brief talk, telling of the things which he had seen come to pass since first he entered the Legislature 31 years ago, and prophesying an even more brilliant future for Hawaii.

"When, as a young man, I first entered the Legislature," said he, "in my youthful exuberance I made remarks about a member for which I was ordered by the House to apologize. Not knowing what to do, I went to Mr. Knudsen, father of our present Senator, and asked his advice. His reply was 'reconcile and do it again.'

"From the bottom of my heart, I thank you for this token of your esteem."

Fairchild moved that the janitor be instructed to remove the wrappings from the parcel, but Knudsen was on his feet saying:

"Thirty-five years ago you were willing to take the advice of my father. Will you now take the counsel of his son and open the package before you?"

A Handsome Token.
President Smith removed the wrappings and there, exposed to view, was a solid silver punchbowl, a triumph of the silversmith's art.

At 11:15 a committee was sent to wait upon the Governor and ask him if he had any further matters to bring before the Senate. At 11:30, the Clerk's desk being clear "Aloha Oe" was sung the president's gavel fell, and the Senate of the Fifth Legislature had finished its labors.

At 11:29 o'clock last night, after the longest and most strenuous day of the session, the House finished its labors and adjourned sine die, while the members stood and sang "Aloha Oe." The afternoon and evening sessions were filled with debate and strife and many bitter words were exchanged, both on the floor of the House and in the corridors, for the members were tired and irritable and many were sore at what they considered unfair dealing on the part of the Governor. But as the last minutes of the session approached, a feeling of good-fellowship and friendliness toward everybody came over them, and the session ended in a love-feast at which everybody forgave everybody else and swore eternal amity.

The members, through their spokesman, E. A. Douthitt, expressed their appreciation of the able manner in which the Speaker had led them, and the Speaker complimented the members on the good work they had done. The House presented the Speaker with a suitable token of their regard and esteem, and the Speaker thanked them earnestly for this expression of their good-will.

The only really important matter before the House yesterday was the consideration of the Governor's vetoes of ten of the items in the Appropriation Bill. But the matter was hardly worth considering, for the question could have but one answer. Governor Frear held the whip, and he cracked it threateningly over their heads and advised the Legislature to be good if it did not want to feel the sting of the lash.

And the members had to be good, for they were at the mercy of the Executive. Through a very peculiar error on the part of the Democratic assistant clerk of the Senate, the bill passed by both Houses of the Legislature turning over to the Counties the license money collected within their respective borders failed to go up to the Governor until several days after it had been passed. This put it in the pocket-veto class, and, armed with this weapon and the files-and-cassets bill, which also came within the danger zone, Governor Frear made the Legislature do his bidding. "Sustain my veto of the items in the Appropriation Bill," he said in effect, "and I will sign these two bills. If you don't sustain me—"

There was no way out of the trap, and the Governor was sustained, except as to two items. The Legislature saved its face by overriding the vetoes of two items, but these were the less important ones.

The House, however, very joyously overrode the veto of the deer bill, and the members exhibited almost childish joy at getting in one last slap at His Excellency to pay him back for his action on the Appropriation Bill.

On motion of Rice, the Governor's veto of certain parts of the Appropriation Bill was taken up item by item, and over this the House powdered until 6:35, at times engaging in what was almost a riot. But there was no way out of the trap. The Governor had them dead to rights, and it was a case of die dog or eat the hatchet. Furtado moved to override on most of the items, but the House saw what would happen if it followed its own desires in the matter, and after a debate that lasted until 6:35, it sustained the Governor's vetoes in all but two instances. The vetoes of the two last items, one for three assistant clerks of the Honolulu Circuit Court, the other the veto of the item for an assistant clerk of the court of the Fourth Circuit, were overridden.

Auditor Fisher and Secretary Mott-Smith were called before the House, sitting as Committee of the Whole, and asked to explain how it was that before the Appropriation Bill was passed it was estimated that the bill was $31,000 within the estimated revenue, while at the last minute the statement was made that it ran nearly $125,000 over. They explained joyfully and at length that the first estimate was based on the income of the past two years while the second was based on the estimated probable income submitted to the Governor by the department heads.

The House, at 6:35, took a recess until 7:30.

Money Grab Killed.
When the House reconvened at 7:30 o'clock the Committee on Public Expenditures and Accounts, according to an oral report made by the Chairman, Castro, refused to act on the last money-grabbing resolution of the Senators—that to pay the interpreter $60 extra, the Sergeant-at-Arms $40, messenger $30 and janitor $20. Castro himself therefore recommended that the resolution be tabled. It was.

