GRAFTERS EXPOSED

THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY GETS HOLD OF DOCUMENTS WHICH THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE DID NOT INTEND TO SURRENDER—AN EXTRAORDINARY REVELATION OF LOOTING THE TREASURY.

The House vouchers were turned over to the Federal grand jury this morning and it didn't take long for the jurors to unearth an amazing record of graft and fraud. All witnesses were excused as soon as the vouchers were secured and the jurors settled down to examine the documents. The story that was laid before them, attested by the signatures of the arch grafters most concerned, was one which has few if any parallels in the history of American legislatures. Here is the subpoena that finally brought to the grand jurors the documents so long concealed:

"United States of America. In the District Court of the United States for the Territory of Hawaii.

"The President of the United States of America. To Solomon Meheula, greeting:

"You and every of You are hereby Commanded, That all and singular business and excuses being laid aside, you and every of you, be and appear in your proper person before the District Court of the United States, in and for the Territory of Hawaii, at the Court Room of said Court, in the City of Honolulu, on the 20th day of November, A. D. 1903, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon to Testify the Truth, and give evidence before the Grand Jury, and you are not to depart the Court without the leave of the Court or of the U. S. Attorney, and that you bring with you all papers and documents of every description in your possession or under your control relative to or concerning the last legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, and particularly all vouchers for monies paid for expenses of said legislature.

"And this you are not to omit, under pain of being adjudged guilty of a contempt of said Court.

"Witness, the Honorable Sanford B. Dole, Judge of said Court, at the City of Honolulu, in the Territory of Hawaii, this 19th day of November, A. D. 1903, and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and twenty-eighth.

"W. B. Maling, Clerk; by Frank Hatch, Deputy Clerk.

"Robert W. Breckons, U. S. Attorney."

It is stated on good Home Rule authority that Meheula did not intend to give up the vouchers when he entered the grand jury room this morning. He had a good deal of doubt about the legal authority of the Federal grand jury in the matter. But whatever were Meheula's intentions, he entered with the package of vouchers under his arm and in two minutes he came out without them, and now they rest in the safe in the office of the United States District Court.

Several members of the legislature were waxing quite indignant this morning over the action of the grand jury, when they saw the vouchers brought on the scene. Representative Aylett said that the talk over vouchers and the investigation were all a farce. The only reason Meheula had concealed the vouchers, he said, was because it was impertinent for press representatives to ask for them. The grand jurors knew better fifteen minutes after they opened the bundle Meheula left with them.

Ever since the end of the regular session of the legislature, the vouchers have been kept secreted. Meheula has stated a number of times that he didn't know where they were. Last night he was served with a subpoena ordering him to bring them to court. They were at his home, and he quickly complied with the order. It was not expected, however, that he would surrender them to the jury.

The vouchers show the rankest and most outrageous grafting and fraud. It is said that the jury's report is likely to contain a scathing denunciation of those responsible for the looting of the public treasury, but that no indictments are likely. The offenses were against Territorial laws and it will be up to Attorney General Andrews to proceed when the exposure is made.

The morning's session was the most interesting the grand jury has had, in a term of many investigations full of interest. The jurors had before them the long-concealed records of a legislative session in which graft ran freely to the treasury. It appears that whenever anyone close to the proper gang wanted any money someone drew a warrant for him, and he trotted to the treasury and reached for the cash. The game was played in good style until The Star made an exposure, and then the vouchers were hastily concealed and it was given out that they were destroyed. They have remained concealed until this morning.

Many of the vouchers are without the approval of anyone. There are scores untraceable to any proper authority. There are bills paid for work at rates far in advance of those fixed, such as $2 per page for translating. There are vouchers which show certain individuals to have done five or six hundred days work during the 150 days of the session. The jurors are continuing their work this afternoon. It is believed that the work they are doing, whether it causes prosecutions or not, will save from twenty-five to fifty thousand dollars "graft" in the next legislature.

Volcano Disturbed The Sea At Punaluu

SEA SUDDENLY SHOWED PECULIAR DISTURBANCE ON TUESDAY—CAPSIZED A BOAT AND MADE SWIMMING VERY DIFFICULT FOR CREW—BELIEVED VOLCANIC GASES BROKE THROUGH BOTTOM OF SEA.

There is evidently some increased forces at work in the volcano of Mauna Loa. In addition to increasing signs of activity on the summit the eruption has broken out lower down the side of the mountain. News of the progress of the eruption was brought today by the steamer Mauna Loa. The action of the water at Punaluu last Tuesday was remarkable and shows that some submarine force was at work.

Purser Conkling reports that the eruption has broken out at Pohakuhalei which is a small crater on the Kona side of Mauna Loa. The smoke can be seen every day coming out of this eruption and at night the reflection of fire is very distinct. There are no signs of the eruption of the summit crater diminishing and the reflection now at night is more brilliant than it was the last trip of the steamer Mauna Loa to Hawaii.

The peculiar action of the sea occurred in the afternoon of Tuesday. At that time the vessel was lying off Punaluu with her head toward the prevailing wind. Suddenly the sea about the vessel became churned up. The water acted similarly to the way the water does when a propeller strikes it. The sea was disturbed to such an extent that it capsized a ship's boat that was near the steamer and threw the small boat's occupants into the water. So sharp and choppy and quick was the action of the waves that the men had the greatest difficulty in swimming until they could be picked up. The Mauna Loa was swung around from her former position. The disturbance continued for perhaps ten minutes. Later in the day a huge black cloud was seen to belch out of Mokuaweoweo, the summit crater, and then followed the usual column of white smoke and steam.

The officers of the vessel think that the disturbance of the water was due to some gases from the bowels of the mountain forcing their way through the bottom of the sea.

BISHOP'S BANK SUED.

Hu Yong yesterday brought suit against Bishop & Co. for $2,500 damages for alleged false arrest. The case grows out of the arrest of two Chinese a year ago for an alleged attempt to pass counterfeit money. The men were taken before the United States commissioner and discharged after their arrest. They had a lot of old quarters, received from China, in their possession, and which were thought to be bogus. The San Francisco mint officials, however, said they were good and lawful coin of the realm and the charge was dropped.

