Weakened Vitality IMPOVERISHED BLOOD.

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for the Rev. Z. P. Wilds, a well-known city missionary in New York and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds:

"I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred percent stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

UNITED STATES WILL SEND FOOD TO INDIA.

President Krueger's Little Bill—Reciprocity Proposed Between America and France.

The House of Representatives at Washington, on the 3rd inst., adopted the Senate resolution providing for the charter of a vessel to carry food to the famine sufferers of India. Ireland was towed into the discussion by McMillin, Democrat, of Tennessee, and the incident closed with a short speech by Simpson, Populist, of Kansas, who declared that English landlordism had been the ruin of Ireland, and that if the United States, which was traveling in the same direction, did not call a halt it would not be many years before this country would be appealing to the charity of other nations.

The American Chamber of Commerce in Paris is working for a measure of reciprocity between the United States and France.
America sends France 180,000,000 francs' worth of goods duty free as against 80,000,000 francs' worth sent by France duty free to America.

The details of President Krueger's claim against Great Britain for indemnity as a result of the Transvaal raid are now definitely known. In addition to the £677,933—more than three and a quarter million dollars—which is said to be the expense the railway and telegraph companies, burghers, etc., suffered, the Transvaal demands $5,000,000 for "moral and intellectual damage." This appears as a separate and additional item.

Mrs. Theodore Tilton of Brooklyn is helpless from paralysis.
She signed a deed of conveyance lately with her mark. Her husband's signature was attested by the American consul in Paris, where Theodore Tilton has lived since the close of his suit against Henry Ward Beecher.

The farewell banquet to Mr.
Bayard will take place on May 7 at the Hotel Cecil, London, upon which occasion he will be presented with a gold loving cup worth over $2500 by members of the American colony of London and elsewhere in the United Kingdom. Mr. Bayard was at Rome early this month.

Dr. Steinitz, the wellknown chess player, threatens to bring action for damages against the United States Consul at Moscow and others concerned in his detention in an asylum there.

It is reported that the jubilee peage will include the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone.
The statement that President Faure will visit England is denied.

At the last ball of the Reform Club in London every candidate bearing a German name was black balled as a demonstration against Emperor William.

It is stated at Constantinople as on undoubted authority that the efficient manner in which the Turkish forces were mobilized on the Greek frontier is due to German officers, and it is added that all the plans of campaign intrusted to them to carry out have been prepared by able strategists in Berlin.

In Constantinople official circles it is declared that a direct agreement between Turkey and Greece would be hailed with great satisfaction by the British Government.

According to a telegram received by the Turkish Government, the Armenian revolutionists abroad intended to cause the resumption of rioting in Anatolia about the middle of April, when the snows were melted. This is an intimation that further massacres were to be looked for about the same time.

WEDDED LAST NIGHT.

Marriage of Rev. V. H. Kiteat and Miss Lily Danford.

St. Andrew's cathedral was filled to overflowing yesterday evening by those who had gathered to witness the nuptials of Miss Lily Danford, the eldest daughter of Lady Herron, and Rev. V. H. Kiteat. The chancel of the cathedral had been prettily decorated for the ceremony.
Among special compositions was an arch of white flowers, 10 feet high, erected by the girls of the St. Andrew's Priory.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the groom took his place in front of the chancel steps, attended by Clive Davies and Edward Stiles. Shortly afterward the bride entered, leaning on the arm of her step-father, Sir Robert Herron, who gave her away. She was attended by her sisters, Misses Alys and Anna Danford, as bridesmaids. The ceremony was performed by the vice-dean, Rev. John Usborne, assisted by Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, the service being entirely choral and sung by a surpliced choir directed by the organist, Wray Taylor.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the wedding party repaired to the vestry and signed the register while the organist played the wedding march from "Lohengrin."

The bride was charmingly dressed in white satin, trimmed with white cord, orange blossoms and Honiton lace. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms and old Brussels lace veil, also pearl ornaments, and carried a white bouquet. Her lovely appearance caused a thrill of admiration.

Alys Danford, the chief bridesmaid, was appareled in yellow nun's veiling trimmed with white satin, adorned with feathers and veil, and carried a bouquet to match.

Anna Danford wore white confection, trimmed with yellow ribbons and lace, with feathers and lace, and bouquet to match.

Lady Herron was arrayed in peacock blue brocade trimmed with cut steel, toque to correspond.

Mrs. W. L. Stanley, the bride's sister, had a white satin dress trimmed with pearls, toque to match.

The bride's traveling dress was of fine worked grass cloth over yellow silk slip, hat to correspond, and cape of fawn velvet trimmed with sable tails.

Henry Smith, Pierre Jones and John D. Holt were the ushers. As the wedding party retired from the edifice, twelve little girls of the Priory school, standing six on either side, strewed flowers in the aisle before the happy couple.

The newly-united couple left at once for the Herbert place at Kahili, where they will spend a few days. They will reside permanently at Iolani College.

The young couple received scores of handsome and valuable presents from the officers of the cathedral, the pupils of St. Andrew's Priory, the Hawaiian congregation and their many friends.
The groom's presents to the bridesmaids were gold enameled ruby and pearl brooches.

