Immigration Board, Says Jack, Suffers No Setback

Secretary Atkinson this morning indignantly denied that the Board of Immigration, the chairman of which he is, had received any setback of any kind and that it was working in secret. "The talk of a setback is all poppycock," said Atkinson.

"The Board is at present sawing wood," continued Jack. "We are waiting for the reports of the directors of the various plantations. They will report to the committee of the Planters' Association, especially chosen for the purpose of enquiring into the immigration question. This committee will report to the Planters' Association and that organization will report to us."

"What we are doing at present with the committee is to obtain from the planters information in regard to what inducements they can offer immigrants in the way of permanent homes, fuel, water, medical attendance, etc., what wages they are prepared to pay and how large number they can employ. There are fifty-two different corporations to be heard from so you can not expect to get the reports all at once. No thing which was really worth working for was ever obtained at the first pick. I expect that we will get the report in the near future. The talk about secrecy on the part of the Board is all poppycock. We have had no meetings except public ones and we wish to have publicity in order to have the public with us."

Judge Robinson has signed an order re-assigning to Judge Lindsay, the chambers, probate and equity matters, formerly assigned to him by Judge Lindsay.

FIRE AVERTED AT MOANA HOTEL

What might have been a disastrous fire at the Moana Hotel was averted today by the prompt action of Max Kuhn, engineer at the Moana. Kuhn discovered a small fire in the gutter over the hotel kitchen and a few bucketsful of water put out the blaze. Had the fire gained any headway serious consequences might have followed, since the nearest fire station is at Makiki and the run from there to the hotel is a very lone one.

Engineer Kuhn discovered the fire just before 12:30 o'clock today. He saw a thin column of smoke ascending from the roof on the makai side of the hotel, almost directly above the kitchen. The alarm was at once turned in and fire-wagons from both the Beretania and Makiki stations started on the Waikiki road. The engines and hose-cart from Beretania station stopped near Thomas Square, the fire being under control. The patrol wagon and an engine and hose-cart from the Makiki station reached the hotel, but the fire was already out.

The fire is supposed to have originated by sparks from the kitchen chimney falling on dry leaves in the gutter. No damage was done.

The report spread downtown that the Moana was burning down and there were a good many spectators on the scene within a short time. Acting Manager Harry Jeffery was downtown in his automobile at the time, but arrived within a few minutes, the danger then being already past.

PEACE TREATY SIGNED

Rice Goes Begging

"Talk about the development of other industries than sugar," said Senator L. L. McCandless this morning, "why they don't want any other industries than sugar to live in this Territory."

"Why here's Hawaiian rice going to the dogs and what are they doing to prevent it. We are selling the rice at $3.25 in Honolulu. The other day we sent a man down to the plantations to see how the rice was selling down there and we found that the price was $4.25 in the Chinese store and rice to the laborer costs at the rate of $5.25 a bag."

"What do you think? The producer is going broke on the production of Hawaiian rice and here they are selling it to the laborer at a figure that would give all kinds of profit."

"We are exporting rice today. Over six hundred bags will go out to the Coast on the Sierra and it goes there simply because we can get more for our rice abroad and the foreign rice brings a better price here than the domestic. Isn't that a state of affairs? Do the planters want other industries to thrive?"

GOVERNOR SENDS HIS CHILDREN TO PUBLIC SCHOOL

Governor Carter's eldest children, Elizabeth, aged 9, better known as "Bess," and Phoebe, aged 7, entered public school this morning with the opening of the term. Heretofore they have received their instruction privately.

Carter believes in the public schools and he believes in Hawaii's public school system.

Some pleased pedagog or other individual who dropped the tube without giving his name, rang up a business man this afternoon, sending over the wire this message:

"Governor Carter's two children started to the public schools this morning, a la Roosevelt."

The information, reaching the ears of the press, was verified. The Misses Carter are enrolled in the Kaakopua School, Vineyard street.

O. J. Holt and Chris. Holt have filed a memorial to the petition of J. F. Colburn to sell the Waiialua lands of the R. W. Holt estate on the grounds that that fact alleged do not entitle the petitioner to the relief prayed for, and that the court in probate has no jurisdiction in the matter.

Judge Robinson will call the even-numbered cases on the civil calendar tomorrow at 9 a. m. His jury is returnable tomorrow at 10 a. m.

ROBINSON CALLS CRIMINAL CASES

Nolle Prosequi Entered in Rest of Boyd Cases

SEVERAL MATTERS SET FOR TRIAL VERY SOON

MIDDLEDITCH AND PERRY ARE AGAIN ASSIGNED TO DEFEND THE MURDERER TAGATA.

The criminal calendar for the present term, which opened this morning, was called at 10:30 o'clock today by Judge Robinson, who will be trying criminal cases during the rest of this month, while Judge Lindsay tries to wind up the Parker Ranch case. County Attorney Douthitt appeared for the prosecution.

The five E. Vivian Richardson embezzlement cases were the first called and Douthitt announced that he was ready.

"I like your nerve," said A. G. M. Robertson, for the defendant. "There are bills of particulars to be furnished first."

The cases were accordingly passed for the time being until the bills of particulars could be furnished.

In the four embezzlement cases against E. S. Boyd, Douthitt announced that as Boyd was in jail at present he could nolle prosequi the rest of the cases against him. S. F. Chillingworth, for the defendant, stated that he had no objections.

The cases of Ah On, charged with acceptance of a bribe as a police officer, were set for trial next Monday at 10 a. m. Judge Humphreys, appearing for the defendant, announced that he intended to raise the question as to whether the term of court had not really lapsed, the court opening today instead of yesterday as set. This same point was subsequently raised by H. Hogan and Leon Straps in the Hadio Gonales murder case and by Judge Perry and H. D. Middleditch, who were assigned to defend Takata, a Japanese charged with murder, whom they have already once before defended on assignment.

The following cases were set for trial: Ah Lum, charged with conducting a lottery, Sept. 12; Kawasaki, charged with possession, Sept. 12; John K. Nakoooko, libel, Sept. 13; Stephen Umauma, libel, Sept. 14; Wishimura, bribery, Sept. 15; Fushimura, bribery (Continued on Page 5.)

