Work on Big Projects to Start Soon

Engineer on Ground to Spend Loan Fund Money—Olinda Reservoir First—Wailuku Water Works Soon to Be Improved.

Work on the new Olinda reservoir, the extension of the Wailuku waterworks system, roads and bridges in Kula, Hana, Kihel and Lahaina, and other projects provided for by the last legislature, is to be started at once. By the Mauna Kea on Wednesday evening, D. F. Balch, an engineer of the public works department, and two assistants, William C. Hughes and W. L. Hip, arrived to take up the work. An office is to be established in Wailuku, and Mr. Balch states that it is probable he will be busy here for a year or more.

The larger part of the money for Maui improvements comes through appropriations from the loan fund, and will be spent under the direction of the Maui Loan Fund Commission. Mr. Balch is to be engineer for the commission, and at the same time he will represent the department of public works in a number of smaller matters for which specific appropriations were made from the general funds of the Territory.

Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, and an ex-officio member of the loan fund commission, is expected to arrive this morning, or early next week, for the purpose of going over the ground with the other members of the commission and helping to lay out the work to be done. Olinda Reservoir First.

Probably the first project to be taken up will be the Olinda reservoir for which $50,000 was appropriated. The plans and specifications for this will be made as soon as possible after the engineers complete the necessary field work, and then bids for the construction will be called for. At the same time the engineers will be working out the data and preparing specifications for the Kula road and Kihel road improvements, for which the field work has already been done, and these projects will be soon under way.

Another project that is to receive early attention is the extension and improvement of the Wailuku waterworks system. It is understood that most of the data on this has already been prepared, so that it will but a short matter to advertise for bids and get this work under way.

The members of the loan fund commission, consisting of W. F. Pogue, chairman, S. E. Kalama, and Dr. J. H. Raymond, were in Honolulu last week when their work was reviewed in a general way with Superintendent Forbes. It will be gone over in more detail with Mr. Forbes next week. R. A. Wadsworth, also a member of the commission, is at present on the mainland.

Makahio Divorce Case is Dismissed

Judge Edings Finds That Allegations Were Not Proven—Case Sent Back By Supreme Court.

After being in the courts for a year or more, the divorce case of John Makahio vs. Labionehu Makahio was on Thursday dismissed by Judge Edings, as was also the cross-bill filed by the libellee. The parties in the case reside in Kahului. The charge brought by Makahio against his wife was habitual intemperance, while the cross bill alleged also intemperance and cruelty.

The case was taken to the Supreme Court from Judge Kingsbury's decision, and was sent back by the higher court on grounds that Judge Kingsbury had taken testimony behind closed doors, and had otherwise improperly conducted the trial. In dismissing the case, Judge Edings does so on the grounds that neither libellant nor libellee have proven their allegations.

Enos Vincent represented Makahio in the matter, and Eugene Murphy was attorney for the wife.

DR. AIKEN AND SISTER HAVING DELIGHTFUL TOUR

A brief note received from Dr. Geo. S. Aiken, who with his sister, Miss Irene Aiken, is touring California by motor car, indicates that they are having a fine time. Mr. Aiken wrote from Camp Curry, where they had been resting after the long drive from the Mexican border in Southern California. He states that he has been taking advantage of his time to do a little lecturing on Hawaii and show his own views of the Islands. The Aikens were about to start for San Francisco to visit the exposition.

Great Interest In Today's Polo Game

Both Oahu and Maui Players and Ponies in Fine Condition—Fleming Will Play. Good Crowd From Maui.

The big polo game of the year, which will be played this afternoon in Honolulu between the Oahu and the Maui teams, promises to be one of the greatest games ever played in the Islands. This fact has been generally recognized, and the game will doubtless be watched by a tremendous crowd. Quite a large number of Maui enthusiasts, besides the members of the team, left last night, and strong confidence is felt that the local knights of the mallet will be able to bring home the bacon, in spite of the fact that Oahu is unusually strong this year. One cause of satisfaction is in the fact that Dave Fleming will be able to play. He has not been well, and up to a week ago it was uncertain whether or not he would be able to ride. This means much to Maui, for Fleming is recognized as one of the strongest members of the local quartet. Another thing that will count is the fact that Maui's string of ponies is probably the best ever seen in an Island match. These ponies were sent down last Saturday and are reported to be in the pink of condition. Among them are: Carry the News, Dandy, Boy Blue, Parlor Maid, Billy Lucas, Little Arthur, Silver Tail, Bees Wings, Mynah Bird and Easter Tide, Jr.

The Oahu team also has some fine mounts, including the great Helen C, one of the best polo ponies in the world and probably second only to Dr. Baldwin's Carry the News, which will be ridden in the game by Frank Baldwin. Others of Oahu's horses are: Jennie C, Gold Dust, Buttons, Grandma Bess, In and Out, Quick Silver, Grey Dawn and Halemauau.

The Oahu team consists of Arthur Rice, Walter Dillingham, Harold Castle and Walter Macfarlane. Maui's four are: Arthur Collins, Frank Baldwin, Sam Baldwin, and Dave Fleming. Besides the game this afternoon, the Maui team will play on Tuesday an army team, consisting of a combination of the best players from the various military organizations on Oahu. It is believed that they will be able to put up a strong game.

Dr. Penhallow Not A Lusitania Victim

Senator Penhallow Receives Word That Cousin Canceled His Booking Just Before Liner Sailed.

For six weeks past Senator H. B. Penhallow has mourned as a victim of the Lusitania sinking, his favorite cousin, Dr. D. P. Penhallow, of Boston. This week he has the glad surprise of knowing that the report was a mistake, and that his cousin is alive and well.

It seems that although Dr. Penhallow had booked on the Lusitania, on the eve of her tragic last voyage he for some reason canceled his passage. This fact was not known by his relatives, who believed that he was one of the hundreds of victims whose bodies were never recovered or identified.

Dr. Penhallow had expected to offer his professional services as a physician and surgeon in the war zone.

Korean Forges Mrs. D. D. Waldwin's Name to Check

The Honolulu police are looking for a Korean named Pak Yong Sik, who is wanted here on Maui for forgery. The man was formerly employed by Mrs. D. D. Baldwin, of Haiku, and when he presented a check for $22, ostensibly signed by her, it was promptly paid by the Wailuku Bank. It later developed that Mrs. Baldwin's name on the check was a forgery. The check was passed on June 30, though it had been dated April 30.

Pak previously attempted to pass a check for $167, signed with the name of E. D. Baldwin, or Honolulu, at the Baldwin National Bank, Kahului, but did not succeed. The man, it is stated, had previously been given his pay by checks of Mrs. Baldwin, and it is stated that his forgery of her name was a very good one.

LICENSE MONEY COMING IN.

Since the first of July the county treasurer has taken in approximately $9000 in license fees. This is about half of the annual collections for this county.

GUARDIANS NAMED.

In the Second Circuit court, on Thursday, upon petition of Maka Wikoli, grandmother of Ah Pan, a minor, she was appointed by Judge Edings guardian, under bond of $300.

Charles Copp, of Honolulu, was appointed guardian of the Raleston minors, under $1000 bond.

Paschoal's Pets Get Whitewashed

Paia's Peaches Take Advantage of Blondie's Off Day—Score 10 to 0—Hawaii vs. Puunene Tomorrow.

| Standing of Teams. | | | | |
|--------------------|----|----|----|-------|
| | P. | W. | L. | Pct. |
| Paia's Peaches | 1 | 1 | 0 | .1000 |
| Puunenes | 1 | 0 | 1 | .000 |
| Hawais | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |

The Puunene charm was broken last Sunday by the Robinson aggregation from Paia, when the latter won the first game of the second series and gave a coating of whitewash to Paschoal's champions; and this after they had won five games straight. "Blondie" Williams, who has to a large extent been the cause of Puunene's victories, did not show up in form, the result being that ten hits and the same number of runs were scored off him, and he allowed four free passes to first base. It was his last game on Maui, he having left for Honolulu during the week. What Paschoal will do for a new slabster remains to be seen.

