Would Not Coerce Says Civic Candidate Won't Sling Mud

HENRY CAMPAIGNING TO SUIT HIMSELF.

Henry says he has 68 votes in the police department. Unprejudiced reports have it that he has twenty-three, while Brown has all the rest of the ninety-odd.

Sargent To Look Into Japanese Emigration

Frank P. Sargent, U. S. Commissioner General of Immigration, arrived in Honolulu this morning on the Mongolia, and before he goes away he will take a good look, and a long one, at the notorious Japanese emigration question.

Mr. Sargent is not new to Honolulu. Two years ago, in May, 1903, he came here, and it was due to his efforts at that time that the problem of emigration of aliens at Quarantine Island was done away with.

Principle Crucified AND PENAL LAWS COURTED By Civic Federation

Editor Evening Bulletin:—To what lengths is the Civic Federation going anyhow in this election? Is yesterday's scene at the police station, when the police were catechised as to whether they were going to vote for Brown or not, the climax of its folly, or is there other madness they contemplate in the promotion of civic virtue and manhood? What does this appendix of King George's propose doing next?

The trial of Charles F. Chillingworth, the former Deputy High Sheriff, charged with extortion, began before Judge De Bolt this morning. This is one of the De Bolt series of cases, the rest of which have, practically without exception, vanished into thin air on having been subjected to the test of court and jury.

Day and Date Of Peace

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, June 13.—An early announcement of the time and place of the Peace Conference is expected from Washington, as the result of exchanges between Russian Ambassador Cassini and Japanese Minister Takahira.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—Russia's reply to the peace program has been received, but is withheld from publication. PANAMA, June 13.—One is dead and seven are ill from yellow fever.

Chicago, June 10.—An automobile plunged into the river here, drowning three people.

JAPANESE OCCUPY.

Tokio, June 11.—The Russians have been driven out of Liangshichuan. The Japanese now occupy Ershihpila and Tungchiatzu. The Japanese authorities maintain an attitude of reserve on the question of peace. They fear that an armistice at the present stage might prove to be sacrifice of Admiral Togo's victory and of Field Marshal Oyama's opportunities, and they consider that the discussion of peace is premature.

DOUBTS ROOSEVELT'S SUCCESS.

St. Petersburg, June 11.—The newspapers here are skeptical of any practical results from President Roosevelt's action on behalf of peace.

SWEDEN'S ATTITUDE.

Stockholm, June 11.—Premier Bamsadt says that Sweden will refuse to recognize a revolution in Norway. He believes that no foreign country will recognize Norway as an independent nation.

PHILIPPINE RAILWAYS.

Washington, June 11.—The War Department invites proposals for a thousand miles of railways in the Philippines. President Roosevelt has returned from Virginia.

FIGHT WITH OUTLAWS.

Jackson's Hole, Wyo., June 11.—In a sanguinary battle here two outlaws and one rancher have been killed.

OUTRAGE IN MOROCCO.

Tanger, June 11.—Moorish robbers have murdered the Austrian Vice Consul, Madden, and wounded his wife.

WATER MAIN BURSTS.

New York, June 11.—By the bursting of a water main damage of $100,000 has been done.

WAR MANEUVERS.

Fort Monroe, June 11.—The joint Army and Navy exercises began here at midnight.

RUSSIAN PARLIAMENT.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—The Russian experiment in parliamentary government will begin in September. The parliament will consist of an upper and a lower house, with final authority reserved to the Emperor.

WHY NOT HONOLULU?

Washington, June 12.—The President has had conferences with the Japanese Minister, Takahira, and Count Cassini, Russian Ambassador, relative to the selection of the place where peace negotiations shall be conducted. Japan does not wish that the repre-

Half Million People Here In Fifty Years Predicts Mr. Hepburn

"Ah, what a splendid city this! And how great is its future! What progress has been made in the past century, and how much greater will be the progress in the years to come. Fifty years from now, and I believe these forty thousand people will have become half a million and the commerce of the Orient and the Occident will flow through this port. No longer will ninety per cent. of the wealth of these islands be placed in the production of an article subject to the changes of market and of season, but this will be a land of diversified interests, developed to meet the demands of its place as the great gateway between great nations."

It was Hon. W. P. Hepburn, Congressman from Iowa, who, at the close of an eloquent and moving address on American citizenship and civic duties and ideals, expressed in the above words his conviction of the future of Hawaii. Speaking from the platform of Central Union Church Sunday night, the famous Republican politician and statesman closed his address with the eulogy that left no doubt in the minds of his audience as to one Congressman's belief in Hawaii as a successful part of the great American republic.

Congressman Hepburn's speech was addressed particularly to the Grand Army veterans, at whose special request the address last night was made. The local G. A. R. Post, Geo. W. De Long, No. 45, attended the services in a body, seated directly in front of the platform. It was essentially a patriotic service. The pulpit was draped in American flags and the platform was decorated with potted palms and flowers.

Dr. Kincaid, on behalf of the G. A. R. veterans, introduced Congressman Hepburn, welcoming him to the city and to the islands in a brief speech of appreciation. Mr. Hepburn, speaking especially to the veterans, talked of the great Civil War struggle, of its hardships, sacrifices and its final triumph of the principle involved. Then the Congressman turned from the events of forty years ago to the present day, and in words of glowing appeal to civic virtue he called upon the coming citizens of Hawaii to solve the questions that shall arise.

"We settled in this great sectional struggle the principle of every human being is entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," said Mr. Hepburn. "But sometimes I wonder if coming generations will not have as great, perhaps greater, problems to solve. As I look abroad over the land and see the great flood of immigration pouring into our country at the rate of over a million souls a year, I sometimes think that our sons will have to solve a great problem there. Fifty years ago we welcomed the alien to our shores. But in those years it was the cream of Europe that came,—the English and Irish and German and Scandinavian,—men of brain and brawn and character, and of ambition to rise above their surroundings. Now the flood is from Eastern Europe and from Southern Europe—the very dregs of humanity, from countries ransacked by the agents of transportation companies. That will be a great problem."

"And in the Southern States of our own country there may arise another, where constitutions and states are taken from men of the right of suffrage. Under our dual form of government—Federal and State—these complications arise and will continue so long as offices really Federal in character are filled by men whose election is controlled by State laws. It is for our sons and grandsons to solve these problems, and God grant they solve them as well as we thought we solved ours forty years ago."

