INFERNAL TOOL FOUND IN MAIL

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

SEAGIRT, N. J., September 12.—The mail this morning received by Governor Fort disclosed an infernal machine undoubtedly designed to effect his death by explosion when he should open his mail. Governor Fort is enforcing the Sunday law at Atlantic City in regard to the sale of liquor and it is presumed that his action in this regard has incited the deadly enmity of certain persons deeply interested in the liquor traffic.

A START AT HILO

ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION OF THE GREAT BREAKWATER WAS BEGUN TODAY.

(Special to The Star.)

HILO, Sept. 12.—Actual construction work on the breakwater commenced today. Some little time however, will elapse before the work is in full swing, on account of the inseparable delays incident to the commencement of such a colossal undertaking.

The great cranes are assembled, scales etc., are in place, and thousands of tons of rock at Kapoho are blasted down, awaiting transportation. The last rail of the extension will shortly be laid, and work will then be continued without intermission, till the last ton of rock is deposited in the ocean bed, and Hilo possesses a protected harbor of the first class.

HATES TO LEAVE

Tommy Lane, well known as a bantam in sporting circles, is still in Honolulu in spite of the fact that he has received numerous offers from the mainland states and Mexico, from the former for exhibition purposes and from the latter for mining reasons, he having friends well fixed in the matter of mines. Tommy likes Honolulu so well, however, that he hates to leave. His friends say there is a lady in the case, but that's another story. Just now he is taking a rest preparatory to accepting a position he has not yet located.

STATES, HAWAII, AUSTRALIA AND PHILIPPINES

STEAMSHIPS SIERRA, SONOMA AND VENTURA, UNDER OCEANIC OR PACIFIC MAIL FLAGS, WILL RESUME TRANS-PACIFIC TRAVEL IN JANUARY, VIA HONOLULU, BETWEEN SAN FRANCISCO AND AUSTRALIA, PROBABLY TAKING IN MANILA FOR BUSINESS.

Oceanic steamships Sierra, Sonoma and Ventura will again take in Honolulu and resume the Australian run in January of next year. This information is given by one interested who arrived from the mainland in the Alameda yesterday morning and who is here for business in connection with the resumption of the service.

There was recently an Associated Press cablegram received to the effect that Harriman, the Pacific Mail and Southern Pacific magnate, would purchase the three vessels named, which have been laid up at San Francisco for a long time, and that they would be put on the Panama run.

The facts as related by the agent now in the city are to the effect that while it is possible that the Pacific Mail may purchase the boats, providing the price asked is paid, the Oceanic Steamship Company at present intends resuming the Australian service in January and that it has been ascertained that conditions are such that the line will be made to pay. What the schedule will be has not yet been arranged.

It is also said that, even in the event of Harriman securing the Sierra, Ventura and Sonoma, the Pacific Mail will put them on the Australian run, via Honolulu, and that the Panama report is incorrect under any circumstances.

That there are liners needed, and needed badly, between Australia and the United States is evident, but there may be some change in the ports of call from the schedule previously observed by the sister ships when they traversed the waters of the Pacific.

It is not improbable that Manila may be made a port of call and this because the United States government is constantly increasing the transportation of war material and supplies for army and navy between the States and the Philippines.

There has been much talk about the Sierra, Ventura and Sonoma not being altogether up to standard in demands made of steamships for trans-oceanic voyages, but it is stated by the agent now here that whatever faults may have existed or do exist have been or will be remedied.

Hawaii May Yet Get Money For Reclamation

LAND COMMISSIONER PRATT BRINGS BACK FROM WASHINGTON SOME ENCOURAGEMENT OF HOPE THAT HAWAII MAY OBTAIN A SPECIAL APPROPRIATION FOR RECLAIMING ARID LANDS—DIRECTOR NEWELL OF FEDERAL RECLAMATION SERVICE.

Although Hawaii's claims to a share in the moneys which have been appropriated for the reclamation of arid lands by the United States have been twice turned down by the decisions of the Comptroller of the Treasury, there seems no reason that we should not ultimately benefit under the Reclamation Act, according to a statement made by Land Commissioner Pratt who returned from Washington yesterday. Even though it may be held that Hawaii cannot be allowed any of the funds under the original appropriation which was made, this does not in the slightest prevent the obtaining of money for similar work under a special appropriation.

In speaking of the matter this morning, in response to questions Mr. Pratt said:

"I feel fully assured that Hawaii will in the end be allowed to get her share of the reclamation funds. You will remember that when we first tried to get money from the appropriation made for the establishment of colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts, we were turned down. Still in the end we got the money which we needed, did we not? If that is so, why should we not keep on after the money with which to reclaim our arid lands? "One of the troubles has been that very few in Washington have appreciated the fact that we have arid lands

MAHUKONA LANDING

DISPUTE BETWEEN RESIDENTS AND RAILROAD IN FAIR WAY OF A SETTLEMENT.

It is likely that some decision in regard to the Mahukona landing dispute will be reached before long by the Superintendent of Public Works. The matter was called to his attention by a petition from a large number of the people living in that district and claims were being made that the treatment accorded the public by the railroad company was not by any means of the best. Then a long counter petition was handed in, supporting the railroad company and stating that its service at the landing was of the best.

In speaking of the matter this morning the Superintendent of Public Works said: "The matter has been placed in the hands of Attorney Frank Thompson by the railroad and I feel that we shall easily arrive at a satisfactory settlement. There are two things to be considered. In the first place it must be realized that the railroad is an essential to the district and secondly that the people have certain rights in regard to access to public landings that cannot be disregarded. What will be done in the matter I cannot say as yet, but I expect that a settlement which will be satisfactory to both parties will be arrived at very soon."

A-H. IS ADDING

TO CONTINUE PRESENT RUNS AND START A NEW CONNECTION.

The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company is again branching out and, far from thinking of reducing its Pacific service, will add to it.

One week from Monday this company will start a regular line between Portland and New York. Cargo will be received at Portland every twenty-one days. On the way to Portland the steamers will make but one stop, at San Diego, after leaving Salina Cruz. After discharging at Portland the vessels will take on part cargo and proceed to Seattle, returning thence to Salina Cruz.

Present runs between the Hawaiian Islands and Seattle, San Francisco and Salina Cruz will be continued.

POLITICS

PROBABLE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM WHO WILL RUN FOR THE SENATE?

COOKE DECLINES CHAIRMANSHIP

SENATOR COELHO'S COLORLINE SPEECH

M'CANDLESS STARTS ON TUESDAY

KUHIO BY ACCLAMATION MONDAY

The Republican Territorial convention on Monday will nominate Delegate Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole by acclamation and at the end of the week the Oahu county and district convention will meet and make their nominations.

With this nomination made, the campaign for delegate will be fairly on. Link McCandless leaves on Tuesday for Hawaii, to tour that island with the various local candidates. Link promises a hot and in every way lively campaign, and, though pretty generally told even by his friends that he can't beat Kuhio, he doesn't look at it that way, and expresses the most enthusiastic confidence. He will make the land issue his big card.

A tentative draft of the Republican platform has been started, for submission to the convention next week. On the land question it meets the Democrats squarely by a declaration against the application of the American land laws, as they now are, to Hawaii, on the ground that they are entirely unsuited to local conditions and have even been found unsuited to the mainland in many respects. The platform instead, will declare for amendments to the land laws of Hawaii which will help to really apply the American principles of encouragement for settlers.

The proposed platform starts out with endorsements of the federal and territorial administrations in strong terms and a recommendation for the re-election of Kuhio as delegate.

An unequivocal declaration against government of Hawaii by commission will be framed in very strong language. There is a new and striking plank on the leprosy subject. The Republicans propose to declare in favor of a modification of the laws, in line with the recent resolution of the Board of Health, which will allow treatment of suspects at local stations, and require their deportation to Moikoi only when it has been demonstrated that they are incurable.

A plank favoring an increase of pay for members of the legislature is another new feature.

