Gen. Kuroki's Army Marches Steadily On

WASHINGTON, May 14th, 1904.

To Mr. SAITO.

General Kuroki reports that our detachment occupied Kuantienchang on the 7th inst. and that another infantry detachment pursued on the 11th inst. The enemy's cavalry retreated from Shuehlichan and Kuroki's force captured two privates and a lieutenant who is a son of General Honvali.

Police Would See Travesty Stars Against Cohen's Will

There was a stunt at the alley entrance to the Orpheum theater last night which had not been advertised on the bills of the Travesty Stars. A squad of police, some uniformed and some not, tried to force an entrance for men of the "force" who wanted in on a free pass. J. C. Cohen, the manager and lessee of the Orpheum, objected to the admission of so many police on the free list. He stood in the doorway and spread out his arms to prevent their passing. The police made a rush and, with a rough and tumble mixup, put Cohen into the patrol wagon and hauled him to the police station, where his bail was fixed at $75.

Cohen tells the following story:

"I was notified that there were a lot of policemen at the rear entrance demanding admission without pay. I went at once to the entrance. Lieutenant Leslie was already inside, being in uniform. He said to me, 'These men want to come in'.

"I replied that I could not admit so many men; that I would have to stand the price of their seats with the Travesty Company.

"Leslie said, 'You'll have to let these men in.'

"I replied that I would not and then Leslie said, 'Come on.' With that they made a rush. Somebody hollered, 'Grab him!' and I was caught by three or four men and we all tumbled down stairs in a bunch. I was struck and kicked and maltreated generally. When I saw they were taking me into custody, I asked that we go to the station in a hack.

"The police replied not by a good deal; we'll take you in the patrol wagon. I was dragged from the entrance to the street and publicly insulted and assaulted by the police.

"I am now told by the High Sheriff that I have to admit his men or my license will be revoked. All I can say is that I can't afford to admit free of charge the entire police force, and if the High Sheriff insists on it, I close up the theater. I have always admitted a few uniformed officers, but did it as a courtesy and not as a right of theirs.

"I feel that I have been humiliated and damaged by this action of the police, and have turned the whole matter over to my attorney, Mr. A. G. M. Robertson.

"While I was being taken to the station High Sheriff Brown issued tickets of admission to his men to go to the performance. I am going to find out whether I am running the Orpheum or whether it is being run by the High Sheriff."

High Sheriff Brown, when seen regarding the Cohen matter this morning, stated as follows:

"As far as I can find out after an investigation of the affair, five officers wanted to enter the Orpheum last night, but were refused an entrance by Cohen. The men showed their badges and said that my orders were that they should attend the performance. When the officers pressed forward Cohen forcibly ejected them. He was then arrested and taken to the police station.

"I do not see why Cohen at this time should have made such a disturbance about the matter of admitting officers. For three or four years past the orders to the police officers of the regular force have been that they could attend performances at the Opera House, the Orpheum and the baseball field without paying for admittance. They were, however, not entitled to seats and were instructed not to interfere in any way with the rights of paying patrons. Section 781 of the Penal Laws states that officers in a reasonable number can be present at any licensed show without paying admittance, and Cohen certainly had no right to keep the officers out last night. If he objected he should not have made his objection by making a rough house, but should have seen the Attorney General or myself about the matter this morning and reached an amicable understanding.

"As far as the fact is concerned that the officers were off regular duty is concerned, the men were on duty in regard to keeping the house orderly. I sent two officers in uniform to the show last night, namely Captain Kanae and Lieut. Leslie. I expected that they together with the usual number of officers off regular duty attending the show would be able to preserve order. I understand that Cohen says there were fifteen officers. After a careful investigation I can only find five officers, besides Detective McDuffie, who entered by virtue of their badges I think that this number was certainly required to preserve order in a house of about 600 or 800 people, especially since there were probably about 200 bluejackets in the audience.

What physical violence was used was by Cohen and not by the officers.

INSURANCE WINS PLAGUE FIRE CASE

Supreme Court Rules Against Ahana's Exceptions.

BURNING OF BUILDINGS WAS BY OFFICIAL ORDER

ACTION FOR $1,000 ON POLICY IS LOST BECAUSE BOARD OF HEALTH CONDEMNED PROPERTY.

Supreme Court this forenoon rendered unanimous opinion in W. W. Ahana vs, The Insurance Co. of North America, exceptions from First Circuit Court, overruling exceptions:

"This is an action for $1000 on a policy of fire insurance on two buildings that were burned, with other buildings, in what was known as block 9, in Chinatown, Honolulu, on January 16, 1900, the defense being, so far as need be considered on these exceptions, that the fire was caused by order of the Board of Health in the suppression of bubonic plague and so was a "loss caused directly or indirectly * * * by order of any civil authority," which is one of the losses excepted in the policy. The jury found for the defendant and the plaintiff brings here sixteen exceptions.

"These exceptions raise the question of the admissibility in evidence of a book of minutes of meetings of the Board of Health for the purpose of showing the resolutions condemning the buildings in question. A number of the objections made to the admission of these records relate to the legality of the action of the Board in condemning these buildings. One objection was that there was not a quorum present at the meeting of January 10, 1900, at which these buildings were condemned.

"In our opinion, these objections to the admissibility of the minutes were not well founded. Aonther objection was that it was not shown that the meeting in question 'was properly set or organized by any process of the Board of Health or by any person who appeared to have authority of the Board of Health.'

"Without going into the question whether these things would be sufficient to invalidate the proceedings as between the Board and one affected by its action, it is sufficient to say that the action appears to have been taken by the Board or a quorum thereof as such and in the usual manner, and that was all that was required for the purposes of a case of this kind, as will appear under the next point.

"The argument under certain exceptions is that the action of the Board was unlawful and unjustifiable in that it was unnecessary to destroy the buildings. It is sufficient if the civil authority may lawfully order buildings burned when necessary for purposes within the scope of its duties and acts in the particular case officially and in good faith and within the apparent scope of its powers.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN PRACTICALLY CHOSEN BY EXECUTIVE

Governor Carter has about arrived at a choice for chairman of the committee of five to draft a County Act. Though the name is not yet given out it is said that W. O. Smith, H. E. Cooper or Judge Stanley are high among the possibles.

Representatives of the Democratic and Home Rule parties will be asked for recommendations in regard to the membership of the committee. Secretary Atkinson stated today that the opinions of all political parties would be invited.

It is not unlikely that Secretary Atkinson will be one of the members. Deputy Attorney General Peters has also been mentioned. U. S. District Attorney Breckons, as a delegate to the Republican Convention, will hardly be able to serve.

WILDER LEFT NO WILL

Gertrude L. B. Wilder, petitioning for administration, alleges that Gardner Knight Wilder, of Honolulu, died intestate at San Francisco on April 13, leaving property in Hawaii; she prays that W. C. Wilder be appointed administrator. Judge De Bolt has set June 20th for the hearing.

The Argentine Republic will send the gunboat cruiser Patria to St. Louis for the World's Fair.

Newest U. S. Cruiser Arrived Today On Her Maiden Cruise

The United States cruiser Tacoma arrived from Bremerton this morning after her first real ocean voyage. The new cruiser came into the harbor in fine order and was docked at the channel wharf at about 9 o'clock. In spite of the long sea trip the Tacoma on her arrival looked spick and span and in excellent shape.