"I believe in party politics. I believe because the history of every great republic shows the power and influence of the party as against the individual. Back of the government in any great republic there must be the dominating, supporting power of a party. But I have never believed that being a partisan excuses me from objecting to bad men who were placed on the ticket with me. Wherever you find corrupt government you will find the good men sitting back and letting the bad men usurp the governmental offices and functions. The good men don't go to the primaries, and thus the corrupt men control the conventions. I believe that obeying the law is not enough for a good citizen; he must see to it that good men make the laws. Being a good husband or father is not enough. He must fulfill his duty to his neighbors. And so not religion alone but politics as well is bound up in the command, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.' I believe in a man's devoting earnest and faithful attention to politics as well as business—in the honesty of politics as well as contracts."

"This is a time when good citizenship is needed. When men band together into a union and because a preferred few carry a union card they are privileged to trample on the rights of others, when the organization that was once thought a boon and a blessing has taken to itself the attitude of a tyrant,—when in many great cities every election is a fresh cause for the vilest scandal,—in such a time citizens must come forward and fulfill the corresponding and correlative duty which comes to them with the right of suffrage—the vote."

"And yet, in spite of obstacles, what great progress the republic has made in commerce in production of wealth, in circulating medium, in national character."

Then Congressman Hepburn spoke frankly and to the point on the relation of the United States to the Philippines. "I do not believe in colonial government. It has been history that the colonies have become dissatisfied with the rule of the home government. Therefore I do not favor the United States holding colonial territory west of these islands. But in all history there is nothing nobler than the work of our great country down yonder on the coast of Cuba, when, after we had given the people liberty, Grandfather used it over 60 years ago.

AUTO TOUR OF OAHU

ISLAND PANORAMA AS SEEN FROM MOTOR CAR

BELLINA TAKES SCRIBES AROUND THE ISLAND IN EXCELLENT TIME WITHOUT ANY MISHAPS.

The possibilities for the sightseeing tourist have been greatly advanced by the use of the auto. This is no better demonstrated than here, where the devil car can take a party round the entire island in less than a day. To the tourist who wishes to see as much as possible of the island in a short time, the auto gives an unexcelled chance. All the varied phases of island nature and industries can be seen as in a series of panoramic pictures, with ease and comfort.

The run to the Fall is quickly made and after the descent has been made good progress is made over fairly good roads through the abandoned sugar plantation at Heeia, past the rice fields of Waiakole, the Kuloa cattle ranch, round the picturesque bay at Kahana, with the valley where okolehao is known to trickle gently under favorable circumstances, past Kaaawa, reached famous by the Birbe schoolhouse. The car goes like a flash along the grass roads at Punahoa, streaks across the sand beach of Kalaupuu, a glimpse is seen of the old coconut grove of Makoa and the dilapidated buildings, which have gone to ruin in the last few years. Then Hauula court house is passed and the traveler reaches the cane country, beginning with the Laie Mormon plantation. Then he passes the big Kahuku fields, runs through beautiful Waimea gulch and reaches Waialua, where lunch can be had at Haleiwa. The trip across the Waialua plains to Honolulu is duty but excellent speed can be made on part of the road. On the way the famous dam can be seen while towards the last of the journey the big sugar estates of Ewa, Waipahu and Aiea are traversed.

The trip was made last Sunday by representatives of the Star, Advertiser and Bulletin by the courtesy of Chas. Bellina of the Club Stables, who personally conducted the party around in his Queen auto. The trip was made in nine and one-half hours or about six hours' actual running time and was made without the slightest mishap. Even to one who has toured the country time and time again on horseback this automobile trip furnishes unalloyed enjoyment and to the tourist, who for the first time sees the wonders of picturesque Oahu, it must be a revelation.

PREVALENCE OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Chicago's Health Commissioner, Dr. Reynolds, reported on Oct. 8 last that out of 489 applicants for Fire Department positions, one in every 17 were rejected for Bright's Disease. He adds "It is not reassuring to learn that 6 per cent of Chicago's male population in early manhood is afflicted with Bright's Disease."

In older people the percentage is higher, and Dr. Loomis of Bellevue Hospital, states that from the autopsies 90 per cent of men and women over forty have it in some form.

The census gives support to the above. It shows that the annual deaths from Bright's Disease have increased from 1,722 in 1870 to 58,748 annually in 1900.

There were no deaths reported from Bright's Disease before 1870. The deaths were then believed to be due to kidney trouble and were so reported. When to suspect Bright's Disease—weakness or loss of weight, puffy ankles, hands or eyelids; kidney trouble after the third month; urine may show sediment; falling vision; drowsiness; one or more of these.

We desire to place in the hands of those having Bright's Disease a 36-page report on a large variety of test cases put on Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's Disease. It shows 87 per cent of recoveries in this hitherto fatal disease. The pamphlet is free.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC ON KAMEHAMEHA DAY

Kamehameha Day was celebrated in a most happy manner on the Oahu College Campus yesterday by the annual picnic of the Central Union Sunday School and the Sunday Schools of the Central Union mission. Hundreds of children turned out. Over 1,000 tickets were taken up at the gate. The children from the Kakaako and Palala missions were also in evidence.

- Good things to eat were served in abundance. After lunch athletic sports were enjoyed. Shindo won narrowly and Joe Dwight barely made second, Miss Churchill being but a few inches behind and Miss Buchanan following closely in a race that drew out immense enthusiasm.

- The sports were as follows, the winners' names appearing:
 - Spoon and Potato Race—Harriet Peckard.
 - Spoon and Potato Race (boys)—Charley Nichols.
 - Spoon and Potato Race (older boys)—Alfred Taylor.
 - Sack Race (girls)—Ethel Edwards.
 - Sack Race (boys)—Sanford Blake.
 - Sack race (boys, Class 2)—William Malle.
 - Knapsack Race (girls)—Ray Churchill and Lily Gosling.
 - Knapsack Race (boys, Class 1)—Sanford Blake and Allan Webster.

P. H. BURNETTE, Notary Public in and for the First Judicial Circuit, Territory of Hawaii.

TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1905. Honest now. Would Sheriff Henry invest a dollar on a horse race that was such a "sure thing" as his election?

Get a hammer. Be a knocker. Then a Civic Fed. And incidentally elect the Home Rule ticket for the County of Oahu.

If any Republican wants to elect Poe as Sheriff of Oahu, he will vote for William Henry. If he seeks to defeat George W. Smith as Supervisor, he will vote for Joe Fern. That's all. Every man is a free agent—except those coerced—but his votes don't always count for those he aims to elect.

