

CLAUSE THAT WILL KEEP JAPS HERE

THE JOKER IN THE HOUSE BILL, THAT WILL LET THE JAPANESE INTO HAWAII BUT WON'T LET THEM OUT UNLESS THEY LEARN TO READ—NO EDUCATIONAL TEST HERE BUT ONE AT THE COAST IF THEY GO THERE.

The published statement that John F. Colburn had received a cablegram from the delegate at Washington saying that the immigration bill had passed and that it contained a Japanese clause allowing Japanese to come here in any numbers, but not allowing them the right to go to mainland ports, attracted a good deal of attention this morning.

None of the organizations of the town such as the Merchants' Association, the Chamber of Commerce or the Planters' Association received any such news, although they have representatives in Washington. This seems very remarkable to the business men of the town.

SEA CAPTAINS ON THE CHANCES OF LA PALOMA

ALL ARE UNANIMOUS IN AGREEING THAT THE TRIP DOWN WILL BE A FAST ONE—JUNE IS A GOOD MONTH FOR THE TRADE WINDS AND ALSO FOR FAIR WEATHER—THE LA PALOMA'S COURSE UP.

The sea captains who have made it their business to sail between here and the Coast for many a year are all taking a very deep interest in the ocean yacht race that is now being sailed from San Pedro to this port.

of them for the length of the trip. The trade winds at this time of the year are most likely to be in a direct line from San Pedro to Honolulu and consequently the yacht will not digress much from a straight course.

TO PROSECUTE CAPTAIN GOING

A criminal information was filed in the federal court this afternoon against Philip Going, captain of the America Maru, which is expected here tomorrow or the next day from the Orient, charging him with violation of the immigration laws, as set forth in the warrant under which he was arrested some weeks ago.

without having the qualifications required by federal statutes for carrying such immigrants to an American port. Since the case against Going was begun, all the Oriental steamers calling here have fixed up their steerage quarters so that there is now no violation of the laws.

MAY ACCOUNT FOR WRIGHT'S BIG EMBEZZLEMENT

REPORTS THAT THE BIG SUMS SO MYSTERIOUSLY STOLEN FROM THE GOVERNMENT YEARS AGO WERE USED IN AN EFFORT TO START A SCHEME SUCH AS THE KOHALA DITCH COMPANY HAS SUCCESSFULLY CARRIED OUT.

Was it a dream of wealth to be obtained through the construction of the Kohala ditch, which has just been opened, that was responsible for the embezzlement and flight of William H. Wright, former treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii?

cause of his downfall. That at least, is a prevalent idea in Kohala, and it is not new to some people in Honolulu, though it has been kept "very quiet."

MOLOKANS ARE A "COMMUNITY" SINCE REACHING HONOLULU

FORTY-ONE OF THEM ARE LIVING IN THREE ROOMS IN THE MAGOON BLOCK—SAY THEY GET THEIR MEALS REGULARLY ALTHOUGH THERE IS NOT MUCH VARIETY OF FOOD—LOOKING FOR WORK.

The Molokans may not have been a "community" while they were on the lands of the Makoe Sugar Company, but if being packed like sardines, is a requisite for making a people a "community," the Molokans certainly qualify in Honolulu.

The Molokans have furnished their quarters with the few belongings that they brought from Kauai. A few bundles of old clothes and blankets with perhaps, a few cooking utensils comprise the personal effects of the crowd.

MOLOKAN MATTER BEING CONSIDERED

The Molokan matter was before Governor Carter again this morning. Manager Fairchild of Kapaa had quite a lengthy conference with the executive on the subject. As the situation now is the Molokans are seeking to get from the government or someone else money enough to take them back to California. They claim to be penniless, but some doubts have been expressed as to this.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce met this afternoon at 2 o'clock and took up business of the month.

Those present were President Lowry, Secretary Spencer, Trustees Galt, Giffard, Kennedy, Lang and Spalding.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The militia committee then made their report. The report was to the effect that the Chamber of Commerce pay over $2,500 per annum to the National Guard of Hawaii. This should be done as the Chamber of Commerce had a moral obligation to meet it.

E. I. Spalding thought that the Chamber of Commerce should assist the Promotion Committee instead of the National Guard.

J. R. Galt was of the opinion that the militia and Promotion Committee both should be supported and Chamber of Commerce should devise a scheme of getting more funds.

The following resolution was then adopted:
That $500 be paid to the militia out of the funds of the chamber and wharf tax as soon as possible and the balance be raised by public subscription to make up the sum of $1200 promised.

The meeting then adjourned.

SAILOR'S STRIKE IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEMAND AN INCREASE OF WAGES OF $5 A MONTH AND OTHER CONCESSIONS—MANY VESSELS ARE TIED UP—MANY SAILORS IT IS SAID MAKE FROM $90 TO $100 A MONTH—SOME GET MORE THAN ENGINEERS AND MATES.

That the strike in San Francisco is a serious matter is shown by the cable Monday by H. Hackfeld & Co. regarding the Korea. The trouble seems to have assumed an aggravated form June 5, the day the Hongkong Maru sailed, as the Sailors' Union held a meeting the night before. Judging from the newspaper accounts of the matter previous to the sailing of the Hongkong Maru, and the cables that have been received here since, it would seem likely that the sailors unable to enforce their demands, secured the help of the stevedores, thus effectually tying up the whole waterfront.

