

INVENTED JAPAN'S TERRIBLE POWDER

DR. SHIMOSE.

Dr. Shimose is the inventor of Shimose powder, which the Japanese have been using in the present war. It was unknown until the outbreak of hostilities, having been a secret of the government. Its superior power was at once recognized and it has had much to do with the superiority of Japanese artillery. Like the British lyddite in the Boer war, it was a surprise which the Japanese government held in reserve. Shimose powder combines the elements of strength and safety in a remarkable degree, for it withstands all the risks that make gun cotton, dynamite and other explosives so dangerous to handle. It was perfected by Dr. Shimose after ten years of study and experimentation. The terrible destructiveness of the powder is shown by the fact that a Russian sailor was wounded in 160 places by a single Shimose shell on the Varyag. Shimose will not explode when set afire or hammered, or even when a bullet is fired into it. Only a certain process explodes it. In a Japanese test one handful was placed on an iron plate an inch and a half thick and the plate where the powder was, was completely perforated when the explosion took place.

FROM NEW YORK BAND

LEADER OF THE BAND ON THE BIG CRUISER TO COME TO HONOLULU AND TAKE THE LEADERSHIP OF THE HONOLULU SYMPHONY SOCIETY—WILL PROBABLY ALSO ORGANIZE A CHORAL SOCIETY HERE—IS A NOTED MUSICAL DIRECTOR

Professor Stockton, the leader of the band of the cruiser New York, is coming to Honolulu and will be the leader of the Honolulu Symphony club. He was here with the New York when the American Asiatic squadron called here last winter and gave a number of concerts. W. F. Jockey, who had been leader of the local club was just leaving then, and Prof. Stockton was talked to about joining and becoming leader. He left here with the understanding that he might return.

How to Avoid the Dangers of a Cold.
—Everyone must realize the dangers attending a severe cold, and that it is always prudent to remain in-doors until the danger is passed. Many, however, do not feel able to lose the time and will be interested in knowing that a severe cold may be broken up and all danger avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures, but cures quickly and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

WUNDENBERG WAS ANGRY

MAD BECAUSE CUSTOMS INSPECTOR KEPT HIM OFF SONOMA TODAY.

Fred Wundenburg created considerable excitement at the Oceanic wharf this morning on the arrival of the S. S. Sonoma from the Colonies. Mrs. Wundenburg, child and mother were returning from the Colonies, so Mr. Wundenburg desired to board the vessel as soon as the gangway was put up. He was told by Customs Inspector Sheehan that he could not go aboard at that time. Wundenburg remonstrated and declared that he would go aboard as his wife was there. He ordered the inspector not to put his hands on him.

Deputy Collector Haven who had been aboard the vessel, came down the gang way in a few minutes, and perceiving that Wundenburg desired to board the vessel, told Sheehan to allow the man aboard. Sheehan told Wundenburg to go aboard as the deputy collector had stated that he could do so. Wundenburg was by this time, quite angry over what he evidently considered was improper treatment and he is alleged to have declared in loud tones "To — with the deputy collector, I don't care anything about him, I will not go aboard the vessel."

Subsequently however Wundenburg met his wife and child and took charge of their baggage.

CORONER'S INQUEST TODAY.
The coroner's jury in the case of Hulimoru returned a verdict this afternoon to the effect that the deceased had come to his death on Sunday by being accidentally drowned off the Waikiki beach while in a state of intoxication.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE LEAVE

SONOMA TO K FAIR SIZED CROWD OF HONOLULUANS TO THE MAINLAND.

The departure of the S. S. Sonoma this afternoon for San Francisco was attended by a good sized crowd. The band was also in attendance.

Mrs. W. G. Irwin, daughter and maid were departing Honolulu for the mainland. They were accompanied by Mrs. Richard Ivers who will visit them in San Francisco.

Mrs. Judge H. E. Highton left for a visit to her old home in California.

P. Maurice McMahon the poet of petrified passion departed amid a hove of leis that admiring friends had placed on him.

T. McCants Stewart who is going to the mainland to participate in the campaign for the Republican Party, was a departing passenger.