Same Old Resolution.
The House, by the adoption of a resolution introduced by Douthitt, refused to abide by the action of the Senate in killing House Joint Resolution 21, asking Congress to amend the Organic Act by the enactment of certain laws, the text of which was included in the resolution. Douthitt's resolution was identical with House Joint Resolution 21, except that it was merely a House resolution instead of being joint.

Governor Overridden.
At 9 o'clock the House finally took up consideration of the Governor's veto of Senate Bill 67, the deer bill. This bill, Senator Quinn says, the Governor once signed, but before the approval of the measure was announced, the Governor was seen by some of the pot hunters, who opposed the bill, and was induced to change his mind.

Cosho moved the veto be overridden. It had not been shown he did that deer are destructive to the forests, but on the other hand, it has been shown that they are not. If the Governor wants to protect the forests, let him look after the pigs that are rooting up the forests of Hawaii. Those who oppose the bill do so because they want to shoot deer for the market. I move we override the veto.

Affonso stated that all the States but three have a closed season for deer. He believed it time for Hawaii to get in line with the other States and Territories. Deer roamed the forests for centuries before Columbus by accident discovered America. "I believe the judgment of the two houses of the Legislature is superior to that of one man."

Kawewehi was surprised. "A wise man," he said, "will change his opinion, but a fool never. So I will change my opinion and vote to override the veto."

Nawahine wanted to know if it is really true that the Molokai deer can invade the back yard and ring the door bell. He urged that the veto be sustained.

Makekau shut off debate with a motion for the previous question. The required number to override, 26, was obtained, 19 voting no.

Speaker Thanked.
Kanho introduced a resolution thanking Speaker Holstein for the able and dignified manner in which he had presided over the deliberations of the House.

The resolution was unanimously adopted, and the Speaker, who had bashfully fled, was applauded as he resumed the chair.

Present For Speaker.
Douthitt, in a characteristic speech, handed out a bouquet of encomiums to the Speaker and all the members of the House.

In token of the regard of the members Douthitt presented the Speaker with a fine silver cigarette case and a silver match box.

Club Laid Aside.
After a long wait a communication came from the Secretary of the Territory saying the Governor had signed the two bills he had been holding as a club over the head of the Legislature to force it to accede to his wishes regarding the Appropriation Bill—Senate Bill 30, turning over fees and costs to the counties, and House Bill 195, giving the counties the license fees collected within their respective borders.

That ended the important business of the session.

Adjourn Sine Die.
Kaleopu at 11:12 introduced the closing resolution, that a committee of five be appointed to wait upon the Senate and the Governor and inform them that the House stood ready to take its adjournment. The resolution was adopted and the Speaker appointed Kaleopu, Rice, Affonso, Like and Kanoho. Pending their return the House took another recess.

At 11:20 the committee returned and reported. The Speaker thanked the House for its token of esteem.

The first and last paragraphs of the minutes of the session were read and approved. Rice moved that the House adjourn sine die. The chaplain delivered the closing prayer, the House sang "Hawaii Pono" and the Speaker put the motion that the House adjourn sine die, and pronounced it carried. The House sang "Aloha Oe" and gave three cheers and a hurrah for the Speaker, and the Legislative Session of 1909 came to an end at 11:29 p.m.

The following bills were signed by the Governor last night:

"An Act to authorize the Treasurer of the Territory to pay to the Treasurers of the several Counties special road fund deposits."

"An Act to amend Section 1221 of the Revised Laws, relating to property exempt from taxation."

"An Act relating to the disposition of fines, costs and bail moneys in certain cases."

"An Act relating to the issuance of licenses, and the collection and disposition of fees arising therefrom."

"An Act to prohibit persons from associating themselves together in military companies or organizations or for military purposes, and for the giving or receiving of military instruction."

"Nevertheless," contended the Giddy Young Bachelor, "I insist that woman is superior to man." "If you were married," chuckled the Old Married Man, "you would not insist; you would simply admit it."—Brooklyn Life.

"What does this mean?" roared the irate employer. "You asked for forty-eight hours' leave of absence, and you stayed away a week." "Oh, that's all right," replied the clerk, calmly. "You've simply made a mistake in your calculations. I'm due here only eight hours a day, you know, and forty-eight hours is equal to a week."

THE LEGISLATURE'S WORK.