SHERIDAN LUCKILY STAYS OVERNIGHT

Luckily for a big bunch of home-bound soldiers, the transport Sheridan arrived in port yesterday afternoon instead of this morning. The stay overnight gives the soldiers and passengers a chance to stretch their legs on shore, and if the transport had arrived in the morning they would have been given no shore leave, since there is no coal to be discharged here and the troopship is due to leave at 4 o'clock today.

The troops aboard consist of the engineer's corps and Twelfth Cavalry, with a few casuals. Col. Henry Wygant of San Juan Hill fame, is ranking officer on the transport. His regiment is the Twenty-second Infantry.

A death at sea was the only marvellous feature of a pleasant voyage. Sergeant Major John P. O. Koch, engineer corps, died of heart failure on August 31. He had served Uncle Sam for thirty successive years, and was on his way home to the States to retire. His body is being taken to the Coast. The body of Major Palmer, army quartermaster at Nagasaki, who died there a few weeks ago, is also being taken to the Coast.

Joy Pitches Great Ball For The H. A. C. Team

HONOLULU BAT HAMPTON'S CURVUS

GREAT GAME BEFORE HUGE LABOR DAY CROWD - KAMS BREAK SEASON'S BATTING RECORD.

Well, the H. A. C.'s won. Fair and square was the victory; and it came only after nine full innings of brilliant and desperate playing. The Elks were not bad; they were simply outplayed; and because of Barney Joy's great pitching the Elks were shut out without a run or a hit before an immense and madly enthusiastic crowd. Four to nothing was the score, and there is happiness in the H. A. C. camp for the second series is tied and now the two leaders will fight out the championship in a special series of three games.

The Kams and Mailes played the first game yesterday, and the Kams broke the season's record for base hits, making 22, and winning, 15 to 4. It was not a slow game by any means but in comparison to what followed it is faded into semi-obscurity.

It was a great day for the game, and a great crowd saw it. Downtown the rain fell heavily, but over Baseball Park the skies were blue and the sun shining; and all the world and his family or his particular feminine fancy put on their glad rags and wandered out to the Park. By two o'clock the stands and bleachers were well filled, by three standing room was at a premium; by four, when the big game commenced, the record crowd, estimated variously from 2300 to over 3000, flowed the stands. Some of the carriages even went out along the center-field fence, and there were fringes along the bottom of the bleachers.

And noise! Noise from human throats, from horns, whistles, megaphones, bells, gongs and a few other instruments of torture. Up on the H. A. C. section the variety of nerve-racking, ear-splitting contrivances was something amazing, and the Elk section looked like a gramophone garage. Everything was going happily, and the jubilation swelled louder and louder to the final inning, when the joyful supporters of the Honolulu rose to their feet and produced a corkscrew crescendo with "Aloha Oe."

Let us pass over the first game rapidly. Freitas furnished the most beautiful facilities for fattening batters averages that he has done in his season's career. The Kams couldn't have thrown that game away if they had tried. They opened up with six hits in the first inning. One more in the second, and three in the fourth, one a long triple, finished young Freitas. Amoy succeeded him. Amoy got through his first season without a hit. In the sixth the Kams landed three singles, two singles in the seventh, three in the eighth, and finished up fast in the ninth with four clean ones. Plunkett and Sheldon led at the bat. Plunkett hit safely four times out of five times up, and Sheldon four times out of six times up. Reuter, Lemon and Jones each carried off three hits. Reuter did not need to exert himself, and he took life rather easily, allowing the Mailes seven hits, Simpson getting a triple and Bruns a double. Bruns also pulled off the star fielding stunt. Hamauku drove a low liner to left field. Bruns came in on the run and got the ball at his shoe-tops. Sheldon,

Clark, Plunkett and J. Desha played fast ball in the field. Jones threw to second with deadly speed and more accuracy than usual.

The Kams made their scores—a record for the season—by hard hitting and frequent Maile errors. Up till the fourth the Mailes were shut out. Then Clark led off with a hit and Simpson scored him with a long triple to deep center. Chillingworth forced Simpson, scoring himself on a wild pitch, Kanoo's hit and a passed ball. In the sixth Chillingworth walked and on two successive wild throws by Jones reached the plate. In the ninth Wagner walked went to third on Amoy's hit and scored on a chance single by Robertson. This game was long drawn out and everybody was glad when it was over and the other teams took the field.

Then came the big game. The teams warmed up in preliminary practice in fast shape, and the crowd warmed up, too. Megaphone and gong sounded, fans howled and the Elks took the field. After that it was a real baseball game. There were enough features for three or four games of the ordinary brand, but the top-liner of all was Joy's pitching. There has been a good deal of talk to the effect that Joy is a has-been, but the prophets are back to the woods after yesterday's exhibition. In 1902 Joy pitched a one-hit game, and last year he fanned eighteen men, but these performances pale into comparative insignificance beside his latest record. Not even the semblance of a safe hit was allowed, and though Barney claims he is no relative of the late P. T. Barnum, he certainly can fool all of the people all of the time or occasion.

Nine Elks reached first base, two forcing out preceding players, three making the base on errors and four walking. One was left on first. Two were left on second. One reached third and died there. Hampton was caught at third, White was caught off second, Vanatta was caught at second, and Kia and Cogswell were both choked off at second by the A. Williams-J. Williams route. Far from scoring, the Elks never had a really good chance to score. Wilder reached third once on two successive wild throws, but there were two men out at the time and Kia's best effort was an easy fly to Louis in right field.

Both teams fielded fast and accurately, considering the strain they were under. Bob White pulled off a circus catch in the fifth inning that robbed A. Williams of a hit. The ball drove out to left like a shot and White picked it right off the grass tops, afterward rolling over, but coming up smiling with the ball in his hands. Moore played a good game at third. The entire H. A. C. infield played splendid ball. En Sue stopped a hot liner from Wilder's bat in the seventh inning, and covered lots of territory. A. Williams work was very fast. J. Williams made a great bare-handed stop and throw of White's grounder in the third. Foxy Gleason was stopping all kinds of wild throws and little Soares played a steady and pretty game behind the bat. Fernandez saved two clean hits in left field, got two safe hits at the bat, stole a couple of bases and generally covered himself with glory. Louis played good ball in right.