The Tacoma was commissioned on January 3 of this year. She remained in San Francisco until April 20, when she left for Tacoma. On April 23 the Tacoma arrived at the city in whose honor she was named and was received with the greatest possible enthusiasm by the people of that city. The cruiser remained at Tacoma for a week, during which she was treated as an honored guest and was made the center of several celebrations. A formal reception was given on board, during which, with much ceremony, the people of the city of Tacoma presented the officers of the cruiser with a magnificent silver service and the men with an excellent and very complete set of band instruments.

The cruiser left Tacoma May 1. She had final tests of her guns on May 2 and ran into the Puget Sound Navy Yard for coal. The Tacoma left the Navy Yard May 4 and proceeded on her trip to this port.

Commander R. F. Nicholson, who commands the Tacoma, is an exceedingly pleasant and courteous gentleman who willingly gave all the information desired about his ship and her cruise.

"This is the Tacoma's very first cruise," he said, "and the trip to Honolulu is, with the exception of the run from San Francisco to Tacoma, about eight or nine hundred miles, her first sea voyage. I found the vessel in possession of excellent sea-going qualities. She leaves nothing to be desired in that direction. I have not as yet made my official report regarding this point to the Secretary of the Navy, but I may say that the Tacoma is perfectly satisfactory at sea. Of course, we have not as yet seen her in any real gale, but she had to buck into some pretty rough seas on her way down here. While this weather did not take the proportions of a gale or a storm, it gave us a line on how she will behave herself in bad weather."

Regarding the contemplated search which the Tacoma is to make for a reported reef or rock on her way back to San Francisco, Commander Nicholson said:

"We expect to remain in Honolulu about a week. At the end of that time we expect to sail for San Francisco. We are at present under orders to proceed back to San Francisco, but our orders are, of course, always subject to changes. With regard to the rock which we are to search for we of course know the latitude and longitude in which it is supposed to be. I expect that there must have been some recent report made of its presence, since the Navy Department is now taking this active step to get information concerning it. Of course the rock has especial interest on account of the fact that the Levant is supposed to have been lost by running on it."

When the reporter told Commander Nicholson that several masters of vessels now in port had reported that they had sailed right over or by the spot where the rock is located, more especially Captain Underwood of the schooner Robert Lewers, who reported that he passed over the exact spot on his last trip down here, Commander Nicholson stated that he should very much like to confer with these captains in order that he might obtain as much information as possible on the subject before he started on the search.

Commander Nicholson bears the distinction of having navigated the battleship Oregon on her famous long run from San Francisco around the Horn to the scene of war in Cuba, he being at that time navigating officer of the Oregon.

The full list of officers of the Tacoma is as follows: Commander R. F. Nicholson, commanding; Lieut. Commander Harry George, executive officer; Lieut. Commander W. O. Hulme, navigator; Lieutenant U. T. Holmes, engineer officer; Surgeon M. K. Johnson, Paymaster Ray Spear, Lieutenant W. D. Leahy, Lieutenant I. F. Landis, Ensign Harry K. Cage, Ensign W. W. Galbraith, 1st Lieutenant Paul E. Chamberlain, U. S. M. C.; Midshipman D. P. Wickersham, Acting Gunner J. Mitchell, Acting Boatswain H. A. Stanley, Warrant Machinist J. F. Green, Warrant Machinist G. T. Brownridge, Warrant Machinist Ernest Evans, Acting Carpenter G. A. Lazar, Pay Clerk S. F. Rose.

Acting Gunner J. Mitchell is a man of quite a bit of distinction in the United States Navy, he having acquired an enviable record during the siege of Peking. He received a medal for his gallant conduct on that occasion.

The Tacoma is classed as a protected cruiser. She was built at the Union Iron Works at San Francisco, being launched on June 2, 1903. She is rigged as a schooner with two masts and furnished with twin-screw vertical triple expansion engines, capable of developing 4,700 indicated horsepower. The Tacoma's contract speed is 16.5 knots but she exceeded this a little on her trial trip. The Tacoma measures 308 feet over all with 44 feet 1 inch beam and 15 feet draught. She is provided with a main battery of ten 5-inch rapid-fire guns and a secondary battery consisting of eight 6-pound rapid-fire, two 1-pound rapid-fire and four Colt's automatic guns. The cruiser carries a crew of 261 men and 22 marines.

MAUI JURIES DRAWN

Wailuku, Maui, May 11.—The first official act of Hon. A. N. Kepoikai, Judge of the Circuit Court of the Second Circuit, on assuming his duties this morning, was the drawing of names to serve as Grand and Trial Jurors for the June term of his court.

The Grand Jury is composed of the following: D. H. Makekau, J. Dow, Geo. Weight, C. Hansen, W. E. Shaw, J. W. Rickard, Geo. W. Wilbur, J. W. L. Marshall, E. Waiaholo, Guy S. Goodness, R. E. Ford, C. B. Wells, H. B. Weller, W. F. Pogue, D. L. Meyer, A. B. Naone, W. E. Beckwith, S. T. Kalapa,—18.

Trial jury as follows: A. G. Dickens, . V. Kerr, Henry Reuter, David Morton, C. B. Cockett, E. H. Cockett, Geo. Groves, J. W. Davidson Jr., M. A. Tavares, S. K. Kaalihikaua, R. O. Hogg, Chas. Bailey, E. Krueger, Clement Crowell, James Scott, V. L. Boeck, R. C. Searle, Solomon Aikau, E. M. Keeney, Chas. Cockett, R. K. Devauchelle, Manuel Dutro, Manuel Faustino, Geo. B. Schrader,—24.

There is going to be some great kicking among the jurors when they will be informed that there is only going to be $350 to be divided among them for whatever services they may render during the term for which they are drawn. It seems that some legislator who was informed of this state of affairs, failed to have enough money put in the appropriation for the current expense of the Second Circuit for the period commencing from January 1, 1904, and ending June 30, 1904. The Legislature appropriated only $2,000 for this period; and there being two terms in the period, that sum does not suffice to meet the great amount needed to pay the jurors' mileage fees. The March term used up $1,648 or thereabouts, leaving only about $350.

The great amount of expenditure is not due to any remissness on the part of the court authorizing it, but solely to the law which compels the payment of fees to whoever qualifies and serves.

The jurors for the March term had their vouchers forwarded to the Auditor's office early in April, and some in March last, and thus far only one man has been favored with his warrant or "pila alualu".

It is understood that the new Judge is going to have night sessions, and will force litigants to fill up time with business without "hot air".

The much-needed repair to the court house will commence next Monday morning, and Maui may well be proud of the interest shown by the Superintendent of Public Works. He has written to our energetic clerk of the court to send down a sketch showing the size of the court house and old schoolhouse lot, also proposed location of the new jail building and fire station. This has been prepared and will be forwarded as requested

REHEARING DENIED BY SUPREME COURT IN COOKE VS. TREASURER

Supreme Court unanimously denies a rehearing in C. M. Cooke against the Treasurer in an opinion written by Justice Galbraith and rendered at noon today. Says the opinion in brief:

The stamp duty, payable under Section 941 C. L., is assessed upon the deed of conveyance and the consideration therein expressed and not on the separate considerations for several contracts set out therein.

The assessment is not on the contracts or necessarily on the consideration therefor. A rehearing is denied.