For the Paia's, Foster Robinson, who made such a splendid record when traveling the mainland with the All-Chinese team, has resolved to do the pitching for his team during this series, and expects to be able to lead them to first place. His pitching Sunday, while not what might be termed classy, as ten hits were gotten off his deliveries, was steady. No scores were made and no bases allowed. And then he fielded his position in great style, being credited with two put outs and five assists. His team mates gave him good support, only one error being chalked against Paia, who fumbled an easy grounder.

The scoring began in the second inning, when Kaleo was allowed first, being hit by a pitched ball, Rocha walked, and Yamoto bingled to left garden, scoring Kaleo. Paia walked and the bags were full. Foster Robinson hit a fly out to left and Phillips' muffle of the same allowed two men in. The inning closed with Mahuka fanning out, being the third strike out by Williams in one inning.

A home run by Alvin Robinson in the third inning and another run by Rocha in the fourth brought the score to five. No further scoring was made until the ninth, when five tallies were added, making a total of ten runs to the Puunene's zero.

Sunday's umpiring was done by Geo. Cummings and Heimie Meyer. It is understood that Bill Chillingworth has quit the job, but the exact reason for his action is not definitely known.

Tomorrow's contest will be between the Hawaii and Puunenes. Both teams have been weakened by the loss of players, but they are out to win just the same. A good attendance is expected.

The summary of last Sunday's game is as follows:

A TRAMPING PARTY.

A pleasant basket picnic was held in upper Iao Valley on Thursday last. Lunch was served at the Maui Hotel annex, after which the members of the party spent several hours tramping and sightseeing. Those who had a part in the day's pleasure were: Miss Estelle Roe, Mrs. Ella Hayward, Miss Mary Cooper, Miss Edith Livingston, Mrs. R. B. Dodge, Miss Church, Mrs. Munday and Master Munday, Miss Mary Lawrence, and Mrs. W. H. Field.

Maui Better Suited By Change of Dates

Good Attendance at Civic Convention Likely From This Island—Leave Friday, Back Tuesday.

The dates for the next Civic Convention, which will be held on Kauai, have been changed from Saturday and Sunday, September 25 and 26, to Sunday and Monday, September 26 and 27. The change was made on account of the difficulties in way of transportation. The Inter-Island company is favorable to the new arrangement. Under this plan Maui delegates will be able to leave by the Friday night Mauna Kea, taking the Kinau, (which will be held over one day), from Honolulu on Saturday evening. For the return trip the Kinau will leave Kauai Monday night, and Maui delegates will be able to catch the Mauna Lea for home on Tuesday.

It is not known how many will attend from this county, but with the change in dates, and the better connections which can therefore be made, it is believed that this island will be well represented.

Rain Could Not Spoil Wailuku Mill Dance

Big Crowd Adjourned to K. of P. Hall When Showers Began—Hundreds Have Delightful Evening.

Rain interfered with the plans for the big Wailuku Sugar Company dance, last Saturday evening, but although the out of door dancing was stopped, it did not by any means break up the jolly crowd which simply adjourned to the K. of P. Hall and continued to trip the light fantastic until after midnight.

The dance was one of the largest to be held in Wailuku in many a day, there being present between 400 and 500 invited guests. A huge platform had been built on the new tennis court grounds at the mill, and much pains had been taken in lighting and decorations. The result was a very beautiful setting in greenery and colored lights. Although the weather had been threatening throughout the day, the big dancing floor had been kept dry with tarpaulins. The big orchestra rendered fine music, and for a short time the guests enjoyed the excellent dancing conditions to the limit. Then the rain started, and the out door feature was at an end.

Much credit for the success of the dance is due to the hard work of W. Leslie West, Seabury Short, and others of the mill force who spent many days preparing for the occasion.

How One Employer Will Beat Compensation Law

Notwithstanding the fact that the new Workmen's Compensation Law provides for a fine of $250 to be imposed upon the employer who makes any deduction from the wages of his employees to apply against the insurance he is required to carry, one employer on Maui declared that his workmen will have to stand it.

"And this is the way I'll work that," he explained. "You see I have never deducted anything for holidays or other time taken off by my men, but now that my insurance will cost me about $100 per year I don't feel that I can continue this practice. I've told them the situation, and from now on I pay for working days only. I figure that it will about break even."

Motorcycles Ascend Haleakala--Part Way

Joe Stickney, Fenner Stickney and Eldrick Cook, three young motorcycle enthusiasts of Honolulu, spent this week on Maui making a motorcycle's exploration for the benefit of the Trail and Mountain Club. The club proposes advocating Maui as a field for devotees of the power driven wheel. The young men went up Haleakala, but only stuck by their wheels to Makawao, doing the remainder on foot. They were pretty well played out by the strenuous hike, but report no serious difficulties. They also visited Iao Valley, and made several runs through the Makawao and Peahi districts.

WILLIAMS BACK TO THE RANKS.

Williams, the crack twirler of the Puunene ball team during the past series, and to whose puzzling deliveries no small share of Puunene's victory over the two other teams of the league is no doubt due, left this week for Honolulu and will be seen no more on local diamonds. He is a soldier, and his three-months furlough has expired, requiring that he rejoin his company.

AMERICAN NOTE PUTS BURDEN ON GERMANY

Another American Death By German Topedo to Be Germany's Declaration of War--Congress to Be Convened--Fate of Warsaw Chief Interest in Europe.

HONOLULU, July 23.—Sugar, $97.60.

HONOLULU, July 23.—The roof of the new armory has been declared safe. Sagging in roof can be easily repaired.

Bar association favors the appointment of Robertson or Stainback to succeed Judge Whitney.

LONDON, July 23.—No serious breach yet made in inner line of the Warsaw defenses. On the south the Russians are falling back from the drive of Mackensen. Teuton advance is temporarily checked. Berlin claims gains in the Baltic provinces where the Russians are falling back before the German advance on Riga. Russians have assumed new tactics.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The administration will wait to see what the reception of note will be in Germany. Wilson will call a special session of Congress to decide what action is to be taken.

The next step following the note to Germany will be taking up of Great Britain's orders in council. Protests have been prepared, the contention being that the United States cannot be bound by British emergency orders, and that international law must govern.

BERLIN, July 23.—Germany has an abundance of raw materials to carry on the war. The captures of Russian machine guns since the war began number 15,000.

PARIS, July 23.—Heavy fighting in Alsace. French have met with success, making gains which about offset those made by the crown prince.

LONDON, July 23.—Further gains by Allies in Gallipoli. New assaults on Turkish fortresses ordered by French war office yesterday. There have been no British merchantmen sunk by German submarines within the past week. British and Norwegian ships set afire by Germans constitute the only damage.

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—John Wanamaker has plans by which America would buy Belgium for $100,000,000, this sum to be furnished by American merchants and loaned to our government without interest. The country would be restored to the Belgians.

SEATTLE, July 22.—Unusual precautions are being taken at the Bremerton naval yard. All visitors are now required to register.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Secretary Lansing is making an investigation to see whether the attack on Naco by Mexican troops was in violation of the agreement between Mexican leaders and General Scott. Mexicans agreed at that time not to imperil Naco.

LONDON, July 22.—Russian generals are attempting tactics that met success against Napoleon. Are withdrawing slowly and inflicting as heavy losses on enemy as possible. The German drive is now reaching further north towards Riga and along the line stretching into Galicia. The campaign is being pressed. Retreating Russians are laying waste the country through which they pass, to hinder the enemy and to prevent sustenance of troops. Bridges are destroyed and roads dynamited. All provisions in the country are being removed. Country in Courland section is now a dreary waste. Windau has been evacuated and left in flames. The spirit of the Russian army is unbroken. It is withdrawing in good order, but rumors that, while belief of ultimate victory is firm, the Russians feel they are bearing an unequal share of the war burden. While the Germans relentlessly press home the stinging defeat administered to Russians last month, Russians pray for victory that will check Germans and enable them to take up a strong defensive position to protect Warsaw, now in grave danger. The question is how much longer it will be wise for Russians to remain.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The United States has taken over the interests of the Belgian and Serbian legations in Warsaw.

PETROGRAD, July 22.—Counter attacks of Russians drove back Germans along line of Narew river. Russians are holding well on the left of the Vistula.