BRITON AND BOER.

Alleged Preparations of the British for War.

According to a London dispatch, the preparations against eventualities in the Transvaal are being steadily pushed forward.
A press representative has learned from War Office sources that a General to command the British forces has been selected and has been asked to prepare a plan for the campaign against the Boers.
This General, who is familiar with African fighting, has replied that 10,000 British regulars will be sufficient, as he counts on the 40,000 troops, white and black, which are already there, while he does not consider the Boers, even if able to do so, will put 40,000 armed men in the field, and one-half of these he believes will be required to guard the towns and forts.

RADIN'S SECOND TRIAL

NOVEL POINT RAISED BY ATTOR-NEYS FOR THE DEFENSE.

Does a Conviction for Opium in Possession Cover Opium Found at Different Places and Times?

In the police court this morning John Radin was on trial on the second charge of having opium in possession. His attorneys, Messrs. Robertson and Ballou, raised the point that his conviction on the first trial acted as a plea in bar to the second. Mr. Ballou showed from the evidence given in the other cases Radin had gone to the stables with two sacks, one containing 60 and the other 30 tins of opium. The smaller one had been placed under the Chin-aman's bed and the larger taken to the steamer J. A. Cummins and delivered to the mate. The defendant had been tried and found guilty of the possession of the opium under the bed. Now it was sought by the prosecution to find him guilty of the possession of the second lot delivered at the steamer as a separate and distinct offense. This, Mr. Ballou maintained, could not be done. The defendant had been found guilty of having opium in possession on a certain date. This finding of the Court included all the opium in his possession on that date and it could not be segregated to suit the views of the prosecution. If the defendant had been charged with the possession of a certain specified lot of opium at a specified time and place and the opium had been brought into Court and specifically identified the case might be different. But the defendant had been merely charged in a general way with opium in possession and on the trial the prosecution had only introduced one tin to prove that it was opium. He maintained that the prosecution could not now go on and charge him with the possession of another lot of the same parcel, having already proved him guilty of the general offense.

For the prosecution Charles Creighton argued that, although it had been shown that Radin originally took the two packages to the stable together, he could be held on two charges.
The possession of opium in his hack at the wharf was one offense.
The finding of the other lot under the Chinaman's bed was another, especially as it was found hours afterward.

The defendant was just as liable to be tried on two charges as a man would be who having committed an assault and being bailed out went back and repeated the offense. Conviction on the first assault would certainly not be held as a plea in bar to the second.

Attorney Robertson closed for the defense, arguing that the case before the Court was similar to that for liquor selling. In such cases a man being convicted of selling liquor in a certain district within thirty days last past and the prosecution having only introduced evidence as to a certain day within the period, they were barred from bringing subsequent charges on other days during the period mentioned.

Judge de la Vergne said the point raised was a novel one. If he was forced to decide offhand he should deny the plea. He hoped the attorneys would not insist on an immediate ruling, as the point was an important one and if decided in favor of the defendant would end the case there and then, besides affording a precedent for future cases. He preferred to look the matter up during recess and would decide whether the trial should proceed or not at 1:30 p. m.

At the afternoon session Judge de la Vergne stated that he had looked into the question raised.
The common law rule seemed to be whether the evidence in the second charge was such as could be used in the trial of the first. He quoted the section in the Constitution bearing on the case which stated that no person could be held answerable for a second offense where the evidence was identical in law and in fact with the first. He could not understand that section decide the plea without hearing some statement from the prosecution of the evidence sought to be introduced in the present case.

By consent of counsel Attorney Creighton then made a statement of the testimony to be introduced against Radin, after hearing which Attorney Ballou put the question to the court:

"It is this evidence had been introduced and proven in the first case, would not the defendant have been convicted on it?"

"Most certainly," replied the court.

"That is our contention," said Mr. Ballou, "we claim the evidence is identical both in law and in fact."

But the court could not see its way to allow the plea and finally overruled it, and at 2 o'clock the taking of testimony commenced, with Port Surveyor Stratemeyer on the witness stand.

THE MOLOKAI MURDERER.

Three Hundred Dollars Reward Offered for his Capture.

Deputy Marshal Hitchcock did not return on the Mauna Loa this afternoon as was expected, and the murderer Noa is still at large.

Marshal Brown was engaged in the Radin trial when the Mauna Loa's mail came in and had not had time to read it when seen by a BULLETIN reporter at 2 o'clock.
While sitting in court he had received a hurried note from the deputy-marshal, delivered by some one on the steamer. In a few words the deputy-marshal stated that Noa had not yet been captured, although every effort was being made for the purpose. Three hundred dollars had been raised on Molokai as a reward for Noa's capture, and this amount will probably be increased by the Executive.

Marshal Brown thought there might be other letters in his mail from Sheriff Trimble but could not leave the courtroom to examine them.

JOCKEY CLUB MEETING.

Election of Officers and Annual Meeting Last Night.

There was a good attendance of members at the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Jockey Club, held at the Pacific Club last evening.

Eighteen new members were elected and matters pertaining to the coming two days' meeting on June 11 and 12 were discussed.
The opinion seemed to be general that the meeting would be the most successful of any yet held.

