KAUAI IN EARLY MISSION DAYS

By J. M. Lydgate

The near-at-hand Hawaiian Missions Centennial suggests the fitness of looking into our own back history, of a hundred years ago, that we may understand and appreciate the part that Kauai played in those great formative events. Prince Sent Abroad for Education About 1805, Kaumu-ali, King of Kauai, had sent his son George, when a lad of nine years, to America to be educated. He entrusted him to the hands of one of the sea captains who frequently visited Kauai, and gave him the necessary funds for the proper care and education of the lad on his arrival in New England.

Unfortunately the captain died shortly after his arrival at home, and these funds were swallowed up in the wreck of his estate.

The boy George, thrown on his own resources, and the charity of chance friends, wandered about from place to place, and finally enlisted in the American navy. On his discharge at the close of the war of 1812, he was discovered at the navy yard at Charlestown, Mass., identified as the son of Kaumu-ali, and removed to Cornwall for education, in company with a few other Hawaiian youth, who had been brought back by traders from their Pacific voyages.

The Prodigal's Return

On the embarkation of the first missionary party for the Islands, this George accompanied them as an independent passenger, and when the missionaries arrived at the Islands it was a first duty, as well as a promising privilege, to restore George to his royal father.

Accordingly, with as little delay as possible, Messrs. Whitney and Ruggles, of the missionary party, accompanied by George Kaumu-ali, or George Mume-hume, as he was more familiarly known, set sail for Kauai with Captain Blanchard, of the Thaddeus.

Kaumu-ali Kills the Fatted calf

Arriving at Waimea they were received by Kaumu-ali with every evidence of satisfaction and gratitude, sentiments which found expression in a most cordial reception of the missionaries, and a bountiful largess of supplies for the vessel, consisting of fifty large hogs, and a generous supply of yams, sweet potatoes, sugar cane, coconuts, etc. In addition he imposed on Captain Blanchard, by way of passage money, a gift of sandalwood to the value of $1000.

To his long lost son, whom he had not seen for fifteen years, he gave the Waimea Valley as an estate, and conferred on him rank second only to his own.

Wants To Keep the Missionaries

He was so anxious to retain the missionaries that he offered to give them lands, and build houses, schools and churches for them. He promised to have the people learn to keep the Sabbath, and pray, and do whatever the missionaries wanted. So anxious were the King and Queen to have the missionaries remain, and so fearful that they might not, that they could not sleep, we are told; and so anxious were they to learn to read, or perhaps to seem to, that, while they could not surrender their favorite recreation of surfing and swimming, they might be seen standing in the river up to their waists in water, book in hand, re-

Kapaa Notes

A Chinese laborer of the Wailua rice fields was taken into custody last week for alleged insanity. He was taken to Honolulu on Saturday by Daniel Hano to be turned over to the proper authorities there.

The local theatre again opened for business after more than a month of idleness. To show that the closing has in no way diminished their appetite for the movies, the people crowded the theatre to capacity for the opening on Saturday evening.

That very interesting question of whether the teachers will get a raise if the Governor calls a special session of the legislature this summer, was submitted to Representatives Aguiar and Kaahu of this district last week, but both were non-committal, preferring to wait until they knew more of the details of the reasons for the proposed 25 per cent increase before expressing their opinions. They both seem to agree, however, that a raise of some sort is necessary.

According to the date set, the Kapaa Fourth Series homesteaders attached their signatures to the new contract with the Makee Sugar Company on Wednesday. Some of the new Wailua homesteaders also signed on the following day. The new contract has been approved by the present Territorial administration.

S. Kelihoi and N. K. Hoopii left for Honolulu on Saturday as representatives of the Kauai Republican club at a meeting to be held today in Honolulu to select delegates to the National Convention.

B. Y. Lee, proprietor of Yuen Bee Cafe, gave a large luau on Saturday to friends and relatives in celebration of the recovery of his wife from a severe attack of influenza. Almost all of the Hawaiian families from Anahola to Lihue were invited, and the cafe was specially decorated for the occasion.

