The Kapiolani Park Association.

The shareholders in the above Association met on the evening of the 15th inst. for the purpose of appointing Directors of the Society for the ensuing year, and also to listen to the reading and take necessary action on the reports of Mr. H. Macfarlane, the Secretary and Treasurer. Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, President of the Association, occupied the chair; minutes of several meetings which had been held during the past two years were then read and approved. The Financial Secretary's report was then read, a certified copy of which we are, by the courtesy of His Ex. J. E. Bush, to whom it was addressed, enabled to present:

Table with financial data for Kapiolani Park Association. Columns include date, description, and amount. Total amount shown as $1,175.00.

By the above showing it will be readily noticed that the Association is charged as being indebted to the Treasurer (Macfarlane & Co.) in the sum of $1,175.00. The report of the Treasurer was approved.

Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, the President then presented the following statement:

"Since our last meeting, nearly two years ago, there has been considerable work done in the Park. Soon after the vote of the Legislature in 1880, granting us $5,000 for the two years, we hired eight men, who have been kept at work ever since. We have had a good lumberer's house built, and also a residence for our caretaker, and we have purchased two good trunks, carts, harness, and a Champion mowing machine, which makes quick work of weeds and grass; also a sulky rake, which will take nearly forty acres a day. About 2,000 loads of earth have been carted to the vacant spaces between the track stakes and the bridge. Part of this space has been rolled, making it firm and a good drive. We are much in want of a roller of 4,000 or 5,000 pounds weight, adapted for a span of horses. The Park drives and avenues could then be kept well rolled and smooth. Lately the carts have been kept hauling earth from the inside of the track and depositing it on some low ground which has heretofore been subject to overflow. If this should prove a success, more low land might be covered with trees, and the water in the channel, and thereby afford an admirable sheet of water for boating. Another sheet of water could be made inside the track at small expense, which would add much to the appearance of the Park. The Chinamen who leave the grass from the Park are doing good work taking away weeds and old grass, and keeping the grounds clean. The Association derives as much benefit from their labor as if they were directly in its employ. The buildings and fences are in good order. More labor could be used to advantage, but the limited amount at the disposal of the trustees—$2,500—prevents our doing more at present.

The Minister of the Interior has promised to help us in making the main avenue from the bridge to Diamond Head, and we have before long to be at work on this much needed improvement. Fresh water is also much wanted at the Park, and much interest is felt in regard to the well now being bored by Mr. Campbell. The park is now stocked with trees, mostly monkey-puzzle. We have 25 banyan trees growing, and as many more ready to plant soon. They do well, and in a few years will afford a fine shelter and add much to the beauty of the Park.

Our Hilo Letter.

Hilo, January 18th, 1883. Editor Gazette:—A malarial typhoid fever of a low and persistent type has prevailed in Hilo for some time past, and the Agent of our Board of Health appears to be unable to account for it. The cases lie deeper than he has been yet able to fathom. He has occupied the time of our stalwart, lounge-on-the-corner policeman in looking into the back-yards, scenting out the savory smell, but has wholly failed to detect the origin of the disease in that direction. If the same force was employed with picks, shovels and spades in cleaning out the main water ditch that leads from the Waialua river below the Rainbow Falls to Hilo, and which supplies the village with drinking water, they would accomplish a beneficial work and strike at the very origin of the disease. And after it was once cleaned it should be kept clean, and guarded against the adulteration and abuse of the water, and the filth and pollutions that are now daily corrupting it and producing the seeds of disease. The Chinese make duck ponds of the ditch, they bathe in it, wash in it and the natives do the same—some of them with lepers' sores. The filth from ducks, all kinds of animals, and the diseased lathers, the soap-suds and filth produced by the washermen and women, comes down in the form of a poisonous solution to every doer in Hilo. This is the cause of all diseases of the malarial or typhoid form. No wonder that the people have fever, and the greater wonder is, that it is not more malignant. If the Agent of the Board of Health would look after this ditch, he would accomplish something for the health of the people.

