AUSTRIAN WARSHIP HERE

IS NAMED FOR THE FAMOUS OLD DONAU.

Original Boat Put Into this Port in Distress Thirty Years Ago—Donau Going to Nagasaki.

After a long voyage from San Jose, Guatemala the Austrian training ship Donau reached port this morning and anchored in naval row. She is a trim full rigged ship with steam attachment but inasmuch as the steam power is used for only short distances and entering and departing from harbors the long trip of 34 days was due to the poor weather. The Donau is a vessel of 2500 tons and is eight years old.

The vessel has an equipment of 340 men of which 24 are young naval officers. The majority of the men aboard are seamen who are being systematically trained for the navy. She is on her way to Nagasaki, to join the Asiatic Squadron of Austria. She left Austria last August and has been cruising in South American waters. She will return home via the Suez canal this year. The vessel is quite a fine looking boat and is some thing like the training ship Adams which was here recently although she is a much newer and better equipped vessel than the old American ship. The vessel is equipped with 10 four inch guns, 4 rapid firing guns and 1 saluting gun, all of the Hotchkiss variety. The vessel is built of both iron and wood and is named for the famous river of Austria, which participated in the famous sea battle of Lissa when Austria fought Italy in 1866. The older vessel went out of commission some years ago and the training ship was named in honor of her.

The vessel is commanded by Captain Anton Paus. The other officers are lieutenants, Johann Hesse, Alexander Hansa, Ottakar Schubert, Franz Martinek, Richard Florio; ensigns, Virgil Sandor, Nicholas Stankovic, Karl Stockert, Egan Popover, Emerick Scholze, Norbert Mikotit; surgeons, Dr. Krock Jacob, Dr. Anton Lisowicki; engineer, Konrad Blaha; paymaster, Anton Muller, cadets, Messrs. Berber, Schalliaschek, Bena, Mazurino, Heinz, Kloss Straub, Willisch, Wilczek, Muller, Jester, Hild, Leist, Oraston, Seocovick, Hofmann, Gylek, Gobanz, Woss, Yvor, Honsell Kastner and Potosink.

A number of these officers are baronets of the Austrian nobility. Baron E. von Rakovsky, of the diplomatic service is aboard the vessel. He is on a special mission to visit the different consulates of his government. The Baron ranks very high in official circles of his country. He will call upon F. A. Schaefer the local Austrian consul.

The advent of the training ship has been more than passing interest to the older residents of Honolulu as many of them recall the visit which the old Donau paid to this port about the year 1871. At that time the Donau put into this place in distress, being encountered rough weather. Aboard her were an admiral and his staff. Her crew was a picked body of men, all of the officers belonging to the nobility. In addition, there was a diplomatic corps aboard the vessel. They continued on their journey to the Orient but the vessel and officers remained in Honolulu a long time, as extensive repairs had to be made to the warship. During her stay here two fatalities occurred among the officers. One of them the son of one of Austria's leading ministers committed suicide in the British club. Debt was the cause of the deed. Another officer was drowned by falling off a dock during a heavy rain storm.

The new Donau will remain in port about two weeks before starting for Nagasaki.

FOUR MEN REPORTED LOST

Four fishermen are thought to have been lost between here and Waimanalo. Their names are Manuel and John de Ponte, Antonio de Costa and another whose name is not known. All of them are Portuguese. Mrs. Manuel de Ponte notified the police today of the missing men. She says they took a boat eight days ago to go fishing to Waimanalo and nothing has since been heard from them. Her husband made this trip once before and it took him only two days to do it. As the weather has been very stormy within the last two weeks it is feared that the entire crew had been lost.

EMMELUTH SCORES DOLE

ANIMATED DEBATE ON THE FIRE CLAIMS.

Judiciary Committee to Report on Claims Commission Bill and Finance Committee on Means to Pay.

The only real debate in the House of Representatives this morning was on the Chinatown fire claims. It was precipitated by a motion by Emmeluth in relation to Gillilan's bill, House Bill No. 4, providing for a commission to adjudicate these claims, and for an appropriation of over $50,000 to pay for the adjudication.

Emmeluth's motion was as follows: "That House Bill No. 4 be referred to a special committee, with instructions to report to this house their findings and recommendations thereon; that said committee be and is hereby directed to bring in a companion bill providing for the payment of all claims immediately after the same shall be determined under the provisions of House Bill No. 4."

Representative Makekau said he favored the resolution except that part of it which provided for a companion bill. During the debate there was considerable back and forth talk between Emmeluth and Makekau.

Emmeluth supporting his motion said: "On the twentieth of this month a year ago the fire in Chinatown took place. The people who lost by that fire are still waiting for whatever compensation is due them. And they will wait till kingdom come for it if this bill No. 4 is passed without the passage of the companion bill. I am surprised that Representative Makekau should object to the companion bill. Yesterday he was on the floor urging that claims of the poor as against the rich in this very matter of compensation. What benefit will it be to the poor if a court of claims is established but no provision made for paying the claims when ascertained. A year ago a commission was appointed, at the direction of the President at Washington to adjudicate this matter. That commission fell flat because of the lack of backbone exhibited at that time. This bill provides that the Governor shall appoint one of the members of this commission. I shall work against any refusal to vote this bill No. 4 until a companion bill is brought in providing for the payment of the claims. I do not think that Governor Dole or anybody else, who showed as little backbone as he did in this matter should have any say in the appointment of this commission."

Representative Heckley thought that if the House thought it proper to entertain a bill of this kind it was also proper to entertain a bill providing for the payment of the claims when established. He had some doubts of the wisdom of the bill, but as a member of a commission which would last two years perhaps and the bill itself showed that it would be an extensive one.

