

What is Best for Maui
is Best for the News

MAUI NEWS.

If you wish Prosperity
Advertise in the News

VOLUME XVI

WAILUKU, MAUI, H. T., SATURDAY, JANURAY 8, 1910

NUMBER 46

Wrecked on Spartan Reef

Alexander Black is a Total Loss.

The bark Alexander Black with two thousand four hundred and sixty-three tons of nitrates consigned to Alexander & Baldwin went ashore about a mile nearer Paia than where the Spartan was wrecked four years ago last August.

It was about 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when a heavy down-pour of rain partly hid the dangerous coral reef, which puts out a long distance there, that Captain Wm. Griffiths found he was among the breakers, too late to avoid the loss of the vessel.

The only excuse that can be given for bringing the ship into the breakers is ignorance of the coral along the coast. There are two thousand miles of open sea off shore and why any sane man would deliberately run his ship where there would in all probability be danger when there was no excuse for it remains a mystery.

An hour before the vessel struck residents of Paia saw the danger and manager H. A. Baldwin and S. Hooking of the Maui Agricultural Co. felt that assistance would be needed and rode down to the shore. As the boats with the men came toward the shore signalled them to a cove where a safe landing was easily made.

Much credit is due for the forethought and action of these two gentlemen for without their assistance it is very probable that no landing could have been made and the loss of life would have been added to the great property loss sustained.

The ship was abandoned before she struck. Her anchors were lashed in place and her lower sails set, in which condition she was driven hard and fast on a sandy spot in the main reef about a mile from shore.

Not even the ship's papers were taken ashore by the Captain, so great was the haste to get away.

There were nineteen souls aboard and not one brought anything ashore except the clothes they had on and these were soaking wet.

Supt. J. N. S. Williams of the Kahului Railroad Co. at once had the men outfitted at the Puunene Store with warm, dry clothing and beds and meals provided at the Kahului Club Hotel.

Two attempts were made Wednesday to get men aboard the vessel by the Kahului Railroad Co.'s tug Leslie Baldwin but both attempts failed on account of the heavy sea that was running.

On Wednesday night the Inter-Island steamers Mauna Loa, Maui, and Likelike put into Kahului harbor for information which was furnished by the pilot and harbor-master and by the Superintendent to the effect as given above.

The Maui and Likelike remained and on Thursday morning went out to the wreck and succeeded in getting men on board the ship but it was impossible to commence salvaging operations as the vessel was full of water.

The captain and crew of the ill-fated bark returned to Honolulu by the Maui and the ship still lies in the position in which she first struck.

It is thought that possibly the running gear and the ground tackle and the sails may be obtained when the sea goes down but the cargo of nitrates is thought to be a total loss as it is soluble.

Owing to the difficulties with the wireless due to the electrical storm on Tuesday evening communication

Death Claims W. H. Bailey

Had Been Ill for the Past Four Years.

Word was received here Monday by cable and wireless of the death of William H. Bailey in Los Angeles. No details of the immediate cause of death have yet been received but it is known that when he was here four years ago he visited Waikapu valley in company with Manager Wells and on the trip got his feet wet and his clothing damp in which condition he remained at the home of Mr. Wells during the evening which resulted in his taking a severe cold from which he never recovered.

William H. Bailey was born in Wailuku, January 24, 1842. He was a son of Rev. Edward Bailey. He was associated with his father and brother Edward in the sugar industry and was the outside manager for the firm while Edward Bailey was the manager of the mill which stood on the grounds now occupied by the residence of Manager H. B. Penhallow.

After two years as outside manager he bought out the interest of his brother and two years later amalgamated with the Wailuku Sugar Co. and became manager, succeeding Captain Wilfong. He let out the land on shares to James C. Bailey, E. H. Bailey, W. H. Cummings, E. H. Rogers, W. O. Smith and one other and two years later the Wailuku Sugar Co. paid its first dividend.

He remained as manager until 1885 when he sold out his interests and went to California where he has since made his home.

In 1867 he was married to Miss Anna Hobron. A son and a daughter were born of this union. Mrs. Bazata, a former resident of Sunnyside was his daughter. His son resides in California.

Mr. Bailey was a highly respected resident of Maui and was one of the successful pioneers in the sugar industry of the islands.

Kamaaina Passes Away

Dies of Old Age in Ulupalakua.

William Wilcox, an old and respected resident of Maui, died at his home in Ulupalakua last Tuesday at the age of 98 years, death being caused apparently from old age.

Mr. Wilcox came to these islands about 1847 and for many years has been farming in the Ulupalakua section of this island.

The deceased leaves three sons: Chas. Wilcox, County Auditor, Edward and Richard Wilcox, of Ulupalakua and three daughters.

Robt. Wilcox, now deceased, who was elected the first delegate to Congress from Hawaii, and who was the recognized leader of the Hawaiian people, was also a son of the deceased.

He was buried the following day in Ulupalakua.

could not be opened with Honolulu until Wednesday.

As soon as communication was opened full particulars were given the Board of Underwriters in whose hands the disposition of the vessel remains.

The small boats were sold by the Captain to the Kahului Railroad Co.

Rain at Last in Kula

Dry Section Now Green and People Happy.

On December 29th, an attempted murder and suicide took place at Koheo, Kula. A Korean man stabbed a Japanese woman in the neck seven or eight times and thinking that he had killed her fled but realizing that he could not escape from the island returned to the vicinity the same night and attempted suicide by cutting his throat in the corn storehouse of a Chinese who later found the wounded man covered with bugs and slowly bleeding to death.

The Chinese the next morning summoned Deputy Sheriff Edgar Morton.

Dr. W. F. McConkey attended the Korean who will survive to be punished for his evil deed.

The woman is in a critical condition but may recover.

It is surmised that the cause of the assault was a quarrel about money.

The man and woman had been living together for some months and it is thought that the latter had become weary of supporting the former who was a worthless fellow. It is stated that the Korean was a gambler and was formerly employed by the government in Kula as a sort of spy or detective in the Korean counterfeiting case.

On New Year's Day the Paia tennis club held an all day tournament on their courts near the depot, thus repeating the success of last year.

The Omapio and Pulehu colonies of Japanese cornplanters will continue to hold their lands another year, Haleakala Ranch Co. having extended their leases. There has been some hesitancy on the part of the corporation about continuing the agreement with the Japanese in as much as the lands in question are well-nigh exhausted owing to the planting of the same crop year after year.

The engagement of Miss Ethel Taylor to Mr. E. R. Bevins has been recently announced. Miss Taylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Taylor of Hamakua and Mr. Bevins is the bookkeeper for the Paia store.

Mrs. Wm. Mann of Waiohinu, Hawaii, with her two children has been spending the holidays with her father, W. C. Crook of Makawao.

On Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, of this week a magnificent snow-cap covered the highest peaks of Haleakala.

On Dec. 24th, at the Makawao court house a coroner's jury under the direction of Deputy Sheriff Edgar Morton was held concerning the death of a Japanese who a week or two before hung himself on a lone kukui tree in a little gulch at Keauhua. It was a case of suicide the man having become tired of life because of sickness. The body when found was in such a state of decomposition that after being viewed by the government physician and the jury was burned on the spot.

Kula people are happy. They had a Christmas rain of five inches in Kihei, Kamaole, Waiakoa and in other of the driest parts of Kula. The whole district is green.

A landslide on the Hakalau extension of the Hilo railroad buried four Japanese last week near Wainaku. Their bodies were not recovered until the next day.

Nakaleka Not Chosen

To Manage Republican Cam- paign.

The following clipping from the Advertiser and the letter from Hon. H. P. Baldwin, the chairman of the republican county executive committee will clear up the political atmosphere so far as the matter of the selection of the campaign manager is concerned.

Representative J. Nakaleka of Molokai has been named to take charge of the Republican campaign on Maui, according to information given out yesterday by those on the inside. This means that Republican campaign matters on the islands of Maui, Molokai, Lanai and Kahoolawe will be under the direct supervision of the Molokai statesman.