The following regarding the matter is from the Call of June 4:

"Though there has been no formal declaration of strike on the part of the sailors as a result of the refusal of the ship-owners to grant an increase in wages, Saturday saw fifteen steam schooners tied up at this port, and at the meetings it was decided that on the arrival of the vessels here the crews would be paid off and the vessels placed out of commission indefinitely.

Committees representing the steam schooner owners and the United Shipping and Transportation Association met twice Saturday and discussed what should be done in the event of a strike. Andrew Furuseth of the Sailors' Union stated that nothing would be done until the Sailors' Union had a meeting, which will take place tonight.

In answer to the statement given out by Furuseth, the committee of the United Shipping and Transportation Association had the following to say:

"On January 28th the contract between the Steamship Association and Sailors' Union expired, and while not renewed was continued by mutual consent. On April 23rd Ellison, secretary pro tem of the Sailors' Union notified

ANNA A. BARRETT.

When "Worn Out."

For years we have daily received hundreds of testimonials from patients, in which they describe their previous conditions as "worn out." Probably this term describes the feeling of sick nerves as completely as any other.

But one is never really "worn out" until too late.

The truth is the nerves are tired. Tired, sick nerves cause that "worn out," "run down," "used up" feeling. The nerves stop doing their work properly—they protest against neglect, in a general way or in some particular way, just exactly as they protest if you put your fingers on a hot stove.

The protest of tired, neglected nerves is as distinct to medical science as a burn.

Paine's Celery Compound is a tonic for protesting nerves. It soothes them and feeds them back to their full strength.

That is why Paine's Celery Compound has for 17 years been the standard nerve vitalizer and tonic.

For 17 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the one great accepted tonic for the nerves, and the most universally used tonic in the world.

Miss Barrett neglected her nerves—they protested by making her feel "worn out" and nervous. She answered their protest.

Wells & Richardson Co., Burlington, Vt. Gentlemen—"I moved this spring and the extra amount of labor with irregular meals caused me to feel in a worn-out, nervous condition. I had headaches every day and felt unable to attend to my regular work. One of my neighbors advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound and I am pleased to say that it afforded me immediate relief, rejuvenating my entire system. I have not been without it in my home since, and feel very grateful for the results obtained from its use." Yours very truly, Anna A. Barrett, 1299 Sheridan Road, Chicago, Ill.

No medicine, no prescription, no treatment has ever been discovered that has the marvelous, positive and direct power of cure that Paine's Celery Compound has for nervous results or nervous diseases. It has stood the test of 17 years' time. Its formula has been sent to every registered physician in the United States, it is constantly prescribed by them. They know that it is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians known in the annals of American medicine—Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

Paine's Celery Compound stands alone. All reputable druggists sell and recommend Paine's Celery Compound.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO. BURLINGTON, VERMONT.

receive for wages and overtime ranges from $65 to $100 a month, the average being $75 a month to each sailor, besides his board and lodging. Notwithstanding this high wage and, owing to the position taken by the management of the Sailors' Union, fifteen steamships are now tied up in this port because of the refusal of their crews to take them to sea. The United Shipping and Transportation Association is composed of the following firms: Pacific Mail Steamship Company, Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company, Oceanic Steamship Company, San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company, Western Fuel Company, Pacific Coast Steamship Company, Steamship Association of San Francisco, Master Stevedores' Association, American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, Kosmos Steamship Company.

"Mr. Furuseth, in a signed statement printed in 'The Examiner,' claims that the demand he has made amounts to only 16 cents per day for each seaman. Does this demand of an additional 16 cents a day for men who are receiving higher wages than are paid sailors in any part of the world justify at this time the bringing about of a controversy, which, unless unsettled, will tie up the entire waterfront of San Francisco?"

"As an example of the wages that sailors are receiving, the crew of the Ravalli that was paid off today received for wages and overtime at the rate of $90 a month, besides board. This is a higher wage than the first mate or first assistant engineer receives. This is not an unusual case; there are instances where they draw down even more than this.

"Inasmuch as the water front of San Francisco is about all that the stricken city has left, it is to be hoped that the Sailors' Union will reconsider the position they have taken and withdraw, what we consider, an unreasonable demand made at an inopportune time."

METCALF—BUTTERS.

OAKLAND, June 1—As a sequel to a very delightful romance begun some two years ago on an east-bound limited train, comes the announcement of the betrothal of Miss Marie Lucille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Butters, and Midshipman Victor Nicholson Metcalf, United States Navy, son of Secretary and Mrs. Victor H. Metcalf.

THE WEATHER BULLETIN

For the Week Ending June 9, 1906. Honolulu, T. H., June 11, 1906. GENERAL SUMMARY.

The march of temperature was quite well marked on the island of Kauai generally on Oahu, on the windward side of Maui, and at Kohala Mission, Hawaii. At the remaining stations on Hawaii the increase of temperature over the preceding week was slight, except at Pahala where there was a decrease of 1.4 deg.; at Kihui, Maui, a slight decrease occurred.