The following officers were elected:

President—H. A. Widemann.
Vice President—W. M. Giffard.
Treasurer—J. G. Spencer.
Secretary—S. G. Wilder.
Executive Committee—W. C.
Wilder, Jr., J. S. Walker and Seely I. Shaw.

Original Bock.

The Warrimoo that is expected here April 16 from Victoria will bring a large consignment of Original Bock Beer for the Anchor Saloon. While there has been Bock Beer on the Honolulu market, it does not begin to compare with the consignment that the Anchor will have on tap after the arrival of the Warrimoo. The reason for this is that the Bock that has already arrived is too fresh. The Bock Beer in the States is made at the first of the year and kept till May 1. The consignment to arrive is some of the original beer and is guaranteed to be better than any Bock ever imported. Wait for it. It will be on tap at the Anchor after the arrival of the Warrimoo.

BRITISH NAVY INCREASE

OVER ONE HUNDRED VESSELS TO BE BUILT.

Great Britain Preparing for Any Emergency—Her Fleets to Be Greatly Strengthened.

Washington, April 3. — The Office of Naval Intelligence has received from the American naval attache at London full details of the new ship-building plan of the British navy recently agreed to by the Admiralty Office. The amount of money involved in the programme is upward of $2,000,000 greater than estimates in any previous year, and shows the purpose on the part of Great Britain to continue the work of increasing her navy and preparing for any emergency. The plan indicates that there is little disposition to hold ships in reserve, and that as fast as they can be made ready for service they will be commissioned and assigned to squadrons. It is further stated that in view of the recent action of the powers in greatly strengthening their fleets in foreign waters the Admiralty will augment its squadrons in the Mediterranean, on the Chinese station and in channel waters.

The importance of the Chinese station has become strikingly apparent and has called for a higher ranking of officers on ships, and a Rear Admiral is most always in charge.

Four first-class battle-ships are shortly to join the fleets near Greece and three others are to be assigned to the channel fleet. Two powerful ships are to be sent out to Asia, and half a dozen more will replace smaller vessels on the North American and West Indian stations.

The amount of money England will spend this year in increasing and supporting her naval establishment is slightly more than $115,000,000. The present programme of Great Britain for the building of war vessels is one of the largest ever undertaken and comprises more classes of ships than ever before. During the year and the early months of next year she will have completed or have in course of construction fourteen first-class battle-ships, eight first-class cruisers, nine second-class cruisers, ten third-class cruisers, two sloops of war, four twin screw gunboats, fifty-two torpedo-boat destroyers, eight light-draft steamers for special service and one royal yacht. Thus the total number of vessels of all classes under construction during the year will reach the enormous aggregate of 108.

DISMISSED FOR CAUSE.

C. A. Spreckels Will Fill Vacancies With Men From the Coast.

With regard to the reports of wholesale discharge of white employees of the Spreckelsville plantation, published by an afternoon contemporary and reshaped by the local correspondent of the Examiner, J. H. Sandford, Secretary of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company, has written to that paper denying the reports from Hawaii that C. A. Spreckels has discharged all of the white men employed on the plantation of the company. These reports, the Secretary declares, are erroneous and unjust, as whatever discharges were made were ordered for cause and not because of the nationality or color of the men. In proof of this assertion Mr. Sandford adds that he has received from Mr. Spreckels requests to employ white men to fill the vacancies caused by those dismissed.

A Russian nobleman has followed the advice of Count Tolstoi, and divided his estates among the peasants, reserving but seven acres for his own cultivation.

POPULAR TEA GOWNS.

Luxurious, Captivating and Economical Garments Made of Many Fabrics.

It is the English and French women who look upon a tea gown as a means of economy, while the average American woman usually considers it a luxury which she can dispense with better than almost any others. The idea that it saves her street gowns from unnecessary wear rarely enters into her contemplation of this article of dress, and the fact that rest and comfort are to be found in one of these loose, fascinating gowns has escaped her observation, since she has so little time to be aesthetic in the most luxurious manner. A writer in the New York Sun, in connection with these remarks, has the following to say on styles and materials:

Silk tea gowns are the prettiest of all, and silks which are a little out of style for other purposes are quite up to date in a tea gown, so the bargain sales furnish an excellent opportunity for a pretty dress at a small price. Moire brocades and liberty satins make lovely gowns, but less expensive fancy striped silks answer every purpose. Popular green liberty satin makes a charming tea gown, with a front of white chiffon trimmed with yellow lace, and a belt of white satin confining the wattleu plait in the back and passing under the sides in front. A bolero jacket of satin, edged around with a frill of green crape, adds

SERVICABLE TEA GOWNS.

A pretty effect, and the sleeves are of plaited white chiffon with puffs of the satin above the elbow.

Crepon and soft cashmere in light colors make more serviceable dresses, and the fronts are of thin white silk or cream lace net over white. Boleros of velvet in a deeper shade of the same color are a novel addition, which is new this season. The princess style of gown is very popular for house dresses, but soft, inexpensive materials cannot be employed with such success in this variety of costume. The most satisfactory princess dress is the one which is made of some rich, heavy fabric, but whatever the material may be, it is the most troublesome of all gowns to fit and hang well. Two useful morning gowns for negligé wear are made of soft, red cashmere and trimmed with black velvet, and one has a yoke embroidered with conventional designs in black silk.