SUITS FOR TAXES.

MURDERED A POLICEMAN

CHICKEN THIEF CHARGED WITH TAKING LIFE OF J. W. MAHELONA LAST NIGHT.

J. W. Mahelona a native policeman, was killed last night in a struggle with an alleged Chinese chicken thief named Ho Young. No one besides the officer and the Chinese were present apparently, when the policeman was shot and there is still considerable uncertainty as to the exact way in which the Chinese is alleged to have shot the officer.

Charles Clark Jr. was going to his father's place on Buckler's lane off Liliha street about 11 o'clock last night. A Chinese ran out of the place toward Clark. The latter ran to Liliha street and hunted up officer Mahelona and said he thought a Chinese was trying to do some mischief. The Chinese was discovered hiding behind some bushes. He was found to have a bag of chickens in his possession.

He took the officer down a dark lot, Clark and two sons of Captain Parker remained behind. Soon a shot was heard and Mahelona was heard groaning. Clark ran down to where the noise was coming from and saw the policeman and the Chinese struggling. Clark grabbed the Chinese and felt in the man's hand a revolver. Mahelona fell on the ground and suddenly fired four shots at the Chinese. One of the shots struck Clark in the arm. The Parker boys soon came up and the Chinese was taken into custody.

Mahelona had been shot in the head and evidently died in a short time. Ho Young is a notorious chicken thief. Clark and the Parker boys searched him at the time but could find no revolver in his possession.

THE BONDS.

The result of the bidding for the bonds should enhance Governor Carter's financial reputation. He was criticized by certain parties for not having dealt with Pollitz & Co. of San Francisco. He was criticized for having changed the date at which the bids should be opened, and he was criticized for lowering the rate of interest. But when the bids came to be opened it was found that Mr Carter's financial foresight was clear, that the bonds realized a little over par, and this at the lower rate of interest. The exact saving to the Territory is $5,000 annually in interest or somewhat over $50,000 upon the whole issue, there is also $5,000 of accrued interest and $626 bonus. This pays all the expenses of the issue.

That this is most satisfactory no one can deny. The credit of Hawaii is now established in the money market of the world. There were those who were anxious that the issue should be taken up by capitalists here. But our cry has been outside capital. What was the advantage of tying up our own capital. We would only be reducing the amount which could be used for the development of private ventures. And there was no offer here of taking the bonds at a premium.

The prophesying of those who thought that Mr. Carter would make a failure of his mission has come to naught. What at one time really threatened the success of the transaction was the series of enigmatic telegrams which emanated from the Treasurer and kept Mr. Carter guessing at the end of 5,000 miles of wire. Another thing which endangered success was the proposal to ignore Mr. Carter's change of dates and go ahead upon the old date.

However all's well that ends well. Governor Carter has secured for the Territory the full amount of the authorized loan. The money will be available in a few days, and the public works of the Territory will be carried on as rapidly as possible. This will mean work for citizens of the Territory from Kauai to Hawaii. It will mean the furnishing of material by our merchants, it will mean prosperity and activity in many branches of industry. At least half of this million of dollars will go to the working man. From him it will go to the retailer, to the landowner in the shape of money for homes, and into the savings bank, giving financial strength to the people.

Certainly Governor Carter commences his career as chief executive under circumstances which are favorable and which he has himself helped to create. The Territory at large has every confidence in Governor Carter and whatever a disgruntled knot of disappointed and discredited politicians may say, the people will support the incoming Governor loyally. He has been tried and he has not been found wanting.

CRANKS.

It must take a great deal of care to protect the President from cranks of every kind. The murderous and homicidal crank has several times now attempted to attack Mr. Roosevelt, but perhaps the inroad of Carrie Nation is almost more dangerous, for Carrie might talk the unfortunate chief executive to death. The President is quick with his gun, and as he always carries a revolver, the homicidal crank has a good chance of having the tables turned upon him. But a revolver is no protection against Carrie. Once her deadly tongue got started the President might as well give up.

But Carrie has not been satisfied with her attack upon the President. She has sought to deprive us of our senators. She has broken into the sacred precincts of the Senate chamber and thrown down the gauntlet to the solons of our legislative bodies. Even Morgan, who can talk for three days on end, or Tillman who has the fiery eloquence of the South, or Stewart who can pour forth periods ad libitum, turned pale before the whirlwind of Carrie's screeches. But the guardians of the Senate saved that body and Carrie was duly haled before a justice and fined.

Seriously such a woman as Carrie Nation should be locked up in an insane asylum. She is crazy. She is not responsible for her acts, and to fine her is almost as unjust as it would be to fine a person for having cholera or small-pox. But her case shows how necessary it is to protect not only the President, but even our legislative bodies. People who have weighty matters to attend to should not be exposed to the freaks and vagaries of cranks. Perhaps the best thing to do with Carrie would be to ship her down here, and ask her to visit the Treasurer. He would resign quick enough then.

LEGAL SURPRISES.

Certainly the courts are the center of attraction just now. With two grand juries at work at the same time, engaged upon moral and political questions, there is enough of interest to keep attention invited, and to afford much food for thought. The Federal grand jury has finished its work upon the Japanese immorality cases and is at work upon the missing legislative documents. The Territorial grand jury has settled the question of election frauds in the negative, and is going on with the regular criminal business.

The indictments in the Japanese cases have come along by the score. The most startling being that against Attorney Brooks, who does a very large oriental business, and who has been to the East to study the oriental in his native purity. Of course there can be no comment upon these cases, since they are now in the hands of the court, but that there will be startling developments which will surprise the public, is very certain. This can be said without prejudice to the cases. There has undoubtedly been a system of slavery, which though it may be legal in the East, can not be carried on on American soil.

The investigation into the fate of the missing vouchers continues, but no result has yet been reached. How very wise Secretary Carter was to have a list taken of the documents handed over to him by Clerk Meheula, is now very plain. Without such a list there might have been no end of mis-statements about the vouchers, and Secretary Carter might have been accused of making away with them himself. Indeed some such idea was floating round when the locked box was delivered.