Nakaleka has taken a prominent part in Republican political affairs and has been a factor of no small importance in the Legislature. It is generally felt that his selection is wise and that he will carry on the work, fully as well as could any person.—Advertiser.

Puunene, Maui,
Jan. 3rd, 1910.

Editor: "MAUI NEWS"

Dear Sir:—The "Advertiser" of Dec. 31st, 1909, has a short article with the following heading: "J. Nakaleka will run Maui Campaign. Molokai statesman is chosen to look after the affairs of the G. O. P."

The choice of a Manager for the Republican Campaign is a matter in the hands of the Republican Executive Committee. So far the Republican Executive Committee has not taken up the question of who should be the Manager of the Republican Campaign, County of Maui, and I would add that so far J. Nakaleka's name has not been mentioned in that connection.

I remain,
Yours very truly,
H. P. BALDWIN,

Chairman; Republican Executive Committee, County of Maui.

Coroners Jury Holds Larsen Blameless.

Honolulu, December 30.—Bill Larsen, Jr., is cleared of blame, by the coroner's jury, in the matter of the death of Kaaihue. Kaaihue was drunk. He had for some time been drinking heavily. He engaged in a street fight and was abusing a smaller Hawaiian when Larsen, as a peacemaker, interfered. Kaaihue turned upon Larsen, whereupon Larsen struck him and sent him to the ground. Last night the jury returned this verdict, that Kaaihue "come to his death from cerebral hemorrhage and fracture of the skull, the result of a fall caused by a blow struck by said William Larsen, Jr., in self defense, while said Kaaihue was attempting to strike said Larsen."

The contract of agreement between the United States and the Territory of Hawaii for a topographical survey of the Islands and the making of a series of maps of Hawaii has been signed and a force of ten men from the geological survey is already on the way to Hawaii to take up the work. The agreement was signed in Washington on December 7 by George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey.

Hawaii has a new county building into which the County officers moved this week.

TUBERCULOSIS HEADS THE DEATH ROLL

Land Fraud Gang May Get Pinchott's Scalp... Observatory in Kaimuki is Assured... Senator Perkins is Hurt.

(SPECIAL TO THE MAUI NEWS.)
Sugar 96 deg. test 4.02 Beets 12s. 9d.

HONOLULU, January 7.—The Alexander Black is reported by the returning Captain in a bad position on a Maui reef and no hope is entertained of saving her. The crew has been discharged here.

Doctor Gaspar whose application for a medical license was refused three years ago returned with the last batch of immigrants and his friends are sending threatening letters to the board of examiners.

The observatory at Kaimuki is assured. Several cases of diphtheria are reported in town.

Thirteen deaths from tuberculosis took place here last month.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—Pinchott, in a letter to Dolliver says Glavis was right in making charges against Ballenger and should not have been discharged.

The cabinet meeting was hurriedly called and it is believed that something is going to happen to Pinchott. He has since written that he furnished no charges at any time and that assistant foresters Shaw and Price made them.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 7.—Nelson and Wolgast meet to fight on February 22nd.

Senator Perkins fell on the ice and is seriously injured.

HONOLULU, January 6.—Robbins Anderson is recommended for the supreme bench.

Dr. Walters in an auto had a smash up yesterday. There was no serious injury.

The liquor men will aid the authorities in ferreting out those who are adulterating booze.

Babbitt will leave on the China.

HONOLULU, January 6.—It is rumored that A. G. M. Robertson has a very slim chance for the federal judgeship and that Judge Robinson may not be recommended, when his term expires, to succeed himself in the Circuit Court.

WASHINGTON, January 6.—Congress will try to decide why the cost of living is too high. Senators Crawford and Elkins introduced a resolution to that effect yesterday.

ST. PETERSBURG, January 6.—The foreign office has received a communication from the United States suggesting that the Manchurian roads be neutralized. The plan contemplates the sale of the roads to China.

WASHINGTON, January 6.—The insurgents are after Cannon and not Taft.

SALT LAKE, January 6.—The governor has notified the interested parties that the fight between Jeffries and Johnson can not take place in Utah.

HONOLULU, January 5.—It was proven in court that Rawlins' daughter is not restrained of her liberty but remains away from her husband of her own accord.

Paia Defeats Puunene

Fast Game of Tennis on New Years.

A most exciting game of tennis was played at Paia on New Years day which resulted in a score of one hundred and sixty four points for Paia to one hundred and thirty three for Puunene.

The game was for points and was what is called a round robin. By this game each pair of players on each side played each pair of players on the other side.

There was a large crowd to witness the game. Many visitors from Puunene, Kahului, Wailuku and other centers of population were present to witness the game.

The players were:

Paia
Rosecrans
Foster
Collins
Mellor
Turner
Taylor
Lindsay
Rice

These constitute the pick of Maui at tennis.

Young Couple Marry

Miss Peplowski and Mr Skaug Wed.

A very pretty home wedding occurred at the residence of John Nelson Wednesday afternoon in the marriage of Miss Sophia Elinor Peplowski and Mr. Rangvald Skaug of Kahului. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Theodore A. Waltrip of Kahului.

After a few days in the city of Honolulu the young couple will return to Kahului, and be at home to their friends in the Kahului Club House.

H. Benneson has secured license to conduct a first class Hotel in Kahului, and will convert the present Club House into such use.

The ladies of Kahului Union church met with Mrs. Waltrip on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Quite a little excitement prevails over the wrecked Alexander Black near the village.

It was noted by many that there was more apparent evidence of drinking among the Japanese on New Year's day this year than usual and less among all other classes.

THE MAUI NEWS

ntered at the Post Office at Wailuku, Maui, Hawaii, as second-class matter.

A Republican Paper Published in the Interest of the People Issued Every Saturday.

Maui Publishing Company, Limited. Proprietors and Publishers

SUBSCRIPTION RATES, IN ADVANCE $2.50 per Year, $1.50 Six Months

Hugh M. Coke. Editor and Manager

SATURDAY, JANUARY 8, 1910

Prosperous Farmers. Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department calls 1909 "the most prosperous of all years" for the farmers of the United States...

We hear a great deal less of hay, because it does not figure in the speculative market, but it comes fourth on the list. The value of this year's hay crop to the farmers of the country is no less than $665,000,000...

Among other products of the farm that help to swell the grand total are beets and cane for sugar and molasses, $95,000,000; barley, $88,000,000; flaxseed, $36,000,000, and rice, $25,000,000.

The result of an investigation carried on in fifty cities into the beef question will be a surprise to most people. The farmers, according to Secretary Wilson, have not shared equally with the packers and the retailers in the upward movement of beef prices...

In view of the general showing it would be difficult for the American agriculturist to find reasonable excuse for complaint. For the present, at all events, he must concede that if anybody is privileged to find fault it must be the consumer.

Custom House Frauds. There is a persistent demand for a congressional investigation of the sugar frauds. To this President Taft, his cabinet advisers and many prominent members of his party are opposed.

Beyond giving the disgraceful facts additional exposure and wider publicity—an outcome whereof the moral influence would be questionable—there is nothing that a congressional investigation could accomplish that will not be accomplished more expeditiously and thoroughly by the prosecutions now in progress or by those to follow in the ordinary process of law.

Call the Bluff. The Hawaiian Star of January 3rd says editorially: "Senator Coelho is out with the usual bluff about the 'Hawaiian vote' and the old-time warning that it is likely to put the Republican party out of business in the next election unless certain steps are taken to conciliate."

"The community has had enough of this sort of threat. It is perhaps time to see what there is in it. We do not think that Kuhio is the whole party and if what Coelho calls the 'Hawaiian vote' thinks he is, the rest of the party may as well know it. There are worse things for political parties than being beaten in a campaign. One such thing would be to be led by Coelho. Another would be to accept his insulting threats and pusillanimously do his bidding in order to get the 'Hawaiian vote.'"