Other important suggestions are the following:

Appropriations for another visit of members of Congress as guests of the Territory.

A law to allow the deposit of public funds in the local banks.

Legislation to allow counties to issue bonds.

A primary law.

Continuance of the appropriation for Queen Liliuokalani.

Increase of school appropriations.

A law to provide for tax appraisements every three years instead of every year.

Continuance of the Promotion appropriations.

Provisions for aid to fruit growers and farmers and for a commission to investigate their needs and report on the subject.

A declaration in favor of Republican tariff.

J. P. Cooke, who was wanted for chairman of the Republican committee in view of the withdrawal of Robertson, will not be able to undertake the work, it is stated. Mr. Cooke says he cannot give the necessary time to the work. Senator Dowsett is being urged to take the matter up, but has refused to consider it.

The Republican legislative ticket is the subject of a lot of earnest discussion. It is understood that Sam

THE LOG-BOOK

The supply ship Arethusa of the auxiliary fleet, has arrived at the Mare Island yard from Honolulu, with ten sick patients and two insane men, who were transferred to the ship from the Atlantic fleet while they were at Honolulu, for the Mare Island hospital. There were also thirty general court-martial prisoners on board from the fleet. Among these are two men who are sentenced to serve ten years apiece in San Quentin.

A proposal is on foot in Sydney, says the British Australasian, to organize a mid-summer pleasure expedition to the Antarctic Circle at the end of December next. The excursion would occupy about a month and would allow five or six days within the Antarctic Circle. A guarantee has been given for 40 passengers at $125 per head, but 80 to 100 would be necessary to make the trip remunerative. Here is the kind of proposal that Lieutenant Peary might consider for his almost perennial Arctic expeditions.

The very extraordinary statement has been made by the London Times and gone the rounds of the press, in connection with an obituary notice of the late Rev. W. J. Ancient, that he rescued the "sole survivor" of the steamer Atlantic on the coast of Nova Scotia on April 1, 1873. As a matter of fact, although there were 560 lives lost on that occasion, no fewer than 442 were saved, included among whom was the late J. A. McMullen, ship's painter, and many years afterward in business on Whitehall street, New York city.

Several whales have recently lost their lives in the "Atlantic" through being run down by steamers. Now, what's the use of being able to "blow" if you can't make a signal and why are whales in "schools" if they don't learn anything?

Purser Phillips of the S. S. Mauna Kea, reports the following sugar on Hawaii: Olua 10,600 bags; Waiakae, none; Hawaii Mill, none; Wainaku, 10,600; Onomea, 29,000; Pepeekeo, 16,500; Honouliuli, 8,200; Hakalau, none; Laupahoehoe, 6,900; Ooaka, 3,000; Kuka-lau, 1,900; Hamakua, 23,000; Paauhau, 1,685; Honokaa, 4,300; Kukuhaele none; Punaluu, 1,770; Honuapo, 3,200.

COL. GREENE'S CAR

The San Francisco Call of August 3 tells the following story of the pill-kill of Col. W. C. Greene, the copper magnate, who was recently a guest at the Young hotel accompanied by his wife:

Colonel W. C. Greene and family must wait in their seven rooms at the St. Francis until the law's slow processes get done with them or else travel outward like ordinary tourists in an ordinary Pullman car, for Col. Greene's private car, the car in which they are wont to journey, is in the clutches of the sheriff of the county of San Francisco.

The Greene's stepped from the gang-plank of the Mongolian yesterday ready to hurry southward. To the end that they might start without delay the car had been brought north by the colonel's private secretary, Dr. W. J. Galbraith. It had no sooner landed in the yards at the Third and Townsend passenger station than the sheriff's officers climbed its steps. They bore writs of attachment, and from that time to car as been in custody.

Recently Dr. E. B. Perrin began suit against Greene to recover $12,000, which he claimed was due him on the land transaction, and it was in the process of this suit that the attachment came.

The matter will be adjusted this morning, said Dr. Galbraith, speaking for Colonel Greene. "It is simply a misunderstanding."

In the meantime, however, the Greene's are waiting and the car is housing a plebian but entirely satisfied deputy sheriff, whose feet have no respect for its patrician cushions.

Many Good People who drink malt extracts for their tonic properties will not drink beer because they regard it an intoxicant. Now, there is virtue in malt extracts, without a doubt; but they contain from six to seven per cent alcohol.

Beer contains only about three per cent alcohol--Primo Beer contains less than three per cent. Isn't it reasonable then to say that malt extract is more an intoxicant than Primo Beer.

Rather, it is more nearly correct to say that neither are intoxicants. Doctors are now recommending beer to patients because they assimilate better than malt extract and it has no ill effects. And it has richer food and tonic properties than malt extract.

A prominent local doctor said recently "if well people would drink more Primo Beer we would have fewer anemic patients. We would have less stomach trouble and nerve disorder. In every way the use of Primo Beer promotes health."

McKINLEY MEMORIAL HIGH SCHOOL OPENING

With simple but impressive exercises the McKinley Memorial High School building—the new home of Honolulu's high school and the monument provided by the Territory of Hawaii to the martyred President under whose administration Hawaii was annexed to the Union—was opened yesterday afternoon. An assembly of five hundred people attended. After an inspection of the building W. H. Babbitt, Superintendent of Public Instruction, called the gathering to order in the assembly room on the ground floor. Dr. Doremus Seudder offered a dedicatory prayer.

Principal M. M. Scott, who had raised the old Fort-street school to the status of a high school, which it assumed in name at its occupancy of the former palace of Princess Ruth, was presented by Mr. Babbitt with the key to the new edifice and made an interesting speech. He said the key was typical and symbolic of an unlocked open door to equal opportunity to manhood and womanhood, to all without regard to race or color. Mr. Scott praised the efforts of Mr. Babbitt to get the best possible building for the money. He introduced former Governor Geo. R. Carter, who carried through the negotiations for obtaining the site.

Mr. Carter called Hawaii God's jewel-box, asking if man could produce a creature here equal to the perfect environment. In this problem one of the greatest elements was education. "It seems to me," the speaker said, "that here in Hawaii, with our cosmopolitan population, we have been given the opportunity to perform some great service to the United States and the world. It has been given us to show that citizens can be made out of any kind of human being, whatever the color, and that our civilization is superior to any other and need not shrink from contact or competition with any other, not even the oldest. There is no danger from an alien voting population except such as we create ourselves by suggestion, and by expression of contempt or of hatred." Rev. Kong Yim Tet, speaking for the Chinese colony, said China was thirsting for western learning. He made interesting references to Chinese graduates of Honolulu High School. Representative E. A. C. Long, introduced as one who had performed good service in making the building possible, spoke eloquently of the need of free education in free countries. British Consul Forster advocated the study of modern languages.

ONE MORE COUPON.

"The Hawaiian Church Chronicle!" Ah! now have we a foe (the Morning Glory) as nothing to it—mere cipher—worthy of our steel (steel). It fairly makes copy howl. Well, well, we must even do the best we can, with so many rivals in the field; and, coming all on one fell swoop—(Restarick, Ayres, Potwine.) Now, we call that, pot pourri—pot luck—don't you?

COUPONS IN PLENTY.

THE EDITOR'S INCONSISTENCY. Now, because we hint that we shall all vote for Daniel Surt, he says:—He does not care to print that coupon, "not available," too personal. (Ah, that's the very way the sun rises in our yeast.)

KEY OF THE TOWN.

If we cannot afford to buy everything alone in the shops, we can have a look at most everything and "no charge at the gate" as the Hawaiian Fair, says. In fact, we have the freedom of the city as much as Sheriff Henry if he is the prison-keeper. An, as soon as the first mayor takes his chair, we are to have a fine new key. We have been kindly invited too, to all kinds of "teas," hot or cold, sugar and cream or no cream and lemon, or punch and tea or tea—and punch later; and, to go to the sea round by Diamond Head, and also to the top of a hill—and again many times, to an outlying island, lovely in itself with all sorts of the nicest, loveliest people in this world living upon it, and take a rest to our heart's content; but, as you know, on account of the Times we have to stay and abide every day and every week at the Elite; which to be sure is not to be despised.