Representative Robertson said that while the determination of the claims and their payment were connected they were different matters. The bill providing for the court might properly go to the Judiciary committee. While the appropriation for the payment of the claims was properly a matter of finance. There was difference of opinion as to how the claims should be paid. Some favored a bond issue, some favored a special tax. Some favored paying out of general revenues. It was a very important matter. To refer it to a special committee would be to refer it to three members. To refer it to the Judiciary committee and then direct the finance committee to consider ways and means of paying these claims, would give the subject and the house the benefits of the work and thought of ten members.

Emmeluth said he was willing to accept Robertson's idea of the best method of procedure, and permission being granted, he withdrew his motion for a special committee and a companion bill and moved the reference of the bill to the Judiciary committee. This motion prevailed. Robertson then offered the following resolution which was also adopted: "Resolved that the committee on finance be requested to forthwith take up the consideration of the matter of the ways and means of paying claims referred to in House Bill No. 4, and that they submit a bill or bills to provide such ways and means."

The House then took a recess to 2 o'clock.

A QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE

Cecil Brown Tells How It Happened.

Makes a Statement Regarding the Occurrence of Yesterday Afternoon in the Senate—The Tax Commission.

When the Senate began business this morning Senator Cecil Brown arose to a question of privilege and stated that he wished to make a statement in regard to the occurrence of yesterday afternoon in order that the same might appear on the records of the Senate.

"The first question that arose," said Mr. Brown, "upon which there was a difference of opinion was that of the right of the President to vote on a call of ayes and noes. I claim that the President had no such right on a first ballot and could only vote in case of a tie; and to support that contention will read the rules relating to the duties of the President, providing that he can vote in case of a tie or by ballot on the House permits the Speaker to vote on ayes and noes, but the Senate does not."

"Understanding that to be the decision, I appealed from the chair to the house. This matter was not debatable and the member from Lahaina arose to speak upon it and I stood on the point of order, was ordered down and refused to be seated because I was plainly simply insisting upon following the rules."

"If I had felt that I was wrong, I would apologize; but I do not feel so. I lost temper at the time, and probably if I had not a part of what happened would never have occurred."

Dr. Russel ruled that the statement of Mr. Brown should be spread upon the journal.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE PRINTING OF SENATE BILLS.

Your Committee on Printing, after having called on the various printing houses of the city with the view of securing the lowest bids for the printing of Senate bills, begs leave to report as follows: Bulletin 1.50 per page, Hawaiian Gazette 1.50 per page, Kuokoa (Ind.-Testa) 1.50 per page. Your committee therefore recommends that the printing of the Senate bills be done equally to the printing houses that have submitted bids, this with the consent of the Senate.

Mr. Carter asked if bids had been asked of other printing offices.

Mr. Kalauokalani replied that other tenders had been asked, but none had been received.

Cecil Brown read his numerous bills by title and they went to the Printing Committee.

Mr. Achi also read the bills of which he had given notice and the same went to the Printing Committee.

I hereby give notice of my intention to introduce a bill providing for the exemption of certain personal property from attachment, execution, distress and forced sales of every kind and description and to repeal all laws in conflict with said bill.

Mr. Carter: I hereby give notice of my intention to introduce a bill providing an amendment to the Penal Laws, Section 764 and 765, relating to merchandise licenses.

Estimates of the Governor were thereupon taken up. Cecil Brown moved that it be referred to a committee with instruction to reduce the estimates to the form of a bill.

On motion of Senator Achi the estimates went to the Judiciary committee. The House concurrent resolution on the subject of taxation was then taken up. Cecil Brown moved that the resolution be adopted. He here proceeded to discuss at length the subject of taxation and the duties of the committee.

Mr. Carter spoke strongly in support of Mr. Brown.

Mr. Baldwin and other Senators continued the discussion until the recess hour.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
When the Senate resumed its sitting this afternoon Cecil Brown moved the concurrent resolution in regard to taxes be referred to the Ways and Means committee adding Senator Baldwin to the committee.

Mr. White offered an amendment, proposing Senator Paris in place of Baldwin of the department was then taken up. Cecil Brown moved that the resolution be adopted. He here proceeded to discuss at length the subject of taxation and the duties of the committee.

CITIZENS ASK FOR THE THINGS THEY WANT.

House Asks the Superintendent of Public Works "What About It?" Regarding a Wharf Never Built.

The House this morning propounded its first interrogatory to an executive department. It was offered by J. W. Keuikoa and is as follows: "Question. In the session of the legislature of 1898 an item amounting to $200 was set apart in the appropriation bill for the purpose of extending the wharf at Keauhou, North Kona. Why was the work delayed and what has become of the money?"

The printing committee through President, reported the following bills printed on 4, 7, 11, and 12. Robertson's bill, House Bill No. 3, amending section 1367 of the civil code, giving any Judge of the Circuit Court of the first circuit, sitting at chambers jurisdiction to appoint a guardian for any person liable to guardianship has property in it was taken up on second reading. It was passed, ordered type-written and put on the calendar of the order of the day for Thursday. The act in addition to providing for the appointment of guardians for non-residents provides that proceedings for the appointment of guardians and for all matters relating to guardian and ward shall be brought in the circuit where the person or a majority of the persons reside, in behalf of whom such proceedings are begun, but if any such person resides out of the territory the proceedings shall be brought in the first circuit.

Representative Dickey's bill making an appropriation to repair damages by the recent storm passed second reading.

Kumaike introduced his bill to provide a flag for the territory.

In the House this morning after the minutes had been corrected and approved Paole presented a bill relating to highways and bridges. It was referred to the committee on public lands. A petition for a new school building on Molokai was presented by Representative Heckley. It was referred to the committee on education. A petition from Puna was presented by Haahoe asking an appropriation of $12,000 for the construction of a road. It was laid on the table to be considered with the appropriation bill.

