BISHOP MUSEUM MATTERS

CHAS. R. BISHOP DEEDS MORE PROPERTY TO THE TRUSTEES.

Future Prospects of the Museum—Some Interesting Items About the New Aquarium.

A few days since in looking over one of the Hawaiian Commercial Agency's circulars of real estate transactions a BULLETIN reporter noticed some very heavy transfers of property from Chas. R. Bishop to the Trustees of the Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum for the nominal consideration of one dollar. Suspecting that these transfers might disclose some further instance of Mr. Bishop's generosity, one of the trustees was asked for information. He said: "Yes, the transfers have been made as reported. Some time in the latter part of January Mr. Bishop deeded to the Trustees of the Bishop Museum all the lands of Waipio on Hawaii, the bank property on the corner of Merchant and Kaahumanu streets, the adjoining building on Merchant street known as the new Bishop Estate offices and several other properties which need not be enumerated. It is sufficient to say that Mr. Bishop has deeded to the trustees about all the real property remaining to him in the Islands. He has also turned over to us considerable personal property, for instance, one note for $60,000 and another for $10,000.

"As you are aware all of this property is deeded to the Trustees of the Museum. Anticipating your question in advance I will say that the income derived from it is to be used for the perpetuation of the Museum and the building of the aquarium about which so much has been said and written. What will the aquarium be like? Well, nothing like the ideas given out in the press in interviews with Professor Brigham. That gentleman's plans as I understand them would require an outlay of at least $150,000 or $200,000. They included the purchase of the Dimond place at Waikiki, the construction by dredging and elaborate masonry work of the waterfront inside the reef into ponds and tanks where all kinds of marine monsters were to be kept, as well as buildings on shore containing glass tanks, etc. There was also included a very handsome and costly residence for the director, houses for his assistants and still others for the fishermen. All these plans would have been very good if there had been unlimited money to back them up, but there is a limit in this case and Mr. Bishop's views are and have been all along entirely different to those of Professor Brigham on this subject. Of course, this is the understanding that the professor's plans were correctly reported in the interviews with him published in Eastern and local papers."

"What are Mr. Bishop's ideas of the aquarium?" asked the reporter. "Well, they are of the practical sort. He is not in favor of making it a sort of show place or pleasure resort. His idea, as I understand it from his letters, is to furnish the student of ichthyology the means whereby to prosecute his studies, and at the same time to foster and encourage by those means the study of that science. With a nation so accustomed to and dependent on a fish diet as the Hawaiian, Mr. Bishop believes that more attention should be paid to the study of marine life than has hitherto been done. While he heartily agrees with many of Professor Brigham's ideas concerning the aquarium, and some of them will undoubtedly be incorporated in the project, still I am in a position to state that there will be nothing connected with it that is not eminently practical. For this purpose of aquariums will be fitted up and specimens of all kinds of fish kept therein, so that their habits can be studied. There is much to be learned yet about the habits, food and other qualifications of the fish which frequent Hawaiian waters, and an opportunity will be afforded to study these.

"Where will the aquarium be located?"

"Well, the Dimond premises have been leased, I think for some twenty-three years, so that place is out of the question. It is absolutely necessary that we have pure sea water direct from the ocean and uncontaminated with sewage of any kind. I think we shall decide on Kakaako as the location. I cannot say when the actual work of construction will take place."

"How about the museum?"

"Oh, that is all right. As soon as the memorial chapel now being built at Kamehameha schools is completed a large addition to the Museum building will be commenced. The aquarium will be an adjunct of the museum proper and not a separate institution."

QUARANTINE MATTERS.

The Board of Health Likely to Do Some Investigating.

It is understood that in spite of the way the Board of Health sat down on Agent Reynolds for entering the quarantined Castle premises to take some important papers to Minister Cooper for signature, the quarantine has been kept up in a very careless and negligent manner. Statements are made to that effect and from credible sources and they have come to the ears of at least two of the members of the Board who propose to find out whether their orders can be nullified at will. It will be remembered that at last week's meeting of the Board it was ordered that guards be stationed both on the beach and in the road in front of the Castle premises to prevent any communication with those in quarantine. It is now stated that these orders have been of no effect. That on last Sunday afternoon the quarantined people had a regular levee, sitting close to the fence and conversing with a number of people outside, the distance between being only a very few feet. It is even said that on one afternoon of this week one of the quarantined officials actually shook hands with two parties in a buggy in the road and stood conversing with them for some minutes.