A brief statement of the facts is as follows: The mortgagee sold a tract of land taking a mortgage for the unpaid purchase money and upon default in the conditions of the mortgage foreclosed under a power therein contained by public advertisement and sale. At the time of the sale the balance due on the purchase money was $62,300.00 and the land which had been divided into lots and blocks was sold in separate parcels, the attorney for the mortgagee buying each tract. The sum of the several purchases aggregated the amount due under the mortgage. To effectuate the several con-

WAS RICHARDSON RESPONSIBLE?

Judge De Bolt this morning overruled defendant's demurrer to indictment against E. V. Richardson, charged with embezzlement from the Water Works.

Demurrer, filed by A. G. M. Robertson, alleged:

1. That no offense under the laws of the Territory is charged.
2. That indictment is duplicituous in that more than one offense is sought or attempted to be alleged.
3. That indictment is vague in that it does not appear in and by said indictment whether said defendant is or was charged with the safe keeping, transfer and disbursement of money of said Territory, by law, regulation or appointment; and also because no appointment or regulation referred to in said indictment is set out in or made part of indictment.

Deputy Attorney General E. C. Peters appeared for the Territory.

In the indictment Richardson is charged with misappropriating funds as "clerk of the Honolulu Water Works, by regulation and appointment, charged with the safe-keeping, transfer and disbursement of money, etc."

Robertson contended that Richard-

THE ADVANTAGES

CEMENT ROOFING

POSSESSES OVER TIN, IRON AND STEEL ROOFING

IT CANNOT RUST

Gases, fumes, moisture, coal soot and smoke cannot injure or affect CEMENT ROOFING. It is better adapted for application over uneven surfaces, such as old shingles or metal roofs, obviating the expense of removing the same. It will not rattle from wind and storm, nor create any noise from rain falling upon it. The materials used in cement roofing are the best non-conductors of heat and cold known; therefore it will keep the building warmer in winter and cooler in summer than a metal roof. Samples and full particulars mailed on request.

ROARING AND MELODIOUS TRAVESTY FUN MAKERS

The Travesties are the jolliest things Honolulu has ever heard and they are heralded by an all star combination. The Orpheum was crowded to doors as Honolulu's first night greeting to Harry James Travesty Stars and there will be crowds every night whether it be "Fiddle Dee Dee" or "Fol De Roll" or any other fun-making medium. The house was kept in a continuous roar of laughter, the artists were recalled, then called again and they were good enough to respond as often as they were asked.

Mr. Cohen has brought many good companies to Honolulu, but never before has he captured a combination of such high standard and completeness from the Metropolitan standpoint. There is nothing to the play. It is all in the way it's played. The stars are fresh from a six hundred night engagement in San Francisco and if a Honolulu audience did not appreciate them it would show its lack of wit. James, however, has not left it all to the stars. He has given them a strong chorus backing, good looking and good voiced, to make the whole thing complete.

It would be difficult to say which gave the crowd the most satisfaction. The fun-making started by Richard Goodall kept increasing in geometrical proportion as Maude Amber and Winfield Blake, Kolb, Dill and Bernard came upon the scene of action. Barney Bernard's Leachinsky made a distinct hit. Maude Amber was pretty and attractive. Lillie Sutherland's dancing was a particularly good feature. Kolb and Dill are a team that could furnish a whole night's entertainment by themselves.

An incident of last night's performance was the attendance of the Ahkund of Swat company in a body. During the intermission R. C. Brown of the amateurs mounted the stage and made a short speech, greeting the Travesty Stars to the city and wishing them success. He proposed three cheers for the visitors, which were given heartily by the audience. The Travesties won't want for full houses during their Honolulu season.

Foreign Warships Soon To Arrive

Consul F. A. Schaefer has been advised by cable of the arrival in the near future of two foreign warships. He announces as follows:

The Italian cruiser Liguria, Captain the Duke of the Abruzzes, will leave San Francisco for here on the 15th inst. A cable dispatch to that effect is at hand.

The Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elisabeth will arrive here on the 13th of June next. She is a large vessel of the older type, a sister ship to the Kaiser Franz Josef I. The vessel will make a stay of a fortnight in Honolulu.

Territory vs. L. B. Kerr, injunction as to a seawall at Waikiki, is before Judge De Bolt. Decision may affect others than defendant. Judge Weaver for the Government; S. H. Derby for Kerr. Weaver contends that the Government can order an obstruction removed without proving it a nuisance.

Books, Bookish People and Things

E. B. Browning.

There are three books upon the Bulletin Bookman's table. One of them is a history of Hawaii which it pleases the B. B. to read every time he sets foot upon a new island, for it is a good short history, and is a credit to its author. The second book talks learnedly of various forms of insanity, and the third deals in "Nerve Storms".

So, without following either book much, the reader came to a passage in one, which related the three: "When the Council had considered the question of redistribution of lands, it gave the best property on the island to Keawe. This made Keona very angry." He swore in kanaka. He worked himself up into such a fury that he took a dozen men straight to some cocoanut trees (they are glistening in the sun now as I look down upon them from our 800 feet) and cut them down; cut every palm close to the ground. This meant that he was displeased.

If there is any one thing that a man (or a woman, either,) is original about it is in his manner of showing temper. If the average poet manifested as much originality and potential energy in his method of writing as he does in his way of getting angry, his poems would be oftener accepted.

Up to a certain stage of indignation, every one does about the same; he bears more or less insult, and saves gry (mad, as the masters of our language have it,) and you will see a brilliant display of the coruscations of individuality. It is an electrical manifestation, generally, with more thunder than anything else, it is true, but still imposing. Anger makes some cheeks turn white, others red; some remain unchanged, while a few angry persons shed tears. Some smile as they vow eternal vengeance upon you and yours, and more fly into a thousand pieces like an exploding bombshell. They are of the hit-or-miss variety, commonly ignorant and mentally undisciplined. Among angry women are some that talk, others that have hysterics, some that faint, some that pull hair.

There is a strange, subtle sense of pleasure in getting angry—paradoxical as it may seem, a sense allied to that of taste, smell and touch. It resembles being tickled, in which is mingled somewhat of annoyance and distress.

The owner of an itching skin, while he is annoyed by the necessity of scratching, yet derives a sensual pleasure from the rude friction he creates.

The after-results are generally painful—and so with an exhibition of temper. The reaction leaves the exhibitor more hurt very often than the object of his wrath.

For the pleasure of the intoxication, I believe, many persons indulge in temper just as a drunkard seeks not so much the wine as its stimulation; but, after the debauch, both regret their animalism, and promise "never to do it again".

Unlike other possessions, the more temper a man has, the less he keeps it; and the more he shows it, the harder it is for him to put it where it belongs. Temper is a good thing if it well seasoned. And brains are the only thing that will season it. I am sorry to have to say a harsh thing (and make some liable to a burst of anger), but it is quite true that no well-balanced person, no man or woman of sound sense, no self-respecting individual allows himself to fall into a storm of fury.

The clouds may gather, faint rumblings may be heard as the result of a distant flash, but the hosts are held in check. They are not loosened all at once and made as liable to hit the innocent as the guilty.

Keona cut down cocoanut trees because he was angry at the Council, showing a very decided lack of sterling sense. If the Council deserved the blame, as it probably did in this case, Keona should have made his complaint there. He was human, though, and feeling out of sorts, failed to discriminate between cause and effect.

You have seen men beat a dog because they stumbled over him; whip a horse because they had the toothache, and scold their wives when they reached home at night angry over the day's "bad luck".