Mrs. E. Bufandeanu departed for a trip to the island, accompanied by her mother-in-law Mrs. L. Bufandeanu. U. Hedeman left for a business trip to the mainland. He was accompanied by his wife.

Commodore Pickler of the Yacht Club left on business.

The Sonoma is due in San Francisco next Monday morning.

LIEUT. GENERAL BARON M. OGAWA.

General Ogawa is the commander of the Fourth Division of the Japanese army in Manchuria and is operating under General Oku. Ogawa has taken an important part in many of the battles of the war. His division consists of the troops of Osaki, who had the reputation of having disgraced themselves in the war with China. With fanatical bravery they retrieved their reputation at Nanshan Hill, taking a leading part in that terrible battle. Ogawa and his forces were also at Kinchau.

Denies Signing The Agreement

ATTORNEY GEORGE DAVIS AND HIS NOBREGA DIVORCE CASE FEE—AN AGREEMENT WITH HIS CLIENT FOR $500 AND ALL HE OBTAINED OVER $4,000 WHICH SHE SWEARS SHE NEVER SIGNED—LIVELY SESSION OF COURT.

Judge Robinson's court was the scene of a battle royal this morning between the old and new attorney General Lorrin Andrews and George A. Davis. The occasion of the trouble was the hearing of the evidence in the suit which Davis has brought against Mrs. Libana de Nobrega for the recovery of $1,000 he alleges to be owing to him for counsel fees.

The divorce case between Mrs. De Nobrega and her husband which was tried a couple of years ago, will still be remembered. Without going into particulars it may be noted that the woman got a verdict in Judge Gen's court for complete divorce and alimony in gross of $10,000. This verdict the Supreme Court set aside reducing the all money to $5,000 and declaring against the assessing of it "in gross."

Davis acted as attorney for Mrs. De Nobrega and according to his testimony he has received only a part of the fees due him for his legal services. He claims that $1,000 is still due him. He appeared for himself and Mrs. De Nobrega was represented by Lorrin Andrews and Frank Andrade.

The Attorney General lost no chance to grill his legal brother, when he had him on the witness stand nor did the witness hesitate to hit back hard when the opportunity came. The jury seemed to get an immense amount of amusement out of the whole show.

Accusations and recriminations as to business and professional probity were hurled recklessly about and there could be no doubt that both the legal gentlemen were very much in earnest.

At the opening of this afternoon's session the air in the court room grew even more sultry. Both of the attorneys were tuned to concert pitch and some of the evidence introduced by Andrews had the effect of raising Davis' ire to a high altitude.

De Nobrega, who had been defendant in the divorce case in the suit for which she is now claiming $1000 fees of Mrs. De Nobrega swore positively that he had always been willing to pay Mrs. De Nobrega $4,000 before and during the suit but that Davis had refused to accept it.

"Did you ever come to my office and tender me the $4,000?" shouted Davis in a towering rage.

The witness said he did not actually tender it but he had always said that he would pay it at any time.

Mrs. De Nobrega went on the stand and swore that she had never been in Davis' office before the divorce case was tried. She denied all knowledge of the agreement which Davis had produced in his own handwriting and was signed with her mark. This paper purported to agree to pay Davis for procuring her divorce $500 down and half of all he could obtain, over $4000, from the defendant her husband. She had never signed such a document, she swore, and had never intended to sign such. She did not know and had never heard of the man who was supposed to have translated and witnessed the signature.

Mrs. De Nobrega's grown son also testified that his mother had made no such agreement. He had been with her on every occasion she had been to court.

The case is not yet over.

Times of the tide are taken from the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey tables. The tides at Honolulu and Hilo occur about one hour earlier than at Honolulu. Hawaiian standard time is 10 hours 30 minutes slower than Greenwich time, being that of the meridian of 157 degrees 30 minutes. The time whistle blows at 1:30 p. m., which is the same as Greenwich, 3 hours, 0 minutes. The Sun and moon are for local time for the whole group.

SONOMA MET RAIN THE ENTIRE TRIP

STEAMER ARRIVED THIS MORNING FROM THE COLONIES— BROUGHT DOZEN PASSENGERS.