Aylett hits seldom, but when he does land on the ball it goes some. In the seventh inning the pudgy center gardener picked out a nice ball and drove it into right for a home run, the longest hit before touching the ground made this season.

The H. A. C.'s opened up with a tully in the first inning, and gave the crowd something to cheer for. Fernandez grabbed off a twisting single over first base, and stole second. J. Williams hit safe and Fernandez came home when Ringland let a hard throw from Moore set away from him. Nothing doing until the seventh, but then

Mothers Are Helped THEIR HEALTH RESTORED

Happiness of Thousands of Homes Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

A devoted mother seems to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells her to guard her health, and before she realizes it some derangement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happiness and amiability.

Tired, nervous and irritable, the mother is unfit to care for her children, and her condition ruins the child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The mother should not be blamed, as she no doubt is suffering with backache, headache, bearing-down pains or displacement, making life a burden. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for this condition. It strengthens the female organs and permanently cures all displacements and irregularities. Such testimony as the following should convince women of its value:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I suffered for eight years with ovarian troubles. I was nervous, tired and irritable, and it did not seem as though I could stand it any longer, as I had five children to care for. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it has entirely cured me. I cannot thank you enough for your letter of advice and for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.—Mrs. Ph. Hoffman, 100 Elmrod Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. Address, Lynn, Mass.

the Elk adherents got it good and plenty. With two men down Aylett tore off his home run. Joy followed with a double to right. A. Williams sent an easy grounder to Cogswell, but the lanky first baseman let it roll between his legs and Joy scored. In the eighth En Sue singled to left, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch, and scored on Fernandez's pretty single to left field. That was all the scoring Hampton was no puzzle to the hard hitting H. A. C.'s after the sixth inning. Altogether they got eleven hits seven in the last three innings.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1905.

Informal sessions of political committees frequently develop more of the real trend of thought than the formal discussions.

Organized American labor in Hawaii cannot boast of much numerical force, hence presumably gives more attention to quality.

Since the Supervisors have made themselves famous by saving money, it is natural Supervisor Cox should gain notoriety by finding it.

It is unkind perhaps, but none the less true, that the baseball crowds are better satisfied with the result that prolongs the prospect of more hard-played games.

President Pinkham is trying the complimentary treatment on Hilo and the town is responding as never before. Hilo's surprise is not so much that the town deserves it as that anyone from Honolulu should be willing to admit it.

Governor Carter will be a changed man indeed if he shuts himself off from close contact with the people. But not for the better. Carter's open-handed, outspoken method of dealing with the citizens of the Territory has been his strongest card.

The Department of Justice is investigating an Arizona Territorial Judge who is charged with having elevated his feet upon the rostrum while business was being conducted in his court. It will be a valuable addition to the Nation's history, when the Department decides whether justice can not be administered without the presiding Judge has due consideration for the location of his feet.

CURZON AND ASIATIC POLICY

Vance Thompson, writing for one of the popular magazines on diplomatic secrets in general, has said that the war between Russia and Japan was brought on by Lord Curzon and Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Ambassador at London. According to Thompson's story, it was a matter of seconds between the delivery of dispatches, one for peace, the other for war, and war got in ahead.

If this be strictly true it is interesting that the close of the war should be almost coincident with Lord Curzon's retirement from the scene of his victories for peace in India. The settlement of the war in which his diplomacy figured has been so much to the fore that Curzon's practically forced resignation has not gained special attention. Yet the replacement of the Curzon policy by a Kitchener program has as many world-influencing possibilities as the war of the Far East. Curzon allowed others to do the fighting. Kitchener appears to believe Great Britain should do the fighting herself.

The post which Lord Curzon filed is a difficult one. It carries direct responsibility for the government of 231,000,000 souls in British India and of 62,000,000 in the semi-independent Native States. It includes power over splendid monarchs like the Nizam of Hyderabad and the Maharajah of Mysore, who in turn rule kingdoms as populous as Mexico and Canada. It calls for the general direction of an army eight times as large as that of the United States before the Spanish war. It is tangled in red-tape, some of which Lord Curzon has cut; it is confronted with the constant menace of famine and plague, which he has fought by direct methods where necessary and indirectly by the prosecution of public works, especially for irrigation. Its incumbent must take cognizance of a maze of Oriental precedents and see that the Gaekwar of Baroda gets the 21-gun salute to which he is entitled and the Rao of Kutch no more than his rightful seventeen. And that Lord Curzon appreciated the merely millinery duties of his position was proved by the paucity of the great Durbar when King Edward's accession to the throne was celebrated in his great empire over sea with unprecedented splendor.

"The Governor General in Council," supreme in India, is subject in London to the orders of the Secretary of State and of Parliament. And it is in London, not in Simla or Calcutta, that Lord Curzon has failed. A great jingo wave of public feeling in England throbs responsive to the appeals of the "blue-water" school of statesmen for a bigger navy, and also to the counter-demand of Lord Roberts for a standing army, comparable to that of Germany or France. What more natural at such a time than that the Cabinet should disregard the advice of the man who has studied India for twenty-five years and ruled it for seven and take up with Lord Kitchener's cry for a "forward" policy against Russia at the very moment of her deep humiliation and her demonstrated incapacity for offensive war?

The broad-minded civilian goes; the soldier-fanatic stays to advise. It is impossible to forecast what consequences may flow from this choice of the nation, coming just when the warlike peoples of the East are inspired by Japan's victories to dream of an "Asia for the Asiatics."

A MEASURE OF PRAISE.

(Hilo Tribune)
No higher compliment could be paid to Hilo's public spirit and sense of civic duty, than the voluntary words of praise from Dr. L. E. Coker, of the United States Marine Hospital Service and President L. E. Pinkham of the Board of Health. These gentlemen know what it is to face conditions and the dangers that beset a community from lack of public interest. Both were surprised with the improvements made in the sanitation of the city and vicinity, and were unstinted in their approval of the work being carried on by the health authorities through the assistance of the Shippers' Wharf Committee. The systematic oiling of the streets of Hilo was a matter which especially commended itself to their attention, and which as a preventive measure against the spread of epidemics and disease, they praised most highly. The crusade against the obnoxious mosquito was another important matter now being undertaken with the aid of the Shippers' Wharf Committee. This is a matter, however, which cannot be carried on spasmodically or irregularly, but requires constant attention and the cooperation of the public to make the work effective. No let-up or cessation of the campaign should be permitted until the ponds, marshes and other breeding places of the mosquito are wiped out, and with them the pest itself.

