SIXTEEN THOUSAND TONS OF SUGAR

WAILUKU PLANTATION TO BE ENLARGED TO THAT CAPAC-ITY WITHIN TWO YEARS.

WAIHEE DITCH THE FACTOR

Now Lands to Be Cultivated Beyond Waikapu. H. C. & S.
Co., and Wailuku Sugar Company Have Buried The Hatchet.

Sixteen thousand tons of sugar where less than eight thousand tons per year now grow is the promise of the Wailuku Sugar Co. and as the land is now available and the water will be available upon the completion of the big Waihee ditch, there is no doubt but that the Company will make good their promise within the next few years.

The Wailuku Sugar Plantation, formerly consisting of the separate plantation, the Waikapu, the Wailuku and the Waihee, was many years ago consolidated and incorporated with a capitalization of $700,000 and later placed under the management of C. B. Wells, since which time it has proved a veritable gold mine to its stockholders, paying an annual percentage of dividends which would sound fabulous to the average mainland capitalist.

Nature has perhaps done more for the Wailuku Sugar Plantation than for any other plantation on the Islands. The soil is rich and comparatively level, with a gentle slope to the sea. Four gushing mountain streams furnish a constant supply of water not only to irrigate the cane but also to flume a large part of it from the fields where it grows to the mill.

The proposition of increasing the capital stock and of building a new mill have been under serious consideration by the directors of the Company for the past year or so, and at a meeting held in Honolulu on November 11, both steps were decided upon by the management. The capital stock has been increased to $1, 500,000, so that $800,000 worth of new stock is to be issued. Even with this increase in the capital stock the shares will undoubtedly command a premium, so that presumably the present stockholders will take up all the new stock, leaving none for outside investors. A new mill is to be erected probably on or near the site of the present mill, as soon as this year's crop is ground, and the new mill will probably be completed by December 1, 1905.

An immense canal or ditch, under the supervision of James T. Taylor, C. E., is being surveyed from Waihee which will extend to a large area of land between Waikapu and Malae Bay, thus largely increasing the tillable area of the Plantation. It is estimated that it will take about two years to complete this ditch, and when finished, the Wailuku Sugar Plantation may safely be figured as a 15,000 ton proposition.

To those who desire the best interests of all concerned it will be gratifying to learn that the unfortunate differences between the Wailuku Sugar Co. and the H. C. & S.

Co. are being adjusted upon terms highly advantageous to both contracting parties.

Within the next few years the Wailuku Sugar Co. will more than double its present production, and with so little increase in expense that the relative value of the stock newly issued should fall but little below the preent value of the old stock.

At the meeting last Friday the old officers were re-elected, viz: M. P.
Robinson, president; W. F. Aller, vice president; Geo. H. Robinson, treasurer; E. F. Bishop, secretary; T. R. Robinson, auditor; Chas. M.
Cooke, director.

LAHAINA LINES.

Rev. John W. Wadman, superintendent of the Methodist Japanese mission in these islands, was in town last week, in consultation with Pastor Fujii. He visited the new school at Kaaanapali camp.

A luau, in honor of the successful republican candidates was given in the Courthouse Park on Saturday afternoon.

It is understood that Operator Kinney will soon take a business position at Kahului; and Mrs. Kinney will have charge of the Club House at that place. Operator Ralston from Lanai will probably succeed Mr. Kinney at the Lahaina wireless office.

Prince Cupid was one of the visitors at the luau on Saturday. In the evening Mr. Kruse entertained a number of guests at a dancing party at the Beach House.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kinney left for Kahului on Wednesday. Immediately after his resignation, Operator Kinney received a very complimentary letter from the Wireless Company in Honolulu: His work has always given entire satisfaction to the Company and its patrons. He has also received the thanks of the Republican leaders, for his faithful and unprecedented efforts on the night after election. He remained on duty until 3:45 on the following morning. Prominent business men in Honolulu, as well as on the islands of Maui and Hawaii, regret the retirement of Operator Kinney.

Mr. Ralston took charge of Lahai-na Wireless office on Tuesday.

The U. S. surveying steamer Paterson arrived on Tuesday evening.

Dr. Davison and family have removed to Judge Kalua's cottage by the

More About Maui Schools.