PUBLIC BURDENS.

It is hardly possible for us to realize the care of men like Judge Dole for instance, and U. S. Marshal Hendry, President of Board of Health, Mr. Trent, the Campbells, the Auditor, Mr. Babbitt, the Attorney General, Secy. Wood, a business man such as is Mr. Waller, Davies & Co. and other great firms and bankers,—the Post-master, the Customs, the daily editor. The office of Governor and Secretary in this Territory we believe to be in certain ways more engrossing and arduous than in Massachusetts for instance or in California. And yet we all meet and pass these workers from day to day, and we think no more about it perhaps than of a man that takes photographs or carries on a restaurant, or keeps a shoe shop or a curio place. (It is curious, how we do not, make distinctions!) In Honolulu, Pastor W. Feimly of the German Lutheran church urged the need of sympathy between the school and the home.

Dr. Katsuki was spokesman for the Japanese colony, among other things saying: "The Japanese born in this country, educated in the schools of this country along with other American children, will be nothing but true Americans—loyal to the flag and to the principles of their country."

Representative A. D. Castro voiced the recognition by Portuguese of the opportunities the free school system of Hawaii had given.

Judge Sanford B. Dole recalled that Thomas Square and the very ground where the building they were in stood was the scene of the restoration of the Hawaiian flag by Admiral Thomas—an act which had given rise to the expression by Kamehameha III, that the life of the land is established in righteousness, an expression that had been the motto of the country through all mutations of government. That sentiment was in many respects the animating sentiment of the public school system. Judge Dole paid a tribute to the late A. T. Atkinson, who had insisted that the High School should be a free school and had made it such.

In closing, Principal Scott paid a tribute to Mr. Chalmers, the builder of the High School, who, he said, had given the Territory more for its money than he in twenty-seven years' experience had ever known it to get before.

The building is situated on the former Maertens home site, across Victoria street from Thomas Square. It is built of concrete blocks and consists of two stories. On the ground floor is an assembly room to accommodate two hundred persons, a library furnished with koo bookcases by C. M. Cooke and a principal's office, besides the class rooms in general. The second story does not cover the whole of the first and is devoted to the commercial and scientific departments. It contains a room fitted in bank style for a school savings bank. This is Principal Babbitt's idea, one of other valuable ones he brought home from his recent visit to the mainland. The building has modest but impressive exterior features, the entrance alone being of showy class. This consists of a semi-circular portico reached by a similarly shaped flight of steps, the portico being supported by plain columns and protected by a balustrade.

we "form the habit" so to speak of running almost everybody in the self-same little mould. And it is too often, that the pigmy thinks he's about as big as the giant, "anyway." An, any way, he owns an automobile! So now.

POST-OFFICE.

Do you crave a job there? It is our private opinion that if ocean steamers and fleets came in, every two days only those clerks would all be in the Queen's Hospital or in the Lunatic Asylum. It seems to us the hardest (one of the most intense), of condensed labor. One native told us that he stands (they all stand) and reads the addresses, on newspapers, from morning till night. Think of the different handwriting! We are pretty sure that after a few days of such work, we should be tempted to throw a paper at some body's head every pretty often, instead of into its rightful bag! It is all mighty tough work as we look at it. Take the stamp-window at certain times! And yet so well-trained is that young lady and that Hawaiian, you could not confuse them, to lose a one-cent stamp for Uncle Sam!

THE UNDERTAKER.

And now indeed we are coming nigh, to a grave subject; and by that we'd not mean a dead man but the living, yes the living. If one desires to have a fine funeral, a display, then he should see always that the undertaker's charge is met. We have not had a word with Mr. Williams, for instance, for at least two years; but, one day when we questioned him closely and listened to his revelations, it brought the tears to our eyes and for whom? For no other than for the man of funeral affairs, the man with the gentle kindly eyes, who is too often not paid, for his sad offices! "You have known us all your life, you'll bury our brother; we'll be sure to pay you." "You'll come to take charge of father, you were always good friends." "Yes, we must have you to bury the poor baby." But, the dead are often too soon forgotten, and the bill of burial entirely or partly unpaid. Facts. And on talking with another undertaker, he said: "Oh it is the same with all of us; they come of course in haste, for the dead must be buried; and, they promise and perhaps pay a little down, and then—"

ARMY OFFICERS TO STUDY LEPROSY

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The United States army is to undertake a special investigation of leprosy. The sad experience of General Wardwell's wife in Arizona and Los Angeles has attracted the attention of physicians to the international leprosy congress to be held in August of next year at Bergen, Norway.

Washington was excited this week over the fact that a leper was at large and roaming the streets of the national capital, because there was no hospital that would shelter him and no asylum for him but the street. Army surgeons at posts in the Philippines, Hawaii, etc. will be requested to report their opinions as to whether the disease can be communicated by association or contact. Many physicians ridicule the popular fear of leprosy and hold that it is hereditary, constitutional and infectious, but not contagious. Among these is Army Surgeon McDonald, who made a study of leprosy in the Philippines. He says:

"My observations were made on the island of Samar, P. I., at the barrio of Mastlog, on the Dolores river, while campaigning in the field with troops in 1906. Many elderly people of this barrio, both male and female, were victims of leprosy. When asked how the disease was contracted they referred back to a time, some 30 years ago, when a terrible storm visited the interior of the island and destroyed all their vegetable food products. They were compelled for months to live on fish and clams taken from the river, and they all declared that the disease started at that time and season, and that the fish and clam diet was directly responsible for it.

"During all these years these people have lived under miserable sanitary conditions in crowded small huts, and the disease has spread but little if any. The general impression among these people is that it is not contagious at all, only very slightly infectious. The fact that they have raised children and grandchildren and that there is no leprosy among the younger ones seems strongly to verify their belief.

"They also believe that leprosy makes them immune from many of the prevailing diseases, such as cholera, tuberculosis and the many fevers, and, strange to say, deaths are rare among them from epidemics, which take off many of the younger generation. These people also firmly believe that the disease has prolonged their lives, as they are quite old. Probably it does have the effect, owing to the fact that the disease incapacitates them from working and going around actively, thus avoiding many dangerous events which a roaming native would be subject to.

"Many of the so called cases of leprosy among the younger natives have proved to be ordinary cases of tuberculosis."

THE "BEST MEN PROPAGANDA."

The Star has never been able to follow various Republican leaders in their local advocacy of the straight ticket rule, as against what A. G. M. Robertson calls the "best men propaganda." But there are two sides to the question, and it is mere trifling to say that those who oppose the propaganda, as does Robertson, oppose the desire to elect the best men. The difference between the two kinds of Republicans is that one thinks it the duty of every member of the party to see that the best men possible are nominated and then to abide by and accept the result of the nominations; while the other side claims the right not only to take part in the nominations but after having done so, to reject such of the results as may be regarded as unsatisfactory. It is easy to see a logical inconsistency in the latter view, and there are many of the best citizens of Honolulu, party Republicans, who strongly object to the "best men propaganda." These citizens will vote for whomsoever their party nominates. As we think Chairman Robertson stated at the opening of a campaign four years ago, they hold that the way to reform their party is from within; that the party man's duty is to work in his party's primaries and its conventions to improve its personnel and direct good nominations. On the theory that there must be a party government and that their own party is generally speaking the best one and should therefore be maintained and strengthened, as a permanent organ of government, such men will accept the choices of their conventions, and vote straight tickets even though compelled to cast ballots for candidates whose candidacy they keenly resent. This doesn't make them grafters, Cunha alley politicians, nor seekers of the political feed trough, nor put them in a class "waiting for the halcyon time when the Republican party will give its proxy to the red light district," as the Advertiser puts it. They merely follow a theory of party loyalty which obtains all over the land.

