SUGAR TRUST EMPLOYEES ARE INDICTED HALF OF HAWAII'S CROP SHIPPED

200,000 TONS SUGAR SHIPPED

With Less Than Half of the Crop on the Way—Outlook Is Good for Considerably Heavier Year Than Last

On May 1 the total sugar shipments for the season through the agency of the Sugar Factors Company amounted to 5 per cent more than at the same time last year. Two hundred thousand tons of sugar had been dispatched on its way at that time as against 190,000 up till the same time in 1908. This is a little less than 50 per cent of the estimated crop for the year.

The estimate of the crops handled by the Sugar Factors Company for this year is placed at 440,000 tons. The total shipments through the company last year amounted to 426,000 tons.

The Sugar Factors' Company handle about 82 per cent of all the sugar grown in the islands, only about 90,000 tons being shipped through other sources, so the company's estimate on the total crops can be made with a very fair degree of accuracy.

The total shipment for this year is estimated at about 16,000 tons in excess of that for last, but the total is a conservative one, and the final figures will probably run above rather than below.

Whether the concerns not shipping through the Sugar Factors' Company will show an increase on the same scale as those connected with it, is an open question, but there seems to be a prevailing idea that favorable conditions which have prevailed during the several months passed will be found to have had their effect on nearly all of the plantations.

On the other hand, one of the reasons for the increased showing of the Sugar Factors' Company is the remarkable stride made by some of the plantations shipping through the organization. The plantations that have shown the greatest increase during the present year are: Wailuku, Mellyde, Olan, Kekaha and Maui Agricultural.

There yet remains about 220,000 tons of sugar to be shipped. The last shipment will probably be made about the middle of September.

Makawell continues strong on the 'Change, with practically none in sight. Forty was offered this morning, but no sales were made. With the bonded indebtedness disposed of, and a heavy crop this year, a material increase in dividends next year is looked for under any sort of favorable conditions.

Wailua is selling in a few small lots at 95 and in big blocks at 95 1/2. But half of the crop has been disposed of, but the increase so far over last year's production exceeds 3,000 tons. Conservative estimate places the total crop at not less than 20,000 tons.

Waipahu is expected to produce at least 35,000 tons this year.

Large blocks of Ewa are changing hands these days, the latest going at $29. The cause of these sales is not

May Force Gas Co. To Install Lights

Upon his return from Washington Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell will probably take steps to compel the Honolulu Gas Company to carry out the provisions of its franchise which require the company, upon requisition by the Superintendent of Public Works, to furnish free of cost gas for fifty street lights, and thereafter each year furnish five more in addition to the number furnished the preceding year.

This is a provision which was only recently brought to the attention of Mr. Campbell. Section 897 of the Revised Laws, which is a part of the franchise granted to the company by Congress, says:

"Erecting lamp posts, etc. Said W. W. Dimond shall also have the

NEW SUGGESTIONS FOR WHITNEY'S JOB

But Hemenway Folds His Cloak of Mystery About Him

The question of who is to be Deputy Attorney General to succeed Mr. Whitney, the present incumbent, is still unanswered, and the Attorney General is still mysterious. But many wild guesses are being made about the Capitol and Judiciary buildings and a good many of the local attorneys think they have hunches, while others have hopes.

The suggestion was made this morning that Representative Kealawa might be good timber out of which to construct a deputy Attorney General. Kealawa has a license to practice law, as he proudly informed the House of Representatives not long ago, and it is certain that the license is a good one, for it was largely on the strength of possessing it that Kealawa was elected to the Legislature. During the campaign he used to take it out of his pocket and shake it in the faces of his audiences and explain to them that he

Per Diem Rate For Hospital

There seems to be but little chance, according to the present outlook, of an annual appropriation for the Queen's Hospital. Though, at the start, the Supervisors were inclined to favor that plan of assistance, the majority have experienced a change of heart, and it seems more likely that a per diem arrangement will be made.

With an iron-clad agreement that city and county patients are to be cared for at a fixed rate per diem, the authorities would have the final say as to what persons should be accepted and what should not. It is believed that, as it is manifestly impossible for the Queen's Hospital to take all that apply, such an arrangement would cause less grumbling on the part of dissatisfied ones.

Supervisor Quinn, who, at the outset, was a strong supporter of the blanket appropriation scheme, has come to see things in a different light, and will probably vote in favor of a per diem arrangement when the matter comes up.

At the last meeting of the Supervisors, the hospital trustees expressed a willingness to accept county patients at $1.50 a day.

KAIMUKI RESERVOIR TO BE BUILT SOON

Funds Available After Beginning Of New Fiscal Year

One of the first enterprises to be undertaken by the Public Works Department after the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1, is the construction of the proposed new Kaimuki reservoir. There is no money available for the purpose now, nor will there be until after the new order of things goes into effect. The Legislature provided that water works improvements must be made out of the moneys received for water rates. The water rates are payable July 1, so there will be money for the project as soon as they begin to come in.

It is estimated that the new reservoir will cost about $40,000. It is to be located on the knoll, which is considerably higher than the present defective reservoir.

Law Will Address Chamber

"The Future of Hawaii in Relation to Trade on the Pacific" will be the subject of an address which Dr. Law of San Francisco will deliver before the Chamber of Commerce in the near future.

Dr. Law, who took a prominent part in the rebuilding of San Francisco after the disaster, is a careful student of public affairs, and his ideas will be listened to with interest by the members of the Chamber.

Consul-General Wilder of Hong Kong, who was to have arrived here on the Nippon Maru, has cabled that official business has necessitated a change in his plans. He will be here before a great while, however, and will then deliver his promised address before the Chamber of Commerce.