After an uneventful trip, the S. S. Sonoma arrived this morning from the Colonies, en route to San Francisco. She sailed from Sydney August 25, Auckland September 2 and Pago Pago September 6. With the exception of about one day during the trip, she had rainy weather. There were no heavy storms however. The vessel did not arrive yesterday afternoon, as no orders to reach Honolulu ahead of schedule time, had been received.

The vessel carries considerable flax and copper, as through cargo and brought some curios and general stuff for Honolulu. The Sonoma also brought a consignment of insects sent by Professors Koebel and Perkins to the Planters' Association.

Twelve passengers stopped at Honolulu, among them being Mrs. Fred Wundenburg and child.

The vessel has a good sized list of through passengers. Pete Baker the comedian is a returning passenger from the Antipodes. He is accompanied by his wife.

A good sized crowd of passengers will depart on the vessel today from Honolulu, for the mainland. The vessel sails at 3 p. m. today from the Oceanic wharf.

TOBEY MADE THE BANNER TRIP

FINISHED THE LONGEST PASSAGE OF THE SEASON TO SAN FRANCISCO SUNDAY.

The bark Gerard C. Tobey has made the banner trip of the season. She was 29 days going to San Francisco from this port. This record beats the recent memorable trip of the schooner W. H. Marston, by just one day.

News of the arrival of the Tobey was received Sunday by the Marine Exchange. The vessel evidently encountered calms. She carried a full load of sugar.

Fibroid Tumors Cured.

A distressing case of Fibroid Tumor, which baffled the skill of Boston doctors. Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, Mass., in the following letter tells how she was cured, after everything else failed, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time. "The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote to you describing my symptoms and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully, and to-day I am a well woman. "The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely expelled the tumor and strengthened my whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female trouble of any kind to give it a faithful trial."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St., (Roxbury) Boston, Mass.

Mountains of gold could not purchase such testimony—or take the place of the health and happiness which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought to Mrs. Hayes.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women; all ovarian troubles; tumors; inflammations; ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb; backache; irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation. Surely the volume and character of the testimonial letters we are daily printing in the newspapers can leave no room for doubt.

Mrs. Hayes at her above address will gladly answer any letters which sick women may write for fuller information about her illness. Her gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so genuine and heartfelt that she thinks no trouble is too great for her to take in return for her health and happiness. Truly it is said that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing so many women, and no other medicine; don't forget this when some druggist wants to sell you something else.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

PORT ARTHUR IS SUPPLIED

LIEUTENANT McCULLY, THE AMERICAN NAVAL ATTACHE, SAYS IT HAS PLENTY OF PROVISIONS AND THAT THE RUSSIAN SOLDIERS ARE STILL HAVING DAILY FRESH MEAT RATIONS—CONDITIONS FAR FROM DESPERATE.

Raymond R. Ecouly, correspondent of the Paris Temps at Liaoyang, has telegraphed as follows to his paper:

"I was fortunate this morning to walk with an American naval attaché, Lieut. Newton McCully, who has just returned from Port Arthur, after a sojourn there of three months. The news he gives me is entirely different from the pessimistic reports received lately concerning the situation at the fortress.

"The American attaché left the fortress August 14. The Japanese were there four and a half miles from the city. The Russian positions, upon a chain of rugged hills 200 meters high, were protected by trenches, mines, networks, barbed wire and cannon, and, according to the American officer, it was impossible to take them by assault. Japanese shells fell in the city, but each position possessed a dugout, in which the occupants were able to secure shelter. The Japanese heavy guns ceased firing every night, fearing that the Russians would detect their exact location by the flashes during the darkness.

"There were considerable stocks of provisions at Port Arthur. The Russian soldiers had a fresh-meat ration daily. The reports that Russian officers were subsisting on onions and black bread were absurd inventions. The stores were still open, and the population promenaded the streets.

"The regiments took turns in the trenches. Part of the garrison was always resting. The Russian sailors assisted in the defense of the fortress. The heat had not been unbearable. The American attaché believes that the Japanese losses have been very heavy, at least ten times those of the Russians. In short, Port Arthur can hold out much longer than people believe.

"When the officer left Port Arthur the French naval attaché, Lieut. de Cuverville, was still there. Entering and leaving the fortress was then very difficult, as the Japanese were sinking all the junks.