This is the same unreasonable spirit that actuated Keona when he cut down the trees. He liked the trees, too. Many a time they had supplied him with delicious milk and meat.

✣ ✣ ✣

Unfortunately, the blessed children are often made the victims of an unreasonable and unreasoning anger. How many spankings the active, innocent boy or girl has received because its mother felt angry about something to which the child had not contributed in the least. Woman with several children and much work have a great deal to annoy them, and they are perhaps most liable to this form of irritation. I pray them never do as Keona did to the cocoanut trees. It matters not so much about the trees, but it is a great wrong to turn upon our most precious charges the pent-up anger that we must be rid of in order to make ourselves comfortable.

A strong thing about anger is that mere technical education has little effect in controlling it. Unless it is philosophy, no study appears to have any specific effect upon it. The country editor fills his inkstand with rattlesnake poison, and lets loose an army of etymological devils: "Driveling Idiot, Simpering Simian, Faltering Fool, Contemporaneous Coon," and even the teacher of religion comes down to the use of fists instead of cant.

I knew a man, who, when he lost his temper (which he did easily), threw himself on his back on the floor, and kicked, traveling on the palms of his hands and the back of his head all over the room, never saying a word. When he had worked off all the steam, he went to his room, combed his hair and returned as serene as evening calm.

An actor whose name need not be mentioned often gets angry at his wife, generally at table, when he deliberately pitches every dish, piece by piece, upon the floor, then tips the table over, then all the furniture in the room, after which he retires to the parlor and rehearses—usually tragedy!

✣ ✣ ✣

Perhaps we should not wonder at all these (and many more unrecorded) exhibitions, when we consider how the animals differ in their manifestations of this weakness. Mules kick, rams butt, cats scratch, dogs bit, and bees sting when they are annoyed.

Happy is the man that can be original without being angry.

✣ ✣ ✣

Have You Settled The Light Question?

When it comes to buying kerosene lamps or installing electric fixtures the question is about a stand off.

When it comes to choosing which to use the balance is decidedly in favor of electricity.

Manager Cohen is charged with having assaulted upwards of ten policemen. If this be true Manager Cohen is a wonder.

The Travesty Stars are a great attraction when the local police force in its rush to get in work the football rush on the local manager.

Home Rulers claim that despite the recent withdrawals from their ranks they are stronger than ever. Isn't it lovely to have everybody satisfied?

Though the Japanese fleet suffered the accidental loss of a torpedo boat, its naval officers have at least been able to avoid suicide among their own mines.

Visited by a monster Pacific liner, the latest addition to the navy, other splendid warships and hundreds of welcome visitors, if Honolulu can't be happy, it never will be

Hawaii pays the mainland nearly $100,000 a year for butter. It is about time some energetic business man set to work collecting dividends by keeping this money at home.

W. W. Bruner ought to have a reward of merit. He can discuss an island industry without winding up in a pessimistic hard times whine. The times are what we make them.

A Chinese viceroy has issued an edict that "Any one creating wild rumors calculated to alarm or produce doubt in the people's mind will be beheaded." Honolulu has such a large population that finds employment in minding other people's business, it might suffer worse calamities than have Governor Carter for instance exercise the absolute sway of a Chinese viceroy.

Chicago icemen may be philanthropists but it would take some one like Dr. Bishop to discover the fact. They have given notice that ice will be more expensive this year because the ice in lakes, rivers and ponds froze particularly thick last winter and therefore cost more to cut. Previous years prices were raised because the crop was thin and the supply therefore short. Thanks to the ice trust the consumer is in the position of the woman whose husband, coming home drunk, remarked, "If she's sitting up I'll lick her; if she's abed I'll lick her."

The man of family is having his day by order of the President. The Postmaster of Des Moines, Iowa, has issued an order presumably inspired by Roosevelt's family ideas that "preference will be shown clerks who are married, especially those with large families." Whether Roosevelt's idea or not it is thoroughly sensible and should convey a suggestion to the Territorial authorities when carrying out their scheme of retrenchment. All things being equal the man or woman who has a family to care for should be the last to suffer from the swing of the official retrenchment axe.

MAHAN ON WAR'S PROGRESS.

According to Captain Mahan, who is discussing the progress of the war in Collier's Weekly, the Japanese have gained half the battle of their advance when they occupy Newchwang. Previous to the bottling up of the Port Arthur fleet he also considered that fleet as a "fleet in being," a constant menace to Japan's freedom of action. He further considers the relief of this squadron by the Baltic fleet as a practical possibility even after the loss of the Petropaviovsk.

The course of events shows that Japan's forward movement has been more rapid than Capt. Mahan anticipated. This, however, makes his comment on the situation all the more interesting as showing how the recent successes of the Japanese spell further defeat for the Russians. Mahan notes the necessity for Japan to prepare its defenses in Korea and complete the military occupation of that peninsula. "This done," he says, "the time for offensive action arrives. The Yalu held there arises the question of defeating the enemy's armies, gaining possession of their indispensable line of communication—the railroad between Port Arthur and Harbin—and, most vital of all, Port Arthur itself, thereby depriving the enemy not only of the ships within, but of the naval base. This needs to be effected before the Baltic fleet can arrive.

"Here the importance of Newchwang becomes evident; incidental to which is the speedy paralyzing of the Port Arthur squadron. Newchwang is so close to the railroad that its occupancy alone will almost stop movement and starve the port; but, on the other hand, the latter threatens the existence of a Japanese army there dependent upon communications by sea. Togo's squadron can probably assure these for some time, but whether long enough for the entire transportation, and to maintain the subsequent advance until Port Arthur falls, is more doubtful. Doubt will disappear if the Russian squadron be neutralized.

"Newchwang being only fifty miles from the point where the main road from the Yalu meets the railroad from Port Arthur to Harbin, the movement thence would be of that turning character of which so much was heard during the Boer War. Striking at the enemy's communications with the railroad, it compels him at once to fall back from the Yalu over a hundred miles of rugged and elevate country, abandoning a series of defensive positions, from which otherwise he must be driven by successive frontal attacks, involving heavy loss. The continuous inpouring of troops toward the Yalu indicates that this is the Japanese main line. The persistency of Togo at Port Arthur indicates, probably, that they recognize and wish to secure the collateral advantage at Newchwang. * * * The essential point for the observer to remember is, that the railroad from Mukden to Newchwang, and the high ground east of it,—of from 2000 to 5000 feet elevation,—between it and the Yalu, constitute together the central position of defense occupied by the Russian army. According to its dispositions, as estimated by the Japanese, their sea power enables them to accumulate on either side force in excess of that there opposed to them. It has been suggested that, Russia having drawn her force prematurely to this quarter, has probably weakened her position about Vladivostok,, and that Japan may utilize the opportunity to strike there.

"To me it appears that such a movement would be militarily eccentric; that the objects of the war centre from the Yalu to Newchwang, this being, in fact, the region demanded of China by Japan, in 1895; that the seaboard, from the Yalu westward, being much lower than the central range occupied by the Russians, may admit of successful flanking movements by the main Japanese line advancing from the Yalu, supported by close co-operation of the cruisers; and, finally, that to attack Vladivostok now leaves Port Arthur safe and its fleet in being.