A Serious Accident

The Honolulu papers publish an item about George Little, "assistant engineer of the Lihue Mill. This is a mistake as far as Lihue is concerned. He is assistant engineer at McBryde. Some time ago he was in the act of filling a gasoline torch when the gasoline sprayed out over his clothing. His first impulse was to go home and change. But satisfied that it would surely evaporate in a few minutes he failed to do so. A little later in lighting the torch the flame leaped to his clothing and in an instant he was all ablaze. Unfortunately there was no one near to help him and before he could free himself his whole breast and his hands were terribly burned. At the time there seemed little chance of his recovery, but he is now doing well and in due time will be about again.

Soccer Meeting

E. L. Dankroger, president of the Kauai Soccer league, has called a meeting of that organization for 7:30 p. m., Thursday, April 8, at Koloa hall. Business of importance is to come before the meeting, and it is requested that each club will have three voting members present.

Election of Our Republican Delegates

A meeting of Republican Electors was held at the County Building last Friday to elect delegates to the convention in Honolulu this week. Being a rush meeting called on very short notice the attendance was small. C. A. Rice, R. D. Moler and Enoka Lovell were elected delegates to represent Lihue.

The meeting of the convention was set for yesterday in Honolulu, but has been postponed until today. A number of the Kauai delegates went to town on Saturday, others will be represented by proxy.

Auto Smash-up

On Saturday afternoon as Miss Langwith, district nurse of Kilauea, was driving out of the Lihue Hotel entrance, one Yamasaki, rent driver of Lawai, going toward Nawiliwili, crashed into her car, wrecking the left front wheel and doing considerable other damage. Yamasaki claimed that Miss Langwith did not sound her horn, but Sheriff Rice, who was in the vicinity, heard Miss Langwith sound her horn, and was a witness to the fact that her car was across the road when struck, also that if Yamasaki had stayed on his right side of the road he would have missed the other car.

Yamasaki appeared before Judge Hjorth yesterday morning. The judge, taking everything into consideration, said he thought ten and three would about fit the occasion.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

The McBryde-Makaweli soccer game at Eleele last Sunday was a great exhibition of the English national sport, and resulted in a win for Makaweli of 1 to 0. Hutton, of Lihue was referee.

Lihue claims a win from Kawaihau on the grounds that their Kapaa field, where the game was to have taken place, was in no condition to play upon. The matter will be decided at the league meeting next Thursday evening. If the league decides that Lihue gets the Kawaihau game, it will mean that Lihue and McBryde are tied for first place.

There will be no game next Sunday.

HARBOR LICENSE IS FOR FIFTY YEARS

The Ahukini harbor improvements license is to run for a term of 50 years. On the termination of the license by expiration or any other reason, the improvements revert to the Territory without remuneration.

NOTICE OF THANKS

Those who contributed recently towards the Serbian Relief, will be interested in the following wireless from Mrs. Frank Putman: "To Mrs. Chas. Wilcox—Many thanks to all who contributed towards the wonderfully generous contribution. I am most grateful. VIOLET PUTMAN."

New Homesteaders Making Progress

The Wailua Homestead region has undergone a wonderful transformation during the last three months and one would scarcely know it now, there has been so much clearing, plowing, planting and building done. The promptness and energy with which the wilderness has been reduced to cultivation is most commendable and promises well for a successful outcome. The mistake of late planting, which is so common, and so fatal, in such new operations, has been avoided and this early planting, taken with good preparation in the way of clearing and plowing, ought to produce the best of results.

Our neighbor M. G. Santos is among the very first to get his crop in, and with his family is getting settled in his cosy little home at Sunny Brook.

C. S. Dole also is well along with his planting and with his simple homestead home.

In regard to Hanalei however later information indicates the epidemic is just beginning to take hold.

There are no less than 25 cases of assured flu.