If the Fifth Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii had done nothing more than enact laws that will enable a more efficient handling of the great problem of leprosy, make provision for the introduction of European immigrants, give good-sized appropriations for public schools, authorize the deposit of public funds in the banks of the Territory instead of hoarding the gold in the vaults of the public treasury, and transfer additional responsibilities to the Councils, it could be said with all truth that the session had been a credit to the members of the Legislature and the people whom they represent, and the money it cost well spent.

These measures having to do with the health, industry, population, education, finance, and government by the people are sufficient to merit the verdict of well done, and we believe their importance is to be gauged in the order named.

Of course there has been evil legislation headed off. Of course there has been much left undone that should have been done. The failure to pass the Direct Primary law will stand to the everlasting disgrace of the legislators whose work is now just closed. And the share of responsibility for the bad faith these representatives have shown in their relation with the people to whom they gave their solemn pledge cannot be more generously shouldered onto the Republicans than the Democrats. A proper standard of patriotism should have prompted the men of both parties to reach a working basis on this, as was done on other measures.

But taking the main results of the session as they will stand when clarified of all the insignificant or temporary incidents and influences that look large when in the immediate foreground, the Legislature has shown careful judgment, wise foresight, and desire to reach right conclusions for the general welfare as opposed to private interests, that is deserving the highest commendation. It is naturally gratifying to this paper that such a large number of the measures it has championed in behalf of the intelligent and liberal-minded Americans of the Territory have gained the approval of the legislators and are now the law of the land.

As one follows the legislative results from year to year there is a steadily increasing proof of the beneficent operation of liberal Americanism in this Territory. The old forces of prejudice, selfishness, cant, and hypocrisy are losing their grip. Whether it is by popular pressure or an honest desire to reform makes little difference. The results speak. The grafter doesn't dare to put himself in the game to any great extent. In other words, the Territory is heading further away each year from semblance of government by the grafter or the dictator.

The people are developing a better spirit of unity in dealing with the public affairs of the Territory. In this connection the large outpouring of citizens to attend the hearings of legislative committees was a magnificent demonstration of an increased personal interest in the affairs of government. The civic standard is higher. The people are speaking more plainly. There is less back-room manipulation, more open dealing.

And as the people are coming to take this additional personal interest in their government, the representatives have done their duty in recognizing the popular demands. The public hearings, for instance, have had great influence. The legislators have been convinced and followed the obvious desire of the citizens.

The Executive is less arbitrary than in former days although it has indulged in shortsighted policies of trickery and double-dealing, next door to political dishonesty. These, however, are matters of personal temperament rather than an evidence of a community tendency. The disgust with which such matters are received by the community furnish a healthy sign of a growing demand for common honesty in personal dealings of officials with the public.

While the Territory of Hawaii keeps on in the way it is moving, there need be no fear of losing any of the privileges of self-government now enjoyed. The people may go forward confident that the time is close at hand when the whole system of local government may be completely remodeled and those responsibilities rightfully resting with the local municipal organizations shall be transferred from the central authority.

SCOTT LEGISLATED OUT OF HIS JOB

Leslie Scott, first deputy clerk of the Judiciary Department, has been legislated out of a job. The approval of the Appropriation Bill cut his salary out from under him. The Legislature was determined above all things to be economical, so to save paying Scott a salary of $150 a month, it cut him off the payroll and substituted in his place two assistant clerks—at $100 each. Of course, this may be economy, but just how is hard for the ordinary mortal to see, especially in view of the fact that there are already more clerks in the Judiciary Department than the judges know what to do with.

The Legislature also pared $25 off the salary of Henry Smith, giving him a job with a new title. Where Jimmie Thompson gets off nobody seems to have figured out yet.

DECLINED INVITATION

Kunihara, a Japanese barber, was charged at the Police Court this morning with having used threatening language toward a Japanese woman. He is alleged to have invited the woman and her husband to come out on the sidewalk and be killed. This cordial invitation was declined with thanks, and the police informed of the matter. The affair was thrashed out this morning before Judge Andrade, and after C. F. Chillingworth had cross-examined the complaining witness, the Judge called a halt and dismissed the accused.

It appears that the trouble arose through Kunihara asking for a raise in his salary; this was denied him, and he quit his job at once. The whole affair seemed weak, as the complainant admitted having visited the defendant and trying to square the matter by offering him back his old job.

POLICE COURT

"Monkey" Fragas is once more in the lockup, this time on a charge of chicken stealing. Yesterday morning, about 3 o'clock, a Japanese watchman in Palama noticed a couple of men carrying a bag of chickens. As soon as they saw the watchman they dropped the bag and took to their heels. When Chief Leal got a description of the men he came to the conclusion that "Monkey" and his pal John Bull were back at their old game.