To further illustrate the lax manner in which the quarantine is kept up, it is mentioned that the yellow flag which formerly warned people that the premises were quarantined was missing this morning. It was whispered to a reporter shortly before press time that the flag would probably be presented to the Board of Health at its meeting this afternoon, together with a statement of the case with which it was taken, for the purpose of opening the eyes of the members as to the way the quarantine is being kept up at Waikiki.

A Church Farewell.

A very pleasant farewell social was tendered to Mrs. Geo. A. Turner and Mrs. Bachelor last evening at the Methodist church. Recitations were rendered by Miss Abbin and Mrs. Petrie and a song by Mr. Stoddart. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain sang a duet. Remarks were made by Mr. Peck, pastor. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Turner goes to Hilo to reside permanently and Mrs. Bachelor goes to Victoria, B. C., expecting to return in six or seven months.

Lord Sholto Douglas, son of the Marquis of Queensberry, who created a sensation some time ago by marrying a variety actress in California, is prospecting in British Columbia. He is now with pack on back and pick in hand trying his luck in the Pitt and Harrison Lake districts.

THE CHURCH DEDICATION

INTERESTING AND IMPRESSIVE SERVICES AT LAHAINA.

Handsome Gift of Senator Baldwin—Great Sunday School Concourse—The Luau.

Rev. Sereho E. Bishop, D. D., returned yesterday from Lahaina, where he had participated as an officiant at the dedication of the new Waivee church. This is a handsome edifice of wood covered outside with stucco, and has been erected by Senator Henry P. Baldwin, whose father was the missionary pastor of the original church. It is rather of Gothic style with a high pitched roof and comfortably seats 450 persons. The roof is ceiled within and open, making the interior airy and dignified in appearance. At the dedication services last Sunday the edifice was crowded in every part. There is a spire on the church, making it the more conspicuous as a landmark.

The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Stephen L. Deane of Hilo. It is described by Dr. Bishop as an earnest and a strong effort. Dr. Bishop himself delivered a historical address, and Senator Baldwin gave a short speech descriptive of the building. Rev. O. H. Gulick offered the prayer of dedication.

On Monday there was a convocation of the Sunday schools of Maui, Molokai and Lanai. It was attended by a large concourse, and highly interesting exercises lasted from 9 to 1:45 daytime. Dr. Bishop says the occasion was "crowded with people and with matter." There was fine singing. The schools showed excellent drilling in questions and answers. Many speeches were delivered by preachers, of whom eight or ten were present. Mr. Gulick gave the opening, and Dr. Bishop the closing address.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the luau was begun. It was a grand feast, held under the noble banyan tree in the courthouse yard. This tree, an East India banyan, was planted by W. O. Smith, now Attorney General, when he was Sheriff of Maui. By count there were 670 people seated at the tables. It was estimated that from 400 to 500 people were present from outside of Lahaina.

Judge Kahaulelio entertained the leading visitors during their stay at his home. He lives in an elegant new mansion which is handsomely furnished. His hospitality was princely on this occasion and will always be remembered.

The Deputy Attorney General.

The facts regarding the resignation of E. P. Dole, Deputy Attorney General, are these: His resignation was tendered in January last. W. O. Smith, Attorney General, asked him to allow it to stand until his, the Attorney General's, return from his then projected trip to Washington. Since Mr. Smith's return he has induced Mr. Dole to withdraw his resignation absolutely instead of simply letting it remain in abeyance. Mr. Dole's motive for resigning lay entirely in the question of his own pecuniary interests.

Japanese Juvenile Education.