The result of the investigation will be, undoubtedly a change in the organic act. The recommendations of the ex-Governor will be much re-enforced and strengthened by the findings of the grand jury. Even if the vouchers are not destroyed, there has been an evident attempt to suppress them, and that in itself is an offense against the Federal law. The value of a grand jury in cases of this kind is incalculable.

The Territorial's grand jury's investigation into the alleged election frauds has resulted in exonerating the officials from any taint of fraud. Curiously enough the very day that the report was made, the Home Rulers petition the supreme court to investigate the same matter and ask for a recount of the ballots cast. Beaten in one direction, they make an attempt at discrediting the election at another. Of course they do not expect to win out, but they hope by these proceedings to supply ammunition for the next campaign. Men who could use a private telegram upon an entirely private matter, having nothing whatever to do with politics, and state that it was an endorsement of their party and of themselves, are capable of anything.

Cuban reciprocity came more quickly than might have been expected. The beet sugar men make no fight. However Cuban sugar is not free but is subject to a duty of $2.16 a ton, which stands in our favor and that of the beet sugar men.

Colorado has to look after her own labor troubles. The President will not allow the use of Federal troops to keep order at Telluride. The Governor has ordered out the State national guard, and we shall have the usual litigation together with howls about the State troops and their misuse.

The light house of the Mediterranean, Stromboli, is showing great activity again. When the Volcanic Cataclysm occurred at St. Pierre, Stromboli also boiled up above its average. There must be some inward disturbance within our globe which is emphasizing our volcanic phenomena.

While the United States is keeping a strict exclusion against Chinese, the Transvaal is sending for Asiatics to work in its mines. It will be of interest to watch the experiment in the Transvaal. In other English colonies, especially Australia and New Zealand, there is a strong feeling against their introduction.

Some few of those engaged in the Kishineff massacre and anti-semitic riot are to be tried, but we may be quite sure that those who organized and abetted the affair, will not be brought to justice. They are too high in office to be touched. Legal punishment in Russia is for the poor, not for the rich and the nobility.

Labor conditions in Saxony can not be satisfactory. Yesterday the Star called attention to labor conditions in New South Wales, where the time in eight hours and the minimum rate of wages $1.70 per day. The recent strike at Crimmitschau in Saxony shows that the textile weaver there work eleven hours a day and that the average pay is $142 per year or $2.75 per week. Is it any wonder that workmen strike under such circumstances. Yet the employers claim that the rate of wages paid at Crimmitschau is higher than that paid to textile workers in any part of the country. Decidedly there is need of arbitration boards in Saxony, and a strong labor co-operation. Fancy working eleven hours a day for $2.75 per week.

To take life under any circumstances is an awful thing, but to take life merely to avoid arrest for egg and chicken stealing, seems as wanton an action as could be committed. There have been quite a number of desperate Chinese arrested lately. As a rule our Chinese population is well behaved, its chief crime consisting in gambling, which though an offense can really hardly be called a crime. But there are a few Chinese who prowl about at night and live by thieving. These men are ripe for anything from chicken stealing to murder. This was shown when the Chinese highwayman were captured, who committed a number of crimes near Oahu plantation and caused almost a reign of terror in the vicinity. It is to be hoped that the present culprit will be speedily brought to justice.

The independence of Panama having been guaranteed by the United States, that matter is now ended, for Colombia will not dare to touch the protégé of the Great Republic. The proposal to make Panama and Aspinwall thoroughly sanitary is most progressive. Our success in Cuba, during the occupation of the island, in rendering Havana and other Spanish cities sanitary, promises like success at the Isthmus. Aspinwall is a reeking mud bank, with the filth of years festering under a tropical sun. Panama is an old Spanish city and has not been cleaned since Morgan and his cut throat buccaneers sacked and burned it some three hundred years ago. In both places fever is rampant. A pleasant entomological specimen frequents Aspinwall, known in the vernacular as the "jigger." The "jigger" burrows into the foot and there lays her eggs. They have to be cut out with a knife after they are hatched.

NEWSPAPER FOR WOMEN.

London is to have a daily newspaper for women, to be known as the Daily Mirror, which is certainly a felicitous title. It is to be published by Alfred Harmsworth, which makes it certain that it will be conducted with energy and with a regard to the supposed demands of the public. At the same time, the Paris Fronde, noteworthy as entirely the work of women, from writing and editing to composition and printing, has closed its brief but interesting career.

HABIT OF SAVING.

Bank of Hawaii Savings Department
Doing Good Work.

A house to house canvas will be made by representatives of the Savings Department of the Bank of Hawaii. It is hoped to place one of the little auxiliary banks in every house in Honolulu. The possession of one of the little safes is a constant reminder to put away a little money every day and at intervals deposit same with the Bank of Hawaii and then your savings will draw 4 1/2 per cent interest.

Those who have the habit of saving only know how quickly money accumulates. It has been truly said that "a thousand men win competency by quietly saving their money, where one gets rich by speculation."

Secure one of the little banks, take it home and commence to drop a coin in and keep up the practice every day. You will be surprised to know that in a very short time you will have a bunch of money. Take the little safe to the Bank of Hawaii every 30 days or so and have the amount credited in your pass book. The savings department is open on Saturday night between 7 and 8 o'clock for people who cannot get around during regular banking hours.

LEVINGSTON'S Young Building

KEPOIKAI SAID HE WOULD RESIGN

ing of the 19th inst., you evidently intend to make the issue one of veracity between ourselves, and leave it to public opinion.

"For some time I have made it a habit to dictate the substance of important interviews immediately upon their conclusion, while the matter is fresh in my mind and before circumstances change.

"This memorandum shows that my first interview with you was on Oct. 31, and that I asked you point blank if it was satisfactory for you to put in your resignation, and you replied, 'Certainly.' You also said that you knew it was in accordance with American custom and precedent.

"My second interview was on Nov. 2nd, the day before Mr. Baldwin left. Of this I have no memorandum, but you may remember my asking if I could depend on your statement, and your words, as near as I can recollect, were: 'Yes, I'll resign all right, but I am going to pack my trunk for Maui first.' Very truly yours,

(Signed) "GEORGE R. CARTER."