"The American officer landed at Shanhaikuan with some French women and one little girl."

Method In Filing Papers

When the next legislature undertakes the reform of the jury law and other matters connected with circuit court procedure, it will do well, unless the courts take hold of the matter themselves, to provide for some system for the proper filing and care of legal documents.

The law contemplates that all legal documents shall be treated according to a regular system, shall be filed in a regular way and shall be subject to the inspection of the public.

In other jurisdictions there is an open file in which all such records are deposited throughout a day, and at the close of the day they are removed, for proper filing away.

VOLCANO MARSHAL AGAIN

THE FORMER HONOLULU EDITOR RE-ENGAGES IN SHANGHAI JOURNALISM AND WRITES OF WILLIAM R. HEARST—VOLCANO WAS COMMISSIONED TO KILL BANDIT DALTON OR CAPTURE HIM, BUT DIDN'T TRY IT.

Volcano Marshal has tired of his life of ease in Shanghai, where at last accounts he was sojourning in luxury, surrounded by innumerable suits of clothes and a busy valet, and has descended to journalism again. He is the author of an article on Hearst, in The Bund, a new Shanghai paper, containing the following, after a sketch of the father of the would-be president:

Had the hole dug on the Comstock in the sixties, by the bluff, resolute and hopeful miner, failed in revealing wealth, William Randolph Hearst today would be without prominence, without newspaper achievement, unknown in his own country, unrecognized by the world, for Hearst, consciously, or unconsciously, is so recognized. I do not say this because Hearst is without ability, for he has discernment and in certain directions aptitude. But I do say, that without inherited wealth Hearst could not conduct for a week, in the manner that he has and is now doing, any one of his numerous journals. Owing to his inherited wealth and his mother's liberality the journalistic career of Hearst has been meteoric. This journalistic pyrotechnist now seeks the presidency of the Great Republic. Four years from now he will again try for the nomination or else, in my judgment, be the nominee of a new party.

Fresh from college, filled with a graduate's ambition to cut a swath in the world, Hearst senior purchased the San Francisco Examiner for his son, laconically remarking: "Sonny, make it hum."

The Examiner at the time was a four page paper conducted by Philip Roach. It, in the language of Johnson, hadn't enough wit to keep it sweet nor vitality enough to preserve it from putrefaction.

Sonny made it hum. He enlarged the paper and from the start showed that insight for which he is now noted—the employment of the brightest newspaper talent. Money, in obtaining this, was no object to him. He recognized when he became proprietor of the Examiner that he knew nothing about a newspaper, but he employed men who did. The paper became spectacular. It abounded in sensationalism. Twenty dollar gold pieces, wrapped in Examiners and dropped from balloons, were scattered over the peninsula. Those fortunate in picking them up were described at length in subsequent issues of the paper—who they were, when they were born and for what, if any, purpose. Special trains carrying Examiners over the vast railway system of California were run everywhere where track conveyed. Premiums of arms, vineyards, prize bulls, bull pups, gold watches, silver watches, oxidized watches, ladies' lingerie, game cocks and many other aesthetic and useful things, to gratify man and charm lady readers, were offered in bewildering prodigality.

When Hearst became proprietor of the Examiner he secured a representative in every populous center in California and on the coast. I represented the paper at Fresno, in the great San Joaquin Valley. One night the overland flyer was held up by train robbers near Goshen, south of Fresno. It was a successful piece of work, $18,000 being the reputed sum taken. The train, barring the express car and passenger coaches—for these were obstructed by the use of dynamite—came puffing into Fresno. I got the story and wired it to the Examiner. At 11 o'clock in the morning I received a message from Hearst that he had secured an engine on which I was to go to Goshen. "Go at once," read the telegram. "Rush story. Cover all details."

I got into the cab with engineer Jennings. It was a thrilling ride and one which I frequently thought would end in death. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon I had the pleasure of reading my story in the Examiner. Hearst, on receiving it, issued a special edition and despatched it through the length and breadth of the State by special trains. A few days later I received a very commendable letter from Hearst enclosing a check for $100.

The train robbers, it was subsequently ascertained, were Evans and the Sonntags, desperadoes whose deeds of pillage and blood almost rivaled those of the Jesse James gang.