"It will be observed that, despite his evident recognition of the vital importance of destroying the Port Arthur squadron, and notwithstanding the brilliant success of his first torpedo surprise against a fleet lying at an open anchorage, the Japanese admiral has not attempted to send his torpedo flotilla inside of Port Arthur, as was apparently expected by those who contrasted the outside attack with the refusal of the United States fleet to send torpedo boats inside of Santiago. It may also be inferred, from his frequent disappearances, that he does not keep his fleet in a uniform position of within easy striking distance of the ten torpedo vessels inside the Port. Recognizing that upon the battle turns the fortune of a war vital to his country, he evidently proposes to spare no precaution nor stratagem to ensure that it shall not risk injury, unless with the fair chance of greater injury done the enemy. Apparently, also, the Russian torpedo vessels have made no serious effort to molest a battle fleet of whose precise position they are at a particular moment ignorant, but which they know to be picketed and covered by vessels of their own type. It is too early for conclusions; but so far the fair inference seems to be that the 'irresistible torpedo' is a game, like another, at which two may play. Upon it certain limitations may be presumed from the mere fact that in two months nothing more has been done by it, notwithstanding the fact that all depends upon the relative force of the two battle fleets."

BIG ISLAND RACE HORSES.

Albert Horner of Hawaii arrived on the Kinau this morning. Mr. Horner says there will probably be a few Hilo horses in Honolulu at the June 11 races. J. T. Moir's well-known favorite of the Big Island, Dixie Land, will be here and "So So," a new horse owned by W. G. Walker of Ookala, will probably make his Hawaiian debut here June 11.

KEPOIKAI'S SPEECH

FROM THE BENCH

ON TAKING OFFICE

Wailuku, Maui, May 13—When Judge Kepoikai took his oath of office on Wednesday he gave a short speech to those assembled. The judge spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Bar and officers of the Court:—It is with pleasure that I assume the duties of this high office, and with a deep sense of appreciation of the great honor conferred upon me by our great and good friend, Theodore Roosevelt, our President. The confidence and trust reposed in me is evidence of the fact that special and great interest in the welfare of this Territory—more especially its native people, the Hawaiians, is maintained in the heart of our President. The Senate of the United States, without hesitation, promptly confirmed the Presidential choice, thus showing that its members too, like Roosevelt, are unanimous in entertaining like interest in Hawaii and its people.

"You have heard the oath which I have just taken, in which I pledged to administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal right to the poor and to the rich. The Constitution of the United States shall be my guide; and to the best of my abilities and understanding I will perform all the duties incumbent on me as the presiding officer of this Court, faithfully and impartially, agreeably to the Constitution and the laws of the Territory of Hawaii.

"In the exercise of my duties your hearty cooperation I earnestly ask. The Police Department should at all times cooperate with this Court. The Bar also should cooperate with the Court. For, without harmony, justice will not be administered as the law directs. To effect this, all personalities should be set aside and due respect paid the Court, the Bar and the police—the executioners of the law. Any one bearing personal animosity against the personnel of the Court, should bear in mind, that such feeling would not be permitted tolerance within the precincts of this Court—from that railing behind you, gentlemen of the Bar, and the silent walls behind my back. In doing this, remember always that the office is to be respected without regard to the office holder. If this is well followed, none of the unpleasant ruptures heretofore existing between the various departments dealing with the Judiciary will occur again.

"I would like the police officers show the same courtesy and respect to this Court as the police did some 11 years ago, during my first incumbency of this bench. This statement is not made with the intention of censuring the police for any remissness prior to this occasion. I must say that I know of no cause to censure; but, it is simply a recall of what I experienced then, with the desire that the same be experienced during my present term. The same courtesy to be extended to the bar. And I trust the members of the bar would likewise aid the Court in giving the police due recognition of the office.

"Thanking you, gentlemen, for your kind attention, I now declare this Court duly opened for the transaction of such business as shall legally come before it."

Jas. L. Coke, a member of the bar, on behalf of himself and his associates of the bar, warmly congratulated His Honor on his appointment, and heartily extended the bar's earnest cooperation to the Court to the fullest extent to aid it in administering justice to all.

Judge W. A. McKay, District Magistrate of Wailuku, congratulated the Court and pleadged his earnest support.

L. M. Baldwin, Sheriff of Maui, feelingly expressed his high esteem of the appointment made, and congratulated His Honor on behalf of himself and his subordinates; and assured the Court that the police shall at all times obey the orders of the Court, and pay due respect to its wishes.

Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring Catarrh---Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh.

Mrs. Leone Dolehan.

Mrs. Leone Dolehan, in a letter from the Commercial Hotel, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen: "For two months my physician experimented with me trying to cure a hard cold which settled in my stomach, causing inflammation and catarrh. I then made up my mind he was simply unable to help me, and reading some of the flattering testimonials as to the value of Peruna in such cases, I thought I would try it.

"It was six weeks before I could eat a meal without unpleasant effects, but I have now been well for six months, and I give all the credit to Peruna."—Mrs. Leone Dolehan.

Miss Helen Whitman.

Miss Helen Whitman, 808½ Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

"There is nothing like Peruna for that tired feeling, which gives you no ambition for work or play. After a prolonged illness, about a year ago I felt unable to regain my health, but four bottles of Peruna made a wonderful change and restored me to perfect health. As long as you keep your blood in a good condition you are all right, and Peruna seems to fill the veins with pure, healthful blood. I thoroughly endorse it."—Miss Helen Whitman.

How to Get Strong Nerves.

First, repair the injury already done to your nerves. The way to do this is to do exactly as did Mr. Hal. P. Denton, Chief Department Publicity and Promotion of National Export Exposition.

He writes: "Toward the latter part of August I found myself in a very much run-down condition. My family physician said I had nervous prostration and recommended a sea voyage. I gradually grew worse. A kind friend whom I had known in Ohio recommended Peruna. Though skeptical, I finally yielded to his advice. After using one bottle I was much improved and with the fifth bottle came complete recovery. I am in perfect health today and owe everything to Peruna."—Hal. P. Denton.

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."—Mrs. D. W. Timberlake.

Catarrh in Spring.

The spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by spring weather. This renders medicines more effective. A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will cure old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

For special directions everyone should read "The Ills of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at one dollar per bottle or six bottles for five dollars.

WAS RICHARDSON RESPONSIBLE?

son was not so charged with the safekeeping of funds; none but the Superintendent, the head of the department, could be so held responsible.

Robertson suggested that time and money might be saved to the Territory, that the question of whether Richardson was an officer responsible for the safe-keeping of public moneys, go up to the Supreme Court at this time. Peters said all this was a matter of evidence and would come out on trial.

An interesting question was involved, said the Court, as to what was contemplated by the law in the matter. Judge De Bolt was inclined to think Robertson's suggestion a good one.

On Tuesday the court will hear motion of defendant asking a bill of particulars of the prosecution.

In the course of discussion the court remarked that it would be well if the prosecution could appeal some matters; in that way many points might be made more clear.

Superintendent of Public Instruction A. T. Atkinson, school Agent Rose Davison and Secretary Atkinson will visit the Waialee Industrial School for Boys on windward Oahu tomorrow. It is said that the party, although inspecting for the department, will pay its own expenses.

COHEN MAY BRING INJUNCTION SUIT

Manager J. C. Cohen of the Orpheum Company, it is understood, is contemplating injunction proceedings against the Police Department to restrain the undesired presence of "dead-head" officers at performances at his theater.

