Health and Strength RESTORED
BY THE USE OF
Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Mrs. M. A. Cumming, of Yarraville, Victoria, Australia, Says:

"About a year ago, I had a severe attack of Influenza, which left me very weak, without energy, appetite, or interest in life. Obtaining little or no relief from doctors, or from the many remedies recommended to me, I finally tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and from that time began to gain health and strength. I continued the treatment until fully recovered, and now have very great pleasure in telling my friends of the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and the happy results of its use. I consider it the best blood-purifier known."

LOCAL ART EXHIBITION

HANDSOME PRODUCTIONS IN THE DECORATED CHINA BRANCH.
List of the Exhibits and Contributors
—Work in Carving and Plastic Moulding.

Since the first exhibition of the Kiloheua Art League, no branch of its functions has been more gratifyingly developed than that of china decoration. In this Miss Frederika J. Nolte was the pioneer, became the instructor of other young ladies and, in this autumn exhibition, contributes more than the other four exhibitors together. It should be stated that Miss Nolte is a thorough adept in this art, having her own kiln, at the parental residence in Kapiolani park, for baking in the colors. It will be seen from the following list what a rich variety this young lady contributes on this occasion:

90, Dinner set; 91, Rose jar, green and gold; 92, Jelly jar, holly design; 93, Cream pitcher, violets; 104, Chocolate set, wild roses; 105, After Dinner Coffee, holly berries; 106, Pink Dogwood Blossoms; 107, After Dinner Coffee Cup in blue and gold; 108, Rose Jar in gold decoration; 109, Decorated Berry Set; 110, Ribbon Plates, landscape; 111, Custard Set in blue and gold.

Mrs. E. M. Willis has the following pieces: 94, Tea, raspberries; 99, Yellow Roses; 100, Raspberries; 102, Cyclamen; 103, Passion Flowers.
Miss Bessie F. French: 96, Roses and Cupids—a charming work, showing an almost fairy hand; 98, Orchids.
Mrs. B. F. Dillingham: 95, Sweet Peas.
Miss Bessie Afong: 97, Sweet Peas and Scroll; 101, Fleur de Lis.

On members' opening night the cabinet containing the decorated china received such overwhelming attention that it was difficult to approach. The progress of this branch of art here has been such as to give promise of a time soon coming when china decorated by local artists, in domestic flora and scenery, will be a feature in every refined table service of Hawaiian homes. Handsome souvenirs of Hawaii for gifts to friends abroad, or for tourists to carry away, could hardly be selected.

Another interesting branch of art in this exhibition comprises wood carving and plastic moulding. Mrs. Augusta H. Graham is its only exponent, but her enthusiastic industry, joined to fine talent, makes this department a very agreeable feature of the gallery. Her productions are true to nature and have an artistic finish. The list is as follows, making a handsome variety of house decorations:

43, Koa panel, ohia; 44, Chinese oranges, clay modeling; 45, koa panel, mangoes; 65, pomegranates, panel; 66, bananas, panel; 72, water lilies, plaster cast.
The exhibition is open from 10 to 5 o'clock daily, and Monday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9. For the nominal admission fee of 25 cents anybody may see this fine collection of local art.

Library Meeting.
The annual meeting of the Honolulu Library and Reading Rooms Association will be held at Library Hall on the evening of Friday, November 27th, at 6:30 o'clock, for the election of officers, reading of annual reports and such other business as may be brought up.

Jayasuraya has removed his stock of Ceylonese novelties from King street to No. 6 Hotel street, opposite Ozaki, where he will be pleased to serve customers with anything in his line from a silver collar button to a $500 diamond.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS

LONDON TIMES ALARMED AT RUSSIAN AND FRENCH NAVIES.

Editor News From India—Slavery Abolished in Madagascar—Li Hung Chang's Offense.

The Warrimoo brings the following items of fresh foreign news:
THE FAMINE IN INDIA.
London, November 9.—The Earl of Elgin, Governor General of India, reports that the prospects in the famine stricken districts of India are now more reassuring.