BERLIN, July 22.—The Russians have been driven from the fortress Ivangorod, shielding Warsaw. The forces are now closely invested.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The German torpedo which sinks an unarmed merchantman and results in the death of one American, will be Germany's declaration of war against the United States. This is made plain in the note unanimously adopted by the cabinet after consultation with President Wilson, and prepared by Secretary Lansing, and soon to be in the hands of Ambassador Gerard for presentation to Count Von Jagow, the German minister of foreign affairs.

The note will be forwarded tomorrow. It states that the United States must insist upon a disavowal from Germany of any intention to sink the Lusitania. The proposal advanced by Germany that immunity will be guaranteed passenger-carrying American steamships provided with the guarantee of the American government that such ships are not carrying contraband of war, and that Germany will also guarantee immunity to four named steamers flying the flag of belligerents, provided the same guarantee that no contraband is aboard, is rejected without qualification, with the emphatic assertion that this, for the government of the United States, would be an admission of Germany's right to set aside America's contention that neutrals may travel anywhere upon the high seas on unresisting merchant ships of any nationality, whether such ships carry contraband or not.

Unless peace is declared soon, Consul General Hana, at Monterey, Mexico, declares Mexico will be the hungriest place on earth. Thousands already saved from starvation by the American Red Cross, in whose bread lines 20,000 Mexicans have stood; but the crisis will come this fall when crops are to be harvested. The fate of the Mexican capital is in doubt. Nothing from there today.

LONDON, July 22.—On the greatest of all battles, in which more men face each other than in any battle in history, the fate of Warsaw hangs. The German commander has carried the Russian field works and is now hammering at prominent Russian defenses. British critics agree that upon the quality of Russian resistance depends the success or failure of the whole German offensive movement.

Wounded soldiers brought from Italian base at Udine, report Italian armies are incessantly attacking from Gradisca to Tulumino, on a front 35 miles long. Austrian defeat there would be a serious matter and the armies of the dual monarchy are extending resistance to the limits of endurance.

PROMOTION CONTRIBUTIONS.

It is rather a peculiar move the Maui supervisors have made, in view of the fact that they have just nominated a representative on the Hawaii Promotion Committee. Yesterday the clerk of the board notified the committee that the fifty dollars a month the county had been contributing to the work would be cut off hereafter. This will reduce the share Maui pays towards the upkeep of the promotion work to $85 a month, which is approximately the Maui share of the $500 a month voted by the legislature.

Of the $30,320 total which the promotion work will cost this year for the whole Territory, Kauai will be contributing $300 indirectly, Maui will be contributing $1000 indirectly, Hawaii will contribute $720 directly and $1500 indirectly, while Oahu will contribute $3000 indirectly and $23,620 directly—$3000 from the supervisors and $20,620 in contributions from Honolulu merchants. The figures hardly show Maui no ka oi.—Advertiser.

According to the Advertiser's figures Maui is contributing about 1-23 of the amount that Honolulu does towards promotion work. It would be interesting to know how near this ratio is the proportion of tourists who ever see Maui. In all likelihood Maui's $1000 per year is really much greater in proportion to value received than is Honolulu's $23,000. It should not be forgotten that Maui gets no tourists that Honolulu does not have first and last chance at their pocket books. In other words, Honolulu always must skim the cream of this business, and the mere proportion of island visitors who may get to Maui, really means little, since this is the case. Maui has attractions, but Honolulu realizes on these in greater degree than it will probably ever be possible for Maui to profit.

Maui has also just completed the new rest house on Haleakala at a total cost of about $4500—almost wholly for the benefit of the tourist. It is true that possibly $1000 of this amount was subscribed by members of the last Civic Convention, other than Maui citizens, but Maui still has to her credit the other $3500 spent, which is isn't so bad for one year's tourist expenditure. It is not pleasant to be accused of shirking, but it is nevertheless a satisfaction to feel comfortable in one's own mind on the subject, regardless of how others (whose profits lie in that direction) may choose to wag their fingers.

THE OAHU DEFENSES.

The obvious development of the military defenses on the Island of Oahu is something especially striking to the but occasional visitor from the other island. And there is a good deal that is not so obvious. New batteries have been installed in Diamond Head and at other forts, and Fort Shafter has quadrupled in size in the past few years. The fact may not be so generally known, however, that the great Pearl Harbor naval station is virtually finished, and could, if occasion demanded, construct a battleship complete from keel up, right at the present time. This statement was made a few days ago by a man connected with the work, and one amply in position to know what he is talking about. The only feature of the Pearl Harbor plant not finished in most essentials, is the dry dock, and this will require about two years more work.

There has been objection voiced on the mainland, and in Congress against the amount of the expenditures being made for defenses on Oahu. But there should be no half-way measures in this connection—either there should be no defenses at all or they should be absolutely impregnable. There is ground for argument on both of these propositions, but none at all for a middle course policy.

HAWAII HAS MADE GOOD AT FAIR.

That a large proportion of the tourists visiting the Islands this summer have been in large measure influenced in their decision to come, through Hawaii's exhibit at the San Francisco fair, is the unequivocal declaration of C. Y. Wilmarth, chief steward of the Matson liner Manoa. Hawaii people have found fault with the Hawaii building, Mr. Wilmarth says, because it is not filled with Hawaiian products, and the things that are in it are commonplace to them. But these are the very things that interest mainland folk, he asserts, and he is positive that the exhibit is a most valuable one to the Territory. Coming from a man of Mr. Wilmarth's standing, coupled with the fact that he is in position to know whereof he speaks, the idea that Hawaii has failed to make good at the exposition should be once and for all dismissed.

The Honolulu doctors are kicking because the "Big Six" insurance combination has broken down their fee schedule in connection with treating cases arising under the new Workmen's Compensation Act, and the insurance agents threaten to boycott the local medicos and import scab bone-menders. It is just possible that the next legislature will be called upon to adjust this and some other omissions in the act. The insurance companies appear to have things pretty much their own way in the matter of rates and conditions under which they will write compensation insurance. In some states which have workmen's compensation laws, the state itself goes into the insurance business, in effect, and the insurance corporations are left out entirely. There are some arguments against this plan, but it will doubtless serve as a check to the companies becoming unduly arbitrary.

H. R. Hitchcock, who gives his side of the case in a letter to the MAUI NEWS, published in another column of this issue, makes a strong point of the fact that he was not given an opportunity to appear before the board of supervisors and defend himself when the charges against him were being considered. Mr. Hitchcock has many friends both on Molokai and on Maui who are confident of his integrity and who feel that he was not treated fairly. Since he was not actually removed from office by the board, which simply declined to reappoint him, it would seem that he has no recourse in the matter, except to submit.

IT IS TO BLUSH.

Editor Will Cooper, of our limesome contemporary, the Maui News, was in our midst last week-end. Some Maui booster, is Coop. Bill is farming it and editing it synonymously, simultaneously and contemporaneously, and he's just as slick at perpetrating a pertinent paragraph as he is at planting pineapples in place of prickly pears. Maui no ka oi! Oi, oi!—The Service.

Judge E. H. Gary, the millionaire steel magnate, is spending his vacation in the Islands. He will visit the Volcano, but nothing has been said about his hiking through Haleakala or over the ditch trail. What's the matter with Hume Ford and the promotion committee, anyway?

With practically no water in the town mains, it is to be sincerely hoped that Wailuku continues to have the good fortune to escape a fire until conditions are remedied.

Full Lubricating Efficiency

Zerolene is so distilled as to prevent the molecules of the oil from "splitting up." Thus the molecules of Zerolene act as roller bearings to protect the moving parts from rub and wear—this means full lubricating efficiency.

A Printed Letterhead

Adds distinction or "class" to your correspondence. It isn't only the business firm or professional man who now raises his correspondence above the mediocre through aid of the printer's art. Just your name and address in neat lettering at top or corner of the sheet will add an individual touch that at once raises your letter above the dead level of "ordinary". The additional cost per letter is trifling. But of course much depends on the printing.

FARMING AND FARM PROGRESS

Things Being Done and Attempted in the Agricultural Field.