The doctors are thriving, the lawyers starving. Plenty of sickness—no business in the courts. It is strange that the Government does not grant a liquor license for Hilo. A greater amount of ardent spirits, ale and beer, is brought here and consumed than before the passing of the Free liquor law. There is no drunkenness, and before the passage of the law drunkenness was frequent, from beer and "swipes." The change is produced from the fact that most of the beer shops have been closed, either by the action of the authorities or voluntarily. As far as it regards ardent spirits, ale and wine, the same facilities exist as formerly, and I venture to predict, that if a license were granted here, drunkenness would not be increased. The revenue of the Government would be augmented, and the clandestine and unlawful sale of liquor prevented. It never will or can be done otherwise. The dry weather continues. The streets are dusty and the splinters complain that the water for the "hills" has dried up. The atmosphere is filled with a dense smoke from the cleaning of new ground at the plantations, and the grass which has been on fire in various directions. No seeds in port, and with the exception of the W. H. Cook, a vessel has arrived here since we have week. Bright prospects for commercial business. The Coronation fairs in prospect creates not a bad bet.

Pastor Caspar's Sunday Sermon.

"Is God angry with the Sinner?" Text, 2 Cor. 5: 19, "God was not punishing the world unto himself, nor in Christ trespassing unto them." The sermon was in substance as follows: "Too frequently the Pulpit gives an unfortunate impression to those who sit in front of it. God the Father, is pictured as stern, inexorable unmerciful being; not until Christ comes to earth, suffers, dies, goes back to Heaven, and pitiously pleads for the sinner, does God relent! Nothing could be more untrue and un-Biblical. God does not change. He does not need to be reconciled. It is the sinner that must be reconciled. God loved poor, sinful, fallen man, just as much before Calvary as after it. Nay, 'God was in Christ.' It was the great-Father who so loved us, that seeing our peril He came and lived, loved, died in the person of Christ, that the sinner might be saved.

It is not the Atonement, here so plainly stated in the text, but the result of accepting the Atonement, viz: Forgiveness of sins, upon which I dwell to-night. What is forgiveness? 'Pardon.' Far different. Pardon is an Old Testament word, not once found in the New Testament. When we come to the New Testament, there 'Forgiveness,' and 'Remission' of sins is substituted for 'Pardon.'

What is the difference between pardon and forgiveness? Pardon simply lifts from a man the penalty of the law. The murderer stands upon the gallows, with the black cap over his eyes and the rope knotted around his neck. Pardon simply unties the rope and bids him go. He steps down from the scaffold the same man. His relation to society and to his crime is unchanged, and he is still a criminal. In heart he is still unchanged. But forgiveness is far different—it is a personal matter. Here are two friends—one previously wrongs the other; friendship is gone, and hate takes its place; but the wronged one will love and forgive for his friend, seeks to win him back, and long for the wrong done, and at last succeeds; they are reconciled, and the old loving relationship re-established. (Mr. Caspar then, as an illustration, sketched the story of Jettie Emaly, as drawn by Dickens in David Copperfield, and the unyielding love of her foster father, and his long search for the fallen one.) So God follows us, not that he may pardon, but that he may forgive. It would be small comfort if we had to get up with him, if the Atonement, which graciously takes away the penalty of our sins, did no more. If we were only pardoned, while we should not suffer the penalty of the law, neither should we come into loving fellowship with God, nor have joy, nor peace. We should still be rebels, not sinners, and the penalty of our sins, did no more. If we were only pardoned, while we should not suffer the penalty of the law, neither should we come into loving fellowship with God, nor have joy, nor peace. We should still be rebels, not sinners, and the penalty of our sins, did no more.

It is upon this point that men deceive themselves. They say, 'God is too loving, and merciful, and will not punish to eternal punishment.' All they care for is to get rid of the penalty of sin—of punishment. They would be content to go throughout eternity without fellowship with God, hating what God loves, and loving what God hates, and hating for eternity, if they could only escape punishment! God's forgiveness carries with it pardon, but much more—reconciliation and adoption! I who have sinned, who have degraded and disgraced my manhood, who have turned away from God and rejected His love, taken unnumbered blessings from His hands, not only without gratitude but with hate in my heart; I who was lost and 'wandering in a far country,' am restored to the love and fellowship of my Father! This is what forgiveness means! It is offered to all who are as wide as sin. It is as free as the air, God's precious gift of forgiveness lies at the feet of every sinner. It is absolute and unconditional. Repentance is simply the way in which the sinner accepts it. He is simply the hand by which he grasps it. If, at last, you stumble blindly, willfully into redemption, you will stumble over God's forgiveness.