THE FIGHT AGAINST "RECIPROCITY"

California looks to its entire Congressional delegation not only to vote against the Cuban reciprocity bill, but to fight it tooth and nail until it is beaten forever. For failure in this the people will accept no excuse, no matter if shifty politicians did succeed in preventing our legislature from positively "instructing" our Senators. The stifling of those resolutions of instruction, which had passed the Assembly, was the result of trades in which offices were the consideration, as the people well know. It will not save from public execration any member of our delegation who votes to sacrifice the industries of California on the altar of executive favor. Captain Daniels of the Eighth district is already in Washington and announces his intention to fight. There is no doubt that he will do so and win credit thereby, but it will be a shame if the old members leave him, a new-comer, to bear the chief burden of the contest.

One strong point of vantage from which to assail the adversaries of prosperity will be the danger of insufficient revenue. The enormous Treasury surpluses of recent years have been due to the phenomenal prosperity of the country. It is certain that the aggregate volume of business will not continue to increase as it has been doing, and in some lines of business there is already a falling off. The prodigious number of labor strikes during the last year has seriously impaired the purchasing power of the people. In some industries, like certain branches of the steel trade, American plants have been unable to supply American demands, and there have been large importations paying duty. Such importations will now stop, as there is now no industry behind its orders. That this is no figment of the imagination is shown by the fact that for the first time in years, except in the month of July, there was last month a deficit in our Treasury transactions. That deficit was mainly caused by a falling off in customs receipts of $3,881,738, as compared with those of October, 1902. Customs receipts vary directly with the prosperity of the country. In 1893 they were $203,355,017, while the next year they fell to $131,818,530, and did not again reach the figures of 1890-93 until 1899. It was the deficiency in our customs revenue resulting from the abandonment of protection which reduced the Cleveland administration to the humiliating necessity of issuing bonds to pay current expenses and support the credit of our currency. To remove 25 per cent of the duty on sugar would cut off at least $15,000,000 annually of revenue, and the Treasury cannot spare the money. As times have been it might not be missed, but it would be crazy financing to rely on the continuance of such prosperity. It will be perfectly easy for Congress to produce a large deficit by impairing the protection to American industries. It would be disgraceful for the Republican party to do so. It would be traitorous to California Congressmen to neglect any opportunity to defeat it when such deficit is to be produced by the sacrifice of California industries.—S. F. Chronicle.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

Dispatches from Budapest give news of Emperor Francis Joseph's temporary bridging of the widening rift between Austria and Hungary by granting important concessions to the Liberal party of the Magyar section of the dual monarchy. After allowing the country to be in a state of practical anarchy since September 30, the date of the fall of Count Hedavary's Ministry, the leaders in the Hungarian Parliament have at last become reconciled for the nonce and the fractious wheel-horse of that remarkable Hapsburg tandem will swing into the middle of the road for a little while longer. It is all because the old Emperor has perforce decreed that the Hungarian tongue shall be spoken in the military colleges of the eastern kingdom of the dual monarchy instead of German, and that Hungarian officers shall be transferred from Austrian regiments to those of their native country.

The world at large knows very little of the political moil and trouble which has been straining the bands of union between Austria and Hungary since June 8, 1867, the day when Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, became King of Hungary. The stormy meetings of the joint houses of both countries have become a byword in the mouth of the nations, but few besides the trained diplomats have troubled themselves to look below the surface and see the fundamental causes of the long continued strife between Teutonic Austria and Slavic Hungary. The bitter quarrel over the seemingly trivial question of whether the officer in charge of a Hungarian regiment shall say "Vorwärts" or its Magyar equivalent is only a straw which points the wind.

The Austro-Hungarian state is manifestly an artificial union. There is a King over both component parts of the empire who by his personality alone has been able to hold together the divergent halves of the dual Government. Tariff and educational questions have been fought out incessantly. The growing influence of the German empire in the Austrian half of the empire has estranged the nobles of Hungary more and more. Hungary feels that the Austrians have been encouraging the revolts of the Croats against her authority. But the primal factor in the spirit of disunion springs from the eternal antipathy of race against race. The unconquered Magyar with the blood of the Tartars still in his veins and stiff with the pride of an ancient succession of Kings, cannot be yoked with the equally proud Austrian, whose house of Hapsburg has ruled since the Crusades.

Napoleon found the spirit of nationality first in downtrodden Spain and he was finally ejected from the peninsula. The reactionary Congress of Vienna tried to weld Belgium and Holland into an artificial state nearly a hundred years ago and their work was undone by revolution. Austria tried later to make herself supreme over an Austrian Italy, but she was turned back by Victor Emmanuel, the Sardinian. So inevitably there must come the severance of the false bonds which tether the one to the other alien nationalities. When death removes Francis Joseph, the personal factor which has kept his inharmonious union intact, Europe may see Hungary resume her position as an independent power.—S. F. Call.

BEST WOMAN RIDER.

The best young woman rider in the world is Miss Lucille Mulhall, who is known in Indian territory as the "queen of the range." She is only 18 years old, but last week she won the $1000 contest prize in a great southwestern contest, roping her third steer in the remarkable time of 40 seconds. Miss Mulhall is said to be as expert in the drawing-room as in the etiquet of the lariat.

HEAVY RAINS ALL OVER HAWAII

STEAMER MAUNA LOA RETURNED WITH NEWS OF WEATHER ON BIG ISLAND.

The entire island of Hawaii has been experiencing splendid rains the last week. Purser Conkling of the steamer Mauna Loa which arrived this morning from her regular run to Hawaii and Maui ports, reports on the weather conditions of Hawaii.

At Kau the heaviest fall of rain occurred Saturday and Sunday. In twenty-four hours time 4 inches of rain fell in that section of Hawaii. In Hamakua 4 inches of rain has fallen in a period of four days while in Kona the rainfall has been extensive. The weather has otherwise, been good on the big island.

The Mauna Loa brought a good sized amount of freight with her. She had 4,700 bags of sugar which is being loaded into the bark Andrew Welch. Pahala mill started grinding day and night last Monday.