This morning the Chief cross-examined Fragas in the presence of Mrs. Freitas, to whom the alleged thief had sold eight chickens. "Monkey" at first denied selling the fowls to the lady, but later on confessed that it was so. The youth has a very bad record, and has been convicted several times before; once for pigeon stealing. It is also alleged that he has been known to sell stolen chickens to a person and then steal them back again.

Ex-Chief of Detectives Kalakiele is confined to his room through illness at present. It is some old trouble which has been worrying him for some time; however, he expects to be down at his office in a day or two.

There is no change in the condition of the three men who were shot at Aiea. They are progressing as well as can be expected, and Hanada, the man who did the shooting, is still in the lockup at Pearl City.

The Ellefords will be the hosts of the news-carriers of the city this evening. The management has invited the boys from the newspaper offices who deliver the papers to subscribers to attend the play this evening and occupy reserved seats. It is a good play and the boys will enjoy

LINDSAY DOFFS ERMINE TOMORROW

Will Resume Private Practice With A. Judd

Judge Lindsay doffs the ermine tomorrow and resumes private practice as an attorney, his resignation tendered recently going into effect the last day of the month. The Judge was busy this morning clearing out his desk in his chambers, and expressed great satisfaction at the prospect of getting back to private life. He has formed a partnership with Albert Judd. Already things seem to be coming his way. He states that he has business on hand already that will bring him in more in a month than his salary as Circuit Judge would be. His period on the bench has given him experience and a knowledge of the law that he could not have gained in any other ways, but he says he thinks it is time for him to begin to build up a practice for himself.

Deputy Attorney General Whitney, who is to succeed Lindsay, has not yet received official notice of his appointment, and probably will not for some time, as he has to be confirmed by the Senate before his appointment is operative.

GAS COMPANY IS UNAFRAID OF PROBE

"We court criticism and we deny that we have approached anyone for the purpose of influencing them to refrain from investigating the gas company service," said Manager Wight this morning. "Good service is a business asset, and that is why we make the saying our motto. I know of no one who requested Senator Quinn or anyone else to stay an investigation of the service." The same sentiments were also expressed to the Bulletin for publication by Attorney Withington.

ELLEFORDS SCORE IN PRINCESS OF PATCHES

Well, well, who would have thought it. The Ellefords proved themselves to be good vaudeville people last evening, when there were specialties galore. Miss Mattie Lloyd Luce gave a pleasing song and excellent toe dance, while Hernandez came to the front with a parody that made an immense hit, and Ray Collins was there with a clever con song, and the Osborn children had another new one, the best yet. The piece was full of surprises and laughable situations, especially the old boat-house, which received several curtains.

CONFESSED JUDGMENT

Jessie K. and Virginia K. Makalana, against whom Allen & Robinson, Ltd., brought ejectment proceedings to recover possession of two pieces of land, one being one acre on Kalia street and the other 1.26 acres on Middle street, confessed judgment this morning in Judge Lindsay's court, on condition that no writ of execution issue for 45 days. The plaintiff also asked for $2500 damages, but it is stipulated that this claim be dropped.

HAWAII WILL JOIN WITH CALIFORNIA

Childs Plans To Open Active Social Campaign

Hawaii and California will take the lead in social functions at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition, if the plans of Lloyd Childs do not miscarry. Childs plans to have the Island Paradise join hands with the Land of Sunshine in entertaining visitors at the Fair.

"California has always taken the lead in social functions in the past," said Childs this morning. "I do not think that we can do better than form a combination with her representatives at Seattle. I hope to have the broad verandas of the Hawaiian building screened and draped after the manner of lanais in these islands and I believe that they will prove very attractive. By joining hands with California, I believe we can make a strong showing."

THE POLLARDS.

Great preparations are being made for the farewell show at the Opera House, Saturday night. The first part will be minstrel, and the second part, "Under the Pump," a musical skit with very humorous situations. "Fun on the Bristol" will be given for the last time at the Saturday matinee.

MEDICO MIXES WITH MAUI NEWS EDITOR

Auto Controversy Leads To Lively Fistic Fracas

Dr. R. H. Dinegar and Hugh M. Coke, editor of the Maui News, both of Wailuku, Maui, had a fistic fight the other day, which resulted in the defeat of the physician. He was badly mugged up, according to some of the passengers arriving this morning from Wailuku in the steamer Claudine.

Report has it that the fight originated from an automobile incident published in the Maui News. When the doctor read it he was very much exercised and called at the office of the paper. The doctor and the editor entered into a verbal controversy, which led to an exchange of blows, ending in the defeat of the doctor.