$1000 AVAILABLE FOR ALEWA ROAD

Work On Extension To Be Commenced Next Week

Acting Superintendent of Public Works Kluegel states that he expects next week to commence the construction of the Alewa Heights road extension. There is now about $1,000 available for the purpose, and this will carry the road a good ways. Just where it will end will be left to some extent to the wishes of the Alewa Heights property owners, within the limits imposed, of course, by the amount of money available. A meeting of the Alewa Heights Improvement Club is called for next Monday night, at which it is probable that this matter will be considered.

Mr. Chiba, who arrived from Formosa in the Tenyo Maru, will leave for Maui this afternoon. As an engineer he will inspect the sugar mills on that island. He will return to Japan in the Korea, sailing May 27.

To Start Over 1000 New Suits

Before the first of next month over 1,000 suits are to be instituted by the Superintendent of Public Works against property owners of Honolulu who are back on the payment of their sewer rates. Before he left for the Coast this week, Superintendent Campbell gave instructions to have the suits all started by June 1, and the work is being rushed in the Public Works office.

There is something like $62,000 delinquent in sewer rates, and heretofore there has been no way of compelling the payment of them. But the Legislature passed an Act which makes sewer rates a prior lien on the property, and with this to go on the department is going to make a vigorous effort to bring the reluctant ones to time. It looks as if the lawyers would have a busy time for a while. It is certain that the Government attorneys will find something to do.

INDICT STRIKERS TRUST MEN WORRY PARIS

NEW YORK, May 7. — Oliver Spitzer, dock superintendent, and six other employes of the American Sugar Refining Company have been indicted by the Federal Grand Jury for conspiracy in defrauding the Government. These indictments represent the move of the Federal Government in the criminal prosecutions for the frauds perpetuated in weighing the sugar imports on which tariff duties were levied. The Trust has already paid two millions of dollars in the civil proceedings.

PARIS, May 7. — It is expected that the Attorney General will issue an order of dissolution against the union of government employes out on strike. This may bring about a serious crisis. The situation is by no means favorable, and there is an ever present fear of revolutionary outbreaks.

POTTER, CHIEF OF NAVIGATION.

WASHINGTON, May 7. — Rear Admiral W. P. Potter succeeds Rear Admiral J. E. Pillsbury, who retires as Chief of the Bureau of Navigation in the Navy Department. Capt. C. J. Bowyer, who commanded the battleship Illinois in the world tour, will succeed Capt. J. M. Badger as superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. The latter will be assigned to the command of a battleship.

UICHI AT NAVY YARD.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7. — The Japanese officers and cadets of the visiting squadron were entertained today by a visit to San Jose and Stanford University. Admiral Ijichi and his staff visited the Mare Island navy yard.

BROKEN RAIL HURTS 60.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 7. — Sixty people were injured here today by being thrown to the ground as the result of the breaking of a balcony rail in the grand stand. The people were observing the events of an athletic meet. The rail broke without warning and the people were thrown together in a jumbled mass.

MR. FAIRBANKS' DINNER

The executive committee of the Men's League wishes to remind all those who expect to attend the dinner to be given in honor of former Vice-President Fairbanks at the Royal Hawaiian hotel next Monday evening, May 10, that they must send in their acceptance TODAY. The idea of making this a ladies night is meeting with general favor. Acceptances already received indicate that there will be a large attendance. The Kamahacha Boys Glee Club will be on hand and will sing a number of their songs during the evening.

Send in your card to day or phone in your acceptance to 973.

MACON WILL COPY FLORAL PARADE

Macon, Ga., is planning to pattern after Honolulu and hold a floral parade. The souvenir pamphlet of the recent fete, which H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee scattered broadcast over the mainland, has had its effect, and cities there are beginning to sit up and take notice.

Secretary Burns of the Macon Chamber of Commerce has written H. P. Wood that he is trying to boost along a floral parade, modeled on that of Honolulu, and that his efforts bid fair to be crowned with success. The letter, which arrived by yesterday's mail, follows:

"Macon, Ga., April 22, 1909.
"Mr. H. P. Wood,
"Secretary, Etc.,
"Honolulu, Hawaii.
"Dear Sir:—
"Your favor of the 5th with souvenir pamphlet and 'Picturesque Honolulu' duly received and assure you the same is highly appreciated.

I am endeavoring to imitate your automobile flower parade, having a gentleman who is the leader in society here interested in the movement. It was hard to get him interested until I handed him the souvenir pamphlet. Will advise you of the success I will have in the undertaking.

"Yours truly,
(Signed) "H. BURNS,
"Secretary and Treasurer."
The "Crossroads of the Pacific" may continue to find favor. The following letter relating to it has just been received by Secretary Wood:
"Bloomsburg, Pa., April 21, 1909.
"H. P. Wood, Secy.
"Honolulu, Hawaii.
"My Dear Sir:—
"Please accept our thanks for the map, entitled 'Crossroads of the Pacific,' and the folder accompanying it, which were received. They have

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from a female weakness and disease, and I could not stand more than a minute at a time. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. One day I was reading how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. Before I had taken one bottle I was better, and now I am completely cured."—LENA V. HENRY, Route No. 3, Adrian, Ga.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drug out of a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

COELHO TAKES HIS FIRE ENGINE ALONG. Wailuku Department Will Be in Fine Shape Soon.

