

END OF INVESTIGATION OF "GRAFT"

SPEAKER CALLS FOR HUSTLING OF BILLS

ALL HOUSE COMMITTEES MUST REPORT MEASURES BY MONDAY IN VIEW OF THE NEAR CLOSE OF THE SESSION—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF SESSION EXPENDITURES WITH LAST LEGISLATURE'S ACCOUNT SHOWS ECONOMY'S PROGRESS.

Speaker Holstein made a statement in the House this morning showing the following facts in re expenditures during the first fifty days of the present session as compared with the first fifty days of the session of 1907: From the Federal appropriation there was spent in 1907, $10,032.27. This session, $9,536.22. From the Territorial appropriation there was spent in the 1907 session $14,205.74. This session, $14,795.40. Translation, 1907, $613.14. This session, $553.40. Within the first fifty days of last session nothing had been paid out for journal work, postage or furniture. Work of this session shows economy in translation, supplies, incidentals, mileage and pay of officers, etc. Last session nothing had been paid for printing from the Federal appropriation during the first fifty days. The statement strongly indicates economy during this session as compared with last session.

FIFTH-FIRST DAY.
Morning Session.
But nine days of the Legislative session remain. Realizing this fact, Representative Rice this morning moved that it be ordered that all standing committees of the House having unreported bills in their hands should on Monday next, report such bills to the House. Speaker Holstein so ordered.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.
Judiciary committee made the following recommendations:
To pass Douthitt's bill relating to the terms of circuit courts, the object of the bill being to do away with the old system of terms of various circuits. "It is necessary that the courts be open at all times for the dispatch of business."

INQUISITION READY TO REPORT NO GRAFT

HOUSE COMMITTEE COMPLETES INVESTIGATION OF PUBLISHED REPORT OF RUMORS OR SUSPICIOUS IRREGULARITIES AND WILL REPORT TO THE HOUSE ON MONDAY—FINDINGS TO GO TO WASHINGTON.

"Mr. Beers, whom do you think has been grafting?"
"The government, it is trying to do me out of fifteen dollars."
So said House Interpreter Beers before the Graft Investigating Committee during its final session this morning, when asked if he had presented a bill for $15 for extra compensation for interpreting.
He said he had interpreted for committees out of hours, had presented his bill, that he considered it just and would insist on payment.
The investigation is over. No indication of fraud has been found, nor have any accusations or rumors of graft been substantiated.
It is not likely that the Committee will censure anybody, although it is believed that attention will be drawn to a carelessness in the handling of bills for translation from English into Hawaiian, a carelessness which Representative Kaleopu may have contributed to in a manner of indiscretion.
The House is cleared of charges of graft.

out having spotted anything which can be shown to be graft.
The committee, consisting of Shingle, chairman, Coney and Kawewehi, will submit its report to the House on Monday.
This report will prove interesting and will go on to Washington, embodying certain recommendations, it is believed.
While it will suggest that there has been shown to have existed an element of carelessness in the matter of the method of handling the translation of House bills from English into the Hawaiian language, and will indicate poor ethics on the part of at least one member of the House, it will, according to the evidence, declare that no graft has been disclosed.
It may recommend that the doing away with translation is advisable, such a suggestion comprising that that it is an unnecessary expense; portion of the report which will interest Washington. Still, the committee has not yet reported, and the consultation of its members may result in this idea being not dwelt on.
The committee seems to feel that there was a basis for the Bulletin story of alleged graft, but the House is cleared of any substantiated accusation.

APPROPRIATIONS WHOOPED UP MORE

SENATE VOTES $75,000 FOR RENOVATION OF ALIOLANI HALE AND SEVERAL OTHER NEW ITEMS ON THIRD READING—BUSINESS MEN EXPRESS REGRET AT TREASURER CAMPBELL'S REJECTION—RECEPTION OF MR. FAIRBANKS.

THE SENATE.
McCarthy presented a report of the committee of the whole on House bills amending the County Act and the Honolulu Municipal Act. In accordance with the report the following bills passed third reading on the votes mentioned:
House bill 88 giving counties the authority to construct and control court houses, school houses, waterworks, sewers, hospital and jails, 12-0.
House bill 98 authorizing the City and County of Honolulu to do and perform the same things as the counties in the preceding bill, 13-0.
House bill 90 relating to the appointment of jailors:
Ayes—Baker, Brown, Fairchild, Harvey, Kalama, Knudsen, Makekani, McCarthy, Moore, Quinn, Woods—11.
Nays—Chillingworth, Coelho, Robinson, Smith—4.
House bill 175 relating to the powers and duties of boards of supervisors of counties, 15-0.
House bill 176 relating to the powers of supervisors of the City and County of Honolulu, 15-0.

SCANDAL SUGGESTED.
Woods introduced the following resolution:
"Be it resolved that a special committee to consist of three members be appointed by the president of the Senate to thoroughly investigate into certain charges made against the conduct and administration of affairs by certain officers employed by the Board of Agriculture and Forestry, such committee to have full power necessary to make such investigation searching and complete and to have authority to incur such expenses as may be necessary therefor; said committee to report back its findings to the Senate, together with any recommendations which it may deem desirable."
President Smith suggested that the resolution being so vague ought to be referred to a committee. As Woods started to explain the president asked if it would not be better to have a committee to ascertain what the resolution was about rather than have the charges made public before any idea was had of their foundation.

If there has been any graft in translating bills, or otherwise, in the House of Representatives, it has not been discovered.
The special investigation committee created by resolution of the House to follow up reports of alleged grafting printed in the Bulletin, this morning completed the taken of evidence without a dissenting voice.
Woods said that was just why the resolution was worded as it was. He wanted those making the charges to be brought before the committee instead of putting the responsibility up to any member of the Senate.
The resolution was adopted and the chair appointed Woods, Chillingworth and Knudsen as the committee.
THE APPROPRIATION BILL.
House bill making appropriations amounting to $2,876,395 for current expenses for the biennial period ending June 30, 1911, was read a third time.
Moore moved to insert an item of $15,000 for Leahi Home, saying it was overlooked among hospitals on second reading.
Fairchild, chairman of the ways and means committee, read a statement of finances with running oral comments. The conclusion was that if the counties received all of the additional revenue now promised, and certain new items he was going to move for insertion in this bill, there would be a deficit of $356,872.12 at the end of the period. If one-half the liquor license fees was given back to the Territory the deficit would be reduced to $264,372.12. On the other hand, if the additional revenue to the counties was withheld and the bill empowering the counties to levy an additional real property tax of not to exceed one-fourth of one per cent for local public improvements passed, the Territorial deficit would be reduced to $63,000. This is the reason he asked to have the bill in question saved for further consideration. The items he was going to introduce were these: Repairs to Judiciary building, $75,000; Boys' Industrial School, $12,000; addition to Normal School, $800; Library, $10,000; Armory building, $40,000.