BUSINESS MEN AND MILITIA. The proposal of a public subscription to maintain the Territorial militia is an especially proper one if the men can be found who have the funds to offer for this purpose.

No sensible man has ever objected to the existence of the militia. The reason for the failure of the appropriation in the Legislature was that the funds of the Territory are low and the majority of the legislators felt that money could be saved to good advantage by striking out the militia item.

Now it is found that between $2,000 and $3,000 a year will carry the militia organization through two years and preserve it in a state of efficiency. If memory serves correctly $10,000—$5,000 a year—was asked of the Legislature.

When upwards of $2,000 a year can be saved by having the expenses provided by the business men instead of the Territorial Government, it would seem to be a fair proposition to have the business men supply the money. It would even pay for the militia to be thus provided by proxy and the business men finally reimbursed.

The militia is an institution that should by all means be maintained if this can be done without sacrificing some more important governmental work. The legislators passed on the question adversely. If the business men can secure the private funds to keep up this organization until such a time as the Territory can see its way clear to greater expenditures, no stumbling block should be put in the way of worthy aims of the business men.

POLICY OF COERCION? The limit is certainly being played when the leading candidate of the Civic Federation—that limited convention of alleged purists—calls up the members of the police force one by one or has them called up and catechises them as to how they intend to vote. It is claimed that this was not done to unnecessarily frighten or coerce the policemen but just to satisfy a natural curiosity as to how they are going to vote.

It is also claimed in defense of this love feast of curiosity, that two years ago Brown, when a candidate for Sheriff on a County ticket, "valetted up" the policemen and admonished them to vote the straight Republican ticket.

These soft explanations and prompt excuses show that the Civic Fed. campaigners either take the voters of this County as children or fools, or else they are in either or both classes and think everyone else is.

"They were not coerced," is the most remarkable explanation offered for this most remarkable proceeding within the precincts of the police department.

It did mean practical coercion—provided the scheme worked and an outraged community failed to protest against such methods. The people can't be fooled on this score.

As for what Brown did, Brown is urging his men to vote a straight ticket for a broad principle which the party represented. He was not using the department for personal ends, as in the case of this Civic Fed. inauguration.

And supposing Brown did do what Henry's man did, these Civic Feds have been claiming that they were putting a greater, a purer, a more upliftingness-ness into the public office which the Republicans have nominated Brown to preside.

Yet we find them two days after their campaign is started defending themselves with the intensely human cry, "Brown did it, so why shouldn't we?" Is this the sort of principle honest men wish to prevail?

WOULD NOT COERCE. (Continued from Page 1.) The safety of life and property are absolutely essential to the material advancement of this County and Territory, and one of the safeguards is an honest and efficient police force from the head of the department down to the patrolmen. I shall endeavor to bring this about so far as I am able, and I rely on the support of the public and the press to assist me in preserving the good name of this island and County of Oahu and Honolulu, for without that support no head of the police department can control crime and vice.

Gentlemen, if I consulted my own private interests, I would not be before you as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, but I have decided to be a candidate in order that I may render some service to the cause of good government in this Territory and to complete, so far as I can, the reforms begun in the police department, and it is for you to endorse or condemn my policy in the conduct of the department by your votes. My duties are of such a character that I may be unable personally to solicit your votes, but I am sure I shall endeavor to show my gratitude for your support by the faithful and impartial performance of the official duty, being careful not to oppressively use my office in the interest of any clique, sect or organization, but in the best interests of the County of Oahu, whose officer I shall be if returned at the polls.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant, WM. HENRY.

Coercion Attempted. At 11 o'clock yesterday the police were lined up in the common room above stairs at the police station.

The members of the force were at a loss, with the exception of a few, to understand what was up. A bunch of "brass buttons" saw to the gathering of the men.

Captain Parker confronted the men and made a speech in which he said that he had seen something of service and knew considerable about working for the Government. Brown was not their employer now. Henry was. Upon Henry depended the bread and butter with which the men might feed their families. They could not fail to consider him who fed them.

"Leslie!" shouted Parker. "Leslie—Sam Leslie of the Mounted Patrol, stepped forward. 'What is it?' he asked.

"Are you for Brown or Henry for Sheriff?" "I'm for the straight Republican ticket."

"What do you mean by that?" "I mean what I say: I'm for the straight Republican ticket."

Demurrer Filed to INDICTMENT By Embezzler Kapea

The plea of Henry Kapea, the embezzler who was brought back from England by Henry Vida, is slow in coming. It was set for this morning but A. G. M. Robertson appeared and Kapea's counsel and filed a motion to quash. The grounds on which the motion is made is, first, that the Grand Jury which returned the indictment, was drawn by virtue of Act 38 of the Session Laws of 1903, which is unconstitutional and void because it conflicts with the Organic Act and especially its Section 83, in that it permits other persons than citizens of the United States to serve as Grand Jurors, and in that it permits jury commissioners to determine the eligibility of Grand Jurors by mere opinion uncontrolled by law. The second ground is that the indictment was not found and returned by a duly constituted Grand Jury.

The defendant prays that the indictment be quashed and he himself discharged. Argument on the motion was set for Saturday morning. J. J. Dunne appears as counsel for the defendant together with Robertson.

straight Republican ticket." "Are you for Brown or Henry?" "Who heads the Republican ticket but A. M. Brown? I'm for the straight Republican ticket."

Each man was called in turn. Captain Kanae was first said he was for Henry. Then he said he wanted time to consider and asked that his name be not entered as for anybody until he had further time to think it over.

Later Kanae sought Leslie and said he was for Brown. Leslie said he didn't know about people who fopped around the way Kanae did.

The Mounted Patrol spoke out solid for Brown. Alfred Mossman and Sam Leslie of the "brass buttons" stood firm for Brown. The rest of the officers were for Henry or doubtful.

When the compulsory canvass had been made by order of the High Sheriff, Wm. Henry, and Henry admits ordering the line-up,—the large crowd of Brown sympathizers among the police cheered right lustily for Brown. Some of the foot police were put down as Henry men. Some were "sure-enough" Henry men.

One of about 90 men there were only 23 who spoke up for Henry as against Brown.

Leslie Smashes Woods. Sam Leslie states that after the line-up upstairs he descended to the receiving station and found Billy Woods, ex-prize fighter and prizefighter, the turkey, poking fun at Brown men. Woods had said he was for Henry.