SUPERVISOR COX'S FIRST INSTALLMENT OF BURIED TREASURE

Supervisor Andrew Cox, of Wai'alua, is in the city to attend a meeting of the Board of Supervisors tonight. He carries in his vest pocket a Spanish coin bearing the date 1774 found by an Hawaiian boy last Friday while hoeing among some young orange trees near a taro patch just back of the Lane premises in the village of Wai'alua, a little mauka of the Haleiwa Hotel.

"Supposing that the coin was dropped in the year it was made," said Supervisor Cox this morning, "it must have been brought to Oahu by the first tourist, Captain Cook—the originator of Cook's tours to the Hawaiian Islands. Who knows! There may be more where this was found, and they may not all be real. What's the matter with a plant of Spanish doubloons?"

The young Hawaiian who found the real turned it up with his hoe in a moment of unusual energy, digging rather deep. He straightway proceeded to get a file and, in his desire to read the legend on the coin, nearly obliterated the face of one side. He made a vain search for further loose change that early visitors might have dropped.

Finally he turned the real over to Cox, having hoed as he never before had hoed.

Eleven years before Portlock and Dixon, from England, and La Perouse from France, came out to the Islands, the first vessels to visit the Islands after Cook, this coin was made. Admitting that it came to Hawaii fresh from the Spanish treasury, it must have come out with the Cook party, but anybody could drop an old coin in a taro patch between 1774 and 1905. In any event the piece of metal is 121 years old, whether it has been a resident of Oahu that long or for only a few months or years.

Somebody may have attempted to pass it on a Chinese policeman, who, finding it was not good American money, may have chucked it in the back lot.

HARDY CASE POSTPONED

The Supreme Court sat this morning, Judge Frear and Judge De Bolt on the bench, to hear the writ of prohibition and the mandamus proceedings brought against Judge Hardy of the Kauai Circuit Court by D. Kanehili, the would-be Supervisor, whose bond he refused to approve. At the written request of Judge Hardy, who is still on Kauai, and the attorney, J. B. Willard, who is ill with sciatica, the matter was postponed.

ROBINSON TALKS ON WHAT CONSTITUTES LIBEL

Judge Robinson this morning rendered decision in the libel suit of A. V. Gear vs. Hawaiian Gazette Co., Ltd., sustaining the defendant's demurrer and dismissing the case. A. G. M. Robertson, for the libellant, gave notice of an exception.

Judge Robinson opens his decision by stating that the matter was an action to recover $10,000 damages for an alleged libel published in the Advertiser, and quotes this article in which the libel investigation is mentioned in connection with A. V. Gear's name and the conclusion drawn that his availability as a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction was thus impaired.

After dwelling on the grounds of the demurrer the decision states as follows:

"As the article complained of does not associate the plaintiff with the so-called 'Japanese social evil,' personally, but merely in his representative capacity as an officer and agent of the Fidelity Insurance Company, I think it safe to assume that the language employed, as read and understood by a person of ordinary intelligence, would not tend to injure or defame plaintiff in his fame, reputation or good name or to bring him into public scandal, disgrace, abhorrence, odium, contempt or ridicule, unless it also tends to impute to him the commission of a crime or some public offense involving moral turpitude."

The court refers to the statute regarding disorderly houses as being the only one which applies to the case and quotes it as follows:

"Sec. 3162. Houses of prostitution; punishment. Whoever keeps or maintains a house or place of ill fame used or resorted to for the purposes of prostitution or lewdness; whoever, as owner or lessee or agent thereof, knowingly let or permits any house or place to be kept or maintained for the purposes of prostitution or lewdness; whoever, as owner, lessee or agent thereof, suffers any such house or place to be kept or used for the purposes of prostitution or lewdness, after having been notified in writing that such house or place to be kept or used for the purposes of prostitution or lewdness, after having been notified in writing that such house or place is kept and used for such purposes, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars and be imprisoned for not less than sixty days nor more than six months at hard labor."

"It is upon the second clause of the section quoted that plaintiff relies as having particular application to the case at bar. In reference to the language employed in the article complained of, as tending to impute to him the commission of a public offense involving moral turpitude. Unquestionably, that portion of the section quoted upon which plaintiff relies, defines a public offense involving moral turpitude, but does the article complained of charge or tend to charge the plaintiff with the violation of that portion of the statute?"

It will be observed that the portion of the section referred to uses the word "knowingly" in defining the public offense thereby created and by such use makes the fact of knowledge on the part of the owner or lessee or agent of the use or purpose for which such house or place is let or permitted to be kept or maintained an essential ingredient and element of the offense.

Particular words are not actionable as imputing the commission of a statutory crime unless the words used, ex vi termini, tend to charge all of the necessary ingredients of the offense. It is not, of course, necessary that the words used shall charge the offense in the very language of the statute but the words must be such that considered according to their plain and natural import they convey to those who read them the idea that the plaintiff has committed the offense.

After quoting several authorities the decision is given as follows:

Applying the rule stated to the case bar I am constrained to hold that this language complained of is not libelous per se. It is nowhere charged that the plaintiff knowingly let or permitted the premises in question to be used for the housing of the Japanese social evil, assuming that that expression possesses the meaning claimed for it by plaintiff in his innuendo.

It is ordered that the demurrer of the defendant do the complaint of the plaintiff be and the same is hereby sustained without leave to amend, and this action is hereby dismissed.

CITIZEN LABOR IS ON INCREASE

"The Immigration Board has not had a meeting since the one that has been mentioned in the papers and which the representatives of the press attended," stated a leading plantation man this morning who keeps in close touch with the details of the Immigration Board and the Planters' Association.