Haiku Homesteaders To Try Out New Law Eggs and Poultry In Good Demand

Pineapple Growing Hui Formed on Co-operative Basis—Starts With $5,000 Paid In Capital.

Under the provisions of the cooperative association law which, fathered by Representative A. F. Tavares of Maui, was passed by the last legislature, articles of association were filed in the office of the territorial treasurer last Friday by the Haiku Cooperative Association, Limited, which was formed recently at Haiku, Maui, by the homestead small farmers of that district. The association is capitalized at $10,000, in 200 shares of fifty dollars par value each. The privilege is retained of increasing the capitalization to $250,000. Of the initial capital $5000 has been paid into the treasury of the association. The association is largely a pineapple producing venture.

The officers, stockholders and number of shares held by each of the latter is as follows: W. I. Wells, president, twenty shares; H. L. Sauer, vice-president, twenty; Florence Wood, secretary, twenty; Mary H. Cooper, treasurer, fifteen; E. H. Brown, twenty; T. R. Hincley, twenty; E. A. Turner, fifteen; L. Sauer, ten; E. S. Bartlett, five, and Ruby C. Blanchard, five. E. C. Mellor is the auditor of the association.

County Agent Will Help Maui Farmers

E. C. Moore, of Kula Gets New Job With Federal Experiment Station—Important Factor on Mainland.

Edwin C. Moore, secretary of the Kula Cooperative Farmer's Association, has been appointed county agent of the federal experiment station. His duties will require him to work among the farmers of Maui, helping them organize, market their products, and to generally advise them of their opportunities and possibilities. The place is a new one in Hawaii, though it is not new on the mainland, where the "county agent" has come to be an important factor in many communities. It is generally recognized in all agricultural communities that farmers are not especially adapted to getting together and of taking advantage of opportunities that may be in their way. But with a little outside help some remarkable results have been accomplished in many sections. Mr. Moore returned from Honolulu this week, where he has been for several weeks assisting in getting the Oahu pineapple growers together for cooperative marketing of fresh fruit on the mainland. It is possible that he will move his family to Haiku from Kula in the near future.

Those who wait for dead men's shoes are likely to acquire many stone bruises.—Albany Journal.

AMSTERDAM, July 20.—Strong measures are being taken by the German military authorities, to suppress what threatens to become a general strike at the Krupp gun factories. Widespread dissatisfaction among workmen prevails. Some concessions have been made to the men, but are not satisfactory. The government has issued a warning telling strikers that it is prepared to take most drastic measures to keep factory up to standard.

CARDIFF, July 20.—It is believed that Lloyd-George will be successful in ending the Welsh strike, as he is a Welshman and has influence here.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—At the request of Great Britain, President Wilson will probe the report concerning activities of Germans and German sympathizers in the United States.

LONDON, July 20.—Charles Pray, of Flint, Michigan, arrived here today from a German detention camp, where he had been held from the beginning of the war to May 11, in spite of vided passports. He had been mistaken for an Englishman.

PORTLAND, Me., July 20.—Roosevelt addressed audience last night and inferentially poured some warm shots into William J. Bryan. Says he is not ready to talk, but when he is, he will not do so for the pleasure of sap heads or mollycoddles.

HONOLULU, July 19.—Witnesses testify that the boat crew at the time of the accident at Lahaina, were under the influence of liquor. Effort to secure pardon of Armstrong, who stole Moose bonds, is strongly opposed by Thayer and Judge Ashford.

VIENNA, July 19.—The Italian cruiser Giuseppe Garibaldi was torpedoed by a submarine. Vessel sank in fifteen minutes. Fate of crew still unknown.

TOKIO, July 19.—The report that two Japanese officers had committed suicide while with the Russian army, has been officially denied.

PETROGRAD, July 19.—Ambassador Marye denies rumor of his resignation.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—William J. Bryan did not arrive in time to speak at the civic conference, Asiatic institution. Audience walked out when announcement was made.

Careful Shippers of Vegetables Making Good—Grapes Find Market—Potato Market Fairly Strong.

HONOLULU, July 19.—Eggs are selling at a good price with heavy demand. Supply fairly good.

The market for chickens is weak owing to importations from the Coast. There is demand for Island Turkeys with none in the market. Muscovy and Pekin ducks are plentiful and demand light. A consignment of young white leghorn roosters is not moving very fast as buyers do not like them for table fowls.

A large shipment of sweet corn was received in poor condition due to improper packing and grading. The grower has also been careless in allowing it to become mixed with yellow field corn which spoils it for table purposes.

A shipment of pears from Maui was in much better condition than the last shipment. These are packed in a well ventilated crate.

Shipments of Isabella grapes are arriving from Wailuku every Friday. These grapes are very fine in quality, and are a treat to those who like this fruit.

Shipments of pohas come every Tuesday and Saturday from Haiku. Last week an extra large shipment overstocked the market because the Division had not been notified beforehand. Pohas keep only a short time.

Cucumbers are being received from Hawaii. They are small but very good and are selling well.

Island Irish potatoes continue to come from Hawaii and Oahu. They are selling fairly well at $1.50 to $1.60. Sweet potatoes are again arriving, selling for $1 to $1.25 per 100 pounds.

The Marketing Division is steadily increasing its shipments of pineapples to the Coast having forwarded over 1000 cases last week.

SAN HEMP AT KULAH

At his homestead in Kula, Prof. F. G. Krauss, director of extension work of the Hawaii experiment station is growing an experimental crop of India san hemp, which plant has been receiving considerable attention by sugar plantation men recently. The crop is said to be of exceptional value as a green manuring crop, and if it does well under local conditions will probably be in considerable demand for renewing fertility of cane lands. It is one of the several manuring plants from which Mr. Krauss hopes to develop into an important seed industry for the Kula homesteaders.

Telegraph News of the Week.

DRESDEN, July 22.—General Von Haug is reported dead from disease in the hands of the Russians.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Becker's 15,000 word appeal of Governor Whitney, has not altered the Governor's opinion that Becker is guilty of the murder of Rosenthal.

HONOLULU, July 21.—The Anti-Saloon League asks the Inter-Island to abolish bars on steamers. Also would refuse chauffeur license where intoxication has been proved.

Hilo gets next year's evangelical convention.

PEKING, July 21.—Vice-Minister of Finance Chang Hu, has been banished to Sczchuen, on charge of speculation and using his position for money-making purposes.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Thirteen thousand garment workers returned to work today. Others will follow.

Former Governor Dix is a bankrupt.

LONDON, July 21.—Official reports from belligerent capitals today agree that drive of Germans towards Warsaw still continues. Germans are closing on city. Today's news indicates that despite terrible punishment Slavs have suffered, Nicholasvitch is reorganizing a formidable force. It is believed that Germans will attempt to get behind main Russian forces defending Warsaw, cut lines of communication, and intercept the retreat, in case Warsaw falls. The drive of Teutons in Southern Poland is progressing steadily. No indications that Russian communications around Lublin have been pierced.

Welsh strike is ended. Lloyd-George gets credit for effecting settlement.

Situation in the western war arena is unchanged.

No news from the Dardanelles.

German newspaper estimates that since the beginning of the new offensive against the Russians, the Teutons have taken 175 Russian officers and 66,790 soldiers, prisoners.

In contradiction of Italian reports of victory at Corso, on the Isonzo front, Austrian official announcement says Italians are repulsed with heavy losses.

PARIS, July 21.—Big air raid carried out by Allies' aviators. 38 aviators bombed important military station at Conflans. Three German aeroplanes repelled by scout aeroplanes, and a German machine was forced to descend.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Five thousand strikers of the Standard Oil works at Bayonne, N. J., created a situation that may call out the militia. Several riots took place. At the second, guards supplied with guns, shot into crowd and three rioters were seriously wounded, and one killed. Fifty disturbers and several policemen are in hospital. The mayor has appealed to the governor for assistance.

HONOLULU, July 21.—Workmen's Compensation Act causes disagreement over doctors' fees for services to insurance companies.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—General Salazar, believed to be the active agent for Huerta, was arrested again last night near the Mexican Border. The department of justice regards the capture as an important step in preventing fresh discord.