Says the Kona Echo: "For the convenience of the boys the directors of the Japanese School in Honolulu have had a dormitory built. The boys over six years of age will have an opportunity to study without any inconvenience resulting from being separated from their parents on the other Islands. This laudable change from the old way has been brought about by the untiring efforts of the Rev. Okumura, the principal of the school."

THE INCREASE TWOFOLD

GREAT DEVELOPMENT OF LAHAINA IN TWENTY YEARS.

Area and Yield to the Acre Both Increased—Success of Artificial Irrigation.

Rev. Dr. Bishop was greatly impressed on his visit to Lahaina with the wonderful development of the sugar industry in the district. It produced 1200 tons of sugar twenty years ago, while last year the yield was 4500 tons. It is expected that this year's crop will pan out 5000 tons. There is an auxiliary plantation at Kaanapala, four miles away, whose yield will be 3500 or 4000 tons. Cane is brought from thence to the mill by rail.

The average yield an acre is more than double what it was twenty years ago, and Dr. Bishop gives four principal causes for this increase; namely, more skillful cultivation, the use of fertilizers, artificial irrigation, and improved milling.

In irrigation it has been proved that erosion walls must not be sunk beyond a certain depth. At about a hundred feet a bounteous supply of sweet water is obtained, but boring forty feet or so deeper the yield is brackish. A large pumping plant is now being constructed, which will be used to irrigate the lowlands. Then the mountain streams will be reserved for the uplands.

At Kaanapali the area under cultivation has been increased from 200 to 800 acres. All of the lowlands there will be irrigated from artesian wells, and 600 acres of uplands will be served with water from the upper valleys. It has been found that more than double the quantity of water is obtained by boring tunnels into the mountains than by merely tapping the surface springs and streams.

DEAD CHILD DISCOVERED.

It is Buried Near Where Found by Direction of the Marshal.

Yesterday afternoon natives made a gruesome find at Kakaako. The dead body of an infant, looking like Japanese or Chinese, was fished out of the mud on the flats within the retaining walls near the marine railway. It was laid on a deposit of rubbish under the kiawe trees opposite the cholera hospital. The body was fully developed and might have been a day or a week old at death, or it might have been stillborn. Messages were sent to the police station by a boy and by telephone, and a native policeman going to the spot in a wagon buried the corpse there. This, it is learned, was done by direction of the Marshal, who considered that, as in most cases of the kind, an investigation would be useless.

Their Horses Ran Away.

A serious accident was narrowly averted last evening when Captain and Mrs. Weeden and Captain Mickelson were out driving. Hiring a rig from the Pantheon Stables they started out to view the Pali. Upon arriving they alighted to pick some flowers. While they were thus busily engaged the horses suddenly took flight and dashed down Nuuanu valley and after a long chase were caught by two gentlemen on horseback. The captains will hire a hack next time they want to view the Pali.

Ouida has more fads and fancies than even a fi-da siecle college girl. The scent she uses is made especially for her by a celebrated Venetian perfumer and costs $40 an ounce. She cannot bear starched muslin; the touch of velvet makes her feel creepy, and she faints at the smell of honey.

IN THE HIGHER COURTS

PROCEEDINGS AT LAW IN OCCIDENTAL BUILDING MATTER.

Answer of Uncle Holt to Their Nephews—Chinese Theater Controversy in Hearing.

John D. Holt and James R. Holt have filed an extended answer to the petition of John D. Holt Jr. and R. W. Holt to have them placed under guardianship. It will be remembered that the temporary guardianship on the petition was dissolved last week.

Peter High & Co. have entered a suit at law against E. H. F. Wolter for $2812, balance due on new Occidental hotel building. An appeal is pending on a bill in equity of the same plaintiff against the same defendant and Francis Dunn, architect of the building.

Kemilia and George Holt her husband, Rode alias Rose and George Bell her husband have brought a bill in equity against John L. Kaulokou for the delivery of an escrow and for an injunction. Defendant refuses to deliver certain exchange deeds between them and Kaulokou of Hamakua, and these proceedings are to compel him to hand them over to the proper parties.