Prompt measures have been taken to handle the situation. A nurse has been ordered from town and the Japanese school is being converted in an emergency hospital, while the leading people of the community have volunteered to do whatever they can to help out.

A LEGAL WEDDING

Yesterday morning Herman Koerto and Alice Adolpho, of Hanamaulu, appeared before L. A. Dickey with the request that he bind them in the holy bonds of matrimony. They had the required license but failed to bring witnesses to the event, so the judge had to rustle around and find some witnesses. He finally found two people who were willing to act in this capacity and the two young folks were soon tied hard and fast and sent on their way rejoicing.

Judge Dickey has been splicing matrimonial knots ever since he was second district magistrate in Honolulu, away back in 1900. In those days he used to perform more ceremonies than the parsons.

QUIET IN COURT CIRCLES

Judge Hjorth reports that March was a very light month in district court business,—the fine realizations being only $34.00. This is probably due to the prevalence of the flu, partly because would-be criminals or evaders of the law had other things on hand that absorbed their whole attention, and partly perhaps because the police were more or less laid up, and were not as alert as usual.

Personals

C. W. Spitz is back on Kauai for a day of two.

C. S. Judd, executive officer of the forestry commission is on Kauai in connection with his department.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Robinson and Miss Eleanor Robinson returned to Kauai by the Kinau last Friday.

The Kinau and the Mauna Loa both leaving Saturday afternoon are booked to overflowing and many will doubtless be left for want of room.

Mrs. F. Hustace underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Lihue hospital a few days ago. She is doing well.

Christopher Kuhlmann is about again after a very severe case of flu and other complications. He was in Lihue hospital about three weeks and has lost forty-five pounds in weight.

Higuche who was driving the Ford car when two Filipino ladies were injured a couple of weeks ago, was up this morning before the District Court on a charge of reckless driving and in addition to a reprimand, had his license taken away for a year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rice and Miss Edith Rice went to town on Saturday, and Mr. Rice returned this morning. Mrs. Rice and her daughter will go on to the coast to be present at the graduation of Juliet.

There was a large exodus by the Kinau last Saturday—there will be another like exodus this afternoon, and most of the people who are left will leave this coming Saturday.

H. M. Albright the special agent visiting the Islands in the interest of National parks is spending a few days on the Island looking over our parks and possibilities.

Sam Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter, well known on Kauai, has arrived to succeed the late T. F. Hustace. He is married and will occupy the Hustace house and the young couple will doubtless be a valuable addition to the community—certainly so if they are anything like their parents.

Information has just been received of the shipment to be made in May by the fish and game commission of California, of 30,000 trout spawn to be put in the head waters of the Waimea watershed at Kokee.

Referring to the item in our last issue inquiring about the property of Ernest F. Webb, we are informed that he was a prospective homesteader some years ago for the Kalaheo tract, but as he didn't secure a homestead he has no property there. Perhaps he did better on Hawaii.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The joint financial campaign now being made by the Y. M. C. A., the boy scouts and the school athletic league is one that should appeal to every member of Kauai community. No institution can do effective service without a reasonable amount of money and these three organizations on Kauai have officially agreed to combine their askings from the public all at one time which is the popular and efficient plan in other places. Kauai needs the protective influence of all three of these organizations. Their functions do not overlap but they coordinate admirably. Moreover it is everybody's business on Kauai to get back of these well-known, vigorous American institutions.

MILK SUPPLY FOR PLANTATION PEOPLE

The Lihue Plantation will establish a dairy to furnish milk for their people at such a moderate price that it will be within the reach of all. This was the decision arrived at in the recent annual meeting of the stockholders. This conviction has been slowly crystallizing for years and was hurried to a finish by the recent flu epidemic.

It will probably be located down by the sea at Nukoli beyond Hanamaulu on what is commonly known as the Bismark Drive. This will be an excellent location as it provides a fine, sandy flat which will be always clean and dry for buildings and run, and is backed by a fertile, stretch of swale that, when drained, will raise the best of feed. There will also be an abundant supply of water, and good drainage into the nearby sea. The location will also be easily accessible by good roads.