BISBEE, Ariz., July 21.—Carranzaistas, who captured Naco on Monday, found an American flag there and brought it to within a few feet of the border line, and then trampled it in the dust, leaving it a mass of tatters.

TORONTO, July 21.—More Canadian expeditionary troops are asked for.

LONDON, July 21.—Italians are delivering their main offensive on the Isonza front. Rome reports progress but Vienna bulletins say every inch of advance is paid for by Italians at fearful cost of life.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., July 21.—Leo Frank is reported better, and now has a chance of recovery.

ROME, July 21.—The United States is asked to use influence to protect war-bound Italians in Turkey from the attacks of people.

NEW YORK, July 21.—There is virtually a general strike in the Standard Oil works here. The company threatens an indefinite shut down.

LONDON, July 21.—The steamer Benalla, in the Indian Ocean, is afire with 800 passengers aboard. S.O.S. calls are being answered.

SOFIA, July 21.—Relations between Bulgaria and Turkey are strained as a result of the Turkish failure to allow free passage of Bulgarian passengers and goods on the railway as had been promised. Much freight has been scattered and stolen. Unrest prevails among Turkish population with young Turk agitators trying to incite people to revolt in case Bulgaria joins entente powers.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 21.—Remington arms plant is still operating. Whether strike threatened will materialize will be known today.

LONDON, July 21.—Fourth drive of the Kaiser on Warsaw is now irresistible. Von Hindenberg to north breaks Russian lines and brought-siege guns to bear on commanding fortifications of Georgiezk. Rabon succumbs before von Mackensen's assault. Razangorad, a stronghold on the strategic line from Warsaw to Lublin, is threatened in the south by the leader of the German campaign.

HONOLULU, July 20.—The steamer Sierra is to remain in the Coast drydock until November.

President Gary, of the steel trust, arrived here today. He will visit the volcano with his wife.

Governor Pinkham arrived today by the Matsonia.

LONDON, July 20.—Russian vessel General Radetsky sunk by submarine.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—The American steamer Bertha, with cannery supplies, ashore in Uyak Bay, burned with cargo.

LONDON, July 20.—Italians continue to meet successes. Three great German armies commanded by leading generals, are apparently sealing the fate of Warsaw and making ready to capture the Polish capital. In center and south Poland these armies are breaking in and driving Russians from trench to trench and hill to hill.

LONDON, July 20.—Observers now talk of the capture of Warsaw as something to be expected. Von Hindenberg now controls Courtland. Russian tenure of Warsaw is still hazardous. Allies are speculating as to when it will be necessary for Russians to evacuate and save army. Strong German forces reported to have driven General Gallwitz army to within 20 miles of Warsaw. Southeast Germans are pressing hard upon Lublin. The railroad between Lublin and Cholm is threatened. The Teutonic allies claim to have captured 45,000 prisoners during the drive.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—President Wilson and cabinet spent two hours in earnest consultation on the American reply to German note. European battlefields today practically without change.

LONDON, July 20.—Following Lloyd-George's visit to the district of Cardiff, it is announced that the strike has been settled.

HONOLULU, July 20.—Molokai wins inter-island song contest.

LONDON, July 20.—Russians have brought up reinforcements and stubbornly contest every inch of ground along 1000-mile front. In some sections they are driven back or their lines pierced, in others they are hurling back the Teutons and holding ground gained. Fighting in progress for more than 48 hours. Neither side has advantage. Heaps of slain and many thousands of wounded represent result of conflict. Report is current in Petrograd that gradual evacuation of Warsaw has been ordered and Russians are removing stores and munitions in order that nothing of military character may fall into hands of enemy. Petrograd officially reports that Slavs are holding out well and no fear is felt that this offensive against Warsaw will be any more effective than previous ones.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Seventeen scientists have been selected for the invention board.

PITTSBURG, July 20.—Thaw slept in his old home last night, after an absence of nine years.

LONDON, July 20.—The Times suggests that cotton be made contraband of war, claiming that British are being killed and wounded by cotton base explosives.

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

Those are not canals on Mars. They're trenches. This is a trenchant paragraph.—The Service.

Just about four years ago a man in the prime of life was shot down by a drunken soldier. The murder took place at the gate leading into the home of the man who was shot. The slayer was acquitted of murder but was sentenced to an absurdly short sentence for manslaughter. He is today a free man. Coderot lies rotting in his grave and on July 7 his heart-broken wife followed to the place where, if anything at all is known, "justice" must be laughed at.—Hawaii Herald.

In its investigation of the fatal Lahaina boat accident the public utilities commission is doing the sort of work that makes it a real factor in territorial administration.—Star Bulletin.

H. P. Wood—Promoter.

Always ready to help the booster, not merely with advice and promotion literature, but with the most cordial support and cooperative interest. Always agreeable and ready to show a kindness.

Always a living exemplification of Hawaii's spirit of hospitality. Perhaps some won't miss him from the Promotion Committee rooms, but we will.—F. S. S. in The Friend.

Members of the Industrial Accident Boards of the various islands are already complaining about the unexpectedly large amount of work they have to do to set the new law in motion. In all probability, however, the greatest strain is over, and hence forward there will be easier sailing. The members of all the Boards (and particularly of Honolulu) will, however, earn all the glory that they may be able to get out of it.—Garden Island.

Maui has decided against Sunday "movies." The supervisors of that county having turned down an application of George Freeland, of Lahaina, for permission to give such entertainments Sunday evenings. The reason given by the supervisors for their action was that no real public demand exists for Sunday shows. The situation on Kauai is much the same, and the action of Maui on the question may well be duplicated here.—Garden Island.

On the Other Islands

Big Pineapple Development.

Libby, McNeill & Libby's two canneries on Oahu—one at Kahului and the other in Honolulu—will have a total output of about 600,000 cases of canned pineapple this year, according to F. W. Macfarlane, president of and agent for the company. This estimated output will be a gain of about 200,000 cases over the output of 1914.

New Steamship Line?

The operation of a junior fleet of cut-rate passenger steamers on an independent line between San Francisco and Honolulu or between Portland and Honolulu is assured in the very near future, according to the belief expressed in Honolulu shipping circles.

It is reported that O. A. Steven is the promoter of the new line and that the proposed company will operate steamers of the Klamath class and carry passengers to the mainland for $40, first class.

County Officer Defends Accused.

Henry Waiuu, former clerk to the county sheriff, was tried in the Circuit Court yesterday on the charge of forgery, and found not guilty. A. L. C. Atkinson conducted the case for the prosecution, and County Treasurer A. G. Kaulukou defended the accused man.—Garden Island.

Cooper Carnival Director.

Judge Henry E. Cooper has been named director of the 1916 Mid Pacific Carnival. Judge Cooper plans four or five days of lively doings for the big event. He also plans to leave very soon for the Coast for the purpose of getting ideas, and particularly in order that he may, if possible, arrange for better transportation facilities.

Major General W. H. Carter surprised a burglar who had entered his Honolulu home early last Saturday morning, and at the point of a revolver held him facing the wall for an hour until the police arrived. The man had a severe cut on his face, from breaking the glass in a window in entering the house. He gave his name as G. Morrissey.

Dispatches received by the Honolulu Japanese papers from Tokyo assert that Yuan Shih Kai is preparing to announce himself emperor of China, and to establish an imperial form of government. Honolulu Chinese are much excited over the report, and are divided in belief of its truth.

Rear Admiral C. B. T. Moore, who has been in charge of the naval station at Honolulu and Pearl Harbor for the past several years, was retired for age last Saturday. He is succeeded by Rear Admiral Clifford J. Bousch, recently ordered to this post.

Judge Elbert H. Gary, the great Pittsburg steel magnate, accompanied by his wife, arrived in Honolulu this week for a few weeks' vacation. They will visit the volcano.

Filipinos Must Hang.

Juan Coronel, Feliciano Hirano, and Ponciano Colaste, the three Filipinos who shot up the household of Wada, a Japanese truck farmer living in Kahiwa valley, Kauai, a few weeks ago and then burned their home, must hang. The jury on the case returned a verdict of first degree murder on Monday last, after but twelve minutes deliberation.