Hon. W. J. Coelho, chief of the Wailuku Fire Department, will leave this afternoon for Wailuku, taking along with him the old fire engine, No. 5, used by the Chinese volunteers on Maunakea street. The engine will be drawn to the wharf by one of the horses from the Beretania street engine house. Chief Thurston will accompany the procession down to the Claudine wharf.

The historic point of this engine is the fact that it won the first prize, when the different fire brigades made their first appearance in the fire drill exhibition, held in the presence of His Majesty King Kalakaua, in the old days. Chang Kim, until recently Chinese interpreter of the First Circuit Court, was then the foreman of the Chinese company.

Coelho, on his arrival at Wailuku, will make extensive improvements in the fire department. He had a long conference with Chief Thurston today, getting pointers on fire extinguishers.

THE RAPID TRANSIT boy's dance which is to be held tomorrow night, is being looked forward to by all the employees of the company, and promises to be one of the most enjoyable functions of the year. Great preparations are being made, and some of the night shift men will be relieved by their fellow workers during the evening, thus allowing their less-fortunate friends a chance to put in a tasteless toe.

The dance will be held in the K. P. hall, and is sure to be attended by a large crowd of the lads and their friends. This ball is an annual affair, and in the past has always attracted a lot of attention; no doubt tomorrow night's affair will be as successful as those in the past.

LABORER PLUNGES TO DEATH. Chun Sun, a Chinese laborer, was hurled to his death from the rafters of the new Catholic Mission, now being erected at Kailua, yesterday morning at about 11 o'clock. It appears that the unfortunate man was working near the roof of the unfinished building, and the wind, which was blowing half a gale, tore away a portion of the scaffolding and carried the Chinese to his death.

The man fell from a height of over forty feet and some of the timbers landed on top of him. His ribs were crushed and he was otherwise injured as well, although he did not expire until after he was brought to town. Dr. McDonald was quickly on the scene and did all that was possible for the poor fellow, but he was beyond medical aid.

Sheriff Jarrett was notified of the accident, and at once drove up the valley to the scene of the tragedy. A coroner's inquest will be held this evening at the Police Station at 7:30 o'clock.

HAWAIIANS LEAD IN DEATH ROLL. Record For April Shows Need of Care For Children.

Hawaiians lead the death roll of Honolulu with a regularity that is distressing. Of the eighty-eight deaths in April, thirty-nine were Hawaiians. Eight of these thirty-nine were children under one year.

The Japanese come next to the Hawaiians with a total of twelve deaths and the Americans next with eleven. Of the total death roll thirty-three were under five years of age.

The summary of the vital statistics reported by the Board of Health follows: Population of Honolulu official census 1900, 29,306. Mortality for month of April, 1909: Males, 55; females, 33; total, 88. Annual death rate per 1000 of population: 26.8. Non-resident, 6; deaths investigated, 8; post-mortem examination, 3; coroner's inquests, 3; stillbirths, 6 (not included in the mortality); births reported, 103; marriages reported, 58.

The total number of deaths for the month of April, 1909, was 88, a decrease of 3 compared with the corresponding month of 1908.

REORGANIZED BOARD OF HEALTH MEETS

Mott-Smith Presides As President For First Time

E. A. Mott-Smith, the new President of the Board of Health, presided for the first time yesterday afternoon at a meeting of that body. The meeting was largely of a routine nature, little coming before the Board for immediate action that was out of the ordinary. Statements that were made indicate that matters relating to leprosy are going to occupy the attention of the Board for some time. President Mott-Smith stated that he had been going over the new leprosy laws and had begun work on the drafting of a new set of regulations to carry the law into effect. Careful thought and attention, he said, will be required to carry the law into effect. The Board instructed its president to obtain from S. M. Damon a renewal of the lease of the land upon which the Kalia Receiving Station is situated. Mr. Mott-Smith said he had come over, not without misgivings, to take up the arduous labors of the Board. But he was sure he would receive the hearty cooperation and support of the members, some of whom had served on the Board before. Supervisors Present. The President said that on account of the necessity of cooperation between the County officials and the Board, he had asked the officials to be present at the meeting. The meat and milk inspection has been turned over to the County, as well as the building and plumbing inspection. Action looking to cooperation in the latter work has already been taken by the County and the Territory. Mr. Mott-Smith added that the Legislature had left the Board of Health in very good shape financially. Mott-Smith, as chairman of the committee to report on the new leprosy law, said the matter had not been gone into thoroughly enough yet, and asked for further time. Appointments Confirmed. The appointment by President Mott-Smith of J. S. Allen as keeper of the Kalia Receiving Station was ratified, on motion of Fred Smith. The appointment of Miss Hester Lemon as Registrar of Births and Marriages, for the district of Kona, in conformity with the new law, was also confirmed. J. J. Michalek's appointment as Inspector of Buildings and Plumbing, so far as the Territorial Commission is concerned, was approved on motion of Attorney General Hemenway. President Mott-Smith brought up the matter of a government physician for Molokai. He said that there was no physician and it seemed very hard to get one. But the appointment of a government physician for Molokai was strongly insisted upon by the Legislature. The Board now has money enough to appoint such a physician, he said. Dr. Hayes, dispensary physician of the Board, is willing to go to Molokai. Dr. Wayson moved Dr. Hayes be appointed physician for Molokai. Carried. To fill the position thus vacated by Dr. Hayes, Dr. Mackall was appointed on motion of Dr. Wayson. Eradicate Trachoma. Mott-Smith said he had a letter from Mr. Rath of the Palama Settlement, offering to appoint a nurse to go through the schools and attend to diseases of the eye. If the Board would pay for the supplies needed, Dr. Wayson said he thought that the only way to control diseases of the eye in the schools, and moved the request of Mr. Rath be complied with. The expense, he said, would be only about $50. The motion carried. Leprosy Matters. The Board took up the matter of the resolution introduced by Nawahine in the House of Representatives and adopted by the Legislature calling upon the Board to allow a re-examination of all leprosy patients. Dr. Wayson said the station is full now, eleven persons being there for the same purpose. But the examining physicians are having much difficulty on account of the fact that some of the leprosy patients refuse to remove their clothing to allow a complete examination to be made. On motion the Board voted to allow the suspects to be brought back to re-examination as soon as there are accommodations at the station for them. A petition from Nellie K. Kamau Kahoa that she be allowed to return to the Kalia Receiving Station to be treated either by Dr. Atcherley or Dr. Wayson, was, on motion of Wayson denied. A woman at Kalaupapa wrote asking for a re-examination. She said she was sent to the settlement three years ago because of a white spot on her body, but in the three years no other symptom of leprosy has developed. On motion of Dr. Wayson the petition was