Subsequently Bill Dalton, the desperado, swept over the western states and territories leaving a trail of blood behind. He was seen in King's river canyon. Hearst wrote me a letter offering me a sixty-five dollar saddle, a five-dollar horse, repeating rifles and hammerless revolvers, if I would go man hunting. "Bring Dalton in dead or alive," he wrote. I dare not mention the amount that I was to receive for performing the task.

In a letter I congratulated Hearst on his good judgment in selecting me for the hazardous undertaking, but stating that I should have to decline the mission for various reasons, my health was in a precarious state and I didn't care about making new acquaintances, particularly of Bill Dalton, in a country made when nature was bolsterously and uproariously turbulent and God was angry; really, friends, unbelievable as it may seem, I had much rather be in quest of the elusive advertiser in Shanghai than in search of a man of Bill Dalton's ways of life in King's river canyon, Fresno County, California.

I mention the Evans-Sonntag incident, not because I participated in it, but to illustrate Hearst's way of spending money to make the Examiner hum. Hearst, to my personal knowledge, expended $200,000 before the receipts of the Examiner counterbalanced the paper's expenditures.

I might, but I won't, take several pages of The Bund, in describing Hearst's journalistic successes in New York, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles; they are familiar to those conversant with modern newspaper achievements.

There is one feature about Hearst's character that I want to most emphatically emphasize—he possesses gratitude. Had Hearst been nominated at St. Louis and elected in November I would have been appointed, had I desired the position, American Consul General at Shanghai. Perhaps it is just as well that he didn't receive the nomination—Who can tell?

WATER CASE IS SETTLED

The Supreme Court this morning handed down a decision which finally settles the long-contested case of the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Company against the Wailuku Sugar Company. The suit involves valuable water rights on Maui. The last decision was largely in favor of the plaintiffs and a motion for a petition for a rehearing was filed by W. A. Kinney in behalf of the defendants. The case was originally heard by the old Supreme Court and as Justices Hartwell and Hatch were both of counsel in the case, they were disqualified to hear the petition for a rehearing. It was heard by Chief Justice Frear and Circuit Judges Robinson and Mathewman. The record of testimony and other legal documents in the case make the most voluminous record on file here. In a unanimous decision a rehearing is denied, the syllabus of the decision being as follows:

"Ancient water rights appurtenant to taro lands by reason of their use in connection with such lands, although such use was permissive before the issuance of Land Commissioner Awards, are often referred to as prescriptive rights although the latter arise from adverse user; and they were intended to be included in 'prescriptive rights' in the decisions in 9 Haw. 651 and 14 Haw. 80.

"A motion for a rehearing based on the ground that the court erred in holding that 'prescriptive rights' were intended in those decisions to include all appurtenant rights and that it otherwise failed to follow those decisions, is denied—the contentions not being sustained by the decisions."

The opinion of the court is a lengthy one by Chief Justice Frear and Judge Robinson concurs as follows: "As, in my judgment, this court, in its decision of the case at bar (15 Haw. 675) not only did not overlook any, but, without exception, fully considered all of the many points raised by counsel for respondent in its petition for rehearing, I concur in the order denying respondent's motion for rehearing. I also concur in what is contained in the opinion of the Chief Justice in reference to the meaning and scope of the term 'prescriptive rights,' as used and employed in both the Lono and 'plea in bar' decisions."

W. O. Smith and Castle & Withington for the plaintiff; Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper and Ballou & Marx for the defendant.

TROUBLES OVER THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR

Another entire day was wasted in the criminal section of the Circuit Court before Judge Gear today and the Territory will have the pleasure of paying the ordinary trial jurors as well as the special venire of thirty-six at the rate of $2 each with nothing whatever accomplished for the money.

This morning's difficulty arose over a blunder made in the indictment of Hayashida, the Japanese accused of brutally murdering a compatriot Saito at Wailua. It was only while the jurors were being examined yesterday afternoon that it was noticed that the indictment accused the prisoner of having committed the murder at Waipahu instead of at Wailua, and its faultiness made it impossible to proceed. Fortunately for the prosecution the jury had not been completed or sworn for otherwise the prisoner would have been entitled to his freedom on ground of "twice in jeopardy."