Prominent Hawaiian Dies.

David Kalaokalani, Sr., one of the best-known of the elder generation of Hawaiians, died at 12:30 o'clock last Tuesday, at his home in Honolulu. Nephritis was the cause of death. Mr. Kalaokalani was 75 years of age, the father of the present county clerk of Honolulu. For many years he has been prominent in politics and Hawaiian affairs. A widow, a daughter and two sons survive him.

Engagement Announced.

Word has been received during the week of the approaching marriage of Miss Ruth Johnston and Mr. Douglas Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Baldwin of Kauai. Miss Johnston is the eldest daughter of the late Harry J. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston, formerly of Honolulu.

The marriage will take place at San Francisco early in September.

Wadman's Charges Answered by Facts

Secretary Case of License Board Shows That Anti-Saloon Man Had No Ground to Back up Attack.

Following the attack of Dr. John W. Wadman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, upon the Maui board of license commissioners, because the board saw fit to permit the saloons of Wailuku and Kahului to remain open for three hours during the forenoon of July 3rd, D. H. Case, one of the new members who was particularly scored by Dr. Wadman's letter, made reply to the accusations, in a letter published in last Saturday's Star-Bulletin. Mr. Case makes a strong case for the board, and because of the very general interest in the matter here on Maui, his letter is reprinted in full below. It follows:

SALOONISM ON MAUI—THE OTHER SIDE.

Wailuku, Maui, July 16, 1915.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Sir: In the issue of your valued paper of date Thursday, July 13, under the head of "Letters" appears an article entitled "Saloonism on Maui," signed by John W. Wadman. This article contains some few truths; more unfair and misleading statements based on "reliable information" evidently obtained from persons plainly lacking the moral courage to come into the open and express themselves, and very willing to make the writer of said article the goat.

Rev. Mr. Wadman lays great emphasis on the undue haste with which the newly appointed members of the local board of liquor commissioners organized. He says "the new board, with Messrs. Case, Kaae and Lyons" arranged well beforehand to convene July 1 and, having organized, with Mr. Lyons as president and Mr. Case as secretary, proceeded at once to consider the motion of the former board, and, after some discussion, rescinded the action taken June 24, and threw the day of the races wide open in the morning after 9 a. m. I call Mr. Wadman's attention to the fact that, on the morning of July 1 there existed no organized board of license commissioners in the county of Maui. Possibly he may not know that it is not only a custom but the duty of elective or appointive members of any body to promptly organize in order that they may be ready for business.

The facts are Mr. Lyons was made permanent chairman of this body upon motion of D. C. Lindsay, seconded by C. D. Lufkin, both members of the old board; and Mr. Case was made permanent secretary upon motion of Mr. Kaae, seconded by Mr. Lufkin.

Mr. Wadman recently declared to the undersigned that in his opinion the closing of all retail liquor houses on Maui would not materially lessen drunkenness and its attendant evils. Wherein then does he see so great an offense in the modifying (not rescinding) of the order of the former board?

Mr. Wadman also declared to the undersigned that he doubted the wisdom of any law or order preventing treating in saloons and, in his opinion, the issuance of such an order on Maui would not accomplish much good.

At this same hurry-up meeting of July 1 a resolution was introduced by Mr. Kaae, favored by all of the new commissioners whom Mr. Wadman chooses to identify with the liquor interests, to the effect that from and after August 1 there shall be no treating upon any licensed premises within the county of Maui where intoxicating liquors are sold. This is undoubtedly the backward step taken in temperance reform to which he refers as having caused such humiliation in the county of Maui.

These same commissioners so closely "identified with the liquor interests" favor the closing of all liquor houses on Memorial Day—the day set aside as sacred to the memory of those who died for our country. In the writer's opinion such action is of far more importance to the general public than the closing of the retail saloons in the district of Wailuku for a few hours on the 4th of July. "Consistency thou art a jewel" but, to the prejudiced mind or to the one seeking its own ends thou art an unknown treasure.

That Mr. Wadman may know the opinion held for many years by the man whom he chooses to style "a commissioner with the reputation of a temperance advocate" I will again state that I do not feel that the former board of license commissioners or any other body has the moral right to bind an incoming board to any given line of action. While personally believing that prohibition, rather than the regulation of the liquor traffic, will do more towards minimizing its attendant evils, I take the stand that this is supposedly a free country where every man has the right to his conscientious opinion and liberty of speech and action, and no one man, or handful of men has the moral right to bind, force or coerce his fellow-man.

For instance, because Dr. Wadman may not see wherein the closing of the retail saloons or the enacting of an anti-treating order can accomplish much good, I would not go to the extent of allying him with the liquor interests. Mr. Wadman is able to affirm on "good authority" (?) that "there was more open drunkenness seen on Maui July 3 last than on any other race days for many a year. This was particularly true among the Hawaiians." One need hardly ask who was Mr. Wadman's informer since in the statement itself, "a wayfaring man though a fool" can easily recognize the earmarks.

The sheriff of the county of Maui, his deputy and lieutenant of police state that July 3 last was as free from drunkenness as any previous race day and exceptionally free from disorder and that no arrests for drunkenness or disorderly conduct were made.

I am privileged to use the names of the following Maui citizens:

C. D. Lufkin who says that the nearest approach to drunkenness which he saw was one man whose gesticulations and manner of speech indicated having imbibed a little too freely.

Editor Vetlesen of the Weekly Times: "As a matter of fact never before has such a quiet, orderly and sober crowd been seen at the race track as this year and less drunks were seen in the streets than at any previous celebration on Maui of the glorious Fourth."

Rev. J. Charles Villiers: "I was about the streets of Wailuku all of July 3 and must say that I was impressed by the quietness and entire absence of the evils that might naturally be expected to flow from the festivities of the day. I saw no drunkenness whatsoever."

W. F. Crockett: "As secretary and treasurer of the Maui Racing Association it is my duty to have general oversight of affairs at the races. We have never experienced a more orderly day, nor one so free from drunkenness. In former years considerable liquor has been brought to the racing grounds and doled out behind the bleachers. Nothing of the kind occurred this year and there was likewise a noticeable absence of other evils."

Dan T. Carey of the executive committee: "Maui has never experienced a racing day so free from drunkenness and disorderly conduct."

Editor Cooper of the Maui News: "I was about town until 11 o'clock and then attended the races. I saw neither drunkenness nor disorderly conduct in either place."

H. Gooding Field, one of the judges at the races: "It was an unusually quiet day, with no evidence whatsoever of drunkenness or disorder. I remember remarking to my associates that Honolulu might well take pointers from Maui."

As regards Mr. Wadman's further assertions I would say that, during my residence of 19 years in the islands, 12 of which have been spent on Maui, it has been my endeavor always to give of my best whatever I had to give for the good of the public and I shall continue to so act according to the dictates of my own sense of what is right and wrong even though it may not meet with the approval of Mr. Wadman, his timid informers, or any other self-constituted critic.

Mr. Wadman, you are engaged in furthering a great and good cause, that of temperance. You daily advocate temperance in the use of drink. Would it not be wise for you to practise temperance in the use of your pen? Do not lessen your influence for good by intolerance and narrow-mindedness.

Yours for fairness,

D. H. CASE.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYERS.

Notice is hereby given to all employers of labor, other than domestic servants, that under Act 221, Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1915, they are required to secure compensation to their employees for accidents to which they may be liable, by taking out insurance for this purpose, or otherwise proving their ability to make such compensation in manner prescribed by law.

Attention is called to Section 48, of said act which reads:

"SECTION 48. If an employer fails to comply with the provisions of Section 46 he shall be liable to a penalty for every day during which such failure continues, of one dollar ($1.00) for every employee, to be recovered in an action brought by the chairman of the board in the name of the Territory. . . ."

"Furthermore, if any employer shall be in default under Section 46, for a period of thirty days, he may be enjoined by the circuit court from carrying on his business while such default continues."

Blanks for filing with the Board application for exemption, or notice of compliance with this act, may be had upon application to the Secretary, Industrial Accident Board, Wailuku.