McGANNON'S DEATH REMAINS MYSTERY

Coroner's Jury Unable To Discover Cause

The cause of the death of M. J. McGannon, the man who was found away from the Queen's hospital in a drunk, when in reality his skull was fractured, is still a mystery so far as any knowledge of how he received his injuries last night brought in the following verdict: "M. J. McGannon came to his death on the 4th day of May, 1909, from a severe fracture of the skull and hemorrhage of the brain, cause to this jury unknown." The principal witness examined last night was Dr. Freitas of the Queen's hospital. The doctor testified that when the man was brought to him, he told him on the operating table and made a thorough examination of him. The man's face was covered with blood, and when this was washed away it was seen that his left eye was blackened and there was a slight abrasion under the right eye. McGannon's gums were black and his teeth somewhat loosened, as if he had received a severe blow in the mouth. The doctor said he carefully felt about the man's head, but he did not discover anything to indicate the cause of the fracture of the skull. The man's breath was strong on the man's breath, and the doctor concluded that he was more drunk than hurt and ordered him removed to the jail to sleep off his jug. Jack McFadden and a sailor named Bordette testified that they were passing on the opposite side of the street the night McGannon was injured, and saw him lying in the gutter. They picked him up and placed him in a more comfortable position and went on their way.

FRIDAY MAY 7, 1909

If you ever find happiness by hunting for it, you will find it as the old woman did her spectacles, safe on her own nose all the time.—Josh Billings.

Mrs. Taft's administration is the best magazine each phrase.

Of course Roosevelt can't say anything without getting into trouble, that's his mission in life.

Hawaii would vote unanimously for the national income tax. Here's hoping Mr. Taft will not take offense.

Tourists always speak well of Honolulu. Why should the residents of the town be the first to say evil things.

The Territorial Board of Immigration cannot be more prompt in beginning its work of preparing for the enlistment of immigrants.

Don't try to spoil the prosperity of today and check the enthusiasm that will conquer problems of tomorrow by becoming a Honolulu croaker.

Of course City and Territorial officials will cooperate. The day of being tied to apron strings has passed, and the spirit of American institutions is getting in its work.

Mr. Mott-Smith, with the law and public good will back of him, should be able to do things that will result in great good to humanity and add to the fair name of the Territory.

While flour and other necessities range high in price it is well to remember that Protection is by no means responsible for this increase in the cost of the poor man's breakfast table.

The library question seems to be up to Mr. Carnegie, and some prominent officials will be in the position of having made monkeys of the people of Hawaii, if Andrew does not come through.

The Hilo Tribune tells of Hawaiians who have struck gold in Nevada. That's good, but it is notable for being an exception to the rule. There is no better place for money and enterprise than right here in Hawaii.

It is worse than folly for any citizen of Hawaii to agitate for any suspension of the protection policy in any matter relating to this Territory, while the tariff on our industrial products is in the balance and the fate of the Territory is at stake.

Maul's editor has written a poem on slanders. The full details of his trouble has not been made public but on general principles it is remarkable how many otherwise respectable citizens would decorate the public places if Hawaii were to revive the Puritanical punishment of placing slanders in The Stocks.

Another public meeting had been held in Hilo and another committee has been named to gently request in firm tones that the Board of Supervisors appoint and provide for a county engineer. If the County Supervisors do not respond favorably the people of Hawaii County should give them a liberal education in what the people can do when they once get started.

"What can I do for the city in which I live?" That is the slogan that C. H. M. Atkins, president of the Business Men's Club of Cincinnati, has devised for the personal use of the residents of the city and especially for the members of the Business Men's club—Exchange.

How to help Honolulu should be constantly on the mind of every wide-awake citizen of this man's town.

ROOSEVELT'S LATEST.

Roosevelt's ideas on Japanese immigration can be better understood when the whole article he has written is available.

As this paper interprets the cablegram telling of his latest publication, Mr. Roosevelt has made the statement that should Japan prove itself unable to enforce the regula-the restriction of emigration, the United States will have to protect itself.

This is not extraordinary. Mr. Roosevelt while President proved by his acts that he has confidence in the ability and intention of the Japanese to enforce the regulations.

This ability and good intention is proved by the immigration records as well as the public utterances of the Japanese.

That's all there is to it. Don't get excited just because Roosevelt said it.

TEACH PRACTICAL WORK IN THE SCHOOLS.

"Rather teach rice raising than Roman history. I regard it more important that girls learn house-keeping and the care of babies than all the stuff in all the books in all your schools."