A. C. Pestana by his attorney, Chas. Creighton, has filed a suggestion of death and discontinuance in the matter of the guardianship of Maria Galaspo, an insane person.

Judge Carter is still hearing the Chinese theater controversy.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Miss Fanny May and W. H. Baird United in Marriage.

It was a common remark that the chancel of St. Andrew's cathedral never looked prettier than it did last evening on the occasion of the wedding of Miss Fanny May, sister of Tom May, and W. H. Baird, of Theo. H. Davies & Co. The floral decorations in white and yellow were most elaborate, the pulpit, choir desks, lamp brackets, railings and reading desks being buried in flowers, interspersed with entwining wreaths.

While the audience were being seated Organist Wray Taylor played a number of selections on the organ. At 8 o'clock the choir boys filed in and shortly afterward the bridal party marched up the central aisle, the choir singing the hymn, "How Welcome was the Gull." The bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, who gave her away, came first, her long court train being carried by little Cyril May, dressed in the costume of a court page. Next came the little bridesmaids, Miss Vera May and Miss Beatrice Walker, followed by Gerald May, also in the costume of a page.

The beautiful marriage ceremony of the Episcopal church was impressively performed by Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, assisted by Rev. John Osborne, the service being choral throughout. At its conclusion the contracting parties and immediate relatives proceeded to the vestry, where the register was signed and congratulations extended. The organ then poured forth the familiar strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" while the bridal party slowly left the sacred building.

A reception was held at the May residence shortly afterward, at which only immediate relatives and personal friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Baird will reside on Kiuanu street until the departure on the Miowera of the 24th, when they will leave for a three months' trip abroad.

It's a shame, cried the young wife; not a thing in the house fit to eat. I'm going right home to papa! If you don't mind, dear, said the husband, reaching for his hat, I'll go with you.

Jones tragically—I am ruined—ruined! I can't pay a shilling in the pound! Smith—Don't eat up so, dear fellow. Just think how much better off you are than your creditors.

Mr. Henpeck—Doctor, my wife tells me you have advised her to go to the seaside for two months. Physician—Yes. Mr. Henpeck—Do you think she needs rest? Physician—No; but you do.

Maud—Why has Lillian given up wearing rational costume? Did George object? Ethel—Oh, no; he said he approved of it, because it would prevent her attracting any other man's admiration.

Freddy—What is the difference, papa, between a politician and a statesman? Papa—The statesman, my son, is the one who succeeds in getting the place; the politician he who fails to secure it.

Yeast—Just back from Chicago? Crimsonbeak—Yes; got in yesterday. "Things improving out there?" "Very much. You know there was a time when they didn't have forks out there?" "Yes; I believe I heard that. Have they got them now?" "Yes; on their bicycles."

Sunday-school Teacher—Well, Bobby, what are you going to give up during Lent? Bobby—Candy. Sunday-school Teacher—That's a good boy! I suppose you are very fond of it? Bobby—Yes; and besides, papa says he will pay me 5 cents a week as long as I don't eat any.

Citizens Attention.

These are days of considerable anxiety and perplexity to all who have possessions or other interests in the Republic of Hawaii, and it is time that our citizens came to a mutual understanding on several important issues. The prospects for Annexation appear at present vague and indistinct, and our destiny cannot be foretold with certainty. There are those, also, who still fondly cling to the hope of a return to the old order of things, and who cannot be persuaded otherwise, yet this outlook appears far more hazy than that of Annexation even to the most hopeful disciples of the Monarchy. But, fortunately, in the midst of all this uncertainty there is solace in the fact that Buffalo Beer has come to stay and that patrons of all sorts and opinions may equally share the benefits of its invigorating and sustaining properties. We are moreover assured that this favorite brew will continue to be dispensed as heretofore at the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan Saloons.

