NOTICE.

Having leased the TRAINING STABLES from H. J. Agnew, at Kapiolani Park, I am now prepared to take horses to train, and prepare them for the coming Fair on the 11th of June next.

Breaking and Educating Young Horses a specialty.

It is a point of importance to all owners of fine young colts not to have them jammed or hammered over the hard roads, and to get them properly handled for the first lessons are the ones that make the horse.

Also in connection with my Training Stables, I will serve a certain number of choice mares with my Young Hambletonian Stallion "APTOS CHIEF." He was sired by Electioneer, owned by Gov. Stanford. The sire of Electioneer was Risdeke's Hambletonian. The dam of Aptos Chief was sired by Speculation; he by Risdeke's Hambletonian—so it will be seen that Aptos is an in-bred of Hambletonian.

Terms for service of Aptos Chief, $50 for the season, payable at the time of service; and all mares failing to be with foal will have the service of the horse the next season free of charge.

AN ODD BIT ABOUT TREES.

NUTS ALREADY CRACKED; OR, THE TREE PUZZLE WITH ANSWERS APPENDED.

The "tree puzzle" that follows is one of the most ingenious trifles of the kind now current:

1. What's the social tree,
2. And the dancing tree,
3. And the tree that is nearest the sea?
4. The dandelion tree,
5. And the kissable tree,
6. And the tree where ships may be?
7. What's the tall-tale tree,
8. And the traitor's tree,
9. And the tree that's the warmest clad?
10. The languishing tree,
11. The chronologist's tree,
12. And the tree that makes one sad?
13. What's the emulous tree,
14. The industrious tree,
15. And the tree that will never stand still?
16. The unhealthiest tree,
17. The Egyptian-plague tree,
18. And the tree neither up nor down lull?
19. The contemptible tree,
20. The most yielding tree,
21. And the tree that bears a curse?
22. The reddish brown tree,
23. The reddish blue tree,
24. And the tree like an Irish nurse?
25. What is the tree
That makes each townman flee?
26. And what round itself doth entwine?
27. What's the housewife's tree,
28. And the fisherman's tree?
29. What by cockneys is turned into wine?
30. What's the tree that got up,
31. And the tree that was lazy,
32. And the tree that guides ships to go forth?
33. The tree that's immortal,
34. The trees that are not,
35. And the tree whose wood faces the north?
36. The tree in a bottle,
37. The tree in a fog,
38. And what each must become ere he's old?
39. The tree of the people,
40. The traveler's tree,
41. And the sad tree when schoolmasters hold;
42. What's the tree that has passed through the fiery heat,
43. That half-given to doctors when ill?
44. The tree that we offer to friends when we meet,
45. And the tree we may use as a quill?
46. What's the tree that in death will bequeit you?
47. And the tree that your wants will supply?
48. And the tree that to travel invites you,
49. And the tree that forbids you to die?

Some of the European countries pay dearly for military glory. In Germany the army costs 66 per cent. of the whole budget, and in Austro-Hungary 87 per cent. In Great Britain, on the contrary, the expense is only 18 per cent., while in the United States the army costs only 15 per cent. of the annual expenditures.

A French physician has been experimenting with arsenic for the destruction of the phylloxera which infest the vines of France. So far his experiments have proven highly encouraging, and he is making still others upon a larger scale. Much public interest is felt in the experiments, and their result is awaited with eager hope.

The longevity of certain species of birds has long been known to scientists. On the river Thames the swans are officially cared for and inspected annually by the Vintners' Company, who have had charge of them for five hundred years, and some have been known to live for 150 years or more. An eagle died not long ago at Vienna, Austria, which had been kept in confinement for 114 years.

HAWAIIAN PACIFIC INTERESTS.