For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

HIS ONLY DUEL.

It Was a Newspaper Affair, and Both Editors Received a Charge.

The old editor had the inside track and was doing the talking.

"I never had more than one duel," he began.

"You speak as if one were not enough," interrupted a listener.

"It was an ample sufficiency," continued the editor with a smile. "I was at the time of its occurrence 33 years of age and the editor of the Smuggville Vindicator. I was also a hot headed youth with a yearn for glory. In the county adjoining was a 'lonesome contemporary' of mine, built on about the same lines I was, and it wasn't more than a year after we had been contemporaries until we were in a fine row. He would write scathing editorials, and so would I, and finally we dropped our pens and took up pistols—that is, we agreed to fight a duel.

"Fortunately for us we had friends who were more sensible than we were, who took charge of all the arrangements for the bloody affair. It was decided by them that the duel should take place and that we should fire two shots at each other, the weapons being double barrel shotguns and the distance ten paces. That suited us exactly, for we were extremely bloodthirsty and wanted each other's gore in large quantities. The fight was to take place at 6 o'clock in the morning in a secluded spot, and we were there promptly with our seconds. Our instructions were to fire the first shot after counting three, and if one or both survived another shot might be fired as quickly as the principal could get his gun ready.

"That made it a regular rough and tumble for half the fight, and also made it more interesting. It isn't necessary for me to go into details of what I thought 'just before the battle, mother,' suffice it to say I thought writing scathing editorials was preferable to shotguns at 6 a. m. However, we kept our nerve and took our places ready for business. And I think we meant business, for we took aim right at each other. Then came the counting, and finally the deciding 'three,' and bang went both guns at once. I felt as if I had caught an entire carload of shot from my face down, and I tumbled over on the grass. What had become of my opponent did not greatly concern me at that supreme moment, for I was wondering why I was not dead.

"In a half minute the doctor was feeling me, and after a minute or two more he said I had been miraculously saved, and pulled me to my feet. Evidently my opponent had also been miraculously saved, for he was standing about ten feet away from me with his doctor, and the sight he presented made me forget all about the duel and break into roars of laughter. I appeared to have the same effect on him, for he began laughing at me. Then we both got mad, and in five minutes we had licked seconds, doctors and everybody else on hand and run them clean out of the woods.

"This being accomplished, we shook hands and took a look at ourselves in a glass, which had evidently been brought for our benefit. Permit me to omit an elaborate description of what we looked like. These confounded seconds had loaded our guns to the muzzle with printer's ink, and the way it was splattered over us was enough to have made us laugh at first and then to lick the crowd that put the job up on us. However, we had showed we had sand, and the jokers kept in hiding until we announced in our respective papers that all was forgiven, and the hatchet was dead and buried. That was my only duel," concluded the editor, "and I am extremely glad that the guns were loaded with ink instead of buckshot."—Washington Star.

How to Cook Beefsteak and Mushrooms.

Wash and pick over the mushrooms carefully and wipe them clean and white on a wet, soft cloth. Cut off the stalks. Have a porcelain saucepan for cooking them. Put them on with water enough to cover them and stew slowly for 15 minutes. Add salt to taste and pepper, and a tablespoonful of butter rolled in a little flour for every quart of mushrooms. Let simmer three or four minutes and stir in two tablespoonfuls of cream. Let simmer a few minutes longer and then pour over your beefsteak, which has been previously broiled.

Citizens Attention.

These are days of considerable anxiety and perplexity to all who have possessions or other interests in the Republic of Hawaii, and it is time that our citizens came to a mutual understanding on several important issues. The prospects for Annexation appear at present vague and indistinct, and our destiny cannot be foretold with certainty. There are those, also, who still fondly cling to the hope of a return to the old order of things, and who cannot be persuaded otherwise, yet this outlook appears far more hazy than that of Annexation even to the most hopeful disciples of the Monarchy. But, fortunately, in the midst of all this uncertainty there is solace in the fact that Buffalo Beer has come to stay and that patrons of all sorts and opinions may equally share the benefits of its invigorating and sustaining properties. We are moreover assured that this favorite brew will continue to be dispensed as heretofore at the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan Saloons.

Mr. C. W. MACFARLANE:—It affords me pleasure to recommend, to any one whose hair is falling out, the use of DR. POTTIE'S HAIR OIL. My hair was coming out at such a rate as led me to believe that I would soon become bald. After using the oil for five weeks this ceased entirely; none whatever is now falling out. I consider it the best and only worthy remedy for this trouble and also recommend it as a stimulant to new growth. 505-1f Yours truly, J. B. DANIELS.

AUSTRALIAN UNION.