The foregoing was the keynote in the speech of Commissioner Newton W. Gilbert, secretary of Public Instruction, at the opening of the Philippine teachers' assembly. The commissioner heartily endorsed the policy of Dr. Barrows, director of the bureau of education, begun during the past year, of emphasizing the practical side of education and extending industrial training in the schools. He strongly implied that the policy would be continued until industrial training fills a much larger place in the school curriculum than it does today.

The declarations of Commissioner Gilbert mean a new departure in educational affairs in the islands.

This from a Manila paper bespeaks a more enlightened policy for the Philippines. May we hope to see the same cause making greater headway in the public school system of the Territory of Hawaii.

When this policy is properly carried out, it will not signify that the three R's are to be neglected or that the child, able to grasp advanced studies, will lack for opportunity.

It means that the school shall first equip the child to make a living. Then, if the brains and ambition are there to be developed the student may go as far as he pleases.

The difficulty in Hawaii is that the school children and the friends of practical education are constantly hindered by two radical opponents. The pig-headed citizen who wants human machines and who says that schooling spoils boys for work, and the pig-headed men, not financiers, who believe that the education of children for practical work is part of a dead-laid plot to make coolies of the island youth.

But progressive workers and determined educators are certain to overcome both these difficulties. Schools should and will inculcate habits of industry as well as "Reading, Writing and 'Rithmetic." Common sense teaches the fair-minded and enlightened man that children must be taught the rudiments of agriculture in the public schools if they are to become good citizens and able to make a good living in an agricultural country.

GREAT BRITAIN AND OUR NAVY.

London, April 27.—Answering a question in the House of Commons today as to whether it was the policy of the Government to take into consideration the American navy when estimating the number of ships necessary for Great Britain to maintain a fleet 10 per cent more powerful than the combined fleets of any other two powers, a formula known as the "two-power standard," Reginald McKenna, first Lord of the Admiralty, said this was an academic question, as under existing conditions, the navy of the United States, for the practical purposes of the "two-power standard," as defined in the speeches of Premier Asquith, would not enter into account.

Asked further if it was not a mooted point whether America was not at the present moment the power, Mr. McKenna replied: "Under the 'two-power standard' as defined by Mr. Asquith, the American navy is not to be so regarded."

Some of the mainlanders read this dispatch as casting a doubt on the standing of our navy in its relative merit among the navies of the world. If this view will convert the misguided citizens opposing a larger navy, there is no harm in fostering it.

But there is another interpretation much more in keeping with the probable thought of Reginald McKenna and Premier Asquith—the United States navy is not to be taken into account as a probable enemy of Great Britain.

Why should not the declaration be reckoned as a practical expression of the Anglo-Saxon alliance?

HONOLULU LIBRARY ASSOCIATION READY

Will Join Forces With Proposed Library of Hawaii

Should the $100,000, which report says Andrew Carnegie has offered to donate for the erection of a public library building for Hawaii, be forthcoming, the Honolulu Library Association will join forces with the Territorial Institution. The members of the association have signified their willingness to consolidate when once they are assured that a suitable structure will be erected and that the Legislature will make proper provision for the maintenance of the public institution.

The members of the association have given the trustees authority to confer with the Territorial authorities and ascertain what the prospects are for receiving a sufficient sum of money to erect a building such as should house the Library of Hawaii.

The assets of the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association are considerable, and they will not pass out of the control of that organization. On the other hand they will be turned over freely for use in connection with the proposed library.

Anticipating a donation from Carnegie, the late Legislature appropriated $10,000 as a starter toward caring for the institution. The bill created the Library of Hawaii, and was passed with the intent of having money for its maintenance available should the wherewithal to establish it be forthcoming.

The bill, in stipulating the number of trustees for the Library of Hawaii, and regulating the method of their appointment, provided that the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association should have the privilege of nominating a certain number, should it see fit to consolidate with the public institution.

Governor Frear had a conversation with Andrew Carnegie some time ago, and at that time the retired steel king is said to have expressed a willingness to donate sufficient money to establish the Library of Hawaii, were he assured that the Territory would take upon itself the responsibility of looking after the institution, and providing the funds necessary for its upkeep.

Since its establishment in 1879, the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association has filled an important position here. Though persons, other than tourists, who make use of the reading rooms, are supposed to contribute a small sum toward the maintenance of the institution, there has never been a card system or anything of that nature, and the matter of contribution has been largely left to the conscience of the visitor.

Out of the $28,000,000 worth of business which passed over the Teahauapepe railway in 1908, $17,750,000 of the $21,000,000 which was routed eastward to United States ports was almost exclusively of Hawaii, domestic trade preferring the foreign line, which is 900 miles shorter between the coasts.

At the meeting of the Hawaii County association of planters, which took place in Hilo last week, the old board of officers was re-elected, namely: C. C. Kennedy, president; Wm. Pullar, secretary; and John Watt, treasurer.

At 87, Vallantly Stood Surgical Operation

Mr. Thomas Ladoux, of St. Albans, Vt., who is 87 years old, recently had his arm amputated near the shoulder. Mr. Ladoux is the oldest patient in Vermont to undergo a major operation. In the serious illness that followed life was sustained and health regained by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

MR. THOMAS LADOUX, 87 Years Old.

In August, 1908, Mr. Ladoux wrote: "I wish to acknowledge the good work Malt Whiskey did me. As a result of a fall in the summer of 1905 a large tumor grew on my right elbow, and I had to have my arm amputated near the shoulder. On account of my advanced age (87 years) my life was despaired of after the operation, but by using your whiskey, a wine glass 4 times a day, I soon began to gain and was discharged from the hospital as well as ever."