Leslie told Woods he ought to be ashamed to knife Brown, a man who had given him a job when he was hard up. Leslie says Woods called him a foul name and made a fighting move. Leslie smashed him on the jaw and he went down.

Later Woods passed Leslie on Bethel street, but there was nothing further doing.

Johnson Speaks Out. A meeting of the County Committee was held at Republican headquarters at noon yesterday at which the situation was discussed and Captain Sam Johnson was brought out to say that he supported the straight Republican ticket.

Johnson said, in part: "It is bad enough to have to stand the criticisms of Democrats or Home Ruler opponents but to be continually attacked by those who I am trying to help and put in office is more than I can stand. I hope I do not owe my position entirely to my political work and trust that my record as road supervisor will speak for itself and compare favorably with work in other departments.

Republicans Confident. The Republicans are confident of victory. Campaign work is hustling for ward. Brown buttons are to be seen everywhere on the streets. The meeting at Asia Park on Saturday night was attended by 2,000 people. County districts report good work.

Today at noon two rousing meetings were held on the waterfront.

The candidates for Supervisors spoke at the Hanchett wharf while the other candidates addressed an attentive crowd on the Oceanic wharf. Brown was loudly cheered. Straight ticket talk could be heard everywhere.

Tonight, near the corner of King street and the Asylum road, another big meeting was held. The following will speak: A. M. Brown, C. W. Booth, J. S. Kalakala, G. W. Smith, J. Lucas, Hon. D. Kanaha, Hon. Sol. Mahelona, D. Kalanokalani Jr., Jas. Hicknell, E. A. Douthitt, E. R. Adams, J. C. Quinn.

Ed. Towse stated this morning that he was renouncing High Sheriff Henry all the assistance in his power. He did not know that he might be termed "Henry's manager," however.

"I think Henry is managing his own campaign," he said.

Henry's calling up the members of the police force to demand of them their political intentions has been excused by the statement that Brown did the same thing last year.

This statement is not true, say men now on the police force who were members of the department when Brown was High Sheriff. Men who were present at the time Brown called the department together declare that the meeting was solely for the purpose of addressing speeches to the force. Senators Achi and others declined Republican campaign speeches in the court room, advising the straight ticket, but no questions were asked as to how the men were going to vote. There was nothing of the kind.

KIND WORDS TO TERRITORY'S FRIENDS

President Pinkham Gives Banquet to Wyman and Hepburn.

L. E. Pinkham, president of the Board of Health, gave an elaborate banquet last evening at the Alexander Young Hotel in honor of Surgeon General Wyman and Congressman Hepburn.

The function was attended by representative men of the city and government who responded to Mr. Pinkham's invitation to meet the gentlemen who had been national leaders in inaugurating the important work of leprosy investigation.

The banquet table in the form of a double T was very attractively decorated and above the banqueters the flags of the Nation and the Territory were appropriately grouped.

The other guests present were Surgeon W. Smith, C. S. Holloway, Samuel Parker, Dr. J. R. Judd, Dr. L. E. Cofer, Lorrin Andrews, Justice A. A. Wilder, H. Focke, M. P. Robinson, E. R. Stackable, Eric Knudsen, H. E. Cooper, Delegate Kalaniano'le, W. Prothenauer, Wallace R. Farrington, C. M. Cooke, G. M. Rolph, Dr. W. H. Mays, Dr. J. S. McGraw, B. F. Dillingham.

The sentiment of the evening was one of gratification on the part of the guests of honor in finding Hawaii such a progressive and thoroughly American community. The residents of Hawaii returned expressions of gratitude for the work that had been done by General Wyman and Congressman Hepburn.

After wine and cigars had been brought on Mr. Pinkham started with ball rolling by a short introductory speech. He said:

"The object of our gathering is that courtesy and good will we feel toward the distinguished gentlemen present, visiting us for the first time, and to take note of a marked event.

"So far as we can search backward into the dim records of the past, even six thousand years, we find the impenebtrable darkness of a peculiar disease hanging over numbers of the human race, imposing on its victims not only physical suffering but the agonizing wrenching of all social ties and ties of blood and affection.

"Literature, even down to Ben Hur, has seized the tragic in this disease and in words painted both the physical and heart suffering until we feel the strain of intense sympathy and distress as we read. Jewish records and the Bible have disclosed for ages the hopeless tragedy of leprosy.

"No painter has presumed to dare to record it with his brush.

"Three thousand four hundred and ninety-five years ago this disease was described and a law of segregation promulgated.

"Prophets has had its cycles in which its affliction of the human race was greater than at present.

"We are still in darkness. No longer does mankind look for miracles, but the appeal is to the patient, persistent, searching investigation of medical science.

I understand this is the first time in history that a government has taken upon itself the effort and appropriated a large sum of money to investigate exclusively a single disease, seeking its cause, prevention and possible cure.

Naaman, the leper king, when bidden by Elisha, the Prophet, to wash in Jordan seven times and be clean, was angered and refused because he had expected a spectacular cleansing, but later repented, washed seven times in Jordan, and was cured.

We trust our own unfortunate wards will not imitate Naaman, but patiently and perseveringly cooperate with those laboring for their good and that of their fellow sufferers throughout the world.

We who have so earnestly hoped for the aid that has come to these Hawaiian Islands, now turn to the gentlemen who have accomplished the object desired, and who have secured ample provision for the scientific investigation of, and a search for, the prevention and cure of leprosy.

We have with us Dr. Wyman, Surgeon General of the United States, whose intense and persistent interest and effort created the sentiment and plan; and the Honorable W. P. Hepburn, for twenty-four years a member of the United States House of Representatives, and one of its most powerful leaders, who forced the plan into law against all opposition.

Gentlemen, in expression of our appreciation, I propose in one toast the health of these two friends and joint workers in behalf of humanity, Dr. Walter Wyman and the Honorable W. P. Hepburn.