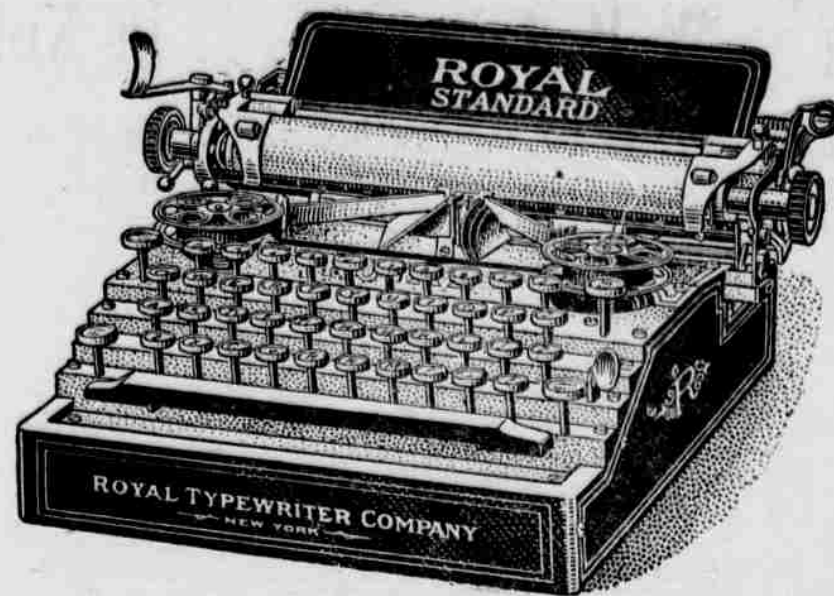

What to Forget. If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget all the slander you have ever heard. Forget the temptations. Forget the fault finding, and give a little thought to the cause which provoked it.

ROYAL TYPEWRITER R

$67.50

INCLUDING BASEBOARD AND METAL COVER

You can Pay more but

You can not Buy more

THE ROYAL STANDARD TYPEWRITER IS THE EQUAL IN EVERY RESPECT OF ANY ONE HUNDRED DOLLAR TYPEWRITER ON THE MARKET

KAHULUI STORE

Twenty-three Applicants

Think Babbitts Shoes Would Fit Them.

Honolulu, January 5.—Twenty-three is the mystic numeral that Governor Frear is contemplating since his return from the mainland. That is the exact number of candidates for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, vice Winfred Babbitt, who has joined the forces of the Labor Bureau of the Planters' Association.

Before the return of Governor Frear candidates were scarce but they have budded forth in luxuriance and numbers since the Chief Executive of the Territory has returned to occupy his new office in the capitol building.

The announcement of the Governor this morning that there were twenty-three candidates for the place came as a surprise even to those who expected that a large number of nominations were being made that had not yet gained publicity through the executive office and other sources, Charles King, school inspector, and Charles Baldwin are only two of the twenty-three candidates for Babbitt's job who have courted publicity.

That Baldwin will be the one man selected from the twenty-three men and women who consider themselves available is becoming a more or less general opinion among those who have an idea of the expressed predilection of the Governor in regard to the selection of a successor to Babbitt, Baldwin has a strong degree of support among the principals and it is believed probable that he will be named as the man for the place.

King is also looked upon as a strong candidate from among the aspiring twenty-three, and while their names have not been given out by the Governor and the candidacy of the majority is shrouded in more or less secrecy, it is known that the names run the gamut of the personnel of the department and a few from outside sources.

The Thetis is off shore near the bell buoy not far from Paia.

Criticise the Governor

Bulletin and Star Take Issue With Frear.

That the MAUI NEWS is not the only paper in the islands which feels that Governor Frear is not above criticism may be seen from the following editorial which appeared in the Hawaiian Star of December 28th.

Governor Frear paying a fine of $400 to travel here on a foreign steamer because there is no American steamer to bring him, is powerful spectacular argument for suspension of the coastwise shipping regulations. In one way it is rather an absurd spectacle,—an American governor deliberately violating a law of his own government and agreeing to pay the fine."

The Evening Bulletin says editorially on the same date.

It is ridiculous indeed that the Governor of the Territory of Hawaii should pay four hundred dollars for the privilege of traveling on a foreign ship.

Also it is not true that no American steamship offered on which the Governor of the Territory might make his trip home within a reasonable time.

That makes the four hundred dollars grand stand flubdub all the more ridiculous.

By waiting three days the Governor could have traveled on an American steamship and arrived in this city on January 7, whereas by paying four hundred dollars he travels in "gilded luxury" under the Japanese flag and gains three days.

There is no telling what remarkably important matters may be calling the Governor back with such extreme haste. From all indications, locally, there is nothing on the boards that could not wait. Surely the Territory is not justified in paying one hundred dollars a day to gain three more days of the Chief Executive's time, though always glad to have him at home.

If intended as a spectacular move, the four-hundred-dollar-line trip is a fizzle. It will not have the slightest effect on San Francisco or Congress.

If it has the virtue of necessity, there must be something very exciting going on of which the peaceful citizens of Honolulu know nothing. Indeed, "Hell must be popping."

To Examine Liquors

Liquor Dealers Offer Assistance.

The Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association have offered to pay the cost of all chemical tests asked for by the liquor license board of Honolulu or desired by the chemist appointed by the board in order to bring to justice the retailers and others who are selling poison as liquors.

It is claimed in Honolulu that the offenders are Orientals and it is urged that none but reliable citizens be given licenses to deal in this line of business.

The following letter has been sent to the Secretary Long of the Board of License Commissioners: "Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of this Association held on the 4th instant, the following resolution was duly passed—

"In view of the recent criticisms as to the purity of the wines and liquors handled in this Territory, the Board of Directors of this Association ask the Board of License Commissioners to appoint a competent chemist acceptable to both parties to obtain and examine samples of the various liquors and wines handled by the different licensees in this Territory, the charge of said chemist to be borne by this Association, said chemist to take samples from time to time as the Board of License Commissioners may direct, or he may see fit."

"In case your honorable Board desires our cooperation in the matter we shall be glad to confer with you at any time that may be convenient to you.

Very respectfully, "R. J. RUCHLY, Secretary Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association of Hawaii, Incorporated."

Time Table--Kahului Railroad Co.

The following schedule will go into effect July 1st, 1909.

Table with columns for CLASS, STATIONS, and times. Rows include Kahului, Paunene, Wailuku, Spreckelsville, Paia, and Kahului with various departure and arrival times.

Kahului Railroad Co.

AGENTS FOR ALEXANDER & BALDWIN, LTD.; ALEXANDER & BALDWIN, LTD., Line of Sailing Vessels between San Francisco and Hawaiian Ports; AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN STEAMSHIP CO.

THE HENRY WATERHOUSE TRUST CO. Ltd

BUYS AND SELLS—REAL ESTATE, STOCKS & BONDS
WRITES FIRE AND LIFE INSURANCE
NEGOTIATES LOANS AND MORTGAGES
SECURES INVESTMENTS

A List of High Grade Securities mailed on application
CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED

HONOLULU, HAWAII P. O. Box 346

Best quality for the money

That's what you can depend on when you deal with us. Our departments are always well stocked with the best and freshest of goods. We mean just what we say. Call at our store and be convinced that you can save time and money by dealing with us.

THE LAHAINA STORE

Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes,
Plantation Supplies, etc.
LAHAINA, MAUI.

We Sell These.
You want the best. Are you ready for it this season?
We are prepared as never before to meet your wants in vehicles and harness. There is nothing superior to what we are showing. In taste, style and service. Absolute honesty in make and price. You will agree when we tell you
IT'S THE FAMOUS Studebaker Line WE CARRY.
No matter what you want—if it's a harness or something that runs on wheels, we've got it or will quickly get it.
Come in and figure with us. Everybody knows the place.
DAN T. CAREY
WAILUKA, MAUI, T. H.
P. S. The Studebaker nameplate on a vehicle is its guarantee. Don't forget this.

Your Disposition

will be sweetened by getting into a pair of these COLLEGE Broad toe, Bar or Ox.

The quality of these shoes backed against anything made and sold at $4.00 and we mean every word of it. We sell them at $4.00 and the man who buys them gets more than he ordinarily expects.