We think that a dominating element among local voters hold the independent voting idea, as Mr. Robertson seems to realize. This has resulted from a failure of the Republican organization to satisfy them and this, in turn, was due in large part, if not entirely, to the fact that the very men who are now independents, or bolters, neglected the duty of trying to help and manage their party from within.

A posthumous article by Grover Cleveland has appeared, in which the ex-president says that the Republican party is certain to move on to a "safe victory" in the present campaign, though not entitled to all the credit for reforms with which it is identified. The letter is naturally causing Democratic party managers a good deal of worry. It was to have been the first of a series of three articles on the campaign, but death intervened.

THE RESULT IN VERMONT.

Details of the election in Vermont and the comments thereon show that the result is accepted, as The Star stated at the time, as an indication of Republican success. The San Francisco Call says it is surprising, considering the apathy of the general Republican campaign, that the vote nearly touched normal figures. The Chicago Tribune, on the day of the election, said: "While the Republicans are looking for a plurality of 30,000 or more, the Democrats are expecting that it will fall below the 25,000 mark. Throughout the campaign there has been no remarkable enthusiasm on either side. Democrats say the vote of the Green Mountain state will show a strong turning toward Mr. Bryan, while the Republicans assert that the policies of Mr. Roosevelt will receive a strong endorsement."

As a matter of fact, the Republican plurality was 28,000. As far as Vermont is a test at all, it is an old saying that if Vermont goes over 25,000 Republican the doubtful states go Republican in November and the Republican president is elected. This has been the history of the result since 1874. As the Hearst papers put it: "The Republicans would have been satisfied with a number above the fateful 25,000 mark. In 1884 and 1892 their plurality in the September State election fell below that figure and the Democrats elected their President two months afterward."

A notable feature of the result is that the Hearst party took third place, beating the Prohibition and Socialist parties.

Language against rule by commission is sure to cut a figure in this year's politics. It will sound finely and help hold the electors together who are after jobs. When an earnest patriot sees how Hawaii county is blessed under self-government and then looks at a scheme to handle the public money in Uncle Sam's red-tape fashion, he throws fits. Around the fish-market and down Cunha alley they are beginning to despair of the republic.—Advertiser.

The idea at the basis of this paragraph appears to be that most of the electors are after jobs,—an old Advertiser notion that crops up pretty often. Is it true that the ruling consideration of those who don't want a government by commission is a search for jobs? Is this job-chasing the main essential use of being a voter?

DANGERS OF REPUBLICAN APATHY

(From the Washington Correspondent of the Hawaiian Star.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 27.—It is the opinion of some of Mr. Taft's friends that the Republicans have more to fear from apathy in the fall campaign than from any other foe. That fear, however, is confined to eastern states, and does not extend to the West or Middle West, where an abundance of party spirit has already been shown, and where there is every evidence that a full Republican vote will be polled.

In the East, however, comparatively little interest has thus far been manifested in the campaign. This is true alike of Republicans and Democrats, and it is only fair to say that lack of Republican enthusiasm at this early day is largely attributable to the intense apathy prevailing in Democratic circles. Not in years have eastern Democrats been so indifferent as they are this year. The East has had enough of Bryan; it refuses to look upon the Democratic nominee as a "new Bryan," but holds to the opinion that he is still the same opportunist who appealed to them in two previous campaigns; as ready now, as in the past, to grasp at any issue which he believes will catch the popular fancy and gain him votes. Bryan's sincerity is more generally questioned now than before; his constant shifting has weakened him in every eastern state.

With so many Democrats declaring their disgust with Bryan, and with so many announcing their purpose to support Taft, it is perhaps natural that Republicans should not evince as great interest as would be displayed were the Democrats enthusiastic over their national ticket. Moreover, it would be very unusual to see marked evidences of political activity so far in advance of election. The two months following national conventions are always dull, because the policy of political managers of late years to conduct short, but vigorous fights; and a short campaign is absolutely necessary for both parties this year, because campaign funds are scarce, and there is not the necessary wherewithal to carry on a protracted fight.

While the actual campaign will be of short duration, it will be discovered, when the battle really begins, that Frank Hitchcock has not been idle during the weeks that have elapsed since the nomination of Mr. Taft. On the contrary he has been the busiest man in politics. He has been organizing and making all preliminary preparations. The result of his quiet work will be apparent when the campaign gets in full swing, and it will be equally apparent that this work has not been confined to the Middle West, where it is conceded the hardest fight will occur, but has extended into every state where the Republicans have the slightest chance of victory.

FATHER WILLIAM.
 "You are old, Father William," the young man cried.
 "And your looks are fast passing away,
 But I see you are still in the candidate class.
 Now tell me the reason, I pray."
 "In the days of my youth," Father William replied,
 "A speech that I made was a hit.
 Then a large buzzing bee came and lodged in my hat—
 I am still doing business with it."
 "You are calm, Father William," the young man cried.
 "You go smiling, and strong on your way.
 Your many defeats do not seem to strike in.
 Now tell me the reason, I pray."
 "My little backsets," Father William replied,
 "I counted as all for the best,
 For I'm growing each day in the eyes of the world,
 And my conscience is ever at rest."
 "And you turn every knock to a boot."
 Have you said anything in the last dozen years
 That is likely to come home to roost?"
 "In the last dozen year," Father William replied,
 "I have cried from the housetops for truth.
 And the things that come hot from my little old press,
 Are truly a guide to the youth."
 "You have hinted, I think," cried the youth with a smile
 "That 16 to 1 was the dope,
 That without it the country would go to the dogs.
 You were not mistaken, I hope?"
 "In the days of my youth," Father William replied,
 "I was trained in the culture of hay.
 My fields are in need of my presence at once,
 So I'll have to get busy: Good-day."

PETER LEE'S
NEW HOTEL

Plans for Peter Lee's projected hotel near the volcano of Kilaua have been received by Harry Armitage. They show a handsome front view with second story windows set in style to give an appearance of three gables.

There are eight bedrooms on the ground floor and twelve on the upper floor. Separate sitting rooms for ladies and gentlemen are provided and there is a large common reception room with office in one corner. A veranda extends along the front of the main building and turns at either end to separate two cottages from that building, which on the one hand are for the cullinary department and on the other for billiard rooms, two card rooms and the bar. Thus any noise of conviviality from the recreation apartments will be shut off from the main hotel rooms.
A feature of the hotel will be fireplaces constructed of lava slabs.

There is a large crescent-shaped ground laid off in front around which a driveway sweeps, two segments of which will be lawn and two contain baths from natural warm springs. The government road passes the front and
by means of a private road about 70
feet long the new road into the crater, which passes along the rim of the pretly extinct crater of Kilaua-iki, is reached from the hotel. This is at a point two miles nearer Haleanumau than the Volcano House, although the lake of fire is not visible from the Lee cannavansary.

A long line curves around to rear of the premises, along which auxiliary cottages are to be built as the patronage of the hotel may require.

WADE HABEAS
CORPUS CASE

The George Wade habeas corpus case
came up for argument before Judge Dole this morning and had not been completed up to noon. It will probably be some time before a decision will be reached by the judge, as the technical legal points which have been brought up by the two opposing lawyers, Attorney Bittling and Deputy Attorney General Larnach, will probably require a good deal of consideration.

The case is one in which no judgment was filed against Wade after he had been tried for a murder which took place on board the steamer Australia and convicted. Bittling claims that on this account Wade is being wrongfully kept in jail. The case has therefore reverted to the customs of the courts
in the time when the trial took place.
Clerk of the Supreme Court Henry Smith was the principal witness this morning and being hard of hearing it was difficult to obtain testimony. The attorneys would write out their questions and hand them to W. T. Rawlins, selected as having the strongest voice in the Judiciary building. Rawlins would read them loud enough to be heard across the street in the Executive building and part of the time they would be understood.

Dwight will run for the upper House and probably Paul Isenberg, though
the latter has not consented as yet.
Dowsett was wanted by many of the leaders for another term but he positively decline to run again. "Jimmy" Boyd is looming up as a probable Republican senatorial candidate.