Reporter Irwin of the Bulletin, again on the stand this morning, replied to questions that as far as he knew the committee had investigated all possible sources of information; he could suggest no further persons to be examined and, as far as he at present knew, there was nothing further for the committee to investigate. He still wished not to be obliged to reveal the name of his original informant, nor did the committee insist, since it was declared by Mr. Irwin that even if he did reveal his informant's name and the latter were placed on the stand he could reveal nothing more than had already been disclosed.
Kaleopu was again called. He said he had translated H. B. 91, introduced by himself, and himself turned it over to the printing committee. If Translator Kaleo got paid for the translation it was not his affair.
Kaleopu had instructed the printing committee to give all the bills he introduced to Kaleo and Poepeo because he had confidence in the work of the latter and knew the former was associated in translation work with the former.
Whether or not the printing committee had turned his, Kaleopu's translation of H. B. 91, over to Kaleo to revise and therefore Kaleo had been paid, Kaleopu did not know, nor had he concerned himself in that regard.
Kaleo was on the stand this morning. He did not support Kaleopu in the latter's statement that Kaleopu himself had handed the translated bill to the printing committee for printing, saying that he Kaleo, had done this. Beyond this discrepancy there was nothing inconsistent in the story as told by various witnesses. Kaleopu considered it perfectly proper to ask that a certain translator be given all his bills to translate, just as he might favor a certain man for clerk or messenger or other duty.
The Journal committee employees were questioned, but not the slightest suspicion of graft was forthcoming in this case or any other.
In regard to automobile hire, Jim Quinn was called to say whether or not he thought $5 per hour a fair charge. He said he thought it correct and wouldn't do a job for less under conditions under which jobs had been done for the Legislature. If the supervisors had contracted such a bill as had been contracted by the House for a visit to the Agriculture and Forestry headquarters, he, Jim Quinn, as a supervisor himself, would O. K. the bill. He was interested in the bill before the House expenditures committee and last night he had dreamed the bill was paid. He hoped dreams came true.

DROWNS HIMSELF

AGED CAPITALIST FROM LOS ANGELES SEEKS RELIEF FROM SUFFERING.

J. Chanslor, a well-known resident of Los Angeles, who arrived here on the Lurline about three weeks ago and has been a guest of the Moana Hotel, committed suicide from the Moana pier at an early hour this morning. Mr. Chanslor was seventy years of age and has been ill for the past two years, suffering from headaches continually for the past twelve months. He mentioned this latter fact only yesterday. It is believed that he saw no relief ahead and simply ended his life in the quickest manner possible.

The party in which Mr. Chanslor included his son, Mr. J. A. Chanslor, the latter's wife, a maid and chauffeur. They came to this island for a visit and brought their automobile with them from the coast. A trip around the island had been planned by the party for today. The deceased was attended by a nurse who was the last person to see Mr. Chanslor, giving him medicine at 3 o'clock this morning and then going back to sleep. Shortly after this Mr. Chanslor rose and left the hotel. When the nurse arose again later and missed the patient a search followed which resulted in the finding of the body.
A coroner's inquest will be held over the remains, which will probably be embalmed and sent to the coast for burial.

BIG STORE OF INFORMATION

NEW HONOLULU AND TERRITORIAL DIRECTORY HAS VERY MANY NEW FEATURES.

The Honolulu and Territorial directory which has just been issued by the Polk-Husted Directory Company is by far the most complete book of its kind that has yet been placed before the public. It has a number of new features and is strictly up-to-date in every way, the classified business directory being one of the most useful and complete that can be asked. The Honolulu directory will be kept on hand in each of the offices of the Polk Directory Company, which means that one can obtain the book in practically every city of any importance in the United States.

What the contents consist of may be learned to a small extent from the fact that besides the usual alphabetical list of the names of all residents of not only this city but all the islands of the Territory, the book gives, in its 925 pages, full information in regard to all the churches, clubs, commercial organizations, newspapers and other periodicals, lodges, theaters, parks and various branches of the government. The Honolulu street guide is also a feature which has been added to and brought up-to-date. The book is finely bound and printed well on good paper, making a volume which will last for years even with the hard usage which such a book generally gets.

THE AFTERNOON SESSIONS

THE SENATE

FIFTIETH DAY.
Afternoon Session.

A report of the conference committee on the public shows bill recommended the passage of the bill as amended by the Senate with an amendment making the fee for a passing show $1 a performance instead of $2.50 a day.

Makekau objected that the difference between the two houses was over a fee of $500 a year. A conference had not right to consider new matter. Kalama backed the point of order.

Knudsen, asked for an opinion, held that the action of the conference constituted a compromise within its province.

The report was deferred. Fairchild presented a majority report of the ways and means committee on Senate and House bill on the collection of license fees by county treasurers, recommending that the Senate bill be tabled and the House bill be passed with amendments as submitted. Coelbo did not concur, believing all license fees should be paid to the counties. Laid on the table to be considered with the bill.

Four Houses bill on second reading were referred to appropriate committees. The House informed the Senate that it had adopted Senate concurrent resolution relating to amendment of the public land laws by Congress.

House joint resolution to provide for a commission to investigate stamp duties passed first reading.

House bill to authorize W. A. Wall and associates to construct a railway on the island of Hawaii passed second reading.

Harvey introduced a bill to repeal sections 1136 and 1137, R. L., relating to the transportation of lepers.

MUNICIPAL BILL KILLED.
Brown, deferred motion to indefinitely postpone House bill amending the Honolulu Municipal Act, increasing the power of the Supervisors, was called up by McCarthy.

Kalama said it was a good bill, but ought not to be passed this session. It would not be fair to either the Mayor or the Supervisors.

The motion carried, indefinitely postponing the measure, by the following vote:
Ayes—Brown, Coelbo, Harvey, Kalama, Makekau, McCarthy, Moore, Woods—8.

Noes—Baker, Chillingworth, Fairchild, Knudsen, Quinn, Robinson, Smith—7.

Woods gave the finishing blow with a motion to reconsider the vote which was lost.

Knudsen presented a report of the judiciary committee on Senate bill providing for assessment of property benefited by the Honolulu sewer systems, favoring its passage.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.
McCarthy was called to the chair of committee of the whole to consider a series of House bills conveying various new powers to the counties. House bill 8 was the basis.

Smith moved to strike out the care of schools, seeing danger of conflict of authority with the Board of Education.

Knudsen asked if there was not danger also in the control of court houses proposed to be transferred.