Representative Dickey brought up the amendment to the rules of which he gave notice yesterday. He said that every morning after the reading and translation of the minutes, there were several minutes of absolute silence, like that of a Quaker meeting, lasting until he got up and moved that the minutes be approved. He saw no reason why the Speaker should not declare the minutes approved if there were no objection. It was to accommodate a Quaker petition. The undersigned, residents and qualified voters of Puna, Island of Hawaii, in the Territory of Hawaii, beg to call the attention of your honorable bodies to the existing necessity for the construction of a public road in said district, through a place called Kaola, and running through the villages of Kaimu and Kailapana to Kahaulaia a distance of about 8 miles, and we pray that an appropriation of $12,000 be made therefor." It is signed by fifty citizens.

By J. K. Paole a petition signed by 54 persons for an appropriation of $25,000 for two years be made for bridges, highway and breakwater along the seacoast in the second precinct of the Fifth Representative District, Island of Oahu.

ALLEN'S ROUGH TRIP.
The American bark S. C. Allen arrived this morning 18 days from San Francisco, after one of the meanest trips she has ever had on that run. She encountered head winds nearly all the way down and the sea was very rough, breaking over the vessel. The Allen started with a cargo of 255 hogs but 28 of the animals died en route. There was a cargo of general merchandise for T. H. Davies and Co. Ten passengers also came on the vessel.

SHIP'S OFFICERS CLEARED

NO BLAME ATTACHED TO CAPT. NYSTROM.

Examination Conducted by The United States Inspectors of Steam Halls and Boilers in re Surprise.

An official investigation into the cause of the wreck of the gasoline schooner Surprise at Koloa a week ago last Friday, was held this morning by Messrs. Whitney and Leathers, Federal Inspectors of hulls and boilers.

Captain Nystrom the master of the lost vessel, was the principal witness. He testified that he was lying off of Koloa unloading freight when late in the afternoon a strong west, southwest gale sprang up. The vessel was forced toward the shore. Seeing the danger he had both anchors cast and started the engine ahead at full speed to try and buck his way out. The storm proved too great however and slowly forced the vessel onto the reef. Every thing possible was done to pull her off but she stuck hard and fast and had to be eventually abandoned.

Mate Schwarz also testified in the investigation. He corroborated the statements of Captain Nystrom concerning the causes which led to the vessel going aground. The question of Schwarz having come away from the Surprise in the first boat as soon as it was launched was brought up during the course of the testimony. He explained that he had made every effort possible to get back to the vessel but the storm was too strong. Captain Nystrom corroborated these statements in every particular.

As the result of the inquiry the Federal Inspectors returned a verdict exonerating the officers from all blame for the loss of the Surprise.

SEVERAL BOATS ON FIRE

ROSAMONDS' GASOLINE LAUNCH CAUSES FLIKIA.

Concord and one of Olga's Boats Were Blistered by Flames Which Started on Launch.

But for the prompt action of Lima Hopu boatman No. 3 there might have been a serious fire at Brewer's wharf last night about 8:30 o'clock. As it happened, several boats were badly scorched and the wharf caught fire.

The several men from the schooner Rosamond were engaged last evening in overhauling the little gasoline launch which belongs to the schooner. The intention was to get the smaller craft into condition as the Rosamond leaves for Francisco in a couple of weeks and there will be more demand for the launch during the days immediately preceding the departure.

In some manner, the pipe from the gasoline tank to the engine was opened or else sprung a leak for without an instant warning the whole boat seemed to burst into flames. The gas had ignited from a lantern which the men were using in their work. Both of them sprang into the water to escape from being burned. The launch was moored close to the port bow of the wharf just under the Kaikiki side of the schooner Concord while on the starboard side of the launch lay a small boat from the schooner Olga. The flames from the gasoline spread so rapidly that both of these boats as well as the wharf caught fire.

Lima heard the cries of the men, saw the flames and lost not an instant in hurrying to the scene of the fire. He succeeded in extinguishing the fire with several bucketful of water.

It was found that the launch was badly blackened midships although no material damage was done to her. The sides of the Olga's boat were burned and the bowsprit and figurehead of the Concord also received a blistering and slight burning. The side of the wharf was also on fire but Lima succeeded in extinguishing this blaze.

THE ROCK CRUSHER.
Why It Was Located Near the Insane Asylum.

Road Supervisor Campbell this morning said in relation to the grand jury's report on the location of the rock crusher near the insane asylum: "At the time the grand jury were there the rock crusher had just been started and made much more noise than it does now. Now it is muffled and as it is a hundred yards away from the asylum, I do not think the noise can now be a serious matter. In regard to the noise of blasting it is only once a day and notice is given of it. When the big blast is made the noise is slight because the big blasts are far under the rock. When simply a boulder is blasted the noise is greater. The crusher was located there because the land belonged to the government, the rock was good and it was conveniently located in relation to streets that had to be macadamized. Located where it was King and other streets could be macadamized at a cost for crushed rock of 20 or 25 cents a yard as against a dollar if the crusher were located elsewhere."

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.
"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well-known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drugs." Sold by all dealers. STABBING AFFAIR AT SEA

WHALER ANDREW HICKS HAS A MAN IN IRONS.

He Inflicted Several Ugly Knife Wounds on a Shipmate—Wounded Man Taken to the Hospital.

The American whaling bark Andrew Hicks 24 days from San Francisco beat the mouth of the harbor with one of her crew in irons and another lying in a dangerous condition from the effect of a stabbing affray which occurred on the vessel two days ago.

The vessel was sighted about 10 o'clock this morning but nothing was known of there having been any trouble aboard her until noon when Dr. Wilson the quarantine boarding officer and the pilot went out to her. Captain Whaley the master of the bark told these officers that there had been a fight among several of the crew and one of them had been badly stabbed. The man who wielded the knife had been put in irons. Just what caused the affray was not told by the captain. Dr. Wilson visited the sick man and examined his wounds. It was found that the fellow had received several severe knife wounds in the left shoulder, his assistant evidently having stabbed him while he was in the act of turning. Captain Whaley did not know the exact condition of the man's wounds and asked Dr. Wilson if he thought the sailor would die from the injuries. Dr. Wilson advised that the man be removed to the hospital on shore here. It is not thought that the wounds will be fatal.