Very dry weather obtained generally throughout the islands, a number of stations reporting no rainfall during the week. On the leeward side of Hawaii several stations report amounts ranging from .78 inch to 2.18 inches, and one station on windward Oahu reports .56 inch. At the majority of the stations through the group the deficiency, as compared with the preceding week, was very marked, and generally amounted to inches, the greatest difference occurring on Hawaii.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the group:

Island	Temp.	Rainfall
Hawaii	72.2 deg.	23 inch
Maui	75.9 deg.	23 inch
Oahu	77.7 deg.	11 inch
Kauai	76.6 deg.	26 inch
Entire Group	74.5 deg.	21 inch

At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, Honolulu, generally partly cloudy weather obtained, with occasionally light showers on last three days giving a total rainfall of .15 inch, which is a deficiency for the week of .25 inch. The mean temperature was 78 deg., 2 deg. above the average, with a maximum of 82 deg and a minimum of 72 deg. Average relative humidity 72 per cent; average cloudiness 7-10; prevailing direction of wind east, with an average hourly velocity of 8 miles. The mean barometric pressure was 30.08 inches, ranging from 30.16 on the 3rd to 30.01 on the 9th.

REMARKS BY CORRESPONDENTS.

(Note: The figures following the name of a station indicate the day of the month with which the week's report closes.)

Puuhi (7)—Warm days; very light showers during nights and early mornings.

A REMARKABLE LOCK.

Neuman Tobias of Kingston, Jamaica, has invented a remarkable lock. The combination consists of four sets of twenty-four letters of the alphabet, which can be set to a sentence in most modern languages. When one letter is used in one alphabet and another in the second set and so on it becomes a very complicated matter indeed. Furthermore, instead of letters, the inventor has employed four sets of numerals. Assuming that the lock is set to a figure in the number of 2,030,303,030.

ings, with moderate trade winds. No rainfall.—S. P. Woods.

Kamuela (8)—High Winds obtained. The mean temperature, 66.1 degrees, was slightly higher than that for the preceding week. The total rainfall, .19 inch, occurred on the 7th and 8th.—Mrs. E. W. Hay.

The Kohala Ditch

The Kohala ditch which has just been completed over the greater and more difficult parts of its planned length is an enterprise of the kind from which whole communities and districts derive their prosperity. It is comparable to the construction of a railroad through a new country in the prospects it lays open for the future of the country it will supply. If the men who have so successfully carried it to a conclusion win fortune for themselves by its operation, they will at the same time be making fortune and homes for others. In these days of criticism of big money makers they will be able to feel the satisfaction that comes from knowing that their enterprise was a productive one in the best possible way.

In the district of Kohala, as well as in other districts in the various islands of the Hawaiian group, are vast areas of good land which lie unused because water is lacking. Much of it is land of the highest quality. A great deal of it was once occupied by thousands of happy and prosperous people, Hawaiians of the old day. The present uselessness of a good proportion of such land is attributed, probably correctly, to the destruction of forests above,—the forest line has retreated upwards until rainfall has so diminished that these acres now lie bare, or are used on an absurdly unproductive scale, as feeding ground for cattle and sheep. Some such land the Kohala ditch will irrigate. Every acre so reclaimed for profitable use adds so much to the productivity of the Territory. It is therefore a fine thing to see the successful development of such an enterprise as this ditch and to know that the same men who carried it through are engaged in two other great enterprises of a similar nature, which will wrest from nature millions more gallons of water which are now going to waste.

It was no mere easy investment of money that brought about the success of the Kohala ditch. The enterprise was one of those risks in which capital does not carelessly enter. To the unskilled eye the task of conveying the water as it is being conveyed through the mountains seems more than risky. But the members of the Kohala Ditch Company secured and relied upon the best engineering skill that was to be obtained, and capital, always nervous, was thus secured. It is just the men who are willing to take such risks, who have the grit to back such enterprises, who reclaim the deserts and build up the new prosperous places of the world.

It is hoped that the Kohala ditch will be followed here by a number of big enterprises of the kind. All over the United States irrigation as a science has been wonderfully developed during the past decade, and now Americans talk of rescuing vast deserts with a freedom that suggests that they would look for a way to make Sahara bloom were it only under the Stars and Stripes. Our big ditch enterprises show that we are not behind the rest of the country.

The Kilohana Art League

The Kilohana Art League invites the public to view the pictures of its twenty-fifth semi-annual exhibition. For more than a decade the League has, through many discouragements, presented, twice a year to the people of Honolulu, a collection of paintings and other works of art and decoration. The work exhibited has practically all been by local artists, professional or amateur, and in a degree marks the artistic aspiration of the community.

The League, in maintaining these semi-annual exhibits, does a very important public service. It unifies and crystallizes effort in artistic direction, gives encouragement to artists, and is educating in its influence. Through these exhibits a number of very capable artists have been brought to the attention of the community, and the community has benefited by the knowledge itself had and the knowledge transmitted elsewhere, that it had among its artists of serious effort and worthy attainment.