Fairchild asked if there was any legal objection.

Smith said there was objection both in policy and in law, the Board of Education having now full charge of the public schools.

Makekau did not think it was right to give the counties power to change or discontinue schools.

Moore took it that the objectors regarded the boards of supervisors elected by the people as a pack of scoundrels. The members of the county boards were responsible to the people and would not likely be disposed to tear down school houses. He believed in county government and thought the bill should pass as it stood.

Knudsen contended that the bill did not take powers away from the Territorial authorities when it gave certain powers to the counties. If the boards of supervisors had funds to repair a school house why not give them the power to do so.

Makekau said it would be all right if the title of the schools also was passed to the counties. His objection was that they did not know what kind of men would be elected to the boards of supervisors. If the Legislature did not happen to be in session the Honolulu city government would have blown up in the air. The supervisors would spend all the money on the roads where they had the votes and have nothing for the schools.

Fairchild stated that if a school building blew down in the month of May it could not be rebuilt until the Legislature two years hence voted the money for it. Baker interrupted with a query as to what he made of the provision objected to, that the supervisors should regulate and maintain the schools. The speaker answered that the provision was quite proper. There was nothing there to interfere with the Board of Education in employing teachers and regulating the course of study. As on the mainland the central authority had charge of the curriculum.

A. G. M. Robertson, who was present with W. A. Kinney to advise the Senate on legal points, being appealed to stated that there appeared to be nothing wrong with the wording of the law.

Smith changed his amendment, making it merely leave out the power to "change, discontinue and re-established" schools. Carried.

Knudsen moved an amendment excepting the Lahainatuna Seminary. Carried.

Knudsen moved to insert a provision for the taking over and maintaining of water works and sewer systems by the counties.

Attorney Robertson advised President Smith, who objected to the amendment, that if the bill was not so amended they ought to provide in some other measure for the maintenance of water works and sewers by the Territory.

Coelbo moved to amend the amendment by authorizing the boards to place signs on bridges, which was accepted and the amendment as a whole carried.

The committee voted to recommend the passage of the bill on third reading.

House bill relating to the City and County of Honolulu, conveying similar powers thereto as the preceding bill did to the counties, was recommended for passage on third reading with an amendment excepting the industrial schools as Territorial institutions.

House bill relating to the appointment of jailors, placing such in the hands of the sheriffs, was next considered.

Robinson questioned the advisability of giving the absolute appointment to the sheriffs without the approval of the high sheriff.

Smith was in favor of giving the power of approval to the boards of supervisors. The matter of the care of prisoners was of more importance than was usually accorded to it. As the sheriff was an elected officer his appointments of jailors should be subject to the approval of the board of supervisors. He moved an amendment accordingly.

Robinson objected that the prisoners were not under the jurisdiction of the counties, and was informed by the chair that the bill just passed turned the jails over to the counties.

Moore added that the arrests were made by the sheriff and the prisoners were in his custody, and not until they were convicted of crime were they committed to the Territorial prison.

Makekau argued that, according to the precedent of giving the sheriffs the independent appointment of deputy sheriffs, they should have the same power over the jailors.

Smith moved another amendment placing the appointment of Territorial jailors in the hands of the high sheriff with the approval of the Attorney General, and that of all other jailors in the hands of the county sheriffs and the sheriff of the City and County of Honolulu respectively.

The amendments carried and the bill as amended was recommended to pass third reading.

House bill giving the boards of supervisors of counties power to enact ordinances, regulate the erection of buildings, appoint county physicians, etc., came up next. With an amendment the bill was recommended for passage.

House bill conferring similar powers on the board of supervisors of the City and County of Honolulu to those in the foregoing bill relating to counties was recommended for passage.

The committee rose and made recommendations as above noted. Ayes and noes being required to pass third reading, action was deferred until a written report was presented.

SENATE RESUMES.
The Senate having resumed, House bill to amend the law relating to merchandise licenses was taken up. On motion of Coelbo the rules were suspended to permit the visiting attorneys to give advice to the Senate.

On Baker's amendment of the morning to eliminate the license fee of $2 for the sale of dried fish, etc., President Smith explained that the bill did not make the bill apply to the peddling of fish, which with other articles peddled were specifically exempted, but to a dealer or storekeeper. The matter was one altogether of policy.

Coelbo explained the intent of the provision as he understood it. There were peripatetic hucksters of separate articles of merchandise—Japanese selling dried fish and Koreans flour.

Attorney Robertson gave a requested opinion, after which the amendment carried.

With a verbal amendment suggested by the president the bill passed third reading 14-1, the negative vote being by McCarthy.

HOUSE MESSAGES.
The House sent word of its concurrence in the Senate amendments to House bills 84 and 167.

It also informed the Senate it had adopted the conference report on the public shows bill.

McCarthy, whose opinion was asked by the president, held that a conference committee could not put new matter in a bill. However, he agreed with other members that the Senate might as well adopt the report and leave the responsibility to the House. Makekau insisted the thing could not be done.

Knudsen read from an authority on his desk a precedent from the United States Congress.

As the question was about to be put, Makekau reopened the debate. After a deal more of it he raised a point of order, a decision on which was deferred until tomorrow.

PRISON LABOR.
Senate bill relating to labor by prisoners came up for reference, but on motion of McCarthy was considered forthwith on second reading. It charges the City and County of Honolulu fifty cents a day for prison labor it uses. The bill passed.

Senate joint resolution for the appointment of a School Fund Commission passed second reading.

At 4:35 the Senate adjourned till 9 tomorrow morning.

YOU WANT The News First.

You Want Your Ads Read

Here Is Some Advice

Honolulu more than any other city in the World, is a place where the Evening Paper gets the news first. The clock here is over two hours behind the clock at San Francisco, four hours behind New York and ten to eleven hours behind the clocks in the European capitals.

This means that when The Star is going to press The Day Is Closed in Washington, Chicago, New York and Europe and almost over in San Francisco. The news of the day is here for The Star.

Under modern conditions it takes practically no time to prepare and transmit news and the Star gets every evening the cable dispatches giving

The News Of All the World
For the Day Just Ended

Here are some of the features that go to make the evening paper the predominating factor in an advertising campaign:

It is delivered at the home each night when the whole family has plenty of time to read it.
It is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it stays there. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The evening paper is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all the advertisements receive their share of attention.
It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

The evening paper presents the news the day it happens. The morning paper the day after.
The evening paper presents the news first. The morning paper merely elaborates it.
The evening paper prints daylight news. The morning paper takes what is left.

WOULD THIS PLAN WORK FOR HAWAII?