As it was, the case went over to this morning as the jury was not complete. Assistant Attorney General Prosser, as soon as Judge Gear had taken his place on the bench, moved that in the case of Hayashida, accused of murder, a nolle prosequi be entered. He stated the reasons as above recited.

Attorney Cathcart for the defence objected and insisted on the prisoner's being placed on trial. The objection was overruled and an objection noted. The accused man was given his liberty but that liberty was short lived. Chester Doyle of the Attorney General's department had been busy in the meantime and had proceeded to Judge Lindsay's court where he had obtained a warrant for the arrest of Hayashida on the charge of having committed the murder in Wailua. As the Japanese stepped out of the Judiciary building he was promptly taken into custody again.

The grand jury meanwhile was in session over at the Capitol and the matter was taken up before that body immediately with the result that an indictment was soon found. Then all the ponderous machinery of the law had to be set moving again. The grand jury headed by Foreman Tucker and accompanied by Assistant Attorney General Peters trooped over to Judge Gear's court and formally made its presentation.

A little later the prisoner was again brought in and arraigned. The indictment was translated into Japanese for him and he was asked how he would plead. Attorney Cathcart refused to plead at that time and asked for delay. Assistant Attorney General Prosser thought that Thursday morning would be sufficient time for the defence to make up its mind, but Monday was asked and this was finally allowed by Judge Gear. It is only fair to note that the indictment which caused the delay was not prepared by the grand jury now sitting, but was a legacy from the last term.

Meanwhile between times, a lively battle was waged between the Assistant Attorney General on the one side and different attorneys on the other as to what cases would come on next. It eventually turned out that though the Attorney General's department had several cases ready, those on the defensive for one cause or another were not prepared to go on. Two cases in which Attorney Cathcart is for the defence, those in which Hosoi and Fukuda are accused of receiving stolen goods, had been marked ready and the prosecution wanted to go on with these this afternoon.

Cathcart objected as he had expected the Hayashida case to go on for sufficient time to enable him to prepare for these. He wanted them set for Monday but Prosser vigorously objected.

"I think I am entitled to this," Cathcart insisted, "I am not to blame for the postponement of the Hayashida case, that is the fault of the Attorney General's department."

"Well I am getting pretty tired of these delays myself," said Judge Gear, "and something must be done to get ahead with the business of the court. If these were civil matters I would not hesitate to dismiss them at once, but of course that cannot be done here."

"The defence will have no objection to the dismissal of the cases," insinuated Cathcart.

"No, I suppose not," returned the judge, "I will set the hearing of the cases for Thursday next at 10 o'clock."

Attorney J. J. Dunne was very anxious for delay in the hearing of the case of Dan Kamal Kahili, charged with manslaughter. He was only an assistant in the case he said, Attorney Chillingworth being the senior. As Attorney Chillingworth had at the last mention of the case told a story in exact reverse, Judge Gear set the hearing for Monday.

Assistant Attorney General Prosser stated that there would probably be between thirty and forty cases added to the calendar when the grand jury reported and that two of these would be extremely heavy.

A nolle prosequi was entered in the case of A. F. Franca, accused of selling liquor without a license.

ONLY THIRST TALE WAS MADE GOOD

MANY ACCUSATIONS IN THE KEAWE DIVORCE CASE BUT ONLY ONE SUSTAINED.

The somewhat involved marital infelicities of Matilda Keawe and her wife Matilda Keawe were straightened out this morning by Judge De Bolt who granted the man a divorce from his wife and custody of the children. The arrangement was something of a jug-handled proposition as all of the costs and a counsel fee of $50 are saddled on Matilda Keawe.

The action for divorce was originally brought by Matilda Keawe against her husband on the ground of non-support upon which he filed counter charges of adultery and habitual intemperance. After Judge De Bolt had listened for some days to about as hopeless a set of stories as ever a wife told about a husband or a husband of a wife, he decided that the libellant had not proved the non-support nor had the husband substantiated the adultery charges. There remained the accusation of habitual intemperance against Mrs. Keawe and for the past few sessions of the court stories of her deep and abiding thirst have been told by friends, neighbors and relatives.

The judge held that the intemperance had been established and gave the decision as recorded.