Before the Claudine left Kahului, Coke was seen at the wharf. He had no marks on his face.

The news of the fight, according to the Mauians, was suppressed, but finally leaked out.

It would certainly appear that the Attorney General is right in this contention, for there might some time be the possibility that a very important measure might be sent up to the Governor just a few minutes before the Legislature adjourned sine die.

In case of an Appropriation Bill or some measure requiring equal care and study, it would, of course, be impossible for the Governor to take snap judgment.

The list of unsigned and non-vetted bills yet in the Governor's hands is as follows:

House Bill 38, Kawewehi, putting merchandise licenses on a sliding scale, based on the amount of business done. Received April 27.

Senate Joint Resolution 2, providing for the appointment of a Commission to investigate into the matter of private holdings of land dating back prior to the Great Mahele and to consider ways and means of confirming such titles. This bill is already dead, the time for signing or vetoing it having expired yesterday.

Senate Bill 134, Robinson, exempting from taxation personal property to the value of $500. Received April 26.

Senate Bill 148, Makekahu, to amend the last paragraph of Section 2 of Act 26, Session Laws of 1907. Received April 26.

Senate Bill 144, Harvey, fixing the fees of physicians for examining leper suspects. Received April 22.

Senate Bill 25, Coelho, the marriage bill. Received April 22.

Senate Bill 167, making special appropriations for the payment of claims against the Territory up to December 1, 1905. Received April 23.

House Bill 226, Furtado, authorizing Circuit Judges to compel the attendance from any part of the Territory of witnesses in civil cases before District Magistrates. Received April 27.

Senate Bill 117, Robinson, abolishing all penalties for the nonpayment of taxes and fixing the rate of interest at 1 per cent. per month. Received April 28.

House Bill 235, Shingle, exempting from taxation real estate taken for public purposes.

Senate Bill 19, Coelho, fixing the license fees for restaurants, hotels, and lodging houses. Received April 22.

Senate Bill 126, Makekahu, to permit poor persons to prosecute civil actions in forma pauperis. Received April 20.

Senate Bill 95, Coelho, for the relief of John A. Cummins. Received April 20.

Senate Bill 137, Makekahu, authorizing the Treasurer to turn over to the Counties the balances of road tax money now in the Territorial Treasury. Received April 19, at 2 p. m. This bill is already dead by the pocket veto.

House Bill 138, Kalelopu, prohibiting the sale of certain feed fish. This bill died at 10 o'clock this morning.

House Bill 208, Finance Committee, the "wireless" measure. Received April 22.

Senate Bill 129, Baker, making the license fee of second-hand stores $25. Received April 26.

Senate Bill 121, McCarthy, the election law bill, in which was incorporated the provision for the Great Register of voters.

Mr. Booth, from Honolulu, has lately taken a position in the Waimea department store of C. B. Hofgaard & Co. On June 1 he will move to Kekaha, where he will manage the branch store of Hofgaard & Co., taking the place of the present manager, J. L. Hjorth. Garden Island.

"There is no question of cutting off. I have no inheritance coming. I don't want any. I don't want anything except you, dear."
"Won't you tell me?" she persisted. "You see, I am dull at these things."
"Well, what if they do?" he conceded. "You more than make it up to me. You outweigh a thousand families."
"And would your marriage to a—a to me destroy your army career?"
"Well, it will really be much easier for both of us if I resign from the service," he finally admitted. "In fact, I've decided to do so at once."
"No, no! You mustn't do that. Tonight you think I am worth the price, but a day will come!"
He leaned forward and caught her hands in his.
"Meade, I can't let you do it."
"I'd like to see you help yourself," he said haughtily.
"I can and I will. You must not marry me, Meade. It's not right; it can't be." She suddenly realized what this renunciation would mean and began to shiver.
"It will be over before you know it," she heard him saying in a lame attempt at levity. "Father Barnum is an expert, and the operation won't occupy him ten minutes."
At that moment they heard the voices of the trader and his squaw outside, approaching the house. The girl's breath caught in her throat. She flung herself recklessly upon her lover's breast and threw her arms around his neck in an agony of farewell.
"Meade, Meade, my soldier," she sobbed, "kiss me goodbye for the last time!"
"No," he said roughly.
"Now you must go," she said, tearing herself away. "and for my sake don't see me again."
"I will! I will! I will ask your father for you tonight."
"No, no! Don't, please don't! Wait till—till tomorrow—till I say the word! Promise me! Oh, my love, promise!"
Her eyes he'd cast a painful glance at the door opened and her father and Alina entered.