Dr. E. J. Melville, visiting physician of St. Albans Hospital, testifies to the truth in every particular of Mr. Ladoux's statement and says, "I prefer whiskey that is pure and palatable and in those respects Duffy's Malt Whiskey has no equal." Every testimonial is guaranteed genuine and is published in good faith with full consent.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Many men and women, who have reached the fourscore mark, tell the same story as Mr. Thomas Ladoux about what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done toward renewing their youth and keeping them vigorous, hale and hearty and in possession of all their faculties. As a leading doctor says, the secret of the whole thing is that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, if taken as prescribed, drives out all disease germs, invigorates the brain, enriches the blood, quickens the circulation and prevents decay and old age.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and it is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., U. S. A., for free illustrated medical booklet and free doctor's advice.

"I've changed my mind, Mr. Runnion," she said. "I don't want to go down to the mission. I want you to take me back."
 "Can't do it," he said. "The current is too swift."
 "Then set me ashore and I'll walk back. It can't be far to town."
 "Twenty-five miles. We've been out about three hours."
 "Please do as I ask you, Mr. Runnion. I've decided I don't want to go any farther." He laughed, and the sound aroused her. "Put me ashore this minute!" she cried indignantly. "What do you mean?"
 "When he made no answer, except to continue the maddening monotony of his movements, she was seized with a rash resolve to wrench the oars out of his hands and make a quick motion toward him, at which he shouted: "Sit down! Do you want to upset us?"
 The unstable craft lurched and dipped dangerously, and, realizing the futility of her mad impulse, she sank back on her knees.
 "Stark told me to board the first boat for St. Michael's," he said. "But I've made a few plans of my own the last hour or so."
 "St. Michael's! Mr. Stark told you—why, that's impossible! You misunderstood him. He told you to row me to the mission. I'm going to Father Barnum's house."
 "No, you're not, and I didn't misunderstand him. He wants to get you outside, all right, but I reckon you'd rather go as Mrs. Runnion than as the sweetheart of Ben Stark."
 "Are you crazy?" the girl cried. "Mr. Stark kindly offered to help me reach the father at his mission. I'm nothing to him, and I'm certainly not going to be anything to you. If I'd known you were going to row the boat I should have stayed at home, because I detest you."
 He rested again on his oars and said, with deliberation:
 "Stark kindly offered, did he? Well, whenever Ben Stark 'kindly' offers anything I'm in on the play. He's had his eye on you for the last three months, and he wants you, but he slipped a cog when he gave me the oars. You needn't be afraid, though. I'm going to do the square thing by you. We'll stop in at the mission and be married, and then we'll see whether we want to go to St. Michael's or not, though personally I'm for going back to Flambeau."
 The girl's beauty, her indifference to the mistaken attitude of Stark, urged him, and, strongest of all, he was drawn by his cupidity, for she would be very rich, so the knowing ones said. Doubtless that was why Stark wanted her, and, being a man who acknowledged no fidelity to his kind or his Creator, Runnion determined to outwit his principal, Doret, Burrell and all the rest.
 Neela saw what a frail and helpless thing she was. Nothing about her was great save her soul, and that was immensurably vexed and worried. She had just lived through a grief that had made her generous, and now she gained her first knowledge of the man-animal's gross selfishness.
 "You are absolutely daff," she said. "You can't force me to marry you. I ain't going to force you. You'll do it willingly."
 "I'll do it first. I'll call the first man we see. I'll tell Father Barnum, and he'll have you run out of the country. It would only take a word from me."
 "If you haven't changed your mind when we get to his place I'll run through without stopping, but there isn't another priest between there and St. Mike's, and by the time we get to the mouth of the river I guess you'll say 'Yes' to most anything. However, I'd rather marry you at Holy Cross if you'll consent, and I'm pretty sure you will when you think it over."
 "We won't discuss it."
 "You don't understand yet," he continued slowly. "What will people say when they know you run away with me?"
 "I'll tell them the truth."
 "Eh! I'm too well known. No man on the river would ever have you after that."
 "You—You!" His voice was a quiver with indignation and loathing, but her lips could not frame an epithet fit for him. He continued rowing for some time, then said:
 "Will you marry me?"
 "No. If this thing is ever known Polson will kill you—or father."
 "For a third time he rested on his oars."
 "Now that we've come to threats let me talk. I offered to marry you and do the square thing, but if you don't want to I'll pass up the formality and take you for my squaw. Just remember you're alone with me in the heart of a wilderness, and you've got to make a choice quick, because I'm going ashore and make some breakfast as soon as it's light enough to choose a landing place. If you agree to come quietly and go through with this thing like a sensible girl I'll do what's right, but if you don't then I'll do what's wrong, and maybe you won't be so d—d anxious to tell your friends about this trip or spread your story up and down the river."
 She saw Runnion glancing over his shoulder in search of a shelving beach or bar. They rounded a bend where the left bank crumbled before the unrelenting teeth of the river, forming a bristling cheval-de-frise of leaning, fallen fir awash in the current. The short side of the curve protected a gravel bar that made downstream a dagger-like point, and toward this Runnion propelled the skiff. The girl's heart sank.
 The mind of Polson Doret worked in straight lines. Moreover, his memory was good. Stark's statement, which so upset Gale and the lieutenant, had a somewhat different effect upon the Frenchman, for certain facts had been impressed upon his subconsciousness which did not entirely jibe with the gambler's remarks, and yet they were too duly engraved to afford foundation for a delusive theory. What he did know was that he doubted. Why? Because certain scraps of a disjointed conversation recalled to him, a few words which he had overheard in Stark's saloon, something about a Peterborough canoe and a woman. He knew every skiff that lay along the water front, and of a sudden he decided to see if this one was where it had been at dusk, for there but he had two modes of egress from Flambeau, and there was but one came of this type. If Neela had gone up river on the freighter, pursuit was hopeless, for no boatman could make headway against the current, but if, on the other hand, that cedar craft was gone—He ran out of Stark's house and down to the river bank. It was just one chance, and, if he was wrong, no matter. The others would leave on the next up river steamer, whereas if his suspicion proved a certainty if Stark had fled to throw them off the track and Runnion had taken her down stream—well, Polson would have no one to hinder him, for he would travel light.
 The boat was gone. He searched the line backward, but it was not there, and his excitement grew now, likewise his haste. He stumbled up to the trading post and around to the rear, where, bottom up, lay his own craft, a high canoe, frail and treacherous as for any but a man schooled in the ways of swift water. He laid it carefully in the whispering current, then stripped himself with feverish haste, for the driving call of a hot pursuit was on him, and, although it was the cold, raw hours of late night, he whipped off his garments until he was bare to the middle. He seized his paddle, stepped in, then knelt amidships and pushed away. The birch bark answered him like a living thing, leaping and dancing beneath the strokes, upon rippling, rising ridges stood out upon his back and arms as they rose and fell.
 Runnion drove his Peterborough toward the shore with powerful strokes and ran its nose up on the gravel, roared, stretched himself and dragged it farther out, then looked down at Neela.
 "Well, what is it—yes or no? Do you want me for a husband or for a master?" She covered in the stern, a pale, fearful creature.
 She cast her despairing eyes up and down the river, then at the wilderness on either shore, but it was as silent and unpeopled as if it had been created that morning. She must have time. She would temporize, pretending to yield, and then betray him to the first canoe. A promise exacted under duress would not be binding.
 "I'll go quietly," she said in a faint voice.
 "I knew you'd see that I'm acting square, come! Get the crap out of yourself while I make a pot of coffee." He held out his hand to assist her, and she accepted it, but stumbled as she rose, for she had been crouched in one position for several hours, and her limbs were stiff. He caught her and swung her ashore. Then, instead of putting her feet to the ground, he pressed her to himself roughly and kissed her. She gave a stifled cry and fought him off, but he laughed and held her the closer.