VALUABLE MAIL FROM HONOLULU

AN IMMENSE VOLUME FROM GOVERNOR CARTEP TO SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

It is a proud man that Secretary of the Interior Ethan Allan Hitchcock will reach Washington. There will be excitement in the Hitchcock household when the postman walks up the front steps with a big oblong parcel and the postmarks show that it comes from Honolulu and one can imagine the gratification of all present when the parcel is opened and there in all its beauty of scarlet leather and gilt will rest the report of Governor George R. Carter. It will be placed on the center table beside the family bible and the neighbors for blocks around will come in to admire.

The Governor's report was boxed up under the eye of Chief Clerk Buckland and was sent on the Sierra's mail. The bound book measures 14 inches by 10 and is over two inches thick. By the time the secretary of the Interior gets through reading it, that is if he does read it at all, he will know a good deal more about Hawaii than he ever did before and a good deal more in fact than people who have lived here all their lives have ever suspected.

For the Skin A GREAT SINGER'S ILLNESS

You cannot have a clear and smooth skin unless the blood is pure.
Blotches, eruptions, rashes, pimples, all show how impure the blood must be. Get all impurities out of your blood before you are seriously ill.

Miss Dorothy Maher, of Pittsroy, Victoria, sends her photograph and this letter:
"I had a terrible eruption on my face, which was of a very irritating nature. I tried many blood medicines, but without relief.
Friends told me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as it was a most famous blood remedy. I did so, and after taking only two bottles I began to see a great change. By the time the third bottle was used the eruption had entirely disappeared, and without leaving a mark on my face. I am perfectly well now, and I owe it all to this great blood-purifying remedy."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas.
Be sure you get "Ayer's."
Correct any tendency to constipation with Ayer's Pills. They are sugar-coated, easy to take, mild in action. A family laxative.

JAPAN'S VIEWS OF THE COURSE TO BE TAKEN IN CASES WHEN RUSSIAN WAR VESSELS TAKE REFUGE IN NEUTRAL PORTS—JAPANESE EXPECT TO GET VESSELS WHEN THE END OF THE WAR COMES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 26.—Mr. Takahira, the Japanese ministe here, called upon Acting Secretary Adee of the State Department today to talk over the settlement of the questions connected with the presence of the two Russian warships in the harbor of Shanghai. The minister expressed gratification at the outcome of the negotiations in the agreement to disarm the vessels and lay them up during the war, but he regarded it as essential that the completeness of the disarmament of the ships be established to the satisfaction of the Japanese government through a personal inspection of the craft by a Japanese naval officer designated for that purpose. As this course was pursued in the case of the Czarevitch at Tsingtau, the German port on the Shantung peninsula, without much objection from Russian quarters, it is expected that consent will also be given to the examination of the Askold and Grozovoi at Shanghai.

It is intimated here that there are two reasons why the Japanese government is not disposed to press its original objection against the course pu-sued by the Russian vessels in taking refuge in this fashion in Chinese treaty ports and insisting upon its right to cut them out. The first reason is that Japan, more than any other country at this moment, desires to maintain in full force the agreement to preserve Chinese neutrality and thereby avoid entangling powers at present neutral in the great struggle now going on.
And the second reason is that in the expectation of an ultimate victory over Russia the Japanese contemplate the inclusion in the peace treaty of a provision for the surrender to Japan of all the Russian naval vessels dismantled and laid up in Chinese ports as well as any that may be found in Port Arthur and Vladivostok, so it is not reluctant to have their prospective property preserved intact, until the end of the war, by China.

The Navy Department today received a cablegram from Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, dated Shanghai, today, saying that situation there is quiet and that he regards the incident of the disarmament of the Russian ships as closed.
The Shanghai newspapers unanimously regard the outcome of the recent situation as due in no small measure to the diplomacy and the action of John Goodnow, the American consul general there.

VESSELS AT KAHULUI.
WAILUKU, September 12.—The harbor of Kahului now bears a lively appect as a seaport. There are three vessels in the harbor, the Marconi, Captain Lawson, the Barkentine Hawaii with lumber and the Barkentine Pullerton, which arrived during the week with fuel oil. The Marconi will remain another week, and the Hawaii, will probably sail shortly after.