The Maui News of this morning has
the following:

"No better proof of the fairness of the Hawaiian race can be produced than the result of the vote in Wa-luke at last Saturday's primary election.

"There was but one issue during the election and that was the color line drawn by the Hart crowd who had printed a great many tickets which opposed the election of every white man and endorsed all of the twelve Hawaiians and part Hawaiians.

"Opposed to his scheme were the whites and Hawaiians alike and in spite of the strongest efforts of Hart
and Coelho and men of that class
both of the white men who were slated to be slaughtered were elected but four more votes than the white man who received the lowest vote who was elected.

"There were two hundred and nine ballots cast and there were but forty-five white men who voted. Practically all of the other votes were either cast
by Hawaiians or part Hawaiians.

"E. H. Hart was the only man on the opposition ticket who was opposed by the fair play supporters who was elected and he got in by a very small majority.

"During the voting Senator W. J.
Coelho, the driver of the delivery wagon for the Punene Store at Kahului, addressed a few Hawaiians and told them to vote for the Hawaiians and not for a haoie. He said he never knew a haoie to help a poor man. He semer to have forgotten that he was nominated by a haoie, his nomination seconded by a haoie and that he is now earning his bread from a haoie business house.

"This speech will probably be remembered by a good many for a long time to come.

"There were but two sets of printed sample ballots and each was the same except as to H. M. Coke and K.
A. Wadsworth being on one slate and both left off by Hart, and twelve Hawaiians and part Hawaiians being on his ballot. Both white men were elected and a study of the voters lists shows that both of them received more Hawaiian votes than either of them did of votes of the white men.

"It is to be hoped that this will put an end to the drawing of the color line
as it is plain that the Hawaiians will not stand for this sort of politics."

"I have already been over Maui, and am satisfied with the showing there," said McCandless. "The people are aroused over the matter of the granting of public lands by Republicans to only the big corporations. Before the close of our convention the other night delegates got up one after another and told how they had tried to get public lands and couldn't, while the big corporations have no trouble. We are going to fight for allowing any citizen to file claims to these lands, on the lines of the American land laws.

"I am going to make a clean fight,
on the issues, but a thorough one, and in spite of other predictions, I expect to win."

As shown by the following from Hilo, the Republicans of the big island have formulated some of their platform ideas and have made their formal endorsement of Kuhio, with instructions to delegates to vote for him:

HILO, September 10.—At the meeting of Republicans, held at Fireman's Hall last evening, the following recommendations were adopted for submission to the Territorial Convention:

1. That a Recorder's office be established in each County.

2. That the revenue from the water works and sewer system be under local control for two years, to be used in expanding the systems, and that adequate provision be made by the Legislature for the proper equipment of the Hilo Fire Department.

3. That the counties should control jails and prisoners, and have all fines, costs and forfeitures of the courts, for the benefit of the counties; also that all licenses should be county realizations.

4. That recommendation be made to Congress for the equitable adjustment
and remodeling of the Territorial land law.

5. That a Delegate from Hilo be appointed a member of the Platform committee at the Territorial convention.

6. That the Delegate to Congress be instructed to use every effort to secure an appropriation for a Federal building in Hilo.

7. That a National Park be made of the Volcano of Kilaua.

It was moved by John Kai Jr., and carried:

"Whereas, Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, our Delegate to Congress for the last three terms has always been a strong worker
for the good of this Territory, which is manifested by the numerous appropriations that are now, and have been,
expended here;

"And Whereas, he is a true and strong Republican and will be a material strength to the Republican party, not in this county alone but throughout the whole Territory;

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the Delegates elected to the Republican Territorial Convention to be held in Honolulu on the 14th day of September 1908, be instructed to vote and cast their votes for Kuhio Kalaniana'ole as Delegate to the United States Congress
on the Republican ticket."

In the local county convention, the three cornered fight for nomination for mayor does not seem to be very vigorously prosecuted. Since it became known that Kuhio was supporting Lane, more of Lane's supporters have come out openly, and a big struggle is on to land delegates over to his side. Yet neither of the other two candidates appear in the least discourage. "As far as I can judge from what my friends and supporters tell me, the situation is all right," said Hustace.

"Hustace will be nominated on the first ballot," says Charley Clark, who appears to have cut loose from some of his former political partners, for he declares himself first, last and all the time for Hustace, whose some of his old associates are Lane men.

Jack Lucas looks cheerful and wise
and insists that he can win all right.
Not many political prophets would endorse the idea that there will be a decision on the first ballot, and some of the Lane campaigners expect that he will get the votes from both the other two after the first ballot.

Still another expectation is that a fourth name will be sprung if anything like a deadlock is shown. It will be some new man who will put all the other three out of business.

The nomination of Wise for sheriff promises to be by acclamation. He

MRS. MOIE PARIZEAU.

"I hardly know how to thank you for the good Peru-na has done me.

"I suffered five years with pain in the stomach. About a year ago it became so bad I could hardly bear it. I coughed day and night and grew weaker and weaker. The pain extended through my body and I also had difficulty in breathing, which made me cough. Everyone thought I had consumption.

"My husband heard of Peru-na and bought five bottles. This treatment virtually cured me and now I recommend Peru-na to every one who is suffering.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for this excellent remedy."
Ste. Julie de Vercheres, P. Q., Canada.

—Mrs. Moie Parizeau.

A NEGLECTED cold is generally the
first cause of catarrh.

Women are especially liable to colds.
These colds occur more frequently during the wet, sloppy weather of winter and spring than any other time of the year. Often they are not considered serious and are allowed to run on, or they

are treated in such a way as to only palliate the symptoms, while the cold becomes more deep-seated and the patient finally awakens to the fact that she has a well-developed case of catarrh.

By reason of their delicate structure,
the lungs are frequently the seat of a cold, especially if there is the slightest weakness of these organs. The treatment of catarrh of the lungs is also more difficult and discouraging than catarrh of any other organ of the body.

It would be wise therefore, to guard against it by every precaution possible.

has no opponent in sight yet. He is being a good deal knocked and doesn't appear to have the Republican strength very fully behind him. It is said that Wise would like to have Kaleopu, who was in the last house, as his deputy,
but that Kaleopu wants to be in the legislature again. Leal would like to run for deputy. The Democrats are going to make a hot run with Jarrett, and Wise will have a fight on whoever
he has for a running mate.

HAWAII MAY YET GET MONEY FOR

that some other project outside the borders of the state is much more deserving, when he may change to some other state or territory.

"Where we fell down was that we did not get in on any of the original projects. If we had we would have the money here now ready for another job as soon as the first was completed.
Still there is the chance that the Secretary might decide, when some state has completed its work, to turn over some money for Hawaii.

"Besides this and perhaps more important yet, comes the plan to obtain a special appropriation from Congress for this Territory, which we may be allowed to use under the terms of the general reclamation act. This might be easily done and we might even in the next session of Congress get the money needed to start our work which would be paid back, from the ground made fertile by the project, within ten years.

"Director Newell, of the Reclamation Division of the Department of the Interior, will arrive here on the Crook,
leaving San Francisco on September 15. He will make a thorough investigation of the arid lands of the Territory, remaining here for six weeks,
and upon his report the work to be done here will depend very materially. As I have said, one of our chief troubles in this line is the fact that it has not been appreciated in Washington that we have land here that will be fertile and productive when we can get water on it. If Mr. Newell sees this with his own eyes some good results are practically certain to follow.

"While I was in Washington I was under the guidance of Mr. James H.
Rickard, of Hawaii. He is a very strong man in the department and stands very close to Judge Parker, who is Secretary Garfield's right hand man.
While he and I have always been very Peru-na has been found the most reliable of all remedies for coughs, colds and catarrh, by reason of the fact that it goes at once to the very seat of the trouble.

It searches out every crevice, every duct of the body. It quickens and equalizes the circulation of the blood,
thus relieving the congested mucous membranes. It exercises a healing
and soothing effect upon the mucous membranes, no matter whether they are the more exposed membranes of the head and throat, or whether they line
the remotest cells of the lungs.