In case there is no bidder to purchase the property at the above upset price, a lease of the same will immediately be offered for sale at an upset price of $4000 a year for a period of thirty years under the conditions set out in Act 7, Laws of 1896—and more particularly of Sections 2 and 4 of said Act which reads as follows:

"Section 2. Every such lease shall contain a covenant on the part of the lessee that he shall, during the first four years of the term of the lease, cause to be erected upon the leased premises a fire proof building of Brick, Stone or Metal, in a workmanlike manner, satisfactory to the Minister of the Interior at not less than a stated cost; and keep the same suitably insured at not less than two-thirds of its value for the benefit of the lessor; and shall keep the building in good repair during the remainder of the term of lease, reasonable use and wear thereof only excepted; and in case of damage or destruction of such building by fire, shall make good such loss or damage by the necessary repairs or reconstruction or else surrender the insurance to the lessor.

"Section 4. Every such lease shall contain a covenant on the part of the lessor, and upon the request in writing by the lessee or his representatives, before the expiration thereof, the premises with the improvements, shall, if all of the conditions to be performed by the lessee have been satisfactorily performed, be put up at auction for a lease for a term of not over twenty years; unless said premises shall be required for public uses, of which the lessee shall receive at least one year's notice. Such auction sale shall be held not more than six months nor less than one month before the expiration of said term."

The cost of building to be erected in accordance with Section 2 as above quoted, is placed at $50,000.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1897.

THE JUBILEE.

British residents of Hilo were to have the proposal submitted to them, at their Victorian Jubilee meeting, of establishing a "Victoria Ward" in the local hospital. This ought to be practicable. If adopted, however, the British residents of Honolulu who are in favor of establishing here a hospital for incurables, in commemoration of the longest reign, cannot count upon the assistance of their compatriots on the island of Hawaii, as they are doing. It is well that this probability should be known and fully weighed in any discussion that may take place at the Honolulu meeting this evening. The cost of any such a large project as that broached for a memorial at the capital ought to be carefully computed, so that it may be clearly known whether the institution can be started and maintained as a British foundation for all time. If it is not to be purely British in all but its beneficiaries, then it may as well be left severely alone. Lamentation alone will not make it British. The BULLETIN would like to see a hospital for incurables, but believes that, to have one on a firm and efficient footing, it will have to be cosmopolitan. There is more call for general hospital accommodation, available for any sick or injured persons who cannot afford to pay fees, than a hospital is for incurables. Such would seem also decidedly more practicable than a special hospital for incurables. A "Victoria Ward," under control of the British Benevolent Society, attached to the Queen's Hospital in perpetuity would be of greater benefit to a greater number, particularly of British residents, than a hospital for incurables. The example would be more likely to be followed, also, by other nationalities here, so that there would be a prospect in time of having what Honolulu greatly lacks, free hospital accommodation for all who required it. It would be rather an extraordinary burden for the British residents to assume, the provision of a hospital for the hopeless sick cases of all the many nationalities here. Unless it received endowments from the few wealthy British residents and owners of Hawaiian interests, to place it beyond any vicissitudes of the future, there would be no assurance of its permanency. Should it arrive at a condition of depleted resources and support be solicited from the community in general, there would be the possibility of a board of directors arising who knew not Victoria, and even the very name might be wiped out and the institution in its commemorative quality perish. Honolulu furnishes a parallel of a very such eventuality. The BULLETIN was the first daily paper here to advocate a hospital for incurables, besides suggesting sanatoriums in the country for invalids of not hopeless cases, but it does not believe that any single nationality is equal, or has any moral call, to undertake the establishing of such institutions in this foreign soil. They are to be regarded as strictly in the sphere of either Hawaiian national or cosmopolitan philanthropy. The institution of a British ward named after the object of present supreme honor, in a hospital already firmly established, is practicable and would reflect enduring credit upon the colony, besides being a needed boon of inestimable value to its members in humble circumstances who might be overtaken by illness or accident. Such an institution would appeal constantly to the support of British residents of moderate means, who would not know the day when they might become its beneficiaries, whereas a hospital for incurables would have to depend mainly, from year to year, upon a subdivision of the charitable bounty of the wealthy, which bounty has a host of calls upon it perennially.