It appears that there is to be a conference in London, of Powers interested in the Pacific. The colonizing mania that has seized Continental Powers has led to some stirring up of vested interests in Polynesian territory. Some amicable partition of ownerships, and protectorates, and jurisdictions, is what is probably sought to be brought about by the promoters of the proposed conference. The Advertiser advocates the right and duty of the Hawaiian Kingdom to be represented at the conference. It says:—

It should not be lost sight of in this connection that the Hawaiian Kingdom, however small, is the natural head and leader of all the Pacific states and tribes by reason of its perfect independence, advanced civilization, and recognition by the great Powers of the earth. To hold such a conference as that suggested without this country being represented at it would be manifestly improper, and could only happen by reason of our Government neglecting its duty in the premises. This is not at all likely to happen, however. Our idea is that renewed overtures should be made to the Powers, and especially that the friendly offices of the United States and England should be invoked for the purpose of entrusting the administration of "unappropriated Polynesia" to the Hawaiian Government. This would be acceptable to the Malaysian race, however widely distributed, and be a guarantee of good government.

It is surprising that no amount of snubbing, and no degree of expensive experience, will suffice to keep down this ridiculous notion—this maniacal dream—of Hawaiian supremacy in the Pacific. Let Hawaii be represented in the conference, but by the pledged protectors of her independence—America, England, and France. It is the Hawaiian Government's duty, possibly, to remind these Powers before the conference of their guarantees, and for the rest trust to their good faith and the Providence in which this nation's reliance has hitherto been placed. What stark madness suggests a conglomerate community of less population than a second-rate American city or an ordinary English country, asking to be admitted to a conference of the Great Powers, to discuss the apportionment of territories, and dominions, and protectorates, requiring armaments and defences to sustain the least of them which would cost more than the entire revenue of this little kingdom! We thought this country had seen the last of the screaming farce of extending Hawaiian dominion to other Pacific groups, but our morning contemporary's article shows that the merry andrews have not yet disappeared from the boards. Hawaii had better keep still. She has only too much to do to make a success of self-government under the protectorate of the three Powers named. Indeed, the hint of such a thing as this country spreading its protecting wings over any other portion of creation is so utterly absurd that even a serious argument against it would seem ridiculous.

THE PACIFIC MAILS.

A deputation from the Auckland Chamber of Commerce has had a conference with Sir Julius Vogel, Postmaster-General of New Zealand, relative to the Pacific Mails. The delegates suggested that quicker time could be made if Honolulu was left out, and mentioned the arrangement by which the steamers were forbidden to carry freight and passengers between Honolulu and San Francisco. Sir Julius doubted if such a statement was correct, and said he was corresponding with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in an anxious endeavor to have the service continued. If that company abandoned the service, he thought other tenders might be found. We scarcely believe that the route will be long left vacant even if the Pacific Mail Company moves out. The Hawaiian Government should take an active interest in this matter. One thing should especially be sought, and that is that the steamers of the two lines, if two there will be, should run in conjunction with each other, so as to give the best possible accommodation by all of them to the public.

BRITISH NOTES.

The lists of new voters under the Franchise Bill is being prepared in the United Kingdom, and it is estimated that they will contain an addition of two million to the voting strength of the nation.

The bill to enable a man to marry his deceased wife's sister is likely to have a larger majority in the British House of Commons this session than ever. The last time it was carried by a majority of 238 to 127, but the House of Lords thwarted that strong expression of the popular will.

The project that seems to have most show of reason in its support, as an alternative to Federation of the British Empire, is a Colonial Council of Agents-General of the different Colonies, attached to the office of the Colonial Secretary. This Council would have advisory, but not executive powers.

The London Daily News says: "At present only a Protectorate is established over that portion of the coast of New Guinea which has been placed under British authority. We believe that it is the intention of the Government to take the more important step of annexing the southern parts of New Guinea to the British dominions. If such a step is taken, it will, we believe, give great satisfaction to the Australian colonies, which have demurred to what they regard as a vague, ill-defined Protectorate."