They will import high class stock from the coast and will have all the best modern appliances to make it sanitary and wholesome in every respect; and they will furnish the best of high grade milk.

The plan will be to furnish the milk to their employees, and the contingent general public, at as near cost as possible, and to deliver it in the very early morning to central stations in each camp all over the plantation.

Harris, recently of Kealia, who has been in the dairy business at the coast and thoroughly understands it, will conduct the business. Immediate steps are being taken to install the enterprise, and it is expected that it will be in operation within a few months.

Easter at Lihue Union

Easter services at Lihue Union church were well attended about seventy being in the congregation. The atmosphere of Easter, fragrant with flowers, cheering in song and hopeful in significance was a most welcome relief to the general depression that has prevailed in this community for the last few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Simpson and Mrs. Bayless were admitted into the membership of Lihue Union church by transfer from the Presbyterian church of Lincolnton, Ga., and Central Union of Honolulu, respectively. The pastor's sermon relating to the Resurrection theme was of positive, faith-inspiring character. Following the Easter message the sacrament of the Lord's supper was celebrated impressively, the pastor being assisted by Rev. J. M. Lydgate and deacons Judge Dickey and Judge Dole.

Attendance at Sunday school was very gratifying after the recess enforced by the flu ban. Mr. Warner and Mr. Bayless both made talks to the children on the significance of Easter. It is hoped that there will be an increasing attendance from now on both of pupils and teachers until the maximum possible for Lihue community will be reached.

PASSPORTS TO BE HAD

Passports may now be secured by American Citizens at the office of the Governor of the Territory instead of the clerk of the U. S. Court as heretofore.

This will be a convenience, and will save much time.

Supervisor H. D. Wishard has been confined to his home for several days with a touch of the flu. He was out for a short time yesterday and will probably be his vigorous self again within a few days.

DR. SCUDDER AND THE BOLSHEVIKI

Why all this hue and cry about Dr. Scudder's article in the Friend on the Bolsheviki? It is an intelligent, instructive, temperate paper, which every thinking person ought to read,—one which ought to minister very materially to our clearer understanding of a clouded and complicated issue. Most of us, up to the present, have been in a culpable condition of ignorance in regard to the Bolsheviki, the Soviets, the Zemstvos, the Dumas, Lenine, Trotzky and all the rest of it. About the only thing that we have known with certainty was that it was all Russian—a mixed up mess of things sinister and destructive, that we didn't want to have anything to do with. Dr. Scudder is the first man who has given us any clear, comprehensive information about them, and we ought to be grateful to him.

He has been in Siberia; he has seen the Bolsheviki at first hand,—presumably he knows what they are better than most of us do. When out of this first hand experience, and on the judgment of a sane and responsible man of affairs, who knows what he is talking about,—he says they aren't so bad:—and when farther he gives us some of the evidence to substantiate this temperate conclusion, there doesn't seem to be any occasion to fly off the handle and berate him because the Bolsheviki aren't the monsters of iniquity that we had painted them.

Dr. Scudder says he likes the Bolsheviki; he has a perfect right to like them if he wants to. We don't have to like them because he does.

He says they are doing a fine work for Russia. That's all right; we are glad to know it. Let them keep right on—Russia needs it bad enough!

But let them stay in Russia; we don't need them in America, and we don't want them there. He tells us that Russia possesses a social soul developed beyond that of any other people on earth; also that the Russian people are dark and uncultured; also,—and this is the vital point to us—they make no bones of leading the way to a universal socialist state. This is where we draw the line. Let them develop their social souls to their heart's content—in Russia; let them develop their ideals and work out their experiments to their full satisfaction, among themselves; but when it comes to cramming them down our throats,—that's where we draw the line, and draw it hard.