ENTERTAINMENT ON MAUI.
WAILUKU, September 10.—An entertainment was given at the residence of Hon. H. P. Baldwin, at Spreckelsville, last night, by the Makawao Ladies Aid Society. The entertainment was largely attended by people from all parts of Maui, special trains running to jail termini of the Kahului Railroad Co.
The numbers on the program were exquisitely rendered.

Connors is dead. In her death her owner Bob Ballentine loses a valuable animal, and the turf as game a Hawaiian bred racer as the islands may which arrived in Lahaina August 27, Ballentine received word from Puuwaawaa Ranch, Kohala, that the mare had followed a band of stray horses into the rough, uneven country and fallen into one of the many enormous lava cracks which abound. When Mollie was a three year old her owner rode her trial three quarters in 1:15 and three seasons ago at Hilo she broke the track record for a half mile, covering the distance in 49 seconds.

Besides the widow there are seven children, Bernice, Samuel, Allen, George, Joseph, James and Charles.

LION HUNTING CAUSED DEATH

FRIENDS OF LATE S. T. ALEXANDER THINK THAT HE WAS TRYING KILL LION WHEN INJURED.

A desire that was almost romantic, to have the distinction of having shot a lion is thought by many friends of the late S. T. Alexander to have been indirectly responsible for his recent fatal accident in South Africa. Ever since boyhood, the deceased is said to have had an ambition to hunt the King of Beasts. When he left for his last trip, Alexander is said to have laughingly remarked that he proposed to get his lion at last, and not to return home until he had killed at least one lion.

What success attended his efforts at shooting lions is not known at present, but in the opinion of many, the accident that resulted in Alexander's foot being crushed, was sustained while engaged in hunting an African lion. The injury was so serious that his foot had to be amputated, death resulting in a short time.

KALAUOKALANI SAID TO BE KNIFING NOTLEY

the deal which his father is alleged to desire to consummate with the Republican party.

The rumor is that Kalauokalani has reached an understanding with Prince Kuhio to throw him his support in the campaign for Congress. This support has to be of the subtle kind and while Kalauokalani may be handing out bunches of Home Rule patriotism to the Home Ruler in his speeches, he is said to be secretly helping Kuhio. The price of Kalau's alleged treachery to Notley and the Home Rule party is said to be the position of secretary to Prince Kuhio. This position is to be bestowed upon young Kalauokalani, provided the deal goes through.

Young Kalau is now a staunch Republican and is in a position to accept the honor if the prince cares to confer it. Kalauokalani Sr., together with Candidate Notley, et al, have been touring Hawaii, and are now on Maui. While making speeches, the elder Kalauokalani is said to have been energetic enough in his advocacy of Notley, but it was when he was not speaking that the real work of jabbing the knife into Notley progressed. Kalauokalani makes his Notley speeches, according to the report, and then secretly passes the word around among the Home Rule leaders to vote for Kuhio. Kalau does not double cross his political confere until just before leaving a place. Then Kalauokalani is said to get real busy and, in whispers, to advise the leaders that Kuhio is really the best man and ought to be elected. Of course no reference to the merit of young Kalauokalani is made. Kalauokalani is charged with even writing letters to leaders after he left Hawaii, and advising them to put Kuhio through.

TOO ANXIOUS TO HELP A FRIEND

HOW A CHINESE GOT INTO SERIOUS TROUBLE IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING.

Lee Look wanted to help Pung Yock in a case of assault and battery in the police court this morning but got himself into serious trouble instead. Pung was charged with striking Masao a Japanese child, in the head with his fist in Kakaoko. Lee swore that he had stood 30 feet away from the pair and watched them and that Lee had not struck the child.

Officer Wills and three Japanese testified that Pung had struck the child and furthermore, swore that Lee could not possibly have seen the assault for he was in his shop screened by an awning from seeing Pung or the child. The court reprimanded Pung. Lee was taken into custody to be prosecuted on a charge of perjury.

Philip Naone was arrested last night on a charge of assault and battery on his wife. He was in the police court this morning and had the case continued. Naone has been in repeated scrapes and he may be prosecuted for conspiracy against Javid Kamai.