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for a well-known city missionary, who writes:

by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My appetite improved almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

MRS. JOHN WORTH KERN.

Mrs. John Worth Kern, the wife of the running mate of William Jennings Bryan, is a splendid-looking woman whose social prominence in Indianapolis is notable and whose talent for literary work of all kinds has been a potent factor in the intellectual life of that city. Mrs. Kern's residence is in the center of the fashionable locality in Indianapolis, and her entertainments are always considered as big events in the yearly happenings of social importance. She has three children, one of whom is Miss Julia Kern, herself a young lady in society, and two sons, John W., aged nine years and William H., aged five years.

Mrs. Bland and the Misses Bland are having a tennis and swimming party this afternoon at the Pleasanton. Those invited are Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Mrs. Olson, Misses Sturgeon, Margaret Castle, Green, Fisher, Lauka, Rennie Catton, Marion Waterhouse, Julia Damon, Alice Cooper, Swanny, Peterson, Young, Alice Macfarlane, Restarick and Quinan, and Messrs. Whitney, Fuller, Walker (2), Kennedy, Warren (2), Jordan, Dulsenberg, Mackintosh, Olson, McCormiston, Castle and Cartwright.

The early evening and Bandmaster Berger did his best in honor of the uniform. The music for dancing was furnished by a local quartet which was generous in its responses to the many demands for encores.

Admiral Swinburne, Governor Frear and practically all the guests who had been entertained at dinner on board the flagship West Virginia that night, were at the dance. Many of the officers of higher rank also were present, while the officers below the rank of lieutenant-commander were all on hand save those whose duty kept them on board. The dancing was not over till 1 a. m. when two special cars crowded to the limit carried the tired dancers to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Green and daughter of Honolulu have been spending the past week at Haleiwa.

Charles T. Wilder and Captain Exton, of Fort Shafter, were guests of Captain Gill at luncheon on the Solace on Thursday. Captain Exton with the permission of the Navy Department, makes the round trip to Samoa on the Solace.

Miss Helen K. Wilder arrived from her Southern California home yesterday and will spend some little time in this city.

F. A. Schaefer, of this city, is spending the week's end at Haleiwa.

M. P. Bailey of San Francisco and G. M. Peacock of Australia are at the Moana. They are waiting for the Manuka, which will take them to Australia, having come down on the Alameda.

Monday night had its share of the festivities the main event being the ball given by the chief petty officers of the fleet at the Young Hotel. The affair was invitational, and to the surprise of many the guests were almost the same as those seen the next evening at the Moana. The officers of the fleet were present in very large numbers and all enjoyed the dancing. Two quintets furnished the music for the pavilions, while Berger and his band played on the roof garden.

Mrs. Thomas Wall and daughter are spending two weeks in rest and pleasure at Haleiwa.

The West Virginia was the scene of much merriment on Tuesday night. Admiral Swinburne entertained at dinner, among the guests being Mrs. Swinburne, for women have only a place as guests on a naval vessel, Governor and Mrs. Frear, Chief Justice A. S. Hartwell, Judge and Mrs. S. B. Dole, Mr. and Mrs. McCandless, Cap-

Neumann and her three daughters have always been great favorites in local society. Mrs. Neumann's daughter, Mrs. Hermann Focke, had left for the Coast on the Mongolia before the news was received and her husband left on the next boat to sail, the Tenyo Maru.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fairchild, of Kanai, though we like to think of them as belonging in Honolulu, were among those to visit the Volcano and see its fall and later the rise to a point even higher than before.

While the Armored Cruiser Squadron was in port Lieut. Comdr. Brooks Upham and his charming wife were the guests of the Diliffghams at their Punahou home. Mrs. Upham will remain here until the return of the vessels from Samoa.

With the arrival of the monitor Wyoming, which is expected to reach here shortly after October 1, as the station ship for this port, there will be more naval life than ever. She will carry a full crew and officers and as she is the heaviest of all her class in armament, should bring a number of naval society men with her. The protection to the city in case of war is of course only a secondary consideration in the eyes of local society.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson, of Puunene, reached this city this morning and are staying at the Young Hotel. They have just left the Volcano House after an interesting visit.

Mrs. Rees entertained a number of young people at a tennis and swimming party at the Pleasanton on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Nora Swanny whose birthday it was. Tennis, bowling, etc., were indulged in and tea was served on the lawn after which all went swimming in the tank. Among those present were Misses Swanny, Waterhouse, Fisher, Cooke, Castle, Wood, Bland (2), Schaefer, Sturgeon, Lauka, Cooper and twelve young men from the fleet. Mrs. Rees was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Swanny and Mrs. Swinburne.

Mrs. Bland and the Misses Bland entertained at dinner on Sunday evening in the private dining room in honor of Dr. Parker and Mr. McCukey.

W. W. Van Winkle, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, is one of the Moana guests. He arrived on the Alameda.

The order detaching Lieutenant Clarence Ridley from Washington barracks, where he has been with the engineer corps for this past year, and assigning him for duty to Honolulu, will afford his friends and those of his charming wife, who was Miss Bessie Thompson of Berkeley, an opportunity to see something of them while they are here awaiting the sailing of a transport for the islands. The marriage of Lieutenant Ridley and Miss Thompson was one of the interesting events of a year past, and since their wedding they have lived in Washington. They will sail on the September transport and will be absent about two years.—Chronicle.

Captain and Mrs. Thomas S. Phelps Jr. entertained at dinner one evening last week at their quarters at Mare Island in honor of Admiral and Mrs. Swinburne, who are soon to leave for Honolulu. Among those invited to meet the guests of honor were Lieutenant and Mrs. Samuel Graham, Naval Constructor and Mrs. Holden A. Evans, Mrs. R. M. Cutts and Commander James H. Oliver of the West Virginia.—Chronicle.

Lars David Larsen of Bridgeport, Conn., a graduate of the Agricultural college with the class of 1908, started yesterday for Honolulu, Hawaii, where he has accepted a position in the experiment station as specialist on the diseases of trees. Mr. Larsen has been for the last four years Dr. Stone's student assistant in the college.—Northampton (Mass.) Herald.

D. Lloyd Conkling of the Governor's office has gone to the Peninsula to week's-end with friends.

Mrs. McStocker of Honolulu with her daughter is a guest of her sister Mrs. Whiting, the wife of Admiral Whiting in Berkeley. Quite informally Mrs. Whiting and her sister with half a dozen or so mutual friends are to be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. Carl Bachelor at her Hobart street home. Mrs. Bachelor visits the Hawaiian Islands frequently with her husband on his business trips and is a cordially welcomed guest in the homes of several of the prominent Honolulu families. Mrs. McStocker is a daughter of the famed Alford family of the Islands.—Oakland Enquirer.

PARIS, August 22.—Theatergoers in Paris are delivered from the big nuisance. # COUNTY AFFAIRS

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS TRANS- ACTED SOME IMPORTANT ITEMS OF BUSINESS LAST NIGHT.

At its regular meeting last night the Board of Supervisors adopted the election proclamation under the new municipal act.

Supervisor Fern brought up the matter of aid to road laborers who were injured at their work, with reference to a teamster who had his ankle broken by being thrown from his wagon on a down grade. He asked if, in such cases, a man's wages should not be continued or at least have his doctor's bill paid.

Road Supervisor Cummins stated that in such cases the man's pay was continued not beyond a month.

Chairman Hustace thought this system was as good as could be had and even it would have to be watched against abuses.

Awards of contracts for sprinkling wagons were made as follows: Schuman Carriage Co., one 800-gallon wagon, with engine, $685; Honolulu Iron Works, two 600-gallon wagons, without engine, $375 each.

After some warm words between Chairman Hustace, Supervisor Archer and County Engineer Gere—the chair complaining of surprise and unnecessary expense—a vote of 150 was passed for a second-hand sprinkler for road making purposes in Ewa.