A communication has been received by the News, concerning four schools, with the request that it be published.
Although "J. V.'s" letter to the Bulletin was published in last week's issue, with brief comment, still the question of the proper education of our children is of so much importance that a publication of the subjoined letter on the same subject will perhaps tend to call forth the views of other teachers which may tend to throw more light upon the obstacles in the way of securing good results in our school work. In this connection, the News invites the teachers of Maui and all others interested in the education of our children to give expression to their views on this important subject both pro and con the "Five Step Method," and on all cognate matters. All such communications, which are written in a fair and temperate spirit, with the obvious intention of improving our school system will gladly be given space in the News.

The communication referred to above is as follows:

Editor MAUI NEWS:—

The News recently published some criticisms of the method's used in our public schools and the results which only too evidently follow from these methods. The editor's judgment has been vindicated, and the justice of his criticism proven, by a letter published a short time ago in the Bulletin by "J. V.," a well known young Portuguese teacher of Maui.

"J. V." has been educated (?) in our schools presumably under the methods which he advocates. We understand that he is also a "graduate" of the Normal School, in which the notable "Five Step Method" has been vigorously exploited. He evidently considers himself a fair and finished product of a most excellent educational system. His letter was intended to uphold both the present system of education and the "Five Step Method." Before mailing his letter to the Bulletin, however, he should have had it corrected by some one who had at least a speaking acquaintance with the English language. Having neglected this very necessary precaution, his effort, which was to have put a quietus upon the presumptuous editor, proves at once the writer's ignorance and the truth of the editor's criticisms. If anything else were needed to show the inefficiency of our present educational methods, "J. V.'s" letter abundantly supplies the deficiency. It is not necessary to be a teacher in order to notice that "J. V." is, to quote his own words, "vastly ignorant of the subject he has written a subject which he, too, has no conception."

Consider a moment this delectable gem of the "I been go" variety of English:—"Our young men of today with the advantages offered in our excellent school system are certainly better prepared when he graduates than the youth fifteen years ago." Also the following: "Ambitious young men today seek a higher education than that offered in the common schools, and carefully prepare for their future work, while his schoolmates without an ambition or circumstances may not permit, are quite satisfied with their common school education, and therefore cannot compete with his class."

What can we think of a system which not only produces such murderers of our language, but puts them in charge of important schools?
"J. V." admits that the education offered in the common schools is "inferior," and his letter proves it. If the "Five Step Method" that has conduced to this inferiority is "based on educational principles," then by all means let us get away from such "principles" and back to common sense.

Yours for education,
A MAUI TEACHER.

has caused a sensation.

Miss Mary Caldwell founded the Catholic University of America in 1884 by a gift of $300,000 for a superior institution of ecclesiastical learning. The gift was accepted in same year by the bishop of the Roman Catholic church and it was decided to locate the school at Washington, D. C. Around the divinity school for which Miss Caldwell's gift was primarily intended were to be grouped other schools, thus forming a great university. At present the plans are but partly realized, only the graduate schools being open but the work is developing rapidly and has been assisted by further generous gifts from Miss Caldwell and her sister as well as by others. Cardinal Gibbons as Archbishop of Baltimore is chancellor. The university was supposed to be badly involved in the failure of Thomas E. Waggaman, its financial agent, but later developments indicate that it will not incur any loss.

Mukden, Nov. 15.—The Russians

Hawaiian Fruit Exchange

In the July and August numbers of this magazine the organization of Hawaiian fruit growers for their own common benefit, particularly in the matter of marketing their products, was advocated and recommended. General Grant, as President of the United States, said: "The best way to obtain a resumption of specie payment is to resume specie payment." So we may say that the best way to bring about an organization of fruit-growers in this Territory, is for them to organize. This is what the sugar planters did more than twenty years ago, and their experience of organization has been that there are "millions in it." Long ago the merchants of Honolulu organized in a Chamber of Commerce to promote the broader commercial interests of Honolulu in particular and the islands in general. Recently, counting by years, another mercantile organization has sprung into being in our capital city—the Honolulu Merchants' Association—to look after the details of the local trade and secure uniformity of business method, together with unity of action for the community's welfare. We have just seen the business men of Hilo and Wailuku, respectively, form effective organizations. The live stock raisers of the Territory, also, are no longer at ones and twos, but constitute an association that is dealing with their common affairs in the manner of a business corporation.

If there's one thing that don't admit of any guessing it's fitting.