BY AUTHORITY

Honolulu, T. H., May 4, 1909.
 Be It Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, that we herewith appropriate from Road Tax Special Deposit, Waihalu, the sum of $300.00, for the payment of Material and Supply Demands Nos. 528 and 529, for the month of March, 1909, the said Materials and Supplies and other items having been purchased, and used or to be used solely and only for road purposes as provided in Section 3 of Act 93 of the Session Laws of 1905, which demands, having been examined, are herewith allowed and ordered paid, and the Auditor is hereby authorized and directed to issue warrants on the Treasurer payable to the person or firms as per list hereto attached. Cricket Going Backwards Again

The old English game of cricket seems to be in a bad way once more and it is almost impossible to get a bunch of men out to make up a couple of elevens. This is a deplorable state of affairs, and is much to be regretted as the game seemed to have made a fresh start when the British men-of-war were here.

The captain and vice-captain of the local club do their best to get the players out to the Makiki grounds, but find it a hard job to make a man promise to turn up. Most of the older players seem to have no time for cricket now-a-days, and as a matter of fact, very few of them can get away on Saturday afternoons. Still, now and again men do obtain an afternoon off, and it is a pity that they will not go out to the grounds and have a strike.

If possible, a match will be played tomorrow afternoon, and if enough men do not attend to make up two elevens, practice will be indulged in. Captain McGill is going around asking each member if he will turn out, and the captain finds it very discouraging to have men say they cannot possibly go out for a game. A big effort should be made to keep the game going, for otherwise when a cricketing ship arrives in port we will not be able to put a team in the field.

The game has been kept going for many years, and it is to be hoped that it will not be allowed to die in Honolulu. There are quite a number of newcomers who play the game, and it would be a good idea to canvass them as to their joining the club. The youths of the city are the ones to get the game going properly, and an effort should be made to interest them in the matches.

The following players are requested to turn out tomorrow afternoon: R. J. Buchy, J. R. M. Maclean, R. Anderson, J. H. Fiddes, D. L. Withington, C. F. Maxwell, H. M. Ayer, Dr. H. J. Pottle, J. B. Walker, J. M. Tucker, N. Deerr, W. Brown, W. Harrison.

The Highs are thought to have an extra good chance of winning the championship, but the other teams will have to be reckoned with, and from present appearances the whole contest is going to be a very close one.

Tomorrow's two games will tell a tale, and may give a line on how the series is going to pan out. The interscholastic series of baseball this year is about as good as ever has been seen in Honolulu, and the present games are being attended by a great number of ball fans.

Tennis NEWS NOTES FROM KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS

There will be a practice game of baseball between the first and second teams of the Kamehameha Schools next Friday afternoon on the school grounds. The second team will play the second nine of the Oahu College on Monday afternoon, on the latter's ground.

The Kamehameha cadets are drilling hard these last few weeks of school, and they expect to make a good showing on Decoration day. The battalion will enter the parade with their guns and belts for the first time this year.

The Kamehameha Prep kids will have a field and track meet at the school grounds Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The little chaps have been training hard these past few weeks. Prizes will be given to the winners.

INVINCIBLES PLAY NDANTEDS SUNDAY.