LI HUNG CHANG'S FINE.
London, November 9.—It is now reported that the fine of one year's salary imposed upon Li Hung Chang, the Chinese Viceroy, was for proposing that the European ceremony of saluting the Emperor should be observed in China, and not as previously stated, for visiting the Dowager-Empress without the permission of the Emperor.

A PRIEST KIDNAPPED.
London, Nov. 9.—Dr. Alfred Earle, Bishop of Marlborough, has stated that some time ago he prepared for admission to the Church of England a priest who had twice been the Pope's special missionary. When the priest was ready to enter the Church of England he was kidnapped and taken to France, where he is still detained.

MADAGASCAR.
London, November 9.—From Madagascar it is reported that General Gallieni, the French Resident General, has abolished slavery in the island, and has reduced the Hova Queen, Ranavalona III, to a position of subjection to the French. General Gallieni is greatly in favor of the Roman Catholic Church, and it is likely that the English and Norwegian mission schools will be closed.

THE NAVIES OF EUROPE.
London, November 9.—The Times reports that the Russian and French naval authorities are building 15 line of battle ships, while Great Britain has only 12 under construction. Commenting upon this fact the Times declares that the position is alarming, and urges Mr. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, to adopt measures which will be the means of placing Great Britain's naval supremacy beyond assault or dispute.

THE TURKISH TROUBLE.
London, November 9.—The Paris newspapers are reserved in their comments on the report that the Sultan of Turkey had decided to make considerable concessions to the Armenians. They, however, assert that it remains for France and Russia to bring the Sultan to reason. Advices from Constantinople state that the Sultan has reduced the salaries of Turkish officials by 15 per cent.
The Paris Temps has made an important announcement respecting the Turkish trouble. On November 3, M. Hanotaux, the French Minister for Foreign Affairs, delivered a speech in the Chamber of Deputies, during the course of which he said the Czar and he had exchanged views regarding the Turkish question, and that the Czar had declared the Powers were determined to ameliorate the condition of Turkey without breaking the integrity of the Ottoman Empire. The Czar had added that United Europe would make the Sultan understand the situation. The Temps says that this speech was cabled to the Sultan, and he had an interview with M. Cambon, the French Minister in Constantinople. This conference lasted three hours, and shortly afterwards the Sultan issued his promises to release all Armenian prisoners against whom no charges are pending, to convene an Assembly

TROUBLE ON THE BRYANT

A SAILOR TRIES TO CHEW UP CAPTAIN LEE.

And Attempts to Murder the First and Second Mate—Brought Here in Irons.

Captain Jack Lee of the C. D. Bryant had lots of trouble on his last voyage to and from Newcastle, New South Wales, with one of his sailors. The man is a hard case and has been here before. He was one of the crew of the Dirigo, which loaded sugar here a few months since, but deserted in this port. He was afterwards captured by Captain Harry Evans of the waterfront police and was shipped away to the Coast on one of the sugar vessels. He turned up a few months later at Newcastle and shipped on the C. D. Bryant at that port. He made trouble before leaving, after getting an advance, and it required the united strength of seven Australian police to put him on board.
Once out at sea the man, whose name is John Pitman or Pickerton, started in to boss the ship. He made trouble in the fore-cabin from the start and succeeded in terrifying the crew. He then concluded to clean out the after part of the ship, starting in on the burly captain. During the melee which ensued he got his teeth into one of the captain's hands, biting it severely. The two mates went to the captain's assistance and Pitman threatened to murder them. As a matter of precaution the man was finally put in irons and kept under restraint for the balance of the voyage.
Captain Lee placed the matter in the hands of Consul General Mills and until that official decides what shall be done in the case declined to be interviewed. His mate, who was visited by a reporter on board, also declined to make any statement at present. There is little doubt that the Consul will send the man to San Francisco by the U. S. S. Adams for trial before the proper United States Court.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTEEN CASES ON THE CALENDAR.

The Ashworth Case Again on Trial—Fines and Penalties Assessed by Judge de la Vergne Today.