These exhibitions have been of benefit in other directions, also. Through the pictures exhibited, which naturally are largely of Hawaiian subjects, a deeper and truer conception of the landscape beauties of the Islands has been made known to ourselves. The artists who have contributed during these years have been teaching us the beauty with which nature has so lavishly endowed our mountains and our valleys, our shores and beaches. We know our Islands better and more truly because of the Kilohana Art League.

Deadwood Dick Passes Away

It is only a little while ago that the death of "Old Sleuth," the originator of the dime novel detective story was announced. Now the news comes in the coast files that "Deadwood Dick," one of the greatest and most popular characters in dime novel fiction has passed away, in the person of Frank Falmer. Thus within a few short weeks, one of the greatest creators of dime novel fiction, and one of the greatest dime novel characters, have been called hence.

Will they have successors? Very likely. For although the quality of fiction written for boys and youth is now of a very much higher grade than it was when "Old Sleuth" wrote and "Dick Deadwood" did his daring deeds, there is still a primal instinct in boyhood and youth that yearns for action prompted by the primary motives, and it was that instinct which "Old Sleuth" and "Dick Deadwood" satisfied. Still neither the field nor the conditions exist that existed to make these possible. Such literature now comes into competition with better literature than it did some years ago, and there isn't the same mystery and lack of definite information about distant scenes and places that there used to be. For instance, take "Dick Deadwood." He owes his name and perhaps his creation as a character in fiction to the Black Hills gold discoveries of 1876-77. The way to Deadwood Gulch along which was found the principal placer mining of that region, lay through the country of the intrepid and blood thirsty Sioux. Sixteen or seventeen years later, the fast mail brought the Chicago Dailies into Deadwood City twenty-four hours after they left the press.

Mining camps can't retain their characteristics long enough in these days to develop local color. The railroad and the automobile get into the region of new gold discoveries in these days almost ahead of the stagecoach. The telegraph and the telephone almost locks step with discovery. A mining camp nowadays is never out of immediate touch with the world at large, and individuality is impossible. Whether Frank Palmer really was the original of "Deadwood Dick," the noted character of dime novel fiction, is probably uncertain. At any rate, the latter years of his life were prosaic enough. He was born in Jacksonville, Ill., and was a nephew of the late Senator John M. Palmer. When 17 years old, he left home and drifted West. He went to Deadwood, S. D., in the early days of that camp and became a successful gambler. He was known as a square gambler, and the sports of the mining camp dubbed him "Deadwood Dick, the Plunger."

At the age of 21 Palmer returned to Illinois and one year later went to Chicago, where he married the sister of a prominent Episcopal minister of that city. One child was the issue of the marriage, but family differences arose and one year and six months later, the husband and wife separated and Palmer went West again. He drifted into Crepple Creek nine years ago. Reverses in fortune came and for eight years he sold chewing gum and candy, which he carried around in a shoe box.

Apparently we cannot have that expert examination of the Nuuanu dam and reservoir any too quick.

For Prof. Van Hise's assurance of our immunity from disastrous earthquakes we certainly ought to feel much obliged. We already have Dr. Grossmann's demonstration that we cannot slip into the sea.

Willett & Gray give us their assurance that sugar prices are bound to advance steadily.

Dun's Review says: The resumption of business by the San Francisco banks was accomplished without any disturbance, and this factor in the nation's financial situation will probably soon cease to cause uneasiness. Reports indicate that banks on the Pacific coast re-opened with about $45,000,000 more cash than was held prior to the disaster. Practically all the gold engaged abroad during the recent movement has been received and government deposits are returned to about normal. As these artificial elements gradually disappear, it becomes more possible to comprehend the situation.

In the cabled accounts of the dinner by Ambassador Reid to the Longworths it is announced that the King, the nobility and the diplomats were there. But what about the Queen?

When the British ship Lord Templeton arrived here last Sunday, 57 days from Newcastle, she came with two men of her crew missing. She also came with her best dingy gone. The disappearance of the men and the boat was a coincident occurrence. They stole the boat and skipped out to Tahiti.

Two of the sailors wanted to leave the ship and over a month ago while she was within 30 miles of Tahiti, they decided to make their way from the ship. After stocking the best dingy boat with some food, they lowered the boat and got into it one night. The captain and second mate were on the poop deck at the time and they thought the boat was a fishing craft that had gotten into the course of the vessel. They shouted to them to look out or they would be run down by the vessel. At that time the ship was not making over four knots an hour, so when the escaping sailors rowed away for the land they were soon out of the way of the vessel.

Some of the sailors aboard offered to take another boat and go in search of them but they were refused this privilege for fear they might follow the example of the escaping men. It was not learned whether the pair succeeded in reaching Tahiti or not.

REVOLUTION IN THE SUGAR TRADE

(From Willett & Gray's Weekly.)

Revolution in the Sugar Trade.—A somewhat remarkable change has been going on recently in the attitude of the United States towards the European beet sugar world which involves the stability of the Dingley sugar tariff and also the regulation of the world's price of sugar.

For a generation and more it has been considered without question that the price of beet sugar in Hamburg made and controlled the price of sugar in the United States.

It has also been taken for granted that the duty of 1.65c per lb. assessed by the Dingley law represented the protection afforded the home sugar industries.