Native Press.

From the Zetland Post, Alton, Jan. 20, 1883. Two WITNESSES SWORE TO ESTABLISH THE FACT OF GIBSON'S TREASON.

In another part of to-day's issue will be seen a letter from Hon. J. Nawahi, which attests to the truth of G. W. Pilipo's assertions regarding Gibson's attempts to start them up to treason.

We are of the opinion that their plain statements tend strongly to fasten upon Gibson this high crime, and should cause his immediate expulsion from the Cabinet. It is not becoming the dignity of our Government that one of its prominent seats should be occupied by such a man like Gibson.

It is very important that the position of Premier in our Government should be purified, by the speedy removal of Mr. Gibson from that office, and that it should be filled by a man of good reputation, one who is esteemed in foreign countries.

Mr. Gibson has made no answer at all regarding those treasonable words testified to previously by Pilipo, and he is now no more than a shadow witness has risen up against him. Let him keep silence, his mouth is sewed up and his hands are bound (by this testimony).

How wonderfully has our friend (Pilipo) triumphed over the cunning plots of certain well known enemy of the Hawaiian people, and the Government. We wish that among the Hawaiians there were many more such men as G. W. P. and J. N. (G. W. Pilipo and J. Nawahi).

THE GREAT TESTER TO HAWAII.

Below will be seen Nawahi's confirmatory statement that Gibson tried to draw him and Pilipo into some base action. My fellow soldier on behalf of Hawaii, Hon. G. W. PILIPO, DEAR SIR:—We are all well. Hon. P. Hapua is dead as a man. He is confined in the prison as a hunc.

I have not forgotten anything of what Mr. Gibson did to us at the Hawaiian Hotel in 1878. Though being occupied with the books of E. Keon (this assassin) I have had no spare time to reply. Mine will perhaps be the most tardy (assassin's) books in Hawaii yet.

"What is this affair between you and Pilipo and the old man" Gibson? Such was the enquiry addressed to me by the son-in-law here in my office.

I answered "What affair?" "This affair spoken of in the newspaper." "Yes, Pilipo has testified to what Gibson told us to do, but we did not do it." He made no answer to this.

A Happy New Year to you, J. NAWAHI. Honolulu, Dec. 28th, 1882.

The Hawaiian Minstrels.

The Hawaiian Amateur Minstrel Troupe gave a performance at the Music Hall on the evening of the 20th inst., and to a large and appreciative audience, many members of the Royal Family also being present. The rising of the curtain was the signal for the "gallery gods" to become most vociferous as the luminous appearance of the green coats and red pants, and brass buttons with which the trio of bones and trio of tambors, the end men, were arrayed in, and the stars, Fisher, Hilo, Kalawala, Copeland, Kalamia, and Gasman, seemed to be in first-class condition to contribute to the amusement of the audience present. Mr. H. Buckle as interlocutor propounded the usual questions and was as usual, but of the six end men, whose jokes and sayings were noticeable for the originality and the localisms. The first part consisted of solos by members of the company, the choruses being sung by all, and were exceedingly well rendered, the wind up being the sketch "trip on the Road Supervisor's railroad" and on the fall of the curtain the audience were left convulsed with laughter. The second part of the programme consisted of songs, dances, banjo playing, harmonica solo, and quartet singing, and the performers acquitted themselves with credit. A trapeze act by Antonio Kamaui received generous applause. The performance closed with the sketch "Return of Uncle Joe;" the features introduced showed that the parts taken by each performer had been as easily studied as the usual beaten track of negro absurdities had been avoided, characters and scenes being produced true to life. A Terpsichorean exercise indulged in by "Old Uncle Joe," proved too much for the "old man" and he laid weary form to rest in the broad bosom of Jake Fisher's company singing to a slow curtain the "Poor Old Slave." "Hawaii Puns" concluded the performance, the character and manner of carrying out of which reflects credit on the individual actors and on the Hawaiian Minstrel company and it would be a pleasure to hear them again at their earliest convenience.