The return match between the Wall, Nichols baseball team and the Yokohama Specie Bank will be played on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, and promises to be a good game. Vierra's "Invincibles," as the Wall, Nichols bunch are now known, are determined to whitewash the bankers this time, and as their team has been made much stronger it may come about that the bookkeepers beat the bookkeepers. At any rate the game is going to be a long-drawn-out tale of joy, and anyone wishing to have a good morning's fun (after going to church, of course,) had better take a car down to Aala Park and watch the "Invincibles" and the "Undaunted" at work on the diamond.

The Hawaiian News Company is out with a challenge to the "Invincibles," and are to be accommodated on Sunday week probably. The employees of the Stangewald building are also anxious to have a go at Vierra's Valentines, and no doubt they will also be taken on in the near future. Ehlers & Co. expect to put it all over the other lot of ball jugglers, and there will be something doing when their team runs up against some of the other clubs. Baseball seems to be flourishing all over the city, and the next team will probably be made up of some of the school girls of the Territory.

Gee Shows Fine Form On Tennis Courts

The Wall Cup tournament is now in the semi-final stage, and has reached a very interesting point. There are four men left in the tournament, and all appear to have an excellent chance of pulling off the prize. W. L. Warren, who has a leg in for the cup, looks to have a first-class chance of getting a firmer grip on the trophy, and if he can dispose of Gee, who is playing in great form, should once more be returned the winner.

It is hoped to play the finals tomorrow afternoon, and a large crowd of tennis people is expected to attend the courts; the ladies of the club will dispense tea, and all racket wielders of the city are invited to drop in and watch what promises to be a very good afternoon's tennis.

Yesterday the first match played was between Captain Lowe and E. S. Gee, and three sets had to be played to decide the struggle. The first set was a hard fought one, and the play of both men was excellent. Gee's forehand drive was very accurate, and he found the side lines repeatedly. Low put up a fine game, and five-all saw both players going strong. The set ran to fourteen games, and then was won by Low 8-6; it was a fine, well-fought-out go. The next set was also long one, and no less than sixteen games had to be played before the deciding stroke was made by Gee, who took the set 9-7. With one set to the credit of either man, the interest in the match was aroused to fever point, and another long set was looked forward to. However, Gee, playing in grand form, and making very few mistakes, took the third and deciding set 6-4. The total game showed that Gee had won 21 to Low's 19, which is remarkably close going.

A. J. Lowrey and H. S. Gray also had a three-set match to decide who was the better man, and the former won two out of three after losing the first set 3-6. He took the two remaining sets 6-1, 6-4.

W. L. Warren defeated R. B. Booth two sets to one, the latter taking the second set 6-4. The other two went to Warren 6-2, 6-4. This was a good set to watch also, and was much closer than the score would indicate. The four players who are left in the semi-finals are E. S. Gee, W. L. Warren, A. J. Lowrey and A. R. Cunha.

The semi-finals will be played this afternoon, as follows: At 4 o'clock: A. R. Cunha vs. A. J. Lowrey; at 4:30 o'clock, E. S. Gee vs. W. L. Warren. Cunha and Lowrey are scratch men and will therefore play on even terms; Warren is a scratch man and gives Gee, a Class I man, half-fifteen. Both matches will be three out of five sets. The play will be of the highest class, as these four players are in fine form and always give a good account of themselves.

KAMEHAMEHA MEETING.

The Kamehameha Alumni Association will have its monthly meeting tonight in the Club House on Fort Street at 7:30 o'clock. All the members are urgently requested to be present, as matters of importance will be discussed.

School Ball Is Going Strong and Good

Tomorrow afternoon on the Kam diamond two of the most exciting games of the interscholastic series will be played, and as all four school teams are tied at present, an interesting struggle is looked forward to. The St. Louis, Oahu College, High School and Kama have each won two games out of four played. It is impossible to say at present which team will win the championship, as all four appear to have an excellent chance of pulling off the much coveted honor.

Each team has, of course, got its admirers, who claim that their boys cannot possibly lose out in the long run, and it is certainly fine to see such enthusiasm amongst the lads. There is no fear for the national game in the future as long as we have the youngsters as seen on the sport as they are at present. And remarkably good games the boys put up, too; their play is a treat to watch, and gives promise of some fine doings on the diamonds later on.

Yacht Cruise Tickets Going Fast

The Pearl Harbor excursion seems to be looming up as a great event, and the interest that is being shown in the outing is only an indication of what Honolulu is ready and capable of doing in the sporting line. No less than six yacht's accommodation has been completely sold out, and the rush for tickets for the remaining boats is remarkable. There is still room on the larger craft, and the Mokoli and Luka can stand a few more passengers, but anyone wishing to purchase a ticket had better hurry up, as the sale of the necessary passes closes tomorrow at 2 o'clock. In order to let the caterer have sufficient time to prepare for the big crowd, it is necessary to stop the sale of tickets a day before the picnic; he must know in advance just how many people are going to make the trip.

The Spray, Matolo, Hawaii, Helene, Mr. Bowen's yawl, and Mr. Jaeger's launch are all sold out. There is still room on the Kamehameha, Gladys and Charlotte C. Captain Whitney has put the Helene into commission, and the sails are now being bent on her. She will be a great acquisition to the excursion party, and the courtesy of the owner is much appreciated by the committee in charge.

Mr. Bonine, the moving picture expert, will be on hand to take firms of the yachts and stirring events of the day. The whole show promises to be one of the best stunts pulled off for many a day in Honolulu, and all that is required now is that the day be a fine one and that the gentle breezes blow in good shape.