By their fruits shall ye know them. When they have garnered in the ripened and wholesome fruits of Bolshevism, and we have sampled them and satisfied ourselves that they are good,—then, if we want Bolshevism, it will be in order for us, voluntarily to adopt it,—but to have Bolshevism thrust down our throats,—the Lord preserve us from any such experience.

A BENEFICIAL ENTERPRISE

We would most heartily commend the proposed inauguration of a dairy by the Lihue plantation. A sufficient and wholesome supply of milk has become one of the absolutely vital necessities of life, at any rate so far the children are concerned. In the interest of stable and efficient labor—in the interest of community health,—in the interest of physical development,—milk is a very vital factor.

A dairy will be good business we believe, in various different ways, direct as well as indirect. It will also be good philanthropy and humanity;—it will minister to the welfare and happiness of the whole community, and will help very materially to build up the coming generation into that sound physique which is the basis of happiness and well being.

UNFORTUNATE

We beg to call attention to the notice elsewhere in our columns of the temporary closing of the Kukuiohono Park because of the high cost of labor, and the difficulty of keeping the same.

The closing of this most popular and creditable institution is a public misfortune much to be regretted. Presumably this closing will involve neglect and retrogression that later will have to be paid for by largely increased cost—which will be most unfortunate,—and bad business.

NEW EYES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

All progress is based on curiosity. Only to the inquiring mind does enlightenment come, and there can be no such thing as an education which is regardless of those things that immediately surround us—the earth, the vegetables, the flowers, the trees, the rocks, the birds, the streams, the animals, the skies, and those machines through which the forces of nature work. I am conscious every day of the defects in my early education, for I should have been taught, first of all, not technical botany, but the nature of plants, the difference between plants, and the nature of the layers of the earth, and the difference between them, and all those other things that would make a walk or a drive a constant panorama of delight. As it is, I have walked through the world almost blindfolded. Your program is to give new eyes to boys and girls, and men and women.

CHILDREN GROWING UP ILLITERATE, SAYS CHILDREN'S BUREAU

One-Fourth of Those Examined Could Not Read and Write—All Native Americans

That many American-born children are growing up illiterate is asserted by the Seventh Annual Report of the Chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor. As proof the bureau points to figures collected in connection with the administration of the child labor act of 1916, which was later declared unconstitutional. They cover five States in which the employment of children was general.

Of the 19,696 children between 14 and 16 years old to whom certificates were issued, more than one-fourth could not write their names legibly. Nearly 10 per cent had never gone beyond the first grade and considerably more than half were in the fourth grade or lower when they left school. Only about 3 per cent were in eighth grade, and about 1 in 100 had reached high school.

"These children are native Americans," says the report. "Of the whole number, only 24 were foreign born. The responsibility for their neglect is not merely a local one. The United States is now offering to the States financial assistance and expert advice in providing for the vocational education of the children. A similar national policy might well be followed in regard to elementary education.

"It is generally agreed that the educational opportunities offered the rural child are inferior to those offered the children in cities or industrial towns. Illiteracy is everywhere higher in the rural than the urban population. Unless prompt attention be given the problem the children of the present generation will not be assured at least the elementary education which every citizen in a republic should have. We surely can not afford to ignore the need of a national guaranty of at least an elementary education for all the children of the country."

LIHUE UNION CHURCH

There will be services at the usual hour next Sunday. Rev. J. O. Warner will be the speaker, using this theme: "The By Products of Christian Missions." This subject is very appropriate upon the first Sunday of the Centennial. All who do not go to Honolulu are most cordially invited to be present. The following Sunday there will be no service.

Whitney and Ruggles Settle At Waimea.

Whitney and Ruggles made an exploration of the Island and then went back to Honolulu to report. Meantime Kaunuu-ali'i continued his entreaties for their return, entreaties so evidently genuine, that the mission yielded, and Messrs Whitney and Ruggles and their families sailed in the "Levant," Captain Cary, and arrived at Waimea July 25, 1820. They were met in the bay by the King and Queen, who expressed great satisfaction by the oft repeated exclamation of "Nui-nui-kaikai!"