According to a brief dispatch, the Australian Federal Convention has adopted a satisfactory basis of union. It evidently adhered to what was distinctly practicable, thus avoiding the rocks on which some foreign commenters apprehended a wreck of the scheme. Resolutions were adopted providing that the powers, privileges and territory of the various colonies are to remain intact, that the exclusive power of imposing and collecting customs and excise duties and military and naval control be vested in the Federal Parliament; that trade intercourse between the federated colonies be absolutely free; that the parliament which will be established is to consist of a Senate and a House of Representatives; that the chief executive is to consist of a Governor-General, appointed by the Queen, and that a Supreme Federal Court, which will also be the High Court of Appeal of the Colonies be established. The fact that Queensland and West Australia held aloof, having sent no delegates to the convention, is not a serious block to the project. Queensland is no worse than undecided on the question, while West Australia may be said to be only unready. When British North American federation was launched, with the inauguration of the Dominion of Canada in 1867, there were only four provinces in the union. Five more previously organized provinces were admitted at an early date, and Manitoba has since been created, also the Northwest territories. Newfoundland alone holds out but more for terms than anything else. There is little doubt that all of the Australian Colonies will be ready to enter the Southern Cross Dominion at the start, and even New Zealand may not be long in seeing her advantage in joining the confederation.

CABLE MATTERS.

There is little doubt that Mr. Spalding has come to Honolulu on the present occasion to seek a renewal of his exclusive cable franchise. The Government should summarily refuse to tie cable prospects up for another two years with a purely speculative project. It should not give a moment's consideration to any franchise with exclusive landing privileges for more than five years, or sufficient time to give the pioneer cable a fair start of all rivals. At the end of that period, if the single cable has not become inadequate for the amount of business offering, give its owners a renewal of the franchise for a similar period. And even should the pressure of business call for an additional cable, allow the pioneer company the privilege of laying such, providing that no other company offers a guarantee of extraordinary advantages in competition. However, before treating with Mr. Spalding for a renewal of his franchise on any terms, the Government should be satisfied, first, that he has a company with capital subscribed ready to begin operations forthwith, and, secondly, that such company has any definite assurance that it will receive the required support from the United States. An exclusive franchise to be used simply as a speculator's implement either in Washington or elsewhere will simply mean the tying up of cable prospects to the end of the time given for inaugurating the cable. There is a rational way for Hawaii to go about getting cable communication with the outside world, which apparently has never been seen by the Hawaiian Governments. The United States and the Hawaiian Governments ought to decide between them precisely the kind and degree of encouragement they will give to a cable scheme, and then advertise for tenders to construct and operate cable communications for a given period under the agreed conditions. This plan seems to be absolutely the only one outside of one for the two Governments to have a cable laid and operated as an international work, with the expenses and profits or losses divided between them in proper proportion. The event of annexation would of course change this alternative to a purely American national enterprise. With rival promoters organized besieging the United States Congress, it would be the height of folly for the Hawaiian Government to grant a renewal of Mr. Spalding's franchise. Japan is not mentioned in the foregoing suggestion of international action, but that country may very well be included. A cable conference between the United States, Japan and Hawaii would be exceedingly promising of early and most satisfactory results. It would be able to create a cable scheme rivaling that now far advanced of an all British cable in the Pacific both in commercial and political importance.

Since the publication of a paragraph in the BULLETIN about the reported lease of Delagoa Bay to Great Britain, an official denial of the report given in Lisbon has been published. It is probable on different occasions, one of them lately, to stand off formidable attacks of savages in her African territory. Once she declined the proffered help of the British forces, Portugal would be harder up than there is reason to believe, before it became necessary to rent her splendid maritime position in East Africa.

Coming Event.

The Vaidis Twin Sisters, coming in the Australia, give a trapeze performance entirely new to Honolulu. They perform on a revolving trapeze close to the ceiling, the bars being one at each end of a frame that looks like the walking beam of a steamboat. The Vaidis played back East with the Jordans, who lately made such a brilliant success at the Hawaiian Opera House, and the Jordans while here spoke very highly of them.

Splendid Tribute

THE SAN FRANCISCO BOARD OF HEALTH URGES THE USE OF THE Royal Baking Powder.

The magnificent tribute of the San Francisco Board of Health to the great purity and wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder greatly disturbs the manufacturers of the lower grade powders. Their evasive publications, however, cannot break the force of this uncolored and unbiased high medical endorsement. Attached is a certified copy of their original report, with the signatures of the members of the Board in fac-simile.

We, the members of The Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients of the highest strength and character.

In our judgment it is impossible to make a purer or stronger Baking Powder than the "Royal."

IN THE HIGHER COURTS

HEAVY DAMAGE SUIT BROUGHT BY INJURED HUSBAND.

Controversy Between Rival Chinese Theatrical Companies—Discharge of Assignee in Bankruptcy.

E. C. Winston, plaintiff, by his attorneys, Kinney & Ballou, has filed a demurrer to the answer of Hawaiian Pork and Packing Co., defendant. The demurrer alleges, among other grounds, that "it is impossible to tell from said answer whether the defendant admits or denies the plaintiff's claim, whereby no issue of fact is present for the determination of a jury."

Judge Carter has granted the discharge of W. H. Baird, assignee in bankruptcy of Wing Yee Tai Company.