Inasmuch as the assault was in irons and the affray occurred on the high seas the captain did not take any steps to turn him over to the authorities. This action may be determined by the development of the victim's wounds.

Captain Whaley came ashore about 2 o'clock this afternoon to enter his vessel at the customs house.

He intends to remain here for some time for the purpose of getting some men shipping more men in his crew. The vessel will probably not come in to port however but will merely lie outside until the captain takes his departure. Evidently he does not desire to run the risk of losing his men by sentences so he will keep them out of temptation. The Andrew Hicks is making her regular whaling tour. She will probably proceed to Guam waters from here and then go to the whaling grounds of the Japanese coasts and thence into colder latitudes.

CAPTAIN MACAULEY RETURNS.
Captain Macauley of the customs service returned this morning from Waimea, Kauai, on the W. G. Hall.

COURT NOTES.
In the matter of M. G. Silva vs. C. S. Desky, damages, the Supreme Court today filed a decision in favor of plaintiff. The amount involved is a little over $1,200, and the claim arises from a land transaction at Hilo of some months ago.

John H. Wilson was accused yesterday of being in contempt of court for having taken sand from below high water mark at Waikiki, contrary to the court's injunction. This morning Mr. Wilson came in with an answer, however, that seems to shed a different light on the matter. It seems that he took the sand, but by surveys and stakes, the sand came from above high water mark. On account of the answer consideration was deferred to tomorrow morning.

A LIFE POLICY.
Many young men go into the building associations and savings banks to secure a home, which is all right if they live and continue in good health; but how much better to insure their efforts for a home by securing a life policy and thus avoid the loss of what home to the family at a time when they are most sadly in need of a home free from debt. The Provident Savings Life Assurance Society of New York is one of the strongest companies in the world and is represented in Honolulu by I. R. Burns; office in Magoon Building.

"THE ANGLE LAMP" The Light that Never Fails

It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the Islands people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with this lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (cost is no object to some people) but besides being infinitely cheaper it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a revelation to every one who uses it, and simply demonstrates that the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance. THE ANGLE LAMP never smokes, smells or gives any trouble, is lighted and extinguished as easily as gas, and is the ideal light from every standpoint. We carry these lamps from $1.50 up.

Overworked Nerves

and wasting vitality make their presence known through headaches, dizziness, inability to sleep, loss of appetite and a general run-down condition of the system. These signs are sometimes accompanied by neuralgia, hysteria, rheumatism or nervous prostration in some other form. To remove these troubles, cure the nerves. They need feeding, strengthening and building up, and nothing will do this so quickly and so surely as Dr. Miles' Nerveine. This truly remarkable medicine is gaining hundreds of new friends every day. Here is a surveyor from Decatur, Ind., Mr. G. E. McKean, who writes: "A chronic stomach trouble, which my physician was unable to overcome, so wore on my nervous system that I broke down with nervous prostration. I could not sleep day or night except in fitful naps; could scarcely eat any kind of food and wasted away to a mere shadow. After spending over $500.00 in a vain search for relief, I was prevailed upon to try Dr. Miles' Nerveine. Relief came immediately. I took six bottles and today am a well man." Dr. Miles' Nerveine is sold at all druggists on a positive guarantee. Write for free advice and booklet to Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

NEED OF HUMANE SOCIETY

MRS. CRAFT WRITES OF EFFORTS TO PROTECT ANIMALS.

A Large Field in Honolulu for the Noble Work. History of Cruelty to Horses and Number of Arrests.

This will be the last issue of the Humane Educator. It is the twelfth number, completing a year. Through the paper and the movement it represents have been well supported in some quarters, there is not the general public co-operation which it is felt should be given to such an enterprise. The work that falls to the duty of a Humane Society in Honolulu is no light burden, and the writer, after some ten years' efforts which it is her pleasure to know have saved many a dumb brute from ill-treatment, and which, it is hoped, have also helped to spread in our community the lessons of kindness in dealing with animals, intends now to lay aside the work and leave it to other hands. A few words as to the situation in Honolulu will not be amiss at this time. Honolulu has no Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. In this respect it is far behind other American cities of its size. While they have well supported organizations of large membership, which take the lead in looking after the enforcement of laws regarding the treatment of animals, Honolulu has left the task to a few willing individuals, who have spent time, energy and money for years past, in the effort to see that the laws of civilization with regard to dumb brutes were properly enforced. A special officer has been kept at work on a salary, paid by the embryo society. He has had no money from the public treasury, and his salary has come out of a very few pockets. It remains to be seen whether the public of Honolulu will bestir itself now that those who have carried on the work are withdrawing, and see that an officer is kept on duty and properly supported. Argument as to the need of a society is superfluous. We need only refer to the annual report of our so-called society for 1900. It shows no less than 840 cases of ill-treatment of animals looked into by the officer employed during the year. The officer found 285 horses and mules in harness that were unfit for work and were being cruelly driven; in 144 cases he prevented the overloading of vehicles, or over-driving of the helpless animals attached to them, and in 67 cases he found it necessary to kill animals to put them out of misery for which their owners had no sympathy. These figures should rouse some of our community to action. How many of us would stand by and see a helpless brute suffer at the hands of an inhuman owner and not lift a finger to interfere? Instinctive horror of cruelty of all kinds is almost universal in civilized mankind, and ninety-nine men out of every hundred are ready to come forward with indignant remonstrance, or even angry interference, when they see an unrelenting animal put to needless or excessive pain. Yet what is the difference between passively shrugging the shoulders and passing by when a useless lash draws blood on the flanks of a horse to urge it to a task it cannot perform—perhaps, because all the weight of its load drags against raw flesh on a sore shoulder, and only ignoring the known facts because they are not presented to actual vision? The figures are before the public: There were 849 cases of cruelty to animals in Honolulu during 1900; there will be approximately 849 cases of cruelty to animals in 1901. We can predict this just as the statistician can predict for any year the number of births and deaths, the number of murders and suicides in the country—one year is much like another. Shall the 849 dumb brutes that will be tortured in Honolulu this year have no one to make for them the protest they cannot make for themselves? Of course there are the police to look after the matter. But it is no reflection upon the police of Honolulu to say that a special officer, employed and backed by a Humane Society, is needed. In no city is the ordinary police force to be relied upon to do the work of a Humane Society, a fact which is sufficiently glaringly evidenced by the case of so many such societies. The local police have well supported the work of our special officer. But in Honolulu, as in other cities, the ordinary policeman does not interfere with cruelty cases except in rare instances. He is a patrolman keeping the peace and making arrests only when he sees flagrant violations of law. There is a field for noble work on the lines suggested, not only in Honolulu, but all over the islands, and not merely for lovers of animals—there is an educational side to the question which is of vast importance. It has before been stated in these columns that humane education lowers criminal records. This is a truism that needs no repetition. It is as evident as that one crime leads to another—that tendencies of disposition, like muscles, grow harder and stronger through exercise. There is a story, told in every nursery, that the Emperor Nero, as a boy, loved to amuse himself by kicking dogs. Taking the story as an illustration, perhaps if he had been turned to other amusements, the murder-loving side of his nature would have developed less. To friends and supporters, the Humane Educator gives thanks. It repeats its thanks to the high sheriff and the police department for their assistance, and earnestly hopes they will soon have a full-fledged Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to support in the same way. MRS. HELEN W. CRAFT, Clayton, New Mexico.