Liked Their Style of Religion

They had public worship on Sunday, which was attended by the King and Queen and their retinue, at the conclusion of which the King expressed his approval. "I like your way of worship very much. My old way was pupuku. I will come every Sabbath, and by and bye we will build a big church and be like people in America." At the same time he inquired with a good deal of interest concerning the feasibility of securing ship carpenters, smiths, armorers, powder-makers, etc. Doubtless these seemed to him even more important than missionaries.

The Queen Writes A Unique Letter

The following letter purports to have been written by the Queen, Debora Kapule, as the date indicates, within a few days of their arrival, to the mother of Mrs. Ruggles:

Dear Friend:—

I am glad your daughter came here. I shall be her mother now, and she shall be my regular daughter. I be good to her; give her tapa, give her plenty eat. By and by she speak Hawaiian, then she teach me how to read and write and sew, and talk of great Akua, which the good people in America love. I begin spell little; read come very hard like stone. You very good send your daughter long way to teach the heathens. I am very glad I can write you a short letter and tell you I be good to your daughter.

"I send you my aloha, and tell you I am your friend.

CHARLOTTE TAPULE,
Queen of Atooi."

The simple explanation of this letter is that it was the handiwork of George Hume-hume, whose sense of propriety it expresses, rather than that of the said Charlotte Kapule.

Builds Them A Generous Station

True to his promise, Kaunuu-ali'i rendered every possible assistance in establishing them at Waimea, where a commodious mission house was built for them, 54 by 24 feet, with floor, doors and glass windows, all rare luxuries in those days. There were five bed rooms, and two larger ones which served as dining room, school room, chapel, etc.

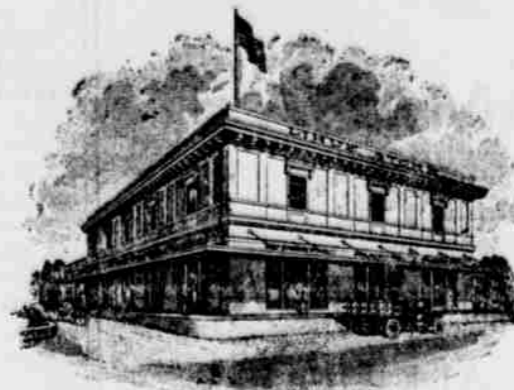

On East Bank of River Below Russian Fort

It stood near the water's edge, a few rods east of the mouth of the river. On one side it was enclosed by the King's dwelling house, and by a heavy semi-circular wall ten feet high, and on the other side by the sea. In front was a small gallery and back of the wall, which enclosed nearly an acre of ground, stood the Russian Fort, on the high bank of the river, commanding the village of Waimea, as well as the open reaches in all directions.

Royalty Takes Kindly To Good Beds

Just a year later, July, 1821, on the occasion of Liholiho's memorable visit to his royal vassal, we find the mission well established. In response to a special invitation from the missionaries the royal party made a visit to the mission premises. When they arrived they

Maui Teachers Pass Resolutions

The Maui Teachers' Association has adopted resolutions favoring an increase in teachers' salaries. Following are the resolutions:

Whereas teachers' salaries are insufficient to meet the rising cost of living, and

Whereas many teachers are quitting the profession because of its insufficient remuneration, and

Whereas teachers, as well as other people, should have the right to expect a little more than a bare living wage, and

Whereas former revisions in the salary schedule have not taken the above into consideration, and have been insufficient to keep pace with the rising price of necessities—

Be it therefore resolved:
That the Maui Teachers' Association through its appointed committee, approve a general increase in teachers' salaries of not less than 25 per cent, and that said increase apply to all teachers alike, whether Supervising Principals, Principals or Assistant Teachers, whether they are teachers in elementary or secondary schools.