Both these assumptions have recently been disproved and the new conditions established that Cuba controls the price of sugar in the United States for all other countries, and that the 1.65c. duty protection is reduced to a varying amount from 1.65c. down to 1.34c. as decided by the Cuban price.

Cuba today sells her sugar in New York at 3.45c. per lb., or .22c. below the Hamburg price and all sugars coming in over the tariff wall must conform to the Cuba price. This revolution has been brought about by the concession of 20 per cent of the full tariff rates made to Cuba by the reciprocity with that island. This reciprocity stimulated the production to an extent which excluded nearly all the full duty paying countries, Java being about the only important sugar producing country to continue to compete to any extent for a part of the United States market. A year or two hence, with further natural increase by the crop of Cuba, the conditions of the revolution going on in the sugar world will be even more manifest and may very likely lead to an agitation for the annexation of Cuba to the United States. As it is now Cuba makes the price of raw sugar in the United States. During the first four months of the campaign she fixes price at the bare cost of production, giving away the full 20 per cent allowance of reciprocity, a little later she raises her price and secures a part of the allowance, and as the season progresses she finally raises prices to nearly or quite the full allowance. This process is going on now. Cuba has passed beyond the necessity of taking the extreme low limit of prices and has commenced to demand a portion of reciprocity allowance. This means that for this campaign Cuba will control prices in the United States on an advancing scale. It may be a slow rise, but the rise is just as sure to come.

The present difference of .22c. below the parity of beet sugars is sufficient to warrant this statement and expect its fulfillment, hence there is every reason to consider, as far as the U. S. is concerned, a firm, steady market with advancing tendencies for the remainder of the campaign in raw sugars.

The situation in refined sugars is equally significant and important. Just now contracts exceeding a million barrels of refined have been placed with grocers by the several refineries.

Naturally these buyers are asking what assurance they have that at the expiration of contracts, when required to take deliveries, the prices may not be reduced against them, the same as in former years.

The best of assurance can be given that such results cannot follow this year.

Last year both raws and refined were on a very high speculative level, from which they steadily declined throughout the season, so that when contracts came due and were to be cancelled by refiners if the sugars were not taken, the buyers were only too willing to cancel and make new contracts or buy elsewhere at less price. Refiners therefore, were powerless to enforce the delivery of balances of the contracts; not so this year. Both raws and refined are at an unusually low basis, which is absolutely steadfast and from which improvements are certain. Buyers can now be assured that every rise of 5c. per 100 lbs. in refined can, and will, be maintained. The days of uneven prices, now 5c. up and now 5c. down, are passed. All contracts will be found at maturity to be below the current market, and therefore desirable to take deliveries. Refiners will be in position to enforce the cancelling clauses, and will do so. Parties taking deliveries need not fear declines on such sugars as are unsold by them at time of expiration of contracts, and liberal purchases ahead can be made with confidence in having the protection of the large refiners behind them. With this knowledge we can see quite a large possible increase in the consumption of sugar and corresponding advantage to every jobber who helps the consumption along.

These are the new conditions of the raw and refined sugar markets of the U. S., which we deem of advantage to place before our subscribers at this time, when a clearer vision can be had of sugar events than was possible for a long time past.

NOT COMPETENT TO FORM AN OPINION

PATTERSON NOT AN ENGINEER, SAYS HOWLAND, AND HIS VIEWS OF THE NUNANU DAM NOT WORTH DISCUSSING—HOWLAND SAYS HE THINKS DAM IS SAFE AND WILL AWAIT THE COMING OF THE EXPERT.

"I don't see that it is necessary now to say anything about the Nunanu work in view of the fact that an expert is coming to examine it," said Engineer Howland of the Public Works Department this morning. "We may as well wait until the expert looks into the matter. As long as doubts about the safety of the dam have been made public it is a good thing to have a thorough investigation.

"As far as Mr. Patterson's criticisms are concerned, I can only say that they do not impress me as calling for any answer. I do not regard Mr. Patterson as competent to judge the matter or express an opinion. Is he an engineer? No, I understand he is a mason by trade."

Howland stated that in his opinion the dam was all right and the plans and specifications were as proper.

Among the various other reports circulated here about the dam was one that Auditor Fisher had held up bills to say anything about the Nunanu work for the work. Auditor Fisher was asked this morning about it and said that he had withheld his approval of certain warrants until a satisfactory certificate of labor performed had been given. The bills in question were those of H. Walker, formerly of Hilo, a brother-in-law of Howland, who was employed for some time in drawing plans. Walker left the islands before he had completed his maps and he finished the work in the East.

The disappearance of the forests is, as I understand, responsible for the failure of the rains."

The land in question is fairly level. Much of it forms a gentle slope to the ocean and in the matter of climate it is finely located, for a splendid breeze blows over it from the Kohala mountains. There is grass growing on it now, and a few cattle and sheep find grazing. Close along the shore are a few native homes, being mostly those of employees of the railway.

"The land was all settled up once," was the comment passed as the Kohala ditch company party rode through the district last Sunday, "but the Hawaiians left or died out, the forests were destroyed and the rainfall stopped and now human being cannot support themselves here at all."