The News is forced to again take up the matter of inefficient work in our common schools. In this connection the News distinctly disavows any inclination to attack the "Five Step Method" or any other device whereby good work is accomplished in the school room. It is results rather than methods which are called forth criticisms from this paper. But when, year after year, large sums are ungrudgingly paid for the education of our children, it is only fair to the people that they should receive full value for their money. If they do not, some one is to blame. This paper takes an impersonal view of subject, and will as far as possible avoid personalities. The co-operation of the teachers of Maui is cordially invited, in order that a full discussion of the matter can be had. That something is radically wrong, no one has yet denied, and the ambition of the News is, if possible, to right this wrong. In this connection it is superfluous to add that all the teachers and schools on Maui are not included in the sweeping criticisms of the News, because we have a few as good teachers and as good schools as can be found anywhere. The diagnosis of the News is that inefficient schools result from inefficient teachers.

What the mercantile bodies of Honolulu have accomplished, and are now prosecuting for the benefit of commerce and trade, as well as their great services to the community at large in periods of grave emergency and on occasions when the common public spirit required an organic medium of expression, would make a book of no mean bulk. There is no need to catalogue all of the other organizations in the Hawaiian Islands which, since the dawn of civilization here, have done effective work for human welfare under a diverse set of purposes. For more true is it that competition is the life of trade than that organization is the motive power of doing things.

There seems to be a serious misconception in the minds of some as to the actual uses and purposes of the Wailuku Improvement Association. It is not a political organization in any sense of the term, and the purpose of its original founders was to make it nothing more less than what its name implies. Hundreds of cities, towns and villages on the mainland have organized local civic bodies to build up and improve their municipalities, and the citizens of Wailuku simply sought to follow their example. But from the first, outsiders and some insiders have aimed to enlarge the scope and purposes of the Association. A larger scope and broader aims are good in their way, but when attempted and accomplished the Wailuku Improvement Association, as a local body for civic improvement, may as well go out of commission. Let a broader organization be effected and let us all join it and work for the common good, but at the same time let us look well to it that the Wailuku Improvement Association is kept as a live, compact and working body.

Let the fruit growers, then, organize. It may not be practicable for all of them to come together at the instant of inception. Enough of them, though, within easy journey to Honolulu can assemble for the formation of a goodly nucleus. There is no doubt that once given form the organization would speedily attain effective substance of membership. The conditions of the fruit industry in Hawaii are ripe for the union of all interested therein to work together not only for a recognized standing but honest treatment in the market, both at home and on the mainland. At present everything is haphazard here as well as there. No producer knows what he is going to get in returns, no matter what the real condition of the market may be, until he hears from a dead-and-alive fruiterer in Honolulu or a member of the fruit trust in San Francisco. In too many instances of consignments the result spells disappointment. This magazine has previously cited the example of California as one for Hawaiian fruit growers to emulate. If the greatest fruit State of the Union would seem to be beyond their ambition to select as a model, then take Florida when its fruit-growers first organized as more "near our size."

There is a growing sentiment in the United States that the possession of the Philippines will continually prove a handicap both to the Philippines and to the United States. Their acquisition was a war measure, since which time the United States has been unable to discover any satisfactory method of disposing of them. But a possible method has been broached which if properly negotiated would prove extremely beneficial both to the Philippines and the United States. Japan would be glad to take over the Islands, which would prove extremely valuable in-ular possessions, and in consideration therefor would doubtless pay a round sum, and in addition grant to the United States immensely valuable concessions in trade ports and shipping.

There is nothing that the Florida organization did which could not be done, so far as the cases are parallel, by a Hawaiian Fruit Exchange for the benefit of our fruit industry. It is not the province of this article to draft the lines of action for such an organization, other than in a general way. One of the principal functions of the body should be the establishing and maintaining of a fruit depot in Honolulu, under the management of a thoroughly dependable man, both to systematize the local marketing of fruit and to manage the exporting to the mainland of combined lots of fruit from small producers. Then in San Francisco, as the counterpart of the home depot, an agency under the direction of the Exchange, should be established and maintained. The great objects to be obtained are the systematic marketing of Hawaiian fruit here and overseas and the protection of our fruit growers from every species of fraud and imposition.—Hawaiian Forester and Agriculturist.