We have them in both high and low, in Tan, Russia and Black Vici.

Add 25 cents for Freight.

MANUFACTURER'S SHOE COMPANY, Ltd.

1051 FORT STREET, HONOLULU.

SUMMER SPORTS

Are you all ready for the good times you are going to have this Summer? If it's Tennis, keep in mind the fine assortment of Rackets we have from $2.50 to $10.00 each and the Slazinger and W. & D. Balls as well as Nets, Tapes, etc.

If it's Baseball, just remember that we have the complete SPALDING line and also have as complete a line of lower priced baseball goods. Our sporting goods and athletic supply stock is now most complete and you can get nearly everything you need on short notice.

Let us send you catalogues and prices.

E. O. HAL & SON, Ltd.

HONOLULU.

Telegraphic News.

(SPECIAL TO THE MAUI NEWS.)

Sugar 96 deg. test 4.02 Beets 12s. 6d.

HONOLULU, January 4.—Viggo Jacobsen is another victim of alcohol. He died yesterday.

The Advertiser says it was resignations that brought Frear home in a hurry.

W. H. Bailey, once a sugar planter of Hawaii, is dead in Los Angeles.

Ada Rawlins, who secretly married a soldier on New Year's eve and deserted him is the cause of a writ issued yesterday compelling her father and brother to produce her in court. She is twenty five years old and says she was married against her will and was met while attending a moving picture show and taken to a house in Waikiki from which she was almost immediately taken with her consent by her father.

Robertson and Pratt are said to be slated for appointments. Judge Dole awarded the steamer Cummings $3183 salvage in the Manchuria case.

WASHINGTON, January 4.—The Supreme Court decides that sake is a wine for tariff purposes.

NEW YORK, January 4. The manufacturers urge Congress to pass the ship subsidy bill.

NEW YORK, January 4.—Morgan, Ryan and Morton have merged their interests. The total capital involved is $150,000,000.

HILO, January 1.—The Mauna Kea excursion arrived at 7 a. m. There was a concert and dancing on the steamer. The bells were rung and whistles were blown at midnight.

One hundred and thirty-five persons went to the crater. The volcano was active and the display was splendid.

The races were a failure as the people were disgusted.

HONOLULU, January 2.—Kaoo beat Tsukamoto by a good margin and was first at the finish. Sullivan beat Ayres in the mile walk.

Some of the Filipino laborers claim to have been misted by Pinkham and want to return. Mead turns them down and they call on Hemenway.

Rubber men are encouraged by a boom in the industry. A six year old boy was found drunk in the room of Martin Ryan over the Territorial stables. He was taken to the hospital and will recover.

The holy rollers hold enthusiastic meetings nightly at Hotel and Fort streets.

WASHINGTON, January 3.—The senatorial special committee, which is investigating the canal work, reports satisfactory progress.

COLON, January 3.—Bryan is passing through on a tour of inspection of the canal property.

LOS ANGELES, January 3.—Communication between this city and the outside has been resumed. Traffic on all lines to the East is seriously affected.

PEKING, January 3.—The Government sent word to Portugal yesterday that China would not submit the question concerned in the Macau railway controversy to the Hague for arbitration as requested by Portugal.

More Industrial Schools Wanted.

Arthur D. Dean of New York, who was one of the speakers at the recent meeting in Milwaukee, Wis., of the Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, presented the question from an angle that is not usual in such discussion. He held industrial education to be of vital interest to trade unions and manufacturers alike. The state, if it will, he said, can develop a plan of procedure that will enlist the cooperation of both employer and employee. Organized labor, he insisted, will not deny the utmost opportunity to its own children through industrial training "if labor can have confidence that what is to be done will be free from selfish exploitation and rest upon a careful educational footing and be guided by the common advantage of all the interests concerned."

He went on to declare that industrial education is but one phase of a growing recognition of labor's rights and privileges, and in this respect is closely related to the trades union movement. The latter has stood for a better living wage, for better factory conditions and for better restrictions of child labor. Organized labor, he said, has always been concerned with the welfare of all influences that make for the well-being of the industrial workers of the country. And he concluded: "To the extent that industrial education has the welfare of industrial workers and their children at heart, organized labor stands ready to support any public movement looking toward the establishment of sound and thorough industrial education."

Other speakers, representatives of different schools of thought and different lines of activity, spoke in the same encouraging vein, and Dr. Jesse D. Burks rather fittingly capped the discussion by declaring at Bee Vaccinator For Rheumatism.

London, Oct. 13—A bee vaccinator or an instrument by which bees may be applied to the cure of rheumatism, was among the novelties at the exhibition of the Surrey Beekeepers' Association at the Crystal Palace.

Beekeepers, it has been observed are either altogether immune from rheumatism or the complaint speedily disappears after they have received a few stings.

"The only difficulty has been in applying the bee stings to the victim of rheumatism," explained F. B. White, the secretary. "The chances were, until the invention of the bee vaccinator, that those conducting the operation would receive the stings instead of the patient."

"The bee vaccinator is secured to a little platform resembling the lid of a box, which is put over the hole of a hive. A little honey is put outside the perforated zinc slide and the bees readily enter the vaccinator. The slides are then shut, thus imprisoning the bees in the vaccinator, which can be safely sent through the post. The operation is performed by placing the vaccinator on the part where the pain is most felt and gently pressing down a little knob at the top until the bees sting."

its close: "What is needed now is not more work, but more works; not more ideas, but more experiment; not more conferences, but more industrial schools; not more publications, but more boys and girls with adequate equipment for industrial pursuits."

That is to say, the matter has been thoroughly thrashed out. At last the country seems ready to turn from the too theoretical to the reasonably practical in popular education. The need of industrial education is recognized on all sides. Now for the industrial schools.

MAUI PUBLISHING CO., LIMITED.

FINE JOB PRINTING
BOOK BINDING AND PAPER RULING

GENERAL PLANTATION WORK A SPECIALTY

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE
MAUI NEWS
THE PAPER THAT ADVANCES
THE INTERESTS OF MAUI

POST OFFICE BOX 5 TELEPHONE NO. 319
HIGH STREET, WAILUKU, MAUI COUNTY.

Just Enough

Many people need nourishment and Stout is recommended by very prominent physicians. For this particular trade we have imported it in half-pints, just enough and no more. No waste. We have also just received a consignment of Lexington Club Whiskey in bulk and in bottles. There is none better.

Maui Wine & Liquor Co.

A NEW FRAME MAKES A NEW PICTURE

Let us re-frame yours. Large assortment of latest designs in picture moulding just received per S. S. Hyades.

All kinds of picture framing done at reasonable rates.

Kahului Store.

Fresh Roasted Peanuts
always on hand

Orders taken for Ice Cream,
Fruits, Nuts and Cigars.
Ice Cold Drinks

H. OKAMURA
Market Street, Wailuku.

ELECTRICIAN AND MECHANIC
Photography interests everybody. A BUREAU of PHOTOGRAPHERS teaches beautiful pictures, month by month, complete, picture children, curious and novel. Sample copy free if you mention this paper. American Photography Bureau, Boston, Mass.

AMERICAN PHOTOGRAPHY

Progress of the South

Makes Greater Progress Than Any Other Section.

The facts with reference to southern development contained in a bulletin issued by the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore under date of Dec. 2, leave no room for doubt with regard to the steady progress of the South. Adjectives and superlatives might be indulged in freely and excusably in connection with some of the evidences of prosperity in Dixie, but the plain figures are eloquent and impressive enough. Just a few examples: The population of the South has increased since 1880 from 16,369,960 to 27,437,809—a gain of 11,067,849, or 67.6 per cent; and in that time, also, using round figures, the value of property has grown from $7,000,000,000 to $21,000,000,000; capital in manufacturing from $257,000,000 to $2,000,000,000; value of manufactured products from $157,000,000 to $2,675,000,000; value of products of the soil from $660,000,000 to $2,500,000,000; aggregate resources of national banks from $171,400,000 to $1,777,000,000; capital of national banks from $46,600,000 to $168,250,000; deposits in state savings and private banks from $83,400,000 to $624,000,000.