This will come as a result of the large free attendance of police at the Orpheum last evening and the consequent unpleasantness reported elsewhere.

There was also talk in the Judiciary building today of a suit for damages against certain officials on account of alleged peculiar treatment of Cohen at the station house.

Cohen has retained A. G. M. Robertson.

RECEPTION AND DANCE

MRS. SCHWERIN HOSTESS

ON BOARD MONGOLIA

Several hundred guests responded to the invitations extended by Mrs. Schwerin, wife of the vice president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to a reception and dance on board the S. S. Mongolia last night. The great vessel had been transformed into an illuminated and decorated salon. The decks were arrayed in patriotic colors. Signal flags were hung along the entire length of the hurricane deck and the long archway was off cross beams and the line of posts were wound with bunting. The Hawaiian band and the band from the cruiser New York were stationed midships and at the after end of the deck. The deck was as smooth as a mansion ball room floor. Far below the lofty decks of the Mongolia lay the warships, diminutive in comparison with the big liner. The naval wharves were alive with white uniformed marines. When the band, led by Captain Berger, played stirring airs, arousing memories of home and Dixie, the boys from the neighboring decks of the iron clads clapped and cheered a lusty encore.

The 9 o'clock bugle had sounded on the flagship before Mrs. Schwerin, accompanied by Col. and Mrs. Macfarlane, appeared in the midst of the throng on deck and presentations were made by Col. Macfarlane and Mr. Klebahn.

After the reception the dancing music was started and the decks were alive with pleasure. The Hawaiian and New York bands played alternately. The dining cabin was beautifully decorated with flowers and the decks and corridors were ornamental with palms.

The social was a splendid success and the Mongolia, big as she is, has found a way to the hearts of the Honolulu people.

COUNT MUTSU IS PASSING THROUGH

Among the passengers on board the steamship Mongolia is Count Hirokichi Mutsu, first secretary of the Japanese Legation in Washington. Count Mutsu received his English education at Cambridge University and was admitted to the bar in London at the age of 24. When he returned to Japan he was made translator and practically secretary to Marquis Ito, at that time the chief Japanese military personage in the war with China. Next he was an attache of the Japanese Legation at Peking. Then he was sent to America as the third secretary of the Japanese Legation at Washington. Next he was appointed Consul at San Francisco. His next promotion was to th eposition of second secretary of the Japanese Legation at Rome. Last year he was again promoted, being transferred to America and made first secretary of the Japanese Legation at Washington.

Count Mutsu is scarcely 40 years of age. Whether or not he is going on to the Japanese capital to receive some new advancement is not known.—Chronicle.

THE IMPERIAL ACADAMEY OF SCIENCES AT ST. PETERSBURG,

A Reward for Finding Baron Toll's Expedition Party or any Traces of it.

Baron Toll, chief of the Polar Expedition sent out by the Academy of Sciences, left the Bennett Island, lying north of New Siberia, on October 26th (Nov. 8), 1902, taking a southern direction. He was accompanied by the Astronomer Seeberg and two Jakoots, Vassily Gorokhov with the surname Ghichak, and Nicolas Protodiakonow with the surname Omook. The party seems to have been carried away by the ice.

As the researches hitherto made have been in vain, a reward of roubles 5,000 is offered by the Academy of Sciences for finding the whole expedition party, or any part of it, and a reward of roubles 2,500 for giving the first exact indications of tracing the party.

BASEBALL AT TODAY WILL BE FIRST CLASS

There is great interest in the baseball games scheduled today and there will probably be the largest crowd in the grand stand that has attended any of the games this season. The first game will be called at 1:45 and will be between the Mailes and the Elks. The second game will be between the Kams and the Punahous and will be called at 3:30.

The Mailes go into the game strengthened by the addition of Cusack, the big second baseman and reputed hard batter, and Wren, the famous pitcher. The Elks are on their metal and will play their best. The line-up of the Elks will be as follows: Bushnell, ss.; Al Moore, 2 b.; Russel, c.; White, lf.; Knal, 3b.; Wilder, 1b.; Zamloch, p.; Kia, cf.; Ferreira, rf.

The Mailes' line-up will be something like the following: Hampton, ss.; Cogswell, 1b.; Davis, c.; Roberts, 3b.; Wren, p.; Kusie, 2b.; Ryan, cf.; Schneider, rf.; O'Brien, lf.

SUNDAY AT HALEIWA

Among a very merry gathering at the Haleiwa hotel this afternoon are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rawlins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, child and maid, Dr. and Mrs. E. Weldon Young of Seattle, Miss Juanita Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lewis, Governor and Mrs. Geo. R. Carter, children and governess, H. A. Strong, J. A. Gilman and friend, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dunn, Mrs. Geo. Paris, Miss De Lartigue, H. L. Downey, Mr. Pirie, D. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Smith. A dance is to be given this evening on the beautiful lanai of the hotel, with the usual golf games on Sunday. Chef Wyman is making the "effort of his life" for Sunday luncheon and from present appearances the Sabbath registration at Haleiwa will be broken tomorrow. Downey on Friday made the best 18 holes ever made on the links, doing the course in 41-43.

IRRIGATING HOURS.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Allow me space for a suggestion for modifying the rules in re hours for irrigation as advertised by the Public Works Department.

If the entire city is restricted to the same hours for irrigating, the logical result will be that, as on last evening, those living at higher levels will be entirely without water during hours for irrigation.

The remedy for this lies in dividing the hours fore- and afternoon between the several section of the city in such manner as to give them equal opportunities and at the same time have continuous supply throughout the city for household purposes.

Yours,
CONSUMER.

CURED WHEN OTHERS FAILED

1056 Winnemac Avenue,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 25, 1902.

Wine of Cardui can always be relied upon to cure when everything else fails. It is a certain cure for female diseases in their worst forms. I suffered for years with ulceration. Intense pains in the womb and ovaries and dreadful headaches unfitted me for my work. Finally I grew so ill that I had to keep to my bed. The pains were so intense at times as to cause spasms and a disagreeable discharge drained my life forces. In my extremity after all else had failed, I tried Wine of Cardui. After using it for two weeks I began to improve so rapidly that I felt encouraged to keep up the treatment, which I did for eighteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was entirely cured. What a relief was mine and how new and beautiful life looked to me when my health was restored. Only those who have passed through such a siege of sickness as I have will understand how much I value Wine of Cardui. It is indeed a boon to sick women.

Frances Mitchell
Secretary, North Chicago Frauen Verein.

Every weak woman needs Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui cures disordered and painful menstruation, periodical headaches, falling of the womb and leucorrhœa. It cures extreme cases of these troubles. It strengthens girls approaching womanhood, helps bring children to barren homes, makes pregnancy and childbirth easier, prevents miscarriages and is the best medicine ever made for use during the change of life. Why permit the good women in your home to suffer another day? Every druggist has $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Social Side of Life

It seems like old times to see so many uniforms about town, and the smart, well-set-up men are very pleasant to look upon. Many of the officers are accompanied by their wives, and the dances at the Moana, Young and Hawaiian Hotels have added much to their enjoyment. The other evening at the Moana several of the officers' wives said, "We have often been told about the hospitality of the Islands, but we never fully realized to what extent it was carried until we arrived off the ship tired and weary, and when we were told all the delightful things that had been planned for us our spirits revived and we have had a perfectly lovely time. It is truly a Paradise and we shall never forget the kindness we have received at the hands of the Honolulu people." And, what is best of all, they meant every word of it.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beckley entertained on Sunday at Koko Head in honor of the nineteenth birthday of Miss Beckley. The entertainment took the form of a luau and about fifty were seated at the hospitable table, which was loaded with all the good things which a luau demands. The company was an unusually jolly one, and the Ellis Quintet helped to make the time pass pleasantly. It was essentially a young girls' party, for the married ones were limited to the Princess Kawananakoa, Mrs. Willie Lewis and Mrs. Lake. Miss Beckley looked very charming and wore her birthday honors with becoming modesty. She received many presents.