The liquor fight is now on, and the course adopted by the High Sheriff is exactly the one needed for the fight into the legislature. The regulation of the liquor traffic is a serious and difficult matter and the News again urges the wholesale liquor men not to go into the fight with money. Once a "sack" is known to exist every act of the legislature will be viewed with suspicion and support will be withheld from desirable measures simply on account of the desire of the members to avoid suspicion. A more than average good legislature has been elected, and the liquor men on one hand and cranks on the other should leave that body alone to work out such laws as are needed to properly regulate liquor traffic on the Islands.

Further news from the mainland confirms the report of the landslide of Roosevelt and the republican party into power at the recent elections, and if the Islands have nothing more than another of which to feel proud, it is that Hawaii nei is solidly republican. Now Delegate Kuhio can go to a congress of his political brothers, and in the party name ask for what the Territory needs. The democratic party on the mainland and the democratic party on the Islands are not dead, and will survive the present crushing defeat, to do good work in the future, when they are needed. But at present no democrats need apply.

It might not be so strange a thing if Russia and Japan should at the end of the present war effect a friendly alliance and agree on an amicable division of disputed territory, Japan to hold Korea and Port Arthur, and Russia to hold Manchuria and Vladivostok. The fact that such an alliance would be formidable is the impediment in the way of its realization, for the Powers would not view it with friendly eyes, and without their pacific intervention, it would be extremely difficult for Russia and Japan to reach a satisfactory solution of their differences.

LOCALS

The Poi and Hamakua poka mills will commence grinding November 28. Wailuku has borne a busy aspect all week, with quite a number of visitors in town.

Continuouz showers this week are adding many thousands of dollars to central Maui's sugar crop.

The Nevada is due in Honolulu from the Coast tomorrow, and should reach Kahului on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Puunene Mill is scheduled to commence this season's run on the 28th inst., with good prospects for a 40,000 ton crop.

Wailuku is rejoicing in beautiful, bright moonlight nights, and a band concert by the Wailuku brass band would be in order.

Wednesday's mail brought the glad news that raw sugar has reached the 4 cent mark, and that the price of sugar stocks is rising.

Eggs are painfully scarce in Wailuku, and will probably remain so for the next month, which is the moulting season for Wailuku poultry.

The monthly meeting of the Planters Association, and the meeting of Stock Breeders' Association were both held in Honolulu this week.

Bids for the construction of the Wailuku Jail and Fire Department building were closed at noon on Wednesday, but reopened to Nov. 23.

The Republican Executive Committee of Maui met at Wailuku yesterday to wind up election matters and attend to other important matters.

The cane on the Wailuku Plantation is fast maturing, and the big whistle at the mill will sound for business about the first of December.

Next Thursday, November 25, is Thanksgiving Day, and should be universally observed, as Maui has much to be thankful for this year.

The News has secured a competent foreman from the Coast who is an expert in job work. Send us your job orders, if you want quick, neat and cheap returns.

The election of George Copp to the legislature leaves vacant the office of Deputy Tax Assessor for Makawao, and Judge Copp is spoken favorably of for the position.

The Annual Meeting of the Teachers' Association of Maui, which was to have been held at Wailuku next Friday has been postponed to sometime in January, the date for which has not been fixed.

Brewer & Co. have decided to build a new mill for the Wailuku Plantation, at the end of the present grinding season, and it is to be completed by December 1, 1905.

The Wailuku Dramatic & Musical Society have selected a comedy and assigned the cast. An interesting treat will be afforded by them at a later date, not yet fixed.

Mr. and Mrs. Copeland of Wailuku took a trip to Lahaina and return on their auto last Saturday, which was quite a feat considering the hills and sandy roads to be encountered.

Four Japanese reserves left Kahului and three left Lahaina on last Saturday afternoon's Claudine, for the seat of war. They were tendered rousing ovations by their enthusiastic countrymen.

A change in the editorship of the Advertiser is expected shortly, and Mr. Smith may possibly come to Maui and engage in small farming, in partnership with Manager C. B. Wells and the News man.

A crown of sand gravel has been placed on the Wailuku-Kahului road and side ditches cut which adds much to the road. It is said that the Wailuku streets will shortly receive the same much needed treatment.

What with the jollification of the Lahaina Republican Precinct Club, the send off of the Japanese and the arrival and departure of the usual steamer to Honolulu, Lahaina wore quite a cosmopolitan as well as metropolitan aspect last Saturday afternoon.