All these advances are not, perhaps, equal to those made in some other sections of the country, but many of the gains in the South will compare favorably with those made in sections that have developed most rapidly. Details are not entered into here, but some of them deserve special mention, as, for instance, the tremendous strides that the South has made in mineral and oil production. In the production of coal alone the gain in twenty years has been equal to 1271.9 per cent.

In railroad construction, in city building, in all manner of material improvement, the South has kept pace with the rest of the country, notwithstanding the handicaps from which it suffered at the beginning of its prosperity; and one of the pleasantest items in the summary of its achievements is the fact that the expenditures on its common schools have increased in the last two decades from $9,796,040 to $44,035,732, or by $34,239,692, equal to 349.5 per cent.

Rentoul Points Out

Lives Fourteen Mistakes.

Judge Rentoul of the City of London court, in addressing the members of the Bartholomew club at Anderson's hotel in Fleet street on "The Fourteen Mistakes of Life," said pathetically: "I think I have the greatest fitness for speaking on this subject, because I have committed every one of them." And this was the list he gave:

To expect to set up our own standard of right and wrong, and expect everybody to conform to it.

To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.

Not to yield in unimportant trifles.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

ALLOWANCE FOR WEAKNESSES

To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate if we can all that needs alleviation.

Not to make allowances for the weaknesses of others.

To consider anything impossible that we cannot ourselves perform.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

To live as if the moment, the time, the day, were so important that it would live forever.

To estimate people by some outside quality, for it is that within which makes the man.

Japanese Purchase

Land in Brazil.

Just below Cape Frio; not forty miles from Rio de Janeiro, there is a large tract of land, once a big fazenda, that was recently purchased by a Japanese syndicate for colonizing purposes. The syndicate stands high in mining, transportation and other enterprises at home and its purchase of Brazilian farming land may be taken to indicate a revival of Japan's Latin-American policy, notwithstanding the pronounced failures of her past colonizing ventures in Brazil. Many reasons have been assigned for these failures, an important one being the stand taken by the Brazilian coffee planters against the introduction of Japanese methods. The present scheme includes rice culture on a large scale, for which the purchased fazenda is to a large extent adapted; but other cereals will also be cultivated. Owing to the proximity of Rio de Janeiro, which can be easily reached from Cape Frio by the Leopoldina railroad, market gardening on a large scale is planned by the syndicate, and in view of the exceptional prices for vegetables in the capital, there should be in this good returns. Of course the syndicate expects to introduce into Brazil several of the products largely grown in Japan, such as vanilla.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

Competition with other colonists seems to be unimportant except on the fishing grounds in the immediate neighborhood of the proposed colony. These are of exceptional importance and the monopoly there has hitherto been held by Portuguese fishermen. But this circumstance serves to bring out the nature of the position that the Japanese colonists will occupy in Brazil. There is no bar to the mingling of races and the Mongolians are welcome to contribute to the stock of future Brazil. If this is an inducement for Japanese surplus population to settle in that great country, where they are apparently welcome, there is no reason why they should not in time, perhaps in a relatively short time, draw after them an element capable of rising to a commanding position politically. The presence of a large negro and mulatto population in many parts of Brazil, as well as a considerable remnant of aboriginal Indians, and the attitude of the settlers of Portuguese descent toward both, have led some observers to detect in Brazilian conditions the incipient stage of a caste system, somewhat similar, from a racial point of view, to that of India. In such a compact Japanese element might reasonably be expected to attain great power through monopolizing certain fields of activity, as, for instance, the army and navy, while the Mongolian's inability or refusal to detach himself definitely from the mother country would bring a factor into South American affairs that might make the Monroe doctrine look out of date. How rapidly such matters are apt to develop can be seen from the history of Japanese labor in Hawaii and Chinese immigration into Peru and other Latin-American regions. It would seem that there never was a more urgent call than at this time for the development of large American interests among the Latins of the western hemisphere.

The President

in the Bowery.

It is questionable if in the entire round of his traveling and his speech-making President Taft was ever before confronted by an audience that called for more careful consideration than that to which he was presented in a mission of the New York Bowery district. It would have been an easy thing, under the circumstances, to have sermonized, but the President displayed better judgment and more delicacy than this would have called for, and remembered that he was President of the whole people, irrespective of class or possessions.

That the nation's chief should appear in person before such an audience with a message of encouragement and good cheer is not without its significance. It can hardly fail to effect its subtle uplift. "I am glad to be here," said President Taft, "if by being here and saying so I can convince you that the so-called chasm between you and those who seem for the time being to be more fortunate is not so much of a chasm after all, and that there is between them and you a deep feeling of sympathy on their part and an earnest desire that you shall have that equality of opportunity, of getting on your feet, of earning a decent livelihood and supporting your families, which we hope every man who lives under the stars and stripes enjoys."

It may seem to the cynical a far cry from the Bowery mission lodging house to anything that is entitled to be classed as opportunity, but very certain it is that the distance is not shortened by doubt or by pessimism. If it is ever to be covered it will be in the light and under the spur of kindly and hopeful words from those in a position to lead.

Where is the Promotion Committee.

A sketch of "The New Hawaii" in the Pacific Monthly for November tells how three reverend dames of the old nobility of the island came to pay fealty to the governor. Dressed in the white trailing robe that is the ordinary dress of the Hawaiian women, they waited for an audience. Each clasped firmly in hand two small paper bags. They smiled brightly at new comers, full of good cheer. Presently the office door opened and they were ushered into the presence of Gov. Walter F. Frear, who gave them the native greeting, "Aloha." There the bags were presented to him with due ceremony and proved to contain eggs and limes. These were tribute to their ruler and their coming so indicated that at last they had laid aside their old enmity and accepted voluntarily the white man as chief. When the people in old times were received in audience by their king or chief they gave him such little offerings as the women bring today to the American governor.

NOT SO BAD.

The Rev. Dr. Ritchie of Edinburgh, though a way clever man, once met his match. When examining a student as to the classes he attended, he said, according to the Argonaut:

"I understand you attend the class for mathematics?" "Yes."

"How many sides has a circle?" "Two," said the student. "Indeed! What are they?"

What a laugh in the court the student's answer produced when he promptly said:

"An inside and an outside."

The doctor next inquired: "And you attend the moral philosophy class, also?" "Yes." "Well, you doubtless heard lectures on various subjects. Did you ever hear one on cause and effect?" "Yes." "Does an effect ever go before a cause?" "Yes." "Give me an instance."

"A barrow wheeled by a man." The doctor hastily sat down and reposed no more questions.

Details of Olaa's

New Issue of Bonds.

Two million five hundred thousand dollars' worth of new bonds are to be issued by the Olaa plantation. Notices were sent out yesterday calling a meeting of stockholders for the purpose of arranging for the new issue.

Of the two and a half million dollars secured through the bond issue, $1,250,000 will be used to refund the present bonded indebtedness and the remainder will be expended in liquidating the floating debt due Bishop & Co., the agents for the plantation.

It is understood that Bishop & Co. have formed a syndicate of local and California capitalists who will underwrite the entire issue of $2,500,000. The next interest payment due on the present bond issue falls on February 1. On that date, according to the terms under which the outstanding bonds were issued, they may be taken up by the company. This will be done and at that time the entire issue now outstanding will be refunded.

The meeting of stockholders is called at this time in order to make the arrangements necessary to retire the bonds promptly.

The present bond holders will either receive bonds of the new issue in place of those which they now hold, or will be paid in cash, as they may elect.—Bulletin.

Hawaiian Survey

Begun by Nation.

Fond Du Lac, Wis.—H. L. McDonald, a former Fond du Lac newspaper man, who has been identified with the United States geological survey, has just been ordered to make a survey of one of the principal islands of the Hawaiian group. The work will take about five months. This is the first work the department has ordered on the Hawaiian islands and it is likely to be the beginning of extensive operations.

A HAPPY LAND FOR PROFESSORS.