DEPORTATION.

Senator Hoar could not resist remarking, apropos of the summary deportation of the American editor from Manila, that deportations like that constituted one of the grievances of our ancestors against George III.—Springfield Republican.

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM.

From the Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C. The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and feeling instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. LIBRARIES.

The bill for forming libraries for the schools throughout the Islands has got strong backing, and the probability is that it will pass. As first drawn it was not considered to have enough scope, but as now drawn it has a very considerable scope, and aims not only at a school library, but at an intellectual center in every district of the Territory.

The idea is eminently a good one, and if the Legislature will vote the money, and the money is available, one can have a set of most valuable educational centers throughout the group. The libraries, as projected, are more mere circulating libraries with lots of novels and stories. They aim at raising the taste of the reading community. The libraries propose to have fiction, the best of fiction, but those who are working for them set their faces strongly against ephemeral fiction. It would be iniquitous to ask any community to pay for detective and burglar stories. What is wanted is an intellectual regeneration if one can get it.

As far as novel reading is concerned, however, previous ages have shown that the novel or the story, or the minstrel's song is what wins the attention of the most important portion of the human race. So there will have to be novels, but they must be well selected and they must not be goody goody.

The libraries, if established by the Legislature, and properly administered will prove of almost incalculable benefit. They will not only help the education of the rising generation, but it will make through the pure light of reason far better citizens than one or two who have won unsavory reputations here.

THE GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury returned its report yesterday, finished up its work and was discharged. The Grand Jury and the First Circuit Court do not seem to agree in their views upon certain matters. The Circuit Court takes one view, the Grand Jury takes one diametrically opposite, and even where there is apparent agreement, the views of the Grand Jury are expressed in very different language from that of court, and one might say that the report is calm, and cool, while the charge was garish and hectic. This is no doubt the result of temperament more than anything else. To some it is given to look upon matters from a calm standpoint, to others it is natural to regard exactly the same thing from the standpoint of denunciation. Both are valuable in the world. One supplies the fire, the other gives the balance wheel of life.

The Insane Asylum has now been called attention to twice by the Circuit Court. The Court's point of view has been the absence of a resident physician. The grand jury agrees that as in similar institutions there are resident physicians, it would be a good thing here, but a resident physician might not after all be any improvement upon the present non-resident physician. The point which the Grand Jury makes is that a government rock crusher has been established in the close vicinity of the asylum, and that its constant booming is detrimental to the proper rest of the patients, a point which the Court apparently never considered. The charge of the Court was that the physician, the report of the grand jury was upon unpleasant surroundings, and the location of the Insane Asylum should be changed. Like other institutions in and around Honolulu, it has outlived its usefulness. When first established some forty years or so ago, the location was perfectly satisfactory. It was isolated and quiet. Indeed at that time the location might be regarded as being in the country. But the time that has elapsed has changed the city, and the location is no longer satisfactory. The same is true of many other public institutions.

Warden Henry very justly objects to the present location of the Prison. Warden Low who preceded him had similar objections. Both have proved excellent wardens, but both felt that their hands were unfortunately tied up in making reforms by the antiquated form of building and by its position. Whether the Legislature will grant the money for the removal of the jail from its present quarters to a more convenient place, and have it built in conformity with modern ideas upon penology rests with that body. The wardens, the executive officers, have to make the best that can be done, with what is given into their hands.

The same is true of the Reform School. When it was first established it had a satisfactory location for its day, and the buildings were then considered adequate. There were moreover a considerable number of taro patches belonging to the institution, and the boys raised their own food. But the Gibson government sold the taro patches, when it desired to turn the school into a training school for a future navy, which never materialized. Another Minister of Education took away a portion of the land remaining to add to the play ground of the Kailani school, and the present buildings might be used as an Industrial School for girls. But the suggestion though economical, and probably dictated by motives of economy is not a good one. The situation is unsuitable. It has ceased to be useful. The land and buildings had better be sold, and a new and proper situation be found.

The Grand Jury and the Circuit Court entirely disagree upon the Iwilei question. The Grand Jury, after careful investigation is satisfied that no "government officer or bureau receive any fee, make charges of any nature, or issue licenses for prostitution the published statements of various parties to the contrary notwithstanding." This is a strong official statement by men who were on oath to do their duty. That it will put an end to the many inuendos which have been given currency for political purpose and personal spite, no one can hope, but it will have its effect upon many fair minded men, who may have been prejudiced by the blatant falsehoods which have been bandied round.