A bill in equity for injunction is being heard by Judge Carter. Chong Mee Hing, for and on account of Loi Kwan Ying Co., prays that Chun Choi, Kan Wing Chew and Poi Fun Wung Co. be enjoined from trespassing on the boards of the old Chinese theater. Plaintiff alleges that, with full authority from the company he represents, he is lessee of the theater, and that from February, 1896, performances have been continuously given therein, from which the company has derived good financial profits.

Loo Chat Sam, the complainant says, is a shareholder in the company, and he engaged the defendants to play a season in the theater. Accordingly they occupied the place during last week, giving their performances and retaining all the receipts for admission. This was in defiance of the authority and control of Chong Mee Hing, who is manager as well as lessee of the theater. Complainant feared that there would be a breach of the peace between the rival companies last night, therefore procured a temporary injunction to restrain the defendants from occupying the theater until the matter be determined by these proceedings. Castle and Weaver represent the complainant, and Magoon & Edings the defendants.

Carlos Long by his attorney, A. Ross, has entered a suit against Wm. H. Cornwell Jr. for $10,000 damages for criminal conversation. The alleged grounds of the proceeding involve a course of conduct on the part of the defendant calculated to destroy the conjugal and domestic peace of the complainant. It is asserted by friends of the complainant that this course has been persisted in, notwithstanding severe personal checks from the complainant and strong cautions from near friends of the respondent.

TWO MILLIONS FOR CHARITY.

Jubilee Bequest by a London Capitalist.

E. T. Hooley, the noted London promoter and flouter of great financial enterprises, has taken opportunity of the approaching jubilee of Queen Victoria to devote $2,000,000 of his fortune to philanthropy. Mr. Hooley, by his ability as a financier, has built up a colossal fortune. He is not unknown to American financiers, who regard him as one of the ablest operators on the London Stock Exchange. Having made himself immensely rich Mr. Hooley has now decided to spend much of his time and money in helping his suffering fellow countrymen. The sum above named will be wisely invested and the interest money from it will be spent in relieving widows and orphans in the vicinity of Mr. Hooley's big estates in Derbyshire.

The Sunlight is Glistening on Those "Orange Rims," but unfortunately for us it is not glistening on them in this country, as our shipment of STEARNS wheels was put on the "W. H. Dimond," so is not due here for a week. Our COLUMBIAS also are still out of wheeling range, as they got to S. F. the day before the steamer sailed, and no more freight would be received, but they will come along soon, and in the meantime we want you to know that we received 97 RAMBLERS by yesterday's steamer, and can fit you out with either a '96 or '97 wheel, and we know we can suit you. The 1896 RAMBLER is the bargain of the year and the chance to buy a well known high grade wheel for $75 and $80 will not last long, as we are informed by the makers that this is the last lot of '96 wheels they can furnish, for, as they write, "our sales have been phenomenal, and you took the last '96 wheels we had in stock."

WE RENT BICYCLES by the hour, day, week or month, and we rent high grade new wheels, such as RAMBLERS, STEARNS, and COLUMBIAS, so if you want a short ride or a long ride, want to ride single or want to ride double, drop in and see how nicely we can fit you out. You will get just as good a mount if you telephone us, and we will send your wheel to your door. Your chance to buy a '96 RAMBLER cheap will only last a few days, don't miss it.

VIOLIN PLAYING.

Management of the Left Hand—Playing in Tune—In Regard to Strings.

After a reasonably good bowing has been acquired, says a writer in The Ladies' Home Journal, the study of the left hand should be taken up. The neck of the violin must be held between the thumb and the first finger where it joins the hand. The entire length of the finger must be held above the edge of the finger board, and the fingers must fall double jointed and like the hammers of a piano on the strings—the very ends of the fingers touching the strings. In order to produce a clear tone the fingers must be pressed very hard on the strings. "Strong with the fingers, light with the bow" is the constant refrain of one of the most celebrated teachers.

The first difficulty encountered is that of playing in tune. As the violin is not supplied with frets like the guitar or mandolin the ear is the only guide. Important as the practice of the scales is on other instruments, it is doubly important on the violin, as it is by scale study principally that the ability to play in tune is acquired. The playing of familiar melodies is also of very great advantage to the beginner, as he can tell when he is playing out of tune, where in the case of an exercise with which he is unacquainted he cannot so easily distinguish this fault. In playing scale passages the student must constantly ask himself whether the next note is a whole step or a half step distant before he plays it. If he will go through the exercise beforehand and mark the whole steps and half steps, he will execute it in much better tune when he comes to play it.

In regard to strings, the best are the cheapest, as they last longer and give a better tone. The G should be of gut wrapped with pure silver wire. The A and D should be of Italian gut, and the E strings give a poor, dull tone, very different from the singing brilliance of good Italian gut E's. They are good for warm weather playing or for persons whose fingers perspire very freely. The hair of the bow should be renewed every two months in the case of players who practice very much, as it wears smooth and will not take hold of the string. The violin should always be kept strung up in pitch. Do not let down the strings of the instrument with the mistaken idea that you will save some of them thereby. Never neglect an opportunity to hear good violinists. Something can be learned from each. A student learns as much from hearing others play as from private lessons with a teacher. If you can only take a few lessons, let it be from the best teacher you can find.

The Fin de Siecle Girl.