Surgeon General Wyman, responding to the first toast of the evening, expressed his deep appreciation of the many courtesies that had been shown him by the officers of the Territory and the citizens during his brief stay. He especially remarked his indebtedness to President Pinkham for facilitating his work here. He gave a review of the work for the leprosy investigation station which he had come to the islands to establish, and said that Congressman Hepburn laid the seed for the work during 1902 when he introduced a bill which afterward became law providing for a conference of the health authorities of the States and Territories with the department of which Dr. C. B. Cooper was the chairman. Dr. Cooper's report was such a good one that it attracted wide attention among the medical men and later on there developed the law for the establishment of this experiment station, and the appropriation for its maintenance. Gen. Wyman said that he was very pleasantly impressed during his visit to the Settlement on Molokai with the good discipline, good order and the great amount done for the welfare of the patients. The site selected for the Federal station was a beautiful one; all that remained now was to have the Attorney General's Department pass upon the title. Meanwhile he hoped that some work could be done so that the money appropriated by the Government might be put in use. In other words he believed it might not be necessary to wait for the construction of buildings before the investigation for a specific or cure for leprosy should begin. The site selected by Gen. Wyman is a tract near the Baldwin home.

Congressman Hepburn responded to the call for a few remarks with a ringing speech that included a tribute to Gen. Wyman and very complimentary words for the citizens of Hawaii. He said that Gen. Wyman was entirely too modest. During his connection with the department of Marine Hospital Service everything that had been done had been well done. Wyman was tremendously persistent when seeking something for his department. Mr. Hepburn was enthusiastic in his praise of the Americanism he had found in Hawaii. He believed these islands would play an important part in the future of the world's development and especially the Nation. He closed with a stirring suggestion of what would happen should there be any closed doors in the Orient and of the commanding position which the American nation must take.

W. O. Smith, whose long years of excellent service as the head of the health department of the islands, makes him an authority, added his tribute of appreciation for the work done by the guests of the evening and added leaves from his experience in what had been done on the past.

Governor A. S. Coghorn, speaking for the Hawaiians, said that he could certainly express their very sincere thanks to the Federal Government, Surgeon General Wyman and Congressman Hepburn and to the United States Government for taking up the investigation of leprosy and he believed that to the United States would speedily fall the honor of finding a cure for the disease. Dr. W. H. Mays said that the people were justified in hoping for great results from the work that had been inaugurated by Gen. Wyman. There was no reason why leprosy should not be stamped out. It had been a scourge in Europe hundreds of years ago and is now virtually unknown. George W. Smith, speaking on behalf of the mercantile interests of the city, extended an appropriate greeting to the guests. W. G. Irwin disclaimed speech making ability but noted that this was not the first time Surgeon General Wyman had aided Hawaii. During the days of the plague and the Exposition at Paris, Gen. Wyman had seen to it that Hawaii's exhibit went through without unnecessary delays. C. M. Cooke remarked that although Congressman Hepburn had difficulty with Hawaiian names he should certainly learn the Hawaiian word "Aloha." He could then appreciate the feeling of the citizens toward him, for the work done in their behalf.

Col. Parker was glad the visitors had enjoyed themselves but he hoped they would get out among the Hawaiians. He said some people come down here and see only a certain class and think they have seen everybody. He hoped the guests of the Territory would get in touch with all elements. Delegate Kuhio was called upon but declined speech making honors. H. E. Cooper noted the struggles of Americanism in the islands and voiced the gratification of the people that nothing had been done toward making Hawaii a national leprosiarium. The remarks of the evening were closed by Dr. L. E. Cofer, the local representative of the U. S. Marine Hospital Service.

HAWAIIA GOLF

An open tournament for a bronze golf cup was played over the Haleiwa links on Sunday. Entrance to the tournament was free to all comers, the Hotel providing the trophy.

A few good showers over night put the links in good shape; the wind, however, interfered somewhat with long driving and approaching. Prince Kalaniano'le put up a fine game and succeeded in landing the cup with 45 plus 52 equalling 100, less 18 equals 82. Johnson and H. Mahaulu ran the winner very close.

Score:—

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Prince Kalaniano'le 82, H. Johnson 84, H. Mahaulu 85, F. H. Armstrong 87, A. S. Mahaulu 89, F. Halstead 90, O. L. Sorenson 96, J. S. Orme 100, W. W. Mr. F. H. Armstrong ran the winner fairly close with 51 plus 54 equals 105, less 18 equals 87. No one else played under 95.

A second tournament took place on Monday in splendid weather. Haleiwa Hotel put up a special prize open to all comers. This Mr. F. Halstead won with a well played 50 plus 50 equals 100, less 18 equals 82.

Mr. F. H. Armstrong ran the winner fairly close with 51 plus 54 equals 105, less 18 equals 87. No one else played under 95.

Chinese Voters Solid for Brown

Wm. H. Crawford gives the story of an interesting episode in the present campaign. Senator Achi and Crawford met at Y. Anin's office, where Achi was trying to persuade those present to vote for Wm. Henry as County Sheriff. Crawford, on the other hand, told them to vote for Brown. He states that the 400 Chinese voters here will vote practically unanimously for Brown. The Chinese Republican Club will hold a mass meeting at the rooms of the United Chinese Society tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of endorsing Brown's candidacy.

E. R. Adams, Republican candidate for Supervisor at Large, addressed the workers at the Honolulu Iron Works at noon today. He was enthusiastically received.

DORIC IN FROM ORIENT

The O. & O. liner Doric arrived in port this morning from the Orient, docking at Hackfeld's wharf at 8:20 a. m. The Doric has not been seen here for some time, as on her last trip she cut out Honolulu, going straight across. The liner brings eight passengers and 600 tons of freight for this port. She is due to sail for San Francisco at 4 p. m. W. R. Castle this morning stated to a Bulletin reporter that at precisely 10:22 o'clock a. m. today the Rev. W. D. Westervelt and W. G. Smith were seen talking together on the waterfront. White Lawn Shirt Waists may be bought at Blom's this week at prices which have been greatly reduced.

SPRAY WINS THE CUP

The first round-the-island yacht race for the Governor's Cup is over, and to the crack little yacht Spray belongs the honor of having its name first engraved on the gubernatorial trophy. Commodore H. E. Pickler and his able crew turned the trick, winning the race from the yacht Hawaii with a margin of 2 hours and 12 minutes to spare. The Hawaii beat the Spray in actual time 1 hour and 22 minutes from Wai- alua, and 1 hour and 48 minutes around the island, but the Spray's four hours' handicap proved more than amply sufficient. Last night at 7:45 the Hawaii finished and at 9:07 the Spray also crossed the imaginary line, and the race was over. It was a good race, and a close one, and the men who sailed around the island have nothing but satisfaction for the first contest for the cup.