An extra vacation of two weeks was allowed to the Hawaiian band in consideration of its overwork during the visits of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. Chairman Hustace was the good angel to the musicians in this action.

Temporary repairs were ordered to three bridges in Koolauloa, the rebuilding of any of them to be considered after inspection by the road committee. The King street and other bridges will be repaired.

On the subject of a letter from C. S. Holloway, president of John H. Estate, it was agreed to erect a fence between a strip of land belonging to that corporation and a new road near Kikaha Gulch, Wahiawa.

Sheriff Lauka made a report, giving the total arrests in the county for August as 369, against $23 for August, 1907, with convictions 269, as against 253 in 1907.

Fire Chief Thurston reported the number of fire alarms for August as six, with a property loss of $30, the property at risk amounting to $1700. The September estimate for county expenses, payrolls, etc., to September 15, included the following: Kaploian Park, $184.50; keepers of parks $100; electric light department $370.50; police and fire alarm system, $90; County Clerk, $170; County Engineer, $212.50; County Attorney, $410; fire department $1832.50; road department, $697.50; garbage department, $132.50; police department, $3238.65; Hawaiian band, $675.

The board approved the following expenditures for August: Koolauloko road district, $479.28; coroner's expenses, $50.40; Kailua road, $144.65; County Auditor, $25.60; Waianae road district, $44.75; County Clerk, $42.65; fire department, $774.67; electric light department, $681.48; police and fire alarm system, $66.55; police department, $648.24; Waialua road district (Waimea bridge), $487.17; Waianae road district, $454.97; Ewa road district, $521.70; Ewa road district (cult.), $53.13; County Treasurer $1.75; poundmaster (advertising fees returned), $6; election expenses, $163; County Engineer, $98.90.

FROM MEXICO.

The following paragraph was clipped from the "El Sol," a newspaper at Hermosillo, Mexico, it being a part of a letter to the publisher from a friend: "On my last trip to my properties on the frontier, my best fell with me to the ground, wounding me badly, but by a chance provision I had brought in my valise a flask of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using it I was able to continue my journey the following day as if nothing had happened. I never tire of praising this popular liniment of old recommending it." For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for Hawaii.

ing the hair may create difficulty for a woman, as the ordinance says: "If complaint be made by a spectator that because of the head-dress of any one before him he cannot see, the cause of the complaint must be removed."

In other words, the chignon must be taken off or a lady must leave. Women in the theaters here no longer enjoy greater liberty than men.

Mrs. Dr. R. E. Newland, of San Francisco, who has been stopping at the Moana on a vacation, returns to San Francisco by the Alameda.

FARMER ROSS FROM PUNA

Roderick Ross, manager of the Crane farm in Puna, was a delegate to the Democratic Territorial Convention. The farm mentioned is owned by Mr. Crane, a Boston paper manufacturer, and Mr. Ross is a sturdy Scotch farmer who does not know the word fail. He has been in Puna fifteen years.

In conversation with a Star reporter Mr. Ross said the farm contained 270 acres. It is situated about a mile from the Hawaiian Mahogany Co.'s sawmill, which Mr. Ross considers one of the finest plants of the kind in existence.

"It will soon be spewing out railroad ties like sausages," he observed. "The mill is a credit to its erectors and to Puna."

Mr. Ross claims that Puna leads the whole country for sugar cane, a field going 86 tons of cane to the acre. He mentions with pride the formerly published fact that one of his fields yielded 104 tons of cane.

Besides raising cane Mr. Ross is going in strongly for rubber, he having about the oldest rubber trees in Puna. From some experimental tappings he believes the yield will be profitable. About four miles away the plantation of the Hawaiian Rubber Co. is situated and its trees look fine.

Puna is moreover a fine pineapple country. Mr. Ross says there are tracts of idle lands in the district which the public knows nothing. Some time ago the Government opened a number of homesteads there, a large number of white farmers taking them. But the Government failed to keep its promise to open a road into the settlement and now only three or four settlers are left. "The roads in Puna are a disgrace to civilization," Mr. Ross says. He does not think small farming will suit down there, at least in the present circumstances. Yet he sees an inevitably great future for Puna, whose climate he says is incomparable and soil as fertile as can be found in the islands.

TOWN TALK

By THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

It's plain to see the campaign's on.

For candidates are smiling;

With cussing, Lucas is done

And his manner's most beguiling.

Hustace has the glad hand out.

And Lane is full of greeting;

Jarrett's ready for to shout

Aloud at every meeting.

Wise is wise as Wise can be,

Achi's slate is polished;

Rose and Fern will take a turn

To have something abolished.

Bernard's training with his chin

While Cathcart's saying little;

Watson's name is getting in—

Just watch young Watson whittle!

Logan's out to supervise,

Than he there's none the wiser;

There'll be some goodly exercise

When Logan's supervisor.

Robertson and Lunal Link

Are also in the run;

There'll be something done, I think,

With Link at Washington.

Moore is sowing seed apace

For something or the other;

And then there's Castro in the race

For votes enough to smother.

There's Shuffer Quinn and Plumber

Quinn-line and Harle-quinn;

The plumber has a lead-pipe cinch,

And the shuffer's out to win.

It's plain to see a hot campaign

Is going to be enacted;

Some old-time sports will run again

And talk will be protracted.

Don't worry and don't lose your sleep,

No matter who may run;

For politics, the mighty deep,

Is also, lots of fun.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

If you were down town on Labor

Day, you might be walking along

Merchant street have beheld a touching spectacle showing how hard it is to be a banker. The banks weren't open that morning. Bishop & Co.'s bank is on Merchant street and its interior is easily seen through windows. If you had happened along the street in the early business hours of the morn, you might have been privileged to enjoy the spectacle of Hon. S. M. Damon,

head of the bank and leading financier

of the islands, both in public and private

affairs, calmly wielding a feather

duster to clean off the counters and railings. It was a holiday and the janitor didn't labor. But Sam Damon died. All unconscious of the fact that a small gathering stood on the corner

and watched his labors, he dexterously

dusted off the railings and counters

where his discerning eye saw patches of dust.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

C. W. Ashford's complaint about the use of the term "wireless" as a verb,

appears to be technically well grounded, but it is useless. The word has come to stay. Such terms spring into being regardless of the rules of philo-

logy, and amid much gnashing of teeth

by those whose sensibilities are affected, they find their way into the dictionaries in the end. It used to be very exasperating to many to see the word "suicide" used as a verb. But the news editors kept cheerfully on using it and now what was once a great atrocity has become very common. It will have to be accepted. By a coincidence, just after reading Ash-

ford's complaint I ran across, in the letters of Benjamin Franklin, his objections to various misuses of English.

One, for example was the employment of the term "improve" as meaning

anything other than to ameliorate,

etc., his complaint being that it was coming to be generally applied to mean

mere betterment of any kind, such for example as improving property. The use objected to is in the dictionaries

now. Who would think of complaining of it today? Anyhow Ben Franklin's kick shows that our Ashford is in good company, if destined to disappointment. The world will wireless on and we ought to be thankful

that quick invention of better terms

saves us from having to speak of horselessing.

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦

Under the horrible influence of a dinner of corn beef and cabbage, which

I think now should never be eaten except when you are exercising with

Rooseveltian strenuously, I had a dream

the other night which shunted me

into the future and so mixed up some of my local acquaintances that when I saw them next day I almost inadvertently commiserated with them.

Hawaii had been placed under government by commission, and I was walking down Fort street on a busy Saturday morning. Judging by the proportion of Japanese stores on that

street, or rather by the few whites left,

I think it must have been about the year 1915. Suddenly I became aware that there was another American on the street, a somewhat unusual occurrence, as I appeared to be impressed, and my attention was directed to him by his air of agitation. The perturbed individual proved to be Hon. J.

A. McCandless. He was just as young as ever, though madder than I have yet

had the fortune to see him in propi-

ety. As times were booming, and not a single Japanese of my acquaintance was unprosperous, I wondered

what could have happened to greatly disturb a mind so deep and philosophical as that of the tallest McCandless.