"This discussion of the publicity side of it is all tommyrot because there has been no meeting to furnish the opportunity for publicity. The situation is just this. The Immigration Board named Mr. Paxton as its representative to go East and look up the Italian or Portuguese labor immigrant. Money for this work was collected among the plantation interests. Mr. Paxton, after studying over the situation, decided that to go over to New York before learning just what he could offer these people would be like dumping the expense money in a rat hole. He would spend the money to go to Ellis Island and ask a few people if they would come to Hawaii. When they asked him what he had to offer, he must respond that he didn't exactly know but could go back to Hawaii to find out.

"Paxton would have been very foolish to have spent the money without first very thoroughly canvassing the situation here. In furtherance of this idea circulars and forms of possible contracts for settlers were sent to the plantation managers in order to gain a correct idea of what they could do. This was mentioned by the Bulletin at the time.

"I am sorry to say that as far as I have been informed, the replies received from these queries have not been altogether satisfactory. There is some reason why they should not be. The scheme as presented to the managers was not shaped by practical men.

"The plantation interests will get at the real meat of the situation when the managers of the plantations of the Islands assemble soon in Honolulu and the matter is discussed in all its phases. The advantage is of such a session will be that we shall have the practical men to talk with the theorists and get right down to business.

"That's where the immigration business is today. You can't upset in twenty-six months a condition that has taken twenty-six years to create. I am not inclined to believe that the people of this Territory are ready for the plantation interests to be so rapidly revolutionary that they will immediately adopt a system by which the present methods of operating the plantations shall be upset in a month, the whole thing wrecked and built up on a

SPECIAL VENIRE FOR GRAND JURY

The quiet which has for a long time past been reigning in the halls of the Judiciary building was interrupted this morning by the stir and bustle accompanying the opening of the term of court.

At 10 o'clock the Grand Jurors were summoned before Judge Lindsay, this being the first time the large court room has been used since its renewal.

The jurors summoned were as follows: I. Livingston, W. A. Love, Thos. F. McTigue, Sydney Spitzer, Wm. J. White, David K. Bent, John Prendergast, Jas. A. Aheong, John McGuire, Robert K. Pahau, A. J. Tait, E. A. Rowland, Richard Weedon, C. H. Atherton, Antone Fernandez, Wm. Weinrich, Jr., Theodore Bauman, J. T. Crawley, Joseph Richards, E. T. Dreier, Chris. J. Willis, Wm. H. Smith and R. N. Mossman.

Theodore Bauman, Sydney Spitzer, Wm. H. Smith and John McGuire had not been served as they were not within the jurisdiction of the court.

W. A. Love, C. H. Atherton, Jas. A. Aheong, Antone Fernandez, Joseph Richards, Chris. J. Willis and Wm. Weinrich were excused on pleading pressure of business.

Superfluous Hair Is Curable!!!

MADAM: Are you afflicted with this disease? Are you still using a RAZOR? Are you still using a TWEezer? Then you certainly have not used MAJI. Dr. Alexander Grossman, the eminent Hair Specialist, has after 15 years of Research and Experimenting discovered an ABSOLUTE Remedy for this unsightly Disease.

And We Can Prove It

The above is not the result of magic, but of this Wonderful Discovery named MAJI. This photograph is but one of the THOUSANDS of cases that MAJI has cured.

MAJI is endorsed and recommended by the most reputable Physicians as the ONLY Remedy for PERMANENT removal and destruction of SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

MAJI Acts Quickly and Permanently.

The action of this Wonderful Compound commences immediately on its application to the parts afflicted. It does not burn the Hair thus making it return more coarse and brittle than ever; MAJI goes to the root of the Evil; it destroys the CAUSE of the growth; it destroys the factors favorable to its growth; MAJI cures by destroying the PRODUCTIVE conditions that cause this Disease.

If you want to be Cured, if you want to dispense with the Razor, if you want to discard the heavy veil you are compelled to wear to conceal this humiliating, unsightly blemish, send for a bottle of MAJI now, at once, and it will be mailed to you (postage prepaid) in plain wrapper.

CITIZEN PINKHAM

DISCUSSES WITH TRIBUNEMAN HILO AND HAWAII PROBLEMS

HEALTH AND CITIZENSHIP. PUBLIC SPIRIT GOOD IN HILO. THE EFFORTS OF AT-KINSON.

Hilo, Aug. 29.—The Tribune reporter called on L. E. Pinkham, President of the Territorial Board of Health, to inquire concerning the object of the visit of Dr. L. E. Cofer of the U. S. Marine Hospital Service and himself to Hilo.

Mr. Pinkham remarked: "We came to Hilo on our annual inspection trip and to look over the sanitary conditions of Hilo and vicinity. We have been very much gratified at the good condition in which we have found the town generally and in detail. Wala-kea along the river was found, with hardly an exception, provided with sanitary conveniences and drainage and to be cleanly. The town is in very good shape throughout. The oiling of your streets is making a great improvement. The points that do not impress us favorably are such as take time to bring into condition. As usual the swamps between town and Wala-kea are a source of danger. Citizens should use every effort by the combination of public and private interests to have a suitable water course laid through the swamp and the balance of the land filled in. There is an abundance of filling on the nearby beach.

"By agitation and forming an active public opinion this improvement can be brought about.

"Front street is in a crude state and resembles an old frontier western town street. Fixed street lines seem never to have been established, hence the sidewalks are both irregular, unsanitary and a disgrace to the town.

"Some of your present buildings, and undoubtedly those to be built would be made far more creditable, permanent and reliable for keeping the alignment of sanitary fixtures and plumbing if more attention was paid to clear and high air space under the buildings, and to more immovable and sure foundations and particularly heavy and substantial first floor underpinning and timbers.

"I wish to congratulate Hilo on the superb public spirit of the Hilo Shippers Wharf Committee. I do not know of a more effective organization in the Hawaiian Islands.

"This body is aiding the Board of Health in every possible way in advancing the sanitary and health interests of Hilo.

In the rat and mosquito crusades, in cleaning, ditching and filling in the town limits and oiling the streets, it is doing the most commendable and efficient work.

"We most sincerely thank these gentlemen and the merchants, and only hope their example may be emulated in other towns of the Islands."