COL. CORNWELL'S BODY ARRIVES

REMAINS OF DEAD NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN BROUGHT FROM MAUI ON THE MAUNA LOA.

The remains of the late Colonel W. H. Cornwell arrived this morning on the steamer Mauna Loa from Maui. Accompanying the body were the widow of the deceased and his son W. H. Cornwell, Jr., and Mrs. A. A. Brayner, a daughter of the deceased. Mrs. J. Cornwell, a sister-in-law, also accompanied the body.

The remains were taken to the undertaking parlor this morning and from there will be removed to the Masonic Temple tomorrow afternoon. The Masons will watch at the bier Saturday night and Sunday morning. The Masonic Ritual will be conducted at the Temple Sunday afternoon after which the body will be removed to Central Union church where the funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock.

Honolulu Commandery, No. 1, K. T., will attend the funeral.

WOMAN NEARLY WASHED OVERBOARD

LIFE OF DECK PASSENGERS ON STEAMER KE AU HOU SAVED BY CHIEF ENGINEER GARDNER.

The trip of the steamer Ke Au Hou from Honolulu to Kauai ports this week was one of the most disagreeable in recent years. The vessel ran into a heavy sea, together with heavy north-northeast winds. She encountered the bad weather shortly after she cleared Kaena Point and got into the Kauai Channel.

So rough was the weather that Captain Tullett had to put his vessel out of her course and run before the sea. One sea after another boarded the vessel. The cabins were flooded. Numerous coils of rope on the hurricane deck were washed loose from the lashings and swept overboard.

For a while the deck passengers were in danger. A Portuguese woman would have been swept overboard but for the bravery of Chief Engineer Gardner. A big sea caught up the woman and swept her toward the rail. The woman would certainly have been washed overboard, Gardner saw her danger and grabbed her. He was washed against the stanchion, his head striking with great force. He was almost knocked unconscious but managed to hold onto the woman and the stanchion until he could get out of danger. The weather was so bad that Captain Tullett took all of the deck passengers into the cabins. The vessel was not damaged by the storm. She arrived this morning from Kauai ports.

DR. LORENZ'S VISIT.

The results of Dr. Lorenz's visit are reviewed in the current number of Charities, a New York publication, by Dr. Newton M. Shaffer, professor of orthopedic surgery in the Cornell University Medical College. Contradictory reports of the outcome of the cases operated on by the Austrian surgeon have been circulating, and Dr. Shaffer's article is important in clearing up the matter. The Lorenz operation for the reduction of a dislocated hip is not new, but goes far back in cases that have not become chronic. But in such cases, where the medical profession only a few years ago regarded a cure as impossible, Dr. Lorenz is an innovator, and his achievements are conceded to mark an era in orthopedic surgery. Dr. Shaffer regards him as a master and without an equal in this particular field of manipulative work. As for the cases operated on by Dr. Lorenz in the United States, so far as can be learned by Dr. Shaffer, all of the patients were benefited by the operation, even where a perfect replacement was not obtained, and in most instances there was entire success. The Lolita Armour case, which brought Dr. Lorenz to the United States, is one put down as not wholly successful. Both of the child's hips were dislocated when Dr. John Ridion of Chicago was originally called into the case. He employed the Lorenz method in all particulars, and succeeded as to the left hip, but the other relapsed, and it was then that the Vienna surgeon was brought over. Dr. Shaffer continues:

It was under these circumstances and after the right hip had relapsed that Dr. Lorenz was called upon. The left hip did not require his services, and the result, so far as that hip is concerned, was apparently satisfactory and has required no attention since. Dr. Lorenz operated upon the relapsed right hip. The result, I am told, is not a perfect reposition—although the limb is performing its functions well. It seems probable that a defective socket or some other obstacle made a perfect recovery impossible.

As the Lorenz method was being successfully used by American surgeons previously, Dr. Shaffer does not regard the visit of the master in this line of work as of importance in revealing a new discovery or introducing to the American medical profession the new method. Its real importance lies in the public attention and interest which the visit aroused concerning the care and treatment of deformed and crippled children. In this respect the visit must prove of lasting and beneficial consequence.

FOR KAPIOLANI HOME.

Mrs. J. M. Dowsett yesterday received from Mrs. S. C. Allen a check for $250 for the Kapiolani Maternity Home. Mrs. Allen writes that she was not here when the subscriptions were taken for the building fund of the home, and she is anxious help along the work. The gift is much appreciated by Mrs. Dowsett and all of those interested in the work at the Kapiolani Maternity Home.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS BY AUTHORITY

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

The President of the United States having appointed Thursday, the 26th day of November, as a day of praise and Thanksgiving to Almighty God, it is our duty as loyal American citizens to join upon that day in thanking God for His goodness to us in the past and in beseeching Him to continue and extend to us His mercies in the future.

While in our early experience with a Republican form of Government we should pray for strength and guidance to wisely, honestly and fearlessly perform the duties of citizenship, and uphold the privileges already accorded to this Territory by the United States of America.

Our rejoicings on this day of Thanksgiving should be accompanied by a sense of grave duty that will enable us to show in the years to come, that the responsibility which has been given us shall not have been misplaced.

NOW THEREFORE, I, George R. Carter, Acting Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, hereby recommend that all our people do, on Thursday, the 26th day of November next, render thanks unto Almighty God in their homes, and at their places of worship, that they cease from all manner of work and toil and make the day one of praise and Thanksgiving.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Seal of the Territory to be affixed.

Done at the Capitol in the City of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, this 20th day of November in the year of our (Seal) Lord one thousand nine hundred and three, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and twenty-eighth.

GEORGE R. CARTER,
Acting Governor.

AMALGAMATED COPPER

Public attention has been drawn anew to this combination in copper production by its extraordinary action following a Montana court decision adverse to its claims. The census of 1900 gives to that state a population of less than 250,000. Of men of working age there cannot be many more than 55,000; while the closing of the mines of the Amalgamated company throws out of work, it is reported, some 20,000 men. Directly and indirectly the action of the company, therefore, suddenly and without notice, must deprive of employment more than one-third of the entire active working force of a whole state. It is doubtful if ever before a situation like this was precipitated in an American commonwealth. It has already thrown Montana into a ferment, and if the shut-down is prolonged, as it is threatened to be, the consequences in the political and judicial ordering of that state must be great.