That there is an immense amount of distress in the country, no one who has eyes can deny for a moment. The streets of our larger towns are full of men lounging about at the corners, and by the public house doors, their hands in their empty pockets, and a fierce look of hunger on their faces that is dreadful to behold. And surely the late bitterly cold weather January provided us with added dreadfully to the sufferings of the poor. Still, we need not go very far for the cause of all this destitution. Our manufacturers are most certainly suffering from the haste to get rich that caused them to send clay-laden cottons and shoddy cloths abroad, instead of good honest material; and the poor themselves are enduring the consequence of the wave of drunkenness that has passed over England, leaving a few immensely rich brewers, distillers, and publicans, and a great many starving men, women, and children to look forward to better days.—London Paper.

MUSICAL NOTES.

German opera has been given in New York with the greatest success. Herr Joachim, the celebrated violinist, and Frau Joachim have been divorced.

Rubenstein the pianist has just finished the score of a new symphony to be called "Eroike."

Madame Sainton-Dalby, the once famous English contralto singer, died in London, Eng., Feb. 18th.

Dunedin, N. Z., has a school of music with a skilled professor at $3,000 per annum. He has two pupils.

The death of Dr. Damrosch has cast a gloom over musical circles in New York that will not be readily dispelled.

A Berlin newspaper offers a prize of $75 for the best string quartette. Here's a chance for some of the members of our Symphony Club.

A very extraordinary opera will be given the end of this month in Nordhausen, Germany, "The Spaniards in Peru." It is to occupy two evenings in the performance.

Queen Victoria has done good services to musical art in England, by ordering that her private band shall henceforth adopt the pitch known as the diapason normal of France.

Madame Marie Roze has been selected by the French Government to be one of the representative lyric artists to sing at a musical festival to be given in Paris next month, to raise funds to relieve the starving poor in that city.

United Carriage Co.

PLEASE take notice that the UNITED CARRIAGE CO. (Telephone 290), having been re-organized, wish respectfully to inform Tourists and the public generally, that in order to compete with another firm who prohibits other hacks but their own from soliciting patronage at the Hotel, they have found it necessary to unite more strongly, and have selected from about 250 hacks now running in Honolulu, a number of first-class teams, which in addition to the teams we already have make the UNITED CARRIAGE CO. the strongest in Honolulu. Most of the drivers in this company, who by hard work and perseverance have become owners of the teams they drive, have agreed to conform to certain rules deemed necessary by the managers for the protection of Tourists and the public against overcharging, incivility, &c. Two very important rules governing the drivers of the UNITED CARRIAGE CO., are Rule No. 1, that expels any driver from the company who willfully charges more than the legitimate rates of fare; Rule No. 2, compels any of our drivers to respond to a Telephone call whether it be a Ten Cent or a Ten Dollar fare. Thus it can be seen that the object of the company is to supply the public with good teams driven by good, reliable men, who will do their best to give satisfaction, and hope by so doing to merit a share of public patronage. All complaints left at our office, in the shape of a note directed to the managers of the UNITED CARRIAGE CO., will receive prompt attention.

THE Advertiser mentioned the other day, about the soot from the Mariposa being carted away and used for filling in purposes. It might be used to more advantage, from the following recipe: "Twelve quarts of soot to a hoghead of water makes a good liquid manure, to be applied to the roots of plants."

FRANK Gertz is now comfortably settled in his new store No. 103 Fort street. By the last steamer he received a lot of new goods making his stock one of the most complete in town. Ladies, misses and gents requiring anything in the boot and shoe line should not fail to call on Frank Gertz, Fort street, sign of the golden boot.

THERE was music in the air at Menticello, N. Y., one day in the first week of February. The inhabitants of that quiet village heard the school bell ring at an unusual hour, and inquiry revealed that the teacher was using the end of the bell rope to flog a refractory pupil. What memories "those evening bells" will recall to that young lad in after years.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in expressing their approval of the Pacific Hose Company's interdiction of liquor at their last annual celebration, announce their intention "to furnish coffee to the firemen when called out to their duties on future occasions, and thus prevent, as far as possible, the distribution of intoxicating drinks."