Mamma—But you are altogether too young to think seriously of love, my child. Mabel—Oh, no. If you had only begun to think about it as early as I, you would never have been so foolish as to marry.—Brooklyn Life.

A VOICE FROM THE BLEACHERS.

Local interest in the cricket games as reflected from the "bleachers" is increasing. During Saturday's games the "bleachers" were particularly vociferous and kept the players under a running fire of good natured banter. One small boy brought down the crowd by advising the batsman to "go buy a case of Rainier Beer and get some life in you." The crowd applauded the remark, knowing that Rainier Beer is celebrated for its invigorating and strength-giving propensities. On tap or in bottles at the Criterion.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Most men can stand a disappointed love lot better than the grip.

A girl never begins to be attractive till she gets over trying to be fascinating.

After his baby has once cried to come to him a man will believe any yarn his wife tells about what it has done.

When a man knows that a girl will accept him the first time he proposes to her, it takes half the pleasure out of it.

There probably never was a spiritual poet who didn't have times when he wanted a beefsteak smothered in onions and a big piece of cheese.

A woman's first instinct when the house has been broken into by burglars is to try to convince her husband that the robbers took some of her canned fruit. - New York Press.

A Living Example.

A tale that Dr. Benson delighted in was told him by a gentleman who, finding that the stablemen were not in the habit of attending church, spoke to his coachman about it. "They ought to go," he said.

"That's just what I say myself, sir," was the rejoinder. "I says to them, 'Look at me, I go, and what harm does it do me?'" - Youth's Companion.

Ought to Know.

"What's the width of your lot?" "Forty feet."

"Why, it doesn't look to be more than 25."

"Well, I guess I ought to know. I've measured it with the snow shovel 16 times since the 1st of January." - Chicago Tribune.

The Same Old Story.

"Don't you think $40 a week alimony is a little too much to demand," asked the referee in the divorce case, "when he is only making $50?"

"No, I don't," said the lady. "That's what I used to make him promise when I was livin' with him!" - Cincinnati Enquirer.

Literary Profits.

"I wonder," said the young man, "whether there is much money to be made by writing novels."

"Some, perhaps," replied the professional amanuensis, "but not as much as by typewriting them." - Washington Star.

No Inducement.

"Were those cough drops beneficial?" "They worked like a charm. They have such a horrible taste that the children have all stopped coughing." - Chicago Record.

Equal to the Demand.

He - Your mouth looks as if it were full of kisses. How many do you suppose there are in it?

She - Oh, enough to go around. - Truth.

Hard Luck.

Pat - To think that he's thar was man on the hill that Oi don't know. - Truth.

Reasons Why.

There are two reasons why people are now paying car fare all the way from Waikiki to the Palama Grocery and back. Reason 1. It is the only place on the island where the celebrated Salvation Army tent is sold. Reason 2. After paying car fare both ways patrons find they are money in pocket by dealing at this "live and let live" establishment. We also deliver goods between Diamond Head and Moanalua free.

HARRY CANNON, Palama Grocery. Opposite Railway depot, King street. Tel. 755.

Nicely furnished rooms at the Popular House, 154 Fort street, from $1.00 per week up.

That picture in King Bros' window which has attracted so much attention is not the portrait of anyone here.

Torchon and Valenciennes laces are still in great demand. L. B. Kerr has a choice lot, which he is selling at lowest possible rates.

With a large lot of goods just received by the Australia and Amy Turner, the Pacific Hardware Co. have another invoice of the favorite Universal Stoves and Ranges. Some sizes were sold as soon as set up, but another supply has been ordered.

New .. Enterprise!

Our Retail Department having met with such success, and wishing to accommodate our patrons in furnishing their kitchen with a complete outfit, we concluded to add to our already large stock of House-furnishing Goods Ranges AND Cook Stoves.

Looking carefully through the different works in the East, we find

The Michigan Stove Co., OF DETROIT, MICHIGAN,

are the largest manufacturers of this class of goods in the world. They make the largest and best line that are particularly adapted to this country. We secured the Agency for these Islands, and now have on the way a large shipment of these justly celebrated Ranges and Cook Stoves. They will be here on the arrival of the barkentine "Archer," which will probably be about the 20th of this month. Anyone contemplating buying a new range will do well to wait a few days and have the finest assortment to select from ever brought to this market, and at prices to suit the times.

MARINE NEWS NOTES

TWO SAN FRANCISCO PACKETS ARRIVE.

A Prowler Visits the Wm. Bowden—Many Interesting Items Gathered on Ships and Wharves.

Tomorrow, high tide large 7:50 p.m.; high tide small 7:25 a.m.; low tide large 11:55 a.m.; low tide small 2:30 p.m.

The James Makee is on the Marine Railway for slight repairs. This is the first vessel on the ways for quite a while.

The steamer Mikahala brought in a big load of sugar from Lahaina this morning. Purser Grubs says there was a glorious time at the big picnic at Lahaina.

The old bark Rosalie has gone to the bone yard at last. She is now lying on the mud flat near the cattle pen, and the Japanese have begun to break up her hull.

Portuguese Charge d'Affaires Canavaro and British Commissioner Hawes visited the U S flag-ship Philadelphia this morning, each receiving a salute on returning ashore.