Judge de la Vergne has recovered from his recent indisposition and presided at the seat of justice in the District Court this morning. The accumulated business of three days made up a calendar of 113 cases.
Nine drunks were assessed $2 and costs each and one was fined $3 for being more than usually drunk.
In the case of Apana, charged with distilling okolehao, lawyers Kaulukou and Kaunia appeared for the defense and the case was set for trial on Nov. 30th.
Kauilii pleaded guilty of selling swipes and had his sentence suspended.
The cases of Otto Graaf, A. W. Howe and Ed. Hopkins, charged with carrying on a gambling resort, went over, the first to December 1st and the last to December 8th. The thirty odd persons charged with frequenting a place where gambling was going on also had their cases postponed to the 1st of the month.
Six Chinese domino gamblers were fined $10 each and costs and the rest of the two bunches arrested were discharged.
Seven Chinese were fined $1 and $1 costs each for breaking the Sunday law by keeping their stores open.
Higashi had his sentence suspended on a plea of guilty of driving a vehicle at night without a light.
Pung Lan was fined $30 for having chefa tickets in his inside vest pocket and Pahulani $15 for assault and battery.
Lee Kong was fined $50 and costs for opium in possession and a number of other similar cases went over.
John Ku and Brito, charged with furiously and heedlessly riding horses along the public highway, and thereby endangering the safety of Mrs. William Hoogs, pleaded not guilty, and their cases were set for trial tomorrow.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Some Extracts From the Queen's Hospital Records.

Superintendent Eckardt kindly furnishes the following list of patients suffering from accidental injuries received at the Queen's hospital in the last five days. He has somewhat facetiously christened the building of which he has charge as the "Accidental hotel."

Nov. 19—J. Davies, fracture left leg. This man is from Campbell's ranch at Hoaeae.

Nov. 20—Vitense, native child 4½ years old, was burnt by having his clothing set on fire through matches, died at 1 p. m. Accident happened at Kalihi.

Nov. 22—Maria Agimar, 8 years old, Portuguese from Kauai. Dislocation of right thigh.

Nov. 22—Joe Mai, native sailor from the Likelike. Compound fracture of left leg and left arm and scalp wound.

Nov. 22—Johnny Larsen, run over by heavy dray.

Nov. 23—H. J. Bagley, injury to left leg by falling into the hold of the Gainsborough.

Nov. 23—Kalamakai, scalp wound, caused by being thrown off a horse.

The Roanoke's Cargo.

The big ship Roanoke, which carried away the largest cargo of sugar ever sent out of these islands, had bad luck with her cargo. Ten thousand five hundred bags of sugar, valued at $80,000, was found to be soaked with salt water on arrival at New York. The trouble is said to have been caused by the long passage of 136 days and consequent leakage.

Hawaiian Fishes.

The scientists of the United States Fish Commission are much interested in Mrs. B. F. Dillingham's oil paintings of Hawaiian fishes. This lady has completed over one hundred individual fishes in natural colors. They constitute a valuable collection and if reproduced in lithography would make a most interesting and handsome souvenir book, fully equal in beauty to similar works on Australian birds which have long since been issued. In the meantime the Albatross party will endeavor to photograph the collection, but this process leaves out the rare coloring.

Portuguese Holiday.

The Portuguese of Hawaii have adopted their national independence day, December 1, for observance as a holiday. On that date all employers of Portuguese are expected to kindly release them from their labors so that they may fully enjoy the festival. There will be services in the churches in daytime and literary exercises in the evening.

SUGAR PRODUCTION.