CHAPTER VIII.
STAIR TAKES A HAND IN THE GAME.
THE old man greeted the lieutenant affably, but as his glance fell on his daughter he stopped stock still on the threshold.
"I told you never to wear that dress again," he said in a dry, harsh voice. The girl made no answer, for her heart was breaking, but turned and went into her room. Burrell had an irresistible desire to tell Gale that he wanted his daughter for his wife. It would be an unwonted pleasure to startle this iron gray old man and the shawled and shambling mummy of red, with the unwinking eyes that always reminded him of two exhort cherries, but he had given Necla his promise. So he descended to the exchange of ordinary topics and inquired for the news of the creek.
"Necla's ground is getting better every hour," the trader said. "Yesterday they found a sixty dollar pan."
"Have you struck pay on yours?"
"No; Poleon and I seem to hold bad hands. Some of his lymen are quitting work. They've crossed out in half a dozen places and can't find a color."
Gale went to Necla's door and called her, but when she appeared he was unprepared for the tragic face with which she greeted him.
"Daughter," he said, "don't feel bad over what I said. I didn't mean to be cross with you, but—I don't like that dress."
"Were you cross with me, daddy?" she said dully. "I didn't hear. What did you say?"
He looked at her in amazement. "Necla, little girl, what is the trouble?"
She was staring past him, and her fingers were fumbling helplessly with the lace of her gown, but she began to show signs of collapse.
"I sent him away—I gave him up, when he wanted me—wanted me—Oh, daddy, he wants to marry me—and I sent him away!"
"He asked you to marry him in—in spite of who you are and what I am?"
"Yes; he is ready to give up his ambition, his army, his future, his family, everything, for me—to sacrifice it all, and so, of course, I couldn't let him. She spoke simply, as if her father would surely understand and approve her action, while in her voice was a note of inevitable resignation. "You see, I never understood what my blood would mean to him until tonight. I've been selfish and thoughtless, I guess. I just wanted him, and wanted him to take me, but now that he is mine I love him more than I thought. He is so dear to me that I can't drag him down—I can't—I can't!" She went to the open door and stood leaning against the casing, facing the cool outdoor darkness, her face hidden from them, her form sagging wearily, as if the struggle had sapped her whole strength.

Alina crept to the trader and looked up at him eagerly, whispering: "This will end in a little while, John"
She is young. She can go back to the mission tomorrow. She will soon forget."
"Forget! Do you think she can forget?"
"Any woman can forget. Only men remember."
"It is the red blood in you—lyng. You know you lie."
"It is to save your life," she said. "I know, but it's no use." To Necla he said, "You needn't worry, little daughter." But her ears were deaf. "You needn't give him up, I say. This will end all right."
Feeling that she gave no sign of heeding, he stepped closer and swung her about till she faced him.
"Can't you trust me this one time?"
"You always have before, Necla. I say he'll marry you, and it will come out right."
She raised her hopeful eyes and strove gamely to meet him, then, falling broke away and turned back to the door. "I know you couldn't understand—I—I—Oh, I love him so!"
With a cry like that of a wounded animal she fled out into the night, where she could give vent to her anguish unscathed, for she had never wept before her father, but always crept away and hid herself until her grief was spent. Alina would have started after her, but Alina dragged him back fiercely.
"No, no! It means your life, John. Let the secret die, and she will forget. She is so young. Time will cure her. Time cures everything. Don't tell her, don't tell any one, and above all, don't tell that soldier. He would not believe, nor would she. Even I have doubted."
"You?"
"Yes, John. And, if I don't believe, what is a stranger to say? No man knowing you would believe the tale without proof. Suppose she doubted. Have you ever thought of that? Would you not rather have her die still loving you than live and disbelieve?"
"Yes, yes! Of course I—I've thought of that, but—Woman, you're worse than a rattlesnake!"
"Even if he knew, he might not marry her. You at least are clean, and that other man was a devil. A brave man's life is too great a price to pay for a grief that will die in a year." Alina was speaking swiftly in her own language, her body tense, her face alight, and no man seeing her could ever again have called her people stolid.