German is the happy land of the professor. Nowhere else does he receive such consideration. Imagine an humble member of a college faculty playing the haughty role which is attributed to one of the famous professors at Heidelberg.

One day the authorities of that city ordered that the street in front of the professor's house should be paved.

"If you don't stop that noise," remarked the professor to the pavers, "I shall give up my position as a member of the Heidelberg faculty."

The pavers stepped work at once. The municipal authorities sent round to inquire respectfully of the professor when they might pave the street.

"When I take my vacation," he replied.

Then, and then only, was the street paved.

FAULTY SAYING.

"I suppose there is a good deal of truth in the saying that a woman is always as old as she looks."

"I don't think so. I've found out by inquiring that most of them are a good deal younger."

CENTRAL SALOON

MARKET STREET, WAILUKU

ANTONE BORBA, Prop.

Full line of popular brands of WINES, LIQUORS, CORDIALS, BRANDIES, WHISKIES, GINS

Celebrated Primo & Seattle Bottled Beer

25c 2 Glasses 25c

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF WAILUKU

Chas. M. Cooke, President
D. H. Case, 2nd Vice-President
C. D. Lufkin, Cashier

W. T. Robinson, 1st Vice-President
R. A. Wadsworth, Director
A. Aalberg, Auditor

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and Discounts	$140,045.53	Capital Stock	$ 35,000.00
Bonds	34,730.00	Surplus and Profits	26,403.63
United States Bonds	25,000.00	Circulation	23,997.50
Premium on U. S. Bonds	400.00	Dividends Unpaid	1,400.00
Cash and Due from Banks	72,049.78	Depositors	193,124.18
Banking House, Furniture, etc.	6,450.00
5% Redemption Fund	1,250.00
	$279,925.31		$279,925.31

E. & O. E.
C. D. LUFKIN, Cashier.

TERRITORY OF HAWAII, }
COUNTY OF MAUI, }
I, C. D. Lufkin, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

C. D. LUFKIN, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2nd day of July, 1909.
H. M. COKE, Notary Public Sec. Jud. Circuit.

The Alcohol in beer is a trifle—less than 3 per cent in Primo Beer.

The effective ingredients are barley and hops—a food and a tonic.

Every doctor knows how beer benefits. If you need more strength or vitality he will prescribe good beer.

The best beer to drink in Hawaii is

PRIMO The Beer that's Brewed to Suit the Climate.

Kodaks==Cameras

WE HAVE THEM IN ALL SIZES

EASTMAN FILMS and PREMO FILM PACKS

Put up in Tin Tubes to protect them from the tropical weather.

Seed, Hammer and Cramer Plates

HONOLULU PHOTO SUPPLY CO.

"EVERYTHING PHOTOGRAPHIC"

MORTGAGEE'S NOTICE OF INTENTION TO FORECLOSE AND OF SALE.

Notice is hereby given that under the power of sale contained in Mortgage dated September 19, 1908, from Louisa Mossman and W. L. Mossman, of Wailuku, Maui, to H. Streubeck, of said Wailuku, of record in Liber 309 Pages 237-239, Registry of Conveyances of Honolulu, the owner and holder thereof intends to foreclose same, and sell said mortgaged property because of non-payment of principal and interest due on the promissory note secured thereby.

The above mortgage was given to secure payment of a promissory note for two hundred and fifty dollars, of even date therewith, payable one year after date, executed by said Louisa Mossman and W. L. Mossman to said H. Streubeck or order.

NOTICE IS LIKEWISE GIVEN

that, after the expiration of three weeks from date of first publication of this notice, to-wit, on Monday, January 10th, 1910, at twelve o'clock noon of said day, said mortgaged property, for the reasons above stated, will be sold at public auction at the front entrance to the Court-house, in Wailuku, County of Maui, Territory of Hawaii

Use RED SEAL CARBONS for your TYPEWRITER

IT IS THE BEST

SOLD ONLY BY

Office Supply Co. of Honolulu or Merchandise Department, K. R. R. Co.

Locals and Personals

H. M. Coke of Wailuku wants your insurance business.

A. B. Campian of Hilo is spending a vacation on Maui where he was employed for a number of years at Kihei and at Lahaina. He is registered at the Maui Hotel.

Maui was visited by another thunderstorm and a heavy down pour Tuesday evening.

On February 5th a great herd of Elks will leave Salt Lake City for Los Angeles San Francisco and Honolulu. They are booked on the Alameda to leave February 12th. It is reported that the Elks have bought up every berth on the Alameda and no one not an Elk will be permitted as a passenger on that trip.

A Portuguese man who had gone to Kona in the hope of improving his health died suddenly Monday evening on board the Mauna Loa while sitting on a chair in his stateroom. He was suffering with tuberculosis and was evidently in the last stages of the disease when he went aboard.

Mrs. Rodriguez, formerly of Honolulu has opened dressmaking parlors in the Tam Yau Block, Makawao. Patronage invited.

Because of the switchmen's strike on the railroads of the Northwest, the congestion of freight along the lines has so tangled up business that it is hard for agents to tell which is switch.

Citizens of the rural districts of Arkansas are reported to be so prosperous that they will not accept positions as postmasters in fourth class offices. They would rather be men of wealth than men of letters.

A Korean was found dead in the Wai-mea stream last week, having evidently been swept to his death by a freshet while he was trying to cross it. His horse was also found. It was still alive.—Hilo Tribune.

The Puunene avenue macadamizing is completed and the road thrown open to travel. The drive is the finest on Maui and will be enjoyed by thousands of people.

Walter R. Shaw is back from Cuba. He is enjoying good health and is much pleased to be again on Maui, where he first made his home in 1878. Mrs. Shaw is at their home in Honolulu.

Manager W. F. Cole of the Kaupakalua Wine & Liquor Co. was in town Monday. He was driving his new auto, which is one of the strongest and best cars on the market for out of town people.

The year 1909 is reported to be "the best ever" for the farmers of the United States, the value of the season's farm products being well toward $9,000,000,000. It is not surprising to learn that soil with the energy to raise such crops is also reported to be lifting the farm mortgages at a rapid rate.

The Wailuku Auto Company wants your business. We have good cars and careful drivers.

ANTONE DO REGO, Manager.

Poet William Watson's statement regarding the original of his pen picture, "The Woman With the Serpent's Tongue," makes it seem probable that in starting on his present trip to America he did not buy a round trip ticket.

A row among some Market street Japs resulted in an overturned table on which was a lamp. Miguel Paresa, who was passing the house, rushed in and threw out the Japs.

A New York judge has decided that a hotel guest can give up his room to a friend and the hotel managers cannot eject the latter therefrom. This means that a guest owns the hotel quarters for which he has paid his dollars.

No doubt the Michigan furniture factory that is making a new chair for President Taft will be perfectly willing to trade it even for the old one that has been doing duty in the White House.

Muritaki paid twenty dollars fine and three dollars costs into Court Monday for beating a dog most cruelly on Sunday. He broke two of the animal's legs and then went off and left the dog to suffer.

The man who reads the "funny column" And keeps his face serene and solemn. You may be sure is not the one Who's ever tried to write "for fun." For if he had he'd know how hard It is to make it by the yard; A something that would make him laugh.

Louis Halverson paid ten dollars Monday into the district court for assault on Antone Perji, a fellow sailor on the Makaweli, while Perji contributed three dollars for being drunk.

Quality counts. A mayoralty record may serve as a stepping stone to the presidency or it may turn out to be a stumbling block. All of which is worthy of being dwelt upon just now by Boston's mayoralty aspirants.

At a meeting of the Trustees of Kaahumanu Church on Monday afternoon it was voted that Rev. Lincoln B. Kaunehiwa should occupy the Parsonage of the Church recently vacated by Editor Hugh M. Coke.

At the Japanese Church on the last Sunday of 1909, Rev. Mr. Dodge baptized into the membership of the Church six young people, three men and three women.

Mrs. James Cornwell of Waikapu was taken to the Malulani Hospital this week.

Maunaloa Seminary and Lahainaluna school opened last Monday after the holidays.