In the litigation which the Amalgamated company took over with its purchase of most of the stock of the Boston and Montana company, the right is not easily located. There is nothing in the character of either party to the controversy to indicate, and such is the boodlized condition of the whole state through the wars of millionaire forces for the control of the vast mineral wealth at hand that even the courts of justice have been unable to lift themselves above the general atmosphere of presumed corruption. One thing alone is clear, and this is that in entering the state of Montana with their scheme of an all-embracing monopoly, the conductors of the Amalgamated company have for once met with forces which appear to be as masterful in aggrandizing methods as they are themselves; and if there is call for sympathy with them or those who have confided investments to their charge, we do not know upon what ground it is based.

The engineers of this great enterprise are men identified with the Standard Oil Company, whose policy of secrecy and high-handed aggression for monopoly ends is more or less familiar. Their business character was known at the time of embarking in the enterprise to consolidate and control the copper production of the United States, if not of the whole world. It could not be said of them that they sailed under false colors. As to the general nature of the voyage, it was proclaimed in the cut of the ship, the color of the flag and the personnel of the command. Beyond that no questions were to be asked, and volunteers for the voyage understood that they were to keep still, trust implicitly to the commanding officers and share in the fortunes of the cruise. And such was the eagerness to sail on these conditions that the first offer of $75,000,000 of Amalgamated stock is said to have brought out subscriptions for $400,000,000 or more. That was in 1899, when the start was made with the control of the Anaconda and several smaller copper properties, and Amalgamated stock was soon quoted as high as 110, the subscribers having got it at par of 100. Two years later came the increase in stock to $155,000,000, with the purchase of most of the shares of the Boston and Montana and Butte and Boston companies, and the rise of Amalgamated stock to 130, with dividends at 8 per cent. Thousands of people hold these shares, generally obtained in the vicinity of $100 a share.

So far the rakish cruise, conducted with the utmost secrecy, proceeded admirably. Copper was put up to 17 cents, or about five cents above the normal, and held there for months, making a most profitable market for all production of which, in the United States, the Amalgamated company controlled about 40 per cent. The result was the same as in all previous attempts for the arbitrary control of this market. New production was highly stimulated, consumption was restricted, and there came a great fall, just as in the case of the old French syndicate. The Amalgamated dividend fell to 6 per cent, then to 4, and finally to 2; its stock has gone down in the market from 130 to 35, causing a shrinkage in valuation of over $145,000,000, on a total par issue of $155,000,000. And nobody on board this craft outside of the cabin can for the life of him tell whether the condition of the ship is any worse than it is thus represented to be or not. If the stoppage of production in Montana continues long, the state of the enterprise must grow worse; though there will be the possible compensation derived from the ability of the company to market its large stock of unsold copper, said to reach the total of 180,000,000 pounds, at a little better price than has recently prevailed.

This later experience of investors with Standard Oil methods of business, let us hope, will not be lost upon the country. It has been costly enough to prove lastingly effective. We say nothing now about the monopoly character of the enterprise. The policy of secrecy has alone been enough to condemn it. There ought to be no room in the United States for a great corporate undertaking, closely related to the industrial welfare of the nation and seeking the support of the scattered capital of thousands of citizens, which insists upon veiling its affairs in secrecy and conducting its course after the manner of the pirate or the privateer. It should work in the open light of day, and some time the law will make this compulsory.—Springfield Republican.

THE DRAMA

Walter Sanford's company gave "My Jack" to a well filled house last night at the Orpheum. The piece was well played throughout and the frequent applause showed that the audience was well pleased with it. It is a stirring drama in four acts, in which there are nine scenes, all of them full of action. The author did not allow himself to be held down by any laws of probabilities, and kept his dramatic decks clear for action all the time. The result is a play that cannot be said to have any dull moments in it. The parts were generally very well sustained and the company showed itself deserving of the large patronage it is receiving. Walter Sanford was the typical stage villain and almost earned his place from the "gallery" which is all a villain can ask for by way of applause. William Desmond, Griffith Wray, Bart W. Wallace and Frederick Wilson carried their parts excellently and Tommy Shearer had plenty of fun with the character of "Patrick Doolan." Laura Wall, Ethelle Earle and Adelaide Smith carried the ladies' parts well. This evening and tomorrow the company will present "Sporting Life" another stirring drama which should attract large audiences.

"Sporting Life" is the significant title of a pretentious English melodrama to be produced Friday and Saturday evenings, November 22-23, by the Sanford Company at the Orpheum. The piece enjoyed a prosperous season of six months at the Academy of Music, New York City, and five months at McVickers' Theatre, Chicago, and comes here heralded as one of the most realistic productions of melodrama ever given in America. This claim would appear to be borne out by the description of the scenery provided, there being no less than ten distinct scenes, several of them of magnitude. A massive production of the ancestral home of the Earl of Woodstock from the famous painting "The Day of Reckoning" is regarded as a master piece of the scene painter's art. Then there is a view of the Earl's Court Exhibition grounds, showing the numerous "bottles" and evenings, November 22-23, by the Sanford Company at the Orpheum. RAPID TRANSIT LOSES ITS SUIT

SUPREME COURT UNANIMOUSLY DECIDES AGAINST IT ON ITS DOUBLE FARE PROPOSITION.

The Supreme Court in a unanimous decision found for Judge Lyle H. Dickey in his suit against the Rapid Transit Company, reversing the circuit court, and directing that court to enter a judgment in favor of Dickey for the $100 penalty provided by the statute. Dickey got on an east bound King street car at Keeaumoku street to go to Wilder Avenue. At McCully street he applied for a transfer to the car which would take him to his destination. The transfer was refused. He took the car and was charged another fare. His claim was that the company prohibited it from charging more than five cents for a continuous ride anywhere between Moanala and Diamond Head, and a mile and a half from the sea shore, and requires it to give transfers at all connecting points. The Supreme court in an opinion by Justice Perry held that Dickey's contentions are correct.