A leader in the Kona Echo, the editor of which is a Japanese, comments on the prevalence of profane and foul language in Honolulu. It says truly that, with the exception of part of the white population, the habit is practised "without any seeming sense of its being out of the ordinary." School teachers are deemed by the Echo to be among the most favorably situated agents for bringing about reform in the matter. Teachers can no doubt do a great deal to imbue the rising generation with a realization of the senselessness and demoralizing influence of profane and vulgar language.

The Volcano. A number of natives from Puna declare that Madame Pele is surely going to mix things somewhat at the volcano ere long, says the Hilo Tribune. The Puna warm springs are getting quite hot and the volume of smoke from the crater is increasing considerably. Hot air from old cracks in the mountain sides have been reported from several points and a regular old time stir may be looked for any time.

Especially adapted to the use of fire and police departments, stock farms, and public and private stables.

Owners and drivers of horses entered for the 14th of June races should see that their animals are provided with these feed boxes. They will be sure winners if they do. but unfortunately for us it is not glistening on them in this country, as our shipment of STEARNS wheels was put on the "W. H. Dimond," so is not due here for a week. Our COLUMBIAS also are still out of wheeling range, as they got to S. The 1896 RAMBLER is the bargain of the year and the chance to buy a well known high grade wheel for $75 and $80 will not last long, as we are informed by the makers that this is the last lot of '96 wheels they can furnish, for, as they write, "our sales have been phenomenal, and you took the last '96 wheels we had in stock."

WE RENT BICYCLES by the hour, day, week or month, and we rent high grade new wheels, such as RAMBLERS, STEARNS, and COLUMBIAS, so if you want a short ride or a long ride, want to ride single or want to ride double, drop in and see how nicely we can fit you out. You will get just as good a mount if you telephone us, and we will send your wheel to your door. Your chance to buy a '96 RAMBLER cheap will only last a few days, don't miss it.

Playing by Memory.
"Do you allow your pupils to play by memory?" is a question asked and answered in The Studio. C. W. Grim says: Certainly, if the pupils can do it correctly. A good memory is a gift to be highly estimated, but a poor one does not indicate inferior musical talent. As in everything, practice can strengthen a weak memory. There are persons who have a "photographic memory." They have an image of the printed music in their minds. Then there are those who have a "finger memory." They play over a piece so many times until their fingers will make the necessary movements in their successive order. Others have a "tone memory." They can remember just what tone follows the other. The best, which includes all the above classes, is the analytic and synthetic memory. It is developed by slow and careful practice and is assisted by the knowledge of harmony, melody, rhythm, modulation and musical form. As soon as a pupil has learned a piece by notes well, let him try to play it by memory. If he succeeds, make it a point to have him always learn something by heart. Should a pupil have the bad habit of carelessly rattling off his pieces when he plays by memory, then playing by memory must be prohibited. Do not consider memorizing itself the goal of all musical reproduction, for the desirable gift of memory is, after all, only the handy substitute of a music roll.

The Kitchen Sink.

Special stress was laid by Miss Parlon in a recent lecture on the care of kitchen plumbing. She said:

The kitchen sink requires unremitting attention. The liquid grease poured through it solidifies and clogs to the pipes. To prevent this wash the sink thoroughly after each meal and pour hot water through the pipes to scald them out. A solution of washing soda, allowing half a pint of soda to 6 quarts of boiling water, should be kept on hand for cleansing the pipes. Warm the pipes first by pouring boiling water through them, and follow it by 2 quarts of the soda solution. If this is systematically used, the 6 quarts a week will keep a small house in good condition. In special emergencies, where the sink becomes stopped with grease, use larger quantities of the soda and then flush thoroughly. In case of sickness, when disinfection becomes necessary, dissolve 4 tablespoonfuls of carbolic acid in a pint of water, and pour through the pipes, waiting a few moments before flushing.

A three-eighths inch iron rod is bent by a blacksmith into the form shown, and this is supported by screw eyes in the window case and wires extending from the window case to the top of the window case, hooks being placed there. These hooks also support the top of the awnings, eyelet holes being made in the cloth.

A VOICE FROM THE BLEACHERS.