The fact is there is far less corruption than has been supposed. People coming from places where corruption is rampant, people who may themselves have been in the corrupt game, naturally think that it must be carried on everywhere. They are surprised when they find that the average man is honest and honorable. That there have been and are dishonest and corrupt men here, may be true. There are dishonest and corrupt men in every city of the Union, in every city of the world. But it can be said for the Territory of Hawaii that up to the present its standard has been high, and it has been freer from corruption and fraud, than many communities where there have been less temptations than have been presented here.

There is a tremendous mass of bills before the House and the Senate, and there are many more important ones to come. From the looks of things many of these bantlings will go into the Legislative waste basket.

The Anti-saloon league is now in working order and we may expect that it will begin work upon the Legislature soon. There are two sides to the saloon question as there are to most questions and both should be carefully argued before action is taken.

It is to be hoped that the Legislature will give consideration to the subject of registering births and deaths throughout the Territory. It is most important that these statistics should be properly obtained. At the present time the birth statistics, even in Honolulu are absolutely inaccurate, and as such are most misleading to any visitor to the city, while outside of Honolulu there are no statistics of either births or deaths. In no part of the United States has there been such neglect in this direction as here.

March has certainly come in like a lion. Never have we had a more boisterous week, than this first week of March. The weather has seriously interfered with inter-island trade, several of the steamers having been unable to make their regular landings. Considerable damage has also been done to buildings, such as school houses, court houses and so forth. There will be quite a bill to foot later on. But the proverb says that if March comes in like a lion, it goes out like a lamb, so we can hope for quiet weather in a fortnight or so.

It seems possible that the Cuban question may be settled without the need of calling an extra session. The crucial point with Cuba is that it must respect the Monroe doctrine, and who can guarantee what the Cuban Republic will do. A glance over West Indian history will tend to show that the Cuban Republic will go the way of the Haytian and San Domingo Republics, and that will mean something very close to anarchy, at least it will mean a reversion to Africanism with a veneer of Western civilization, a most unpleasant combination. The future of Cuba without the restraining hand of the United States, and the use of its brilliant and well trained men, is anything but bright.

The Senatorial row of yesterday afternoon was very unfortunate. During a period of close on to a third of a century there has never been such constant recourse to the Sergeant-at-Arms as appears to be the inclination in this Legislature. The dignity of a Legislature body ought to be able to be maintained by reason and not by physical force. A dignified chair carries its own dignity and should not appeal to force except as a last resort. In the Austrian parliament, comparatively recently, there were most disgraceful scenes, but we who have been brought up under American and British precedents have no desire to see such scenes repeated here. Senator Kalaokalani is to be highly commended for his clear-headedness in bringing the scene to a close by a motion to adjourn. But then the Hawaiian is well trained in parliamentary rules, and he has innate dignity in carrying on official business. It is to be hoped that the scene of yesterday will be the last of the session. Dignity in debate and proceedings is one of the most important attributes of a legislative body.

CAMP MCKINLEY CANTEN

HAS GONE THE WAY OF ALL ARMY CANTENS.

It is no More—In Its Place It is Proposed to Substitute a Recreation Hall, Battery Designations.

The only canteen in the territory has been abolished.

Under the provisions of the new army bill, the canteen at Camp McKinley is no more. The order from the war department regarding it to a place among the things that were, was read at "Re-treat" last Thursday evening at Camp McKinley, and from thence on soldiers who want a drink of something else than hydrant water and commissary coffee will have to leave their happy camp and patronize a swipe joint or a territorially licensed place of liquid refreshment.

The bar of the canteen is now a bare of flacons, demijohns, beer glasses and other drinking paraphernalia as it used to be on nights when the Blue Ribbon club held their socials.

When the order was read and afterwards there were various expressions of opinion regarding it. Some thought it a good thing, some thought it an unfortunate thing, and some had or expressed no opinion. The profits of the canteen when it existed, were used to aid soldiers and variety to the mess. Formerly there were varied and substantial additions to the mess from this source, but after the organization of the Blue Ribbon club the profits from the canteen were very much cut down.

But the canteen at Camp McKinley is not to be allowed to be abolished without an effort to supply something for the comfort and convenience of the soldiers. Major Ennis has written the war department for permission and authority to build a social hall for the camp, sixty feet square. If this permission is granted as it is believed it will be, a number of ladies in Honolulu have agreed to see that it is suitably furnished, and the soldiers will then have an admirable place for all sorts of entertainments and social recreation.

Another innovation made by the new army bill is the change of the Artillery from regimental to corps organization. There are no longer any such thing as "Batteries I and K, 6th Artillery." In their places have come into existence "Companies 66 and 67, Coast Artillery, Artillery Corps."

The various batteries of the Artillery under the new law all changed in designation in this way. Company A, First Regiment, became Company I, and so on throughout the artillery arm of the service.

BEAT AN OLD MAN.

Charles Wagner and E. Bremer, Jr., were fined $25 and costs today by Judge Wilcox for having committed assault and battery upon E. Shiefer, an old man. According to the story told by the complaining witness he went to the Maqoon Villa where the defendants and the elder Bremer resided and served notice on them to leave the place. They enticed him into the house and there attacked him. He was treated in a shameful manner, two of his ribs being broken and three more dislocated. He received other injuries. The defendants claimed that they invited Shiefer to get out and when he failed to get out they proceeded to knock him out. The court acquitted the elder Bremer but fined the younger men.

THE DRAMA.

The Florence Roberts company opened its season at the Hawaiian Opera house last night. There was a genuine "first night" audience present. The house was filled to its capacity.