A circular of the California Promotion Committee says that California will be much to the fore at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle and one of the interesting feature events will be the celebration of "California Promotion Committee Day" on June 15th, for which occasion the California Promotion Committee will run a special train carrying one hundred representative Californians. Each of the fifty-eight counties of the State will have a representative and the remainder of the one hundred, which number has been fixed as the limit, will consist of business men of the State. The arrangements for the trip, which is made in acceptance of an official invitation extended by the management of the exposition, are in the hands of a special committee appointed for the purpose, consisting of Frank L. Brown, chairman; Alfred I. Esberg, R. B. Dale, L.A. Nares and Charles F. Runyon. As in the case of the trip made by the committee to the exposition at Portland in 1905 every feature of the affair will be unique and distinctly Californian.

Leaving San Francisco on Saturday evening, June 12th, the party will reach Seattle on the 14th, the day before "California Promotion Committee Day." Following the day especially set aside in honor of these visitors there will be a reception to the party in the California Building. After the festivities at the exposition a trip will be made about Puget Sound with invited guests on a chartered steamer. On the return trip, leaving Seattle on Friday, June 18th, stops will be made at Tacoma and Portland, where it is planned to extend the Californians some courtesies in the way of receptions and drives. The special will reach San Francisco again on Sunday, June 20th, completing a trip that will have accomplished much, bringing into closer touch the business men of the entire Pacific Coast.

The matter of the relations between Rudolph Spreckels and Heney are something of a puzzle. Those who remember Spreckels' very interesting address to the Commercial Club here will recall his eulogy of Heney and his special mention of the fact that Heney, when offered fees for his services, somewhat dramatically remarked that his heart was in the work, he loved San Francisco as his home city, and if Spreckels was willing to pay large sums for costs he, Heney, would do his share by offering his services as prosecutor without recompense. The statement won a round of applause here, as it did many times in San Francisco. It has appeared recently, however, that within the past two years or so, Heney received from the federal government something like $60,000 in fees as special prosecutor of Oregon land frauds. This was an exposure that came as a result of the Secret Service appropriations row in Washington.

ON "BOTH SIDES" AGAIN.

The consolidation bill which, whatever its details are, in principle is what this paper has long contended for, has passed the Senate, attempting to carry out the idea of increasing the powers of counties and at the same time, in order to avoid the waste of duplicating bureaus, correspondingly reducing Territorial expenses and departmental duties. The esteemed Advertiser, which is rather fond of calling attention to Star imperfections of which we are humbly conscious, is naturally looked to for its views, and we find that there is a puzzle involved. Our strenuous critic seems to be "on both sides." On March 26, commenting editorially on the plan to consolidate the Public Works, Public Lands and Survey Departments, it said:

"There is nothing but a few officeholders to obstruct the consolidation of the Public Lands Department, the Survey Department and the Department of Public Works." Furthermore it said: "There is an intimate connection in the administrative functions of these departments and, grouped under one head with a corresponding decrease in the cost of operation, there would be everything essential to secure those two elusive components of successful government—economy and efficiency." Finally the Advertiser concluded by saying "Consolidate the departments and get more team work." It is needed.

This is clear and pleasing. But in the same editorial column two weeks later, or last Thursday, appeared an editorial headed "Don't Amalgamate," in which were some equally strenuous arguments against the consolidation plan. For example it said:

"The idea of turning over the tasks of the Superintendent of Public Works, Land Commissioner, and Surveyor to one man, does not strike the friends of American development here as wise. If adopted, it would be quite certain to relegate the land interests of the Territory to second place behind the administrative detail of the Public Works Department; a thing which these undeveloped islands can least afford to let happen."

"The Land Department, inclusive of the Bureau of Survey and invested with the full control of the Territorial real estate in the city which is now administered by the Department of Public Works, ought to be the most useful and the busiest branch of the administration. Its importance is too great to permit its absorption, or its neutralization. What it needs is building up, not tearing down.

"As to the Department of Public Works, if it is to do its full duty, it should not be burdened with outside responsibilities. Its work is enough for one man to profitably direct; and instead of taking on land concerns it ought to be relieved of those it now administers."

It is up to some member of the legislature to repeat in somewhat notorious utterance in Congress: "Mr. Speaker, where are we at?"

THE ETHICS OF STANDARD OIL

EDITOR STAR: I am sure that you will be willing to correct an almost amusing yet rather unfortunate misapprehension that must have come to some of the readers of your report of the address before the Commercial Club yesterday on "The Ethics of Business." In making the point that all legitimate business is a form of social service and that no business could endure that did not on the whole meet some human need (whether real or imaginary) I took the Standard Oil Company as an extreme case. I said that it largely owed its immense profits first to the mischievous system by which we allow individuals and corporations to acquire as private property and to hold as a monopoly vast areas of forest and mineral lands; it also owed its income to our vaunted theory of the protection of "infant industries;" then, thirdly, it had actually developed an immense and efficient plant for the distribution of its product—an undeniable fact, I suppose, and the only element upon which its prosperity is honestly based. I added a paragraph, (which very likely might have been more carefully guarded) to the effect that the Standard Oil Company was so prosperous for other reasons, that it was a special shame for it to have had recourse to methods of graft and corruption. I hardly can understand what recklessness of speech I could have been guilty of to persuade you kindly reporter that I was speaking in defense of the methods of "Standard Oil."

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES F. DOLE.

Doctors prescribe all sorts of remedies for that feeling of exhaustion but none of them will accomplish the results obtained by visiting Haleiwa for a day or two. ### An Ideal Touring Car

Franklin Model D

PRACTICALLY NO TIRE TROUBLE

With its light-weight and easy-riding strong construction Model D is aptly termed the ideal of all automobiles for family use. Weighing as it does a third less than the average water-cooled automobile of smaller capacity, it gives minimum tire and operating expense. It most nearly fulfills universal requirements. Its compactness, ability, handsome body, large wheels, and the ease with which it handles place it in a class by itself—an ideal touring-car, not too large for city and business use, light-weight, refined and easy-riding.

Franklin Model D, $2800. Four cylinder, 28 horse-power, five-passenger touring-car. 36-inch wheels, same size as used on the best water-cooled automobiles weighing 1900 pounds more. Aluminum body on steel angle frame—the strongest and lightest automobile body made. Three large powerful brakes acting on transmission and rear wheels, selective type transmission, positive gear-driven oiler, Bosch high tension magneto.

EXTRA APPROPRIATIONS.

The item for Leahi Home passed. Fairchild moved to insert an item of $75,000 for repairs, alterations and furniture for the Judiciary building.

President Smith suggested that the proposal should be carefully considered. It seemed to him that a smaller amount for keeping the building in ordinary repairs should be voted.