"What sort of a country is this?" he declaimed. "Hasn't a citizen got any rights at all? Here's my building,—

it's no snap keeping paying tenants in it at all since the Togo building offered rooms at $3 per month, and now

the commission has passed a resolution requiring me to reconstruct the entire system of gutters. The act is unjust, arbitrary and outrageous. But what rights has a property owner in this country anyhow?"

"You might," I began, "appeal to the legis—"

Then the form of McCandless

faded away and amid a whirling confusion of scenes which I don't know whether belonged to the corn beef or to the cabbage, there suddenly emerged the large features of the most puis-

sant and belligerent editor of the Advertiser, (which still maintained a small English department, for the benefit of patrons unable to read Japanese). He was frowning but slow of speech and in the heavy tones which I have listened to with pleasure at other banquets which methought should have outdone the effects of more corn-beef-

and-cabbage, he roared an invasion of his rights. "I worked for the American flag here," he said "but what do you think of this as a result?" He produced a copy of an edict which had passed the commission at the instance of Commissioner Hasbun, formerly of Squeekind, Mo., and who had had training as a member of the Philippine commission. It declared that for the preservation of peaceful conditions in the islands, the commission

had decided to revise all editorial or political matter appearing in the daily press, before allowing its publication.

After showing it to me, the editor

broke into a series of expressions that woke me.

Again I slept. I met the only white

American resident of Makiki and, by one of those peculiar exaggerations so common in dreams, he was tearing out his last hair. The condition of his clothes indicated that he had fallen into a puddle. "Damme," he screamed,

"I have been petitioning for five years

to have my sidewalk repaired and all

I get is notices that the matter will receive attention. This morning I fell in a puddle, and then went over

and accepted an offer from Isimoto

for my place, at a quarter of what it cost me. I'm going to—"

Just then we reached the corner

and both fell in a rusty manhole, and awakening in a cold sweat, I was afraid to try to sleep again, so I picked up a volume of inaugural addresses, of which the pleasing assurances of an American of being an American so soothed my nerves that when the gray dawn began to gather at the window, I slept the sleep that only

comes to two classes,—those with clear

consciences and those with no con-

sciences at all.

EFFORT TO PREVENT HIM HEAD-ING BOARD OF HEALTH PROBABLY GIVEN UP.

Judge Humphreys was seen today, and asked if any steps would be taken by his clients to test Dr. Cofer's right to hold the position of President of the Territorial Board of Health, in the event of the Doctor's re-appointment to that office.

Humphreys replied that there were two methods of testing the matter, but said that he had an informal understanding with Attorney General Hemenway that the decision of the Attorney General of the United States would be acceptable to his clients and that as the law officer of the Interior Department represents the Attorney General of the United States, and had expressed the view that the Doctor could hold both offices, no further steps would likely be taken.

SUBIG DIAMONDS CORNERED HERE

For a long time past the transporis from Manila have left in Honolulu what have come to be known as the Subig diamonds.

Soldiers of the American army stationed in the Philippines and then being transferred to the mainland states carry with them little stones that are diamonds in the rough and which they either pick up themselves or purchase from Filipinos for small sums.

How many are carried through to the states may be guessed by a recent item in a St. Louis paper in which it is stated that two brothers who had served in the Philippine Constabulary, had made a stake with a New York jeweler who discovered the gems to be peculiarly perfect, small as they are, very little being lost in the cutting.

Inquiry in this city shows that several jewelers have been offered these funny little stones, by soldiers needing pocket money while stopping here, but it remained for Carlo to recognize their merit and it got to be known that he offered more than anybody else here for them, with the result that he now has not only a collection worth a neat sum, but has authorized a Honolulu man who recently went to the Philippines to gather in a lot of them for him.

BIG WORK ON DOCK

GREAT INCREASE IN AMOUNT OF SUGAR HANDLED BY OAHU RAILROAD COMPANY.

With the modern improvements which have been installed on the railroad wharves of the Oahu Railway and Land Company, the record of the past eight months is one which Superintendent Harry Denison may feel proud of. During the eight months from January 1 to September 1, 201,000 tons of sugar were handled by his men in comparison with 146,000 tons in the corresponding months last year. The installation of endless chain conveyors is in a great degree responsible for the quick handling of this great amount of freight.

For the full season it is estimated that there will be about 12,000 tons more, which will bring up the sugar handled at this wharf to 213,000 tons as compared with the 181,000 tons for the full season of 1907. This shows an increase of 32,000 tons for the season, which is calculated, at the prices which have been obtained this year to be worth $2,240,000 net Honolulu. This includes all the sugar landed on the wharf during the season.

The amount of work which is done can be seen more easily by the number of bags handled. The wharf has averaged a handling of 34,000 bags per day, that is the receipt and shipping of 1,000 tons for every work day each month. There have been in the neighborhood of 16,834,000 bags of sugar handled on the dock, each bag being handled at least two times.

ARRAL RECITAL

Madame Arral, noted opera queen, gives a recital on Tuesday evening next, 8:15, in the ball room of the Young Hotel roof garden, rendering songs and ballads in French, German, English and Italian. Mr. Buchly will assist in obligato and solo.

The Pacific Weekly, H. M. Ayres' new paper, is enlarged and improved in its second number issued today.

The furniture of a five room cottage is offered for sale cheap.

Harry Werner and his wife, Leona Clifton, leave in the S. S. Alameda on Wednesday next for the mainland for the benefit of the latter's health. Both have won a host of friends here in their identification with popular moving-picture exhibitions. Leona Clifton's sweet voice having entertained thousands in illustrated songs. Eddie Tait takes over Werner's interests here while Werner will devote his attention abroad to the cameraphone, a device producing the effect of talking-moving pictures and which he may bring to Honolulu later.

ENORMOUS BLAST FOR BREAKWATER

HILO, September 11.—Last week, the first blast of powder was set off at the Puna quarry that will furnish the dock for the Hilo Breakwater. It was a good blast consisting of three tons of powder.

Contractor D. E. Metzger was in charge of the operations, a few of his personal friends being present besides the men employed at the quarry. It was expected by some of the visitors that tons of rock would be hurled into the air, and one of them said they took the precaution to get a very long distance away from the scene of operations, and then crouch behind rocks for protection with their eyes skyward so as to have a chance to dodge the falling fragments.

But all these precautions were unnecessary. There were dull and deadened orars as the powder exploded, very similar to the detonation of distant artillery, but with rather a muffled sound. The quantity of rock that ascended was comparatively small, nor did it go to any very great height. But the effect of the blast was as startling as it was satisfactory. Hundreds and hundreds of tons of rock had been hurled forward into a great mass where it is easily available for working. Besides this there are great fissures and rents, as far as can be seen, in what remains standing. This can be easily picked and worked out, and some of it no doubt will fall inward without further operations.—Hawaii Herald.

METZGER IN TOWN

D. E. Metzger, the contractor who was awarded the bid for the construction of the breakwater at Hilo, for which Congress provided an appropriation of $400,000, arrived in this city by the steamer Mauna Kea this morning. He has come down to act as a witness in the condemnation suit of the United States against Lorin A. Andrews which was to come up in the Federal Court this morning but has been postponed till Monday.

Mr. Metzger states that he has all the rails for his road which will handle the Puna stone and that the blasting in the quarries was started a week ago last Wednesday. The trouble over the right of way to the start of the breakwater may delay the work, though Andrews has allowed the grading to be done and all is ready for the laying of the rails. The strip of land to be crossed is only 700 feet wide, but the exorbitant price demanded by the Hilo man was a bit too much for Uncle Sam's pocketbook.

SISTERLY CHARITY.

"For goodness' sake, Minnie," exclaimed Miss Overton, "why do you wear that horrid old hat?"
"Not for goodness' sake, dear, but for your sake," replied her younger sister. "I must not be too attractive until the wedding bells ring for you."