MR. D. Baldwin, so far as heard from, appears to have been the only local scientist with sufficient enthusiasm to get up in time to see the eclipse of the sun yesterday morning. It was 6:20 o'clock before the sun got over the mountains, and then it plainly bore the shadow of the moon in the left hand quarter. The shadow reached a line that would mark off about a sixth of the sun's diameter. It had disappeared by 6:48, thus agreeing with the calculation in Thrum's Almanac.

MR. THOS. S. Douglas, secretary of the Hawaiian Carriage Manufacturing Co., met with quite a little experience last evening with his horse and carriage, shortly after 10 o'clock, which fortunately did not have any serious consequences. He was preparing to go home, Mrs. Douglas had already got in the carriage, which was standing outside the Co.'s works, when the horse started to kick and back, breaking the shafts, and finally freeing itself, made off with the harness on and has not yet been found. Mrs. Douglas jumped out as soon as the horse commenced his antics, and thus saved herself from being thrown out. The wagon was considerably damaged.

Whitney, Postmaster-General, received by the City of Sydney yesterday, Sands and McDougall's Melbourne Directory for 1885, Harris's Official Guide and Almanac for New South Wales for 1885, and Welch's Tasmanian Almanac for 1885. The Melbourne Directory is rather a large book, handsomely bound, and very complete in information. It contains a map which shows every street and building in Melbourne and suburbs. The other two books are smaller, but still contain a vast amount of valuable information. Any person who at any time has occasion to refer to these books can do so on application to the Postmaster-General at the Post-office.

THE BIBLE AS A BOOK OF TRAVELS.

Much of the Bible really forms a book of travels. Journeys occupy a considerable space in the divine records. "Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, into a land that I will show thee," was one of the first revealed commands after the catastrophe of the deluge, and the attempt to build the Tower of Babel. It was directed to Abram, who became the father of the faithful; and, obedient to the mandate, he departed at once. The following little picture of foreign travel stands as the head of numerous volumes, including some most popular in the present day: "So Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken unto him; and Lot went with him; and Abram was 75 years old when he departed out of Haran; and Abram took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the souls that they had gotten in Haran, and they went forth to go into the land of Canaan, and into the land of Canaan they came. And Abram passed through the land into the place of Sichem, unto the plain of Moreh." We can picture the patriarch, far advanced in life, dressed in primitive oriental costume, seated on the back of a patient camel, with his nephew and wife and other relations accompanying him in long retinue; the flocks and herds not far off with shepherds and drivers, all with their lord and master pursuing a divinely directed journey to a distant land they had never seen before. There was enterprise in this original expedition, and curiosity and wonder must have stirred the bosom of this early explorer as he tracked his way over unknown lands, as his eye rested on plain, valley, and mountain, and as he drew nigh to the wooded hills of Northern Canaan, and paced the shores of the Lake of Galilee, and saw a fertile country spread out before him under the shadows of Ebal and Gerizim.

THE GIFT OF EXPRESSION.

Every grade of intelligence, from common dulness to talent of the highest and most brilliant order, depends for its degree upon the possession and use of this power—the gift of expression. Expression is commonly associated with speech; we use it, however, in the more general sense of whatever tends to make public the inner life. Conversation, public speaking, all writings, paintings and songs, inventions of every kind, and every act, public and private, which goes to make up life's history; all these are channels for the expression of human nature. Genius, to be real, must give forth true expression; and it is not genius unless it meets with the stamp of public approval. All may not be able to tell what is in them, but all can recognize the truth of what is told. The utterances of genius may fall temporarily upon dull ears, and the utterer sink, discouraged, into an obscure grave, for genius can not live without its complement of appreciation; but in the progress of the race, a point is reached where the truths his utterance crystallized are seen to shine forth in all their beauty, and thenceforth his name is canonized.