Quinn favored the suggestion, citing the case of Alakea street wharf shed where the bids did not come within a mile of the estimate.

Fairchild thought they should either wait for two years or vote the $75,000 for thorough renovation. Money voted for temporary repairs would go for whitewash, etc., and the Government would be back for more at next session.

Makekau moved to amend to $65,000 so as to leave $10,000 for a new wharf at Mahukona.

Quinn moved to raise it to $100,000. Kalama said there was no such building as the Judiciary. It should be called by its right name of All-olani Hale. His motion to amend the bill accordingly carried and the item passed at $75,000.

Fairchild moved to insert $12,000 for the Boys' Industrial School. Moore moved the item be not inserted. Makekau butted in with a motion to insert an item for Mahukona wharf. The president called him to order and went on to say that it was hoped that under the juvenile court law there would be a less number of boys sent to that school. Chillingworth said none would be sent.

Makekau was struggling to hold the floor for Mahukona wharf when he was again called to order, but it was discovered there was no second to Fairchild's motion and he got in a motion for $13,300 for a new building and concrete wall at Mahukona.

Fairchild asked if it was to be on government land. Woods replied that it was all government land around there. Chillingworth wanted to be sure. Ever since he was a child Mahukona landing was under private control. Charges on parcels were being made there today.

Moore said the Hanalei wharf already provided for would be on private land.

The item passed with an amendment providing that the landing be on government land. Fairchild then had his item for Hanalei amended by adding the same proviso to it.

Baker moved to insert $18,000 for a new landing at Napooppo, provided that it be on government land. The president uttered a caution about the financial situation as shown. Baker replied that there was a great deal of freight at Napooppo.

"You have a good landing there," the president emphatically remarked.

Baker, thus confronted with a fact, hastily withdrew his motion but the moving spirit being upon him he moved to insert an item of $3600 for salary of a school agent. Robinson supported the motion.

McCarthy referred to the raise of $69,000 in the salaries of teachers. This matter of school agents had been discussed repeatedly inside and outside of the Senate. The superintendent could commission the principal of the largest school in each district to act as school agent.

The item was lost.

Makekau moved to insert a pension of $200 a year for the widow of the late G. W. A. Hapai, for many years district magistrate of Hilo. He spoke long and often in alternation with members opposing the motion.

Fairchild protested against pensions generally, arguing that England had taken a step backward in adopting old age pensions. Was Hawaii going to inform the world that her people were so badly paid for their labor that at death their families must be supported by public charity.

McCarthy and the president both explained the difference between the present case and that of the widow of John M. Kea.

The item was lost.

Robinson moved that the bill be amended pass third reading.

Chillingworth moved to change the title National Guard to Militia Department. Carried.

Fairchild reminded the Senate that an act had been passed providing for a library but no money provided for it. He moved to insert an item of $10,000 for the Library of Hawaii. Carried.

Coelho moved to insert an item of $6000 for repairs to McGregor's landing, but on Fairchild's divergence of the fact that the landing was in excellent condition withdrew the motion and substituted another one for $7000 for an armory at Lahaina. Lost.

Coelho then moved to insert $2750 for vaccination supplies and change the lumped item of $48,000 for medicines, etc., to $45,250. Carried.

Brown moved to insert $1440 as salary for a clerk of the third taxation division, Hawaii, and change the lump sum for deputies and clerks from $25,000 to $24,000. Carried.

Coelho moved to increase the salary of clerk of the Judiciary Department from $175 to $25 a month. Carried.

Chillingworth moved to insert a salary of $65 for a carpenter at the Insane Asylum and to reduce the lump sum for general payroll of the institution from $12,480 to $11,040. Carried.

Chillingworth moved to insert $40,000 for an armory building in Honolulu, on condition that the Federal government either restore to the Territory the barracks lot or pay half the cost of the building. Kalama and McCarthy spoke against it, and the mover was the only one to raise his hand for the item.

As amended the bill passed third reading.

ELLEFORDS ARE INCREASING CROWD

"Beacon Lights" drew a good house last evening at the Orpheum and the Ellefords added to their popularity. Auda Due charmed her audience by her truthful portraiture of Myra Halnta while Mattie Lloyd Luce made a conventional but warm hearted Carrie Calhoun. Lloyd Edwards was very good as Captain Allen and George Hernandez' Colonel Clay Calhoun is certainly an agreeable feature of the drama: Pietro Sossa's performance of Philip Gordon entitles him to high commendation; Clarence Ferguson's Manuel De Moro displays a great deal of merit; Anna Dodge is fully equal to the responsibility of Hulda Haverell. Lawrence Underwood who is always good made the most of his double and mention must be made of little Sophie, Ray Collins was at home in the role of Julian and favored with a song. It is understood that later on he will present some pleasing illustrated songs. Between the third and fourth acts the Osborn children gave another catchy specialty and they were rewarded with hearty applause. The rescue by the United States soldiers caused no end

AXE FOR THIRD DEGREE OFFICER

DETECTIVE MEDEIROS WILL LOSE POSITION AS RESULT OF INVESTIGATION OF ROSA CASE.

Detective Medeiros of the police department will leave the force, as the result of the third degree actions to which he submitted the Rosa boy, charged with burglary. The report made by the special committee of the Board of Supervisors last night was read this morning by Sheriff Jarrett, who stated that Medeiros would have to go. The Sheriff stated that there was no doubt in his mind in regard to the Rosa boy's guilt, for he had confessed to a number of incidents in the Turner robbery which could not have been suggested to him by an outsider. The special committee's report says: Your committee on Police Department to which was referred the matter of investigating the methods employed by the former Chief of Detectives in extorting confession from one Joe Rosa a minor, in regard to his complicity in certain burglaries committed in the Makiki section of the city would respectfully report that your committee has had several meetings where interested parties were summoned to testify. Your committee is informed that the said minor was, in the first instance, taken in the office of the Chief of Detectives and in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Lutted was minutely examined by him as to his complicity in the robberies the community is aware of. We learned from Mr. J. Kalakieia, the former chief of detectives, that in questioning the said youth he made no threatening language nor ill-treated him in any manner. That after his examination, Joe Rosa, the minor, was committed by the chief to Medeiros and Pierce, members of the detective force for further investigation. The testimony of Mr. Kalakieia is borne out by that of Mr. and Mrs. Lutted and substantiated by Joe Rosa himself, the principal in this affair. Your committee further finds that in the examination which was held later, Mr. Kalakieia was not present. That Medeiros and Pierce did the questioning—using threatening language and roughly handled the youth in question. This is borne out in the testimony of the youth himself. The matter of intimidation and rough handling on the part of the detectives above named is however absolutely denied and contradicted by them in toto. Your committee would respectfully submit the foregoing findings to your Honorable Board and would like to invite to draw your own conclusions relative to the alleged ill-treatment of the party in question. In conclusion, we would state that after an impartial investigation and after a careful review of the acts connected in the case and the circumstances surrounding the same, it is the sense of the committee and herewith recommend to the board that Medeiros one of the detectives above quoted, be dismissed from service; and in so far as relates to Pierce, the other detective above noted, your committee could make no recommendation as he has already resigned from service.