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to all Island newspapers, for publication, as well as to the Department of Public Instruction, President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, all Maui Senators, all Maui Representatives, Maui Chamber of Commerce, President of the Women's Club and President of the Suffrage Club.

Kauai and the Centennial One Hundred Years Ago

were naturally very much interested in all they saw, especially the domestic arrangements. The beds in particular, awakened a great interest, and they begged to be allowed the special favor of trying them; which being granted, each lordly royal visitor stretched himself at full length, and in such comfortable repose, that it was with difficulty they could be prevailed on to arise and go farther.

In the school room they were shown the simple appliances of education, and Kaumu-alii, who could read English a little, spelled out with some difficulty and much delight the card, "Thou God Seest Me."

Waimea A Hundred Years Ago.

Two or three years later Mr. Bingham and his wife went to Kauai to make a somewhat extended visit and hearten the lonely missionaries there, and Mr. Bingham, in his "History of the Mission," gives a description of the station with some detail as well as a very interesting wood-cut of Waimea village, which is quite recognizable and was evidently made with a good deal of care. It was evidently taken from about where the bridge now is, looking out and across the river. It shows a very considerable village of grass houses clustered under fine cocoanut trees, showing that in this single respect at any rate, a hundred years hasn't added to the charm of Waimea.

The visitors came from Honolulu in a trading vessel, making the trip comfortably in 20 hours, and landing in a small boat, on the crest of a wave, which landed them on the sand beach apparently about where the present wharf is.

They walked through the village to a point somewhat mauka of the bridge, where they were ferried across in a canoe, and then made their way to the mission home makai, where they were most cordially welcomed.

The Waimea valley contained about 400 habitations, including those on the sea shore, and was evidently in a high state of cultivation, with taro for the staple crop, interspersed with breadfruit, coconuts, kou, kukui, bananas, sugar cane, etc.

Recommendation in Regard to the Improvement of School Grounds

By Dr. Henry S. Curtis
SIZE OF GROUND

According to the recommendation of the committee on minimum essentials for rural schools of the N. E. A., no one-room rural school should be built on less than three acres of ground, and this minimum may well be adopted in all sections where such an area of suitable ground can be secured. For the larger schools of five to twelve rooms, from seven to ten acres should be secured in order that there may be room for playgrounds, gardens, and a small school park.

In places where the school ground is adjacent to a good sized village, the ball fields, volley ball, basket ball, base ball and tennis grounds, as well as the school park may well be used by the community as well as by the school.

NEED OF A PLAN

The present school grounds of the Territory have grown like "Topsy." From a small beginning of one-half acre, they have often increased by successive enlargements to 6 or 7 acres in size, and trees have often been planted along the edges of successive acquisitions of grounds. Beginning with a one-room school, other rooms have been added until there are now from eight to ten rooms. These buildings have been located on a site without any apparent reference to the efficiency of the ground as a whole or to the general architectural effect.

Probably sites of the schools of the Territory of Hawaii have greater scenic advantages than almost any other school sites in the world, as they have, in most cases, a splendid view both of the sea and the mountains; and, in some cases, of beautiful valleys as well. These scenic opportunities, however, have not been emphasized in the laying out of the grounds and in the location of the buildings, and, frequently a building or row of trees have been run across a view which could scarcely be equalled anywhere else in the world.

The trees which have been planted have, in general, been poorly selected and poorly arranged, and have oftentimes been planted where they obscured a splendid view or prevented play. The gardens often occupy the sites that should be devoted to play and the grounds have never been leveled or terraced so as to give a good appearance or to make them efficient for play purposes.

Before any site is built on, a careful plot of the ground should be prepared, showing the location of the buildings, the gardens, play fields and the trees. The trees should be selected and planted in accordance with a plan prepared by the department of education, for, as now planted, they are poorly selected, poorly placed and, in general, are too close together.