On Friday of last week the young women who are students at Maunaloa Seminary entertained their young friends from the Lahainaluna and other boys' schools with some of the young men from Wailuku at a very pleasant evening's entertainment at the Alexander Home. There were about forty people present, and a very merry evening it was. Games and music were much enjoyed by all present until half-past ten, when the party broke up with "Aloha Oe". Miss Tai Moi E. Ting was chairman of the evening's entertainment. Delicious ice cream, home-made candy and cake were served.

A neat Church Calendar was printed by the News office for the Wailuku Union Church last week. The Calendar contained the usual order of public service, the names of the officers of the Church, special committees and a page of Church notes. It is the intention of the Trustees of the Church to publish the Calendar every quarter.

The First National Bank of Wailuku and the Lahaina National Bank have sent to their many friends a neat financial statement that speaks much for the enterprise and good judgement of Cashier C. D. Lufkin and his corps of able assistants.

The heavy rains of this week have done many thousand of dollars worth of good and the residents of the dry section of Kula are rejoicing.

The Hawaiian people of Wailuku are fortunate in having chosen so earnest a Christian worker as Rev. B. K. Kaunehiwa. Kaahumanu church has not been the scene of so much religious activity for many years as under the guidance of this earnest leader.

O. J. Whitehead and family have moved into the Main street residence recently vacated by Dr. J. J. Carey. Mr. Whitehead is doing a good business with the Singer sewing machines of which he is the agent for Maui.

Dr. J. J. Carey leaves next Wednesday for Honolulu where he will open dental parlors and expects to make Honolulu his permanent home. In the few years that Dr. Carey was on Maui he won the confidence of the entire community. His work has an established reputation that is not excelled anywhere. He goes to Honolulu for a larger field and give his children better educational advantages.

S. S. Paxson, the Singer sewing machine man, paid Maui a business visit this week.

Billy Williamson the stock broker was on Maui this week. He wears a broad smile in contemplation of the great results of rubber in the near future.

A Rural manufacture duns his subscribers in the following novel manner: "All persons knowing themselves indebted to this concern are requested to call and settle. All those indebted to this concern and not knowing it are requested to call and find out. Those knowing themselves to be indebted and not wishing to call are requested to stay at one place long enough for us to reach them."—Harper's Weekly.

Kate Cornwell came up to Maui Tuesday.

Treat your wife as though she were a queen and that will help to make her one. Mrs. F. Harvy and two children came up on the Maunakea Tuesday.

You do not have to go to war to be patriotic. Improve your locality, uphold your town, enlarge its interests, and lend a hand to progress and you are a patriot, a lover of your country, a truly as the soldier who shoulders his musket.

Attorney James L. Coke of the law firm of Donthitt & Coke was in Wailuku Wednesday on legal business before Judge Selden B. Kingsbury. He returned Wednesday evening.

Miss Cleo Case returned to Honolulu last night where she is attending school at Punahou college.

H. Pereira returned to Honolulu Wednesday after spending a week on Maui.

On New Year's day the boys Company L. of Lahaina gave a luau to their friends under the banyan tree in the court yard. The spread was an excellent one and much enjoyed by all present, including about a dozen of young people from Wailuku. The next day the company turned out for drill under the command of Captain S. Kelinoini.

Miss Bissgard returned from Honolulu Tuesday.

A woman went into a newspaper office and wished to advertise for her husband who had disappeared. When told that they charged two dollars an inch she went out, saying it would break her up at that rate as her husband was over six feet long.

The Honolulu dailies have increased their advertising rates on the first of this month. As the cost of every thing else has increased as well as profits in all lines of business the advance is justified and as this step will make possible better papers the business community should lend their support.

The Virginian made port in Kahului Thursday and will leave Monday with sugar.

During the time of the wind squall from the north west Tuesday when the Alexander Black was in trouble at Paia the Makaweli, in Kahului harbor, which had been held up all morning by a southerly breeze, swung around and touched the reef with her starboard counter. The harbor master and pilot with the assistance of the Kahului Railroad Company's tug were engaged in getting her back into place at the time the Alexander Black went ashore.

Lothian Williams left last night for Punahou college to resume his studies there.

The Woman's Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd will hold its regular business meeting at the Rectory Wailuku, on Tuesday, Jan. 11th at 2:30 p. m.

The Christmas tree exercises at the Church of the Good Shepherd, of which by an oversight, mention was not made in our last issue was a most successful event and much credit is due Rev. Canon Ault and his corps of assistants for the Christmas cheer they brought to the many children present. Santa Claus came down the chimney in the good old style and distributed a profusion of appropriate presents to the many grateful little folks.

District Deputy Supreme Chancellor R. A. Wadsworth goes to Honokaa and Hilo next Tuesday to install the newly elected officers of the Knights of Pythias lodges on the big island.

Miss Rose E. Crook of Makawao is confined to her room by illness.

The Lansing came into Kahului Wednesday with a cargo of oil and sailed Thursday.

We owe it to the community in which we live to do everything we can in every way possible that will be to its advantage. Our neighbor's prosperity means a great deal more to us than someone's who lives elsewhere. We should bear this in mind in buying our goods. We can afford to pay our home man a firm price for his wares rather than send our money away, knowing as we do that every dollar our own citizen makes will help in sustaining our schools, churches and public institutions. It pays richly to patronize home industry.

FOR SALE.

A $185 Studebaker Buggy in good condition. Inquire of DR. J. H. FARRELL, Wailuku.

BALDWIN NATIONAL BANK.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baldwin National Bank will be held at the banking house in Kahului on Tuesday, the 11th day of January at 10 o'clock a. m.

D. C. LINDSAY, Cashier.

BY AUTHORITY.

SEALED TENDERS.

Sealed tenders will be received by the Superintendent of Public Works until 12 m. of Saturday, January 29, 1910, for laying the 6", 5", 4", 3" and 1 1/2" galvanized pipe for the Kula pipe line, Maui.

Plans, specifications and proposal blanks are on file in the office of the Department of Public Works, and may also be had on application from Mr. F. E. Harvey, Camp Olinda, Maui.

The Superintendent of Public Works reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

MARSTON CAMPBELL, Superintendent of Public Works, Honolulu, December 29, 1909. Jan. 8-15-22-29.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL PROPERTY.

In the Matter of the Estate of J. KAMA-MAKELE, late of Kamaole, Kula, Maui, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the order of the Honorable Selden B. Kingsbury, Judge of the Circuit Court of the Second Judicial Circuit of the Territory of Hawaii, at Chambers, in Probate, made and entered in said Court on the 13th day of December, A. D. 1909, in the matter of the Estate of J. Kamaokele, late of Kamaole, Kula, Maui, deceased, the undersigned Administrator of said Estate will offer for sale at public auction, and will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, at the front door of the Court House in the town of Wailuku, County of Maui, Territory of Hawaii, on Wednesday the 26th day of January 1910, at the hour of noon of said day, in parcels; all of the right, title and interest of the Estate of said deceased in and to those certain pieces, parcels or lots of land belonging to the estate of the said J. Kamaokele, deceased; and described as follows, to wit:

(1) All that certain piece or parcel of land situate at Mokaaka, Waihee, Maui, Royal Patent 5398, L. C. A. 4284 B. to Panahi, containing an area of 1.30-100 Acres.

(2) All that certain piece or parcel of land situate at Ahulua, Waiohuli, Kula, Maui, described as Apana 5, Royal Patent 6523, L. C. A. 5279 to Palekai, containing an area of 1.86-100 Acres.

(3) All those certain pieces or parcels of land situate at Honouliuli, Maui, described in Royal Patent 4177, L. C. A. 2581 to Haulii, Apana 1, 1-5 Acre, Apana 2, 9.96-100 Acres.

(4) All that certain piece or parcel of land situate at Keokea, Kula, Maui, described as Apana 1, Royal Patent 7540, L. C. A. 6417 to Kaio, containing an area of 3.14-100 Acres.

Terms of sale: Cash in U. S. Coin, sale subject to approval and confirmation by said Court. Deeds at the expense of purchasers. For further particulars apply to the undersigned at the office of Donthitt & Coke, Attorneys-at-Law, Rooms 308-9 McCandless Bldg., Honolulu, T. H.