SPORTS

RUNNERS AWAIT STARTERS PISTOL

EVERYTHING READY FOR TOMORROW'S MARATHON—RULES WHICH WILL GOVERN CONTEST—SOME DON'T'S FOR MARATHONERS—POINTERS ON RACE AND NOURISHMENT.

The sole topic of conversation in sporting circles today is the marathon to be run at the baseball park tomorrow.

The race will be started at 1 p. m. by Mayor Pera and the band will play during the afternoon.

Everything is in readiness for the contest and thirty runners are expected to toe the scratch.

No pains have been spared to make the race a big success, and the outlook is for a record-breaking crowd at the ball park.

The officials are all well known local sportsmen and their names are a guarantee that everything will be run off without a hitch.

Training for the race ceased yesterday although several of the runners took pipe-openers this morning. All the favorites are standing up well and the racing will be keen from the start.

A set of rules governing the race has been formulated and is as follows:

1. Each competitor shall present himself at the league grounds not later than noon on Sunday.

2. Each competitor shall be provided with a medical certificate of fitness which he must present at the number station before he is provided with his numbers.

3. The number station will be under the tent in the center of the track. Each competitor will announce his name in turn, present his certificate and receive two numbers and four safety pins. These numbers must be pinned "squarely" on the chest and back with a pin at each corner so that the numbers can be plainly seen by the judges and spectators.

4. Each competitor will be allowed two assistants. One assistant will be permitted inside the center of the track and may follow his principal and hand him refreshment at any stage of the race, provided that refreshment does not consist of drugs. The other assistant will be stationed at the general Kokua stand which will be below the grandstand.

5. A competitor may leave the track at any time provided he does so without assistance and may return at any time without assistance, provided that he does not leave the open grounds. Any competitor entering the dressing rooms during the race will be immediately disqualified.

6. Only one assistant may handle a competitor. That is the assistant who is stationed at the Kokua place. He may rub down his principal and may administer any kind of refreshment provided that the latter does not take the form of any drug. Any assistant who has a hypodermic syringe, or any restorative drug, except straight smelling salts, will be immediately ejected from the grounds and his principal will be disqualified.

7. Any runner who impedes or bumps into another runner will be immediately disqualified. If the assistants or partisans of any runner impede, obstruct or bump into any other runner, he will be immediately disqualified.

8. All competitors who present themselves at the league grounds at noon on Sunday April 18, without a doctor's certificate, on application at the number stand will have their entrance fee returned, but will not be permitted to enter the race.

9. Any disqualification of the judges will not be made official until after the approval of the referee. This decision will be absolutely final and any runner disqualified will under no circumstances be permitted to return to the track.

10. Runners in passing other runners at the turns must not force their opponents onto the rope. Any hustling or rough work at the turns will call for immediate disqualification of the offender.

11. The prizes will be awarded according to the list of winners given by the judges. Prizes will be distributed at E. O. Hall and Son's store the day following the race. All those who come in in the first ten will be expected to state their preference for cash, medal, cup or merchandise after the race to Mr. Charles Bartlett, Clerk of the Course.

All contestants must have a doctor's certificate of fitness before being allowed to enter the race. Competitors will be examined free of charge by Dr. Walters, at his office on Alakea street, between 11 and 5 today. This rule will be strictly enforced. Each runner must be physically fit for the race or he will not be permitted inside the ropes.

Contestants must get their passes at the store of the Hawaiian News Co. today. There are three for each runner. Assistants of runners are expected to bring their own buckets, towels, sponges, etc. Ice will be provided on the ground.

The following "Don'ts" will well repay careful reading by Marathon runners:

Don't allow a trainer or handler to throw buckets of water on you while in competition. It is absolutely unnecessary and a detriment.

Don't wear spiked shoes in a Marathon race. Always wear a well-fitting, almost a tight shoe.

Don't let anyone give you dope in a race.

Don't start in a Marathon race with a new pair of shoes. Have them tried and tested before you start.

Don't stop to be rubbed down; you will never get going again.

Don't stop to change your shoes; if you do you may as well retire from the race.

Don't take any nourishment before going seventeen or eighteen miles. If you do you will never go the distance.

Don't, an hour or so before the race, eat a very hearty meal.

Don't eat or drink in a Marathon race. It is not beneficial.

As to the taking of stimulants during the race it is agreed by several famous runners that the full course can be covered in very creditable time without even so much as a single drop of water being taken or even sponging of the head. This, of course, is when the runner is in perfect trim. Eating during the race will hardly benefit one as no nourishment can come from the food till digested, and the race will be finished before the food would be digested.

If one feels that he must eat something good things to take are some malted milk tablets, or some good quality milk chocolate. The less taken in a race the better, however.

To cool the head and the blood in general on a hot day the head may be sponged with bay rum, as its rapid evaporation produces a cool sensation. Care must be taken not to allow it to enter the eyes.

In the actual running of the race a great deal naturally depends on conditions that often do not show till the race has started. It is well to remember, however, that the race is twenty-six miles and not fifteen or twenty, and though you may lead by a large margin in the early stages it does not follow that you will maintain it to the end. It is always best to run well within one's self till within striking distance of home, say the last eight or ten miles, then if you have anything left in you and feel strong, go out and run till you drop.

CAPTAIN TULLETT'S WASHINGTON WORK

Honolulu, April 16th.

EIDTOR STAR:—Allow me to thank you for the fair-minded opinion expressed in the editorial of your valuable paper in February in re the hearing before the Committee on Merchant, Marine and Fisheries a copy of which I herewith enclose for your inspection.

I also want to offer the following explanation in support of my action at said hearing:

I, with many others was appointed on a committee by the President of our National Association to appear before the Committee on Merchant, Marine & Fisheries to submit arguments in support of H. R. Bill No. 15657 introduced by the Hon. Everts P. Hayes of California.

This was a duty imposed upon me by our Association and I had no right to consult with Delegate Kalaniannaoie or Mr. McClellan on the matter. The story in the Advertiser entitled "Hawaiians in a snarl" at the Capital" was a very great surprise to me and is absolutely without foundation.