HUMAN POPULATION ALL GONE

SEA CAPTAINS ON LA PALOMA

In 11 days by the yacht, for this is the month when the trade winds blow the fastest and heavy seas are rarest. I wish every possible good thing for Clarence Macfarlane, but whether he will win or not is a different question. I hope he does, but I believe that the Larline will beat them all out. The course they will sail is bound to be almost straight for this port, for they have the right trades for this port. I could show you a chart that looks like a cobweb it is so crossed and recrossed but I cannot choose their route for one never can do that until he knows just where the wind is on each day. I think that perhaps Capt. Macfarlane and Mosher may outgeneral the other yachts, but if they do not do better than the way they did going up they will lose hopelessly. The chart that shows the trip from here to San Francisco is the funniest thing I have seen for a good many days for he certainly was a way off in going that way. I think that the Larline will win for she is a fine little craft and her captain is a good one."

Captain Kelly of the bark George Curtis is of the opinion that the trip will be a fast one. He also is a bit afraid of the La Paloma's chances. "I am afraid that if they do not use more care in laying out their course than they did on the trip up they will not win. The course up was poorly made. However it will be far better coming down for the trades will be right and I believe that the try will be made fast. The course will be nearly in a straight line. I pick the large boat to win, although Mosher's knowledge of these waters will help him put considerably and then also to be figured in the handicap. I hope Clarence wins."

Other captains were of nearly the same opinion as the two quoted. All agree on the point of the fast trip being made.

I do not know how we will ever get to California. My brother, John, is over there working. I hear that a man say he might want twenty men to work on a ditch, but I don't know where that it. May be we get some work."

WRIGHT'S BIG EMBEZZLEMENT

$18,000 would have been easy, and all might have been well but for untimely discovery.

Wright was at this time a member of the executive council which was discussing the ditch proposition, with a view to granting a franchise. E. S. Boyd, the land commissioner who would have had to issue the license had it been approved, was an associate of Wright and Boyd too, was later found to be very mysteriously short. His shortage, for which he is now serving a ten year sentence, has been estimated at $30,000, but there is apparently not a dollar to show for it. It was swallowed up in some unknown manner, like the Public Works shortage for which another Wright, also a friend of the treasurer, was the only sufferer. The only theory much discussed in connection with these big shortages has been that the money went in politics, but the sums are more than the political associates of the men concerned have spent in politics since annexation to the present day.

The history of the fights for ditch franchises in Kohala is a long one, and the dream of getting the water now being used had its origin many years ago. The final result, after lengthy hearings lasting over several years, both here and in Washington, was that the Kohala Ditch company, consisting of Hind, McCrosson, Sam Parker and associates, formally bought the license from the government and went to work to build their conduit.

William H. Wright is now believed to be in Mexico, engaged in business. It is regarded as quite questionable that had he been able to rush through a franchise and float his scheme, he might have paid back the money he took and made good.

The Territory, by Deputy Attorney General Miverton, has filed exceptions and an appeal to the Supreme Court from the ruling of Mrs. Nakuina, water commissioner, in the Palolo Valley case.

STANFORD SKELETON APPEARS

BROTHER OF LATE SENATOR ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN CHEATED BY WIDOW—EXECUTORS OF LATTER'S WILL SUED BY RELICT OF ASA FOR $200,000—A LONG STORY TOLD IN THE BILL OF COMPLAINT.

The Call of June 5 says:
Mrs. Annie F. Stanford of New York, who was Senator Leland Stanford's sister-in-law, is suing the executors of Mrs. Jane Stanford's will for more than half a million dollars she declares was owing her husband, Asa Stanford, deceased, from the estate. She alleges he was defrauded out of it by Mrs. Jane Stanford, widow of the Senator, and who left nearly all the great estate to the Leland Stanford Jr. University.

The infirmities of age and misfortune as to the value of the estate left by Leland Stanford are alleged by the plaintiff as the causes of her husband falling to secure the money she claims was due him.
The plaintiff sets forth that her husband, Asa, was a director, in 1869, of the Central Pacific Railroad company, and the owner of a sixth of the stock of that corporation. At the suggestion and argument of his brother Leland, so it is alleged, Asa resigned from the directorship and turned all his interest over to him upon the latter giving him a written agreement to pay him $1000 monthly and at Leland's death to leave Asa or his heirs capital stock in the company to the amount of $200,000. These payments were regularly made up to the death of Leland, on June 21, 1893, it is averred.
At his death Leland was worth about $50,000,000, all of which was left to his wife, Jane, with the exception, it is stated, of shares of stock due his brother. These, the complaint continues, had been sealed in an envelope and placed in Leland's safe.
Mrs. Stanford probated the will and secured possession of all the property, including the shares of stock alleged to be due Asa. The $1000 a month was discontinued, leaving him in penury, it is declared.