"You think time will cure a love like that?" he said.
"Yes, yes!"
"That's all you know about it. Time may act that way perhaps in cities and such places, but out in the hills it is different. When you're got the breath of the forest in you, I say it is different. Time! Why, I've lived fifteen years in the open with a living memory. Every night I've dreamed it over; every day I've lived it through. In every emprise I see a face, and every wind from the south brings a voice to me. Every stormy night a girl with eyes like Necla's calls to me, and I have to follow. Every patch of moonlight shows her smiling at me, just beyond, just in the shadow's edge. Love! Time! Why, Alina, love is the only thing in the world that never dies, and time only makes it the more enduring."
He took up the white shawl but he had thrown down when he came in and stepped to the door.
"Where are you going?" inquired the squaw fearfully.
"To the barracks to give myself up!"
She flung herself at him, with a great cry, and seized him about the waist.
"You never loved me, John, but I have loved a good woman to you, although I knew you were always thinking of her—and had no thought of me. I have loved this girl because you loved her. I have hated your enemies because you hated them, and now I remember, while you forget."
"Forget! What do you mean?"
"Stark!"
The man paused. "I did almost forget him—and after fifteen years!"
"Let us kill him tonight; then we will go to the soldier together, side by side. I am your woman. Necla will look after the little one."
Gale stared at her, and as he gazed the red pigment underneath her skin, the straight hanging, mammelike hair, the gandy shawl she never went without, the shapely, skin shod feet, the slovenly, ill fitting garb of a peasant woman vanished, and he saw her as she was on a day long past, a slim, shy, silent creature, with great, watchful, trusting eyes and a soul unspooled. No woman had ever been so loyal, so uncompromising. He had robbed her of her people and her gods. He had shifted hither and yonder at the call of his uncertain fortune or at a sign of that lurking fear that always dogged him, and she had never left his side, never questioned, never doubted, but always served him like a slave, without asking for a part in that other love, without sharing in the crosses he had consecrated to a woman she had never seen.

AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pain in my back. Had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA LASE, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.
The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.
Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

Getting Rich

Any man who has made a comfortable fortune will tell you, if you ask him, that the GETTING THERE gave him far more pleasure than the money itself.

There's a fascination about watching savings grow, and returns from investments coming in.

MARINES DEFEAT
FORT SHAFTER

SPLENDID, SNAPPY BALL IS PLAYED BY THE MILITARY MEN—A BIG CROWD WATCHES THE GAME AT AALA PARK.
LEAGUE IS HUGE SUCCESS

Another fine game of baseball was played yesterday afternoon when the Marines and Fort Shafter teams met in the Military League competition. A large number of spectators attended at Aala Park, and the enthusiasm ran high all the afternoon; the rooting was strenuous and some of the remarks were very funny. A number of officers, both Army and Navy, attended the game and rooted in good style for their men. It was a grand sight to see all the officers taking such a great interest in the play, and some of their expert advice was much to the point, too.

The game was delayed for about half an hour owing to the non-arrival of the official umpire, Eddie Fernandez, and finally M. Pedro undertook the job, and a rattling good referee he made, too. His decisions were correct in every instance, and he gave satisfaction in every way. This umpire business should be arranged a little differently in future, and if the regular man is not on time any competent man, who is satisfactory to both teams, should be allowed to umpire the game. This waiting business is no use and a prompt start should be made on every occasion of a match. In justice to Mr. Fernandez, it must be said that he states that he was ill, and that he tried to communicate with the managers of the teams but failed.

The line-up of the Marines was a little different from that of Sunday, and Anderson, who was injured on that day, could not play. Williams, who took the position of catcher owing to Anderson being crippled, held the job down in good style. Hines did not pitch in yesterday's game and his place was taken by Gibson, who did well, striking out nine men and only walking two. Boloun for the Shafter struck out six men and gave free passes to three.

Next Sunday there will be a very exciting game at Lilehua, when the N. G. H. meets the formidable "Fighting Fifth" on the diamond. This game promises to be about the best of the series so far; both teams are confident they can put it all over their opponents, and neither can see how they can possibly lose. A big bunch of fans are going up to Schofield barracks for the game, and five extra cars are to be swung onto the regular train to accommodate the intending crowd. The Military League is certainly making a large splash, and it is real good to see it.

The train on Sunday leaves at 9:15 a. m. and returns at 3:30 to town; this just fits in with the ordinary man's idea of a pleasant Sunday, and given fine weather a large crowd of the supporters of both teams will surely make the trip. The return fare to Lilehua (the train runs right into the camp now) is only $1.25, and that is very reasonable.

Gaw came home. Gibson flew to catcher. Three runs.

Boloun flew to rightfield. McCall took base on balls and was caught trying to steal second. Moran made first on safe hit. Lemon flew to centerfield. No runs.

Fourth Inning—Winter died at first. Knight was struck and took base. Williams died at first, Knight to second. Hayes expired at first. No runs.