For although I consulted the Delegate and Mr. McClellan upon several occasions both before and after this hearing occurred the matter was never mentioned by either party and the first intimation I had of any snarl over this matter was when I received the Advertiser and read the story.

I would have been very pleased to have withdrawn any statements made by me if the gentlemen had made known their objections to me at the time as I certainly did not want to embarrass either the Delegate or Mr. McClellan, and it was only when the question was put direct to me, "did I know of any vessel owner that would support this measure," that I answered as I did, but not in a spirit of boastfulness as intimated in the story in the Advertiser.

In document No. 101 entitled "Message from the President of the United States for the better security of life at sea a copy of which I also enclose, it is recommended that all sail vessels of 300 tons and upwards shall come under the inspection laws and carry a full complement of licensed officers.

At the present time a sailing vessel of any tonnage and flying the American flag can proceed to sea with only one licensed officer on board. If anything should happen to him during the voyage the vessel would be a menace to all vessels navigating the ocean.

I offer this explanation in support of my action as I believe the story published during my absence has done me a grave injustice and was very misleading to the public. I shall be very pleased to furnish you with the results obtained by our Harbor through me their representative after our next meeting when my report will be read if they decide to have them made public.

Thanking you in advance for space in your valuable paper. I am respectfully yours,
A. TULLETT.

WHO PAYS FOR THE ADVERTISING?
There are still a few non-advertising concerns in this enlightened age that claim they can give better value than others because they do not spend money in advertising. It would be just as sensible to say that they can give better value because their trade requires only one salesman! Does advertising add to the cost of selling goods, or reduce it? Let's see:

A shoe store paying $10 per day for rent, and selling ten pairs of shoes, would have to charge you $1 per pair for rent alone.
If, by spending $10 per day additional for advertising, the same store can sell 100 pairs of shoes instead of 10 pairs, then the rent and advertising combined would cost only 20c instead of $1 per pair.

It is volume of sales that reduces the cost of selling. And the quickest and easiest way to get volume, when you have the right kind of goods, is by advertising.

TOWN TALK

By THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

The "graft" inquisition of the House is a wonderful institution in many ways. It is the child of rumor, created by a bunch and borne, into existence via the air-line of intelligence. Not that rumors are not often correct and not that the air-line is not frequently reliable, but the manner of the creation of the special committee of the House to investigate alleged graft is entertaining as an example of what rumor can do and so quickly. Somebody pulled a reporter aside and said that Representative Long had a list of names of grafters. Immediately a publication appeared, not without a basis, for the rumor may have seemed tangible. Then investigation brings everything down to Representative Long who declares, practically, that he knows nothing outside of impressions received by himself. He saw some person nod his head. He heard an Honorable say "That's for me." He saw Kalelopi translating a bill and heard that some other got the money for translating said bill, or some other bill.

Further investigation shows what? It shows that Kalelopi translated a bill which he himself had introduced, having taken it away from a hired translator to translate himself to make sure it was translated correctly. The hired translator gets paid $5 for the job. Now the only way graft can be proved in this instance is to show that the hired translator divided with Kalelopi, if he did.

Whatever the facts may be, the whole business is so petty that it is sickening. My gracious, what is graft, if it is graft for a Representative to translate his own bill?

I wish a standing "inquisition" would investigate forms of graft of which I am every day the poor victim. How about my paying for a public utility that does not come up to what it should be? How about paying good money, earned by the sweat of my brow, for something that is not what it pretends to be?

My idea of graft includes restaurant hash, restaurant cream, double huck rates after eleven o'clock, the doctor's bill for appendicitis, a plug between the shars when I hire a rig to drive my best girl, ten cents for a three-for-a-quarter cigar just because you buy it at a cafe, the rise in meat and lumber and rent and pot and fish, and so on most eternally.

Talking about graft, I will give you an actual incident. A new chapel has been opened out Kailhi way. One day a reverend went to a grocery store and begged the proprietor not to sell candy to the children of the neighborhood because they spent the nickles and dimes given them for the collection plate, on candy, and Sunday School collections were therefore slim.

Suffering saints, what next?

I heard an interesting little story in regard to the manner in which Attorney-General Hemenway was confirmed and though I am not prepared to vouch for it, I must certainly say that it looks as though there might be something in it. First Hemenway and Campbell were turned down. Then Hemenway was confirmed. On the next day Willard Brown and Fred Waldron, both men of a liberal type and while not friendly to the liquor interests in any manner which might be construed to their discredit, still much broader than men of the Ballentyne stamp, were appointed on the Oahu Liquor commission.

It is an old story that two and two make one and I am rather inclined to believe that it is true in this case, though I am willing to bet my last cent that Hemenway had nothing to do with the bargain, for bargain there certainly was, though, as I say, it may not have been just the one that I have mentioned.

Since this Hemenway affair has gone through so well it is understood that Governor Frear is getting ready to work off a like stunt in relation to the Federal judgeship. It is rumored President Taft is to be allowed to select each and every member of the Milk Commission authorized at the present session of the Legislature if he will appoint Abe Lewis as Federal Judge. If he does not do this but appoints Judge Perry to the Supreme Bench, Taft gets two milk commissioners. If Clem Quinn is appointed to the Circuit bench, Taft gets one, while if Judges Robinson, De Bolt and Whitney get the positions, Taft may just get out and not try to use any of his Filipino politics on "us planters."

I was much astonished the other day at a picture of Congressman Payne, author of the Payne tariff bill, which is now the subject of a great debate in Washington. I had the honor of having a few words with Payne several years ago, when he went through here en route to the Philippines, on the subject of a coffee tariff and other matters. (He was gloriously non-committal about whether there should be a tariff on coffee or not.) He doesn't look a bit like that Advertiser picture. In fact the published picture was so different from a picture of Payne that I am driven to the conclusion that the morning inallible journal mixed pictures. I suspect that the picture published was one of Dr. Jenkins, the nerve specialist.

I wish that some one would show me just where Hawaii is going to benefit so tremendously by the opening of the Panama canal. I have heard this expressed in general terms only, for some time, but where any great amount of change, save in the fact that we may lose one of the regular steamship lines whose freight comes principally in taking new York freight to the Orient, is I cannot see. We are not in line between Panama and any of the principal ports of Asia and with the oil burning steamers of today there is no need of a stop here for fuel. Why should the steamers go out of their way to visit the Paradise of the Pacific?

The Panama route will be for freight, not for passengers, as for the latter traffic, speed, attained by the railroads and not steamers, is the great consideration. We have the Tehnantepec route for our freight now, and though an all-steam line from New York may bring down the rates to this city somewhat, it is far more likely that they will stay just where they are and that the extra profit will remain in their coffers. As far as I can see, the Panama canal may be fine in case of war, but outside of that I have not much idea of its benefit to Hawaii.