Asa, it is further alleged, made many demands for the money he claimed to be due him, but could secure nothing. Mrs. Stanford, it is alleged, falsely and fraudulently concealed from him the fact that Leland had kept his part of the bargain, and furthermore deceived him by telling him that no part of Leland's property had been set aside for him. When Asa threatened and pleaded Jane secured an attorney, Russel J. Wilson, and through him claimed that after all debts had been satisfied there was not more than enough for her to live on. He was further informed, the complaint says, that if he pressed the matter he would force the estate into insolvency and neither he nor his heirs could expect to ever receive anything from it. Jane also agreed to pay him the sum of $10,000 if he would release all his claims to the estate, and Asa, believing that he had been told the true state of affairs, agreed to accept this, the widow further alleges.
The plaintiff declares that at the time this agreement was made Asa was a very old man, broken in health and spirits, poor and nervously apprehensive of becoming a public charge. Because of his age he was unable to work and hence was easily induced to yield to the demand made upon him.
Continuing, the complaint says, Asa did not discover that the estate, which he had been made to believe was almost insolvent, was worth $50,000,000 until April 1, 1892, at which time Mrs. Stanford was out of California; that he was so exasperated when he learned of the alleged fraud that had been practiced upon him that he reviled Mrs. Stanford to all his friends and that so bitter did he become that Mrs. Stanford secured the services of an attorney by the name of Henry C. Huzzard to act as a go-between and endeavor to force a compromise with Asa, as well as to secure Asa's signature to the following letter:

New York, June 9, '02.
Mrs. Leland Stanford: I am sorry for the things I have said about your husband (my brother) and yourself, and never again will such things be repeated by me. I am very poor and needy and will thank you from the bottom of my heart if you will help me. I know I have no claim upon you whatever, and will never again trouble you in any shape or form for help, and whatever you may do for me will be for my benefit alone, and that you reserve the right to stop such help at any time my conduct does not suit you in any way, and I will cheerfully submit to being watched by any one you may appoint. Respectfully,

ASA F. STANFORD.
It is further stated that Huzzard told Asa he thought he could secure him an allowance of $150 per month providing he would sign the letter; that Asa refused to do so; that the lawyer then said: "With you it is either to do or die; starvation or the poorhouse if you don't sign this paper. This is Mrs. Stanford's ultimatum to you. What you want is money to live on in your old age."

After a long battle Asa, to save himself from starvation or the poorhouse, signed the letter and the money was paid regularly up to Asa's death, so it is alleged. All this time the attorney was receiving $50 of the allowance, it is declared.
Annie F. Stanford asks the release given Mrs. Stanford by Asa declared fraudulent and void, as well as the letter Asa was forced to sign. She also makes a demand for the shares of stock alleged to have belonged to her husband, or their equivalent, as well as the dividends and accrued interest. She further makes a demand for $108,000 monthly allowance and interest from June 28, 1893.

PATTERSON RENEWS KICK

SAYS BAD WORK AT NUUANU DAM IS BEING COVERED UP—ENGINEER KELLOGG COMING.

Assistant Inspector Patterson, of the Nuuanu dam, now claims that an effort is being made to hurry up work on certain parts of the dam, in order that bad work may be covered up before the arrival of H. Clay Kellogg, the engineering expert who is coming to make an investigation. Patterson says the following order has been issued over his head:
"Department of Public Works, "Office of Assistant Superintendent "Honolulu, T. H., June 8, 1904. "Mr. L. M. Whitehouse, Contractor Honolulu, T. H. "Sir: The work of reconstruction upon some 50 feet of the 30 inch wood Stave Pipe through the Nuuanu dam and reservoir was discontinued over ten days ago and nothing has since been done towards completing it; the section of the effluent pipe referred to is approximately 150 feet below the get chamber and is, as yet, not tight-ened up and protected with the concrete armor.
"I would ask that this section of the pipe be made tight and immediately covered with the concrete armor, also that all of the wood stave pipe be gone over on the inside and where loose joints are found, have them thoroughly caulked with oakum and lead so that a water-tight job will be attained. It is very important that this work be taken up without delay so that the pipe may be filled with water as it should be to prevent deterioration from exposure.
"Yours very truly, "J. H. HOWLAND, "Asst. Supt. of Public Works."
Patterson is quoted as saying that the pipe referred to in the letter is the weakest part of the whole job.

PLEASING EXHIBIT OF CANVASSES

THE TWENTY-FIFTH SEMI-ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF KILOHANA ART LEAGUE NOW OPEN.

The twenty-fifth semi-annual exhibition of the Kiloohana Art League was opened last night with a private view to the members. The exhibit this year, though not as large in numbers as it has been in some years past, is rather better on the average than its immediate predecessors and contains a number of canvasses of marked merit.

D. Howard Hitchcock has contributed the largest number of pictures in oil and Philip H. Dodge in water colors. While Mr. Hitchcock has a number of very striking scenes of mountain and valley his most striking, most ambitious, and in some respects most successful piece, is a stretch of beach under the full noonday Hawaiian sun. In this he has been able to give the full glare of that brilliant sun yet with the softness and delicacy which is so difficult to get and without the unreal hardness which is so difficult to keep out of such efforts, but which is not there in nature.

Philip H. Dodge has shown a wider range of subject than he has done often in the past, and has presented some very pleasing pictures.

James Wilder contributes for the first time. He is represented by two portrait studies which are highly creditable and exceedingly full of promise.