Bateman fanned. Gongol got free transportation. Kistler to first on centerfield hit. Oakley fanned; Gongol to second. Ellis died at first. No runs.

Fifth Inning—Makin flew to catcher. Gaw fanned. Coll flew to Lemm. No runs.

Boloun died at first, centerfield to baseman. McCall failed to make first. Moran to first on error. Lemon died at first. No runs.

Sixth Inning—Davis two-bagger on good hit to centerfield. Gibson bunted and made first. Davis to third. Winter got to first, and on wild throw made second. Davis and Gibson getting home. Winter stole third. Knight flew to Lemm. Williams fanned. Hayes died at first. Two runs.

Bateman died at first. Gongol fanned. Kistler, two-bagger to centerfield. Oakley died at first. No runs.

Seventh Inning—Makin fanned. Gaw flew to Gongol (wonderful catch). Coll took base on balls. Davis flew to Lemm. No runs.

Ellis fanned. Boloun took base on balls. McCall died at first. Moran did the same. No runs.

Eighth Inning—Gibson flew to catcher. Winter fanned. Knight died at first. No runs.

Lemm expired at first. Bateman fanned. Gongol ditto. No runs.

Ninth Inning—Williams walked. Hayes flew to centerfield. Williams was caught trying to steal second. Makin fanned. No runs.

Kistler died at first. Oakley got to first on hit to centerfield. Ellis made first and Oakley got caught at second. Boloun died at first. No runs.

Hilo Races For Fourth Are Planned

First Day—1, half mile, Hawaiian breds; 2, half mile, Japanese horses under fifteen hands; 3, seven-eighths mile free for all, four to enter, three to start; 4, three-quarter mile, Hawaiian breds, handicap; 5, half-mile, cowboy ponies; 6, half-mile, Japanese free for all, four or more to enter.

Second Day—1, three quarter mile, Hawaiian breds; 2, half-mile, Japanese horses, 14 1-2 hands or under, four to enter; 3, one and a quarter-mile, Merchants' Stakes; 4, mile heat free for all trot or pace, two in three; 5, three-quarter mile, free for all; 6, three-quarter mile, Hawaiian breds; 7, half-mile, cowboy race; 8, broncho-busting; 9, half-mile wild-horse race.

The above is a tentative racing program which has been outlined by John O'Rourke and Felix Brughell, who have charge of this feature of the Fourth of July celebration program, says the Hilo Tribune. The program is only a tentative one so far, owing to the fact that nothing can be settled upon until it is known how much money there will be on hand for purses, but although it is therefore possible that changes will be made, the committee intends to come as close as it can to following out the above program.

A matter of great interest to horse men is the fact that five nominations have been made for the Merchants' Stakes, the great race of the occasion, at which a purse of at least fifteen hundred dollars is to be competed for. While the names of the horses which are to run have not been given out as yet, the owners who have made nominations are as follows: Felix Brughell, Louis Warren, John O'Rourke, Horner Ranch, and the Japanese owners of "Little Joker."

HONOLULU TEAM WAS BEATEN BY POLLARDS

The cricket match yesterday afternoon was won by the Pollard company by a score of 43 to 39. Podmore made no less than 25 runs out of the locals' total, and played good cricket. He finally was bowled by Goulding with a beautiful yorker. There was a fair-sized crowd present at the match, but a number of players were unable to attend owing to the military ball game. Frank Cherry had his thumb split open by the ball, and this interfered with his batting a lot, and prevented him from making a big score. The scores were as follows:

Pollards
E. Chester, bowled	12
F. Chester, bowled	0
A. Goulding, bowled	0
J. Pollard, bowled	5
F. Hindlose, caught	2
H. Frazer, caught	2
T. McNamara, caught	3
F. Cherry, bowled	0
W. Pollard, not out	8
F. Smith, bowled	0

WALL CUP ENTRY LIST CLOSES TOMORROW

Entries for the Wall cup handicap singles, to be played off at the Beretania Tennis Club, will close with the secretary, Ray B. Rietow, tomorrow. The opening games of the tournament will be played on the club courts next Monday, beginning at 4:30 o'clock. W. L. Warren has a leg in for the cup, which must be won three times in order to become the property of any player.

Much interest is being shown in the tournament, and any player who has not so far put his name in had better do quick and do so, as no entry will be received after tomorrow. The courts are in fine order and some brilliant play is looked forward to by everyone.

OUR MR. BRASCH will leave on Monday next for NEW YORK, LONDON and PARIS, and will be pleased to fill any special orders entrusted to him.