The House "graft" inquisition yesterday afternoon practically completed its investigation of rumors of irregularities among members and House officers and translators in regard to translating. The chief item of importance brought out was that Representative Kalelopi had translated the House "depository" bill, for the translation of which Kaleo, a translator had been paid. There was nothing to show that Kalelopi had received any of the five dollars paid Kaleo for the translation of the bill. The bill was intro-

NO PROOF OF ANY GRAFT IS FOUND

The House "graft" inquisition yesterday afternoon practically completed its investigation of rumors of irregularities among members and House officers and translators in regard to translating. The chief item of importance brought out was that Representative Kalelopi had translated the House "depository" bill, for the translation of which Kaleo, a translator had been paid. There was nothing to show that Kalelopi had received any of the five dollars paid Kaleo for the translation of the bill. The bill was introduced by Kalelopi and he had stated that, owing to its importance, he would translate it himself. When he had translated it he turned it over to Kaleo, who was hired to do House translating, and Kaleo received the pay.

Examination of numerous witnesses revealed nothing irregular in regard to the work of employees of the journal committee, and whether or not they were receiving Federal money on the one hand and Territorial money on the other, it seemed that they were doing work for both and that there had been complaints from neither side. The work was being done and the money being paid, nor did the work appear to conflict. Secretary of the Territory Mott-Smith had put a construction on the matter of disbursing the Federal money for House expenses that precluded payment for translating journal matter into Hawaiian, but for the Territory to pay for the translation did not seem to have any flavor of graft or irregularity.

Former Stenographer Lloyd was called to testify in regard to the talk of bribery. He had been charged with offering Kalelopi a Panama hat to support Alton's resolution to further remunerate the stenographer, and he had been charged with attempting to arrange with the clerk of the House for the approval of a typewriting bill. Lloyd declared that he had never offered Kalelopi a hat, but he had made reference to a hat when speaking to Kalelopi that he did not suppose that he wanted a Panama hat or anything else for supporting a measure if he deemed it right.

He stated that he was in a hurry when he asked Clerk Woodward to approve his bill and there might have been some error or misunderstanding in regard to estimating the folios of the typewritten work.

Woodward testified that every item in the bill contained an error and he had therefore refused to sanction payment.

CONSIDERABLE CITY BUSINESS

Passing the pay of laborers in various services was the chief business of the Board of Supervisors last night but many other matters came up. Deputy City Attorney Milverton rendered a sheet of reports on questions referred to him, including one covering a draft of ordinance to deal with the nuisance of throwing paper, fruit peel, etc., in the street.

The road committee was authorized to make repairs to the grounds at Kahlil and Lale and a request from David Watson for the appointment of an assistant poundmaster at Kaneohe was referred to Mayor Fern.

An instance of fixing a salary on the road payroll without reference to the Board called forth a warning that no such practice will be tolerated.

The Mayor's committee reported on the count of cash in the treasury, the amount being $89,540 including $59,325 redeemed warrants.

Reports on several matters were received from the road committee and City Engineer Gere. A prospect was shown of securing Atkinson park by exchange and extending it to the ocean front. Arrangements have progressed for widening King street from the town side of Fort Shafter to Kamehameha IV road. A resolution to close the lane in front of St. Louis college to vehicles excepting those entering or leaving the college grounds was deferred until the right of way for a woman owning a home adjoining the place is taken into consideration. The committee advised against oiling the Fall road as likely to make it dangerous for automobile traffic.

A letter from the Mayor suggesting a system of accounting so as to show the state of finances at any given time was referred to the way and means committee.

Adjourned to regular session Tuesday evening next.

RELIC OF BULLY HAYES

The schooner Concord arrived this morning after a long and tiresome trip of 14 days from Fanning Island. She would have been here some time ago, but when but 120 miles from land Captain Pittz, little craft was becalmed for five days. The Concord brought in eight tons of guano and 21,000 coconuts from Fanning island.

The most interesting part of the Concord's cargo, however, is a relic brought back by Eben Low, of this city, who was in command of the expedition. This is a brass swivel gun which was part of the equipment of "Bully" Hayes the famous pirate of the South Seas. The gun, which must weigh at least fifty pounds is of solid brass. It is blown open at the breech, evidently by a charge which was too heavy for the metal. It was used on the schooner with which Hayes performed so many feats of almost incredible character and which have been written of by many authors. In addition to this Eben Low brought several old swords, which were also part of Hayes' equipment.

In speaking of the trip Mr. Low said: "We had very heavy weather going down. We landed first at Palmyra island, where we found everything in fine condition, the trees growing well and all o. k. From there we went to Fanning, where we expected to pick up guano and coconuts, but they were not ready for us. On this account we took a cruise to Christmas Island where the wreck itself is in bad shape. The shore is strewn with at least a million feet of lumber, but the Aeon in our gasoline schooner, we bulwarks alone could be seen. It was so rough that we could not get near the Aeon in our gasoline schooner. We stayed there a couple of days, the only signs of life being a nanite goat and a black cat, which had evidently been left from the wrecked steamer. The camp where the passengers lived is still there.

"After this we returned to Fanning, where we picked up our cargo and were very nicely treated by the cable company people. The "Bully" Hayes relics which I secured there are of a great deal of interest, I believe, coming back we made long trip on account of the calm we struck just off Hawaii."

THE HOUSE

To pass Senator Knudsen's bill relating to lien of mechanics and material men, providing that a mechanic lien shall continue for forty-five days instead of ninety days. This meets with the approval of the business men.

To pass Knudsen's bill relating to the statute of limitations.

To pass Long's bill relating to proof and entry of defaults against defendants in civil actions.

LEPER RESOLUTION.
 Another alleged leper is sought to be re-examined. Representative Kamahe today had adopted a resolution to the effect that Charles Wainui be re-examined. For twenty years he has been at the settlement. Shrivelled fingers were supposed to indicate leprosy. They were shrivelled from childhood. No symptoms of leprosy appear.

Huddy's bill for sinking fund for the redemption or purchase of Territorial bonds.

Senator Makekau's bill relating to balances of road tax money.

Committee report recommending the passage of Castro's bill relating to candidates for public offices was adopted and the bill is on the order of the day for Monday for final reading.

THE WOMAN'S CONGRESS.

Mrs. John Scott will have charge of the publicity work on Hawaii, with Miss Josephine Deyo in charge of the educational work and Mrs. George Cooke is appointed to head forth department on Molokai.

Reports have been received of the first conservation meeting in Hawaii called by Mrs. John Scott at her home in Hilo. Over fifty ladies were in attendance and the interest shown in the conservation movement was marked.