In yesterday's issue an official comparative statement of the last two sugar crops was given which was prepared by Professor Maxwell, conductor of the Experiment Station of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association. It showed the handsome increase of nearly 74,000 tons of sugar from less than 56,000 acres under cultivation. There was also shown the gratifying increase of 1676 lbs. of sugar to the acre cultivated. Had the production to the acre been the same for the last crop as the previous one, the increase in total yield would have been but about 27,000 tons instead of 74,000 in round numbers. This representation proves that the planters and millers had a respectable undeveloped margin formerly, in methods of cultivation and manufacture, to operate upon as an offset to possibly drooping markets or adverse legislation in the United States. None knew the existence of this margin better than the sugar producers, who for many years had been toiling in the school of experience—at the same time utilizing to the full the benefit of mutual consultation and comparison of notes in every branch of the industry—to obtain the best possible results from their investments of capital, brains and energy. Each large estate or mill had its own scientific and mechanical experts, and superintendents themselves had in many years acquired no small degree of expert knowledge. Yet the experience gained on one description of soil and in one set of climatic or rather meteorological conditions—topographical features of lands being also a differential factor in creating examples—did not prove to fit the case of every plantation in corresponding questions of soil, meteorology and topography. It was a decidedly advanced step that was taken therefore, in the line of mutual self-help, when the planters' organization resolved to establish one central station for the determination, by scientific appliances and methods, under competently skilled direction, all the varied questions of agricultural and manufacturing modes of operation. The Experiment Station seems to have proved the most profitable object of mutual investment the sugar planters of Hawaii have ever agreed upon, and the scientific gentleman placed at its head as happy a selection for the position as could have been made. At least that is the judgment to be formed upon results thus far achieved. Many people may open their eyes in wonder, in view of popular talk, at the small average of a little more than four tons of sugar to the acre. When it is known that some of the virgin soil cultivated has yielded eight and nine tons, the fact that the average all over is only one half such results would indicate that the Hawaiian sugar industry is the very contrary of being debilitated. It has prospered, on the whole, at this low average, and the prospects are for a great gain all in average production. Throughout the greater part of the area it occupies it must have a vitality capable of withstanding more unfavorable experiences and severe shocks than it has ever yet sustained. Even the national bugbear of contract labor may before very long be conceded as being not indispensable to the life of the chief industry of the Hawaiian Islands. From the scientific basis on which the producers have now placed their interest, even greater gains than those exhibited in last crop report may be expected. Plantations and mills have in numbers been awaiting the outcome of successful concerns in the van of progress, and, with the results before the eyes of their owners which cannot be gainsaid, those waiting ones will now adopt the most improved methods in every branch of production. Next year's comparative statement may therefore be expected to be as satisfactory as that just published.

Footballers should remember that victory is not worth the price of broken limbs and disfigured countenances. Exhibit agility, strength, and pliancy of foot, rather than the rude shocks of bodily avoirdupois in collision. The spectators will be better pleased.

All other nationalities will doubtless proffer kindly sympathy to the Portuguese residents in establishing their national independence day on this hospitable soil.

Wheel scorches are liable to start the next chapter of accidents. They are as much a menace as the horse demijohns of Saturday afternoons.

Honolulu should encourage its rising exponents of the fine arts.

You cannot make up your mind what kind to get; it bothers you, because every one has an opinion of his own as to the best make. Let us suggest something to you.

When a watch is backed by a responsible house, money backed, so guaranteed that if the slightest defect is found, your money is returned, or another watch is given in place, should you worry as to the kind to get?

A watch is made to keep time, the one coming the nearest to being correct is the one of most worth. It matters not if it cost Ten Dollars or a Hundred.

The matter of expensive cases is left entirely to your taste and the length of your purse.

As Agents for the high grade "Elgin" and the medium priced "Waterbury" both makes of which there is an endless variety, we are enabled to offer an unusually large assortment of complete watches, and at prices far below former rates.

Men and women are but older children and enjoy receiving gifts quite as much as the little tots. Some mothers and wives enjoy baubles; others of a more useful turn of mind appreciate something for the table or the home generally. We have heard of ladies who hung up their stockings, expecting to find a box of bonbons in it on awakening, but instead were gratified to find a set of French China. We do not advise this, because, unless it is especially strong, the stocking is apt to be injured.

We received ex Miowera an invoice of the finest Royal Worcester Ware ever brought to this country. The cases will be open on Monday and the goods ready for your inspection.

On the S. G. Wilder, almost due, we have $5,000 worth of American cut glass, suitable for everyday use, and a new assortment of Onyx tables and piano lamps combined. Also five o'clock teas and chafing dishes in new designs. And on the 24th via Sydney, we will have an invoice of French China in three new designs. Also a number of pieces of statuary.

We are ready for Christmas.

The "Best" Nurser.

Here is a nursing bottle that will prove a comfort to infants. It has 4 points in its favor. 1. It has a valve or air inlet in the end of the bottle which admits air, back of food, as fast as food is drawn out, rendering suction easy and making it impossible for nipple to collapse, thus preventing wind colic.