Local interest in the cricket games as reflected from the "bleachers" is increasing. During Saturday's games the "bleachers" were particularly vociferous and kept the players under a running fire of good natured banter. One small boy brought down the crowd by advising the batsman to "go buy a case of Rainier Beer and get some life in you." The crowd applauded the remark, knowing that Rainier Beer is celebrated for its invigorating and strength-giving propensities. On tap or in bottles at the Criterion.

ELECTRIC RAT KILLING.

The Mystery of the Current You Much For the Rodents.

Electricity is really becoming a very useful thing in its way. The electrical supply house in Kansas City is using it to kill its rats. The basement of the house is infested with rodents, which have little respect for property and eat the insulating material off wires and the fatty substances about the electrical machines for dessert. At this electrical establishment it takes 35,000 ohms of electricity and at least three men to dispatch a rat. This is the manner of their death. When a collar rat is caught by the paws in a steel trap, the trap is brought up stairs, carefully carried by the chain at arm's length, for a collar rat will fight, and its bite is unwholesome. The electrician then comes forward with a magnetic bell machine, a sort of young dynamo, with a resistance of 35,000 ohms. To the machine are attached two long insulated wires.

The rat is laid on an iron plate. A man takes one wire and applies the uncovered end to the iron plate. The man who is looking after the rat takes the other wire and pokes the rat with the bare end of it. The rat resents this, of course, and bites at the wire. The man with the machine grinds industriously until the bell rings, which it does when a resistance of 85,000 ohms is reached. The exasperated rat bites at the wire, and quicker than you can say "Jack Robinson," he is dead. But his taking off has amounted almost to a function.

They also have an electrical method of catching rats in the electrician's collar. A large, square plate of iron is placed on the floor, and above it another plate, not so large, and separated from the other at the distance of an inch or so by porcelain insulators. To each plate is attached a wire connected with a dynamo having a 1,000 volt alternating current. On the upper iron plate is scattered a seductive luncheon of bacon rinds, old cheese and tallow. The mouths of the rats down in the deepest holes begin to water when the odor of the feast permeates to them, and they come flocking to it.

When a rat steps on the lower plate, the current has no effect on him, but the instant he puts his paws on the upper plate to reach for the cheese the full force of the electricity reaches every part of his shaggy body, and, contracting it suddenly, shoots him into the air in somersaults. The other rats, observing this, think he is jumping for joy and hasten to the feast. One after the other they are shot into the air and fall to the floor stunned, when they are easily captured and killed. Thus it is that science lends itself to even so humble an occupation as rat killing.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Reasons Why.

There are two reasons why people are now paying car fare all the way from Waikiki to the Palama Grocery and back. Reason 1. It is the only place on the Islands where the celebrated Salvation Army tea is sold. Reason 2. After paying car fare both ways patrons find they are money in pocket by dealing at this "live and let live" establishment. We also deliver goods between Diamond Head and Moanalua free.

MARINE NEWS NOTES

VARIOUS ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED TODAY.

Trouble in the Helene—Bark Alden Besse in Port—Activity Aboard Ships.

The bark Seminoe is receiving stones ballast.

Harry Swinton will go out as mate in the steamer Likelike next trip.

Captain Bob Andrews has resigned his position with the Wilder Steamship Co.

The bark Alden Besse arrived last night, having had a fine run of 17 days from the Golden Gate.

Tomorrow, high tide large 9:00 p.m.; high tide small 8:55 a.m.; low tide large 0:55 p.m.; low tide small 3:30 a.m.

The Norwegian bark Fortuna will begin loading sugar for San Francisco as soon as her coal cargo is out.

The James Makee was launched from the Marine Railway yesterday afternoon. She leaves this evening for Kapaa.

The bark Albert and barkentine Areher are hustling their inward cargoes out at Brewer's wharf, both of them being hungry for sugar.

The ship Iroquois was floated off the mud at high tide yesterday afternoon. She is to start on her voyage round the Horn in a few days.

U S Consul Mills and Japanese Minister Shimamura were aboard the U S S Philadelphia this morning. The flagship's guns boomed out their respects to each as they left the ship.