A very pretty luncheon was given on Tuesday by Mrs. Henry Highton at her cottage at Diamond Head for the Misses Bradley. Mrs. Highton is one of the best amateur artists here and her rooms are hung with specimens of her work. She particularly affects Chinese heads and is most successful in her treatment. Her walls are covered with autograph pictures of celebrities, and her conversations are always interesting, for she invariably has a good story at her tongue's end.

A great deal of amusement was created at the Buckeye Club meeting, which was held at the residence of W. A. Bowen on Tuesday evening, by the old-fashioned spelling bee. Mrs. Skinner was elected president to replace Prof. C. B. Dyke, who departed for the Coast not long ago.

Mrs. Ada Whitney added much to the enjoyment of the evening by two vocal solos.

Light refreshments were served and the evening was considered one of the most delightful of the Buckeye gatherings.

Among those present were Lieutenant and Mrs. W. K. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. George McCleanan, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pond, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. Renton, Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brown, Stanley Livingston, Mr. George B. Castle, Mrs. Leadingham, Miss Bergerson, Mr. and Mrs. Dunsmore, Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, Dr. and Mrs. Whitney, Miss Yarrow, Mr. and Mrs. Castleman, Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Shanks, Mr. Francis.

A most enjoyable ball was given on Wednesday evening by the Alexander Young Hotel management in honor of the "Pirates" and the "Ahkund of Swat" casts and the officers of the different warships now in our midst. The officers of the warships were received in the drawing-room by Mr. and Mrs. Lake and Doctor and Mrs. Taylor. Admiral Glass sent regrets, but Admiral Terry and his staff were present. The two ball-rooms were comfortably filled with busy dancers throughout the evening, and the brilliant uniforms of the officers and the charming creations of the ladies recalled to my mind the old days of the monarchy, when such sights were the usual routine of the gay life in Honolulu.

The Bennington is especially well known in Honolulu, having been stationed here several years ago, and the gay doings of that most hospitable ship have never been forgotten. There were always little impromptu dances going on and even in the morning would we be notified by telephone. It was all very informal and delightful, and we did not have to wear even a dinner coat, but white suits were considered correct and fitting, and the girls generally wore pretty muslins and looked far sweeter than their satin-clad sisters of today; for in this climate silks and satins are apt to lose their pristine freshness unless renewed frequently.

Bands of black ribbon with "Ahkund of Swat" in gilt lettering distinguished Mr. Barton's little company, while the "Pirates" were everywhere and joined in the dancing with much zeal.

The rooms were decorated with flags, bunting and palms, and about 11 o'clock the famous Alexander Young punch was partaken of and much appreciated. The dancing was continued until a late hour, and the evening was voted one of the most successful dances of the Young Hotel, and grateful thanks were bestowed upon Mr. and Mrs. Lake for their unflagging zeal in the entertainment of their guests.

Among the townspeople present were Prince and Princess Kawananakoa, Admiral and Mrs. Terry, Doctor and Mrs. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Ballentyne, Mrs. F. M. Hatch, Miss Kaufman, Mrs. F. Howard Humphris, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Misses Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Kimball, Mr. I. Dillingham, Colonel MacClellan, Miss Winston, Mr. Terry, Mr. Monsarrat, Miss I. Schaefer, Miss Hartnagle, Mrs. Deering, Miss Alice Campbell, the Misses Bradley, Miss Cunha, Mr. Parker, Miss Rhodes, Miss Dole, Mrs. Claire Williams, Miss Williams, Lieutenant and Mrs. Hamilton, Miss Stansbury, Mr. and Mrs. Kiamp, Mr. and Mrs. Niblack, Mr. Brown, Miss Jennie Giffard, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hawes Jr., the Misses Angus, Mr. Angus, Mr. Waterman, Mr. Edward Watson, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Barton, Mr. Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Raas, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Florence Macfarlane, Miss Hall, Miss Charlotte Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. Adams, Mr. Lot Kaulukou, and many others.

The Diamond Head residence of the Hon. S. M. Parker and Mrs. Parker was ablaze with lights on Thursday evening in honor of a card party given for the Misses Bradley, the guests of the Princess. The spacious rooms, so admirably fitted for an entertainment of this kind, were comfortably filled with the two hundred guests and the little tables, so dear to the heart of the pedro-lover, were on the lanais. There were thirty tables in all and "pedro" was the ruling spirit of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Parker received their guests in their usual hospitable manner, and Mrs. Parker looked unusually well in a handsome black costume.

The Princess Kawananakoa, in a beautiful blue evening dress with a wreath of blue flowers in her black hair, was most lovely. The Misses Bradley in their exquisite white frocks were very pretty and attractive. The singing boys added to the pleasure of the evening, and those who did not play "pedro" strolled about the grounds. Champagne punch was served throughout the evening and delicious refreshments were served after the prizes had been awarded, which were as follows: First lady's prize, an exquisite Chinese vase with dragon in copper, Miss Angus; second lady's prize, carved ivory paper-cutter, Mrs. Brewster; third lady's prize, a pretty gauze fan, Mrs. Dougherty; first gentleman's prize, a complete set of poker chips in box; second prize, a handsome bronze inkstand, Mr. Frank Thompson.

Among those present were Admiral Glass and thirty officers of the fleet, Judge Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. Dole, Miss Winnifred Dole, Mrs. F. M. Hatch, Governor Cleghorn, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, Judge and Mrs. Stanley, Doctor and Mrs. Humphris, Mr. and Mrs. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Mary Widdifield, Lieutenant and Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Hawes, Mr. and Mrs. McCrossen, Miss McCrossen, Mr. and Mrs. Paton, Mr. and Mrs. Deering, Miss Kaufman, Miss Winston, Miss Rhodes, Misses Freeth, Mr. and Mrs. Splivalo, Mr. Splivalo, Mr. and Mrs. Cunha, Miss Cunha, Mrs. Allan Herbert, Doctor and Mrs. Raymond, Miss Dowsett, Miss McKee, Miss Alice Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Lake, Mrs. Montague Turner, Mr. and Mrs Highton, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Low, Mr George Potter, Miss Carter, Mr. Jock Carter, Mr. Cushman Carter, Mr. Terry, Mr. Griggs Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Riggs, Mr. Ernest Parker, Mr. Raymond Brown, Mr. Herzer, Mr. Grace, Mr. Edward Watson, Misses Angus, Mr. George Angus, Mr. and Mrs. Falk, Mr. Lot Kaulukou and many others.

The Japanese Red Cross Society on Monday evening listened to a very instructive lecture and the dancing girls gave three charming dances. The ribbon dance was particularly effective, the pretty maidens seeming to float in the waves of the ribbons. Mrs. Saito and the Japanese ladies in the boxes were much admired, their picturesque costumes showing to advantage.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS

By HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES

Copyright, 1902, by The Bobbs-Merrill Company

Colonel Tillotson rose and paced up and down the floor, plucking at the side curls of his wig.