The investigations of a French physician have led him to the conclusion that the average duration of human life has been increased several years within the last century. Of course this is largely due to the progress in sanitary science, which has done so much in the large cities to avert or modify epidemic diseases, as well as to improve the permanent sanitary conditions of the people. Then, too, the laws of health are better understood and observed by the masses than formerly.

"Father," he said, as he looked up from the boot he was pegging at, "what is an anomaly?" "Anomaly? Well, what is it?" "Why, down in Southern Illinois corn is selling at fifteen cents a bushel, while in Chicago it is worth thirty-two." "Well, why don't the ternal fules ship it?" "Because the railroad freight is two cents a bushel more than the corn sells at." "And that is an anomaly?" "Yes." "Looks more like an infernal swindle on the farmers."

"Here is an advertisement that interests me a good deal," said Mrs. Benton, thoughtfully. "What is it?" asked her husband. "Why, it's the advertisement of a 7 percent net, security guaranteed. I'm awfully bothered lately about keepnig up my back hair, and I believe I'll call in and look at it."

"I have neither time nor inclination to pass paregorics on the deceased," remarked Mrs. Fishwacker, at a recent funeral. "Paregorics," corrected a person present. "As you please, sir," she remarked, stiffly, "the words are anonymous."

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become constive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. Seigel's Curative Syrup acts like a charm in this class of complaints, giving almost immediate relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation the article is held.

John Archer, Hartmill, near Sheffield:—I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of my customers, who have derived great benefit from the Syrup and Pills. The sale is increasing wonderfully.

Geo. A. Webb, 141, York Street, Belfast:—I have sold a large quantity, and the parties have testified to its being what you represent it.

J. S. Metcalfe, 55, Highgate, Kendall:—I have always great pleasure in recommending the Curative Syrup, for I have never known a case in which it has not relieved or cured, and I have sold many gross.

Robt. G. Gould, 27, High Street, Andover:—I have always take a great interest in your medicines and I have recommended them, as I have found numerous cases of cure from their use.

Thomas Chapman, West Auckland:—I find that the trade steadily increases. I sell more of your medicines than any other kind.

Frickheim, Arbroath, Forfarshire, Sept. 23, 1832. Dear Sir:—Last year I sent you a letter recommending Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have very much pleasure in still bearing testimony to the very satisfactory results of the famed Syrup and Pills. Most patent medicines die out with me, but Mother Seigel has had a steady sale ever since I commenced, and is still in as great demand as when I first began to sell the medicine. The cures which have come under my notice are chiefly those of liver complaint and general debility.

N. Darroll, Clun, Salop:—All who buy it are pleased, and recommend it.

Jos. Balkwill, A. P. S., Kingsbridge:—The public seem to appreciate their great value.

A. Armstrong, Market Street, Dalton-in-Furness:—It is needless for me to say that your valuable medicines have great sale in this district—greater than any other I know of, giving great satisfaction.

Robt. Laine, Melksham:—I can well recommend the Curative Syrup from having proved its efficacy for indigestion myself.

A certain minister in my neighbourhood says it is the only thing which has benefited him and restored him to his normal condition of health after being unable to preach for a considerable length of time. I could mention also a great many other cases, but space would not allow. A near friend of mine, who is very much addicted to costiveness, or constipation, finds that Mother Seigel's Pills are the only pills which suit his complaint. All other pills cause a reaction, which is very annoying. Mother Seigel's Pills do not leave a bad after-effect. I have much pleasure in commending again to suffering humanity Mother Seigel's medicines, which are no sham. If this letter is of any service you can publish it.

Yours very truly,
William S. Glass, Chemist.
A. J. White, Esq.

15th August, 1883.
Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesbury, Wilts, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly, (Signed) N. Webb,
Mr. White, Chemist, Calne.