2. The valve does not leak, justed, but pulled out by 3. No secretion is possible, as there are no angles or corners in the bottle.

4. This nurser having an opening at each end, can be easily and thoroughly cleaned, a point of the greatest importance. Price, 25 cents, complete.

AN OCEAN TRAGEDY.

The Colored Cook With Homicidal Mania.

A dispatch from Brisbane of the 9th inst. in the Australian Star, Sydney, tells the following story of a terrible time on board a ship on the high seas:

An extraordinary story of murder and suicide on the high seas is told by the captain and crew of the ship Blengfell, which arrived yesterday afternoon from New York. The perpetrator was an American negro named John Godfrey, cook of the ship. This individual fell ill on August 1, and remained in his bunk till August 15, when he told the captain he was about the same. That night he was seized with a homicidal mania, and, possessing himself of a revolver, attempted to shoot the crew. He found two sailors, J. Silva and W. Wicks, asleep in their bunks, and put several bullets into each of them, but not with fatal effects. The two men succeeded in getting away and, bleeding from their wounds, rushed to the saloon, where they told the captain what had happened. The later immediately rushed on deck, armed with a revolver, and was at once fired at by Godfrey, who called out, "You'll shoot me, will you." He had in the meantime shot another sailor named Samuel Lewis with fatal effect. Godfrey took up his place in the fore-castle, and next morning, when an effort was made to dislodge him, he came out. Shots were exchanged on both sides without effect. The ship Marie Hackfeld was sighted during the day, but was unable to supply the crew with firearms. The siege in the fore-castle was kept up all day, but although shots were exchanged at intervals nothing resulted. Watch was kept all next day, but Godfrey remained strangely quiet. On August 18 a party went forward to the fore-castle, to find that the murderer had disappeared, having evidently jumped overboard. He left behind a written statement, in which he said he had intended to kill both the men he wounded, and asked that his effects should be thrown after him.

"Put Me Off At Buffalo."

The title of this wellknown song as well as the song itself emanated from the brain of an employe of the Buffalo Brewing Company. That enterprising firm, believing that a man who could compose so catchily an air must have a large and well balanced brain, straightway raised his salary. This has proven to be a good move on their part as is testified by the excellent qualities of their beer, which is dispensed over the bars of the Cosmopolitan, Pacific and Royal saloons at the rate of two glasses for 25c; half and half is also served at the same price. It is always fresh and cold and life-sustaining. Or you can get one glass of Buffalo and one of Pabst beer, the fine product of the Milwaukee brewery. Exchangeable checks good at all the above-mentioned resorts are given in change if you only want one drink. "Best beer ever in Honolulu," is the verdict of many of our prominent citizens.

THE BUTTON FAD.

Arcthusa Was All Right, but She Did Not Go Far Enough. The little man who always says "Yes, ma'am," to his wife had been sitting in silence for a long time. And as he sat his lips became firmly set, as if a resolution of great moment were crystallizing in his mind. His wife had just laid down a book on political economy and taken up one on psychology. "Arcthusa," he said gently, "Did you address me?" she inquired. "Yes, ma'am." "What do you want?" "I want to speak to you, if you don't mind."

A Vow and a Vengeance. "He strue-e-e-k me." The villain strode up and down the stage cycle path and ground his teeth with rage. "He strue-e-e-k Cecil Legree." In a very ecstasy of fury the villain stamped his feet and tore his hair. "He strue-e-e-k Cecil Legree. No man ever did that and lived to tell the tale. And as for the girl—ah, me proud beauty, you shall yet feel the vengeance of a Legree!"

What venom, what hatred there was in the bitter words. Even the pale moon wobbled in the canvas heavens. "I have the papers! Ha, ha, ha! I'll bide me time, and then—then I'll cross his path again!" Raising his clinched hand, the villain served notice upon high heaven and the property moon that some day he would puncture proud Lord Reginald's tire.