E. A. Mott-mith has sent two pictures, both of Canadian scenes.

The others represented in the exhibition are F. S. Malony, A. H. Parke, L. G. Marshall, G. Robertson, Mrs. Catherine E. Mays, Mrs. Robert Moore, and Juliette Cooke.

The exhibition is open to the public free from 9 to 5 o'clock and from 7 to 9 daily, rooms 10 and 11 Alexander Young Building. All are cordially invited.

GEOGRAPHY FOR THE SCHOOLS

SEVERAL MEMBERS OF THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT WORKING ON ONE.

A new geography of the Hawaiian Islands was discussed by the Board of Education yesterday afternoon. Superintendent Babbitt reported that a teacher on Maui had sent him a manuscript of one and he reported that Inspector Baldwin and Professors Woods and Gibson were already at work on books, to be illustrated by maps and photographs.

A letter was read from the American Book Company to Baldwin, stating that it would publish his book if it had the endorsement of the Board of Education. No action was taken by the board, but it is understood that the board will eventually endorse a book and an effort will be made to have the various authors collaborate in a single work.

"SPOOK" HOUSE NOT DESIRABLE

REAL ESTATE MEN REFUSE TO BID FOR THE FORMER ABODE OF LUTHER R. MARSH.

MIDDLETOWN, (N. J.), May 31.—Because of the superstitious fear that some of the "spooks" raised by the alleged medium, Mrs. C. J. Huyler, for the entertainment of the late Luther R. Marsh, the aged jurist and one-time law partner of Daniel Webster, might still inhabit the building, a number of real estate men, several from New York, refused to bid for the property at the executors' sale today. The property is valued at $20,000, but there was only one bid, that of $6000, and the sale was withdrawn.

Several real estate men present stated they would gladly buy the "spook" house, but they feared they could get no one to live in it. The house contains seventeen rooms and is in one of the finest residence sections of the city.

AN OLD MAXIM APPLIED TO A MODERN REMEDY.

"Everyone speaks of the feast as he finds it." is a maxim of the Portuguese. Judging by the letters received from people all over the country, praising Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, it is evident this remedy has been found satisfactory. It is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, and no case has yet been reported where it has failed to give relief, and it has been in general use for more than a quarter of a century. Experts Begin Testimony

The kidneys and heart of Yamagata, the alleged victim of Alfred Douse, were admitted in evidence by Judge De Bolt this morning, and the examination of medical experts on their condition began. The first expert, Dr. A. N. Sinclair, while agreeing with the Maui doctors that some form of nephritis, or kidney trouble, was shown to have been present, declared that the cause of such disease was the burns resulting, as alleged, from oil thrown on the deceased by Douse.

"The condition of the kidneys as I found them," said Dr. Sinclair in answer to a question put by Humphreys, "was probably due to a sudden increase of work due to a loss of a large area of skin."

"Assuming the kidneys to have been those of the subject of the hypothetical question," asked Humphreys, referring to a question previously put to the doctor, "what was probably the cause of the nephritis?"

"It was caused by the burns," "Were the burns described sufficient to cause death?"

"Yes."

"What would probably be the duration of life after such burns?"

"Probably a week if death did not take place in the first twenty-four hours from shock."

The doctor further said that the extremes of time within which such burns might prove fatal were 48 hours and six weeks.

The hypothetical question is a highly technical one. The doctor's answer indicated his opinion that the person described died as a result of the burns.

Kinney's cross examination of the doctor went searchingly into the details upon which he based his opinions.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HAVE NEW ROOMS

The trustees of the Knights of Pythias have signed a lease for the entire second story of the building that Fred Harrison is building on the corner of Fort and Beretania streets. The lease is for a period of 10 years. There will be two entrances to the lodge rooms, one from Fort street and the other from Beretania. Two rooms will be on the second floor and both will be occupied.

The Knights have a strong lodge in Honolulu and all of the members are enthusiastic over the prospects for the new rooms and the location.

The building will be ready for occupancy about the last of October or the first of November of this year.

LYDECKER MAY FIND DOCUMENTS

R. C. Lydecker, secretary of the Board of Archives, left by the steamer Kinau yesterday for Lahaina. He will make a careful examination of the public and other documents at Lahaina in hopes of securing interesting matter for the Territorial archives.

Lahaina was formerly the seat of government of these islands, many of the native monarchs making their headquarters at that town. Naturally some very interesting documents may be found among the records and other things at Lahaina.

The court records can not be brought away from the jurisdiction to which they belong, so until the law be changed, the archives can not be increased by the addition of that class of public records.

Things Brighten Up In Every Household

When you use the proper kind of polish. We have that kind, it's "Argentala," acknowledged by all competitors to be absolutely the best silver polish in the world, and the way it transforms old and tarnished silverware into a bright, clear luster, giving it that "brand new" appearance is something that will surprise and delight you.

You Save Money

By renewing your silverware and table cutlery. Our polish will do it for you. "No pillika." For knife cleaning, table or kitchen cutlery of any kind, there is no better polish manufactured than "Evrbrite," which is also a splendid polish for cleaning table-glass, plate and window glass, leather, furniture and metal work of all kinds. Saves time and labor. We are headquarters for polishes of all kinds.