The two yachts got a flying start on Saturday night at 9 o'clock, crossing an imaginary line from the Healani boat house to the light house, the Spray one and one-half minutes ahead of the Hawaii. At No. 1 buoy the Hawaii passed the Spray. On board the Hawaii were Capt. Alec. Lyle, Lewis, pilot; Geo. Crozier and Sam Lyle, Olie Sorenson later joining at Wai- alua. On the Spray were Commodore H. E. Pickler, Leslie Scott, H. E. Couzens and H. P. Roth. At the start the Spray carried mainsail, gaff topsail, spinnaker and jib, the Hawaii mainsail, jib and spinnaker. After passing the channel both yachts jibed and immediately sent out spinnakers. Off Pearl Harbor the Hawaii led by a quarter of a mile. Soon a squall came up, compelling her to douse her spinnaker, the Spray holding on to her spinnaker, with a man on the boom to hold down. Off Barber's point at 11:15, the Spray caught her opponent, and hugging the shore to catch the land breeze, pulled away from the other, which stood out to sea. Off Kaena Point the Hawaii closed up. It was then that the Hawaii split her jib from top to bottom. At 1 p. m. the yachts were off Waianae, then began beating for Wai- alua, where the Hawaii got in at 7:55 a. m., 26 minutes ahead of the Spray.

The hardy sailors rested at Wai- alua that day, golfing, etc. The party was royally entertained by St. Clair Bilgoad, of the Halewa Hotel. At 8:30 next morning the yachts resumed the race and here the keen rivalry began. But the Spray hung on to her swifter opponent like a leech, and Commodore Pickler and his crew certainly sailed the little yacht for every inch of speed there was in her. The two yachts beat up the coast toward Kahuku Point. This was the kind of sailing that only those who love yachting would care for, for what with the strong trade winds and heavy seas, the two boats were sailing about as much under the water as on top. In fact the Spray did slip one heavy sea. In this reach the Hawaii gained one and one-half hours, and it looked like a victory for Capt. Lyle. But after rounding Kahuku Point there was a long reach to Makapu and the Spray still stuck to her rival.

In this reach the yachts ran through the narrow passage between Bird Island and the mainland. More heavy seas and strong wind were encountered. Sheets were then eased off for the run to Makapu Point. Off Koko Head the wind was so strong the yachts dared not jibe, but came about instead. At the last the Hawaii drew away somewhat. Both yachts displayed signal lights off Diamond Head, and crossed the imaginary finish line, the Hawaii at 7:45 o'clock, the Spray at 9:07.

Both crews were pretty well exhausted by the race as the heavy weather kept them constantly on the alert for any mishaps. Early in the race the Hawaii split her topmast and jib. The Spray split her gaff jaws. Then the crews showed the courtesy of true brother Corinthians. The crew of the Hawaii repaired the injury to the Spray, and the Spray's men responded by repairing the split jib on the Hawaii. As Commodore Pickler says, one race has been sailed in keen rivalry where the contestants showed that they did not forget their courtesy.

Those who sailed the victorious Spray magnanimously give the Hawaii the credit of perhaps winning but for the injuries to the jib and topmast.

The Spray almost lost a man overboard off Kaena Point while he was pulling in the jib sheets. It was wild weather most of the way, and Commodore Pickler says he was looking for a soft place on the reef for about an McINERNEY SHOE STORE, FORT STREET. "There's many a fast horse to the quarter, But few who can stay a mile." How true does this philosophy apply to Shoes! There's many a shoe which not only looks well but wears well, for a while; but it is only a short time when weak points develop. Below a certain price, a shoe must be slighted, must be filled, and the lower the price, the more weak points must appear. How unlike the "HANAN" SHOE, where every ingenuity known to shoe- ology, is assembled in concrete. Shoes are like people: some are pleasant for a short time; others im- prove upon acquaintance. Hanan shoes have stood the test of years, and we are the sole agents.

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE members of Phranza's family were dining, as was their custom on pleasant days, under the great fig tree in the garden, a favorite spot with the chamberlain when allowed that privacy of life and domestic retirement which were seldom enjoyed by one whose duty it was to show the courtesies of the empire to ambassadors and distinguished visitors from the ends of the earth.

"I would willingly exchange conditions with old Gerko, the gate keeper, today," said Phranza, pushing from him the untasted viands. "The gate keeper of an empire has less liberty and rest."

"What new burden has the council put upon you, my lord?" said his wife. "Remember that your little prime minister will help you," interposed Morsinia playfully.

"Phranza glanced with a kindly but troubled look at her. "The wishes of the public good grind up the hearts of individuals remorselessly," continued the good man. "Here am I with a spouse as fair as Juno, yet I must leave her for months and maybe years that I may see a sponsor for the emperor. I am to make a tour of all Christian courts, sampling delicate bits of foaming loveliness and weighing paternal purposes. I had hoped that his majesty would assert his sovereignty sufficiently to declare that in this matter he would exercise the liberty which the commonest poor possesses. But the very day after his escape from the mad monk he put the scepter of his majesty into the hands of the attempt upon his life, or something else (claiming at Morsinia, seems to have turned his head with fear for the succession). So tomorrow I sail to the East to inspect the Christian beauties who are sold to his majesty on the eastern shore. But my dear wife will be consoling for my absence by the return of our nephew Alexis, who I learn from his letters, is already at Athens having worried of his school among the Italians, and will be with you before many days."

The magnificent retinue, the splendid galleys, the untold treasures scented from the bottom of the imperial coffers, with which on the following day the chamberlain sailed away through the Bosporus to the Euxine, were but poor compensation to his loving household for his prolonged absence. Nor was his place adequately filled by Alexis, with his fine form and western elegance of manners. In one respect Phranza's wish was met, for if the care of his aunt was not appreciated by the young man the sisterly offices of Morsinia's respect for the absent Phranza led her to allow more attention from Alexis than her heart or even her judgment would have suggested. The young nobleman soon entangled himself in the web of her unconscious fascination. It was not until with passionate ardor he told his love that Morsinia realized her fatal power over him. But with a true woman's frankness and firmness she endeavored to dispel the illusion his ardent fancy had created.

"If I have not yet won you," cried the impetuous youth, "do not tell me that my suit is hopeless. It was folly in me to dream that you would see in me anything worthy of your love, so soon as your transcendent beauty of face and soul made me feel that you were all worthily of mine. Let me prove myself by months or years of devotion, if you will."

"It is not that you are not worthy of me, Alexis. The nephew of Phranza need not humiliate himself at the feet of any king's daughter, but-but-it may not be. It cannot be." And, gently releasing the hand she had allowed him to seize, she withdrew to her own chamber.