"And if what you tell us is true," he said, meditating, "I have done you wrong. I am not overkind to your colors, but I have a respect for honest loyalty. God knows 'tis scare enough. Mayhap I have been unjust. Will you be seated?"

Jarrat sat down, his watchful eyes turning about the room, something strangely like expectancy in them.

The colonel rang for his major domo.

"Rashleigh," said he soberly, "ask your Mis' Anne to come to the library And admit no one—no one. Do you hear?"

"Yas, marsa; yas, suh! Nuttin' but er grabeyard ha'nt gwineter git by dat do'!"

"Poor child!" Henry's tone was pitiful. "You mean to tell her? At least wait till your wife is returned."

"The sooner she hears some things the better for her. She has her share of pride; never fear."

"The day I was last here, sir," observed Jarrat, "she boasted she would wed him an he were a laborer in your fields."

"Aye, maybe, but not if he were a conspirer against her country. My niece is a daughter of Virginia, sir." And the master of Gladden Hall noisily took snuff to cover his feelings. Henry's face was like a sphinx.

While they waited came a clatter of hoofs outside. A moment later the hall door was flung open, and Rashleigh was heard in excited jabbering. The colonel repeated an objurgation.

The next instant he jumped to his feet, and Jarrat started as if at an apparition. Armand stood on the threshold, mud splashed and pale.

The newcomer's look ignored the captain. He bowed to Colonel Tillotson and addressed himself to Henry:

"Monsieur, I come to warn you that a detachment of Dunmore's men is on its way hither from Yorktown to seize your person."

"The deuce!" shot out the colonel like a javelin. "I thought the price the earl put on you, Patrick, was but brag. He dares violate my house, then. Mount at once and away by the north road."

Henry's gaze had seemed to dart and play about the young Frenchman's face like yellow summer lightning. "And what would the governor with me this time?"

"To transport you to trial for high treason. It was plotted this day aboard the Fowey."

"From which you are escaped?"

"Yes, monsieur."

Jarrat's voice entered: "To attack the residence of a Virginian gentleman without crown warrant is not so ready a thing even for a royal governor, but a man may disappear by night from a lonely road and who to blame? Our fleeing marquis, with his nose for delicate deceits, is a likely catspaw. I swear such overt folly of Dunmore's will yet drive me into Whiggery!"

Colonel Tillotson paused in perplexity, but Henry looked at the speaker with a gaze keen and inscrutable as an Indian's above that flickering half smile of his.

"You have no time to spare, monsieur. They were to leave the Fowey at sundown. I implore you to haste."

"As well," cautioned Jarrat, "to go by another way than the marquis anticipates."

"You liar!" said Armand, flaming on him. "This man was in the plot. He waits the troops here at this moment. Monsieur, I beseech"—

He did not finish, struck dumb by the entrance of Anne. She had caught her breath at sight of him and stood, statue-like, in the candlelight. Then she held out both arms and ran toward him with a glad cry:

"Louis! They have released you! Oh, thank God; thank God!"

The young man did not speak; only a little spasm wrenched his feature. But Jarrat did. "The jailbird was slippery, mistress," he sneered.

The colonel, who had reached her in a stride and pulled her back, dropped her arm at the look of offense and scorn she cast upon the speaker. "Anne," he said, facing her rigidly, "listen to me! This man is not only no nobleman"—

"I care naught!" she interrupted wildly. "I care not who he is! I only know what he is to me!" A light dawned on Armand's face with her words. He drew closer to her, as if wondering, afraid to trust his senses. She turned again to him. "I could not tell you—that night at the Raleigh. I had no time"—

"But," cried Colonel Tillotson, "he is a spy—a hireling, child, bought to this deception to betray the colonials!"

"Sooner than that," she declared, "would I believe Captain Jarrat capable of an honest love! This is a lie of your making, captain. He is no spy. Whatever he has done, 'twas not in dishonor."

"Anne, Anne," urged her uncle, "we have seen the proofs!"

"You do not believe them?" Armand whispered.

"No, no! Nor ever will!"

The young man laughed out triumphantly in sudden abandon. "You hear that, messieurs? There is one that believes in me!"

"Believes, aye, and loves!" cried Anne and ran to him. He drew her close to his breast, murmuring soft words. Her face was pale, yet burning, her whole body thrilling with passion and defiance.

"They cannot destroy my faith in you!" she breathed. "I shall love and trust you always, always, always!"

"She is bewitched," Jarrat said, with dry lips.

"You hated him!" she blazed at him. "Oh, I know how you would creep and creep! My friend," turning to Henry—"my friend, do you believe this?"

Henry got up with a round oath. "No!" he swore. "By the great day, I do not believe it!"

Her fluttering cry of delight was stilled by Colonel Tillotson's tense whisper, "Hark!" There was a dull drum of hoofs thudding over sod and with it Sweetlips' fierce challenge.

Simultaneously came a wail of terror from the kitchens, and Rashleigh plunged in from the hall, his woolly head shaking with fear.

Jarrat rose to his feet. "You know how I can creep and creep, mistress?" he said. "Well, then, now you shall see how I can strike!"

Anne had rushed instantly to the window and drawn the blind. "Troopers!" she cried. "The house is being surrounded! You have been pursued, Louis!"

Reasons why you should join the
BURIAL LEAGUE OF THE UNITED STATES
In preference to all others.

1. BECAUSE—You have only one fixed payment every year—no more, no less—and you get a $100.00 funeral in event of death.
2. BECAUSE—You can move whenever you please and whenever you please without forfeiting your Burial League rights.
3. BECAUSE—If you wish to draw out after paying five assessments your money will be returned to you.
4. BECAUSE—In case of an epidemic the expense of all funerals is borne by the entire League all over the United States and your annual assessment remains the same.
5. BECAUSE—Rates are charged according to age, thus making the League fair to all.
6. BECAUSE—The contract is backed by a strong Stock Company with $50,000 paid-up capital.
7. BECAUSE—If you should live to be 100 years old you could not pay into the League an amount equal the cost of your funeral.

All persons from 3 to 55 years of age in good health are eligible for membership

KINAU BREAKS RECORD.

The steamer Kinau, the proud flagship of the Wilder S. S. Co. fleet, arrived from Hilo and way ports this morning at about 9:30 o'clock with honors lying heavy upon her. On her trip up to Hilo the flagship beat all her previous records for time. She left Honolulu after noon last Tuesday and arrived in Hilo at about 11:30 on Wednesday forenoon, making her time just about 23 hours. Although the Kinau has sailed on the Honolulu-Hilo run for almost twenty-one years and has made in that time 822 trips, she has never before equaled this performance.

The Kinau brought the following cargo: 61 kegs, 41¼ cords wood, 30 hides, 10 sacks coffee, 13 hogs, 208 packages sundries.

MONGOLIA SAILS.

The Pacific Mail liner Mongolia left for the Orient promptly at 10 o'clock this forenoon. While the leviathan was in port she was inspected by a large number of people of all nationalities and a big crowd gathered on the Naval wharf to see her off.

The stemer Nihau arrived from Hawaii ports this morning at 11:12 o'clock with the following cargo: 6464 bags H. S. Co sugar, 763 bags P. S. M. sugar, 99 bundles hides, 2 bundles sheep skins and 6 packages sundries.