Your reporter further inquired as to what appeared to Mr. Pinkham to be the most vital topic of interest to the Islands. He replied, "The Labor problem and the protection of the citizens of the Territory who have to depend on their daily efforts as laborers, artisans, employees, professional men and tradesmen in the means of livelihood.

"Several years ago the Builders and Traders' Exchange of Honolulu requested me to draft a Citizen Labor Law that would protect citizen labor in the avocations and employments the Territorial government could furnish.

"After much study I drew the law, and the Legislature of 1903 passed the same as now on the Statute Books as Sections 120-124. Revised Laws of the Territory. It was the opinion of the highest judicial authority that the law as shown and enacted could not be successfully assailed in the courts. "Certain aliens, not content with enjoying greater opportunities than citizens at large, because they have none of a citizen's responsibility, seek to exploit every avenue of employment and profit in the Islands, and have secured a legal opinion that the citizens cannot specifically enjoy the patronage of his own government for which he is alone responsible and that our citizen labor law is unconstitutional.

"I believe to the contrary and that a government has a right to protect, preserve and perpetuate itself through its citizens as against standards of living and civilization that would under popular government be a failure and impossible.

"I have shown this week in my memorandum to the Board of Health how aliens are exploiting the medical profession, and the fact two-fifths their practice is outside their own nationality. "These aliens are rapidly displacing citizen artisans, often with the selfish aid of men of great wealth. "This is a burning question and must have attention if American institutions are to survive in Hawaii. "Acting Governor Atkinson desires the thanks and aid of every far seeing citizen on this issue, which has his most earnest and determined support and effort."—Tribune.

There is something almost pathetic in remarks with which Mme. Paderewski is credited—that her husband simply dare not cut his hair. He might desire to have a head as trimly neat and smooth as a greyhound, says his wife, but the public would not let him. Were he to abate his ambrosial locks to even half their present proportions the music lovers of London and New York would cry out, and if he persisted in shortening his hair they would desert him for a new idol. Such is fame!

The Return of SHERLOCK HOLMES

By A. CONAN DOYLE, Author of "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "The Sign of the Four," "A Study in Scarlet," Etc.

The Adventure of the Three Students

No. 9 of the Series

"I will tell you, then, in a few words the character of the three men who inhabit these rooms. The lower of the three is Gilchrist, a fine scholar and athlete; member of the Rugby team and the cricket team for the college and got his blue for the hurdles and the long jump. He is a fine, manly fellow. His father was the notorious Sir James Gilchrist, who ruined himself on the turf. My scholar has been left very poor, but he is hardworking and industrious. He will do well.

"The second floor is inhabited by Daulat Ras, the Indian. He is a quiet, inscrutable fellow, as most of those Indians are. He is well up in his work, though his Greek is his weak subject. He is steady and methodical. "The top floor belongs to Miles McLaren. He is a brilliant fellow when he chooses to work—one of the brightest intellects of the university—but he is wayward, dissipated and unprincipled. He was nearly expelled over a card scandal in his first year. He has been idling all this term, and he must look forward with dread to the examination."

"Then it is he whom you suspect?" "I dare not go so far as that, but of the three he is perhaps the least unlikely."

"Exactly. Now, Mr. Soames, let us have a look at your servant, Bannister."

He was a little, white faced, clean shaven, grizzled haired fellow of 45. He was still suffering from this sudden disturbance of the quiet routine of his life. His plump face was twitching with his nervousness, and his fingers could not keep still.

"We are investigating this unhappy business, Bannister," said his master.

"Yes, sir."

"I understand," said Holmes, "that you left your key in the door?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was it not very extraordinary that you should do this on the very day when there were these papers inside?"

"It was most unfortunate, sir. But I have occasionally done the same thing at other times."

"When did you enter the room?"

"It was about half past 4. That is Mr. Soames' ten time."

"How long did you stay?"

"When I saw that he was absent, I withdrew at once."

"Did you look at these papers on the table?"

"No, sir; certainly not."

"How came you to leave the key in the door?"

"I had the tea tray in my hand. I thought I would come back for the key. Then I forgot."

"Has the outer door a spring lock?"

"No, sir."

"Then it was open all the time?"

"Yes, sir."

"Any one in the room could get out?"

"Yes, sir."

"When Mr. Soames returned and called for you, you were very much disturbed?"

"Yes, sir. Such a thing has never happened during the many years that I have been here. I nearly fainted, sir."

"So I understand. Where were you when you began to feel bad?"

"Where was I, sir? Why, here, near the door."

"That is singular, because you sat down in that chair over yonder near the corner. Why did you pass these other chairs?"

"I don't know, sir. It didn't matter to me where I sat."

"I really don't think he knew much about it, Mr. Holmes. He was looking very bad—quite ghastly."

"You stayed here when your master left?"

"Only for a minute or so; then I locked the door and went to my room."

"Whom did you suspect?"

"Oh, I would not venture to say, sir. I don't believe there is any gentleman in this university who is capable of profiting by such an action. No, sir; I'll not believe it."

"Thank you; that will do," said Holmes. "Oh, one more word. You have not mentioned to any of the three gentlemen whom you attend that anything is amiss?"

"No, sir; not a word."

"You haven't seen any of them?"

"No, sir."

"Very good. Now, Mr. Soames, we will take a walk in the quadrangle, if you please."

unusual for visitors to go over them. Come along, and I will personally conduct you."

"No names, please!" said Holmes as we knocked at Gilchrist's door. A tall, thin, young fellow opened it and made us welcome when he understood our errand. There were some really curious pieces of medieval domestic architecture within. Holmes was so charmed with one of them that he insisted on drawing it in his notebook, broke his pencil, had to borrow one from our host and finally borrowed a knife to sharpen his own. The same curious accident happened to him in the rooms of the Indian—a silent little book nosed fellow, who eyed us askance and was obviously glad when Holmes' architectural studies had come to an end. I could not see that in either case Holmes had come upon the clue for which he was searching. Only at the third did our visit prove abortive. The outer door would not open to our knock and nothing more substantial than a torrent of bad language came from behind it. "I don't care who you are. You can go to blazes!" roared the angry voice. "Tomorrow's the exam, and I won't be drawn by any one."

"A rude fellow!" said our guide, flushing with anger as we withdrew down the stair. "Of course he did not realize that it was I who was knocking, but none the less his conduct was very unbecoming and, indeed, under the circumstances rather suspicious."