Such a plan should be prepared before any new school buildings are erected or old buildings enlarged, and before the old and scattered buildings are replaced by concrete modern buildings.

GRADING

All regular baseball and football fields are leveled, as are also all athletic fields of colleges and universities, but, almost the only grounds on the Islands that I have seen that have been put in condition for play are those of certain schools. However, there is no possibility of having satisfactory games of baseball, football, basket ball, volley ball or tennis on grounds that are full of holes, with projecting stones or steep inclines. Before most of the school grounds can be at all satisfactory for play, they must be leveled either to a single level or in terraces.

The plantations have the equipment and the men for grading, school grounds inexpensively and quickly. Especially in cases where the ground is to be used by the community as well as the children, and perhaps, in all cases, they may be interested either in doing this or in helping. In some cases they have already offered to do this. Recreation is one of the large items in the welfare plan which is now being inaugurated by the planters, and they should always be interviewed on this subject.

GRASS

The Islands are fortunate in that they have at least two kinds of grass which will stand a large amount of wear and use without being destroyed. These are the "Manileño" or Bermuda grass and the Buffalo grass. One of these should be grown on all school grounds so far as possible.

With larger school grounds, however, there will inevitably be a problem arising from the growth of grass and weeds upon the ground. There are two possible methods of dealing with this problem: one, by having machine lawn mowers or mowing machines, which might be kept in use constantly by being taken from school ground to school ground on each island; a second method is by pasture.

Recommendation in Regard to the Improvement of School Grounds

Nearly all the lawns in Central Park are lawn-mowed by sheep. The sheep always add an item of interest to the landscape and do the mowing almost as efficiently as the machine.

The same is true on the larger grounds of some of our wealthy citizens. Sheep on school grounds would be of great interest to the children and the increase might be a source of considerable profit. It would require separate fencing of gardens but would be worth trying. In the summer, these sheep might be herded from ground to ground under a special shepherd.

In some cases teachers might wish to keep a riding horse on the ground, which would help to keep down grass also.

STONES

In the ground of many of the rural schools, there are stones projecting above the surface. Ofttimes, a workman with a pick and crowbar and sledge could improve a school ground 25 per cent in a single day by removing these stones. This should be done at once.

TREES

In planting trees, there are two fundamental questions: First: Their selection; and Second: Their location.

Not all trees are equally suitable for use on school grounds, nor are trees which are beautiful in themselves always well suited to be used with certain other trees. An expert landscape architect should be asked to prepare half a dozen or more different plans, showing a good selection and arrangement of trees.

It is a general principle of landscape architects that the front of a building should be left open and that no trees should be planted across a beautiful view. Certainly, if trees are planted in such locations, some variety of palms should be used so that the view may be seen.

In general, trees should be planted around the edge of school grounds or along the walks.

Why a Used Car?

THERE ARE MANY GOOD REASONS FOR BUYING used cars, but there are also many good reasons for not buying them.

THE ONE MOST IMPORTANT THING TO BE CONSIDERED in the purchase of a used car, is the responsibility of the seller. This is true in the purchase of any article of merchandise, and especially in the purchase of an automobile which has been used, for even the most experienced buyer may go wrong.

FAITH, NOT ONLY IN THE ARTICLE, BUT IN THE MAN OR FIRM OFFERING IT FOR SALE, must accompany the used car purchase in order that the buyer may obtain full value for the money invested.

OUR FUTURE DEPENDS ON OUR HONESTY AND INTEGRITY IN EVERY TRANSACTION. WE ARE HERE TO STAY, AND OUR ONE AMBITION IS TO BUILD UP A MODERN AND EFFICIENT ORGANIZATION AND GIVE OUR CUSTOMERS THE MAXIMUM VALUE AND

SERVICE FOR THEIR MONEY.

IF YOU ARE CONSIDERING THE PURCHASE OF A USED CAR, let us know just what you want. If we have not got it, we will keep it in mind, and if we do fill the order, you may rest assured that you will be satisfied.