The British gun-boat Wild Swan will sail on Saturday or Sunday for a cruise in the South Seas. The U S gun boat Petrel will likely leave within a few days for Yokohama.

Two sharks, each about fourteen feet long, were hauled aboard the steamer Mauna Loa at Punaluu last trip. One of the monsters got away with a hook and some line, but was caught with another hook. The boys on the Mauna Loa have lots of sport in the fishing line, there being plenty of fish and sharks along the Hawaii coast.

While the steamer Noeau was at Honokaa a day or two ago, one of her boats was overturned by a huge wave and driven on the rocks. One of the boat's crew had a narrow escape from losing his life, but he managed to crawl up among the rocks. He was badly hurt about his head and one leg, so that he was taken to the hospital on arrival this morning.

About 100,000 bags of sugar are piled at Oceanic wharf and warehouse. The Kenilworth is throwing out her ballast as quickly as possible. The sugar will be rushed into the big ship in fine style as soon as a beginning is made. The wharf will have to be cleared by the 27th, as the S S Australia with a big cargo of general merchandise will be here on that date.

AT HILLO.

The following two items are clipped from the Hilo Tribune of the 17th:

The Roderick Dhu will sail tomorrow morning for San Francisco with 2500 tons of sugar from five plantations. Also as passengers Mrs W K Andrews of Honouliuli, Mr and Mrs A W Hobson and child, Mr Sol N Sheridan.

The ship Henry Villard arrived in port yesterday morning, twenty-six days from Portland, Or. This vessel had the dunnage to be used by the Indiana now in port and has been very anxiously looked for by the Indiana people, as no sugar could be put aboard the latter vessel before the arrival of the former. The Villard brings a cargo of 600,000 feet of lumber, F W Patton master.

A Peck of Trouble.

Nineteen sailors of the Wilder steamer Helene refused duty this morning and were locked up at the Police Station. The strike was expected. Captain Fitzgerald did not take the Helene out last trip, but stayed ashore in the hope of having the trouble with the sailors blow over. Since the return of the steamer, Fitzgerald was put in command again. As a result the sailors refused duty this morning, and the mates and a few shore hands had to put the freight aboard. The sailors say that Captain Fitzgerald abuses them badly and as long as he should be master of the steamer they would not work. Captain Freeman of the Likelike was placed in command of the Helene this afternoon, and a new crew was soon aboard. The steamer left the wharf at a quarter to two o'clock. She was to have sailed at noon. Captain Freeman is well liked by the sailors, and he has no trouble with his men.

ITEMS FROM KONA.

Enterprise of a Lady—New Trading Ventures—Personal.

The Kona Echo has the following local news:

In the murder case of Iana, the jury returned a verdict of assault and battery.

Miss Baird, who purchased twenty acres of coffee land by Mr. Cockburn's plantation, a few months ago, has now a fine house on it of her own design, and the land ready for coffee. She has located about the right distance up the mountain to enjoy one of the finest climates in the world. We are glad to see such enterprising people as Miss Baird and her father coming to the island.

Judge Hitchcock who is a guest of Deputy Sheriff Nahale, was quite ill last Sunday. We are happy to learn that the Judge is quite well again.

Messrs. Cockburn and Lindsay have opened a nice little branch store at the junction of the Hualaloa and Kailua roads.

Mr. Coesper is opening up in hardware and groceries on his sugar plantation.

Kailua is very active now. The natives seem to love courting at their cost.

Original Bock.

The Warrimoo that is expected here April 16 from Victoria will bring a large consignment of Original Bock Beer for the Anchor Saloon. While there has been Bock Beer on the Honolulu market, it does not begin to compare with the consignment that the Anchor will have on tap after the arrival of the Warrimoo. The reason for this is that the Bock that has already arrived is too fresh. The Bock Beer in the States is made at the first of the year and kept till May 1. The consignment to arrive is some of the original beer and is guaranteed to be better than any Bock ever imported. Wait for it. It will be on tap at the Anchor after the arrival of the Warrimoo. *