The syllabus says: "A passenger on the cars of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company may not lawfully be charged more than five cents for a continuous ride from the corner of King and Keeaumoku streets, along King, McCully, Beretania and Alexander streets to Wilder avenue. Such a passenger is entitled, without the payment of an extra fare, to transfer from the King street to the McCully street line and to receive a transfer ticket therefor."

The decision is as follows: "The plaintiff sues, under section 3 of Act 69 of the laws of 1898, to recover of the defendant the sum of $100 for an overcharge alleged to have been made by the defendant on April 7, 1903, while the plaintiff was a passenger on its cars. On the day named the defendant was operating in the district of Honolulu under Act 69, the following lines of street railway: (1) from Kalia along King to McCully street, across the McCully tract, along Waikiki road and through Kapiolani Park to Diamond Head; (2) from the corner of Liliha and Wylie streets, down Liliha street, along King, Hotel, Alapai, Lunaliio and Pensacola streets, along Wilder and Alexander, Beretania and McCully streets to King street; and (3) from Wilder avenue, along Punahou street into Manoa Valley.

"At the corner of McCully and King streets, the overhead wires were not connected. The plaintiff entered an east-bound car of the defendant on King street at the corner of Keeaumoku, paid five cents as his fare and asked for a transfer ticket to a car going mauka on McCully street. This request was refused. At the corner of King and McCully streets the plaintiff left the King street car and entered the first car on McCully street going mauka and left the latter at the corner of Wilder avenue and Alexander street. While on the last mentioned car the plaintiff was charged and paid an additional sum of five cents as fare. It is for this alleged overcharge that the action is brought. The facts of the case are undisputed and the only question is whether under the provisions of Act 69 the defendant could lawfully refuse to give the transfer ticket demanded and charge an additional fare on McCully street.

"The applicable portion of the Act reads as follows: 'Section 3. Let. Any person riding upon the cars of said railway shall be liable to pay for such transportation the following rates: For a continuous ride anywhere between Diamond Head and Moanala, or makai of a line drawn parallel to the sea coast, and one and a half miles distant therefrom, not to exceed five cents, provided that children under seventeen years of age in going to and from school, shall not be required to pay over half fares, for which purpose tickets shall be issued.

2nd. For transportation without said limits such rate shall be charged as said association and others shall, from time to time, fix, subject to the approval of the Executive Council.

3rd. Upon a continuous trip, persons riding upon the cars, and transferring from one car to another upon a connecting line within the limits above mentioned, shall be entitled to a transfer ticket without the payment of an extra fare upon the lines of this railway.

4th. The said association and others shall make reasonable and just regulations with the consent and approval of the Executive Council regarding the maintenance and operation of said railway on and through said streets and roads; and the said association and others failing to make such rules and regulations, the Minister of the Interior with the approval of the Executive Council may make them. All rules and regulations may be changed from time to time as the public interests may demand at the discretion of the Executive Council.

"If said association and others or any agent or employee thereof, shall demand or charge a greater sum of money for fare on the cars of said association and others than that fixed by this Act, such association and others or such agent or employee shall forfeit to the person who is thus overcharged the sum of $100, to be recovered in a civil court having jurisdiction thereof.

"The ground traversed by the plaintiff in his ride was wholly between Moanala on the west and Diamond Head on the east and is conceded to have been wholly makai of a line drawn parallel to the sea-coast and one and a half miles distant therefrom. It was entirely within the outer geographical limits prescribed by the first subdivision of the section. There is no requirement that each five cent ride shall be in one general direction. A limitation as to direction may perhaps be inferred from the use of the word 'trip' in subdivision 3 and the word 'ride' in subdivision 1. It may be that these words of themselves should be held to indicate an intention on the part of the Legislature to prevent the taking of a return trip for the one fare (see Dickey v. Haw. Tramways Co., 19 Haw. 367, 369); but it is unnecessary to pass upon that point in this case, for the plaintiff did not attempt to take a return trip. He traveled in one general direction only, away from his starting point, as much so as if he had continued to the Manoa valley terminus of the line. Nor need we say how much beyond the corner of Wilder avenue and Alexander street the plaintiff could have ridden before the company could have lawfully charged him an addisional fare. It is sufficient for the purposes of this case to say that the ride which he did take was well within all the limitations prescribed by the statute.

"The main argument for the defendant is that to uphold the plaintiff's contention is to enable a passenger to ride 'around and around' for a single fare or at least to open the door for fraud of that kind. We do not hold that a passenger may so ride. As to the possible perpetration of fraud, the company is authorized by the statute to make, with the approval of the Governor, reasonable rules and regulations to prevent it and its officers and employees will no doubt be able to devise such rules as will prove effective to carry out that purpose and prevent passengers from riding beyond the point to which they may lawfully ride for one fare.

"The plaintiff's ride was a continuous one, and the line to which a transfer was demanded was a connecting line within the meaning of the statute. The mere fact that the overhead wires were not then connected at that corner would not, of course, render the McCully street line any the less a connecting line (see Dickey v. Haw. Tramways Co. supra, and Haw. Tramways Co. v. Sturdevant, 16, 357, 359); nor can the company by a mere rule make a line a connecting one for some purposes and a non-connecting one for other purposes. Its power to make rules is always subject to the limitation that such rules must not conflict with the other provisions of the statute.

"The exceptions are sustained, the judgment set aside and the case remanded to the Circuit Court with directions to render judgment for the plaintiff for the amount claimed."

HARDY AFFIRMED.