"I'll cross his path again! I'll cross his path again!" he repeated. A whirl on the air of the stilly night, an ominous grinding upon the theatrical macadam, a pneumatic "biff," like the "biff" of a pile driver, a bent, battered shape crashing into a pale green tree trunk with a dull, sickening thud, and then silence—silence! It was even so. He had crossed Lord Reginald's cycle path again.—New York Sunday World.

A Valuable Secret. Major Crosby had just rounded into the fourth hour of his financial argument. "Gentlemen," he said, "it is simply preposterous that any party should ask for the suffrages of intelligent Americans on a platform such as that I have just read to you. I confess that I was struck dumb with amazement—" "Hold on there!" came a sleepy voice from the middle aisle. "How did you say they did it?"—Detroit News.

Information for Tourists. A passenger by the last Colonial steamer was met on the dock by a Milesian American friend, who resides in Honolulu. As the pair waited to have the newcomer's grip-sack scrawled over with chalk marks by the Customs Inspector at the gate the stranger remarked to his friend "Do you have much rain here?" "RAINER me boy, gallons of it, just come up to the Anchor Saloon where they keep it always, clear and cool. We'll just be in time for lunch too and that's the only place in town where they serve it up in proper style with a glass of RAINIER BEER to equilibrialize the solids.—They went!

HATS AND WRAPS.

Many Flowers and Brilliant Colors For Fashionable Headgear.

Colored straw hats and bonnets are very numerous. Very yellow straw, trimmed with lace and white gauze, is much liked. The bright reds, blues, violets and greens enjoy a considerable degree of favor, and hats composed of two colors of straw are also worn, the crown being of one color and the brim of another. Flowers are used to an immense extent, roses, lilies of the valley, poppies, carnations, iris, bluets, primroses and violets being mingled with gauze, black, white or colored. Illusion is used in the same way, being tucked, shirred and puffed and made into bows and bouffants.

Green is first favorite among colors just now. It is seen in all shades and varieties of tone, and green hats or hats with green trimming are a feature of the season. Nearly all flowers are represented in this shade, besides the more natural looking copies of ivy, ferns and other foliage. Green tulle is much employed in millinery, and green straws with flower trimming are among the most effective hats seen.

Summer capes are exceedingly pretty and attractive. For general use the cape of cloth, relatively simple, is preferred. It is of gray, beige, sable, mode and mastic tones and is occasionally seen in blues, greens and browns, but the lighter and vaguer shades harmonize better with all the costumes of the wardrobe. The ornamentation consists sometimes of stitching alone, the note of elegance being given by the lining, which is of silk, usually flowered. Small buttons are likewise used in profusion; also stitched straps, embroidery, soutache and applications of lace. These cloth capes are more elaborate than they have been hitherto, and it is a question when the present rage for overtrimming will subside. Of course there will be a revulsion to extreme plainness and dullness sooner or later. It looks now as if it would be later.

An illustration is given of a Louis Seize hat of green fancy straw. It is turned up behind under a fan of white and blue green tulle. In front is a bow of black velvet ribbon adorned with two paste jewels. At the sides are short wreaths of pansies, and roses are placed next the hair at the back.

A Better Judge.

Mr. Gotrox—And so you are the noble fellow who rescued my wife from in front of the trolley car at the risk of your life? Take this quarter, my heroic man, as an expression of our undying regard.

Mr. Raglets—All right, boss. You know better'n I do what the woman's wuth.—Up to Date.

To Citizens of Hawaii

I take pleasure in announcing to you that I have removed to my new quarters at NO. 364 FORT STREET and am prepared to execute all orders pertaining to my business. Jewelry Repairing, Watch Repairing, Fine Engraving, etc., etc. I have a handsome stock of Watches and Jewelry to show you including a large variety of valuable Island Curios. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

G. HAFFNER. 364-ft

To My Patrons:

It gives me much pleasure to announce that MR. M. R. COUNTER, one of the most skilled watchmakers ever in these islands, is now managing my repairing department. No watch is so complex in its mechanism but we can give perfect satisfaction in correcting the evils to which watches are heir. Watches are delicate things to handle. We guarantee that they will receive no injury at our hands and will leave our store in perfect repair. Respectfully,

E. A. JACOBSON, 507 Fort Street.