Alexis stood for a moment as if stupefied with his disappointment. This feeling was followed by a chagrin which showed itself in the deep color mounting his haughty face. Then rage ensued, and he stamped upon the ground as if crushing some helpless thing beneath his feet and muttered to himself:

"If not I, no man shall have her and live. Can it be that Albanian Constantine? Who is that vagrant, that man, that hireling, who follows her? Angels and tonds do not brood together, and he is of no kin to her!"

Mrs. A. Caroline Knight, who has resigned as preceptress of the U. S. Grant University at Athens, Tenn., closed, by doing so, a teaching life of sixty-three years. Except for two years, which she devoted to study, she has taught every year since 1842, at an average of four or five hours a day.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is said to be engaged in the formation of a league for the obliteration of the goddess Sunday from society. The association is to consist exclusively of matrons in high life, and Lady Wimbome is to be president. Cold dinners will be one of the rules insisted upon.

BASEBALL GALORE IN LAST TWO DAYS

H. A. C.'s And Kams Go Twelve Innings Last Saturday.

LITTELL'S PLAYING THROUGHOUT GAME

ELKS DEFEAT PUNS—REDS BEST MAILES AND WOODS' MEN AGAIN LOSE TO LEMON.

The fool and his batting averages are soon parted.—From the Wise Sayings of Bill Hampton. Put not your trust in pitchers.—From the Epigrams of Jess Woods. The laborer is few.—From the Lamentations of Lemon.

Let him that is without error cast the first stone.—From the Proverbs of Pat Gleason. A miss is as good as a Malle.—From the Jest of Joe Cohen.

Saturday's games—Elks 7, Puns 2; Kams 6, H. A. C. 5. Monday's games—H. A. C. 10, Mailes 6; Kams 3, Puns 2. Elks 7, Punahou 2. Kams 6, H. A. C. 5—12 Innings.

That was what the official score showed after four hours of baseball last Saturday—baseball that run the whole gamut of the game from whirlwind to listless, from brilliant to absolutely raw, and finally ended just in time for the fans to hurry home to dinner with plenty of things to talk about. The Elks beat the Puns handily in a fairly fast game, and the Kams and Reds straggled along for nine innings of loose playing, got into extra sessions because each side seemed anxious not to win, and finally Captain Lemon's men clinched the game in the twelfth, 6 to 5, and on an error at that!

The Elks won because Hampton held the Puns down to four hits, and because Richardson's proteges had no trouble in locating the benders Eddie Desha served up for their delectation. They fell onto the tall Pun like little niggers in a pie-eating contest, and hammered him hither and yon until the Pun fielders had blisters galore from chasing the Elks' batting average. All told, they gathered eleven safe ones. Grady led with three hits out of four times at bat. Bob White got a single and a double out of four times up. Wilder did the same, and so did Hampton. Meanwhile the Elks were giving their pitcher good support. Seventeen assists in a nine-inning game with only two errors is going some. Hampton got nine assists without an error, which is mighty fast work.

The Puns erred four-times, two of which were on high flies that the wind toyed with in the outfield. The only bright spots for the Puns last Saturday were Ahrens' home run and a fast double play. Ahrens got his long hit in the sixth inning. He laced one over center and went all the way around, coming in breathless and much admired by the grandstand. G. Judd started the double play. Cogswell hit safe. Vanatta sent a grounder to Judd, who touched Cogswell out and shot the ball to Woods ahead of Vanatta. The Elks pulled off two double plays. In the second with Stiles on third and one man out, L. Judd hit to Hampton, who threw Stiles out at the plate and Grady caught Judd at first. It was a heady play and typical of the kind of ball the Elks are playing this year. In the fourth Vanatta caught Stiles' drive and also caught Woods before he could get to third on what looked like a safe hit.

The Elks started the scoring in the second inning, with two men down Kia walked, Bob White doubled to left field, Grady hit safe, scoring Kia and White. In the fourth Wilder hit safe, Kia reached first on Meyer's wild throw of his grounder, and White again got a safe one. Grady got first by forcing White, but two runs had been scored. In the next inning Hampton got a pass, Cogswell hit safely to center, and a moment later Wilder doubled, scoring Hampton. Just to clinch the game, the Elks got two in the ninth on Grady's and Moore's hits, the latter a double, and Hampton's single after Evers had fled out to center.

The Puns scored an earned run when Dick Ahrens hit for the circuit. They scored again in the seventh. Stiles led off with a safety, but was caught trying to get home. A moment later G. Desha was hurt by colliding with Cogswell and Stiles had his ambitions gratified by running for the left fielder. He went to third on Meyer's hit and scored on Wilder's wild return to first. There was no hope for the Puns, though, for Hampton kept winding away in an utterly unhittable fashion, and Woods's youngsters never even looked dangerous.

Science Destroys Rats and Mice.

Many readers of this paper have been greatly annoyed the last month or so with an unusual number of rats and mice, or both. Traps have been of no avail in ridding them of these pests. We are glad to tell them that science has discovered a means of driving rats and mice from the house to die. This is Stearns' Electric Rat and Mouse Paste. Its sale has been remarkable, and it never fails. If you cannot get the Paste of your dealer, write direct to the Stearns' Electric Paste Co., Tribune Building, Chicago, Ill., and it will be sent to you express prepaid on receipt of price. It is easy to use, and kills the house rat, mice, cockroaches, etc. Small size, 25c; Hotel size, eight times the quantity, $1.00.

After the Puns had gone under the grandstand, and the Elks had hired an expert mathematician to count up the exchequer, twenty-two alleged ball-players came forth from concealment and proceeded to give a good imitation of how not to play the game.

It may have been politics. Perhaps the ball-tossers were all tired out after running away from former Civic Field candidate-chasers. However it be, there was something mighty lumbering in Denmark last Saturday.

The Kams were in the first. Lemon walked, J. Desha laid down a neat but that sacrificed the little campaign to second, and Pahu scored him on a safe one.

The Kams were in the first. Lemon walked, J. Desha laid down a neat but that sacrificed the little campaign to second, and Pahu scored him on a safe one.

Apparently nobody wanted the game. First the Kams would get it, then they would give it back to the Reds, who would immediately return the present.

After that the game moseyed along until the twelfth. It was about the next-time so the ball-tossers ended the game. Sheldon and Koki hit safe. Barney Joy threw to third to catch Sheldon napping, but this time the wrong man was asleep.