Dated December 15th A. D. 1909. JAMES L. COKE, Administrator of the Estate of J. Kamaokele, deceased.

Dec. 18, 25, Jan. 1, 8, 15.

Who Handles Your Stocks and Bonds?

The Stockholders of the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., own a controlling interest in our Company. You know that means stability and reliability. We are members of the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange.

HAWAIIAN TRUST CO., LTD. HONOLULU

923 Fort St. P. O. Box 442

NOTICE.

Will all those who have accounts against me on the Island of Maui kindly leave same at the First National Bank of Wailuku, where arrangements will be made for monthly payments. FREDERIC J. CHURCH,

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Regular Annual Meeting of Stockholders of The Lahaina National Bank will be held at its Banking House in Lahaina, Maui, T. H. on Tuesday January 18th, 1910, at 7 o'clock P. M.

C. D. LUFKIN, Cashier.

Dec. 18, 25, Jan. 1, 8, 15.

LODGE MAUI, No. 984, A. F. & A. M.

Stated meetings will be held at Masonic Hall, Kahului, on the first Saturday night of each month at 7.30 P. M.

Visiting brethren are cordially invited to attend.

C. E. COPELAND R. W. M. BENJAMIN WILLIAMS, Secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Regular Annual Meeting of Stockholders of The First National Bank of Wailuku will be held at its Banking House, in Wailuku, on Tuesday January 18th, 1910, at 10 o'clock A. M.

C. D. LUFKIN, Cashier.

Dec. 18, 25, Jan. 1, 8, 15.

ALOHA LODGE NO. 3 KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Regular meetings will be held at the Knights of Pythias Hall, Wailuku, on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month.

All visiting members are cordially invited to attend. W. M. AULT, C. C. JOHN J. WALSH, K. OF R. & S.

CRYSTAL WHITE SOAP

Best for the home laundry. White; there is no rosin in it. Hard; lasts longer than common soap. Heavy; therefore will do more work.

SOLD BY ALL GROCERS.

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd.

WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTERS. HONOLULU.

INNER-PLAYER

The name adopted to describe exclusively the player action manufactured only by the Cable Company

An impromptu musicale is always possible when you have an INNER-PLAYER Piano.

Use it alone or to accompany other instruments. It is ready whenever you are.

When we say "INNER-PLAYER Piano", we do not mean any ordinary player piano. We refer to those made by The Cable Company—the only ones to which this title INNER-PLAYER properly applies.

These instruments have many special, patented features which you do not find in any other pianos containing player devices. And it is these features which enable you to play any composition with the human expression obtained when a skilled pianist plays by hand.

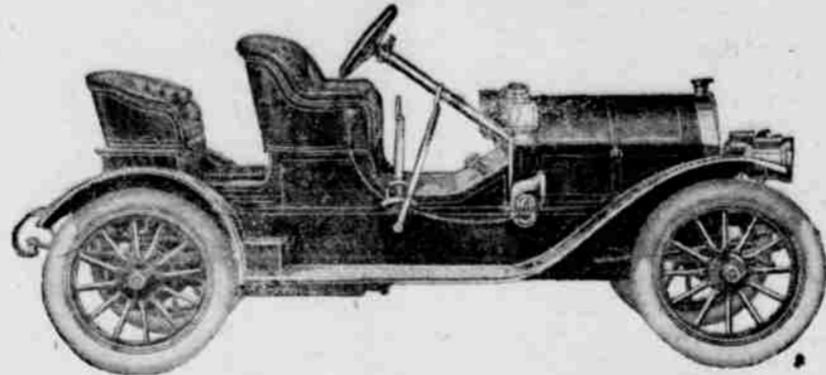

All you have to do with an INNER-PLAYER Piano is to operate the pedals and move three little levers. It is simplicity itself and yet you produce the most pleasing effects.

Call and we will place an INNER-PLAYER Piano at your disposal. You can then see for yourself how easy it is to play your favorite selections on one of these instruments.

C. D. LUFKIN, Agent.

MITCHELL AUTOMOBILES

The 1910 Runabout represents greater automobile value for a nominal figure than has ever before been offered to the public.

COMPARE IT WITH OTHER CARS AT SAME PRICE AND SEE IF THEY HAVE

30-35 Horse-Power, Three Speed Selective Transmission, 100 inches Wheel Base, 32x3 1-2 Tires, Magneto and Battery, Option of Rumble Seat, Surrey or Runabout Deck.

We are offering this magnificent car at $1275.00 set up at Kahului.

Bathroom Accessories

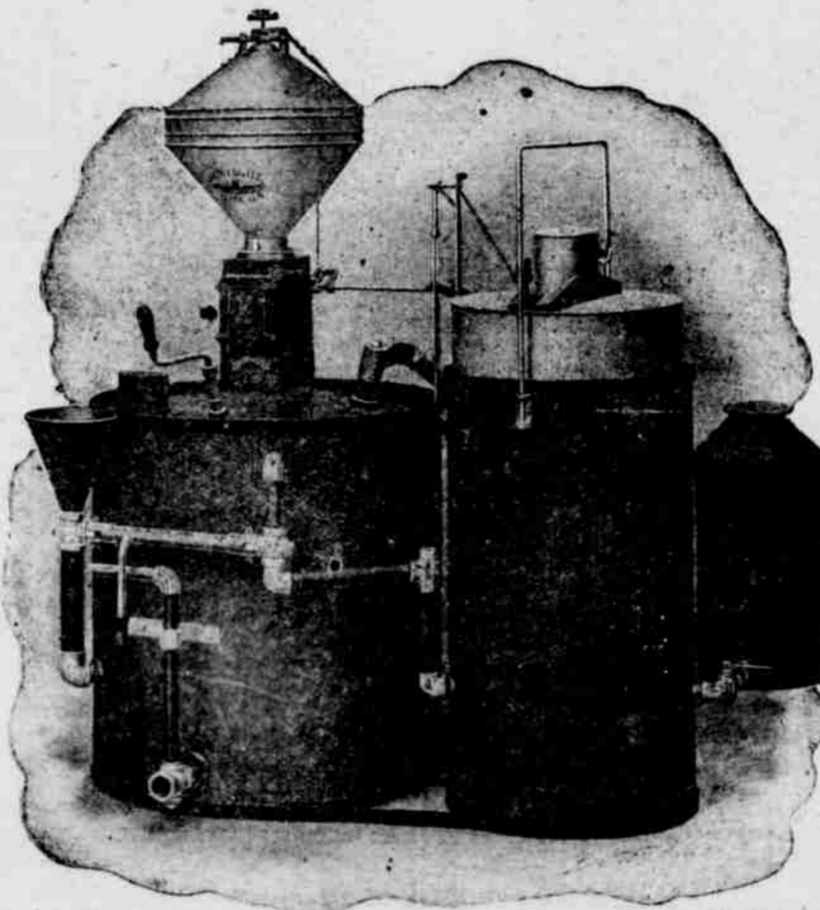

A shipment of the finest nickel plated Bathroom Fittings and Accessories just received. They embody a full line of

Mirrors, Soap Dishes,
Combination Tooth
Brush Holders,
Crystal Towel Bars,
C. & B. Holders,
Sprays,
Showers, etc.

Let us provide you with Catalogue

The Gas Machine of the Age. SUNLIGHT OMEGA

We have now completed almost thirty installations on the island. The magnificent results obtained are the only testimonial we require. Let us figure with you.

REMINGTON

No. 10 and No. 11

VISIBLE WRITING

The newest and latest achievement in clerical labor saving is the Remington No. 11 with Wahl Adding and Subtracting Attachment.

Writes and adds at one operation.

Always ready when needed. Never in the way when not needed.

The most complete and universal mechanical appliance ever devised for office use.

Ask for prices and demonstrations.

MERCHANDISE DEPARTMENT, KAHULUI RAILROAD COMPANY

KAHULUI, MAUI, T. H.