Miss Converse is superintendent of the Wyoming State Hospital, and secretary of the board of state examiners for nurses for Wyoming, and Miss Bahen is in charge of the training school for nurses, at the Bishop Randall Hospital, Wyoming.

Bright Outlook for Island Mission Work

Conference of Evangelical Association Inspiring. Rev. R. B. Dodge, Named Delegate to National Council.

One of the impressive features of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association conference, which finished its 93rd annual meeting in Honolulu this week, was the laying of the cornerstone of the new $10,000 mission building on King street. The stone was laid by the Rev. Oramel H. Gulick, superintendent emeritus of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, and the ceremonies were witnessed by a very large crowd. The new building, which will stand on the property known as the old Castle homestead, is intended to be a monument to the pioneer missionaries of the Islands, who began the work nearly a century ago.

Big Receipts for Missions. The mission board reported through its treasurer, Theodore Richards, the receipt of $57,105.25 during the past year. Mr. Richards was again elected treasurer.

Rev. R. B. Dodge, of Maui, was elected third delegate to the National Council to be held at New Haven, Connecticut, in October.

Changes in the meeting time of the association were also decided upon. Hereafter the convention will be held each year during the latter part of June or the first part of July. In the matter of Island associations, there will hereafter be but one session each year, to be held in January or February.

Maui was well represented at the convention this year. Among the ministers from here, who took a prominent part in the proceedings, were: Rev. R. B. Dodge, of Waiehu, Rev. A. C. Bowditch, of Paia; Rev. Mr. Lake, from Hana, and Rev. L. B. Kaumehe-iwa, of Waiehu.

Waiehu Suffering From Water Shortage

Much complaint is being heard in Waiehu over the present scarcity of water. It is claimed that the retaining dam at the intake pool in the Valley leaks so that the pool is nearly dry. Together with this, Engineer Howel states that the pipe itself is badly obstructed by blisters which have formed inside, due to some decomposition of the metal. Whatever the cause the fact remains that the water in the mains is practically pau every afternoon.

It is stated by members of the loan fund commission that an extension of the pipe line will be one of the first things attended to, in which case there is possible an end in sight to the present unpleasant and dangerous situation.

Edwin C. Moore, of Kula, returned on Tuesday from Honolulu, where he had been for several weeks on business connected with the federal experiment station.

R. N. Neuman, of Keanae, left this week for Honolulu where he will take passage for the mainland. He will spend a vacation of several weeks on the coast before his return.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gooding Field, who have been spending several weeks in Waiehu, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Field, at the Maui Hotel, returned to Honolulu last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Walsh were passengers to the coast on this week's Mauna. They will spend several months on a vacation trip before returning to their home in Kahului.

Charles Putnam and F. E. McCall, instructors at Lahainaluna, are making a hiking trip through the crater and over the ditch trail this week. They left Waiehu on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Annie Wedehouse, of the Waiehu bank, was operated upon on Friday of last week for appendicitis, following a few days' illness. She is doing nicely and will soon be fully recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. John Saffery, of Olowalu, went to Honolulu last week to appear as witnesses before the Public Utilities Board, in the investigation of the Lahaina drowning accident some months ago.

J. H. Kunewa, tax assessor of Maui leaves today for Honolulu where he will take the Matsushita next Wednesday for a visit to the exposition at San Francisco. He expects to spend about two months in California.

Moses Kaunimahu, Joe Dorego and Manuel R. Medeiros, of Waiehu, left by the Niagara Thursday night for Vancouver, from where they will go to San Francisco to visit the exposition. They will be away about six weeks.

Father Bruno, Father Charles, Father Francis and Father Athanasius, who have been attending the annual retreat of the Catholic clergy in Honolulu for the past week, returned home by the Mauna Kea on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Hao, of Waiehu, died at her home on Thursday evening at 11 o'clock. She was over fifty years of age, and leaves four daughters, one of which is Mrs. Jos. Wilson, of Waiehu. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, interment taking place in Waiehu cemetery.

F. G. Krauss, of Kulaha, is expected home this morning from Honolulu, where he has been on business connected with his office of superintendent of extension work of the experiment station. He will be accompanied by J. M. Westgate, director of the station, who will remain on Maui a few days, after which he and Mr. Krauss will go to Hawaii on an inspection trip.

Miss M. A. Converse and Miss E. Bahen, of Wyoming, former parishioners of Rev. J. Charles Villiers, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Villiers, at the Rectory. Miss Converse is superintendent of the Wyoming State Hospital, and secretary of the board of state examiners for nurses for Wyoming, and Miss Bahen is in charge of the training school for nurses, at the Bishop Randall Hospital, Wyoming.

William Hansen, who was so badly injured a few weeks ago in falling from a ladder in the Waiehu Mill, was able to leave the hospital on Tuesday. He is almost entirely recovered from the effects of the terrific blow upon the head.

Court Holds Fish Don't Go With Pond

Famous Molokai Fish Pond Case Passed on By Supreme Court—Decision Raises New Questions.

What's fish pasture worth? This is a question which Attorney Dan Case is trying to have answered, because on behalf of a client he will probably soon be putting in a bill against Attorney Eugene Murphy for a goodly sum for the care of Murphy's fish property in a certain pond on Molokai. It is the famous fish pond case again.

The question has been brought up through a supreme court decision, rendered this week, in which the court apparently holds that when a man sells a fish pond he doesn't necessarily sell the fish that may be in it. About six months ago a Japanese named Kanayama bought at sheriff's sale the lease on the fish pond in question, only to be sued a little later for damages because he had taken fish from the pond. The suit was filed by Murphy, attorney for Akutogawa, the Japanese who had previously owned the lease, and who had given his attorney a bill of sale on the fish in the pond.

In the district magistrate's court judgment was rendered against Murphy, but on his appeal to the supreme court, this is reversed. The syllabus of the opinion of the higher court reads:—"The judgment is reversed and the cause remanded to the district magistrate of Molokai with instructions to enter judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $75 and costs."

The question is now what Murphy purposes doing to get his fish, which presumably are trespassing in the pond, and also what bill for pasture the owner of the pond can collect for caring for them all this time. And the end is not yet.

Molokai Again Wins In Singing Contest

Great Inter-Island Competition Due of Chief Features of Evangelical Conference.

For the second time in succession Molokai has won the Kate Atherton banner in the big inter-island song contest, which is one of the features of the annual Hawaiian Evangelical Conference. The Molokai chorus won the banner at the Maui conference for the first time last year, taking it from Hawaii, which had held it for the two previous years. The contest took place last Monday night in the Opera House, in Honolulu, in the presence of a very large audience.

When Mrs. W. F. Frear, as chief of the judges, made the announcement of the award and presented the banner to Leader Kalaau the packed house burst into tumultuous applause. It had been generally believed throughout the house after the contest that Molokai would be given the award and accordingly the decision was the more popular. Besides Mrs. Frear, the judges were Miss L. K. Aho, Arthur Hudson, Miss Agnes Judd and Rev. L. B. Kaumehe-iwa.

Conditions of Contest. The conditions of the contest were the compulsory singing of one song, "The Shadows of the Evening Hours," and of another song to be selected or composed by the competing choir, the words taken from some standard literary collection. The judges made their awards on the following points—appropriateness and melody of selection, attack and ending, tempo and spirit, enunciation, expression and shading—and their decision in favor of Molokai was unanimous.

Under the leadership of Mr. Kalaau this organization sang with the effect of a big pipe organ. The expression shading was remarkable and both of its selections were well suited to the voices. Oahu had greater volume but not the timbre. The Hawaii chorus and that of Kauai made good showings but did not approach Molokai for excellence.

A pretty feature was an added number of the program when the Molokai chorus, while the judges were making their selection sang a selection under the direction of Solomon K. Fuller, former leader of the organization. The applause was so long and vociferous that the chorus was compelled to encore. Incidentally, Giuseppe Creatore has nothing on Fuller when it comes to eccentricity of baton waving.

Some Parts of Maui Dry, but Others—

The rainiest place on Maui, last year, according to the hydrographic survey records, was in the Waiehu valley, where the government rain gauges showed a total of 469 inches—38 feet, 4 inches. But Kauai has the real record of over 600 inches (50 feet). Just how much more rain fell is not known for the rain gauge spilled over.