Whatever opinions may be held of the play "Sapho," itself, and the class of plays to which it belongs, and unqualified opinion is not unanimous, there can be but one opinion regarding Miss Roberts, her capabilities, and her powers. She is an extremely capable actress, with plenty of stage experience which gives to her work the ease and finish and some of power which is the captivating quality of dramatic and stage presentation. Miss Roberts' presentation of the character of "Fanny Le Grand," "Sapho," last night, will make all who saw and heard her, want to see and hear her in the other plays the company will present, in which she will appear in characters widely different from "Sapho," and more attractive and pleasing in themselves, whatever may be the moral value of the lessons Alphonse Daudet set himself to teach when he wrote the book from which last night's play gets its name.

Miss Roberts' support was not quite all she deserves, for quite all the audience had a right to expect. Not that there are not capable people in the company, but that it lacked the evenness of quality which there ought to have been. However, allowances must be made for conditions, and it is a good augury for the remainder of the season, that the performance last night improved in interest and finish as the play proceeded. The last two acts were given much better than the first two.

Taking it all in all the first night of the season has aroused most happy anticipations for a thoroughly enjoyable season, and Florence Roberts and her company have given proof that they can and will work to deserve the support of the public throughout the season.

The cast of last night's play was as follows:

Jean Gausin, Frank Gerson; "Dochelette," Clarence Montaine; "Cecoual," Frank Redick; "Flonot," Carlyle Moore; "Uncle Caenart," Clarence Arper; "Hetteina," Scott Robertson; "Joseph," Ollie Cooper; "Clown," Jack Snell; "La Gournerie," Fred Potter; "De Potter," Jack Morris; "Serrano," Allan Dunn; "Janitor," Jack Morris; "Mosses," Robert Carston; "Jockey," Tom Franks; "Madame Hetteina," Miss Marie Howe; "Aunt Divonne," Miss Juliet Cronby; "Alice," Miss May Davies; "Irene," Miss Stella Raseto; "Rosa," Miss Edith Jordan; "To-Fa," Miss Mae Mason; "A Roman Peasant," Miss Maria Lewis. Guests in fancy costumes and "Fanny Le Grand" (Sapho), Miss Florence Roberts.

The production was under the stage direction of Carlyle Moore.

Thursday evening will be presented "The Adventures of Nell O'Connell" with Miss Roberts as "Nell O'Connell."

The best cough drops are drops of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

The next time you take cold, dose yourself with a lot of home remedies and dilly-dally along until your cough is deep-seated and you are threatened with pneumonia or consumption. That's one way, to be sure.

Here's another way: Take

at bedtime and be all right the next morning. Isn't this the better way? Then continue the Cherry Pectoral a few days until your throat and lungs have completely healed and all danger of future trouble is past.

Another grand thing about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is that it cures hard coughs, the hardest kind of old coughs, even after all other remedies have failed.

Put up in large and small bottles. When it hurts your lungs to cough, then apply one of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plasters directly over the painful lung. It will quiet the pain, remove all congestion, and greatly strengthen.

A BIG STEAMSHIP DEAL

PLAN TO GET CONTROL OF YARDS OF THE WORLD.

Reported in Washington that the Deal Recently Set on Foot Will Mean Control of Large Industries.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—In spite of the fact that Henry T. Scott repeatedly said upon the occasion of his last visit to Washington that he would not under any circumstances enter into a shipbuilding trust or combination, there are persistent rumors in the East that his company will enter the trust that is now nearly formed.

In some weeks since the first announcement was made that the Cramp Shipbuilding Company of Philadelphia, working with Vickers' Sons & Maxim, of England, were trying to get control of the shipyards of the world. That deal is still on, and it is more than probable that the combination of the steel interests of the United States, with a capital approaching $300,000,000, is but a part of that great ship and steel combine.

When Charles H. Cramp set out to corral the shipbuilding business of the world and enlisted with him the great British concern, he met the stubborn opposition of Andrew Carnegie. It was desired to get the big steel makers to enter the combination also, and most of the great companies of the United States acquiesced their unwillingness to enter. The Midvale company was willing to come in provided enough money were paid for their plant. Vickers' Sons & Maxim in England are steel manufacturers as well as shipbuilders. So it was calculated that in addition to getting the British shipbuilders in to the combine that concern could bring the British steel manufacturers into the fold of the trust.

All of which brings one to the consideration of the fact of consolidations as related to recent attempted legislation. The railroads of the United States are now in the hands of a very few men—Morgan, Rockefeller, Cassatt, the Vanderbilts, the Goulds, Hill, Harriman and a very few others. The shipping of the country, what there is of it, is indirectly under the control of the men who own the railroads. This is necessarily so. The railroads, for instance, own the docks and wharves, the railroad spurs leading to them, and so exert a direct control over the shipping. But recently there has been observed the spectacle of a group of railroad men buying up one of the steamship lines of the Pacific. A Vanderbilt railroad, the Chesapeake & Ohio, has a line of freight steamers running from Newport News to Liverpool. They have four steamers now in operation and will soon have seven more. It is fast coming to the point that the men who own the railroads of the country will own the steamship lines. Now Morgan, one of the leaders among railroad men, is in the steel business already, and part in the shipping. The Cramp, closely associated with Morgan, are striving to consolidate the shipbuilding, thus placing under the control of not more than a dozen men the railroads, steamships, steel business and shipbuilding business of the country.

NEW ASSEMBLY ROOM.

A Rialto Where Millionaires are Said to Congregate.

Castle & Cooke, Ltd., have arranged a very excellent assembly room on the second floor of the building occupied by them, and in it have been held all the stockholders meetings lately of corporations of which they are agents. The room occupies nearly a half of the entire floor, and is fitted with comfortable seats for presiding officers and secretaries, and chairs for a hundred or more stockholders, which is rather more than attend an annual meeting, as a rule. The room is well lighted and ventilated, and it was irreverently suggested by some who saw it for the first time on the occasion of some of the corporation meetings held there in the last day or two, that it would make a very good dancing hall.