Holmes' response was a curious one.

"Can you tell me his exact height?" he asked.

"Really, Mr. Holmes, I cannot undertake to say. He is taller than the Indian, not so tall as Gilchrist. I suppose five foot six would be about it."

"That is very important," said Holmes. "And now, Mr. Soames, I wish you good night."

Our guide cried aloud in his astonishment and dismay. "Good gracious, Mr. Holmes, you are surely not going to leave me in this abrupt fashion! You don't seem to realize the position. Tomorrow is the examination. I must take some definite action tonight. I cannot allow the examination to be held if one of the papers has been tampered with. The situation must be faced."

"You must leave it as it is. I shall drop round early tomorrow morning and chat the matter over. It is possible that I may be in a position then to indicate some course of action. Meanwhile, you change nothing—nothing at all."

"Very good, Mr. Holmes."

"You can be perfectly easy in your mind. We shall certainly find some way out of your difficulties. I will take the black clay with me; also the pencil cuttings. Goodbye."

When we were out in the darkness of the quadrangle we again looked up at the windows. The Indian still paced his room. The others were invisible.

"Well, Watson, what do you think of it?" Holmes asked as we came out into the main street. "Quite a little parlor game—sort of three card trick, is it not? There are your three men. It must be one of them. You take your choice. Which is yours?"

"The foul mouthed fellow at the top. He is the one with the worst record. And yet that Indian was a sly fellow also. Why should he be pacing his room all the time?"

"There is nothing in that. Many men do it when they are trying to learn anything by heart."

"He looked at us in a queer way."

"So would you if a flock of strangers came in on you when you were preparing for an examination next day and every moment was of value. No, I see nothing in that. Pencils, too, and knives—all was satisfactory. But that fellow does puzzle me."

"Who?"

"Why, Bannister, the servant. What's his game in the matter?"

"He impressed me as being a perfectly honest man."

"So he did me. That's the puzzling part. Why should a perfectly honest man—well, here's a large stationer's here. We shall begin our researches here."

There were only four stationers of any consequence in the town, and at each Holmes produced his pencil chips and bid high for a duplicate. All were agreed that one could be ordered, but that it was not a usual size of pencil and that it was seldom kept in stock. My friend did not appear to be depressed by his failure, but shrugged his shoulders in half humorous resignation.

"No good, my dear Watson. This, the best and only final clue, has run to nothing. But, indeed, I have little doubt that we can build up a sufficient case without it. By Jove, my dear fellow, it is nearly 9, and the landlady babbled of green peas at 7:30. What with your eternal tobacco, Watson, and your irregularity at meals, I expect that you will get notice to quit and that I shall share your downfall—not, however, before we have solved the problem of the nervous tutor, the careless servant and the three enterprising students."

Holmes made no further allusion to the matter that day, though he sat lost in thought for a long time after our belated dinner. At 8 in the morning he came into my room just as I finished my toilet.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT

FEW MILLS STILL GRINDING 1907 PLANTING CONTINUES

YOUNG PINEAPPLE PLANTS ARE GROWING WELL — COFFEE TREES FLOURISHING.

Section Director A. McC. Ashley reports as follows on weather and crops throughout the islands for the week ending September 2:

Partly cloudy conditions have prevailed, with occasional strong trade winds and temperatures slightly lower than during the preceding week. The rainfall has been abundant in all sections of Hawaii except portions of the Kau district, and in windward sections of all the other islands. Dry weather continues in leeward Maui, leeward Oahu and eastern Kauai.

Conditions on the whole have been quite favorable for the growth of cane, although in some windward sections more sunshining would have been beneficial and the ground has been too moist for proper cultivation, much hoeing also having been necessary to keep down the weeds. In portions of the Kau district of Hawaii, a continuance of dry weather and hot winds has been very hard on young cane. Planting for the 1907 crop continues, and a few of the mills are still grinding 1905 cane. The harvesting of the summer crop of pineapples is rapidly drawing to a close, and fruit buds for the winter crop are showing up nicely. Young pineapple plants are growing well in all sections. Coffee trees are reported as in good condition in all sections, but would now be benefited by a few sunny days in Kona, Hawaii, where continued cloudy and showery weather is retarding the ripening of the berries. The prevalence of showery conditions, which continue to improve in most sections although some leeward pastures are still very dry. Second crop rice is doing nicely. Young sisal in central Maui is growing rapidly on account of the moist conditions which have obtained in that locality.

THERE WAS NEGLIGENCE

San Diego, Aug. 3.—The Tribune this evening prints the following interview with an engineering officer of the flagship Chicago on the Bennington disaster:

"After the Chicago reached port last Thursday morning, I was one of the party which boarded the Bennington and made a thorough examination of the Bennington's boilers. What I saw in the Bennington's engine-room that day will bear out the truth of my statement. The whole accident is due to the negligence of some one, I know but am not going to say who is to blame. Had the accident not happened when it did there is no doubt it would have come later and would have been caused from any one of several reasons."

"My examination of the boiler demonstrated to me conclusively that at the time of the accident there was not enough circulating water over the crown-sheet. The boiler is what is known as a 'locomotive boiler.' The circulating water is over the top of the crown-sheet. At the time of the accident, this water had been allowed to run low. This left nothing but the steam above the top of the crown-sheet and as a result the top of the sheet was soon heated red hot. Later it became white hot. This, of course, weakened the crown-sheet and with the tremendous amount of steam pressure above caused it to collapse."

"How the circulating water was allowed to run so low of course I don't know. However, I do not believe that any attention was paid to the water gauge."

"Another thing, from what I have seen, neither the water gauge, the steam gauge nor the safety valve was in proper condition. The safety valve on that boiler would not have popped off under 500 pounds pressure. This is shown by the condition of the valve. The seat of the valve is corroded in such a manner that it shows conclusively that it had not been popped off for at least a year and very possibly eighteen months."