Board Was Unfair Claims Hitchcock

Former Molokai District Overseer Says Had No Opportunity to Defend Himself Against False Charge.

H. R. Hitchcock, late district overseer for Molokai, who was refused re-appointment by the board of supervisors at its last meeting, on recommendation of an investigation committee, claims that he was treated unfairly in not being permitted to appear before the board and present his defense to the charges made against him. In the following letter to the Maui News he gives his version of the charge that he used county mules for his own work. He says: Editor Maui News:

The report, supposed to be impartial, of the committee, consisting of Drummond and Pail, sent to Molokai to look into the charges made against me as district overseer, had several charges on which they made their report. The first and last are all that need to be referred to here.

As you have the report, I will not bother to quote, but say that every thing in section 1 is false, and was never brought to my attention by the committee, while on Molokai. I first knew of it while in Waiehu on the 12th inst. and secured a copy of the report. The last charge, that of using county property for my own private use, whether by authority or not, was fully explained to the committee over here, by Supervisor Meyer, under whose instructions, and the rush order of the County Engineer, to do certain work at once; said work being to haul the lumber for Niheu and Kalaanui bridges, a haul of nine miles over a very steep grade.

The county has four mules over here, and when the order was received one was at the lower end of the island, on much needed repair work.

Supervisor Meyer ordered me to loan a California mule to fill out the four-mule team and get the lumber up at once. I also received written instructions from the board of supervisors, dated March 12, to hire out side teams for county work. My mule worked eight days for the county, and later, when the county mules were not busy, I took back the eight days' work. I was told by the investigating committee, after this explanation had been made, that there was no need of my going to Waiehu to go before the full board. I relied on that statement, and who now is guilty of bad faith and intentionally clouding the issue, I leave to the public to decide.

My statement to the board on July 12th, at their request, when they found I was in Waiehu, if it could have been given when the report was made would have settled the whole thing, but the committee did not want me to be heard, which is plainly shown by the stand taken by Pail, the Monday, July 12, that I gave my side of the story.

Yours truly, H. R. HITCHCOCK. Pukoo, July 17, 1915.

Chairman S. E. Kalama of the board of supervisors, and County Sheriff Clem Crowell, spent several days this week on Molokai on business.

Maui Japanese Maid In Love With Indian

Follows Chief Hailstorm to Hilo, According to Hilo Police—Fascinator Not Aware of Heart Havoc.

Romance, unknown to the pursuer or other passengers, was a passenger on the Mauna Kea, on last Wednesday's voyage. Only the little winged god, the piercer of hearts, knew he had shot his dart and started Romance on a voyage to Hilo.

Cupid's aim was true when he sighted his arrow at pretty little fourteen-year-old Ume Sakagawa of Waiehu, Maui, as comely as she is young, but his arrow failed to penetrate the heart of Chief Hailstorm whom he had selected as his second victim.

That Romance captained by Cupid had designed the union of a daughter of the Orient with a native American would not have been known if it were not for the objection of the missus' parents and the interference of the police.

By the last mail came a request to Deputy Sheriff Martin from the Maui authorities to locate the girl. Almost concurrently there appeared at the police station a Japanese youth from Maui, who said he suspected that he might be accused of luring the girl here from her home. He denied any such intentions and declared that it was the girl's infatuation for the Indian chief with his brilliant war paint and feathers which had caused her to run away from home. Not even he had suspected her reasons for coming here until he accidentally learned of her infatuation for the Indian. The Japanese youth told the police where the girl could be found. She was staying with some Japanese friends.

The police investigated the boy's story and closely questioned the girl. They learned that Romance and Cupid while leading her from home had also protected her from harm. Chief Hailstorm does not even know the girl or of her love for him, the police say. She was returned to her home in Maui last night—Hilo Tribune.

The local police are not at all certain that the Indian had anything to do with the girl's trip to Hilo. They are inclined to believe that a man of her own nationality was the real reason. The girl herself told the police upon her return that she wants to be a teacher, and wanted to attend the summer school in Honolulu; that it was impossible to go direct to Honolulu owing to opposition of her family, so she had attempted to throw them off the track by going by way of Hilo.

RESIDENCE BRINGS GOOD PRICE.

V. A. Vetlesen has bought the house and lot on High street, which he has occupied for the past year or more, from W. E. Bal. The property consists of a lot of 291-1000 acres with house and other buildings. The purchase price was $2500.

TO REORGANIZE WAILUKU BAND.

An effort is being made to reorganize the Waiehu band. Already several of the members of the former organization have signified their willingness to join the new band. There will be a meeting of the former members at the Waiehu Town Hall next Monday night at time plans will be discussed. All those interested are requested to be present.

NEW OFFICE BUILDING.

Workmen began yesterday to move the little building at the corner of Main and High streets, occupied by Eugene Murphy as a law office building on the corner. The property is owned by Mrs. A. J. Rodrigues, and the building when finished will probably be occupied by Attorneys Case, Murphy and Vincent. From plans prepared, the building will be quite an improvement to the neighborhood.

Batting Averages of Local Players.

The following averages of base hits and stolen bases have been computed from the records of players who have participated in three or more games. It will be noted that Harold Baldwin, of Puunene, played four games, was at bat 13 times and made 7 hits, which gives him a percentage of .462. Phillips, of Puunene, and Foster Robinson, of Paia, come second and third respectively, with J. Kahananui, of Puunene, fourth.

Foster Robinson still leads in the number of stolen bases, having made five in seven games played, and several other players are tied for second place.

In the final averages only those players who have participated in seven or more games will be considered, and prizes awarded to the player with the best batting average and the one with the highest number of stolen bases:

Boat's Crew Drunk Witnesses Testify

Claims Booze Had Part in Lahaina Tragedy—Only One of Crew Tried to Save Passengers.

HONOLULU, July 20.—Three witnesses testified yesterday at a hearing of the public utilities commission that the Inter-Island accident at Lahaina in which two deck passengers were drowned on the night of May 1 was chargeable to the drunkenness of the boat's crew. Mr. and Mrs. John Saffrey and Kate Akiau, all Hawaiians, were the witnesses.

The crew also was composed of Hawaiians and the witnesses based their judgment on the boisterous scraps of conversation in Hawaiian they overheard, although they had not seen the crew drinking.

Evidence which had not been brought before the commission yet, but which is current gossip on the bench at Lahaina, runs to the same effect. It might be difficult to reduce this gossip to testimony that would stand the scrutiny of a responsible board, but the talk there is that a number of the boatmen, including the steersman of the second boat, which was capsized, were drunk when they landed, even after the sobering effect of their fright and the swim to shore. Only One Attempted Rescue.

There were four oarsmen and one steersman in the capsized boat. Only the steersman made any attempt to rescue the floundering passengers, the witnesses testified yesterday. There was no ship's officer in command and, if the boat steerer gave any orders, either they were not heard or he did not have authority enough to command obedience from them.

Saffrey is a veteran boatman himself, and often has piloted the way through the treacherous Lahaina channel. He warned the boat steerer that he was off his course, but his wife and Kate Akiau confirmed his testimony that the boat steerer made him no reply.

Testimony Was Surprise.

Nothing was brought out at the previous hearing to suggest that the crew of either of the Kilauea's two boats which landed at Lahaina that night was boisterous, or drunken, and the testimony taken yesterday was a distinct surprise.

From the earnest manner in which Chairman Forbes has been conducting the hearings, it is certain that the board will wish either to disprove or confirm positively the charge made.

Even if the sailors who formed the crew of the capsized boat came aboard the ship exhilarated, they should have had time to sober up in the six-hour trip from Honolulu to Lahaina, unless there was liquor on board. No testimony to that effect has been heard.

By Authority.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE SECOND CIRCUIT, TERRITORY OF HAWAII: At Chambers. MARY BRANCO ICU vs. ISAAC ICU. To ISAAC ICU; Libellee: ICU. You are hereby notified of the pendency of the above action for divorce, and that the same has been set for hearing on the 30th day of September, 1915, at 10 o'clock A.