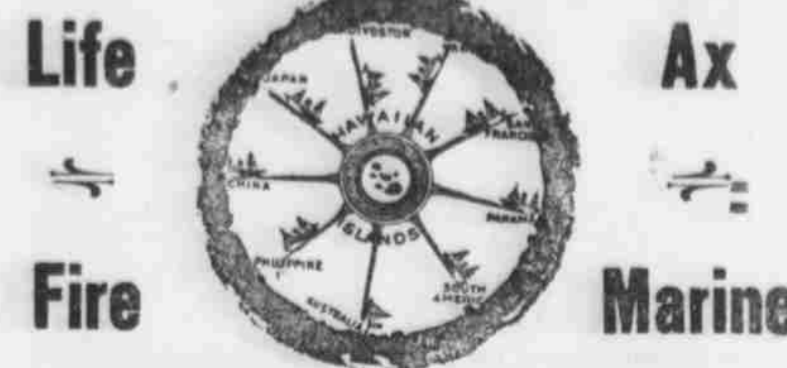

The Supreme court yesterday affirmed the decree of Judge Hardy in the ejectment suit of Kuaiia against Kuapani, in favor of the plaintiff. The syllabus says: "In an equity suit to quiet title, in which the plaintiff relies on adverse possession, an objection that the title had not previously been determined at law, comes too late when made for the first time in this court and this court should not of its own motion dismiss the bill because of such alleged want of equity.

CHICKEN THIEF KILLED POLICEMAN

NOTORIOUS CHINESE JAIL BIRD CHARGED WITH TAKING LIFE OF POLICE OFFICER.

The revolver with which Police Officer J. W. Mahelona was killed last night has been found. The weapon was recovered by Stephen Parker one of the sons of Captain of Police Parker. Three loaded and two empty cartridges were found in the weapon.

Ho Young or Mun Chong the Chinese who was charged with killing the officer refuses to make any statement concerning the crime. The suspected murderer was taken to the Oahu Prison this morning where he will be kept until he is arraigned for murder.

It appears that no one saw the shooting. Charles Clark, Jr., was going to his home in Buckler Lane near Liliha and Vineyard streets last night. As he neared the place a Chinese ran out as Clark thought with the intention of attacking the youth. The young man went out in search of an officer. Officer Apana was found but the officer advised the youth to hunt up the regular officer on the beat as Apana was not on duty. Mahelona was found. The officer started with young Clark for the purpose of finding trace of the Chinese. The pair walked along Liliha street.

They stood by the open lot on the Waikiki side of Liliha street opposite the Chinese Theater. While they were waiting there the Chinese thinking evidently that there was no further trouble walked near them by some bushes. Clark said it was the man and the officer commanded the Chinese to halt. The Chinese did so and the officer went by and grabbed him by the shoulder, at the same time holding a revolver in the other hand. The officer then searched the Chinese. Two chickens were found hidden in the back of the Chinese coat. One of the fowls got away but Clark held the other one. Mahelona was satisfied that the Chinese had been guilty of stealing chickens so he marched him toward the police call box. The Chinese said that he had some more stolen chickens hidden in a bag back on the lot and if the officer would return, he would show where they were.

The two young sons of Captain Parker had joined the crowd by this time. Some one suggested that the officer search the Chinese to see if the man had any weapon. The officer replied that that was all right and did not search the fellow. The Chinese led the crowd onto the vacant lot. The place was quite muddy and dark. After going some distance the crowd started to look for the supposed bag of stolen chickens but the Chinese said that the bag was further on. He led the policeman a short distance around a building. That part of the lot was very muddy so the others in the crowd stopped. While they stopped they heard a pistol shot.

Young Clark was about 20 feet from the Chinese and Mahelona but he did not see the shooting. He saw the flash however.

The police are of the opinion that the Chinese deliberately tricked the unsuspecting policeman into going in the dark away from the boys so that the Chinese could escape and, if necessary, kill the policeman in effecting the escape. The Chinese evidently fired close to the policeman. The Chinese may have broken and tried to run. It is not now known whether the policeman had hold of the Chinese at the time the fatal shot was fired. The shooting occurred shortly before 11 o'clock.

The bullet struck Mahelona in the neck close to the jaw and passed through the neck and probably up into the head. Clark heard Mahelona groaning and running up saw him still standing. Clark ran up, caught hold of the Chinese and felt a revolver in the hand of the Chinese. While Clark held onto the Chinese, the policeman suddenly fired four shots at the Chinese. One of the bullets struck Clark on the right arm and another hit the Chinese in the back inflicting a slight flesh wound. The policeman then toppled over and evidently expired in a few minutes.

The Chinese made a desperate struggle but the Parker boys came to the assistance of the plucky Clark youth and the Chinese was thrown on the ground and made a captive. Immediately after the shooting, a search was made for the Chinese's revolver. The weapon was not found until later in the night near the scene of the struggle.

The Chinese is a notorious chicken thief. He has served terms in prison. Mahelona was a man about 30 years of age. He leaves a widow and several children. He was in the Customs service about four years ago. He had been on the force only a short time. The funeral will probably be held tomorrow.

The Chinese will probably not be arraigned for murder for a day or so. While the police officer was very careless in failing to search the prisoner before going into the dark lot with him the police consider that the Chinese was deliberate in his plan of murder, for he enticed the officer into the dark spot for the sole purpose of getting liberty at any price. Had it not been for the bravery of young Clark the Chinese would certainly have escaped. Although two empty cartridges were found in the revolver of the Chinese the evidence thus far secured, goes to show that he fired only one shot. The Chinese might, however, have fired a second shot while young Clark held on to him and the policeman was shooting.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

ACTING GOVERNOR CARTER ISSUES FIRST ONE TO BE GIVEN IN HAWAII.

Acting Governor George R. Carter this morning issued a formal Thanksgiving proclamation, the first one ever issued in Hawaii. Governor Dole always took the view that no local proclamation was necessary, and the matter was a subject of considerable discussion. The governor sticking to his opinion that the proclamation by the President was enough.

On the mainland it is customary for governors to issue Thanksgiving proclamations of their own, supplementing that of the national executive, and Carter has followed this custom. The proclamation is published in this issue of The Star. By Authority.

Ideal Tonic

The public are the most critical judges of merit. When they purchase any article and find it as represented they are satisfied and continue using it. This is exactly the case of Royal Malt Extract. There is more of this sold than all the other makes combined. It has the true ring of merit.

If you are run down, have a poor appetite, can't sleep, you ought to know that your system needs toning up. Neglect these symptoms and you will be sick. Take a tonic, like Royal Malt Extract, and build yourself up. Improvement will come with the first bottle. It is the most satisfactory of tonics and you will not be disappointed.