HEAVY PRESSURE ON BOILER. "You must know that the action of the steam causes a corrosion to form at the seat of the safety valve. This corrosion is not exactly a rust and yet its effect is not entirely unlike rust. It is sticky and unless cleaned out will soon cause the valve to stick in such a manner that 500 pounds of steam could not set it off. Neither was the valve properly weighted. If it had been, when the pressure had passed the danger point the whole valve would have been blown out. Nothing could have prevented that. The regulations require that every safety valve must be blown at least once every three months. Had the valve been popped within the last three months, the steam would have cleaned out all the corrosion."

"I am very certain that the steam gauge did not register correctly. Had it registered correctly there would not have been such a tremendous pressure of steam at the time of the accident. When that crown-sheet collapsed the boiler was carrying a pressure between 250 and 400 pounds."

It's wonderful the things one sees when he hasn't got a gun. When one hasn't a kodak with him the chances to take good pictures, which bob up are simply surprising. Get a kodak at once and take the next snap-shotting opportunity by the horns. Honolulu Photo-Supply Co.

CARE FOR THE LEPERS CROWD AT PENINSULA

DR. PINKHAM TALKS OF EFFORTS TO ASSIST THEM

HOPES THAT CONDITIONS ON OAHU AMONG HAWAIIANS MIGHT PREVAIL THROUGHOUT ISLANDS.

Hilo, August 29.—Incidental to President Pinkham's visit to Hilo, he looked into the condition of the lepers which are now undergoing treatment by Dr. Rice at Hilo. To a Tribune representative he said: "Doctor Rice has had four lepers under his care and personal supervision for the past year, since March, 1904, and he has the loyal support of myself and of the Board of Health in his laudable efforts to effect a cure. We should be only too glad if Doctor Rice can succeed in his efforts to cure these four cases, and we are making experiments all the time with new methods of treatment at the Molokai Settlement. When the U. S. medical authorities begin their investigations, we hope with their assistance to carry on this work in a more systematic manner.

The settlement on Molokai our people are very contented. There is plenty of pol. fish and meat and other good food, liberally served out to the people, so they have no cares or worries, such as are now troubling those whose means of livelihood are uncertain. There are 450 buildings in good repair. The people have many amusements.

"I doubt if there is an equally contented number of people in one spot in the Hawaiian Islands. "We have never have the slightest trouble with any of the people desiring to leave the settlement. "In several years not one person has asked to leave. Many have asked to be permitted to enter as Kokua, but their services were not required. "On the island of Oahu, this happy condition of affairs is so well known we have very few leper arrests by officers.

"When we learn of a leper we usually send for him (or her) and ask them to come to the Board of Health offices and call on the President. He inquires about their condition and that of their family. He then has the doctor examine them. The persons themselves with scarce an exception well know if they have the disease. When the physician decides the case, every effort is made to enable the person to arrange his (or her) family and business affairs in the most kindly way.

"These lepers well know they will be better taken care of by the good Brothers, Sisters and employees, at the Baldwin, Bishop and Bay View homes than they can be at home. Their medical treatment is faithful, and increasing efforts are being made in their behalf. Soon the buildings will be erected and the medical staff of the United States Government will be laboring to cure the lepers.

"These things are so well understood on Oahu, the lepers are quite voluntary in going themselves. We almost never use an officer or warrant for the lepers know in coming to us they are doing the very best that can be done for their families and themselves.

"I wish every person on Hawaii who is afflicted with the disease of leprosy and their friends understood this matter fully and would consult with our Government physicians and let us try and care for and help them as the law requires and as we try to administer it with kindness and sympathy." — Tribune.

ENJOYS LABOR DAY

Those who went to the Peninsula, Pearl Harbor, yesterday afternoon and evening, thanks to the careful arrangements made by the Honolulu Trades and Labor Council, found abundant pleasure in the games and dance.

Until a late hour music and dancing continued. Boating and racing were included in the pastimes. While the crowds were not as large as they might have been, there was much enthusiasm and a great deal of jolly doings.

Trains left the city at 2:15, 3:20, 5:15 and 7:30 p. m. The spirit of unionism was strongly manifested, though not from a numerical standpoint. The local unions are not as large as they have been in these islands. The effect of Oriental competition on white labor was apparent.

T. Cahalan was one of the most actively engaged of the labor men in charge of affairs. The Peninsula excursion was in every way most pleasant. All who went thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Great credit is due the earnest representatives of labor who got up the main event of the day, who saw to it that Labor Day in Hawaii did not pass without an appropriate celebration; who took care that the day observed throughout the United States as the great holiday of labor was remembered properly in this Territory.

Those in charge were: Chairman of the day, M. Heffernan; floor manager, T. O'Brien; committee of arrangements, L. Toomey, F. Larsen, J. Remwik; finance committee, T. Cahalan, F. Crozier, C. Colden; reception committee, F. McLaughlin, F. Schmidt, W. P. O'Brien; games committee, J. E. Langren, L. Hackett, F. Sackowitz.

YOUNG AUTHOR DEPARTS

Riley H. Allen, for the past six months on the reporter staff of the Bulletin, leaves on the Sierra this afternoon for the mainland to engage in magazine work, having accepted a contract to write a series of stories having for the scenes of their plots the northwest lumber country and, possibly, Alaska. Later he will tour the Orient, hoping to stop over in Hawaii a while, to renew his acquaintance with this charming country and to meet again the numerous friends he has made in Honolulu during his newspaper work here.

Mr. Allen, though barely twenty-one years of age, has "caught on" in magazine work. Some of his clever stories have appeared in such periodicals as The Red Book, Munsey's and McClure's. Mr. Allen goes first to Seattle and thence to the Olympic mountains, where he will cast his literary line to catch a story to please the public palate.

CITIZEN LABOR IS ON INCREASE.

"We've got to work slowly in order to be sure of results. The citizen skilled labor employed on the plantations has been steadily increasing. I think that is what the statistics show. The task before the plantation interests is not an easy one by any means as perhaps some of the radicals might realize if they were to take hold of it. "I don't know whether Secretary Atkinson inspired the published stories that there was a crisis in the affairs of the Immigration Board or not. I should hope for his own sake that he did not, because it must be an imaginary condition resulting from ignorance or ulterior motives. The only ulterior motive of any one should be statements, actual or inspired, of fact and every man interested in plantation properties naturally follows what is going on in that line as closely as does a Territorial official."