Two deserters are reported from the ship Iroquois today. Captain Harry Evans captured the fellow belonging to the Iroquois who visited the steamer Kanae late Saturday night. Nothing was done with the rascal, however.

The customs inspector and the agents' freight clerk who are discharging the bark Albert at Brewer's wharf appreciate the kindness of Minister King, who had a water cart sprinkle the wharf yesterday to lay the dust.

The big ship Iroquois began to haul out in the stream to complete her sugar cargo, but being already deeply laden, she grounded opposite Oceanic wharf in the middle of the harbor. With the next high tide she is expected to float clear without trouble.

The big ship Kenilworth, which arrived yesterday, is tied at the Oceanic wharf where thousands of bags of sugar await her. She has a few hundred tons of ballast to discharge. About 76,000 bags is the amount of sugar she is expected to take away.

The American barkentine Archer, Geo Calhoun master, arrived this morning. Fine weather was had throughout the passage of 18 days. The skipper says the weather was too fine, a succession of light winds and calms being had most of the trip. The Archer tied up at Brewer's wharf. She brought five passengers. The cargo was made up of 845 tons general merchandise, 40 mules, 4 horses, 3 dogs and 6 chickens.

After a run of 17½ days from San Francisco, the American bark C D Bryant, Captain Colly, arrived this morning. The bark sighted the Archer two or three times during the passage. The Bryant's cargo consists of 1300 tons general merchandise. There are two cabin passengers and one stowaway. Just before the vessel sailed from Frisco, Capt Jack Lee was relieved of his command, and was succeeded by first mate Colly.

Judge Hanford at Seattle has filed a decision in the salvage suit of the Puget Sound Tugboat Co against the Pacific Coast Steamship Co's steamer City of Puebla. The plaintiffs' tug Wanderer, under great danger, pulled the steamer away from rocks to which she was being driven, and towed her into the Straits of Juan de Fuca. Judge Hanford awards $13,500 to the tugboat company, $1000 to the master of the Wanderer, $600 each to mate and chief engineer, $400 to assistant engineer, cabin boy $50 and to each of the other eight men of the crew $100. The City of Puebla was heavily loaded with a valuable cargo when rescued.

Another Prowler.

The schooner Wm Bowden is at Pacific Mail wharf, where she will discharge coal. About two o'clock last night, while Captain Ejerem was lying in his bunk, he heard someone walking lightly on deck. First he supposed it was the mate, but knowing that the mate did not steal about the deck as if fearing to tread on eggs, he knew it was someone up to mischief. Meanwhile the skipper kept still. In another minute a man stole quietly into the cabin. There was a light in the cabin. The stranger went straight to the captain's clothes, which were hanging near the bunk, and started to appropriate a gold watch and chain. The captain then shouted, "Drop that! You'll step on rotten eggs!" There was immediately a streak in the air. When the much awake mariner reached the deck, his nocturnal visitor was out of sight, having made a break for uptown as fast as his legs would carry him. If the "old de'il" himself was after the fellow, he could not have left the ship in greater hurry. Captain Ejerem says nothing is missing from the cabin.

Peace Patrick.

Patrick was the captain of a schooner that plied between New York and Haverstraw on the Hudson. One day his schooner was loaded with bricks, ready to start for New York, but Patrick gave no sign of any intention to get under way. Instead of that, he sat on deck smoking a pipe.

The owner of the brickyard, who was also the owner of the schooner, and who had reasons for wishing the bricks landed in New York at the earliest possible moment, came hurrying on board and demanded of the captain why he did not set sail.

"Shure, your honor," said Patrick, "there's no wind."

"No wind! Why, what's the matter with you? There's Lawson's schooner under sail, going down the river now."

"Yes, I've been watching her, but it's no use my gettin' under way. She's got the wind now, and, faith, there isn't enough of it for two."—Harper's Round Table.

As He Sees Her.

She's a pretty puss in boots, With a saucy name that suits Every glance.

It is whispered, it is sung Still it ruffles on the tongue In the dance.

Oh, she walks so pit-a-pat, And she talks of this and that Such a way.

Just to watch her witching blush Even Boreates would blush Half a day.

She is not an angel, no! They are out of place below; Let us grieve.

Yet perchance there is a wing Hid beneath that puffy thing Styled a sleeve.

—Samuel Minturn Peck.

Still Better.

"Upward" was the subject Of his noble class oration; Spoken in a manner That did win him an ovation.

Ah, how he did love her, His dear old alma mater; "Upward" was his subject— And he runs an elevator!

"Halo, Central." "Well?" "Let me have Havana. I wish to speak to Captain—General Weyler."

"There you are." "Is that General Weyler?" "Yes." "How are you getting along with the pacification of Cuba, General?" "I am progressing by slow degrees."

"Thank you, General. Good-by." "Good-by."

A Gentle Hint.—"Nice dog! Have you taught him any tricks since I was here last?" "Oh, yes; he will fetch your hat if you whistle," said she sweetly.

Publisher—I wish you would write us a good sea story. Great Author—But I have never been to sea.—I know it. I want a sea story that people can understand.