Others who saw it for the first time when it was filled with the stockholders of some of the big and money making plantations, said it looked like a resort of millionaires. The building itself is a landmark in Honolulu. Like the firm of Castle & Cooke, it is one of the old institutions of the city. It is said that it was built fifty or sixty years ago. The firm's advertisements in the papers of thirty and forty years ago, some of them, show pictures of the building.

RETURN OF SOLDIERS.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—The officers of the quartermaster's department at Washington have prepared a schedule for the transportation to San Francisco of the volunteer troops in the Philippines. It shows that all the troops can be brought home in time for discharge by June 30 next, which is the date fixed by law for the disbandment of the volunteer army. All the vessels of the Pacific transport fleet will be used, and will run between San Francisco and Manila on a close and regular schedule. Not counting the troops already landed or on their way across the Pacific, it is estimated that there are nearly 20,000 still to be brought to the United States before July 1.

SHRINERS START TODAY.

The Mystic Shriners will sail for Honolulu today from San Francisco on the Sierra. The excursion is under the superintendence of Saladit Temple of Grand Rapids, Mich. There will be 225 people in the expedition. Aloha Temple will be organized here.

PASSING OF FITZ HALL.

Well Known Character Unwept, Unhonored and Unsung. The career of Charles W. Fitz-Hugh Hall the ascetic gentleman is drawing to a close in Honolulu. Evidence of a disgraceful character about him has been secured by the police. The knowledge of these facts was laid before Mr. Hall by the authorities. Rather than have the facts made public in a criminal proceedings against him, Hall consented to leave the town. He will do so within a few days.

During his residence in this city Hall has been a more or less prominent figure. His polish of manner combined with an inordinate effeminacy proved rather a detriment than an advantage in his ingratiating himself with members of his own sex. During the first part of the Boer war Hall was suggested that a contingent of Englishmen, to which nationality he laid claim, volunteer for service in South Africa. His soft voiced patriotism failed to stir the Englishmen to any such demonstration. Hall showed his versatility however for from a soldier he turned to the role of poet. He crowded the opera house one night with people to hear a reading of his original poems. The least that can be said of his poems is that they were characteristic. The audience enjoyed them immensely. Hall's next appearance in the arena of notoriety was when he offered to walk on the hot stones after that old fake Papa Ika. The ascetic man did not duplicate Papa's walk however. Since then the utter despicability of Hall has become known and he has been given the alternative of flight or public disgrace. He has chosen the former.

HOUSE ON FIRE LIMITS

THE DEBATE ON EMMELUTH'S RESOLUTION.

It is Finally Adopted—Robertson's Speech on the Subject—To Send Youths Abroad for Education.

The afternoon session of the House was mainly occupied with the debate on Emmeluth's resolution forbidding the issue of building permits for the burned Chinatown district until the legislature could investigate the subject of fire limits and sanitary regulations. The resolution provided for a committee of three from the House to act with three from the senate and to report in five days. Makekau, Kanho, Pauki, Moesman, Hiki and Paete spoke against the resolution; Aylett, Gillilan, Emmeluth, Ewaliko, Prendergast and Robertson in favor of it. Robertson made quite an elaborate address.

The purpose of the resolution, he said is to pave the way for the extension of the fire limits to the Nuuanu river, and the withholding of permits was only during the committee's investigations. The fire limits had been extended but little and the law had been made when the population of Honolulu was about one-half what it is now. The more rapidly the Territory goes ahead the more rapidly would the fire limits have to be extended in the capital city to protect the community. Since annexation every branch of the trade of the islands has increased by leaps and bounds and improvements and progress in such matters as these was imperative. The member who could not view the situation in this respect was lacking in his duty as a legislator. In not extending the fire limits he stood in the way of progress of the city. The arguments and resolutions extended to the morning session had no more to do with the case than the flowers that bloom in the spring. The land was valuable—the most valuable land in Honolulu—and he could not be a poor man, who owned land in the burned district. He was better off than any man in the House. No need to go into hysterics over the "poor" men who owned Chinatown property. One of these was the Bishop Estate, which owned one-third of the property in the islands. "Hear, Hear!" said Emmeluth. The natives who lived there prior to the fire boarded and roomed in tenements houses and paid rent to Chinese. The Hawaiians who did own property there were certainly not poor. As to the Chinese who had a few unexpired leases, Robertson did not think the progress of the city should be stayed for them. "To the members of the Fifth District want to see tumbledown rookeries erected by Chinese, which will be a disgrace to Honolulu? No, the country members want to see good stone and brick buildings such as they would find in any civilized community."

The resolution was finally adopted. Representative Kumulae gave notice of an act to provide for and to regulate the sending of youths to the mainland and abroad to be educated.

W. & M., Ltd

Separate Walking Skirts,

The average dressmaker can't make the new plain skirt. That's a fact. She hasn't the knowledge. She hasn't the art. Skirtmaking is an art. The tailors who design these skirts of ours—cheap skirtstho' they be—get salaries of several thousand dollars a year. We have 200 of these skirts in Crash, Covert Cloths and Denims, which we have marked at a price which will send them flying out our door.....50 cents each.

Shirt Waist Exhibition,

Where in the world do all the styles come from? It's a puzzle. Pick from the enormous assortment of shirt waists in our basement salesroom and you may feel confident that you will not meet your double at every corner. The following very interesting numbers at very interesting little prices will greet you this week:
$4—$5.00 Waists at.....$1.00
$5—$1.50 Waists at......75
$3—$100 Waists at......50

Ladies' Muslin Underwear,

You will hardly believe your own eyes when you see the quality of these goods and compare them with the prices. In fact you will look again to make sure that your eyes did not deceive you. It's wonderful how they can put so much work into garments and sell them at such prices. Some prices as low as 35 cents. Others as high as $7.00 and all prices between. Some of them in our window.

Still a few Remnants,

A few remnants that Saturday's rain left on our counters still to be had at last week's prices.