A Honolulu advertiser in the MAUI NEWS, through the columns of the ever-complaisant Bulletin, pours hot shot into this paper for its faulty typographical appearance during the past few weeks, but as we have a new $1000 drum cylinder press at the Wailuku Depot, ready to be installed in place of our present poor little worn-out press, we move for a continuance.

Love Feast and Dance.

The Lahaina Precinct Club celebrated the Republican victory by a love feast and dance last Saturday afternoon and evening.

A sumptuous lina was spread under the banyan tree in the courthouse yard and the public generally of West Maui was invited to partake of the good things provided. Speeches were made by Senator elect A. N. Hayselden, a Republican elect, Phillip Pali and John Kalino, M. S. Duponte and others.

In the evening a dance was given at the house formerly occupied by C. B. Olsen. Lahaina's hospitality is well known throughout the Island, but a special effort to please was made last Saturday and very fully appreciated by those in attendance.

JAPANESE ATTACK POLICE.

As an aftermath of the festivities at Lahaina last Saturday one Japanese was sent to his home with a badly broken head and two Hawaiians languished in jail until Monday morning.

Two Hawaiians not satisfied with the good things provided at the love feast concluded that the only fitting way to round out the day would be to "build up" a wine jag; the consequence being that they became obstreperous in front of the Pioneer Hotel.

About the time that two of Lahaina's "finest" took the drunks in charge, the Japanese who had marched to the wharf to see some of their countrymen off, summoned home as members of the first reserves, were returning home, and in the scuffling between the crowd, the police and the two Hawaiians broke into the ranks of the Japanese. Sake played a most prominent part in the enthusiasm of the Japanese and they took exceptions to the breaking in on their file. A riot ensued which lasted until the two Hawaiians had been landed in jail. Some of the Japanese attacked one of the officers who was trying to subdue an unruly countryman; another officer went to the assistance of his fellow officer when more Japanese jumped the latter. Sheriff Hose seeing how matters were going took a hand and some twenty Japanese jumped him and bore him to the ground. The Sheriff regained his footing and gaining possession of one of the bamboo poles used by the Japanese as a banner staff soon brought matters to their normal conditions.

During the mele one subject of the Mikado received a stinging knock out on the point of the jaw, and went down. The police finally scattered the crowd and carried the insensible man to the veranda of the courthouse when restoratives were applied and he was brought to, and sent home in a hack.

Up Country Notes

Messrs J. B. Thomson and Wm. Secby returned from a short visit to Honolulu by Tuesday night's Maui on L-a and may be seen sporting a pair of horns.

Hon. H. P. Baldwin returned Wednesday from a short business trip to Honolulu.

Every week a few Japanese have been leaving Puunene for Japan and it is expected that many more will soon be recalled. New laborers are arriving in their places however and are said to be of a better class. A few Koreans are also arriving.

Mr. Jas. Kirkland manager of Kahului Store is expected to arrive from the coast about Nov. 25th and will probably bring a fine display of Christmas goods with him.

Mr. Fred C. Baldwin manager of Haiku Ranch was slightly injured by being thrown from his horse one day last week, one of his ankles being fractured.

O. Amundsen left by Saturday's Claudine to spend his vacation in Honolulu.

V. L. Boeck goes to the mountain house at Makawao to recuperate for a couple of weeks. Spreckelsville Plantation finished the seasons planting last week. The mill will soon be in readiness for grinding and will probably start about Nov. 28.

Several of the H. C. & S. Co's locomotives have been converted into oil burners and have proved very successful.

Jas. Ogg left for a short trip to Hawaii after which he will take a position as engineer at the Olowalu Mill.

Dr. Dineger returned from Honolulu Wednesday.

Mr. James Phantom of Puunene is taking a couple of weeks vacation.

Mr. G. L. Kuehly returned last Saturday from a pleasant visit to California. He was accompanied by his sister Miss Catherine who will spend a few months with her sister Mrs. J. J. Corry of Kahului.

It is nearing the holidays and there is a great shortage of turkeys in the local market. Too bad that some of our enterprising citizens could not have foreseen this.

A Japanese laborer jumped from a moving train last night and received injuries from which he died.

Heavy showers have been prevalent this week and the ditches and reservoirs are reported full.

Mr. E. H. Pieper of Paia is successfully demonstrating the fact that orange culture on Maui is profitable, as may be seen by the thirty young orange trees heavily laden with choice fruit in the rear of his hotel.