A double play partially redeemed an otherwise poor fielding game. It was in the eleventh. Bruns hit safe. Soares reached first on Kekuewa's error. Fernandez hit to Hamauku who shot it to Sheldon, retiring Bruns and Soares.

Yesterday's games were uneventful. The Males had heard of the H. A. C.'s 12-error record on Saturday and started out to beat it. They succeeded—and incidentally went the Reds two better by erring 14 times.

The Champions started off fast with five runs right at the jump. En Sue and Louis hit safe. Joy's fly to right was dropped, Cunha singled. A. Williams was safe on H. Bruns's error.

At a recent meeting of the Anthropological Society, of London, England, Dr. Shruball brought forward some very remarkable statistics, showing that the blond type of woman is rapidly going out of existence and the brunette type taking its place.

In view of these statistical facts, two vital questions suggest themselves to the thinking mind: Are blondes born to die? Are brunettes born to suffer? Science is trying to negate the first question.

Answers to these, containing free medical advice, and simple instructions how to successfully treat these dreadful diseases in the privacy of their own homes.

Letters received later from these same women, who had been restored to health by Wine of Cardui, giving thanks that such a medicine for suffering women had been brought to their notice.

If you could read these letters you would surely be convinced that Wine of Cardui is what you need today for your female pain, weakness or sickness, and would waste no more precious days or hours, but get a dollar bottle at once at your druggist's and begin to take this wonderful home treatment for all sick and suffering women.

Collier's for April 22 says: Masters of finance usually care little about public opinion and know less. Mr. Rogers is undoubtedly one of the ablest business men in America, and his statement about rebates and slavery was attractively straightforward, but it was not skilfully composed to make a favorable impression on the public, to which it was addressed.

MRS. BUZZELL FILES LIBEL FOR DIVORCE

Minnie K. Buzzell has filed a libel for divorce against Percy Clarence Buzzell. The complaint shows that marriage took place April 2, 1904. "The trouble arose," says the complaint, "on or about November, 1904, in consequence of conduct of libellee towards libellant, which libellant prefers not to spread on the records of the court, but which she is willing to do provided libellee desires a bill of particulars."

It is then alleged that libellee used opprobrious epithets against libellant, accused her of unchastity and often left the house in a rage, and would then leave the libellant without money to procure the necessities of life.
On May 5, 1905, "the libellee kicked with shoes on his feet, libellant in the abdomen, which caused libellant great pain and suffering." On May 9 libellee locked himself and libellant in the house and was assaulting her, when she tried to escape by getting on a chair preparatory to getting out of the window, the libellee pulled the chair from under her, which caused her to fall through the window and injure herself.

On June 5 the libellee assaulted libellant, called her vile names, threatened to shoot her and refused to let her eat with him. "The libellant became frightened, took libellee's pistol and tried to escape. He pursued her, took the pistol from her, pulled her hair and bruised her. She escaped to the house of a neighbor and has not since returned."
On many occasions libellee has called libellee vile names, threatened to shoot her, refused to let her relatives see her and was mean with her, refusing to give her money for her necessary personal expenses.
Libellant shows that she has no means and has to depend for her living on friends, and asks for temporary alimony, decree of divorce and permanent alimony.

Hawaiian Village

OPENING YESTERDAY Immense Success

Between twenty-five hundred and three thousand people attended the grand opening of the Hawaiian Village at the Kaiwiliwili Golf Course yesterday. From 10 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 o'clock at night the pleasant by-ways of curious and delightful recreation at this fascinating resort were crowded with men, women and children in holiday attire, looking for a good time and finding more of pleasure than they were in search of.

Two great tables were loaded with Hawaiian delicacies in a shaded lanai between the grass houses of the picturesque Hawaiian Village. The feast endured all day; the boards groaned beneath the weight of good things and beautiful fern and floral decorations pleased the eye while tempting dishes confronted the palate.
And while the faintly disappeared, entraining native dances followed each other in wondrous style. Twelve of Hawaii's best hula girls performed to the catchy rhythm of the gourd and tom-tom.

Hundreds upon hundreds found opportunity to enjoy this great attraction. Those who had before seen hula dances declared those given at the Zoo the best of their experience and those to whom the dance was a novelty went away charmed with the spectacle.

The hula girls relieved each other, keeping up the exhibition all day long.

Then there were athletic sports in the afternoon and the sights of the Zoo to be seen while light refreshments were served to all who desired them. E. E. Hartmann had charge of the sports and they went off merrily and to the satisfaction of everybody.

The scene was such as has never before been witnessed in this Territory. It was a day for the children and for the grown-ups, too. It seemed that the town had turned out to see the Zoo, the Hawaiian Village, the hula dance, the sports and to enjoy them all to the full.
The opening was in every way a prodigious success. The trolley cars were crowded for over twelve hours. The birds and animals never before allowed themselves to be surveyed by so many jolly folks. The one wish expressed by all was that the enjoyable dancing might have a permanent feature of the Hawaiian village.

Stereoscopic views delighted our grandparents. They are popular once again. With a Stereo Kodak any amateur can take pictures which will be surprisingly animated and which will disclose marvelous perspective. A collection of these photographs is a source of never-failing delight. We will gladly show you photos taken with this wonderful little Kodak if you will call. Honolulu Photo Supply Co.

Mr. Clinton J. Hutchins, General Agent Hawaiian Islands for the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, City.

Dear Sir:—I desire to express to you my appreciation of the prompt and businesslike manner in which you have attended to the payment of the claim against the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California for $5,000 on the life of William Kamana, deceased.
I presented this claim to you on the first day of this month, and have today, sixteen days after the presentation of the claim, received from you a check for the sum of $5,455, being the amount in full of the Policy, $5,000, and $455, increased insurance. This is remarkably quick time for the settlement of the Policy and I desire to thank you and your Company for the way in which you have expedited the payment of this claim.
Very truly yours,
WILLIAM O. SMITH,

PERRY TO DEFEND

Attorney Olsen this morning was excused by Judge De Bolt from appearing as counsel for the defense in the case of Takata, Japanese charged with murder in the second degree. Olsen was appointed by the Court together with H. G. Middleitch in the place of C. C. Biting, who was prevented from appearing in the case on account of illness. Middleitch asked that another attorney be appointed in Olsen's place. The Court selected Judge A. Perry, who accepted.
